4. He created man from a small seed and then he is an open contender.

5. And He created the cattle for you; you have in them warm clothing and (many) advantages, and of them do you eat.

6. And there is beauty in them for you when you drive them back (to home), and when you send them forth (to pasture).

7. And they carry your heavy loads to regions which you could not reach but with distress of the souls; most surely your Lord is Compassionate, Merciful.

8. And (He made) horses and mules and asses that you might ride upon them and as an ornament; and He creates what you do not know.

9. And upon Allah it rests to show the right way, and there are some deviating (ways); and if He please He would certainly guide you all aright.

The Surah starts with the statement that "Allah's commandment has come, therefore do not desire to hasten it; glory be to Him, and highly exalted be He above what they associate (with Him)"; the commandment here means His decision for the destruction of the polytheists if they do not comply to the Truth which Allah has provided to them by His last Messenger Muhammad PBUH, that would fall upon them as its time comes and that time is not far-away; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it tells about TAUHID which means that Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord so the people should always obey Him in all His commands; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT complements it that when the people get His message (i.e. by WAHI that He sends to His chosen Messenger, by angels generally by Gabriel-AS), they should accept it and be obedient to Allah because then if they do not comply to the message that He has provided to them, they surely would see the destruction soon; the term that the AAYAT uses is ROOH to mention WAHI i.e. revelation to His Messenger by His commandment; note that WAHI is a thing of AALAM-e-AMR (the world of Command) and not of AALAM-e-KHALQ (the world of creation) and angels and the human spirit are also related to AALAM-e-AMR; the human-physique is related to the earth and its food in essence comes from the earth but the human spirit has come from AALAM-e-AMR and so it needs WAHI to satisfy it truly; when the pure human spirit got acceptance at the court of Allah when Messengers were still coming to the world (but after the Last Prophet Muhammad PBUH, there is no Messenger to come and as such, the WAHI has ceased to come after him), Allah sent WAHI to such pure human spirit directly at heart (as with Jesus Christ-AS and this includes dreams too as with Abraham-AS) or talked to him from behind some veil not coming at fore (as with Moses-AS) or by sending an angel to him that addressed his spirit (as with Muhammad PBUH); all these three would be named as ROOH i.e. the pure human spirit, WAHI and Gabriel-AS (who is noted even in this very Surah NAHL as the holy spirit at AAYAT-102); note that the pure spirit of the Messenger recognized WAHI well when it got that and even the angel when it saw that, as they all belong to the same sphere of life that is AALAM-e-AMR (see also Surah SHURA-51 & 52); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the six AAYAAT ahead in the Ruku from AAYAT-3 to AAYAT-8 tell that Allah has created all things of the world that secures the life of the mankind which also Allah has created as certainly He only is the Creator while all other than Him, is His creation only; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so this Surah i.e. NAHL asks high attention towards the examination that all persons are going through at the world to show that they truly deserve JANNAH for which Allah has provided all of them with all their necessary requirements; there are such AAYAAT in the Quran that have told clearly that Allah has made His creation to work for the benefit of the Man (see for instance Surah JATHIA-12 & 13 and Surah IBRAHIM-32 & 33 & 34) so that he finds convenience in virtuous living according to the fundamental teachings of Islam and here also, there is the indication to that; these AAYAAT read, "He created the heavens and the earth with the truth (i.e. set principles to follow), highly exalted be He above what they associate (with Him); He created man from a small seed and then he is an open contender (as many of them live such lives that challenge the obvious commands of Allah); and He created the cattle for you (sheep, goats, camels and cows); you have in them warm clothing (to save yourselves from the cold weather) and advantages (other than that as getting milk from them), and of them do you eat; and there is beauty in them for you when you drive them back (to home as even their walk seems pleasant), and when you send them forth (to pasture at the early part of the day); and they carry your heavy loads to regions which you could not reach but with distress of the souls; most surely your Lord is Compassionate, Merciful; and (He made) horses and mules and asses that you might ride upon them and as an ornament (though you would avoid the eating of them); and He creates what you do not know (for you to ride and as ornaments for you that would take place at the future)"; note about this last part that it allows some manifestation of beauty of some assets that are in the possession of the Muslim person but he needs to take care that it does not mean that he becomes show-off by their manifestation but it tells that whatever manifests normally in the ordinary living, it does not put any blame to him; also, the words "He creates what you do not know" are important as they note that there would take place such things for the riding of men and as their ornaments, which would provide ease to them in going to places by moving at high pace and even though these things seemingly came about by efforts of men but they needed the will of Allah to come about so these words mention them in the manner that "He creates what you do not know"; this was the best of expression then for vehicles that we find around at present with us and though the AAYAT allows their use but that issue certainly needs to follow the general rule that they would not become excessive in use; I, MSD, would mention air-planes especially (without providing any detail to it here) that we need to use them only for the travel to far-off places and not for the change in area at local places while we need to abandon space vehicles completely; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku tells about the will of Allah that He has set this world up to see how the person gives the examination that Allah has asked from him; the success at this exam (for which Allah has provided all answers at the Quran to make it an open-book exam) would bring him the most pleasant life in JANNAH at AKHIRAT forever and the failure would be total loss for him that would lead him to the hell-fire; He could have made everyone to take the true guidance but due to the exam for which he has set up everything at the world, He would bring the true success only to His true slaves at the day when He would announce all of results; His ultimate judgment is at AKHIRAT, the Day of Judgment; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NAHL - The Second Ruku

10. He it is Who sends down water from the cloud for you; it gives drink, and by it (grow) the trees upon which you pasture.

11. He causes to grow for you thereby herbage, and the olives, and the dates, and the grapes, and of all the fruits; most surely there is a sign in this for the people who reflect.

12. And He has made subservient for you the night and the day and the sun and the moon, and the stars are made subservient by His commandment; most surely there are signs in this for the people who ponder;

13. And what He has created in the earth of varied hues most surely there is a sign in this for the people who are mindful.

14. And He it is Who has made the sea subservient that you may eat fresh flesh from it and bring forth from it ornaments which you wear, and you see the ships cleaving through it, and that you might seek of His bounty and that you may give thanks.

15. And He has cast great mountains in the earth lest it might convulse with you, and rivers and roads that you may go aright,
16. And landmarks; and by the stars they find the right way.
17. Is He then Who creates like him who does not create? Do you not then mind?
18. And if you would count Allah's favors, you will not be able to number them; most surely Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.
19. And Allah knows what you conceal and what you do openly.
20. And those whom they call on besides Allah have not created anything while they are themselves created;
21. Dead (are they), not living, and they know not when they shall be raised.

The second Ruku continues mentioning the benefits that Allah has provided to the mankind by His creation; AAYAAT-10 & 11 mention the rainwater that is pure water to drink and that causes the trees to flourish; Allah grows the crops and many different fruits by that water (here olives & dates & grapes are mentioned specially with the mention of other fruits in general) and the observant persons need to reflect on this (as it has the sign, mentioned here in singular, to appreciate the beautiful set-up that Allah has provided for the benefits of the mankind); AAYAT-12 tells that He made the night and the day and the sun and the moon subservient to the mankind so that these all benefit the mankind in the best way and the stars too are made subservient by His commandment as they manifest their beauty at the sky above (so there are many of signs, mentioned here in plural, in these for the people who ponder to appreciate the beautiful set-up that Allah has provided for the benefits of the mankind); AAYAT-13 says "and what He has created in the earth of varied hues most surely there is a sign in this for the people who are mindful"; this includes all animals and birds and insects plus their habitats that are jungles & trees & sands in which the mindful persons would find the sign (mentioned here in singular) to appreciate the set-up that Allah has provided for the mankind at the earth; note that these all clarify the statement that AAYAT-3 gave that "He created the heavens and the earth with the truth (i.e. set principles to follow), highly exalted be He above what they associate (with Him)"; AAYAAT ahead in the Ruku also clarify this statement in the most notable manner to guide the persons having intelligence towards the fundamental teachings of Islam, as their message read it well certainly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next three AAYAAT that are 14 & 15 & 16 tell about the benefits to the mankind from the creation of Allah respectively at the waters and at the earth and at the sky above in addition to what is previously mentioned; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these three AAYAAT read, "and He it is Who has made the sea subservient that you may eat fresh flesh (i.e. fish) from it and bring forth from it ornaments which you wear (i.e. the pearls that come from it; mostly, pearls are made by oysters for their own safety in either the freshwater or either the saltwater and taking them with care does not threaten their lives), and you see the ships cleaving through it (as Allah has set such laws that include even buoyancy), and that you might seek of His bounty (i.e. the necessary assets of use at life in plenty by sea voyages)

and that you may give thanks (for all these provisions that Allah has given you and whatever more you achieve by putting these provisions in use); and He has cast great mountains in the earth lest it might convulse with you (so they work as very long highly strong pickets to the earth), and rivers and roads (naturally) that you may go aright; and landmarks (along these rivers & roads that are often close to each other to guide you at your travel); and by the stars (the persons that are very good at navigation) they find the right way (in the physical sense)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that there are many people at the world today who consider that what understanding they would get by physical means, they would rely upon that only; so they have much difficulty with AAYAAT that indicate mountains as the strong pickets to earth so that it does not convulse and with AAYAAT that indicate heavens as seven of them above and other of such matters that do not come in-line with their physical perception (at-least not to this time); as the good Muslims believe in the Quran with most high commitment (and all praise is to Allah for that) so for them, there is no such attitude of suspicion and they take them as mentioned; though there was and is nothing valid that the physical perception has put against the Quran yet it is the issue of principle that if anything challenges or poses to challenge the Quran, the reliance of the Muslims stands firm with the Quran only; certainly, all praise is for Allah only as He only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last five AAYAAT of the Ruku present the fact plainly that Allah only is the true authority as He only is the Creator of all the creation and He only is the true Lord; these AAYAAT read, "is Allah then,

Who creates, like him who does not create?; (no one has the true authority except Him); do you not then mind?; (you must see that He has cared for you so much and then you show disbelief to Him and do not obey Him); and if you would count Allah's favors, you will not be able to number them (and this all He has provided to you without your asking so that you live your lives which also He has provided to you, at ease for the exam you are in); most surely Allah is Forgiving, Merciful (so the option still remains open for you to come to righteousness); and Allah knows what you conceal and what you do openly (so he forgives you on your weakness when you do have the true belief on Him as you repent towards Him silently without any inclination to major sins and He would care for your good deeds and He would give you the courage to accept the Truth openly); and those whom they call on besides Allah have not created anything while they are themselves created (so it is not right for you to take them as saviors to you at the Day of Judgment where everybody would face his/her doings totally alone); they are dead, not living, and they know not when they shall be raised (so even if they are most righteous, they are unable to hear you at their graves to advocate your plea to Allah and if Allah makes any of them hear that plea, they are still unable to give anything to you that you need because Allah only is the Creator of all creation and He only is the true authority)"; note that it is feasible to send DURUD to Muhammad PBUH (that is DUA to Allah for him) from anywhere and ULAMA often guide to this that angels take that to him (by the will of Allah) but it is not feasible to speak to him even, in the direct manner; he had told at the very beginning of his mission of spreading

Islam that he was not able to save anyone who does not take-up the Belief & the practice in Islam and that message remains noteworthy ever; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NAHL-The Third Ruku

22. Your Allah is one (Who only is the Creator of all and the only true Lord); so (as for) those who do not believe in the hereafter, their hearts are ignorant and they are conceited.

23. Truly Allah knows what they hide and what they manifest; surely He does not love the conceited.

24. And when it is said to them, what is it that your Lord has revealed? They say: Stories of the ancients;

25. That they may bear their burdens entirely on the day of resurrection and also of the burdens of those whom they lead astray without knowledge; now surely evil is what they bear.

This Ruku has four AAYAAT in total and denotes the punishment that the disbelievers to Islam (who also have hypocrisy in them), get in the world and in AKHIRAT; the first AAYAT tells that "your Allah is one (Who only is the Creator of all and the only true Lord); so (as for) those who do not believe in the hereafter, their hearts are ignorant and they are conceited"; so the hearts of disbelievers to Islam gradually get much away from the Truth and that leads them to becoming most conceited with the loss of their respect among the good people around; note that the AAYAT ahead states explicitly that Allah does not appreciate these conceited people so the result is that they lose their respect totally at the world and that they would get the severe punishment at AKHIRAT; so the next AAYAT states, "truly Allah knows what they hide and what they manifest; surely He does not love the conceited"; note that it seems that AAYAT-19 tells directly to repenting persons on their wrongs who find trouble in the manifestation of their righteous attitudes due to the adverse people around, that "Allah knows what you conceal and what you do openly" so it denotes the care of Allah for them and here AAYAT-23 states about the conceited persons that "Allah knows what they hide and what they manifest" to present their hypocrisy as they misguide the people who ask them about the teachings of Islam, by their extreme fibs; this is how it seems by the repetition and Allah knows better; the last couple of AAYAAT at the Ruku tell about their heinous sin that they misguide the people around when they are asked about the Islamic teachings due to some status they have among the people; these AAYAAT read, "and when it is said to them, what is it that your Lord has revealed? -they say (that these are) stories of the ancients; that they may bear their burdens entirely on the day of resurrection and also of the burdens of those whom they lead astray without knowledge; now surely evil is what they bear"; so they would be punished for their extreme evil totally and for this evil too that they misguided the persons who took their advice to decide for the rejection of the Islamic teachings as that also is counted as their own evil (though the rejecters of Islam would also get their own severe punishment at AKHIRAT to reject Islam even if they decided for that on the advice of those hypocrites); that extreme punishment is the most extreme burden which they put on themselves and they would only realize the severity of that extreme burden at the Day of Judgment; certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NAHL - The Fourth Ruku

26. Those before them did indeed devise plans, but Allah demolished their building from the foundations, so the roof fell down on them from above them, and the punishment came to them from whence they did not perceive.

27. Then on the resurrection day He will bring them to disgrace and say: Where are the associates you gave Me, for whose sake you became hostile? Those who are given the knowledge will say: Surely the disgrace and the evil are this day upon the disbelievers:

28. Those, whom the angels cause to die while they are unjust to themselves; Then would they offer submission: We used not to do any evil. Aye -surely Allah knows what you did.

29. Therefore enter the gates of hell, to abide therein; so certainly evil is the dwelling place of the proud.

30. And it is said to those who guard (against evil): What is it that your Lord has revealed? They say -Good (it is). For those who do good in this world is good, and certainly the abode of the hereafter is better; and certainly most excellent is the abode of those who guard (against evil);

31. The gardens of perpetuity, they shall enter them, rivers flowing beneath them; they shall have in them what they please. Thus does Allah reward those who guard (against evil),

32. Those, whom the angels cause to die in a good state, saying -Peace be on you: enter the garden for what you did.

33. They do not wait aught but that the angels should come to them or that the commandment of your Lord should come to pass. Thus did those before them; and Allah was not unjust to them, but they were unjust to themselves.

34. So the evil (consequences) of what they did afflicted them and that which they mocked encompassed them.

The fourth Ruku of NAHL tells about the living of the bad persons and of the good persons, at the world and at AKHIRAT; the four AAYAAT at its start read, "those before them did indeed devise plans (to live their lives at the world smoothly with leisure as if they are to stay here), but Allah demolished their building from the foundations (by the severe punishment sent upon them when they rejected the explicit teachings of Islam that they received by the Messengers of Allah), so the roof fell down on them from above them (such was the outcome of their efforts on their care for ease in living at the world without care to AKHIRAT), and the punishment came to them from whence they did not perceive (because it took them by surprise as one of natural calamities and it destroyed them totally being the punishment from Allah upon them); then on the resurrection day He will bring them to disgrace and say - where are the associates you gave Me, for whose sake you became hostile?- (so at AKHIRAT too, they would get extreme torment as they did not believe in TAUHID)- those who are given the knowledge (of the Quran and total belief in it) will say -surely the disgrace and the evil are this day upon the disbelievers (that are) those, whom the angels cause to die while they are unjust to themselves (though if anyone of them repents before death and believes righteously, he would save himself from the extreme torment at AKHIRAT); then would they offer submission -we used not to do any evil- but surely Allah knows what you did (so your lame excuse is unjustified and Allah does not accept the repentance at the time of death); therefore (you would) enter the gates of hell, to abide therein (forever); so certainly evil is the dwelling place of the proud (who thought that they are above all charges whatever they do)"; certainly Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next three AAYAAT that are 30, 31 & 32 tell about the believers and the good outcome to their efforts as they read, "and it is said to those who guard (against evil) - what is it that your Lord has revealed?-they say- Good (it is); for those who do good in this world is good, and certainly the abode of the hereafter is better; and certainly most excellent is the abode of those who guard (against evil as those are) the gardens of perpetuity, they shall enter them, rivers flowing beneath them; they shall have in them what they please (as Allah would provide there all things that they need); thus does Allah reward those who guard (against evil); those, whom the angels cause to die in a good state, saying that -peace be on you- (you would) enter the garden for what you did (by the blessing of Allah upon you all as Allah accepts those most virtuous deeds from you all)-"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that AAYAT-24 states about the disbelievers that when they are asked about the teachings of the Quran, they take them as the stories of the ancients and AAYAT-30 states about the believers that when they are asked about the teachings of the Quran, they answer that they are the blessed teachings from Allah; this certainly is very significant difference among the disbelievers and the believers in Allah; even if some of the disbelievers take the trouble to learn about the teachings of the Quran, their attitude to them is that there were times when these teachings were practical yet they are impractical now at these times; but the true believers in Allah have no doubt that even in these modern times, the Quran is the only practical solution to all ills of the mankind that would provide the blessing to all peoples of the world only if they do believe it and strive hard to bring it into practice (in both the individual & the collective manners) keeping their total attention towards Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the fact is that it needs its practical application now with the most highest of fervor to it when the world ignores the true authority of Allah in collective issues; all peoples here need to do it fast and I, MSD, tell this in most plain words that if they do not, they all certainly are doomed to destruction; please read also my writing "The Islamic Guidelines" that is available at the net for the better understanding of the practical application of the Quran at the present environment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT at this Ruku read, "they do not wait aught but that the angels should come to them (at their deaths) or that the commandment of your Lord should come to pass (as the punishment that falls at the rejection of the fundamental teachings of Islam when they get those teachings explicitly); thus did those before them (whom the punishment caught severely when its time occurred); and Allah was not unjust to them (as He gave them the ample time to accept the Truth presenting it with all clarity to them and with all ease at life), but they were unjust to themselves (by their rejection of the Truth); so the evil (consequences) of what they did afflicted them (as Allah punished them severely at the world) and that which they mocked (i.e. the punishment they would get at AKHIRAT due to their rejection of the Truth) encompassed them"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NAHL - The Fifth Ruku

35. And they who give associates (to Allah) say: If Allah had pleased, we would not have served anything besides Allah, (neither) we nor our fathers, nor would we have prohibited anything without (order from) Him. Thus did those before them; is then aught incumbent upon the apostles except a plain delivery (of the message)?

36. And certainly We raised in every nation an apostle saying: Serve Allah and shun the Satan. So there were some of them whom Allah guided and there were others against whom error was due; therefore travel in the land then see what the end was of the rejecters.

37. If you desire for their guidance, yet surely Allah does not guide him who leads astray, nor shall they have any helpers.

38. And they swear by Allah with the most energetic of their oaths: Allah will not raise him who dies. Yea- it is a promise binding on Him, quite true, but most people do not know;

39. So that He might make manifest to them that about which they differ, and that those who disbelieve might know that they were liars.

40. Our word for a thing when We intend it, is only that We say to it, Be, and it is.

This Ruku guides to the fundamental teachings of Islam that are TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord), RISALAT (Allah sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path and Muhammad PBUH is the last of His Messengers) and AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment); the first AAYAT tells about the statement of the disbelievers that they said that if Allah willed, they and their forefathers would not have taken anyone equal in authority to Allah and they would not have designated anything without His permission as prohibited; note this most important teaching of Islam that though everything does take place by the will of Allah yet He does not accept it as an excuse from any of disbelievers; Islam commands all persons to see that they certainly have the free-will and this observation asks them to accept Islam by the free-will and do all works accordingly; Islam does not appreciate for Muslims to take up the philosophical detail to issues as the leanings of persons that are present at such argument might take hold of them;

they would believe in Islam in the simple manner as it presents in the Quran and put it to practice in the simple manner as it certainly is most simple to practice too; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that one of the most authentic Ahadith relates to this matter that once SAHABA (the companions of the Prophet PBUH) were with him and he was scratching earth (as though in deep thought); then he raised his head to the heaven and addressed them that there is none among them about whom it is not determined if his seat is in the hell-fire or in the Paradise (JANNAH); they asked if they shall not place trust in Allah (and leave the deeds); note his answer to this that he told them to do their good deeds (with all fervor) because to everyone that only is made easy for which he is created (see the Book on Predestination at Tirmidhi); this implies that the Muslims would certainly believe in the will of Allah but they would work strictly according to the Islamic commands by their free-will (that they see plainly that they do have with them without any deep arguments) so as to gain the pleasure of Allah as that only is the aim of life; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note well that to present the will of Allah as an argument for safety at AKHIRAT is totally disallowed so the AAYAT gives no answer to this statement but states that such argument has been presented by those disbelievers too who were before these; it asks if the Messengers of Allah had any other task but to present Islamic teachings with total clarity, so that they understand that they have to accept those teachings (by their free-will that Allah has provided to them) as Allah has put them into an exam here at the world; note that Allah told clearly at AAYAT-9 of this Surah, "and upon Allah it rests to show the right way, and there are some deviating (ways); and if He please He would certainly guide you all aright"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYT-36 at this Ruku states that Allah has sent His Messengers to all nations that they would serve Allah as their Creator and obey Him in all the principles that He has given to them by His commands; this implies that they would not take the following of TAGHUT that leads them against the commands of Allah; note that TAGHUT is such representative of wrongs that advises the people against the commands of Allah knowingly, with whatever authority (to impress the people) it had managed to muster; so there were such persons among them who accepted the Guidance to the right path and there were others in them whom the error took hold of and they wandered away from the right path; as the AAYAT notes that all nations received the Messengers of Allah who guided them to the right path so it asks all observant persons who intend to see the matter that they travel through the land and they would see the consequence that the rejecters of the Truth faced when they disbelieved in the good teachings of the Messengers; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT tells Muhammad PBUH that He would provide the true guidance but it is not his domain to decide who takes that guidance; it is Allah who decides for that and He would never bring such wrong persons to the right path who go astray (and they are most happy with such error) and there never would be such helpers to them who would stand by them when Allah punishes them on their extreme error most severely; for the next three AAYAAT of the Ruku that are its last of AAYAAT, note that the majority of the disbelievers at Arabia believed in the Day of Judgment at that time yet they had the belief that those whom they take equal in authority to Allah would save them from all torments there; however, there were such disbelievers too in them who did not believe that the Day of Judgment would take place; these AAYAAT address such persons who did not believe in that Day by telling them that all facts need to come at fore so that the disbelievers do know that how much in error they were; it certainly is not difficult for Allah to bring that Day for Judgment of all the peoples of the world as He would only order it to be and with that, it would take place; these AAYAAT read, "and they swear by Allah with the most energetic of their oaths that Allah will not raise him who dies; yea- it is a promise binding on Him, quite true, but most people do not know; so that He might make manifest to them that about which they differ, and that those who disbelieve might know that they were liars; Our word for a thing when We intend it, is only that We say to it, Be, and it is"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NAHL-The Sixth Ruku

41. And those who fly for Allah's sake after they are oppressed, We will most certainly give them the good abode in the world, and the reward of the hereafter is certainly much greater; did they but know;

42. Those, who are patient and, on their Lord do they rely.

43. And We did not send before you any but men to whom We sent revelation-- so ask the followers of the Reminder if you do not know--

44. With clear arguments and scriptures; and We have revealed to you the Reminder that you may make clear to men what has been revealed to them, and that haply they may reflect.

45. Do they then who plan evil (deeds) feel secure (of this) that Allah will not cause the earth to swallow them or that punishment may not overtake them from whence they do not perceive?

46. Or that He may not seize them in the course of their journeys, then shall they not escape;

47. Or that He may not seize them by causing them to suffer gradual loss; for your Lord is most surely Compassionate, Merciful.

48. Do they not consider everything that Allah has created? Its (very) shadows return from right and left, making obeisance to Allah while they are in utter abasement.

49. And whatever creature that is in the heavens and that is in the earth, it makes obeisance to Allah (only), and (among them also) the angels and they do not show any pride.

50. They fear their true Lord above them and they do what they are commanded.

The Ruku commences with the statement that those who seem weakest among all persons at present, when they leave their native place because they are persecuted there (as they have true belief in Allah Whom they do take as their true Lord), Allah would give them the virtuous abode to live their lives at the world; and the good returns at AKHIRAT to them for their good deeds are even better; though this statement is general which provides good tidings to all Muslims who change their native places to work better on Islam yet note about this that at that time, this happened afterwards when the Muslims left Makkah for Madinah at Hijrah (the migration) that proved to be the base for them to live their lives well upon Islam and thence, it spread all over the known world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the AAYAT tells that the disbelievers do not know how Allah gives the virtuous life to the Muslims at the world and how He gives them the best of opportunity to gain all good deeds that lead them to excellence at AKHIRAT; this happens because they are patient to shun the base desires to get the worldly goods (& status) but they trust Allah totally that He would see to their necessities here so they would do better at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-43 & 44 state that Allah has provided the teachings of Islam by WAHI to men only (that were the best among the people) so they need to ask the followers of Torah about this if they are unaware of it; Allah provided them His message with such good signs that proved that they certainly are the Messengers of Allah and with scriptures even, before Muhammad PBUH; now, to him also, Allah has provided the same teachings of Islam most explicitly (in the Quran) so that he clarifies that to all peoples of the world especially how those teachings ask for practice at all times and at all places; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the three AAYAAT ahead tell the consequence of disbelieving in Islam and even of ignoring the teachings of Islam in practice, that Allah has all authority to punish such persons in any manner He intends even at the world; these AAYAAT read, "do they then who plan evil (deeds) feel secure (of this) that

Allah will not cause the earth to swallow them (by earthquake) or that punishment may not overtake them from whence they do not perceive (by deadly winds and other of natural calamities and even by the hands of other men)?; or that He may not seize them in the course of their journeys (by causing weakness in all that relates to their economics), then shall they not escape; or that He may not seize them by causing them to suffer gradual loss (of health and even lives much); for your Lord is most surely Compassionate, Merciful (to those who live-on after such punishments that numerous of persons around them receive, so that they avail the time they have and come towards Islam)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT guides to the simple observation that all persons see that shadows take different directions as the day progresses due to change of position of the sun at the day-time so it likens these directions to the postures of SALAH that as the Muslim person makes RUKU and SUJUD in it, these directions too present such obeisance to Allah; this implies that if any person considers himself too smart to get away with his wrongs, that would never happen as with all his free-will that Allah has granted him, he still is bound to the laws that Allah has set for the life; everything in the creation of Allah worships Him only as that is how they are created with no other choice yet the jinn and the mankind have the choice due to the free-will that Allah has granted them to accept or reject His true guidance for which Allah would see due results at the grounds of HASHR (the first day of AKHIRAT); the AAYAT says, "do they not consider everything that Allah has created?; its (very) shadows return from right and left, making obeisance to Allah while they (themselves too) are in utter abasement"; the last couple of AAYAAT at the Ruku emphasize that all of the creation of Allah totally works according to His will and they all (specially the angels) give all compliance to the commands of Allah as they have no option to do otherwise and they do know well that Allah has all true authority to direct all His creation to the manner that He wills; there are three of His creation that possess the awareness of the self and these three are Angels, Jinn and the Man so note here that Allah has given the last two among them the free-will to apply in practice to gain the pleasure of Allah by that though even these two last ones are most certainly bound to His will totally; Al-Hamdu Lillah; they read, "and whatever creature that is in the heavens and that is in the earth (i.e. each of His creatures), it makes obeisance to Allah (only), and (among them also) the angels and they do not show any pride; they fear their true Lord above them and they do what they are commanded"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NAHL-The Seventh Ruku

51. And Allah has said: Take not two gods; He is only one (that only is Allah); so of Me alone should you be afraid.

52. And whatever is in the heavens and the earth is His, and to Him should obedience be (rendered) constantly; will you then guard against other than (the punishment of) Allah?

53. And whatever favor is (bestowed) on you it is from Allah; then when evil afflicts you, to Him do you cry for aid.

54. Yet when He removes the evil from you, lo- a party of you associate others with their Lord;

55. So that they become ungrateful for what We have given them; then enjoy yourselves; for soon will you know;

56. And they set apart for what they do not know a portion of what We have given them. By Allah, you shall most certainly be questioned about that which you forged.

57. And they ascribe daughters to Allah, glory be to Him; and for themselves (they would have) what they desire.

58. And when a daughter is announced to one of them his face becomes black and he is full of wrath.

59. He hides himself from the people because of the evil of that which is announced to him. Shall he keep it with disgrace or bury it (alive) in the dust? Now surely evil is what they judge.

60. For those, who do not believe in the hereafter is an evil attribute, and Allah's is the loftiest attribute; and He is the Mighty, the Wise.

The seventh Ruku asks all persons to have utmost care not even to speak anything that is against the prestigious honor of Allah; the Ruku starts by the statement that implies for TAUHID that all persons must worship Allah only with such fear that honors Him as He only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-52 says that whatever is in the heavens and the earth is His only and because He only is the true Lord so all persons must obey Him only in all principles at issues; never must anyone take such principles in issues that challenge His commands as that is against the attitude of TAQWA (i.e. the attitude of the heart which means that all the Muslims must fear Allah that they do not get His displeasure by their sins becoming so sinful that they lose the chance to regain JANNAH and with that, they also must have such hope towards Him that He would keep them safe from the Satan at all times and at all places); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next three AAYAAT tell the disrespectful attitude of the disbelievers towards Allah that though Allah cares for them and removes afflictions from them as they cry only to Him for their aid, they disrespect Him still by taking others (that only are among His creation) as equal to Him in authority; these AAYAAT read, "and whatever favor is (bestowed) on you it is from Allah; then when evil afflicts you, to Him do you cry for aid; yet when He removes the evil from you, lo- a party of you associate others with their Lord (though some do come to Islamic teachings); so that they become ungrateful for what We have given them; then enjoy yourselves; for soon will you know"; AAYAT-56 tells that they even take out something from their worldly assets that Allah has provided to them, to give to the needy in the name of those whom they do not even know (whom they take as equal in authority to Allah) so most certainly, such persons who commit such heinous wrong would be asked most harshly about this at the time when their account would be presented to them at AKHIRAT; the next three AAYAAT that are 57, 58 & 59 tell again of another of their most disrespectful attitude against Allah that they mentioned angels as daughters to Allah though they considered the birth of daughters to them as an insult to themselves; their actual heinous crime was that they mentioned angels as daughters to Allah which was the most disrespectful statement to Allah yet these AAYAAT point out as the manifest issue of the matter that they professed this when they took daughters as an insult to themselves; note that there are many of ULAMA who take the first pregnancy to be girl as better for the parents because AAYAT-49 of Surah SHURA mentions daughters before sons which reads, "the kingdom of the heavens and the earth is of Allah; He creates what He pleases; He grants to whom He pleases daughters and grants to whom He pleases sons"; now, these three AAYAAT at Surah NAHL read, "and they ascribe daughters to Allah, glory be to Him (certainly He is pure from such things); and for themselves (they would have) what they desire; and when a daughter is announced to one of them his face becomes black and he is full of wrath; he hides himself from the people because of the evil of that (as he takes it) which is announced to him; shall he keep it with disgrace or bury it (alive) in the dust?- now surely evil is what they judge"; the last AAYAT of the Ruku states, "For those, who do not believe in the hereafter is an evil attribute, and Allah's is the loftiest attribute; and He is the Mighty, the Wise"; this tells that these disbelievers need offspring (to carry on their names) but Allah certainly does not need any such things; certainly, no person is ever able to prove anything for Him that is against His glory; He commands all His creation as He wills and He decides about the impressions that would remain at the world and about those that He would eliminate; this is so because He certainly is Mighty (so He makes the effect of all things better by His direct command) and Most Wise (so He knows well what He has to retain from the effects of attitudes of all persons and with that, He takes the world gradually towards all the right concepts by His will); He certainly is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NAHL - The Eighth Ruku

61. And if Allah had destroyed men for their iniquity, He would not leave on the earth a single creature, but He respites them till an appointed time; so when their doom will come they shall not be able to delay (it) an hour nor can they bring (it) on (before its time).

62. And they ascribe to Allah what they (themselves) hate and their tongues relate the lie that they shall have the good; there is no avoiding it that for them is the fire and that they shall be sent before.

63. By Allah, most certainly We sent (apostles) to nations before you, but the Satan made their deeds fair-seeming to them, so he is their guardian today, and they shall have a painful punishment.

64. And We have not revealed to you the Book except that you may make clear to them that about which they differ, and (as) the guidance and the mercy for the people who believe.

65. And Allah has sent down water from the heaven and therewith given life to the earth after its death; most surely there is a sign in this for the people who would listen.

The Ruku starts with the statement that if Allah had taken men to task on their wrongs, He would not have left any of the unjust creatures on the face of the earth; there are so much of wrongs here that if He did not show patience, He would have sent His severe punishment everywhere that would have caused not only the deaths of men but also of animals; but He does not will that way as He has brought men to life here so that they show themselves worthy of JANNAH by their righteous belief and good deeds according to it; He forgives much of their wrongs so that they reflect on themselves and come to the right path; so He provides ample time to all persons to show their true colors and when His set time comes to punish the wrong-doers severely, He gives no further time to them and destroys them totally as that is necessary to save the righteous persons to live upon the right path; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next couple of AAYAAT tell about the disbelievers that they disrespect Allah and present their doings as the virtuous deeds without any shame saying that they would get all the good ahead as they deserve it; the Satan has made their wrongs seem most praiseworthy to them; these AAYAAT say, "and they ascribe to Allah what they hate (i.e. daughters) and their tongues relate the lie (to which they might be aware or not aware) that they shall have the good (because they take their deeds as good); there is no avoiding it that for them is the hell-fire and that they shall be sent before (many of other disbelievers to that at AKHIRAT); by Allah, most certainly We sent (apostles) to nations before you, but the Satan made their deeds fair-seeming to them, so he is their guardian today (at the world), and they shall have a painful punishment (at AKHIRAT)"; AAYAT-64 relates that Allah has provided this Holy Book Quran to Muhammad PBUH, His last Messenger, so that it clears all the erroneous beliefs that the disbelievers have developed among them; all must see clearly that the fundamental teachings of Islam are TAUHID, AKHIRAT and RISALAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah has no daughters and He would certainly see at AKHIRAT the belief and the deeds of all persons by the good teachings that He had provided to all of them at the world so none of the disbelievers would be able to claim ignorance in his defense; note that the Quran notes this explicitly that Allah asks every person to know about the most basic fundamental teachings of Islam and the Muslims today are most liable to provide the message of Islam to all peoples of the world; note also that the Holy Book Quran is the only criteria for the righteousness in final terms as of now and certainly, that would manifest at AKHIRAT; it decides at the world for all the differences that arise among peoples while for the true believers, it certainly is the true guidance and the mercy from Allah at all times and at all places; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT at the Ruku tells, "and Allah has sent down water from the heaven and therewith given life to the earth after its death; most surely there is a sign in this for the people who would listen"; though its manifest simple meaning is that the consumption of the pure water keeps the physique of the mankind capable to function in the normal way yet this also means that as the water from the heaven gives life to the earth by the command of Allah so in the same manner, the command of Allah would raise the dead from the graves at the day of HASHR (the first day of AKHIRAT); it also tells that all such persons who are at a loss on issues but who ask to resolve their differences at the world from the Quran, they do get the solution like the good rain from the heaven by which the earth revives; so for them if they really listen to it, the Quran is the sign that would provide the true guidance to them all at all troubles that they face here so that they make all things better for themselves for the Day of HASHR; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NAHL-The Ninth Ruku

66. And most surely there is a lesson for you in the cattle; We give you to drink of what is in their bellies-- from betwixt the feces and the blood-- pure milk, easy and agreeable to swallow for those who drink.

67. And of the fruits of the dates and the grapes-- you obtain from them intoxication and goodly provision; most surely there is a sign in this for the people who ponder.

68. And your Lord revealed to the bee saying: Make hives in the mountains and in the trees and in what they build:

69. Then eat of all the fruits and walk in the ways of your Lord submissively. There comes forth from within it a beverage of many colors, in which there is healing for men; most surely there is a sign in this for the people who reflect.

70. And Allah has created you, then He causes you to die, and of you is he who is brought back to the worst part of life, so that after having knowledge he does not know anything; surely, Allah is Knowing, Powerful.

The Ninth Ruku has five AAYAAT and it indicates how Allah has provided wonderful liquids for the mankind to drink from the cattle and from the fruits and from the bees that are clean milk, fresh juices & wines and honey that has medicinal properties for the people respectively; note that the previous AAYAT (that is the last AAYAT of the eighth Ruku) had noted that the pure water is one of the highest blessing for the mankind that keeps the life to functioning well physically and with the liquids mention here, these four actually are the liquids that would flow as streams at JANNAH (though Allah has prohibited wines here and He appreciates fresh juices only from fruits); AAYAT-15 at Surah Muhammad (PBUH) states that "the similitude of the JANNAH, which those who keep their duty (to Allah) are promised; therein are streams of water unpolluted, and streams of milk whereof the flavor does not change, and streams of wine delicious to the drinkers, and streams of clear-run honey; therein for them is every kind of fruit, with pardon from their Lord"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this Ruku commences by the observation that the milk that Allah has provided to the mankind is most wonderful for those who value the intake of liquids; they receive that from the bellies of the female of the cattle though in there is their feces and their blood too yet it makes way to the protuberance of their udders very clean and easy-to-drink for them all; about the liquids from fruits, the second AAYAT notes that from the dates and the grapes, people get both drinks as intoxication and drinks as the good fresh juices; note that the wines that are made by dates and grapes to lose senses ask HADD (the prescribed punishment of 40 lashes as mentioned at FIQH); this position stays for the wines of dates and grapes even if taken just a bit without getting into the drunken state as

Islam fixedly designs them as wines that Allah has totally prohibited to consume (see MA'EDAH-90); other such liquids that are known as wines (KHAMR; those related to SAKAR) ask HADD only if they lead the person to the drunken state though those that are recognized as wines are punishable by the laws of the Islamic lands even without the drunken state; however, note that the stream of wines at JANNAH would not cause the drunken state even if the residents of JANNAH take it in by much high quantity (see Surah TOOR-23); the AAYAT gives the beautiful final touch to it by the statement that "most surely there is a sign in this for the people who ponder"; note that the Quran has this most pleasant manner of speech that asks the man to give attention from inside to reflect on the teachings that Allah is providing to him; that would make him more committed to that teaching than if he takes it only as an issue related to ADL (the Islamic law); Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-68 & 69 tell about the works of the bee that provides honey to the mankind; these AAYAAT read, "and your Lord revealed to the bee saying- make hives in the mountains and in the trees and in what they (i.e. the people) build- then eat of all the fruits (and of all of flowers that also are the fruits of plants) and walk in the ways of your Lord (to gather the material you need for producing honey) submissively; there comes forth from within it a beverage of many colors (which men would take-out from hives without any harm to bees so that they gather again to produce more of honey), in which there is healing for men; most surely there is a sign in this for the people who reflect"; note that the milk is pure even when it comes from between the feces and the blood of the cattle;

the fresh juices of fruits are pure even when they are used for wines too; and the honey is wonderfully pure even when the bees literally vomit it to each other before finally depositing it at cells; Allah has made these things totally pure for the mankind and certainly Allah knows better; the AAYAT mentions "your Lord" as He has provided the mankind all convenience for the exam He takes of him so He asks for total submission from the mankind to His commands; note that the term for revelation at the AAYAT is derived from WAHI and here it means the knowledge that Allah has given to the bee so it is inherent for it; note that the command Allah gives to the bee is for the feminine gender as the workers among them are all female without exception; it transforms what it takes-in from the fruits (of plants i.e. flowers) into honey and secures it at hives; it has the beautiful sense of direction towards where it would find such things that would enable it to make its honey and even has the skill to convey that direction with the idea of distance to her sister-bees by relevant movements (and by relevant sounds) for which it takes even the assistance of the position of the sun; the AAYAT comments that the honey has medicinal properties to heal physical afflictions and it does have much high significance in the eastern medicine; here, it uses its varieties (that its colors denote) extensively in combination to different herbs & spices for different ills and it sure does satisfy the physical need in much good time; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-69 states that "most surely there is a sign in this for the people who reflect" so I, MSD, would note some facts about the bees taken from different sources that also includes an informative booklet written on them;

note that in taxonomy, the specific name given to the bees (by its Genus and species) is Apis mellifera; it has the four-stage life cycle that relates to its class of insects (i.e. egg, larva, pupa, adult); it has three pairs of legs, six legs in total but the rear pair is specially designed with stiff hair to store pollen when in flying from flower to flower while its front pair of legs has special slots to enable it to clean its antenna; its wings are four in total of which the front and rear wings hook together to form one big pair of wings and unhook for easy folding when not flying; they have five eyes that are two large compound eyes and three smaller eyes in the center of its head; Al-Hamdu Lillah; they make hives to produce and store honey and create cavities inside their hives (and even the small ones in these hives might have twenty thousand bees while the bigger ones have them four times more than that); note that each of these cells that have six corners to it actually is the pot of honey; there are three types of bees inside the hive that are the queen-bee, male among bees (i.e. drones which have no sting and they do not gather nectar or pollen but they only mate with the queen-bee which then leads them to their early death and they are lesser than hundred in number at the small hive of twenty thousand bees) and the third are the female worker bees (which protect the queen-bee & the hive and also serve to gather nectar and pollen from fruits of the plants i.e. flowers with which they produce honey); the queen-bee rules the hive but loosely and it cares to see that the hive is built properly; the worker bees select it from amongst the eggs that are assigned to take the queen-bee from and then they specify one of the cavities (with the development of that cell to the royal queen-cup) inside the hive for its living where they protect it fiercely and where it routinely gives eggs; the emergency queens are raised nearby where the next queen develops steadily that replaces the old queen when it faces frustration after few years of providing eggs (and runs away with its swarm if it is lucky, to avoid being killed by those worker bees who had served it recently); but the next queen too has to face challenge by other of emergency virgin queens (all make such noise that alerts them all when the time is ripe and also the worker bees to decide for the queen would-be); most of the emergency queens are killed by the one who ultimately gets her status of the queen-bee (while others escape in swarms); the queen-bee may live to seven years when she accumulates millions of sperms from drones mating with them at flight outside the hive and then she lays eggs at her royal cell selectively for the next few years of her life; the first small batch of these eggs brings forth such bees that one of them could immediately assume the role of the queen-bee on its death as the workers prepare that new one for it (when its position becomes evident) while the second batch brings forth the meager number of male drones; the third batch relates to providing the female worker bees in plenty; the queen-bee feeds on the royal jelly that the glands at the head of the young worker bees provide her so that she develops well for the royal task of giving eggs routinely while other bees have the nectar & the pollen mixed with crude honey only as their foods (though at the first few days of hatching, all of bees would get some of the royal jelly to devour); the male drones among the bees are extremely lazy and if they become totally incapable to mate with the queen-bee (or the queen would-be) then the female worker bees throw them out of the hive to die there; the queen-bee continues giving eggs in hundreds daily (sometimes more than 1000 in a day) and the worker bees (that may be more than fifty thousand in quantity at any given time in a vast hive) in contrast to the male drone bees, work extremely hard to protect the hive; these female worker bees are those that go far-away places to get the nectar and the pollen while they also take care to keep the hive most clean for their work for which they bring forth the needed wax (which they produce by taking some sticky material from trees); these female worker bees are those that actually produce honey by what they bring from thousands of flowers of plants & crops and then they produce spoonful of honey (which comes forth after passing among them mouth to mouth) that they ultimately store at the hive but they are short-lived and their life span is to six weeks maximum; these worker bees protect the queen-bee at winter by remaining close to her so that she gets the necessary warmth to live-on; but it also is interesting to note that if the worker bees find the queen-bee incapable to provide eggs ahead, they come extremely close to her that increases the temperature to lethal height for her which ultimately gets rid of her; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku reads, "and Allah has created you, then He causes you to die (some of you early in life and some at ripe age), and of you is he who is brought back to the worst part of life (i.e. most extreme old age), so that after having knowledge (of many things) he does not know anything; surely, Allah is Knowing (Who has total knowledge of everything and He does not ever lose His knowledge), Powerful (Who has all authority to apply His true knowledge in the most righteous manner)"; note that Allah is from all times to all times because He only has the true life with all of His attributes that are totally true to Him that He never loses so all of His attributes are of Him from all times to all times (QADEEM) and all of His attributes are His very own (ASL) and all of His attributes are limitless (LA-MEHDUD); certainly, He only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NAHL-The Tenth Ruku

71. And Allah has made some of you excel others in the means of subsistence, so those who are made to excel do not give away their sustenance to those whom their right hands possess so that they should be equal therein; is it then the favor of Allah which they deny?

72. And Allah has made wives for you from among yourselves, and has given you sons and grandchildren from your wives, and has given you of the good things; is it then in the falsehood that they believe while it is in the favor of Allah that they disbelieve?

73. And they serve besides Allah that which does not control for them any sustenance at all from the heavens and the earth, and they do not have any power.

74. Therefore do not give likenesses to Allah; surely Allah knows and you do not know.

75. Allah sets forth a similitude: (consider) a slave, the property of another, (who) has no power over anything, and one whom We have granted from Ourselves a goodly sustenance so he spends from it secretly and openly; are the two alike? (All) praise is due to Allah! Nay, most of them do not know.

76. And Allah sets forth a similitude of two men; one of them is dumb, not able to do anything, and he is a burden to his master; wherever he sends him, he brings no good; can he be held equal with him who enjoins what is just, and he (himself) is on the right path?

The Ruku tells about such manifest blessings upon the mankind that makes him see that how much better he is among others by the sustenance Allah has provided to him; at those times, slavery flourished among men as one of aspects to life and though Islam directed in different manners that may lead to eliminate that system with time yet to abolish that with immediate effect was not possible and any efforts for such would have led to extreme chaos among the living manner of the people; it was then necessary to preserve the status-quo in this issue with the most benevolent attitude possible towards slaves; in that set-up of the living manner, the first AAYAT presents the example that manifestly, it would lead to extreme disorder if the owners of slaves bring them equal to their own-selves by providing them the worldly provisions they have (and releasing them to become free as themselves); it reads, "and Allah has made some of you excel others in the means of subsistence, so those who are made to excel do not give away their sustenance to those whom their right hands possess (i.e. their slaves) so that they should be equal therein (as that would cause much deprivation of their own sustenance); is it then the favor of Allah which they deny? (this means that the disbelievers do understand that their slaves would respect them as their masters to keep the order in the set-up of life without any challenge to the possessions they have with them, but they deny giving respect to Allah as their true Lord by taking some persons among them as equal in authority to Him though all persons most certainly are slaves only to Him)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next couple of AAYAAT indicate other of manifest blessings that relate to life (and the needs of the psyche of the mankind); Allah gave all persons the opportunity to live in jointly with their respective spouses (which Allah has provided to them in their own beings i.e. humankind) and children and grand-children by them and gave all of them enough of foods for their sustenance; so Allah has provided all needs of the psyche and all sustenance to the mankind so that each person gives his/her exam due upon him/her with all convenience without much worry about such needs of life yet what happens is that many of persons believe in the satanic notions so they disrespect Allah in spite of the convenience that He has provided to them in their due exam at the world; they leave all care to Allah by their submission to persons like them in the humankind, though those persons do not have anything in possession to give anyone any sustenance from the heavens and the earth, and those persons certainly do not have any ability to get those; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-74 that is the next AAYAT prohibits to take anyone similar to Allah and the word used for similarity is AMTHAAL and it is plural for both MATHAL and MITHL (both of these denote similarity); note that the disbelievers had the erroneous notion that as a king needs many persons to manage his administration for him so Allah needs such persons too; may Allah save all Muslims from such erroneous notions that led the disbelievers to extreme sinful things in belief and most incorrect deeds; Allah certainly has the true authority and He guides the heavens and the earth and all that is between them with that true authority and His word only is the command that brings results according to His will and He needs no one to enforce that command; as for the matters in the mankind and in the jinn (these both have the free-will to fulfill the examination that Allah has put upon them at the world), He takes them directly and He orders His angels as He wills about them yet the angels totally are bound to His command as all other creatures (except for the mankind and the jinn) and they have no free-will to bring anything by their own; the AAYAT implies that the Muslims would not use any of these terms in the expression for the meaning of similarity to Allah; however, there are some notable points that relate to these terms MATHAL and MITHL and presently our study would address those; the first notable point is that these both have delicate difference in the Quran as the term "MATHAL" also denotes "the attribute" in the Quran though "MITHL" only denotes "the similarity"; MATHAL occurs in this meaning of "the attribute" in the Quran besides other places at AAYAT-60 at this Surah NAHL that "for those who do not believe in AKHIRAT (the hereafter) is an evil attribute (MATHAL-US-SAW-WI), and Allah's is the loftiest attribute (MATHAL-UL-AALA); and He is the Mighty, the Wise" (and it occurs at ROUM-27 too, where also it occurs in the meaning of "the attribute" and implies that all attributes of Allah are QADEEM, ASL and LA-MEHDUD); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second point is that the term "MATHAL" also relates to expressing the similarity of some of His creation to some other of His creation by comparison so even though it means similarity as the term "MITHL" denotes, but its usage enfolds expressing the comparison between two of creation of Allah but "MITHL" relates to similarity in general; note the usage of both of these terms for this delicate difference at this Surah NAHL where AAYAAT-75 & 76 that are just ahead here, read about MATHAL that "Allah sets forth a similitude- (consider) a slave, the property of another, (who) has no power over anything, and one whom We have granted from Ourselves a goodly sustenance so he spends from it secretly and openly; are the two alike?- (all) praise is due to Allah- nay, most of them do not know; and Allah sets forth a similitude of two men; one of them is dumb, not able to do anything, and he is a burden to his master; wherever he sends him, he brings no good; can he be held equal with him who enjoins what is just, and he (himself) is on the right path?" and at this same Surah, AAYAT-126 read about MITHL "and if you take your turn, then retaliate with the like (MITHL) of that with which you were afflicted; but if you are patient, it will certainly be best for those who are patient"; however, as mentioned, the Quran has strictly forbade the use of both these terms MITHL and MATHAL in the meaning of similarity for Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the third notable point is that for the term "MITHL" that denotes the similarity only, the Quran says categorically at AAYAT-11 of Surah SHURA that "(Allah is) the Originator of the heavens and the earth; He made mates for you from among yourselves, and mates of the cattle too, multiplying you thereby; nothing is like any similarity of Him (LAYSA KAMITHLE-HE SHAYE-UN); and He is the Hearing, the Seeing"; this AAYAT prohibits to use the term MITHL (i.e. similarity) for Allah with any of His creation and it prohibits even the term MATHAL for such expression in speech, by its implication; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the fourth point is that AAYAT-14 of Surah FAATIR tells that "none would tell you anything like Him Who is the Most Aware (MITHLU-KHABEER)" so the term MITHL occurs to deny any similarity to Him in providing the true insight to matters; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this detail explicitly tells that the Muslims would never use any of these terms MITHL and MATHAL in the meaning of similarity for Allah (as such care in speech is necessary to keep them to the manner of the expression of Quran); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next couple of AAYAAT both provide such similitude that all persons note the blessings of Allah upon them and remain grateful to Him; the first of them i.e. AAYAT-75 compares a slave person to a free person; the former has no control over his possessions as being a slave-person, his assets belong to his master so he has to care for his permission to spend anything that is in his possession while the free-person has authority over his assets to spend it in the way he finds beneficial as he spends it secretly and openly for the pleasure of Allah and does not need to seek any permission; so the matter explicitly tells that they both are not equal and that asks the free-person to praise Allah much but as many of them take this as their rightful status, they do not understand; they must understand that Allah only has provided them this status by His will and certainly, they need to praise Him much; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second similitude at AAYAT-76 again compares a slave-person to a free-person but this time the AAYAT refers to such slave who has no sense of any goodness in him and he is such a dumb person (as he is deaf too) that he is unable to bring any benefits to his master; at the other side is that free-person who has the sense of justice in all matters of life and he remains to the right path by putting it into practice at his life extensively; they certainly are not equal as the free-person among them is much better in them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these respectively tell that the Muslims have the true chance to spend their assets in the way of Allah as they are not slaves of their desires and that the Muslims have the true chance to spend their span of life by Islam that is the only just manner of life (to which they guide others and to which they remain committed themselves) as they are not the slaves of their desires so these both point out the goodness for the Muslims that respectively relate to benefits that they provide by their tangible assets and by their justice that also is among their assets though intangible; note that it is mentioned in an authentic Hadith that (besides other books of Ahadith) Tirmidhi has reported explicitly that the Prophet PBUH said that "envy is disallowed except in two cases; one towards the man whom Allah has given wealth and he spends of it by night and by day; other towards the man whom Allah has given the Quran (i.e. its knowledge) and he stands with it giving its right by night and by day"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NAHL - The Eleventh Ruku

77. And Allah's is the unseen of the heavens and the earth; and the matter of the hour is but as the twinkling of an eye or it is higher still; surely Allah has power over all things.

78. And Allah has brought you forth from the wombs of your mothers-- you did not know anything-- and He gave you hearing and sight and hearts that you may give thanks.

79. Do they not see the birds, constrained in the middle of the sky? None withholds them but Allah; most surely there are signs in this for the people who believe.

80. And Allah has given you place to abide in your houses, and He has given you tents of the skins of cattle which you find light to carry on the day of your march and on the day of your halting, and (He has given you) of their wool and their fur and their hair, household stuff and provision for a time.

81. And Allah has made for you of what He has created shelters, and He has given you in the mountains places of retreat, and He has given you garments to preserve you from the heat and coats of mail to preserve you in your fighting; even thus does He complete His favor upon you, that haply you may submit.

82. But if they turn back, then upon you is only the clear deliverance (of the message).

83. They recognize the favor of Allah, yet they deny it, and most of them are ungrateful.

This Ruku presents the fact explicitly that the mankind needs so many things for sustenance (which Allah has provided to him) and he is bound to many things around, but Allah does whatever He wills as He needs nothing to enforce His commands and no challenge is possible against the manifestation of those commands; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first AAYAT of the Ruku states, "and Allah's is the unseen of the heavens and the earth (so men shall not take Him as like themselves); and the matter of the hour (the last day of the world) is but as the twinkling of an eye (when it starts to take place) or it is higher still (i.e. even faster); surely Allah has power over all things"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT shows the utmost weakness of the mankind as it reads, "and Allah has brought you forth from the wombs of your mothers-- you did not know anything (so the persons among the mankind learn their manner from the birth)-- and He gave you hearing and sight and hearts (that you may learn by all these and accept the Truth, the sense of which is inside you all) that you may give thanks"; note that the AAYAT mentions hearing first as that mostly applies to learning and then sight; by these, the person gets the realization of the Truth that is already inside him so he certainly needs to be thankful to Allah by acceptance of it totally; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the third AAYAT of the Ruku states, "do they not see the birds, constrained in the middle of the sky?- no one withholds them but Allah; most surely there are signs in this for the people who believe"; this AAYAT asks attention towards the creation around especially the birds that seemingly defy the gravitational force of the earth by flying at the heaven above; note that the Quran has presented the birds as related to most amazing feats at different places which includes the event that AAYAT-260 of BAQARAH

narrates when Abraham-AS asked Allah to show how He would raise the dead to life and upon that, Allah asked him if that is due to some lapse in his belief; he replied that he most certainly believes in the resurrection of the dead but he wants only to see how it would happen; He told Abraham to take four birds (unable to fly) and tame them the best he can; when he had domesticated them well, he would then keep the dead body of each one at different mounts near to each other; then standing somewhere nearby where his call reaches easily at all four places, he would call the dead birds the way he used to call them when they were alive; with no lapse of time, all of them would come running to him alive by the will of Allah; so this happened and it is notable that wherever birds are mentioned specifically in the Holy Book Quran, they present some miraculous performance, mostly in service to human beings; this is an interesting phenomenon and does show that Allah is fully capable to take His work from birds even as He wills and this also asks for clear observation to all who need guidance towards Allah; generally, the Muslims are fully aware of the amazing incident of ABA-BIL that happened just before the birth of the last Prophet Muhammad PBUH and Surah FEEL (i.e. Surah 105) presents that event; and Surah NAML tells us that HUD-HUD (i.e. Hoopoe-a bird in family of wood-peckers), brings an information that is something not known even to Solomon and the next AAYAAT tell us that he had brought information about the area of SABA (Sheba) that there a queen was ruling and they had their belief in the sun taking it as their lord and leaving the true Lord Allah; so the birds are doing a strange service to their own species and to human beings;

besides birds, the Quran tells the amazing things about the insects too so note that before this incident, this same Surah tells us that "until when they (Solomon and his armies with him) came to the valley of ants, an ant said -O ants - enter your houses, (that) Solomon and his hosts may not crush you while they do not know" (Surah NAML-18); this tells that even ants do have their own system of communication by which they send messages to each other; as the Surah does not mention that Solomon had heard the speech of the ant directly (because Allah had provided him the ability to understand the speech of birds only as we learn by AAYAT-16) so Allah made him aware of this communication among the ants and learning that, he showed his extreme gratitude to Him for this most impressive status that even the ants did care for; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this AAYAT here at NAHL also tells some wonderful aspect about birds that benefits the mankind which tells that "most surely there are signs in this for the people who believe"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next couple of AAYAAT at the Ruku present the two most important needs of the mankind besides foods that are their housing and their clothing; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT read, "and Allah has given you place to abide in your houses, and He has given you tents of the skins of cattle which you find light to carry on the day of your march (at travels or at migration) and on the day of your halting (where you camp in them), and (He has given you) of their wool (i.e. of sheep) and their fur (i.e. of camels) and their hair (i.e. of goats) household stuff (i.e. jackets, caps, blankets etc.) and provision for a time (as they have considerably long life for general use at housing or clothing and the people could use it making cushions of them for their seats); and Allah has made for you of what He has created shelters (i.e. shades of trees and resting places on travel), and He has given you in the mountains places of retreat (caves and large cavities), and He has given you garments to preserve you from the heat (of the land of Arabia) and coats of mail (i.e. coats of armor) to preserve you in your fighting; even thus does He complete His favor upon you, that haply you may submit (without unnecessary worry about the physical needs and you all care for the true success at AKHIRAT towards which Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, is calling you)"; AAYAT-82 tells explicitly to Muhammad PBUH that he only has to provide the message of Allah in clear terms to them all and it is not upon him to see that they do accept it; when he has given the message, his liability is done; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT at the Ruku tell about the psyche of the disbelievers that "they recognize the favor of Allah (i.e. the Guidance to the right path which the Quran provides explicitly), yet they deny it, and most of them are ungrateful"; they have received the true guidance at home that is such NEMAT (great blessing; highest of favors) from Allah upon them but instead of its acceptance, they disbelieve in it; this tells how ungrateful they are and the next Ruku warns them of the consequence of their denial of this NEMAT at AKHIRAT; note that Allah mentions at AAYAT-89 that is the last AAYAT of that Ruku, about the Holy Book Quran that "We have revealed the Book to you explaining clearly everything, and the guidance and mercy and good news for those who submit"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NAHL - The Twelfth Ruku

84. And on the day when We will raise up a witness out of every nation, then shall no permission be given to those who disbelieve, nor shall they be made to solicit favor.

85. And when those who are unjust shall see the chastisement, it shall not be lightened for them, nor shall they be respited.

86. And when those who associate (others with Allah) shall see those whom they took as associates (to Him), they shall say: Our Lord, these are those that we took our associates (to Allah) on whom we called besides Thee; but they will give them back the reply that most surely you are liars.

87. And they shall tender submission to Allah on that day; and what they used to forge shall depart from them.

88. (As for) those who disbelieve and turn away from Allah's way, We will add chastisement to their chastisement because they made mischief.

89. And on the day when We will raise up in every people a witness against them from among themselves, and bring you as a witness against these-- and We have revealed the Book to you explaining clearly everything, and the guidance and mercy and good news for those who submit.

The Ruku commences with the AAYAT that Allah would ask His Messengers to testify against their respective nations that they had provided the message of Allah explicitly to them; this is because the disbelievers do not plead for their defense due to their ignorance to the fundamental teachings of Islam at the Day of Judgment; so the point to note is that every person has the clear recognition of the Truth inside (see AAYAT-172 of Surah AARAAF which also stops him to plead for his defense due to his ignorance at the Day of Judgment) and that was addressed beautifully by the Messenger of Allah by providing him the message of Allah from outside and now after Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, the Quran addresses that beautifully to all times ahead; so the Messenger of Allah would witness against all the disbelievers of the Truth in his nation that he had provided the message of Allah explicitly to all of them so his liability is totally done and the disbelievers are totally responsible of their doings now at this Day of Judgment; Surah NISAA, at AAYAT-41 that occurs at its sixth Ruku, also tells about this which reads, "how will it be, then, when We bring from every people a witness and bring you, O Muhammad PBUH, as a witness against these?"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the AAYAT here tells that "then shall no permission be given to those who disbelieve, nor shall they be made to solicit favor" because the world only is the place of examination and that day which is the first day of AKHIRAT, is the Day of Judgment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next four AAYAAT (from AAYAT-85 to AAYAT-88) tell about the condition of the disbelievers at AKHIRAT which read, "and when those who are unjust shall see the chastisement, it shall not be lightened for them, nor shall they be respited (as that is the Day of Judgment where all results would come at fore); and when those who associate (others with Allah) shall see those whom they took as associates (to Him), they shall say: our Lord, these are those that we took our associates on whom we called besides Thee; but they will give them back the reply that most surely you are liars (as after they had departed from the world, they had no awareness about what these disbelievers had made of them) and these (disbelievers) shall tender submission to Allah on that day; and what they used to forge (i.e. whom they took as associates to Allah) shall depart from them; (as for) those who disbelieve and (they also put their efforts on others to) turn away from Allah's way, We will add chastisement to their chastisement (increasing that) because they made mischief (i.e. they intended to bring the situation to such place where to work for the teachings of Islam becomes utmost difficult)"; the last AAYAT of the Ruku presents the same fact as the first AAYAT of the Ruku presented that the Messengers of Allah would testify against the disbelievers of their respective nations but this time, the AAYAT addresses Muhammad PBUH explicitly that Allah would call him to bear witness against the disbelievers of his people as Allah had made him the Messenger towards them and had given him the Quran to explain all necessary principles of Islam for all significant issues of life; he certainly had fulfilled his liability well and now the Quran remains the true guidance by which the Muslims would necessarily spread the teachings of Islam as they all are among the good following of Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah; He tells about the Quran at this AAYAT that "We have revealed the Book (Quran) to you explaining clearly everything (of issues for life in principles), and the guidance (to the Truth) and mercy (at the world where they might err to see or practice something by Islam unintentionally) and good news (of their true success at AKHIRAT) for those who submit"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NAHL-The Thirteenth Ruku

90. Surely Allah enjoins the doing of justice and the doing of good and the giving to the kindred, and He forbids indecency and evil and rebellion; He admonishes you that you may be mindful.

91. And fulfill the covenant of Allah when you have made a covenant, and do not break the oaths after making them fast, and you have indeed made Allah surety for you; surely Allah knows the deeds you do.

92. And be not like her who unravels her yarn, disintegrating it into pieces after she has spun it strongly. You make your oaths to be means of deceit between you because (one) nation is more numerous than (another) nation. Allah only tries you by this; and He will most certainly make clear to you on the resurrection day that about which you differed.

93. And if Allah please He would certainly make you a single nation, but He causes to err whom He pleases and guides whom He pleases; and most certainly you will be questioned as to what you did.

94. And do not make your oaths a means of deceit between you, lest a foot should slip after its stability and you should taste evil because you turned away from Allah's way and grievous punishment became your (lot).

95. And do not take a small price in exchange for Allah's covenant; surely what is with Allah is better for you, did you but know.

96. What is with you passes away and what is with Allah is enduring; and We will most certainly give to those who are patient their reward for the best of what they did.

97. Whoever does the good whether male or female and he is believer, We will most certainly make him live a happy life, and We will most certainly give them their reward for the best of what they did.

98. So when you recite the Quran, seek refuge with Allah from the accursed Satan, 99. Surely he has no authority over those who believe and rely on their Lord.

100. His authority is only over those who befriend him and those who associate others with Allah.

This Ruku starts by the AAYAT that ULAMA quote much at the sermon of Fridays as it tells explicitly how to live upon Islam; note that Muhammad PBUH is the Messenger of Allah to all persons that ever come to the world from his times to all times ahead as he is the last of all Messengers; after his death, the Muslims together have the liability to provide the message of Islam to all peoples of the world by the Quran (understanding it by Ahadith) and even if some of them do the task in the worthy manner that it deserves, the liability of all of them is done; note that the Quran gives the guidance for all issues of the life by principles and it reminds all the Muslims at the beginning of this Ruku that their attitude shall be compliance to it as they have committed totally that Allah only is their true Lord; the first AAYAT of the Ruku reads, "surely Allah enjoins the doing of justice

(ADL) and the doing of good (EHSAAN) and the giving (of amounts as their right on the Muslims) to the kindred; and He forbids indecency (so eliminate it by EHSAAN) and injustice (so eliminate it by ADL) and rebellion (so avoid it by practicing charity for near ones always); He admonishes you that you may be mindful"; for this, I, MSD, would present first some matter generally related to ADL and EHSAAN whereas ADL literally means "justice" and EHSAAN literally means "goodness of intention and deed"; note that the AAYAT starts by the command of Allah that "surely Allah enjoins....." so both of these are necessary to have at the Islamic environment for the implementation of the Islamic commands in all issues that are the commands of Allah; individually too, the Muslims would develop such attitudes that represent ADL and EHSAAN for the betterment of life yet they are highly important at the level of administration; certainly, the Muslims do not need to take actions that are sudden or imposed by force as Islam commands respect naturally that does not need such forced way to manifest itself so Insha-Allah, the Muslims would change the current society into an Islamic society by taking some necessary steps for elimination of injustice there and the necessary good attitudes would take place as a matter of natural inclination insha-Allah; note that Allah provides authority to Muslims as His AMANAT (Trust) to them that they must use to put Allah's commands into practice as much as possible; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the true Muslims accept Islam by all heart making the belief totally righteous, believing Allah as the only authority Who only has to be worshipped, truly obeyed and truly loved; and believing that the Messengers have provided the message of Allah well and Muhammad PBUH was the last of them; and believing that AKHIRAT (the true life after the life at the world) has to come where the result for this life's belief and doings would come at fore; the true belief is the highest of blessing to the Muslim person but after that, the highest of physical blessing the man has received from Allah is his built and strength specially when he is at his youth while the highest of physical blessing the woman has received from Allah is her charm and beauty specially when she is at her youth; and for the betterment of deeds, the Holy Book Quran addresses these two blessings directly at places by asking to avoid injustice and shameful behavior; in-fact, AAYAAT-168 & 169 of BAQARAH provides the total Islamic Manifesto to apply for the conversion of environment to the Islamic environment well by addressing these two matters; they read, "O mankind! eat of that which is lawful and wholesome in the earth, and follow not the footsteps of the Satan; lo- he is an open enemy for you; he enjoins upon you only the evil (injustice) and the foul (shameful deeds), and that you should tell concerning Allah that which you know not (assigning partners to Him in His authority)"; in the world that we have today, the strength of the man includes his official status too while attraction of the woman also includes her glamorous presentation of herself besides her natural beauty that Allah has provided her; note that the Man and the Woman are equal in matters of AKHIRAT yet in this world, she has been given in his shelter for her own advantage as her father has the responsibility to see to her economic needs and her security in all ways according to the teachings of the Holy Book Quran before her marriage and her husband is liable for that after marriage so she would live in such bondage as daughter or as wife caring for the home with pleasure; accordingly, the man has to see that nothing objectionable by Islamic values takes place by the strength he has (and that might be his official strength) that leads to the occurrence of injustice and the woman has to see keeping to HEJAB that nothing adverse to Islamic values takes place by her natural beauty that attracts men which may lead the environment to shameful behavior; the Islamic administration would give attention at the environment for both of these matters by ADL (by the force of law) and EHSAAN (by guiding to the natural tendency towards virtues) respectively; the actual work to do is to guide attention towards the Holy Book Quran getting it into practice totally instead of going for material-gains & worldly-status; note that the western thinkers in the good-name of deep-thought, have tried to prove intentionally or unintentionally that the Man is only an animal; they have disregarded his spiritual existence totally (in fact under the influence of such thinkers, Taxonomy as of today, takes the Man as such); this indeed is an idiotic thought yet sadly I, MSD, remark that it has its adverse impression all over the world as of now and not a single notable person of high intelligence even among the Muslims, is challenging it fairly; in the previous couple of centuries since now (2020), some of these western thinkers tried to address the economic problem of the man to unreasonable proportion emphasizing the physical needs especially of foods and drinks as if they are animals only; some tried their best to illustrate the man as bound to his animal-desire (the sexual-drive) that this only is the focus of actions that the man takes; some tried to focus on his wildness so they mentioned him as like animals that mark their individuality by being guards to their own territory (taking territories of others too by force if possible) even if that asks for high violence and killing the rival ferociously; some tried to justify the display of power for territories that animals present at times by their sudden actions, for the sake of "nationalism" (the meaning of which might be twisted on their necessity for the reason of committing injustice to weaker nations); some tried to present this idiotic thought that the man is but an animal unashamedly by discussion that the man is the descendant of some animal that took different forms with time and place to come to the physical status as of today because he had to survive against the force of environment and this conversion relates to the survival of the fittest; though this idiotic thought that the man is only an animal has never been proved and would never be proved for sure as his spiritual-feature is most clear to mark his difference so on the contrary, the expression of issues among the humankind all the time disprove it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; yet the repetition of this idiocy at gatherings of seemingly sober persons and no challenge to it there, have led to its taking grounds even among some of the learned; however this only demonstrates that the psyche of the man has still to learn much to avoid the direct attack from the Satan when he presents some high wrong with some matter that does have some truth in it; note that this idiotic thought was brought at fore by its professors when many of intelligent persons got to many of accurate physical laws clearly that were operating at life; against this idiotic thought, Islam tells us that the Man is born between the angelic character and the animal character having both the aspects in his human character; he must either live at the angelic character by the spiritual development that is the asking of EHSAAAN or either live at-least at the same human character at which he was basically born (named as FITHRAT) that is the asking of ADL; he must never live at the animal character and the point to note here is that he is allowed by Islam to fulfill his physical needs up-to necessity by valid means according to the Islamic viewpoint as that would let him remain on the human character with no adversity to that; note that the only state that Islam has forbidden to live upon, is the animal character; but it is precisely that which has been asked by the idiotic thought of one-sided worldly thinkers who left aside the guidance of Allah totally putting their total trust on their own minds; this leads to disintegration of the person accepting it at the individual level and to high chaos at the environment; note that such people would surely get what they deserve at AKHIRAT yet even in this world, the result to such thinking and to its acceptance is the punishment of hunger or/and all sorts of fear that is put on such people as these both are what animals have to deal with all the time; AAYAT-112 at the fifteenth Ruku of NAHL (that is just ahead) tells about this punishment to all those who are the rejecters of blessings of Allah; note that Allah has given the worldly-life to all persons as their examination so that they prove that they really deserve JANNAH by their true belief and by their righteous deeds as that only would bring the pleasure of Allah; it is not for any other reason so all persons need to prove their worth to the task; Al-Hamdu Lillah; now coming to the comments on AAYAT-90, the first AAYAT of the Ruku, note that Allah commands for three things here and forbids three other things; the message here is that taking-up three good things in practice that comprise of all the righteousness would eliminate the three bad things in practice that represent all the satanic misguidance; so the AAYAT provides the indication that EHSAAN eliminates all of the shameful behavior and ADL eliminates all of injustice though the sequence to state this elimination is inverse for these two; the spending towards the needy among the near ones for the pleasure of Allah counters any thought that might lead towards hypocrisy that in turn, might lead towards challenging the commands of Allah; the message for this part here is that "INFAAQ" (spending amounts in the way of Allah from what Allah has provided) keeps away "NIFAAQ" (hypocrisy); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT denotes the importance of the fulfillment of the word that the Muslim person gives as his commitment; it says, "and fulfill the covenant of Allah when you have made a covenant, and do not break the oaths after making them fast, and you have indeed made Allah surety for you; surely Allah knows the deeds you do"; note that all oaths that the Muslim person takes would care not to challenge the Islamic teachings in any manner; among them, those oaths are most important for the mankind that relate to business transactions that the men make among their-selves (which they have to fulfill mostly by ADL) and Allah sees their commitment; so if someone breaks these oaths, he commits such sin/crime that makes him highly unjust in his deeds; besides them, there are those important oaths that relate to the marriage of the man and his wife as they commit to care for each other with trust among themselves (which they have to fulfill mostly by EHSAN) and Allah sees their commitment; so if someone among the Muslims breaks these oaths by avoiding the announcement of the marriage or by avoiding the responsibility the person has towards the spouse or by avoiding the asking of the required trust among each other, then each of these things makes the person incline towards most shameful acts that he/she is accountable for at the court of Allah and that disgraces him/her amongst all the people around; may Allah guide all the Muslims to fulfill all their oaths among themselves in the finest of manners; Al-Hamdu Lillah; with this comment, please note also that this AAYAT addresses specially such Muslims who accepted it by all study and left all vague concepts they had before its acceptance and pledged with commitment that they shall adhere to Islam whatever comes; they shall fulfill its demands in their practice remaining totally attentive to Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-92 gives the similitude for those Muslim persons who break their oaths for their personal motives; it reads, "and be not like her who unravels her yarn, disintegrating it into pieces after she has spun it strongly; you make your oaths to be means of deceit between you because (one) nation is more numerous than (another) nation; Allah only tries you by this; and He will most certainly make clear to you on the resurrection day that about which you differed"; note that there was an insane old woman at Makkah at those times who habitually used to spin the yarn well all the day long but at the end of the day, disintegrated it into pieces; providing her as the instance to this matter, this AAYAT denotes that to break a valid oath is like the disintegration of yarn that is spun well; when some Muslim person breaks any of his significant oath for any personal motive, he affects his integrity in the most adverse manner and asks for the wrath of Allah upon him; and if any of the Muslim administrations has made some significant oath (or pact) at the administrative level and then takes the breach of it against the side that is committed to it (due to consideration towards such people who seem better placed than that side and they pursue them for such breach, at the worldly issues), it would bring the wrath of Allah in such manner that they would incur extreme mistrust of all peoples of the world in settlement of issues ahead; may Allah save all Muslims from such wrongs; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last part of the AAYAT tells "and He will most certainly make clear to you on the resurrection day that about which you differed"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; all AAYAAT ahead at the Ruku provide some detail to the previous couple of AAYAAT and so three of them that are ahead tell, "and if Allah please He would certainly make you a single nation, but He causes to err whom He pleases and guides whom He pleases; and most certainly you will be questioned as to what you did; and do not make your oaths a means of deceit between you, lest a foot should slip after its stability and you should taste evil because you turned away from Allah's way and grievous punishment became your (lot); and do not take a small price in exchange for Allah's covenant; surely what is with Allah is better for you, did you but know"; so He has made the world the place of examination where the difference of opinion would exist but the Muslims need to care that there is no difference about the Islamic concepts that relate to principles in issues and according to their commitment to Islam, they would care to bring it to practice on the collective level with all decency possible as Islam commands total respect indeed from the inside of all men; any such administration, even if it claims to represent the Muslims, that intends that its people increase the number of challengers to Islam by their support to those who take-up concepts against Islam, they would gain nothing but extreme trouble at the Day of Judgment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the breaches of pacts among nations (especially if any of the Muslim administrations is liable for it), would cause mistrust among each other and so retaliation to such breaches might lead to wars among nations and troubles to the common man to fulfill the commands of Islam; moreover, the ignorance of any of the Muslim administrations to the teachings of Islam in practice for the worldly cause, would give the most negative impression to spreading the message of Islam among all peoples of the world and so Allah would certainly punish such administration most severely; all Muslims need to see that they have committed to Allah to live upon Islam so as they fulfill their commitment, Allah would certainly provide them the highest of blessing even in the world; AAYAAT-96 & 97 guide attention of the Muslims on the individual level that most certainly, whatever worldly assets that they have, that would end (at their deaths) yet whatever of blessings that Allah would provide to them at AKHIRAT, that would stay-on with them; and Allah would provide them the best of returns to all of their good deeds (that would be ten times for each one) as Allah appreciates sincerity to Him in all of good deeds; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah requires that all the good deeds that the person does, whether a man or a woman, he/she does it with sincere belief upon Allah remaining among the true Muslims so then Allah would provide him/her the most pleasant life at the world and would provide him/her the best of returns to all of his/her good deeds at AKHIRAT, the true life; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last three AAYAAT of the Ruku ask Muhammad PBUH, and with him all the true Muslims, that as they recite the Quran, they need to seek refuge with Allah from the accursed Satan; they would seek this refuge of Allah in as simple words as possible with all inclination to purify their heart to get the true message of the Quran as better as possible; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the pursuance of the accursed Satan does not affect the true Muslims adversely as they believe in Allah most sincerely and rely on Him when they take-up any task to accomplish to gain His pleasure; he affects those only who lean towards his pursuance due to desires for worldly assets and due to associating others in the authority of Allah whom they erroneously take as their intercessors and whom they consider as able to save them from all troubles at the day of HASHR; note that the recitation of the Quran does not mean its reading only (which also is certainly necessary) but it also means to see its teachings with total belief on it and to put it into practice and spread its teaching to all peoples of the world so that they also put it into practice; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NAHL - The Fourteenth Ruku

101. And when We change (one) AAYAT for (another) AAYAT, and Allah knows best what He reveals, they say- you commit forgery. Nay, most of them do not know.

102. Say: the holy-spirit has revealed it from your Lord with the truth that it may establish those who believe and as a guidance and good news for those who submit.

103. And certainly We know that they say: Only a mortal teaches him. The tongue of him whom they reproach is barbarous, and this is clear Arabic tongue.

104. (As for) those who do not believe in Allah's AAYAAT, surely Allah will not guide them, and they shall have a painful punishment.

105. Only they forge the lie, who do not believe in Allah's AAYAAT and these are the liars.

106. He who disbelieves in Allah after his having believed, not he who is compelled while his heart is at rest on account of faith, but he who opens (his) breast to disbelief-- on these is the wrath of Allah, and they shall have a grievous chastisement.

107. This is because they love this world's life more than the hereafter, and because Allah does not guide the disbelieving people.

108. These are they on whose hearts and their hearing and their eyes Allah has set a seal and these are the heedless ones.

109. No doubt that in the hereafter they will be the losers.

110. Yet surely your Lord, with respect to those who fly after they are persecuted then they struggle hard and are patient, most surely your Lord after that is Forgiving, Merciful.

The first AAYAT of this Ruku mentions that Allah changes one AAYAT for another AAYAT in command as He wills; due to this change, the disbelievers blamed the Prophet PBUH that he has committed forgery in presenting the Quran; the notable point about this is that this relates to the matter that we studied at Surah BAQARAH-106 where the word NUNSEHA (whatever We cause to be forgotten) tells about it; note that BAQARAH-106 says that "whatever AAYAT We abrogate or cause to be forgotten, We bring one better than it or like it; do you not know that Allah has power over all things?"; at this AAYAT the words MA-NANSAKH (whatever We abrogate) tell that Allah abrogates some of the previous commands that relate to Torah and the word NUNSEHA (whatever We cause to be forgotten) relates to the Holy Book Quran which means that Allah causes to cease some specific aspect of the command previously given in the Holy Book Quran by providing another AAYAT for that command; He brings this other AAYAT for His command by His will that has more ease in it for practice than the previous or it is very similar to it and He certainly has total authority for this; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah AA'LA reads that, "We will make you recite so you shall not forget, except what Allah pleases, surely He knows the manifest (in command), and what is hidden" (Surah AA'LA-6 & 7); its recitation still goes on as there certainly is no such AAYAT that Allah descended at the Quran and then He placed it out of its TILAWAT i.e. recitation, by any manner of abrogation; note that Shah WALIULLAH (d-1759 AD) has counted five places for this change in his booklet FAUZUL-KABIR; he mentioned these five as (1) AAYAT-180 at BAQARAH that is changed in command by NISAA-11 & 12; (2) AAYAT-240 at BAQARAH that is changed by BAQARAH-234; (3) AAYAT-65 at ANFAAL that is changed by ANFAAL-66; (4) AAYAT-50 of AHZAAB that is changed by AHZAAB-52; (5) AAYAT-12 of MUJADILAH that is changed by MUJADILAH-13; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the abrogation of AAYAAT (that was previously at Torah) or the change about any of AAYAAT (at the Quran) occurs at commands only; for the example to this change in command, it is proper to see one of these five places so note the AAYAAT at ANFAAL that read, "O Prophet (PBUH) - urge the believers to war; if there are twenty patient ones of you they shall overcome two hundred, and if there are a hundred of you they shall overcome a thousand of those who disbelieve, because they are a people who do not understand" (AAYAT-65); "for the present Allah has made light your burden, and He knows that there is weakness in you; so if there are a hundred patient ones of you they shall overcome two hundred, and if there are a thousand they shall overcome two thousand by Allah's permission, and Allah is with the patient" (AAYAT-66); Al-Hamdu Lillah; so AAYAT-65 of ANFAAL asks the Prophet PBUH to urge the Muslims for QITAL (the fight against the disbelievers) and gives this good tidings that even if the true Muslims are twenty in number only, they would be enough to win the field against two hundred of disbelievers; if the true Muslims that are hundred and they face a thousand of disbelievers, the Muslims would even then defeat them; the quantity of disbelievers would not stand against the quality of the Muslims to fight them for the simple reason that they are not aware of the blessing of the Islamic teachings when they are in the practice of the true Muslims clearly; this AAYAT though statement, provides this as command that the Muslims (if they face disbelievers that are ten times more in quantity) have to fight them and they would not back-out from the combat though if the disbelievers are much more, then the Muslims have the option to withdraw their-selves from QITAL; the next AAYAT gives concession in the command and makes the Muslims liable to fight the disbelievers necessarily when at maximum they are double in number to the Muslims and beyond that, the Muslims have the option to withdraw; the reason for this concession is given at the AAYAT that they do have some weakness (in the power to fight) yet Allah would assist them if they do relate themselves to SABR (patience); please see the note at the thirteenth Ruku of BAQARAH too for this matter related to AAYAAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next four AAYAAT clarify that this Quran is the word of Allah that He has sent to Muhammad PBUH by the most respectable angel Gabriel-AS (the holy-spirit); Allah has told at AAYAT-102 here about the beauty of the Quran to the Muslims as He has presented at AAYAT-89 too; Allah sent it with HAQQ (i.e. the Truth) to establish the practice of Islamic teachings among the Muslims so it is the Guidance to the right path for them at the world and certainly, the good news for them about the success at AKHIRAT; note that by AAYAT-89, we get the detail of HAQQ that it explains clearly everything for the life of the mankind (in essence) and there Allah mentioned it as mercy too towards the Muslims so this AAYAT-102 provides the detail for the mercy that it establishes the practice of Islamic teachings among the Muslims for their magnificent strength at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-103 tells that when the disbelievers could not challenge the Islamic teachings at the Quran, they tried to blame Muhammad PBUH that he had learnt these issues from some person; Allah replies by telling them that the person that they indicate in their blame is not an Arab and the Quran has presented these teaching in clear Arabic; note about this answer that though it implies attention to integrity of the Islamic teachings at the Quran too yet it actually points out that even the text of the Quran that provides those teachings, is miraculous as it is totally inimitable; certainly, those who disbelieve the Quran by such blames, Allah would never guide them to the right path and they certainly would face the most severe punishment; those who lie by their forgery are actually the disbelievers who have disbelieved in the AAYAAT that Allah has sent (and who blame the Prophet PBUH in different manners about them), and they actually are such liars who try to present erroneous teachings to misguide the persons around; the next AAYAAT from AAYAT-106 till the last of the Ruku present the attitudes of two types of the Muslim persons that happen to face such critical situation that threatens their lives directly; at such situation, only those Muslim persons would remain totally committed to Islam who are most attentive to Allah with all sincerity towards Him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the four AAYAAT from 106 to 109 read, "he who disbelieves in Allah after his having believed, not he who is compelled while his heart is at rest on account of faith, but he who opens (his) breast to disbelief- on these is the wrath of Allah, and they shall have a grievous chastisement; this is because they love this world's life more than the hereafter, and because Allah does not guide the disbelieving people; these are they on whose hearts and their hearing and their eyes Allah has set a seal and these are the heedless ones; no doubt that in the hereafter they will be the losers"; AAYAT-106 indicate those who at the times of extreme crisis, leave Islam and go towards disbelief that they shall have grievous chastisement; but there is an exception that this AAYAT presents by the words to the effect that "not he who is compelled while his heart is at rest on account of faith"; note that there were such early Muslims who accepted Islam when the message of Islam reached them as Muhammad PBUH started providing it on the command of Allah to all people around; the disbelievers violently tortured those that were the weakest of those Muslims as they did not have any defense to offer against their tyranny; though many of them accepted death even at such times yet there were few of them who could not bear such torture and succumbed to the pressure upon them to leave Islam by saying disbelieving words against Islam; even among these few, the better number was of those who for the sake of their safety, said the disbelieving words but they actually believed Islam totally at heart; the exception at the AAYAT refers to such persons and there are accounts of such persons that they used to cry on such words that they uttered to safety that seemingly denoted disbelief but this AAYAT relieved them due to their plight at those times by acceptance of their true repentance; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the AAYAT tells about the other of these few who left Islam

(because of their inclination to their tribal manners or because of their expectation of getting high amounts of money or because of some status that they might receive at the world) when they were pressurized at their belief in Islam and showed no repentance on their doing ahead, that they would certainly see the most grievous chastisement; this would come to them as they preferred the world over AKHIRAT and Allah does not provide the true guidance to such disbelieving people; Allah has put seal upon their hearts because of their inclination to worldly things and upon their hearing ability and their seeing ability so they would remain oblivious to the true guidance ahead; note that when the hearing ability and the seeing ability does not lead to the acceptance of the Truth at heart then it actually means that they are not available to the person who seemingly has them; and so they certainly would be the losers at AKHIRAT; note that at those times, Islam highly needed such committed persons who would remain firm upon it even when they face extreme troubles so that they would ultimately challenge (and change) the situation of "might is right" that prevailed extensively at those times bringing it to the total commitment to Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku tells that Allah cares for such persons who remain committed to Islam whatever comes as it reads, "yet surely your Lord, with respect to those who fly after they are persecuted then they struggle hard and are patient, most surely your Lord after that is Forgiving, Merciful"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this not only soothes such person that AAYAT-106 had denoted as an exception by the words that "not he who is compelled while his heart is at rest on account of faith" but it also expresses the good tidings to all those persons who come to Islam and stay firm on it, that due to their acceptance of Islam, Allah has eliminated all of their previous wrong doings and He would surely provide them such space ahead (which might be at other land than at which they had been living) that they would gain the best of deeds there as they remain totally attentive to Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NAHL-The Fifteenth Ruku

111. (Remember) the day when every soul shall come, pleading for itself and every soul shall be paid in full for what it has done, and they shall not be dealt with unjustly.

112. And Allah sets forth a parable: (Consider) a town safe and secure to which its means of subsistence come in abundance from every quarter; but it became ungrateful to Allah's favors, therefore Allah made it to taste the utmost degree of hunger and fear because of what they wrought.

113. And certainly there came to them an Apostle from among them, but they rejected him, so the punishment overtook them while they were unjust.

114. Therefore eat of what Allah has given you, lawful and good (things), and give thanks for Allah's favor if Him do you serve.

115. He has only forbidden you what dies of itself and blood and flesh of swine and that over which any other name than that of Allah has been invoked, but whoever is driven to necessity, not desiring nor exceeding the limit, then surely Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.

116. And, for what your tongues describe, do not utter the lie, (saying) this is lawful and this is unlawful, in order to forge a lie against Allah; surely those who forge the lie against Allah shall not prosper.

117. A little enjoyment and they shall have a painful punishment.

118. And for those who were Jews We prohibited what We have related to you already, and We did them no injustice, but they were unjust to themselves.

119. Yet surely your Lord, with respect to those who do an evil in ignorance, then turn after that and make amends, most surely your Lord after that is Forgiving, Merciful.

This Ruku guides the attention to the fact that the day of HASHR would certainly take place when every person would plead for the safety of his/her own self and every person would certainly receive only what he/she deserves so there would be no injustice; after the mention of the Day of Judgment, the Ruku goes on to ask for care to eat only the allowed clean-to-take foods; note that the Quran has clearly told at places that the intake of anything affects the Man not only in physical sense but even in the spiritual sense and so it asks at places to take care about what he eats (see for instance AAYAAT 168 & 169 of Surah-BAQARAH); so the Muslims would incline to foods that are HALAAL (allowed to eat) and TAYYIBAH (clean-to-take-in) and for this, they must see the KITAB (the Quran) and the SUNNAH (the practical guidance of the Prophet PBUH by his words, his actions or/and his silence on some matter); the lack of even

one of these properties (that are HALAAL and TAYYIBAH in something seemingly edible) prohibits the intake of it; note also that Allah had commanded Adam & Eve to keep away from going near even to the tree that had the prohibited fruit for them on it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-112 gives the example of such town that had all security from enemy and the people there were living peacefully as they got all necessary commodities with ease for their subsistence in abundance from different places to it; but it happened that they ignored the practice of commands of Allah in their lives and inclined to living with luxuries rather than necessities and they went beyond comforts as they wanted all sort of worldly assets available that they could manage to get; they had no worry if that caused troubles to the fellow-beings and they became restless even with the peace that they had with them and developed such psyche that had the quest for more and more of the world; this ultimately led them to ignore the practice of commands of Allah and to become most ungrateful to Him; their lives became competition with each other for the world, to show that they have more worth to accumulate the worldly finances and it even became the pursuit to satisfy their animal desires; Allah provided them some trying situations that came as hunger or/and all sorts of fear to them as their manner of living was turning like the manner of animals at jungle and these both (extreme hunger and troublesome fear) are what animals have to deal with all the time; this was put on them so that they take the heed to the righteous manner of living and leave their inclination to the world; but they were so unjust that they did not take-up simplicity as their living manner even when a Messenger of

Allah came into them from their own selves to teach them the teachings of Islam (that ask for simplicity in the manner of living) and due to their disregard to His Messenger, Allah punished them most severely; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-114 & 115 at the Ruku ask to eat from all HALAAL (allowed to eat) and TAYYIBAH (clean-to-take-in) only and to remain totally grateful to Allah; but if the extreme necessity asks to eat from such things that are neither HALAAL nor TAYYIBAH then the person has to take it only for necessity and up-to necessity; these things include such animal (that is ordinarily allowed & clean-to-eat) that dies of itself; and blood and flesh of swine and that over which any other name than that of Allah has been invoked; the Muslims need to strictly avoid these things except where extreme necessity tells that the death would most probably occur if they do not take any of these though even then that would be to necessity only; and Allah would forgive the sin then as He certainly is Most Forgiving and Most Merciful (see also the first Ruku of Surah MA'EDAH); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the AAYAT ahead tells the Muslims not to decide for something as HALAAL and TAYYIBAH by own-selves because Allah only is the true authority; only KITAB and SUNNAH (that show the commands of Allah to fulfill as to get the pleasure of Allah) would decide about the foods and drinks to take-in as HALAAL and TAYYIBAH; to decide by own self in such manner about the foods and the drinks are nothing but lies that would benefit such liars in no manner; even if they enjoy these things by the effect of their lies for the time-being at the world yet they would ultimately face extreme punishment on their extreme lies in this crucial issue so they need to avoid it strictly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah tells at AAYAT-118 that Allah had prohibited some of foods and drinks on the Jews which He has told Muhammad PBUH before though some of them were even HALAAL and TAYYIBAH in general; note that AAYAT-146 of AN'AAM reads, "and to those who were Jews We made unlawful every animal having claws, and of oxen and sheep We made unlawful to them the fat of both, except such as was on their backs or the entrails or what was mixed with bones: this was a punishment We gave them on account of their rebellion, and We are surely Truthful"; note also that Jacob-AS had prohibited the consumption of meat of camels upon himself at his times (only with the intention to get the pleasure of Allah) and Allah kept this prohibition too to remain among the Jews; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT at the Ruku gives concession to all those Muslims who had consumed any of the prohibited foods or/and drinks by ignorance; if their mistake is genuine where they had taken some prohibited foods or/and drinks, Allah gives them the recognition of their folly and gives them the space to better their position by avoiding all such wrongs ahead in whatever they consume when they are not yet seemingly near to their deaths; they need to accept the recognition early as that comes to them and compensate for their folly by avoidance of all such wrongs ahead with all commitment to the guidance that they had received explicitly; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NAHL-The Last Ruku

120. Surely Ibrahim was an exemplar, obedient to Allah, upright, and he was not of the polytheists.

121. Grateful for His favors; He chose him and guided him on the right path.

122. And We gave him good in this world, and in the next he will most surely be among the good.

123. Then We revealed to you: Follow the faith of Ibrahim, the upright one, and he was not of the polytheists.

124. The Sabbath was ordained only for those who differed about it, and most surely your Lord will judge between them on the resurrection day concerning that about which they differed.

125. Call to the way of your Lord with wisdom and goodly exhortation, and have disputations with them in the best manner; surely your Lord knows best those who go astray from His path, and He knows best those who follow the right path.

126. And if you take your turn, then retaliate with the like of that with which you were afflicted; but if you are patient, it will certainly be best for those who are patient.

127. And be patient and your patience is not but by (the assistance of) Allah, and grieve not for them, and do not distress yourself at what they plan.

128. Surely Allah is with those who guard (against evil) and those who do the good (to others).

The last Ruku of NAHL starts by telling about Ibrahim-AS that "Surely Ibrahim was an exemplar (UMMAH), obedient to Allah, upright, and he was not of the polytheists"; UMMAH

actually has the meaning of "the people that have united upon a significant cause" so note that strictly according to Islam, there are two nations only in the world that are rejecters of the Truth and the believers of the Truth (see TAGHABUN-2); see also the comments at AAYAT-143 of Surah BAQARAH which tells, "and thus We have made you a medium nation (UMMAH) that you may be the bearers of witness to the people and (that) the Messenger may be a bearer of witness to you" so this is one of the most important tasks of the Muslims as nation; even if only some of the people in the world remain as the believers in the Islamic teachings who practice it and provide it to others, they still would certainly remain whole nation in their own capacity and Ibrahim-AS alone represented the Muslim UMMAH at his time though soon after, his wife Sarah-AS and his nephew Lot-AS (who then became the Messenger of Allah) accepted the teachings of Islam with him; as the AAYAT mentions him as UMMAH so it points out that there would be the believers of the Truth who would fervently care for it in his descendants and that he had all virtues to height in him that Islam asks of all true Muslims (especially the ability by the blessing of Allah to provide the message of Islam to all peoples) yet it also informs that even if one man is at the right path, he truly is the whole UMMAH and he actually represents the standard to see how the virtuous person would live; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this clarifies that the Muslims of a specific place or of a specific time even if all of them are not included in the mention, they still are the UMMAH in their own capacity; it is such concept of unity that shows by any tangible substantial gathering of the good

Muslims anywhere even at these current times, so the beautiful concept of UMMAH in Islam renders it indivisible if the Muslims do understand it well as due to the true concept of "nation" by the Islamic viewpoint, there is no possibility for anyone to divide the Muslims into factions anywhere at any time; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that even the disbelievers at Makkah at the times of Muhammad PBUH held Ibrahim in most high esteem (and the people of the Book too respect him most highly to this day) so the AAYAT mentions him that he believed in the Islamic teachings and that he did put into his practice; he taught those teachings only with total obedience to Allah with his total attention towards Him in all issues of life; and he certainly was not among the polytheists; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the AAYAT implies that when the disbelievers say that they do respect Ibrahim and they neither follow him in their belief nor in their practice so what kind of respect is this; AAYAAT-121 & 122 explicitly tell about him that "he was grateful for the favors of Allah (that he remained pleased without asking for abundance at whatever He had granted him)- He chose him (as His Prophet) and guided him on the right path (i.e. the path of Islam); and We gave him good (the most pleasant life) in this world, and in the next (i.e. AKHIRAT) he will most surely be among the good"; here the ILTIFAAT (change of the pronoun at statements in the Quran) is notable that in AAYAT-122, Allah speaks in the royal manner to express His true authority by the pronoun "We" that His will reigns truly everywhere at the earth and at the heavens and at all that is between them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that even when the Quran applies the ILTIFAAT, the meanings to the AAYAAT still remain most obvious at such places; note also that we have just studied at AAYAT-97, "whoever does the good whether male or female and he is believer, We will most certainly make him live a happy life (at the world), and We will most certainly give them their reward for the best of what they did (at AKHIRAT)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT tells that Allah has provided the same message of Islam to Muhammad PBUH that He had given to Ibrahim-AS, that he would follow in the most committed manner and all of his UMMAH would too, to remain on the right path (as Allah clarified all the basics of that right path beautifully in the times of Ibrahim and they always were the same); and Ibrahim certainly was never among the polytheists; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-124 tells that the Jews whom Allah had commanded to sanctify the day of Saturday (and they were the only ones that Allah had commanded for it), they disputed about it and disrespected it so Allah would settle all disputes among them at the Day of Judgment (see also the note at the eighth Ruku of BAQARAH); Allah brings this AAYAT here to tell that Allah did provide different commands even after Ibrahim though He had provided the basics of the right path most clearly to believe at his times; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-125 tells about providing the message of Allah (to all peoples of the world with care to their respective inclinations) to which the Muslims have their extreme liability as of now after the death of Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah; and the next three AAYAAT till the last of the Ruku (which also is the last of Surah NAHL) provide even more clarity to this matter; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-125 reads, "(O Muhammad PBUH)- call to the way of your Lord with wisdom (those learned persons who are most studious yet in need of getting the Islamic teachings) and with goodly exhortation (by addressing the good emotions in those persons who value the good feelings among the fellow beings), and have disputations with those (who would not even listen properly to the good Islamic teachings due to their negative manner to challenge everything that comes their way, even when the true Muslims provide all good reasoning for them to accept Islam in their benefit), in the best manner; surely your Lord knows best those who go astray from His path, and He knows best those who follow the right path (so you have the liability to providing the message of Islam to all peoples of the world and Allah only would decide who gets the true guidance)"; note that HIKMAT (i.e. wisdom) means such high intelligence that tells how to put the Islamic commands into practice so the Muslims would call the learned persons that have the inclination to HIKMAT, by the manner of HIKMAT (as that is the asking of ADL); and they would call those persons who have the sense that the world needs to live in peace where all persons care about the fellow beings with such good principles that they all apply at practice, by the manner of goodly exhortation (as that is the asking of EHSAAN); Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-126 & 127 relate to retaliation by the same level of offence if the last type of them come to challenge them practically in some most adverse manner; so AAYAT-126 asks all true Muslims to stand firm together against their adverse practical efforts to challenge Islam though it appreciates the preference to patience where it is possible on their wrong-doings and leave such persons on their own (note that this Surah came to the Prophet PBUH at the MAKKI period); however, Allah commands the Prophet PBUH at AAYAT-127 especially to observe patience with the indication that though it is difficult in general yet Allah would give him the ability to observe it with easiness and asks him not to grieve upon their disbelief (by the concern why they reject these good teachings when he is providing these to them only so that they get highest of benefits by them) and guides him not to distress himself on whatever adverse plans that they make against the expression of his teachings (as Allah would certainly save him from all their adverse efforts as he fulfills his liability well) so unless they take some adverse action against Islam practically, the better thing for him is to avoid all such persons by ignoring them at this time as much as possible; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Surah tells about all those that come to Islam by its total acceptance that they also become part of the Muslim UMMAH and Allah would care for all true Muslims who do care for the commands of Allah in all issues of life; it reads, "surely Allah is with those who guard (against evil that nothing adverse touches their true belief on Islam as they remain attentive to Allah) and those who do the good (deeds that benefit them highly and that benefit even others)"; so most certainly, these are such persons who would live the most pleasant life at the world, and Allah would most certainly give them their good reward in the best of manners for whatever good they did, at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah BANI-ISRAEL (AL-ISRAA)

(Consists of 12 Ruku; MK-6 to 10)

BANI-ISRAEL-The First Ruku

1. Glory be to Him Who made His servant to go on a night from the Sacred Mosque to the remote mosque of which We have blessed the precincts, so that We may show to him some of Our signs; surely He is the Hearing, the Seeing.
2. And We gave Musa the Book and made it a guidance to the children of Israel, saying: Do not take a protector besides Me;
3. O the offspring of those whom We bore with Noah; surely he was a grateful servant.
4. And We had decreed the command for the children of Israel in the Book: Most certainly you will make mischief in the land twice, and most certainly you will behave insolently with great insolence.
5. So when the promise for the first of the two came, We sent over you Our servants, of mighty prowess, so they went to and fro among the houses, and it was a promise to be accomplished.

6. Then We gave you back the turn to prevail against them, and aided you with wealth and children and made you a numerous band.

7. If you do good, you will do good for your own souls, and if you do evil, it shall be for them. So when the second promise came (We raised another people) that they may bring you to grief and that they may enter the mosque as they entered it the first time, and that they might destroy whatever they gained ascendancy over with utter destruction.

8. It may be that your Lord will have mercy on you, and if you again return (to disobedience) We too will return (to punishment), and We have made hell prison for the disbelievers.

9. Surely this Quran guides to that which is most upright and gives good news to the believers who do good that they shall have a great reward.

10. And that (as for) those who do not believe in the hereafter, We have prepared for them a painful chastisement.

Surah BANI-ISRAEL which is also named AL-ISRAA, records the event of ISRAA (i.e. when Allah took Muhammad PBUH on a journey at the night from Masjid-UL-HARAAM i.e. Makkah to the remote Masjid i.e. Jerusalem) at the opening AAYAT of the Surah; it was the strange journey that the Prophet PBUH made in the part of that night to Jerusalem in the company of Gabriel-AS upon BURAAQ (the beautiful winged white little mule), and its second phase is mentioned as MIRAJ (ascension) to heavens from there where also

Gabriel accompanied him and Surah NAJM relates about it; he came back to Makkah the same night soon and his absence was not felt; it is highly feasible to observe the AAYAAT of Surah NAJM too which relates to the second phase of this amazing journey; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from the beginning of Surah NAJM to AAYAT-18, all these AAYAAT at the Surah read, "I swear by the star (the last one of them as the light dawns) when it goes down (i.e. fades away); your companion does not err (as Allah has provided safety to him from it in providing the message of the Quran), nor does he go astray (i.e. he does not have any inclination to change the Islamic teachings); nor does he speak out of desire (taking few teachings by choice and leaving others); it is naught but revelation (in the Quran) that is revealed which that (angel Gabriel-AS) who has extreme might, has taught him (by the command of Allah); that angel is vigorous; and he grew clear to view (when Muhammad PBUH saw him) and he is in the highest part of the horizon (in front of him); then he approached and came closer; so he was the measure of two bows or closer still (i.e. he was very near to him physically); and he (i.e. the angel) revealed to His servant (i.e. the servant of Allah) what he revealed (i.e. the AAYAAT of Surah MUDHDHATHIR); the heart (of Muhammad PBUH) was not untrue in what he saw (i.e. the angel in his true form); what- do you then dispute with him as to what he saw?; and verily he (i.e. Muhammad PBUH) saw him yet another time; (that was) at the farthest lote-tree (which was much more beautiful than how it is found at the world); near which is the garden (JANNAH), the place that is the resort (perhaps that was the place where Adam-AS and Eve-AS had resided before their descent to earth); when that which covers covered the lote-tree (i.e. there were angels upon it); the eye did not turn aside (so he saw Gabriel clearly in his angelic form who remained the focus to his eyes), nor did it exceed the limit (so there certainly was no disrespect in his view of Gabriel); certainly he saw of the greatest signs of his Lord (so even though he did not see his Lord Allah, he did see many of His greatest signs there at his most holy visit there i.e. at MIRAJ)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT of NAJM tell that the belief of the Prophet PBUH on the Quran is based on his sight too as he has seen Gabriel-AS in his angelic form twice; they relate the incident of MIRAJ when the Prophet PBUH saw Gabriel-AS in his angelic form the second time near the lote-tree (that is the boundary at the seventh heaven from where no one is allowed entrance ahead) to where the Prophet PBUH had accompanied him; this incident happened couple of years before his migration to Madinah when in the company of Gabriel, he had gone from Makkah to the place of the mosque at Jerusalem at night (i.e. ISRA) and then from there, he went to heavens with him (i.e. MIRAJ) in the same night; note that Ahadith have given much detail to MIRAJ (though with exception to extremely few, all of them need scrutiny to their chains by which they are narrated or/and the text therein) and that was the time when Allah asked Muhammad PBUH to command the Muslims to read five SALAH daily (and it came to routine for Muslims at Madinah); Al-Hamdu Lillah; though ISRA was physical in nature (i.e. travel to Jerusalem) and it happened with most surprising velocity in terms of those times (as then it was at the distance of about a month from Makkah) yet the ascension to heavens (MIRAJ) from there seems as the most amazing spiritual issue (but very real event) that is not easy to comment upon; note that I, MSD, would not touch any detail to its nature as certainly it has such spiritual aspect where silence is totally better rather than any discussion but with the clear acceptance that it certainly is very real in its nature; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note also that the Quran has told us that Allah made the wind take Solomon-AS most amazingly fast from places to places by His will as Surah SABA-12 relates, "And (We made) the wind (subservient) to Solomon, which made a month's journey in the morning and a month's journey in the evening, and We made a fountain of molten copper to flow out for him, and of the jinn there were those who worked before him by the command of his Lord; and whoever turned aside from Our command from among them, We made him taste of the punishment of burning"; the AAYAT tells with the mention about the mosque at Jerusalem that is "of which We have blessed the precincts" so much of area adjacent to it is where Allah has put His blessings upon (and many of Messengers had come at this area after Moses); as for ISRA & MIRAJ, its significance is that Allah brought this miraculous event that had two phases (physical and spiritual) for the Prophet PBUH because that was the time when the chiefs at the city of TA'IF had treated him most disrespectfully (which he had visited to get firm support for the spread of the message of Islam) and he had pleaded to Allah due to that adverse treatment; at that time too, he had shown total commitment to the task that Allah had given him saying words to the effect that if Allah does not will to disrespect him then he has no worry of how the people treat him at present; Allah answered his plea beautifully by that event that when Allah has given him the task, He would see that he goes on with it at ease so he is most welcome to the nearness of Allah; within two years, he migrated to the city of Madinah conveniently that proved even better than TA'IF for the Islamic cause, where all the true Muslims then gathered to found the Islamic environment in practice; there just as he came to its doorstep, he was taken as the undisputed ruler of the place by the will of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next couple of AAYAAT state that "and We gave Musa-AS the Book (Torah) and made it a guidance to the Bani-Israel, saying- do not take a protector besides Me; O the offspring of those whom We bore with Noah; surely he was a grateful servant"; so Allah had provided the true guidance at the five books (Pentateuch) clearly to Bani-Israel (the children of Israel) through Moses and had told them explicitly to fulfill His commands only as He only is the true Lord; this is the manner to remain grateful to Allah, the true Lord, and they shall adhere to it because this truly was the beautiful manner of living of Noah-AS all his life, who was the most notable ancestor of all persons that came to the world after him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note here that Allah has used the word "ABD" (slave to Allah) for the Prophet PBUH at the first AAYAT and for NOAH too, at the third AAYAT; this tells among other things that every person needs to understand that his true status is to remain slave to Allah (being always grateful to whatever blessing He has provided to him) as that only would lead him to get more of His blessings and much nearness to Him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; though the Messengers of Allah provided the same message of Allah to the people they were sent to, these three Messengers (Noah-AS, Moses-AS & Muhammad PBUH) have much in common with each other; they have the gap of 2000 years to each other; note that the next Surah i.e. KAHF also terms Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, at its first AAYAT as His ABD; these two Surah closely relate to each other as BANI-ISRAEL guides to AKHIRAT explicitly and KAHF tells about the inferior nature of the world except when the person leads his life by the Islamic principles; both Surah start by praising Allah, the true Lord; Surah BANI-ISRAEL mentions the Ten Commandments previously given in Torah in the manner that the Muslims would care for and guides the Muslims that they would fulfill the commands of Allah as the world is the place of examination where Allah has provided all facilities so that they work easily upon Islam; so it relates the event of the creation of Adam and asks to remain firm on the teachings of the Quran without giving any space to any of doubts; every person would answer for his doings at AKHIRAT and he would remain conscious to this at all times of his life; the Surah at the very beginning provides the destructive historical events to the Bani-Israel so that the Muslims reflect upon it and avoid all such doings that might lead to such destruction that came upon that people due to their challenge to the commands of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-4 to 8 relate about the history of the Bani-Israel that "and We had decreed the command for the children of Israel in the Book that most certainly you will make mischief in the land twice, and most certainly you will behave insolently with great insolence; so when the promise for the first of the two came, We sent over you Our servants, of mighty prowess, so they went to and fro among the houses, and it was a promise to be accomplished; then We gave you back the turn to prevail against them, and aided you with wealth and children and made you a numerous band; if you do good, you will do good for your own souls, and if you do evil, it shall be for them; so when the second promise came (then We raised another people) that they may bring you to grief and that they may enter the mosque as they entered it the first time, and that they might destroy whatever they gained ascendancy over with utter destruction; it may be that your Lord will have mercy on you, and if you again return (to disobedience) We too will return (to punishment), and We have made hell prison for the disbelievers" Al-Hamdu Lillah; note here that Allah mentions even the infidels that attacked Jerusalem as His slaves/servants because the will of Allah binds each and every person so it binds even the persons that are satanic in character; whatever happens certainly happens by the will of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah takes His work even from the wrong persons as He is leading all the creation at the heavens and at the earth and between them, though that does not mean that they get safety from the hell-fire as that only would come to them when they work with all heart to get the pleasure of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note the significant things that these AAYAAT provide to our study that are (1)-Allah had decreed about the Bani-Israel beforehand that they would make highest of mischief at the holy land of Jerusalem two times and at each of them, Allah would punish them most severely through such formidable enemy to them whom Allah would bring towards them; (2)-Allah had decreed their destruction at some written material (that most probably is the book of destiny that is with Allah and He might have told them about it or might have not) because the term the Book is among the words that mean at places the Quran and even Torah and even the LOHE-MAHFUZ i.e. the book of Allah that have all things written in it including the matters of destiny; it also means the commands of Allah and even the Surah in which the word is placed (and in AAYAT-13 & 14 of this Surah BANI-ISRAEL, it denotes the account of deeds) so this tells that the context for it and for other such significant words is most important in getting the meaning of the word; (3)-Allah punished them the first time through the forces of Babylonia that had extreme wild nature when Nebuchadnezzar attacked them (and that happened about 800 years after Moses-AS and about 600 years before the advent of Jesus Christ-AS) and spread destruction all over the land by the will of Allah so it was the first of the most destructive event for the Bani-Israel when they had become most extremely disobedient to Allah; (4)-they remained in slavery for decades at Babylonia until when in 538 BC, Cyrus the Persian (who is mentioned as the ZUL-QARNAIN and who had conquered Babylonia the previous year), allowed them to resettle at Jerusalem; we would learn about him more as we read the next Surah insha-Allah; (5)-they regained their authoritative position with high increase in number and got the worldly possessions and the support of male children again in the times ahead; the difference at their circumstances went on while they resided at Jerusalem (where they again declined gradually to the same immoral ways of living ultimately) and it happened that the Romans took over the place (63 BC) few decades before the miraculous birth of Jesus Christ but they allowed the Bani-Israel to live-on there with their own ruler posted upon them at the place yet under the strict Roman supervision; -6-it happened that when Jesus-AS appeared in them as the Messenger of Allah, they completely rejected his status and asked their ruler that Romans had appointed for them at the place (i.e. Pontius Pilate who was under the Roman emperor Tiberius) to give him the capital punishment; -7-it happened that they were unable to put any trouble on Jesus (as Allah took him up to Himself; see NISAA-158) yet due to their rejection of that great man who was among the most esteemed Messengers of Allah, they were punished most severely the second time within few decades of his departure from the world (i.e. his ascension to heavens); -8-Allah, the true Lord, punished them most severely by the hands of the Romans and though seemingly that came about because they had rebelled against the Romans yet it came as their second most severe punishment after about forty years of his departure, that Allah had written upon them due to their extreme disrespect to one of the most esteemed Messengers of Allah; -9-Allah, the true Lord, permitted the formidable forces of the Romans to enter the place of the mosque and they did destroy the whole place around in such destructive manner by His will that drove the Bani-Israel away from there decisively for many centuries; this is what the AAYAT implies when it says, "(We raised another people i.e. Romans) that they may bring you to grief and that they may enter the mosque as they (the Babylonians) entered it the first time, and that they might destroy whatever they gained ascendancy over with utter destruction"; -10-Allah, the true Lord, tells them that there still is the chance for them to save their spiritual integrity now by the acceptance of the Quran but He warns them explicitly that if they do not take its teachings into practice, He would punish them again most severely; it is history now that they did not accept the last Prophet Muhammad PBUH but challenged him on his call towards Islam, because he was among the descendants of Ishmael-AS and not of Isaac-AS; Allah then deposed them of their status of the chosen people to spread the message for the Islamic teachings and He raised the true Muslims to that position as we have studied at the eleventh Ruku of BAQARAH; Al-Hamdu Lillah; interestingly, the Muslims had also faced two most difficult times at their history after Muhammad PBUH and the first among them was the period when the eastern wild forces of Chenghez Khan destroyed the vast area under the control of the Muslims when they killed extremely huge number of Muslims and reached Baghdad at 1258 AD where they mercilessly killed the last Caliph of Abbasid administration; however, their descendants came to Islam afterwards as they were extremely fierce warriors yet lacked the manner to run the vast administration that they had received by the wars against the Muslims while the Muslims did not endorse their wild manner of living in practice; the second was the period when the western imperial forces colonized the areas of Muslims but ultimately due to wars amongst their-selves had to retreat from all such areas but after much loss to the vast resources of the Muslims and after the adverse set-up of geographical areas among them that might cause strife amongst them rather than seeing to peace amongst them and all peoples of the world; so it still has its impact upon the world even after its end and the only manner to answer that impact is to keep away from such peoples that caused it as much as possible after providing them the message of Islam; this is more of necessity as of now as it has tried to weave a system of collective living by taking different views of their thinkers and this system of living is much adverse to the Islamic teachings as it has all inclination to secularism to keep the good moral teachings away from the working of administration (to cause all injustice to the fellow beings) and it has all inclination to the concept that the Man is but an animal (to cause all the shameful behavior among the masses); Allah certainly is the true Lord Who eliminates all injustice and all the shameful behavior when the Muslims remain most attentive to Him keeping firm to the Quran so He would certainly end all the adversities that the wrongs of imperialism has caused to the world as of now; the Muslims need to take the assistance of SABR (which means to stop from all wrongs by efforts having all trust in Allah and denotes the attitude of patience on troubles that develops to discard the interest towards the worldly possessions except for what is necessary for subsistence) and SALAH (which means to read the prayers to Allah that leads to the total attention to Allah so that they get His pleasure and achieve the true success at AKHIRAT); these both SABR and SALAH that respectively keep away from all base desires and strengthen the attention towards Allah to get His pleasure, are easy to take for those only who understand well that they have to answer for their belief and their deeds at AKHIRAT (the eternal life ahead of this life at the world); see comments on AAYAAT-45 & 46 of Surah BAQARAH; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT introduce the Quran with words that "surely this Quran guides to that which is most upright (i.e. the right path for all peoples of the world) and gives good news to the believers who do good that they shall have a great reward; and that those who do not believe in the hereafter, We have prepared for them a painful chastisement"; so these AAYAAT explicitly tell the Bani-Israel to accept the teachings of the Quran with all commitment and they also tell all the peoples of the world that now when Allah has provided the Quran to the mankind, it is the only true guidance that assures salvation to them all and they need to accept it with all commitment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; for the Muslims, it tells explicitly that when they have believed in Islam truly then they need to do all good deeds that it asks to put into practice, by HIKMAT (the true wisdom); they would always remember that they would stand at front of Allah at the grounds of HASHR, the first day of AKHIRAT, and their lives need to show this good belief explicitly; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

BANI-ISRAEL-The Second Ruku

11. And the man prays for evil as he ought to pray for good, and man is ever hasty.
12. And We have made the night and the day two signs, then We have made the sign of the night to pass away and We have made the sign of the day manifest, so that you may seek grace from your Lord, and that you might know the numbering of years and the reckoning; and We have explained everything with distinctness.

13. And We have made every man's actions to cling to his neck, and We will bring forth to him on the resurrection day such book which he will find wide open:

14. Read your book; your own self is sufficient as the reckoner against you this day.

15. Whoever goes aright, for his own soul does he go aright; and whoever goes astray, to its detriment only does he go astray: nor can the bearer of a burden bear the burden of another, nor do We chastise until We raise an apostle.

16. And when We wish to destroy a town, We send Our commandment to the people of it who lead easy lives, but they transgress therein; thus the word proves true against it, so We destroy it with utter destruction.

17. And how many of the generations did We destroy after Noah- and your Lord is sufficient as Knowing and Seeing with regard to His servants' faults.

18. Whoever desires this present life, We hasten to him therein what We please for whomsoever We desire, then We assign to him the hell-fire; he shall enter it despised, driven away.

19. And whoever desires the hereafter and strives for it as he ought to strive and he is a believer; (as for) these, their striving shall surely be accepted.

20. All do We aid-- these as well as those-- out of the bounty of your Lord, and the bounty of your Lord is not confined.

21. See how We have made some of them to excel others, and certainly the hereafter is much superior in respect of excellence.

22. Do not associate with Allah any other god, lest you sit down despised, neglected.

The Ruku starts with the comment on the general psyche of the man that says, "and the man prays for evil as he ought to pray for good, and man is ever hasty"; note that this Ruku guides the mankind that the life at the world is mere examination and it is not such place that the man has obsession for it to gain its success as his worthy goal; the opening AAYAT denotes that he inclines towards such benefits that he might seemingly get early and in this pursuit, there are such persons who ignore the good teachings of Islam; when they take-up such pursuits, they rather bring evil upon them as even if they do get some worldly possessions, they would lose the values that benefit at AKHIRAT, the true life; the AAYAT also implies that the man must be cautious in whatever he says so as not to ask Allah for anything by emotions at spur of the moment that is adverse to Islamic teachings; and he must not ask Allah for anything by extreme anger that brings some trouble to his near ones if Allah accepts his plea which grieves him afterwards; may Allah save all good persons from asking Allah for anything by ignoring the Islamic teachings that proves evil to them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT tells about the night and the day that Allah had made them as two signs to the mankind so He makes the night pass away (as darkness ends at the dawn of the day) and brings the day as lighted; this difference is so that the night assures the time of rest for the man that he keeps himself gathered with peace in temperament and that the day assures that he earns for the necessity of his living and keeps the account of the passing years and reckoning of the settlement of issues; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-13, 14 & 15 state about the examination of all men (and all women) at their lives at the world; these AAYAAT read, "and We have made every man's actions to cling to his neck (so those stay with him even to the resurrection day), and We will bring forth to him on the resurrection day such book which he will find wide open (which would have the complete record of his account in it); read your book (so even the persons who committed wrongs at the world, would be unable to ignore it and would have to read it); your own self is sufficient as the reckoner against you this day; whoever goes aright, for his own soul does he go aright; and whoever goes astray, to its detriment only does he go astray: nor can the bearer of a burden bear the burden of another (though if he misguides people, he would get the punishment for that too as that also would be his own wrongdoing), nor do We chastise until We raise an apostle (so that all persons get the message of the fundamentals of Islam and do not plea their innocence on the basis of ignorance; note that their liability is valid at these current times even if the message gets to them by the Quran or/and by the Muslims)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT tell explicitly that the life at the world is an examination for every person, male or female, and they would see their written account of deeds fairly at the Day of Judgment in which there would certainly be no injustice as Allah has provided some beautiful manner to record all deeds of every person that remain attached to that person and he would himself vouch for its authenticity at that day; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that AAYAT-10 to 16 of Surah INFITAAR read, "there are above you guardians (angels); generous and recording; they know what you do; the righteous verily will be in delight; and the wicked verily will be in the hell-fire; they will burn therein on the Day of Judgment; and will not be absent thence"; and AAYAT-49 of Surah KAHF reads, "and the book shall be placed, then you will see the guilty fearing from what is in it, and they will say- woe to us; what book is this- it does not omit a small one nor a great one, but numbers them (all); and what they had done they shall find present (there); and your Lord does not deal unjustly with anyone"; and AAYAAT-6 to 12 of Surah INSHIQAQ read, "O man- surely you must strive (to attain) to your Lord, a hard striving until you meet Him; then as to him who is given his book in his right hand, he shall be reckoned with by an easy reckoning, and he shall go back to his people joyful; and as to him who is given his book behind his back, he shall call for perdition, and enter into burning fire"; so these AAYAAT elaborate on this place at Surah BANI-ISRAEL as they clearly relate to this place; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the six AAYAAT in this Ruku from AAYAT-16 to AAYAT-21 state, "and when We wish to destroy a town, We send Our commandment (i.e. Allah provides ways to them to disobedience to see how they respond to it) to the people of it who lead easy lives, but they transgress therein; thus the word (of destruction) proves true against it, so We destroy it with utter destruction; and how many of the generations did We destroy (when they disrespected the Messenger whom Allah had sent to them) after Noah-AS (including the people of HOODH, SALEH, Lot and SHOAIIB; Salaam on all the Messengers)- and your Lord is sufficient as Knowing and Seeing with regard to His servants' faults (so He knows totally well of their wrongs and so He punishes them by the most appropriate punishment that they deserve); whoever desires this present life (of the world), We hasten to him therein what We please for whomsoever We desire (so even for them, Allah decides what to give at the world and how much and to whom), then We assign to him the hell-fire; he shall enter it despised, driven away; and whoever desires the hereafter and strives for it as he ought to strive and he is a believer; (as for) these, their striving shall surely be accepted (as Allah accepts all the good deeds done with sincere belief in Him); all do We aid-- these as well as those-- out of the bounty of your Lord (at the world), and the bounty of your Lord (here) is not confined; see how We have made some of them to excel others, and certainly the hereafter is much superior in respect of excellence (so the excellence here over many of persons is not the sign of their higher placement at AKHIRAT which only depends on TAQWA as we would study at KAHF explicitly)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that TAQWA is the attitude of the heart which means that all the Muslims must fear Allah that they do not get His displeasure by their sins becoming so sinful that they lose the chance to regain JANNAH and with that, they also must have such hope towards Him that He would keep them safe from the Satan at all times and at all places; so every person would care to live as righteous believer in the fundamental teachings of Islam with righteous deeds so that he/she does not lose the opportunity to show his/her worth for JANNAH at AKHIRAT and so that he/she is not put into the hell-fire as Allah would certainly fulfill His word; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT tells that the actual dwelling for the man is at AKHIRAT as the life at the world is the examination only for the man; He must care to get the best at that life by his good efforts at this life keeping care towards Allah, the true Lord; for this, he certainly needs to care that he does not take anyone equal to Him in authority as this is such evil thing that brings extreme shame to him and at AKHIRAT, he becomes most despised and most neglected as he lands in the hell-fire there; the AAYAT reads, "do not associate with Allah any other god, lest you sit down despised, neglected"; every person needs to remember that the life at the world is an examination for him and he needs to live it in the good manner that ultimately provides him the true success at AKHIRAT by the blessing of Allah, as that only is the true life of the man; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

BANI-ISRAEL-The Third Ruku

23. And your Lord has commanded that you shall not serve (any) but Him, and goodness to your parents. If either or both of them reach old age with you, say not to them (so much as) "Ugh" nor chide them, and speak to them a generous word.

24. And make yourself submissively gentle to them with compassion, and say: O my Lord- have compassion on them, as they brought me up (when I was) little.

25. Your Lord knows best what is in your minds; if you are good, then He is surely Forgiving to those who turn (to Him) frequently.

26. And give to the near of kin his due and (to) the needy and the wayfarer, and do not squander wastefully.

27. Surely the squanderers are the fellows of SHAYATIN (plural of Satan) and the Satan is ever ungrateful to his Lord.

28. And if you turn away from them to seek mercy from your Lord, which you hope for, speak to them a gentle word.

29. And do not make your hand to be shackled to your neck nor stretch it forth to the utmost (limit) of its stretching forth, lest you should (afterwards) sit down blamed, stripped off.

30. Surely your Lord makes plentiful the means of subsistence for him whom He pleases and He limits (those means for him whom he pleases); surely He is ever Aware of, Seeing, His servants.

This Ruku and the next one provide the commands of Allah to the Muslims that He had given to the Bani-Israel through Moses as the Ten Commandments; however there are few additions to those here for the Muslims while Sabbath is not mentioned here as for Muslims, Friday is most holy among days; Surah AN'AAM had provided these Commandments at its last but one Ruku and I, MSD, would provide translation from there at this place; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-151 & 152 at Surah AN'AAM read, "say O Prophet PBUH- come I will recite what your Lord has forbidden to you- (remember) that you do not associate anything with Him (this covers the

First, Second and the Third Commandments) and show EHSAAAN (kindness) to your parents (the Fifth Commandment) and do not slay your children for (fear of) poverty, We provide for you and for them (the Sixth Commandment in part) and do not draw nigh to indecencies, those of them which are apparent and those which are concealed (the Seventh Commandment) and do not kill the soul which Allah has forbidden except for the requirements of justice (the Sixth Commandment), this He has enjoined you with that you may understand (end of AAYAT 151); and do not approach the property of the orphan except in the best manner until he attains his maturity (the Eighth Commandment in part; this asks to avoid the unjust taking of any property especially of the weaker persons in a given society) and give full measure and weight with justice - We do not impose on any soul a duty except to the extent of its ability (the Eighth Commandment and the Tenth Commandment and note that giving the full measure and weight also means to care about the rights of others that they have on the person including especially his relatives, neighbors and all people in touch in the best possible way according to its Tafsir); and when you speak, then be just though it be (against) a relative (the Ninth Commandment) and fulfill Allah's covenant (these Commandments); this He has enjoined you with that you may be aware (of righteous deeds)- (end of AAYAT 152)"; read also the note at the Nineteenth Ruku of Surah AN'AAM for the elucidation of this Ruku at study; note that the Muslims are bound to obey Allah by the Quran and by the SUNNAH of the Prophet Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, as the

Islamic commands have that as basis to them; so we Muslims understand totally well that these Commandments relate directly to us Muslims and we would care to practice them as the Islamic Commands only; Surah BANI-ISRAEL asks the Muslims to give attention to fulfill all these commandments in practice as it asks to care for AKHIRAT; the first three AAYAAT of the Ruku guide to care about TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord) and keep the attitude of EHSAAAN towards the parents (especially if anyone or both of them become old); they would not say even any such word to them that hurts them because at that age, the person becomes touchy (and they had cared for him at the time of his infancy when he used to trouble them by this and that); they would ask Allah for mercy for their parents with submissive gentleness with the acknowledgment that their parents did bring them up with all care that was possible for them when they were children; so now they would do for their parents whatever possible for them and if any of them had asked something that is genuinely out of their reach, they would speak with kindness to that parent and Allah would care for their genuine excuse if they really are virtuous; from the next AAYAT to the last AAYAT of the Ruku, the Surah guides to spend upon the near to kin and the needy and the wayfarer (who has lost his savings at the foreign place in crucial situation) as they have all rights on such Muslims who are fully able to help them out; note that the Muslims are like brothers to each other (see Surah HUIJURAAAT-10); however, they need to exercise control over their expenditure that it occurs due to necessity of the occasion and that it occurs to the necessity only; note that when the Muslim person spends his amounts at places where he has no necessity to spend then this is squandering of amounts i.e. TABZEER (and the AAYAAT here warn against this attitude in very strict manner as they call them the brothers of all satanic persons, especially when they ignore to spend on genuine necessities which is to provide the worthy amounts to the needy persons, that they have in excess); and if he spends more amounts than what the genuine necessity asks for, then it is extreme wastage of amounts i.e. ISRAAF which also the Quran does not appreciate as Allah provides the ruling at AAYAT-31 of Surah AARAAF, "O Children of Adam- wear your beautiful apparel at every time and place of prayer- eat and drink- But waste not by excess, for Allah loves not the wasters" (see also AN'AAM-141 and FURQAN-67); Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-28 tells that if the virtuous Muslim person hopes that Allah, the true Lord, would provide him such good amounts soon that would be in such excess of his necessities that he would be able to assist those who are near to kin and those that are needy and the wayfarer, then it is feasible for him to avoid expenditure on them for the present due to retaining of some amounts for his own necessities ahead but with the kind words to them to wait-on for some period of time ahead; but it is not feasible for him at any time in general to make his hand shackled to the neck (that is not to spend anything for the liability of the near ones and needy and the wayfarer due on him when he is able to do so) or to stretch his hand forth to such limit of providing their needs where he himself incurs deficiency in meeting his own necessities and sits afterwards blamed on his excessive feeling to assist others (and his careless attitude might lead others to fear to help-out the relevant persons as due upon them); the last AAYAT of the Ruku points out that all persons that help each other, they are not the actual source of help amongst them (so they ought to do whatever possible for them without any burden upon them); it is Allah Who provides ease at the life at the world when He provides the means of subsistence for him whom He pleases but He also limits (those means for him whom he pleases); surely He is ever Aware of His servants and sees how they do their deeds (so He takes the examination of all persons as He deems fit); most certainly, He only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

BANI-ISRAEL-The Fourth Ruku

31. And do not kill your children for fear of poverty; We give them sustenance and yourselves (too); surely to kill them is a great wrong.

32. And go not nigh to fornication; surely it is an indecency and an evil way.

33. And do not kill any one whom Allah has forbidden, except for a just cause, and whoever is slain unjustly, We have indeed given to his heir authority, so let him not exceed the just limits in slaying; surely he is aided.

34. And draw not near to the property of the orphan except in a goodly way till he attains his maturity and fulfill the promise; surely (every) promise shall be questioned about.

35. And give full measure when you measure out, and weigh with a true balance; this is fair and better in the end.

36. And follow not that of which you have not the knowledge; surely the hearing and the sight and the heart, all of these, shall be questioned about that.

37. And do not go about in the land exultingly, for you cannot cut through the earth nor reach the mountains in height.

38. All this-- the evil of it-- is hateful in the sight of your Lord.

39. This is of what your Lord has revealed to you of wisdom, and do not associate any other god with Allah lest you should be thrown into hell, blamed, cast away.

40. What- has then your Lord preferred to give you sons, and (for Himself) taken daughters from among the angels? Most surely you utter a grievous saying.

This Ruku continues to guide towards the fulfillment of the commandments of Allah with this guidance too that all persons need to live without arrogance and with compliance to all commands of Allah, the true Lord; the fact to note is that arrogance is certainly the disregard to the hearing and the sight and the heart that Allah has provided to the mankind for attaining the Truth so the ignorance to comply to the commands of Allah is against the asking of wisdom; Allah commands at these AAYAAT not to kill children because of such poverty where the guardians feel unable to provide for their sustenance; Allah tells them that He actually provides for them and even for you people so it is extreme injustice to kill (or intend to kill) any of children;

note that this command implies that the current manners of the birth control highly challenge the Islamic manner of living (though there is some tolerance to them if the man only takes-up any such measure on necessity that is other than the total blockade of his matter so as to avoid pregnancy to his wife); Allah asks here not to go near even fornication (and adultery) as that is extreme shameful act that leads to much evil doings; note that even the consent at both sides does not make it valid and it still remains most extremely shameful to both sides; note also that trying to control the birth rate and falling into an extremely shameful act have much connection to each other; Islam asks for highest of purity when it guides to morality that the Quran presents, and so all persons especially the Muslims need to avoid all injustice and all shameful acts to which their nearness even is most blamable; we have studied that Allah had ordered Adam-AS & Eve-AS not to go near even, to the tree that had the prohibited fruit on it and the eating of which led them to lose their clothing in front of each other (see the supplementary note at the second Ruku of AARAAF); Al-Hamdu Lillah; He commands ahead at the Ruku not to kill anyone who is innocent, except for a just cause (i.e. by the ruling of the Islamic law or at justifiable JEHAD; see also the note on the thirteenth Ruku of Surah NISAA) and not to go near to the property of the orphan except in a goodly way (where the sustenance of his own and of the orphan does ask validly for it) till he attains his maturity; Allah commands to fulfill all pledges that the man has taken and here Allah has specially mentioned such pledges that ask to care for the life, property and honor of the weak persons around; Al-

Hamdu Lillah; Allah asks also to give full measure when the person measures things that need taking their measurement, and weigh with true balance when he weighs things that need taking their weight; note that giving the full measure and weight also means to care about the rights of others that they have on the person including especially his relatives, neighbors and all people in touch in the best possible way; Allah forbids all persons ahead to speak anything without any knowledge as that amounts to using the ability of hearing and seeing in erroneous manner which leads to deducing results in the most incorrect manner; this prohibits giving testimony without the firm knowledge about the issue or talking about somebody without worthy information about him; with that it also prohibits to deduce results when the person is not much studious about learning the true guidance for which he needs to ask the good people having the good knowledge about it; we have read at Surah AARAAF-179 about the disbelievers that "they have hearts with which they do not understand, and they have eyes with which they do not see, and they have ears with which they do not hear; they are as cattle, nay, they are in worse errors; these are the heedless ones"; Allah had sent His Messengers to guide towards the fundamental teachings of Islam but many of the disbelievers disbelieved by ignoring their teachings so such disbelieving persons have such eyes that they do not use to see the Truth and such ears that they do not use to hear about it; that is why their hearts do not attach to it and they live on with such attitudes that denote that they are completely oblivious to it; so they are like the cattle in animals that go on eating their provisions without much care to observe the surroundings that might lead them to understand the dangers that might fall upon them; in fact, they are even more oblivious as the cattle do raise their heads occasionally when they ruminate while these disbelievers go on with their pursuit of the worldly things without any care to see the right path for their true success; this attitude of taking the way by own understanding is mostly because such persons take themselves as most capable of getting to facts (the psyche of I, my, me) and these three AAYAAT that are 36, 37 & 38, strictly guide not to become arrogant; these AAYAAT read, "and follow not that of which you have not the knowledge; surely the hearing and the sight and the heart, all of these, shall be questioned about that; and do not go about in the land exultingly, for you cannot cut through the earth nor reach the mountains in height; all this-- the evil of it-- is hateful in the sight of your Lord"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these all teachings (that are the commandments of Allah) are the true wisdom as all persons need only that to put into practice and the foremost of this true wisdom is that all persons care that they do not associate any other equal in authority with Allah, the true Lord; that wrong is such extreme wrong that because of that, they certainly would be thrown into hell, blamed and cast away; the last AAYAT of the Ruku states to make the extreme wrong of the disbelievers manifest upon them that for themselves, they prefer sons but for Allah, they take angels as His daughters; so the disbelievers not only take others as associates in authority with Allah, they disrespect Him even more when they commit this most extreme wrong; may Allah save all Muslims keeping them all into His shelter from the Satan so that they keep totally away from this most extreme wrong by getting the highest of blessing of Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

BANI-ISRAEL-The Fifth Ruku

41. And certainly We have repeated (warnings) in this Quran that they may be mindful, but it does not add save to their aversion.

42. Say: If there were with Him gods as they say, then certainly they would have been able to seek a way to the Lord of power.

43. Glory be to Him and exalted be He in high exaltation above what they say.

44. The seven heavens declare His glory and the earth (too), and those who are in them; and there is not a single thing but glorifies Him with His praise, but you do not understand their glorification; surely He is Forbearing, Forgiving.

45. And when you recite the Quran, We place between you and those who do not believe in the hereafter a hidden barrier;

46. And We have placed coverings on their hearts and a heaviness in their ears lest they understand it, and when you mention your Lord alone in the Quran they turn their backs in aversion.

47. We know best what they listen to when they listen to you, and when they take counsel secretly, when the unjust say: You follow only a man deprived of reason.

48. See what they liken you to! So they have gone astray and cannot find the way.

49. And they say: What- when we shall have become bones and decayed particles, shall we then certainly be raised up, being a new creation?

50. Say: Become stones or iron,

51. Or some other creature of those which are too hard (to receive life) in your minds! But they will say: who will return us? Say- He Who created you at first; still they will shake their heads at you and say: When will it be? Say- maybe it has drawn nigh.

52. On the day when He will call you forth, then shall you obey Him, giving Him praise, and you will think that you tarried but a little (while).

The Ruku starts by the statement that the Quran repeats the issues in its message at different places specially it gives the warnings at many of Surah to the disbelievers that Allah would punish them most severely if they reject the fundamental teachings of Islam; they have settled into their disbelief because of their arrogance instead of taking heed to the warning; they do not see the fact glaring at them that if there had been others equal in authority to Him as they say, they would have challenged Him and this would have upset all the setup of the creation; glory be to Him and exalted be He in high exaltation above what they say; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-44 states explicitly that "the seven heavens declare His glory and the earth (too), and those who are in them (so no one challenges Him); and there is not a single thing but glorifies Him with His praise, but you do not understand their glorification (so all of creation praise Him truly though the jinn and the mankind have to praise Him by their efforts and even they are bound to the will of Allah); surely He is Forbearing, Forgiving"; so, even if any of the mankind do not understand how they praise Allah yet all of His creation, even those that seem lifeless, they all do praise Him in their own specific manner; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the punishment of such arrogant disbelievers at the world is that Allah puts hidden barrier between you- O Prophet PBUH- and them who do not believe in AKHIRAT, that remains unseen and He puts covering to their hearts that they do not get the message of the Quran as even what they hear of it, they hear it in the way that they are unable to understand it truly; so whereas everything of His creation praises Him, these disbelievers are such persons whom also Allah has provided the true guidance by the Quran yet they fall into erroneous attitude; when you O Prophet PBUH mention your Lord alone in the Quran they turn their backs in aversion (as they intend to listen about those whom they take as equal to Him in authority); but certainly He only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah states plainly that He knows (when these disbelievers act as they are listening to the guidance that you provide- O Prophet PBUH) that they intend to get something on which they can put some blame upon you by their manner of thinking and they intend that the people get the impression that even when these persons listen to all this intently yet they do not see anything worthy to accept; they say amongst them to the persons who do develop any inclination towards the Islamic teachings that they are following such person who has some spell upon him; look at this most disrespectful attitude that they take towards you

O Prophet PBUH so they have gone so far away from the true path that now they would never find it ever to gain the true guidance; the last four AAYAAT of the Ruku read, "and they say- what- when we shall have become bones and decayed particles, shall we then certainly be raised up, being a new creation? - say (that) become stones or iron, or some other creature of those which are too hard (to receive life) in your minds- but they will say- who will return us? - say (that) He Who created you at first; still they will shake their heads at you and say- when will it be? Say (that) maybe it has drawn nigh; on the day when He will call you forth, then shall you obey Him, giving Him praise, and you will think that you tarried but a little (while at the world)"; these AAYAAT tell that the disbelievers are so much ignorant of the spiritual issues that they are totally incapable to perceive how they would rise from the dead when they would seemingly be bones and decayed particles; so Allah answers that whatever seemingly they become even if they are under stones or iron becoming part to them (or even become attachment to some other material), Allah would still raise them up for the final Judgment; He created them the first time and He would return all persons to life again; Al-Hamdu Lillah; even then, they would continue with their objections (shaking their heads in disbelief towards you) that when this would be- so O Prophet PBUH tell them that it might be very near (and only Allah knows its exact time so they need to accept the fundamental teachings of Islam rather than worry about its timing); when Allah calls all persons to the Judgment, they would respond running to the grounds of HASHR (and even praising Allah then) where they would see that this Day of Judgment is very much longer than their lives at the world; that day of HASHR (i.e. the Day of Judgment) would certainly come to all persons of the world as they rise from the dead; certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

BANI-ISRAEL-The Sixth Ruku

53. And say to My servants (that) they speak that which is best; surely the Satan sows dissensions among them; surely the Satan is an open enemy to man.

54. Your Lord knows you best; He will have mercy on you if He pleases, or He will chastise you if He pleases; and We have not sent you as being in charge of them.

55. And your Lord best knows those who are in the heavens and the earth; and certainly We have made some of the prophets to excel others, and to DAWUD We gave a scripture.

56. Say: Call on those whom you assert besides Him, so they shall neither control the removal of distress from you nor (its) transference.

57. Those whom they call upon, themselves seek the means of access to their Lord-- whoever of them is nearest-- and they hope for His mercy and fear His chastisement; surely the chastisement of your Lord is a thing to be cautious of.

58. And there is not a town but We will destroy it before the day of resurrection or chastise it with a severe chastisement; this is written in the Divine ordinance.

59. And nothing could have hindered Us that We should send signs except that the ancients rejected them; and We gave to THAMUD the she-camel-- a manifest sign-- but on her account they did injustice, and We do not send signs but to make (men) fear.

60. And when We said to you: Surely your Lord encompasses men; and We did not make the vision which We showed you but a trial for men and the cursed tree in the Quran as well; and We cause them to fear, but it only adds to their great inordinacy.

The Ruku guides to see the necessary attitudes at different occasions with care that Allah only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first couple of AAYAAT ask the Muslims not to lose patience when the disbelievers disrespect them without any care to listen to the true guidance that they provide to them in good manner; this impatience would only give the Satan the chance to make distance between the Muslims and the disbelievers that they would become unable to provide the true guidance to the disbelievers; it is their right upon the Muslims that they learn the true guidance and for this, the Muslims need to show the necessary patience; O Prophet PBUH- you (and all the Muslims) would always remember that they have to provide the message to the disbelievers as that only is their liability and Allah appreciates the intent efforts of all Muslims to bring the disbelievers to Islam yet Allah only would provide acceptance to them to give them mercy if He wills for it or otherwise to punish them if He wills; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT tells that Allah knows well about all that are at the heavens and at the earth so He had appointed the most virtuous men only to provide His message for guidance, who might be or might not be at some distinctive status by the worldly possessions and who might bring many of persons to that guidance by the will of Allah or might not if Allah wills otherwise; He has given preference to some of His Messengers on others of them when the standard to preference relates to the acceptance of the people whom they call towards the fundamental teachings of Islam; Allah had made DAWUD-AS (David) one of the kings among the Bani-Israel and Allah made him His Messenger to Bani-Israel too and Allah gave him ZABUR (the Psalms) too; this statement provides the message that it is the will of Allah whom He brings at forth as His Messenger and what He provides to him from the worldly assets, yet it also implies that by the will of Allah, Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, would also become the ruler of Arabia soon and the Quran that Allah has given him, would always remain the Guidance to the right path after him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that it is disallowed to speak about the preference of any of Messengers over all of them as some have distinction in some manner and some have distinction in other; though the Muslims do give preference to Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, yet that is an overall consideration and he has forbidden explicitly to speak it out as we see at the authentic Ahadith and the Quran has not mentioned this issue in explicit manner; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note also that no one among the Messengers have been unsuccessful in his task as his liability was to provide the message of Allah to his people without any concern whether they take it or not and everyone of them fulfilled his liability well by the blessing of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-56 & 57 asks the Prophet PBUH to tell the disbelievers that even if they call those whom they take as associates to Allah, they are totally unable to remove any distress from them and they are even unable to change its impression to minimum; in-fact, they (the angels) are so virtuous that they seek nearness to Allah remaining conscious whoever of them gets closer to Him and they hope for all good from Allah for all good persons and fear the chastisement to fall, from Allah to all evil persons; note that these virtuous persons whom the disbelievers called as associates to Allah also included such jinn too who had accepted Islam most sincerely and they were totally attentive to Allah; that extreme chastisement that falls upon the wrong-doers who do not repent on their wrongs, is certainly such thing that all do need to fear it; the next couple of AAYAAT that are 58 & 59 read, "and there is not a town but We will destroy it before the day of resurrection or chastise it with a severe chastisement; this is written in the divine ordinance; and nothing could have hindered Us that We should send signs except that the ancients rejected them; and We gave to THAMUD the she-camel-- a manifest sign-- but on her account they did injustice, and We do not send signs but to make (men) fear"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the town mentioned here in general terms are all such towns that go into the highest of disobedience of Allah so Allah would punish them all by very severe chastisement even at the world; however, it is most probable that this indicates a town of some specific area but it is not feasible to comment on this here by this assumption and the best of comments at this here certainly is that Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah tells explicitly that when Allah sent such sign that manifested as the clearest of miracles from Him, the people who got it showed extreme disrespect to that; due to this, Allah rejected all demands of the disbelievers to provide miracles; note that when the disbelievers did not accept the message of Allah in spite of seeing miracles clearly then Allah punished them with the most severe of chastisements even at the world; one of the clearest examples for this is the she-camel that Allah provided to THAMUD, the people of SALEH-AS, but they disrespected it (and killed her) which led to their utmost disaster; Allah provides such amazing signs only that they cause the necessary fear inside the people who get them and so they comply to the commands of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; in the last AAYAT of the Ruku, Allah tells that the objections of the disbelievers must not worry the Prophet PBUH as Allah has all control of all peoples of the world and He knows totally well how to lead the world to its destiny ahead; note that the disbelievers said that they saw him weaker in them by the worldly possessions and they said that he must provide them such sign from Allah that they specify to him; Allah tells here that He has shown the Prophet PBUH amazing vision at the MIRAJ that is trial to all men and He has also made the cursed tree i.e. ZAQQUM at the hell-fire as trial that is mentioned in the Quran (see Surah SAFFAAT-62 to 66); if they need signs, these two are signs too that Allah mentions to them so that they accept the Prophet PBUH as the true Messenger of Allah and so that they see that Allah has set the cursed tree i.e. ZAQQUM by His will at the hell-fire so that they fear Him and comply to

His commands yet all this good call to Islamic teachings, lead the disbelievers only to highest of impiety; note that the AAYAT uses the word RU'YA (the vision) for whatever that Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, saw at MIRAJ so this word implies that his ascension to heavens (MIRAJ) is certainly the most amazing spiritual issue which is difficult to comment upon yet very real event of his life and certainly, Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

BANI-ISRAEL-The Seventh Ruku

61. And when We said to the angels: Make obeisance to Adam; they made obeisance, but IBLIS (did it not). He said: Shall I make obeisance to him whom Thou hast created of dust?

62. He said: Tell me, is this he whom Thou hast honored above me? If Thou should respite me to the day of resurrection, I will most certainly cause his progeny to perish except a few.

63. He said: Be gone- for whoever of them will follow you then surely hell is your recompense, a full recompense:

64. And beguile whomsoever of them you can with your voice, and collect against them your forces riding and on foot, and share with them in wealth and children, and hold out promises to them; and the Satan makes not promises to them but to deceive:

65. Surely (as for) My servants, you have no authority over them; and your Lord is sufficient as Protector.

66. Your Lord is He Who speeds the ships for you in the sea that you may seek of His grace; surely He is ever Merciful to you.

67. And when distress afflicts you in the sea, away go those whom you call on except He; but when He brings you safe to the land, you turn aside; and man is ever ungrateful.

68. What! Do you then feel secure that He will not cause a tract of land to engulf you or send on you a tornado? Then you shall not find a protector for yourselves.

69. Or, do you feel secure that He will (not) take you back into it another time, then send on you a fierce gale and thus drown you on account of your ungratefulness? Then you shall not find any aider against Us in the matter.

70. And surely We have honored the children of Adam, and We carry them in the land and the sea, and We have given them of the good things, and We have made them to excel by an appropriate excellence over most of those whom We have created.

This Ruku narrates the event of the creation of Adam & Eve for the fourth time here at its five beginning AAYAAT as Surah BANI-ISRAEL asks all the mankind to care for the only true aim of life that is to gain the pleasure of Allah by the true belief and the righteous deeds according to it if they intend to live safe so it asks them to care towards AKHIRAT; it has occurred seven times in the Quran that are at the fourth Ruku of Surah BAQARAH then at the second Ruku of Surah AARAAF; and the other five places are Surah HIJR-28 onwards, this place i.e. Surah BANI-ISRAEL-61

onwards, Surah KAHF-50, Surah TA-HA-116 onwards and Surah SUAD-71 onwards; note that we have studied it in detail at the supplementary note that I, MSD, provided at the second Ruku of Surah AARAAF (for AAYAT-11) and that suffices here for it quite fine insha-Allah; however, I would add for AAYAT-64 here that Allah told the Satan that if he thinks that he is able to make his adverse impression on some person by his screaming at the top of his voice, he might even take that against him so that he falls into the desires for the worldly status; note that mostly this screaming takes place at occasions where emotions run high that happens at the death of some near-one or at such mixed gatherings (mostly at concerts) where the music plays fast songs with little care to the Islamic moral values; if he gives-in to this adverse impression of the Satan, it would lead him ultimately to lose control over the better usage of his property and the better upbringing of his children; the Satan had said that he would try to take all of the mankind that Allah had created for His worship only, to the hell-fire except for those exceptional persons that are most committed to the commands of Allah; he had plans to lead the mankind to physical pleasures at height so that they give-in to their base desires seeking the worldly status only but Allah told him that it is not that he would take all of them to his satanic manners but the fact of the matter is this that all would remain committed to Allah by ultimately asking Allah for His mercy on their wrongs (as the spirit inside the Man realizes the Truth clearly so most surely, he will not be able to misguide them to deviate truly from the way of Allah) but those who incline by his continuous pursuance to wrongs and then they deviate willfully to take his way without asking Allah for His mercy, they all will go with him in the hell-fire; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next four AAYAAT of the Ruku tell about how Allah had cared so much even for the disbelievers among the mankind that they might get their necessary sustenance with total ease so they are able to fulfill the liability to attain the pleasure of Allah; these AAYAAT address the disbelievers that "your Lord is He Who speeds the ships for you in the sea that you may seek of His grace; surely He is ever Merciful to you; and when distress afflicts you in the sea, away go those whom you call on except He; but when He brings you safe to the land, you turn aside; and man is ever ungrateful; what- do you then feel secure that He will not cause a tract of land to engulf you or send on you a tornado?- then you shall not find a protector for yourselves; or do you feel secure that He will (not) take you back into it another time, then send on you a fierce gale and thus drown you on account of your ungratefulness? then you shall not find any aider against Us in the matter"; so these ask them to see their attitudes that even they understand well that Allah only would save them in all troubles that they face, yet they do not even consider to obey Him only as their true Lord unless He puts them into some troublesome trial; He certainly is in full control of matters and He is able to finish off the disbelievers whenever He wills (and no one is able to challenge Him certainly) yet He cares to give them the space to see their issues and come to accepting the fundamental teachings of Islam; so these AAYAAT ask them to observe the plain facts and seek the Truth by that clear observation; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT emphasizes the matter that Allah told at the beginning of the Ruku by the narration of Adam that He had commanded the angels to make obeisance to Adam and they all made obeisance except for IBLIS (who was among the jinn yet due to His obedience to Allah, He had allowed him to sit among the angels); it reads, "and surely We have honored (among all creation) the children of Adam (that have believed in the Islamic teachings), and We carry them in the land and the sea (so that they would earn their living easily in the righteous manner), and We have given them of the good things (that affect their lives positively and they always live in peace), and We have made them to excel by an appropriate excellence over most of those whom We have created (as they need to put their potential ability to excel i.e. to rise ahead near to Allah)"; note that Allah has created the man at the status between animals and the angels so he would fall even below the level of animals if he takes the wrong ways and lives-on doing the wrongs; but he would rise above many of angels as he takes-up the true belief and lives-on with all virtuous deeds according to that true belief; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

BANI-ISRAEL-The Eighth Ruku

71. (Remember) the day when We will call every people with their Imam; then whoever is given his book in his right hand, these shall read their book; and they shall not be dealt with a whit unjustly.

72. And whoever is blind in this, he shall (also) be blind in the hereafter; and more erring from the way.

73. And surely they had tempted to turn you away from that which We have revealed to you, that you should forge against Us other than that, and then they would certainly have taken you for a friend.

74. And had it not been that We had already established you, you would certainly have been near to incline to them a little;

75. In that case We would certainly have made you to taste a double (punishment) in this life and a double (punishment) after death, then you would not have found any helper against Us.

76. And surely they had tempted to unsettle you from the land that they might expel you from it, and in that case they will not tarry behind you but a little.

77. (This is Our) course with regard to those of Our apostles whom We sent before you, and you shall not find a change in Our course.

This Ruku asks all to pay attention highly towards AKHIRAT that the world is the place of examination and the result to it would come at the day of HASHR (i.e. the first day of AKHIRAT); there, Allah would call all persons according to their results (the account of deeds that the AAYAT mentions as IMAMEHEM which literally means their leader); note that Surah YA-SEEN-12 mentions even some written material as IMAM which is clear from the context there and so it is feasible to take this term here as the written material which means the account of deeds; so those who had lived their lives at the world with care for the commands of Allah, they would be given their written account of deeds in the right hand so they would read that with pleasure and they would see that they have not been dealt unjustly even as little as FATIL (the light fiber that enfolds the seed of a date); they would be given the result in better manner for their good deeds that they did sincerely for Allah as we have seen at places at the Quran so they would receive the good result ten times minimum to each of them (so Allah would treat them by the manner of EHSAAN); and those who had lived by evil manners at the world, they would be given their written account of deeds at the left hands at their backs as they would be tied; they would see that they have caused most extreme trouble to themselves and they would ignore it; but Allah would compel them to read it as we have studied at AAYAT-14 of this Surah; they would not have any more of wrongs in it but what they had committed at the world and their result would count each of their wrongs as single one only (so Allah would treat them by the manner of ADL); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT tells that the person who had remained blind at the world, he also would be blind there at the grounds of HASHR and that would be more troublesome to him; his blindness at the world was that he could not see the right path to accept the fundamental teachings of Islam though he got the message of Allah time and again; so there too, he would remain blind as he would not find any way to get safety from the most extreme trouble there in which his wrongs at the world would have put him in; Surah NISAA-173 tells that "then as for those who believe and do good- He will pay them fully their rewards and give them more out of His grace; and as for those who disdain and are proud, He will chastise them with a painful chastisement; and they shall not find for themselves besides Allah a guardian or a helper"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; to understand the expression of AAYAAT-73, 74 & 75, note that when the disbelievers saw that Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, is gradually getting most positive response for his call towards Islam, they offered him that both sides decide what he would say from the Quran and what he would leave and they would tolerate his TABLIGH (the call towards the teachings of Islam) so that they all live at peace; they were even ready to provide him the status as one of chiefs among them and high amounts of money and the opportunity to marry any woman at Makkah he intends to; it is notable that when Allah takes someone as His Messenger from some people to guide them, He provides him safety from all physical and spiritual adversities that might become such hindrance to him that he becomes unable to provide the message of Allah to his people; so, because of this safety that Allah had provided to him, the Prophet PBUH refused their offer then & there; these AAYAAT address this event that read, "and surely they had tempted to turn you away from that which We have revealed to you, that you should forge against Us other than that, and then they would certainly have taken you for a friend; and had it not been that We had already established you, you would certainly have been near to incline to them a little; in that case We would certainly have made you to taste a double (punishment) in this life and a double (punishment) after death, then you would not have found any helper against Us"; these AAYAAT imply that he did the right thing by the rejection of their offer in clear terms but he has to remember that it was because Allah has provided him the safety as His Messenger as the punishment for any other attitude would have been most severe; Allah states this so that all Muslims understand that even Muhammad PBUH saves himself from adversities by the blessing of Allah on him Who has provided him the safety from all adversities; we have studied at eleventh Ruku of Surah-AARAAF that when the chiefs in the people of SHOAIB had threatened him that if he does not come back to their way of life, they would turn him away from the land, he had replied, "indeed we shall have forged a lie against Allah if we go back to your religion after Allah has delivered us from it, and it befits us not that we should go back to it, except if Allah our Lord please - Our Lord comprehends all things in His knowledge; in Allah do we trust: Our Lord - decide between us and our people with truth; and You are the best of deciders"; so he did not say that I am very capable to save myself but he took the shelter of Allah only with the recognition that He only is the true Lord; note also that we have studied at AAYAT-65 at the previous Ruku where Allah tells the Satan that "surely (as for) My servants, you have no authority over them; and your Lord is sufficient as Protector"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT of the Ruku tell that they had devised the plan to your exile from Makkah and if they do get it, Allah would not let them remain at Makkah for much time so He would punish them most severely; this is the set ruling of Allah that if the people of His Messenger reject him or cause him to leave the land, they are punished most severely even at the world; we see this at different places in the Quran where it provides the events of the five significant Messengers (Noah, SALEH, HOODH, Lot; SHOAIB; Salaam on all of them); and we have read the Pharaoh and his forces were given extreme chastisement even at the world as the Pharaoh intended to disrespect Moses-AS and to keep the Bani-Israel to most humiliating slavery at the land (see the first four AAYAAT of the last Ruku of this Surah) and the Bani-Israel themselves were severely punished at 70 AD after they had rejected and had tried to humiliate Jesus-AS (in which they were unsuccessful) after about forty years of his ascension alive to heavens; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the disbelievers at Makkah caused such trouble for Muslims that led to Hijrah (their migration from Makkah to Madinah) and Allah spared their lives only because they did not force the Prophet PBUH (and even the Muslims) upon this migration as he had made it on the direction of Allah; so at the ninth year of Hijrah, the Quran asked the disbelievers to accept Islam or if they did not intend to accept Islam, then to leave Arabia and go away to anywhere else in the four months at progress from the days of HAJJ at that year (see the note at the first Ruku of Surah TAUBAH); Al-Hamdu Lillah.

BANI-ISRAEL-The Ninth Ruku

78. Keep up prayer from the declining of the sun till the darkness of the night and the morning recitation; surely the morning recitation is witnessed.

79. And during a part of the night, pray TAHAJJUD beyond what is incumbent on you; maybe your Lord will raise you to the position of great glory.

80. And say: O My Lord- make me to enter a goodly entering, and cause me to go forth a goodly going forth, and grant me from near Thee power to assist (me).

81. And say: The truth has come and the falsehood has vanished; surely falsehood is a vanishing (thing).

82. And We reveal of the Quran that which is healing and mercy to the believers, and it adds only to perdition of the unjust.

83. And when We bestow favor on man, he turns aside and behaves proudly, and when evil afflicts him, he is despairing.

84. Say: Everyone acts according to his manner; but your Lord best knows who is the best guided in the path.

The Ruku starts with the guidance that the Muslims read SALAH that they would offer from the declination of the sun from the mid-heaven to the darkness of the night so this includes ZUHR & ASR (that are the SALAH at afternoon and the late afternoon respectively) and MAGHRIB & ISHA (that are the SALAH just after the sunset and at late night when the light is no more at the horizon respectively); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the AAYAT mentions FAJR (the SALAH at the early morning before the sunrise) separately as it is the most important among the five SALAH; note that AAYAT-238 of BAQARAH also stresses the reading of the SALAH of FAJR and the AAYAT here states that it surely is the time when the morning recitation in the SALAH is highly witnessed (by the angels going up to the heavens ending their duty at the earth and by the angels coming down from the heavens there to fulfill their duty ahead); Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-79 asks the Prophet PBUH that he would also read TAHAJJUD (that is the SALAH late after the midnight which the Muslim person says after rising from sleep) as the sixth obligatory SALAH as that would provide him the merit to get the position of great glory (MAQAM-MEHMUD) that is his glorious status to recommend the sinful Muslims to JANNAH that had risen as Muslims by belief at the day of resurrection; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-80 asks Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, to ask Allah for the easy entrance at Madinah and for the easy departure from Makkah and to ask Allah to grant him highest of assistance by this Hijrah; note that this plea actually tells that the Prophet PBUH needs to ask Allah for all convenience in his migration at this moment of time when the disbelievers are making most high mischief at Makkah, that they do not become able to affect his decision for leaving to Madinah adversely by their dictation and he follows the direction of Allah only; the last part gives the good tidings that Allah would provide him the beautiful status of command under His direction even at the world (and he received that good status as he entered Madinah); Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-81 provides another good tidings that Allah would lead the situation in such manner after the Hijrah to Madinah that the Truth would manifest openly among the masses and the falsehood would vanish totally so the Prophet PBUH needs to recite this at the Quran; note that at the conquest of Makkah at the 8th year of Hijrah in the holy month of Ramadan, the Prophet PBUH entered the KA'BAH and destroyed all the idols there; he was reciting this AAYAT there all the time; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last three AAYAAT of the Ruku read, "and We reveal of the Quran that which is healing (of the badness of previous deeds by its guidance) and mercy (forgiveness from Allah) to the believers (as they recognize the value of this beautiful favor of Allah to the mankind), and it adds only to perdition of the unjust (as they ignore its good teachings); and when We bestow favor on man (who thinks that he is most able to do his will), he turns aside and behaves proudly (as his attitude to the Quran shows clearly as if he is not in any need of the true spiritual guidance), and when evil afflicts him (due to such sinful ignorance), he is despairing; say- everyone acts (i.e. has attitudes) according to his manner (SHAKILA; as everyone does such deeds, that might be good or that might be evil, where he finds convenience for himself); but your Lord best knows who is the best guided in the path (as He keeps those, who ask His shelter from the Satan, always to the right path)"; He certainly is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the AAYAT states that every person works in accordance to his SHAKILA (i.e. the rule of conduct; the space he has for practice according to his own abilities; the individual ability to manage the affairs of his belief and his deeds); so Allah would judge everyone at the Day of Judgment according to his own individual SHAKILA; Al-Hamdu Lillah;

BANI-ISRAEL-The Tenth Ruku

85. And they ask you about the Spirit. Say: The Spirit is one of the commands of my Lord, and you are not given aught of knowledge but a little.

86. And if We please, We should certainly take away that which We have revealed to you, then you would not find for it any protector against Us.

87. But on account of mercy from your Lord-- surely His grace to you is abundant.

88. Say: If men and jinn should combine together to bring the like of this Quran, they could not bring the like of it, though some of them were aiders of others.

89. And certainly We have explained for men in this Quran every kind of similitude, but most men do not consent to anything but denying.

90. And they say: We will by no means believe in you until you cause a fountain to gush forth from the earth for us.

91. Or you should have a garden of palms and grapes in the midst of which you should cause rivers to flow forth, gushing out.

92. Or you should cause the heaven to come down upon us in pieces as you think, or bring Allah and the angels face to face (with us).

93. Or you should have a house of gold, or you should ascend into heaven, and we will not believe in your ascending until you bring down to us a book which we may read. Say: Glory be to my Lord; am I aught but a mortal apostle?

The Ruku starts by the AAYAT that tells about the Spirit that the human mind is unable to perceive it; the AAYAT takes-up the issue of the Spirit as the Jews at Madinah had asked the chiefs at Makkah to ask the Prophet PBUH about it; note that there are two of worlds that are AALAM-e-

AMR (the world of Command) and AALAM-e-KHALQ (the world of creation); note also that WAHI (the revelation from Allah especially the Quran), Angels and the Human Spirit are related to AALAM-e-AMR; the human-physique is related to the earth and its food in essence comes from the earth but the human-spirit has come from AALAM-e-AMR and so it needs commitment to WAHI to satisfy it truly; when a pure human-spirit got acceptance at the court of Allah when Messengers were still coming to the world, Allah sent WAHI to such pure human-spirit directly at heart (as with Jesus Christ-AS and this includes dreams too as with Abraham-AS) or talked to him from behind some veil not coming at fore (as with Moses-AS) or by sending an angel to him that addressed his spirit (as with Muhammad PBUH); see Surah SHURA-51 and note here that after the Last Prophet Muhammad PBUH, there is no Messenger to come and as such, the WAHI has ceased to come after him; the pure spirit recognized WAHI well when it got that and even an Angel when it saw that, as they all belong to the same sphere of life that is AALAM-e-AMR; note that even the human-spirit, though it is His command, is the creation of Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next four AAYAAT relate more about the Quran that if Allah had willed, He would have taken all that He has provided to you O Muhammad PBUH in the Quran and then you would have become unable to get anyone to plead to Allah in this matter; AAYAT-87 adds that whatever you get as the revelation from Allah, is His blessing to you as the care Allah has for you is certainly great (and He has shown His care to all the mankind by providing you the Holy Book Quran); this tells that those disbelievers who intend to make divisions in the Quran as they tell you to take some of it and leave the other, Allah would not let them get their way; Al-Hamdu Lillah; you tell all peoples of the world that even if all of the mankind and all of the jinn gather to challenge the Quran to produce something like it, they would totally remain unable to do it though they might work against it together; Allah has provided all peoples by the Holy Book Quran all the good tidings for all the righteous persons and all the warnings to all the wrong-doers yet the majority of them remains disobedient; note that the Quran challenges those who reject the Quran (as they take it as something that Muhammad PBUH has presented by his own self) to produce something like it even by taking the assistance of their close allies in this task; that certainly is not possible as the Quran comprises not only of meanings but also of words; though there is no way that anyone might imitate the meaning of the Quran keeping integrity in all that he presents yet this challenge also relates to the words of the Quran; Allah has set these words in such ways at its text that no one is able to imitate that in any way; for instance, note that the Quran tells us about Jesus Christ-AS that "the likeness of Jesus in the sight of Allah is as the likeness of Adam; He created him of dust then He said unto him - Be - and he is" (Surah AALE-IMRAN-59); this not only is correct by the meaning as Allah gave life to both of them by the direct command of KUN (BE) but it also is valid in the sense that the Holy Book Quran presents the names of both 25 times each at its text; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this set-up that Allah has provided for it, certainly has its own presentation and the most notable point here is that this challenge relates to both its words and its meanings and both of them are totally inimitable in any man-made work; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last four AAYAAT of the Ruku tell that the disbelievers present the conditions which they think is the requisite to the call towards Islam; note that they asked for these conditions as if they are ready to believe in Islam if the Prophet PBUH fulfills these conditions which they would take as the signs to his claim that he has received the true guidance from Allah; these AAYAAT read, "and they say- we will by no means believe in you until you cause a fountain to gush forth from the earth for us (as they thought that the Messenger of Allah would provide the worldly benefits to them); or you should have a garden of palms and grapes in the midst of which you should cause rivers to flow forth, gushing out (as they thought he would necessarily be one of rich persons); or you should cause the heaven to come down upon us in pieces as you think, or bring Allah and the angels face to face (as they thought that if they reject him, they would get immediate punishment or the Day of Judgment would come upon them instantly due to their rejection of Islam); or you should have a house of gold, or you should ascend into heaven, and we will not believe in your ascending until you bring down to us a book which we may read (as they thought that not only would he be well-off at the world but he also would be able to visit Allah whenever he will); say- glory be to my Lord; am I aught but a mortal apostle? - (so this was the simple answer given to them on their demand which means that the very basis for such demand is erroneous as these certainly are not the requisite to his claim)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

BANI-ISRAEL-The Eleventh Ruku

94. And nothing prevented people from believing when the guidance came to them except that they said- What- has Allah raised up a mortal to be an apostle?

95. Say: Had there been in the earth angels walking about as carefree settlers, We would certainly have sent down to them from the heaven an angel as an apostle.

96. Say: Allah suffices as a witness between me and you; surely He is Aware of His servants- Seeing.

97. And whomsoever Allah guides, he is the follower of the right way, and whomsoever He causes to err, you shall not find for him guardians besides Him; and We will gather them together on the day of resurrection on their faces, blind and dumb and deaf; their abode is hell; whenever it becomes allayed We will add to their burning.

98. This is their retribution because they disbelieved in Our AAYAAT and said- What- when we shall have become bones and decayed particles, shall we then indeed be raised up into a new creation?

99. Do they not consider that Allah, Who created the heavens and the earth, is able to create their like, and He has appointed for them a doom about which there is no doubt? But the unjust do not consent to aught but denying.

100. Say: If you control the treasures of the mercy of my Lord, then you would withhold (them) from fear of spending, and man is niggardly.

The first AAYAT of this Ruku indicates that the disbelievers not only presented their erroneous demand so that they take Muhammad PBUH as the Messenger of Allah but many of them also had the false notion at the back of their minds that the Messenger ought to be an angel among them to guide the mankind; the next AAYAT refutes that in the most clear terms by asking the Prophet PBUH to tell them that if there had been angels living upon the earth carefree to the commands of Allah, He would certainly have sent an angel to them for their guidance; note that this statement is mere supposition about angels to denote the error of the disbelievers because the angels do not disobey Allah in any of His commands and this statement actually implies that the mankind needed the most virtuous man as His Messenger to guide them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at AAYAT-96, Allah asks the Prophet PBUH, "say (as the conclusion to this discussion) that Allah suffices as a witness between me and you (because he has provided the best of men as His Messenger for guidance); surely He is Aware of His servants (that they need the guidance)- Seeing (the best of manners for their Guidance to the right path)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next couple of AAYAAT relate that the actual task to do for the man is to learn sincerely about the commands of Allah as whomsoever Allah guides to the right path, he only is the follower of the right path, and whomsoever He causes to err, no one shall find for him any guardians besides Him, the true Lord; those who have fallen into the most erroneous notions taking them into their lives, Allah would punish them most severely as He would gather them together on the day of resurrection on their faces, blind and dumb and deaf; their abode is the hell-fire where Allah would provide more of heat to them (by the change of their skins) as it comes to fade little; we have studied at the eighth Ruku of NISAA that those who reject the signs of Allah that He had provided to them (and those signs are the book, the HIKMAT and the good authority to practice them), Allah would soon enter them into the hell-fire and as their skins are thoroughly consumed, He would change them to other skins so they taste on the torment; note that the feelings relate to the skin and if that turns senseless, the torment would not be felt as the message for the pain to the brain is disrupted; they would see this torment because they denied the Day of Judgment even though the Messengers told them about it explicitly but they responded by saying when they shall have become bones and decayed particles, how shall they be raised up then into a new creation?; AAYAT-99 answers their doubt about the resurrection that they need to see that Allah has created the heavens and the earth because even their observation to that also is worthy to tell them that He certainly is able to create their like and He certainly has appointed for them the set timing to account for all their deeds; but the unjust do not consent to anything but denying of facts; the last AAYAT of the Ruku implies that Allah has given ample space to the Man to see his attitudes and come to the fundamental teachings of Islam; He provides sustenance even to the disbelievers so that they see to their physical needs and so that they get His message to accept and save themselves from the torment at AKHIRAT; He has no fear of the exhaustion of His resources as the men have so if they get some say to provide the true guidance, they would not have given any of that to anyone thinking by their idiocy that it would finish by that good usage (and would bring some other persons to stand at their status); so undoubtedly, such man is most niggardly; the AAYAT reads, "say (O Prophet PBUH)- that if you (disbelievers) control the treasures of the mercy of my Lord (that enable people to live by all commands of Allah to save themselves), then you would withhold (them even, though it does not reduce by usage) from fear of spending, and (such) man is (most) niggardly"; certainly Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

BANI-ISRAEL-The Last Ruku

101. And certainly We gave Musa nine clear signs; so ask the children of Israel. When he came to them, Pharaoh said to him: Most surely I deem you, O Musa, to be a man deprived of reason.

102. He said: Truly you know that none but the Lord of the heavens and the earth has sent down these as clear proof and most surely I believe you, O Pharaoh, to be given over to perdition.

103. So he desired to destroy them out of the earth, but We drowned him and those with him all together;

104. And We said to the Israelites after him: Dwell in the land: but when the second of the warnings came to pass, We gathered you together in a mingled crowd.

105. And with truth have We revealed it, and with truth did it come; and We have not sent you but as the giver of good news and as the warner.

106. And it is Quran which We have revealed in portions so that you may read it to the people by slow degrees, and We have revealed it, revealing in portions.

107. Say: Believe in it or believe not; surely those who are given the knowledge before it fall down on their faces, making obeisance when it is recited to them.

108. And they say- Glory be to our Lord- most surely the promise of our Lord was to be fulfilled.

109. And they fall down on their faces weeping, and it adds to their humility.

110. Say: Call Him (by His name) Allah or call Him (by His name) RAHMAN (the Beneficent); by whichever you call Him, He has the best names; and do not utter your prayer with very raised voice nor be silent with regard to it, and seek the way between these.

111. And say: (All) praise is due to Allah, Who has not taken anyone as son and Who has no partner in the kingdom, and Who needs no helper to save Him from any disgrace; and proclaim His greatness magnifying (Him).

The last Ruku of BANI-ISRAEL starts by the statement that Allah had sent Moses-AS to the Pharaoh with nine of signs that were the proof to him that Moses is providing him the message of Allah (see the supplementary note at the fifteenth Ruku of Surah AARAAF); but he did not pay heed to the warning to him and so Allah drowned him and his forces; afterwards, He chose Bani-Israel for the task to remain committed to and to spread the fundamental teachings of Islam and they had that significant status for about two thousand years ahead when He deposed them and provided that significance to the Muslims; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that this Surah tells all of the mankind to prepare themselves for AKHIRAT as that is the true life and to see that they do not ignore the commands of Allah at the world as Allah would punish them most severely at such disrespect to His commands when they have received it clearly, even at the world so the narration of this event at its last Ruku indicates this matter explicitly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that at the last part of AAYAT-104, Allah states that He had told the Bani-Israel that He would bring them together at the land when the second of the warnings came to pass and we have studied this at the first Ruku of this Surah (for AAYAT-7); Allah punished the Bani-Israel through Romans due to their rejection of that great man Jesus-AS who was among the most esteemed Messengers of Allah; note that AAYAT-8 tells them for their future that if they again return (to His disobedience), He will return (to their punishment) too; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the five AAYAAT ahead tell about the Quran that it is the only book now that guides to the right path which He has provided by Muhammad PBUH, His last Messenger, to all peoples of the world; Allah sent it to him with full protection that it does reach him with the true guidance that it has and even after this time, it would always remain the true guidance to all of the mankind (and even all of the jinn) in the protection of Allah; certainly, the Messenger PBUH has done his task well as the giver of the good news (to all the true Muslims that they remain committed to Islam) and as the warner (to all the disbelievers that they accept Islam before their deaths);

AAYAT-106 states, "and it is Quran which We have revealed in portions so that you may read it to the people by slow degrees, and We have revealed it, revealing in portions"; so Allah has made it easy to read (by division of Surah) that you O Prophet PBUH (and in your following, all Muslims) find feasible to present its message clearly to all peoples of the world and for that benefit, He has even descended it (i.e. all its Surah) to you by space in time; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-107 asks the Prophet PBUH to tell the disbelievers that now when they have received the Islamic teachings by the Quran, it is their choice whether they accept it or not and that choice would decide their status at the true life at AKHIRAT; the AAYAAT here tell about the sincere persons that had the knowledge of Torah that these sincere persons are surely those who are given such knowledge which asks them to accept the teachings of the Quran and make obeisance towards Allah when it is recited to them; they show all respect to Allah as they know well that He only is their true Lord and they also acknowledge that He has fulfilled His promise; AAYAT-109 reads, "and they fall down on their faces in weeping, and it adds to their humility"; note that Allah has mentioned at Deuteronomy that "I will raise-up from them a Prophet, from among their brethren, like unto thee, and will put My words in his mouth; and he shall speak unto them all that I shall command him" (Deuteronomy; chapter-18, verse-18); Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, clearly is the most worthy match to this verse; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-110 tells that when the Muslim person calls Allah, he may call Him by any of His names; note that there are ninety nine names of Allah but the Muslims need to care not to call Him by any such name that tells about His anger except where he pleads Allah to put His wrath upon the extreme unjust wrong-doers; the AAYAT also tells to recite the Quran moderately in SALAH i.e. neither with much loudness in voice nor with such low voice that is near to silence; the reciter of the Quran would also see that no one is troubled by his recitation especially at such occasions where the people have gathering to fulfill other of their needs; the last AAYAT of the Surah presents TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord); Al-Hamdu Lillah; it reads, "and say that all praise is due to Allah, Who has not taken anyone as son and Who has no partner in the kingdom, and Who needs no helper to save Him from any disgrace (as there is no way that any disgrace comes to Him); and proclaim His greatness magnifying (Him)"; Allah certainly is pure of all such relations and He certainly is the only true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah KAHF
(Consists of 12 Ruku; MK-9)

KAHF-The First Ruku

1. (All) praise is due to Allah, Who revealed the Book to His servant and did not make in it any crookedness;
2. Rightly directing, that he might give warning of severe punishment (BAASAN-SHADEEDA) from Him and give good news to the believers who do good that they shall have a goodly reward,
3. Staying in it for ever;
4. And warn those who say: Allah has taken a son;
5. They have no knowledge of it, nor had their fathers; a grievous word it is that comes out of their mouths; they speak nothing but a lie;
6. Then maybe you will kill yourself with grief, sorrowing after them ('ALA-AASAREHIM), if they do not believe in this announcement (i.e. the message of the Quran).
7. Surely We have made whatever is on the earth an embellishment for it, so that We may try them (as to) which of them is best in works;
8. And most surely We will make what is on it bare ground without herbage.
9. Or, do you think that the Fellows of the Cave and the Inscription were of Our wonderful signs?
10. When the youths sought refuge in the cave, they said: Our Lord- grant us mercy from Thee, and provide for us a right course in our affair.
11. So We struck silence on their ears in the Cave for a number of years.
12. Then We raised them up that We might know which of the two parties was best able to count the time for which they remained.

This Surah guides specially to the fact that the Muslims need to see that the life at the world of all persons is for his/her examination to which the result would come at AKHIRAT; note that I, MSD, had written the TAFSIR of Surah KAHF about 10 years back that I had completed at 19th of Ramadan 1431 (August 30, 2010); it was because of its significance at the present times where the people have related much of their lives to seeking the worldly benefits, even though there are great number of TAFSIR that are indeed great in quality too, that ULAMA have written for Surah KAHF specifically; that was the first of my significant writings on the Islamic teachings in these current times and so its TAFSIR here is the revision to that work; Surah KAHF, the Eighteenth Surah, is located physically at the center of the Holy Book Quran and in grave ills that we Muslims face today it is the medicine that is able to return us our lost spiritual strength to fight all evil at this last period of the world; the Holy Prophet Muhammad PBUH told us to recite it every Friday so that we Muslims remain safe from the great FITNAH (trial & trouble) of DAJJAL (Antichrist) that would surface at the last period of the world's life; note that there is silent consensus among most of the ULAMA that this period in the world's life is its last as all minor signs of the HOUR have taken place and many of the major ones have also come to pass; the Quran in AHZAAB-33 gives an indication that the period in which Allah has selected Muhammad PBUH as His last Prophet is the period of first JAHILIYAT (ignorance of the true spiritual guidance) and as this term FIRST is relative, there has to be another JAHILIYAT and undoubtedly, this current period is that; the Prophet PBUH was able to change it to the shining period of the mankind by the permission of Allah as he brought the teachings of the Quran in practice at the environment in which Surah KAHF relates most highly to the defense from DAJJAL; certainly, the Quran only would change this second JAHILIYAT to the shining period too that would present all good morality insha-Allah; this is the matter of our study and I would presently apply myself to it; may Allah help us all to understand the Quran with wisdom and help me most in my good effort to guide towards it; Al-Hamdu-Lillah; the Surah narrates four interesting events and each of them gives the message in its own way that the life at the world must not be given such attention that it becomes a barrier to remembering AKHIRAT, the true life after this life; but before taking them up, we must note some general points relating to its placement; the first to note is that it relates to its previous Surah BANI-ISRAEL as that Surah tells the story of past about how the children of Israel disobeyed Allah and so how the wrath of Allah fell on them, while Surah KAHF, guides towards the future though Allah provided it near the time of HIJRAT (i.e. the migration to Medina so most probably it descended in the ninth year after Muhammad PBUH became the last of His Messengers); also, at the end of both, Allah the Most High, has commanded to keep away from SHERK (that is to take anyone equal to Him in authority) and this command to avoid SHERK in every way, manifests in the Holy Book Quran many times at all places as it is the biggest sin in all sins; for the closeness of the Holy Prophet PBUH to Allah the Most High, Allah has used the term "ABD" (the true servant of Allah) and though he is mentioned as "ABD" at other places too yet there are only two places besides this that ABD is used for him in the first AAYAT of the Surah; one is the previous Surah BANI-ISRAEL, where in the first AAYAT the Quran has narrated the travel of Muhammad PBUH to Masjid-e-Aqsa in just one night and the other is Surah FURQAN; note that MAULANA MANAZIR AHSAN GAILANI in his book DAJJALI-FITNAH (troubles due to Antichrist) which he wrote at the middle of the previous century in Urdu, has reasoned from the beginning six AAYAAT of KAHF that as the believers in Christianity took Jesus Christ (Salaam on him) as the son to the true Lord Allah believing in trinity, it then started a chain of events that would lead to terrible war in the coming time; so according to his writing, this chain of events started two thousand years ago and now it has come to show its final effect; he remarks that the present-day Christianity is not based on the teachings of Jesus Christ-AS but it is based on the directions of Paul so his analysis leads to the view that the West would be responsible for an amazingly great war because the belief about trinity with the belief that to have faith in Jesus Christ is quite enough for salvation without any practical application of that faith, led in history to absolute authority of their religious personnel as there was much absence of some clear sketch of the religious society and its demands in Christianity; they used their authority harshly as history tells us providing for revolt against them and even against religion; their adamant negative attitude led to the total rejection of religious adherence by many of the people at the west; he concludes that this has provided grounds for the moral deterioration and as scientific development goes on with arrival of technical devices and control over force of matter in different ways with man in this situation of illusion about his power, it would lead to that great war which the Surah points out by the terms BAASAN-SHADEEDA (the terrible war as the severe punishment to their erroneous speech about Allah) & 'ALA-AASAREHIM (their markings that means the results that were and would be caused by assigning a son to Allah); note that this coming deadly war can still be stopped at this moment of time as the Holy Book Quran points out here by the word "IF" at AAYAT-6; so if the Muslims ask on together all peoples the attention towards the message of the Quran and they do accept its most basic teachings en-masse by the blessing of Allah, it would eliminate the probability of the coming deadly war insha Allah (if Allah wills); the most basic teachings of the Holy Book Quran are three that are TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord), RISALAT (Allah sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path and Muhammad PBUH is the last of His Messengers) and AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment); note that the people that were before Muhammad PBUH, if they believed the Messenger sent to them as their true guide whom Allah had sent for their righteous direction, they did fulfill their liability about RISALAT insha-Allah; note also that to believe in one of the Messengers of Allah is to believe in all of them and to reject one of them is to reject all of them as all provided the same guidance in essence; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second general point to note about this Surah is that though any Surah in the Holy Book Quran that have high number of AAYAAT deals with different events, commands, future matters (though always with a sequence and an integrity), yet this Surah that has 110 AAYAAT with 12 Ruku is focused on a single matter (that is the futility of the life at the world and the consistency of the life in the coming world) and provides different events related to that very matter and as such has the beautiful integrity of its own; it has told us four interesting events to convey its message well that have interesting similarities on which I, MSD, would comment insha-Allah (if Allah wills) in this writing at appropriate places; as we study Surah KAHF repeatedly, we find that it asks us emphatically to note that whatever the eyes see might not be the whole truth; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the third general point to note is that it informs clearly that if a person is weak in worldly status yet he has total trust in Allah that He would better his worldly matters and that person goes on to fulfill His commands as much as possible even at the expense of his worldly possessions, he would surely find ease in his physical & material requirements; though the four interesting events narrated in the Surah inform about this well even individually, yet the placement of the event of the persons of KAHF (Cave) first in the Surah that had literally nothing with them when they left for the intended cave and the event of ZUL-QARNAIN, the great just ruler with so much worldly resources at his control, in the last, also conveys the same message by sequence of narration, though by historical perspective, ZUL-QARNAIN precedes the persons of KAHF; the fourth general point to note is that it is located at the center of the Holy Quran though it is the eighteenth Surah in sequence and the Holy Quran has 114 Surah in total, yet the ninety six that are after it, have many Surah that have few AAYAAT only so by the count of letters, it has the word that is at the center of the Holy Book Quran; it is interesting to note that this middle word that comes at this Surah is WAL-YATALATTAF (and he should be gentle; courteous; considerate); this was asked of the one from those seven sleepers of the cave, that was being sent to bring some edibles from the city at the time when all seven had awoke, and probably their ferocious dog too, from a sleep of many years not knowing how much time they had slept and were feeling extremely hungry; he was told to be gentle in conversation and attitude as not to ask attention of anyone so the identity of the seven does remain concealed and they are not forced to leave their belief on what they had found out to be the Truth; now, the point to note is that the word points out to everyone to be gentle in attitude when the time is of FITNAH (test & trial) and the life of the great man & messenger Muhammad PBUH gives the same message as he was amazingly tolerant at Mecca when he was chosen as the Prophet of Allah and when he had to face a fierce opposition by the chiefs of Mecca as there, he was spreading the teachings of Islam when he was weaker in physical force though at Medina, he was commanded to take up weapons for defense and even for attack when and where necessary; this is the attitude that we have to develop and adhere to, at the times of DAJJALI-FITNAH as we have to see to "Safety First", before we proceed to terminate the FITNAH; let us now examine the events that comprise the Surah and that provide the teaching that has the total ability to eliminate the impression of DAJJAL (the Antichrist); Al-Hamdu-Lillah; after telling about the consequence of assigning a son to Allah the Most High, Allah tells in two AAYAAT about the earth; the first one tells about its present position that whatever is upon it has been created to give it a beauty & attraction so as to see who becomes obsessed by its charm and who understands that this is for his trial in the world so he must avoid getting involved in it except for his basic human needs that he has to attain, only caring about his spiritual beauty; the second one tells about its future status when the Judgment occurs, that Allah would make it a barren land and would stretch it to become a plain ground and then on that, all the human beings would have to answer for their belief and for their doings in front of Allah, individually; this is the subject that the Surah focuses on indicating that the right concept for the life is keeping this world at necessity and keeping the most high attention to the coming world as that corrects the attitude of the person when he truly believes in Allah the Most High; this is not only the message of Surah KAHF but it indeed is the message given by all of the Holy Book Quran, from the beginning to the end; just after these two AAYAAT, the event of sleepers of KAHF (Cave) is narrated; AAYAT-9 to AAYAT-12 give a brief introduction to them that they were few young men who took shelter at a specific cave (because the emperor had decreed to kill them if they do not leave the basic Islamic teachings and come back to their wrong belief); these AAYAAT inform that these were few young men (seven; as the learned commentators on the Holy Book Quran, tell us) who intended to take refuge in the specific cave and they had asked Allah's Mercy and Guidance for the action that they should take at that crucial moment of time; note that they also are named as ASHABUR-RAQIM (the fellows of inscription) and that probably is because their names were inscribed at their cave after they woke from their sleep; accepting their plea for safety, Allah put them to sleep for many years (SINEENA-ADADA) in that cave and then awoke them to see if they realize that it is now many years since the time they went to sleep and that Allah had heard their plea to Him by this amazing way for their safety; Al-Hamdu Lillah; please note here that on the basis of ABJAD (the rule that tells about numbers that are assigned to the Arabic Letters), I, MSD, was able to make an interesting observation here in Surah KAHF by the blessing of Allah, about the term "SINEENA-ADADA" (many of years that is historically mentioned as 195 years by the lunar calendar) that occurs at this place in Surah KAHF; the Arabic letters that comprise this term are SEEN the number of which is 60, NOON the number of which is 50, YA the number of which is 10, AIN the number of which is 70, DAAL the number of which is 4 and ALEPH the number of which is 1; now the significant thing is that if we total these numbers, the sum is 195 and seeing the translation of AAYAT-11 that reads "We struck silence on their ears in the Cave for SINEENA-ADADA", it is totally clear that the Holy Book Quran did point out their period of sleep though veiled, in this AAYAT as it has denoted (again in a concealed way) their total being seven with their dog as eighth, in AAYAT-22; the sleepers being seven in number, is well detected by the MUFASSIREEN (the good commentators on the Quran) by the blessing of Allah, yet they still need to get the term "SINEENA-ADADA" better; in the last AAYAT of the Ruku, Allah tells us that "then We raised them up that We might know which of the two parties was best able to COUNT the time for which they remained"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

KAHF-The Second Ruku

13. We relate to you their story with the truth; surely they were youths who believed in their Lord and We increased them in guidance.

14. And We strengthened their hearts with patience, when they stood up and said- our Lord is the Lord of the heavens and the earth; we will by no means call upon any god besides Him, for then indeed we should have said an extravagant thing.

15. These our people have taken gods besides Him; why do they not produce any clear authority in their support? Who is then more unjust than he who forges a lie against Allah?

16. And when you forsake them and what they worship save Allah, betake yourselves for refuge to the cave; your Lord will extend to you largely of His mercy and provide for you a profitable course in your affair.

17. And you might see the sun when it rose, decline from their cave towards the right hand, and when it set, leave them behind on the left while they were in a wide space thereof. This is of the signs of Allah; whomsoever Allah guides, he is the rightly guided one, and whomsoever He causes to err, you shall not find for him any friend to lead (him) aright.

The Ruku relates about these seven young men in some detail who had believed the Truth and Allah had provided them the true guidance; Allah gave them the strength to assist each other in their true belief with sincerity; they all declared that whatever comes, they would remain firm upon the true belief to which Allah has guided them because to believe anyone as equal to Him in authority is extreme enormity; they all saw clearly that their people have taken gods other than Him to worship but they are totally unable to bring forward any clear authority for that (as Allah has asked the mankind to believe in TAUHID only) so that is ample proof that their people are most wrong in their belief as they invent falsehood against Allah; they decided to take shelter at some specific cave that some of them knew well so that they remain safe from the persecution from their people; note that whatever historical record is available now about these seven, it tells us that they belonged to Ephesus (or AFSOS in Urdu, that is located at the present-day Turkey close to its present-day major city Izmir, near to the Aegean Sea) and that they slept for a bit more than 195 years by the Lunar calendar (i.e. from around 250 AD to 440 AD) from the times of the Roman Emperor Decius (249-251 AD; i.e. DAQIANOS in Urdu), who was notorious for relentless persecution of the true Christians who believed in the One True Lord, and that they awoke at the time of Emperor Theodosius the Younger (408-450 AD) after a sleep of 195 years and that comes to about 135 years (by the Lunar calendar) before the birth of the Last Prophet Muhammad PBUH (birth 572 AD); the cave was located in such manner that as the Sun rose, the sunlight kept to the right of it and as it set, the sunlight kept to their left and they were in its hall inside; Allah provided this to them so that they might sleep in total relaxation and this was the authority of Allah that He saves His believers even in such amazing way; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

KAHF-The Third Ruku

18. And you might think them awake while they were asleep and We turned them about to the right and to the left, while their dog (lay) outstretching its paws at the entrance; if you looked at them you would certainly turn back from them in flight, and you would certainly be filled with awe because of them.

19. And thus did We rouse them that they might question each other. A speaker among them said: How long have you tarried? They said: We have tarried for a day or a part of a day. (Others) said: Your Lord knows best how long you have tarried. Now send one of you with this silver (coin) of yours to the city, then let him see which of them has purest food, so let him bring you provision from it, and let him behave with gentleness, and by no means make your case known to any one:

20. For surely if they prevail against you they would stone you to death or force you back to their religion, and then you will never succeed.

21. And thus did We make (men) to get knowledge of them that they might know that Allah's promise is true and that as for the hour there is no doubt about it. When they disputed among themselves about their affair and said: Erect an edifice over them-- their Lord best knows them. Those who prevailed in their affair said: We will certainly raise a masjid over them.

22. (Some) say: (They are) three, the fourth of them being their dog; and (others) say: Five, the sixth of them being their dog, making conjectures at what is unknown; and (others yet) say: Seven, and the eighth of them is their dog. Say: My Lord best knows their number, none knows them but a few; therefore contend not in the matter of them but with an outward contention, and do not question concerning them any of them.

The Ruku starts by the statement to the effect that if anyone would have seen them in their sleep, he would have thought that they are awake; Allah made them twirl & twist while they slept so that they do not get sores and their vicious dog slept near the entrance as if on guard so if anybody peeked on the scene, he was sure to run away in fear so in this way, their physical safety was ensured from inside and from outside; then Allah awoke them and one of them asked naturally how much time they had slept and at this three of them (the word used is QALU that is used for more than two persons by Arabic grammar) answered a day or just a part of it while the other three said that Allah knows better about their stay (again the word used is QALU); then they asked one of them to bring some good edibles (allowed & pure) giving him some of the money they had and asking him to be gentle so as not to ask attention of anyone lest they are found and put to death or made to accept the evil by cruel force; here we see that they had taken some necessary amount of money with them and this clarifies that it is not against TAWAKKUL (trust on Allah) to provide necessary resources for basic human needs but the heart must know that the true Provider for all things is only Allah the Most High; also, another important point to note here is that the word at the center of the Holy Book Quran occurs here and that is WAL-YATALATTAF (and let him remain gentle); but due to his strange outfit and alien manners that were about two centuries old, he got high attention of the people and so they did find the persons at the cave; however, the attitude of the people had changed as Theodosius, who was at reign at that time, was not hostile to their belief (in-fact, it is mentioned that he was pleased by this strange event as the differences about life after death that were at height at that time ended when everyone saw this strange event plainly) and these seven persons related to the cave were given the most high respect; it is mentioned that they did not live for long then and all of them died soon, remaining in the cave, near to which the people at the administration made a place to worship Allah; note that Allah does not give any positive or negative remark after telling this act of theirs about making that place there yet many ULAMA have clarified according to Ahadith (the sayings, deeds and guidance given by the Holy Prophet Muhammad PBUH) that this act of theirs was not appreciable and in fact it indicates that those people revered their pious persons wrongly; going ahead, AAYAT-22 tells about their dispute on their number and indirectly points out that they were seven and eighth was their dog, as Allah does not contradict this statement but states that "say- my Lord best knows their number; none knows them but a few"; He calls their other two statements as "making conjectures at what is unknown" which respectively said that they were three, their dog is the fourth and that they were five, their dog is the sixth; certainly Allah only is truly Knowing of all matters and He truly is the Most Wise; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

KAHF-The Fourth Ruku

23. And do not say of anything: Surely I will do it tomorrow,
24. Unless Allah pleases; and you remember your Lord when you forget and say: Maybe my Lord will guide me to nearer course to the right than this.

25. And they remained in their cave three hundred years and (some) add (another) nine.

26. Say: Allah knows best how long they remained; to Him are (known) the unseen things of the heavens and the earth; how clear His sight and how clear His hearing! There is none to be a guardian for them besides Him, and He does not make any one His associate in His Judgment.

27. And recite what has been revealed to you of the Book of your Lord, there is none who can alter His words; and you shall not find any refuge besides Him.

28. And withhold yourself with those who call on their Lord morning and evening desiring His goodwill, and let not your eyes pass from them, desiring the beauties of this world's life; and do not follow him whose heart We have made unmindful to Our remembrance, and he follows his low desires and his case is one in which due bounds are exceeded.

29. And say: The truth is from your Lord, so let him who please believe, and let him who please disbelieve; surely We have prepared for the iniquitous a fire, the curtains of which shall encompass them about; and if they cry for water, they shall be given water like molten brass which will scald their faces; evil the drink and ill the resting-place.

30. Surely (as for) those who believe and do good, We do not waste the reward of him who does a good work.

31. These it is for whom are gardens of perpetuity beneath which rivers flow, ornaments shall be given to them therein of bracelets of gold, and they shall wear green robes of fine silk and thick silk brocade interwoven with gold, reclining therein on raised couches; excellent the recompense and goodly the resting place.

The Ruku begins by asking Muhammad PBUH, the last of Messengers of Allah, not to say that he would do such & such thing tomorrow except with the phrase "if Allah wills" and to remember Allah when he forgets and he must say that "maybe my Lord will guide me to nearer course to the right than this;" Allah issued this command as the Prophet PBUH had answered plainly when he was questioned for three things by the chiefs of Mecca that I would answer tomorrow without saying "insha-Allah" (if Allah wills) and so the WAHI (revelation) giving the answer came after 15 days that gave some period to the chiefs to mock and that asked him to be cautious in his speech in the future; the three questions that the Prophet PBUH was asked, were about ROOH (Spirit; Surah Bani Israel-85 gave the brief answer that "it is by Allah's Command and you have been given its knowledge but little"), who were the people of KAHF and what do you have to say about ZUL-QARNAIN (these two questions were answered in this Surah KAHF that we are studying); now, the AAYAAT 25 & 26 continue with the narration of ASHABE-KAHF (the persons of cave) and the translation of them is "and they stayed in their cave for three hundred years, and added nine; say- Allah knows best how long they stayed; with Him is (the knowledge of) the unseen of the heavens and of the earth; how clearly He sees and hears; they have no helper other than Him, and He makes none to share in His decision and His rule;" note that before Allah issued the command for the Prophet PBUH to be cautious in speech, the Surah was dealing with the statements that were in prevalence about ASHABE-KAHF at that time and the thread goes on after the command so this was another of statements that was running then about the period of their sleep, and this is not the period endorsed by Allah as that is apparently given before, by the term SINEENA-ADADA; note that IBNE-ABBAS, one of the foremost commentators on the Quran, has commented here explicitly that this is one of the statements that prevailed about them at that time so it is the narration of their speech here; note also that those who stated this period added nine years more to three hundred to express it by solar calculation as each of century by solar calculation is about three years larger than by the lunar calculation; with this, the narration of first event ends; Al-Hamdu-Lillah; and so our study would take up the second event presently but first let us see the last five AAYAAT, from 27 to 31, at the fourth Ruku that come before the commencement of the narration for the second event; in these AAYAAT, Allah commands the Prophet PBUH to recite the Holy Book Quran; and that whatever occurs ahead, it has been decided as the final decision by Allah that is called TAQDIRE-MUBRAM so it would surely take place as no one is able to change what He decides; there is other TAQDIR which is MUALLAQ (the suspended decision) as it is written as conditional that if a certain event happens then in its effect, this event would take place; the adverse matters at MUALLAQ do change by plea to Allah and also, the dreams might give some idea about them yet MUBRAM is totally hidden that only Allah knows and that is His final decision; we have studied at AAYAAT 38 to 41 of Surah RA'AD about these both kinds of TAQDIR according to the direction of IBNE-ABBAS beautifully; AAYAT-28 asks the Holy Prophet PBUH to take the company of those who always remember Allah at all times and at all places just for the pleasure of Allah, without considering whether they are wealthy in worldly possessions or not; this guidance was given to the Holy Prophet PBUH as the wealthy chiefs of Mecca were reluctant to sit with his poor companions like RUMI, BILAL, KHABBAB Ibn ARAT etc; due to their piety, they remained close to the Prophet PBUH and Allah clearly ordered here that there must be no compromise for any benefits whatsoever and he must not abandon their company even for a short span of time so that it does not seem that there is some inclination on the part of the Holy Prophet PBUH towards gaining the favor of rich people for Islam even if it is to instruct the chiefs and for no other reason whatsoever; if they want to listen to the message of Allah, they must sit in the present good company around the Prophet PBUH as it is their requirement, not of Islam so there remains not even a small chance that he has brushed aside the poor for the sake of the rich; the AAYAT gives an indication that these chiefs are not worthy of attention with the set of morals they profess; the term WASBIR-NAFSAK (and withhold yourself) indicates that the Prophet PBUH would identify himself with the good company he has with him presently (SABR means here to attach his honorable self with high effort to his good company even if it seemingly falls against worldly benefits) and he would avoid the company of chiefs; note that the event ahead gives the same message that poverty is of no consequence if a person is attentive to Allah to get His mercy and blessing; of course, to remember Allah with great amounts of wealth is also highly appreciable yet when one has to make a preference due to the clash of a corrupt rich person and a pious poor person, his preference shall remain for the poor; the AAYAAT here go on to tell that the Truth is already evident as Allah has given it plainly in the Quran and they hear it time & again and if they intend any clarification and detail, they need to visit the Prophet PBUH not on their terms but humbly so as to learn and accept; if they don't accept the Truth, they would be put in a place that is surrounded by the fire (of hell) specially prepared for the rejecters of the Truth where they would be always at trouble physically and where on request, they would only have most filthy water to drink so it is most highly unpleasant place to enter; it is very clear from this information that the AAYAT provides here about their ability to request, that this fire of hell would not be burning them totally fast yet the temperature there would be so much high as to cause them to remain in the highest of physical agony and as to cause extreme harm to skin; we have studied that Allah would give them new skins once their skins are affected bad due to the heat of the fire (see Surah NISAA-56 and Surah BANI-ISRAEL-97); however, those who accept the Truth sincerely, they all would certainly get the honor without any distinction whether they were rich or poor at the world, with clean pure water pleasant to see and drink and with high-class garments to wear and extreme leisure so that place is most pleasant to enter; let us now proceed to the second event narrated here in the Surah pointing out clearly that though an abundance of worldly possessions does provide a better chance to gain honor in the court of Allah when the wealthy does remember Him sincerely (by his care to the needy from what Allah has provided to him) yet in themselves, these are not the criterion for success; on the other hand, these possessions at the world can prove a terrible curse if the wealthy person does not acknowledge that Allah only is the true Lord of all things; Al-Hamdu-Lillah.

KAHF-The Fifth Ruku

32. And set forth to them a parable of two men; for one of them We made two gardens of grape vines, and We surrounded them both with palms, and in the midst of them

We made cornfields.

33. Both these gardens yielded their fruits, and failed not aught thereof, and We caused a river to gush forth in their midst,

34. And he possessed much wealth; so he said to his companion, while he disputed with him: I have greater wealth than you, and am mightier in followers.

35. And he entered his garden while he was unjust to himself.
He said: I do not think that this will ever perish

36. And I do not think the hour will come, and even if I am returned to my Lord I will most certainly find a returning place better than this.

37. His companion said to him while disputing with him: Do you disbelieve in Him Who created you from dust, then from a small seed then He made you a perfect man?

38. But as for me, He, Allah, is my Lord, and I do not associate anyone with my Lord.

39. And wherefore did you not say when you entered your garden: It is as Allah has pleased, there is no power save in Allah? If you consider me to be inferior to you in wealth and children,

40. Then maybe my Lord will give me what is better than your garden, and send on it a thunderbolt from heaven so that it shall become even ground without plant,

41. Or its waters should sink down into the ground so that you are unable to find it.

42. And his wealth was destroyed; so he began to wring his hands for what he had spent on it, while it lay, having fallen down upon its roofs, and he said: Ah me- would that I had not associated anyone with my Lord.

43. And he had no host to help him besides Allah nor could he defend himself.

44. Here is protection only Allah's, the True One; He is best in (the giving of) reward and best in requiting.

The whole of this Ruku narrates the event that comprises of such conversation that took place between two persons (most probably they were brothers); one was rich but bad in character and the other was poor but good in character; he was thankful to Allah for whatever he had and that was enough for his necessities and for the necessities of those who were dependent on him; note that the wealth in itself is not bad but when it is taken as personal right and not as blessing of Allah to provide ease by it to the fellow-beings according to the command of Allah, it becomes a veil to the Truth and that is bad; the first and the most important point to note here is that the words of the rich man were considered as SHERK that is the biggest of sins which means to challenge the true authority of Allah by taking any of His creation as having part in creating any of His creation with Him or by taking any of His creation as similar in some attribute to Him though all His attributes are QADEEM, ASL & LA-MEHDUD or by taking any of His creation as authorized to change any of His commands that He has explicitly issued by His authority to firmly obey; Allah asks all to believe in TAUHID that means that Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord so all must fulfill His commands that He has explicitly issued by His authority without taking any of His creation as equal in authority to Him in any way; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so when a person considers his resources enough to get results that he intends and ignores the will of Allah not because he forgets it but intentionally, as he thinks that with everything necessary available to give results, he would get it undoubtedly, he is actually performing SHERK; with all said & done, the man shall have his actual trust only upon Allah the Most High, as He has given power to the resources to provide the intended results (it is the matter of belief that the water does not quench thirst but by the will of Allah and the food does not end hunger but by the will of Allah); He has displayed many times that He only has assigned the properties of things by His Command and He has the authority to cause different effects from them than usual if He wills; the water of flood rose to drown even the mountains at the time of Noah-AS though normally it does not; fire burns but it did not burn Abraham-AS when he was thrown into it (and note that he got Ishmael and Isaac by the will of Allah at extreme old age); sea-water drowns yet it gave way to Moses-AS and the Bani-Israel and then drowned Pharaoh and his army; Mariam (Mary, the mother of Jesus Christ, Salaam on both) had fruits with her at times that were out of season; Zechariah-AS had a child (YAHYA i.e. John-AS) at extreme old age from his barren wife who became better; Jesus Christ-AS was born without a father; and the last Messenger Muhammad PBUH was born with beautiful purity of heart in a nation that had an evil manner of living and then he was able by the blessing of Allah (that was the Quran He provided to him) to lead that very nation to such high spiritual development that surprised all the world; Allah showed His authority in all these matters and this is how He does His works as He provides a chance now & then for all peoples to see that He actually is behind all what is going on; that is what the last AAYAT (KAHF-44) of the Ruku tells us; the second point to note is that the rich man ought to have said the words of gratitude pointing to the authority of Allah, at all worldly possessions he had with him to denote his humbleness just as guided by his good companion; note that the Surah starts with the praise for Allah and then at one place, it commands the Prophet PBUH to say "if Allah wills" as he had genuinely forgotten to say it; so the words of the Muslim person would manifest the true belief that he has that Allah, the true Lord, is the only true Provider of all things; note also that the companions of the KAHF too, said verbally to conform their true belief and the trust that they had in Allah pointing out that when they had accepted the Truth, Allah would surely give them His blessing and He would provide the ease in their matter (KAHF-16); the third point to note here is that abundance of material possessions affects the psyche of many people who have little of spiritual sense only, in such manner that they consider if they are honored here in the world, they surely are chosen to live in all easiness and so in the coming world (that they doubt might occur or not), they would be honored in the same way; this tells about a flaw in their character that they don't think that the true belief and the righteous deeds can provide salvation but they consider that the status of a person at the world is totally able to provide for it as

Allah has chosen them for salvation; this mistake has been committed many times in history like when people took adherence to some spiritual persons (sometimes making their statues to worship) as enough for salvation taking them as their advocates in front of Allah and like when they took their wealth as the product of their own ability rather than the will of Allah, considering it as the sign of His approval to them; the Islamic teachings tell us that there is difference between Allah's will (MASHIAT) and Allah's Blessing (RADHA); what goes on and what Allah provides from the material resources to people is His will but His blessing is with those who have the true belief and they do the righteous deeds; Al-Hamdu-Lillah; seeing this narration, note that the rich person had two beautiful gardens that brought ample fruits with splendid river flowing between them and it provided both of them with clean water; so he had all these fruits at trees then and the word THAMAR (i.e. fruits) in AAYAT 34, also tells that he had a lot of male children as his offspring that were taken as an honorable award in those days; his extreme delight on the possession of these beautiful gardens (and this possession he took as his right without taking into account that Allah is the true Provider of all things) caused him to compare his status to the status of his companion; he said to him that he is better in material possessions than his companion and also better in honor due to the number of persons (his male children) as his backing; he entered the garden making such statements of comparison being unjust to his person, adding that he did not think that his possessions would ever expire and in fact he was so confident that everything has to be in his favor, he blurted out ungratefully that he did not think that the Judgment would ever occur and even if it did, he would be honored even more; thus, he took the abundance of worldly assets as the sign of success even at AKHIRAT (the life after this life) thinking that this success proves that Allah is pleased with him confusing the will of Allah with the pleasure of Allah; the term "being unjust to his person" in AAYAT 35, gives an indication that his companion was his close relative as the word NAFS (person or personality) is also used as near ones in the Holy Book Quran and most probably he was his brother; this companion answered him targeting his psyche directly that what he is saying is against the gratitude that he must have for Allah while he was and is nothing in front of His authority; he only is the manifestation of dust as Allah created Adam, the father of all of us, from dust and then He created him by NUTHFA (the sticky drop of water) and then He raised him to becoming a man of balanced physique with nothing short, so how come he dares to challenge his Creator, the true Lord; the companion added that "but as for me, He, Allah, is my Lord, and I do not associate anyone with my Lord; and wherefore did you not say when you entered your garden- it is as Allah has willed (by which you have such temporary superiority), there is no power save in Allah- if you consider me to be inferior to you in wealth and children (so the man needs to guide his efforts to get the true belief and to do the good deeds to attain His pleasure at AKHIRAT as that only is the true aim of life)"; AAYAAT-40 & 41 narrate DUA (plea to Allah) of the companion against the rich person and, though it is not appreciable to ask Allah for someone's ruin, this seems to be the natural reaction of the companion for the spiritual hurting he experienced by the words of the rich person who also was his close relative; his DUA asks Allah to destroy the fruits of the gardens or/and to cause the water to become useless for the gardens by getting deep into earth so the result again would be the destruction of the fruits; note that it happened just as the companion had pleaded to Allah (and this shows that a person needs to be very careful about what he says to such virtuous persons who are totally attentive to Allah without any care about accumulating the worldly possessions) and the fruits of the rich man were destroyed by a fierce wind (windstorm or tornado) that surrounded the gardens and neither his children he had boasted about, could do anything for compensation nor he himself was able to take any revenge from Allah, the true Lord; it is notable that when he saw this destruction, he was not interested in asking Allah's mercy but his worry was the loss of funds that he had spent on the gardens to raise them to give such ample fruits; only as an add-on, he remarked that how good it would have been if he had not assigned partners to Allah and he had made that remark due to the material loss he had faced; the last AAYAT at the Ruku ends the narration and tells us that in the last, it becomes clear that all things actually belong to Allah for He is the true Possessor of all things; He only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord so all must fulfill His commands that He has explicitly issued by His authority without taking any of His creation as equal in authority to Him in any way; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

KAHF-The Sixth Ruku

45. And set forth to them parable of the life of this world: like water which We send down from the cloud so the herbage of the earth becomes tangled on account of it, then it becomes dry broken into pieces which the winds scatter; and Allah is the holder of power over all things.

46. Wealth and children are an adornment of the life of this world; and the ever-abiding, the good works, are better with your Lord in reward and better in expectation.

47. And the day on which We will remove away the mountains and you will see the earth a leveled plain and We will gather them and leave not any one of them behind.

48. And they shall be brought before your Lord, standing in ranks: Now certainly you have come to Us as We created you at first. Nay, you thought that We had not appointed to you a time of the fulfillment of the promise.

49. And the Book shall be placed, then you will see the guilty fearing from what is in it, and they will say: Ah- woe to us- what a book is this- it does not omit a small one nor a great one, but numbers them (all); and what they had done they shall find present (there); and your Lord does not deal unjustly with anyone.

After the narration of the second event, there are 15 AAYAAT (from 45 to 59) that do have comments on this narration too with other guidance before the commencement of the narration of the third event that starts from AAYAT-60; these fifteen AAYAAT come at three Ruku that are

sixth (five AAYAAT), seventh (four AAYAAT) and eighth (six AAYAAT) and we will insha-Allah study each of them presently; the first couple of AAYAAT at the sixth Ruku continue the message that whatever a person has in the world's life is bound to end while the impression of the true belief and of the good deeds never ends as they have value at the court of Allah; the monetary status at the life at the world is like the cultivation (indicates money earned by efforts) of a land (i.e. the man himself as the Holy Book Quran has mentioned the man like a land in comparison) that comes forth by a rain from heavens- (this indicates the will of Allah); but if that cultivated crops are left to their own (means if the money earned is not spent in the way of Allah), it disintegrates turning to pieces and winds spread it (means that at the death of a person, others have his wealth by distribution that the law of the land makes); so Allah truly has the power over all things for sure while no person owns these things and no person would ever, unless he spends them to attain His pleasure so then this would give him the lasting benefits; the rich man showed idiocy to consider wealth and sons as criterion for superiority here and in the coming life (these might give a better chance to achieve success in AKHIRAT yet in themselves, they are naught) as wealth and sons are adornment of this world's temporary life only and what endures are the good deeds that the man does by the true belief as that value at the Day of Judgment; note that "BAQIAAT-SALIHAAT" is a feminine term meaning "the feminine remaining things" (BAQIAAT) that are "pious" (SALIHAAT) and though generally they are taken to mean good deeds that remain with the person even after his death

yet there is another meaning that is feasible for this term; by that meaning, it tells that though the rich man valued wealth & sons yet the pious daughters truly have value that the righteous person leaves behind as when they would pray for him to Allah that He shows mercy to him and provide him JANNAH (the Paradise), He would hopefully answer their prayers (if He wills) by showering His blessing on him (even if that person is sinful but has died believing firmly in the Islamic teachings); so the pious daughters are much better than those sons that are assistance to the life at the world only; both the meanings go well with the context and most probably, both are valid to understand the issue; Al-Hamdu-Lillah; the next three AAYAAT tell about the last day of the world and also about the Day of Judgment that on the former day, Allah would throw away the mountains to fly becoming dust (like the wool as mentioned at Surah QARI'AH and at MA'ARIJ) and the earth would become plain and He would bring each & every living person that ever lived here again to life; note that the Quran relates together both of these days at places and it might be that the first trumpet for the occurrence of the last day of the world starts-up by the will of Allah, the setting for the second of these days that is the Day of Judgment which would take place by the second trumpet by the will of Allah; Surah NAZI'AAT-6 to 9 mention them as if they both come in sequence one after another as they read that "on the day when the first trumpet resounds; and the second follows it; on that (second) day hearts beat painfully; while eyes are downcast"; so this tells that the time in-between is so very insignificant for the mankind (as they all would be dead between these two of trumpets) that Allah mentions them as if the first one ends and the second begins; however, it is notable that the day of HASHR equals normally one thousand years of the life at the world; and certainly Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; by these AAYAAT, it seems that the whole of earth would be the ground for the Judgment and here, each & every person would be brought in front of Allah for judgment being in rows and though many of them thought this would never happen, they would see this happening then that all have risen again to life the same way they were born in the world, naked & weak though advance in age at this time, and only the pious persons would receive some cover to their body then and no other; however, many of these most pious persons would immediately receive their good clothing according to one of Ahadith that has words to the effect that Abraham-AS would get his covering immediately; there would be that book which would have the account for each and every person and that would be put there for everyone to see his/her status and it would be so perfect that there would be such guilty persons who would exclaim in fear from its contents for them that it has not left out anything, minor or major; everyone would be given his/her specific record of deeds from that book and so everyone would see his/her true status then & there and there would be no injustice to anyone; the true success is the success of that day and the true failure is the failure of that day and the Quran has clearly pointed this out for everyone as it is the commendation for all good persons and it is the warning for all those persons that are totally bad; Al-Hamdu-Lillah.

KAHF-The Seventh Ruku

50. And when We said to the angels: Make obeisance to Adam; they made obeisance but IBLIS (did it not). He was of the jinn, so he transgressed the commandment of his Lord. What- would you then take him and his offspring for friends rather than Me, and they are your enemies? Evil is (this) change for the unjust.

51. I did not make them witnesses of the creation of the heavens and the earth, nor of the creation of their own souls; nor could I take those who lead (others) astray for aiders.

52. And on the day when He shall say: Call on those whom you considered to be My associates. So they shall call on them, but they shall not answer them, and We will cause a separation between them.

53. And the guilty shall see the fire then they shall know that they are going to fall into it, and they shall not find a place to which to turn away from it.

In this RUKU that consists of four AAYAAT (KAHF-50 to 53), Allah presents the event of Adam and continues relating the Judgment Day in the last couple of them; in the first couple of AAYAAT, we see that when Allah ordered the angels to prostrate to Adam, the Satan refused to prostrate, comparing himself to Adam and considering himself superior to Adam as he was stronger physically (but not spiritually) than him; the narration of this event occurs at six more places yet this place is unique in this matter that it tells clearly that Satan was a jinn (who was allowed to accompany angels due to his high compliance to the commands of Allah); he had the free-will and because of it, he refused to comply to the command of Allah and the notable thing here about angels is that they never disobey Allah, the true Lord; note that like the human beings, jinn also have IKHTIAR (free-will) so they also are answerable at the Day of Judgment for their belief and their deeds; Allah says in Surah ZAARIAAT, "And I have not created Jinn & Human but only for my worship" (ZAARIAAT-56) and this is the ONLY aim of life; note that all of the creation worships Allah as that is the only way that Allah has provided to them to fulfill their tasks; AARAAF-54 tells, "surely His is the creation and the command; blessed is Allah, the Lord of the worlds"; He has created everything so He only is the Creator of all and He has assigned the specific tasks to everything; He is the true Lord Whom all the creation worships and Whom even the jinn and the mankind have to worship by their free-will; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as other of creation do not have any other choice so Allah does not address them at this AAYAT but jinn and INSAAN (human beings) have the free-will so they have to believe in Him and fulfill His commands by their free will and thus, they both are answerable; note here about animals (and even birds) that at the Day of Judgment, they would come forth in groups but ultimately they all would become dust except for those whom Allah has mentioned in the Quran positively such as the ram slaughtered instead of Prophet Ishmael-AS and such as the camel which was the miracle for Prophet SALEH-AS and such as the ferocious dog that remained with the sleepers at KAHF; however, the person would have to account for whatever wrong he does to any animal (or any living being) at the world as one of the authentic Ahadith points out clearly that a woman was punished because she bound a cat till it died; she neither gave her food nor let her search for it by itself (reported in SAHIH-BUKHARI); it is wrong even to cage birds as that does not go well with the teachings of Islam and shows much harshness in character; may Allah forgive the wrongs of Muslims and give them TOFIQ to better themselves; note that AN'AAM-38 reads, "there is not an animal on the earth, nor a being that flies on its wings, but forms communities like you; nothing have We omitted from the Book, and they shall be gathered to their Lord"; however, as the Quran does not provide any detail to this and Ahadith also present the matter in general terms so this brief touch about it suffices well; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the life at the world is an examination for both jinn and INSAAN and the reason to narrate this event here is to guide attention towards the evil of considering oneself deserving the highest of status just because of the physical respect one has achieved and the vice of comparing oneself to others in physical matters; note that the rich man fell into the trap of Satan due to this view of superiority that was because of his worldly status and due to comparing himself with his close relative on material basis; Allah questions such people who have the character as the rich man asking why do they take Satan and his offspring as friends leaving the friendship of Allah, when they actually are their enemy; Allah also informs that He did not take the assistance of Satan and his offspring in creating the heavens & the earth and certainly He did not make any of them even witness to this creation and even to the creation of their own selves when He created them; and He would not give any value to them even on the Day of Judgment when He would command the disbelievers to call those whom they used to consider their protectors taking them equal to Allah in authority; these people would call them but they would not answer and Allah would make some place of affliction between both; and these most guilty persons would see the fire of JAHANNUM (the hell-fire) and they would understand well that they would certainly enter there because they do not have the power to save themselves and those whom they took as their protectors, they also do not have that power so it is the life at the world where they need to keep their belief righteous and their deeds most virtuous to save themselves from the hell-fire; most certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu-Lillah.

KAHF-The Eighth Ruku

54. And certainly We have explained in this Quran every kind of example, and man is most of all given to contention.

55. And nothing prevents men from believing when the guidance comes to them, and from asking forgiveness of their Lord, except that what happened to the ancients should overtake them, or that the chastisement should come face to face with them.

56. And We do not send apostles but as givers of good news and warning, and those who disbelieve make a false contention that they may render null thereby the truth, and they take My AAYAAT and that with which they are warned for a mockery.

57. And who is more unjust than he who is reminded of the AAYAAT of his Lord then he turns away from them and forgets what his two hands have sent before? Surely We have placed veils over their hearts lest they should understand it and a heaviness in their ears; and if you call them to the guidance, they will not ever follow the right course in that case.

58. And your Lord is Forgiving, the Lord of Mercy; were He to punish them for what they earn, He would certainly have hastened the chastisement for them; but for them there is an appointed time from which they shall not find a refuge.

59. And (as for) these towns, We destroyed them when they acted unjustly, and We had appointed time for their destruction.

This eighth Ruku has 6 AAYAAT (KAHF-54 to 59) and these AAYAAT guide people to ask mercy of Allah on wrong doings before any adverse event takes place causing them to become helpless or their death occurs; just after this, the Surah narrates the third significant event; these AAYAAT tell about such traits among some of them that they raise useless doubts and ask about much of worthless detail, perhaps just to boast about the vastness of their information and their problem is the same old one that relates to I, my & me; the contention of such people is to raise doubts as to how a simple human being has got the true guidance from Allah (just as in the past, this same objection was raised) as to them, he should have been an angel or at least, an amazingly wealthy and influential person; this attitude of raising useless doubts often leads to such ignorance of the true guidance with such a waste of time that the appointed time for punishment set by Allah approaches and like the ancient people who denied that guidance by raising similar unworthy objections, these people also get the wrath of Allah; or it happens that the death of such persons comes and they are still in the state of denial of the true guidance, thus they meet their punishment face to face; note that some form of punishment for the wrongdoings, starts just after death (for the period that Allah knows for each of wrong-doers) though the actual judgment would be at the Judgment Day; note also that it happens that the occupation with worldly matters makes many persons so oblivious to the true aim of life that the whole of their lives comes to an end and they die ignorant of the Truth leading themselves to a terrible agony in the coming life; Allah tells that He sent His apostles so that they give the good tidings to the righteous persons and warn the wrong-doers who want to eliminate the Truth by their fake philosophy based on the human limited thought; as that elimination is impossible so they try to make mockery of the message of the Quran and especially of the warning in it that they would have to account for whatever they had done in the life at the world; AAYAT-57 asks who would be such unjust as the person who gets the message of the Quran yet he ignores that and forgets what deeds he is sending ahead to face his account in AKHIRAT, the coming life; so Allah has put such covering on the understanding of such wrongful persons due to their continuous rejection of the Truth that they have become unable to understand it now and their hearing has become so oblivious to recitation of the Quran that even if you O Prophet PBUH (and the Muslims) call them towards it with reasoning, they would never ever take the true guidance; Allah tells in the AAYAT ahead that He is Caring even for such wrong people as He gives them ample of time to repent and does not put His wrath on them early though their deeds do demand such quickness; Allah has set a time for their punishment due to His Care to the mankind that they find the space to take the true guidance; mostly it happens that many of the disbelieving persons waste time engaging in useless theoretical contentions against the true guidance leading themselves to their severe punishment; but there is His appointed time for them and when it would come, He would put His wrath then & there to them so they would never find any shelter against that punishment; the last AAYAT of this Ruku informs the people that the towns that they find destroyed around their dwellings, those were destroyed when they committed injustice and He had indeed assigned an appointed time for their destruction too so just as the time came, that fell upon them then & there; Al-Hamdu-Lillah.

KAHF-The Ninth Ruku

60. And when Musa said to his servant: I will not cease until I reach the junction of the two rivers or I will go on for years.

61. So when they had reached the junction of the two (rivers) they forgot their fish, and it took its way into the sea, going away.

62. But when they had gone farther, he said to his servant: Bring to us our morning-meal; certainly we have met with fatigue from this our journey.

63. He said: Did you see when we took refuge on the rock then I forgot the fish, and nothing made me forget to speak of it but the Satan, and it took its way into the river; what a wonder!

64. He said: This is what we sought for; so they returned retracing their footsteps.

65. Then they found one from among Our servants whom We had granted mercy from Us and whom We had taught knowledge from Ourselves.

66. Musa said to him: Shall I follow you on condition that you should teach me right knowledge of what you have been taught?

67. He said: Surely you cannot have patience with me

68. And how can you have patience in that of which you have not got a comprehensive knowledge?

69. He said: If Allah pleases, you will find me patient and I shall not disobey you in any matter.

70. He said: If you would follow me, then do not question me about any thing until I myself speak to you about it

Allah relates the third event in two Ruku ahead from AAYAT-60 to AAYAT-82 and this event tells about the meeting of Moses with KHIDHR (also termed as KHADHIR), an exceptional individual whom Allah had given the knowledge of some future events and an authority to take action by keeping those events in view by the command of Allah; note that Ahadith mention his name though the Quran does not provide that; it is an interesting event to study and Allah brings it here to tell that what eyes see might not be the whole truth; certainly the world seems to be the most beautiful place when some person has huge resources to take its advantage yet it actually is only the place of examination for the mankind and nothing more; this Ruku comprises of eleven AAYAAT and the next one that completes the narration of this event comprises of twelve AAYAAT; note that the most authentic Ahadith tell us that this all happened when Moses-AS, was asked during a sermon who was the most knowledgeable in all people presently and he replied with ease that he is; this matter took place at Sinai where whole of the Bani Israel were stranded after their departure from Egypt as they had refused to attack the land which they were commanded to take by their forceful effort; now in a way, this answer was not wrong as Moses was one of the Messengers of Allah at the time and he was receiving guidance from Allah; but he did not say then that this he finds true to the best of his knowledge and "Allah knows better"; we have seen in this very Surah that when the Holy Prophet Muhammad PBUH forgot to say "if Allah wills", the WAHI did not come for 15 days; one of the messages of Surah KAHF is that caution in speech is most necessary for those persons who are at high spiritual status and Moses was one of the most prominent Messengers of Allah; so Allah told Moses to travel to certain place where he would find a person who has such knowledge by which he even would learn some good things; Moses took his servant, the young man YOSHA bin Noon who also was to become one of the Messengers of

Allah later, and traveled towards that indicated place meaning to travel on for ages if necessary, until he finds that person; there were two indications given as signs to recognize the place where they would find him, one that two rivers meet at that place and the other, the fish that they had kept with them, would move out to the sea at that place; when they reached such a place (that might have been some area of land where the Red Sea appeared in two branches, as this even would fulfill the statement that the Quran gives here), that fish conveniently moved to the water of the sea nearby, digging the land making its passageway as it moved; Moses-AS did not have any attention towards it and YOSHA-AS forgot to mention its escape to him at that indicated place; so they both forgot it in their own way and YOSHA remembered only when Moses mentioned that he needed to take his breakfast as he was feeling weary now and would rest for a bit; it seems that they had kept the fish making some accommodation to carry it within water with them in addition to their edibles so YOSHA remembered it as Moses mentioned the edibles but only after moving considerable space ahead of the indicated place; on learning from the young man that the fish went away in a strange way to the sea and he had forgotten to inform him due to the trickery of Satan about its strange escape, Moses at once stood up to retrace their footpath saying that this was the place they were looking for; note that he did not give any harsh remark to the young man though he did have a fiery nature and this shows that the good person must remain lenient on the follies of his subordinates specially about forgetting some work genuinely, and also that the good person has to remain

patient if he intends to study some knowledge; YOSHA blamed the Satan for his forgetting about the fish so the notable point is that the Satan affects by whispering adverse things into hearts yet he is neither able to force any person to anything nor he can work from inside of the man as the inside of the man conforms only to the FITHRAT (the sense of righteousness inside); Al-Hamdu Lillah; so as they reached the intended place, they did find a person there as they had expected and Moses just after a brief introduction, asked the man respectfully to let him accompany him so that he might attain some prominent guidance by the splendid knowledge that Allah has provided to him; note that he did not mention that he has been traveling to meet him and had taken troubles for it so this tells that the good person has to remain very patient in the pursuit of the high level of knowledge; KHIDHR (which means the man related to greenery) was reluctant about it; note that this highly intelligent person KHIDHR was among the Prophets of Allah (as AAYAT-65 tells that he had been given REHMAT i.e. blessing from Allah) and he had such knowledge that Allah had provided to him most directly or in other words, it was not an acquired knowledge; he was able to see the future at times by the permission of Allah and on that basis, Allah even permitted him to take actions that seemed contrary to justice; MUFASSIRIN (the good Muslim commentators on the Quran) have been so baffled by this narration (specially where it relates the killing of a young boy) that some have taken KHIDHR as an angel who had to do whatever Allah commands and some have taken him as having the status of an angel though human, so that he fulfills TAKWEENI

Commands of Allah (that relate to the will of Allah); the significant point to note here is that KHIDHR was among the mankind yet he knew the actions to take in the matters related here by Islamic reasoning as Allah directed him and so he was not only fulfilling the will of Allah but he was also taking care to get the pleasure of Allah; please note well that as a man (though he also was the Prophet of Allah), he certainly died as he completed the total span of his life at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this event clearly tells us that what the eyes see is not the whole truth and there might be much more to it; but he knew that Allah has given him an amazing gift as he could see future events at some matters by the permission of Allah; note that MUBRAM means those events that are certain to happen; on the contrary when people come to know of some future event by dreams or by some spiritual experience by the will of Allah, it is MUALLAQ i.e. it might happen or might change; that is why no one is allowed to base actions on dreams or his/her spiritual experience, no matter how pious they are, so KHIDHR was clearly an exception that he came to know the MUALLAQ and changed the situation by his effort by the permission of Allah; due to this gift of seeing the future at times by the blessing of Allah and making that knowledge the basis of his actions by His blessing, he was hesitant to keep the company of Moses as according to the knowledge of Moses, he was sure to object being a Messenger of Allah, to the amazing attitude of KHIDHR towards the matters at hand that would seem to him against the Islamic view; he clearly told Moses that how he would keep patience in matters about which he has no knowledge but Moses was very eager to accompany him and that is why he told KHIDHR that he would find him a very patient man and he would not disobey him; so by acceptance of the condition that Moses would not ask clarification of what action he takes on any matter until he himself clarifies, they moved on together; probably YOUSHA stayed behind at their meeting place waiting for Moses to return; it certainly was the most strange travel that Moses-AS and KHIDHR-AS made ahead together where Moses saw three most strange matters taking place and he could not resist to object on them most explicitly; the next Ruku continues the narration ahead; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

KAHF-The Tenth Ruku

71. So they went (their way) until when they embarked in the boat he made a hole in it. Musa said: Have you made a hole in it to drown its inmates? Certainly you have done a grievous thing.

72. He said: Did I not say that you will not be able to have patience with me?

73. He said: Blame me not for what I forgot, and do not constrain me to a difficult thing in my affair.

74. So they went on until, when they met a boy, he slew him. Musa said: Have you slain an innocent person otherwise than for manslaughter? Certainly you have done an evil thing.

75. He said: Did I not say to you that you will not be able to have patience with me?

76. He said: If I ask you about anything after this, keep me not in your company; indeed you shall have (then) found an excuse in my case.

77. So they went on until when they came to the people of a town, they asked them for food, but they refused to entertain them as guests. Then they found in it a wall which was on the point of falling, so he put it into a right state. Musa said: If you had pleased, you might certainly have taken a recompense for it.

78. He said: This shall be separation between me and you; now I will inform you of the significance of that with which you could not have patience.

79. As for the boat, it belonged to (some) poor men who worked on the river and I wished that I should damage it, and there was behind them a king who seized every boat by force.

80. And as for the boy, his parents were believers and we feared lest he should make disobedience and ingratitude to come upon them:

81. So we desired that their Lord might give them in his place one better than him in purity and nearer to having compassion.

82. And as for the wall, it belonged to two orphan boys in the city, and there was beneath it a treasure belonging to them, and their father was a righteous man; so your Lord desired that they should attain their maturity and take out their treasure, a mercy from your Lord, and I did not do it of my own accord. This is the significance of that with which you could not have patience.

The Ruku continues the narration of the event that they both came by a boat to cross the waters there; they embarked and KHIDHR took one of the planks silently from it making a hole there, damaging the boat; Moses saw this and could not stop from telling him that he has done a very wrong thing, for this might cause the drowning of people in the boat; KHIDHR reminded him about the condition he accepted that he would not ask clarification of tasks until KHIDHR himself clarified; Moses asked forgiveness as he had forgotten this agreement between them and told him to be lenient; so they moved on until they met a young boy and seeing an opportunity, KHIDHR killed the boy then & there; Moses was taken aback by this act and could not stop from telling him that this act was such an evil that needs highest of objections as he has killed an innocent person who had not killed anyone that might ask for his death; KHIDHR again patiently reminded him about the agreement between them and this time, as the objection was intentional, Moses clearly told him that if he objects any more on any of his acts, he accepts his right to ask the end of their meeting then & there; so they moved ahead and came to a town where they asked for some food; it was the custom of the day that travelers coming to a town or a village, got foods & lodging there becoming guests there yet the people there refused any hospitality to them; now, they found a wall there that was about to fall and KHIDHR worked on it and straightened it; this caused Moses, who was already facing gloom at the most unfriendly attitude of the people there, to speak out that he could at least have charged these people for this service and that was it; KHIDHR told him that now they would part and he told him that he would give the explanation of the actions he took, on which Moses could not resist speaking out; this tells that the good person would clarify his position where some misunderstanding takes place about him among his good company so he told him that he would clarify that there was nothing wrong in whatever he did; Al-Hamdu Lillah; about the first incident of damaging the boat, he told Moses that the boat belonged to some poor workers at sea and he knew that somewhere ahead there was a king taking all boats by force so he intended to damage it that he does not take it and these MASAKIN (very poor people) do not suffer hard; the plank would be repaired in due time yet once taken by force, the boat's return might take time if returned ever, putting undue hardship to these poor workers that need to work daily to provide for the necessities of life; as for the second incident of killing the boy, he told Moses that we feared that the boy would cause his parents to go towards disobedience and much ingratitude to Allah while they both were true believers and so we intended that they get a better child instead of this one, better in purity and nearer to compassion (some of MUFASSIRIN have mentioned that they had a wonderful daughter afterwards who was very pious and very kind to her parents); as for the third incident, he told Moses that the wall belonged to two orphan boys and there was a treasure buried beneath it for them and their father was righteous person so Allah, the true Lord, intended that they become strong adults and dig out their treasure so that nobody of these immoral people becomes able to challenge them to take away their property; if it had fallen now, these people with little sense of morals as we have seen by their denial to provide us with some foods, would certainly have taken away their property due to their weakness now, committing injustice to these orphan boys and so Allah commanded to repair it; all this that Moses had seen, he had strictly done this all by the command of Allah so this is the fact of matter that Moses did not see and he certainly has never committed injustice in any of these matters; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that there are four common points in all these three events (and might even be more if we ponder on the subject) that are worthy of consideration; first, all three are related to children or boys as even workers on the boat do not seem to be much old as can be deduced by the term MASAKIN; this is interesting as it implies that Allah cares for the descendants of the virtuous persons by some particular care; note also that even the boy killed might get the favor of Allah at Judgment due to the piety of his parents as he did not come to that age where he could commit the evil acts that were to take place by him; an individual is not responsible for his deeds until he reaches such adulthood that provides him the recognition of the right & the wrong and then he commits evil acts by intention so it is highly probable that the boy was fortunate to die before such age and before such practice; the second common point to note is that Allah saved the children by the virtues of their parents (and even if one of them was virtuous, that was good for their safety) and though the second and third events are clear on this yet even the first event has a clue for the involvement of the piety of at least one of the parents; note that MASAKIN denotes those persons who work hard to provide the basic necessities of life for themselves and for those who are dependent on them and still whatever they get is lesser than what they need for their necessities; I, MSD, reason that it also tells about the pious character of their mother who might be one of the dependent ones and that asked Allah for their special help; so it also is in-line with the coming two events that tell about the pious character of both the parents and the pious character of the father respectively; note that we have studied at the previous Surah i.e. BANI-ISRAEL that Allah commands to respect the parents, especially if any one of them has come to an old age becoming weak, where he or she is dependent on their children whom they had brought up with love & care when those children were weak and they were strong; the third common point is that everyone must respect the other especially about three things, not to do any wrong to him; these are his property, his life and his honor and here interestingly, we find these all three challenged respectively by KHIDHR in these three events keeping to what the eyes see; note that he was actually saving the property when it seemed that he was damaging the boat, he was actually saving the boy from the grave agony of AKHIRAT when he killed the boy and he was actually saving the honor of the orphan children and their dead pious father plus their property when it seemed as if he has no self-respect doing a favor to those who are unworthy of any favor; certainly he did all these things by the permission of Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the fourth common point of course, is that each & every event tells clearly that what the eyes see might not be the whole truth and so the believer needs to keep in mind that when he is totally attentive to Allah, he must understand to take anything that comes to him as blessing of Allah and must not worry about dividing the events of his life as this happened good to me and this happened bad, so he would never have any incorrect pride for whatever worldly benefits he has achieved and no erroneous grief on whatever he has lost, making the life free of any tension whatsoever, by the blessing of Allah; Al-Hamdu-Lillah.

KAHF-The Eleventh Ruku

83. And they ask you about ZULQARNAIN. Say: I will recite to you an account of him.

84. Surely We established him in the land and granted him means of access to every thing.

85. So he followed a course.

86. Until when he reached the place where the sun set, he found it going down into a black sea, and found by it a people. We said: O ZULQARNAIN- either give them a chastisement or do them a benefit.

87. He said: As to him who is unjust, we will chastise him, then shall he be returned to his Lord, and He will chastise him with an exemplary chastisement:

88. And as for him who believes and does good deeds, he shall have goodly reward, and We will speak to him an easy word of Our command.

89. Then he followed (another) course.

90. Until when he reached the land of the rising of the sun, he found it rising on a people to whom We had given no shelter from it;

91. Even so! and We had a full knowledge of what he had.

92. Then he followed (another) course.

93. Until when he reached (a place) between the two mountains, he found on that side of them a people who could hardly understand a word.

94. They said: O ZULQARNAIN- surely Gog & Magog make mischief in the land. Shall we then pay you a tribute on condition that you should raise a barrier between us and them;

95. He said: That in which my Lord has established me is better, therefore you only help me with workers; I will make a fortified barrier between you and them;

96. Bring me blocks of iron; until when he had filled up the space between the two mountain sides, he said: Blow, until when he had made it (as) fire, he said: Bring me molten brass which I may pour over it.

97. So they were not able to scale it nor could they make a hole in it.

98. He said: This is a mercy from my Lord, but when the promise of my Lord comes to pass He will make it level with the ground, and the promise of my Lord is ever true.

99. And on that day We will leave a part of them in conflict with another part, and the trumpet will be blown, so We will gather them all together;

100. And We will bring forth hell, exposed to view, on that day before the disbelievers.

101. They whose eyes were under a cover from My reminder and they could not even hear.

This eleventh Ruku introduces ZUL-QARNAIN (the person having two horns) as the just king of ancient times who believed in the fundamental teachings of Islam; note that the Holy Book Quran speaks about the prominent persons that were not much known to Arabs at that time, mostly because they were not from the area of Arabia or the areas they generally used to travel to, with some special feature related to them; that is why we find the term ASHAB-e-KAHF (the persons of cave) to identify the seven sleepers in this very Surah that takes its name from this event, then ZUL-KIFL (i.e. who is related to KIFL) is mentioned in Surah AMBIYA-85 (and also in Surah Suad-48) and this is most probably BUDDHA as that prince was born at KIPL (or KAPL) WAV in Nepal; as there is no sound of "P" in Arabic so either "B" or either "F" is substituted for it and here ZUL-KIFL identifies him as the one who was born in KIPL; in this case (and this strongly seems to be the case), it seems then that his teachings have been tampered with and he was not only a true believer but also a true spiritual guide at that place at that time; if he is the person that is mentioned here then he is one of the Messengers of Allah as many of commentators have taken ZUL-KIFL to be that; now, keeping this style of speech in mind, ZUL-QARNAIN is someone outside of the Arab land yet such a prominent character even at that time that he is known far & wide by his specific title; about a century ago, MAULANA ABUL-KALAM AZAD wrote a commentary on the Holy Book Quran and from that, the commentary of Surah KAHF was published separately as a booklet due to its popular appeal among the masses; he indicated forcefully in it that Cyrus, the King of Persia around 550 BC (couple of centuries before the rise of Alexander the Greek and just a decade after the death of Nebuchadnezzar), was the person who is mentioned at this place; though he was not a messenger of Allah yet one of the most virtuous persons of the time who truly believed in Allah the Most High and in AKHIRAT, and he was truly wise in seeing to matters around having a lenient touch to his character; this makes sense because Cyrus had vast territory that he ruled and he is known to be the most just ruler in history; he had all resources necessary to rule and he was specially fortunate as Allah the Most High made the path easy for his amazing rise to the throne (though he belonged to the royal family yet it is mentioned that some of his own family members tried to kill him at his birth and his childhood was spent at some village area or some wilderness where nobody knew about his background and Allah knows better); he set the most noble example, at the time when "Might is Right" was the only way to rule, of an amazingly just treatment to all people whether among his subject or whether among the enemy; he permitted the Bani-Israel at that time, to return to Jerusalem and build the temple again, when he conquered Babylon defeating its army decisively around 540 BC, after the times of Nebuchadnezzar; as for his title ZUL-QARNAIN, most of the MUFASSIRIN have commented that this was due to his unification of both the lands of Persia at those times that were divided, just at the beginning of his reign and whatever historical record is available for him, he is depicted due to this unification as having two horns at the helmet that he wears; his reign tells that he had to face a grave challenge from the western side that was called Lydia, having a Greek influence then, at the onset of his reign (and it is today the region of Turkey), so he went towards it fast and made a surprise attack rather than wait for defense and he conquered the land; he reached at the bank of waters of the Aegean Sea not much far from the place where the sleepers at cave were to sleep for many years in the coming time (that was to be around 800 years after his arrival at this place) and standing by the dark waters at the sunset, he saw the sun going down in them; of-course, the sun does not go into waters but it seems so when a person views it at the sunset standing at the shore and that is why the narration says that "he found the sun going down"; there he saw some population of people whom he treated fairly giving a chance to them to accept the true belief and be at peace, or to reject it (that would be their challenge to ZUL-QARNAIN) so they would taste such punishment that would cause much frustration in their lives; Allah the Most High had allowed him to accept their apology or punish them severely and he took the just course not putting any undue hardship on anyone at all; it is mentioned that they did accept the true belief and there was no combat between them and his forces; AAYAT-89 tells that after some time of the first one, he prepared for another expedition and this time it was towards the east; he reached as far as was possible for him at those days with convenience, towards the east (probably to the farthest eastern side of the territory he ruled then, and it might have been much difficult to go any far eastward then, due to the huge mountains that stood in the way) until he came to a place where he saw the sun rising from the east; it seems that it was the vast plain somewhere in or about MAKRAN where he reached at dawn and stood at some high place there to see the rising of the sun; note that it has a population much lower in comparison to the land area available (as perhaps in those days too), and it is the land that now belongs to my country Pakistan where there are such people even today, who live a nomadic life that has ancient manner to live by today's standard; there as he viewed the sunrise, he saw a population that had no shelter whatsoever from the sun and due to this beautiful view from the place he stood, it seemed to the good viewer as if the sun was rising on the people just ahead of his placement on that beautiful early morning in 536 BC or near that time; by the word KAZALIK (just like that), we get that as happened near the Aegean Sea where ZUL-QARNAIN had an authority to treat the people severely to show the great power he had, as was the custom of the day, or to treat them leniently, he chose again to give these people too some relief asking them to accept the true belief and refrain from all evil; most probably they too complied gladly to the guidance of the just king accepting the true belief then though there is an opinion that he had gone towards them due to the challenge they were posing for him at that time; after seeing to the matter in the best manner, he returned to his place i.e. HAMADAN (which is in Iran now); AAYAT-92 tells that after some time, he took a third expedition and this time towards the north, though the direction of this one is not mentioned as for the expeditions made before; it does seem by historic information available that he was at his last age going towards the north towards the war that he intended to fight there and from it he never returned as he was killed there; note that for the first expedition, the narration has the word "so" while for both the other ones it has the word "then", indicating that there might be much time between each of these expeditions though the first one he might have taken just after his ascension to the throne and Allah the Most High knows better; Al-Hamdu-Lillah; this third expedition is noteworthy as during this one, he made a wall between an opening at two huge mountains on the request of a primitive population living there; according to MAULANA AZAD, he had reached a mountainous region at a place that is named DURBUND (The Closed Door) now in the Caucasian area (KAFQAZ or KOH-QAAF in Urdu), between the Caspian Sea and the Black Sea; he marched on with his army at inside of this area to the Caucasian mountainous region, where he came to the opening between two huge mountains where the area is called the pass of DARYAL, and there he found those primitive people who complained, getting their message through somehow that they are much troubled by YAJUJ & MAJUJ (Gog & Magog) who live beyond the opening in those mountains and attack them looting & plundering all the time; note that the Quran tells about these people who asked assistance from the king, that they did not even come near to understanding a sentence; that might be due to their very strange language that only they spoke & understood, so to make them understand something was very hard; ZUL-QARNAIN assured them, probably by the channel of some better understanding person among them with good ability to read gestures, that he would take care of their safety as was his obligation being their administrator and told them to help in making a wall between the mountains to fill the gap that would render YAJUJ & MAJUJ incapable of attacking them;

they were ready to pay some tax for the work yet he declined that offer saying that what Allah has provided him with, is much better; he asked them only for the manual labor from their side as he might have men less in number with him for the task or not fully capable to do this work neatly; this clarifies that when at the head of people, a person must try to put as less a liability on his people as possible as that makes a true leader who is really near to the heart of his people; he made a very strong wall with iron putting molten copper over it there at the opening between the two mountains that YAJUJ & MAJUJ could neither climb nor put a hole through, restricting them to the other side with mountains surrounding the area and with Caspian Sea blocking the eastern route and the Black Sea blocking the western side; when the wall was completed (and it was known as the wall at KOH-QAAF), he observed that though this wall is amazingly strong by the blessing of my Lord yet when the word of my Lord (meaning the last day of the world i.e. QAYAMAT) approaches, that would level it to the ground and the promise of my Lord is certain to happen; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that there was another wall located just at the city DURBUND as the history informs, and being in this very place of Caucasian area and also being called with the similar names of the wall of KOH-QAAF and BAB-UL-ABWAB, it made a confusion that perhaps this one is the wall of ZUL-QARNAIN; however, with the present information available, it does not fit the description that the Quran presents about it as that was an iron-wall and this one was not; this wall at DURBUND is mentioned to be made centuries after the times of ZUL-QARNAIN and as the wall of China too was finished after his time, he is notable pioneer in using the technique to restrict and keep the enemy away; so by all good reasons, the wall at DARYAL is the wall mentioned in the Quran with the remark that the opening there is undoubtedly clear now as the geography in current times has provided to see whole of the world beautifully; the word of Allah has certainly approached near and the wall is now leveled to the ground; Al-Hamdu-Lillah; I, MSD, would insha-Allah see to the matter of YAJUJ & MAJUJ ahead at the supplementary note at KAHF after the note at this eleventh Ruku where I, MSD, would also take-up the general matters about the events that Surah KAHF relates; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last three AAYAAT of the Ruku read, "and on that day We will leave a part of them (YAJUJ & MAJUJ) in conflict with another part, and (just after the end of their lives at the world) the trumpet will be blown (that would be the last day of the world), so We will gather them all together (after the second trumpet, at the Day of Judgment); and We will bring forth hell-fire, exposed to view (because of their disbelief), on that day (the Day of Judgment) before the disbelievers; they whose eyes were under a cover from My reminder (at the world) and they could not even hear (the true message for guidance at the world)"; these AAYAAT tell about their conflicts among themselves at the world so because of them and their extreme disbelief, they would get the most extreme punishment at AKHIRAT; insha-Allah we will study about some of the signs of QAYAMAT (the last day of the world) at the supplementary note ahead; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

According to Ahadith, YAJUJ & MAJUJ are one of the major signs of QAYAMAT, the end of the world; the problem is that much of fiction has become related to this matter as have become for a few other major signs too and that causes hindrance in understanding this matter clearly; but with whatever information we have by history, we can safely conclude that YAJUJ & MAJUJ were just ordinary human beings though they had lived as wild and uncivilized tribes but they were descendants of Japheth, one of the sons of Noah, inhabiting the lands of Central Asia behind the Caucasus Mountains; it seems that all those who inhabited that land were named as YAJUJ & MAJUJ as it is said that 21 out of 22 sections of them were restricted to the other side by the iron wall of DARYAL; note that there are ten major signs of QAYAMAT and they are related in a HADITH that is reported by HUDHAIFA ibn USAID; the Prophet Muhammad PBUH said that "the last hour i.e. QAYAMAT will not arrive till you have seen ten signs; he then mentioned the Smoke, DAJJAL, the Beast, rising of the Sun from the place of it's setting, the descent of Jesus Christ, YAJUJ & MAJUJ, three Landslides; one in the east, one in the west and one in the Arabian Peninsula; and after that a fire would spread from Yemen and drive the people to their place of gathering" (reported in Muslim); there are other major signs for QAYAMAT too that are reported in Ahadith and as four of those are much important for the comment here, our study would mention them presently; the first of them according to Ahadith is the rise of such man that would be MAHDI (the righteous one and it is also said in Ahadith that he would rise at the time when Muslims would be facing intense FITNAH i.e. extreme trial), the second of them is that the river Euphrates (that flows through Syria and Iraq and finally opens in the Gulf) will disclose a mountain of gold over which people will fight and die in high number, the third is that Muslims would fight against the Jews (that would be very trying war) and the fourth & last of these is that the Hour will not take place until the name of Allah is no longer recited on earth; these Ahadith have been recorded in the authentic books of Ahadith and "Muslim" is one of them and I would comment on these four presently insha-Allah; however, from the ten signs stated before, I would comment here on DAJJAL and YAJUJ & MAJUJ only insha Allah as these two are related to this Surah directly; Ahadith telling us about DAJJAL (the Imposter and he is called the Antichrist in the West) clearly denote that this would be some specific man from among the Jews as Ahadith indicate who would rise to power near QAYAMAT and in spite of his ugly face that would match his ugly character, he would attract people to him and many of loose women would particularly find some attraction towards this filthy character; he would be blind in one eye that would be ugly in looks and even the other one, by which he would be able to see, would be horrible; there are many learned people nowadays who take DAJJAL as a system to live rather than a person yet by seeing Ahadith, it is obvious that this is not the whole truth; DAJJAL is clearly some filthy person though Ahadith sometimes point out the evil system of life too that he would present; before studying comments on Ahadith, note that Prophet Muhammad PBUH has informed at different occasions that I don't know when would the Hour (QAYAMAT) come though I understand that it is very close now as I and QAYAMAT are just this apart (he showed his two fingers making the sign of "V" to show how near it was) and I can only tell the Muslims about its signs; by this information that the Holy Prophet PBUH gave us, we can understand whatever he has told us about the signs of QAYAMAT, that needs some interpretation, though the interpreters must necessarily be those who are well-versed in the Holy Book Quran and the authentic Ahadith and when they interpret, their interpretation must strictly be for these signs of the Hour only and not for any other guidance as that must be taken as said because the Holy Prophet PBUH has specified his limitation on this very matter only; we know that he thought IBNE SAYYAD, a boy at his times, might be that one-eyed DAJJAL yet the boy became Muslim afterwards so it was an IJTEHADI mistake that is possible from the Messenger and that is no sin; note that whatever is told in the Quran, that strictly means the same as the terms of it convey and that is why the translation of the Quran is never taken to be the Quran itself while the translation of Ahadith would be termed as Ahadith if that is done with care as meanings are important there; the point to note is that though the learned persons can interpret signs of QAYAMAT in Ahadith pondering on the meanings rather than words only yet for other fields, they must not interpret the words even in Ahadith but take them as they mean in the common usage; the fact is that Allah has concealed the time of the Hour (the last day of the world) strictly so Ahadith can give us only an idea of its closeness by providing its signs only and that also with some reservation; as an example, note that DAJJAL is said to be one-eyed in Ahadith and this has been taken by many prominent ULEMA to mean that he would ask attention to worldly life only trying to make everyone forget the AKHIRAT and it is said that "KUFR" (ungrateful to Allah) would be written on his forehead that every true Muslim would be able to read even if that Muslim is not literate and this has been taken to mean that his actions would be clearly against humanity and there could remain no doubt for any true believing person by his activities that he is totally ungrateful to Allah; note that the system of life DAJJAL would try to implement would ask for attention towards calling the laws by which Allah has created everything as the natural laws not mentioning the True Creator; it would ask for attention towards caring about the life at the world trying to avoid even the mention of AKHIRAT; it would ask for attention towards maintaining the physical health never taking up even a petty discussion over the necessity of the spiritual health as Islam clarifies; this is the trial from DAJJAL and the stage is totally set today for such a person to rise who (by the scientific technology) would do feats that ISA-AS (i.e. Jesus-AS) did by the permission of Allah; in fact, he could be anyone of the Jewish leaders who have great attraction to his people as he does not need magic to do an extraordinary show of power; this imposter would show by the scientific advancement in medicine & surgery that a man dying without any hope of life can come to life; a man with a cut in the chest even with his heart out of his body can come to life; a man dying suddenly can be put to test and it is possible to see what he had eaten or drunk before his death with accuracy; a man afflicted with leprosy and even with other deadly infectious diseases can become well and even the barren land can provide amazing amount of harvest by the use of modern methods and artificial rain; but these things have an obvious source behind them while Jesus Christ showed his amazing feats as miracles performed by the permission of Allah; this difference would be clear to every good Muslim as the characters of those who go by the way of DAJJAL would tell clearly that DAJJAL and his people are far away from righteousness; it is yet to be seen how he rises and presents the tasks but he would not be without challenge insha-Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; such words that relate to war like swords, horses etc. does not necessarily mean that there would be an old style war; likewise, old method of communication wherever mentioned at Ahadith, do not imply that warriors would abandon the modern methods for communication but this is just a manner to express the events to come, according to that time when the Prophet PBUH mentioned the signs of QAYAMAT; note that the ultimate meanings are most significant at such Ahadith that relate to the signs of the Hour; the problem in understanding Ahadith mentioning signs of QAYAMAT arises when there is a strict inelastic adherence to the said matter without consideration of its inherent meaning; also, Ahadith do not provide the times for these signs to occur specifically and they might have quite a space of time between them while it is taken for granted that these all signs are related to very short period of time just before the Hour; note that the arrival of the Holy Prophet Muhammad PBUH was himself one of the significant signs of QAYAMAT and so the other signs that he mentioned might be anywhere after his time to the QAYAMAT itself though evidently, DAJJALI-FITNAH

(the extreme trial that arise from DAJJAL) is related to the time extremely close to it; as the ULAMA of the past, with a very few exceptions only, had taken these Ahadith at face without considering any interpretation in this specific matter of signs of the Hour whatsoever, it set a trend for the present ULAMA to do the same as they strictly honor their past ULAMA in all matters; it is quite appropriate to clarify on them that the interpretation of these specific set of Ahadith for their meanings, does not mean to dishonor the past ULAMA as avoiding their misunderstanding here if any, does not affect the belief adversely; moreover, they had a little chance if any, to face the times of the extreme trial by DAJJAL that is mentioned in these specific Ahadith while we are at the total confrontation with such times so we need to understand these signs better for sure; keeping this clarification about Ahadith related to the signs of the Hour, let us continue with our study of the signs mentioned to understand the Surah better; Al-Hamdu-Lillah; taking the four signs of QAYAMAT (i.e. the Hour), I would comment on MAHDI that it literally means the GUIDED PERSON and not one who guides; note that the sequence of events at these current times, shows well that the QAYAMAT is much near and as such, many of these (though not all of these), signs were given for the couple of past centuries or so, and so they are of utmost importance to us all who are living in these current times; now, the literal meaning of MAHDI clarifies that this person would be on the right path even when generally people would be at loss how to practice many of the Islamic teachings (especially those that relate to running the administration); there are Ahadith that give much detail to this virtuous person yet as they are not much authentic (i.e. there are doubts that they do not truly relate to the Prophet PBUH) so it is better to omit such detail and take the general things about him that prevail as acceptable among the ULAMA; note that if someone claims to be MAHDI, he is surely not that man, no matter how pious he might seem at face; MAHDI is the man who would provide the Islamic teachings to all peoples and Allah would bless his effort as that would make them easy to practice at vast area of the world without his claiming of any significant status for himself; note that whosoever does it by the blessing of Allah, he is the man and claims would only prove that he is an imposter not acceptable for guidance thus the ultimate practical result in favor of Islam by the will of Allah, would indicate MAHDI and there is no other proof for his identity; note also that whoever claims to be Jesus descended from the heavens, he also is an imposter (please read the supplementary note after the note at the last Ruku of Surah MA'EDAH); so the genuine practice of Islam generally by the will of Allah would prove the worth and not the claims even if those come from persons that seemingly are most pious of the lot at hand; those who would not accept Islam at that time, would live with insignificance at the world and the Muslims would insha-Allah leave them on their own and Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second of Ahadith mentions the sign of Euphrates disclosing gold and this is clear as it means the Black Gold "OIL" that has made people amazingly rich at that location; as for fighting and dying in huge number for it, that needs no comments as matters stand today; the third of these Ahadith tells about a trying war between Muslims & Jews and this is in progress even now since much long time as extreme injustice to Muslims without any fault of Muslims; Ahadith have such words for this that imply that ultimately, their support would withdraw with disgrace to itself and as the matters stand, even this sign does not need any comment; the fourth sign is that the name of Allah would not be recited on Earth and mostly this is taken literally to occur just at the end of the world that QAYAMAT would come on the most evil of the people of the world; this is the clearest example of taking a strict view of the sign mentioned which seems related to the forced forbiddance to practice Islam in the recent past in and near to those areas where YAJUJ & MAJUJ had their influence basically; even the recitation of the name of Allah was something near to a crime in that area at that time so taking the sign in the appropriate context, it has come to pass in the previous century; note that Ahadith tell us that Hajj & UMRAH would continue even after the advent of YAJUJ & MAJUJ and they also tell us that JEHAD (and the spread of teachings of Islam also is an aspect of JEHAD) would continue till QAYAMAT so there could be no time as such when the name of Allah is not recited; note the fact that when Allah puts His wrath, even some good persons with the bad persons get the taste of it but this happens when the good persons have stopped from spreading the good teachings of Islam; this Hadith also implies that QAYAMAT would not take place up-to the time the Muslim persons go on repenting on their wrong-doings asking for mercy from Allah and asking for His blessing; Al-Hamdu-Lillah; let us now take the matter of identifying YAJUJ & MAJUJ and after them, getting to the identity of DAJJAL (the Antichrist); note that whatever information we have by history, we can safely conclude by that that YAJUJ & MAJUJ were just ordinary human beings; by their account given in the Quran, we can safely assume that all these people inhabiting the area that was closed by ZUL-QARNAIN by the iron wall, were truly YAJUJ & MAJUJ; according to MAULANA AZAD, Armenian traditions carry the name "Iron Door" for this place but we know for sure that now these deadly people are at large; it is very difficult to indicate clearly what route these people took after they broke out of the place they were confined to and where they progressed to; we do not know the time of their release even and when the wall gave way completely; they might even have found some other route towards the west, iron wall remaining intact at that time; but without speculating, let us see the available facts keeping the information of the Quran in view; AAYAT-98 of Surah KAHF tells that a time would come sooner or later that this wall would become leveled to the ground (and that would be near to QAYAMAT being one of its signs) and that has happened somewhere back in history though it occurred certainly after the times of the last Prophet Muhammad PBUH; AAYAT-99 informs that Allah would leave them to surge some of them on others on that day and then the Trumpet would be blown; this is important as the word "AND" coming twice in the AAYAT, does clearly seem to convey an elapse of some period of time at both the places; so it means that when they come out of their confinement, Allah would leave them on their own as before, without giving any guidance to them (except for what they had received at the ancient times being the descendants of Japheth) and this denotes the anger of Allah on these people due to their heinous character and due to the terrible agony that character had caused to all people around in the ancient history; second, by the word "YAMUJ" we get that when they come out of their confinement, they would intermingle with each other and even with other people of the place where they settle in and this same word "YAMUJ" also conveys that some of their factions would be friendly among them and the other of their factions would be hostile among them; keeping their wild character in mind, they would set a stage for wars with each other with assistance of the respective peoples they settle in, some of them at one side and some at other; third, after their wars (or even during them), the end of the world would come and the Trumpet would be blown (to announce the end of the world); so they would be gathered, all of them with all persons of the world after the second Trumpet for the Day of Judgment; note that after the information of the first Trumpet, the word "SO" is used to tell about their gathering at HASHR by the second Trumpet as there is not much space of time between the two while "AND" is used to convey the period of time that might even be few centuries, between "YAMUJ" and the first Trumpet; so the sequence of events is clear that YAJUJ & MAJUJ would break out of their confinement and would take no guidance towards the Truth whatsoever and due to their wild character that does need blood to survive, they would become rivals to each other, each side of them getting support from some of other people, and would fight on that would ultimately lead, by the will of Allah, towards the end-time of the world that is named as QAYAMAT; there is another place too in the Holy Book Quran that mentions YAJUJ & MAJUJ which is Surah AMBIA, the 21st Surah; the translation of AAYAAT-94, 95, 96 & 97 of Surah AMBIA is "so whoever shall do of good deeds and he is a believer, there shall be no denying of his effort, and surely We are writing down for him; and it is binding on a town which We destroy that they shall not return; until when Gog and Magog are let loose and they shall break forth from every elevated place; and the true promise shall draw nigh, then the eyes of those who disbelieved shall be fixedly open- O woe to us! surely we were in a state of heedlessness as to this; nay, we were unjust" (AMBIA-94 to 97); though we do not know when YAJUJ & MAJUJ were allowed liberty, we can see clearly from the events that took place in the previous century that presented deadly wars among the peoples in the west (in whom they had intermingled after their freedom) that they are playing an active part in the worldly matters now; it is safe to assume that these captives at DARYAL did find a path towards the west after the fall of the wall and intermingled with the people there yet retaining their savage character displaying it now & then and as such, they are among the peoples of Europe; those people took a keen interest in colonization of many countries in the near past; at both places, the true word of Allah (WAADUL-HAQ at Ambia-97 and WAADU-RABBI at KAHF-98) is mentioned and at both places, it refers to QAYAMAT; we get from both the places that the end of the world is very near and the example for this is that at KAHF, it implies "when the word (or promise) of my Lord APPROACHES" and so it tells that it would be very near to

QAYAMAT that the wall would fall level to ground (perhaps just few centuries back from it) and that certainly makes its fall and YAJUJ & MAJUJ, the signs of QAYAMAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as for DAJJAL (the Antichrist), there are some persons that include even ULAMA, who take this sign both as relating to a person and relating to a period of FITNAH (utmost trial); note that Dr. ASRAR AHMED, who was one of the foremost commentators on the Holy Book Quran of this time and the pioneer in making the set-up with assistance of his worthy students in Pakistan to explain the Holy Quran after TARAVEEH (the special night-prayers in the Holy Month of Ramadan), has given beautiful lectures on the subject asking all people to avoid attachment to worldly pleasures as much as possible and his writings show that he had inclination that though DAJJAL is the specific satanic person who would come at fore at the world at the times of extreme FITNAH yet that time also tells about the stage for his rise; the writing of MAULANA GILANI also pointed out the same in its own way that was written at the middle of the previous century; DAJJAL would oppose the basic teachings of Islam that ask us Muslims to believe in Allah, the true Lord, as He must be believed and to believe in AKHIRAT (the true life after this life) where everyone would be given the result of his doings at the worldly life and to believe that the Messengers of Allah gave humane teachings that lead to the true contentment of self; the extreme trial from DAJJAL would challenge these three basic teachings of Islam and so the challenge to these three comprises DAJJALI-FITNAH; that person DAJJAL might be anyone among the leadership of Jews who would be strict adherent to challenging the teachings of Islam (and who would come at fore near to QAYAMAT by the support of his corrupt disciples mostly at some authority); so now we get the answer why & how Surah KAHF saves us from DAJJAL as it clarifies the true concepts for us by relating all these four events that we all have just studied and I would point those concepts presently insha-Allah; for this, let us see the common points in events though for the sake of brevity, I would only point out the common features among them leaving the detail therein; first, note that all the four events guide attention to the fact that there are limitation to human efforts and the virtuous person must leave his matters to Allah with total trust once he has done his best about whatever problem he faces; ASHAABE-KAHF went to a remote cave finding no other option to save their True Belief and their lives leaving the matter of their safety to Allah; the companion of the rich man feeling hurt by the speech of his close relative i.e. the rich man - left his matter to Allah clarifying that he has the good hope of the good result for himself here and in the hereafter too; the pious parents had left the matter of the betterment of their children to Allah after the best they could have done as focused in the event of KHIDHR & Moses and ZUL-QARNAIN was totally grateful to Allah at his conquests and at the construction of the amazing iron wall asking good returns from Allah only without asking for any material gains whatsoever; doing whatever we can is upon us but the positive result only occurs by the will of Allah, if we do care in our belief & deeds for His pleasure only; by this TAWAKKUL (i.e. the total trust upon Allah), we can counter the attack of DAJJAL who wants us to think that his power is invincible as he has the support of the wicked people at authority so no one ought to challenge him; so then Allah would destroy him by Himself once we call Allah with true belief after all said & done; second, note that the words in speech like "all praise is for Allah" and "if Allah wills" and "there is no one truly powerful but Allah" must be necessary part of our speech as this would make us free of any adverse effect that satanic people want upon our psyche and in fact, we would be able to answer these people by calmly telling them the truth of their own-selves; these words and others in praise of Allah are present in all four events and we must care for them in our ordinary daily life; third, note that what the eyes see is not the whole truth as the sleepers at KAHF were asleep yet seemed awake to eyes even if a sober observant person saw them, worldly gains of the rich man was not the guarantee to success at AKHIRAT and his seemingly safe gardens were not so safe after all when a calamity hit them, actions of KHIDHR were an apparent deviation from the commands of Allah yet they were manifestation of not only the will of Allah by which everything takes place but there was also the pleasure of Allah in those, ZUL-QARNAIN found the Sun setting in water yet it was just deception of eyes that does not happen actually; fourth is that all the four events ask to care for the True Belief whether a person is well-off or in a difficult situation in life; the sleepers at KAHF were in a situation where to keep the True Belief meant a threat to life but they managed the situation with whatever they thought best and did not leave it (and Allah accepted their call and they were saved by their own idea), the companion of the rich person was challenged in a way where an ordinary person might have fallen into some complex yet that believer saving his True Belief countered the speech of rich man in such way by his words that the rich man might have felt a complex, Moses & Joshua & KHIDHR (Salaam on all three) were the chosen persons by Allah who always kept to what they understood to be Allah's commands and of-course ZUL-QARNAIN too was among the very good persons who was challenged by the temptation to show his authority on weak people yet who always cared for the moral values (though he had all worldly resources at hand that often lead persons to forget moral values) accepting with heart that in truth, all power belongs to Allah and thus saving his True Belief; Al-Hamdu-Lillah; fifth, note that in all these four events a travel of some sort with good companions, is present for the sake of betterment (the event regarding dialogue between the rich man and his companion, the true believer, also denotes some travel as the gardens were certainly at some distance from their living place and the companion might have accompanied the rich man considering him a good man spiritually rather than having a physical motive for his travel with him); this seems to point out that for the spiritual development, a travel with good company is very helpful and Allah blesses such company with His grand blessing; sixth, note that leaving the physical comforts for the sake of spiritual development is the great defense against DAJJALI-FITNAH as this totally depends upon worldly technical items (specially the electronic items), that the development in the understanding of Physical Laws have brought about; the message of Ramadan is also the same that control to usage of the physical comforts would insha Allah bring the spiritual development that would guide the believing person near to Allah and it is noteworthy that the Holy Book Quran, the gift of Allah to the mankind, descended in Ramadan; note that at the creation of Adam, the angels wanted to know why was he being created as they knew that they do not go against the commands of Allah and this one (his descendants) is sure to challenge his own self and fight viciously even on petty matters as by his creation it seems that this one has got a desire to become high among all; what Allah told them is a sign of His trust on the mankind; He said "I know what you don't" and then He gave Adam the knowledge of all names and this means that He gave the power to Adam to understand the principles of all things around which He asked to the mankind to use with care to His commands strictly; He commanded angels to prostrate for Adam when He had blown His spirit unto him; so now at the end of the world, the time has come to show that we do understand that by our technical development, we have to care for the weak and the needy as ZUL-QARNAIN understood at his time and not to destroy our own; it is the time to prove our worth giving regards to the Trust of Allah upon us and if we don't prove it now, it would be very shameful; please see also Surah BAQARAH-30 to 39; now, demands to get this and that and asking for facilities by technical items (and include the desire to keep status here in the list too) have put men into an unworthy effort to remain obsessed with worldly affairs disregarding the true aim of life that is to worship Allah; they have to remember always that all have to account for their belief & deeds and to fulfill His commands as told by Messengers, the chosen men of Allah; Dr. Asrar Ahmed had clarified how DAJJAL would use different technical items to show treacherously that he is capable to perform the amazing feats that the Messengers used to perform; he would display things like growing crops at barren lands, providing an artificial environment for rains, communicating voice & figure to distant places and to perform amazing surgical operations so as to impress people deceitfully as if he is bringing dead to life; this all would be to degrade the high position of the chosen men of Allah and to affect people that times have changed so there is nothing to challenge the power of man; what an illusion and how sad this situation is; note that DAJL means treachery of very high nature that is done in the most deceitful way and as such DAJJAL means such most deceitful person who deceives with all available resources at hand in most cunning ways; may Allah save all the righteous persons from the professional treachery of DAJJAL; Al-Hamdu-Lillah.

KAHF-The Last Ruku

102. What- do then those who disbelieve think that they can take My servants to be guardians besides Me? Surely We have prepared hell for the entertainment of the disbelievers.

103. Say: Shall We inform you of the greatest losers in (their) deeds?

104. (These are) they whose labor is lost in this world's life and they think that they are well versed in skill of the work of hands.

105. These are they who disbelieve in the AAYAAT of their Lord and His meeting, so their deeds become null, and therefore We will not set up a balance for them on the day of resurrection.

106. Thus it is that their recompense is hell, because they disbelieved and held My AAYAAT and My apostles in mockery.

107. Surely (as for) those who believe and do good deeds, their place of entertainment shall be the gardens of paradise,

108. Abiding therein; they shall not desire removal from them.

109. Say: If the sea were ink for the words of my Lord, the sea would surely be consumed before the words of my Lord are exhausted, though We were to bring the like of that (sea) to add.

110. Say: I am only a mortal like you; it is revealed to me that your god is one that is Allah, therefore whoever hopes to meet his Lord, he should do good deeds, and not join anyone in the service of his Lord.

The last Ruku sums-up the message of the Surah beautifully as Allah tells here explicitly that the true success would only come when the person does not give undue value to the life of the world but totally adheres to the three fundamental teachings of Islam; the AAYAAT inform that those who take some good persons near to Allah (like Jesus Christ-AS) as if they are able to provide protection from the wrath of Allah, they are in grave error as it is the true belief and the good deeds that can save a person from it and not just the claim of attachment to someone virtuous without following the guidance he provided to them when he was in the world; they thought erroneously that they are doing much good deeds by having great love for someone near to the true Lord without actually following him; "ZALLA-SAAYUHUM" means their labor is lost (AAYAT-104) and this can be in number of ways as when a person cares only for the life at the world without caring about AKHIRAT due to total lack of the true belief upon the true Lord - as when a person takes a wrong deed as right and does that with the notion in mind that he is doing good or takes a right deed as wrong and refrains from it strictly without asking any guidance from the true Lord - as when a person takes the love of some good person who is near to Allah, the true Lord, as enough to provide him salvation at AKHIRAT whatever he does - as when a person knows the Truth yet knowingly follows the wrong to get material benefits at the world or to get the worldly status assuring himself that he would certainly find all that is good in AKHIRAT if he gets the material success in the world and so cares but little for any good deed; these are the persons whose labor is lost and as they die, all that they had taken as good deeds would leave them then & there; these persons actually did not have any worry that they would stand in front of Allah, the true Lord, and would have to account for whatever they had been doing in the world; they never tried to understand the teachings of Allah that He provided to them by His Messengers and this attitude was mockery of the AAYAAT that Allah had sent and of His Messengers; but those who really believed in the Truth and did all their deeds

according to that belief, they would receive gardens of Paradise and would remain ever so happy there that they would never ask any change from it; in the world, a person does get fed-up even with highly gratifying situation but at JANNAAT (the beautiful gardens of Paradise), he would never want any change as there are so much of blessings of Allah there that he would never feel that he has seen all of them; AAYAT-109 tells that the words of Allah would never end even if all the seas become ink to the pen He writes with; note that efforts of human beings are always limited but the Attributes of Allah are unlimited; He is QADEEM (from always to always), ASL (His good Attributes are His Own, not achieved from anyone) and LA-MEHDUD (His good Attributes are unlimited); Al-Hamdu Lillah; as for us human beings, even if some are highly refined persons like the Messengers specially the last of them i.e. Muhammad PBUH, we all are created - whatever we possess, physically or spiritually, has been provided to us by Allah, the true Lord - and our traits are limited that change with time & place; Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu-Lillah; the last AAYAT tells that no-one is equal to him in authority and even the highly refined person like Muhammad PBUH is but a man who is chosen by Allah to provide the true guidance to all peoples of the world; so whoever understands that he has to meet Allah and answer for his belief & his deeds, he must never take anyone as equal to Allah, keeping always in mind the three things about Allah (QADEEM, ASL and LA-MEHDUD) with care that He only is the true Lord; we Muslims need to recite Surah KAHF again

& again (especially at Fridays) and we all must ponder upon it too as it certainly is great defense against DAJJAL, the evil person who would come at forth near to QAYAMAT as an adherent of satanic concepts; no doubt, the HOUR (QAYAMAT) is near and we Muslims must see in consideration to AKHIRAT what status we are in, making ourselves better as much as, and as soon as possible; Al-Hamdu-Lillah; note that the last AAYAT of Surah BANI-ISRAEL clarified that if Allah befriends anyone, it is not because of any weakness on His side whatsoever; nothing (and no-one) among His creation is able to compel Him to do anything, but His friendship is His blessing upon that person; no one can match even any one of His attributes and this last AAYAT of KAHF also clarifies that whatever care any person takes in remembering Him always, it certainly is His blessing upon him and it does not make him capable to challenge Him in any way; all of the creation is needy for whatever He provides to it and He is not in any need of anything (or anyone); He only is the Creator of all of the creation Who has assigned specific works too, to each of His creation according to His will; this last AAYAT reads, "say (O Prophet PBUH)- I am only a mortal like you; it is revealed to me that your god is only one that is Allah, therefore whoever hopes to meet his Lord, he should do good deeds, and not join anyone in the service of his Lord"; Al-Hamdu-Lillah.

Surah MARIAM

(Consists of 6 Ruku; MK-6)

MARIAM- The First Ruku

1. Kaf Ha Ya Ain Suad.
2. A mention of the mercy of your Lord to His servant Zachariah.
3. When he called upon his Lord in a low voice,
4. He said: My Lord- surely my bones are weakened and my head flares with hoariness, and, my Lord- I have never been unsuccessful in my prayer to Thee:
5. And surely I fear my cousins after me, and my wife is barren, therefore grant me from Thyself an heir,
6. Who should inherit me and inherit from the children of YAQUB (Jacob), and make him, my Lord, one in whom Thou art well pleased.
7. O Zachariah- surely We give you good news of a boy whose name shall be YAHYA (John): We have not made before anyone his equal.
8. He said: O my Lord- when shall I have a son, and my wife is barren, and I myself have reached indeed the extreme degree of old age?
9. He said: So shall it be, your Lord says: It is easy to Me and indeed I created you before, when you were nothing.

10. He said: My Lord- give me a sign. He said: Your sign is that you will not be able to speak to the people three nights while in sound health.

11. So he went forth to his people from his place of worship, then he made known to them that they should glorify Allah morning and evening.

12. O YAHYA- take hold of the Book with strength, and We granted him wisdom while yet a child

13. And tenderness from Us and purity, and he was one who guarded (against evil),

14. And dutiful to his parents, and he was not insolent, disobedient.

15. And peace on him on the day he was born, and on the day he dies, and on the day he is raised to life

The Surah starts with the letters that are among the MUQATTA'AAT and it is the longest among them without any pause as it has five letters; note that though Surah SHURA has five letters of MUQATTA'AAT too yet they have pause between them as they form the two beginning AAYAAT of it; then the first Ruku mentions about the plea of Zachariah-AS to Allah that asked Allah to provide him such heir to his task that now when he has grown so very old, he becomes such ally to him who would prove himself worthy of spreading the word of Allah and who would care to lead-on the task to groom all those who are the righteous so they remain committed to the commands of Allah practically; this is how he would prove himself as truly worthy of him and also would prove himself among the true descendants of Jacob-AS; Al-Hamdu Lillah;

Allah gave him the good tidings of a son by the name of YAHYA (John) who would take the good task ahead; note that Allah provided the name to YAHYA and note also that Zachariah meant by his plea to Allah that Allah gives him a son to become his heir in his good task but when Allah answered his plea in his favor, he repeated his condition (and of his wife) that he is so very old and his wife is barren so he needed total clarity (see also the note at the fourth Ruku of Surah AALE-IMRAN); he might have forgotten his plea to Allah or he might only have asked for clarity without any doubt that whatever Allah wills, that would certainly come to occur; Al-Hamdu Lillah; we had studied at BAQARAH-260 that Abraham asked Allah to show how He would raise the dead to life and upon his curiosity, Allah asked him if that is due to some lapse in his belief; he replied that he most certainly believes in the resurrection of the dead but he wants only to see how it would happen; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah told Zachariah that it would happen as Allah wills for it and it certainly is most easy for Allah and he needs to see that Allah created him when he was nothing; Al-Hamdu Lillah; he asked for such sign that would tell him that his wife has conceived the child and Allah answered that when it happens, he would become unable to speak to people for three nights though he would be well physically; so he knew about that time and when it came, he increased the remembrance of Allah even more; it is notable that being more virtuous at such time by remembrance of Allah, would make the child most virtuous too; he indicated by his gestures all the good persons around also to remember Allah much more at all times of the day at this period of time; as YAHYA grew in the care of his good parents with the highest of protection from Allah, He provided him the knowledge of Torah at his childhood and told him to adhere to its teachings most fervently; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah tells us that He had made him most caring in nature for all people and most pure at heart; he certainly was highly careful in keeping away from all vices as Allah commands and very caring to virtues for his parents and he certainly was never unjust to anyone and never disobedient to Allah; He tells us that He had provided him utmost protection from all vices on the day he was born, on the day he dies and on the day he is raised to life; the translation of the last four verses is, "(Allah told him) O YAHYA- take hold of the Book (Torah) with strength, and We granted him wisdom (how to implement its guidance) while yet a child and tenderness from Us (to care for all virtues) and purity (to avoid all vices), and he was one who guarded (against evil); and dutiful to his parents, and he was not insolent (to any person), disobedient (to Allah); and peace on him on the day he was born, and on the day he dies, and on the day he is raised to life; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

MARIAM- The Second Ruku

16. And mention Mariam in the Book when she drew aside from her family to an eastern place;

17. So she took a veil (to screen herself) from them; then We sent to her Our spirit, and there appeared to her as a well-made man.

18. She said: Surely I fly for refuge from you to the Beneficent Allah, if you are one guarding (against evil).

19. He said: I am only a messenger of your Lord- that I will give you a pure boy.

20. She said- when shall I have a boy and no mortal has yet touched me, nor have I been unchaste?

21. He said: Even so; your Lord says: It is easy to Me: and that We may make him sign to men and mercy from Us, and it is a matter which has been decreed.

22. So she conceived him; then withdrew herself with him to a remote place.

23. And the throes (of childbirth) compelled her to betake herself to the trunk of a palm tree. She said: Oh, would that I had died before this, and had been a thing quite forgotten!

24. Then he called out to her from beneath her: Grieve not- surely your Lord has made a stream to flow beneath you;

25. And shake towards you the trunk of the palm-tree, it will drop on you fresh ripe dates:

26. So eat and drink and refresh the eye. Then if you see any mortal, say: Surely I have vowed a fast to the Beneficent Allah, so I shall not speak to any man today.

27. And she came to her people with him, carrying him (with her). They said: O Marium- surely you have done a strange thing.

28. O sister of Aaron- your father was not a bad man, nor, was your mother an unchaste woman.

29. But she pointed to him. They said: How should we speak to one who was a child in the cradle?

30. He said: Surely I am a servant of Allah; He has given me the Book and made me a prophet;

31. And He has made me blessed wherever I may be, and He has enjoined on me prayer and poor-rate so long as I live;

32. And dutiful to my mother, and He has not made me insolent, unblessed;

33. And peace on me on the day I was born, and on the day I die, and on the day I am raised to life.

34. Such is ISA, son of Marium; (this is) the saying of truth about which they dispute.

35. It beseems not Allah that He should take to Himself a son- glory be to Him; when He has decreed a matter He only says to it "Be," and it is.

36. And surely Allah is my Lord and your Lord, therefore serve Him; this is the right path.

37. But parties from among them disagreed with each other, so woe to those who disbelieve, because of presence on a great day.

38. How clearly shall they hear and how clearly shall they see on the day when they come to Us; but the unjust this day are in manifest error.

39. And warn them of the day of intense regret, when the matter shall have been decided; and they are (now) in negligence and they do not believe.

40. Surely We inherit the earth and all those who are on it, and to Us they shall be returned.

The Ruku starts by the statement for the Prophet PBUH that he would get some important facts about Marium-AS at this Surah; this Ruku mentions the most significant incident of her life that she withdrew to a chamber at the eastern side to wash herself where she screened herself from all people; at that occasion, Allah sent towards her His Spirit

(i.e. the angel Gabriel) in appearance of a handsome man and due to the fear of the sudden appearance of such man at such occasion, she said to him that she seeks refuge in Beneficent Allah from his wrong intention; her words implied that if he has any fear of Allah, he ought to leave the place to which he assured her that he has no wrong intention as he is an angel whom Allah has sent to give her the glad tidings of the son who would be most pure in all good virtues; she was taken aback by this and told him that she is not yet married so no man has touched her rightly and she is not unchaste so no man has touched her wrongly; the honorable angel replied as AAYAT-21 tells that "even so; your Lord says- it is easy to Me: and that We may make him sign to men and mercy from Us, and it is a matter which has been decreed"; Allah had provided the answer similar to this to Zechariah-AS when he got the glad tidings of YAHYA-AS and showed his surprise as he was extremely old and his wife was barren; certainly Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so when Mariam (which means the worshipper of Allah) conceived the holy child, she went to the remote place (i.e. Bethlehem) and took shelter beneath a dates' tree; the pangs of childbirth compelled her to take the shelter of a dates' tree so that she could sit and stand by holding it tight (and that might even cause the pain to lessen); at that time, when she not only had the physical pain but also the grief upon how she would face her people on this issue, she said words to the effect that it would have been better if she had died before this, and had been something quite forgotten; so at that time, Gabriel-AS called her to soothe her condition for somewhere beneath the place where she was present, that she does not need to grieve- surely her Lord has made a stream to flow beneath her and as she shakes the trunk of the palm-tree towards her, it will drop fresh ripe dates for her; this is such time that she needs to eat and drink and make herself comfortable (and dates are great at such time so even if she is weak, dates would fall from the tree miraculously just as she shakes its trunk); if she sees any mortal, she just have to say that she has vowed to fast to the Beneficent Allah, so she would not speak to any person today; note that Allah commanded Gabriel to stay at distance from her as she had objected to his presence before when he had come towards her at her seclusion (and this occasion was even more delicate); note also that the fast for Allah required at that time to keep on silence besides refraining from eating and drinking anything in that; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this gave her the courage to carry the holy child to her people where they immediately needed the explanation about him; note here that they did not give any space to her that she might have some reasonable explanation but assumed right away that she had been a part of something bad; there are always some people who do not even care for the most chaste women at such times and though most strange, they did not spare even Mariam-AS; they demanded the explanation to this wrong of Mariam according to their notion, and guided her attention that she is among the descendants of Aaron-AS (who certainly was one of the most esteemed Messenger of Allah) and neither her father was a bad man nor her mother was an unchaste woman; she told them by gestures that she would not speak at this time and within these gestures, she gestured towards the child; they were most amazed at this and told her how they would communicate to the child who is yet in cradle of the mother's hands; the holy child Jesus-AS started the speech by himself to them that he is the slave of Allah; AAYAAT-30 to 33 state that he said, "Allah has given me the Book (the understanding of Torah) and made me a prophet (His Messenger to the Bani-Israel) and He has made me blessed wherever I may be (that because of me, Allah would make all matters better for the people around who comply on my call towards Allah) and He has enjoined on me prayer (so that I remain attentive to Him by all care to AKHIRAT) and poor-rate (that I denote by this action that I have no attachment to the life at the world except for taking it as an examination by Allah) so long as I live; and (He has made me) dutiful to my mother, and He has not made me insolent, unblessed; and peace on me on the day I was born, and on the day I die, and on the day I am raised to life (so my whole life is blessing of Allah to myself and to all people who accept my call by the practice of the commands of Allah)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; such is ISA (Jesus), the son of Mariam, and this actually is the fact about him that they need to accept in their dispute about him; he is among the mankind yet he was born as an exception without any father just by the command of Allah (i.e. He said "Be" and he came to existence); Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-35 & 36 read, "it beseems not Allah that He should take to Himself a son- glory be to Him; when He has decreed a matter He only says to it "Be," and it is; and (O Prophet PBUH- tell all peoples that) surely Allah is my Lord and your Lord, therefore serve Him; this is the right path"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah provided this clarity about Jesus yet there were such people among them who disagreed with each other about this (at that time and at this) and those who disbelieve in this clarity that now Allah has totally provided at the Quran that he certainly was among the mankind, these unjust persons would see the most extreme trouble when that day (the Day of Judgment) arrives; then they would hear most clearly and see most clearly when they come to Allah just as He has told about him; but their manifest error now would lead them to the most extreme trouble then; Allah asks the Prophet PBUH to warn them of that day of intense regret, when the matter shall have been decided as that is the Day of Judgment where they would not get any space to better themselves; today is the time if they really intend to better themselves but they are in negligence at this time and not prepared to believe the fact that Allah has clearly provided to them; every person would return to Allah to see how he/she believed at the world and to see the account of his/her deeds that he/she sent ahead; so the last AAYAT of the Ruku gives the final touch to the matter that explicitly tells, "surely We inherit the earth and all those who are on it, and to Us they shall be returned"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

MARIAM-The Third Ruku

41. And mention Ibrahim in the Book; surely he was a truthful man, a prophet.

42. When he said to his father; O my father- why do you worship that which neither hears nor sees, nor does it avail you in the least:

43. O my father- truly the knowledge has come to me that has not come to you, therefore follow me, I will guide you on the right path:

44. O my father- serve not the Satan, surely the Satan is disobedient to the Beneficent Allah:

45. O my father- surely I fear that a punishment from the Beneficent Allah should afflict you so that you remain friend of the Satan.

46. He said: Do you dislike my gods, O Ibrahim? If you do not desist I will certainly revile you, and leave me for (all) time.

47. He said- peace be on you- I will pray to my Lord to forgive you; surely He is ever Affectionate to me:

48. And I will withdraw from you and what you call on besides Allah, and I will call upon my Lord; may be I shall not remain unblest in calling upon my Lord.

49. So when he withdrew from them and what they worshipped besides Allah, We gave to him Isaac and Yaqoub (Jacob), and each one of them We made a prophet.

50. And We granted to them of Our mercy, and We left (behind them) a truthful mention of eminence for them.

The Ruku mentions some important aspects relating to Ibrahim-AS that he was most truthful person and one of the most esteemed Prophets of Allah; the notable point here is that many of Messengers came in the lineage of Ibrahim-AS from his second son Isaac-AS (who also was the Messenger of Allah) except for Muhammad PBUH (the last of them) who was the descendant of Ishmael-AS, the elder son of Ibrahim (who also was the Messenger of Allah); Muhammad PBUH was the only Messenger of Allah that came from the lineage of Ishmael and there is a gap of nearly 2500 years between them; note also that Ibrahim-AS is mentioned as a very truthful person and as one of the Prophets of Allah and this same thing is said about IDRIS-AS at the next Ruku at AAYAT-56; it seems by the observation of the history of the Man that the five most prominent Messengers were born at regular intervals to each other (that are Noah, Ibrahim, Moses, Jesus and Muhammad PBUH; see AHZAAB-7 that mentions them together; Salaam on all of them) so there is the space of time of about two thousand years between the birth of Noah and of Moses and about the same space is between the birth of Moses and of Muhammad (these three Messengers led their respective people to safety though all of them had to put much high efforts to present the message of Allah to their respective people); there is the same gap of 2000 years between IDRIS-AS and Ibrahim-AS while the gap between him and Jesus-AS is the same i.e. 2000 years- Salaam on all these Messengers of Allah; these three were calm persons by nature and they clarified the teachings that Allah had already presented to the Messengers of Allah before them; especially notable in this matter is the times of Jesus Christ that was such when the people had generally taken-up to practice what they felt easy for them, sometimes with change even in that practice, and left what they felt difficult; we do not have much knowledge about IDRIS-AS (he might have lived after about 1500 years of the advent of Adam to the world) yet it is often mentioned that Allah had provided him most wonderful knowledge of reading the signs that enabled him to know and affect the people around positively (that is something that related to the study of Psychology) and this was also the significant trait of Ibrahim-AS and Jesus-AS; this interesting phenomenon asks us to reflect that there is the same space of two thousand years now at this period of time since the ascent of Jesus Christ-AS, the great man and the Messenger of Allah, to the heavens; so as Jesus Christ emphasized for the Bani-Israel to guide total attention towards Allah and to practice His commands genuinely as provided by Torah after near to fifteen hundred years of Moses-AS, it is most probable that the prominent good-natured wise Muslims (who are most sincere to Islam) rise to guide the Muslims in the present era to practice Islam genuinely as there is the gap of about 1450 years (by the lunar calendar) as of now since when the last of Messengers Muhammad PBUH made Hijrah to Madinah; as Allah has set laws for Astronomy, Chemistry, Elementary Physics and other of subjects that govern their issues by the will of Allah, so He certainly has also set the laws for History and they do govern its issues by the will of Allah; please note this well that after Muhammad PBUH, who was the last of Messengers of Allah and the last of His Prophets, there is no Messenger (and no Prophet) of Allah (see Surah AHZAAB-40); we Muslims need to plead to Allah for His mercy for us at these current times and if He accepts our plea to forgive us and to provide His mercy to us then there is nothing to stop us Muslims to rise to heights without disturbing any of peoples of the world; we need to live away from all such peoples who have little care to morals as the Quran has defined those good morals, even if this seclusion seems much strange at these current times; but that certainly needs sacrifice of base desires from our side for which we Muslims must prepare ourselves totally without any undue reservation; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Ruku tells that Ibrahim asked his father to leave the worship of idols completely who do not hear anything and do not see anything and have no authority to provide any ease in matters; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-42 to 45 read, "When he (Ibrahim-AS) said to his father; O my father- why do you worship that (i.e. idols) which neither hears nor sees, nor does it avail you in the least; O my father- truly the knowledge (of the Truth) has come to me that has not come to you, therefore follow me, I will guide you on the right path; O my father- serve not the Satan (as he would misguide that you go far into wrongs), surely the Satan is disobedient to the Beneficent Allah; O my father- surely I fear that a punishment from the Beneficent Allah should afflict you (at the world) so that you remain friend of the Satan (as who live-on with wrongs, they lose all space to accept the Truth and live to end the life at the world by a satanic manner)"; this tells how a good person should call his elders to the fundamental teachings of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the Surah is relating how the good sons would become blessings to their parents if they have no issue in learning from them; YAHYA-AS certainly was highly careful in keeping away from all vices as Allah commands and very caring to virtues for his parents; Jesus-AS defended his virtuous mother at most difficult times to her and he was always good in attitude towards her; Abraham also tried to guide his father to virtues and even when he rejected his call towards Islam, he told his father that he would ask Allah to have mercy towards him; but as he learnt that he would not come to the right path, he refrained from asking mercy from Allah for him as it is disallowed to ask Allah to have mercy for those who die as disbelievers (see TAUBAH-84); AAYAAT-46 to 49 tell explicitly that his father was most angry upon Ibrahim when Ibrahim asked him to leave totally the worship of idols and told him that if he goes on professing such teachings he would revile him; he asked Ibrahim to leave him and go somewhere else and he accepted that and left his father with good terms from his side and even told him that he would pray to Allah, the true Lord to forgive him (but as mentioned, he abandoned to ask mercy of Allah for his father afterwards; see TAUBAH-114 at its fourteenth Ruku); he told him explicitly that he would withdraw from him and the idols that he called besides Allah, but he would call only upon Allah, the true Lord; so when he withdrew from them and what they worshipped besides Allah, Allah gave to him as blessings to him Isaac (son) and Jacob (grandson), and each one of them, Allah made His Prophet; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT reads, "and We granted to them of Our mercy, and We left (behind them) a truthful mention of eminence for them"; so these good persons did receive His mercy and they all were remembered as most blessed persons that were most attentive to Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

MARIAM-The Fourth Ruku

51. And mention Musa in the Book; surely he was one purified, and he was an apostle, a prophet.

52. And We called to him from the blessed side of the mountain, and We made him draw nigh, holding communion (with Us).

53. And We gave to him out of Our mercy his brother Aaron a prophet.

54. And mention Ishmael in the Book; surely he was truthful in (his) promise, and he was an apostle, a prophet.

55. And he enjoined on his family SALAH (prayer to Allah) and ZAKAH (almsgiving), and was one in whom his Lord was well pleased.

56. And mention IDRIS in the Book; surely he was a truthful man, a prophet,

57. And We raised him high to the elevated place.

58. These are they on whom Allah bestowed favors, from among the prophets of the seed of Adam, and of those whom We carried with Noah, and of the seed of Ibrahim and Israel, and of those whom We guided and chose; when the AAYAAT of the Beneficent Allah were recited to them, they fell down making obeisance and weeping.

59. But there came after them an evil generation, who neglected prayers and followed sensual desires, so they will meet perdition,

60. Except such as repent and believe and do the good, these shall enter the garden, and they shall not be dealt with unjustly in any way:

61. The gardens of perpetuity which the Beneficent Allah has promised to His servants while it is unseen; surely His promise shall come to pass.

62. They shall not hear therein any vain discourse, but only Peace, and they shall have their sustenance therein morning and evening.

63. This is the garden which We cause those of Our servants to inherit who guard (against evil).

64. And we do not descend but by the command of your Lord; to Him belongs whatever is before us and whatever is behind us and whatever is between these, and your Lord is not forgetful.

65. The Lord of the heavens and the earth and what is between them so serve Him and be patient in His service. Do you know any one equal to Him?

The Ruku mentions the significant aspects of Moses-AS that he was purified by Allah so that he remains most attentive towards Him and he was one of the Messengers of Allah and His Prophet; Allah called him from the right side of the mountain TOOR (when He made him His Messenger) and held close spiritual talk with him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah provided his brother Aaron-AS as companion to him whom He also blessed to become His Messenger; then the Ruku mentions about Ishmael-AS that he always remained true to his word (as all Messengers of Allah yet he excelled in this) and he also was one of the Messengers of Allah and His Prophet; he used to ask members of his household to care most highly about SALAH and ZAKAH as the first would keep the belief in AKHIRAT fast and the second would keep away from the useless attention to the worldly possessions; due to his most beautiful qualities, Allah was most pleased with Ishmael-AS;

Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-56 & 57 mention IDRIS-AS that read, "And mention IDRIS in the Book; surely he was very truthful and a prophet (AAYAT-41 mentions these two good traits for Ibrahim too), and We raised him high to the elevated place (Allah provided him special protection from the adversities of the people around like He provided to Ibrahim and Jesus so Allah raised him to height in his virtuous status)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT honors all Messengers (& Prophets) of Allah as it states that Allah provided His blessings to all of them who all truly were the good descendants of Adam and the good descendants of the best of persons among his lineage; the AAYAT reads, "these are they on whom Allah bestowed favors, from among the prophets of the seed of Adam, and of those whom We carried with Noah, and of the seed of Ibrahim and Israel, and of those whom We guided and chose; when the AAYAAT of the Beneficent Allah were recited to them, they fell down making obeisance and weeping"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-59 to 63 tell about the two groups that emerged ahead after the Messengers of Allah had provided them the message of Allah clearly (especially after Ibrahim, Ishmael and Isaac-Salaam on them); there was such generation who ignored the SALAH that led them to give no attention to the fact that they have to provide for whatever they believe and do at their lives at the world and who followed their sensual desires that led them to become obsessed with gratification at the life at the world so they would meet perdition as the time comes; but those who repent and believe righteously and do their good deeds in accordance to that belief, they would enter the JANNAH and there would be no injustice to them;

these would be the gardens of perpetuity which the Beneficent Allah has promised to His (true) servants while it is unseen; surely His promise (about providing them the JANNAH at AKHIRAT) shall come to pass; they shall not hear therein any vain discourse (as that is hurting and there is no such thing), but only- Peace (so they would remain in true relaxation), and they shall have their (wonderful) sustenance therein morning and evening (and besides that, they would enjoy the good edibles and drinks there when they ask for them by the will of Allah); this is the garden (in return of the virtuous life) which We cause those of Our servants to inherit who guard (against evil)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this implies that there would be some manner to tell about the morning and the evening there at JANNAH though the sun would be absent there; note here that it is preferable for the Muslims to take meals at the morning and the evening i.e. at two times set for them, daily; AAYAT-64 tells the statement of the angel Gabriel-AS and it is notable that there are places at the Quran where it leaves getting the significant perspective on the good person who recites it; we have seen at KAHF that the AAYAAT 25 & 26 continue with the narration of ASHABE-KAHF (the persons of cave) as the Surah was dealing with the statements that were in prevalence about ASHABE-KAHF at that time so the thread goes on that joins these AAYAAT to AAYAT-22 after Allah commands the Prophet PBUH about saying "insha-Allah" when he talks about the future; note that the Prophet PBUH had asked Gabriel-AS why he takes time to descend with the Quran to which he had replied as the AAYAT has provided; so AAYAT-64 provides the statement without the mention of the angel that "and we do not descend but by the command of your Lord; to Him belongs whatever is before us and whatever is behind us and whatever is between these (i.e. at anywhere; and He keeps His control at everything), and your Lord is not forgetful (so whatever He intends, He does it at the time He has set for it and to the place He has set for it)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku clarifies more that He is the Lord of the heavens and the earth and whatever is between them so (O Prophet PBUH; and O Muslims) serve Him and be most steadfast in His service; there certainly is no one who matches any of His attributes; He only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

MARIAM-The Fifth Ruku

66. And says man: What- when I am dead shall I truly be brought forth alive?

67. Does not man remember that We created him before, when he was nothing?

68. So by your Lord! We will most certainly gather them together and the SHAYATIN (the plural of Satan), then shall We certainly cause them to be present round hell on their knees.

69. Then We will most certainly draw forth from every sect of them him who is most exorbitantly rebellious against the Beneficent Allah.

70. Again We do certainly know best those who deserve most to be burned therein.

71. And there is not one of you but shall come to it; this is an unavoidable decree of your Lord.

72. And We will deliver those who guarded (against evil), and We will leave the unjust therein on their knees.

73. And when Our clear AAYAAT are recited to them, those who disbelieve say to those who believe: Which of the two parties is best in abiding and best in assembly?

74. And how many of the generations have We destroyed before them who were better in respect of goods and outward appearance!

75. Say: As for him who remains in error, the Beneficent Allah will surely prolong his length of days, until they see what they were threatened with, either the punishment or the hour; then they shall know who is in more evil plight and weaker in forces

76. And Allah increases in guidance those who go aright; and ever-abiding good works are with your Lord best in recompense and best in yielding fruit.

77. Have you, then, seen him who disbelieves in Our AAYAAT and says: I shall certainly be given wealth and children?

78. Has he gained knowledge of the unseen, or made a covenant with the Beneficent Allah?

79. By no means! We write down what he says, and We will lengthen to him the length of the chastisement

80. And We will inherit of him what he says, and he shall come to Us alone.

81. And they have taken gods besides Allah, that they should be to them a source of strength;

82. By no means! They shall soon deny their worshipping them, and they shall be adversaries to them.

The Ruku starts by mentioning such persons that challenged the Islamic teachings that they would never be resurrected as to them, it was not possible; though the people at Arabia generally believed then that they would be resurrected and the Day of Judgment would take place but they took their idols and many of the creation of Allah as their advocates that would save them from torments there so they took many of His creation as equal to Him in authority and they took angels as daughters of Allah; may Allah save all good Muslims from all such wrong notions; Al-Hamdu Lillah; but they had factions in them and there were such people too in them who challenged the resurrection and did not believe in the final Judgment; note that the Truth is one only that appeals to the inside of the Man but there are many colors of disbelief as the Satan tries different manners to misguide the mankind always trying to emphasize the ZAAHIR (appearance) for him; the Satan tries to lead people to care about the worldly pleasures with attention towards the physical health only so as to make them oblivious of AKHIRAT; the proper way for all good persons to save themselves from his whispers at inside is to keep all attention towards Allah, the true Lord, as He certainly is the true authority Who has all control over all matters; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the AAYAAT provide the reasoning in favor of the resurrection that they need to see that when they were nothing then Allah created them; AAYAT-68 says, "so by your Lord! We will most certainly gather them together and the SHAYATIN (the plural of Satan), then shall We certainly cause them to be present round hell on their knees"; note that there are SHAYATIN (i.e. the most sinful among the jinn) around, which try to whisper different adverse things at inside; all persons among the mankind face these SHAYATIN as among them, there is a Satan that especially targets one of the persons; all such persons who would get the hell-fire as their punishment at the Day of Judgment, their SHAYATIN would also enter that due to their own extreme wrong-doings; note that angels protect the human beings by the command of Allah and they especially care about the good Muslim persons; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah QAAF-20, 21 & 22 read, "and the trumpet shall be blown; that is the Day of warning; and every soul shall come, with it a driver (i.e. the Satan that remained with him trying to drive him to wrongs) and a witness (i.e. the angel who kept the record of his doings); certainly you were heedless of it, but now We have removed from you your veil, so your sight today is sharp"; certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; all those who would be taken to the hell-fire would then be gathered round it, many of them upon their knees as their feet would not hold them due to their fear; then Allah would take out from among them those persons who were most disrespectful to Allah as they would enter the hell-fire first in most insulting manner to see for all those who would be present around it; certainly Allah knows all such people who are most liable to enter the hell-fire before all of those who shall enter it; AAYAT-71 notes that Allah has decided that all persons among the mankind would pass over the hell-fire as the bridge named "the SIRAT-bridge" is over it which all persons have to pass which include even the true Muslims; it is such bridge that is wide & strong but it is very dark so the good persons who would have virtuous deeds would pass over it most conveniently in the light of their virtuous deeds but those who are not such good persons (especially the hypocrites) would be stranded there (and fall inside the hell-fire); there are some useless things that have been mentioned as detail for this SIRAT but actually they do not deserve any mention whatsoever; Surah HADID-12 to 15 read, "on that day you will see the faithful men and the faithful women- their light (of belief) running before them and on their right hand (of good deeds)- good news for you today: gardens beneath which rivers flow, to abide therein, that is the grand achievement; on the day when the hypocritical men and the hypocritical women will say to those who believe- wait for us, that we may have light from your light; it shall be said (by angels)- turn back (to the life at the world if you can) and seek light; then separation would be brought about between them (as the right and the wrong would be totally separated at the Day of Judgment though at the world, all live together), with a wall having a door in it; (as for) the inside of it, there shall be mercy in it, and (as for) the outside of it, before it there shall be punishment; they will cry out to them- were we not with you? They shall say- yea- but you caused yourselves to fall into temptation (to get the worldly pleasures), and you waited and doubted, and vain desires deceived you till the threatened punishment of Allah came, while the deceiver deceived you about Allah; so today ransom shall not be accepted from you nor from those who disbelieved; your abode is the fire; it is your friend and evil is the resort"; AAYAAT from 72 to 76 read, "and We will deliver those (from falling into the hell-fire) who guarded (against evil), and We will leave the unjust therein on their knees; and when Our clear AAYAAT are recited to them (at the world), those who disbelieve say to those who believe- which of the two parties is best in abiding (by status at the world) and best in assembly (that gather around them)?; and how many of the generations have We destroyed before them who were better in respect of goods and outward appearance; say- as for him who remains in error (and does not believe in the fundamental teachings of Islam), the Beneficent Allah will surely prolong his length of days, until they see what they were threatened with, either the punishment or either the hour; then they shall know who is in more evil plight (so their pride at the status at the world is foolish) and weaker in forces (so the assembly that gathers with them is useless); and Allah increases in guidance those who go aright (as Allah gives the TOFIQ of more good deeds to all of good persons so the good works lead to more of virtues); and ever-abiding good works are with your Lord best in recompense (at the world) and best in yielding fruit (at AKHIRAT)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next four AAYAAT relate to an incident that took place between KHABBAB ibn ARAT-RA, who was among the poor hard-working Muslims, and AAS ibn WA'EL, one of the rich persons of Makkah who had rejected the teachings of the Prophet PBUH; note that KHABBAB was a blacksmith and had his payment due for some work that he had provided to AAS ibn WA'EL but as he went to him to receive it, he told him to leave Islam; KHABBAB refused that plainly and said that when AAS rises at the Day of Resurrection, even then he would be steadfast on Islam; this led him to remark that if he would rise from dead then he would receive the same amounts of wealth as he has now at this life at the world so KHABBAB should come to him at that time and he would then pay his dues; the Quran replies to his mocking manner by these AAYAAT, "have you, then, seen him who disbelieves in Our AAYAAT and says: I shall certainly be given wealth and children?; has he gained knowledge of the unseen, or made a covenant with the Beneficent Allah?; by no means! We write down what he says, and We will lengthen to him the length of the chastisement; and We will inherit of him what he says, and he shall come to Us alone"; this answer is to all such persons who mock the teachings of Islam that they would certainly pay most heavily for such disregard to Islamic teachings; Allah is keeping the record of such speech and He would provide the due punishment to it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT state that there are such people also among them who had taken some of his creation as equal in authority to Him as they have thought that those would bring respect to them (at Judgment); certainly not; in-fact they would deny that these people ever worshipped them and so they would become adverse to them; note that there are many such disbelievers who often take some highly virtuous persons who had left the world by death, as most worthy to save them from all torments at the Day of Judgment if only they speak of their complete attachment to those virtuous persons (even without any care to make their own selves better by believing in the Truth and without any care to do the good deeds that Allah has commanded to them); those highly virtuous persons have gone away from the world and they do not have any awareness of how people have taken them after their deaths; they would certainly keep themselves totally away from all disbelievers at the Day of Judgment; certainly, Allah only has all the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

MARIAM- The Last Ruku

83. Do you not see that We have sent the SHAYATIN against the disbelievers, inciting them by incitement?

84. Therefore be not in haste against them, We count to them the number (of their deeds).

85. The day on which We will gather those who guard (against evil) to the Beneficent Allah to receive honors

86. And We will drive the guilty to hell thirsty

87. They shall not control intercession, save he who has made a covenant with the Beneficent Allah.

88. And they say: The Beneficent Allah has taken (to Himself) a son.

89. Certainly you have made an abominable assertion

90. The heavens may almost be rent thereat, and the earth cleave asunder, and the mountains fall down in pieces,

91. That they ascribe a son to the Beneficent Allah.

92. And it is not worthy of the Beneficent Allah that He should take (to Himself) a son.

93. There is no one in the heavens and the earth but will come to the Beneficent Allah as a servant.

94. Certainly He has comprehensive knowledge of them and He has numbered them (comprehensive) numbering.

95. And every one of them will come to Him on that day of resurrection alone.

96. Surely (as for) those who believe and do good deeds for them will Allah bring about love.

97. So We have only made it easy in your tongue that you may give good news thereby to those who guard (against evil) and warn thereby a vehemently contentious people.

98. And how many a generation have We destroyed before them! Do you see any one of them or hear a sound of them?

The Ruku starts by the query whether the Prophet PBUH does not know that the disbelievers that are committed to wrongs, Allah makes SHAYATIN (the plural of Satan) to incite them on more of wrongs and so they mislead them to wrong ways that ultimately take them totally far away from the Truth; so he does not need to worry about them as Allah is counting all their wrong-doings (especially their adverse speech against the Prophet PBUH and the teachings of Islam); there certainly would come the Day of Judgment when Allah Who is the Most Beneficent, would gather all the virtuous persons to Him with all honor to them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; on that day, He would drive the most guilty persons to the hell-fire thirsty; they have erroneous hopes that those persons whom they take as their intercessors at their resurrection, would provide safety to them at Judgment; they are unable to provide any recommendation for them (and as AAYAT-82 tells clearly, these persons whom they take as their intercessors would become most adverse to them at that time); there nobody would have the power to ask Allah to provide safety to anyone but those only would be able to do that whom Allah permits and that even would only remain for the sinful Muslims; and there are such extreme disbelieving persons among the disbelievers who say that the Beneficent Allah has taken a son; they certainly have made an abominable assertion as such statement is sufficient to ask Allah to destroy the heavens and the earth where even the mountains would fall down in pieces if He wills; but His will is that He has appointed the specific time for its transformation when He would raise all dead to life and He would then provide them their final judgment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that "Beneficent" denotes His attribute which tells that the good virtuous persons only need virtues to ask His mercy for them at Judgment and they do not need any intercession other than that insha-Allah (i.e. by the will of Allah); Al-Hamdu Lillah; AYAAT-92 to AAYAT-95 read, "and it is not worthy of the Beneficent Allah that He should take (to Himself) a son; there is no one in the heavens and the earth but will come to the Beneficent Allah as a servant (so all His creation serve Him and He certainly has no son); certainly He has comprehensive knowledge of them and He has numbered them (comprehensive) numbering (so every person would rise from dead at the Day of Judgment); and every one of them will come to Him on that day of resurrection alone"; the last three AAYAAT of the Ruku mentions the peace with which the good believers live on even at the world as Allah puts affection for them inside all people around them and if any person tries to harm them, these people around show extreme despise for such adverse persons; the division among the mankind is now based on the teachings of the Quran; at one side are the virtuous persons who believe in it whom the Prophet PBUH would give the good tidings of JANNAH and on the other side, are the quarrelsome disbelievers to it whom he would give the warnings of the hell-fire (and extreme punishment even at the world); Allah had destroyed many of such disbelievers previously even, who disbelieved the Truth and now nothing remains of their impression at the world as you O Prophet PBUH express in your teachings quite well; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah TA-HA
(Consists of 8 Ruku; MK-5)

TA-HA-The First Ruku

1. Ta Ha.
2. We have not revealed the Quran to you that you may be unsuccessful.
3. Nay, it is a reminder to him who fears:
4. A revelation from Him Who created the earth and the high heavens.
5. The Beneficent Allah is firm in power.
6. His is what is in the heavens and what is in the earth and what is between them two and what is beneath the ground.

7. And if you utter the saying aloud, then surely He knows the secret, and what is yet more hidden.

8. Allah-- there is no god but He; His are the very best names.

9. And has the story of Musa come to you?

10. When he saw fire, he said to his family: Stop, for surely I see a fire, haply I may bring to you there-from a live coal or find guidance at the fire.

11. So when he came to it, a voice was uttered: O Musa:

12. Surely I am your Lord, therefore put off your shoes; surely you are in the sacred valley, TUWA,

13. And I have chosen you, so listen to what is revealed:

14. Surely I am Allah, there is no god but I, therefore serve Me and keep up prayer for My remembrance:

15. Surely the hour is coming- I am about to make it manifest- so that every soul may be rewarded as it strives:

16. Therefore let not him who believes not in it and follows his low desires, turn you away from it so that you should perish;

17. And what is this in your right hand, O Musa!

18. He said: This is my staff: I recline on it and I beat the leaves with it to make them fall upon my sheep, and I have other uses for it.

19. He said: Cast it down, O Musa!

20. So he cast it down; and lo- it was a serpent running.

21. He said: Take hold of it and fear not; We will restore it to its former state:

22. And press your hand to your side- it shall come out white without evil: another sign:

23. That We may show you of Our greater signs:

24. Go to Pharaoh- surely he has exceeded all limits.

Surah TA-HA starts by the MUQATTA'AAT and it has eight Ruku in total; nearly five of them narrate about the events related to Moses-AS and then the three last ones respectively relate to the Quran, to the event of the creation of Adam and to the necessity to care about AKHIRAT by living the life at the world in the virtuous Islamic manner and by providing the Islamic teachings to all; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the eight AAYAAT at the beginning of the first Ruku tell about the blessing of Allah on the mankind; He has provided the Quran to the Prophet PBUH as blessing to all of the mankind and not as to burden him with any such liability that he is unable to fulfill; he has to provide its teachings to all persons yet only those would find the true guidance from it who do have the fear that if they do not comply to the commands of Allah, they would fall in extreme trouble; the Prophet PBUH would not worry about those who do not give attention to the teachings of the Quran but care to refine those by Islamic manners who have accepted Islam; Allah, the Most Beneficent to the mankind, has provided it as the Guidance to the right path and He has set the world in the most beneficial manner for the mankind so that they live their lives at the world with convenience; if anyone does not see the significance of this beautiful gift to the mankind, Allah would punish him certainly; those who do understand its true worth, they would remain most able to care to the commands of Allah, the true Lord, Who certainly has the total charge of all things; He has not only cared for the spiritual need of the mankind but He also has cared to make the creation in favor to the physical life of the mankind at the earth; He only is the Creator of all the creation and He has made the earth and the high heavens and everything that lies between them and even that which lies at the depths of the earth; He knows whatever a person utters aloud as He knows totally what he speaks in secret even, and what is even more hidden (i.e. he has not yet uttered it but it is at his heart) and He would account for the speech too of all persons at the world; He has all authority with all His good attributes that He has from all times to all times (QADEEM) and that are His very own (ASL) and that are limitless (LA-MEHDUD); certainly, He only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from this Ruku, the Surah takes-up the event of Moses-AS from the times when he had left MADYAN with his family with the intention to reside at some other place; note that Muhammad PBUH, the last of all Messengers of Allah, is very similar to Moses in his task as both had to develop their people by the guidance that Allah had provided them by His books (Torah and the Quran) and had to take them away from the disbelieving people they were in; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Ruku tells that on the route, he saw some light as fire at the side of the Mount TOOR; those were the cold nights and he told his family that he had seen some fire so they would wait as he brings some brand of fire that they might be able to get warmth for themselves or some guidance to the way ahead; he did get the true guidance there as when he got near to that place, he heard the voice of Allah, the true Lord, that "O Moses - I am Allah, the true Lord of all the worlds"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah asked him to take-off his shoes in respect to the place he is in that is TUWA and also asked him to remain most attentive to Him in all his worship especially in reading of SALAH (the most important practice for the person that denotes attention towards Him and the inattentive attitude to assets or/and to status at the life at the world), as He only is the true Lord and He has chosen him as His Messenger (to Bani-Israel) so he must give attention to what He explicitly tells him; He told Moses that the Day of Judgment is certain to come and He wants to keep it hidden so that every person might show his worth and gets his results accordingly; he must avoid such person who does not believe in the Day of Judgment and follows his low desires (and this command implies that Allah would protect him from going towards any wrongs); Al-Hamdu Lillah; there he got the two significant signs from Allah that his staff changed to the huge serpent as he put it down and became his staff again as he picked it up and when he put his hand inside his bosom and pulled it out, it lighted without any affliction; note that Allah had asked him about his staff that was in his right hand before he told him to put it down; he could have answered plainly that this is his staff, but after that answer, he went-on to say that he reclines on it and beats the leaves with it to make them fall upon his sheep, and has other uses too for it; this denotes that the good speech has its merits and Allah sees to it; Moses had mentioned that he has other uses too for it so Allah provided it such manner that it became one of the significant signs of Allah to call towards the Truth; with these signs, Allah sent him to Pharaoh and his people so that they accept Allah as the true

TA-HA-The Second Ruku

25. He said: O my Lord! Expand my breast for me,
26. And make my affair easy to me,
27. And loose the knot from my tongue,
28. (That) they may understand my word;
29. And give to me an aide from my family:
30. Aaron, my brother,
31. Strengthen my back by him,
32. And associate him (with me) in my affair,
33. So that we should glorify Thee much,
34. And remember Thee oft.
35. Surely, Thou art seeing us.
36. He said- you are indeed granted your petition, O Musa
37. And certainly We bestowed on you a favor at another time;
38. When We revealed to your mother what was revealed;
39. Saying- put him into a chest, then cast it down into the river, then the river shall throw him on the shore; there shall take him up one who is an enemy to Me and enemy to him, and I cast down upon you love from Me, and that you might be brought up before My eyes;
40. When your sister went and said- shall I direct you to one who will take charge of him? So We brought you back to your mother, that her eye might be cooled and she should not grieve and you killed a man, then We delivered you from the grief, and We tried you with (a severe) trying. Then you stayed for years among the people of MADYAN; then you came hither as ordained, O Musa.

41. And I have chosen you for Myself:

42. Go you and your brother with My AAYAAT and be not remiss in remembering Me;

43. Go both to Pharaoh as surely he has become inordinate;

44. Then speak to him a gentle word haply he may mind or fear.

45. Both said: O our Lord! Surely we fear that he may hasten to do evil to us or that he may become inordinate.

46. He said: Fear not, surely I am with you both: I do hear and see.

47. So go you both to him and say: Surely we are two apostles of your Lord; therefore send the children of Israel with us and do not torment them! Indeed we have brought to you AAYAT from your Lord, and peace is on him who follows the guidance;

48. Surely it has been revealed to us that the chastisement will surely come upon him who rejects and turns back.

49. (Pharaoh) said: And who is your Lord, O Musa?

50. He said: Our Lord is He Who gave to everything its creation then guided it (to its goal).

51. He said: Then what is the state of the former generations?

52. He said: The knowledge thereof is with my Lord in a book, my Lord errs not, nor does He forget;

53. Who made the earth for you an expanse and made for you therein paths and sent down water from the cloud; then thereby We have brought forth many species of various herbs.

54. Eat and pasture your cattle; most surely there are signs in this for those endowed with understanding.

The Ruku starts with the significant DUA (plea to Allah) of Moses that He grants him the acceptance of the task that Allah has assigned to him and makes it easy for him and provides ease in his speech so that people may understand it; he also pleaded that Allah makes his brother Aaron too His Messenger and provides him as assistant to Moses so that they both glorify Allah much and remember Him most; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this is very important DUA for all those who have the task to provide the teachings of Islam to all people around; certainly, Allah would care to the safety of all such persons in all ways; Allah told him that He accepts his plea and He also told him that He had cared for him once before too; note that at the time of the birth of Moses-AS, the Bani-Israel were facing the most high trial as the Pharaoh Thutmose- II, the weak Pharaoh, had ordered to kill all the male children born that year at Bani-Israel so as to reduce their large population and so at the birth of Moses, his mother put him in some crib with measures that the crib floats on the water of Nile (and it was his wife Hatshepsut known as AASIYAH in the literature of Muslims, who had saved Moses-AS when he was floating at the waters in his crib); it happened that Moses did not take the milk of any women so his sister (MARIAM) who knew that Moses has been saved by the royal family, told the staff at service there that she knows a woman who is able to feed the child; so the mother of Moses was appointed to feed him; Surah

QASAS states that "and We ordained that he refused to suck any foster mother before, so she (his sister) said: shall I point-out to you the people of the house who will take care of him for you, and they will be benevolent to him?; so We gave him back to his mother that her eye might be refreshed, and that she might not grieve, and that she might know that the promise of Allah is true, but most of them do not know" (QASAS-12 & 13); Allah also mentions another incident of his life when He accidentally killed one of the Egyptian persons and fell into extreme worry from which Allah gave him relief as he went to MADYAN and stayed there in peace for many years; it happened that Moses-AS attached himself to the Bani-Israel in whom he belonged when he came at his adolescence; at that time, he saw once one of the Egyptian persons beating one of the men of Bani-Israel and as the man called him for help, he punched the Egyptian person so hard that he died by that blow on the spot and then he regretted that at that very time (and Allah forgave him for that); Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah told him that He provided for these all events that passed on him so as to lead him towards Him as He intended to make him one of His most esteemed Messengers; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah commanded that now Moses and Aaron would go to the Pharaoh who has shown extreme arrogance by his attitudes; but they would address him softly to bring him to the true guidance so that he gets the message of the Truth to realize it or to fear it and comes towards Allah; they both said to Allah, the true Lord, that they have this fear that the Pharaoh might put them into some excessive trouble or may show his arrogance in some other manner to them; Allah assured them not to worry as He is caring for their safety and He hears everything and sees everything; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at AAYAAT-47 & 48 ahead, Allah directs them both what they would say to him; the AAYAAT read, "so go you both to him and say- surely we are two apostles of your Lord; therefore send the children of Israel with us and do not torment them- indeed we have brought to you AAYAT (i.e. the sign which is the miracle of the staff that transformed to the serpent) from your Lord, and peace is on him who follows the guidance; surely it has been revealed to us that the chastisement will surely come upon him who rejects and turns back"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the dialogue that follows between Moses-AS and the Pharaoh at his court tells that the Pharaoh tried to show Moses that he is at error rather than use his administrative power against Moses; this is an interesting point to note and due to this factor, he challenged Moses (by the advice of his chiefs at the court) to prove himself against the skilled magicians that he would call from different places of the land; he might have thought that as they win the battle against Moses, he would lose all grounds to apply for the release of Bani-Israel and not only the grip of Pharaoh on the administration would strengthen but the Bani-Israel would remain most content with all troubles that they were in; though he had given the verdict against the magicians for their execution when they accepted the call of Moses and believed in Allah, the true Lord, yet he still could not decide anything against Moses in any manner; note that even when his chiefs had asked him if he would leave Moses and his people to challenge him so openly, he could only mention that he would slay their sons and spare their women (though this time it did not come to practice), and surely they (i.e. the Egyptians) were masters over the Bani-Israel (see AARAAF-127); so Allah provided for the safety of Moses and Aaron totally just as He had given His word to them beforehand; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Pharaoh asked Moses about Allah, the true Lord, and though the question meant for both of them but he addressed Moses by name as Moses was speaking for the virtuous fundamental teachings of Islam; Moses told him that He was their true Lord who created everything in the shape He intended and gave that its specific natural guidance to fulfill the demands upon it; we have noted this at our study of the Quran at the last part of AARAAF-54 at its seventh Ruku that says "surely His is the creation and the command; blessed is Allah, the Lord of the worlds"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; then the Pharaoh asked a tricky question that if the mankind has to believe in Allah then what would happen to their ancestors who had lived in disbelief and had died upon that; if Moses had answered to this question that they would face utmost torment at the Day of Judgment if they had received the fundamental message that Allah only is the true Lord and the Day of Judgment is certain to come, it would have steered prejudice among those who were hearing his speech but he kept his cool and told him plainly that Allah knows better about it as He has the written record of all persons; He neither writes anything against the facts nor He forgets anything to write so that is the final thing to say about it; but the people at present need to care for their own-selves and so they need to realize that He made the earth for all people an expanse and made for them therein paths and sent down water from the cloud; these all are His signs because they tell explicitly that He had provided ease to the mankind to live at the earth and not any hardship as He wants them to get success at AKHIRAT by their attention to Allah only Who only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; then thereby Allah has brought forth many species of various herbs so that all people eat of it and pasture their cattle; most surely there are beautiful signs in this for all those who do really have notable intelligence; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

TA-HA-The Third Ruku

55. From it We created you and into it We shall send you back and from it will We raise you a second time.

56. And truly We showed him Our signs, all of them, but he rejected and refused.

57. Said he: Have you come to us that you should turn us out of our land by your magic, O Musa?

58. So we too will produce before you magic like it, therefore make between us and you an appointment, which we should not break, (neither) we nor you, (in) a central place.

59. (Musa) said: Your appointment is the day of the Festival and let the people be gathered together in the early forenoon.

60. So Pharaoh turned his back and settled his plan, then came.

61. Musa said to them: Woe to you- do not forge a lie against Allah, lest He destroy you by a punishment, and he who forges (a lie) indeed fails to attain (his desire).

62. So they disputed with one another about their affair and kept the discourse secret.

63. They said: These are most surely two magicians who wish to turn you out from your land by their magic and to take away your best traditions.

64. Therefore settle your plan, then come standing in ranks and he will prosper indeed this day who overcomes.

65. They said: O Musa- will you cast or shall we be the first who cast down?

66. He said- Nay- you cast down then lo- their cords and their rods- it was imaged to him on account of their magic as if they were running.

67. So Musa conceived in his mind a fear.

68. We said: Fear not, surely you shall be the uppermost,

69. And cast down what is in your right hand; it shall devour what they have wrought; they have wrought only the plan of a magician, and the magician shall not be successful wherefrom he may come.

70. And the magicians were cast down making obeisance; they said: We believe in the Lord of Aaron and Musa.

71. (Pharaoh) said: You believe in him before I give you leave; most surely he is the chief of you who taught you enchantment, therefore I will certainly cut off your hands and your feet on opposite sides, and I will certainly crucify you on the trunks of the palm trees, and certainly you will come to know which of us is the more severe and the more abiding in chastising.

72. They said: We do not prefer you to what has come to us of clear arguments and to He Who made us, therefore decide what you are going to decide; you can only decide about this world's life.

73. Surely we believe in our Lord that He may forgive us our sins and the magic to which you compelled us; and Allah is better and more abiding.

74. Whoever comes to his Lord (being) guilty, for him is surely the hell-fire; he shall not die therein, nor shall he live.

75. And whoever comes to Him a believer (and) he has done good deeds indeed, these it is who shall have the high ranks,

76. The gardens of perpetuity, beneath which rivers flow, to abide therein; and this is the reward of him who has purified himself.

This Ruku tells about the contest between Moses-AS and the skilled magicians; the first couple of AAYAAT tell that Allah guided the Pharaoh and his people to AKHIRAT through Moses and Aaron that every person has to die and his physique would go inside the earth from where Allah had created the physique of Adam-AS and thence He would bring it forth once again at the Day of Judgment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah showed the Pharaoh many of His signs yet he falsified and rejected the true guidance completely; he challenged Moses to contest the magicians that he would call from the different parts of the land and Moses accepted it by the settlement that they would have this contest at the day when the Egyptians celebrated some festival at their land; the fourteenth Ruku of AARAAF too relates this event and provides some detail to it; note that the magicians were so confident of their win that they asked Pharaoh if they would get their due prize if they win; Pharaoh assured them of that and also told them that they would be among his near ones getting high respect among the people; they had said that Pharaoh would get more of honor as they win (and it automatically implied that he would get most high disrespect if they lose) and then they asked Moses who among them would begin the contest; he asked them to open the show so they threw their ropes and canes that seemed as the wriggling serpents to the onlookers; it certainly was the most skillful demonstration of their spell of magic that caused fear to Moses that if he also presents something similar to it, that would not cause impression for the release of the Bani-Israel from their slavery; but Allah commanded Moses to put his staff at the ground and it would see to their spell in its own manner; as he did so, it turned into the huge serpent that swallowed up all the falsehood that they faked; so the Truth manifested and their doings became vain so they were vanquished there and Pharaoh and his courtiers became lower; the skillful magicians that were gathered there fell to ground in prostration to Allah and said that they believe in the Lord of the worlds Who is the Lord of Moses and Aaron; note that they totally clarified that by the mention of the Lord, they mean Allah whom Moses and Aaron believe so that Pharaoh and his people have no doubts about their words as Pharaoh presented his own self as the lord to the people; note also that the reason to their immediate belief was their view that the huge serpent ate up their doings which they knew clearly would not be any magic in any manner as they were most skillful at spells of magic; it plainly was the most amazing miracle that Moses had presented to them so this led them to believe in the words of Moses then and there; Pharaoh changed his attitude at once about them that they have believed in the miracle before Pharaoh has allowed them to believe; note his arrogance that he wanted the people under his authority to believe only that which he intended that they should; he blamed them of being associates of Moses as the face-saving statement for him amongst the people and told the people that they all have united as they intend to expel the people set at their lands out of that; he told the magicians that he would punish them severely by cutting off one of their hands and one of their legs (opposite sides) and then he would crucify them all; their answer plainly was that they would surely return to their true Lord and whatever torments that he would cause them that would relate only to their lives at the world and all persons do have to die; what else the Pharaoh had found in them except that they had believed in the miracle from Allah when it has come to them and they also told him plainly that they repent that they accepted to contest Moses on his pursuance and they would ask Allah to have mercy about that too; they made DUA to Allah, the true Lord, to pour out upon them patience and to cause them to die in submission to Him only; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that those persons who rise much high in something that has the power to affect people physically or spiritually by the will of Allah, they often try that they do not challenge any person by their worthy ability as they feel it an unworthy attitude towards the power that they have acquired in them with notable excellence; note also that their statement tells that when the person asks for benefits for himself keeping to the righteous direction with virtuous intention, that even may lead him to the right path; we find here that just a little while back, they were asking the worldly benefits from Pharaoh but when they saw that the true benefits is where Moses is calling them to, they did not take any time to accept it and to become firm on it; also, they had consulted each other well with virtuous intention before the contest when Moses had advised them to leave their stance and to accept the righteousness (so they did have reluctance to the contest as the good speech of Moses did affect them to review their stance) and then only they had taken-up the challenge; so that consultation, though it did at first lead them to go on with the contest, also had its impression at their transformation towards the right path; certainly, Allah guides whom He wills and He only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; in the last three AAYAAT of the Ruku, Allah provides the true concept of success as these AAYAAT read, "whoever comes to his Lord (being) guilty, for him is surely the hell-fire; he shall not die therein, nor shall he live (that means he would not appreciate the life there because of extreme troubles there and nothing else); and whoever comes to Him a believer and he has done good deeds indeed, these it is who shall have the high ranks; (that would be at) the gardens of perpetuity, beneath which flow the beautiful streams, to abide therein; and this is the reward of him who has purified himself (from all wrongs by asking shelter from all the satanic pursuance at the life at the world and by asking Allah for His mercy on all the wrongs that he had committed therein while his death is yet not come to him)"; certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

TA-HA-The Fourth Ruku

77. And certainly We revealed to Musa, saying: Travel by night with My servants, then make for them a dry path in the sea, not fearing to be overtaken, nor being afraid.

78. And Pharaoh followed them with his armies, so there came upon them of the sea that which came upon them.

79. And Pharaoh led astray his people and he did not guide (them) aright.

80. O children of Israel- indeed We delivered you from your enemy, and We made a covenant with you on the blessed side of the mountain, and We sent to you the manna and the quails.

81. Eat of the good things that We have given you for sustenance, and be not inordinate with respect to them, lest My wrath should be due to you, and to whomsoever My wrath is due be shall perish indeed.

82. And most surely I am most Forgiving to him who repents and believes and does good, then continues to follow the right direction.

83. And what caused you to hasten from your people, O Musa?

84. He said: They are here on my track and I hastened on to Thee, my Lord, that Thou might be pleased.

85. He said: So surely We have tried your people after you, and SAMIRI has led them astray.

86. So Musa returned to his people wrathful, sorrowing. Said he: O my people- did not your Lord promise you a goodly promise: did then the time seem long to you, or did you wish that displeasure from your Lord should be due to you, so that you broke (your) promise to me?

87. They said: We did not break (our) promise to you of our own accord, but we were made to bear the burdens of the ornaments of the people, then we made a casting of them, and thus did SAMIRI suggest.

88. So he brought forth for them a calf, a (mere) body, which had a mooing sound, so they said: This is your god and the god of Musa, but he forgot.

89. What- could they not see that it did not return to them a reply, and (that) it did not control any harm or benefit for them?

This Ruku tells about the successful escape of the Bani-Israel from Egypt in the command of Moses though the Pharaoh and his army did follow them; it happened when Allah told Moses to lead the Bani-Israel to safety and they crossed the Red Sea that gave way to them all when Moses struck the waters there with his staff by the command of Allah; but the Pharaoh and his army that followed them were drowned there while the Bani-Israel looked on to it; certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; we have studied this at other places too and YOUNUS-90 is one of them; so Allah rescued the Bani-Israel from their enemy and He gave Torah to Moses-AS at TOOR and He took the oath from Bani-Israel that they would accept the teachings of Torah and apply it totally to the life; He also provided the shade of the cloud at the desert where they were stranded for forty years and the MANN (the sweetmeat that manifested in the mornings at the trees) and the SALWA (the small edible bird that came in the evenings near to the area where they resided) to eat there; these were the pure edibles that Allah gave them as His blessing to them but they asked for different vegetables that they used to take-in at Egypt so in a way, they rejected what Allah has provided for them and that was injustice to their own self; but Allah cares for those who ask on for His mercy on their wrongs and keep to the true belief and do good deeds then they stay firm on the right path; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-83 tells that Allah asked Moses what caused him to hasten to come at TOOR before his people (as he had chosen few of chiefs among the Bani-Israel to take with him to TOOR) and AAYAT-84 tells his answer that he said that they are here on his track following him and he had hastened on to Allah, the true Lord, so that He gets His pleasure; note that Moses had hurried to TOOR as Allah had taken the promise from him to be there for thirty days and he wanted Allah to be pleased with him on his haste to meet Him so Allah gave him the Ten Commandments at that time; he stayed there for thirty days and then Allah asked him to stay for ten more days so it became forty days; note that forty days and forty years is such period that is often mentioned by the ULAMA of Islam as significant for the spread of Islamic teachings because it has some latent capability to purify the self when the person is attentive to Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note also that it is forty centuries at these current times that have passed since Abraham-AS provided the fundamental teachings of Islam at the ancient Babylon; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the AAYAT tells that Moses had appointed Aaron to care for the Bani-Israel so he was not much worried about them; AAYAAT ahead tell that Allah told him that Allah had examined their belief by trial that SAMIRI, the notable magician in them, had caused in them by the will of Allah; he had formed some shape of calf by heating up on fire the jewelry that the Bani-Israel gave to him; this jewelry belonged to the Egyptian people and they had trusted the Bani-Israel to provide safety to that; when they had to flee out of Egypt very swiftly, there was no time to return that to their owners and now its possession was burden to them; so on the direction of the magician SAMIRI, they put it into the formation of the calf that he made for them as something to worship using those ornaments; when Moses returned towards them, he was most angry and grieved due to the idiotic mistake that they had committed behind him which showed that they had not awaited the command of Allah (i.e. the Ten Commandments) that would have kept them to the right path; even the chiefs in them did not reach TOOR in his following which they had promised to him and Allah had allowed that visit to them; so Allah put His wrath upon those persons among them who were responsible to worship the golden calf (that He commanded their execution to death) and so they were disgraced due to their unjust doing; so this is how Allah punishes those who devise extreme lies but He forgives those (at AKHIRAT) who repent truly at the life at the world after they had committed extreme wrongs and come to the true belief; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that Exodus puts the blame of making the golden calf and then asking his people for its worship onto Aaron-AS; he was the Messenger of Allah and he certainly was not the man responsible to that heinous sin but the Quran names SAMIRI, the notable magician, that was responsible for this filth and acquits Aaron totally from the commitment of this heinous crime; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last three AAYAAT of the Ruku read, "they said- we did not break (our) promise to you of our own accord, but we were made to bear the burdens of the ornaments of the people, then we made a casting of them, and thus did SAMIRI suggest; so he brought forth for them a calf, a (mere) body, which had a mooing sound, so they said- this is your god and the god of Musa, but he forgot; what- could they not see that it did not return to them a reply, and (that) it did not control any harm or benefit for them?"; every person would bear in mind that Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

TA-HA-The Fifth Ruku

90. And certainly Aaron had said to them before: O my people- you are only tried by it, and surely your Lord is the Beneficent Allah, therefore follow me and obey my order.

91. They said: We will by no means cease to keep to its worship until Musa returns to us.

92. (Musa) said: O HAROUN (Aaron) - what prevented you, when you saw them going astray,

93. So that you did not follow me? Did you then disobey my order?

94. He said- O son of my mother- seize me not by my beard nor by my head; I was surely afraid lest you should say that you have caused a division among the children of Israel and not waited for my word.

95. He said- what was then your object, O SAMIRI?

96. He said- I saw (the angel Gabriel) what they did not see, so I took a handful (of the dust) from the footsteps of the messenger, then I threw it in the casting; thus did my soul commend to me

97. He said- begone then, surely for you it will be in this life to say- touch (me) not; and surely there is a threat for you, which shall not be made to fail to you, and look at your god to whose worship you kept (so long); we will certainly burn it, then we will certainly scatter it a (wide) scattering in the sea.

98. Your worship would only be to Allah, there is no god but He; He comprehends all things in (His) knowledge.

99. Thus, do We relate to you (some) of the news of what has gone before; and indeed We have given to you the Reminder from Ourselves.

100. Whoever turns aside from it, he shall surely bear burden on the day of resurrection

101. Abiding in this (state), and evil will it be for them to bear on the day of resurrection;

102. That would be the day when the trumpet shall be blown and We will gather the guilty, blue-eyed, on that day

103. They shall consult together secretly that you did tarry but the count of ten.

104. We know best what they say when the fairest of them in course would say that you tarried but a day.

The Ruku begins by the defense of Aaron-AS that he had asked the Bani-Israel not to worship the golden calf as they have been tried by it and they have to show that these things would not deter them from the true belief; he told them most explicitly that surely the Beneficent Allah is their only true Lord and they ought to follow him and obey his order rather than take the direction of SAMIRI; but they did not listen to him and gave the lame excuse to their idiocy that they would wait for Moses to judge their doing; on his return, Moses-AS asked Aaron-AS strictly about the event (even by holding his beard and the hair of his head) that why he did not follow him when all this happened and he told him that he feared that Moses would blame him if he comes following him that he has caused division among the Bani-Israel; he also told him that he tried his best to stop them but they would not listen and came near to killing him; so then Moses asked SAMIRI about all that episode and on his unsatisfactory reply, Moses told him that he would be wandering about asking people not to touch him (so it seems that he was affected by some affliction in which any touch to his physique gave him extreme pain) and then Moses destroyed the calf by burning it and scattering its ashes into the sea-water; note that SAMIRI told Moses that he had seen something which others had not seen and this seems an indication that he saw an angel somehow and he took the dust from the place where he had seen him step (or the object upon which he rode step); he had put this dust in the form of the calf that provided some attraction to the wrong doers among the Bani-Israel towards it; note also that Moses did not worry that the form of the calf has the dust of the step of the angel inside it and destroyed it as it was the object that had become challenge to the worship of Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the worship would only be to Allah because there is no god but He; He comprehends all things in His knowledge and His authority is absolute; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last six AYAAT of the Ruku tell that the Day of Judgment would certainly take place where those persons who reject the Quran, would face extreme burden of that rejection; their burden would be most extreme burden for certain on that Day of Judgment when the trumpet would be blown (the second one for the coming of the Day of Judgment; the first one would be for the end of the world) that would cause them to become extremely fearful; and they would feel that they had not stayed much at the graves as some of them would take it to be ten days and those that would be more near to facts about this would say that it seems only a day that they had tarried at the graves; note that one day there has the count equivalent to one thousand years of the life at the world; and MA'ARIJ-4 tells about a day that has the length of fifty thousand years by words that "to Him ascend the angels and the Spirit in a day the measure of which is fifty thousand years (by the count at the life at the world)"; and certainly, Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the translation of these last six AAYAAT of the Ruku that relate to the resurrection is that "thus, do We relate to you (some) of the news of what has gone before; and indeed We have given to you the Reminder (the Quran) from Ourselves; whoever turns aside from it, he shall surely bear burden on the day of resurrection; abiding in this (state), and evil will it be for them to bear on the day of resurrection; that would be the day when the trumpet shall be blown and We will gather the guilty, blue-eyed, on that day; they shall consult together secretly that you did tarry but the count of ten; We know best what they say when the fairest of them in course would say that you tarried but a day"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

TA-HA-The Sixth Ruku

105. And they ask you about the mountains. Say: My Lord will carry them away from the roots.

106. Then leave it a plain, smooth level

107. You shall not see therein any crookedness or unevenness.

108. On that day they shall follow the inviter, there is no crookedness in him, and the voices shall be low before the Beneficent Allah so that you shall not hear aught but a soft sound.

109. On that day shall no intercession avail except of him whom the Beneficent Allah allows and whose word He is pleased with;

110. He knows what is before them and what is behind them, while they do not comprehend it in knowledge.

111. And the faces shall be humbled before the Living, the Self-subsistent Allah, and he who bears iniquity is indeed a failure.

112. And whoever does good works and he is a believer, he shall neither have fear of injustice nor of the withholding of his due.

113. And thus have We sent it down an Arabic Quran, and have distinctly set forth therein of threats that they may guard (against evil) or that it may produce reminder for them.

114. Supremely exalted is therefore Allah, the King, the Truth, and do not make haste with the Quran before its revelation is made complete to you and say: O my Lord-increase me in knowledge.

115. And certainly We gave a commandment to Adam before, but he forgot; and We did not find in him any determination.

This Ruku relates about the day that would be the end of the world and it also tells about the Day of Judgment when Allah would bring all of dead to life; note that former is named generally as QIYAMAT and the latter is named generally as YAUMUL-QIYAMAT (the Day of Judgment); the first three AAYAAT tell about QIYAMAT that the mountains would be rooted off the ground and the earth would become leveled in such manner that there would neither be any crookedness in it nor any protruding heights; see also Surah KAHF-47 that states, "And the day on which We will remove away the mountains and you will see the earth leveled plain and We will gather them and leave not any one of them behind"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next five AAYAAT (i.e. from AAYAT-108 to AAYAT-112), relate the Day of Judgment; note that the Quran relates together both of these days at places and it might be that the first trumpet for the occurrence of the last day of the world starts-up the setting by the will of Allah for the second of these days that is the Day of Judgment which would take place by the second trumpet by the will of Allah; and certainly Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu

Lillah; Surah NAZI'AAT-6 to 9 mention them as if they are a single day as they read that "on the day when the first trumpet resounds; and the second follows it; on that day hearts beat painfully; while eyes are downcast"; so this tells that the time is so very short between these two of trumpets that Allah mentions them as a single day; however, this thing is most notable that the day there equals normally one thousand years of the life at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; on the Day of Judgment, there would be extreme quiet except for very low sounds and no person would be able to provide any intercession for any other except to whom Allah gives the permission to recommend some person (who though sinful, would have risen from the dead as the believer in the fundamental teachings of Islam); Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-110 implies that only Allah is fully aware if someone is really rightful to recommendation or not and no one else does understand it; it states that "He knows what is before them and what is behind them, while they do not comprehend it in knowledge"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the two groups of people there would be most evident as the unjust persons would face extreme failure and the virtuous persons would receive the true success that only relates to AKHIRAT; AAYAAT-111 & 112 state, "And the faces shall be humbled before the Living, the Self-subsistent Allah, and he who bears iniquity is indeed a failure; and whoever does good works and he is a believer, he shall neither have fear of injustice nor of the withholding of his due"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT to the last AAYAT of the Ruku, Allah tells that He has provided the Quran for all persons to see the true guidance and accept it; He has provided it to the mankind through Muhammad PBUH, the last of His Messengers, as He had given His word to Adam that He certainly would provide the Guidance to the right path for all persons to see time & again and all persons need to remember it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this Quran is in clear Arabic with the warnings that they might fear the consequence of disbelief and take it as the reminder to live the life at the world virtuously; Allah is the true King Who certainly is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT also direct the Prophet PBUH that he would not recite the WAHI rapidly with Gabriel-AS but he would hear it attentively till the last of WAHI that he gets at that time; he worried that he might forget something from its words but Allah assured him that he would not forget anything of it so he would hear it most patiently; note that AAYAT-6 & 7 of Surah AA'LA state, "We will make you recite so you shall not forget; except what Allah pleases, surely He knows the manifest, and what is hidden"; here the term "except what Allah pleases" means to leave the practice on some command at some AAYAT by the permission of Allah yet its recitation at the Quran would still go on; there are five AAYAAT that relate to this issue and the note at the thirteenth Ruku of Surah BAQARAH (for its AAYAT-106) elaborates upon the issue; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the specific DUA that Allah teaches him here would not only give him the control to grasp the words of WAHI but they also would provide its meanings to him most explicitly; note that this is most beautiful DUA to Allah for all such Muslim persons who strive highly to understand the Quran in the best of manners and they need to recite it extensively remaining totally attentive towards Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku states that though Allah had given the commandment to Adam before not to go near the tree that has the prohibited fruit taking care that the Satan is his enemy, but he forgot that and did not show the determination that he needed to fulfill that commandment; however, as he asked Allah for mercy, He forgave him & Eve but He told them that all his descendants needed to remember that they would live in compliance to the commandment of Allah as then only they would receive JANNAH, their actual dwelling place, again; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

TA-HA-The Seventh Ruku

116. And when We said to the angels: Make obeisance to Adam, they made obeisance, but IBLIS (did it not); he refused.

117. So We said: O Adam! This is an enemy to you and to your wife; therefore, let him not drive you both forth from the garden so that you should be unhappy;

118. Surely it is (ordained) for you that you shall not be hungry therein nor bare of clothing;

119. And that you shall not be thirsty therein nor shall you feel the heat of the sun.

120. But the Satan made an evil suggestion to him; he said: O Adam! Shall I guide you to the tree of immortality and a kingdom which decays not?

121. Then they both ate of it, so their evil inclinations became manifest to them, and they both began to cover themselves with leaves of the garden, and Adam disobeyed his Lord, so his life became evil (to him).

122. Then his Lord chose him, so He turned to him and guided (him).

123. He said: Get forth you two there-from, all (of you), one of you (is) enemy to another. So there will surely come to you guidance from Me, then whoever follows My guidance, he shall not go astray nor be unhappy;

124. And whoever turns away from My reminder, his shall be a straitened life, and We will raise him on the day of resurrection, blind.

125. He shall say: My Lord- why hast Thou raised me blind and I was a seeing one indeed?

126. He will say: Even so, Our AAYAAT came to you but you neglected them; even thus shall you be forsaken this day.

127. And thus do We recompense him who is extravagant and does not believe in the AAYAAT of his Lord, and certainly the chastisement of the hereafter is severer and more

128. Does it not then direct them aright how many of the generations in whose dwelling-places they go about We destroyed before them? Most surely there are signs in this for those endowed with understanding.

This Ruku narrates the event of the creation of Adam & Eve for the sixth time and the challenge they faced from the Satan; he had not accepted the superiority of Adam when Allah created Adam and blew of His spirit inside him but he, the Satan, had become the sworn enemy of the mankind; we have studied this event in detail by the AAYAAT of the Quran at the supplementary note that I, MSD, provided at the second Ruku of Surah AARAAF (for AAYAT-11) and that suffices here insha-Allah; here the Ruku tells that Allah had warned Adam & Eve that the Satan would try to misguide them both so that they both may lose JANNAH and this beautiful place is such where they would neither be hungry ever nor naked; also, they would neither be thirsty at JANNAH nor they would ever face the scorching heat of the sun here; so they need to remain most cautious of the satanic pursuance to them; but it happened that the Satan blew suggestions at the insides of Adam & Eve and they both ultimately fell for his talk and ate the prohibited fruit; due to this, their hidden parts became manifest to both of them, and they both began to cover themselves with leaves of JANNAH (the garden); so at this, Allah addressed them that why did they eat the prohibited fruit, only because of the argument that the Satan presented to misguide them; note that the Satan suggested to them that their eternal survival and that also in the royal manner, depends on eating the prohibited fruit; Allah had clearly warned them that the Satan was their open enemy so at His address to them, Adam & Eve both asked for His forgiveness and asked for His blessing to them so Allah forgave them but told them that they would only get His blessing when they pass an examination at the world; they (and their descendants) would have the true Belief and the righteous deeds according to that true Belief so that is how they would get their dwelling place JANNAH again; they all would be obedient to Allah and they would remember with determination that IBLIS, the Satan, is their open enemy; so this is how Adam & Eve came to the earth and from that time, the clash of the good & the evil has been taking place in all the history of the Man in which the good (that always is the same at all times and at all places) always came out as the winner and the Satan who presented the evil in many different colors time and again, always lost his challenge to the mankind; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah had told Adam that He would provide His Guidance to the right path to all peoples of the world (through His Messengers and after the last of them i.e. Muhammad PBUH, by the Muslims at the world that have the knowledge of the Quran); the Muslims need to develop TAQWA inside which means that they would fear that nothing from their side leads to the displeasure of Allah and they would hope that Allah would save them from all satanic manners of living; those who accept the true guidance, they would neither fear about anything of the future (that might cause anxiety), nor they would have to grieve upon anything of the past (that might cause depression); they would live at necessities remaining grateful to Allah and so they would never face the lack of necessities even at their lives at the world that may be the lack of foods, the lack of clothing, the lack of clean water to drink and the lack of necessary shelter to live-in; but upon those who reject it totally in all their attitudes, His wrath would certainly fall and their lives at the world would remain deprived of the true satisfaction inside due to their insatiable wants at the world and as they rise from dead, they would rise as blind persons; this would happen because they forgot the commands of Allah in their practice at the world so Allah would be uncaring to them at AKHIRAT; they would remain in the severe and eternal chastisement at the hell-fire; in addition to the true guidance that all persons receive at the world, they do not even learn from history that Allah has destroyed many of such generations who challenged the commands of Allah and these people are even living-in such places where those generations used to live-in; so even the observation to historical facts would provide certain signs for those who are truly endowed with understanding; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

TA-HA-The Last Ruku

129. And had there not been a word (that had) already gone forth from your Lord and an appointed term then it would surely have been made to cleave (to them).

130. Bear then patiently what they say, and glorify your Lord by the praising of Him before the rising of the sun and before its setting, and during hours of the night do also glorify (Him) and during parts of the day, that you may be well pleased

131. And do not stretch your eyes after that with which We have provided different classes of them, (of) the splendor of this world's life, that We may thereby try them; and the sustenance (given) by your Lord is better and more abiding.

132. And enjoin prayer on your followers, and steadily adhere to it; We do not ask you for subsistence; We do give you subsistence, and the (good) end is for guarding (against evil).

133. And they say: Why does he not bring to us a sign from his Lord? Has not there come to them a clear evidence of what is in the previous books?

134. And had We destroyed them with chastisement before this, they would certainly have said: O our Lord- why didst Thou not send to us an apostle, for then we should have followed Thy AAYAAT before that we met disgrace and shame.

135. Say: Everyone is waiting so you wait too; so you will come to know who the follower is of the even path and who goes aright.

This last Ruku of the Surah that comprises of seven AAYAAT, tells at its beginning that there is set time for their punishment upon their extreme disbelief so it would occur at that time only; then it provides briefly the manner for the Muslim person (especially who calls towards the practice of Islam) to live at the world and tells about his good end; then it tells about the unreasonable objections of the disbelievers to the Prophet PBUH briefly and that they would suffer highly at the Day of Judgment; the first AAYAT says, "And had there not been a word (that had) already gone forth from your Lord and an appointed term then it would surely have been made to cleave (to them)"; so their punishment would come at its time at their lives at the world and they have got the chance to accept the fundamentals of Islam before that time to save their selves from that punishment and from the torments of the hell-fire at AKHIRAT; the next AAYAT asks the Prophet PBUH to bear their objections and their negative speech with patience; note that this direction is for all Muslims who intend to practice the Islamic teachings as much as possible in their lives; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the AAYAT guides him (and all Muslims) to read SALAH with care by words, "and glorify your Lord by the praising of Him before the rising of the sun

(FAJR) and before its setting (ASR), and during hours of the night (MAGHRIB and ISHA) do also glorify (Him) and during parts (at both directions) of the day (that is ZUHR when the sun has crossed the mid-heaven and CHAASHT up-to some period before the sun comes over-head at the mid-heaven; CHAASHT is also called the SALAH of DHUHAA but it is not obligatory as the other five though it is feasible that the Muslims care for it at Fridays) that you may be well pleased" because reading of SALAH for Allah would surely cause peace inside (see also RA'AD-27 & 28); note that the Quran has mentioned SABR (patience that provides pleasure in living with necessities in the world) and SALAH (prayers to Allah that provides total attention towards care to AKHIRAT) together at different places (for instance at the nineteenth Ruku of BAQARAH); these both SABR and SALAH that respectively keep away from all base desires and strengthen the attention towards Allah to get His pleasure, are easy to take for those only who do understand well that they have to answer for their belief and their deeds at AKHIRAT (the eternal life ahead of this life at the world); Al-Hamdu Lillah; note also that to achieve the pleasure of Allah is the only aim of life (see Surah ZAARIAAT-56); Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-131 directs not even to see how much of the assets of the world they have gathered and not even to care what are their achievements in their people that are just the manifest beauty of the life at the world as that all is so, that Allah puts them into utmost trial by them; certainly Allah provides better to those who are truly attentive to Him as whatever they receive from Him at the life at the world, it is more than enough for their sustenance and the success at

AKHIRAT certainly is the true success; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the AAYAT reads, "and do not stretch your eyes after that with which We have provided different classes of them, (of) the splendor of this world's life, that We may thereby try them; and the sustenance (given to the virtuous persons at the world's life) by your Lord is better and (that given to them at AKHIRAT is) more abiding"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT explicitly tells that Allah does not intend that the true Muslims who have chosen to spread His word to all peoples of the world and guide them to the Truth keeping themselves most committed to the practice of Islam, apply their times to earnings for their sustenance and for the sustenance of their dependents; so He assures that He would make such ways that they get their sustenance with most ease and provide their liabilities with convenience; they need to go on spreading the teachings of Islam sincerely and certainly they (and all those who live upon Islam with highest of commitment) would get the true success at AKHIRAT by the blessing of Allah; the AAYAT reads, "and enjoin prayer on your followers (that actually are your near ones), and steadily adhere to it; We do not ask you (to work more than slight that is extremely needed) for subsistence; We do give you subsistence, and the (good) end is for guarding (against evil by living in total confirmation to Islam)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last three AAYAAT provide the answer to the disbelievers about their demand of such sign that would prove to them that Muhammad PBUH is the Messenger of Allah and these AAYAAT also provide the illustration about their plight at the Day of Judgment if they reject the message of Allah that he is giving to them; these AAYAAT read, "and they say- why does he not bring to us a sign from his Lord?- has not there come to them a clear evidence (in the Holy Book Quran) of what is in the previous books?- and had We destroyed them with chastisement before this (without providing them the true guidance), they would certainly have said (at AKHIRAT)- O our Lord- why didst Thou not send to us an apostle (who would have provided the true guidance), for then we should have followed Thy AAYAAT before that we met disgrace and shame (at this day); say- everyone is waiting so you wait too (for the ultimate result to the challenge that the disbelievers have given to the Prophet PBUH); so you will come to know (not only at AKHIRAT but also at the world) who the follower is of the even path and who goes aright"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah ANBIYA
(Consists of 7 Ruku; MK-10)

ANBIYA-The First Ruku

1. Their reckoning has drawn near to men, and in heedlessness are they turning aside.

2. There comes not to them a new reminder from their Lord but they hear it while they sport,
3. Their hearts trifling; and those who are unjust counsel together in secret: He is nothing but a mortal like yourselves; what- will you then yield to enchantment while you see?
4. He said: My Lord knows what is spoken in the heaven and the earth, and He is the Hearing, the Knowing.
5. Nay--- they say - medleys of dreams; nay- he has forged it; nay- he is a poet; so let him bring to us a sign as the former (prophets) were sent (with).
6. There did not believe before them any town which We destroyed, will they then believe?
7. And We did not send before you any but men to whom We sent revelation, so ask the followers of the reminder if you are not aware.
8. And We did not make them bodies not eating the food, and they were not to abide.
9. Then We made Our promise good to them, so We delivered them and those whom We pleased, and We destroyed the extravagant.
10. Certainly We have revealed to you the Book in which is your good remembrance; what- do you not then understand?

Surah ANBIYA starts by the statement that "their reckoning has drawn near to men, and in heedlessness are they turning aside"; this reckoning is the day when the world is to end and all men are totally oblivious of its proximity (except for those who truly believe in Islam); note that the arrival of Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, was the first major sign of QIYAMAT (the last day of the world); note also that Surah ANBIYA guides explicitly to the three fundamental teachings of Islam that are TAUHID, RISALAT and AKHIRAT that all of ANBIYA (the Messengers of Allah) have provided to the mankind; it tells clearly that those people who do not take-up the fundamental teachings of Islam in their belief and live on them practically, they are eliminated eventually from the face of earth by the punishment that Allah sends upon them and ultimately, only the impression of the Truth prevails; Al-Hamdu Lillah; there are such disbelievers in men who mock whatever new reminder that comes to them and they hear it only to make fun of it; their hearts do not grab the message that they have received; they council secretly how this would be a Messenger of Allah when he only is human like all men; they used to say that to hear him is to submit to magic that is not done by the persons who think deeply; note that the Satan made this grave mistake to see the manifest about the Man but he did not give any consideration to the inside of the Man; so he took Adam-AS as much inferior to him and disobeyed Allah, the true Lord; the notable thing is that the Messenger is manifestly a man yet his spirit is most refined as Allah sends WAHI (revelations) to His Messenger that enables him to guide all the mankind; the disbelievers called Muhammad PBUH as one of the human beings but their stance had no substance because the Messengers of Allah had always been men from among the human beings but their mistake was that they took him as human like all men; the Messenger warned such disbelievers that Allah knows whatever is spoken by anyone in the heaven and the earth as

He is Most Hearing Who hears everything and Most Knowing Who knows the intentions of the speaker totally well, so they would get the most severe punishment for the wrongs they are speaking about Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah; AAYAT-5 relates about their statements about the Quran that there are different types of persons in them who take it as medleys of thoughts or something that Muhammad PBUH has forged by himself or something relating to poetry that he has ably presented as he is a poet; these all statements indicated that they took him as the author to the Quran; MA'AZ-ALLAH (shelter of Allah, I do take); the disbelievers wanted him to present some miracle that matched the miracles that the Messengers of Allah before have brought for the validity of their claim as the disbelievers rejected the Quran as his miracle; Allah answers to their demand about the miracle first and afterwards provides the answers to their other objections; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-6 states that "there did not believe before them any town which We destroyed, will they then believe?"- Allah did not send any other miracle at the times of Muhammad PBUH except for the Quran and other amazing things like the trunk of the Dates-Tree (HANNANA) that cried-out when a special seat other than it was made for the Prophet (PBUH) at MASJID-NABAWI and like water gushing out of his fingers and like the tearing of the Moon apart when he was at MINA etc. are not taken to be his miracles in the strict sense of the word; the miracle for Prophet Muhammad PBUH, the last of Prophets, had to be that which remained a miracle in the coming times too as the sign for the validity of his claim as he was the last of Messengers of Allah to whole of the mankind; the Holy Book Quran fulfills the criteria in total and as no Messenger was to come after Muhammad PBUH, Allah Himself took the responsibility of its protection so from the time of its descent to this time, it is in its pure form inviting to the same true path of life that was presented by all the Messengers since the first man who was also the first of Messengers of Allah i.e. Adam-AS up-to the greatest of men who was also the last of Messengers of Allah i.e. Muhammad PBUH; Al-Hamdu Lillah; even when Allah showed the miracles to the people before these, they did not believe in the fundamental teachings of Islam and these disbelievers too are no exceptions; the answer is clear that if the disbelievers intend to believe then they would believe the message of the Quran as that only is the miracle of Muhammad PBUH and Allah would not provide any other miracle to them; Allah is the true authority Who hears everything and knows everything and He does as He wills; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last four AAYAAT of the first Ruku address other of their doubts that "and We did not send before you any (of Messengers) but men to whom We sent revelation (and so their difference to other of men was at their inside that was most refined and attached totally to the true guidance), so ask the followers of the reminder (that are the people of the book i.e. Torah - the reminder - as even if they challenge the Muslims in their belief in Muhammad PBUH, they would not lie about this), if you are not aware (of this that all Messengers of Allah were men among the mankind); and We did not make them (providing them such) bodies not eating the food, and they (also) were not to abide (at the world); then We made Our promise good to them, so We delivered them and those whom We pleased (at the times that calamities hit their peoples by the will of Allah), and We destroyed the extravagant (in their peoples); certainly We have revealed to you the Book (i.e. the Quran) in which is your good remembrance (so that you observe your history that even tells clearly that only the Truth prevails ultimately; the psyche of the man truly is attached to the Truth only which leads to ultimate salvation and it is only by the constant pursuance of the Satan to illusions that someone takes the erroneous belief & wrong deeds to live with the psyche of I- my- me; the righteous manner to live is to live by the commands of Allah as only that certainly, leads to ultimate salvation); what- do you not then understand (the righteous manner to live)?"; so Muhammad PBUH is on the right path and he guides you all by the Quran that is now the only thing that leads towards the Truth that are the fundamental teachings of Islam and all elucidation about them; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ANBIYA-The Second Ruku

11. And how many a town which was iniquitous did We demolish, and We raised up after it another people!
12. So when they felt Our punishment, lo! they began to fly
13. Do not fly (now) and come back to what you were made to lead easy lives in and to your dwellings, haply you will be questioned.
14. They said: O woe to us! surely we were unjust.
15. And this ceased not to be their cry till We made them cut off, extinct.

16. And We did not create the heaven and the earth and what is between them for sport.

17. Had We wished to make a diversion, We would have made it from before Ourselves: by no means would We do (it).

18. Nay! We cast the truth against the falsehood, so that it breaks its head, and lo! it vanishes; and woe to you for what you describe;

19. And whoever is in the heavens and the earth is His; and those who are near to Him are not proud to serve Him, nor do they grow weary.

20. They glorify (Him) by night and day; they are never languid.

21. Or have they taken gods from the earth who raise (the dead).

22. If there had been in them any gods except Allah, they would both have certainly been in a state of disorder; therefore, glory be to Allah, the Lord of the dominion, above what they attribute (to Him).

23. He cannot be questioned concerning what He does and they shall be questioned.

24. Or, have they taken gods besides Him? Say: Bring your proof; this is the reminder of those with me and the reminder of those before me. Nay! most of them do not know the truth, so they turn aside.

25. And We did not send before you any apostle but We revealed to him that there is no god but Me, therefore serve Me.

26. And they say: The Beneficent Allah has taken to Himself a son. Glory be to Him. Nay! they are honored servants

27. They do not precede Him in speech and (only) according to His commandment do they act.

28. He knows what is before them and what is behind them, and they do not intercede except for him whom He approves and for fear of Him they tremble.

29. And whoever of them should say: Surely I am a god besides Him, such a one do We recompense with hell; thus do, We recompense the unjust.

The second Ruku of ANBIYA states explicitly that Allah eliminates all challenges that anyone gives Him and this is most evident by the history of the mankind; if there had been any challenge to Him even from any of angels or any of His creation which had respected Him as the true Lord but then intended to challenge His authority, He would have eliminated all such creation by His punishment and would have put them all at the hell-fire; certainly, He only has all the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the five AAYAAT at the beginning of the Ruku tell most clearly that Allah destroyed all such towns that were unjust to their own selves by living against the commands of Allah and then He settled another people at their place; they did try to flee from the chastisement that hit them at the last moment yet it was not possible as it had taken them in most sudden manner at such time when they had no expectation of any adverse thing to fall upon them; what is the use of running away from homes that they cared for so much now when they had no care to the guidance of Allah for their living manner; they did realize that it was their doings due to which this calamity has fallen upon them and did confess to their wrongs yet it was too late; once the chastisement falls upon a nation, it does not leave them until they become cut-off as the crops that are cut and becomes extinct as the fire that has been totally extinguished; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-6 to 9 tell that Allah has not made the heaven and the earth and whatever is between them to play with as that is beyond His Glory but He has made them in accordance to rules & regulations; His law asks to eliminate all wrongs when it is most evident that the wrong people behind it, would not take the true guidance so Allah hits them by the Truth (His teachings that He has provided to men through His Messengers; the righteous principle by which He keeps balance in the whole universe; the law that He has set for all His creation to which it has to comply without any challenge); Al-Hamdu Lillah; so He casts the truth against the falsehood, so that it breaks its head, and it vanishes totally; and woe to all such persons who describe things according to their manner of living; Allah asks all persons to see to their concepts and care about their attitudes; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead till the last of the Ruku tell that Allah is the true Lord of all the creation and the goodness is that all persons comply to His commands totally; Al-Hamdu Lillah; among these, AAYAT-19 to AAYAT-24 read, "and whoever is in the heavens and the earth is His; and those who are near to Him (especially angels) are not proud to serve Him, nor do they grow weary; they glorify (Him) by night and day; they are never languid (and they continue glorifying Him); or have they (the disbelievers) taken gods from the earth (from the creation of Allah) who (they take as if they are able to) raise (the dead); if there had been in them any gods except Allah, they would both have certainly been in a state of disorder (as in that case, they would have challenged each other for the absolute authority but that is not so as Allah only has the true authority that is absolute); therefore glory be to Allah, the Lord of the ARSH (the royal Throne that tells that He only is the true Authority), above what they attribute (falsely to Him); He cannot be questioned concerning what He does and they shall be questioned (so He has set the righteous law for whole of the universe by His will and has kept balance in all His creation and has guided all the creation towards Him; Al-Hamdu Lillah); or, have they taken gods besides Him? Say: Bring your proof; this is the reminder of those with me (i.e. the Quran) and the reminder of those before me (i.e. Torah); (these both guide to believe in Allah, the only Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; so what makes them to take gods besides Him); nay- most of them do not know the Truth (that is the law of Allah on which He has created all persons and even all the universe), so they turn aside"; certainly, He only has all the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAT-25 to AAYAT-29 that is the last AAYAT of the Ruku, Allah tells the disbelievers that even those that are very near to Allah and the good people respect them highly (that are His Messengers and His angels), they guided all to accept TAUHID of Allah by the WAHI (revelation) that Allah gave them and they never ever challenged Him; if anyone of them had done it, Allah would have punished him with the hell-fire; thus do, Allah punishes the unjust; these AAYAAT read, "and We did not send before you (O Muhammad PBUH) any apostle

but We revealed to him (as to you) that there is no god but Me, therefore serve Me; and they say- the Beneficent Allah has taken to Himself a son (i.e. Jesus Christ-AS and angels); Glory be to Him; nay- they are honored servants; they do not precede Him in speech and (only) according to His commandment do they act (by His will); He knows what is before them and what is behind them (that includes the WAHI that Allah reveals to them and the commandments that Allah gives to them), and they do not intercede (to recommend JANNAH for anyone) except for him whom He approves and for fear of Him they tremble; and (if suppose) whoever of them should say- surely I am a god besides Him, such a one do We recompense with hell; thus do, We recompense the unjust"; certainly, He only has all the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ANBIYA-The Third Ruku

30. Do not those who disbelieve see that the heavens and the earth were closed up, but We have opened them; and We have made of water everything living, will they not then believe?

31. And We have made great mountains in the earth lest it might be convulsed with them, and We have made in it wide ways that they may follow a right direction.

32. And We have made the heaven a guarded canopy and (yet) they turn aside from its signs.

33. And He it is Who created the night and the day and the sun and the moon; all (orbs) travel along swiftly in their celestial spheres.

34. And We did not ordain abiding for any mortal before you. What! Then if you die, will they abide?

35. Every soul must taste of death and We try you by evil and good by way of probation; and to Us you shall be brought back.

36. And when those who disbelieve see you, they do not take you but for one to be scoffed at: Is this he who speaks of your gods? And they are deniers at the mention of the Beneficent Allah.

37. Man is created of haste; now will I show to you My signs, therefore do not ask Me to hasten (them) on.

38. And they say: When will this threat come to pass if you are truthful?

39. Had those who disbelieve but known (of the time) when they shall not be able to ward off the fire from their faces nor from their backs, nor shall they be helped.

40. But certainly, it shall come on them all of a sudden and cause them to become confounded, so they shall not have the power to avert it, nor shall they get respite.

41. And certainly apostles before you were scoffed at, then there befell those of them who scoffed that at which they had scoffed.

The third Ruku asks disbelievers to observe the set-up in which they live; Allah has created everything for the safety of men in the most beautiful manner so that they may have ample time to take-up the true guidance and live their lives according to it; there was a time when the heavens and the earth were closed up together but Allah opened them and spread their respective volumes as He willed; and the earth was void of water so He provided water to earth from the heaven above and made all living things from water (this seemingly implies that every living thing has water inside its make and they all survive by the consumption of water); the disbelievers need to observe that Allah has made the mountains so that they keep the earth stable so that it does not wobble; and that Allah has provided natural ways to tread for the travelers at earth; and that He has made the heaven as canopy which is secure to protect all persons by His will; and He has created the night and the day and the sun and the moon that travel along swiftly in their celestial spheres and they also have their tasks which secure the human life; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so Allah cared that all persons live with safety to fulfill the tasks they have that is to believe in Allah and live according to His commands as He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; He did not see only to their physical safety but cared for their spiritual safety too as He provided His message to the right path to them through His Messengers; however, all His Messengers were among the mankind and none of them was to live-on at the world; AAYAT-34 implies by addressing the Prophet PBUH that even if you die, they also have to die when their time of death comes upon them; AAYAT-35 relates explicitly that "every soul must taste of death and We try you (all) by evil and good by way of probation; and to Us you (all) shall be brought back"; from AAYAT-36 at the Ruku to the last of it, it says, "and when those who disbelieve see you, they do not take you but for one to be scoffed at (as they mockingly say that) is this he who speaks of your gods? And they are deniers (shamelessly) at the mention of the Beneficent Allah (and they doubt that they ever would be punished because) the Man is created of haste; now will I show to you My signs (very soon O disbelievers), therefore do not ask Me to hasten (them) on; (but they present their doubts openly) and they say- when will this threat come to pass if you are truthful?; had those who disbelieve but known (of the time) when they shall not be able to ward off the fire from their faces nor from their backs, nor shall they be helped (that would be at AKHIRAT); but certainly, it (the punishment at the world even) shall come on them all of a sudden and cause them to become confounded, so they shall not have the power to avert it, nor shall they get respite; and certainly apostles before you were scoffed at, then there befell to those of them who scoffed, that (same punishment) at which they had scoffed"; certainly, Allah only has all the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ANBIYA- The Fourth Ruku

42. Say: Who guards you by night and by day from the Beneficent Allah? Nay, they turn aside at the mention of their Lord.

43. Or, have they gods who can defend them against Us? They shall not be able to assist themselves, nor shall they be defended from Us.

44. Nay, We gave provision to these and their fathers until life was prolonged to them. Do they not then see that We are visiting the land, curtailing it of its sides? Shall they then prevail?

45. Say: I warn you only by revelation; and the deaf do not hear the call whenever they are warned.

46. And if a blast of the chastisement of your Lord were to touch them, they will certainly say: O woe to us! surely we were unjust.

47. And We will set up a just balance on the day of resurrection, so no soul shall be dealt with unjustly in the least; and though there be the weight of a grain of mustard seed, (yet) will We bring it, and sufficient are We to take account.

48. And certainly We gave to Musa and Aaron the FURQAN and light and reminder for those who would guard (against evil).

49. (For) those who fear their Lord in secret and they are fearful of the hour.

50. And this is a blessed Reminder which We have revealed; will you then deny it?

The Ruku continues relating that those who disbelieved in the message of Allah, He eliminated them from the face of earth and when Allah wills to bring His chastisement upon the disbelievers in the message of Allah that Muhammad PBUH provides to them, they also would not be able to prevent it; those whom the disbelievers take as their protectors besides Allah, they are totally unable to defend their own selves even at the time of destruction upon the disbelievers and they even would not be helped against Allah at such time by anyone; AAYAT-44 says that "We gave provision to these and their fathers until life was prolonged to them. Do they not then see that We are visiting the land, curtailing it of its sides? Shall they then prevail?"; this tells that sometimes a long period of life passes on the disbelievers but that is not the sign that they are at the right path; the impression of the teachings of Islam do take hold of places ultimately as the wrongs are unable to challenge the Guidance to the right path; so Allah is narrowing the places where they live-on with their wrong concepts and the true guidance is coming at fore; so seeing this clearly that they are unable to save the impression of wrongs at their own places, do they still think that they would impress other places by their wrong concepts; the Truth has always been one against which the wrongs could never stand which the Satan presented in many of colors as they fell one by one and that is the explicit lesson of history; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT asks the Prophet PBUH to tell them in clear terms that he has warned them by WAHI (the revelation i.e. the Quran) and now, as the message of Islam has come at fore, it only would prevail; but these disbelievers have become oblivious to hearing of the Truth and so there remains no right to them to complain when the chastisement from Allah takes hold of them; they are so delicate that if any puff of the chastisement of Allah, the true Lord, were to touch them, they would certainly scream out that surely they were most unjust (and they would cry out for their safety from it); AAYAT-47 tells about the justice of Allah at AKHIRAT, "and We will set up a just balance (that would be able to weigh the deeds and the sincerity of belief with which they had been done) on the day of resurrection, so no soul shall be dealt with unjustly in the least; and though there be the weight of a grain of mustard seed will We bring it, and sufficient are We to take account"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last three AAYAAT present the blessing of Allah that He provided to the mankind, which relate about Torah and the Quran; these AAYAAT read, "and certainly We gave to Musa and Aaron the FURQAN (i.e. Torah that differentiated the right from wrongs) and light (to the true guidance) and reminder (to live by the acceptance that Allah only is the true Lord) for those who would guard (against evil); for those who fear their Lord in secret and they are fearful of the hour; and this (Quran also) is the blessed reminder which We have revealed (and it also is the FURQAN and light to the true guidance); will you then deny it?"; certainly, Allah only has all the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ANBIYA-The Fifth Ruku

51. And certainly We gave to Ibrahim his rectitude before, and We knew him fully well.
52. When he said to his father and his people: What are these images to whose worship you cleave?
53. They said: We found our fathers worshipping them.
54. He said: Certainly you have been, (both) you and your fathers, in manifest error.
55. They said: Have you brought to us the truth, or are you one of the triflers?
56. He said: Nay- your Lord is the Lord of the heavens and the earth, Who brought them into existence, and I am of those who bear witness to this:

57. And, by Allah! I will certainly do something against your idols after you go away, turning back.

58. So he broke them into pieces, except the chief of them that haply they may return to it.

59. They said: Who has done this to our gods? Most surely he is one of the unjust.

60. They said: We heard a youth called Ibrahim speak of them.

61. Said they: Then bring him before the eyes of the people, perhaps they may bear witness.

62. They said: Have you done this to our gods, O Ibrahim?

63. He said: But this, their chief has done it; therefore ask them, if they can speak.

64. Then they turned to themselves and said: Surely you yourselves are the unjust;

65. Then they were made to hang down their heads: Certainly you know that they do not speak.

66. He said: What- do you then serve besides Allah what brings you not any benefit at all, nor does it harm you?

67. Fie on you and on what you serve besides Allah; what- do you not then understand?

68. They said: Burn him and help your gods, if you are going to do (anything).

69. We said: O fire- be comfort and peace to Ibrahim;

70. And they desired a war on him, but We made them the greatest losers.

71. And We delivered him as well as Lot (removing them) to the land which We had blessed for all people.

72. And We gave him Isaac, and YAQUB in addition (as grandson), and We made (them) all good.

73. And We made them Imams who guided (people) by Our command, and We revealed to them the doing of good and the keeping up of prayer and the giving of alms, and Us (alone) did they serve;

74. And (as for) Lot, We gave him wisdom and knowledge, and We delivered him from the town which wrought abominations; surely they were an evil people, transgressors;

75. And We took him into Our mercy; surely he was of the good.

The fifth Ruku of Surah ANBIYA narrates the event when Abraham-AS broke the idols of the disbelievers in his people into pieces except the big one of them; Surah SAAFFAAT relates about this event that Abraham-AS excused himself from attending their festival by seeing the astrological features (which indicated that he is sick and his people accepted that); they used to leave their place and go away to some specific site for that festival and Abraham had planned to destroy their idols as he stayed behind; I, MSD, would insha-Allah provide the supplementary note on the ruling of astrology after the note on this Ruku; note that Surah ANBIYA guides explicitly to the three fundamental teachings of Islam that are TAUHID, RISALAT and AKHIRAT that all of ANBIYA (the Messengers of Allah) have provided to the mankind; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Ruku narrates the event that Abraham had accepted the Truth but he saw that his father and the people he was living-in, worshipped idols; he directed them in such manner that they see that it was extreme error to worship them but they were not ready to leave what their forefathers had been worshipping; Abraham told them that not only they but their forefathers were in extreme error but they did not heed to his direction; he told them that Allah only is the Lord of the heavens and the earth, Who brought them into existence, and he bears witness to this; he also informed them explicitly that he would certainly do something against their idols after they had gone away to their festival; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so he did break them into pieces, except the bigger one among them and he even put the axe on its shoulder so it seemed that it had done all this; when his people returned from the festival, they saw their idols at this condition; as some of them had heard Abraham speaking against them, he was summoned to answer about all this; we have studied in AAYAT-258 at the thirty-fifth Ruku of BAQARAH that the king of Babylon had disputed about Allah, the true Lord, with Abraham-AS at that time; the Babylonian kings were titled as Nimrod then and he was the Nimrod that ruled at that time that is near to 2000 BC; Abraham replied to Nimrod that my RABB Allah gives life and takes life, to which he foolishly replied that this thing is in his authority too and he practically demonstrated his statement that he acquitted one of the heinous criminals while executed by the capital punishment the other one convicted in the lesser crime; when Abraham saw this idiocy, he understood that Nimrod totally lacks the realization of the authority of Allah so he reasoned by telling him that He not only is the RABB (the true Lord) of the human beings but He also is the RABB of all the creation (and nourishes them ahead to betterment in the way He intends); note that Abraham asked him to bring the sun out from the west (and that demand left him dumbfounded) but Abraham did not challenge him by the statement that he should believe that the sun is also the creation of Allah; the Babylonians believed that Allah is the Creator but with Him, they took many others as near to Him and they worshipped their images by carving them in the idols with such belief that as they worship them, they would bring them near to Allah without any obedience to Him in any of His commands (so there was the most high flaw in their belief in Allah and moreover with that, they did not believe Allah as their RABB); for their obedience, their ruler (Nimrod at that time) presented his own self as the authority to command without the acceptance of any limitation on that authority and his people accepted that untrue stance (this line of belief has remained at the world by the efforts of the Satan that had taken an oath to misguide the human beings in whatever quantity possible for him as we have studied and in fact, even in this current times, we see that people do claim to believe in Allah yet they are not ready to take His word at issues of the life as they do not care that He only is the true Lord); the argument that Abraham presented was that He certainly is the Creator of all the creation and nobody is able to impress Him so He does only whatever He wills and his argument also effectively demanded that the Babylonians must believe in Him as the only true Lord so that they obey only His commands in essence in all issues of life; Al-Hamdu Lillah; when Abraham was asked about the destruction of idols, he replied that this bigger one of them has done it so ask these lesser idols that lie destroyed about this; he intended to guide them that these idols are unable to defend even their own selves so how would they defend you from any trouble; the Ruku narrates from AAYAT-63 to AAYAT-73; "he said- but this, their chief has done it; therefore ask them (the destroyed idols), if they can speak; then they turned to themselves (reflected on this) and said (among themselves)- surely you yourselves are the unjust (by taking these idols as worthy to worship); then they were made to hang down their heads (as they did not have any answer to that except that they said plainly)-certainly you know that they do not speak; he said- what- do you then serve besides Allah what brings you not any benefit at all, nor does it harm you?- fie on you and on what you serve (that are these idols) besides Allah; what- do you not then understand?; they said- burn him and help your gods (so their idols needed their care), if you are going to do (anything); We said (to the fire)- O fire- be comfort (so it cooled down) and be peace to Ibrahim (so the temperature did not fall so much as to affect him adversely); and they desired (to challenge him by) a war on him (through their conspiracy), but We made them the greatest losers (and Nimrod was so struck by this happening that he did not take any action against him as he left from there); and We delivered him as well as (his nephew) Lot (and his wife Sarah removing them) to the land which We had blessed for all people (i.e. the area in the ancient Syria that enfolds Palestine too); and We gave him Isaac, and YAQUB in addition (as grandson), and We made (them) all good; (the detail of this is) and We made them (they all and many of the descendants of Abraham) Imams (the spiritual guides) who guided (people) by Our command, and We revealed to them the doing of good (by revelation and especially by providing Torah to Moses-AS and Aaron-AS) and the keeping up of prayer and the giving of alms, and Us (alone) did they serve"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT at the Ruku tell about Lot-AS that Allah gave him wisdom (when He took him as one of His Messengers) and knowledge (to understand the Islamic rulings of issues), and He delivered him from the town which wrought abominations that related to sodomy as they were the most evil people; and Allah took him into His mercy so he was not harmed at all by the calamity that fell upon that place when he left it with the good believers with him at the advice of angels; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

(with reference to AAYAAT-88 & 89 of SAFFAAT)*

The ruling about astrology troubles the Muslim person how to take it as differences occur among the learned persons in the Islamic teachings whereas most of them take it as bogus though almost all are unaware about astrology; there are some most notable points to understand its ruling by Islam and presently, we would see them insha-Allah at our study; see also the note at the seventh Ruku of AARAAF that does provide the Islamic ruling for astrology explicitly and our study here would deal with the issue in some detail; Al-Hamdu Lillah; there is a significant Hadith that relate to this issue and our study would note that here at the very beginning; it tells that ---the Prophet PBUH forbade (taking of) the price of dogs (where its transaction is for the purpose of making it pets), remuneration of an adulteress and sweets of the soothsayers (reported at Tirmidhi)---; so this tells that if someone pays some amount to such person who claims to tell the future, the payment and the acceptance of such amount both is wrong; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note here that if the person believes totally that Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and the heavenly bodies influence any person or anything by His will only (to tell about the traits in character without touching the details about it and without providing the future in certain terms) then the basis of his belief is correct; Al-Hamdu Lillah; before proceeding to mention such points for it that would aid insha-Allah to its ruling by Islam, please note some of the most basic things in astrology (without details) to understand its ruling by Islam better; it is mostly based on three tangible things that are planets (the heavenly bodies of the solar system that includes the sun and the moon too in astrology), houses (which astrology generally gets by dividing the circle into 12 areas around the earth at 30 degrees for each starting by the eastern horizon, counting them from downwards anti-clockwise; six of them below the horizon and the other six above it at any given time) and signs (that are the 12 zodiacal signs that astrology takes into study, each also of 30 degrees that are known in general); as the earth revolves around the sun and the signs are fixed at this circle, so when a person is born, the sign at the eastern horizon is the ascending sign, whatever its degree, and the other of signs follow it anti-clockwise in the fixed sequence, each appearing at the start of each house; so with Sagittarius rising even if it is any of its last degrees, it relates to whole of the first house; then the second house would have Capricorn at its start (i.e. at its cusp), Aquarius would be at the third house, Pisces would be at the fourth house, Aries would be at the fifth house and Taurus would be at the sixth; the other six signs would be above the horizon each at its respective cusp from the seventh house to the twelfth house anti-clockwise; now, the notable thing is that each planet (including the sun and the moon) has its specific meaning in astrology and each house too has its specific meaning; this also is true for signs as they also have their specific meanings in astrology; as planets travel along the zodiacal signs, they fall into different houses with the respective signs that they occupy (as the signs change upon the houses due to the rotation of the earth whereas each sign falls at each house in 24 hours and the planets keep to their respective signs going along with them at different houses; so astrology sees the place of birth and with that, it needs the time of birth too besides the date of birth); now, astrology denotes that the positions of planets at the birth of a person is significant to him as each planet by its placement at the sign it is in and (especially) at the house it is in, has specific meaning that denotes much about the character of the person; each planet also is related naturally to some sign in the zodiac according to astrology so when it is inside any house, it blends that house to the house where its own sign is placed and this tells further about the person at study; moreover, there are aspects among the planets that mean some specific distances of degrees between any two (or more) of heavenly bodies that connect them to work either in co-operation or either in tussle to each other; these specific distances fall by 30 degrees starting with zero degree for any given planet so any of other planets in the same degree of it (that is at its conjunction) or at the distance of 30, 60, 90, 120, 150 or 180 degrees (this last one is at its opposition) to it, is in aspect to it though these distances do not need to be exact from that given planet as astrology does allow some margin in each of these distances; so this is astrology and though it has its own strange manner to study the behavior of some person by the birth-chart yet it is very near to Psychology where this latter subject relates to study the behavior of some person extensively; with some awareness of these both by the blessing of Allah, I, MSD, rule that in general terms, astrology is very much better among these both at its job; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it is very sad that such tool to study the Man has been designated as mythical and has been shrouded to nominate it into some art of fortune-telling from the ancient times; note that it actually is neither related to myth nor related to fortune-telling but the persons who take it as such in their practice professionally give the impression for it in that manner so the studious good persons need total avoidance to this false impression; Al-Hamdu Lillah; I, MSD, find better to present my observation about it in few simple points that would assist insha-Allah to get its ruling according to Islam by the blessing of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; all Muslims have this belief in the most firm manner that Allah only is the true authority Who decides for all matters that take place anywhere at the universe at any time and nobody is able to change His will in any manner; keeping to this belief, the first point to note is that by the will of Allah, astrology does tell about the character of the person in study (and I, MSD, have seen this by the birth-charts of many persons in the clearest manner though I had studied it carefully to challenge it with firm intention to see what it has inside it) but it does not tell about the events occurring at future as it relates to tendencies of the Man and does not relate to predictions though there is some detail in this matter that is at the point ahead; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second point to note is that when some person is adept in astrology and works at the placement of planets at the birth-chart of a person to learn something of high importance to that person to occur ahead (as rules have been made in it to see when the different configurations of planets at the birth-chart are triggered highly) then by the will of Allah, he might deduct with much efforts, some forty possibilities relating to some specific configuration of planets at his birth-chart by intense astrological study; note that the issue here is that if something does occur at the future that seems related to that placement, it might be something that is even beyond the forty possibilities he has deducted by that placement and he would then learn just by little of his observation that even that also was there as one of possibilities by the same configuration of planets (and there might still be more possibilities by the same configuration as those persons would most certainly agree who really do know astrology and have the courage to mention facts about it in plain terms); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the third point to note is that Islam prohibits to pursue astrology as profession (especially when someone takes it with his intention to predict future) not only because it is unable to tell the future (except something by the will of Allah) but also because it plainly declares the amounts earned in this manner as filth (and that stance has its basis at the authentic Hadith that I, MSD, mentioned at the beginning of this paper); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the fourth point to note is that sometimes a person who is learned in astrology, does get some insight to some future event as the time tells (mostly about his own self) and being learned in astrology, it seems to persons around (and sometimes also to him) that he got it by that study; note that astrology might confirm his insight through the configuration of some specific planets at his birth-chart but by itself, it does not tell events ahead (except for one of forty possibilities or even more) as it is secondary to what he concluded by some psychic ability as often the dreams that have symbols in them relate to the future by the will of Allah and sometimes some feelings tell about something ahead by the will of Allah but then, taking astrology as practical manner to study the Man, it is not concerned with dreams or such psychic feelings; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the fifth point is that when a person becomes adept in astrology, he needs to keep it to personal usage to get awareness of the people around by the will of Allah and further, he would try to better people around by Islam with the knowledge of astrology he has, if he is able to manage that as astrology does not compel anyone to confirm to its configurations; the Islamic concept of FITHRAT (i.e. the recognition of the Truth inside) does allow him to retaliate by the most beautiful manner to any of its adversities if he does intend sincerely for it and he might disclose some of its features for those who do intend to learn it well but only to that extent to where he sees that they would not use it in negative sense (and he must not disclose anything that he has learnt about future in some manner by the will of Allah which he feels having some worth except disclosing it to the most intelligent persons sincere to Islam as others would relate it to astrology); if a person finds anything that seems adverse to him in his make-up by his birth-chart, he would ask Allah to protect him totally from any of its adversity; this would insha-Allah provide him confidence on the control that Allah has blessed him with rather than fall to the control of the adverse impression if any, that his birth-chart denotes; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the sixth point to note is that it might become FITNAH i.e. extreme trial (if the person takes it as some fortune-telling system) or it might remain as ILM i.e. the matter related to knowledge (if he keeps it as an aid to psychology to understand the tendencies of the people he studies through it by the will of Allah); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the seventh point to note is that astrology relates to the present as it relates to the issues of tendencies of the Man and does not relate to the future; so it is some synchronization of planets to the tendencies that are active at the inside of the Man by the will of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these are few such points that my observation about astrology asks to give utmost attention for its use; in this manner, insha-Allah it would remain positive to the Man and would not become negative to him; and finally with all said in these points, the last word certainly is that in all issues, Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at the last of this paper, I, MSD, would insha-Allah provide the TAFSIR to couple of AAYAAT at Surah SAAFFAAT that state the words of Abraham-AS and that are most highly related to understanding of issues of astrology; Al-Hamdu Lillah; they imply that Abraham did have the awareness of astrology and it is interesting to note that IDRIS-AS too, who also was one of the Prophets of Allah two thousands years before him, knew astrology with expertise; AAYAAT-88 & 89 of SAAFFAAT state that "-then did he (i.e. Abraham-AS) cast a glance at the stars; and he said, 'I am indeed sick'-"; the comments on these mention that he saw at the stars randomly to give the impression that there is some ruling in astrology which tells him that he would get sick so the disbelievers did not pursue him to come to their festival and left him alone; note that after their departure, he struck their idols with an axe to destruction except for the larger one among them and we have studied about this at the note on the ninth Ruku of Surah AN'AAM; however, taking the matter as stated in the simple manner here at SAAFFAAT without such remarks that he leaned towards any vague gestures, these AAYAAT indicate that applying astrology that he knew, he told about his own self that he is sick; note that he applied the astrological interpretation to himself and kept it to the present (and not the future) without asking for any financial benefits and without disclosing how he got to his conclusion by it; he disclosed the interpretation for the sake of his plan to destroy their idols leaving the larger one to give the impression that it has done it all; he intended to show them how incapable those idols are against their own defense so most certainly, they are more incapable to defend any other from any calamity; certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note well that the sentence that Abraham spoke is that "INNI-SAQEEM" (i.e. I am indeed sick) and this is the sentence that relates to noun by the Arabic Grammar and denotes the present; so just these couple of AAYAAT provide an insight into the ruling for astrology by Islam and so this is how I, MSD, find astrology by striving to learn its ruling by the Islamic teachings by the blessing of Allah and most certainly, everything takes place only by the will of Allah; and most certainly, He only knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ANBIYA-The Sixth Ruku

76. And Noah, when he cried aforetime, so We answered him, and delivered him and his followers from the great calamity.

77. And We helped him against the people who rejected Our AAYAAT; surely they were an evil people, so We drowned them all.

78. And DAWUD (David) and SULEMAN (Solomon) when they gave judgment concerning the field when the people's sheep pastured therein by night, and We were bearers of witness to their judgment.

79. So We made Solomon to understand it; and to each one We gave wisdom and knowledge; and We made the mountains, and the birds to celebrate Our praise with David; and We were the doers.

80. And We taught him the making of coats of mail for you, that they might protect you in your wars; will you then be grateful?

81. And (We made subservient) to Solomon the wind blowing violent, pursuing its course by his command to the land which We had blessed, and We are knower of all things.

82. And of the rebellious Jinn there were those who dived for him and did other work besides that, and We kept guard over them;

83. And AYUB (Job), when he cried to his Lord, (saying): Harm has afflicted me, and Thou art the most Merciful of the merciful.

84. Therefore We responded to him and took off what harm he had, and We gave him his family and the like of them with them: a mercy from Us and a reminder to the worshippers.

85. And Ismail and IDRIS and ZUL-KIFL; all were of the patient ones;

86. And We caused them to enter into Our mercy, surely they were of the most good ones.

87. And the one related to the huge fish (Jonah), when he went away in anger, so he thought that We would not hold him (liable to error); so he called out among all darkness: There is no god but Thou, glory be to Thee; surely I am of those who make themselves to suffer loss.

88. So We responded to him and delivered him from the grief and thus do We deliver the believers.

89. And Zechariah, when he cried to his Lord- O my Lord- leave me not alone; and Thou art the best of inheritors.

90. So We responded to him and gave him YAHYA (John) and made his wife fit for him; surely they used to hasten, one with another in deeds of goodness and to call upon Us, hoping and fearing and they were humble before Us.

91. And she who guarded her chastity, so We breathed into her of Our inspiration and made her and her son a sign for the nations.

92. Surely this Islam is your religion, one religion (only), and I am your Lord, therefore serve Me.

93. And they broke their religion (into sects) between them: to Us shall all come back.

The Ruku continues telling about the terrible fate of the disbelievers even at the world that Allah punished them most severely when they scoffed at the Messengers of Allah and those Messengers asked Him to settle the matter; this Ruku provides some detail how the Messengers had showed persistence on the Islamic teachings when they faced extreme challenges and how they had fulfilled their practice humbly with care towards Allah when they had the opportunity for that; it starts by telling about Noah-AS who lived at the world on for more than a thousand years before Abraham & Lot; he tried his best all these years to guide his people to the fundamental teachings of Islam but his nation rejected those teachings except for few persons in them; he ultimately called Allah to save him and the believers with him so Allah saved him and all the believers with him and drowned all the disbelievers of his nation; the Ruku presents the event about David-AS and Solomon-AS that once such a case came in front of them that the goats of some people grazed the crops of some other people; as the value of the loss in crops was nearly equivalent to the value of goats, David decided to provide those to the owners of the crops; Allah had given them both the good authority at land and blessed knowledge for their good decisions but He gave the understanding of the preferable decision in that event to

Solomon; he revised the decision (with the permission of his father) that the owners of crops would get the goats with their benefits and the owners of goats would work to restore the crops to its previous good form; as they end the task, they would get their goats back and the owners of crops would take their restored crops from them so the case was decided preferably; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-79 states that when David read ZABUR (Psalms) beautifying that with his wonderful voice, the mounts and the birds even sang the praise of Allah with him; Allah has all authority over all His creation and He directed the mounts and the birds to join DAWUD-AS (i.e. David) in praise of Allah; the next AAYAT tells that Allah taught him making of coats of mail so that all people may have defense against the attack of the weaponry of the enemy at the wars of ancient times; Allah had provided for him the miracle to soften the iron in his hands in such manner that molding it into such coats was possible for him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; and among the miracles that Allah provided to Solomon-AS was that the raging wind obeyed his command by the will of Allah to lead him at places in the land which Allah had blessed i.e. the area in the ancient Syria that enfolds Palestine too; and certainly Allah is the Knower of all things; and there were such rebellious Jinn who dived for him and did other works besides that; that was possible because Allah kept guard over them so they had to obey him or face certain immediate severe punishment for their disobedience as Surah SUAD tells at its AAYAAT-37 & 38; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Ruku continues narrating the patient and humble attitude of the previous Messengers of Allah that Allah cares for His Messengers in all situations so that this provides Muhammad PBUH, His last Messenger to all, the highest of courage to face troubles that the disbelievers were creating for him; AAYAT-83 & 84 tell about AYUB-AS briefly who also was one of the Prophets of Allah; with that highest of spiritual status, he also was one of the well-off persons at his time and place living with all convenience when some severe affliction of skin fell upon him; he bore it with patience for few years with all attention to Allah but it went on getting worse and it is mentioned that ultimately his wife only would care about him at those trying times as even the persons at his household turned most reluctant to come near to him; so till the time it did not affect his good acts of worship to Allah and did not cause any division among his near ones, he did bear that severe affliction yet when he came to such grave situation then he called Allah that this affliction has become unbearable to him and He certainly is the Most Merciful; so Allah accepted His plea and cured him of that severe skin-affliction by providing him the blessed water at the floor of his place (that pooled out in reasonable quantity as he hit his foot at it) from which Allah asked him to bathe and to drink (see Surah SUAD-42); He also ended the grudges that were taking place among his family and then He provided him the like of them too in addition to their close affection; this indicates his grand-children that also he saw at his life ahead; the AAYAT tells that this was the specific mercy for him from Allah and the most notable reminder to the worshippers that as they care to worship Him, He certainly would see specifically to their physical and spiritual safety to end their troubles totally; we have studied this at BAQARAH-152 where Allah gives His word explicitly, "so remember Me, I will remember you, and be thankful to Me, and do not be ungrateful to Me"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAAT mention other Messengers of Allah, "And Ismail and IDRIS and ZUL-KIFL; all were of the patient ones; and We caused them to enter into Our mercy, surely they (all that are mentioned) were of the most good ones"; Ismail-AS was the son of Ibrahim-AS and IDRIS-AS was before Noah-AS; we do not have much knowledge about IDRIS-AS yet it is often mentioned that Allah had provided him most wonderful knowledge of reading the signs that enabled him to know and affect the people around positively (that is something that related to the study of Psychology); however, note that Enoch (the son of Jared) that Genesis has mentioned, is mostly taken by the learned among the Muslims as IDRIS, the Messenger of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as for ZUL-KIFL, this is most probably BUDDHA and if he is the person that is mentioned here, he is then one of the messengers of Allah as he is mentioned in them; see also the note on the eleventh Ruku of Surah KAHF; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next couple of AAYAAT narrate the event related to Jonah-AS which read; "and the one related to the huge fish (Jonah), when he went away in anger, so he thought that We would not hold him (liable to error), so he called out among all darkness- there is no god but Thou, glory be to Thee; surely I am of those who make themselves to suffer loss; so We responded to him and delivered him from the grief and thus do We deliver the believers"; YOUNUS-AS is mentioned by name four times at the Quran that is at NISAA-163, AN'AAM-86, YOUNUS-98 and SAAFFAAT-139; but here he is mentioned as the one who was related to the huge fish

(that most probably was one of huge whales and though counted in mammals yet commonly referred to as one of the fish as its shape is like the very giant fish and it also has the sea as its habitat); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the event that relates to Jonah is that Allah had sent him to some people who did take him as a good person yet they were not ready to accept the fundamental Islamic teachings that Jonah was presenting to them; he had an angry nature that he did show at the disbelief of his people (at area of the ancient Nineveh) and eventually he called Allah against them and He accepted his call; note that when Allah decides to punish some people, He then gives the permission to the Messenger there in them to leave the place (as until then his people still have the valid time to accept the Truth) for which he has to wait but before His permission to Jonah, he made the mistake in judgment without any intention to disobey Allah that now when Allah has decided to punish his people, he is allowed to leave the place; so he told his people (upon whom he had his extreme anger) that they would be destroyed totally and it only is a matter of few days; with that message, he left them in his anger upon them and went away in haste; that mistake proved fatal to him as the Messenger needs to ask clear guidance from Allah about such action that directly relates to the task that He has assigned to him; so it happened that he went on to the coast at some river where in the company of many other persons, he boarded a ship; at the middle of its route, the ship came near to sinking and the people on board thought that some run-away slave had boarded it so he needs to be thrown out; it was then Jonah realized that he has committed a severe mistake and accepted that he has to leave the ship; however, the persons there decided to cast lots with names of everyone and see whose name appears; there the name of Jonah came at fore and he then left the ship; Allah had commanded the whale to take him in as it finds him at waters with care and its belly would be his shelter not his grave; there he had stayed for few hours when by the darkness of night, in the darkness of waters and at the darkness of the whale's belly, he called out to Allah most humbly that -there is no god but Thou, glory be to Thee; surely I am of those who make themselves to suffer loss-; Allah pardoned him on this plea and on His command, the whale threw him out at the vacant coast where he recovered by the shade and fruits of a tree that Allah provided him then; Allah sent him again as His Messenger to his people that were then more than a hundred thousand persons where he preached His message guiding them all again towards the teachings of Islam (see also SAAFFAAT-139 onwards); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAAT of the Ruku from AAYAT-89 to AAYAT-93 mentions Zechariah-AS, YAHYA-AS (i.e. his son John), Mary-AS and her most respected son ISA-AS i.e. Jesus Christ; these AAYAAT read, "and Zechariah, when he cried to his Lord- O my Lord-leave me not alone (and provide me a son); and Thou are the best of inheritors; so We responded to him and gave him YAHYA (John) and made his wife fit for him (as she was unable to conceive); surely they (all) used to hasten, one with another in deeds of goodness (as competition is fair for AKHIRAT but not feasible to show worth at worldly issues) and to call upon Us, hoping and fearing and they were humble before Us; and she who guarded her chastity (i.e. Mary), so

We breathed into her of Our inspiration and made her and her son (Jesus Christ) a sign for the nations (that with all challenge against them, they stood firm upon the righteous teachings of Islam); surely this (way of) Islam is your religion, one religion (only which all the Messengers provided to their respective peoples), and I am your Lord, therefore serve (and obey in principles only) Me; and (afterwards these people challenged Islam in different manners so) they broke their religion (into sects) between them (but they all have to answer for all their doings as) to Us shall all come back"; note that the Muslim person must have the hope to get the pleasure of Allah, the true Lord, and he must have the fear that nothing adverse happens by him that asks His displeasure; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ANBIYA-The Last Ruku

94. Therefore whoever shall do of good deeds and he is a believer, there shall be no denying of his exertion, and surely We will write (it) down for him.

95. And it is binding on a town which We destroy that they shall not return.

96. Even when Gog and Magog are let loose and they shall break forth from every elevated place.

97. And the true promise shall draw nigh then- the eyes of those who disbelieved shall be fixedly open- O woe to us- surely we were in a state of heedlessness as to this; nay, we were unjust.

98. Surely you and what you worship besides Allah are the firewood of hell; to it you shall come.

99. Had these been gods, they would not have come to it and all shall abide therein.

100. For them therein shall be groaning and therein they shall not hear.

101. Surely (as for) those for whom the good has already gone forth from Us, they shall be kept far off from it;

102. They will not hear its faintest sound, and they shall abide in that which their souls long for.

103. The great fearful event shall not grieve them, and the angels shall meet them: This is your day which you were promised.

104. On the day when We will roll up heaven like the rolling up of the scroll for writings, as We originated the first creation, (so) We shall reproduce it; a promise (binding on Us); surely We will bring it about.

105. And certainly We wrote in the Book after the reminder that (as for) the land, My righteous servants shall inherit it.

106. Most surely in this is a message to a people who serve

107. And We have not sent you but as mercy to the worlds.

108. Say: It is only revealed to me that your ILAH is Allah only; will you then submit?

109. But if they turn back, say: I have given you warning in fairness and I do not know whether what you are threatened with is near or far;

110. Surely He knows what is spoken openly and He knows what you hide;

111. And I do not know if this may be a trial for you and a provision till a time.

112. He said- O my Lord- judge Thou with all justice; and our Lord is the Beneficent Allah, Whose help is sought against what you ascribe (to Him).

The last Ruku of ANBIYA sums up the message that the whole Surah has provided; it tells that ultimately the impression of righteousness prevails even at the world and all the wrongs fade away; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as the Day of Judgment has to come so all the righteousness would get the upper hand clearly forever and all wrongs would totally end forever; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Ruku starts by the statement that whoever shall do good deeds with righteous belief, Allah would care for his efforts at the world and surely He would write all his good deeds for him and He would provide that record at AKHIRAT to him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that without the sincere belief in TAUHID and without the true belief in AKHIRAT, the good deeds are of no use there and the persons who do such deeds (especially of social welfare) get their benefits at the world only; note also that TAUHID means to believe that Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord (so He only would be obeyed in principles in all issues of life); one of the authentic Ahadith reports that the Prophet PBUH said, "there would be no obedience to any of the creation of Allah where there is evident disobedience to Allah, the Creator of all"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT tells that there remains no chance for any of those that Allah had destroyed to ever compensate for their wrongs as once departed from the world, they do not return to it in any manner to compensate; this implies that all those that are alive at this moment of time at the world, this is their only chance to save themselves by the righteous belief and virtuous deeds according to it; the AAYAAT ahead explain that they would only rise when Gog and Magog are released and due to their most huge population, they would come forth from every elevated place (that is located at the Caucasian area where they were restricted for centuries); this is the sign that now the end of the world is near and so with its end, Allah would raise all persons that ever lived at the world so that they all get the result of the life that they had spent at the world; note that the Quran relates together both of these days at places and it might be that the first trumpet for the occurrence of the last day of the world starts-up by the will of Allah, the setting for the second of these days that is the Day of Judgment which would take place by the second trumpet by the will of Allah; Surah NAZI'AAT-6 to 9 mention them as if they both come in sequence one after another as they read that "on the day when the first trumpet resounds; and the second follows it; on that day hearts beat painfully; while eyes are downcast"; so this tells that the time in-between is so very insignificant for the mankind (as they all would be dead between these two of trumpets) that Allah mentions them as if the first one ends and the second begins; however, this thing is most notable that the Day of HASHR equals normally one thousand years of the life at the world; and certainly Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT from 97 to 100 read, "and the true promise (of the last day of the world) shall draw nigh then (and as the Day of HASHR takes place)- the eyes of those who disbelieved shall be fixedly open- O woe to us- surely we were in a state of heedlessness as to this; nay, we were unjust (they would say this as they cared for the worldly status & possessions without any care to this Day as they thought that they have got all safety for that day); surely you and what you worship (i.e. idols) besides Allah are the firewood of hell; to it you shall come; had these been gods (and able to save you), they would not have come to it (so they are unable to save even their own selves) and all shall abide therein; for them therein shall be groaning and therein they shall not hear (anything due to the din of voices)"; the next couple of AAYAAT tell that those persons whom Allah has blessed because of their righteous belief and virtuous deeds, Allah would keep them far off from the hell-fire so they would not even hear its faintest sound though it would be roaring fire; these good persons would live their lives with all pleasures forever at JANNAH that they intend for their lives; note that all such persons who were taken as worthy to worship without their knowledge by wrong persons after they had departed from the world though they were just, righteous and virtuous persons who always remained attentive to Allah only and asked all to worship Allah only, they also would be among the blessed persons at JANNAH at the true life at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-103 tells that such good persons would not grieve by the sound of the second trumpet as they rise from dead and there the angels would greet them that this is the most pleasant day for them which they were promised and Allah certainly fulfills His promise; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-104 states that on that day (the last day of the world), Allah would roll the heaven near to earth as rolling of written documents and He would start its creation again in the same manner as He had started it the first time; that also is His promise and He certainly fulfills His promise; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next couple of AAYAAT provide the fact that ultimately the impression of righteousness prevails even at the world and all wrongs fade away; they read, "and certainly We wrote in the Book after the reminder that (as for) the land, My righteous servants shall inherit it; most surely in this is a message to a people who serve"; here the word is ZABUR for the Book which indicates Psalms yet its meaning denotes "the Book" as Torah also implies that it is "the Book of law" and the Quran also means "the Book that is read on"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so the AAYAT tells that Allah has denoted His will in writing that the virtuous persons who really are attentive to Him, would even inherit the land at the life at the world ultimately while at AKHIRAT, they would receive the pleasant land of JANNAH; this is to strengthen the belief of all Muslims that they shall not despair to see the temporary rise of those who live challenging the commands of Allah as ultimately their impression is destined to elimination; the persons who have the psyche of "I -my -me" and care but little about the welfare of fellow-beings but ask for warfare among them, they would never have strong foundation for their manner of living even at the world; now as many of satanic concepts have come to challenge the Islamic teachings all over the world manifestly, this conflict would finally decide the matter in favor of Islam insha-Allah so only those who really have surrendered to Allah and have taken His commands sincerely at life would have the strong foundation; Al-Hamdu

Lillah; AAYAAT from 107 to the last of the Surah relate about the task of the Prophet PBUH and that even his TABLIGH (the provision of Islamic teachings) to all of mankind show that the ultimate say even at the world is of the word of Allah; these AAYAAT read, "And We have not sent you (O Muhammad PBUH) but as mercy to the worlds; (and that mercy is the teaching) - say that it is only revealed to me that your ILAH (that means whom you would worship) is Allah only (Who only is the true Lord); will you then submit?; but if they turn back, say that I have given you warning in fairness and I do not know whether what you are threatened with (the chastisement that falls upon the disbelievers) is near or far; surely He knows what is spoken openly and He knows what you hide (so He certainly is Aware of all wrong-doings of disbelievers and surely He would punish them severely at the time He wills); and I do not know if this may be a trial for you and a provision till a time (to come to Islamic teachings); he said (i.e. he would say as all other of Messengers of Allah had stated when there remained no hope of people around to accept Islam, against them)- O my Lord- judge Thou with all justice; and (O disbelievers) our Lord is the Beneficent Allah, Whose help is sought against what you ascribe (to Him)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah HAJJ

(Consists of 10 Ruku; MK-12 & H-1)

HAJJ-The First Ruku

1. O people- guard against (the punishment from) your Lord; surely the violence of the hour is a grievous thing.
2. On the day when you shall see it, every woman giving suck shall quit in confusion what she suckled, and every pregnant woman shall lay down her burden, and you shall see men intoxicated, and they shall not be intoxicated but the chastisement of Allah will be severe.
3. And among men there is he who disputes about Allah without knowledge and follows every rebellious Satan;
4. Against him it is written down that whoever takes him for a friend, he shall lead him astray and conduct him to the chastisement of the burning fire.
5. O people! if you are in doubt about the raising, then surely We created you from dust, then from a small seed, then from a clot, then from a lump of flesh, complete in make and incomplete, that We may make clear to you; and We cause what We please to stay in the wombs till an appointed time, then We bring you forth as babies, then that you may attain your maturity; and of you is he who is caused to die, and of you is he who is brought back to the worst part of life, so that after having knowledge he does not know anything; and you see the earth sterile land, but when We send down on it the water, it stirs and swells and brings forth of every kind a beautiful herbage.

6. This is because Allah is the Truth and because He gives life to the dead and because He has power over all things
7. And because the hour is coming, there is no doubt about it; and because Allah shall raise those who are in the graves.
8. And among men there is he who disputes about Allah without knowledge and without guidance and without an illuminating book,
9. Turning away haughtily that he may lead (others) astray from the way of Allah; for him is disgrace in this world, and on the day of resurrection We will make him taste the punishment of burning:
10. This is due to what your two hands have sent before, and because Allah is not in the least unjust to the servants.

Surah HAJJ begins by relating about the last day of the world i.e. QAYAMAT (and which is often mentioned as the Hour in the Quran); the Day of Judgment also is named as QAYAMAT in the speech of Muslims but at the Quran, it is mentioned as YAUMUL-QAYAMAT with addition of YAUM that means the Day; in this Surah, we find this term for the Day of Judgment at AAYAT-9 & 17 & 69 and Surah ZUMAR besides other Surah, mentions the Day of Judgment as YAUMUL-QAYAMAT at six places that are at AAYAAT-15, 24, 31, 47, 60, 67; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah HAJJ tells explicitly that the true success is only for the true believers who lead their lives on the Guidance to the right path with best of efforts in their good deeds and the disbelievers would be put into the most severe punishment as they all would enter the hell-fire at AKHIRAT; the first couple of AAYAAT express the dread of the last day as the nursing women to their suckling infants who would be present then, would become oblivious to them due to the extreme quake on that day and the pregnant women would lay down their burden (fetuses) due to the terror of the day; and most of the people who would be present then, would seem to be drunken though they actually would not be so; but the chastisement of Allah will be so severe that they would seem so; the Surah asks all peoples of the world at the very beginning to have TAQWA to Allah as that is the only thing that has the ability to save all persons from any of troubles that they might face; note that TAQWA is the attitude of the heart which means that all the Muslims must fear Allah that they do not get His displeasure by their sins becoming so sinful that they lose the chance to regain JANNAH and with that, they also must have such hope towards Him that He would keep them safe from the Satan at all times and at all places; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-3 & 4 tell the reason for this state of affairs for such persons that they dispute about the authority of Allah and do not care to have any knowledge of the right path; they follow the lead of such persons who present satanic thoughts without any depth of observation; so this attitude would lead them to the hell-fire as it is written for such satanic persons that they surely would misguide whoever befriends them; the next AAYAT addresses all such persons who follow the satanic lead and have doubts on the resurrection from dead at the Judgment Day that they need to observe the physical stages through which the human-being passes; Allah took by His will the pure sand i.e. TURAB (mentioned at AALE-IMRAN-59 which was the pure sand) as the material for the physique of the man (see the note on the third Ruku of Surah HIJR); then Allah set such manner for the creation of the man that he passes stages at the uterus for which the AAYAT says that it settles there in the shape of "a small seed (that) then shapes into a clot, then into a lump of flesh which is complete in make and incomplete (so) that We may make (Our authority) clear to you; and We cause what We please to stay in the wombs (whether that is male or female and with praiseworthy qualities or otherwise) till an appointed time (to develop), then We bring you forth as babies, then that you may attain your maturity; and of you is he who is caused to die (before maturity), and of you is he who is brought back to the worst part of life (most extreme old age), so that after having knowledge he does not know anything"; this simple knowledge about the stages of birth and the development of man in age, would tell them that Allah would certainly give them life again after death as He has set that also as the stage ahead in the life of the man; certainly He only is the true authority and He does as He wills; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-19 at Surah INSHIQAQ says, "you shall most certainly enter from one stage to another" and this also implies that Allah would raise all from the dead; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Quran has given the example of the earth for the man at places and here the AAYAT points out that the raising of dead at AKHIRAT is like the barren land that supports vegetation after it gets its desired rain; the last part of AAYAT-5 reads, "and you see the earth sterile land, but when We send down on it the water, it stirs and swells and brings forth of every kind a beautiful herbage"; so this is how the dead would rise at the Day of Judgment as Allah wills for it; certainly He only is the true authority and He does as He wills; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-6 and 7 present the fact plainly that "this is because Allah is the Truth and because He gives life to the dead (as He wills for it) and because He has power over all things (so He would do it by His authority); and because the hour is coming, there is no doubt about it (as Allah has set all matters in such manner); and because Allah shall (certainly) raise those who are in the graves (as He has explicitly told in most clear terms at the Quran)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last three AAYAAT of the Ruku tell about the argumentative disbelievers who have no intention to believe in the Truth that, "and among men there is he who disputes about Allah without knowledge and without guidance and without an illuminating book (so he does not have any knowledge and has no intention to search for that); turning away haughtily that he may lead (others) astray from the way of Allah; for him is disgrace in this world (as that is the punishment of those who intend others too to take their misguidance); and on the day of resurrection We will make him taste the punishment of burning (at the hell-fire); this (consequence) is due to what your two hands have sent before (i.e. due to your utmost wrongs), and because Allah is not in the least unjust to the servants (so He always cares about them and puts His wrath upon someone only when he fully relates himself to the disbelief of commands of Allah)"; note that AAYAT-3 tells about such argumentative disbelievers who still might hear to reason and so AAYAAT ahead asks all persons including them to care for the plain facts around; however, the Ruku provides no argument to those argumentative disbelievers among them that are mentioned at AAYAT-8 as they would not hear to any reason if they are unable to see the plain facts around to make themselves better; AAYAT-9 tells them plainly the final outcome of their wrongs; certainly Allah only is the true authority and He does as He wills; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

HAJJ-The Second Ruku

11. And among men is he who serves Allah (standing) on the verge, so that if good befalls him he is satisfied therewith, but if a trial afflict him he turns back headlong; he loses this world as well as the hereafter; that is a manifest loss.

12. He calls besides Allah upon that which does not harm him and that which does not profit him; that is the great straying.

13. He calls upon him whose harm is nearer than his profit; evil certainly is the guardian and evil certainly is the associate.

14. Surely Allah will cause those who believe and do good deeds to enter gardens beneath which rivers flow; surely Allah does what He pleases.

15. Whoever thinks that Allah will not assist him in this life and the hereafter, let him stretch a rope to the heaven, then let him cut off, then let him see if his struggle will take away that at which he is enraged.

16. And thus have We revealed it, being clear arguments, and because Allah guides whom He intends.

17. Surely those who believe and those who are Jews and the Sabians and the Christians and the Magians and those who associate (others with Allah) -- surely Allah will decide between them on the day of resurrection; surely Allah is Witness over all things.

18. Do you not see that Allah is He, Whom obeys whoever is in the heavens and whoever is in the earth, and the sun and the moon and the stars, and the mountains and the trees, and the animals and many of the people; and many there are against whom chastisement has become necessary; and whomsoever Allah abases, there is none who can make him honorable; surely Allah does what He pleases.

19. These are two adversaries who dispute about their Lord; then (as to) those who disbelieve, for them are cut out garments of fire, boiling water shall be poured over their heads.

20. With it shall be melted what is in their bellies and (their) skins as well.

21. And for them are whips of iron.

22. Whenever they will desire to go forth from it, from grief, they shall be turned back into it, and taste the chastisement of burning.

The Ruku tells about such persons who claim to worship Allah only yet their belief is shaky as they are happy with it when they get the worldly benefits by its disclosure; however, if they find any trouble falling upon them that threatens their worldly status and assets due to their claim to belief, they leave the manifest commands of Allah to avoid any troubles to them; the outcome to such attitude would be that not only would they lose their status at the world but they would also see most extreme loss at AKHIRAT which certainly is the true life; we have studied at AAYAAT-19 & 20 at the second Ruku of Surah BAQARAH the example of hypocrites who accepted some of Islamic Commands and rejected the other of them as if they are stranded in the heavy rain; that example applies on these persons too that are mentioned here; that example tells that the Quran comes as the rain-water from above to them but with all the blessing, it also gives the commands that are trying for Muslims to apply and put an end to FASAD as with the rain, there is display of darkness, thunder and flash; the hypocrites avoid to acknowledge the extreme voice of thunder (the commands to Muslims that ask to give their time to SALAH, to spend much in the way of Allah and even to put their selves into difficult and sometimes dangerous situations for the defense of the Islamic Commands); they walk ahead at the flash of lightning (times where they find the opportunity to get the worldly benefits for them remaining to Islam) but then as the darkness comes upon them (their love of the worldly life and their involvement therein that needs sacrifice to become steadfast upon Islam), they become still (inactive practically); so they are the extreme losers at AKHIRAT; AAYAT-12 & 13 ahead tell that these persons think that the creation of Allah is able to assist them in their trouble and so they call them in their trouble without any care to ask assistance from Allah, the true Lord; those whom they call, would only cause extreme harm to them (i.e. at AKHIRAT) and their benefit by such call is none; those whom they call to their assistance in their worldly troubles are certainly worse to take as guardians and certainly worse even to take as associates as they lead to their extreme loss at AKHIRAT; certainly Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-14 in contrast tells about those persons who are true believers and do good deeds according to that true belief that Allah would enter them in JANNAAT beneath which flow the beautiful streams; Allah wills to bring His judgment to all persons of the world according to their belief and deeds and He does whatever He intends as no one is able to stop Him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead tell explicitly that it is Allah only Who helps in troubles and the person who thinks that any of the creation of Allah is able to assist him in trouble without the will of Allah, he has taken such concept that is against the Quran; he is unable to change the commands of Allah and as the consequence of his wrong notions, he would lose all safety from Allah and would become rightful to receive His wrath at both the world and at AKHIRAT; AAYAAT-15 & 16 read, "whoever thinks that Allah will not assist him in this life and the hereafter (as he thinks that any of His creation also has the capability to do so without any care to Him), let him stretch a rope to the heaven, then let him cut off (that rope i.e. his trust on Allah by the belief in the Quran), then let him see if his struggle will take away that at which he is enraged (that Allah only is the true authority); and thus have We revealed it (i.e. in the Quran), being clear arguments (to TAUHID), and because Allah guides whom He intends"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT ahead tells that Allah would decide in most clear terms at the Day of Judgment about all persons that had different manners of living at the world; all would see the respective consequences of the manner of their living at the world at the Day of Judgment; He would decide between those who believe (the true Muslims) and those who are Jews and the Sabians (who are mentioned as such ancient persons who respected Ibrahim-AS and even took his guidance initially but then they added most erroneous concept in that guidance that they would take in their belief whatever they understand by their-selves as virtuous from anywhere and would follow that) and the Christians and the Magians (who worship fire) and who associate (others with Allah); Allah certainly is Witness over all things so He knows truly well how to decide about the belief of all persons of the world that lived at it at any time and at any place; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT tells that all the creation of Allah worships Allah only and takes Him as their true Lord to obey; and there are persons among the mankind (and the Jinn) in most huge number who believe truly in TAUHID (i.e. Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord), RISALAT (i.e. Allah sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path and Muhammad PBUH is the last of His Messengers) and AKHIRAT (i.e. Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment); Al-Hamdu Lillah; however, there are such persons among the mankind (and the Jinn) too who disbelieve and have made themselves rightful to extreme punishment; they intend respect among people for whatever they do but they would get disrespect at the life at the world and at AKHIRAT, they would get the most extreme punishment; that is the will of Allah and He does as He wills; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the AAYAT points out that there are two factions at Makkah who dispute about Allah, the true

Lord; so those who do not believe that they would obey only His commands in principle in practice, they would receive extreme severe punishment at AKHIRAT; the last four AAYAAT of the Ruku read, "these are two adversaries who dispute about their Lord; then (as to) those who disbelieve, for them are cut out garments of fire, boiling water shall be poured over their heads; with it shall be melted what is in their bellies and (their) skins as well; and for them are whips of iron; whenever they will desire to go forth from it, from grief, they shall be turned back into it, and taste the chastisement of burning"; therefore, the life at the world is the time to take heed to the Islamic fundamental teachings and practice the commands of Allah with all fervor; certainly, He only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

HAJJ-The Third Ruku

23. Surely Allah will make those who believe and do good deeds enter gardens beneath which rivers flow; they shall be adorned therein with bracelets of gold and (with) pearls, and their garments therein shall be of silk.

24. And they are guided to the goodly word and they are guided into the path of the Praised One.

25. Surely (as for) those who disbelieve, and hinder (men) from Allah's way and from the Sacred Mosque which We have made equally for all men, (for) the dweller therein and (for) the visitor, and whoever shall incline therein to wrong unjustly, We will make him taste of a painful chastisement.

The third Ruku of HAJJ tells about the beautiful result that the true believers who had done good deeds during their lives at the world, would receive at AKHIRAT; they would get JANNAAT that are the most beautiful gardens where they would reside with most soothing beautiful silky clothes on and they would get gold and pearls too to wear; note that at the world, these things are prohibited for men to wear yet at those beautiful gardens, Allah would provide them these things with purity as His blessing to them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so for the disbelievers who do not take Allah as the true Lord to obey in all issues of life, there is extreme physical torment as we read at the last of the previous Ruku and for the true believers in Allah, the true Lord, there are such blessings of Allah that are physically most soothing and even most pleasing to the eyes; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these true believers were guided to see, hear, speak and so believe truly the goodly word that truly was represented in all their good deeds that guided them to remain firm on the right path of Allah and receive this beautiful result from Him, the truly Praised One; note that this goodly word is the first AAYAT of the Quran that is "Al-Hamdu Lillah RABBEL-AALAMIN" which means that "all the praise belongs to Allah, the true Lord of all the worlds"; so Allah is His name and that denotes Him as the only Creator of all the heavens and all the earth and all that is between them (so all other than Him has been created by Him); and He always has all His attributes never losing them; and He only is the true Lord of all the worlds which means that He nurtures all His creation so Allah has not left His creation just after creating them but He nurtures them to heights; this first AAYAT of the Quran nullifies all SHERK and all KUFR (disbelief); may Allah save all Muslims from this gravest of sins that is named SHERK and that certainly leads to the hell-fire if the person involved in it does not ask for (and receive) forgiveness from Allah and His mercy at his life at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku tells that the disbelievers who hinder men from practicing the commands of Allah to remain firm at the path of Allah and also hinder them from getting to such physical signs of Allah that provide ease to Muslims to worshipping Him in which KA'BAH (at MASJIDUL-HARAM) is the most significant place, which the dwellers around and those who come from far-away places are equally liable to visit, Allah would punish them most severely as they intend most unjustly to make the practice of the teachings of Islam extremely difficult; they need to reflect on their attitude and come to Islam as that only is the right path of Allah that would lead them to all peace at the life at the world and to all peace at the life at AKHIRAT which is the true life ahead; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

HAJJ- The Fourth Ruku

26. And when We assigned to Ibrahim the place of the House, saying: Do not associate with Me aught, and purify My House for those who make the circuit and stand to pray and bow and prostrate themselves.

27. And proclaim among men the Pilgrimage: they will come to you on foot and on every lean camel, coming from every remote path,

28. That they may witness advantages for them and mention the name of Allah during stated days over what He has given them of the cattle quadrupeds, then eat of them and feed the distressed one, the needy.

29. Then let them accomplish their needful acts of shaving and cleansing, and let them fulfill their vows and let them go round the Ancient House.

30. That (shall be so); and whoever respects the sacred ordinances of Allah, it is better for him with his Lord; and the cattle are made lawful for you, except that which is recited to you, therefore avoid the uncleanness of the idols and avoid false words,

31. Being upright for Allah, not associating aught with Him and whoever associates (others) with Allah, it is as though he had fallen from on high, then the birds snatch him away or the wind carries him off to a far-distant place.

32. That (shall be so); and whoever respects the signs of Allah, this surely is (the outcome) of the piety of hearts.

33. You have advantages in them till fixed time then their place of sacrifice is the Ancient House.

The Ruku starts by the statement that Allah indicated the place for the building of KA'BAH to Ibrahim-AS (as the signs to it were lost) and told him not to associate with Allah aught - (this command is actually to guide all persons to believe truly in TAUHID as Ibrahim was one of the Prophets of Allah and the Quran has explicitly told about him at places that he was not one of the polytheists; see BAQARAH-135) - and He told him to purify His house i.e. KA'BAH for those who make the circuit around it so that nothing adverse to the Islamic teachings takes place there and the persons who come to it would stand to pray and bow and prostrate themselves in worship of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah commanded Ibrahim-AS to announce for HAJJ with all fervor and this call would reach the peoples of the world with period in time; they will come to you on foot and on every lean camel as they would become skinny due to the distance they would cover to come to KA'BAH, coming from every remote path; AAYAAT ahead tell about some of the rites that the believer has to perform at HAJJ; they read, "that they may witness (highest of spiritual) advantages for them (due to the highest of blessing of that holy place) and mention the name of Allah during stated days (the specific days at the holy month of ZIL-HAJJ) over what He has given them of the cattle quadrupeds (to sacrifice at this occasion), then eat of them (if they intend) and (better is to) feed the distressed one, the needy; then let them accomplish their needful acts of shaving and cleansing (included in rituals of HAJJ), and let them fulfill their vows and let them go round the Ancient House (that is necessary so it also is included in its rituals); that (shall be so); and whoever respects the sacred ordinances of Allah, it is better for him with his Lord; and the cattle are made lawful for you, except that which is recited to you (at the first Ruku of Surah MA'EDAH), therefore avoid the uncleanness of the idols (keeping away from SHERK) and avoid false words (that the evil persons say at sacrifices they make, to respect the idols that they worship)"; note that the holy rituals of HAJJ commence from the 8th of ZIL-HAJJAH for five days ahead when the first step that HAJI (the person performing HAJJ) makes is the intention for HAJJ taking IHRAM that is special apparel for the performance of HAJJ that symbolizes him as the man at HAJJ though this is not to be taken-up by women who wear ordinary decent clothes and leaves towards MINA reading ZUHR there and staying up-to FAJR of 9th there preferably; then the second step is that after reading FAJR at 9th he moves towards ARAFAH reading the ZUHR and ASR there; then the third step is that after MAGHRIB when the night of 10th starts - (note that in the lunar calendar the night comes first), he moves towards MUZDALIFAH reading both MAGHRIB and ISHA there together whenever he reaches there and also FAJR of the 10th; then the fourth step is that he moves back towards MINA from MUZDALIFAH after FAJR before the sunrise at the 10th and reaching at JAMRATUL-AQABAH (the huge wall with a chest-high boundary around representing the big Satan) at MINA, he throws seven pebbles on it after the sunrise; then the fifth step is that he sacrifices a goat or a sheep; then the sixth step is that he shaves-off the hair at his head and after this all he changes the IHRAM coming to ordinary clothes but the HAJJ is not yet over; note about JAMRAAT at MINA that there are three JAMRAAT in total here but on the 10th of ZIL-HAJJAH, only this huge one of walls is hit leaving the other two that also are represented by walls; they incidentally come before the huge wall when the HAJI comes towards it from the side of MUZDALIFAH and they are just a little far at the same site from each other that is a 2-minutes walking distance or so from one to other; the seventh step for the HAJI to take is to make TAWAF of

KA'BAH (named as ZIYARAT) that means to make circuit around the KA'ABAH for seven times starting from HAJR-ASWAD (the black stone at KA'BAH); each round would complete at HAJR-ASWAD and so at the end of these rounds the HAJI would be at HAJR-ASWAD for the eighth time; now after that, the eighth step is to make SA'I for seven times that is to walk from the nearby places of SAFA to MARWA and back from MARWA to SAFA; each walk would be counted whether it is from SAFA or from MARWA; as the walk has to start from SAFA, the seventh of walks that is final would end at MARWA; after SA'I, the HAJI has to offer two-RAKA'AH of SALAH anywhere at the Mosque and then has to drink some ZAM-ZAM water if he intends, for which innumerable outlets are provided at that place; note that TAWAF-ZIYARAH (the circuit for ZIYARAT of KA'BAH with SA'I is performed at any time, day or night, up-to the sunset of the 12th but it is much better to perform it as early as possible after the HALQ that is the shaving-off of the hair at the 10th; the ninth step for the HAJI is to hit seven pebbles to each JAMRAT, this time all three of them, at MINA on the 11th after ZAWAAL and this process is to be repeated on the 12th after ZAWAAL and that does make the man a HAJI yet there is a final touch still remaining so the tenth and the final step that the HAJI would take for HAJJ is to perform TAWAF of KA'BAH when he leaves Makkah that is named as TAWAF-WIDA, the farewell circuit; and this finally concludes the holy rituals of HAJJ and the man going through all these holy rituals with all care towards Allah finally becomes HAJI; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-31 tells that the true Muslims would always avoid the biggest of sins that is SHERK as this most heinous sin makes the person totally void of any help as the true help is from Allah and any of his creation would help the person only if He wills for it; his SHERK makes him so helpless as if he has fallen from the heaven where the wild hunting birds prey upon him (i.e. his situation is extremely vulnerable to humiliation by those wrong persons around who degrade him due to their own sense of brutality and haughtiness) or the wind throws him away from getting any of benefits from any of men around (that is the good persons keep away from him after seeing that it is no use calling him towards the right path, due to his wrongs and he ultimately comes to dejected state in which he dies); certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT of the Ruku state the significance of the rituals of HAJJ especially the sacrifice of the cattle that would be provided only for Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT read, "that (shall be so); and whoever respects the signs of Allah, this surely is (the outcome) of the piety of hearts; you have advantages in them (i.e. the animals of sacrifice on which you may ride or drink the milk they provide) till fixed time then their place of sacrifice is the Ancient House (i.e. KA'BAH and its adjacent area)"; note that it is allowed for the person who sacrifices an animal to eat from it yet it is better to feed the needy from it all; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

HAJJ-The Fifth Ruku

34. And to every nation We appointed acts of devotion that they may mention the name of Allah on what He has given them of the cattle quadrupeds; so your god is One God, therefore to Him should you submit, and give good news to the humble,

35. (To) those whose hearts tremble when Allah is mentioned, and those who are patient under that which afflicts them, and those who keep up prayer, and spend (benevolently) out of what We have given them.

36. And (as for) the camels, We have made them of the signs to remaining attentive to Allah for you; for you therein is much good; therefore mention the name of Allah on them as they stand in a row, then when they fall down eat of them and feed the poor man who is contented and the beggar; thus have We made them subservient to you, that you may be grateful.

37. There does not reach Allah their flesh nor their blood, but to Him is acceptable the guarding (against evil) on your part; thus has He made them subservient to you, that you may mention Allah with gratitude because He has guided you aright; and give good news to those who do good (to others).

38. Surely Allah will defend those who believe; surely Allah does not love anyone who is unfaithful, ungrateful.

The Ruku starts by the statement that Allah has appointed acts of devotion (especially the sacrifice of animals to achieve the pleasure of Allah) upon the Jews and especially upon the Muslims that they may mention the name of Allah on what He has given them of the cattle quadrupeds; He only is the true Lord to Whom all persons should submit, and O Prophet PBUH - give good news to the humble true believers in Allah that they would certainly receive JANNAAAT; note that the true believers develop their attitudes in such manner which denotes that they realize that Allah only is the greatest and the Most High and they are His creation only, as the AAYAT-9 of RA'AD says, "Allah is the Knower of the unseen and the seen, the Great, the Most High"; so they have the necessary patience in them to guide all persons to the virtuous teachings of Islam unless the disbelievers provoke them to anger by challenging Islam most indecently in their presence in some gathering; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these true believers are those whose hearts tremble when Allah is mentioned as they fear the displeasure of Allah upon any of their actions and they always take His protection from Satan; and these true believers are those who are SABIRIN (patient) when some affliction falls upon them who keep up SALAH, and who spend most benevolently out of what Allah has provided to them; note that SABR also means besides patiently bearing troubles with all trust in Allah, to stop from all wrongs and at its height, it also means to discard the interest towards the worldly possessions except for what is necessary to take for subsistence so as not to fall into sins; these both SABR and SALAH respectively keep away from all base desires and strengthen the attention towards Allah to get His pleasure and with these, spending benevolently from whatever Allah has provided, keeps firm on this attitude of remaining attentive to Allah; this attitude is most easy for only those who understand totally well that they have to answer for their belief and all their deeds at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last three AAYAAT of the Ruku read, "and (as for) camels (that also might be sacrificed at HAJJ), We have made them of the signs to remaining attentive to Allah for you; for you therein is much good; therefore mention the name of Allah on them (which is necessary at the slaughter of any animal) as they stand in a row (for their slaughter - because camels are slaughtered as they stand), then when they fall down (by the wound at their necks), eat of them and feed the poor man who is contented (and does not ask you for anything) and the beggar (who does ask you for something); thus have We made them (camels and other of cattle) subservient to you, that you may be grateful; there does not reach Allah their flesh nor their blood (so all persons have to care to remain most attentive to Allah rather than become show-off by spending huge amounts of money to buy the animal of sacrifice), but to Him is acceptable the guarding (against evil) on your part (so He cares for your sacrifice that you make by the sincere belief on Allah to get His pleasure and so He provides you His protection from all evil); thus has He made them (i.e. all of cattle) subservient to you, that you may mention Allah with gratitude because He has guided you aright (when you did show your worth for it by His blessing); and give good news to those who do good (to others); surely Allah will defend those who believe (by providing His protection to them from all evil; this also told the Muslims at that time that things would turn in their favor from now on due to the protection of Allah for them); surely Allah does not love anyone who is unfaithful, ungrateful (so such persons would not get His protection and they would live with humiliation at the world and with most severe punishment at AKHIRAT, the true life ahead)"; most certainly, the will of Allah only reigns upon all His creation and most certainly, He only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

HAJJ-The Sixth Ruku

39. Permission (to fight by attack) is given to those upon whom war is made because they are oppressed, and most surely Allah is well able to assist them;

40. Those persons who have been expelled from their homes without a just cause except that they say: Our Lord is Allah. And had there not been Allah's repelling some people by others, certainly there would have been pulled down cloisters and churches and synagogues and mosques in which Allah's name is much remembered; and surely Allah will help him who helps His cause; most surely Allah is Strong, Mighty.

41. Those who, should We establish them in the land, will keep up prayer and pay the poor-rate and enjoin good and forbid evil; and the end of all affairs is by the will of Allah.

42. And if they reject you, then already before you did the people of Noah and AAD and THAMUD reject (prophets).

43. And the people of Ibrahim and the people of Lot,

44. As well as those of MADYAN; and Musa (too) was rejected; but I gave respite to the disbelievers, then did I overtake them, so how (severe) was My disapproval.

45. So how many a town did We destroy while it was unjust, so it was fallen down upon its roofs, and (how many a) deserted well and palace raised high.

46. Have they not travelled in the land so that they should have hearts with which to understand, or ears with which to hear? For surely it is not the eyes that are blind, but blind are the hearts which are in the breasts.

47. And they ask you to hasten on the punishment, and Allah will by no means fail in His promise, and surely a day with your Lord is as a thousand years by your count.

48. And how many a town to which I gave respite while it was unjust, then I overtook it, and to Me is the return.

The first AAYAT of the Ruku permits QITAL against the disbelievers and this was the first AAYAT that permitted this manner of JEHAD explicitly just as the HIJRAT took place; it states clearly that the believers have been challenged most unjustly to this time but now they would retaliate to injustice by war against the disbelievers if necessary; AAYAT-40 states that they have been expelled from their homes just because they say that our true Lord is only Allah and we must obey Him only in all whatever we do; it also states that Allah repels some people by others otherwise there would have been pulled down cloisters and churches and synagogues and mosques in which the name of Allah is much remembered; note that all these four places were established initially for the praise of Allah, the true Lord, but with time many such things crept in them except for mosques, that they did not remain to their true purpose; may Allah save all Muslims from all extreme wrongs; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah assures the true believers that He will help him who helps His cause i.e. works to establish and spread the fundamental teachings of Islam as Allah has told at the last AAYAT of Surah ANKABUT too, "and (as for) those who strive hard for Us, We will most certainly guide them in Our ways; and Allah is most surely with the doers of good"; most surely Allah is Most Strong and Truly Mighty so nothing takes place that is against His will; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAAT tell how the true believers would help Islam, the word of Allah, and how Allah had helped the true believers when he had saved them from the extreme punishment that He had sent upon the disbelievers; Allah provides the message in clear terms that He certainly would keep the true believers on His right path and He would save all the true believers even now if they remain sincere to Him; so AAYAT-41 states the liability of true believers that, "those who, should We establish them in the land, will keep up prayer (SALAH) and pay the poor-rate (ZAKAH & SADAQAH) and enjoin good and forbid evil (avoiding all wrongs themselves too as that is the demand of SABR); and the end of all affairs is by the will of Allah"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAT-42 to AAYAT-48 (the last AAYAT of the Ruku), it tells about how the disbelievers rejected the Messengers of Allah and how Allah destroyed those disbelievers; we have studied the events related to Messengers of Allah at many of the previous Surah and we have seen that Allah saved all His Messengers-AS and those persons who believed in them so this was to console the Prophet PBUH that those who reject him as the Messenger of Allah, He would destroy them in the same way and He would save him and all true believers from the injustice they had been facing for some period as He certainly would provide His help to the Prophet PBUH; these AAYAAT read, "and if they reject you (O Prophet PBUH), then already before you did the people of Noah and AAD and THAMUD reject (Prophets); and the people of Ibrahim and the people of Lot, as well as those of MADYAN; and Musa (too) was rejected; but I gave respite to the disbelievers, then did I overtake them, so how (severe) was My disapproval; so how many a town did We destroy while it was unjust, so it was fallen down upon its roofs, and (how many a) deserted well and palace raised high; have they not travelled in the land (to observe what happened to those who rejected the message of Allah) so that they should have hearts with which to understand, or ears with which to hear (or eyes with which to see)? For surely it is not (the ears that lose hearing or) the eyes that are blind, but blind are the hearts which are in the breasts (so the hearing is useless if it does not guide to the right path and the seeing is useless if it does not guide to it so even with these beautiful tools available to accepting the Truth, if they do not lead hearts inside to it and they disbelieve it then such hearts are blind by the standard of the true judgment at AKHIRAT); and they ask you to hasten on the punishment, and Allah will by no means fail in His promise (but He appoints specific time to put His wrath on the disbelieving people), and surely a day with your Lord is as a thousand years by your count (so He knows how much time to allow every people to examine the status of their belief and deeds to judge at the Day of Judgment which also is of one thousand years by your count); and how many a town to which I gave respite while it was unjust, then I overtook it, and to Me is the return (of all persons ultimately that ever lived at the world)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Supplementary note on AAYAT-39 of HAJJ

Although the term JEHAD is generally used to denote the armed fight against the enemy of Islam yet that is just an aspect to it; note that JEHAD has three aspects that are MUJAHIDA, TABLIGH and QITAL; in all its aspects, it relates to striving hard of Muslims by the Quran in the best manner possible against all wrongs to gain the pleasure of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note also that when the terms are used in capital letters, it is either to emphasize their meanings or either because of their significance and sometimes it is for other reasons as to accommodate them into some other language and in any case, it is better not to take them as adverse to the beauty of the expression; we all would study JEHAD here in simple manner in its total context insha-Allah so that undue misconceptions end about it; I, MSD, would mention here that the study of the booklet "JIHAD BIL-Quran" (i.e. JEHAD by the Quran) that was written from a speech of respectable Dr. ISRAR AHMED, provides beautiful insight into this matter in essence; note that JEHAD actually starts at the individual level where JEHAD has the aspect of MUJAHIDA; this means to fight such desires inside at the individual level that ask the person to challenge Islam in his practice; there is provocation to wrongs inside due to satanic temptations but he resists all such temptations by his total attention towards Allah; this resistance with care to Islam relates to SABR (i.e. keeping to Islam with total patience at adverse situations) and as such, it relates most highly to MUJAHIDA; he is at JEHAD at the individual level as he practices SABR and as he asks Allah for safety from all wrongs; his MUJAHIDA does manifest beautifully at such times where the sinful persons ask him to leave care to virtues and to come towards wrongs too to enjoy by them; MUJAHIDA leads the good Muslim person to become able to guide all persons towards Islam by the blessing of Allah; note that MUJAHIDA is obligatory upon each and every good Muslim (as it means for him to obey the commands of Allah in the individual capacity) though the good Muslims would fulfill the liability of TABLIGH and QITAL with high caliber if there are huge quantity among them for each of these both; Al-Hamdu Lillah; if there are many of such Muslim persons who adhere to MUJAHIDA at some specific place together by keeping themselves away from wrongs and then they call towards Islam, Allah provides them ample peace and gives them TOFIQ to become even better; the second aspect of JEHAD is TABLIGH which means to provide the teachings of Islam to all peoples of the world by taking start from the persons around; TABLIGH asks to spread the message of Allah as much as possible to all persons with care to their inclinations, with good understanding of Islam without any intention to gain any of benefits at the world and so it relates to SHUKR (i.e. keeping to Islam by gratitude to Allah on TOFIQ of getting the true guidance); see also AAYAT-125 at Surah NAHL; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Muslims take this aspect of JEHAD too to gain the pleasure of Allah at the world and at AKHIRAT and its significance is that after Prophet Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, this is the crucial liability that asks attention of all Muslims and there needs to remain a huge number in them at all times and at all places to fulfill this liability in the best manner possible; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the third aspect of JEHAD is QITAL and that is the armed combat that the good Muslims fight against the enemy of Islam; it might be as defense from the enemy that attacks them to bring them to their ways (and this aspect of JEHAD includes assistance in all worthy ways to brother Muslims at necessity who already are engaged in QITAL against the enemy) and it might be some necessary watching carefully to its activity (and this in itself is one of worthy manners of QITAL for the good Muslims) and as the last resort, it might be to fight it forcefully by attack over it if the good Muslims find it the best manner to stop them to create mischief (FITNAH) at the Islamic manner of living for the good Muslims; note that all good Muslims would take care that if it occurs as an attack upon the enemy, the conditions allow the Muslim warriors to challenge the enemy of Islam; note also that the good Muslims would go for QITAL most committedly at their defense with whatever arms they have with them when the enemy attacks them as care to their safety is most necessary for them and even if they are weaker in weaponry than the enemy, Allah would help them in this situation so that they answer to the challenge of the enemy most worthily; as for watching carefully the activity of the enemy, the good Muslims would engage themselves in that at all times except where there remains no necessity for it undoubtedly; however, when JEHAD relates to QITAL in attack upon the enemy, there are some prerequisites to such QITAL for the good Muslims to see to, and in them five issues are most important; two of them relate to the first two aspects of JEHAD that such warriors would be those

Muslim persons who would care for the Islamic teachings into their practice with total sincerity to safeguard the teachings of Islam and so they would keep consciously away from major sins with MUJAHIDA; Al-Hamdu Lillah; and all such warriors would provide the fundamental Islamic teachings explicitly to all people as much as possible for them by TABLIGH especially those people that they have to challenge due to the evil doings of those people; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the third prerequisite is that it is necessary for such warriors to note well that the enemy they fight against, has not only rejected Islam but has even rejected the offer to formulate a respectable pact with Muslims in clear terms either with the agreement to pay JIZYA (monetary tax for their protection) or without it; if they break their agreement especially without information, that would bring them at the position where, with other conditions of the aggressive QITAL intact, the Muslims would have to challenge them immediately as this breach asks highly for the immediate defense of all Muslims at such occasion; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the fourth prerequisite to fight such QITAL that is in attack upon the enemy, is to fight it strictly under the command of the courageous Muslim commander, who cares well for the aspect of MUJAHIDA at all times sincerely and who cares well to keep the aspect of TABLIGH wherever necessary in his practice sincerely; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last of these is that the Muslims would have gathered the necessary physical force to fight the enemy with much high caliber as they are not liable to attack them for QITAL with extreme meager force to challenge them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; there is much detail to these conditions that relate to aggressive QITAL at the books of

FIQH for those who intend elaboration on these; note that missing of any of these five conditions renders the initiative to QITAL unnecessary though all Muslims would fight it in defense most enthusiastically against the enemy where they are challenged and they certainly have no such conditions to see at such defensive QITAL; note also that the Quran does ask for QITAL at different places but due to its manner of expression, it takes-up the matter with the understanding that the necessary conditions are present for that, especially that the disbelievers have rejected the message of Islam that the good Muslims have already provided to them; for instance, note that AAYAT-39 of HAJJ that is in study here permits QITAL by words that "permission (to fight by attack) is given to those upon whom war is made because they are oppressed, and most surely Allah is well able to assist them"; and BAQARAH-191 & 192 read, "And slay them wherever you find them, and drive them out of the places whence they drove you out, because the persecution (i.e. their FITNAH against the good Islamic teachings of practicing Muslims) is worse than slaughter; and fight not with them at the MASJIDUL-HARAM (at Makkah) until they first attack you there, but if they attack you (there) then slay them; such is the reward of disbelievers; but if they desist (and then they do respect Islam truly so then FITNAH ends), then lo! Allah is Forgiving, Merciful"; see also Surah MUHAMMAD-1 to 5; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that such of surroundings presents FITNAH where there are high number of persons who not only abhor the practice of the righteous Islamic teachings but also the belief in the righteous Islamic teachings; and sometimes the QITAL in attack for the good Muslims becomes most valid where the disbelievers have broken their pacts in clear terms with them and so, they have shown explicitly by their practical attitude that they have rejected the message of Islam; note here that the attack that Muslims made on Makkah in the command of the Prophet PBUH that resulted in its conquest was after the disbelievers at Makkah broke the peace-treaty with the Muslims; the true Muslims actually are the force of Allah upon the earth and they certainly have committed their-selves to see that His true authority is never challenged in any manner; this is the reason that at necessity, they certainly had called for QITAL at occasions in history where the conditions allowed them to initiate it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; QITAL only inflicts the punishment to the enemy for its adamant stance after it had rejected the Islamic teachings in clear terms and it denotes that the good practicing Muslims that have the strength to challenge such wrong persons among the disbelievers, certainly do see well to giving them of that punishment; this also is highly notable here that when the administration among the Muslims imposes laws against Islam, the Muslims would have to voice their protest as best as possible as being TABLIGH to virtues, that also is one of the most significant aspects to JEHAD; TABLIGH certainly denotes to speak out facts that Islam presents according to the Quran, even at most adverse surroundings in which the good Muslim person lives as he has to make things better by his total attention towards Allah; he has to fight the desires inside by MUJAHIDA necessarily at the individual level to resist by his total attention towards Allah, the challenge that the surroundings present to the practice of the good Islamic teachings; as for QITAL, the third aspect of JEHAD, it is most feasible for all Muslims to save the manner of their lives that Islam professes when they fight the enemy forcefully in their defense and it needs no specific conditions for them to see to, because it takes place where the Muslims are attacked by the disbelievers; note that according to the asking of an authentic Hadith at JAME' Tirmidhi that directs the Muslims about JEHAD, either the Muslim eliminates the adversity by his hands (by QITAL for Islam), or either by his speech (by TABLIGH of Islam), or either lives at such adverse place that challenges the Islamic teachings, only with total detestation at heart against the practice of wrongs there (due to the genuine absence of any choice for him except to live there but under protest with the intention to migrate to some better place if he gets that option, with Islam in his individual practice as much as possible by his MUJAHIDA); MUJAHIDA is obligatory upon each and every good Muslim though they would fulfill the liability of TABLIGH and QITAL with high caliber if there are huge quantity among them for each of these both; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that there are such opposing disbelievers to the virtuous Muslims at the world in these current times who actually appreciate all adversity to them and if the virtuous Muslims observe their speech, they would find that their hidden hatred for the virtuous Muslims does manifest even in their speech though whatever is at their inside, that is even more than what the virtuous Muslims might detect by their speech; note that the commitment to JEHAD by any aspect that the situations ask for, according to the command of Allah, provides safety to virtuous Muslims from the enemy of Islam; the best attitude at the current era as I, MSD, find by observation is keeping away from all disbelievers in all manners after the most beautiful TABLIGH of the Islamic teachings to them as it would keep all Muslims to remain to virtues insha-Allah and that (being MUJAHIDA of all Muslims that rises to the collective level) also relates to JEHAD; Al-Hamdu Lillah; though the initiation of QITAL also relates to JEHAD when its prerequisites present at the situation yet there certainly are valid reasons as of now that the Muslims would avoid the initiation of QITAL and the foremost of these valid reasons is that it would kill the most high quantity of innocent persons at both sides at the current era due to the most deadly weapons in use (though they certainly are not among the weapons of war) and Islam does not appreciate to kill any of innocent persons in this manner (even by the name of JEHAD) especially when they are among the most weakest persons of their respective nations; Al-Hamdu Lillah; in these current times, this JAHILIYYAT (living upon wrongs with utmost ignorance to Islam) that we see around is even more dangerous than before that was in progress at the time when the Prophet Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, set for TABLIGH of Islam to all peoples of the world by the command of Allah; that JAHILIYYAT did not have many of satanic concepts behind it yet this one has satanic concepts in different walks of life that it is presenting in an organized manner and also appreciating its forced practice at places without any care to morality; now, as there seems little if any chance for the disbelievers to come to Islam in most huge number (except if Allah wills) even after the most comprehensive TABLIGH of the Islamic teachings and as it seems unfeasible for the virtuous Muslims to ask the disbelievers for any treaty of peace with or without JIZYA as of now due to mistrust to each other, there remains to challenge the disbelievers by QITAL as the only option; but that also is most unfeasible as it certainly would cause the death of the most huge number of the most innocent persons; so for now, the only genuine option for the Muslims at this issue is that they keep totally away from the disbelievers, with their practice upon Islam with all commitment and they call Allah, the true Lord, by heart to better things by His absolute authority; He certainly is AZIZ (so He provides for such happenings that keep the world to His will by His authoritative measures so no one becomes able to cause such deviation at the world that leads it away from His set manner for it) and He certainly is HAKEEM (so He shapes all things towards the way He intends even by the works of the Man and it sometimes takes many years for us to see how things have turned favorably for Islam practically); in Surah TAUBAH, Allah commands the Prophet PBUH, "O Prophet (PBUH); strive hard against the disbelievers and the hypocrites and be unyielding to them; and their abode is hell, and evil is the destination" (TAUBAH-73); note that Allah has used the term that relates to JEHAD at the command "to strive" but here it does not mean QITAL as the Prophet PBUH never took-up that against the hypocrites while the Muslims in general are disallowed to name someone as hypocrite; note that it means here that the true Muslims would make themselves better in defense as they strive hard against the disbelievers by taking such steps in defense that they become unable to affect the true Muslims adversely; they would keep watch upon the activities of all the ill-wishers against Islam and by remaining cautious of their negative plans against the true Muslims, they would assure the safety of all Muslims; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah has asked the Prophet PBUH explicitly to remain most strict in attitudes against the disbelievers especially the hypocrites; their abode is the hell-fire and that is the most evil destination; the good Muslims must remain aware that the total absence of aspects of JEHAD has the potential to lead to their annihilation but Allah cares for all Muslims and so they live on with the awareness and the practice of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this is because there are such evil persons against Islam at the world in these current times who have given themselves wholly to the Satan who misguides them in all their doings and leads them to abuse their extreme worldly power against all good morality so that they bring their own evils of morality to all Muslims upon which he already has brought those evil persons; according to TAUBAH-122, note that to fight against the challengers to Islam (i.e. QITAL) by all manners and to study & provide the Islamic teachings well by all manners to make its practice most easy (for MUJAHIDA that is obligatory for every Muslim person and TABLIGH that some good quantity from among the Muslims would fulfill with high caliber to relax the liability from all among the Muslims) is most necessary for Muslims; they do remain complementary to each other and they do suffice to defend against the doings of all the ill-wishers of Islam; the AAYAT reads, "and it does not beseem the believers that they should go forth all together; why should not then a company from every party from among them go forth that they may apply themselves to obtain understanding in religion, and that they may warn their people when they come back to them that they may be cautious?"; but there are conditions for the aggressive QITAL and we have studied them explicitly; the true Muslims fulfill together the demands of the Islamic living by taking-up both of these matters that relate to the defense of Islam from the enemy that challenges the true Muslims by its physical force and by its unjust reasoning due to its ignorance of the Quran and the Sunnah (the practical guidance of the Prophet Muhammad PBUH), and that cares only for the worldly issues; I, MSD, would emphasize that as QITAL by initiating it is unfeasible at these current times so after the most beautiful TABLIGH of the Islamic teachings to all peoples of the world, the better thing for all Muslims is taking-up of MUJAHIDA by retreating to their own areas with total care to Islamic teachings in practice (and providing their physical defense in the best manner possible) to save themselves from all wrongs that challenge them due to doings of the ill-wishers against Islam in the disbelievers; the true Muslims do realize that each of these relate to JEHAD directly because all three are its significant aspects and most certainly, each of them expresses most clearly that Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

HAJJ-The Seventh Ruku

49. Say: O people! I am only a plain warner to you.
50. Then (as for) those who believe and do good, they shall have forgiveness and an honorable sustenance.
51. And (as for) those who strive to oppose Our AAYAAT, they shall be the inmates of the flaming fire.
52. And We did not send before you any apostle or prophet, but when he desired, the Satan made a suggestion respecting his desire; but Allah annuls that which the Satan casts, then does Allah establish His AAYAAT, and Allah is Knowing, Wise,
53. So that He may make what the Satan casts a trial for those in whose hearts is disease and those whose hearts are hard; and most surely the unjust are in a great opposition,
54. And that those who have been given the knowledge may know that it is the Truth from your Lord, so they may believe in it and their hearts may be lowly before it; and most surely Allah is the Guide of those who believe into the right path.
55. And those who disbelieve shall not cease to be in doubt concerning it until the hour overtakes them suddenly, or there comes on them the chastisement of a destructive day.
56. The kingdom on that day shall be Allah's; He will judge between them; so those who believe and do good will be in gardens of bliss.
57. And (as for) those who disbelieve in and reject Our AAYAAT, these it is who shall have a disgraceful chastisement.

Allah asks the Prophet PBUH at the first AAYAT of the Ruku to state plainly to all peoples of the world that He is the warned from Allah to all peoples of the world (as he is the last of His Messengers); Al-Hamdu Lillah; so those who truly believe in the message of Allah and do good deeds according to that belief, they would receive forgiveness at the world on their unintentional mistakes (and Allah would save them from the adverse impression of those mistakes) and they would receive the most honorable sustenance at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah ; as for the disbelievers whose deeds clearly show them totally adverse to the teachings of Islam, they would be the inmates of the hell-fire at AKHIRAT; AAYAT-52 to 57, the last AAYAT of the Ruku, need most good understanding to get them and I, MSD, would write about them as I find appropriate but with the necessary statement that Allah knows better; to get the meaning of these AAYAAT ahead, note that the Messengers of Allah did get WAHI (Revelations) from Allah yet they could form their own opinions too about issues open to debate as they also were among the mankind; but Allah took care that their opinions could not be taken against any of the teachings of Islam by anyone as Satan tried to misguide persons to meanings adverse to Islam from the text of such of their statements; note that Allah has taken the security of the text of the Quran and its meanings from the time when He descended it which provides the Islamic teachings explicitly; note also that the difference in opinion to the Prophet PBUH as a man was allowed at the time when he was present at the world (and there are places where few SAHABA did differ to him asking him first if he had spoken the words as the guidance from Allah or by his own personal opinion with total respect to him so they voiced their difference only when they knew that the Prophet PBUH has mentioned his personal opinion); that position stays even today if someone could know that something which the Prophet PBUH had said was his personal opinion; but as it is quite improbable to know at this moment of time if he had said something in the capacity of just a human being (or had done something in that capacity), there remains no option but to follow the SUNNAH strictly as outlined in the authentic Ahadith in clear terms (unless there is some direction in the Quran to take something as his own view though that even would not ever be adverse to Islam in its right context); Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that where the Prophet PBUH did have such opinion which the listeners to it might have interpreted in some adverse manner to Islam, Allah clarified his statement at the Quran; those who still presented such statements in the most adverse manner intentionally then AAYAT-51 has indicated the outcome to their opposition to the Islamic teachings explicitly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these last six AAYAAT of the Ruku read, "and We did not send before you any apostle or prophet, but when he desired (something by his own), the Satan made a suggestion respecting his desire; but Allah annuls that which the Satan casts, then does Allah establish His AAYAAT, and Allah is Knowing, Wise (so nothing happens against His will); so that He may make what the Satan casts a trial for those in whose hearts is disease (who find his interpretation easy to take in practice) and those whose hearts are hard (who have such character that finds pleasure in opposing of the right path); and most surely the unjust are in a great opposition; and that those who have been given the knowledge may know that it is the Truth from your Lord, so they may believe in it and their hearts may be lowly before it; and most surely Allah is the Guide of those who believe into the right path; and those who disbelieve shall not cease to be in doubt concerning it until the hour (the last day of the world) overtakes them suddenly, or there comes on them the chastisement of a destructive day (i.e. the Day of Judgment); the kingdom on that day shall be Allah's; He will judge between them; so those who believe and do good will be in gardens of bliss; and (as for) those who disbelieve in and reject Our AAYAAT, these it is who shall have a disgraceful chastisement"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

HAJJ-The Eighth Ruku

58. And (as for) those who fly in Allah's way and are then slain or die, Allah will most certainly grant them a goodly sustenance, and most surely Allah is the best Giver of sustenance.

59. He will certainly cause them to enter a place of entrance which they shall be well pleased with, and most surely Allah is Knowing, Forbearing.

60. That (shall be so); and he who retaliates with the like of that with which he has been afflicted and he has been oppressed, Allah will most certainly aid him; most surely Allah is Pardoning, Forgiving.

61. That is because Allah causes the night to enter into the day and causes the day to enter into the night, and because Allah is Hearing, Seeing.

62. That is because Allah is the Truth, and that what they call upon besides Him-- that is the falsehood, and because Allah is the High, the Great.

63. Do you not see that Allah sends down water from the heaven so the earth becomes green? Surely Allah is Benignant, Aware.

64. His is whatsoever is in the heavens and whatsoever is in the earth; and most surely Allah is the Self-sufficient, the Praised.

The five AAYAAT at the beginning of this Ruku tell explicitly that those who leave their lands to live upon the commands of Allah, He would surely care for their convenience in all manner to live their lives at the world; and if they are killed in the way of Allah fighting the disbelievers or they die living with fervor upon Islam, the word of Allah, He certainly would provide them the best of sustenance at AKHIRAT; He only is the best Provider of sustenance and He would give them entrance to the most pleasant of places (i.e. JANNAAT); and they are allowed to inflict the same type of wounds as they receive from the wrong persons even when not at war against them; Allah changes the time between peoples at the world and sometimes even the disbelievers get a say at the life at the world but the ultimate result even at the world is that the word of Allah reigns as His word is the Truth; note that Allah has given here the indication that very soon, the Muslims who live on caring for the commands of Allah, would get the hold on issues around and they would rise to heights; Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; He truly is the Highest and the Greatest; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT tell all peoples of the world that those who are good by character, they would ultimately come to the fundamental teachings of Islam as Allah provides that to them through the Prophet PBUH and after him through the good Muslims who care to spread His commands to all; they would accept it as the water (the true guidance) that Allah sends from the heaven, revives the earth (i.e. the person with the good character) to become green (steadfast upon Islam who provides His good teachings to others too); Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT read, "do you not see that Allah sends down water from the heaven so the earth becomes green? - surely Allah is Benignant, Aware; His is whatsoever is in the heavens and whatsoever is in the earth; and most surely Allah is the Self-sufficient, the Praised (so even if disbelievers do not praise Him to which they would see the consequence, He only is most truly Praiseworthy)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

HAIJ- The Ninth Ruku

65. Do you not see that Allah has made subservient to you whatsoever is in the earth and the ships running in the sea by His command? And He withholds the heaven from falling on the earth except with His permission; most surely Allah is Compassionate, Merciful to men.

66. And He it is Who has brought you to life, then He will cause you to die, then bring you to life (again); most surely man is ungrateful.

67. To every nation We appointed acts of devotion which they observe, therefore they should not dispute with you about the matter and call to your Lord; most surely you are on a right way.

68. And if they contend with you, say: Allah best knows what you do.

69. Allah will judge between you on the day of resurrection respecting that in which you differ.

70. Do you not know that Allah knows what is in the heaven and the earth? Surely this is in a book; surely this is easy to Allah.

71. And they serve besides Allah that for which He has not sent any authority, and that of which they have no knowledge; and for the unjust there shall be no helper.

72. And when Our clear AAYAAT are recited to them you will find denial on the faces of those who disbelieve; they almost spring upon those who recite to them Our AAYAAT. Say: Shall I inform you of what is worse than this? That is the fire; Allah has promised it to those who disbelieve; and how evil that resort is!

In this Ninth Ruku of HAJJ, Allah tells all peoples that He has made the earth in such manner that they benefit from its resources for the ease at their lives; they make voyages at sea on ships too to different places that provide development in their economic needs; also, He withholds the heaven by His will that the heavenly bodies in it do not fall to earth in such manner as to destroy the life here except for what He intends to get to the earth by His will; so Allah has provided convenience to all persons so that each of them shows his worth for AKHIRAT living at peace at the earth by care to all creation of Allah; certainly Allah is most Compassionate and Merciful towards the mankind; He had given life to each and every person and He would cause all of them to die then He would account for it at the Day of Judgment where He would bring them again to life from dead; but many of persons among the mankind take these benefits for granted to them and they do not count the blessings Allah has provided to them without their asking so that they sustain the life at earth with pleasure and they do not praise Allah sincerely for that; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Quran speaks about the spiritual guidance too where it presents for the mankind the physical ease in his living, as that certainly is the highest of blessings from Him to the mankind; AAYAT-67 to 70 tells that Allah provided every nation at the life at the world its own practical manner to show its devotion to Allah (especially for the sacrifice they practice) but they need to avoid any criticism to the Islamic teachings as the manner of practice in all issues of life that Islam teaches is the best for certain so O Prophet PBUH - you go on calling towards your true Lord Who has provided you the teachings of Islam that certainly lead its believers towards Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; if they still argue with you to challenge the Islamic teachings, you just tell them that Allah knows best about what they are following as you have to provide the Truth to all peoples of the world as it is, in most clear terms and on the day of resurrection, He will judge between them about what they followed at the world; He certainly knows what is in the heaven and the earth and He has recorded all of it in a book (about which He only knows better), so the judgment at the Day of Judgment is most easy for Him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the Quran uses the term KITAB (i.e. Book) to mean at places the Quran and even Torah and even the LOHE-MAHFUZ i.e. the book of Allah that have all things written in it; it also means the commands of Allah and even the Surah in which the word is placed and this tells that the context for it and for other such significant words is most important in getting the meaning of the word; it also tells that even learned persons in Islam need to practice necessary caution in providing TAFSIR (comments on the Quran) as they must have TAWAKKUL (most high trust in Allah) for TAFSIR rather than trust their knowledge or their capability for it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT at this Ruku tell about the disbelievers and their rejection to the teachings of Islam; it tells the result to their wrongs at AKHIRAT that sure is the most severe punishment to them all; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT read, "and they serve besides Allah that for which He has not sent any authority (as He only guides to the right path), and that of which they have no knowledge (as it not possible to gain the knowledge in issues that affect AKHIRAT unless Allah provides it to the mankind); and for the unjust (who take any of the creation of Allah equal to Him in authority) there shall be no helper (at AKHIRAT and even at the world to them); and when Our clear AAYAAT are recited to them you will find denial on the faces of those who disbelieve (as they detest the Truth); they almost spring upon those who recite to them Our AAYAAT (that lead to the Truth i.e. the fundamental teachings of Islam); say - shall I inform you of what is worse than this? - that is the fire; Allah has promised it to those who disbelieve; and how evil that resort is"; most certainly, Allah, the true Lord, only has all the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

HAIJ-The Last Ruku

73. O people! a parable is set forth, therefore listen to it: surely those whom you call upon besides Allah cannot create fly, though they should all gather for it, and should the fly snatch away anything from them, they could not take it back from it; weak are the invoker and the invoked.

74. They have not estimated Allah with the estimation that is due to Him; most surely Allah is Strong, Mighty.

75. Allah chooses apostles from among the angels and from among the men; surely Allah is Hearing, Seeing.

76. He knows what is before them and what is behind them and to Allah are all affairs turned back.

77. O you who believe! bow down and prostrate yourselves and serve your Lord, and do good that you may succeed.

78. And strive hard in (the way of) Allah, the striving as is due to Him; He has chosen you and has not laid upon you any hardship in religion; the faith of your father Ibrahim; He named you Muslims before and in this, that the Apostle may be a bearer of witness to you, and you may be bearers of witness to the people; therefore, keep up prayer and pay the poor-rate and hold fast by Allah; He is your Guardian; how excellent the Guardian and how excellent the Helper!

The last Ruku of HAJJ guides to the three fundamental teachings of Islam so that the disbelievers reflect upon them and they also accept them; it guides them to observe that those whom they call to their help with the most erroneous belief that they have some share in the authority of Allah (because their forefathers had told them so repeatedly), those are not able to create a small living fly and not only that, it is beyond the ability of those that they take back from the fly what it snatches away from them; when such is the glaring fact then certainly, very weak is the caller to those for assistance in any of his necessities as those are nothing but among the weak creation of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these disbelieving persons have not respected Allah as they should have, as whom they call are totally powerless and Allah is Most Strong and Most Mighty; so He provides all persons their genuine needs as He has all of things in His control and He sees that nothing adverse takes place that disturbs the beautiful set-up that He has provided to the mankind; Al-Hamdu Lillah; after calling the disbelievers to TAUHID (which means that Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord), AYAT-75 guides to RISALAT (which means Allah sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path and Muhammad PBUH is the last of His Messengers); it reads that "Allah chooses apostles from among the angels (as He chose Gabriel-AS to send the Quran) and from among the men (as He chose Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, to receive the Quran and spread its teachings to all of the mankind); surely Allah is

Hearing, Seeing"; AAYAT-76 tells that Allah knows everything of each of His creation and all persons among the jinn and the mankind would come to Him at the Day of HASHR i.e. the Day of Judgment where each of them would receive the result to his doings at the world; the AAYAT says at its last part that "to Allah are all affairs turned back" so that is the first day of AKHIRAT (that means that Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment and they would live-on ahead to eternity according to that judgment); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT address those true believers who have accepted Islam sincerely that now with the righteous belief, they would see to their deeds that those deeds remain in accordance to that righteous belief; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT read, "O you who believe! bow down and prostrate yourselves and serve your Lord (by living your lives as He has commanded you to practice), and do good (to all by providing them the teachings of Islam explicitly besides caring for them in their physical necessities) that you may succeed (at AKHIRAT); and strive hard in (the way of) Allah, the striving as is due to Him (that you live at all issues of life by the commands of Allah in practice sincerely and ask others too for this); He has chosen you and has not laid upon you any hardship in religion (so to live by His commands practically would not be any burden to you but it would only bring you the true satisfaction inside); (this is) the faith of your father Ibrahim; He named you Muslims (those who surrender to Allah with their commitment to Him that they would believe in Him sincerely and practice His commands to get His pleasure) before (in the holy scriptures that He sent to His previous Messengers) and in this (the glorious Quran, the last holy book from Allah to whole of the mankind that He sent to Muhammad PBUH, who is the last of His Messengers), that the Apostle may be a bearer of witness to you (at AKHIRAT that he certainly has provided the teachings of Islam to you so now no one would plea their ignorance as excuse in their defense), and you (Muslims) may be bearers of witness to the people (at AKHIRAT, so provide the message of Allah to all peoples of the world); therefore, keep up prayer (Salah) and pay the poor-rate (Zakat & SADAQAH) and hold fast by Allah (by the practice of the Islamic teachings as the Quran has provided you all by His blessing, remaining steadfast on the Truth); He is your Guardian (so He cares for your true belief and your deeds for your success at AKHIRAT); how excellent the Guardian and how excellent the Helper (in all of such needs that you have at your lives at the world)"; certainly, He only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah MOMINOON
(Consists of 6 Ruku; MK-10)

MOMINOON-The First Ruku

1. Successful indeed are the believers;
2. Those are humble in their prayers,
3. And who keep aloof from what is vain,
4. And who are aware to their (spiritual) purity,
5. And who guard their private parts,
6. Except before their mates or those whom their right hands possess, so they surely are not blamable,
7. But whoever seeks to go beyond that, these are they that exceed the limits,
8. And those who are keepers of their trusts and their covenant,
9. And those who keep a guard on their prayers;
10. These are those who are the heirs,
11. Who shall inherit the Paradise; they shall abide therein.
12. And certainly We created man of an extract of clay,
13. Then We made him a small seed in a firm resting-place,
14. Then We made the seed a clot, then We made the clot a lump of flesh, then We made (in) the lump of flesh bones, then We clothed the bones with flesh, then We caused it to grow into another creation, so blessed be Allah, the best of the creators.
15. Then after that you will most surely die.
16. Then surely on the day of resurrection you shall be raised.
17. And certainly We made above you seven ways; and never are We heedless of creation.
18. And We send down water from the cloud according to a measure, then We cause it to settle in the earth, and most surely We are able to carry it away.

19. Then We cause to grow thereby gardens of palm trees and grapes for you; you have in them many fruits and from them do you eat;

20. And a tree that grows out of Mount Sinai which produces oil and a condiment for those who eat.

21. And most surely there is a lesson for you in the cattle: We make you to drink of what is in their bellies, and you have in them many advantages and of them you eat,

22. And on them and on the ships you are borne.

The Surah starts by the statement that the true believers have achieved success for certain; it tells clearly that the true success is not in achieving wealth, status and the say among peoples around at the world but it certainly is in becoming the true believer in Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead from second to eleventh mention about them explicitly that, "those are humble in their prayers (i.e. Salah - fearing that no action takes place against the manner of Salah as they engage themselves in it); and who keep aloof from what is vain (as that does not give them gains at AKHIRAT so they care that they do not spend the precious time of their life in any act that denotes their immaturity due to ignorance of AKHIRAT); and who are aware to their (spiritual) purity (by caring to do good deeds especially by providing care to the needy); and who guard their private parts (keeping totally away from adultery); except before their mates (their wives) or those whom their right hands possess (i.e. their slave-women which were present at those times yet in these current times, Islam strictly disallows to put any woman to slavery and it validates taking from the women wives only - up-to four at one time -, if the man is able to provide them all physical security, economic stability and utmost care as their husband so that is the only manner for him to care for the sexual need) so they surely are not blamable; but whoever seeks to go beyond that, these are they that exceed the limits (of virtuousness); and those who are keepers of their trusts (especially in national affairs, in business transactions and in matrimonial relations with care to the commands of Allah) and their covenant (with Allah); and those who keep a guard on their prayers (as the true believers in Allah would read their Salah on time and they would cleanse themselves well for it with clean apparels on them and prepare for it with all its necessary aspects); these are those who are the heirs; who shall inherit the Paradise; they shall abide therein"; note that the mention of the true believers starts with their care to Salah and ends with the same so the first one is their care to their manner inside the Salah for it and the last one is their care to their manner in the good preparation for it; this also denotes the high esteem that Salah holds in Islamic teachings and we have seen at places that the Quran guides the true believer to SABR (i.e. to hold oneself away from the beauty and attraction of the world according to the commands of Allah) and it guides to SALAH which brings him very near to Allah; the beautiful traits of the MOMINOON (the true believers in Allah) that the Quran presents here, denote the beauty of his SABR and his SALAH explicitly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; in AAYAT-12, 13 and 14, Allah provides detail for the creation of man mentioning his development too at the uterus before his birth; He mentions, "and certainly We created man (i.e. Adam-AS) of an extract of clay (see HIJR-26); then (afterwards in the process of reproduction) We made him a small seed in a firm resting-place (i.e. zygote that takes firm grounds at the uterus); then We made the seed a (hanging) clot, then We made the clot a lump of flesh, then We made (in) the lump of flesh bones, then We clothed the bones with flesh, then We caused it to grow into another creation, so blessed be Allah, the best of the creators"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this detail tells us seven phases in creation of man that is clay, zygote, hanging clot, lump of flesh, bones into that, covering of bones and finally, a living child that comes at the world; the couple of AAYAAT ahead say that after living their lives at the world, all persons die and they would be brought to life from the dead at HASHR, the first day of AKHIRAT, where each person would receive his/her result to the life he/she has led at the world so no person should remain oblivious to that specific day; at AAYAT-17, Allah mentions that "and certainly We made above you seven ways; and never are We heedless of creation"; so when Allah has taken care that the mankind has all good capability by physique to live at the world with convenience, he needs to see to his spiritual development by becoming the true believer in Allah and by taking SABR and SALAH to keep firm upon it by the blessing of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAT-18 to the last AAYAT of the Ruku, Allah mentions the convenience that He has provided to the mankind for sustenance of his life at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAT read, "and We send down water from the cloud according to a measure, then We cause it to settle in the earth, and most surely We are able to carry it away; then We cause to grow thereby gardens of palm trees and grapes for you; you have in them many fruits (to consume in different manners fairly) and from them do you eat (directly); and a tree (olive) that grows out of Mount Sinai which produces oil and a condiment for those who eat; and most surely there is a lesson for you in the cattle- We make you to drink of what is in their bellies (i.e. milk), and you have in them many advantages (as you use them as carrier of your loads too to places far-away) and of them you eat; and on them and on the ships you are borne"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

MOMINOON-The Second Ruku

23. And certainly We sent Noah to his people, and he said: O my people- serve Allah, you have no god other than Him; will you not then guard (against evil)?

24. And the chiefs of those who disbelieved from among his people said that he is nothing but a mortal like yourselves who desires that he may have superiority over you, and if Allah had pleased, He could certainly have sent down angels. We have not heard of this among our fathers of yore:

25. He is only a madman, so bear with him for a time.

26. He said: O my Lord - help me against their calling me a liar.

27. So We revealed to him, saying: Make the ark before Our eyes and (according to) Our revelation; and when Our command is given and the valley overflows, take into it of every kind a pair, two of them, and your followers, except those among them against whom the word has gone forth, and do not speak to Me in respect of those who are unjust; surely they shall be drowned.

28. And when you are firmly seated, you and those with you, in the ark, say that all praise is due to Allah who delivered us from the unjust people;

29. And say: O my Lord - cause me to disembark a blessed alighting, and Thou art the best to cause to alight.

30. Most surely there are signs in this, and most surely We are ever trying (men).

31. Then We raised up after them another generation.

32. So We sent among them an apostle from among them, saying: Serve Allah, you have no god other than Him; will you not then guard (against evil)?

The Quran mostly presents the guidance that Allah has given to the mankind when it provides the mention of security that He has given him at the world; here, the Ruku gives the account of Noah-AS and we have studied this at different places and I, MSD, have also presented it at the supplementary note on AAYAAT-25 & 26 of HOODH after its third Ruku; Noah-AS told his nation who were idolaters that "O my people- serve Allah, you have no god other than Him"; the Messengers of Allah, all of them, gave the same message to their nations that are TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord) and AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world on their belief and their deeds that they did at the world, at the Day of Judgment) and RISALAT (Allah had sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path as He had given His word to Adam-AS that He would send them time and again for the true guidance of the Man); Noah-AS told them that he is the Messenger of Allah, the Lord of all the worlds, and he does care for their safety at AKHIRAT but the chiefs there not only disbelieved him but they also asked all persons there to disbelieve him by misguiding them that he only is a man like them who wants them to accept his superiority on them by mentioning some of his significant traits; AYAT-24 tells that the disbelievers see the manifest only remaining oblivious to the spiritual goodness of a person; this was the mistake that the Satan, who was among the Jinn, committed when Allah had commanded him with angels to accept the superiority of Adam-AS and he had said that he is better than Adam as Allah has created him by fire and He has created Adam by TEEN (the muddy clay that took place by the will of Allah as He mixed TURAB, the pure sand, with pure water); he did not see the spiritual eminence of Adam-AS and more than that, he challenged the command of Allah that caused his utmost disgrace as Allah punished him taking away his status where he was allowed to accompany the angels and put His curse upon him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the disbelievers in his nation took the manner to live in which their wrong forefathers used to live when after some period had elapsed on the demise of Adam-AS and they blamed Noah-AS of madness and told their nation that they had to wait for his death that would end all his teachings; this denotes that they had extreme flaw in their judgment as they saw the issues at face without any reflection on the facts at the back of them; the manifestation of something at a given moment is enough for them to judge for its validity without care that the Truth always has been one that is unchangeable; Al-Hamdu Lillah; due to their adverse attitude, Noah asked Allah for His help and He commanded him to build the most huge ark under His direction that would accommodate all the living species that were unable to live at waters; so he made that ark and as he was building it far from the shores, the chiefs in the disbelievers mocked him whenever they passed by him; in response to them, he told them that very soon they themselves would become something to laugh upon, just as they are mocking him today; they certainly would see very soon who is taken by the most grievous disaster at the life at the world and who then becomes liable to remain in the grievous torment that would always remain upon them at AKHIRAT; when the command of Allah came to the land for their destruction, the land burst everywhere at the place to bring waters all over the place there; Allah ordered him to take all of such among the mankind who had believed in the Truth as others were destined to face certain death; these true believers were very scarce in quantity in comparison to those who had disbelieved in the Messenger; Noah gave the final call (for all of the believers) to board the ark so that by the name of Allah, it sails and by the name of Allah, it anchors at its destination; he said that Allah, Who is my true Lord, certainly is Most Forgiving (that He has still given the mankind a chance to show his worth for all goodness) and Most Merciful (that He would still provide the true guidance to the mankind so that he might believe in the Truth and remain at all goodness); Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that that area was the most populous area of the earth and most of the mankind at that time was concentrated at that populous area only and that is why sometimes this great flood is mentioned as universal; in AAYAAT-28, 29 & 30, Allah tells about the voyage to safety of that ark as they read, "and when you are firmly seated, you and those with you, in the ark, say that all praise is due to Allah who delivered us from the unjust people (as getting safety always asks to praise Allah); and say- O my Lord - cause me to disembark a blessed alighting, and Thou art the best to cause to alight; most surely there are signs in this (that Allah saves the true believers from all adversities when that falls upon the disbelievers), and most surely We are ever trying (men so that they show their true colors whereby they would be judged at AKHIRAT)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT at the Ruku mention that after him, Allah brought forth another of people among whom He sent another of His Messengers but these AAYAAT do not mention him by name; this is most probably SALEH-AS who gave them the same message that all the Messengers of Allah had provided to their nations that they should serve Allah as they have no god other than Him; they should guard themselves against all evil with extreme care as that only would lead them to the true success at AKHIRAT; they also were destroyed due to their disbelief by the deadly rumble of the earthquake and Allah saved the Messenger and all the true believers that remained with him; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

MOMINOON-The Third Ruku

33. And the chiefs of his people who disbelieved and called the meeting of the hereafter a lie, and whom We had given plenty to enjoy in this world's life, said: This is nothing but a mortal like yourselves, eating of what you eat from and drinking of what you drink.

34. And if you obey a mortal like yourselves, then most surely you will be losers:

35. What- does he threaten you that when you are dead and become dust and bones that you shall then be brought forth?

36. Far, far is that which you are threatened with.

37. There is naught but our life in this world; we die and we live and we shall not be raised again.

38. He is naught but a man who has forged a lie against Allah, and we are not going to believe in him.

39. He said: O my Lord - help me against their calling me a liar.

40. He said: In a little while they will most certainly be repenting.

41. So the punishment overtook them in justice, and We made them as rubbish; so away with the unjust people.

42. Then We raised after them other generations.

43. No people can hasten on their doom nor can they postpone (it).

44. Then We sent Our apostles one after another; whenever there came to a people their apostle, they called him a liar, so We made some of them follow others and We made them stories; so away with a people who do not believe!

45. Then We sent Musa and his brother Aaron, with Our AAYAAT and a clear authority,

46. To Pharaoh and his chiefs, but they behaved haughtily and they were an insolent people.

47. And they said: What- shall we believe in two mortals like ourselves while their people serve us?

48. So they rejected them and became of those who were destroyed.

49. And certainly We gave Musa the Book that they may follow the right direction.

50. And We made the son of Mariam and his mother a sign, and We gave them a shelter on a lofty ground having meadows and springs.

Note that among the disbelievers, there have always been factions that differed with each other and the Quran has mentioned them as many phases of darkness at places; for instance, AAYAT-257 of Surah BAQARAH reads, "Allah is the guardian of those who believe; He brings them out of the many phases of darkness (it is termed in plural) into the light (which is singular); and (as to) those who disbelieve, their guardians are many of Satan who take them out of the light into the darkness (of any of evils); they are the inmates of the fire where they shall abide"; mainly, the majority of these factions did believe in Allah with most erroneous notions about Him and also in the Day of Judgment but they thought that those whom they take as most near to Allah so they call them as authority who are able to save them from any troubles, they would also save them from the punishment that Allah gives them at the time of their accountability at AKHIRAT; but there had remained others in the disbelievers

who thought that whatever they believe though they have no reasoning for it, is fine for their security even if the Day of Judgment does come upon them and they did many of wrong deeds that they mistook for virtues and so they thought they are doing fine; there were still others in them who did not believe in AKHIRAT but they did believe superficially in Allah with most erroneous notions about Him yet they did not believe in AKHIRAT (here, AAYAT-35 to 38 tell about the statement of such disbelievers); and the disbelievers to the Truth have had other manners of disbelief too; we have studied at the last Ruku of Surah KAHF that those who take some good persons near to Allah (like Jesus Christ-AS) as if they are able to provide protection from the wrath of Allah, they are in grave error as it is the true belief in Allah and the good deeds that can save a person from it and not just the claim of attachment to someone virtuous without following the guidance he provided to them when he was in the world; we have studied there that all efforts that the disbelievers make with thoughts that they would get benefits from them are lost totally because they are useless at AKHIRAT and this can be in number of ways as we have studied there; the Truth has always been one and those who sincerely believed in that and did all their deeds according to that belief, they would receive gardens of Paradise and would remain ever so happy there that they would never ask any change from it; in the world, a person does get fed-up even with highly gratifying situation but at JANNAAT (the beautiful gardens of Paradise), he would never want any change as there are so much of blessings of Allah there that he would never feel that he has seen all of them; Al-Hamdu

Lillah; the beginning AAYAAT at the Ruku tell about the statement of the disbelievers, "and the chiefs of his people who disbelieved and called the meeting of the hereafter a lie, and whom We had given plenty to enjoy in this world's life, said- this is nothing but a mortal like yourselves, eating of what you eat from and drinking of what you drink; and if you obey a mortal like yourselves, then most surely you will be losers; what- does he threaten you that when you are dead and become dust and bones that you shall then be brought forth? - far, far is that which you are threatened with; there is naught but our life in this world; we die and we live and we shall not be raised again; he is naught but a man who has forged a lie against Allah, and we are not going to believe in him"; the Messenger called Allah for assistance at this situation and Allah told him that very soon, these people would be extremely sorry; so the rumble (of the earthquake) took hold of them as was certain and made them as if they were destroyed rubbish and they were kept away from the mercy and the blessing of Allah at the world and also at AKHIRAT; AAYAT ahead tells that Allah sent His Messengers to other of peoples continuously that He had settled in their places but as they challenged His message that His Messengers were providing to them, He destroyed them totally one after another and turned them into stories gone-by but He saved His Messengers and the true believers with them; none of those peoples could hasten on their doom nor could they postpone it when it took hold of them by the will of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Ruku tells about Moses-AS and Aaron-AS at the last of it where the AAYAAT read; "then We sent Musa and his brother Aaron, with Our AAYAAT (i.e. the miraculous staff and the shining hand) and a clear authority to Pharaoh and his chiefs (i.e. the advice that he releases the Bani-Israel with immediate effect), but they behaved haughtily and they were an insolent people; and they said- what- shall we believe in two mortals like ourselves while their people serve us (so like other of disbelievers, they also saw the manifestation of matters and they also had their reservation that to release Bani-Israel would mean to accept their superiority upon them)? -so they rejected (both of) them and became of those who were destroyed; and certainly We gave Musa the Book (Torah) that they (the Bani-Israel) may follow the right direction (the right path to Allah)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku mentions Jesus Christ-AS and Mariam-AS that Allah provided them safety from the unjust ruler of that time (who was planted by Rome as puppet to rule the Jews at the land at the ancient Syria); the AAYAT reads, "and We made the son of Mariam and his mother a sign (to practice Torah and show the Bani-Israel the manner to its practical application), and We gave them a shelter on a lofty ground having meadows and springs (for their total safety from all adversities)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

MOMINOON-The Fourth Ruku

51. O apostles! eat of the good things and do good; surely I know what you do.

52. And surely this your religion is one religion and I am your Lord, therefore be careful (of your duty) to Me.

53. But they cut off their religion among themselves into sects, each part rejoicing in that which is with them.

54. Therefore leave them in their overwhelming ignorance till the specific time.

55. Do they think that by what We aid them with of wealth and children,

56. We are hastening to them of good things? Nay, they do not perceive.

57. Surely they who from fear of their Lord are cautious,

58. And those who believe in the AAYAAT of their Lord,

59. And those who do not associate (aught) with their Lord,

60. And those who give what they give (in alms) while their hearts are full of fear that to their Lord they must return,

61. These hasten to good things and they are foremost in (attaining) them.

62. And We do not lay on any soul a burden except to the extent of its ability, and with Us is a book which speaks the truth, and they shall not be dealt with unjustly.

63. Nay, their hearts are in overwhelming ignorance with respect to it and they have besides this other deeds which they do.

64. Until when We overtake those who lead easy lives among them with punishment, lo! they cry for succor.

65. Cry not for succor this day; surely you shall not be given help from Us.

66. My AAYAAT were indeed recited to you, but you used to turn back on your heels,

67. In arrogance; talking nonsense about the Quran, and left him like one telling fables by night.

68. Is it then that they do not ponder over what is said, or is it that there has come to them that which did not come to their fathers of old?

69. Or is it that they have not recognized their Apostle, so that they deny him?

70. Or do they say: There is madness in him? Nay! he has brought them the truth, and most of them are averse from the truth.

71. And should the truth follow their low desires, surely the heavens and the earth and all those who are therein would have perished. Nay! We have brought to them their reminder, but from their reminder they turn aside.

72. Or is it that you ask them a recompense? But the recompense of your Lord is best, and He is the best of those who provide sustenance.

73. And most surely you invite them to a right way.

74. And most surely those who do not believe in the hereafter are deviating from the way.

75. And if We show mercy to them and remove the distress they have, they would persist in their inordinacy, blindly wandering on.

76. And already We overtook them with chastisement, but they were not submissive to their Lord, nor do they humble themselves.

77. Until when We open upon them the door of severe chastisement, they are in most despair at it.

The Ruku tells at its beginning that Allah had asked all His Messengers to eat from the pure foods and keep on doing the righteous deeds; note that whatever foods a person takes-in does affect the conduct of that person (his awareness of the good moral values); the Quran indicates explicitly at places that the intake of anything affects the Man even in the spiritual sense; note that Allah had commanded Adam & Eve to keep away from going near even to the tree that had the prohibited fruit for them on it but the Satan pursued this first couple of the mankind to eat the prohibited fruit to affect them adversely so undoubtedly, he is the enemy of the mankind; Allah has commanded all Muslims that they must have TAQWA to Allah whom they truly believe; so His command here to eat of pure good things is not only for His Messengers but it is for all Muslims as the eating of any such thing that is unlawful and/or impure affects TAQWA to Allah adversely that is the highest of the spiritual values for the true Muslim; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah told all His Messengers that they all relate to one nation that has its basis on adherence to the fundamental teachings of Islam and that explicitly tells that Allah only is the true Lord of all the creation; as the time elapsed, there were such people who defied the Truth and set their factions against it, each one of these factions remained firm on what it has set being pleased with it; so O Prophet PBUH - provide the fundamental teachings of Islam to the disbelievers whom you address and then leave them on their own until the time of their death comes, naturally or by some calamity that falls upon them, when they would see their extreme ignorance to the Truth; AAYAAT-55 & 56 search them if they have this notion that as Allah has given them wealth and sons at their lives at the world, they have virtues needed to success; that is not so, as such assets at the world are no guarantee to the true success at AKHIRAT which would only come by the true belief and the righteous deeds according to it (as that brings TAQWA inside and that is the thing needed to get the true success); Surah HUIJURAAAT-13 tells all men explicitly, "O you men! surely We have created you of a male and a female, and made you tribes and families that you may know each other; surely the most honorable of you with Allah (at the world and at AKHIRAT) is the one among you most careful (of his duty i.e. having more of TAQWA); surely Allah is Most Knowing (of all hidden things), Aware (of all manifest things)"; AAYAAT-57 to 61 ahead at this Ruku mention the honorable persons who have all virtues that are needed to get the true success at AKHIRAT; they read, "surely they who from fear of their Lord are cautious, and those who (sincerely) believe in the AAYAAT of their Lord, and those who do not associate (aught) with their Lord, and those who give what they give (in alms) while their hearts are full of fear that to their Lord they must return (so any such thing does not touch their sincerity in doing good deeds that is adverse to it); these (who with all good qualities in them) hasten to good things (i.e. the virtuous deeds) and they are foremost in (attaining) them"; so it is by the true belief in Allah with total trust in Him and the virtuous deeds according to that belief, that the person is liable to success at AKHIRAT; Allah tells such good virtuous persons that He asks any of such persons to accept the Truth and work according to it to the extent of his ability only so that he understands that there is no burden on him but only ease to remain to Islam, and Allah has such specific book with Him which records all facts explicitly so no person would be dealt with unjustly at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as for the disbelievers, their hearts are in extreme ignorance with respect to the fundamental teachings of Islam and they do such deeds that relate to their lives at the world without any care to AKHIRAT (so they are occupied in vain deeds that are futile at the true life); and whenever Allah punishes such persons, who have all pleasures at hand at their lives at the world, they cry for succor as they do not have any tolerance to bear any such adversity; at such occasion, their cry for succor does not get them anything as Allah, the true Lord, puts His wrath upon them as they live remaining oblivious of the Day of Judgment though they are called explicitly to the teachings of Islam; note that Allah cares for the tolerance of the virtuous persons that they show gains at AKHIRAT by TAQWA according to their ability but He does not care for such disbelievers who live in total ignorance to practice the Islamic teachings, when He puts His wrath upon them; AAYAAT-66 & 67 tell that the disbelievers had chosen to ignore Islam in their practice even after getting its knowledge and there are such persons among them who in their arrogance, speak disrespectfully about the Quran and even disrespect the Prophet PBUH who calls them towards Islam, as if he is someone telling fables by night; note that at those times, there used to be such persons who were good at vain gossips and they used to sit by nights (especially that had much of moonlight) in gatherings to entertain people (and get some amounts through it) by jests, fictions and fables; no one took their speech in serious terms and pleased themselves only by that as pastime; from AAYAT-68 to

AAYAT-72, the Ruku addresses their doubts mentioning them in such manner that they reflect on their erroneous stance; these AAYAAT read, "is it then that they do not ponder over what is said (but they must realize that this attitude of ignorance is highly wrong); or is it that there has come to them that which did not come to their fathers of old (but they know well that WAHI has descended to the Messengers of Allah even before); or is it that they have not recognized their Apostle, so that they deny him (but they do see that he is the most virtuous person who asks them to follow the teachings of Islam); or do they say- there is madness in him?- nay- he has brought them the truth (i.e. the Quran- so when he teaches them about it explicitly, how could he have any madness in him), and most of them are averse from the truth (as it seems they do not even intend to hear it); and should the truth follow their low desires (i.e. the manner in which they want the Quran to guide them), surely the heavens and the earth and all those who are therein would have perished (as they want convenience at the world and they do not understand the manner to apply it to the life so their efforts would only cause extreme troubles to all); nay- We have brought to them their reminder (i.e. the Quran), but from their reminder they turn aside; or is it that you (O Prophet PBUH) ask them a recompense (as those persons who provide entertainment to gatherings at the moonlight, ask them but that is not so); but the recompense of your Lord is best, and He is the best of those who provide sustenance"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-73 assures the Prophet PBUH that he is fulfilling his liability well and he certainly is calling all peoples to the right path; so everything is fine at his side but the disbelievers who have no belief in the Day of Judgment, they are deviating from the true path due to their own disbelief; if Allah gives them relief from some adversity that falls upon them by His will, by His caring mercy, they are not grateful to Him but they go on practicing their wrongs and do not come to Islam; and if Allah punishes them by some adversity that falls upon them by His will so that they realize their wrongs by the taste of some trouble and save themselves from the torment at AKHIRAT, they still do not surrender to Allah by humbleness and they still do not come to Islam; the last AAYAT of the Ruku tells that when Allah would open the door of extreme punishment upon them (ending their space to make themselves better, by death upon them) then they would realize how severe it is upon them but they would be totally unable to remove it from them; the AAYAT reads, "until when We open upon them the door of severe chastisement, they are in most despair at it"; most certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

MOMINOON-The Fifth Ruku

78. And He it is Who made for you the ears and the eyes and the hearts; little is it that you give thanks.

79. And He it is Who multiplied you in the earth, and to Him you shall be gathered.

80. And He it is Who gives life and causes death, and (in) His (control) is the alternation of the night and the day; do you not then understand?

81. Nay, they say the like of what the ancients said:

82. They say: What! When we are dead and become dust and bones, shall we then be raised?

83. Certainly we are promised this, and (so were) our fathers aforetime; this is naught but stories of those of old.

84. Say: Whose is the earth, and whoever is therein, if you know?

85. They will say: Allah's. Say: Will you not then mind?

86. Say: Who is the Lord of the seven heavens and the Lord of the mighty dominion?

87. They will say: (This is) Allah's. Say: Will you not then guard (against evil)?

88. Say: Who is it in Whose hand is the kingdom of all things and Who gives succor, but against whom, succor is not given, if you do but know?

89. They will say: (This is) Allah's. Say: From whence are you then deceived?

90. Nay! We have brought to them the truth, and most surely they are liars.

91. Never did Allah take to Himself a son, and never was there with him any (other) god- in that case would each god have certainly taken away what he created, and some of them would certainly have overpowered others; glory be to Allah above what they describe!

92. The Knower of the unseen and the seen, so may He be exalted above what they associate (with Him).

The Ruku mentions about such disbelievers who believed that Allah has created all the universe and all things in them but did not believe in Him as authority over them so that they shape their lives according to His commands and did not believe that they would ever come to live again after death; AAYAT-78, the first AAYAT of the Ruku, tells that Allah has created ears, eyes and hearts of all men yet the disbelievers did not use them correctly as they had to hear the Quran to get the Truth, see the universe around to get it where everything is working in perfect order by principles that Allah has set for all things and so they should have accepted it heartily but they are most ungrateful to Allah; they live their lives in ignorance to commands of Allah though He has spread them all at the earth for their convenience to live-on their lives and there would certainly occur the Day when they would be brought to Him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; they need to see that He gives lives to all persons by His will when and where He intends and He gives them death by His will when and where He intends; and He has control over the matters of heavens too as the difference of the night to the day is so because He wills for it; but even though there are such disbelievers who do believe in Allah and also that He has control over the universe, they have the notion that Allah does not control the matters of their lives; they have taken the belief that they would not come to life again after death, but certainly they would; it is just that they do not understand the authority of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; they say the same words which the disbelievers of yonder days had said that when they are dead and become dust and bones, they would not come to life again as this is some fiction that was mentioned to their forefathers which took some hold in them to repeat now and then; Allah asks the Prophet PBUH to ask the disbelievers about Allah and the Ruku mentions their answers; AAYAT-84 to AAYAT-90 read, "say whose is the earth, and whoever is therein, if you know?; they will say- Allah's; say- will you not then mind- say- who is the Lord of the seven heavens and the Lord of the mighty dominion?; they will say- (this is) Allah's; say- will you not then guard (against evil)?; say- who is it in whose hand is the kingdom of all things and who gives succor, but against whom, succor is not given, if you do but know?; they will say- (this is) Allah's; say- from whence are you then deceived?; nay! We have brought to them the truth, and most surely they are liars"; the AAYAT mentions the disbelievers as liars that though they do understand that Allah has control over all matters around and even has the control to put any adversity upon them by the situation around, they still do not take Him as their true Lord to obey and live their lives according to His commands; this actually is hypocrisy which denotes in clear terms that they are liars; there is a Hadith at Bukhari which tells that the Prophet PBUH said, "whoever has the following four traits will be a pure hypocrite and whoever has one of these four will have one of hypocrisy unless and until he gives it up; whenever he is entrusted, he betrays; whenever he speaks, he tells a lie; whenever he makes a covenant, he proves treacherous; whenever he quarrels, he behaves in imprudent, unscrupulous and insulting manner"; so now when Allah has provided them the Quran that tells them the Truth explicitly, they still do not believe in its teachings so they are extremely foolish in their attitudes; the last couple of AAYAAT at the Ruku state hitting those disbelievers who believed that there is some other having authority too as they assigned a son to Allah Who certainly is Most Pure from such things; we have studied at Surah ANBIYA-19 to 24 at its second Ruku, "and whoever is in the heavens and the earth is His; and those who are near to Him (especially angels) are not proud to serve Him, nor do they grow weary; they glorify (Him) by night and day; they are never languid (and they continue glorifying Him); or have they (the disbelievers) taken gods from the earth (from the creation of Allah) who (they take as if they are able to) raise (the dead); if there had been in them any gods except Allah, they would both have certainly been in a state of disorder (as in that case, they would have challenged each other for the absolute authority but that is not so as Allah only has the true authority that is absolute); therefore, glory be to Allah, the Lord of the ARSH (the royal Throne that tells that He only is the true Authority), above what they attribute (falsely to Him); He cannot be questioned concerning what He does and they shall be questioned (so He has set the righteous law for whole of the universe by His will and has kept balance in all His creation and has guided all the creation towards Him; Al-Hamdu Lillah); or, have they taken gods besides Him? Say: Bring your proof; this is the reminder of those with me (i.e. the Quran) and the reminder of those before me (i.e. Torah); (these both guide to believe in Allah, the only Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; so what makes them to take gods besides Him); nay- most of them do not know the Truth (that is the law of Allah on which He has created all persons and even all the universe), so they turn aside"; certainly, He only has all the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

MOMINOON-The Last Ruku

93. Say: O my Lord! if Thou should make me see what they are threatened with:

94. My Lord! then place me not with the unjust.

95. And most surely We are well able to make you see what We threaten them with.

96. Repel evil by what is best; We know best what they describe.

97. And say: O my Lord! I seek refuge in Thee from the evil suggestions of many of Satan;

98. And I seek refuge in Thee! O my Lord! from their presence.

99. Until when death overtakes one of them, he says: Send me back, my Lord, send me back;

100. Haply I may do good in that which I have left. By no means! it is a (mere) word that he speaks; and before them is a barrier until the day they are raised.

101. So when the trumpet is blown, there shall be no ties of relationship between them on that day, nor shall they ask of each other.

102. Then as for him whose good deeds are preponderant, these are the successful.

103. And as for him whose good deeds are light, these are they who shall have lost their souls, abiding in hell;

104. The fire shall scorch their faces, and they therein shall be in severe affliction.

105. Were not My AAYAAT recited to you? But you used to reject them.

106. They shall say: O our Lord! our adversity overcame us and we were an erring people:

107. O our Lord! Take us out of it; then if we return (to evil) surely we shall be unjust.

108. He shall say: Go away into it and speak not to Me;

109. Surely there was a party of My servants who said: O our Lord! we believe, so do Thou forgive us and have mercy on us, and Thou art the best of the Merciful ones.

110. But you took them for a mockery until that made you forget My remembrance and you used to laugh at them.

111. Surely I have rewarded them this day because they were patient, that they are the achievers.

112. He will say: How many years did you tarry in the earth?

113. They will say: We tarried a day or part of a day, but ask those who keep account.

114. He will say: You did tarry but a little-- had you but known (it):

115. What! did you then think that We had created you in vain and that you shall not be returned to Us?

116. So exalted be Allah, the True King; no god is there but He, the Lord of the honorable dominion.

117. And whoever invokes with Allah another god- he has no proof of this- his reckoning is only with his Lord; surely the disbelievers shall not be successful.

118. And say: O my Lord! forgive and have mercy, and Thou art the best of the Merciful ones.

The last Ruku starts by asking the Prophet PBUH to ask for protection of Allah for himself if He intends to put His wrath upon the disbelievers; this tells that all true Muslims have to ask for the protection of Allah from all calamities all the time everywhere that Allah intends to put upon those who disrespect His message; note that Surah ANFAAL has mentioned clearly that when some calamity hits the wrong persons, it does not spare even such persons who do try to live by Islamic teachings if they remain oblivious to ask Allah for mercy on their unintentional wrongs; it says, "and fear an affliction which may not smite those of you in particular who are unjust; and know that Allah is severe in requiting (evil)" (ANFAAL-25); if good persons live without much care to feel any guilt on any of their wrongs especially on their omission of providing the message of Allah to all peoples around, they also might taste the touch of chastisement that Allah sends upon the wrong persons; ANFAAL tells at AAYAT-33, "But Allah was not going to chastise them while you were among them, nor is Allah going to chastise them while yet they ask for forgiveness"; we have studied for this AAYAT at the note on the fourth Ruku of ANFAAL that "Allah tells the reason in AAYAT-33 to all peoples for not accepting their asking for chastisement and note that this is the clear ruling of Allah in this issue; Allah would not punish any nation in the worldly life while the Messenger resides in them (as He has provided them the space to certain time to accept him and save themselves) and the other reason is that He would not punish them when they verbally ask for forgiveness; note that ISTIGHFAAR (that is the term implied at AAYAT-33 and it has the positive connotation) means to repent verbally while TAUBAH relates to repent truly by heart leaving the wrong totally with the intention not to do the wrong again and the intention to provide the compensation to it by TOFIQ from Allah, the true Lord; note that TAUBAH has ISTIGHFAAR too inside its fold; note also that though the AAYAT addresses the disbelievers yet if we look at the world today, it seems that ISTIGHFAAR to Allah of the Muslims in general have provided some safety to them at this moment of time from such wrath of Allah that might have destroyed them totally otherwise, as many of them (even with the claim that they are Muslims) have attached themselves totally to the worldly gains without care to AKHIRAT and as many of them lack much of the fervor towards Islam"; Muslims do need to make TAUBAH towards Allah at this moment of time for safety not only at the worldly life but also at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at this Ruku, AAYAT-96 ahead tells the Prophet PBUH to "repel evil by what is best; We know best what they describe"; and so it directs him that he would go on with his task of providing the teachings of Islam to all peoples and after him the Muslims as his UMMAH (i.e. all Muslims as whole) would take on the task ahead; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-97 & 98 ask the Prophet PBUH to ask Allah for protection from satanic jinn too besides the satanic persons among the mankind; they read, "and say- O my Lord- I seek refuge in Thee from the evil suggestions of many of Satan; and I seek refuge in Thee- O my Lord- from their presence"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT ask attention to the teaching provided at Surah AARAAF which directs, "take to forgiveness and enjoin good and turn aside from the ignorant; and if a suggestion from the Satan afflicts you, seek refuge in Allah; surely He is Hearing, Knowing" (AARAAF-199 & 200); so with all efforts, the Muslims certainly need to ask the protection of Allah from all satanic persons that are among the mankind or among the jinn; most certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead tell that at the time of death, the disbelievers ask Allah to send them back to the life at the world so that they work in accordance with His commands; they would see that they were at the wrong side but when Allah ends the space for acceptance of the Truth for some person then He does not give him any more space for it; He mentions clearly that this is only what they state but if they did get some more of life at the world, they would still continue to live in their same previous manner; but it is the state of BARZAKH now on them on which they would remain till the day when they would be raised again from dead; note that BARZAKH is the barrier that prevents anyone to return to life after death and many ULAMA of repute have interpreted it as some period of time rather than some specific place so it actually means that the persons live on spiritually at different planes of life according to their respective status then, whether it is just above the grave or at some place that is neither trying nor rewarding or at some wretched place that is highly trying (that is called SIJJIN that literally means— prison) or at some blessed place that is highly rewarding being peaceful (that is named as ILIYYIN that literally means the place that is elevated) or even at JANNAH (the Paradise); these placements that are according to the respective conditions of persons spiritually at BARZAKH would remain for them till the time only ALLAH knows, after which they all would be dead completely and then they all would be restored to life as we know it at HASHR (the first day of AKHIRAT) and everyone would see the good or the bad consequence of his belief and deeds then and there; but it is notable that the detail for BARZAKH while we live at this world is not possible; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead from 101 to 116 tell about the Day of Judgment and the matters therein; they tell that when the trumpet for the resurrection would be blown then there would remain no relations among people so every person would face his trial on that day individually and no person would ask any other for any of needs; so the good persons who have got weight in their belief (which means that they are true believers), these would be truly successful; and as for such persons who have got such belief that is very light in weight (which means that they are disbelievers in the fundamental teachings of Islam), these are they who shall have done much loss to their souls and they would abide in the hell-fire; note that the scales there would weigh not only deeds but even the belief of men and there would even be such persons at that day for whom Allah would not set the scales to balance their deeds as they would be most highly wrong in the disbelievers due to their erroneous belief; Surah KAHF mentioned that "those whose effort go astray in the life of the world, and yet they reckon that they do good work; these are they who disbelieve in the AAYAAT of their Lord and His meeting, so their deeds become null, and therefore We will not set up a balance for them on the day of resurrection" (KAHF-104 & 105); so here the mention of their deeds include their belief too which is so erroneous that Allah would not provide any scales to them to balance neither the status of their belief nor the status of their deeds and certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-104 at this last Ruku of MOMINOON mentions, "the fire shall scorch their faces, and they therein shall be in severe affliction"; from AAYAT-105 to AAYAT-116, Allah provides them the reason for their extreme punishment at the hell-fire; they read, "were not My AAYAAT (which provided the fundamental teachings of Islam) recited to you- but you used to reject them; they shall say- O our Lord- our adversity overcame us and we were an erring people (so they would accept that they were lost in the beauty of the world without care to AKHIRAT); O our Lord- take us out of it (so they would repeat the request that they had made just after death); then if we return (to evil) surely we shall be unjust; He shall say- go away into it and speak not to Me (so He would say this because He has ended the space that He had provided to them totally now to present their worth for JANNAH); surely there was a party of My servants (at the world) who said- O our Lord- we believe, so do Thou forgive us and have mercy on us, and Thou art the best of the Merciful ones; but you took them for a mockery until that made you forget My remembrance and you used to laugh at them; surely I have rewarded them this day because they were patient (and did not get lost in the beauty of the world but took their necessities only from that, living with all attention to commands of Allah), that they are the achievers (of the true success); He will say- how many years did you tarry in the earth? -they will say- We tarried a day or part of a day (as the day at there equals one thousand years by the count of time at the world), but ask those (angels) who keep account; He will say- You did tarry but a little- had you but known (so this is to tell them that they made their undue efforts for such brief space of time); what- did you then think that We had created you in vain and that you shall not be returned to Us? (but Allah created everything by His set principles for them because He intended to test all peoples of the world thoroughly) -so exalted be Allah, the True King; no god is there but He, the Lord of the honorable dominion"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last of this Ruku mentions most explicitly that those who commit SHERK (that means to take anyone equal to Allah in authority or in such ability as to provide relief besides Him), such disbelievers would never achieve success; the most basic teachings of Islam are TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord), RISALAT (Allah sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path and Muhammad PBUH is the last of His Messengers) and AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment); this Ruku has mentioned emphatically that all persons would receive their respective accounts at AKHIRAT, that would relate to their respective belief and their respective deeds that they committed at the life at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Ruku had directed the Prophet PBUH at its beginning to ask for protection of Allah for himself if He intends to put His wrath upon the disbelievers and we know by hadith that the Prophet PBUH did care to ask for protection of Allah especially when he saw some adverse change in the weather; the last AAYAT emphatically asks the Prophet PBUH for this good humble attitude though he certainly was in the protection of Allah all the time (see Surah YOUNUS-61) yet asking Allah for it time and again has its own high benefits; it directs him to ask Allah, "and say- O my Lord- forgive and have mercy, and Thou art the best of the Merciful ones"; all Muslims certainly do need to ask Allah for His protection to them at all times and at all places as that certainly is the only manner to stay safe from the suggestions of all satanic persons, whether in the jinn or in the mankind; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah NOOR
(Consists of 9 Ruku; H-6)

NOOR-The First Ruku

1. (This is) a chapter which We have revealed and made obligatory and in which We have revealed clear AAYAAT that you may be mindful.
2. (As for) the female fornicator and the male fornicator, flog each of them, (giving) a hundred stripes, and let not pity for them detain you in the matter of obedience to Allah, if you believe in Allah and the last day, and let a party of believers witness their chastisement.
3. The fornicator shall not marry any but a female fornicator or idolatress, and (as for) the female fornicator, none shall marry her but a male fornicator or an idolater; and it is forbidden to the believers.

4. And those who accuse free women then do not bring four witnesses, flog them, (giving) eighty stripes, and do not admit any evidence from them ever; and these it is that are the transgressors,

5. Except those who repent after this and act aright, for surely Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.

6. And (as for) those who accuse their wives and have no witnesses except themselves, the evidence of one of these (should be taken) four times, bearing Allah to witness that he is most surely of the truthful ones.

7. And the fifth (time) that the curse of Allah be on him if he is one of the liars.

8. And it shall avert the chastisement from her if she testifies four times, bearing Allah to witness that he is most surely one of the liars;

9. And the fifth (time) that the wrath of Allah be on her if he is one of the truthful.

10. And were it not for Allah's grace upon you and His mercy-- and that Allah is Oft-returning (to mercy), Wise.

Surah Noor presents such rulings that the Muslims would observe in their social life and it specially guides to living with care to the highest of moral values; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first Ruku starts by the introduction of the Surah that Allah has revealed this Surah to provide such AAYAAT that all Muslims remain highly mindful to observe the utmost good moral values that the Islamic teachings ask of them; it begins by mentioning the ruling about the persons involved in adultery that the Muslims would punish both the man and the woman by 100 lashes to each in public (men in front of men; women in front of women); note that the female fornicator is mentioned before the male fornicator as the initial proposal to shameful attitudes does come from female persons who incline to wrongs (though initial proposal to unjust attitudes does generally relate to male persons who incline to wrongs); note also that though this ruling that the Quran mentions here is most general in nature to punish on fornication and to punish on adultery, the Hadith mentions that this is the punishment of the unmarried persons only; if the accused are married, and their respective spouses were with them without any indication of any obstruction in getting sexual satisfaction from their respective spouses and the crime is proven by his/her confession four times or by four angelic eye-witnesses that give testimony against him/her clearly then their punishment is that they are stoned to death (that is named as RAJM); note here that pregnancy of the woman accused of adultery is not the primary evidence against her though her husband might not be with her for quite some period; with total respect to ruling that is related to RAJM, I, MSD, state plainly that it is exceedingly better that RAJM remains to paper only as of now and so the punishment to adultery for the married person also remains the same as for the unmarried person; but please note this well that the Prophet PBUH gave the verdict of RAJM in all such cases practically where married persons were involved who confessed four times to it so it is not feasible for the Muslim person that he rejects it as the Islamic command in this matter; however, there is some detail about RAJM because of matters that we face as of now and I would recommend the reading of my writing "The Islamic Guidelines" that presents the matter in some detail as it relates to establishing of the Islamic environment at the world as of now; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these cases were very few at that time so the persons that object to RAJM, state that the Prophet PBUH might have dealt with them as an exception; but where he dealt with something exceptionally, he did take care to convey that this is not the specific law and here at this matter, there is nothing that directs to this conclusion; certainly, the Muslim persons at authority need to see to eliminating the means to this filthy sin/crime as much as possible; note that the first incident punished by RAJM at the times of the Prophet PBUH was of the couple that were Jew when the Prophet PBUH stated words near to the effect that he is applying this RAJM as revival to the relevant command of Allah; now, with the change of situation that genuinely asks some revision to this issue for applying Islam to all matters at hand (as we Muslims do need revival to the practice of Commands of Allah), we need to keep RAJM aside from the Islamic judicial system and rule the issue in the same manner as with the unmarried couple, punishing all such persons who had been proven to commit adultery by 100 lashes; even if the accused to adultery are not proven categorically as committers of it (because the standard for the four witnesses is literally angelic in this matter and they would necessarily be eye-witnesses to the matter) but the available circumstantial evidence is much substantial to indicate them as involved in it, the Muslim judge with care to

Islamic teachings, would sentence the accused persons to 39 harsh lashes each as TAZIR that is lesser category for crimes/sins and most certainly, Allah knows better; the crimes related to passion do need physical torment officially by the Islamic judicial system as that is the only manner that eradicates the most evil thinking which sets into such persons; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that all men at Sodom & Gomorrah had become so much related to immorality that Allah sent the Messenger (that was Lot-AS) from outside of them and he had to ask them "is there not among you one right-minded man?" (Surah HOODH-78); please note also that there are five matters that are named as HADD (which relate to prescribed punishment when they are proven without any doubts); there is no such thing that might cause genuine inhibition for persons at authority among Muslims to implement them as of now, even though they include the amputation of the fingers of the thief who is proven to have committed the act categorically (please see the notes at the fifth and at the sixth Ruku of Surah MA'EDAH at this "Tafsiri-Guide"); they need to dare implementing these all in these current times even, with care that the awareness to the Islamic Teachings becomes common among all peoples of the world; however, RAJM does present much notable problem that is the punishment to the married adulterer and the married adulteress and does genuinely need reservation in practice as of now; the other three prescribed punishments besides that which relates to adultery and besides that which relates to thieves (both of which are included in the category of HADD), are for group of dacoits (and mutineers against the Islamic state) as specified in Surah MA'EDAH-33; eighty lashes to the person who makes wrongful accusation of adultery against someone as specified in this Surah that we currently study i.e. Surah NOOR-4 and forty lashes to the drinker of wine (that is basically told by IJMA which means the consensus on some Islamic issue of almost all of notable ULAMA at the time in which consensus of SAHABA-RA i.e. the companions of the Prophet PBUH, has special status by which this command has become acceptable); the person involved in adultery is to be punished by 100 lashes publicly that would be executed with the moderate whip (men in front of men and women in front of women) and that might be divided in execution and though harsh, yet it would not be so harsh that it becomes unbearable to the person who is involved in this most extreme wrong which undoubtedly is one of the highest of sins; note that Islam considers it one of the most heinous sins/crimes even if it is committed with consent of both sides; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-1 to 5 of Surah NOOR present the related issue in words, "(this is) a Surah (chapter) which We have revealed and made (rulings here as) obligatory and in which We have revealed clear AAYAAT that you may be mindful (to observe the utmost good moral values that the Islamic teachings do ask); the female fornicator and the male fornicator, flog each of them, (giving) a hundred stripes, and let not pity for them detain you in the matter of obedience to Allah (as that pity would cause shameful attitude to get some hold at the surrounding area), if you believe in Allah and the last day, and let a party of believers witness their chastisement (so that all persons at the surrounding area do keep away from this filth in all ways possible); the male fornicator shall not marry any but a female fornicator or idolatress (that means that the Muslims need to develop such beautiful tradition in all area that disallows the person involved in adultery to marry any of decent women from all that area), and (as for) the female fornicator, none shall marry her but a male fornicator or an idolater (due to the good impression of the beautiful tradition to keep them away to affect the decent women adversely); and it is forbidden to the believers (as EHSAN asks to keep away from marrying such person who is involved in adultery and ADL asks to keep away from marrying such person who is involved in SHERK); and those who accuse free women (which is named as QADHF) then they do not bring four (angelic) witnesses (on their accusation), flog them, (giving) eighty stripes (so that no person at the Islamic environment dares to accuse any Muslim person of such filthy sin/crime causing extreme shame to fall upon him), and do not admit any evidence (at the Islamic judicial system) from them ever; and these it is that are the transgressors (who intend to cause shameful attitude to take some hold at the environment); except those who repent after this and act aright, for surely Allah is Forgiving (so He eliminates the impression of wrongs from their document of deeds), Merciful (so He gives them space ahead to work for the virtuous deeds)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAAT at the Ruku mention the issue of LI'AN which means "to curse each other" and in the Islamic jurisprudence when a man blames his wife with adultery and he does not have four upright eye-witnesses to his claim then the Islamic judicial system would ask him to say four times keeping his own self in focus that he is truthful in his accusation and the fifth time he would say that if he has lied then the curse of Allah falls on him; then his wife who had been accused would say four times keeping her husband in focus that he only is a liar in his accusation and the fifth time she would say that if he has spoken the truth then the wrath of Allah falls on her; so this issue specifically relates to the man and wife where the man accuses his wife of adultery and does not get four compatible eye-witnesses; by these statements, the man keeps off the HADD (the prescribed punishment of lashes) of wrongly abusing her of adultery while the woman keeps off the HADD from her of adultery respectively; this matter is specifically related to the man & wife when he had accused her of adultery and she had not confessed to it; though the statements of LI'AN itself are enough for the separation between the man and the woman and they would not remain man and wife after that yet the court would announce the divorce between them officially then and there after LI'AN; she would never come into his marriage again and she would get the custody of their children that are young; if she gives birth to a child being pregnant at the time of LI'AN, it would not be referred to as the offspring of any particular man but he would be referred to as the child that came after LI'AN; it is so very sad that in the world where doings of one affects the other, children often have to bear the adversity of bitter quarrels inside the family without any fault of their own; the last AAYAT of the Ruku states that though cursing each other is nothing appreciable yet in broad sense, it is blessing of Allah (not only to both sides as they remove HADD from themselves and get the space to compensate for the wrong that any of them has committed), upon whole of environment as He cares to make all persons practice the Islamic teachings with respect among each other, for the good morality at the whole of environment; so Allah is Oft-returning to mercy because He sets the past actions that men have shown, in such manner where they do not affect the environment negatively and He is Most Wise because He takes the matters in such manner ahead in the future that all persons get the ample space to make themselves better by their positive actions remaining firm upon the teachings of Islam; certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NOOR-The Second Ruku

11. Surely they who concocted the lie are a party from among you. Do not regard it an evil to you; nay, it is good for you. Every man of them shall have what he has earned of sin; and (as for) him who took upon himself the main part thereof, he shall have the most grievous chastisement.

12. Why did not the believing men and the believing women, when you heard it, think well of their own people, and say: This is an evident falsehood?

13. Why did they not bring four witnesses of it? But as they have not brought witnesses they are liars before Allah.

14. And were it not for Allah's grace upon you and His mercy in this world and the hereafter, most grievous chastisement would certainly have touched you on account of the discourse which you entered into.

15. When you received it with your tongues and spoke with your mouths what you had no knowledge of, and you deemed it an easy matter while with Allah it was most grievous.

16. And why did you not, when you heard it, say: It does not beseem us that we should talk of it; glory be to Thee! this is a great calumny?

17. Allah admonishes you that you should not return to the like of it ever again if you are believers.

18. And Allah makes clear to you AAYAAT; and Allah is Knowing, Wise.

19. Surely (as for) those who love that shameful things should circulate respecting those who believe, they shall have a grievous chastisement in this world and the hereafter; and Allah knows, while you do not know.

20. And were it not for Allah's grace on you and His mercy, and that Allah is Compassionate, Merciful.

This Ruku at Surah Noor defends one of the wives of the Prophet PBUH whom the hypocrites accused of adultery and some of good Muslims even, though very few, fell for their filthy propaganda against her; this incident is named as "IFK" (extreme fib; slander) and it caused much anguish to the Prophet PBUH until Allah defended her at this Ruku categorically and told about the most grievous punishment to all persons involved in speaking of and in publishing of IFK; the incident is reported at Bukhari in detail and briefly, it mentions that Bibi Ayesha-RA, who was the most beloved to the Prophet PBUH in his wives, had accompanied him at one of the expeditions (that he had taken to tackle the challenge from the tribe of Bani-MUSTALIQ at the sixth year of Hijrah); going back to Madinah, the Prophet PBUH ordered to proceed at night so Bibi Ayesha left the army-camp and went far away at wilderness to answer the call of nature and after that, when she came back to the camp, she realized that she had misplaced her necklace that was made of black bead and she went again to the far-away place to search for it and that search detained her for some period; meanwhile, the persons who used to carry her howdah (i.e. the cabin made for her that was set at the back of camel where she sat inside to fulfill the demands of veil) put her at the back of it properly and as she was very much light in weight so the lightness of howdah did not cause any concern to them while raising it up and they drove away the camel with the procession and all of them proceeded-on; she then found her necklace and returned to the camp but found nobody therein as the procession has departed; though she had made the mistake of not mentioning to any person that she would search for her necklace going back inside the wilderness yet she was wise enough to understand that they would certainly miss her sooner or later and then they would come back to this same place to search for her; she made herself as comfortable as possible but instantly, she felt very sleepy; now, it happened that one of SAHABA by the name of SAFWAN bin MU'ATTIL as-SULAMI was following the procession as the Prophet PBUH had appointed him to see if the procession has mistakenly left anything behind; he reached the place where Bibi Ayesha-RA was sleeping, in the morning and as he came to her, he recognized her as he had seen her before the command of veil had descended; he called-out loudly as he recognized her, the words at BAQARAH-156 that are "to Allah We belong, and to Him is our return"; she arose and covered her face with her garment, and as he made his she-camel kneel down, she mounted it; then he set out, leading the she-camel that was carrying her till they joined the procession during the midday; at that time, the leader of the hypocrites, Abdullah bin UBAYYE, caused havoc by slander upon both of them, among all persons there; but soon the procession came to Madinah and just as they reached there, she became ill; she was not aware that some persons are spreading such wrong things about her among the masses but she did see that while she was sick, she was no longer receiving the same kindness from her respectable husband as she used to receive at such occasions of illness; he would enter at her place and say greeting and ask briefly about her and then depart; that caused some concern to Bibi Ayesha yet it was only when her ailment was receding that she came to know of that extreme fib that hypocrites there were saying about her; it was the mother of MISTAH (and this man also was involved in acceptance of this extreme fib) who stumbled over her robe when she was accompanying her and spontaneously cursed her son MISTAH (as she might have felt that it was his extreme wrong that had caused some adversity to her); there were three of such considerably mentionable Muslim persons at that time who were not taken as hypocrites, but who had also acknowledged the IFK against Bibi Ayesha and MISTAH was among them; the other two were HASSAN bin THABIT, the poet who used to defend the speech of the Prophet PBUH by his poetry, and HAMNA, who was the sister-in-law of the Prophet PBUH (as she was the sister of ZAYNAB-BINT-JAHSH-RA); note that when the Prophet PBUH had asked his wife ZAYNAB about this matter, she had replied, "O Allah's Apostle! I protect my hearing and my sight (by refraining totally from telling lies) as I know nothing but good about Ayesha"; so on query from Bibi Ayesha at this utterance, the mother of MISTAH told about things that were current in people about Bibi Ayesha and as she got this information, she was shocked and it added to her ailment; when the Prophet PBUH visited her the next time, she asked him to give her the permission to go to her parent's home; at her parent's home, she asked her mother about this matter and she tried to soothe her by saying that there is no charming lady who is loved by her husband, who has other wives as well, but that those wives would find fault with her; she could not believe that there were such persons who really were saying all this about her and wept-on for all the night there and for the second night too; but then, there were such persons at the times of Bibi Maryam-AS too who had not spared her even, from such fibs; the problem had amounted to such stage that the Prophet PBUH even consulted BARIRA, the slave-girl of Ayesha, about it and she defended her beautifully by saying, "by Allah Who has sent you with the truth, I have never seen anything regarding Ayesha which I would blame her for except that she is a girl of immature age who sometimes sleeps and leaves the dough of her family unprotected so that the domestic goats come and eat it"; upon this comment, the Prophet PBUH went on to the pulpit of the mosque and stated plainly that slandering of his family has caused much anguish to him; however, the matter did not end at that and it was nearly after a month upon this matter when the Prophet PBUH visited Bibi Ayesha-RA and said, "thereafter, O Ayesha! I have been informed such and-such thing about you; and if you are innocent, Allah will reveal your innocence, and if you have committed a sin, then ask for Allah's forgiveness and repent to Him, for when a slave confesses his sin and then repents to Allah, He accepts his repentance"; she was still a young girl and had little knowledge of the Quran but she managed to reply in such manner that meant that this fib has been talked about so much that even the Prophet PBUH gets the impression that it may have something in it; she told him that Allah knows that she is innocent and He would bring the fact about it at fore; she quoted the words of Jacob-AS "so (for me) patience is most fitting against that which you assert and it is Allah (Alone) Whose help is sought" (Surah YOUSUF-18); she had also narrated as we find at authentic books of Ahadith that she never thought that Allah would descend AAYAAT for her defense at the Quran that would be recited on forever; she states that the Prophet PBUH had not yet left his seat and nobody had left the house when WAHI came to him and he went into the same hard condition which used to overtake him (when WAHI used to come to him) that the drops of his sweat were running down, like pearls, though it was winter and as it was over, he smiled and said, "O Ayesha! Allah has declared your innocence"; Bibi Ayesha-RA thanked Allah at that occasion that He has conformed her innocence and that by AAYAAT of the Quran; certainly, Allah raises the good status of such good virtuous persons who ask for His blessing with SABR when such immoral persons who have little respect for any person (and no respect for the good virtuous persons), challenge them stubbornly; certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first five AAYAAT of the Ruku state, "surely they who concocted the lie (IFK) are a party (of hypocrites) from among you; do not regard it an evil to you; nay, it is good for you (as now you all would receive the ruling for such cases and you all would learn clearly how to deal with such situation; also, it has exposed the hypocrites and such persons who have little care to finding of facts so they fall for rumors and even spread them on); every man of them shall have what he has earned of sin (that would be written at his document of deeds); and (as for) him who took upon himself the main part thereof (i.e. Abdullah bin UBAYYE), he shall have the most grievous chastisement; why did not the believing men and the believing women, when you all heard it, think well of their own (virtuous) people, and say- this is an evident falsehood (as the matter asks to bring four compatible witnesses of it which they had not provided upon their accusation)?-; why did they (i.e. the hypocrites) not bring four witnesses of it?- but as they have not brought witnesses (according to ADL, the law of Islam), they are liars before Allah; and were it not for Allah's grace upon you and His mercy in this world and the hereafter, most grievous chastisement would certainly have touched you on account of the discourse which you entered into (that some of you took this accusation at face without any witnesses of it and without any research about facts) when you received it with your tongues and spoke with your mouths what you had no knowledge of (while only those who were hypocrites among you, took this evident falsehood as fact), and you deemed it an easy matter while with Allah it was most grievous (to accuse virtuous persons of such filth, particularly to accuse some virtuous woman of it)"; certainly, Allah has set His law most clearly and He only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last five AAYAAT guide that the good Muslims shall only speak positively in such matters and never spread them as these things might cause stimulation to extreme shameful attitude to spread among the masses; it is good that there are places where the Muslims refrain from disclosing the name of such women who become victims to rape and they strictly need to conceal the names of such women too who are willfully involved in adultery unless their filth is totally proven officially and they are punished accordingly by relevant lashes upon it, in front of some of the Muslim womenfolk; it is necessary that all reporting of all events at all media of communication remain in such manner officially among the Muslims at any given surroundings which does not cause any shameful attitude to spread or to take hold at the place among the masses; note that Islam strictly commits to keeping it away from the Muslims (though at any age of their lives) even if it needs to censor anything from the media; for other of issues, it inspires the Muslims to care even more than other peoples at the world, for the freedom of expression but most surely, with care to speaking of facts only with such manner of expression that do not hurt anyone and most surely, with care to appreciating the goodness in other persons especially in the good Muslims, by their own internal sense of virtues, as they all are like brothers who care to live most harmoniously among each other (see Surah HAJJURAAAT-10);

Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that there were such good Muslims who said the words that the Quran mentioned to say on such shameful rumors at AAYAT-16 when they heard it, even before these words had descended that were "glory be to Thee- this is a great calumny"; the last five AAYAAT of the Ruku read, "and why did you (Muslims) not, when you heard it, say- it does not beseem us that we should talk of it- glory be to Thee- this is a great calumny?"; Allah admonishes you that you should not return to the like of it ever again if you are believers; and Allah makes clear to you AAYAAT (that you never take any of shameful attitudes as you live-on at EHSAAN); and Allah is Knowing, Wise; surely (as for) those who love that shameful things should circulate respecting those who believe (by any manner that spreads the information among people), they shall have a grievous chastisement in this world and the hereafter; and Allah knows, while you do not know (that how the unchecked mention of these things even, cause these things to affect the surroundings adversely); and were it not for Allah's grace on you and His mercy, and that Allah is Compassionate, Merciful (then your light tackling of this matter would certainly have caused most grievous chastisement to you)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NOOR-The Third Ruku

21. O you who believe! do not follow the footsteps of the Satan, and whoever follows the footsteps of the Satan, then surely he bids the doing of indecency and evil; and were it not for Allah's grace upon you and His mercy, not one of you would have ever been pure, but Allah purifies whom He pleases; and Allah is Hearing, Knowing.

22. And let not those of you who possess grace and abundance swear against giving to the near of kin and the poor and those who have fled in Allah's way, and they should pardon and turn away. Do you not love that Allah should forgive you? And Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.

23. Surely those who accuse chaste believing women, unaware (of the evil), are cursed in this world and the hereafter, and they shall have a grievous chastisement.

24. On the day when their tongues and their hands and their feet shall bear witness against them as to what they did.

25. On that day Allah will pay back to them in full their just reward, and they shall know that Allah is the evident Truth.

26. Unclean things are for unclean ones and unclean ones are for unclean things, and the good things are for good ones and the good ones are for good things; these are free from what they say; they shall have forgiveness and an honorable sustenance.

The Ruku starts by asking the Muslims not to follow the footsteps of the Satan because whoever follows his footsteps, he leads all such persons to the doing of indecency (shameful attitudes) and evil (injustice); when the person takes-up Islam and avoids SHERK then there are two categories of major sins that he has to avoid necessarily (Allah forgives the minor sins of the true Muslim even by WUDHU and even by SALAH; Al-Hamdu Lillah); these two categories are the shameful attitudes (in which the biggest of sins is to commit adultery/fornication) and injustice (in which the biggest of sins is to intentionally kill someone unjustly); note here that Allah has shaped the circumstances in such manner that Islam is the only challenger today to all shameful attitudes (mostly initiated by the indecent women so they have more of liability to become better and to see that nothing of shameful attitudes takes place) and to all injustice (mostly initiated by the unjust men so they have more of liability to become better and to see that no injustice takes place); when the Muslim person sincerely asks Allah to help him/her in all adverse situations then only, he/she would be able to avoid all major sins; note also that Allah gave the respect to the Man due to the spirit he had blown inside him and the Satan intends to make him oblivious of its beauty and to plunge him into such of his base desires that lead him to care for the physical pleasures only; and note also that when the male and the female persons among the mankind disregard the command of HEJAB, it leads to extreme shameful attitudes gradually and that is why Islam asks to keep away from all such things too that have much high potential to lead to such attitudes; HEJAB is the attitude of reservation that challenges all shameful attitudes which the Muslim woman takes-up at all walks of life and our study would learn about it explicitly insha-Allah at the next Ruku; the Muslims would not eat anything impure or/and prohibited as it affects the inside adversely (and that is why Allah prohibited proximity even, to Adam and Eve to that tree that had the prohibited fruit and eating of which caused their respective private parts to come into the view of each other); the Muslim men would not talk without some necessity at the Islamic living-manner to unrelated women (and those women also would care to talk to them by necessity only and in some strict manner); the Muslim women would not leave their homes without some necessity and would return as they have attended to that and they would never wear such dresses that Islam takes as the most indecent clothing for them at any time anywhere (though at leaving their homes, they would see to it particularly) so they would not take-up any such attitude that Islam takes as shameful at any time anywhere; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this AAYAT implies that Allah has shown His mercy to the Muslims and not punished them when they did not stop the spread of the rumor that was very shameful in nature and that related to total falsehood, but that shall not cause any inattention inside them about such matters ahead; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT asks the well-off Muslims not to stop the financial assistance that they had been providing to their poor relatives who had ignorantly involved themselves in acceptance of this rumor; they should forgive them and leave any attention to their extreme idiocy now; note here that Abu Bakr-RA, who used to provide financial assistance for MISTAH because of the latter's kinship to him (as the mother of MISTAH was his first cousin) and because of his poverty, had taken an oath that he will never provide for MISTAH anything after what he has said about his daughter Ayesha-RA; so Allah revealed this AAYAT-22 and upon hearing this, Abu Bakr said that he certainly wishes that Allah should forgive him so he resumed giving MISTAH the aid he used to give him before (and even increased it) and swore that he will never deny it again from him at all; Al-

Hamdu Lillah; this AAYAT tells that it is not feasible to stop providing the financial assistance to some person in sudden manner, even if he has involved himself in some idiocy that hurts the person who is caring for him when he has done it ignorantly and he is most ready to repent duly on awareness of facts; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the couple of AAYAAT ahead mentions explicitly that those persons who accuse the innocent believing women who do not have any attention or any leaning towards shameful attitudes, they shall have most grievous chastisement not only at AKHIRAT but also at their lives at the world; at AKHIRAT, it would happen that Allah would give the tongues and hands & feet of such most wrong persons the power to bear witness in their own specific manner against such dishonest persons of their most unjust doings; the Quran has mentioned at places about the extreme dishonest persons among the disbelievers that at AKHIRAT, their limbs or/and other parts of physique would witness against them explicitly (see Surah HA-MEEM AS-SADAH-20; Surah YA-SEEN-65); this also implies in the most clear terms that whoever had accused Bibi Ayesha-RA wrongly of such heinous wrong to disgrace her and did not repent upon it at the world, AKHIRAT would disgrace him in the most extreme manner among all peoples of the world in such manner that he would be totally unable to offer any defense for himself; certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as all persons would receive their just judgment there according to their belief and deeds, these persons also would receive their judgment in the most just manner that would be the punishment by the hell-fire if they do not repent on their wrongs at the world sincerely;

their own tongues would testify against them and their hands & feet would be the four witnesses that would endorse its statement explicitly; certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku relate about the psyche of the Man that reads, "unclean things (i.e. all wrong-doings) are for unclean ones (i.e. those unfair persons who search only for faults even in the most virtuous persons as their attention remains towards unworthy gains of the world) and unclean ones are for unclean things (i.e. those unfair persons are attracted to all wrong-doings only); and the good things (i.e. all virtuous deeds) are for good ones (i.e. those virtuous persons who appreciate the goodness in all persons and try to make all persons better by keeping AKHIRAT in view) and the good ones are for good things (i.e. those virtuous persons are attracted to all virtuous deeds only); these are free from what they (i.e. the unfair persons) say (to blame them of extreme shameful attitudes); they shall have forgiveness (at the world) and the honorable sustenance (at AKHIRAT)"; certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NOOR-The Fourth Ruku

27. O you who believe! Do not enter houses other than your own houses until you have asked permission and saluted their inmates; this is better for you, that you may be mindful.

28. But if you do not find any one therein, then do not enter them until permission is given to you; and if it is said to you: Go back, then go back; this is purer for you; and Allah is Cognizant of what you do.

29. It is no sin in you that you enter uninhabited houses wherein you have your necessities; and Allah knows what you do openly and what you hide.

30. Say to the believing men that they cast down their looks and guard their private parts; that is purer for them; surely Allah is Aware of what they do.

31. And say to the believing women that they cast down their looks and guard their private parts and do not display their ornaments except what appears thereof, and let them wear their head-coverings over to their bosoms, and not display their ornaments except to their husbands or their fathers, or the fathers of their husbands, or their sons, or the sons of their husbands, or their brothers, or their brothers' sons, or their sisters' sons, or their women, or those whom their right hands possess, or the male servants not having any need, or the children who have not attained knowledge of what is hidden of women; and let them not strike their feet so that what they hide of their ornaments may be known; and turn to Allah all of you, O believers! so that you may be successful.

32. And marry those among you who are single and those who are fit among your male slaves and your female slaves; if they are needy, Allah will make them free from want out of His grace; and Allah is Ample-giving, Knowing.

33. And let those who do not find the means to marry keep chaste until Allah makes them free from want out of His grace. And (as for) those who ask for a writing from among those whom your right hands possess, give them the writing if you know any good in them, and give them of the wealth of Allah which He has given you; and do not compel your slave girls to prostitution, when they desire to keep chaste, in order to seek the frail good of this world's life; and whoever compels them, then surely after their compulsion Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.

34. And certainly We have sent to you clear AAYAAT and a description of those who have passed away before you, and an admonition to those who guard (against evil).

This Ruku relates beautifully the manner to live by the best of morality in the Islamic environment; the first three AAYAAT of this Ruku teach manners to visit someone or/and some place at the Islamic environment; the Muslims person needs to ask permission to enter when he comes to visit some person; he would stand a little at side from the main door so that his sight does not fall inside as the door opens; he would ask the permission to enter for three times only and if there is no answer, he would postpone his visit to some period ahead; one of the authentic Ahadith at Bukhari mentions that tells that whenever the Prophet PBUH asked permission to enter, he knocked the door thrice with greeting and whenever he spoke anything significant, he used to repeat it thrice; in the current times, the Muslim person might ask permission to visit someone beforehand by the mobile cell-phones and would also conform his presence when he comes at his place and when permission is allowed to him, he would present SALAM to the inmates there; if he does not get the permission to enter from any of responsible persons there, he would leave the place and postpone his visit to some period in future without any resentment on this refusal; Islam most clearly asks to respect the privacy of Muslims at their homes as they might be engaged in some worthy task needing their attention and there also remains trust upon each other that no Muslim person would involve himself in any of wrongs even in private; also, it is not feasible to trespass upon any private property though there might not be anyone present there unless someone among Muslims have taken specific permission for it due to some of his belongings there; Al-Hamdu Lillah; also, when the Muslim person visits such places where his entry does not need permission as mosques, warehouses (where he has stored some of his assets), community centers (where he is one of members), restaurants, public gardens etc. though if there are timing set at these places to visit them, he would respect that; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at AAYAT-30, Allah asks the Prophet PBUH to provide the command to all Muslim men to care about their sight that they would strictly keep the gaze down when in front of the unrelated women as much as possible for them and they would take care that their private parts remains totally concealed from all people at all times and places; note that the SATAR (such of parts that the person needs to conceal necessarily) for the Muslim man is from belly to knees all round and it needs his physical attention; the Muslim man does not need to leave the things that he requires for the ordinary living of his life so he would take lawful & pure foods and wear necessary simple decent clothes to conceal the SATAR without care to the saying that "clothes make the man" but he would show his gratitude to Allah by living virtuously in the most simple manner; his necessary clothes would also save him from the adversity of the weather and would also remain an adornment to him

though he certainly would not wear such clothes that incline to showing-off; note that Islam does not take as virtuous to torture the physique in any manner but it asks to remain simple enjoying all blessings from Allah due to necessity and up-to necessity; the last of AAYAT-30 says that "surely Allah is Aware of what they do" and this implies that the men have such delicate sentiments towards women that need check and they would take care by EHSAN for HEJAB of the Muslim women that comes at the next AAYAT, in the best manner possible for them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at the next AAYAT of the Ruku that is AAYAT-31, Allah asks the Prophet PBUH to provide the same command to all Muslim women to care about their sight that they would strictly keep the gaze down when in front of the unrelated men as much as possible for them and they would take care that their private parts remain totally concealed from all people at all times and places; however, the AAYAT guides ahead to the issue of HEJAB that relates to the Muslim woman categorically; note that for the Muslim woman, all her body is SATAR (which includes her hair too) except for her face, hands up-to wrists and feet up-to ankles and the notable feature is that her SATAR and her HEJAB both are similar in the Islamic surroundings though there are some notable differences too that we would insha-Allah learn ahead; there are such persons at these current times who have taken up the manners of the Satan so much that though they accept the clothing as adornment to the body yet they do not give the worthy credit to the fact that it conceals the parts that are most necessary to conceal which is its primary task; due to such views that are most adverse to Islam, they care but little about concealing of SATAR most strictly and their views relate much to make space for the women-folk to manifest their physique at some occasions in the most shameful manner; note that such manifestation is totally disallowed even at picnic occasions and totally disallowed even for medical reasons; the notable thing here is that even in the situation of utmost IDHTIRAR (the grave situation of necessity where even her life is at stake), it is necessary for the Muslim woman to take-up the attitude of reservation and care for her SATAR that declines only to become equivalent to the SATAR of the Muslim man at such exceptional medical situation; however, if surgery is most necessary at some other place due to IDHTIRAR for which only a male surgeon is available, the surgeon would concentrate at that place only by covering all the physique by sheet of cloth and exposing only that specific area by tearing it to necessity (whereas only the female persons would assist him in that surgery) as ULAMA would insha-Allah elaborate upon the issue if they are asked for guidance; may Allah give all Muslim persons the awareness of the Islamic teachings, provide all of them TOFIQ to live practically upon that awareness and save all of them from all satanic views by spreading them explicitly to all peoples of the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the awareness of the ruling for three matters that are SATAR, the normal manner of HEJAB and the strict manner of HEJAB, would insha-Allah explain the whole of issue that relates to the code of dress and the necessary reservation in attitudes of the Muslim woman according to the Islamic teachings; for this necessary awareness, I, MSD, would insha-Allah provide the supplementary note after this note at the fourth Ruku of

Surah NOOR, by the high blessing of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-32 asks all such persons to seek an early marriage for the persons that are financially dependent on them; at those times, there were slave persons that were most dependent on their masters for their financial sustenance and different issues of life so the AAYAT mentions them too yet in the world that we have today, it implies that the responsible persons to some dependent men and women, have to see to this aspect of their lives too most necessarily; this would save their good chastity and if the responsible persons fear that they would get some additional financial burden as their liability, they need not worry about it as Allah would make their financial situation better to provide for those persons that are dependent upon them or/and make those dependent persons capable in such manner that they would be able to provide for themselves in much better way; certainly, Allah is Ample-giving, Knowing; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-33 guides that those who are not financially dependent to any other person but they do not have much resources available at hand, they need to wait until Allah provides them enough for their ease at this matter by His blessing and so they would exercise utmost control on their sentiments towards the women so as not to fall into any of major sins; in Ahadith, one of the manners to develop that control inside is to keep SIYAAM (i.e. they need to fast as much as possible that they usually practice in the month of Ramadan); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the AAYAT also rules to accept the request of slave-persons if their masters see that they certainly would not put any hardship to their selves (as they have some good skill to use to survive) or to the Islamic environment, when they ask their masters to release them of slavery by providing specific sum of amount for it (this is termed as MUKATABAT); the Islamic teachings set pace for the release of men & women from slavery by all manners that was possible at that time and until that release, asked the Muslims to treat their slaves in as humanely manner as possible at that time; we all Muslims know well about Muhammad (PBUH), the last of Messengers of Allah, that he never led Muslims to grade-consciousness as his speech tells clearly that is recorded at the books of Ahadith; he was a simple person who led all his life in the most simple manner by keeping his total attention towards Allah only whereas he never cared about accumulating any of material assets; Al-Hamdu Lillah; however, the Islamic teachings do ask the common man to respect and to obey the persons at authority when they do not go against the commands of Allah but it is significant that they do not appreciate for the Muslim persons at authority to impose grades; though it is difficult to develop the most proper attitudes among the masses in accordance to the Islamic teachings yet the persons at authority would try that sincerely to the utmost possibility; they shall not impose their importance as there is no V.I.P. culture in Islam that might ask for imposed protocol; indeed the true greatness belongs to Allah only; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Islam did not initiate the practice of slavery nor did it appreciate it and on the contrary, it gave such commands for slaves (for both male and female) that led to their emancipation with time; though detail is not possible here yet please note in brief that Islam asked to treat slaves with respect, asked to release them from slavery in compensation of few commands of Allah that their masters could not fulfill, asked not to give any of female slaves except by marriage to men for sexual reasons (as this filth prevailed at that time among some of hypocrites who used to earn their filthy amounts by this) and though their sale was allowed yet it was not appreciated, asked to release female slaves if they become mothers to any of their children, asked not to stop any of their slaves from becoming MUKATAB (as we find here at this AAYAT) who asked for their release by paying-out some specific amount to their masters for their freedom and in addition to these, Islam asked in many other ways to free slaves and took it as one of the most charitable acts for the Muslims; with that, it also asked not to make people slaves to the extent possible at those times and this was the best that could have been done when the custom of slavery prevailed and when women outnumbered men highly who had among them many of such women who did need security to live-on with necessities; this was because the men fell at battle-grounds in those days in scores while the number of battles was high too; it is most highly notable that slavery was and is totally alien to the righteous practice of Islamic teachings and Islam tolerated it only because any direct action against it would have caused most unpleasant outcome to the living manner then; however, Islam did certainly deal with this issue of slavery most beautifully at those times and it did set the good pace for its total elimination by progress in time ahead; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the AAYAT also guides those persons in the most firm manner who claim to be Muslims that they shall not compel their slave-girls to prostitution as they desire to keep chaste; note that the AAYAT states the desire of the slave-girls for chastity as the fact of the matter and not as the condition to the matter; they shall avoid all such inclinations that ask to seek the frail goods of this world's life by means that Islam has totally disapproved; and whoever compels their slave-girls, then surely after such compulsion, Allah is Most Forgiving and Most Merciful to those girls though their masters would receive the severe punishment not only for the heinous filth of the sin that they asked of them but also for their compulsion that they applied upon those girls due to their authority upon them; certainly Allah only is the true authority and they would see their severe punishment not only at AKHIRAT but also at their lives at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah sums up the matter of the Ruku beautifully in the last AAYAT by the statement that "and certainly We have sent to you clear AAYAAT and a description of those who have passed away before you, and an admonition to those who guard (against evil)"; may Allah give all Muslim persons the awareness of the Islamic teachings, provide all of them TOFIQ to live practically upon that awareness and save all of them from all satanic views by spreading that awareness explicitly to all peoples of the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Supplementary note - AAYAT-59 (AHZAAB) & AAYAT-31 (NOOR)

Islam asks the Muslim woman to care for the code of her dress by Islam and for the necessary reservation at all times in her attitudes; this needs that she learns the rulings for SATAR and HEJAB that gets highly strict when the environment presents some high challenge to the Islamic manner of living; for the Muslim woman, all her body is SATAR (which includes her hair too) except for the face, hands up-to wrists and feet up-to ankles; note that both SATAR and HEJAB are very similar at the Islamic surroundings yet this is significant that even then, HEJAB does ask her to take some additional long sheet of cloth too upon her when she leaves her home for some genuine necessity; it also denotes her attitude of utmost reservation towards the men-folk (so it asks to shape her behavior too besides the attention that she needs at SATAR); the notable thing is that her HEJAB gets highly strict at the surroundings that challenge the practice of Islam (and such of surroundings presents FITNAH which means that there are high number of persons who not only abhor the practice of the righteous Islamic teachings but also the belief in the righteous Islamic teachings); there she would cover her face too except for her eyes to fulfill its demands when she leaves her home for some genuine necessity so her HEJAB does have some changeable features by change in times at hand yet SATAR is fixed in meaning which relates to all her physique including her hair except for her face, hands and feet; the BURQA or the ABAAYA that fully covers her physique with necessary veil to cover the face except for eyes, does fulfill this need of total covering at such surroundings; Al-Hamdu Lillah; for the awareness of the issue of HEJAB, the most significant feature to note is that HEJAB of the Muslim womenfolk has three aspects to it which also elucidate that it relates to her behavior too; the first aspect is that the Muslim woman must not leave her home except for some necessity (the ultimate decision about necessity would be hers, when she does care in practice about the basic teachings of Islam though she would care to keep in view the advice of her father- or if married, of her husband- about it); the second aspect is that when she goes out of her home at some necessity and the surroundings are such that in general, the men care not to trouble her in any way (and the Islamic rulings mention such place as free of FITNAH so there is no challenge to the righteous Islamic teachings there and those surroundings respect them highly) then she might go out by strict care to her SATAR with her face, hands up-to wrist and feet up-to ankles uncovered though she would cover her whole body plus her hair by an additional long sheet of cloth necessarily (and so even BURQA or ABAAYA that is the long coat which conceals the whole physique plus the covering to hair, is fine); if the surroundings are otherwise, then she would take care to cover her face too except for eyes; the third aspect is connected to the first that as soon as the necessity ends, she would return to her home without any waste of time as Islam appreciates the basic place for her activity as her home for certain; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the observation of this issue tells explicitly that it is an embarrassment for the menfolk in general that the Muslim woman needs to cover her face too for HEJAB when she has to leave her home for some genuine necessity; one of the notable issues here is that Surah AHZAAB also mentions the command of HEJAB explicitly and though it is the thirty-third Surah in recitation yet it had descended a year before than Surah NOOR; so our study here would insha-Allah get some more refinement by consultation of that place too; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah AHZAAB-59 reads, "O Prophet (PBUH)! tell thy wives and daughters, and the believing women, that they should cast some of their outer garments (i.e. from the long sheet of cloth or ABAYA) over their persons (i.e. they should take veil over their faces too either with extension of some cloth from their outer garments or either in addition with some cloth, except for eyes when they leave their homes as they find the surroundings related to FITNAH); that is most convenient, that they should be known (that they are noble Muslim women) and are not molested; and Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; please note some significant points here about the ruling for HEJAB which I, MSD, would present keeping AAYAT-59 at AHZAAB in view specifically but as AAYAT-31 of NOOR also relates to the ruling for HEJAB directly so I would take its assistance too for the awareness of its ruling; the first point is that AAYAT-59 at AHZAAB relates specifically to the dress-code and the attitude of the Muslim woman when she has to leave her home for some genuine necessity at surroundings of some FITNAH; the second point is that the term "Min-JALABIBEHIN" that is mentioned there, denotes according to IBNE-ABBAS-RA, such BURQA or such ABAAYA or such long sheet of cloth which conceals her whole physique and which has the veil in addition to it for the face with eyes unconcealed only, to see the way and she would remain to side of the pathway and she would remain inattentive to menfolk around (who by themselves would care in the best way for her HEJAB); the third point is that this AAYAT at AHZAAB relates to the times of some FITNAH, though it was light then yet substantial, to ask the Muslim women to take the strict manner of HEJAB that included their faces too; the explanation to this is that there were some persons among the Jews who passed remarks upon some of the Muslim women even when they had left their homes in the most decent manner for genuine necessity; when they were challenged on this most indecent attitude towards the Muslim women, those persons among the Jews argued that they mistakenly took them as slave-women; sadly, the surroundings were permissive at those times for men to give few adverse remarks to slave-women at pathways teasingly; so the Muslim women were asked here to take the strict HEJAB that is needed at FITNAH so that it distinguishes them clearly from the slave-women who only observed the normal manner of HEJAB and that also somewhat loosely; the fourth point is that after a year or so, when this threat from the indecent persons among the Jews totally faded away, AAYAT-31 at Surah NOOR descended that implied that it suffices for the Muslim women to take the normal manner of HEJAB when she leaves her home for some genuine necessity which does not include her face (except where she intends it herself and that of-course is the better option); it also tells that she is allowed to reside at her home with normal clothing that are related to her SATAR (which includes the covering to her hair and that is very near to the normal manner of HEJAB) with necessary decent reservation in attitudes; this AAYAT-31 mentions such of her relatives in detail in front of whom she relaxes her HEJAB whereas she cares for her SATAR strictly; her first cousins who visit there, might be included here if they are decent enough and she is yet unmarried though please note here that ULAMA generally take them too as outsiders; the fifth point is that it is interesting that Allah asks the Prophet PBUH to express the ruling about SATAR and HEJAB and He does not provide it directly to Muslims so it tells that the Prophet PBUH was most liable to address such issues of morality that are intimately attached to the Muslim person; now, with these points, note that AAYAT-31 at Surah NOOR presents the list of the MEHRUM (very closely related men to her to whom her marriage is totally disallowed) explicitly in front of whom, the Muslim woman is allowed to present herself without any of her outer garments except for her normal clothes that conceals whole of her physique without telling any of its features being light or tight (and she would care to wear her head-covering even at such times as that also is included in her SATAR though if she is inattentive to it for some brief period among her very close relatives at home, that negligence is omissible); note that her husband is also mentioned in the list yet he is an exception to her as for him, even the ruling for her SATAR is relaxed but as she is liable to leave HEJAB of any manner in front of him too so he also is mentioned here; note that even if among her very close relatives at home, she would care for the strict concealment of her SATAR at all times which is her whole physique except for her hands & feet and face; that probably would suffice even in front of her decent first cousins as they visit there at these current times though they surely are not among the MEHRUM; at AAYAT-31 of NOOR, Allah asks the Prophet PBUH to advise to Muslim women for the normal manner of HEJAB, "and do not display their ornaments (their normal dress and decorative things attached to it that relate to it including its designs) except what appears thereof (that is their outer garment, their height, their decent manner in walk and in necessary speech, their hands which may even have designs upon palms i.e. MEHNDI, their shoes and their faces but without dressing to lips or applying of face-powders), and let them wear their head-coverings over to their bosoms (and that sheet of cloth also shall not be light or/and short as that actually relates to SATAR and it counts among the necessary aspects of HEJAB too) and not display their ornaments (as noted above) except to their husbands or their fathers, or the fathers of their husbands, or their sons, or the sons of their husbands, or their brothers, or their brothers' sons, or their sisters' sons, or their women (i.e. the Muslim women as even with the normal manner of HEJAB, the Muslim woman is disallowed to interact freely with women that are other than Muslims), or those whom their right hands possess (i.e. their slave-women though this does not apply at these current times as by the blessing of Allah, slavery has gone away, insha-Allah never to come again), or the male servants not having any need (and any of manly attention towards women at the household due to their extreme old age as servants or due to their residing from childhood at that place as servants to the family), or the children who have not attained knowledge of what is hidden of women (so except in front of these, the Muslim woman would take the strict manner of HEJAB in front of all menfolk); and let them not strike their feet so that what they hide of their ornaments may be known (as attitudes also count in rulings about HEJAB even if it is in the normal manner); and turn to Allah all of you, O believers! (as there might remain some of negligence in rulings about HEJAB from the Muslim women at times unintentionally or even from the Muslim men where they need to assist women about it, so asking-on for mercy from Allah at all times is most necessary) so that you may be successful"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the explanation about both of these AAYAAT, that are AAYAT-31 of NOOR and AAYAT-59 of AHZAAB, notes explicitly that these both AAYAAT relate respectively to the normal manner of HEJAB at inside of homes (which also applies outside where the environment is Islamic as the Muslim woman adds the outer worthy garment over all her physique when outside her home at necessity and the worthy high reservation in all her attitudes towards the menfolk) and about the strict manner of HEJAB at outside of homes (where the environment presents trouble to the Islamic living manner of the decent Muslim woman even if she leaves her home briefly at genuine necessity); note that when the surroundings relate to the Islamic environment, AAYAT-60 of Surah NOOR gives some convenience in HEJAB to the old women among Muslims that they might relax some of their outer covering even in front of the unrelated men in such manner in which they reside at home, when they find some necessity to go outside homes; but they would take utmost care for decent clothing even at such occasions (as they take at all occasions) that suffices totally well to conceal the whole physique plus the hair; the AAYAT also mentions that though this is allowed for them yet it is better for them that they do not avail this convenience and resort to all asking of HEJAB of the normal manner; all of Muslims have to note that the best manner to get the explanation of HEJAB totally is to practice it as better as possible by converting all surroundings to the Islamic environment and by keeping all attention towards Allah, the only Creator of all the creation Who always has all His attributes and certainly, He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NOOR-The Fifth Ruku

35. Allah is the light of the heavens and the earth; the likeness of His light is as a niche in which is a lamp, the lamp is in a glass, the glass is as it were a brightly shining heavenly body, lit from the blessed olive-tree, neither eastern nor western, the oil whereof almost gives light though fire touch it not-- light upon light-- Allah guides to His light whom He pleases, and Allah sets forth parables for men, and Allah is Cognizant of all things.

36. In houses which Allah has permitted to be exalted and that His name may be remembered in them; they glorify Him therein in the mornings and the evenings,

37. Men whom neither merchandise nor selling diverts from the remembrance of Allah and the keeping up of prayer and the giving of poor-rate; they fear the day in which the hearts and eyes shall turnabout;

38. So that Allah may give them the best reward of what they have done, and give them more out of His grace; and Allah gives sustenance to whom He pleases without measure.

39. And (as for) those who disbelieve, their deeds are like the mirage in a desert, which the thirsty man deems to be water; until when he comes to it he finds it to be naught, and there he finds Allah, so He pays back to him his reckoning in full; and Allah is quick in reckoning;

40. Or like utter darkness in the deep sea: there covers it a wave above which is another wave, above which is a cloud, (layers of) utter darkness one above another; when he holds out his hand, he is almost unable to see it; and to whomsoever Allah does not give light, he has no light.

The first AAYAT of the Ruku starts by the statement that "Allah is the light of the heavens and the earth"; this means that He has provided the light of the true guidance to the heavens and the earth as without His will, there would have been no light anywhere at any time in the spiritual sense and so nothing would have known the task that it has to fulfill; the AAYAT presents a simile ahead to express how this light gets brighter for the mankind when he remembers Allah by his heart, by his words and by his practice at all matters of his life; the AAYAT notes, "the likeness of His light is as a niche (i.e. the chest of the man that denotes his inside) in which is a lamp (i.e. the light of guidance inside his heart by birth), the lamp is in a glass (i.e. his heart), the glass is as it were a brightly shining heavenly body (as his heart denotes the spirit inside him that has come to him from heavens), lit from the blessed olive-tree (i.e. the heart glows spiritually in the most beautiful manner in such good person who accepts Islam sincerely), neither eastern nor western (i.e. Islam, the word of Allah that is like the blessed olive-tree, and every person needs its fundamental teachings for his life wherever and whenever he lives), the oil whereof almost gives light though fire touch it not (so the impression of Islam beautifies the spirit of the good person who accepts it and it glows like some beautiful heavenly body as it already had the potential inside for its acceptance) -- light upon light -- Allah guides to His light whom He pleases, and Allah sets forth parables for men, and Allah is Cognizant of all things"; note that Surah ZUMAR states, "is he whose bosom Allah has expanded for Islam, so that he follows a light from his Lord, (is he as he who disbelieves)? - then woe unto those whose hearts are hardened against remembrance of Allah; such are in plain error" (ZUMAR-22); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the three of AAYAT ahead state that this parable especially relates to those persons who care to visit the Masjid for the remembrance of Allah, and their business transactions even do not stop them from such beautiful visits; they care to spend their good resources in the way of Allah too as they fear the Day of Judgment so Allah would provide them the best of returns and even more; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT read, "(they find attraction) in houses which Allah has permitted to be exalted (that are MASAJID) and that His name may be remembered in them; they glorify Him therein in the mornings and the evenings; (they are) such men whom neither (buying of) merchandise nor selling diverts from the remembrance of Allah and the keeping up of SALAH (that brings the attention to AKHIRAT) and (of ZAKAH that is) the giving of poor-rate (that takes the attention away from unnecessary benefits of the world);

they fear the day in which the hearts and eyes shall turnabout; so that Allah may give them the best reward of what they have done, and give them more out of His grace (i.e. grant them nearness to Him); and Allah gives sustenance (even in the world) to whom He pleases without measure"; certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT at the Ruku tell about the disbelievers (which incline to hypocrisy and which totally have forgotten AKHIRAT respectively) that they take some of their deeds as most virtuous but it is just as the thirsty person has the illusion about glittering sand at some desert to which they come and find that there is no water there; such would be their position at AKHIRAT where Allah would give them the result to their doings that would only put disgrace to them and Allah would give that very soon as AKHIRAT is not that far away; Al-Hamdu Lillah; or their deeds (that are of other of disbelievers who have become totally oblivious of AKHIRAT and challenge it when they are asked to give attention to it), are as if they are at the depth of the ocean where waves are above waves and then over all of them is a dark black cloud which lingers there at night so it is darkness over darkness where if any person among them extends out his hand, he would be unable to see it; this means that remaining in such environment, if he does try at some period of life to ask facts about life, he would be unable to find those facts due to his position at total darkness that presents around due to the abhorrence to the righteous spiritual fundamental teachings of Islam; these last AAYAAT of the Ruku read, "and (as for) those who disbelieve, their deeds are like the mirage in a desert, which the thirsty man deems to be water; until when he comes to it he finds it to be naught, and there he finds Allah, so He pays back to him his reckoning in full; and Allah is quick in reckoning; or like utter darkness in the deep sea: there covers it a wave above which is another wave, above which is a cloud, (layers of) utter darkness one above another; when he holds out his hand, he is almost unable to see it; and to whomsoever Allah does not give light, he has no light"; certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NOOR-The Sixth Ruku

41. Do you not see that Allah is He Whom do glorify all those who are in the heavens and the earth, and the (very) birds with expanded wings? He knows the prayer of each one and its glorification, and Allah is Cognizant of what they do.

42. And Allah's is the kingdom of the heavens and the earth, and to Allah is the eventual coming.

43. Do you not see that Allah drives along the clouds, then gathers them together, then piles them up, so that you see the rain coming forth from their midst? And He sends down of the clouds that are (like) mountains where-in is hail, afflicting there-with whom He pleases and turning it away from whom He pleases; the flash of His lightning almost takes away the sight.

44. Allah turns over the night and the day; most surely there is a lesson in this for those who have sight.

45. And Allah has created from water every living creature: so of them is that which walks upon its belly, and of them is that which walks upon two feet, and of them is that which walks upon four; Allah creates what He pleases; surely Allah has power over all things.

46. Certainly We have revealed clear AAYAAT, and Allah guides whom He pleases to the right way.

47. And they say: We believe in Allah and in the apostle and we obey; then one of parties of them turn back after this, and these are not believers.

48. And when they are called to Allah and His Apostle that he may judge between them, one of parties of them turn aside.

49. And if the truth be on their side, they come to him quickly, obedient.

50. Is there in their hearts a disease, or are they in doubt, or do they fear that Allah and His Apostle will act wrongfully towards them? - in fact, they themselves are the unjust.

The first AAYAT of the previous Ruku had mentioned that "Allah is the light of the heavens and the earth"; this is because He has provided the light of the true guidance to the heavens and the earth as without His will, there would have been no light anywhere at any time, neither in the physical sense nor in the spiritual sense, and so nothing of His creation would have known the task that it has to fulfill; here the first AAYAT mentions that Allah has given all of things the awareness of how to praise Allah, the only true Lord of all and all such persons who have got some good observation might detect some of this awareness; He has provided free-will only to two of His creation that are the JINN and the Human-being and they have to put the commands of Allah with all sincerity to their lives by that free-will which they have; so Allah tells at AAYAT-56 of Surah ZAARIYAAT that "I created the jinn and the humankind only that they worship Me" as all other of His creation already praise Him sincerely; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that all of His creation (even plants and all lifeless things like rocks and waters and others), praise Him in their own way as they attest to the purity of Allah from all defects, by their TASBIH (remembrance of Allah) yet the AAYAT mentions birds specifically as they recite TASBIH for Him even at their flight and they certainly are beautiful; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so each of the creation of Allah has got its manner of SALAH and the good awareness about how to praise Him in the best way possible and He certainly knows about their doings that they manifest at this matter; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah BANI-ISRAEL states at AAYAT-44, "the seven heavens and the earth and all that is therein praise Him, and there is not a thing but hymns His praise; but you understand not their praise; He is ever Clement, Forgiving"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT mentions that Allah certainly has the kingdom of the heavens and the earth, and those among the jinn and the mankind who do not take the advice at the world to surrender to Allah totally, they would certainly have to answer for their doings to Allah, the true Lord of all His creation, at the Day of Judgment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-43 & 44 & 45 tell how Allah has cared for the safety of all His creation and how He has all authority to set issues relating to His creation as He wills; note that AAYAT-43 implies that Allah drives the cloud to where He intends and the clouds have total ability to store waters in them at the heaven (like the mountains that store waters at earth) and He attaches those clouds together and provide layers to them (as is evident even when some onlooker views them from an airplane) so as they get heavier, they pour waters to the earth; He also sends the hail from these mountainous stores at heaven to earth afflicting whom He wills and turning it away from whom He wills; the flash of lightening in it is so awesome at places where it seems that it would even take away the sight; so it is by His will that they provide for the safety of the mankind and by the same, He has all authority to provide for the destruction of the mankind if He wills; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that AAYAT-44 implies that He turns over the night and the day for the safety of the mankind yet He has all authority to keep only one of them perpetually upon some place where then it would be known fairly how punishing that situation is; Surah QASAS states, "say- have you thought, if Allah made night everlasting for you till the Day of Resurrection, who is a god beside Allah who could bring you light? - will ye not then hear?- say- have ye thought, if Allah made day everlasting for you till the Day of Resurrection, who is a god beside Allah who could bring you night wherein you rest? - will you not then see?- of His mercy has He appointed for you night and day, that therein you may rest, and that you may seek His bounty, and that haply you may be thankful" (QASAS-71 & 72 & 73); the man needs to count the blessings Allah has provided to him yet everything around which works in favor to his safety, he takes it for granted; note that Surah AALE-IMRAN has mentioned in this respect, "and Allah's is the kingdom of the heavens and the earth, and Allah has power over all things;

most surely in the creation of the heavens and the earth and the alternation of the night and the day there are signs for men who understand" (AALE-IMRAN-189 & 190); Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that AAYAT-45 implies that Allah has provided life to all the living beings starting their creation from waters as He intended for them; some of them crawl on the belly (i.e. serpents etc.), some of them walk on the two feet (i.e. gorillas, chimpanzees etc. in animals and also the mankind) and some of them trot upon four (i.e. cattle and wild animals etc.); Allah creates what He pleases and in the manner He wills; this also is notable that Allah has provided insects numerous of feet so most certainly, He has all control over all of His creation at all times; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the most fundamental teachings of Islam are TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord), RISALAT (Allah sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path and Muhammad PBUH is the last of His Messengers) and AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT indicates that He has revealed clear AAYAAT (which means the necessary directions here) for all His creation to guide them to their respective tasks that they would fulfill but as for the jinn and the mankind (which also are among His creation whom He has provided the freewill), He guides whom He pleases to the right path when any of those ask for His safety to them at AKHIRAT and they do accept the righteous teachings of Islam by heart sincerely; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last four AAYAAT of the Ruku present the attitude of hypocrites who were present among the Muslims at Madinah; these AAYAAT read, "and they (the Muslims) say- we believe in Allah and in the Apostle and we obey; then one of parties of them (i.e. hypocrites) turn back after this (as they find some of the Islamic commands difficult to practice especially to provide TABLIGH to the disbelievers and leave for QITAL against them if they opt to challenge Islam), and these are not believers (truly); and when they are called to Allah and His Apostle that he may judge between them, one of parties of them turn aside (as they know that the Prophet PBUH would judge by justice which they find against them); and if the justice (in the issue apparently) be on their side, they come to him quickly, obedient; is there in their hearts a disease (of disbelief in the word of Allah), or are they in doubt (if the Prophet is providing them the righteous guidance), or do they fear that Allah and His Apostle will act wrongfully towards them (though they see clearly that he is the most righteous person and that he brings it to them in the most righteous manner and that the word of Allah manifests the righteous guidance)?- in fact, they themselves are the unjust (so that is the reason that they are unable to appreciate justice)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NOOR-The Seventh Ruku

51. The response of the believers, when they are invited to Allah and His Apostle that he may judge between them, is only to say that we hear and we obey; and these it is that are the successful.

52. And he who obeys Allah and His Apostle, and fears Allah, and is careful of (his duty to) Him, these it is that are the achievers.

53. And they swear by Allah with the most energetic of their oaths that if you command them they would certainly go forth. Say: Swear not; reasonable obedience (is desired); surely Allah is aware of what you do.

54. Say: Obey Allah and obey the Apostle; but if you turn back, then on him rests that which is imposed on him and on you rests that which is imposed on you; and if you obey him, you are on the right way; and nothing rests on the Apostle but clear delivering (of the message).

55. Allah has promised to those of you who believe and do good that He will most certainly make them rulers in the earth as He made rulers those before them, and that He will most certainly establish for them their path of life which He has chosen for them, and that He will most certainly, after their fear, give them security in exchange; they shall serve Me, not associating aught with Me; and whoever is ungrateful after this, these it is who are the transgressors.

56. And keep up prayer and pay the poor-rate and obey the Apostle, so that mercy may be shown to you.

57. Think not that those who disbelieve shall escape in the earth; and their abode is the fire; and certainly evil is the resort!

The Ruku starts by couple of AAYAT that state the true standard of the true success at AKHIRAT and the best manner to live righteously at the world; they read, "the response of the believers, when they are invited to Allah and His Apostle that he may judge between them (in their disputes), is only to say that we hear and we obey (whether the decision favors us or falls against us); and these it is that are the successful (at AKHIRAT); and he who obeys Allah and His Apostle (in practice), and fears Allah (with sincerity inside), and is careful of (his duty to) Him, these it is that are the (true) achievers (of the most peaceful life ultimately at the world too)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-53 tells that there are such persons in Muslims who commit most energetically that if the Prophet PBUH commands them, they would certainly go forth at TABLIGH or/and QITAL against the disbelievers; the Prophet PBUH would plainly tell them to this statement that they do not have to swear as whatever issue having significance that he asks of them, they shall take it as command only to them as that is totally understood among SAHABA and so they would show the reasonable obedience from their side without presenting any of arguments from their side; surely Allah is aware of what they intend by their doings; the Prophet PBUH would plainly tell them to obey Allah and to obey the Prophet PBUH as that surely is their liability whereas he has the liability to provide all peoples of the world, the true guidance by the Quran in clear terms without any addition or omission and he has always done it beautifully; they would either obey Allah and the Prophet PBUH or either pay for their extreme disobedience, not only at AKHIRAT but surely even at their life at the world; certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last three AAYAAT of the Ruku foretell the rule of KHILAFAT for the true Muslims ahead where the Islamic teachings would get firm hold and it is most interesting to note that after the coming of these AAYAAT to the Prophet PBUH, that was after AHZAAB (the battle of trench that had taken place at 5 AH beginning in the lunar month of SHAWWAL at the last of December then), the Muslims went on to gain power around; note that the Prophet PBUH has told in the most explicit manner just after AHZAAB that now, we Muslims only would challenge the disbelievers as they would be most unable to challenge us; Al-Hamdu Lillah; by the time of the death of the Prophet PBUH at 11 AH (that was at one of the initial 10 days of June 632 AD), they had got their hold at all the lands of Arabia and were prepared to go beyond; note that TABUK had taken place at the life of the Prophet PBUH where he had led his SAHABA to challenge the Roman troupes that were taken as the most disciplined warriors of the time and the world saw with surprise that the Roman emperor Heraclius avoided confrontation to Muslims at TABUK with all tactics possible; his manifest avoidance sent the impression all over the known world that the Muslims have firmly risen to the status of one of the impressive powers of the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-55 reads, "Allah has promised to those of you who believe and do good (so they are the true Muslims) that He will most certainly make them rulers (i.e. provide them KHILAFAT) in the earth as He made rulers those before them (by His will); and that He will most certainly establish for them their path of life (i.e. Islam) which He has chosen for them, and that He will most certainly, after their fear (that enemy might attack Madinah anytime), give them security in exchange; they shall serve Me, not associating

aught with Me (as then all the environment would come to Islam and at that time, the Muslims would know it totally in practice); and whoever is ungrateful after this (that he does not appreciate the teachings of Islam but asks to live with any other manner even by seeing the Islamic teachings clearly in practice), these it is who are the transgressors"; so this AAYAT develops the hope inside the Muslims and it happened just as the AAYAT had foretold, and so it ends their fears that the enemy might attack them at Madinah and then try to eliminate the Islamic teachings; also, this AAYAT clearly tells that from now on, the Islamic teachings would remain firm at the world insha-Allah for all to learn by the Quran (with SUNNAH remaining available for its clarity in practice) and nothing would eliminate them so the people would always remain able to get them for their guidance; also, it implies that Muhammad PBUH is the last of Messengers of Allah as from now-on with the Quran present at the world, there certainly remains no need for any of them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT tell that the actual reason to getting the administration among the people is that some group of persons establish themselves firmly on the fundamental teachings of Islam collectively so they do get it by the will of Allah; and if there is no such significant group (though several of significant pockets of righteous individuals would always remain at places that might even be in thousands), then even those who seemingly have some goodness in them, they rise to administration by the will of Allah; this is how Allah has set the psyche of the masses in the mankind and certainly He knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT read, "and (O you true Muslims) keep up prayer and pay the poor-rate and obey the Apostle (by which Allah would provide you the authority to live upon Islam with total ease and by which He would give you TOFIQ to guide people to Islam), so that mercy may be shown to you (when you receive authority by the will of Allah and then try the best with ADL & EHSAAN that the word of Allah comes into practice collectively); think not that those who disbelieve shall escape in the earth (at the world by whatever status they get here at the world as they would ultimately receive the severe punishment even here as they live on by challenge to Allah, the true Lord, collectively), and their abode is the fire (at AKHIRAT); and certainly evil is the resort"; most certainly, Allah decides all things for the heavens, for the earth and for whatever that is between them because most certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NOOR-The Eighth Ruku

58. O you who believe! let those whom your right hands possess and those of you who have not attained to puberty ask permission of you three times; before the morning prayer, and when you put off your clothes at midday in summer, and after the prayer of the nightfall; these are three times of privacy for you; neither is it a sin for you nor for them besides these, some of you must go round about (waiting) upon others; thus does Allah make clear to you the AAYAAT, and Allah is Knowing, Wise.

59. And when the children among you have attained to puberty, let them seek permission as those before them sought permission; thus does Allah make clear to you His AAYAAT, and Allah is knowing, Wise.

60. And (as for) women advanced in years who do not hope for marriage, it is no sin for them if they put off their (outer additional) clothes without displaying their ornaments; and if they restrain themselves it is better for them; and Allah is Hearing, Knowing.

61. There is no blame on the blind man, nor is there blame on the lame, nor is there blame on the sick, nor on yourselves that you eat from your houses, or your fathers' houses or your mothers' houses, or your brothers' houses, or your sisters' houses, or your paternal uncles' houses, or your paternal aunts' houses, or your maternal uncles' houses, or your maternal aunts' houses, or what you possess the keys of, or your friends' (houses). It is no sin in you that you eat together or separately. So when you enter houses, greet your people with the salutation as directed by Allah, blessed (and) goodly; thus does Allah make clear to you the AAYAAT that you may understand.

Surah NOOR guides to the best of morality that the good Muslims would practice at their social issues; it guides all Muslim men & women to keep away from all shameful doings (specially to keep strictly away from adultery), to keep away from accusing any person of adultery (specially from accusing anyone among the noble Muslim ladies who are most reserved in attitudes and are unaware to attract men); to keep away from spreading information that urges curiosity to shameful attitudes; to protect eyes from gazing persons of other

gender and to protect their respective private parts to come in view of persons of other gender; to care for some specific necessary additional commands for the best of morality that relate to Muslim women for HEJAB that develops their attitude of reservation towards men; to care for chastity in general fervently at surroundings by making ease for all persons to getting married; to avoid forcing women to become extremely shameful and to avoid gains of worldly benefits by urging women to become bold towards unrelated men at surroundings; to avoid asking for earnings without care to the fulfillment of the Islamic commands of SALAH and ZAKAH and without care to asking all peoples of the world towards the teachings of Islam; this Surah also notes like many other places at the Quran, that the Muslims would remain grateful to blessings that Allah has provided to all of mankind for the safety of life, physically and spiritually, in total abundance; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this Ruku starts by the direction for the Muslims that their subordinates among their slave persons and among children at home who have not yet attained puberty need to ask permission three times when they need to enter their private quarters; note that AAYAT-27 asked the outsiders to seek permission to enter homes whenever they visit someone and this AAYAT asks for the slave persons at home and the children there that have not yet come to adulthood, to seek that but at particular occasions; these occasions are before the morning prayer, and when they put off some of their clothes at midday in summer, and after the prayer of the nightfall; these are three times of privacy in general in which the Muslim persons, male or female, remain at ease so it is possible that the clothing at such situation is improper to right manner by the Islamic teachings; it is also possible that the posture at such situation is improper to right manner by the Islamic teachings; note that it is much better at current times that the person cares to lock his residential quarter at his rest at these occasions so the children would necessarily need to seek permission there; note also that the command is general which is applicable to all Muslims to practice where they have children at home though slavery has become obsolete; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as the children at home come of age to adulthood, they even would seek permission to enter the private quarters at all occasions as other of adult persons; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-60 gives some convenience in HEJAB to the old women among Muslims that they might relax some of their outer covering even in front of the unrelated men when they find some necessity to go outside homes; but they would take utmost care for decent clothing even at such occasions that suffices totally well to conceal the whole physique plus the hair; however, the AAYAT also mentions that though this is allowed for them yet it is better for them that they do not avail this convenience; the AAYAT states, "and (as for) women advanced in years who do not hope for marriage (at that age), it is no sin for them if they put off their (outer additional) clothes (i.e. those that the Muslim woman needs to take at the Islamic environment for her HEJAB in the normal manner when she needs to leave her home temporarily) without displaying their ornaments; and if they restrain themselves, it is better for them; and Allah is Hearing, Knowing"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; for the last AAYAT of the Ruku, note that Islam allows the Muslim person who is crippled or handicapped, not to attend SALAH in congregation; they do not need to go for HAJJ or at war against disbelievers; due to these commands, they took themselves as inferior to others even in few of social matters and often refrained from eating foods in gatherings of relatives or their friends with this notion that they are not welcome there; also, if blind, they thought that they might eat more than normal there without intention (and foods was highly precious thing at those times) and if paralyzed, they thought that they might take more space in seating than normal there; such of their fears were sometimes increased too by some of Muslims who, in their sympathy, attended to them more than needed at their social gatherings; so Allah allowed them by this AAYAT to keep away such fears and allowed them to attend meals without any reservations at the residence of their near ones as mentioned here like those persons that were physically fit by the blessing of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; with this direction, it allowed all Muslim persons that they might eat together or separately by their own intention, where there is no issue of any reservations or any problem for anyone to feel hurt about it but they all need to greet other of Muslims at gatherings as they enter there with the salutation in the manner that they have learned from Allah; the direction here is "so when you enter houses, greet your people with the salutation as directed by Allah, blessed (and) goodly" whereas the AAYAT uses the term ANFUSEKUM (yourselves) for the expression "your people"; this denotes the closeness of Muslims to each other and to greet all Muslims by the specific salutation asks His blessing for all

Muslims and shows their care to each other; Allah certainly has taught all good social manners too to Muslims and they need commitment to it in the best of manners that is possible for them; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NOOR-The Last Ruku

62. Only those are believers who believe in Allah and His Apostle, and when they are with him on a momentous affair they go not away until they have asked his permission; surely they who ask your permission are they who believe in Allah and His Apostle; so when they ask your permission for some affair of theirs, give permission to whom you please of them and ask forgiveness for them from Allah; surely Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.

63. Do not hold the Apostle's calling (you) among you to be like your calling one to the other; Allah indeed knows those who steal away from among you, concealing themselves; therefore, let those beware who go against his order lest a trial afflict them, or there befall them a painful chastisement.

64. Be mindful that Allah's is whatever is in the heavens and the earth; He knows indeed that to which you are conforming yourselves; and on the day on which they are returned to Him, He will inform them of what they did; and Allah is Cognizant of all things.

The last Ruku of Surah NOOR guides attention to TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord), RISALAT (Allah sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path and Muhammad PBUH is the last of His Messengers) and AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment); it starts by providing the ruling about the gathering where the Prophet PBUH discusses some significant issue related to the Muslims with SAHABA (his companions); at such social gathering, Allah disallowed any of SAHABA to leave except where he found it necessary due to some urgent issue to him where he needed to ask permission to leave, from the Prophet PBUH; Allah appreciates all those who give their time to such important gatherings yet He also appreciates those persons who sought permission from the Prophet PBUH to leave when they needed to for some genuine necessity; however, He has clearly denounced those at this AAYAT who departed from such important gatherings without asking permission for it, from the Prophet PBUH as that clearly showed their hypocrisy; this situation was most notable when the battle of trench had taken place that the virtuous Muslims did remain steadfast at the occasion while the hypocrites were not happy with the situation complaining about their troubles in different ways; note that Allah grants the choice to the Prophet PBUH to accept or to reject any request from any person there to leave, as the Prophet PBUH deemed fit; he would ask Allah to forgive them on such request as they had to leave such an important gathering which related to make things better for AKHIRAT, because of some of their necessities that related to the world's life; this AAYAT also marks the most respectful status of the Prophet PBUH and the next AAYAT is explicit on the issue that all Muslims need to respond positively to the call of the Prophet PBUH as it reads, "do not hold the Apostle's calling (you) among you to be like your calling one to the other; Allah indeed knows those who steal away from among you (without his permission), concealing themselves (as much as possible from view); therefore, let those beware who go against his order lest a trial (i.e. FITNAH from Allah at the world) afflict them (as it counts as rejection of the message of the Prophet PBUH), or there befall them a painful chastisement (at AKHIRAT)"; note that when the term FINAH relates to issues among persons, it means that the wrong persons at the surroundings have led the situation to such manner by their wrong-doings where it has become most difficult to practice the righteous Islamic teachings and where also, it has become most difficult to keep the belief firm in the righteous Islamic teachings; but when the AAYAT tells that Allah puts FITNAH to some person, it means that He puts such trial upon him due to his wrongs that would cause highest of troubles to him at his world's life unless he sincerely turns his attention to Him, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of this Ruku (and of this Surah) expresses the total authority of Allah at whole of the universe and it guides attention to the Day of Judgment which tells all Muslims clearly to remain most sincere to Him in all of their good deeds as that only would save them from all troubles at the world and from the extreme chastisement at Day of Judgment; the AAYAT states, "be mindful that Allah's is whatever is in the heavens and the earth; He knows indeed that to which you are conforming yourselves; and on the day on which they are returned to Him, He will inform them of what they did; and Allah is Cognizant of all things"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah FURQAN
(Consists of 6 Ruku; MK-5)

FURQAN-The First Ruku

1. Blessed is He Who sent down the FURQAN upon His servant that he may be a warner to the nations;
2. He, Whose is the kingdom of the heavens and the earth, and Who did not take to Himself a son, and Who has no associate in the kingdom, and Who created everything, then ordained for it a measure.
3. And they have taken besides Him gods, who do not create anything while they are themselves created, and they control not for themselves any harm or profit, and they control not death nor life, nor raising (the dead) to life.
4. And those who disbelieve say: This is nothing but a lie which he has forged, and other people have helped him at it; so indeed they have done injustice and (uttered) falsehood.

5. And they say: The stories of the ancients-- he has got them written-- so these are read out to him morning and evening.

6. Say: He has revealed it Who knows the secret in the heavens and the earth; surely He is ever Forgiving, Merciful.

7. And they say: What is the matter with this Apostle that he eats food and goes about in the markets; why has not an angel been sent down to him, so that he should have been a warner with him?

8. Or (why is not) a treasure sent down to him, or he is made to have a garden from which he should eat? And the unjust say: You do not follow any but a man who is affected by some magical spell.

9. See what likenesses do they apply to you, so they have gone astray, therefore they shall not be able to find way.

Surah FURQAN guides all persons to understand that the life at the world is an examination where they would learn about Islam and where they would have the true belief in the fundamental teachings of Islam and where they would do all deeds according to that true belief; when the Muslim person lives with sincere commitment to Islam, it leads to TAQWA inside him which is the attitude of the heart as it denotes the fear of Allah that he does not get His displeasure by his sins becoming so sinful that he loses the chance to regain JANNAH and with that, it also denotes such hope towards Him that He would keep him safe from the Satan at all times and at all places; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah has provided the Quran to Muhammad PBUH, the last of His Messengers, so that every person understands the teachings of Islam and with that awareness, keeps away from all wrongs; the SUNNAH of Muhammad PBUH (i.e. his practical guidance to the Quran by his speech, by his deeds and even by his silence on issues) assists all those who sincerely believe in Islam to practice the teachings of the Quran; so the Quran and the Sunnah of the Prophet PBUH (as reported in the authentic books of Ahadith) are the basic things that respectively provide the teachings of Islam totally and the practice of Islam totally; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this Surah answers the objections of the disbelievers that they raised against the Quran and the Sunnah most explicitly and defends the beautiful status of the Prophet PBUH firmly to emphasize that he is the last of Messengers of Allah to all among the mankind and to all among the Jinn; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Surah starts by telling that Allah has cared for the mankind and the jinn as He has provided FURQAN to His virtuous slave (i.e. the Prophet PBUH) so that all persons understand the right path explicitly; this AAYAT implies that when a person is true slave to Allah, it certainly is the highest status for him as a man; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it tells explicitly that the Prophet PBUH would always remain warner to all worlds by spreading the teachings of the Quran, which means that he is the last Messenger of Allah to all persons that are present now or would come ahead anywhere among the mankind and he also is the last Messenger of Allah even to JINN; note that FURQAN means "the standard to differentiate between the Right and wrongs" and it is one of the most significant names of the Quran; other of these significant name include AL-KITAB (the Book), ADH-DHIKR (the Reminder), AL-HUDA

(the Guidance), KALAM-ALLAH (the Word of Allah), WAHI (Revelation), AT-TANZIL (the Final Revelation Provided by Allah) and AN-NUR (the Light); these all names provide an insight into the righteous invitation that the Holy Book Quran presents to the mankind just by their respective meanings; the only explanation might be needed for ADH-DHIKR and the notable point here is that this name tells us that everyone has the sense of recognition for the Truth (named FITHRAT) due to the covenant taken from each and every person before the life at the world, in the world of Spirits and that sense is addressed by the Holy Book Quran so in this meaning it is the Reminder towards that voice inside; also note that being KALAM-ALLAH, it is the attribute of Allah and as such, it is even allowed to take oath by the Holy Book Quran as the JAEZ oath (i.e. the right oath) can only be taken by the name of Allah or by any of His attributes; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note about the word "Al-Quran" that it is the root-word which means "To-Read"; its form of verb for the past is QARA'A and for the present and also the future (called the MUDHARE-verb), it is YAQRA'U; the valid root-words by which these verbs occur include QURANAN and as the Arabic Grammar allows to bring the root-word as an object at places so in this sense, "Al-Quran" means the book that is read continuously; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the subject-matter of the Holy Book Quran is to guide the individual towards righteousness i.e. the Islamic teachings so that he lives his life on the right path by his free-will that gets him the pleasure of Allah; note that everyone has to answer for his belief and deeds individually at AKHIRAT though the Muslim person would care fervently to bring the collective living to Islam at the world by his efforts as he remains most attentive towards Allah; He tells us in the Holy Book Quran, "certainly We have revealed to you the Book in which there is your own mention; do you not then understand?" (ANBIYA-10); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second AAYAT states the glory of Allah that "He, Whose is the kingdom of the heavens and the earth, and Who did not take to Himself a son, and Who has no associate in the kingdom, and Who created everything, then ordained for it a measure"; this AAYAT tells about TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord); Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the last AAYAT of Surah BANI-ISRAEL asks the Prophet PBUH, "and say- (all) praise is due to Allah, Who has not taken anyone as son and Who has no partner in the kingdom, and Who needs no helper to save Him from any disgrace; and proclaim His greatness magnifying (Him)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note also that AAYAT-54 of AARAAF tells, "surely Allah's is the creation and the command (so He only has created everything and certainly everything is working in perfect order according to the command that He has provided to it); blessed is Allah, the Lord of the worlds"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note also that AAYAAT-47, 48 & 49 of this Surah FURQAN tell about some of blessings that Allah has given to the mankind for its physical safety and in this respect, AAYAT-56 tells explicitly that Allah has sent the last of His Messengers to the world as He had sent other of His Messengers so that the mankind sees to its spiritual safety; so the virtuous persons would certainly show all their gratitude to Allah sincerely for all His blessings upon them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the third AAYAT at this first Ruku tells about the idiocy of the disbelievers that, "and they have taken besides Him gods, who do not create anything while they are themselves created, and they control not for themselves any harm or profit, and they control not death nor life, nor raising (the dead) to life"; so just in the following of their wrong ancestors who took the creation of Allah as gods besides Him and lived at the world without any care to work for AKHIRAT, they also have ruined themselves; AAYAAT ahead at this Ruku present answers to objections of the disbelievers that they raised against the Quran and against the Prophet PBUH; and these answers extend ahead whereas the next Ruku also tells about the severe punishment that such extreme disbelievers would receive at the Day of Judgment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first of their objections was that they said that the Prophet (PBUH) was teaching lies only which he has received by the assistance of some persons; note that the Prophet PBUH had lived at Makkah since many of years and all persons there held him as the most truthful of all persons who had no inclination to conspiracies so this was such blatant fib from the disbelievers which the Quran answers in plain words that "indeed they have done injustice and (uttered) falsehood"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; their second objection was that they said that he has written some stories of the ancient people and these are read to him at all times; the Quran answers this that "Allah has revealed it Who knows the secret in the heavens and the earth (that is why the narrations that He has provided of His Messengers in the Quran in detail are most true); surely He is ever Forgiving (so He provides for the physical safety of all persons at the world and also provides the true guidance to all persons at the world in spite of their wrong-doings), Merciful (so He gives TOFIQ to persons who repent on wrongs at the world to make themselves better)"; their third objection was that they said that if he is the Messenger of Allah, why he eats food and attends markets; and their fourth objection was that they said that they do not see any angel with him who also should have warned them as an assistant to him; there were such disbelievers too in them who thought that the Messenger of Allah needs to be a rich person who would have some treasure with him or such garden of ample fruits that shows that he is one of the most prosperous persons so these of disbelievers raised their fifth objection against him that he is such person who has a spell of magic on him; the next Ruku and AAYAAT ahead answer these but the last AAYAT at this Ruku has told the Prophet PBUH about the extreme height of the idiocy of disbelievers; note that AAYAT-57 of this Surah FURQAN asks the Prophet PBUH, "say- I do not ask you anything in return (for the true guidance that I provide you) except that he who will, may take the way to his Lord"; due to this highest of status that the Prophet PBUH has, the last AAYAT of this first Ruku states, "see what likenesses do they apply to you, so they have gone astray, therefore they shall not be able to find way"; this is the punishment of all such disbelievers at the world who disrespect the Prophet PBUH though he provides them the true guidance sincerely for which he certainly has not asked any of benefits from them; also, all such disbelievers would receive most extreme punishment at AKHIRAT; most certainly, Allah only has created all the creation and most certainly, He only has all true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

FURQAN-The Second Ruku

10. Blessed is He Who, if He pleased, will have given you what is better than this (at the world even), gardens beneath which rivers flow, and He will have given you palaces.

11. But they reject the hour, and We have prepared a burning fire for him who rejects the hour.

12. When it shall have them into its sight from a distant place, they shall hear its vehement raging and roaring.

13. And when they are cast into a narrow place in it, bound, they shall there call out for destruction.

14. Call not this day for one destruction, but call for destructions many.

15. Say: Is this better or the abiding garden which those who guard (against evil) are promised? That shall be the reward and the resort for them.

16. They shall have therein what they desire abiding (in it); it is a promise which it is proper to be prayed for from your Lord.

17. And on the day when He shall gather them, and whatever they served besides Allah, He shall say: Was it you who led astray these My servants, or did they themselves go astray from the path?

18. They shall say: Glory be to Thee; it was not beseeming for us that we should take any guardians besides Thee, but Thou didst make them and their fathers to enjoy until they forsook the reminder, and they were a people in perdition,

19. So they shall indeed deny you in what you say, then you shall not be able to ward off or help, and whoever among you is unjust, We will make him taste a great chastisement.

20. And We have not sent before you any apostles but they most surely ate food and went about in the markets; and We have made some of you a trial for others; will you bear patiently? And your Lord is ever Seeing.

The Ruku starts by the statement that if Allah willed to provide the Prophet PBUH the blessed things similar to that which He would give him at AKHIRAT, he could have given that to him even at the world; but He would give that to him at AKHIRAT as that is better than such status which denotes abundance of wealth at his world's life; this thought that the Messenger of Allah needs to be a rich person is most incorrect and in fact, it denotes that they take the world as their true abode where the status by abundance of wealth would denote the worth of the person to ask towards the righteousness and they certainly do not have the true belief upon AKHIRAT; the consequence of such disbelief is that they would be punished by the most punishing hell-fire; AAYAAT 12, 13 & 14 state, "when it (the hell-fire) shall have them into its sight from a distant place, they shall hear its vehement raging and roaring; and when they are cast into a narrow place in it, bound, they shall there call out for destruction (i.e. end of their lives); call not this day for one destruction, but call for destructions many"; this tells that the hell-fire has the sense that it has to punish the disbelievers most severely according to the command of

Allah; note that AAYAT-30 of QAAF tells, "on the day that We will say to the hell-fire 'are you filled up?'- and it will say- 'are there any more?'"; there, they would not die though they would ask for that and their punishment would be most severe; this is how Allah punishes those disbelievers who disrespect Muhammad PBUH, the last of His Messengers, as he certainly has the highest of status among the mankind; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT 15 & 16 state the peace that the true believers would find at JANNAH at AKHIRAT as they read, "say- is this (severe punishment) better or the abiding garden which those who guard (against evil due to their TAQWA) are promised?- that shall be the reward and the resort for them; they shall have therein what they desire abiding (in it); it is such promise which it is proper to be prayed for from your Lord"; note that the last Ruku of AALE-IMRAN states the manner of the true Muslims to ask for all peace at AKHIRAT and in that, AAYAT-194 tells, "(they say) Our Lord! and grant us what Thou hast promised us by Thy Messengers; and disgrace us not on the day of resurrection; surely Thou dost not fail to perform the promise"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-17, 18 & 19 depict the scene at AKHIRAT where those whom the disbelievers took equal to Allah in authority, would plainly refute their claim; these AAYAAT read, "and on the day when He shall gather them, and whatever they served besides Allah, He shall say- was it you who led astray these My servants, or did they themselves go astray from the path?- they shall say- glory be to Thee; it was not beseeming for us that we should take any guardians besides Thee, but Thou didst make them and their fathers to enjoy until they forsook the reminder, and they were people in perdition; so they shall indeed deny you in what you say, then you shall not be able to ward off (the punishment) or help (any other), and whoever among you is unjust, We will make him taste a great chastisement"; AAYAT-20 answers the third and the fifth objections of the disbelievers briefly but explicitly; note that in this AAYAT, Allah presents His authority that He has set the manner by His will by which He rules among the people; certainly He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; they had said that if he is the Messenger of Allah, why he eats food and attends markets and they had said that the Prophet PBUH is such person who has a spell of magic on him as he is not a rich person and still he claims to be the Messenger of Allah; so the AAYAT states, "And We have not sent before you any apostles but they most surely ate food and went about in the markets; and We have made some of you a trial for others (so this trial does ask that people live at different financial positions which implies that there is no problem if the Prophet PBUH does not have abundance of wealth); will you bear patiently? And your Lord is ever Seeing"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that Allah had never labeled abundance of wealth as condition to make someone His Messenger when He sent them at the world and as such the objection of the disbelievers was totally baseless; they even took him under some magical spell because of their baseless objection that he needs to have abundance of wealth; note that as the Prophet Muhammad PBUH is the last of Messengers of Allah, the righteous Muslims have the liability to provide the message of the Quran after him collectively to all peoples of the world as best as they are able to and this certainly is most high blessing of Allah to all righteous Muslims; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

FURQAN-The Third Ruku

21. And those who do not hope for Our meeting, say: Why have not angels been sent down upon us, or (why) do we not see our Lord? Now certainly they are too proud of themselves and have revolted in great revolt.

22. On the day when they shall see the angels, there shall be no joy on that day for the guilty, and they shall say: It is a forbidden thing totally prohibited.

23. And We will proceed to what they have done of deeds, so We shall render them as scattered floating dust.

24. The dwellers of the garden shall on that day be in better abiding-place and better resting-place.

25. And on the day when the heaven shall burst asunder with the clouds, and the angels shall be sent down descending (in ranks).

26. The kingdom on that day shall rightly belong to the Beneficent Allah, and a hard day shall it be for the disbelievers.

27. And the day when the unjust one shall bite his hands saying: O woe is me! would that I had taken away with the Apostle.

28. O woe is me! would that I had not taken such person for a friend!

29. Certainly he led me astray from the reminder after it had come to me; and the Satan fails to aid man.

30. And the Apostle cried out: O my Lord! surely my people have treated this Quran as a forsaken thing.

31. And thus have We made for every prophet an enemy from among the sinners and sufficient is your Lord as Guide and Helper.

32. And those who disbelieve say: Why has not the Quran been revealed to him all at once? Thus, that We may strengthen your heart by it and We have arranged it well in arranging.

33. And they shall not bring to you any argument, but We have brought to you the truth and the best of significance.

34. (As for) those who shall be gathered upon their faces to hell, they are in a worse plight and straying farther away from the path.

This third Ruku of Surah FURQAN answers the fourth objection that was raised by the disbelievers; they had said that they do not see any angel with the Prophet PBUH who also should have warned them as an assistant to him; some of these disbelievers had even asked to see Allah so that they believe in the Truth; to answer them, the three AAYAAT here at the beginning read, "and those who do not hope for Our meeting, say- why have not angels been sent down upon us, or (why) do we not see our Lord?- now certainly they are too proud of themselves and have revolted in great revolt; on the day when they shall see the angels, there shall be no joy on that day for the guilty, and they shall say- it is forbidden thing totally prohibited; and We will proceed to what they have done of deeds, so We shall render them as scattered floating dust"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this tells that these people thought haughtily that they are at such status where the angels should come to them to ask them towards Islam and they should be allowed to see Allah with naked eyes; these AAYAAT explicitly tell them that it would be the Day of Judgment when they would see angels and there, they would find nothing to rejoice; angels would provide utmost punishment to them by the command of Allah and He would make such of their deeds that seemingly were virtues to them, useless to affect them positively; this is because the true commitment to Allah is necessary for such deeds that are seemingly virtuous to become acceptable at the court of Allah and they totally lacked such commitment; they would not see Allah even at that day and He would not give any care to them at that day, the Day of Judgment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; in contrast, those virtuous persons who would receive JANNAH would be much better placed there at AKHIRAT with all blessings from Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it would happen on that day that the heaven (the sky near to the earth) shall burst apart and that huge cavity shall have clouds from whence numerous angels shall be sent down descending to earth and the Quran has depicted this scene at BAQARAH-210 too which tells, "wait they for naught else than that Allah should come unto them in the shadows of the clouds with the angels?"; note that the earth shall be stretched to become plain on that day as we find at the beginning AAYAAT of Surah INSHIQAQ which also tells that the sky near to earth shall burst apart on that day, "when the heaven bursts asunder, and obeys its Lord and it must; and when the earth is stretched, and casts forth what is in it and becomes empty, and obeys its Lord and it must"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; though the will of Allah reigns over the earth and the heavens and all of His other creation at all times yet His kingdom on that day shall become totally manifest; it would be the most pleasant day for all the true believers and the most unpleasant day for all the disbelievers; certainly Allah only is the true authority; He is RAHMAN so He has provided the safety of life to the mankind by His creation around at the world and has provided the true guidance explicitly that all persons take that and live their lives according to Islam at the world; the Quran tells in most clear terms that at AKHIRAT, only the true believers in the fundamental Islamic teachings who had done their deeds according to that belief, would find total safety from all adversities; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-27, 28 & 29 tell about the extreme desperation of the disbeliever there where he would remember how he got the message of Islam at the world and how he rejected it under the impression of wrong persons around him; these AAYAAT read, "and the day when the unjust one shall bite his hands (i.e. he would regret most extremely) saying- O woe is me- would that I had taken away with the Apostle; O woe is me- would that I had not taken such person for a friend; certainly he led me astray from the reminder after it had come to me; and the Satan fails to aid man"; but on that day, his remorse would be totally useless as the world is the place of examination and AKHIRAT is the place where all results to that examination would come at fore; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-30 tells that the Prophet PBUH did worry that though he is providing the teachings of the Quran well to all persons yet the disbelievers do not care for them in the least which certainly would cause the most extreme punishment to them at AKHIRAT; so the AAYAT ahead soothes him by the statement that there always had been some extreme enemies of all Messengers of Allah among the disbelievers but Allah guided all His Messengers to the right path by His good commands and helped them out in all difficult situations with all care; it reads, "and thus have We made for every Prophet an enemy from among the sinners and sufficient is your Lord as Guide and Helper"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-32 tells another of objections of the disbelievers that they said why the Quran has not descended to him all at once; Allah answers to this, "thus, that We may strengthen your heart by it and We have arranged it well in arranging"; this implies that this is how Allah has willed in this matter and He soothes the Prophet PBUH by this manner of providing him the Quran; Allah helps him who is the last of His Messengers, in all situations that come his way so he remains totally steadfast upon the teachings of Islam and the Quran has all His good commands which the Prophet PBUH provides to all persons that guide all of them to the right path; it certainly has the most beautiful arrangement in text, recitation and expression of the message of Allah to all of mankind and to all of Jinn that asks them to ponder upon it with total belief in Allah and with total patience; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah states at Surah Bani-Israel "and this is the Quran which We have divided (into parts) so that you (O Muhammad PBUH) might recite it to the people at intervals and We certainly have revealed it by stages" (Bani-Israel-106); AAYAT-33 states, "and they shall not bring to you any argument, but We have brought to you the truth and the best of significance (TAFSIR)"; this means that the teachings of the Quran answer all doubts whatsoever as it certainly guides the man totally towards the right path so that he takes all true attitudes that are righteous, in all issues of life; the word "TAFSIR" that comes at this AAYAT means elucidation of the teachings in the Quran so Allah has provided the detail too for the Guidance to the right path that He has certainly provided at the Quran; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the disbelievers who do not take this true guidance to their life, they shall be dragged upon their faces to the hell-fire so they are the most wrong persons by placement at AKHIRAT and they are such persons who had strayed away most highly from the right path at their lives at the world; they surely would see all consequence of all their doings; certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

FURQAN-The Fourth Ruku

35. And certainly We gave Musa the Book and We appointed with him his brother Haroun an aider.

36. Then We said: Go you both to the people who rejected Our AAYAAT; so We destroyed them with utter destruction.

37. And the people of Noah, when they rejected the apostles, We drowned them, and made them a sign for men, and We have prepared a painful punishment for the unjust;

38. And AAD and THAMUD and the dwellers by the RASS (i.e. the well) and many generations between them.

39. And to everyone We gave examples; and everyone did We destroy with utter destruction.

40. And certainly they have (often) passed by the town on which was rained an evil rain; did they not then see it? Nay! they did not hope to be raised again.

41. And when they see you, they do not take you for aught but a mockery: Is this he whom Allah has raised to be an apostle?

42. He had well-nigh led us astray from our gods had we not adhered patiently to them! And they will know, when they see the punishment, who is straying farther off from the path.

43. Have you seen him who takes his low passion for his god? Will you then be a protector over him?

44. Or do you think that most of them do hear or understand? They are nothing but as cattle; nay, they are straying farther off from the path.

Surah FURQAN relates highly to telling about the world that it is the place for examination for all of mankind and for all of jinn as they both have the free-will which they need to apply to live upon the Islamic teachings to gain the pleasure of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; for this, it presents the events that relate to the Messengers of Allah which tell explicitly that He wiped off many of disbelieving nations who challenged the Messengers, from the face of earth by different calamities; they rejected the fundamental teachings of Islam that the Messengers of Allah presented to them and so they were unable to shape their deeds towards the high virtues; the most basic teachings of the Holy Book Quran are three that are TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord), RISALAT (Allah sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path and Muhammad PBUH is the last of His Messengers) and AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment); Al-Hamdu Lillah; note also that the people that were before Muhammad PBUH, if they believed the Messenger sent to them as their true guide whom Allah had sent for their righteous direction, they did fulfill their liability about RISALAT insha-Allah and note also that to believe in one of the Messengers of Allah is to believe in all of them and to reject one of them is to reject all of them as all provided the same guidance in essence; Al-Hamdu Lillah; we all have read about these events at places in the Quran as it has the manner of expression that it brings them to tell where needed that Allah cared for all safety of all the true believers in Him even at the world; He ended all the impression of the disbelievers at the world that was causing FITNAH here so that the true believers do find much convenience to gain the pleasure of Allah, the true Lord, which is the only aim of life; that only provides the true peace in life at the world by the blessing of Allah and that only would give them the true success at AKHIRAT by the blessing of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT from 35 to 39 mention the extreme punishment to Pharaoh and his forces when they rejected the guidance of Moses-AS and Haroun-AS; note that AAYAT-36 tells that Allah asked Moses and Haroun to go to people who have rejected His signs (AAYAAT) to accept the Truth so this implies that the Egyptians under Pharaoh at that time did have some knowledge about it due to their interaction with the Bani-

Israel yet they had rejected the fundamental teachings of Islam; these AAYAAT mention the calamities that put destruction to all those people who had rejected the fundamental teachings of Islam; these included the disbelievers in the people of Noah-AS, in AAD (i.e. the people of HOODH-AS), in THAMUD (i.e. the people of SALEH-AS), in the dwellers by the RASS (that means the well and these people lived by some notably huge well near to the area where THAMUD used to reside before their destruction, at those ancient times); Allah had provided all of them the true guidance by different manners of expression yet as they did not accept it, He destroyed them totally; see also the supplementary note at AAYAAT-25 & 26 of Surah HOODH after the note at its third Ruku; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-40 mentions that they have often passed by the area of Sodom where the people of Lot-AS resided who were punished by the most extreme punishment as Allah punished them by the rain of stones upon them; it tells that the manner of living of the disbelievers at Makkah tells that they do not have any concern that they would be raised again to life where they would have to account-for their doings at the world; it reads, "And certainly they have (often) passed by the town on which was rained an evil rain; did they not then see it? Nay! they did not hope to be raised again"; the last four AAYAAT of the Ruku tell about the manner in which the disbelievers treated the Prophet PBUH and tell about the extreme punishment that they would receive for it; they tell about the evil in them to which they have given themselves and which has caused them to live by manners of cattle and even worse; note that the cattle sometimes raise their heads while grazing so they see the surroundings and they do praise Allah in their own manner; these AAYAAT tell about the disbelievers at Makkah that they are so much engaged in the pursuance of comforts of the life at the world that they do not have any concern that Allah would punish them most severely even at the world if they do not care to respect the Prophet PBUH totally and come to the right path; they are such people that have totally strayed away from the right path; these AAYAAT read, "and when they see you, they do not take you for aught but a mockery- (as they say mockingly) is this he whom Allah has raised to be an apostle (when he is not among the wealthy persons)? - he had well-nigh led us astray from our gods had we not adhered patiently to them (the word implied is SABR for the meaning "to adhere patiently" which denotes that they intended to mention their firmness upon all of their evil practice); and they will know, when they see the (most severe) punishment (even at the world) who is straying farther off from the (right) path; have you seen him who takes his low passion (i.e. the firmness upon his own evil notions while he is most haughty at his status at the world) for his god? - will you then be a protector over him? - or do you think that most of them do hear or understand? - they are nothing but as cattle; nay, they are straying farther off from the path (as cattle are better because they do pause during their grazing which does give them some view of the surroundings in which they graze and they do worship Allah in their own manner but these disbelievers are heedless towards any call to the right path)"; this implies that by their most evil manner of living, the disbelievers would live their lives in highly tense manner at the world and at AKHIRAT, they surely would see the most severe punishment to them; certainly, Allah only has all the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

FURQAN-The Fifth Ruku

45. Have you not considered (the work of) your Lord, how He extends the shade? And if He had pleased He would certainly have made it stationary; then We have made the sun an indication of it

46. Then We take it to Ourselves, taking little by little.

47. And He it is Who made the night covering for you, and the sleep a rest, and He made the day to rise up again.

48. And He it is Who sends the winds as good news before His mercy; and We send down pure water from the cloud,

49. That We may give life thereby to a dead land and give it for drink, out of what We have created, to cattle and many people.

50. And certainly We have repeated this to them that they may be mindful, but the greater number of men do not consent to aught except denying.

51. And if We had pleased We would certainly have raised a warner in every town.

52. So do not follow the disbelievers, and strive against them a mighty striving with it.

53. And He it is Who has made two rivers to flow freely, the one sweet that subdues thirst by its sweetness, and the other salt that burns by its saltiness; and between the two He has made a barrier and inviolable obstruction.

54. And He it is Who has created man from the water, then He has made for him blood relationship and marriage relationship, and your Lord is powerful.

55. And they serve besides Allah that which neither profits them nor causes them harm; and the disbeliever is a partisan against his Lord.

56. And We have not sent you but as giver of good news and as warner.

57. Say: I do not ask you anything on this in return except that he who will, may take the way to his Lord.

58. And rely on the Ever-living Who dies not, and celebrate His praise; and Sufficient is He as being aware of faults of His servants,

59. Who created the heavens and the earth and what is between them in six periods, and He is firmly established on the throne of authority; the Beneficent Allah, so ask respecting it one aware.

60. And when it is said to them: Prostrate to the Beneficent Allah (AR-RAHMAN), they say: And what is AR-RAHMAN? Shall we prostrate to what you bid us? And it adds to their aversion.

The previous Ruku mentioned how Allah destroyed those peoples who rejected the message He provided to them by His Messengers; He cared for them by providing them the message of Islam so that they save themselves from the severe punishment at AKHIRAT by its acceptance and He does not put any destruction on those who live by the virtuous manner; this Ruku tells how He has provided for safety of all persons at the world physically so that they live their lives according to Islamic teachings most committedly though there are such people at the world who do not show any gratitude for such convenience that they have in their examination; it tells that Allah has created everything in harmony to each other and it also tells that the commitment to Islamic teachings would lead all virtuous persons to regain their true residence i.e. JANNAH and whoever rejects them, Allah would destroy all of such people by His will by any of His creation at the world and they would be extreme losers at AKHIRAT; He would certainly not let any people to destroy the harmony that He has given to His creation and He certainly has all the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Ruku starts by the mention of shadows that they obey Him by their expansion and contraction and as the position of the sun tells their placement so the sun even is following the command of Allah to it as all of His creation is doing so; Al-Hamdu Lillah; He has made the night as covering for all persons that they feel weariness at that time and need to get sleep to end it at that time to prepare themselves well to work on the next day as they rise from it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT read, "have you not considered (the work of) your Lord, how He extends the shade? - and if He had pleased He would certainly have made it stationary; then We have made the sun an indication of it; then We take it to Ourselves, taking little by little; and He it is Who made the night covering for you, and the sleep a rest, and He made the day to rise up again"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next three AAYAAT mention about how the environment tells about the coming of rain which glows-up the dead earth as it reads,

"and He it is Who sends the winds as good news before His mercy (i.e. the beneficial rainfall to the earth); and We send down pure water (i.e. the rainwater) from the cloud (i.e. from the sky near to earth); that We may give life thereby to a dead land and give it for drink, out of what We have created, to cattle and many people (so both get the same water to drink yet the cattle develop better than those who ignore the teachings of Islam); and certainly We have repeated this (i.e. the statement about the rainfall upon the dead land at different places at the Quran) to them that they may be mindful (that they would be raised-up on the Day of Judgment where they would have to account for all their doings), but the greater number of men do not consent to aught except denying (the resurrection of the dead at the Day of Judgment)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the Quran has related the rain upon the land as an indication to raising all men from the dead as the angel blows the trumpet for that by the command of Allah; Surah AARAAF-57 relates, "and He it is Who sends forth the winds bearing good news before His mercy, until, when they bring up a laden cloud, We drive it to a dead land, then We send down water on it, then bring forth with it of fruits of all kinds; thus shall We bring forth the dead that you may be mindful"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah HAJJ-5, 6 & 7 relate, "and you see the earth sterile land, but when We send down on it the water, it stirs and swells and brings forth of every kind a beautiful herbage; this is because Allah is the Truth and because He gives life to the dead and because He has power over all things; and because the hour is coming, there is no doubt about it; and because Allah shall raise up those who are in the graves"; Al-Hamdu

Lillah; Surah ROUM-48, 49 & 50 tell, "Allah is He Who sends forth the winds so they raise a cloud, then He spreads it forth in the sky as He pleases, and He breaks it up so that you see the rain coming forth from inside it; then when He causes it to fall upon whom He pleases of His servants, lo! they are joyful; though they were before this, before it was sent down upon them, confounded in sure despair; look then at the signs of Allah's mercy, how He gives life to the earth after its death, most surely He will raise the dead to life; and He has power over all things"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next couple of AAYAAT tell the Prophet PBUH not to worry about the disbelievers who want him to care to accumulate assets at the world and to give less attention to the spread of the message of Islam; Allah wants him to provide the Islamic teachings to them explicitly by the Quran as that is his liability; He certainly wants them to learn about Islam though He does not care whether they accept Islam or not; He could have sent His Messengers to each of towns to provide His message to disbelievers to put pressure upon them if He had willed for that; but He has sent the Prophet PBUH as his last Messenger to all peoples of the world and has provided the Holy Book Quran to him to fulfill his task beautifully that in itself is JEHAD against the disbelievers; after his departure from the world, the virtuous Muslims would provide all Islamic teachings to all peoples of the world by the Quran as most certainly, it has come to stay for the true guidance to all peoples of the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT read, "and if We had pleased We would certainly have raised a warner in every town; so do not follow the disbelievers, and strive against them a mighty striving with it (i.e. with the

Quran)"; note that the AAYAT has the word JEHAD that denotes "striving" here and as Allah revealed Surah FURQAN at Makkah, it asks the Prophet PBUH here to provide the disbelievers all the teachings of the Quran most explicitly as this also is among the most significant aspects of JEHAD; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-53 & 54 ask attention to this amazing phenomenon that there are such places at the face of earth where two of waters flow parallel to each other and one of them is sweet in taste while the other is salty; and even the life of the man shows that he has to take different attitudes as he fulfills his different obligations to blood relations and to relations that he makes due to marriage; these AAYAAT state, "and He it is Who has made two rivers to flow freely, the one sweet that subdues thirst by its sweetness, and the other salt that burns by its saltiness; and between the two He has made a barrier and inviolable obstruction; and He it is Who has created man from the water, then He has made for him blood relationship and marriage relationship, and your Lord is powerful"; note that the water at seas is salty and due to their composition, they do not stink or/and go bad for any use; the water cycle takes their waters to clouds from whence it falls as the most pure water for the cattle and the mankind; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this Ruku is asks to observe how the contrast around in the creation is making it beautiful and how it provides the change in surroundings; Allah has set everything in harmony to each other and He asks the man to live his life by giving harmony to all his matters as much as possible for him according to the teachings of Islam; note that the Surah stated at its very beginning at the second AAYAT, "He, Whose is the kingdom of the heavens and the earth, and Who did not take to Himself a son, and Who has no associate in the kingdom, and Who created everything, then ordained for it a measure"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-55 mentions that the disbelievers take others besides Him that only are among His creation, as equal in authority to Him without any care to the fact that they are most unable to provide any profits or any losses to them so only because of their most limited capacity to observe the issues around them and in their own selves in accurate context, they deny the true authority of Allah; it reads, "and they serve besides Allah that which neither profits them nor causes them harm; and the disbeliever is a partisan against his Lord"; the next three AAYAAT at the Ruku tell about the care that Allah has provided to the Prophet PBUH; they emphasize that Allah guided all His Messengers to the right path by His good commands and helped them out in all difficult situations with all care and He certainly would provide His care to the Prophet PBUH too; he would provide-on the teachings of Islam to all so that they care to come to Islam, and he would not ask for any of benefits at the life at the world so he would live on with necessities here for which Allah cares for him; these AAYAAT read, "and We have not sent you but as giver of good news (to believers) and as warner (to disbelievers); say-I do not ask you on this anything in return except that he who will, may take the way to his Lord; and rely on the Ever-living Who dies not, and celebrate His praise; and Sufficient is He as being aware of faults of His servants; (He is) Who created the heavens and the earth and what is between them in six periods, and He is firmly established on the throne of authority; (He is) the Beneficent Allah (AR-RAHMAN), so ask respecting it one aware"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; to get the meaning of the last AAYAT of this Ruku, note that though AR-RAHMAN was one of the names of Allah yet the disbelievers at Arabia then, did not call Him by it; they raised objection even to this name of Allah as an excuse to keep to their disbelief to which they had mentioned their adherence (see AAYAT-42); the AAYAT reads, "and when it is said to them-prostrate to the Beneficent Allah (AR-RAHMAN), they say-and what is AR-RAHMAN? - shall we prostrate to what you bid us? and it adds to their aversion"; such was their argumentative nature that when they had decided to keep to their disbelief, they argued against everything without any grounds that challenged their wrongs though that challenge to their disbelief was totally valid with all just reasoning; this ignorance to the Truth because of their extreme argumentative nature, led them further away from it as the AAYAT has indicated that "it adds to their aversion"; certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

FURQAN-The Last Ruku

61. Blessed is He Who made mansions of heavenly bodies in the heaven and made therein the lamp and the shining moon.

62. And He it is Who made the night and the day to follow each other for him who desires to be mindful or desires to be thankful.

63. And the servants of the Beneficent Allah are they who walk on the earth in humbleness, and when the ignorant address them, they say: Peace.

64. And they who pass the night prostrating themselves before their Lord and standing.

65. And they who say: O our Lord! turn away from us the punishment of hell, surely the punishment thereof is lasting

66. Surely it is an evil abode and (evil) place to stay.

67. And they who when they spend, are neither extravagant nor parsimonious, and (keep) between these the just mean.

68. And they who do not call upon another god with Allah and do not slay the soul, which Allah has forbidden except in the requirements of justice, and (who) do not commit fornication and he who does this shall pay the penalty;

69. The punishment shall be doubled to him on the day of resurrection, and therein he shall abide in extreme abasement forever;

70. Except him who repents and believes and does a good deed; so these are they of whom Allah changes the evil deeds to good ones; and Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.

71. And whoever repents and does good, he surely turns to Allah by the (goodly) turning.

72. And they who do not bear witness to what is false, and when they pass by what is vain, they pass by nobly.

73. And they who, when reminded of the AAYAAT of their Lord, do not fall down therein deaf and blind.

74. And they who say: O our Lord! grant us in our wives and our offspring the joy of our eyes, and make us guides to those who guard (against evil).

75. These shall be rewarded with high places because they were patient, and shall be met therein with greetings and salutations.

76. Abiding therein forever; goodly the abode and the resting-place.

77. Say: My Lord does not care for you were it not due to call you; but you have indeed rejected (the Truth), so that which shall cleave shall come.

This Ruku tells about those persons who are the true servants to Allah as they do show gratitude to Him, the true Lord, sincerely for all His blessings; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the previous Ruku guided attention at its start to how the night and the day provide physical benefits to the man by providing space for him to rest and to work for his necessary sustenance respectively as Allah wills for that; this last Ruku of FURQAN starts by relating how the night and the day provide spiritual benefits by the will of Allah, to those who remember Allah, the true Lord, by efforts at nights and remain grateful to Him for all that He has blessed them with, by efforts at days; Al-Hamdu Lillah; we all have studied the good qualities of the true Muslims at the beginning of Surah MOMINOON where the Quran presents the beauty of their SABR (which denotes that they keep away from the attractions of the world) and their SALAH (which denotes that they are most attentive to Allah to get His pleasure) most explicitly and this last Ruku of Surah FURQAN complements it beautifully; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT at the beginning of this Ruku state, "Blessed is He Who made mansions of heavenly bodies in the heaven and made therein the lamp and the shining moon; and He it is Who made the night and the day to follow each other for him who desires to be mindful (towards Him) or desires to be thankful"; note that the term BURUJ (i.e. mansions of heavenly bodies) seems an indication here to places in the specific band keeping to which planets revolve around the sun and Allah knows better; the lamp means the sun that burns to provide the light from it while the moon is shining due to its reflection of that light; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAAT state the twelve things that denote the commitment of the true servants of AR-RAHMAN to all His commands; these include five things that they do, three things that they avoid and four things that are related to their good attitudes in situations that come their way; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAT-63 to AAYAT-67, the Ruku tells the five virtuous things that they do so the first thing about them is that they walk most humbly upon the earth as they are calm by nature and have no haughtiness in them; the second thing about them is that they excuse themselves with courtesy from the useless discussions of such ignorant persons who are argumentative by nature; the third thing is that they read SALAH at nights with all attention to Allah, the true Lord, when they have much of silence around to remember His blessings upon them; the fourth thing is that as they worry about AKHIRAT highly which would bring the results for all persons that came to the world anytime anywhere, so they ask Allah continuously to save them totally from the hell-fire as it would keep punishing those severely who had done extreme wrongs at the world; the fifth thing is that whenever they spend their rightful amounts upon their needs or/and to help the needy persons around, they spend them by such harmony that there is no inclination towards extravagance and no inclination towards parsimony; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT from 63 to 67 tell about them, "and the servants of the Beneficent Allah are they who walk on the earth in humbleness, and when the ignorant address them, they say- peace; and they who pass the night prostrating themselves before their Lord and standing; and they who say- O our Lord! turn away from us the punishment of hell, surely the punishment thereof is lasting; surely it is an evil abode (to reside) and evil place to stay (even for some of time); and they who when they spend, are neither extravagant nor parsimonious, and (they keep) between these the just mean"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next four AAYAAT tell about the three things that the true Muslims, the true servants of AR-RAHMAN, avoid with all care to virtuous justice; these AAYAAT read, "and they who do not call upon another god with Allah and do not slay the soul, which Allah has forbidden except in the requirements of justice (when the matter asks for QISAS i.e. life against life), and (who) do not commit fornication (or adultery) and he who does (any of) this shall pay the penalty (even at the world); the punishment shall be doubled to him on the day of resurrection, and therein he shall abide in extreme abasement forever; except him who repents (in the life at the world) and believes (sincerely in the Truth) and does good deeds (according to his belief); so these are they of whom Allah changes the evil deeds to good ones (as after coming to Islam, Allah washes away the sins of the person that he/she had done previously from his/her document of deeds and with the true belief, his/her virtuous deeds ahead find place at the document that had no count previously); and

Allah is Forgiving, Merciful; and (even that person from among the Muslims who had killed some person most unjustly or who had involved himself in fornication/adultery), whoever repents (sincerely) and does good (deeds), he surely turns to Allah by the (goodly) turning"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that AAYAAT-68 has mentioned the three most heinous major sins that all Muslims need to avoid most committedly; these major sins that the AAYAT mentions include SHERK which is the biggest among the major sins that means to challenge the true authority of Allah by taking any of His creation as having part in creating any of His creation with Him or by taking any of His creation as equal in authority to Him or by taking any of His creation as authorized to change any of His commands that He has explicitly issued by His authority to firmly obey; the two other of major sins is to kill some person unjustly that is the greatest of injustice and fornication/adultery that is the most shameful behavior; Allah asks all persons by the Quran to believe in TAUHID that means that Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord so all must fulfill His commands that He has explicitly issued by His authority without taking any of His creation as equal in authority to Him in any way; Al-Hamdu Lillah RABBEL-AALAMIN; note that AAYAT-48 and AAYAT-116 at Surah NISAA present the heinous evil of SHERK in the most strict terms as we studied there; among the AAYAAT that ask to avoid both injustice and shameful attitudes, we find AAYAAT 168 & 169 of Surah BAQARAH that read, "O people- eat the lawful and the good things out of what is in the earth, and do not follow the footsteps of the Satan;

surely he is your open enemy; he only enjoins you SOOU (injustice) and FAHSHAA (shameful behavior), and that you may speak against Allah what you do not know (that lead to assigning partners to Him)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-45 of ANKABUT reads, "recite that which has been revealed to you of the Book and keep up SALAH; surely SALAH keeps away from all shameful behavior and injustice, and certainly the remembrance of Allah is the greatest, and Allah knows what you do" (Surah ANKABUT-45); see also the note at the third Ruku of Surah YOUSUF; there are many other AAYAAT too which mention these two of major sins together and Surah FURQAN-68 is also one of them; note that EHSAAN (the natural tendency towards virtues inside) eliminates all the shameful behavior (mostly initiated by sinful women) and ADL (the force of the Islamic law to provide the virtuous justice) eliminates all of injustice (mostly initiated by sinful men); certainly Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-72, 73, 74 mention their good attitudes at situations that come their way; these AAYAAT read, "and they who do not bear witness to what is false, and when they pass by what is vain, they pass by nobly; and they who, when reminded of the AAYAAT of their Lord, do not fall down therein deaf and blind; and they who say- O our Lord! grant us in our wives and our offspring the joy of our eyes, and make us guides to those who guard (against evil)"; these AAYAAT mention that IBADUR-RAHMAN (the true servants of the Beneficent Allah) live in such manner that they never become part of any wrongs as they never conspire against their Muslim brothers and care to live in gathering of Muslims with dignity; they live in such manner that if they pass by superfluous activities of persons who care but little for the value of time to put it to better use by Islam, they pass-by with sobriety; they live in such manner that when they recite the Quran and read AAYAAT that provide guidance to them, they do not ignore them but ponder upon them and as they get to know about their own selves and about all things around, they appreciate the principles by which Allah has created all things; they live in such manner that they make DUA to Allah time and again that all persons of their household remain committed to the Islamic teachings and so they lead highly good persons around them as guides to them and they ask Allah for other of Muslims too who live at the their surroundings that they also become most virtuous and Allah gives them TOFIQ to become IMAM (the virtuous guides to the right path) to them too so that they all strengthen each other beautifully as brothers upon all the teachings of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-75 & 76 tell that these persons, who truly are the servants of Beneficent Allah, would be provided high living places at JANNAH because of their SABR which means that they always remained steadfast on the teachings of Islam and never gave-in to any wrongs; there angels would greet them and respect them with salutations; it is most beautiful even as resting place for some of time yet that place would be their residence forever ahead; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT read, "these shall be rewarded with high places because they were patient, and shall be met therein with greetings and salutations; abiding therein forever; goodly the abode and the resting-place"; the last AAYAT of the Ruku and of Surah FURQAN asks the Prophet PBUH to tell them explicitly that Allah does not care whether the disbelievers accept Islam or not; but Allah provides them the teachings of Islam by the Quran (which the Prophet PBUH has to give them as his liability), so that they do not claim at AKHIRAT that they did not ever become aware of those teachings at their lives at the world; they would surely get the due result to their rejection of the Islamic teachings and any of their claims to innocence then would remain useless; the AAYAT reads, "say- my Lord does not care for you were it not due to call you; but you have indeed rejected (the Truth), so that which shall cleave shall come"; certainly, Allah only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

"Tafsiri-Guide to the Quran"

(the Third Part)

(From Surah SHUA'RAA to Surah QAAF)

Al-Hamdu Lillah

Surah SHUA'RAA

(Consists of 11 Ruku; MK-5)

SHUA'RAA-The First Ruku

1. TA SIN MIM.

2. These are the verses of the Book that makes (things) clear.

3. Perhaps you will kill yourself with grief because they do not believe.

4. If We please, We should send down upon them a sign from the heaven so that their necks stoop to it.

5. And there does not come to them a new reminder from the Beneficent Allah but they turn aside from it.

6. So they have indeed rejected (the Truth), therefore the news of that which they mock shall soon come to them.

7. Do they not see the earth, how many of every noble kind We have caused to grow in it?

8. Most surely there is a sign in that, but most of them will not believe.

9. And most surely your Lord is the Mighty, the Merciful.

After the accomplishment of writing TAFSIR of the last part of the Quran by the blessing of Allah, that is from Surah ZAARI'AAT to its last, I, MSD, begin the writing of its third part now, by the blessing of Allah; Surah SHUA'RAA starts with letters "TA SIN MIM" that are among the MUQATTA'AAT (that means the 14 disjointed letters that are among the Arabic alphabets which come at the commencement of 29 Surah in specific combinations) and it is not necessary for a person to know them in the understanding of the Quran; note also that all these letters are present at Surah FATIHA and my writing "The Expressions of Quran" presents much detail for them; seeing the MUQATTA'AAT, it is an interesting fact to note that all Surah that begin with them, have reference to the Holy Book Quran after them except for Surah-29 (ANKABUT) and Surah-30 (ROUM); Al-Hamdu Lillah; this denotes clearly that these disjointed letters are certainly related to the subject-matter of the Holy Book Quran, especially to the Surah where they occur; note that both of Surah that are exceptions denote the will of Allah which the world would see very soon, just after the disjointed letters as ANKABUT reads at the beginning, "ALIF LAAM MEEM; do men think that they will be left alone on saying, 'we believe, and not be tried?' and certainly We tried those before them, so Allah will certainly know (i.e. He would bring at fore) those who are true and He will certainly know (i.e. He would bring at fore) the liars"; Surah-ROUM reads at the beginning, "ALIF LAAM MEEM; the Romans are vanquished, in a near land, and they, after being vanquished, shall overcome within a few years; Allah's is the command before and after; and on that day the believers shall rejoice with the help of Allah; He helps whom He pleases; and He is the Mighty, the Merciful"; note that the Romans faced devastating defeat by the Persians and that defeat was such that it seemed that the Romans would not stand against the Persians under Heraclius; but they defeated the Persians within a few years and the news of their victory against the Persians reached Madinah when the Muslims were celebrating their win against the forces of Makkah at BADR; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first Ruku of SHUA'RAA tells that Allah has settled the man upon earth so that He examines who really is rightful to get Jannah and who is not; if He intended, He would have given such sign from the heaven that they had to accept the Truth totally yet His intention is not that; each person has to get the pleasure of Allah by his/her belief and deeds by his/her own freewill as that only would prove that he/she is worthy to get Jannah; this Ruku tells the Prophet PBUH that he does not need to worry so much if the disbelievers do not accept the fundamental Islamic teachings as this world certainly is the place of examination; Surah KAHF-6 & 7 read, "then maybe you will kill yourself with grief, sorrowing after them ('ALA-AASAREHIM), if they do not believe in this announcement (i.e. the message of the Quran); surely We have made whatever is on the earth an embellishment for it, so that We may try them (as to which of them is best in works"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; whole of Surah SHUA'RAA presents how Allah dealt with those who disbelieved in His authority and challenged His Messengers so it elaborates the message that Allah has provided at this Ruku; AAYAT-1 to AAYAT- 7 state, "TA SIN MIM; these are the AAYAAT of the Book that makes (things) clear (about the true belief and the virtuous deeds); perhaps (O Prophet PBUH) you will kill yourself with grief because they do not believe; if We please, We should send down upon them a sign from the heaven (as they are asking, which will prove that the Quran tells the Truth only) so that their necks stoop to it (but Allah does not intend that they believe in the Truth by compulsion); and there does not come to them a new reminder (AAYAAT of the Quran that guides to the Truth) from the Beneficent Allah but they turn aside from it; so they have indeed rejected (the Truth), therefore the news of that which they mock shall soon come to them (as disbelief in the message of Allah would put destruction to them even at the world); do they not see the earth, how many of every noble kind We have caused to grow in it (for the sake of physical convenience that they live their lives without being tense)?"; the last two AAYAAT that are 8 & 9 of this Ruku have repeatedly come at this Surah because they express that if the disbelievers ask for sign then there is sign in the psyche of the man and in his history for certain; Allah relates the events in this Surah, of His Messengers which clearly tell that disbelief in the Messengers of Allah leads to destruction; they were asking the disbelievers to accept the fundamental teachings of Islam but the challenge of disbelievers to them, brought extreme destruction upon the disbelievers; first, Allah narrates the event related to Moses-AS and then to Abraham-AS; then He presents those events which relate to His five Messengers and we have read about them at Surah AARAAF & Surah HOODH too; these five Messengers that Allah has mentioned here at this Surah too had their dwelling places near to each other with difference of their periods at the world; note that after sending any of His Messengers to some nation, Allah appoints such time where they would ultimately accept the fundamental Islamic teachings or face certain death; we all have studied at AARAAF in its second Ruku about Adam & Eve that is explicit that the worldly life is an examination to the mankind so all persons must keep to the three fundamental teachings of Islam that all the Messengers of Allah have guided to; the five of these narratives in sequence are of Noah, HOODH, SALEH, Lot and SHOAIIB (SALAM on all the Messengers of Allah) and they all gave the same message that are TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord) and AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment) and RISALAT (Allah had sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path); note that Al-FATIHA, the opening Surah of the Quran, guides to all these three fundamental teachings of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah SHUA'RAA repeats these narratives of the five Messengers in the same sequence; all Messengers did try their best to guide their respective nations as Allah asked them; however, their nations did not comply and so Allah destroyed them completely at the world and they certainly would be among the severely punished peoples at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these last two AAYAAT of the Ruku read, "most surely there is a sign in that, but most of them will not believe; and most surely your Lord is the Mighty, the Merciful"; note about these attributes of Allah that the last AAYAT of the Ruku presents, that they have high significance in understanding of this Surah as AZIZ (Mighty) means that He provides for such happenings that keep the world to His will by His authoritative measures so no one becomes able to cause such deviation at the world that leads it away from His set manner for it that causes FASAD (high difficulties to work upon the Islamic teachings) for high length of period; He destroyed by events that are named as natural calamities, many such nations that had challenged His authority and were causing FASAD at the world; Surah ANKABUT has the AAYAT (that is AAYAT-40) where Allah tells us that "each one of them We seized for his crime; so in them, against some We sent a violent tornado (with showers of stones); some were caught by blast; some We caused the earth to swallow up; and some We drowned; it was not Allah Who injured them but they injured (and oppressed) their own souls"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; RAHIM (Merciful) means that He provided ample space to disbelievers by sending His Messengers to them (when they were coming to the world by His will and now the Quran guides all persons who need the true guidance) and gave them all the time they needed, to consider the fundamental teachings of Islam; He cares for all of mankind that they live-on their lives where their physically security is at hand for them and also, that they live-on their lives where their spiritual security is at hand for them; so note that His name RAHIM denotes His attribute which tells His care for the spiritual guidance to the mankind and His patience upon their wrong doings until they receive the ample time He has appointed for them, to accept it; so, because He is RAHIM, He would care for the true believers exclusively at AKHIRAT mercifully as they do believe Him not only as the only Creator of all the creation Who always has all His authority, but also believe Him as the only RABB of all creation; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SHUA'RAA-The Second Ruku

10. And when your Lord called out to Musa, saying: Go to the unjust people,
11. The people of Pharaoh: Will they not guard (against evil)?
12. He said: O my Lord! surely I fear that they will reject me;
13. And by breast straitens, and my tongue is not eloquent, therefore send Thou to Haroun (to help me);
14. And they have a crime against me, therefore I fear that they may slay me.
15. He said: By no means, so go you both with Our signs; surely We are with you, hearing;
16. Then come to Pharaoh and say: Surely we are the apostle of the Lord of the worlds:
17. Then send with us the children of Israel.
18. (Pharaoh) said: Did we not bring you up as a child among us, and you tarried among us for (many) years of your life?
19. And you did (that) deed of yours which you did, and you are one of the ungrateful.

20. He said: I did it then while I was of those unable to see the right course;

21. So I fled from you when I feared you, then my Lord granted me wisdom and made me of the apostles;

22. And is it a favor of which you remind me that you have enslaved the children of Israel?

23. Pharaoh said: And what is the Lord of the worlds?

24. He said: The Lord of the heavens and the earth and what is between them, if you would be sure.

25. (Pharaoh) said to those around him: Do you not hear?

26. He said: Your Lord and the Lord of your fathers of old.

27. Said he: Most surely your Apostle who is sent to you is mad.

28. He said: The Lord of the east and the west and what is between them, if you understand.

29. Said he: If you will take a god besides me, I will most certainly make you one of the imprisoned.

30. He said: What! even if I bring to you something manifest?

31. Said he: Bring it then, if you are of the truthful ones.

32. So he cast down his rod, and lo! it was an obvious serpent,

33. And he drew forth his hand, and lo! it appeared white to the onlookers.

The second Ruku relates that Allah appointed Moses-AS as His Messenger and commanded him to go to Pharaoh and his people that they accept the Truth, the fundamental teachings of Islam, and leave their unjust ways that they have shown towards the Bani-Israel; note that the Quran has mentioned Moses-AS more than any other Messenger of Allah as he is nearer to Muhammad PBUH by many aspects and so events related to him supported Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, much at his life; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Moses-AS said to Allah, the true Lord, that he feared that they would reject the message of Allah as he presents it to them; he asked Allah to make his brother Haroun (Aaron-AS) too His Messenger as he gets troubled due to his stammering in speech; he also showed his fear that as he had accidentally killed one of their men, they would kill him due to it; this happened when he had fought in defense of a person who was among the Bani-Israel and hit the man with a deadly punch; Allah told him that nothing of this sort would happen as Allah would see that they do not get any dominion over him to charge him with the accidental murder officially; he shall go to him by assistance of Aaron-AS and they both would present the message of Allah to Pharaoh that he needs to accept Allah as the true Lord and release Bani-Israel from captivity; so Allah had commanded Pharaoh clearly, to send Bani-

Israel with them; at AYAT-16, Allah asks both Moses and Aaron to go to Pharaoh and tell him that they both are apostles of Allah, the true Lord, but the word "apostle" is in singular at this place; note that many of commentators on the Quran, who are adept in Arabic, have explicitly mentioned that such usage is acceptable in Arabic grammar in the context that manifests here; however, I, MSD, intend to elaborate upon the meaning that it presents as at this Tafsiri-Guide, that is significant; the notable point here is that, by the usage of the term in singular, the Quran has told in most clear terms that the message of all Messengers of Allah is basically the same; they all do call towards the fundamental teachings of Islam to all persons Allah has sent them to (and Allah has sent His last Messenger Muhammad PBUH to all peoples of the world), for which they ask all persons to worship Allah only and obey His Messenger sent to them with complete belief in AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as both Moses and Aaron also had to ask Pharaoh to send Bani-Israel with them releasing them from captivity, Moses mentioned it additionally which AAYAT-17 tells here; this is the manner of the Quran to present its message with the most beautiful way of usage of terms that is most comprehensive for it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAT-18 to last, the Ruku narrates the dialogue between Moses and Pharaoh whereas the last two AAYAAT of it tell that Moses showed him the two miracles that Allah has provided to him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-18 to AAYAT-22 narrate that Pharaoh told Moses that he had spent his childhood at the palace of Pharaoh where he had spent many years with the household; and he also told him that he had killed one of their men so he was very ungrateful person towards that household; note that Pharaoh intended to put him at his defense so that he becomes unable to present the message of Allah; note also that it seems that this Pharaoh was the grandson of Thutmose-II, the weak Pharaoh, who ruled for about 10 years only, coming to the throne at 1510 BC or so (and most probably, it was his wife Hatshepsut known as AASEIAH in the literature of Muslims, who had saved Moses-AS when he was flowing at the waters in his crib); read also the note at the sixth Ruku of Surah BAQARAH; Moses answered his second issue first that he did kill one of their men yet it was an accident which happened because of his care to Bani-Israel, his people, when he did not have awareness of the principles that Allah, the true Lord, asks to put at life; so when he feared them (as they treated their captives in extremely harsh manner and they would have gladly killed him for his accidental act), he ran away so Allah provided him the command over the Bani-Israel because he is most sincere to them for their physical safety and made him His Messenger to all of them for their spiritual safety, and even to Pharaoh and his people; Al-Hamdu Lillah; then Moses-AS answered

the second issue that Pharaoh raised about his childhood at their palace; he told Pharaoh that they have kept the Bani-Israel at their captivity and yet he is taking the credit for his childhood at the palace whereas his mother had put him at specific crib in the flowing water just to save him from the atrocities that his grandfather was committing against the Bani-Israel; so that Pharaoh was responsible for the murder of many of the Bani-Israel and he wants him to get credit for saving one of them, who even was saved by Hatshepsut and not particularly by him; seeing that he gets blame instead of credit (and there were many Israelites too at his court), he changed the topic and asked Moses to clarify about his statement that he is the Messenger of RABB (the true Lord Whom all have to obey) of the worlds; Moses told him that Allah Who has made him His Messenger, is the true Lord of the heavens and the earth and what is between them (i.e. the true Lord of all His creation), if they do ask to accept the Truth certainly; note that when we Muslims need to say that Allah has created all things, we need to say it in this manner that Allah only has created the heavens and the earth and what is between them; this is the manner He has provided us in the Quran to mention all of His creation; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note also that even the Pharaoh and his people had the acceptance that there is One Who has created all yet they did not take Him as RABB i.e. the true Lord to obey at all their issues of life; the disbelievers at all periods & places, had rejected Allah as their RABB and had refused to take His guidance for the true belief and had denied to take the principles He has provided for the virtuous deeds of the life; the Muslims believe that He not only is the Creator of all the creation Who never loses His attributes, but He also is the only true Lord of all the creation Whom the jinn and the mankind have to obey totally by their freewill in all aspects of life; Al-Hamdu Lillah; other of disbelief is where someone does believe that Allah is RABB, the true Lord, yet has the notion that his disobedience to Allah would not cause any harm to him, as that is of no consequence or as the recommendation at the court of Allah of some good person for him (or his sacrifice for him) would save him from his wrong-doings at the Day of Judgment; this also leads to the result that the disbeliever ignores that he has to fulfill the commands of Allah at all issues of life and so practically he does not believe that Allah is RABB, the true Lord, of all the creation; the Muslims believe that every person has to face his/her deeds alone at AKHIRAT and for that every person must care to obey Allah in all his deeds to get His pleasure there as that only is the true success; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the answer of Moses-AS clearly presented TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord); as it had turned alien to people that they shall obey too the One Who has created them, besides accepting Him as the Creator of all, Pharaoh addressed all persons around if they heard that answer which is so very alien to acceptable notion of their living manner; Moses clarified further that He is your Lord and the Lord of your fathers of old; by this clarification, he guided their attention towards the day of HASHR that whoever disobeys Allah, he/she would certainly face extreme trouble at that certain day; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this clarification infuriated Pharaoh and he again addressed all persons around that Moses who claims to be the Messenger of the Lord of the worlds, seems affected by lunacy; note that all such persons who know that it is not their virtue inside which makes them get respect of their people (as they have none), but their official status among them, they try to degrade any challenger to them in view of their people rather than try to present themselves positively; this attitude in itself results by fear of losing their official status, which takes place by their inferiority complex; finally, Moses clarified that He is the Lord of the east and the west and what is between them, if they really do intend to understand that He is RABB (the true Lord Whom all have to obey) of the worlds; this was the last straw as it directly challenged the status of the Pharaoh which he claimed that whatever the belief of any person at his rule, Pharaoh shall be obeyed unconditionally; so he said to Moses directly if he will take a god besides him, he would most certainly imprison him; AAYAAT-21 to 26 of Surah NAZI'AAT read, "but he (Pharaoh) rejected (the Truth) and disobeyed; then he went back hastily; then he gathered (men) and called out; then he said- I am your lord, the most high- so Allah seized him with the punishment of the hereafter and the former life; most surely there is in this a lesson to him who fears (Allah)"; note that Pharaoh said to the people that he is their RABB but he did not claim that he has anything to do with the creation of the universe as that would have been blatant untruth; this is why Abraham-AS left Nimrod (who also took himself as RABB of his people) dumbfounded by asking him to bring the sun out from the west (see the note at the thirty-fifth Ruku of Surah BAQARAH); the word of Allah only denotes the worthy standard to lead the life at the world for its improvement ahead and so certainly, Allah only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the jinn and the man have to obey Him unconditionally by their own freewill for all aspects of life because Allah has given these both only, the freewill to accept or reject the fundamental teachings of Islam; if someone obeys any of men, it would only be so when he commands in accordance with the commands of Allah or his command does not challenge the commands of Allah in any manner, as there is no other RABB except Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Moses replied to this threat by asking the Pharaoh if he would still imprison him if he gives him the proof that he really is the Messenger of Allah, the true Lord; note that the unplaced confidence on authority sometimes corrupts the person so much that he is unable to see the consequence of his own doings and certainly Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; due to such confidence, Pharaoh asked him to provide his evidence so Moses-AS put his staff down and it transformed into an obvious serpent; and as he drew forth his hand, it appeared white (shining beautifully) to the onlookers; this led to events which ultimately culminated at the exodus of the Bani-Israel; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SHUA'RAA-The Third Ruku

34. (Pharaoh) said to the chiefs around him: Most surely this is a skillful magician,

35. Who desires to turn you out of your land with his magic; what is it then that you advise?

36. They said: Give him and his brother respite and send heralds into the cities

37. That they should bring to you every skillful magician.

38. So the magicians were gathered together at the appointed time on the fixed day,

39. And it was said to the people: Will you gather together?

40. Haply we may follow the magicians, if they are the vanquishers.

41. And when the magicians came, they said to Pharaoh: Shall we get a reward if we are the vanquishers?

42. He said: Yes, and surely you will then be of those who are made near.

43. Musa said to them: Cast what you are going to cast.

44. So they cast down their cords and their rods and said: By Pharaoh's power, we shall most surely be victorious.

45. Then Musa cast down his staff and lo! it swallowed up the lies they told.

46. And the magicians were thrown down prostrate;

47. They said: We believe in the Lord of the worlds:

48. The Lord of Musa and Aaron.

49. Said he: You believe in him before I give you permission; most surely he is the chief of you who taught you the magic, so you shall know: certainly I will cut off your hands and your feet on opposite sides, and certainly I will crucify you all.

50. They said: No harm; surely to our Lord we go back;

51. Surely we hope that our Lord will forgive us our wrongs because we are the first of the believers.

This Ruku like the fourteenth Ruku of Surah AARAAF, narrates the contest between Moses-AS and the magicians whom the Pharaoh had called to defeat him;

Allah helped Moses and he won that contest completely; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it happened that when the Pharaoh and his courtiers saw the two amazing miracles, he consulted his courtiers and those courtiers from among his nation consulted the prominent persons (at the Bani-Israel) to advise them about the course of action to take against Moses by telling them that he is the most adept magician who intends to take the Bani-Israel out of their lands; they advised the courtiers to send some official collectors to different cities from whence they would bring every such magician who is adept in his magic (so when they compete with Moses in magic, they would show that it only is the spell of magic with which he intends to enchant all persons to accept his demand); the collectors informed the skilled magicians to attend the gathering at some national specific day of their celebrations to challenge Moses and they did so at the presence of Pharaoh; they were so confident of their win that they asked Pharaoh if they would get their due prize if they win; Pharaoh assured them of that and also told them that they would be among his near ones getting high respect among the people; they had said that Pharaoh would get more of honor as they win (and it automatically implied that he would get highest of disrespect if they lose) and then they asked Moses who among them would begin the contest; he asked them to open the show so they threw their ropes and canes that seemed as the wriggling serpents to the onlookers; it certainly was the most skillful demonstration of their spell of magic; but Allah commanded Moses to put his staff at the ground and as he did so, it turned into the huge serpent that swallowed up all the falsehood that they faked; so the Truth manifested and their doings became vain so they were vanquished there and Pharaoh and his courtiers became lower; the skillful magicians gathered there, fell to ground as they realized that it certainly was not any spell of magic that Moses had demonstrated; this is mentioned in passive manner that they were thrown down prostrate to ground (by the guidance of the voice of the Truth inside) in prostration to Allah and they said in the clearest manner that they believe in the Lord of the worlds Who is the Lord of Moses and Aaron; note that they totally clarified that by the Lord they mean Allah whom Moses and Aaron believe so that Pharaoh and his people have no doubts about their words as Pharaoh presented his own self as the lord to the people; so the reason to their immediate belief was their view that the huge serpent ate up their doings which they knew clearly would not be any magic in any manner as they were most skillful at spells of magic; it plainly was the most amazing miracle that Moses had presented so this led them to believe in the words of Moses then and there; Pharaoh changed his stance at once that they have believed in the miracle before Pharaoh has allowed them to believe; note his arrogance that he wanted the people under his authority to believe that he is their lord and no other is superior to him to obey; he blamed them of being associates of Moses as the face-saving statement for him amongst the people and told the people that they all have united as they intend to expel the people set at their lands out of that; he told the magicians that he would punish them severely by cutting off one of their hands and one of their legs (opposite sides) and then he would crucify them all; their answer plainly was that they would surely return to their true Lord and what else the Pharaoh had found in them except that they had believed in the miracle from Allah when it has come to them; they made DUA to Allah, the true Lord, to pour out upon them patience and to cause them to die in submission to Him only; Al-Hamdu Lillah; their statement tells that when the person guides the asking of goodness in his self to the righteous direction, that even does lead him to the right path as just a little while back, they were asking the benefits of the world, its wealth and status, from Pharaoh but when they saw that the true benefits is where Moses is calling them to, they did not take any time to accept it and to become firm on it; they had consulted each other well when Moses had advised them to leave their stance and to accept the righteousness, before the contest and then only they had decided to challenge him (see Surah TA-HA-61 to 64); they accepted the punishment which Pharaoh had announced for them with the clear statement, "no harm; surely to our Lord we go back; surely we hope that our Lord will forgive us our wrongs (due to challenging the Messenger of Allah on behalf of Pharaoh and due to asking of benefits at life at the world) because we (as compensation to wrongs) are the first of the believers"; certainly, Allah guides whom He wills and He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SHUA'RAA-The Fourth Ruku

52. And We revealed to Musa, saying: Go away with My servants travelling by night, surely you will be pursued.
53. So Pharaoh sent heralds into the cities;
54. Most surely these are a small company;
55. And most surely they have enraged us;
56. And most surely we are a vigilant multitude.
57. So We turned them out of gardens and springs,
58. And treasures and goodly dwellings,
59. Even so. And We gave them as a heritage to the children of Israel.
60. Then they pursued them at sunrise.
61. So when the two hosts saw each other, the companions of Musa cried out: Most surely we are being overtaken.
62. He said: By no means; surely my Lord is with me: He will show me a way out.

63. Then We revealed to Musa: Strike the sea with your staff. So it had cloven asunder, and each part was like a huge mound.

64. And We brought near, there, the others.

65. And We saved Musa and those with him, all of them.

66. Then We drowned the others.

67. Most surely there is a sign in this, but most of them do not believe.

68. And most surely your Lord is the Mighty, the Merciful.

As the Pharaoh and his men persisted on the disbelief, Allah told Moses to lead the Bani-Israel to safety; the Pharaoh had sent his men at cities to discourage people so that they do not support Moses, by the announcement that his followers are not much in quantity and they have infuriated him and his men are most watchful over them so there is no option for them to save themselves if they leave Egypt so no person shall follow them; but Allah had to save the Bani-Israel so his plans against them, were useless and it happened that as the Pharaoh and his army followed them, they all were drowned there while the Bani-Israel looked on to it from the bank of safety after they had crossed the Red Sea that gave way to them all when Moses struck the waters there with his staff by the command of Allah; certainly, Allah only has the true authority;

Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that when Moses-AS hit his staff at the sea, it divided into two huge parts and each part was like a huge mound; the words that the Quran uses here, imply that it was the command of Allah to the sea to stand in such manner so it is quite erroneous to try to find any physical reason to it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; afterwards, they made their base at Sinai and their generation grew there that had not seen slavery, who conquered the lands in the command of Joshua-AS as Aaron and Moses had died there during this period; at Sinai, Allah told Moses to hit his ASA (Staff) upon the huge specific stone there and by that strike, twelve springs gushed out of that (see the note at the seventh Ruku of Surah BAQARAH); it is interesting to note that when Moses was leading Bani-Israel to safety when the Pharaoh and his army were following them, it was this ASA the strike of which produced the way at the river so it parted the waters then; now the strike of the same at the huge stone brought forth the twelve springs of the fresh water from it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; there were twelve tribes of the Bani-Israel (as Israel-AS had twelve sons and the descendants of each one became a tribe of Bani-Israel) so each of the tribes assigned one of the springs to them; Allah asked them to eat the MANN (the sweet that manifested there) and SALWA (the small birds that used to come there) and drink from the springs; that would keep them safe from making such mischief that might lead to FASAD

so the taking-in of these wonderful edibles and the miraculous water certainly had some blessing from Allah in them that these would have kept them away from all such mischief by the permission of Allah; so the intake of anything affects the man even in the spiritual sense and the Quran asks at places to take care about what he eats; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT are the recurring AAYAAT at the Surah which read, "most surely there is a sign in this, but most of them do not believe; and most surely your Lord is the Mighty, the Merciful"; this tells clearly that the disbelievers need to accept the fundamental teachings of Islam in the good time on, which Allah has provided them by His blessing or else, when the extreme disaster gets them, their repentance even will be totally useless; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SHUA'RAA-The Fifth Ruku

69. And recite to them the story of Ibrahim.
70. When he said to his father and his people: What do you worship?
71. They said: We worship idols, so we shall be their votaries.
72. He said: Do they hear you when you call?
73. Or do they profit you or cause you any harm?
74. They said: Nay, we found our fathers doing so.

75. He said: Have you then considered what you have been worshipping:

76. You and your ancient sires.

77. Surely they are enemies to me, but not (so) the Lord of the worlds;

78. Who created me, then He has shown me the way:

79. And He Who gives me to eat and gives me to drink:

80. And when I am sick, then He restores me to health

81. And He Who will cause me to die, then give me life;

82. And Who, I hope, will forgive me my mistake on the Day of Judgment.

83. My Lord: Grant me wisdom, and join me with the good

84. And ordain for me a goodly mention among posterity

85. And make me of the heirs of the garden of bliss

86. And forgive my father, for surely he is of those who have gone astray;

87. And disgrace me not on the day when they are raised

88. The day on which property will not avail, nor sons

89. Except him who comes to Allah with sincere heart (free from all evil).

90. And the garden shall be brought near for those who guard (against evil),

91. And the hell-fire shall be made manifest to the erring ones,

92. And it shall be said to them: Where are those that you used to worship;

93. Besides Allah? Can they help you or yet help themselves?
94. So they shall be thrown down into it, they and the erring ones,
95. And the hosts of the Satan, all of them.
96. They shall say while they contend therein:
97. By Allah! we were certainly in manifest error,
98. When we made you equal to the Lord of the worlds;
99. And none but the guilty led us astray;
100. So we have no intercessors,
101. Nor a true friend;
102. But if we could but once return, we would be of the believers.
103. Most surely there is a sign in this, but most of them do not believe.
104. And most surely your Lord is the Mighty, the Merciful.

Abraham-AS was born at the city of UR and the people there worshipped idols and took stars even, as objects to worship; their king asked unconditional obedience from them and demanded to consider him as their lord to obey; Abraham challenged these aspects of their belief at different occasions as we find the mention at BAQARAH-258, at AN'AAM-the ninth Ruku, at ANBIYA-the fifth Ruku and here at SHUA'RAA; the narration here relates that Abraham asked his father and his people why do they take idols as objects to worship; they told him they do this in the following of their forefathers; to this, Abraham told them boldly that he finds all of them in manifest error; the Quran narrates the dialogue between Abraham and his people here and like Moses addressed Pharaoh and his courtiers, Abraham at the period he lived, also guided that Allah only is the true Lord Who would judge their doings at the Day of Judgment; he told them explicitly that the idols that they worship are unable to benefit them in any way and they are unable to harm them too; they and their forefathers have been doing extreme wrong by worshipping idols because Allah only is the true Lord of all the worlds at all times; so he guided his nation towards TAUHID of Allah that He only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; he told them plainly that Allah only cares for the mankind and does not put any burden on any person when that person worships Him truly and obeys Him truly; He provides physical and spiritual benefits to the man when the man is truly attentive to Him, the true Lord; AAYAAT from 77 to 82 narrate his words, "surely they (i.e. idols) are enemies to me, but not (so) the Lord of the worlds, Who created me, then He has shown me the way; and He Who gives me to eat and gives me to drink; and when I am sick, then He restores me to health; and He Who will cause me to die, then give me life; and Who, I hope, will forgive me my mistake on the Day of Judgment"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; there are significant points to note in this speech of Abraham-AS and the first one is that he guided their attention to the fact that they make idols by themselves and then they worship them in the name of following of their ancestors whereas Allah is He Who has created the mankind and He is the true Lord for all times at all places; so if their ancestors were doing an extreme wrong, they should refrain from such wrongs and they should rather challenge their doings; they should only take the right path of acceptance of the fundamental teachings of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second point to note is that he guided their attention that Allah has provided the guidance to the fundamental teachings of Islam to the mankind and put an urge inside the man to accept it for his true benefits so all persons should come to it and not challenge it by their wrong doings; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the third point to note is that he guided their attention that Allah takes care of the basic physical necessities of the mankind because he has provided all facilities to the man at his life at the world to get them all with little of efforts if they do not create troubles for each other; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the fourth point is that he guided their attention that Allah restores the health of the man when he is afflicted by some sickness or by some wound or by some troublesome physical distress; it is common observation that the body heals itself of many afflictions with time and Abraham guided the attention of his people to this; Allah has provided an amazing immune system to the man and a beautiful manner of adjustment to physical distresses so if the man does trust that with total attention towards Allah, it would certainly save him from all physical troubles with due efforts unless the appointed time of his death has come for him; note that Abraham referred the cause of affliction to his own self and mentioned that Allah cures it so this is notable that Allah does not put any trouble to the mankind unless the man himself becomes foolish towards his own self; there are such influences around that may affect the physique of the man adversely if he does not take care to his necessary hygiene; Abraham phrased his statement in such way that the words do not seem any disrespect to Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the fifth point is that he guided their attention that Allah would bring all persons to life at the certain day of HASHR when all of them would be dead; he said, "and He Who will cause me to die, then give me life" so with reference to his own self, he indicated to them that every person though he/she may have come at any time & at any place in the world, is answerable for his/her life at the world to Allah, the true Lord, at the Day of Judgment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last point here is that he told them in dialogue with them, "and Who, I hope, will forgive me my mistake on the Day of Judgment"; this is very notable as here my mistake ("KHATIATI") that he mentioned seems his stay in them in the hope that they might come to the right path so it took place just by his placement there as he took some time to leave them; note that he did not mention it as a sin but termed it as his mistake as such mistake of placement does not become sin unless some person accepts it practically and totally ignores TABLIGH for the Truth; although his response to their wrongs was not very late yet as one of the Messengers of Allah, he took care to take it as a mistake for which he asked Allah to show mercy; note also that before this dialogue, he had challenged their belief in the heavenly bodies (see the note at the ninth Ruku of Surah AN'AAM) and after this dialogue, he did try to demonstrate to them practically too how unable their idols are even to protect their own selves (see the note at the fifth Ruku of Surah ANBIYA) which led to his departure from UR, with his wife Sarah-AS and nephew Lot-AS; this tells that it is necessary for a righteous person to challenge the wrongs around to his utmost capability as he learns of it because without it, he would be mistaken that would lead him to sin except where he does ask Allah to show mercy on his mistake; Al-Hamdu Lillah; ahead in the Ruku, AAYAAT 83 to 89 narrate DUA of Abraham-AS to Allah which read, "my Lord- grant me wisdom (to judge the rightness in any given situation), and join me with the good (righteous persons); and ordain for me a goodly mention among posterity; and make me of the heirs of the garden (JANNAH) of bliss; and forgive my father, for surely he is of those who have gone astray -(note that later he left asking forgiveness for his father as he died on disbelief; see TAUBAH-114)-; and disgrace me not on the day when they are raised, the day on which property will not avail, nor sons, except him who comes to Allah with sincere heart (free from all evil)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Quran tells at places that the righteous persons would be most happy from the very time when they see JANNAH which they would be about to enter; and it would happen that as the wrong doers would be put into the hell-fire, they would blame each other for their extreme troubles; Allah tells about this at AAYAAT from 90 to 102 which read, "and (at the Day of HASHR) the garden (JANNAH) shall be brought near for those who guard (against evil); and the hell-fire shall be made manifest to the erring ones; and it shall be said to them- where are those that you used to worship, besides Allah?- can they help you or yet help themselves?- so they shall be thrown down into it, they and (all of) the erring ones and the hosts of the Satan, all of them; they shall say while they contend therein (blaming each other)- by Allah! we were certainly in manifest error, when we made you equal to the Lord of the worlds, and none but the guilty (i.e. from among their ancestors) led us astray; so we have no intercessors nor a true friend -(this would be the statement of such persons from among them who had thought that they would be saved by some intercessor for them or some friend that would stand for them at the Day of HASHR which proved wrong)-; but if we could but once return, we would be of the believers"; this is certain to happen that JANNAH would come closer to righteous persons who had always kept their hearts free from all evil, and the hell-fire would be shown to the wrong doers so that they see its fierceness then & there; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last two AAYAAT of the Ruku are the recurring AAYAAT at this Surah that guide attention of all persons, specially those who ask Allah to provide signs to believe, that in each of the narrated events here, there is a very clear sign to believe so they must come to the righteous belief before it is too late; these AAYAAT read, "most surely there is a sign in this, but most of them do not believe; and most surely your Lord is the Mighty, the Merciful"; this certainly tells clearly that the disbelievers need to accept the fundamental teachings of Islam in the good time on, which Allah has provided them by His blessing or else, when the extreme disaster gets them, their repentance even will be totally useless; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SHUA'RAA-The Sixth Ruku

105. The people of NUH (Noah) rejected the apostles.
106. When their brother Noah said to them: Will you not guard (against evil)?
107. Surely I am a faithful apostle to you;
108. So guard against (the punishment of) Allah and obey me
109. And I do not ask you any reward for it; my reward is only with the Lord of the worlds:
110. So guard against (the punishment of) Allah and obey me.
111. They said: Shall we believe in you while the meanest follow you?
112. He said: And what knowledge have I of what they do?
113. Their account is only with my Lord, if you could perceive
114. And I am not going to drive away the believers;
115. I am naught but a plain warner.
116. They said: If you desist not, O Noah, you shall most certainly be of those stoned to death.
117. He said: My Lord! Surely my people give me the lie!
118. Therefore judge Thou between me and them with a (just) judgment, and deliver me and those who are with me of the believers.
119. So We delivered him and those with him in the laden ark.
120. Then We drowned the rest afterwards

121. Most surely there is a sign in this, but most of them do not believe.

122. And most surely your Lord is the Mighty, the Merciful.

From this Ruku, the Surah narrates about the five significant Messengers of Allah which are Noah, HOODH, SALEH, Lot & SHOAIB (Salam on all Messengers of Allah) and this narration extends to the tenth Ruku; we have read about them in this very sequence at Surah AARAAF and Surah HOODH too; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these five Messengers that Allah has mentioned here had their dwelling places near to each other with difference of their periods at the world as Noah, HOODH and SALEH were before Abraham-AS while Lot was his nephew and SHOAIB was among his descendants who lived at about three hundred years after his time; it tells us how they gave their nations the message of Allah and how Allah punished their nations even at the world when they rejected that message; note that after sending any of the Messengers to some nation, Allah appoints such time where they would ultimately accept the fundamental Islamic teachings or face certain death; we all have studied at Surah AARAAF in its second Ruku about Adam & Eve which is explicit that the life at the world is an examination to the mankind so all persons must keep to the three fundamental teachings of Islam that all of Messengers of Allah have guided to; they all gave the same message that are TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord) and AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment) and RISALAT (Allah had sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path); note that Al-FATIHA, the opening Surah of the Quran, guides to all these three fundamental teachings of Islam (see also the supplementary note at AAYAT-25 & 26 of Surah HOODH after the note at its third Ruku); Al-Hamdu Lillah; this Surah i.e. SHUA'RAA, tells clearly that the message that all of these Messengers of Allah gave, has this repeatedly that "will you not guard (against evil)?- surely I am a faithful apostle to you; so guard against (the punishment of) Allah and obey me; and I do not ask you any reward for it; my reward is only with the Lord of the worlds"; so all the Messengers did try their best to guide their nations as Allah has asked them; however, their nations did not comply and so Allah destroyed all of them completely at the world as their respective appointed times took place and they all certainly would be among the most severely punished peoples at AKHIRAT; note that the Messenger of Allah had to provide the message of Allah and it is not his liability to see that his people do accept it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note also here that the Ruku opens by the statement that "the people of NUH (Noah) rejected the apostles" and this tells that to reject one apostle of Allah is to reject all of them as their message that is the message of Allah, is basically the same; this is the manner by which other Ruku ahead start too up-to the tenth which narrate about the apostles of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so this explains the term "apostle" used in singular at AAYAT-16 of this Surah further where by the usage of the term in singular, the Quran has told in most clear terms that the message of all Messengers of Allah is basically the same; all of them do call all persons Allah has sent them to, towards the fundamental teachings of Islam (and Allah has sent His last Messenger Muhammad PBUH to all peoples of the world), for which they ask all persons to worship Allah only and obey His Messenger sent to them with complete belief in AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Noah-AS had told his nation who were idolaters that they must worship Allah only and if they do not take Him as the only One to worship, they would get the most severe punishment at the Day of Judgment (and even at the world); he did not ask them to obey the commands of Allah at first but he told them to obey him because he knew that as he guides them to the Truth then his obedience would cause them to obey the commands of Allah, once they accept Him as the only One to worship; Al-Hamdu Lillah; he told them that he does not need any returns from them on the Guidance to the right path that he is providing to them as Allah, the Lord of the worlds, would provide him his returns for it; he told them on their invalid argument (which was that only persons of low social status among them were following him), that he is not going to drive away any of the true believers because of their low social status as that status has no adverse consequence to their belief and certainly, that is of no concern to him as his task is to warn all persons that they shall not disobey Allah Who only is their true Lord; note that the disbelievers are so obsessed with the life at the world that they take the attainment of wealth and status among people as the criteria for the rightness of some person; though the error lied on their side, the nation of Noah took him as in clear error and told him in response to his TABLIGH that if he does not desist from it, they would stone him to death; when Allah told Noah-AS that further on, no more persons would accept the fundamental teachings of Islam, he asked Allah to punish them severely; note that he made this DUA against his nation after many centuries of calling them to accept the fundamental teachings of Islam; Allah accepted this DUA and so the result of their rejection to him was that they all were drowned except for the believers with him at the ark; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT at the Ruku, state explicitly, "most surely there is a sign in this, but most of them do not believe; and most surely your Lord is the Mighty, the Merciful"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SHUA'RAA-The Seventh Ruku

123. AAD gave the lie to the apostles.

124. When their brother HOODH said to them: Will you not guard (against evil)?

125. Surely I am a faithful apostle to you;

126. So guard against (the punishment of) Allah and obey me:

127. And I do not ask you any reward for it; surely my reward is only with the Lord of the worlds

128. Do you build on every height a monument? Vain is it that you do:

129. And you make strong fortresses that perhaps you may last forever

130. And when you lay hands (on men) you lay hands (like) tyrants;

131. So guard against (the punishment of) Allah and obey me

132. And be careful of (your duty to) Him Who has given you abundance of what you know.

133. He has given you abundance of cattle and children

134. And gardens and fountains;

135. Surely I fear for you the chastisement of a grievous day

136. They said: It is the same to us whether you admonish or are not one of the admonishers

137. This is naught but a custom of the ancients;

138. And we are not going to be punished.

139. So they gave him the lie, then We destroyed them. Most surely there is a sign in this, but most of them do not believe.

140. And most surely your Lord is the Mighty, the Merciful.

The second narrative of these Messengers presented here is of HOODH-AS; his nation was named as AAD and he gave them the same message as Noah had given to his nation; in addition, he told them not to do such things which show their preference to the life at the world but rather, they need to show gratitude to Allah; note that his nation lived in the area of curved sand-hills in the southern part of the Arabian peninsula and they were very strong in physique and had handsome height and looks; here, in Surah SHUA'RAA, the AAYAAT tell that HOODH-AS also provided his nation the righteous social manner to live at the world which read that he told his nation, "do you build on every height a monument?- vain is it that you do; and you make strong fortresses that perhaps you may last forever; and when you lay hands (on men) you lay hands (like) tyrants; so guard against (the punishment of)

Allah and obey me; and be careful of (your duty to) Him Who has given you abundance of what you know; He has given you abundance of cattle and children; and gardens and fountains; surely I fear for you the chastisement of a grievous day" (AAYAAT-128 to 135); these have few most significant advices relating to the righteous practical manner of living and I, MSD, find that with all comments which have been written on them, they yet need due attention in these current times; note that the guidance that any of Messengers of Allah gave to his nation in addition to the fundamental teachings of Islam which the Quran has reported explicitly, has worth for us all (as they are directly related to the Truth) even at these current times except where the Quran itself has mentioned it as specific to that nation; Al-Hamdu Lillah; insha Allah, I would comment on this beautiful guidance that HOODH-AS provided to his nation in few necessary points ahead; the first point to note here is that it is highly wrong to make landmarks (and picnic spots) at every breezy place at height though some of them for the necessary need of pleasure caring about the Islamic commands are fine as the AAYAT here has the word "KUL" (every) and the word "TA'BATHUN" (vain is it that you do); the second point to note here is that to make such extensive fortresses, castles, buildings and any of very tall skyscrapers, is highly wrong even if they are termed necessary by unworthy reasons as the word used here is MASANE' which applies to all of extensive buildings in width or height; we all must say this time & again at these current times most explicitly when some persons have developed this thought that they would make skyscrapers to impose their importance to the world; the third point is that in all matters related to life at the world, the Muslim person must show necessary respect to every man as the creation of Allah and not abuse the authority that Allah has given to him, in any manner; the AAYAT here forbids abuse of authority when the officials grab a person, even though responsible for any wrong, or/and when they grab some challengers to them, even though they are of enemy, as such persons get totally defenseless against them; they need proper official verdict for their doings to punish them rather than official abuse of authority in any manner as the acceptance certainly has to be "not guilty unless proven officially"; note that this abuse of authority was so prevalent at the ancient times that when ZELICHA had falsely blamed Yusuf-AS of an attempt to rape her, she had asked her husband (who held high official position in administration) to imprison him or to punish him by extreme physical torment (see Surah YOUSUF-25); so, even at Egypt that was considered a developed place of that time, this type of brutality of beating the weak persons of the land without any valid official verdict for it, prevailed; even after four hundred years of Yusuf-AS, Moses-AS had asked Allah to save him from the brutal clutches of the Egyptian officials, when he had accidentally killed an Egyptian person there (see Surah QASAS-21); this brutality, as a custom, still prevails all over the world (even though the physical things around us have developed much in the past century) and it is fair to say that the man truly has not yet developed; the AAYAT has the word JABBARIN (tyrants) which denotes their manner to deal with weak persons when they got hold of them and thus this directs to leniency in general, even to criminals except for the execution of the official due verdict that they receive in due time; the fourth point here is that HOODH tried to correct their attitudes about their manner of living socially where they fell against the Truth; their attitudes denoted preference of life at the world whereas the virtuous manner according to the fundamental teachings of Islam, is to live with the total preference of AKHIRAT over the life at the world; note that we have seen at the previous Ruku that Noah-AS did not give any concern to the low social status of those who believed in the Truth as it had no adversity to the true belief yet HOODH-AS challenged their attitudes by which they lived on socially as that were most adverse to the true belief in the fundamental teachings of Islam; so these are the most worthy points to note for all persons even at these current times and they must shape their attitudes according to it so that they live on in total compliance to Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; with all the guidance that HOODH-AS provided to his nation, it like the nation of Noah, took him as in grave folly and told him plainly that they would not listen to him and would not leave the manner to live which they have taken of their forefathers; they even said that they would not be punished and his speech is the manner of old where someone takes upon himself as bound to show the way; the outcome of their rejection to him was that they all were destroyed except for the believers with him; note that they had given their idols different names and had become such idolaters that they did not tolerate hearing anything against them; so they were punished by furious violent wind that stayed upon them for seven nights and eight days as the wrath of Allah upon them; Surah HAAQQAH says about this punishment that it was such "which Allah imposed on them for seven nights and eight days so that (O listener) you might have seen men lying overthrown, as they were hollow trunks of palm-trees" (HAAQQAH-7); the last couple of AAYAAT at this Ruku too, state explicitly, "most surely there is a sign in this, but most of them do not believe; and most surely your Lord is the Mighty, the Merciful"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SHUA'RAA-The Eighth Ruku

141. THAMUD gave the lie to the apostles
142. When their brother SALEH said to them: Will you not guard (against evil)?
143. Surely I am a faithful apostle to you 144. So guard against (the punishment of) Allah and obey me
145. And I do not ask you any reward for it; my reward is only with the Lord of the worlds;
146. Will you be left secure in what is here;
147. In gardens and fountains,
148. And cornfields and heavy-sheathed palm-trees?
149. And you hew houses out of the mountains exultingly;
150. So guard against (the punishment of) Allah and obey me;
151. And do not obey the bidding of the extravagant,
152. Who make mischief in the land and do not act aright.
153. They said: You are only of the deluded ones;
154. You are naught but a mortal like ourselves; so bring a sign if you are one of the truthful.
155. He said: This is a she-camel; she shall have her portion of water, and you have your portion of water on an appointed time;
156. And do not touch her with evil, lest the punishment of a grievous day should overtake you.
157. But they hamstrung her, then regretted;

158. So the punishment overtook them. Most surely there is a sign in this, but most of them do not believe.

159. And most surely your Lord is the Mighty, the Merciful.

The third of the narratives here is of SALEH-AS whose nation was named as THAMUD; his nation too was polytheist and gave total preference to the life at the world so he gave them the same message as Noah & HOODH had given to their nations; those people were good at construction of buildings by carving and structuring and used to build mansions at plains and carved houses at the mounts; AAYAAT from 146 to 152 tell how SALEH guided them to the right path by telling them that Allah has given life to the man for his examination and He would try them certainly; they must believe in Allah truly and they must not prefer the life at the world but care for AKHIRAT where they have to account for all of their doings; they certainly need to be grateful to Allah, Who only is the true Lord, for all blessings that He has provided to them; he warned the common people that they certainly need to take care that the elite among them, who were averse to his virtuous teachings, do not misguide them to wrongs; these AAYAAT read, "will you be left secure in what is here, in gardens and fountains, and cornfields and heavy-sheathed palm-trees?- and you hew houses out of the mountains exultingly; so guard against (the punishment of) Allah and obey me; and do not obey the bidding of the extravagant, who make mischief in the land and do not act aright"; the disbelievers in THAMUD told SALEH-AS that before these teachings that he professes, they took him as one of the most intelligent persons but now they find him teaching to leave all their idols that even their ancestors used to worship; SALEH told them clearly that he is providing them the message of Allah in purity and they need to believe in it for their own safety at the world and at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; however, their ruling elite rejected his message outright and asked others too to reject it; it happened that some disbelievers in THAMUD asked SALEH for some sign to believe him to which Allah provided them a she-camel that showed-up miraculously coming from behind a huge rock, at one of the mounts there, that moved from its place and she was in the state of pregnancy; he told them that this is the she-camel that Allah has given for them as a sign that he is the Messenger of Allah to them; therefore they must leave her to pasture on Allah's earth and not touch her with evil, for then a near chastisement would overtake them; AAYAT-155 here (and Surah QAMAR-28 too) implies that Allah told him to tell his people that the water is to be divided between them and each one has the right to drink from the wells by turns at alternate days; but it happened that some of their youth planned to slay her and the Quran mentions the one who did slay her as the most wicked of them all (see Surah SHAMS-12); as the disbelievers in the people of SALEH stood by that most wicked character so he told all such persons that within three days, they would face the calamity (the terrible earthquake with the most dreadful scream of rumbling) that would hit them in their abode by the command of Allah and this is certain to happen; AAYAAT at Surah AARAAF for this narration read, "then the earthquake overtook them, so they became motionless bodies in their abode; then SALEH turned away from them and said - O my people - I did certainly deliver to you the message of my Lord, and I gave you good advice - but you do not love those who give good advice" (AARAAF-78 & 79); the last couple of AAYAAT at this Ruku too, state explicitly, "most surely there is a sign in this, but most of them do not believe; and most surely your Lord is the Mighty, the Merciful"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SHUA'RAA-The Ninth Ruku

160. The people of Lot gave the lie to the apostles.
161. When their brother Lot said to them: Will you not guard (against evil)?
162. Surely I am a faithful apostle to you;

163. So guard against (the punishment of) Allah and obey me:

164. And I do not ask you any reward for it; my reward is only with the Lord of the worlds;

165. What! do you come to the males from among the creatures

166. And leave what your Lord has created for you of your wives? Nay, you are a people exceeding limits.

167. They said: If you desist not, O Lot! you shall surely be of those who are expelled.

168. He said: Surely I am of those who utterly abhor your act;

169. My Lord! deliver me and my followers from what they do.

170. So We delivered him and his followers all,

171. Except an old woman, among those who remained behind.

172. Then We utterly destroyed the others.

173. And We rained down upon them a rain, and evil was the rain on those warned.

174. Most surely there is a sign in this, but most of them do not believe.

175. And most surely your Lord is the Mighty, the Merciful.

The fourth of the narratives here is of Lot-AS who had been sent to the people living at Sodom and Gomorrah at south of the dead sea; they were extremely filthy persons who used to commit the heinous sin of sodomy among men; Lot, who actually did not belong to that nation but had been sent to them as the Messenger of Allah, tried his best to reform them of this heinous sin but to no avail; in fact, they intended to expel him from their city just because he challenged their filth as AAYAT-167 tells here; AAYAAT-80 to 84 at AARAAF tell the narrative, "and (We sent) Lot when he said to his people - what - do you commit an indecency which anyone in the world has not done before you?; most surely you come to males in lust besides females; nay you are an extravagant people; and the answer of his people was no other than that they said - turn them out of your town - surely they are people who seek to purify (themselves); so We delivered him and his followers, except his wife (which is mentioned here at AAYAT-171 as an old woman); she was of those who remained behind; and We rained upon them a rain (of stones, to eliminate them totally as AAYAAT-172 & 173 mention here); consider then what the end was of the guilty"; Allah had sent angels to punish this filthy people and these angels had visited Abraham-AS before coming to Lot-AS; at that occasion, they had even told Abraham the manner of the punishment to them as Surah ZAARIYAAT states, "they said - surely we are sent to guilty people that we may send down upon them stones of clay that are sent forth with markings from your Lord for the wanton people" (AAYAT-32, 33 & 34 of ZAARIYAAT); Allah tells that He saved the believers therein though there only was one house of the Muslims (that was of Lot-AS and even from there, his wife stayed among the punished people as she did not disapprove of their heinous crime) and so He made them lesson ahead that He would punish all such persons who commit any of major sins together (especially of the most shameful nature) even at the world most severely; the last couple of AAYAAT at this Ruku too, state explicitly, "most surely there is a sign in this, but most of them do not believe; and most surely your Lord is the Mighty, the Merciful"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SHUA'RAA-The Tenth Ruku

176. The dwellers of the thicket gave the lie to the apostles.

177. When SHOAIIB said to them: Will you not guard (against evil)?

178. Surely I am a faithful apostle to you;

179. So guard against (the punishment of) Allah and obey me:

180. And I do not ask you any reward for it, my reward is only with the Lord of the worlds;

181. Give a full measure and be not of those who diminish;

182. And weigh (things) with a right balance,
183. And do not wrong men of their things, and do not act corruptly in the earth, making mischief.
184. And guard against (the punishment of) Him Who created you and the former nations.
185. They said: You are only of those deluded;
186. And you are naught but a mortal like ourselves, and we know you to be certainly of the liars.
187. Therefore cause a portion of the heaven to come down upon us, if you are one of the truthful.
188. He said: My Lord knows best what you do.
189. But they called him a liar, so the punishment of the day of covering overtook them; surely it was the punishment of a grievous day.
190. Most surely there is a sign in this, but most of them do not believe.
191. And most surely your Lord is the Mighty, the Merciful.

-----

The period of SHOAIIB-AS is between Abraham-AS and Moses-AS and he also guided his nation to the Truth at Madyan, that is also named as ASHABUL-AYKAH (the dwellers of the thicket); he also additionally hit the wrongs in their living manner that challenged the fundamental teachings of Islam just as other of Messengers had challenged such wrongs among their respective peoples; they were polytheists

following the wrong path of their ancestors and they also gave their total preference to the life at the world and did not care to obey the commands of Allah; they did not have any concern for rights of their fellow-beings and tried to gain more worldly profits by trying to give lesser returns to the amounts of the buyer; they mismanaged their measures and weights just to get these unfair profits and this narration that the Quran tells us, implies that this extreme wrong attitude leads to FASAD at the place which means that it becomes most difficult to live upon the Islamic teachings at such place; note that if a person abuses his authority without any care to the commands of Allah at any level where he is at the business of life, he makes the living on the Islamic teachings difficult by his attitude at that level; SHOAIB-AS as the Messenger of Allah to his people, also provided them the true guidance according to the command of Allah yet there are couple of things in this Ruku that need some address; first is that SHOAIB was sent to Madyan and we find here that he was sent to ASHABUL-AYKAH and the second is that the narratives of other four Messengers of Allah tell them as the brother to their respective nations yet his narrative does not relate him to his people by this term; note here that these both matters are interrelated as the people of Madyan were living extensively at that area, mainly at Madyan proper yet also at its adjacent area to TABUK where the largest pocket of them was at some specific thicket that are named as ASHABUL-AYKAH; they all were related to business activities and had similar ills in them which SHOAIB addressed head-on; he was not termed as their brother (though the Quran has called him the brother to the people of Madyan proper at HOODH-84 and at ANKABUT-36), as his dwelling place was Madyan proper which also was the center of his guidance to the fundamental teachings of Islam; note that Allah eliminated the people of Madyan proper by a deadly rumbling earthquake as He had destroyed the people of SALEH on their disbelief in Him whereas He eliminated ASHABUL-AYKAH by the dark cloud that covered them and put lightening onto them, probably within a short period after the Madyan proper was destroyed due to their disbelief; AAYAAT from 181 to 184 tells about his additional teachings to his nation, "give a full measure and be not of those who diminish; and weigh (things) with a right balance; and do not wrong men of their things, and do not act corruptly (in this manner) in the earth, making mischief (as that causes high trouble in practice of Islamic teachings in the ordinary business of life); and guard against (the punishment of) Him Who created you and the former nations"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it confused the persons at his nation that they have to care for the commands of Allah even to get the material profits they make at market, as they took the belief as something that relates to the concepts of the individual at the spiritual level with no impression at material things at the collective living of persons who live in huge number together; note here that the Islamic teachings challenge the concept of secularism head-on whereas the statement of the disbelievers in the nation of SHOAIIB, is mentioned at the eighth Ruku of Surah HOODH that "they said- O SHOAIIB- does your SALAH enjoin you that we should forsake what our fathers worshipped or that we should not do what we please with regard to our property?; you are undoubtedly the forbearing, the right-directing one" (HOODH-87); note that they did credit SHOAIIB as one of the most intelligent persons among them (just as the people of SALEH took him as one of the most intelligent persons); however, they questioned his intelligence where he asked them to leave their idols and worship Allah only and with that, also care for the righteous moral values at their dealings at market; they did not accept his message to believe in Allah truly and did not accept his message to take His guidance in principle in all issues of life practically so ultimately, their disbelief led to their destruction; Al-Hamdu Lillah; they had asked SHOAIIB to cause the portion of the heaven to come down upon them so AAYAT-189 tells, "but they called him a liar, so the punishment of the day of covering (of a dark cloud) overtook them; surely it was the punishment of a grievous day"; the Quran gives the message most explicitly that those who challenge Allah would certainly see their destruction in high number even at the world; the last two AAYAAT at this Ruku too, state explicitly, "most surely there is a sign in this, but most of them do not believe; and most surely your Lord is the Mighty, the Merciful"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SHUA'RAA-The Last Ruku

192. And most surely this is a revelation from the Lord of the worlds.

193. The Faithful Spirit has descended with it,

194. Upon your heart that you maybe among warners

195. In plain Arabic language.

196. And most surely the same is in the scriptures of the ancients.

197. Is it not a sign to them that the learned men of the Israelites know it?

198. And if we had revealed it to any of the foreigners

199. So that he should have recited it to them, they would not have believed therein.

200. Thus have We caused it to enter into the hearts of the guilty.

201. They will not believe in it until they see the painful punishment.

202. And it shall come to them all of a sudden, while they shall not perceive;

203. Then they will say: Shall we be respited?
204. What! do they still seek to hasten on Our punishment?
205. Have you then considered if We let them enjoy themselves for years,
206. Then there comes to them that with which they are threatened,
207. That which they were made to enjoy, shall not avail them?
208. And We did not destroy any town but it had (its) warners,
209. To remind, and We are never unjust.
210. And the SHAYATIN (followers of the Satan among the JINN) have not come down with it.
211. And it behooves them not, and they have not the power to do (it).
212. Most surely they are far removed from the hearing of it.
213. So call not upon another god with Allah, lest you be of those who are punished.
214. And warn your nearest relations,
215. And be kind to him who follows you of the believers.
216. But if they disobey you, then say: Surely I am clear of what you do.
217. And rely on the Mighty, the Merciful,
218. Who sees you when you stand up.

219. And your turning over and over among those who prostrate themselves before Allah.

220. Surely He is the Hearing, the Knowing.

221. Shall I inform you (of him) upon whom the SHAYATIN descend?

222. They descend upon every lying, sinful one,

223. They pour hearsay vanities, and most of them are liars.

224. And as to the poets, those who go astray follow them.

225. Do you not see that they wander about bewildered in every valley?

226. And that they say that which they do not do,

227. Except those who believe and do good and remember Allah much and defend themselves after they are oppressed; and they who act oppressively shall know to what final place of turning they shall turn back.

This Ruku, that comprises of 36 AAYAAT, is one of the longest Ruku in the Quran by AAYAAT in it, though the longest among all is the second Ruku of the thirty-seventh Surah i.e. SAAFFAAT (which also descended at Makkah, at the seventh year) as it has 53 AAYAAT in it; note that the fifth Ruku too, of this Surah SHUA'RAA, has 36 AAYAT in it and note also that there are 558 Ruku in the Holy Book Quran whereas there are 7 MANAZIL in it; there are 6236 AAYAAT in it though with the addition of the AAYAT "BISM-Allah", which has a permanent placement in it, that comes to the total of 6237; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this Ruku tells about the Holy Book Quran- that it has been sent by Allah, the true Lord, but there are such wrong persons who would never believe in it, even if they see that it certainly is sent by Allah, until they see their punishment most clearly as their hearts lean towards the criminal attitude (AAYAAT 192 to 209) and that the Prophet PBUH shall go on providing its teachings to all persons, which are the most virtuous teachings that Allah has sent to him with utmost protection, so that all persons see the Truth to accept it, and he shall care for the believers by asking total mercy from Allah, the true Lord, for them (AAYAAT 210 to 220); the last part of it tells that the Quran is totally safe from all such wrong persons who are affected by SHAYATIN (the satanic persons among the jinn) and who are given to their thoughts that are averse to Islam, which totally makes clear that Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah who is totally free of all such wrongs, has safely received the Holy Book Quran in text and meaning from Allah, the true Lord, with utmost protection from all satanic impression (AAYAAT 221 to the last); Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT 192 to 209 read, "and most surely this is a revelation from the Lord of the worlds; RUHUL-AMIN Gabriel-AS (i.e. the Faithful Spirit) has descended with it, upon your heart

(O Muhammad PBUH) that you may be among the warning persons; (it is) in plain Arabic language; and most surely the same (good teaching) is in the scriptures of the ancients (i.e. in Torah and the holy scriptures that Allah provided to the mankind before it through His Messengers); is it not a sign to them that the learned men of the Israelites know it (though they take what they find easy in the commands of Allah to practice and leave others)? and if we had revealed it to any of the foreigners (i.e. not an Arab), so that he should have recited it to them, they (still) would not have believed therein; thus have We caused it (i.e. the disbelief) to enter into the hearts of the guilty (that are in the disbelievers that) they will not believe in it until they see the painful punishment (even at the world); and it shall come to them all of a sudden (as is the manner of Allah to send His punishment to the extreme disbelievers), while they shall not perceive; then they will say- shall we be respited? What (after hearing that they would be defenseless then)! do they still seek to hasten on Our punishment? have you then considered if We let them enjoy themselves for years, then there comes to them that with which they are threatened (i.e. the extreme punishment), that which they were made to enjoy (that is the enjoyment of life at the world for many years), shall not avail them (therefore no one should forget that he/she is going through an examination in the world)? and We did not destroy any town but it had (its) warning persons to remind (as Allah does not send His punishment unless the disbelievers see the Truth clearly and then reject it, as we have studied at this Surah too), and We are never unjust"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT 210 to 220 read, "and the SHAYATIN (followers of the Satan among the JINN) have not come down with it (so it certainly has descended on Muhammad PBUH as Allah sent it to him); and it behooves them not, and they have not the power to do so; most surely they are far removed from the hearing of it (see the note at the second Ruku of Surah HIJR); so call not upon another god with Allah (but worship Allah only, the true Lord, as you O Muhammad PBUH have always done) lest you be of those who are punished, and warn your nearest relations (at Makkah), and be kind to him who follows you of the believers (from among them); but if they disobey you, then say- surely I am clear of what you do (because you O Muhammad PBUH have the liability to provide the Truth to all persons but you do not have to see that they come to Islam); and rely on the Mighty, the Merciful (so He would provide punishment to those who disbelieve in Him, by His true authority and He would care for those who believe in Him truly), Who sees you when you stand up (at Salah at nights); and your turning over and over among those (true Muslims) who prostrate themselves before Allah (at Salah at nights, to guide them more to Islam); surely He is the Hearing, the Knowing (Who keeps the respective records of all persons that they would see at AKHIRAT)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note about the command of Allah -"and warn your nearest relations"- to Muhammad PBUH, His last Messenger to all of mankind, that he had to start spreading the teachings of Islam by the rule "AL-AQRAB-FAL-AQRAB" (first the nearer among all persons then to the next among them and so on), beginning from his household and then expanding it to all peoples of the world; this is the manner to seek necessarily, in providing monetary amounts too to the needy among the people; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last part of it tells that the Quran is totally safe from all such wrong persons who are affected by SHAYATIN (the satanic persons among the JINN) and who are given to their thoughts that are averse to Islam, which totally makes clear that Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah who is totally free of all such wrongs, has safely received the Holy Book Quran in text and meaning from Allah, the true Lord, with utmost protection from all satanic impression; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it tells that there are two types of wrong persons that are affected by Satan so one of them are extreme liars that have become most sinful (who may try to alter the text of the Quran) and the other of them are poets given to unworthy futile thoughts (who may try to adversely affect the meaning of the Quran) but both of these are totally unable to make any change to the

Quran; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it happens that SHAYATIN blow those words that they had stolen by hearing the speech of angels (and they even add words to what they had heard) at the insides of extreme liars because these SHAYATIN too are the most extreme liars; as for such poets who are given to unworthy futile thoughts, their followers are those who go off the right path and these poets do not focus on righteousness but say different things in their poetic verses that even fall against each other; their utmost wrong is that even if they happen to say something right in their poetic verses, they do not follow it practically; however, the last AAYAT of the Ruku, that also is the last AAYAT of the Surah, gives them space when they do have some necessary good qualities in them; it reads, "except those who believe and do good and remember Allah much and defend themselves after they are oppressed; and they who act oppressively shall know to what final place of turning they shall turn back"; this AAYAT specifies that by four of good traits, the person who says poetic verses is not included in those who adversely affect the teachings of the Quran, though he shall have these all traits simultaneously; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the good poet who is an exception, shall be the believer in the Truth, he shall practice the commands of Allah in life, he shall remember Allah at all occasions reciting His praise at all times much and he shall readily defend the true Muslims by his poetry from all such persons who try to spread rumors about them, to give them a bad name and put blame on them to pave way for an unjust attitude towards them; the last AAYAT tells most clearly at the last of it that even if the poetic verses of the good poet who is an exception, do not affect the oppressors to care for justice towards the true Muslims, he does not need to worry as "they who act oppressively shall know (soon enough) to what final place of turning (at the hell-fire), they shall turn back (at AKHIRAT)"; certainly all praise is for Allah, the true Lord, Who has all the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah NAML

(Consists of 7 Ruku; MK-5)

NAML-The First Ruku

1. TA SIN! These are the verses of the Quran and the Book that makes (things) clear
2. A guidance and good news for the believers,
3. Who keep up Salah and pay the poor-rate, and of AKHIRAT, they are sure.
4. As to those who do not believe in AKHIRAT, We have surely made their deeds fair-seeming to them, but they blindly wander on.

5. These are they who shall have an evil punishment, and at AKHIRAT, they shall be the greatest losers.

6. And most surely you are made to receive the Quran from the Wise, the Knowing.

7. When Musa said to his family: Surely I see fire; I will bring to you from it some news, or I will bring to you there-from a burning firebrand so that you may warm yourselves.

8. So when he came to it a voice was uttered saying: Blessed is Whoever is in the fire and whatever is about it; and glory be to Allah, the Lord of the worlds;

9. O Musa! surely I am Allah, the Mighty, the Wise;

10. And cast down your staff. So when he saw it in motion as if it were a serpent, he turned back retreating and did not return: O Musa! fear not; surely the apostles shall not fear in My presence;

11. Neither he who has been unjust, then he does good instead after evil, for surely I am the Forgiving, the Merciful:

12. And enter your hand into the opening of your bosom, it shall come forth white without evil; among nine signs to Pharaoh and his people, surely they are a transgressing people.

13. So when Our clear signs came to them, they said: This is clear enchantment.

14. And they denied them unjustly and proudly while their soul had been convinced of them; consider, then how was the end of the mischief-makers.

Surah NAML also descended the same year as Surah SHUA'RAA just after it and it tells about those Prophets of Allah who had received miracles from Allah, to bring their respective peoples to the fundamental teachings of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it responds to the demand of disbelievers for miracles, that they need to see the signs at AAFAAQ (the environment that is around them) and at their own selves (their attitudes at times) so that they tell them about Allah as these are the AAYAAT (signs, indications, miracles, revelations, evidences), that have the capability to guide them to the right path; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it has the subtle message that even miracles benefit those only who are most prepared to accept the Truth when it manifests to them; the first Ruku states about the good traits of the true Muslims and also gives the account of Moses-AS how Allah appointed him as His Messenger and how he provided the Truth at the Pharaoh's court with the presentation of the miracles that he had received from Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT from the first to the sixth state, "TA SIN! these are the verses of the Quran and the Book (LAUHE-MAFUZ) that makes (things) clear; a guidance and good news for the believers, who keep up Salah and pay the poor-rate, and of AKHIRAT, they are sure; as to those who do not believe in AKHIRAT, We have surely made their deeds fair-seeming to them, but they blindly wander on (without giving any care that they would have to face their respective accounts of deeds for certain at the certain day of HASHR, the first day of AKHIRAT); these are they who shall have an evil punishment, and at AKHIRAT, they shall be the greatest losers; and most surely you are made to receive the Quran from (Allah, Who is) the Wise (so He is taking the world on towards the destination He intends), the Knowing (so He records all good deeds of all good Muslims that they would certainly see at AKHIRAT)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAT-7 to AAYAT-14, the Ruku narrates how Allah appointed Moses-AS as His Messenger and how he provided the Truth at the Pharaoh's court with presentation of the miracles that he had received from Allah, the true Lord; note that Moses-AS had married at Madyan where he had arrived to save himself from the unjust law of Egyptians when he had accidentally killed an Egyptian; his father-in-law has asked him to serve their household for eight years, and better still for ten years, so that he marries his daughter to him; Moses accepted the deal and served him for ten years at the place; he might have stayed for few more years at Madyan by his own intention but the Quran has kept silence on that; then, he took his family and intended for some other place to reside when on the route, he saw some light as fire at the side of the Mount TOOR;

those were cold nights and he told his family that he had seen some fire so they would wait as he brings some authentic news of the way and better still, some brand of fire that they might be able to get warmth for themselves; Surah NAML states at AAYAT-7, "when Musa said to his family- surely I see fire; I will bring to you from it some news, or I will bring to you there-from a burning firebrand (SHIHABEN-QABASEN) so that you may warm yourselves"; note that the next Surah, that is Surah QASAS, presents this same statement of Moses at AAYAT-29 but for the firebrand, it has the term "JAZWATEM-MINAN-NAAR" which in essence means the same; this tells that at translation of some words to other language, the Quran permits some space to the translator whereas the meaning remains similar in essence, though its translation would not be termed as the Quran; it also happens that the Quran relates an event at one place and then provides some more detail to the same at another place which does explain it; and it also happens that it focuses on that aspect of an event at a place which is related to the concerned issue at that place; Al-Hamdu Lillah; now, when Moses got nearer to that site, he found that some bush is burning and he heard the voice of Allah, the true Lord, that "blessed is Whoever is in the fire (i.e. the show of Allah's authority that He showed at the bush and He only knows truly how He affected it) and whatever is about it (i.e. the angels and also Moses-AS); and glory be to Allah, the Lord of the worlds; O Musa! surely I am Allah, the Mighty, the Wise"; note that the bondage of time & place does not apply to Allah and Moses heard His voice which addressed him, from all sides; Al-Hamdu Lillah; there he got the two significant signs from Allah that his staff changed to the huge serpent as he put it down and became his staff as he picked it up and when he put his hand inside his bosom and pulled it out, it lighted without any affliction; when at first, he saw the staff changing into a serpent, he became afraid and ran back fearfully; Allah called him and said not to fear as He is appointing him as His Messenger and His Messengers need not fear anything as He always keeps watch on them after He appoints them to some people that there befalls no adversity to them; Allah told him to draw his hand near to him if he fears anything so that would soothe him; with these signs, Allah sent him to Pharaoh and his people and on his request, his brother Aaron was also appointed as one of the Prophets with him (as Moses had the issue of stuttering in speech); Allah told him that Pharaoh and his people would be unable to harm any of them even though he had accidentally killed one of their men; he had done good to repent that act at that very time and had asked mercy from Allah, which He had granted to him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Quran tells clearly that the Pharaoh and his people did not believe in the message of Allah that Moses and

Aaron brought to them, though they did have the notion inside them that this certainly is the Truth, yet they rather mocked him; and the two amazing miracles that he showed them, they took it as plain magic and rejected the message; note that there were nine of signs that Allah showed Pharaoh and his people through Moses-AS yet they did not accept the fundamental teachings of Islam; besides his staff that changed to the huge serpent and the shining hand, there were (iii) draughts (shortage of crops), (iv) diminution of fruits (this also means lesser returns to efforts) (v) TOOFAAN (hail-storm), (vi) locusts, (vii) lice, (viii) frogs and (ix) blood; see also the supplementary note after the fifteenth Ruku of AARAAF that presents the life of Moses briefly but comprehensively; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah drowned Pharaoh and his men who were following Moses-AS and the Bani-Israel whereas they all reached to safety by the will of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NAML-The Second Ruku

15. And certainly We gave knowledge to DAWUD-AS and Suleiman-AS, and they both said: Praise be to Allah, Who has made us to excel many of His believing servants.

16. And Suleiman was DAWUD's heir, and he said: O men! we have been taught the language of birds, and we have been given all things; most surely this is manifest grace.

17. And his hosts of the jinn and the men and the birds were gathered to him, and they were formed into groups.

18. Until when they came to the valley of the NAML (Ants), a NAMLITE said: O NAML! enter your houses, (that) Suleiman (Solomon) and his hosts may not crush you while they do not know.

19. So he smiled, wondering at her word, and said: My Lord! grant me that I should be grateful for Thy favor which Thou hast bestowed on me and on my parents, and that I should do good such as Thou art pleased with, and make me enter, by Thy mercy, into Thy servants, the good ones.

20. And he reviewed the birds, then said: How is it I see not the hoopoe or is it that he is of the absentees?

21. I will most certainly punish him with a severe punishment, or slaughter him, or he shall bring to me a clear plea.

22. And he tarried not long, then said: I comprehend that which you do not comprehend and I have brought to you a sure information from Sheba.

23. Surely I found a woman ruling over them, and she has been given abundance and she has a mighty throne:

24. I found her and her people adoring the sun instead of Allah, and the Satan has made their deeds fair-seeming to them and thus turned them from the way, so they do not go aright

25. That they do not make obeisance to Allah, Who brings forth what is hidden in the heavens and the earth and knows what you hide and what you reveal:

26. Allah, there is no god but He: He is the Lord of the mighty throne.

27. He said- we will see whether you have told the truth or whether you are of the liars:

28. Take this my letter and put it over to them, then turn away from them and see what (answer) they return.

29. She said: O chief! surely an honorable letter has been delivered to me

30. Surely it is from Suleiman, and surely it is in the name of Allah, the Beneficent, the Merciful;

31. Saying: exalt not yourselves against me and come to me in submission.

This Ruku and the Ruku ahead, narrate a few events related to Suleiman-AS (i.e. Solomon); he was the son of DAWUD-AS (i.e. David) and they both were Kings of the Israelites, with all necessary things to benefit from, at their disposal keeping to the commands of Allah; their period is from about 1100 BC that comes to about three hundred years after Moses-AS; Suleiman was the heir to David, and they both were among the wisest persons of the Bani-Israel for which they praised Allah all the time much; in addition to being king of Israelites, Allah had also provided Suleiman the rule over jinn and over birds, the language of whom he understood well; Allah had also made the wind subservient to him that it took him to places far-away just in a morning or just in an evening which normally took a month of travel to reach at those times; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah tells at Surah SABA, "and (We made) the wind (subservient) to Suleiman, which made a month's journey in the morning and a month's journey in the evening, and We made a fountain of molten copper to flow out for him, and of the jinn there were those who worked before him by the command of his Lord; and whoever turned aside from Our command from among them, We made him taste of the punishment of burning" (Surah SABA-12); Al-Hamdu Lillah; here at Surah NAML, we learn that once, when Suleiman was passing through a valley of ants with his army (and intended to land nearby), which included not only men but also many of jinn and many of birds, one of ants warned her fellow-ants that they shall take shelter fast as not to be crushed by the army of Suleiman; AAYAT-18 reads," until when they came to the valley of the NAML (Ants), a NAMLITE said: O NAML! enter your houses, (that) SULAIMAN and his hosts may not crush you while they do not know"; this tells that even ants (especially these ancient ants which probably were much higher in size to which we find them today) do have an understanding when something from above may pounce on them while the army of Suleiman had plenty of birds in them and their diet mainly included insects in it; we find here that they do have their own system of communication by which they send messages to each other, especially when there is threat to life nearby, whereas the army of Suleiman was still far from the area when the ant realized that they are heading towards it; note that it was a female ant that warned her mates and we have read at Surah NAHL (which means honey-bee) that it is the female in bees that work industriously to make its hive and the honey so we do find that the female in insects have more agility than the male in them; as the Surah does not mention that Suleiman had heard the speech of the ant directly (because Allah had provided him the ability to understand the speech of birds only that we learned by AAYAT-16 and though ants sometimes do develop little wings yet they are not taken in birds) so it happened that Allah made him aware of this communication among ants and learning that, he was most pleased and showed his extreme gratitude humbly to Him for this most impressive status that even ants did care for; he asked Allah to keep him always into the most righteous persons by giving him TOFIQ for good deeds all his life, as Allah only has the true authority; note that this same Surah NAML has that "and when the Word (QIYAMAT i.e. the last day of the world) falls upon them (i.e. comes near to them), we would bring out an animal out of earth that would talk to them, as people did not believe truly our indications" (Surah NAML-82); it is said in commentaries related to the Quran that this animal would appear in Makkah near the end of the world and Hadith has explicitly mentioned it; the Quran tells amazing occurrences at different places that are mostly related to birds but there are such occurrences that it states even for animals specially reptiles, insects and even fish that present the fact that Allah is Able to provide his directions well even by these of His creation too; Al-Hamdu Lillah; may Allah save all true Muslims from giving-in to satanic whims and keep them always on the right path; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at this occasion, when he landed with his army at a site inside or near to the valley of ants, Suleiman-AS took attendance of birds in his army personnel and found that HUD-HUD (the hoopoe) in them was missing; note that the hoopoe, as we find today, has pinkish to cinnamon body with a notable crest which is usually held flat; its legs are strong and so it walks and runs swiftly as it searches for worms & insects to eat, probing the ground with its curved bill; though primarily a ground-bird, this beautiful bird does roost in trees and flies efficiently; the female lays about 6 eggs normally yet sometimes as many as 12, in some safe hole in a tree or in a wall; its male bird feeds his mate while she incubates the clutch for about 18 days; note also that the hoopoe which is mentioned in these AAYAAT, was probably much larger than the size in which we find it today (which is near to a foot) and probably even larger than of those as were found at those days; Suleiman got angry on this breach of discipline of hoopoe, that he had left them without his permission, and said in clear words, "I will most certainly punish him with a severe punishment (probably he meant that he would punish the bird by taking feather of his wings off), or slaughter him, or he shall bring to me a clear plea (as the person at management of affairs shall certainly care to the valid excuse of something done out of way, by any of staff)"; only some of time had passed then, when the hoopoe returned as the bird is very swift in flying, and he had some significant information that he presented to Suleiman in most beautiful manner certainly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the bird told him as the AAYAAT state, "I comprehend that which you (O king Suleiman) do not comprehend and I have brought to you a sure information from Sheba (which is a place in Yemen); surely, I found a woman (the queen of Sheba) ruling over them, and she has been given abundance (of assets of the world) and she has a mighty throne; I found her and her people adoring the sun instead of Allah, and the Satan has made their deeds fair-seeming to them (that they do not reflect on their extreme wrong-doing) and thus turned them from the way (while they think that they are righteous), so they do not go aright; that they do not make obeisance to Allah, Who brings forth what is hidden in the heavens and the earth and knows what you hide and what you reveal; Allah- there is no god but He- He is the Lord of the (true) mighty throne"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; there are some significant things to note in this beautiful speech which insha-Allah I, MSD, would presently note here; the first thing to note is that this speech comes from a bird, that is most observant, yet it certainly is guidance to righteousness; the second thing is that the bird spoke boldly to Suleiman, "I comprehend that which you do not comprehend and I have brought to you a sure information from Sheba"; we have read at the beginning of the Ruku that Suleiman was the heir to David, and Allah gave both of them the knowledge of the Truth and so they both were among the wisest persons of the Bani-Israel for which they praised Allah all the time much; the notable thing is that there is significant difference between the knowledge that rises to wisdom, and the news that relates to some worldly issues; the hoopoe meant that he had the news about Sheba and that did not challenge the beautiful knowledge that Suleiman had of the Truth in any way certainly; the third thing is that the bird noted that it is a woman that rules Sheba so that denotes that men were expected to rule some place and not women, in general; the fourth thing is that the bird said, "the queen of Sheba has been given abundance" by which he meant that she had been given everything necessary from the worldly assets, especially to rule the land of which she was the empress; when KULLA-SHAYEN (everything) comes for Allah, it does mean everything i.e. all of His creation but for others, it means all assets that is necessary for them from the world by total convenience; the fifth thing that the bird told about those people in his speech was that they worshipped the sun instead of Allah and added that the Satan had made their deeds fair-seeming to them; this tells that even birds are totally aware that only Allah is the true Lord to whom all of the creation must show their total respect; additionally, the hoopoe was most fortunate to have the company of the Prophet Suleiman-AS; we have read at the first AAYAT of the Quran that is "Al-Hamdu Lillah RABBEL-AALAMIN" which means "all praise is due to Allah, the Lord of the Worlds"; He only is the true Lord of all, so He asks for total obedience from all of His creation, that is most sincere; Al-Hamdu Lillah (all praise certainly is for Allah); the sixth thing is that the bird mentioned in his speech that "Allah brings forth what is hidden in the heavens and the earth and knows what you hide and what you reveal"; he praised Allah for the blessings that all persons see most clearly yet they are especially appealing to birds; note that he meant that Allah sends angels down from the heavens and waters of rains down that is hidden in clouds, towards the earth that makes the trees beautiful and He brings forth crops through it and even insects, that are hidden inside the earth from which all, specially birds, do benefit; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last thing is that the bird stated in his speech that, "Allah- there is no god but He- He is the Lord of the mighty throne"; so he corrected himself by expressing explicitly that the true mighty throne is certainly of Allah, the true Lord, Who has all true authority over all His creation; Al-Hamdu Lillah; though Suleiman-AS trusted the hoopoe yet he told him that he would still verify his statement for which he gave him a letter addressed to the queen and asked him to see what conversation she has with the prominent persons at her court as she receives the letter; it is an interesting fact that birds (especially pigeons) had been taking letters from the ancient times, to the set destination where they were tamed and thus communicated well among persons; this hoopoe was clever enough to take it directly to the queen without any suspicion of them that he is able to observe their gestures getting to what they signify; note that Suleiman had asked the hoopoe to "see" how they respond so he threw the letter into her lap while she probably was seated at her court and perched somewhere near, to observe their gestures; now, as the queen read it, she immediately presented its contents to all prominent persons at her court; she did not question the contents so it is most evident that Sheba fell well inside the ruling area of Suleiman and the empress knew this that he has all the right to ask her and her people there to commit to the Islamic manner of living; his letter implied that if they did not comply to his command, they would face certain trouble; the last AAYAAT of the Ruku (from 27 to 31) read, "He said (to the hoopoe)- we will see whether you have told the truth or whether you are of the liars; take this my letter and put it over to them, then turn away from them and see what (answer) they return; she (the queen) said (as she received the letter)- O chief! surely an honorable letter has been delivered to me, surely it is from Suleiman and surely it is in the name of Allah, the Beneficent, the Merciful, saying- exalt not yourselves against me and come to me in submission"; note that she spoke about the letter that it is honorable and cared to state that Suleiman has begun it by the name of Allah, the Beneficent, the Merciful (as He only is the true Lord), and not by his own name; note also that "BISM-Allah AR-RAHMAN-ER-RAHIM" (by the name of Allah, the Beneficent, the Merciful) has a permanent placement in the Holy Book Quran which is read at the start of each Surah (except for Surah TAUBAH) and this is the only place where it had occurred inside the text; AR-RAHMAN and AR-RAHIM both are the names of Allah that show His attribute that He is Most Merciful though AR-RAHMAN tells that He has so much mercy that to understand its height is impossible and that is why He gives ample space to all peoples at the world to come to the fundamental teachings of Islam; and AR-RAHIM tells that He provides continuous mercy to all those only among all peoples at the world who do accept His message of Islam and that is why He would care only for these sincere believers at AKHIRAT, where He would put disbelievers at the hell-fire; Al-Hamdu Lillah; another notable thing is that Suleiman had written, "exalt not yourselves against me (because he ruled the area and they were rebels in technical terms) and come to me in submission (as he was the Messenger of Allah who had to see that all persons get the message of Islam and accept the fundamental teachings of Islam but if they reject it after getting it clearly, he would certainly challenge them and end their power); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the outcome to this letter was that the queen sent some most valuable gift to Suleiman to see if he is sincere to his cause or would settle for some valuable amounts leaving them on their own as she did not intend to go to war with his force but intended to settle the matter by a mutual pact of some sort; insha-Allah, we all would study this at the Ruku that comes ahead; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NAML-The Third Ruku

32. She said: O chiefs! give me advice respecting my affair: I never decide an affair until you are in my presence.

33. They said: We are possessors of strength and possessors of mighty prowess, and the command is yours, therefore see what you will command.

34. She said: Surely the kings, when they enter a town, ruin it and make the noblest of its people to be low, and thus they (always) do;

35. And surely I am going to send a present to them, and shall wait to see what (answer) do the apostles bring back.

36. So when he came to Suleiman, he said: What! will you help me with wealth? But what Allah has given me is better than what He has given you. Nay, you are exultant because of your present;

37. Go back to them, so we will most certainly come to them with hosts which they shall have no power to oppose, and we will most certainly expel them therefrom in disgrace and they shall be in a state of ignominy.

38. He said: O chiefs! which of you can bring to me her throne before they come to me in submission?

39. One audacious among the jinn said: I will bring it to you before you rise up from your place; and most surely I am strong (and) trusty for it.

40. One who had the knowledge of the Book said: I will bring it to you in the twinkling of an eye. Then when he saw it settled beside him, he said: This is of the grace of my Lord that He may try me whether I am grateful or ungrateful; and whoever is grateful, he is grateful only for his own soul, and whoever is ungrateful, then surely my Lord is Self-sufficient, Honored.

41. He said: Alter her throne for her, we will see whether she follows the right way or is of those who do not go aright.

42. So when she came, it was said: Is your throne like this? She said: It is as it were the same, and we were given the knowledge before it, and we were submissive.

43. And what she worshipped besides Allah prevented her, surely she was of disbelieving people.

44. It was said to her: Enter the palace; but when she saw it she deemed it to be a great expanse of water, and bared her legs. He said: Surely it is a palace made smooth with glass. She said: My Lord! surely I have been unjust to myself, and I submit with Suleiman to Allah, the Lord of the worlds.

The Ruku continues the narration ahead that the queen at that occasion asked the prominent persons at her court to advise her on the matter to which they assured her that whatever would be her decision, they would comply to it; however, they noted for her that they are possessors of strength and possessors of mighty prowess so it was an indication that they would prefer to take-up a war against the force of Suleiman; the queen did not intend to take any fight against his force, so she wisely commented, "surely the kings, when they enter a town, ruin it and make the noblest of its people to be low (to break the morale of the people there so that none of them tries to rebel against their rule), and thus they (always) do" -(NAML-34); this denotes her awareness to the natural tendency of the man which he generally shows at the occasion of conquest upon enemy; note in this context, that when Moses had told the good old man whom he had met at Madyan (after he fled from Egypt) about his plight, he had soothed him that he is out of troubles with him insha-Allah; at that occasion, one of her daughters had told her father, "O my father! employ him, surely the best of those that you can employ is the strong man (QAVI i.e. capable to do the job), the trustworthy (AMIN i.e. honest to fulfill his liability)" -(QASAS-26); this denotes her sharp observation about Moses; note also in this context, that the Quran relates the words of ZELIKHA at Surah YOUSUF-52 (when she confessed to her wrong accusation of Joseph) which tell her observation that "Allah does not guide the device of the betrayers"; this denotes her understanding of something that certainly is true when betrayal is against some righteous person; she also, like the queen of Sheba (who had blamed the self of hers for the deception she practiced against Suleiman as we would study ahead), had blamed the self of hers for the wrong she had committed against Joseph-AS; so all these three women had awareness to the characteristics of the man, in their own respective manner; this also is notable that they provided their respective intelligent comments when provoked by their focus to three of Messengers of Allah who respectively were Suleiman, Moses and Joseph (Salam on all Messengers of Allah); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the queen of Sheba sent some most valuable present to Suleiman to see whether his concern is for the assets of the world or does he really care to improve them spiritually; though he would have rejected the present anyhow when it was intended to make him leave his task of bringing them to the Truth, yet by what the hoopoe had conveyed to him, he had gathered that the queen wants to know more about his character so he played on her fear and told the envoys, "go back to them, so we will most certainly come to them with hosts which they shall have no power to oppose, and we will most certainly expel them therefrom in disgrace and they shall be in a state of ignominy"; he knew that now she would visit him herself to solve the matter in the soft manner by mutual talks as he was aware that the queen does not intend to challenge him at the battleground; however, he did want to be sure about it and the other thing that he wanted, was to examine her intelligence more to see if she has the insight of interpreting signs provided to her; due to this, he enquired the prominent persons at his court if anyone might bring her throne to him before she comes to him; at this enquiry, one of the jinn, who was amazingly strong & audacious, responded, "I will bring it to you before you rise up from your place; and most surely I am strong (capable to do the job, and) trusty for it"; note that the jinn mentioned the same two qualities for himself which the daughter of the good old man had presented for Moses-AS, that he is capable to do the job of bringing the throne and he is so trustworthy that he would bring it directly to him for sure; so the Holy Book Quran tells about the person who provides his service for some task or is chosen to that, he must have two necessary attributes that is he would be QAVI (capable to perform his task well) and AMIN (honest to perform his task well); Al-Hamdu Lillah; when the jinn had offered his service, someone from the men there, who had the knowledge of the book (and Allah knows better about this man & the knowledge that he had of the book), said to Suleiman that he would bring him the throne in the twinkling of an eye and just as he said it, it manifested at the court; when Suleiman saw it settled beside him, he praised Allah and acknowledged that He has tried him whether he is grateful or ungrateful when he has such amazing persons around him at his service; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note here that the term JINN comes from combination of letters in Arabic that are used basically for something hidden; jinn are stronger than the human beings but angels, who are even stronger than jinn physically, protect human beings by the command of Allah so that jinn do not attack them by their physical power; however, the man, when he has the knowledge of the Truth well and practices the commands of Allah, is better placed than the jinn as Allah has provided him spiritual supremacy over the jinn; Al-Hamdu Lillah; when the throne of the queen came to Suleiman, he commanded some of men at his service to change some of its looks without altering it beyond recognition basically; now, as the queen reached the place and was welcomed there, she was asked about her throne as she saw it; that query to her was to see if she does accept that her throne could be brought in such short time to this place without any resistance from her armed personnel and without her knowledge of such feat; and it also was to make her realize that if Suleiman-AS intended to get precious worldly assets from her, he could have done it by force available to him but he does not have attachment to worldly assets that she had offered him; she wisely answered that "it was just like that" so as not to embarrass Suleiman, without answering wrongly; she had given respect to his letter too when she had received it so it seems that remaining harmonious to issues around for the sake of peace, was one of her traits; at this occasion, the queen of Sheba said that she and her people had submitted to Allah as they have received the knowledge leading to the Truth even before she has seen this amazing feat which tells that Suleiman-AS has the capability to bring her throne to his court within a short time without any trouble; however, she was making a bluff as the Quran tells clearly, "And what she worshipped besides Allah, prevented her; surely she was of disbelieving people"; Suleiman saw through her deception but he cared for her harmonious nature and her intelligence to see issues at hand (some of commentaries have mentioned that later-on Suleiman even honored her by marrying her); so he chose to convey his recognition of her deception by providing her a sign for it; he put a clear fine glass over a pool of clear water which came at the way to the royal palace to where he asked her to accompany him; as it needed to tread on that delicate fine glass he had made on the way and she thought that she is going to tread on the water that actually was under it, she pulled her cloth up; so Suleiman told her that this palace made with beautiful glass, has this pool of water covered with a delicate fine glass upon it and with that, he directed her well without any speech that as this glass is barrier to the clear water beneath, she also has some reservation in accepting the true belief so without causing her any embarrassment, he guided her to realize that he has detected her deception; she read this sign beautifully that Suleiman had made to her by this path of glass and this time without any deception, accepted Islam truly by heart clarifying that it is just like the acceptance of Suleiman for sure; note that the Holy Book Quran sets a standard for judgment of the true belief that it must be in accordance with the belief of persons well known in righteousness (see Surah-BAQARAH-137; Surah NISA-115; even the magicians who contested Moses, clarified when they accepted the Truth that they have accepted it like Aaron and Moses as TAHA-70 denotes); so the Queen of Sheba accepted the Truth by the same standard relating her acceptance to the acceptance of Suleiman-AS but she noted here that she would vouch for her own true belief without giving any comments to her nation whether they would accept the Truth or not; note that she had told the chiefs at her court, "I never decide an affair until you are in my presence", yet she decided this most crucial affair as it concerned her individual security at AKHIRAT and she did not take even a little time to accept the fundamental teachings of Islam; certainly, haste in the worldly matter is not appreciable by Islam but haste in matters of AKHIRAT is highly appreciable as the Quran points out to us, "Be quick in the race for forgiveness from your Lord, and for garden whose width is that of the heavens and of the earth, prepared for the righteous; those are who spend, whether in prosperity, or in adversity; who restrain anger, and pardon men, for Allah loves those who do good" (AALE-IMRAN-133 & 134); Al-Hamdu Lillah; note also that an important mode of expression in the Holy Book Quran is when it refers to something twice or even more, then at such places, there is some delicate difference; in the narration of creation of Adam in Surah BAQARAH, we find that Allah gave Adam & Eve the command to descend to earth twice, first before He granted mercy to Adam & Eve and second after His mercy; so the character of this same command is different as at first, it was given as punishment while at second, it was given to examine human-beings whether they really deserve JANNAH i.e. the garden of Paradise or not (see Surah Baqarah-35 to 39); the seventh Ruku at Surah ANFAAL mentions that the disbelievers (hypocrites) are much like the Pharaoh (of the oppression) and his people who disbelieved the AYAAT of Allah and so Allah punished them severely due to their disbelief so this implies that even that Pharaoh (whose wife Hatshepsut had saved Moses at his birth) and his near relatives knew about the fundamental teachings of Islam; just after this, the Ruku at ANFAAL mentions the Pharaoh and his people again so here the mention relates to the Pharaoh of the Exodus; this is notable that it relates this too that they were drowned though it does not tell this specific punishment at AAYAT-52 of the Ruku that narrates about the Pharaoh of the oppression; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Quran has stated both the statements of the queen about her belief whereas the second statement that she pronounced to mention her belief was most valid though she did try to deceive Suleiman-AS at first; we find that Allah certainly guides those who do want Guidance to the right path and miracles even, benefit those persons only who are much prepared to accept the Truth as it manifests to them, by the will of Allah; certainly, He only is the true Lord; certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NAML-The Fourth Ruku

45. And certainly We sent to THAMUD their brother SALEH, saying: Serve Allah; and lo! they became two sects quarrelling with each other.

46. He said: O my people! why do you seek to hasten on the evil before the good? Why do you not ask forgiveness of Allah so that you may be dealt with mercifully?

47. They said: We have met with ill luck on account of you and on account of those with you. He said: The cause of your evil fortune is with Allah; nay, you are a people who are tried.

48. And there were in the city nine persons who made mischief in the land and did not act aright.

49. They said: Swear to each other by Allah that we will certainly make a sudden attack on him and his family by night, then we will say to his heir: We did not witness the destruction of his family, and we are most surely truthful.

50. And they planned a plan, and We planned a plan while they perceived not.

51. See, then, how was the end of their plan that We destroyed them and their people, all (of them).

52. So those are their houses fallen down because they were unjust, most surely there is a sign in this for a people who know.

53. And We delivered those who believed and who guarded (against evil).

54. And (We sent) Lot, when he said to his people: What! do you commit indecency while you see?

55. What! do you indeed approach men lustfully rather than women? Nay, you are a people who act ignorantly.

56. But the answer of his people was no other except that they said: Turn out Lot's followers from your town; surely they are a people who would keep pure!

57. But We delivered him and his followers except his wife; We ordained her to be of those who remained behind.

58. And We rained on them a rain, and evil was the rain of those who had been warned.

After the narration of events related to Suleiman-AS, this Ruku at Surah NAML tells about Saleh-AS and Lot-

AS; Allah sent Saleh to the nation of THAMUD who used to live at the southeastern part of Madyan (this location was placed at the east of the Gulf of AL-AQABAH) and due to their extreme wrongs, met their destruction by the most deadly earthquake and they all were dead at their homes laying prostrate; Allah had provided a she-camel to the nation of Saleh when they asked for a miracle, which they killed without any care to his guidance that they shall never give any trouble to it; the Ruku begins by the statement that Saleh told his nation to believe truly in Allah by acceptance that He only is the true Lord and they need to obey His commands only; though the elite among them did not accept his guidance yet many of ordinary men accepted it; this difference of belief caused much friction among those people as substantial number of persons accepted Saleh and that resulted in their division into two sects that did quarrel with each other; the elite among them blamed Saleh for it and even asked him to bring the disaster that he promises them if they reject the guidance that he is providing them; Saleh told them all, "O my people! why do you seek to hasten on the evil (i.e. the punishment) before the good (i.e. the acceptance of the Truth)? -why do you not ask forgiveness of Allah (on your wrong-doings) so that you may be dealt with mercifully? they said- we have met with ill luck on account of you and on account of those with you (they meant that they were quarreling among themselves as they are divided into two sects, because of his guidance); he said- the cause of your evil fortune is with Allah (as He has set the life at the world as an examination for all peoples indeed); nay, you are a people who are tried (so he implied that either they accept the Truth or either they face certain death by most extreme punishment even at the world)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; there were nine mischievous persons in THAMUD, who were always ready to give trouble to persons around, who planned to kill Saleh with his family at night and decided that they would do it together in such manner that if any of his heirs tried to put any blame on them, they would lie that they do not know anything about it so they would save their tribes from any trouble that they would have to face, due to this act; this council of theirs took place after one of them had killed the she-camel brutally but before they could execute their plan, Allah brought His punishment to all of THAMUD as we have read at Surah AARAAF, "then the earthquake overtook them, so they became motionless bodies in their abode; then Saleh turned away from them and said - O my people - I did certainly deliver to you the message of my Lord, and I gave you good advice - but you do not love those who give good advice"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; read also the note at the tenth Ruku of AARAAF; after this, the Ruku tells about Lot-AS who had been sent to the people living at Sodom and Gomorrah at south of the dead sea; they were extremely filthy persons who used to commit the heinous sin of sodomy among men; Lot who actually did not belong to that nation but had been sent to them as the Messenger of Allah, tried his best to reform them of this heinous sin but to no avail; in fact, they intended to expel him from their city just because he challenged their filth; from AAYAT-54 to the last of Ruku, Allah tells "and (We sent) Lot, when he said to his people: What! do you commit indecency while you see (the filth of it most clearly)? -what! do you indeed approach men lustfully rather than women (whom Allah has created in such manner that they may fulfill this need of men becoming wives to them)? -nay, you are a people who act ignorantly (by surrender to extreme perverted lustful feeling); but the answer of his people was no other except that they said -turn out Lot's followers from your town; surely they are a people who would keep pure (so they would make disturbance all the time by their righteous TABLIGH)! -but We delivered him and his followers except his wife; We ordained her to be of those who remained behind; and We rained on them a rain (of stones), and evil was the rain of those who had been warned"; note that angels came at Sodom & Gomorrah and as a miracle of Lot-AS, even the people saw them though they were unaware that they are angels; they were punished by extreme chastisement that shower of stones fell upon them that caused a painful death to all that nation but Allah saved Lot and all those who had accepted the fundamental teachings of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NAML-The Fifth Ruku

59. Say: Praise be to Allah and peace on His servants whom He has chosen: is Allah better, or what they associate (with Him)?

60. Nay, He Who created the heavens and the earth, and sent down for you water from the cloud (SAMAA i.e. the nearby heaven); then We cause to grow thereby beautiful gardens; it is not possible for you that you should make the trees thereof to grow. Is there a god with Allah? Nay! they are people who deviate.

61. Or, Who made the earth a resting place, and made in it rivers, and raised on it mountains and placed between the two seas a barrier. Is there a god with Allah? Nay! most of them do not know!

62. Or, Who answers the distressed one when he calls upon Him and removes the evil, and He makes you successors in the earth. Is there a god with Allah? Little is it that you mind!

63. Or, Who guides you in utter darkness of the land and the sea, and Who sends the winds as good news before His mercy. Is there a god with Allah? Most high is Allah above what they associate (with Him).

64. Or, Who originates the creation, then reproduces it and Who gives you sustenance from the heaven and the earth. Is there a god with Allah? Say: Bring your proof if you are truthful.

65. Say: No one in the heavens and the earth knows the unseen but Allah; and they do not know when they shall be raised.

66. Nay, their knowledge respecting the hereafter is slight; nay, they are in doubt about it; nay, they are quite blind to it.

At this Ruku at NAML, Allah tells Muhammad PBUH, His last Messenger, to ask disbelievers to give attention to most obvious things which prove that Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that Allah does not address disbelievers directly at the world so the only AAYAT (i.e. AAYAT-7 of TAHREEM) where Allah addresses disbelievers directly, tells the matter at AKHIRAT and not at their life at the world; it reads, "O you who disbelieve! do not urge excuses today; you shall be rewarded only according to what you did (at the world)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first AAYAT of the Ruku tells him to ask disbelievers that all praise belongs to Him and peace be on all His Messengers who guided their peoples to TAUHID so disbelievers have to see whether Allah is better Who cares to provide the Guidance to the right path to all persons for their safety at the world and at AKHIRAT, or those whom they associate with Him, who do not have any power to make things better for them in any way; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT tells him to ask them to observe how Allah has provided for the sustenance of the man that he lives with convenience due to the rainwater that is the most pure water for drinking & for general usage and by which, He has provided the man with edible fruits, crops and plants; it was totally impossible for the mankind to transform the seeds into trees but Allah has created the heaven and the earth in such manner that everything works to bring it to trees and edible items of different shapes, colors and tastes (that even are beautiful to see) for the benefit of the mankind so disbelievers have to see if there could be any of the creation of Allah who may challenge Him Who cares to provide such edibles to all persons for their sustenance, but they still choose to deviate from the right path; the third AAYAT tells him to ask them to observe how beautifully Allah has created the earth as the place for the mankind to live with convenience, in which He has provided rivers to irrigate fields of fruits, crops & trees and has made mountains upon it to provide it solid stability and He placed barrier between two seas to distinguish them from each other; so disbelievers have to see if there could be any of the creation of Allah who may challenge

Him Who cares to provide such safe manner to all persons to live at the earth and travel through it with ease, but most of them do not know; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the fourth AAYAT of the Ruku tells him to ask them, "Who answers the distressed one when he calls upon Him and removes the evil, and He makes you successors in the earth"; Surah AN'AAM-40 & 41 read that, "say - tell me if the chastisement of Allah should overtake you (O disbelievers) or the hour should come upon you, will you call (on others) besides Allah, if you are truthful? -nay, Him you call upon, so He clears away that for which you pray if He pleases and you forget what you set up (with Him)"; so the disbelievers must observe their attitude when some calamity falls upon them; at that crucial time, they would call Allah only as they know that their idols are totally unable to help them and besides Allah, there is nobody who has any control on anything; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that IKRIMAH, the son of ABU-JAHL, accepted Islam truly by heart as he saw at the fierce storm that his ship faced during the voyage at sea when he was running away from Makkah; he observed that everyone was calling Allah for safety and they all had forgotten those that they took as His equals in authority; that affected him most positively and he realized the Truth then & there; he returned and had the honor to accept Islam at the hands of Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah; some people do need a storm in life to realize their true benefit and that even is the blessing of Allah Who brings out light even from darkness; Allah gave him TOFIQ (chance for improvement due to acceptance of Islam) to fight the worse enemies of Islam then, so Allah is the only one Who relieves a man from extreme stress when he puts himself at such condition where he does not find any outlet for his relief; so "the distressed one" at the AAYAT means such person who is unable to find any way out physically when he finds himself into most troublesome situation by his own doing and with that, it also denotes such person who does not have any mentionable good deeds by which he may ask Allah for any improvement of issues at his inside; with all wrongs of man, Allah still is taking the world ahead to the destination He has assigned for it, even by the doings of the man and certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the fifth AAYAT of the Ruku, that is AAYAT-63 of the Surah, tells him to ask them Who guides them in utter darkness of land when they travel at it or at sea when they have taken a voyage to somewhere; note that the earth has mounts and protruding shapes at different places that serve as signposts of different sorts at those places providing the awareness to the traveler where he actually is and how far he has to travel to reach his destination; at the sea, they take guidance by stars at nights, and by how the Sun manifests at the heaven at the daylight; the twelfth Ruku of Surah AN'AAM tell that if a person considers the creation around him with observation, he would see that they manifest many of Islamic teachings by different aspects (specially TAUHID as there is order in their working and no clash with each other); if he considers his own self with observation, he would see that it manifests many of Islamic teachings (specially AKHIRAT) as he would see that many people are living on at the world and many have gone to graves so life is going towards some destination as the spirit of the person does not die; if he observes the rainwater, he would see that it brings forth from the earth different fruits and flowers that are similar to and vary with each other; just as they bloom out of the earth amazingly by the rain so the dead would rise from their graves and that would be the Day of Judgment; this fifth AAYAT of the Ruku also tells him to ask them Who sends the good winds as good news before the rainwater that He sends from the heaven so that all persons may prepare for it to benefit from it in different ways and not get troubled by it; the sixth AAYAT, that is AAYAT-64 of the Surah, tells him to ask them, "Or, Who originates the creation, then reproduces it and Who gives you sustenance from the heaven and the earth"; certainly, Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last two AAYAAT of the Ruku guide towards belief in TAUHID and towards belief in AKHIRAT respectively respecting the first AAYAT of the Ruku; they read, "say- no one in the heavens and the earth knows the unseen but Allah (as He only has the true authority so no one of His creation that the disbelievers associate with Him, are able to challenge Him in any manner); and they (who are dead amongst those whom the disbelievers associate with Him) do not know when they shall be raised; nay, their knowledge (i.e. the knowledge of many disbelievers) respecting AKHIRAT is slight; nay, (as for other of them) they are in doubt about it; nay (as for still other of them), they are quite blind to it (so all three groups of disbelievers are oblivious to AKHIRAT by this reason or that, whereas every person needs to care that he has to answer for all his deeds that he did at the world, at the day of HASHR i.e. the Day of Judgment, the first day of AKHIRAT)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NAML-The Sixth Ruku

67. And those who disbelieve say: What! when we have become dust and our fathers (too), shall we certainly be brought forth?

68. We have certainly been promised this, we and our fathers before; these are naught but stories of the ancients

69. Say: Travel in the earth, then see how was the end of the guilty.

70. And grieve not for them and be not distressed because of what they plan.

71. And they say: When will this threat come to pass, if you are truthful?

72. Say: Maybe there may have drawn near to you somewhat of that which you seek to hasten on.

73. And surely your Lord is the Lord of grace to men, but most of them are not grateful.

74. And most surely your Lord knows what their breasts conceal and what they manifest.

75. And there is nothing concealed in the heaven and the earth but it is in a clear book.

76. Surely this Quran declares to the children of Israel most of what they differ in.

77. And most surely it is a guidance and a mercy for the believers.

78. Surely your Lord will judge between them by His judgment, and He is the Mighty, the Knowing.

79. Therefore rely on Allah; surely you are on the clear truth.

80. Surely you do not make the dead to hear, and you do not make the deaf to hear the call when they go back retreating.

81. Nor can you be a guide to the blind out of their error; you cannot make to hear (any one) except those who believe in Our AAYAAT, so they submit.

82. And when the word shall come to pass against them, We shall bring forth for them a creature from the earth that shall speak to them, because people did not believe in Our AAYAAT.

This Ruku starts by the statement of disbelievers which tells their denial of AKHIRAT that when they and their forefathers become dust, they would not be brought to life again; they took the significant teaching of Islam about AKHIRAT as talks only which the ancient teachers told peoples to assert their importance and other than that, it has no consequence; this expresses their total ignorance to things that they are unable to perceive by their five physical senses so whatever is hidden to them, they take it as nonexistent; the Quran tells Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, to clarify to them that even their senses are extremely faulty as they need to travel to places where they would find that Allah destroyed those nations completely which challenged the fundamental teachings of Islam so only the Truth kept firm; AAYAAT ask him not to worry over disbelievers and over whatever they plan to harm the teachings of Islam because his liability is to provide those teachings to them most clearly (and not to necessarily bring them to Islam) and because other of Messengers of Allah had also faced denial to their good teachings, the teachings of Islam; the disbelievers also questioned the Prophet PBUH about the timing of punishment that would get them, as their trust on their physical senses led them to the conclusion that whatever the people before them faced, they are immune to any extreme disaster or they would handle it whenever it came upon them; with their limited sight that only leads to delusion, they thought that when nothing extremely destructive has happened to them for number of decades while they presently have such power to manage any such thing that might get to them, they are invincible; the Quran tells him to clarify to them that if they stick to their wrongs, they certainly would be destroyed and some of that destruction might be touching them even at present; AAYAAT-73, 74 & 75 at the Ruku state, "and surely your Lord is the Lord of grace to men (that He gives ample time to all peoples to accept the Truth and eliminates the impression of such people who would only challenge it and would not accept it), but most of them are not grateful (even upon this time provided to them and the beautiful setup of events that Allah has provided by His will); and most surely your Lord knows what their breasts conceal and what they manifest (so whatever plans they have to harm the Truth or to safeguard themselves, Allah knows them all and they surely would be totally unable to prevent any destruction that Allah puts on them at the time He has set for it); and there is nothing concealed in the heaven and the earth but it is in a clear book (so if they do deserve the destruction due to their extreme disbelief, they surely would get it as the written time for it, falls upon them)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead mentions the Bani-Israel separately due to their belief in AKHIRAT, which tell that the Quran gives the righteous guidance in many of matters (that especially relate to AKHIRAT) also to the Bani-Israel (and this includes even the Christians here) in which they differ with the true Muslims; so whereas it is guidance to all persons, it is the most specific blessing to the true Muslims; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah would certainly judge between all of them by His judgment (at the Day of Judgment) and He is AZIZ so He does not let any wrong remain at the world by His true authority and He is ALEEM so He knows all respective doings of every person, for which He would judge all persons at the Day of Judgment; note that few names of Allah that denote His attributes, are not disallowed to use for some person too and AZIZ, that actually is one of the names of Allah, is included in such names; however, this has to remain clear that attributes of Allah are QADEEM (they are from always to always), ASL (they are of His Own, not achieved from anyone) and LA-MEHDUD (they all are limitless) whereas the qualities of any man are formed for him, given for him and set in limits for him by Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah TAUBAH-128 reads, "now has come unto you Messenger from amongst yourselves- it grieves him that you should perish- ardently anxious is he over you- to the believers, he is most kind (RA'UF) and merciful (RAHIM)"; note that both RA'UF and RAHIM are actually the names of Allah and both denote His attributes; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-79 tells the Prophet PBUH to remain most firm, with total trust upon Allah, on the task of spreading the teachings of Islam as he most certainly is on the right path of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-80 & 81 tell the Prophet PBUH that if they do not accept Islam, it is not due to his inadequacy in any way but they are like dead persons whom no person is able to deliver any message; note that the Quran tells clearly that the dead persons do not hear anything and though this comes to clarify that the disbelievers have become most oblivious to hearing of anything yet the mention of similarity itself tells that the dead persons do not hear anything addressed to them; AAYAT-65 of this Surah also implies this as it reads, "say- no one in the heavens and the earth knows the unseen but Allah (as He only has the true authority so no one of His creation that the disbelievers associate with Him, are able to challenge Him in any manner); and they (who are dead amongst those whom the disbelievers associate with Him) do not know when they shall be raised"; the Holy Book Quran says in Surah FAATIR, "neither are the living and the dead alike; surely Allah makes whom He pleases hear, and you cannot make those hear who are in the graves" (FAATIR-22); at another place, the Holy Book Quran points out, "and who is in greater error than he who calls besides Allah upon those that will not answer him till the day of resurrection and they are heedless of their call?" (AHQAAF-5); although these AAYAAT have been taken to mean that the persons who do not take the guidance when they are called towards it are like dead persons who do not hear and so do not answer yet this in itself denotes that dead persons do not hear and the simple manner to take issues is always the best; however, please note that there is general acceptance that the Prophet (PBUH) does hear the Salaam addressed to him at his grave while the Salaam that is given by heart to him with some voice at some place away from him is taken-up by angels and conveyed to him; this proves that Allah has allowed him to hear the Salaam presented to him by the UMMAH but that is specific permission for him and that also about Salaam only that is conveyed to him; the important point to note is this that AAYAT-22 of Surah FAATIR of the Holy Book Quran tells very clearly that if the person who has departed from the world does hear anything from here, it is because Allah wants him to hear that and no living person makes anyone that has passed away hear anything from his side by his own efforts; the Prophet (PBUH) did address the dead persons yet it is possible that being the Messenger of Allah, he knew that they would hear him by the permission of Allah; as for us, we all must refrain from addressing the dead as if they are hearing as we do not know the will of Allah though we must pray Allah for their mercy; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that even for the SHAHEED (who give their lives for the cause of Islam), who live at somewhere just as they achieve SHAHADAH (and it might even be some place at JANNAH), the ruling for hearing our voice would remain the same that even they do not get it, as their lives are at the plane that we do not understand; it is mentioned in the Holy Book Quran, "and say not of those who are killed in the way of Allah that 'they are dead'; nay, they are living, but you perceive not"; (Surah Baqarah-154); Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-80 & 81 read, "surely you do not make the dead to hear, and you do not make the deaf to hear the call (especially) when they go back retreating; nor can you be a guide to the blind (who has decided to remain ignorant to the Truth by heart) out of their error; you cannot make to hear (any one) except those who (are most ready at heart to) believe in Our AAYAAT, so they submit"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku states, "and when the word shall come to pass against them, We shall bring forth for them a creature from the earth that shall speak to them, because people did not believe in Our AAYAAT"; this specifically tells the disbelievers that if they need a manifest sign for believing in AKHIRAT, those of them who would be living much near to the last day of the world would see that too without any chance to recompense; note that if they accept Islam at that time, it would not benefit them as it would be among the most final signs of the last day of the world; it would be some creature coming from the depths of earth that would speak to the mankind with total ease, no matter how strange they think this is; Tirmidhi, one of the esteemed books on Ahadith, reports in the book of FITAN (extreme trying times near the last day of the world i.e. QIYAMAT) that Allah's Messenger (PBUH) said, "by Him Who has my life in His grasp, the Last Hour (QIYAMAT) will not come before the beasts speak to men and before the tip of his whip and the thong of his sandal speak to man and his thigh informs him what his family members have been doing since he had left them"; the beasts, though mentioned in plural, actually refers to the beast mentioned here in the AAYAT; by other Ahadith, we know that this amazing beast would come forth at Makkah extremely nearer to QAYAMAT; note that we Muslims do not take this beast as an indication of Antichrist that we call DAJJAL (the greatest imposter) but we take this mentioned beast in the literal sense; about other things that are narrated here in the Hadith about the speech of lifeless things, this plainly seems to me an indication of the scientific gadgets that give us messages about all our surroundings and tell us about our family members wherever we are; the whip, the sandal or the cloth at thigh might be an indication that we would be able to put these wonder gadgets anywhere (especially at thigh); note that the Prophet (PBUH) conveyed about signs and future events near to QAYAMAT in terms that could be understood better in those ancient times though now we live in strange times and it seems that such Ahadith point out much of today's matters as no doubt, this time is much nearer to QAYAMAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

NAML-The Last Ruku

83. And on the day when We will gather from every nation a party from among those who rejected Our AAYAAT, then they shall be set in array.

84. Until when they come, He will say: Did you reject My AAYAAT while you had no comprehensive knowledge of them? Or what was it that you did?

85. And the word shall come to pass against them because they were unjust, so they shall not speak.

86. Do they not consider that We have made the night that they may rest therein, and the day to give light? Most surely there are signs in this for the people who believe.

87. And on the day when the trumpet shall be blown, then those who are in the heavens and those who are in the earth shall be terrified except such as Allah please, and all shall come to Him abased.

88. And you see the mountains, you think them to be solid, and they shall pass away as the passing away of the cloud- the handiwork of Allah Who has made everything thoroughly; surely He is Aware of what you do.

89. Whoever brings good, he shall have better than it; and they shall be secure from terror on the day.

90. And whoever brings evil, these shall be thrown down on their faces into the fire; shall you be rewarded (for) aught except what you did?

91. I am commanded only that I should serve the Lord of this city, Who has made it sacred, and His are all things; and I am commanded that I should be of those who submit;

92. And that I should recite the Quran; so whoever goes aright, he goes aright for his own soul, and whoever goes astray, then say: I am only one of the warning persons.

93. And say: Praise be to Allah; He will show you His signs so that you shall recognize them; nor is your Lord heedless of what you do.

The last Ruku of Surah NAML tells explicitly that the Day of Judgment is certain to come and the world would surely come to an end; the last three AAYAAT conclude by telling the Prophet PBUH that he shall remain firm upon the Islamic teachings and shall go on providing its teachings to all peoples of the world by the Quran; he shall convey to all that he only has to provide the Islamic teachings to them by the Quran yet he does not have the liability to see that they come to Islam necessarily; whoever goes aright, he goes aright for his own soul, and whoever goes astray, its evil would fall upon him only, as at AKHIRAT, everyone has to account for his deeds individually; Allah would certainly show His signs near to QAYAMAT (one of them being the creature coming out of earth) and then, the disbelievers would surely see that the last day of the world is very near to them; He is not unaware of the deeds that the disbelievers commit at the world, so He certainly would give them the chastisement that they truly deserve, at the Day of Judgment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first three AAYAAT of the Ruku state, "and on the day (of Judgment) when We will gather from every nation a party from among those who rejected Our AAYAAT, then they shall be set in array; until when they come, He will say- did you reject My AAYAAT while you had no comprehensive knowledge of them? Or what was it that you did? (this means that Allah would ask them the reason for their disbelief as He had provided them the Guidance to the right path and had given them everything for their sustenance at the world), and the word shall come to pass against them (that they would see the returns to their evil deeds without any chance to recompense) because they were unjust, so they shall not speak (as they would have no valid answer)"; so the AAYAT at the beginning states that at the Day of Judgment, Allah would take out a host of extreme disbelievers from each of nations, then these disbelievers would be arranged by their ranks due to the intensity of their disbelief; it seems that such disbelievers who were most averse to the fundamental teachings of Islam at the world, would be set aside there; their deeds, even those that seemingly are good, would become useless so there would be no balance set to weigh those, to account for them and they would most certainly, get their extreme chastisement at AKHIRAT; AAYAAT at the last Ruku of Surah KAHF state; "say- shall We inform you of the greatest losers in (their) deeds? (these are) they whose labor is lost in this world's life and they think that they are well versed in skill of the work of hands (i.e. in their deeds for AKHIRAT); these are they who disbelieve in the AAYAAT of their Lord and His meeting, so their deeds become null, and therefore We will not set up a balance for them on the day of resurrection; thus it is that their recompense is hell, because they disbelieved and held My AAYAAT and My apostles in mockery" (KAHF-103 to 106); however, with all said, the final statement certainly is that Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-86, 87 & 88 ahead tell about life at the world and about end of the world; they read, "do they not consider that We have made the night that they may rest therein, and the day to give light? (so this provides an evidence that as the times here at earth are most favorable to the safety of life and as the places here at earth are most favorable to the safety of life, then this all is set by Allah, the true Lord, for some purpose which is that He is examining all persons whether they deserve Jannah or not); most surely there are signs in this for the people who believe (as waking from the sleep of the night shows that awareness returns after the state of oblivion); and on the day when the (first) trumpet shall be blown (to end the life at the world), then those who are in the heavens and those who are in the earth shall be terrified except such as Allah please, and all shall come to Him abased (remaining totally humble to Him); and you see the mountains, you think them to be solid, and they shall pass away (at the end of the world) as the passing away of the cloud (this, Surah QARI'AH-4 & 5 state too that it would be "the day on which men shall be as scattered moths and the mountains shall be as loosened wool")- the handiwork of Allah Who has made everything thoroughly; surely He is Aware of what you do (so He certainly would bring the end to the world and then at the day of HASHR i.e. the first day of AKHIRAT, He certainly would present all persons their respective documents of deeds, who had come at the world at any place and at any time)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next couple of AAYAAT state that every person at AKHIRAT would receive the returns to his/her good deeds even better while the returns of his/her evil deeds would lead him/her to the hell-fire; these AAYAAT read, "whoever brings good, he shall have better than it; and they shall be secure from terror on the day; and whoever brings evil, these shall be thrown down on their faces into the fire; shall you be rewarded (for) aught except what you did?"; note that AAYAT-87 relates that at QIYAMAT (the last day of the world), "those who are in the heavens and those who are in the earth shall be terrified except such as Allah please" but for YAUMUL-QIYAMAT (the Day of Judgment i.e. the first day of AKHIRAT), AAYAT-89 declares, "whoever brings good, he shall have better than it; and they shall be secure from terror on the day"; so at QIYAMAT, Allah would provide security from being terrified, to all those only who remained most highly committed to the Islamic teachings but at the Day of HASHR, He would provide security to all of good persons who totally deserve to enter Jannah (the gardens of Paradise); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last three AAYAAT conclude the Surah by telling the Prophet PBUH that he shall remain firm upon the Islamic teachings, that are the most sacred teachings which Allah is providing to him at the most sacred city of Makkah, and he shall go on providing its teachings to all peoples of the world by the Holy Book Quran; he shall convey to all peoples of the world that he only has to provide the Islamic teachings to them by the Quran, the Word of Allah, yet he does not have the liability to see that they come to Islam necessarily because whoever goes aright, he goes aright for his own soul, and whoever goes astray, its evil would fall upon him only; Allah would show His signs near to QAYAMAT; then, the disbelievers would surely see that the last day of the world is very near to them; He knows all of their deeds completely and so they would certainly get their certain punishment that they deserve, at the Day of Judgment; these AAYAAT read, "I am commanded only that I should serve the Lord of this city, Who has made it sacred, and His are all things; and I am commanded that I should be of those who submit; and that I should recite the Quran; so whoever goes aright, he goes aright for his own soul, and whoever goes astray, then say- I am only one of the warning persons; and say- praise be to Allah; He will show you His signs so that you shall recognize them; nor is your Lord heedless of what you do"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah QASAS

(Consists of 9 Ruku; MK-5)

QASAS-The First Ruku

1. TA SIN MIM.

2. These are the verses of the Book that makes (things) clear.

3. We recite to you from the account of Musa and Pharaoh with truth for people who believe.

4. Surely Pharaoh exalted himself in the land and made its people into parties, weakening one party from among them; he slaughtered their sons and let their women live; surely he was one of the mischief-makers.

5. And We desired to bestow favor upon those who were deemed weak in the land, and to make them the Imams, and to make them the heirs,

6. And to grant them power in the land, and to make Pharaoh and Haman and their hosts see from them what they feared.

7. And We revealed to Musa's mother, saying: Give him suck, then when you fear for him, cast him into the river and do not fear nor grieve; surely We will bring him back to you and make him one of the apostles.

8. And Pharaoh's family took him up that he might be an enemy and a grief for them; surely Pharaoh and Haman and their hosts were extremely mistaken.

9. And Pharaoh's wife said: A refreshment of the eye to me and to you; do not slay him; maybe he will be useful to us, or we may take him for a son; and they did not perceive.

10. And the heart of Musa's mother became void (worried); she would have almost disclosed it, had We not strengthened her heart so that she might be of the believers.

11. And she said to his sister: Follow him up. So she watched him from a distance while they did not perceive,

12. And We ordained that he refused to suck any foster mother before, so she said: Shall I point out to you the people of a house who will take care of him for you, and they will be benevolent to him?

13. So We gave him back to his mother that her eye might be refreshed, and that she might not grieve, and that she might know that the promise of Allah is true, but most of them do not know.

Surah QASAS also descended the same year (i.e. MK-5) like Surah SHUA'RAA and Surah NAML, after them; like Surah SHUA'RAA, Surah QASAS also starts with TA SIN MIM that are among MUQATTA'AAT (i.e. the 14 disjointed letters that are among the Arabic alphabets which come at the commencement of 29 Surah in specific combinations) and all these Surah that begin with them, have reference to the Holy Book Quran after them except for Surah-29 (i.e. ANKABUT) and Surah-30 (i.e. ROUM); read also my writing "Expressions of the Quran" to get more awareness to the MUQATTA'AAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from the first Ruku to the fourth, this Surah narrates about Moses-AS as Allah tells in its third AAYAT, "We recite to you from the account of Musa and Pharaoh with truth for people who believe"; see also the supplementary note on AAYAT-129 of AARAAF after the note at its fifteenth Ruku; and the Surah gives the message that status at world, authority at world over high number of people and abundance of wealth here is not the standard for success but the true success is to get Jannah at AKHIRAT so all persons must avoid giving preference to the life at the world over that true life, which is the asking of SABR (patience); it is the will of Allah only, which reigns ultimately at all times and at all places, Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT at this Ruku present the situation of the Bani-Israel at the birth of Moses-AS that it was the time of trial for the Bani-Israel as the Pharaoh Thutmose-II, the weak Pharaoh, had ordered to kill all the male children born that year at Bani-Israel so as to reduce their large population, due to his fear that they do not challenge the Egyptians in the long-run; and so at the birth of Moses, his mother put him in some crib as Allah had commanded her and put him with measures that the crib floats on the water of Nile (and it was the wife of Pharaoh i.e. Hatshepsut, known as AASEIAH in the literature of Muslims, who had saved Moses-AS when he was floating at the waters in his crib); these AAYAAT read, "surely Pharaoh exalted himself in the land and made its people into parties, weakening one party from among them; he slaughtered their sons and let their women live; surely he was one of the mischief-makers (as when a person uses his authority only to trouble all persons around, he certainly is among the mischief-makers); and We desired to bestow favor upon those who were deemed weak in the land, and to make them the Imams (to lead people to the Truth), and to make them the heirs (of many of assets of the world), and to grant them power in the land (by providing them the management of their affairs by their own), and to make Pharaoh and Haman (his advisor) and their hosts (his chief associates) see from them what they feared (i.e. the challenge to their authority over the Bani-Israel)"; note that Haman was one of the prominent advisors of the Pharaoh of oppression and he was present at the court of the Pharaoh of exodus too in some official status, whom Moses had given the message of Islam by the command of Allah; AAYAT-38 of this Surah states that Pharaoh of exodus had asked Haman to kindle a fire for him and bake bricks at it and then prepare a lofty building so that he obtains knowledge of Whom Musa worships; though it was idiocy of Pharaoh to ask such thing to Haman yet it shows that Haman had lived to a ripe age and had witnessed Moses as he had presented the message of Islam at the Pharaoh's court; AAYAAT from the seventh to the ninth of the Ruku continue the narrative where Allah tells, "and We revealed to Musa's mother, saying- give him suck, then when you fear for him, cast him into the river and do not fear nor grieve; surely We will bring him back to you and make him one of the apostles; and Pharaoh's family took him up that he might be an enemy and a grief for them; surely Pharaoh and Haman and their hosts were extremely mistaken (as they nourished Moses who was to become utmost grief to them); and Pharaoh's wife said- a refreshment of the eye to me and to you; do not slay him; maybe he will be useful to us, or we may take him for a son; and they did not perceive"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; there are three notable things in these three AAYAAT respectively; at the first of these AAYAAT, Allah declares that He "revealed" to Musa's mother to remain untroubled if she has any fear in respect to the safety of her son Moses so even though she was an ordinary person yet Allah declares that He revealed to her; note also that Allah has not appointed any woman as His Messenger and though Mariam-AS, the only woman mentioned by name in the Quran, is mentioned most respectfully yet she too, was not among His Messengers; the notable thing about revelation is that it is of different types and Surah SHURA-51 states, "and it is not for any human being that Allah should speak to him except by revelation or from behind a partition or that He sends a messenger (angel JIBRAEL) to reveal, by His permission, what He wills;

indeed, He is Most High and Wise" (SHURA-51); this revelation (WAHI) from Allah, truly guides the man spiritually to righteousness but when the man thinks that he has enhanced his observation to height by technical gadgets and he is able to get all facts by it then this thought misguides him much; many of the technical gadgets that we have today, have been put to such usage that they are asking men to go astray from the right path as whatever they get even by the most refined technical gadgets and even by high reflection of mind, they all are totally deficient in understanding life in the true sense; note that Adam-AS was given all sorts of physical knowledge yet for the sake of his spiritual purity, he still had to learn words from Allah to ask for His mercy (see BAQARAH-30 to 39); WAHI (revelation from Allah to the man) was the means by which Allah guided all human-beings though this came to His Prophets only, that were men of very high caliber spiritually, to guide the mankind to righteousness; so, WAHI was the message of Allah that He provided to His chosen men (Prophets) and He gave this message openly to them or even in some concealed manner; it was totally based on pure wisdom and was totally beyond the material sphere so as such, it was that practical knowledge that was about the right path that Allah brought to His Prophets only, who were most pure in spirit; it was in three manners as AAYAT-51 of SHURA explicitly tells that this came to him directly at heart

more of honey), in which there is healing for men; most surely there is a sign in this for the people who reflect"; so the notable thing at AAYAT-7 here is that the Quran uses the term "revelation" in the meaning of ILHAAM too at some places; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-8 conveys that surely Pharaoh and Haman and their hosts were extremely mistaken in providing safety to themselves when they saved the life of Moses; the notable thing here is that the Pharaoh was creating an extreme trouble for the Bani-Israel by killing the male children that were born to them and the reason was to prevent the Bani-Israel from challenging the authority of Egyptians and to remain content with their slavery; but it happened that the Pharaoh nourished that child by his own care, who was destined to save the Bani-Israel from their unjust clutches; when Allah wills for something, He makes all things work for it and any challenge to it, becomes totally futile; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-9 states, "and Pharaoh's wife said- a refreshment of the eye to me and to you; do not slay him; maybe he will be useful to us, or we may take him for a son; and they did not perceive"; the notable thing here is that the words "maybe he will be useful to us, or we take him for a son" are the same that AZIZ had said to his wife ZELIKHA when he has brought Yusuf-AS at home (see Surah YOUSUF-21); there are many other highly interesting similarities too between Yusuf-AS and Musa-AS that observation does bring to light; note that in both instances, the women that are named as ZELICHA and AASEIAH respectively, accepted the Truth with time; the latter believed in Moses-AS as the Holy Book Quran confirms it (Surah TAHREEM-11) while the former said such words that do tell that she (ZELICHA) had come to believe in Yusuf-AS completely (Surah YOUSUF-53) and Allah guides to the Truth whom He wills; this denotes that sometimes good words that are spoken to care for good persons, affect someone in such positive manner that he/she gets the highest of blessing by Allah by those good words; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-10 to last tell how Allah gave Moses back to his mother as He had given His word to her; being his mother, she got most worried about Moses if he has reached some safety or not and she came near to telling how she had flowed him at the river; but she had strong belief in Allah and He cared for her that He stopped her from disclosing anything about him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; but she sent his sister Mariam to investigate where Moses had flowed to and she saw him from a safe distance, as not to arouse the suspicion of the gathering there that she is closely related to the child; it happened that Moses did not take the milk of any women so Mariam, who had visited the area around the palace time & again, managed to convey the word to the staff at duty there that she knows a woman who is able to feed the child and that word went ahead and by this manner, the mother of Moses was appointed to feed him; the last AAYAAT of the Ruku state, "and We ordained that he refused to suck any foster mother before, so she (his sister) said- shall I point-out to you the people of a house who will take care of him for you, and they will be benevolent to him? so We gave him back to his mother that her eye might be refreshed, and that she might not grieve, and that she might know that the promise of Allah is true, but most of them do not know" (QASAS-12 & 13); Al-Hamdu Lillah.

QASAS-The Second Ruku

14. And when he attained his maturity and became full grown, We granted him wisdom and knowledge; and thus do We reward those who do good (to others).

15. And he went into the city at a time of slackness on the part of its people, so he found therein two men fighting, one being of his party and the other of his foes, and he who was of his party cried out to him for help against him who was of his enemies, so Musa struck him (i.e. the Egyptian) with his fist and killed him. He said: This is on account of the Satan's doing; surely he is an enemy, openly leading astray.

16. He said: My Lord! surely I have done harm to myself, so do Thou forgive me; so He forgave him; surely He is the Forgiving, the Merciful;

17. He said: My Lord! because Thou hast bestowed a favor on me, I shall never be a backer of the guilty.

18. And he was in the city, fearing, vigilant, when lo! he who had asked his assistance the day before was crying out to him for aid. Musa said to him: You are most surely one erring manifestly.

19. So when he desired to seize him who was an enemy to them both, he said: O Musa! do you intend to kill me as you killed a person yesterday? You desire nothing but that you should be a tyrant in the land, and you do not desire to be of those who act aright.

20. And a man came running from the remotest part of the city. He said: O Musa! surely the chiefs are consulting together to slay you, therefore depart (at once); surely I am of those who wish well to you.

21. So he went forth therefrom, fearing, vigilant, (and) he said: My Lord! deliver me from the unjust people.

The Ruku continues the narrative of Moses-AS and in brief, it tells how Moses accidentally killed an Egyptian and how he had to flee from Egypt to save himself from the unjust attitude of the Egyptian law of that time; Moses-AS had attached himself to the Bani-Israel in whom he belonged when he came at his adolescence and it happened that once he saw one of the Egyptian persons beating one of the persons of Bani-Israel so as the latter called him for help, he punched the Egyptian person so hard that he died by that blow on the spot and then he regretted it most highly at that very time; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this Ruku of Surah QASAS narrate that the next day, the same man from the Bani-Israel was calling him to help him against another person from amongst the Egyptians; Moses scolded that Israelite by harsh words and as he advanced to hold the Egyptian back, the man from Israelites said to him, "O Musa! do you intend to kill me as you killed a person yesterday? You desire nothing but that you should be a tyrant in the land, and you do not desire to be of those who act aright"; this is because he thought that as Moses has scolded him, he would now take him to task and not the Egyptian; as he blurted out what happened the previous day, the secret came out into open that it was Moses who had accidentally killed the Egyptian the previous day and the news reached the palace; before the end of the day, a man sincere to Moses having access at the court of Pharaoh came hurriedly to Moses and told him that the courtiers are consulting to kill him so he must depart from there fast; note that he did not state that the Pharaoh also was included in this consultation and this gives the hint that this was the one who had played with Moses at their childhood; he then left for Madyan fearful and vigilant and his plea to Allah tells how severe the Egyptians were to those persons among the Bani-Israel who acted harshly against someone of them (while Moses had killed one of them though that was an accident); note that Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, also had to migrate to Madinah leaving Makkah when the chiefs of Makkah were planning to kill him and much of his life-issues are nearer to Moses while Moses had similarities with Yusuf-AS too, so Muhammad PBUH also was near to Yusuf-AS in some of significant matters at his life; note that Noah-AS is also nearer to both Moses-AS and Muhammad PBUH and they had come to the world by respective space of 2000 years between them i.e. Allah made Moses His Messenger after 2000 years of the period when Allah appointed Noah and He raised Muhammad PBUH as His Messenger to all peoples of the world at Arabia after 2000 years of Moses; whereas Noah was the first of Messengers whom Allah sent to his people specifically, Moses was the first of Messengers who was sent to the Bani-Israel specifically and Muhammad PBUH was the last of all Messengers of Allah; Moses then asked Allah "O my Lord - deliver me from the unjust people" and he did reach Madyan and there it happened that he found a good place to settle himself with all safety that we would learn ahead; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at this Ruku, AAYAAT-14 to 17 read, "and when he (i.e. Moses) attained his maturity (at his early twenties) and became full grown (at his early thirties), We granted him (to decide issues by) authority and (to decide them by) knowledge (of the commands of Allah); and thus do We reward those who do good (to others; as he was committed to those who were facing unjust attitudes); and he went into the city at a time of slackness (either at early morning or at mid-afternoon on a hot day) on the part of its people, so he found therein two men fighting, one being of his party (the Israelites) and the other of his foes (the Egyptians), and he who was of his party cried out to him for help against him who was of his enemies, so Musa struck the Egyptian with his fist and (it had such power that he) killed him; he said- this is on account of the Satan's doing (as he did not mean to kill him); surely he is an enemy (especially to righteous persons), openly leading astray; he said- my Lord! surely I have done harm to myself (& even to my people by acting rashly), so do Thou forgive me; so He forgave him (and Moses realized this by ILHAAM, as he had not yet become the Messenger of Allah and it is notable that the opening AAYAT of the Ruku mentions that Allah had provided him the knowledge which means that he was capable to identify the commands of Allah at issues at hand); surely He is the Forgiving, the Merciful; he said: my Lord! because Thou hast bestowed a favor on me (by forgiving me on this rash act), I shall never be a backer of the guilty (and by this, we do get that Islam strictly prohibits to serve at such departments, especially official departments, at some place, from where the decisions put unjust burdens on the common man)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-18 to the last read, "and he was in the city, fearing, vigilant (if the people around have become aware of the yesterday's event), when lo! he who had asked his assistance the day before was crying out to him for aid (again); Musa said to him- you are most surely one erring manifestly; so when he desired to seize him who was an enemy to them both, he (the Israelite) said- O Musa! do you intend to kill me as you killed a person (that was an Egyptian) yesterday? You desire nothing but that you should be a tyrant in the land, and you do not desire to be of those who act aright; and a man (who was friends to Musa and may have been from among Egyptians) came running from the remotest part of the city (where some place was set as council for the chiefs at Pharaoh's court); he said- O Musa! surely the chiefs are consulting together to slay you, therefore depart (at once); surely I am of those who wish well to you; so he went forth therefrom, fearing, vigilant; (and) he said- my Lord! deliver me from the unjust people (who treat the Bani Israel in the most unkind way)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

QASAS-The Third Ruku

22. And when he turned his face towards Madyan, he said: Maybe my Lord will guide me in the right path.

23. And when he came to the water of Madyan, he found on it a group of men watering, and he found besides them two (young) ladies keeping back (their cattle). He said: What is the matter with you? They said: We cannot water until the shepherds take away (their sheep) from the water, and our father is a very old man.

24. So he watered (their sheep) for them, then went back to the shade and said: My Lord! surely I stand in need of whatever good Thou may send down to me.

25. Then one of the two women came to him walking bashfully. She said: My father invites you that he may give you the reward of your having watered for us. So when he came to him and gave to him the account, he said: Fear not, you are secure from the unjust people.

26. Said one of them: O my father! employ him, surely the best of those that you can employ is the strong man, the faithful one.

27. He said: I desire to marry one of these two daughters of mine to you on condition that you should serve me for eight years; but if you complete ten, it will be of your own free will, and I do not wish to be hard to you; if Allah please, you will find me one of the good.

28. He said: This shall be (an agreement) between me and you; whichever of the two terms I fulfill, there shall be no wrongdoing to me; and Allah is a witness of what we say.

The Ruku continues the narrative of Moses-AS and it tells about his arrival and about how he found shelter at Madyan; AAYAAT-22, 23 & 24 tell it that when Moses reached Madyan, he saw two young girls with their sheep who were standing away from the crowd that was providing their cattle and animals water to drink from the well; he asked them about their-selves and they said that they wait till these farmers provide water to their cattle then they advance and give drinks to their sheep; and their father is a very old man; this answer gives some clue to the living manner of the household of these ladies; the first is that they were so refined as not to mingle with the men at such gathering where they had to attend; second is that they had such natural care to HEJAB that they did not begin talks with any unrelated man unless they were spoken to or unless they found it totally necessary; third is that their answer is brief yet comprehensive and they had the understanding that Moses needs to know why no man from their household has attended to this task rather than these two ladies; fourth is that their answer clarifies that there only is their father as their caretaker and he is extremely old so with the state of morals of these farmers that they do not let the cattle of the young ladies get its water first, the best thing was that they take the task of providing the waters to their cattle to their own selves (with assistance to each other) waiting for the crowd there to disperse; fifth is that they did not ask Moses to do the task for them yet Moses had the etiquette to water their cattle when they did need it (and they did appreciate it as the AAYAT ahead implies that they had mentioned him to their father in good terms); AAYAT-24 tells about the beautiful DUA of Moses-AS to Allah at that time, "my Lord! surely I stand in need of whatever good Thou may send down to me"; so Allah provided him shelter at MADYAN, and one of the most upright ladies from these two, as his wife at that place; and after the years that he spent at that place, He made him His Messenger towards all of Bani-Israel so that they live virtuously free from slavery; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; now, knowing about the stranger at the place, when both of them returned to their father earlier than usual that day, the old man called him through one of them and she gave him his message with necessary care to HEJAB; the old man might have remarked before she left to call him that he would see if he is worthy to marry one of them to him (to fulfill his liability towards his daughters) which might have increased her shyness to him; when Moses told the old man about his plight, he soothed him that he is out of troubles with him insha-Allah; note that this old man was one of the believers in the true guidance he had received from SHOAIB-AS who had long passed away; the other of his daughters told her father to keep him at service because he is QAVI (capable to do the necessary tasks needed) and AMIN (trustworthy with honesty); note that these two are those worthy qualities that a person at some service must have in him necessarily as his capability would fulfill the due task and his honesty would not let him slack in his duty by remaining inattentive to it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the girls had seen that he had the good physical quality as he had made his way into the crowd to water their cattle with strength and also had the good spiritual quality as he never viewed any of the young ladies in any impious manner; her father accepted her request and asked Moses to serve him for eight years if he finds it well, in return of which he would marry one of his daughters to him; and if he would serve for two more years, that would be something good by his own will; so Moses accepted the deal and served him for ten years at the place; note that he showed his acceptance for any of the two young girls without being specific, to become his wife which tells that even without seeing any of them directly, he did observe that any of both is most worthy to take into marriage as his wife; one of them had shown her worth by her attitude that related to HEJAB and the other one had the aptitude to remark beautifully about the qualities of the good person, who is at good service of some good person, so any of these wonderful qualities when nothing adverse presents in some young lady, has sure worth to marry her; now, he might have stayed for more years at the place by his own intention and presumably, his stay at MADYAN was much longer that ten years in total and certainly, Allah knows better; see also the supplementary note on AAYAT-129 of AARAAF after the note at its fifteenth Ruku; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note about the most splendid DUA of Moses that AAYAT-24 states, "my Lord! surely I stand in need of whatever good Thou may send down to me"; this tells that when a good person is in extreme need of basic necessities, he shall not ask Allah for some specific benefits to him as he may err at that time about that but he needs to leave his issues totally to Allah by asking Him whatever good He provides to him, he surely is in need of it; Allah accepted his plea so He provided him with a decent shelter at a noble household that he remains safe from the clutches of Pharaoh's men and He provided him with a very decent wife that he leads his life well in a settled manner; and above all, as a specific gift to him, He provided him after many years of his splendid plea to Him, the honor to become His Messenger to lead the Bani-Israel out of captivity and to guide them through the teachings of Torah beautifully, towards the right path of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

QASAS-The Fourth Ruku

29. So when Musa had fulfilled the term, and he journeyed with his family, he perceived on this side of the mountain a fire. He said to his family: Wait, I have seen a fire, maybe I will bring to you from it some news or a brand of fire, so that you may warm yourselves.

30. And when he came to it, a voice was uttered from the right side of the valley in the blessed spot of the bush, saying: O Musa! surely I am Allah, the Lord of the worlds.

31. And saying: Cast down you staff. So when he saw it in motion as if it were a serpent, he turned back retreating, and did not return. O Musa! come forward and fear not; surely you are of those who are secure;

32. Enter your hand into the opening of your bosom, it will come forth white without affliction, and draw your hand to yourself to ward off fear: so these two shall be two arguments from your Lord to Pharaoh and his chiefs, surely they are a transgressing people.

33. He said: My Lord! surely I killed one of them, so I fear lest they should slay me;

34. And my brother, Haroun, he is more eloquent of tongue than I, therefore send him with me as an aider, verifying me: surely I fear that they would reject me.

35. He said: We will strengthen your arm with your brother, and We will give you both an authority, so that they shall not reach you; (go on) with Our signs; you two and those who follow you shall be uppermost.

36. So when Musa came to them with Our clear signs, they said: This is nothing but forged enchantment, and we never heard of it amongst our fathers of old.

37. And Musa said: My Lord knows best who comes with guidance from Him, and whose shall be the good end of the abode; surely the unjust shall not be successful.

38. And Pharaoh said: O chiefs! I do not know of any god for you besides myself; so, kindle a fire for me, O Haman, for (baking of) brick, then prepare for me a lofty building so that I may obtain knowledge of Whom Musa worship, and most surely I think him to be one of the liars.

39. And he was unjustly proud in the land, he and his hosts, and they deemed that they would not be brought back to Us.

40. So We caught hold of him and his hosts, then We cast them into the sea, and see how was the end of the unjust.

41. And We made them such Imams (i.e. leaders) who call to the fire, and on the day of resurrection they shall not be assisted.

42. And We caused a curse to follow them in this world, and on the day of resurrection they shall be of those, made to appear hideous.

This Ruku too continues the narrative of Moses-AS and it tells how Allah made him His Messenger and it also tells the result of rejection of Allah's message by Pharaoh and his men; we have read about this at the previous Surah i.e. NAML too at its first Ruku; the

Ruku here too, narrates that he took his family and intended for some other place to reside when en-route, he saw some light as fire at the side of the Mount TOOR; those were dark cold nights and he told his family that he had seen some fire so they would wait as he brings some news of the way to confirm that they are traveling in correct direction and better still, some brand of fire that they might be able to get warmth for themselves; when he got near to that place, he heard the voice of Allah, the true Lord, that "O Moses - I am Allah, the true Lord of all the worlds"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; there he got the two significant signs from Allah that his staff transformed to the huge serpent as he put it down and became his staff again as he picked it up and when he put his hand inside his bosom and pulled it out, it lighted without any affliction; when at first, he saw the staff changing into a serpent, he became afraid and ran back fearfully; Allah called him and said not to fear as He is appointing him as His Messenger and Messengers need not fear anything as He always keeps watch on them after He appoints them to some people that there befalls no adversity to them so he has all security; Allah told him to draw his hand near to him if he fears anything so that would soothe him and he would have these two significant arguments from Allah, the true Lord, to Pharaoh and his chiefs who were extremely transgressing people as they preferred the practice of their own rulings over the commands of

Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the narrative goes ahead as AAYAAT from 33 to 37 state, "he said- my Lord! surely I killed one of them (Egyptians), so I fear lest they should slay me; and my (elder) brother, Haroun, he is more eloquent of tongue than I (note that Moses had an issue of stuttering), therefore send him with me as an aider (by making him too as one of His Messengers), verifying me- surely I fear that they (the Pharaoh and his chiefs at his court) would reject me; He said- We will strengthen your arm with your brother (i.e. he too shall be one of Messengers of Allah), and We will give you both an authority (to impress the people listening), so that they shall not reach you (i.e. they would not get any access to harm any of Moses or Aaron); (go on) with Our signs; you two and those who follow you shall be uppermost (that would be evident within some period of time); so when Musa came to them with Our clear signs (that were his amazing staff and his shining hand), they said- this is nothing but forged enchantment (which is of no consequence), and we never heard of it amongst our fathers of old (note that they did know about the fundamental Islamic teachings, residing with the Bani-Israel, yet their words imply that their forefathers had kept away from it in all manner); and Musa said- my Lord knows best who comes with guidance from Him (to remain to it and get Jannah at AKHIRAT), and whose shall be the good end of the abode (at the world too); surely the unjust (which the Pharaoh, his chiefs and his men are), shall not be successful"; the Ruku tells ahead that the Pharaoh and his men did not believe in the message of Allah that Moses and Aaron brought to them and they rather mocked Moses; they rejected the amazing miracles that he presented to them and took it as plain magic; though this Ruku does not mention it yet we know by other places at the Quran that they brought the skilled magicians of the time against him; the magicians lost the contest and in fact, those magicians accepted the message of Moses and Aaron as they saw plainly that what they have just encountered is certainly a miracle and certainly not magic; see the note at the third Ruku of Surah TA-HA; see also the supplementary note on AAYAT-129 of AARAAF after the note at its fifteenth Ruku; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT from 38 to the last of Ruku state, "and Pharaoh said- O chiefs! I do not know of any god for you besides myself; so, kindle a fire for me, O Haman, for (baking of) brick, then prepare for me a lofty building so that I may obtain knowledge of Whom Musa worships, and most surely I think him to be one of the liars; and he was unjustly proud in the land, he and his hosts, and they deemed that they would not be brought back to Us; so We caught hold of him and his hosts, then We cast them into the sea, and see how was the end of the unjust; and We made them (such) Imams (i.e. leaders) who call to the fire, and on the day of resurrection they shall not be assisted; and We caused a curse to follow them in this world, and on the day of resurrection they shall be of those (who are) made to appear hideous (extremely ugly at face and body)"; these AAYAAT tell about the character of the Pharaoh of the exodus (who presumably was Amenhotep-II, the grandson of Thutmose- II, the Pharaoh of the oppression); his reign was but for a few years only (against what normally is assumed and I, MSD, have commented on that at "Pentateuch by the Islamic view") and he and his men died by drowning when he followed Moses and his people with the army he had, in his youth around 24 years of age; he, like Nimrod, took himself the authority that his people must obey without any challenge to it and did not care that Allah only is the RABB (the true Lord) of all persons so they need to obey Him only with total love for Him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note here that Haman was one of the prominent advisors of the Pharaoh of oppression and he was present at the court of the Pharaoh of exodus too in some official status, whom Moses had given the message of Islam by the command of Allah; note that AAYAT-38 states that the Pharaoh of exodus asked Haman to kindle a fire for him and bake bricks at it and then prepare a lofty building so that he obtains knowledge of Whom Musa worships; though it was idiocy of Pharaoh to ask such thing to Haman (and such building never materialized so it was only an idiotic stunt of the Pharaoh to misguide his men and ignore the teachings of Moses) yet it shows that Haman had lived to a ripe age and had witnessed Moses as he had presented the message of Islam at the Pharaoh's court; the outcome of this rejection of the message of Allah by Pharaoh and his men was that Allah drowned them all into the sea and declared them all totally cursed at AKHIRAT, i.e. the true life after this life at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

QASAS-The Fifth Ruku

43. And certainly We gave Musa the Book after We had destroyed the former generations, (that proves to be) clear arguments for men and a guidance and a mercy, that they may be mindful.

44. And you were not on the western side when We revealed to Musa the commandment, and you were not among the witnesses;

45. But We raised up generations, then life became prolonged to them; and you were not dwelling among the people of Madyan, reciting to them Our AAYAAT, but We were the Senders.

46. And you were not on this side of the mountain when We called, but mercy from your Lord that you may warn people to whom no warner came before you, that they may be mindful.

47. And were it not that there should befall them a disaster for what their hands have sent before, then they should say: Our Lord! why didst Thou not send to us an apostle so that we should have followed Thy AAYAAT and been of the believers!

48. But (now) when the Truth has come to them from Us, they say: Why he is not given the same manner as was given to Musa: What! did they not disbelieve in what Musa was given before? They say: Two magic words backing up each other; and they say: Surely we are disbelievers in all.

49. Say: Then bring some (other) book from Allah which is a better guide than both of them so that I may follow it, if you are truthful.

50. But if they do not answer you, then know that they only follow their low desires; and who is more erring than he who follows his low desires without any guidance from Allah? Surely Allah does not guide the unjust people.

The first AAYAT of the Ruku implies by its words that the nations before Moses were eliminated when they rejected the message of Allah that they received by His Messengers but when Allah made him His Messenger and provided him Torah that explicitly presented the fundamental teachings of Islam, He did not eliminate whole of any disobedient nation and chose the Bani-Israel to provide on His message to whomsoever they relate; note that Torah comprises of five booklets and as such, it is concise and even with much distortion at ancient times according to us Muslims, it still does have teachings that relate to the true guidance to the right path; it narrates events of many of the Messengers of Allah and so it provides the fundamental Islamic teachings and tells that those who accept these fundamental teachings in their true perspective, they would certainly receive mercy from Allah, the true Lord; they miserably failed in that task as they did not give respect to the Prophets (that the status of those Prophets asked of them) whom Allah had sent to them after Moses and they especially showed extreme disrespect to Jesus Christ-AS whom they rejected as the Messenger of Allah; that was the most fatal blow to their status as the chosen people of Allah and then at the time when Allah sent Muhammad PBUH as His last Messenger to all peoples of the world, they rejected him too as His Messenger and at that time, Allah took away their noble status as punishment to them and chose the Muslims instead of them for His task; He commanded the Muslims that they always keep firm to the Islamic teachings and spread them all to all peoples of the world when Muhammad PBUH departs from here; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next three AAYAAT of the Ruku point out that Muhammad PBUH did not witness the incidents reported about Moses-AS and he was not even present at his times yet the Quran is providing their account explicitly; this in itself proves that Allah has appointed him as His Messenger and he certainly is not speaking the words of the Quran by his own; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT read, "and you (O Prophet PBUH) were not on the western side when We revealed to Musa the commandment (Torah), and (therefore) you were not among the witnesses (to this event); but We raised up generations, then life became prolonged to them (and they forgot the teachings of Torah and took what they found easy by their own to practice and left other commands of Allah and even distorted them); and you were not dwelling among the people of Madyan (when Moses resided there at the service of the old man), reciting to them Our AAYAAT (that you present to all persons now), but We were the Senders (of the Truth to them); and you were not on this side of the mountain (TOOR) when We called (Moses), but (it is) mercy from your Lord that you may warn such people (i.e. the Arab people) to whom no warner (i.e. Messenger of Allah) came before you, that they may be mindful (of the Truth and accept it and practice it to save themselves from the torments at AKHIRAT)"; AAYAT-47 states to clarify the reason why Allah provided the teachings of Islam explicitly to Arabs, "and were it not that there should befall them a disaster for what their hands have sent before (i.e. their wrong-doings), then they (the disbelievers in the fundamental teachings of Islam) should say- our Lord! why didst Thou not send to us an apostle so that we should have followed Thy AAYAAT and been of the believers (in the fundamental teachings of Islam)"; see also TA-HA-134 which presents the same statement of the disbelievers on getting their chastisement from Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that there is time-period of about 2500 years between Ishmael-AS, who was the Prophet of Allah and lived at Arabia, and the last of all Prophets, Muhammad PBUH; the next AAYAAT from AAYAT-48 to the last of the Ruku, indicate their ingratitude to Allah that even though He provided them the Holy Book Quran through the last of His Messengers, they brought a futile objection to it that why Allah did not sent it like He sent Torah; note that it is mentioned that Moses-AS wrote the five books of Torah by the guidance of Allah at tablets, except for the narration of his passing away, when he stayed at TOOR for forty days; note also that even though they presented their objection, they said clearly that they do not believe in Torah too so it was only to make some trouble and not any scholarly pursuit; these AAYAAT read, "but (now) when the Truth (i.e. the Quran that teaches all of Islam through it) has come to them from Us, they say- why he is not given (the Quran) the same manner as was given to Musa (i.e. it should have also descended like Torah)- what! did they (the disbelievers) not disbelieve in what Musa was given before (even when it came instantly)? they say (about Torah and the Quran that they are) two magic words backing up each other; and they say- surely we are disbelievers in all; say- then bring some (other) book from Allah which is a better guide than both of them so that I may follow it, if you are truthful; but if they do not answer you (avoiding to take-up the matter), then know that they only follow their low desires (to make trouble); and who is more erring than he who follows his low desires without any guidance from Allah? surely Allah does not guide the unjust people (as we have learnt about how Allah punished Pharaoh and his men, at AAYAT-40 of this Surah QASAS, who were categorically mentioned as the unjust)"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

QASAS-The Sixth Ruku

51. And certainly We have made the word to reach them so that they may be mindful.

52. (As to) those whom We gave the Book before it, they are believers in it.

53. And when it is recited to them they say: We believe in it surely it is the truth from our Lord; surely we were submitters before this.

54. These shall be granted their reward twice, because they are steadfast and they repel evil with good and spend out of what We have given them.

55. And when they hear idle talk they turn aside from it and say: We shall have our deeds and you shall have your deeds; peace be on you; we do not desire the ignorant.

56. Surely you cannot guide whom you love, but Allah guides whom He pleases, and He knows best the followers of the right path.

57. And they say: If we follow the guidance with you, we shall be carried off from our country. What! have We not settled them in a safe, sacred territory to which fruits of every kind shall be drawn? - a sustenance from Us; but most of them do not know.

58. And how many a town have We destroyed which exulted in its means of subsistence, so these are their abodes, they have not been dwelt in after them except a little, and We are the inheritors,

59. And your Lord never destroyed the towns until He raised in their metropolis an apostle, reciting to them Our AAYAAT, and We never destroyed the towns except when their people were unjust.

60. And whatever things you have been given are only a provision of this world's life and its adornment, and whatever is with Allah is better and more lasting; do you not then understand?

This Ruku gives some detail to issues at the previous Ruku and tells explicitly that Allah has cared to provide the true guidance to all persons so that no person among the disbelievers argues that why did Allah not send to them one of His Messengers, so that they should have followed His guidance and should have been among the believers; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first AAYAT of the Ruku states, "and certainly We have made the Word (the Quran) to reach them (within parts) so that they may be mindful (to believe in Allah truly and to care for the Day of Judgment)"; to understand AAYAAT ahead, note that a group of around twenty good Christians from HABSHA (the northern part of Ethiopia of that time), who lived with care to commands of Allah, visited the Prophet PBUH at Makkah and accepted him as the last of Messengers of Allah; they understood Islam to be the Truth as Torah also provided them its fundamental teachings albeit not in such clear manner as the Quran did; the disbelievers at Makkah mocked them that they had come at Makkah only to lose their belief in Christianity, to which they replied calmly that they shall have their own deeds to face and the mocking persons shall have their own deeds to face; they mentioned clearly that they do not desire to converse with disbelievers at Makkah whom they take as totally ignorant of the Truth; from the second AAYAT of the Ruku to AAYAT-56, the Ruku states, "(as to) those whom We gave the Book (Torah) before it (i.e. the Quran), they are believers in it (this refers to those Christians specifically); and when it (i.e. the Quran) is recited to them they say- we believe in it; surely it is the Truth from our Lord; surely we were submitters before this (as they did believe in the righteous guidance of Torah and also in the genuine teachings of Jesus Christ-AS who was one of the most esteemed Messengers of Allah); these shall be granted their reward twice, because they are steadfast (i.e. they care to sacrifice the worldly assets for the pleasure of Allah to live within necessities) and they repel evil with good (i.e. they ask mercy from Allah whenever they fall into any of sins) and spend out of what We have given them (i.e. they provide the needy with his needs as much as possible for them); and when they hear idle talk (which is to humiliate any of persons around or to disrespect their selves directly), they turn aside from it and say- we shall have our deeds and you shall have your deeds; peace be on you; we do not desire (to converse with) the ignorant; surely you (O Prophet PBUH) cannot guide whom you love (as there are disbelievers to Islam even in your near relatives at Makkah), but Allah guides whom He pleases (as He guided those who came from some far-away place and then accepted Islam without any reservation), and He knows best the followers of the right path"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; I, MSD, have heard from some of teachers of Islam that the Muslims shall go on spreading the teachings of Islam which only are the Truth, without care how and whom they affect and Allah would certainly affect all persons by them as He wills, wherever they might be; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from

AAYAT-57 to the last, the Ruku states the argument of some of disbelievers at Makkah for not accepting Islam (though they did take it as the true guidance) and the clear-cut answer to their flawed argument; they argued that they would be carried-off from Makkah if they accepted Islam so it would end their high position among Arabs which they have by residing in this city, which all at Arabia respect; Allah answers their flawed argument that He only, has made this city most sacred territory, to which fruits of every kind are brought as provisions to all persons residing there; it is fine to remember what we have studied at Surah IBRAHIM-37 that Ibrahim-AS had asked Allah, the true Lord, that He gives his offspring (which he has settled in a valley that is unproductive of fruits near His Sacred House KA'BAH) such TOFIQ that they keep up prayer and that He makes the hearts of some people yearn towards them and that He provides them with fruits so they remain grateful to Him; so it is the will of Allah that He has made it most reputable and it would remain so ahead if they truly accept Islam, the word of Allah, which provides respect only and does not lead to any disrespect; Al-Hamdu Lillah; and the last three AAYAAT of the Ruku further elaborate this answer that such argument needs that they travel and see that there are places where the residents had pride at their economic stability but their abodes have become an example of destruction where no one has ever dwelt-in after them except a little; this would tell the disbelievers that ultimately Allah got all control of all such assets on which the men thought that they had all control; and Allah, the true Lord, is not unjust certainly as He never destroyed any of towns until He raised in their metropolis an apostle (as He has appointed Muhammad PBUH as His last Messenger from Makkah), who provided all of them the true guidance and even then He gave them ample space of time to accept that but when the people there at the place, were most unjust (i.e. they rejected the true guidance when His Messenger explicitly presented it to them), then only Allah put total destruction upon them because then their doings clearly asked for it; so the rejection of Islam would lead them to their destruction, and not its acceptance, surely; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah only cares for men and He never puts any harm to them unless they challenge the Islamic teachings in clear terms that the Messenger has presented to them; they must see that whatever things they have been given by the will of Allah, they are provision only of this world's life and its adornment which would ultimately end, and whatever is with Allah at AKHIRAT for the true believers in Islam, is much better in quality and more lasting by the consideration of time; this statement implies that basically the argument of the disbelievers, is most flawed as it denotes all preference to the life at the world and not to AKHIRAT; their actual true benefit lies in the acceptance of Islam as that only saves all persons from disgrace at the world and provides all safety to them from the most extreme chastisement at AKHIRAT which is the true life ahead that would never end; it is obvious that they have lost all awareness of their actual true benefit, as they are completely oblivious of AKHIRAT, the true life ahead; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

QASAS-The Seventh Ruku

61. Is he to whom We have promised a goodly promise which he shall meet with, like him whom We have provided with the provisions of this world's life, then on the day of resurrection he shall be of those who are brought up?

62. And on the day when He will call them and say: Where are those whom you deemed to be My associates?

63. Those against whom the sentence has become confirmed will say: Our Lord! these are they whom we caused to err; we caused them to err as we ourselves did err; to Thee we declare ourselves to be clear (of them); they never served Us.

64. And it will be said: Call those persons of yours whom you took as associates (to Allah). So they will call upon them, but they will not answer them, and they shall see the punishment; would that they had followed the right path!

65. And on the day when He shall call them and say: What was the answer you gave to the apostles?

66. Then the pleas shall become obscure to them on that day, so they shall not ask each other.

67. But as to him who repents and believes and does good, maybe he will be among the successful:

68. And your Lord creates and chooses whom He pleases; to choose is not theirs; glory be to Allah, and exalted be He above what they associate (with Him).

69. And your Lord knows what their breasts conceal and what they manifest.

70. And He is Allah, there is no god but He! All praise is due to Him in this (life) and the hereafter, and His is the judgment, and to Him you shall be brought back.

71. Say: Tell me, if Allah were to make the night to continue incessantly on you till the day of resurrection, who is the god besides Allah that could bring you light? Do you not then hear?

72. Say: Tell me, if Allah were to make the day to continue incessantly on you till the day of resurrection, who is the god besides Allah that could bring you the night in which you take rest? Do you not then see?

73. And out of His mercy, He has made for you the night and the day, that you may rest therein, and that you may seek of His grace, and that you may give thanks.

74. And on the day when He shall call them and say: Where are those whom you deemed to be My associates?

75. And We will draw forth from among every nation a witness and say: Bring your proof; then shall they know that the truth is Allah's, and that which they forged shall depart from them.

The Ruku starts by the statement that the righteous person is truly successful, as he gets the success of AKHIRAT with or without having assets of the world; and the wrong person is truly unsuccessful as he receives extreme punishment for his doings at AKHIRAT, even if he is much wealthy at the world; the only aim of life is to get the pleasure of Allah and to do everything but not to do the needed, is total idiocy for certain; this Ruku elaborates this statement at its AAYAAT ahead whereas the next Ruku also focuses on it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the disbelievers would see extreme troubles at the Day of Judgment when Allah asks them where are those whom they deemed to have such authority that may challenge Him; the leading persons among the disbelievers would answer that they did cause their followers to err as they too were on the wrong path so they would confess to all of their wrongs when they see clearly that they have no other option; the other of leaders who would not be among the disbelievers but whom the disbelievers had risen to such status where they took them as having all authority besides Allah, would clarify, "to Thee we declare ourselves to be clear (of them); they never served Us"; they actually were unaware that the disbelievers took them as having authority besides Allah as the disbelievers took them as such after these good persons had departed from the world; the erroneous concepts of disbelievers, who had anticipated that they would not face any troubles at AKHIRAT because of support of their leaders who would save them from torments there, would prove useless as it is the true belief (and the righteous deeds according to it) that counts for safety which they did not care for, by their freewill; AAYAT-67 to AAYAT-69 explicitly indicate that only the righteous belief with good deeds according to it, leads to the true success; Allah only gives TOFIQ to any person to come to Islam and to remain firm upon it as His will only reigns upon all happenings in all the universe; certainly He only knows who is better fit to care for, as He is aware of what the breasts conceal and what they manifest; note that the best thing that prevents satanic attacks is to ask Allah for security from them as He only protects the righteous man from such attacks certainly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-70 declares that the true belief certainly is that Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; and AKHIRAT, the Day of Judgment, is certain to come where all persons would be brought back in front of Allah and He would judge all of them, according to their belief and their deeds which they had done at life at the world; it reads, "and He is Allah, there is no god but He! All praise is due to Him in this (life) and the hereafter, and His is the judgment, and to Him you shall be brought back"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the last AAYAT of the Ruku guides attention to the third of fundamental teachings of Islam which is RISALAT (which means that Allah had sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path); note also that each of His Messengers, when asked, would provide witness against the disbelievers of his respective nation with the clarification that he did give them His message in most clear terms at life at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next three AAYAAT ask to consider how the life would have been if Allah had made the world in such manner that everywhere only the night prevailed all the time; and to consider how the life would have been if Allah had made the world in such manner that everywhere only the day prevailed all the time; but only because of His mercy, He has made for the mankind the night (so that they may rest therein without disturbance at their place) and the day (so that they may seek their good sustenance therein by interacting with each other at their place); Al-Hamdu Lillah; this means that if there is such beautiful setup of time & place for men to do all their necessary tasks with ease, it proves that it is not by chance but Allah has cared for the mankind so that they live with ease and get the good result at AKHIRAT for themselves without any inconvenience; that only would denote that they are truly grateful to Allah for all of His blessings to them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-74 (like AAYAT-64) tells that Allah would ask the disbelievers where are those whom they deemed to have such authority that may challenge Him; then they would be unable to put any blame on any such righteous persons whom they took as having authority besides Allah as the righteous persons would have stated plainly that they did not ever lead them to wrongs but asked them to follow the right path only, at life at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT tells that Allah would take out from each of nations at AKHIRAT, such of righteous persons (i.e. His Messengers) who would provide witness against the disbelievers of his specific nation with the clarification that he did give them His message in most clear terms at life at the world; AAYAT tells, "then shall they know that the true authority is Allah's, and that which they forged shall depart from them"; note that Muhammad PBUH is the last Messenger of Allah whom Allah has assigned to all peoples of the world so after him, the Muslims would now provide the teachings of Islam to all peoples of the world and they would also provide witness, when asked, against the disbelievers at the Day of Judgment; at BAQARAH-143, Allah declares, "and thus We have made you a just nation that you may be the bearers of witness to the people, and the Apostle may be bearer of witness to you"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

QASAS-The Eighth Ruku

76. Surely QAROUN was of the people of Musa, but he rebelled against them, and We had given him of the treasures, so much so that his keys of wealth would certainly weigh down a company of men possessed of great strength. When his people said to him: Do not exult, surely Allah does not love the exultant;

77. And seek by means of what Allah has given you the future abode, and do not neglect your portion of this world, and do good (to others) as Allah has done good to you, and do not seek to make mischief in the land, surely Allah does not love the mischief-makers.

78. He said: I have been given this only on account of the knowledge I have. Did he not know that Allah had destroyed before him of the generations those who were mightier in strength than he and greater in assemblage? And the guilty shall not be asked about their faults.

79. So he went forth to his people in his finery. Those who desire this world's life said: O would that we had the like of what QAROUN is given; most surely he is possessed of mighty good fortune.

80. And those who were given the knowledge said: Woe to you! Allah's reward is better for him who believes and does good, and none is made to receive this except the patient.

81. Thus We made the earth to swallow up him and his abode; so he had nobody of helpers to assist him against Allah nor was he of those who can defend themselves.

82. And those who yearned for his place only the day before began to say: Ah! Allah amplifies and straitens the means of subsistence for whom He pleases of His servants; had not Allah been gracious to us, He would most surely have abased us; Ah! the ungrateful are never successful.

This Ruku provides the narrative of QAROUN, the wealthiest person among the Bani-Israel, who had access to the court of Pharaoh; it is mentioned about him that he was the first cousin of Moses-AS and Aaron-AS but had little interest in the freedom of the Bani-Israel from the slavery of the Egyptians; AAYAAT at beginning of the Ruku tells about him and his dialogue with the good persons among the Bani-Israel, "surely QAROUN was of the people of Musa, but he rebelled against them (i.e. he did not practice the commands of Allah and lived haughtily), and We had given him of the treasures, so much so that his keys of wealth would certainly weigh down a company of men possessed of great strength; when his people (who were guides to righteousness) said to him- do not exult, surely Allah does not love the exultant; and seek by means of what Allah has given you, the future abode (i.e. the true success at AKHIRAT by providing for the needy) , and do not neglect your portion of this world (so take only what is fitting according to the commands of Allah for your good sustenance at life at the world), and do good (to others by doing charitable acts) as Allah has done good to you, and do not seek to make mischief in the land (by displaying your wealth as it may cause desire among those people who incline to life at the world, to gain wealth by any means and that would cause neglect of the commands of Allah), surely Allah does not love the mischief-makers; he said- I have been given this only on account of the knowledge I have (how to gain wealth; so he justified his dealings in wealth by claiming his total ownership to that without care that Allah actually has provided him with it and he has to keep His commands in practice about it); did he not know that Allah had destroyed before him of the generations, those who were mightier in strength than he and greater in assemblage (so his arrogance would surely lead him too, to his destruction)? and the guilty shall not be asked about their faults (so when his destruction comes, he would not be asked for any defense and that would finish him off, totally)"; note that in those days, the wealthy persons provided safety to their gold and silver and other things of value by putting them into vaults constructed into the ground; they had strong gates over them which opened by their extremely specific heavy keys; so QAROUN had such immense wealth that even the keys to his numerous vaults were so heavy that it needed many of strong men to carry those keys to their gates whenever that was needed; but instead of being grateful to Allah, he once displayed some of his wealth among the people around and upon viewing such immense wealth, those who preferred the life at the world over the true life at AKHIRAT, remarked, "O would that we had the like of what QAROUN is given; most surely he is possessed of mighty good fortune; and those who were given the knowledge said- woe to you! Allah's reward is better for him who believes and does good, and none is made to receive this except the patient"; so immense wealth is not the right standard of getting respect from the people around, but the true belief and the righteous deeds only provides the due respect when the good righteous person has patience (i.e. the prudence to live within the necessities of life at the world, having little care to comforts and having no care to luxuries); this would not only provide him much respect at the world but he also would be one of the most esteemed persons at life at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-81 states the outcome of the haughtiness of QAROUN that Allah made the earth swallow him and his dwelling place and he neither had any host to save him nor he could save his own self from such extreme destruction; his immense wealth was totally useless at that time and at that place of destruction; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku tells that seeing this outcome, those of the Bani-Israel who had wished to have such wealth as he had, realized their grave mistake and showed relief that Allah did not put such destruction to them; it reads, "and those who yearned for his place only the day before (i.e. the recent past) began to say-ah (good for us to see)! Allah amplifies and straitens the means of subsistence for whom He pleases of His servants; had not Allah been gracious to us, He would most surely have abased us; ah (good for us to see)! the ungrateful are never successful"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

QASAS-The Last Ruku

83. (As for) that future abode, We assign it to those who have no desire to exalt themselves in the earth nor to make mischief and the good end is for those who guard (against evil)

84. Whoever brings good, he shall have better than it, and whoever brings evil, those who do evil shall not be rewarded (for) aught except what they did.

85. Most surely He Who has made the Quran binding on you, will bring you back to the destination. Say: My Lord knows best him who has brought the guidance and him who is in manifest error.

86. And you did not expect that the Book would be inspired to you, but it is a mercy from your Lord, therefore be not a backer-up of the disbelievers.

87. And let them not turn you aside from the AAYAAT of Allah after they have been revealed to you, and call (men) to your Lord and be not of the polytheists.

88. And call not with Allah any other god; there is no god but He, everything is perishable but He; His is the judgment, and to Him you shall be brought back.

The last Ruku of QASAS sums-up the basic message that we all got through it and that is the mankind has to keep to the righteous belief which is to believe in the fundamental teachings of Islam, and do all his deeds according to that belief; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT at the beginning of the Ruku direct to this most explicitly by mentioning that Allah assigns the future success to those only who have no desire to exalt themselves in the earth because of whatever status & resources Allah has provided to them at the world, but they do remain humble in front of Him and do practice His commands in their lives; they do not make any mischief too by taking up haughtiness among the persons around to impress their importance upon them; so the best of end certainly is for these most righteous persons only who are totally attentive to Allah as they truly believe in the fundamental teachings of Islam which practically shows in their lives at the world and they also care most sympathetically for their fellow-beings, without any conceit; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah would provide their good returns for their good deeds even better than those good deeds (at least, ten times better and even more), and those who bring evil, those shall be rewarded for that wrong accordingly; Allah would certainly bring all persons to life again to provide their respective results to them at the Day of HASHR; AAYAT-85 tells that Allah has provided the Quran that presents all His commands (and the Sunnah explains all those commands most clearly to practice) so all the righteous persons shall put that true guidance into their practice for certain; it also tells the Prophet PBUH that though the situation at present seems much difficult to provide the teachings of Islam by the Quran yet Allah would certainly pave way for him to fulfill his task of spreading it totally so he certainly would reach that destination by the will of Allah within his life at the world; it asks the Prophet PBUH to say that Allah, the true Lord, knows best him, who has come with the true guidance (i.e. the Prophet PBUH) and him too, who remains in the manifest error (i.e. every person who is among disbelievers); Al-Hamdu

Lillah; the last three AAYAAT ask attention of the Prophet PBUH to the most significant blessing of Allah upon him (i.e. Allah made him His last Messenger whereas He provided him the Holy Book Quran) and tell him to be most grateful to Him for it; so he shall go on with the task of teaching the Holy Book Quran whatever comes, to all peoples and he shall always remain firm upon its teachings for certain; they read, "and you did not expect that the Book (Quran) would be inspired to you, but it is a mercy from your Lord, therefore be not a backer of the disbelievers (note that we have seen at this Surah at AAYAT-17 that Moses-AS had mentioned to Allah that now, when Allah has granted him His mercy, he shall never be a backer of the guilty); and let them not turn you aside from the AAYAAT of Allah after they have been revealed to you, and call (men) to your Lord and be not of the polytheists; and call not with Allah any other god; there is no god but He, everything is perishable but He (as all other than Him, is His creation only); His is the judgment, and to Him you (all) shall be brought back"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah ANKABUT

(Consists of 7 Ruku; MK-6)

ANKABUT-The First Ruku

1. ALIF LAAM MIM.

2. Do men think that they will be left alone on saying, 'we believe', and not be tried?

3. And certainly We tried those before them, so Allah will certainly know those who are true and He will certainly know the liars.

4. Or do they who work evil think that they will escape Us? Evil is it that they judge!

5. Whoever hopes to meet Allah, the term appointed by Allah will then most surely come; and He is the Hearing, the Knowing.

6. And whoever strives hard, he strives only for his own soul; most surely Allah is Self-sufficient, above (need of) the worlds.

7. And (as for) those who believe and do good, We will most certainly do away with their evil deeds and We will most certainly reward them the best of what they did.

8. And We have enjoined on man goodness to his parents, and if they contend with you that you should associate (others) with Me, of which you have no knowledge, do not obey them, to Me is your return, so I will inform you of what you did.

9. And (as for) those who believe and do good, We will most surely cause them to enter among the good.

10. And among men is he who says- 'we believe in Allah'; but when he is persecuted in (the way of) Allah he thinks the persecution of men to be as the chastisement of Allah; and if there come assistance from your Lord, they would most certainly say- 'surely we were with you'. What! is not Allah the best knower of what is in the breasts of mankind.

11. And most certainly Allah will know those who believe and most certainly He will know the hypocrites.

12. And those who disbelieve say to those who believe- 'follow our path and we will bear your wrongs'. And never shall they be the bearers of any of their wrongs; most surely they are liars.

13. And most certainly they shall carry their own burdens, and other burdens with their own burdens, and most certainly they shall be questioned on the resurrection day as to what they forged.

This Surah descended at the sixth year at Makkah and like its previous three Surah and its next three Surah, it starts with MUQATTA'AAT; Allah asks all Muslims at its beginning to remain most patient at these trying times when they were facing extreme rivalry of the disbelievers at Makkah; if they have such thoughts that they would be spared, only because they have verbally claimed that they have believed, they ought to see that this is not so; Allah intends to bring at fore all those persons among the Muslims who are true to Islam and all those persons who are liars among them, so they need to go through this phase because it is the manner of Allah to examine all such persons who claim to be believers in the Truth; they must see that He has examined the persons at previous peoples too who had claimed to be among the believers; AAYAT-3 reads, "and certainly We tried those before them, so Allah will certainly know those who are true and He will certainly know the liars" so the notable thing here is that "to know" means that Allah would test all such persons who claim to be among the believers to distinguish those who are true to Islam from those who are not; Allah certainly knows the inside of all persons and that is why AAYAAT-4 & 5 ahead read, "or do they who work evil think that they will escape Us? evil is it that they judge! whoever hopes to meet Allah, the term appointed by Allah will then most surely come (when they would meet Him); and He is the Hearing (of all speech that men manifest), the Knowing (of all which men conceal at their insides)"; so the disbelievers will be unable to run away to avoid the punishment that they are liable to get at the grounds of HASHR and also, it would certainly happen that the believers would get the pleasure of Allah when He would declare the results of all persons at the grounds of HASHR; AAYAAT-6 & 7 tell that whoever strives hard to get nearer to Allah, the true Lord, by his righteous belief and good deeds according to it, with resistance to temptations that ask him to fall in sinful activities, he does good to his own self as he certainly would find at AKHIRAT; Allah certainly does not need anything from any person because He is Self-sufficient, above (need of) the worlds; those who truly believe in Islam and do good deeds accordingly with SABR in their attitude, Allah would eliminate all their evil deeds and He will most certainly reward them the best of whatever good they did; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Ruku tells ahead how such persons around whom the Satan has led away from the right path, may pressurize a Muslim to leave the teachings of Islam in practice; firstly, the challenge to his belief may come from his parents and though Islam asks to respect them highly yet it guides clearly that if they ask to commit SHERK (to take any of Allah's creation as equal to Him in authority), he shall not obey them; the Muslims shall always remember that they are answerable to Allah, the true Lord, so they shall never take-up anything that is against His commands; note that some of the good Muslims who had accepted Islam at those trying times, were being much forced by one or both of their parents to leave Islam and it was only when those became convinced that they would not leave Islam for certain, did they stop this provocation; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah declares that He would provide such persons who resist such adverse efforts of their parents to mislead them, TOFIQ to make themselves most righteous so that they get highest of good returns at AKHIRAT; secondly, the challenge to his belief may come from those disbelievers who have some authority at the place where he dwells, when they torment him much so that he leaves Islam; note that the Muslims were facing hard times at Makkah when this Surah came to the Prophet PBUH; this AAYAT tells about such Muslim person, who is not firm in his belief upon Islam, that he takes the persecution of men that he faces in the way of Allah, to be as the chastisement of Allah and comes to leaving Islam; but however, if the Muslims gain power somewhere, he says that he also is included in them so for all his convenience, he claims his belief in Islam and when he finds the goings highly rough towards him due to his commitment to Islam, he comes near to leaving it; it reads, "and among men is he who says- 'we believe in Allah'; but when he is persecuted in (the way of) Allah, he thinks the persecution of men to be as the chastisement of Allah; and if there come assistance from your Lord, they would most certainly say- 'surely we were with you'; what! is not Allah the best knower of what is in the breasts of mankind (so they may hide their wrongs from persons around yet they are unable to conceal anything at their insides from Allah, the true Lord, Who would judge their doings most justly at the Day of Judgment)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah declares that such trying events come upon all persons that He truly "knows" (i.e. brings at fore) those who believe and those who are hypocrites; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this is the only place in the Quran where the term "MUNAFIQIN"

(hypocrites) occurs at a Surah that descended at Makkah, as hypocrites had come at fore at Madinah where Muslims were getting strength and these persons intended to get benefits of the world by their verbal claim; Surah AHZAAB, that descended at Madinah, has this term at six places that includes its first and last AAYAAT while Surah MUNAFIQUN also relates their wrongs; Surah NISAA-138 asks the Prophet PBUH, "announce to the hypocrites that they shall have a painful chastisement" and tells about them ahead at that Ruku that they are such persons who befriend the disbelievers leaving the Muslims; it tells that if they intend respect from the disbelievers then they ought to know that respect, all of it, belongs only to Allah; so it guides the Muslims well in clear terms not to worry about what the disbelievers say about how the Muslims ask for practicing Islam in the setup of the world as of now and/or what they say about the attitudes of the Muslims towards life at the world; we Muslims take this life as the means to achieve the pleasure of Allah by adhering to the KITAB (the Quran) and the SUNNAH of the Prophet PBUH, and it has no value other than that; those persons who prefer the life at the world over the life at AKHIRAT, they are given-to idiocy as they try to disrespect Allah by not taking Him as the true Lord; certainly, the Muslims need to avoid the disbelievers in the world as of now and leave them on their own; as Surah ANKABUT descended at Makkah, its AAYAT-11, though its connotation shows such persons who are not true in their words about Islam, does not denote them to be as organized as they were at Madinah to challenge the teachings of Islam in practice; at this Surah ANKABUT, we also find the term "JAHADA" (to strive hard) at its sixth AAYAT which reads, "and whoever strives hard, he strives only for his own soul; most surely Allah is Self-sufficient, above (need of) the worlds"; and at its last AAYAT too, which contains its plural form to tell about such striving persons, that reads, "and (as for) those who strive hard for Us, We will most certainly guide them in Our ways; and Allah is most surely with the doers of good"; note that the root word for this term is JEHAD which is usually taken to denote the armed fight against the enemy of Islam yet that is just an aspect to it as JEHAD has three aspects that are MUJAHIDA and TABLIGH (to spread the teachings of Islam) and QITAL (armed combat of the good Muslims against the enemy who challenges Islam in the most mischievous manner); in all its aspects, it relates to striving hard of Muslims by aid of the Quran, in the best manner possible against all wrongs to gain the pleasure of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at Makkah, Muslims were disallowed to challenge the disbelievers by the armed combat and they were permitted for it only at AAYAT-39 of Surah HAJJ which descended at the last year in Makkah and the first year in Madinah;

Surah ANKABUT, as it descended at Makkah, has this term in the meaning of MUJAHIDA which relates to fighting such desires inside at the individual level that incite the Muslim person to challenge Islam in his practice; there is provocation to wrongs inside due to satanic temptations but he resists all such temptations by his total attention towards Allah; this resistance with care to Islam relates to SABR (i.e. keeping to Islam with total patience at averse situations without any care to worldly assets) and as such, it relates most highly to MUJAHIDA; he is at JEHAD at the individual level as he practices SABR and as he asks Allah for safety from all wrongs; his MUJAHIDA does manifest beautifully at such times where the sinful persons ask him to leave care to virtues and to come towards wrongs too to enjoy by them; MUJAHIDA leads the good Muslim person to become able to guide all persons towards Islam by the blessing of Allah so it is obligatory upon each and every good Muslim (as it means for him to obey sincerely the commands of Allah in the individual capacity), though all good Muslims would fulfill the liability of TABLIGH and QITAL too as required, with high caliber, when there is a significant quantity among them for each of these both; Al-Hamdu Lillah; if there are many of such Muslim persons who adhere to MUJAHIDA at some specific place together by keeping themselves away from wrongs and then they call towards Islam, Allah provides them ample peace and gives them TOFIQ to become even better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; see also the supplementary note at AAYAT-39 of Surah HAJJ which comes after the note at its sixth Ruku; the term JAAHADAAKA (they both strive hard) which relates to the root word JEHAD, has also come at AAYAT-8 of this first Ruku which denotes the efforts of parents against the son who accepts Islam totally so here it only has its connotation by dictionary as it states, "and We have enjoined on man goodness to his parents, and if they contend with you (which occurs by words "WA-IN-JAAHADAAKA") that you should associate (others) with Me, of which you have no knowledge (because on the contrary, you have the true knowledge that certainly there is none equal in authority to Him), do not obey them; to Me is your return, so I will inform you of what you did"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so challenge to the good belief of a good Muslim may come from his parents and from those disbelievers who have some authority at the place he dwells; thirdly, the challenge to his belief may come from such persons who would say anything to mislead the Muslims by trickery that the outcome to go against Islam would not harm them in any averse manner; the last two AAYAAT of the Ruku state, "and those who disbelieve say to those who believe- 'follow our path and we will bear your wrongs'; and never shall they be the bearers of any of their wrongs; most surely they are liars; and most certainly they shall carry their own burdens, and other burdens with their own burdens (but that would fall upon them due to their own verbal efforts to mislead the Muslim persons so in actual, their other burdens also shall be due to their own doings), and most certainly they shall be questioned on the resurrection day as to what they forged (to mislead the Muslim persons); Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ANKABUT-The Second Ruku

14. And certainly We sent Noah to his people, so he remained among them a thousand years save fifty years. And the deluge overtook them, while they were unjust.

15. So We delivered him and the inmates of the ark, and made it a sign to the nations.

16. And (note about) Ibrahim, when he said to his people: Serve Allah and be careful of (your duty to) Him; this is best for you, if you did but know:

17. You only worship idols besides Allah and you create a lie; surely they whom you serve besides Allah do not control for you any sustenance, therefore seek the sustenance from Allah and serve Him and be grateful to Him; to Him you shall be brought back.

18. And if you reject (the Truth), nations before you did indeed reject; and nothing is incumbent on the apostle but a plain delivering (of the message).

19. What! do they not consider how Allah originates the creation, then reproduces it? Surely that is easy to Allah.

20. Say: Travel in the earth and see how Allah makes the first creation, then Allah creates the latter creation; surely Allah has power over all things.

21. He punishes whom He pleases and has mercy on whom He pleases, and to Him you shall be turned back.

22. And you shall not escape in the earth nor in the heaven, and you have neither a protector nor a helper besides Allah.

This Ruku narrates about Noah-AS, by whom the mankind spread again upon the earth after the flood that drowned all other of them, and about Ibrahim-AS, by whom the golden chain of Allah's Prophets (Salam on all of them) came ahead; in AAYAAT ahead at the Ruku, Allah declares how He punished those persons at the world and how He would punish them at the Day of Judgment who, besides other of disbelief, did not have true belief in AKHIRAT, which goes on to the first AAYAT of the third Ruku; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the beginning AAYAAT of the Ruku state, "and certainly We sent Noah to his people, so he remained among them a thousand years save fifty years, and the deluge overtook them, while they were unjust; so We delivered him and the inmates of the ark, and made it a sign to the nations"; Surah SHUA'RAA that we all have studied recently, Surah AARAAF, Surah HOODH and other of Surah have provided detail for this; however, here we find that Noah provided the message of Allah to his nation for nine hundred and fifty years while his total age at the world is mentioned as more than one thousand years as he became the Messenger of Allah at the age of maturity and as he lived on ahead too after that notable flood; this is to tell all of Muslims that they need patience to provide the teachings of Islam to all peoples and they need to bear what comes in that process as Allah would certainly examine them all at the world to prove their claim to Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that after sending any of the Messengers to some nation, Allah appoints such time where that nation would ultimately accept the fundamental Islamic teachings or face certain death; we all have studied at Surah AARAAF in its second Ruku about Adam & Eve (Salam on both of them) explicitly that the life at the world is an examination to the mankind so all persons must keep to the three fundamental teachings of Islam that all the Messengers of Allah have guided to; these fundamental teachings of Islam are TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord) and AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment) and RISALAT (Allah had sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path); Al-Hamdu Lillah; each of the Messengers of Allah said to his respective nation that "I am a faithful messenger unto you so keep your duty to Allah, and obey me"; so all the Messengers did try their best to guide their nations as Allah has asked them; however, their nations did not comply to their call and so Allah destroyed them completely at the world and they certainly would be among the severely punished peoples at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next three AAYAAT from 16 to 19 state, "And (note about) Ibrahim, when he said to his people- serve Allah and be careful of (your duty to) Him; this is best for you, if you did but know; you only worship idols besides Allah and you create a lie; surely they whom you serve besides Allah do not control for you any sustenance, therefore seek the sustenance from Allah and serve Him and be grateful to Him; to Him you shall be brought back; and if you reject (the Truth), nations before you did indeed reject; and nothing is incumbent on the apostle but a plain delivering (of the message)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT give the message of Islam clearly that Allah, the only Creator of life, only has the true authority so all persons shall obey Him only as that only is the aim of life; if He intends to provide benefits to anyone, nobody is able to stop those benefits from him/her and if He intends to stop something from anyone, nobody is able to provide that to him/her so all persons need to be most grateful to Him only; those who worship idols besides Allah, they have given themselves to lies only as they take these idols as providers of their security while they are totally unable to provide any security to their own selves even; all persons certainly have to answer Allah for all their doings so if they reject the fundamental teachings of Islam then the Messenger of Allah has done his job by providing that to them, as he only has the liability to deliver the message of Allah plainly; note that Ibrahim-AS was the Messenger of Allah but not particularly towards any of peoples and the difference manifests here by the respective statements "and certainly We sent Noah to his people" (AAYAT-14) & "and (note about) Ibrahim, when he said to his people-serve Allah and be careful of (your duty to) Him" (AAYAT-16); the notable thing here is that after sending any of Messengers to some nation, Allah appoints such time where they would ultimately accept the fundamental Islamic teachings or face certain death; the people of Ibrahim (Abraham) did live on after he left them and there is a very high probability that some of them had accepted the Islamic teachings that he had provided to them and from them, it did reach on to other of peoples too; however, as it is only a probability, the best thing to state is that certainly, Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so Abraham-AS refuted the belief of his nation at Babylon where he was born at the city of UR and where the people worshipped idols and took stars even as objects to worship, whereas their king asked unconditional obedience from them; Abraham challenged these aspects of their belief at different occasions as we find the mention at BAQARAH-258, at ANBIYA-the fifth Ruku and at AN'AAM-the ninth Ruku; he argued by the signs of heavens to guide his nation towards TAUHID of Allah (that Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord); he even showed them by practical demonstration by destroying their idols that they are totally helpless to save them and even themselves; Al-Hamdu Lillah; he said in clear terms that denoted his true belief that he has set his face firmly towards Him Who created the heavens and the earth, being upright, and never shall he be of the polytheists; Al-Hamdu Lillah; he told them to take his word for it that those who do believe in Allah righteously and do not mix it up with the heavy injustice (SHERK), then for those only is the security as they certainly do have the true guidance; only that true guidance has the worth to lead to security at AKHIRAT which for certain, is the true success; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that SHERK means to reject Allah as the only Creator of all the creation or/and challenge His authority by doubts about His attributes that are QADEEM (He is from all times to all times with all of His attributes that are of Him from all times to all times), ASL (all of His attributes are His Own), LA-MEHDUD (all of His attributes are limitless) or/and to reject Him as the only true Lord of all the creation Who actually has to be obeyed, so any of His creation shall only be obeyed when his/its directions do not challenge the obedience to His commands in principle in any way; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAT-19 to AAYAT-23 (the first AAYAT of the next Ruku), Allah tells the disbelievers that they need to see how everything manifests and asks them through the Prophet PBUH to see how the cycle of life goes on; Allah has total authority and nobody is able to stop Him from anything He intends; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT read, "what! do they not consider how Allah originates the creation, then reproduces it (as the process of birth and death manifests well in His creation so the life goes on)? surely that is easy to Allah; say (to them O Prophet PBUH), 'travel in the earth and see how Allah makes the first creation, then Allah creates the latter creation (as there are stages in creation of everything, so Allah would provide life to all persons at the Day of HASHR as that also is one of stages in the life of mankind)'; surely Allah has power over all things; He punishes (wrong persons at life at the world too) whom He pleases (as He eliminated many of peoples who challenged the fundamental teachings of Islam) and has mercy on whom He pleases (as He gave more space of time to the people of Abraham), and to Him you shall be turned back (at AKHIRAT to see the final outcome of all your doings where He would spare no wrong person and where He would provide every righteous person his due good returns); and you shall not escape in the earth nor in the heaven (on that specific day), and you have neither a protector nor a helper besides Allah (on that specific day); and (as to) those who disbelieve in the AAYAAT of Allah and His meeting, they have despaired of My mercy (at life at the world), and these it is that shall have a painful punishment (at AKHIRAT)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ANKABUT-The Third Ruku

23. And (as to) those who disbelieve in the AAYAAT of Allah and His meeting, they have despaired of My mercy, and these it is that shall have a painful punishment.

24. So naught was the answer of his people except that they said: Slay him or burn him; then Allah delivered him from the fire; most surely there are signs in this for a people who believe.

25. And he said: You have only taken for yourselves idols besides Allah by way of friendship between you in this world's life, then on the resurrection day some of you shall deny others, and some of you shall curse others, and your abode is the fire, and you shall not have any helpers.

26. And Lot believed in Him, and he (Abraham) said: I am fleeing to my Lord, surely He is the Mighty, the Wise.

27. And We granted him Isaac and YAQOUB (Jacob), and caused the prophet-hood and the book to remain in his seed, and We gave him his reward in this world, and in the hereafter he will most surely be among the good.

28. And (We sent) Lot when he said to his people: Most surely you are guilty of an indecency which none of the nations has ever done before you;

29. What! do you come to the males and commit robbery on the highway, and you commit evil in your assemblies? But nothing was the answer of his people except that they said: Bring on us Allah's punishment, if you are one of the truthful.

30. He said: My Lord! help me against the mischievous people.

The third Ruku of ANKABUT continues the narrative of Abraham-AS and tells about Lot-AS; it states that as the people of Abraham were unable to answer his argument, they decided to burn him alive but Allah saved him from that which certainly tells how Allah saves those who truly do strive hard in his way with utmost patience (see ANBIYA-69); Al-Hamdu Lillah; Abraham told his people in clear terms that they have taken worship of idols due to their relations with each other but at AKHIRAT, some of them shall deny any relations to the most evil persons among them, and some of them shall even curse others, and the abode of all of them is the hell-fire for certain while they shall not have any helpers on that day; his nephew Lot accepted the message of Islam at that most trying time and later on, Allah chose him too as one of His Messengers; Al-Hamdu Lillah; seeing that his people would not believe in the fundamental teaching of Islam, Abraham migrated from Ur with his wife and Lot towards the ancient area of Syria (that included Palestine too) as ANBIYA-71 states, "and We delivered him as well as Lot (removing them and Sarah-AS) to the land which We had blessed for all people"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-27 tells that Allah gave Isaac-AS to Abraham, who was his son, and Jacob-AS, who was his grandson; it reads, "and We granted him Isaac and YAQOUB (Jacob), and caused the prophet-hood and the book (Torah) to remain in his seed (i.e. his descendants), and We gave him his reward in this world; and in the hereafter, he will most surely be among the good"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as for the nation of Lot-AS, they were the people living at Sodom and Gomorrah at south of the dead sea; they were extremely filthy persons who used to commit the heinous sin of sodomy among the men and looted travelers whenever they found the chance for it; they had become so perverted in sexual matters that they even talked at their gatherings about their filth as they found pleasure in such talks so their living manner has made them oblivious of any sense of good morality; Lot actually did not belong to that nation but Allah sent him as His Messenger to them and he tried his best to reform them of this heinous sin but to no avail; in fact, they intended to expel him from their city just because he challenged their filth; then Lot-AS made a plea to Allah to punish these heinous wrong-doers so Allah rained stones upon them to eliminate them totally; Lot had taken his wife from amongst that nation and she did not disapprove of their heinous sin so she was most disobedient to Lot and so she was punished too with that extremely sinful nation; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ANKABUT-The Fourth Ruku

31. And when Our apostles came to Ibrahim with the good news, they said: Surely we are going to destroy the people of this town, for its people are unjust.

32. He said: Surely in it is Lot. They said: We know well who is in it; we shall certainly deliver him and his followers, except his wife; she shall be of those who remain behind.

33. And when Our apostles came to Lot he was grieved on account of them, and he felt powerless (to protect) them; and they said: Fear not, nor grieve; surely we will deliver you and your followers, except your wife; she shall be of those who remain behind.

34. Surely We will cause to come down upon the people of this town a punishment from heaven, because they transgressed.

35. And certainly We have left a clear sign of it for a people who understand.

36. And to Madyan (We sent) their brother SHOAIIB, so he said: O my people! serve Allah and fear the latter day and do not act corruptly in the land, making mischief.

37. But they rejected him, so a severe earthquake overtook them, and they became motionless bodies in their abode.

38. And (We destroyed) AAD and THAMUD, and from their dwellings (this) is apparent to you indeed; and the Satan made their deeds fair-seeming to them, so he kept them back from the path, though they were endowed with intelligence and skill,

39. And (We destroyed) QAROUN and Pharaoh and Haman; and certainly Musa came to them with clear arguments, but they behaved haughtily in the land; yet they could not outstrip (Us).

40. So each We punished for his sin; of them was he on whom We sent down a violent storm, and of them was he whom the rumbling overtook, and of them was he whom We made to be swallowed up by the earth, and of them was he whom We drowned; and it did not beseem

Allah that He should be unjust to them, but they were unjust to their own souls.

41. The parable of those who take guardians besides Allah is as the parable of the spider that makes for itself a house; and most surely the frailest of the houses is the spider's house did they but know.

42. Surely Allah knows whatever thing they call upon besides Him; and He is the Mighty, the Wise.

43. And (as for) these examples, We set them forth for men, and none understand them but the learned.

44. Allah created the heavens and the earth with truth; most surely there is sign in this for the believers.

At this Ruku, we find that Allah had sent angels to punish the filthy people of Sodom & Gomorrah but these angels had visited Abraham-AS before coming to Lot-AS to provide him the good news that he would get Isaac as his son and YAQOUB (Jacob) as his grandson; at that occasion, they had even told Abraham the manner of the punishment to the people of Lot as Surah ZAARIYAAT states, "they said - surely we are sent to guilty people that we may send down upon them stones of clay that are sent forth with markings from your Lord for the wanton people" (AAYAT-32, 33 & 34 of ZAARIYAAT); Abraham worried about Lot who believed sincerely in the Truth, so they told him that they had the task to deliver him and his followers except for his wife by the command of Allah; when Lot saw them, he was disturbed as he took them to be such men who were visiting the area whereas the people there had extreme filth in their attitudes; but they told him that they are angels so he does not need to grieve as they have no issue that the filthy people there may affect them adversely; they told him that they will deliver him and his followers except his wife as she shall be of those who remain behind; so Allah sent down extreme punishment to them (that was the rain of stones of clay) through His angels because they had transgressed the moral limits in which the man needs to remain for certain, and then He made them lesson ahead that He would punish all such persons who commit any of major sins together of the most shameful nature, even at the world most severely; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-36, 37 & 38 read, "and to Madyan (We sent) their brother SHOAB, so he said- O my people! serve Allah (by believing in His true authority) and fear the latter day (of Judgment) and do not act corruptly in the land, making mischief (by usurping the rights of each other); but they rejected him (as the Messenger of Allah), so a severe earthquake overtook them, and (the outcome of that was that) they became motionless bodies in their abode; and (We destroyed) AD (i.e. the people of HOODH-AS) and THAMUD (i.e. the people of SALEH-AS), and from their dwellings (which you see while traveling, this) is apparent to you indeed; and the Satan made their deeds fair-seeming to them (that they thought them to be virtuous though those deeds were utterly wrong doings), so he kept them back from the (right) path, though they were endowed with intelligence and skill"; note that the man inclines naturally towards righteousness as he knows well inside him that his true benefits are only at that and the Satan is aware of it so he tries to lead a person to misconception that his doing is surely right when he is committing a wrong, so that there remains no chance that he recompenses for that except when Allah gives him TOFIQ to realize his error clearly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; even today, we do find that many such persons, who are most aware of astronomy, which tells many of the amazing principles by which Allah has set the heavenly bodies in amazingly vast area of the universe, are not prepared to revise their living manner and are most oblivious of making their deeds better for AKHIRAT; AAYAAT-39 & 40 tell explicitly that Allah destroyed QAROUN and Pharaoh and Haman; Allah had sent Moses as His Messenger to all of them besides the Bani Israel, with clear arguments (i.e. miraculous things) to believe in the Truth, but they thought themselves as righteous and behaved haughtily in the land; yet they could not do any harm to Allah Who punished each of them for his sin according to that sin; so in them were AAD on whom Allah sent extremely fierce violent wind that roared at their area for seven nights and eight days (and the people of Lot are also included here as Allah destroyed them too by such violent stormy wind that rained the shower of clay-stones over them); and in them were THAMUD and the people of SHOAIIB whom the rumbling of earthquake overtook, and of them was QAROUN whom Allah made to be swallowed up by the earth, and of them were the disbelievers in the people of Noah, and also Pharaoh and his men, whom Allah drowned; and certainly, Allah was not unjust to them as He does care most highly for all of mankind but this all happened to them as they were most unjust to their own souls due to their rejection of the Truth; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT 41, 42 & 43 at the Ruku read, "the parable of those who take guardians besides Allah is as the parable of the spider that makes for itself a house; and most surely the frailest of the houses is the spider's house (which is unable to bear anything that falls upon it), did they but know (that their shelters against the punishment of Allah are even weaker than the web of the spider); surely Allah knows whatever thing (they take as equal to Allah in authority and) they call upon besides Him; and He is the Mighty, the Wise; and (as for) these examples, We set them forth for men, and none understand them but the learned"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as the web of a spider is frailest of all shelters that insects take, so Allah gives its example to show that guardians that the disbelievers believe-in that they would save them from all troubles at the world and torments at AKHIRAT, none of them has any worth to save them as they have no power against Allah Who is AZIZ (Mighty; so He keeps all His creation to work for His will only by His true authority and destroys those peoples who challenge Him) and HAKEEM (Wise; so He indeed cares well that all works of all His creation affect in such way that they fulfill only His will); Al-Hamdu Lillah; whenever Allah sends some destruction by some calamity to disbelievers, those whom they take as their shelters, prove totally useless against it as they certainly have no authority to do anything against the will of Allah; those whom Allah has given TOFIQ to become learned in Islam, their good deeds totally show their bond to this righteous concept that Allah only has the true authority and whatever happens, it only happens by the will of Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT at this Ruku presents this fact most explicitly that Allah has created all of His creation in such beautiful manner that all do fulfill His command only, though the jinn and the mankind have the task to fulfill this, the only aim of life, by their own freewill or else, they face total elimination from the world; then Allah would resurrect them all at the Day of Judgment where they would face the ultimate result to their doings at life at the world; it reads, "Allah created the heavens and the earth with truth (i.e. the principle to fulfill His will only); most surely there is sign in this for the believers"; most surely, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ANKABUT-The Fifth Ruku

45. Recite that which has been revealed to you of the Book and keep up prayer (Salah); surely prayer keeps (a person) away from indecency and evil, and certainly the remembrance of Allah is the greatest, and Allah knows what you do.

46. And do not dispute with the followers of the Book except by what is best, except those of them who act unjustly; and say: We believe in that which has been revealed to us and revealed to you, and He, in Whom we believe and in Whom you believe, is One; and to Him do we submit.

47. And thus have We revealed the Book to you. So those whom We have given the Book believe in it, and of these there are those who believe in it, and none deny Our AAYAAT except the disbelievers.

48. And you did not recite before it any book, nor did you transcribe one with your right hand, for then could those who say untrue things have doubted.

49. Nay! these are clear AAYAAT in the breasts of those who are granted knowledge; and none deny Our AAYAAT except the unjust.

50. And they say: Why are not signs sent down upon him from his Lord? Say: The signs are only with Allah, and I am only a plain warner.

51. Is it not enough for them that We have revealed to you the Book which is recited to them? Most surely there is mercy in this and a reminder for a people who believe.

The fifth Ruku of ANKABUT guides attention that it is Allah Who has revealed both Torah (the five initial books of the old Testament) and the Holy Book Quran; though there have been alterations at Torah according to us Muslims, at ancient times, yet as they both have come from Allah to the mankind (by Moses-AS and Muhammad PBUH respectively) so in essence, they both teach about TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord) and AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment) and RISALAT (Allah had sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first AAYAT at this Ruku tells the virtues of reciting the Quran and keeping firm upon Salah (the virtuous manner of prayer to Allah) as it tells that "surely Salah keeps (the person) away from indecency and evil, and certainly the remembrance of Allah is the greatest, and Allah knows what you do"; so the AAYAT asks all Muslims to remain most aware of the Islamic teachings by understanding of the Holy Book Quran and to remain most attached to practice of Islam, of which Salah is most significant which shapes the daily routine of a Muslim person; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the mention of Salah here at this Surah which descended at Makkah, implies that the Muslim person has to engage in remembrance of Allah at all times for which, Salah is the most significant command to practice in the daily life; it had not become obligatory at that time yet it certainly was the most significant command to practice even at that time; note that the AAYAT clarifies that it keeps the person away from FAHSHAA (most shameful behavior; extreme indecency) and from MUNKAR (most evil acts; extreme injustice); so the practice of Salah with utmost attention towards Allah, the true Lord, leads to the practice of all Islamic teachings in all matters of life because commitment to it is the initial practice to keeping away from all major sins which may be the most shameful behavior or may be extreme injustice; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the woman has to see keeping to HEJAB, that nothing averse to Islamic values takes place by her natural beauty that attracts men as that has high potential to lead to occurrence of the shameful behavior and the man has to see that nothing objectionable by Islamic values takes place by the strength he has (and that might be his official strength) that leads to occurrence of injustice; the Islamic administration needs to give attention at the environment for both of these matters by EHSAAN (i.e. by the good traditions set to fulfill tasks related to decent morality) and by ADL (i.e. by commitment to the law of the land) respectively so the actual work to do is to guide attention towards the Holy Book Quran getting it into practice totally instead of working for material gains and/or the worldly status but caring most for reading of Salah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note also that the Muslims do not need to take actions that are sudden or imposed by force as the Islamic values command natural respect that do not need any forced manner to manifest them; insha-Allah (if Allah wills) the current environment would change into the Islamic environment as all Muslim persons in authority influence it with utmost care to eliminate wrongs, while the necessary good attitudes would develop-on for the consolidation of Islamic values as that is the natural inclination for all men certainly; this authority is AMANAT (trust of Allah in mankind) which means that it is such liability that Allah provides to persons so that they fulfill it to put Allah's commands into practice as much as is possible for them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; there are many of AAYAAT in the Quran that target these two extreme wrongs (most shameful behavior and extreme injustice) together which include Surah BAQARAH-168 & 169, AALE-IMRAN-135, SHURA-37,

NAJM-32, AN'AAM-151, NISAA-110 & 111 & 112, BANI-ISRAEL (whole of its third Ruku), MUHAMMAD (PBUH)-14 that ask the avoidance of Injustice and the avoidance of all shameful behavior at one place; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Holy Book Quran has targeted each of these both individually too at places yet I, MSD, have indicated at this place only those that are among AAYAAT that target them together; note that all major sins either fall into the most shameful behavior or either into extreme injustice; even SHERK, the greatest of all major sins, is named as the most extreme injustice at Surah LUQMAN-13 which presents the words of LUQMAN, who was one of the most intelligent men at ancient times, "Behold, LUQMAN said to his son by way of instruction- 'O my son! join not in worship (others) with Allah; most surely SHERK is tremendous injustice'-"; ULAMA (the learned persons) in the Islamic teachings mention that it is highly praiseworthy for the Muslim men in general to learn Surah-MA'EDAH good as it teaches the Islamic law that targets injustice directly while it is highly praiseworthy for the Muslim women in general to learn Surah-NOOR good as it commands about HEJAB that targets the shameful attitude directly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it is fair to say that based on the teachings of the Holy Book Quran and the Sunnah of the last Prophet Muhammad PBUH, Islam is the only worthy challenger even today (as at all times) to all injustice and to all of the shameful attitude because Islam asks to keep attention towards Allah only; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah NAHL indicates, "surely Allah commands ADL (justice) and EHSAAN (natural goodness) and the giving to the kindred, and He forbids shameful behavior and injustice and rebellion (to Allah); He admonishes you that you may be mindful" (Surah NAHL-90); Allah commands for three things here and forbids three other things; the message here is that taking-up three good things in practice that comprise of all the righteousness would eliminate the three bad things that represent all the Satanic misguidance; here, an indication is given that EHSAAN eliminates all the shameful behavior and ADL eliminates all of injustice; the spending towards the needy among the near ones for the pleasure of Allah counters any thought that might lead towards hypocrisy that in turn, leads towards challenging the commands of Allah; the message for this part is that "INFAAQ" (spending in the way of Allah from what Allah has provided) keeps away "NIFAAQ" (hypocrisy) from the Muslim person for certain and the first AAYAT of this Ruku of ANKABUT notes too that the remembrance of Allah in practice is the greatest of all good acts as it keeps away NIFAAQ from the Muslim person for certain; Al-Hamdu Lillah; then this first AAYAT ends by the comment that Allah knows about all persons who among them, really do good deeds for the pleasure of Allah when they do them and about all persons who do not; so in recitation of the Quran and in reading of Salah, as in all good deeds, the Muslim person needs to have all attention towards Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT ahead at this Ruku tells how to present the message of the Quran, which relates to the fundamental teachings of Islam, among the people of the Book; note that AAYAT-125 of NAHL had stated, "(O Muhammad PBUH)- call to the way of your Lord with wisdom (those learned persons who are most studious yet in need of getting the Islamic teachings) and with goodly exhortation (by addressing the good emotions in those persons who value the good feelings among the fellow beings), and have disputations with those (who would not even listen properly to the good Islamic teachings due to their negative manner to challenge everything that comes their way, even when the true Muslims provide all good reasoning for them to accept Islam in their own benefit), in the best manner; surely your Lord knows best those who go astray from His path, and He knows best those who follow the right path (so you have the liability to providing the message of Islam to all peoples of the world and Allah only would decide who gets the true guidance)"; note that HIKMAT (i.e. wisdom) means such high intelligence that tells how to put the Islamic commands into practice at any given situation, so the Muslims would call the studious persons among the disbelievers by the manner of HIKMAT (as that is the asking of ADL); and they would call those persons who have the sense that the world needs to live in peace where all persons care about the fellow beings, by the manner of goodly urging (as that is the asking of EHSAAN); these both manners comply to the guidance of AAYAT-46 here which tells, "and do not dispute with the followers of the Book except by what is best (which may be the manner of ADL or the manner of EHSAAN)"; AAYAT tells ahead that the Muslims shall say to those of the people of the Book (Torah) who act unjustly towards the message of Islam that they believe in the Quran which has been revealed to them through the Holy Prophet Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, and they also believe in those virtuous teachings of Torah which it still presents even after its alteration at the ancient times; and they shall say this too clearly that He, in Whom they believe and in Whom the people of the Book believe, is One; but the difference between them is that the Muslims take Him as their true Lord and live in accordance to His commands so to Him only, they do submit; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAT-47 to the last, the Ruku mentions about the Holy Book Quran that Allah has revealed this Holy Book Quran to Muhammad PBUH like He had revealed Torah to Moses-AS and among those whom He had given the Book (i.e. Torah), there are just persons who do believe in it, and also of these (i.e. residents of Makkah), there are such persons who do believe in it; and none deny AAYAAT of Allah when they are recited to them with clarity, except such disbelievers who do not reflect on them; the significant thing for all persons to observe is that the Prophet PBUH did not recite any book before he received the Quran, nor did he write any book (as he could neither read nor write), as then could those who say untrue things, have doubted; in fact, they are AAYAAT that remain secure by the command of Allah in the breasts of those who are granted knowledge; note that this is an indication that there would always remain such good persons among the Muslims who would do such related tasks in service of the Quran that would keep it most secure by the command of Allah; there would be those who would memorize it totally, those who would recite it time & again, those who would write it strikingly and publish it beautifully, those who would remain most aware of its teachings, those who would keep the meanings of its text intact, those who would express its guidance to all peoples of the world and others who would serve it in some way or other, by the will of Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so its AAYAAT are totally clear which only the unjust denies adamantly when he becomes aware of it; there are such persons among the disbelievers who, seeing that they are totally unable to challenge the Quran on the scholarly level, ask why are not miracles sent down upon him from his Lord?- so the AAYAT asks the Prophet

PBUH to answer them that Allah sends miracles whenever He wills for it, and he is only a warner to them that if they do not accept the Truth, they would fall into extreme trouble at AKHIRAT for certain; the last AAYAT of the Ruku refutes them by the argument that they do hear the teachings of the Holy Book Quran which Allah has revealed to the Prophet PBUH; it truly is miracle, if they do care to learn it, as it guides them to the right path so it is mercy of Allah to all of mankind so that all peoples accept the fundamental teachings of Islam and save themselves from torments of the hell-fire; and it is reminder for all Muslim persons who truly believe in it to remain firm upon Islam and put it into their practice so that they get the virtuous character at life here and achieve JANNAH at AKHIRAT, when Allah gives life to all persons again; that only is the true success; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ANKABUT-The Sixth Ruku

52. Say: Allah is sufficient as a witness between me and you; He knows what is in the heavens and the earth. And (certainly) those who believe in the falsehood and disbelieve in Allah, these it is that are the losers.

53. And they ask you to hasten on the chastisement; and had not a term been appointed, the chastisement would certainly have come to them; and most certainly it will come to them all of a sudden while they will not perceive.

54. They ask you to hasten on the chastisement, and most surely hell encompasses the disbelievers;

55. On the day when the chastisement shall cover them from above them, and from beneath their feet; and He shall say: Taste what you did.

56. O My servants who believe! surely My earth is vast, therefore Me alone should you serve.

57. Every soul must taste of death, then to Us you shall be brought back.

58. And (as for) those who believe and do good, We will certainly give them abode in the high places in gardens beneath which rivers flow, abiding therein; how good the reward of the workers:

59. Those who are patient, and on their Lord do they rely.

60. And how many a living creature that does not carry its sustenance: Allah sustains it and yourselves; and He is the Hearing, the Knowing.

61. And if you ask them, Who created the heavens and the earth and made the sun and the moon subservient, they will certainly say, Allah. Whence are they then turned away?

62. Allah makes abundant the means of subsistence for whom He pleases of His servants, and straitens them for whom (He pleases) surely Allah is Cognizant of all things.

63. And if you ask them Who is it that sends down water from the clouds, then gives life to the earth with it after its death, they will certainly say, Allah. Say: All praise is due to Allah. Nay, most of them do not understand.

This Ruku emphasizes that the true success is getting the pleasure of Allah at AKHIRAT and the disbelievers to the Truth are in extreme loss, both at life at the world and at AKHIRAT; it asks the Prophet PBUH to tell the disbelievers that Allah is sufficient as a witness between him and them; He knows what is in the heavens and the earth, so when He is aware of everything in this amazingly vast universe that He has created beautifully, what makes the disbelievers think that they would escape all situations that are adverse to their safety when they challenge the authority of Allah; all those who believe in the falsehood that they would not have to face the account of their doings which they had done at the world, at the certain day and disbelieve in Allah disregarding His authority to raise them from dead, these person are certainly among the extreme losers; they even demand from the Prophet PBUH to bring some disaster upon them, but Allah has set the timing for their chastisement if they do not accept the fundamental teachings of Islam; this is His mercy as He does not intend to inflict any punishment to disbelievers until they are aware of the Truth and the time for its acceptance passes away; but when that specific time elapses, He certainly would put an extreme disaster upon them and that would fall in the most sudden manner upon them; and they would see extreme punishment for them at AKHIRAT too when the hell-fire encompasses them and they would get its punishment from above of them and from beneath their feet; Allah would tell them to taste that for which they had been working at the world and to which, they had shown their extreme haste; from AAYAT-56 to AAYAT-60, the Ruku tells that if the true believers find hardship in remaining to the Truth and in the fulfillment of its asking in practice, they ought to migrate to some land that is complementary to their Islamic living as Allah has made the earth a vast place to live-on; they must not care that they would lose their relatives as when the death comes, which is inevitable, they would lose them certainly; and every person has to return to Allah where he would face his doings individually; Allah would provide the true believers, who live doing all good deeds at the world even in adverse situations for them, wonderful residing rooms in the high places in gardens beneath which rivers flow where they would live forever; Al-Hamdu Lillah; such is the beautiful reward for those who are patient without any care to accumulate wealth at the world and on their true Lord do they rely that He would certainly provide them the outlet to live-on their lives truly upon Islam in all situations; Al-Hamdu Lillah; if they have worries about how would they get their sustenance besides leaving their relatives behind as they migrate to some land for the righteous living, they must see around and note all such creatures, specially birds, which do not keep any of edibles with them yet Allah provides for them all and He would certainly provide for the true believers too; He hears all those among them who ask Him for their needs and even without that, He certainly knows about their needs; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last three AAYAAT of the Ruku state that there are many of disbelievers who are aware that Allah only has created the heavens and the earth and has made the sun and the moon serve the life of the mankind; so why do not they see that Allah only is their true Lord in Whom they have to believe truly and then fulfill only His commands totally; Al-Hamdu Lillah; if someone gets more of assets at the world, it is not the sign that he has achieved the true success and if someone has barely his sustenance, it does not mean that he has lost his worth but Allah examines all persons in different situations and He certainly knows whom to test with plenty and whom to test with scarce means for his sustenance; it is the success in the examination of the life that the man gives at the world by remaining to the commands of Allah, which certainly leads to his true success as every person has to face his/her doings at the certain day of HASHR; that is the time & place where his/her success counts; Al-Hamdu Lillah; they see that Allah sends rainfall on the land which is seemingly barren, and then it provides its fruits by that rainfall but in spite of this clear observation, they still have doubts in getting life after death when they would have to account for all their doings at the world; it is highly clear that they are obsessed with issues of their lives at the world and do not understand how Allah has set matters at the universe; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ANKABUT-The Last Ruku

64. And this life of the world is nothing but a sport and a play; and as for the next abode, that most surely is the life- did they but know!

65. So when they ride in the ships they call upon Allah, being sincerely obedient to Him, but when He brings them safe to the land, lo! they associate others (with Him);

66. Thus they become ungrateful for what We have given them, so that they may enjoy; but they shall soon know.

67. Do they not see that We have made a sacred territory secure, while men are carried off by force from around them? Will they still believe in the falsehood and disbelieve in the favor of Allah?

68. And who is more unjust than one who forges a lie against Allah, or gives the lie to the Truth when it has come to him? Will not in hell-fire be the abode of the disbelievers?

69. And (as for) those who strive hard for Us, We will most certainly guide them in Our ways; and Allah is most surely with the doers of good.

The last Ruku of ANKABUT expresses clearly that the true success is the success at AKHIRAT and such persons who do not realize it, are most unjust to their own selves; this life of the world is nothing but a sport and a play and as for the next abode, that most surely is the true life; note that Surah HADID-20 tells explicitly, "Know that this world's life is only sport (at childhood) and play (at the teenage) and gaiety (at youth) and boasting among yourselves (as the age advances from youth to old age), and a vying in the multiplication of wealth and children (at the old age and this attitude stays till death); (it is) like the rain, which causing the vegetation to grow, pleases the husbandmen, then it withers away so that you will see it become yellow, then it becomes dried up and broken down; and in the hereafter is a severe chastisement (for evil persons) and forgiveness from Allah and (His) pleasure (for righteous persons); and this world's life is naught but means of deception"; the duration of these ages might vary at individuals yet generally the first three stages pass as the person, obsessed with issues at life at the world, reaches forty; the example of vegetation divides the ages in two phases in which, the first three are of growth and the last two of decline; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next couple of AAYAAT tell that when the disbelievers face some difficult situation, they ask Allah only to remove it from them; these AAYAAT give the example that when they ride in ships that come near to sinking, they call upon Allah only as if they are most sincere in obedience to Him, but when He brings them with safety to the land then they associate others with Him in authority; so they are most ungrateful for the safety that Allah grants to them and all blessings that He provides to them; it is only short time that they would enjoy whatever they have at the world as ultimately they would get the deadly punishment even at the world that they truly deserve; Allah has granted them peace at Makkah which all of Arabia respects and that is why their caravans go safely to places and return safely while other of caravans are often looted at route; it is not because of those whom they associate with Allah in authority but it actually is because Allah has provided sanctity to Makkah among all of Arabia; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so what idiocy they show by believing in the falsehood that they would never be asked of their wrong-doings and disbelieving in the favor of Allah that He has bestowed upon them by creating everything in such manner at the world that they provide their examination with ease here to get the true success at AKHIRAT and by providing them the true guidance by the Holy Book Quran; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah consoles those true believers who face troublesome situations around with utmost patience at the world, at the last AAYAT of the Surah that whatever troubles come to them at the world, Allah would show in each of them the respective virtuous manner to answer them and save themselves from all adverse impressions that they try to put upon them; it also tells that by the blessing of Allah, the good righteous persons among the Muslims are always able to show all Muslims in general, some virtuous manner to live upon the Islamic teachings at the most troublesome situation; it is notable that there may be more than a single virtuous manner, keeping to principle, to deal with some trouble by Islam; note that MUJAHIDA (to strive hard) denotes the resistance of the good Muslim person to provocation to wrongs inside due to satanic temptations, by his total attention towards Allah; Islam terms this resistance as SABR which means to keep to Islam with total patience at averse situations without any care to worldly assets so this SABR actually relates highly to MUJAHIDA; the Muslim person is at JEHAD at the individual level as he practices SABR and as he asks Allah for safety from all wrongs; it is possible that a person does not have any of weapons yet he is engaged in JEHAD as the term is not confined to war; his MUJAHIDA does manifest beautifully at such times where the sinful persons ask him to leave care to virtues and to come towards wrongs too to enjoy by them yet he turns down such temptation outright; certainly, Allah only has the true authority, Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah ROUM

(Consists of 6 Ruku; MK-6)

ROUM-The First Ruku

1. ALIF LAAM MIM.
2. The Romans are vanquished,
3. In a near land, and they, after being vanquished, shall overcome,
4. Within a few years; Allah's is the command before and after; and on that day the believers shall rejoice,
5. With the help of Allah; He helps whom He pleases; and He is the Mighty, the Merciful;
6. It is Allah's promise! Allah will not fail His promise, but most people do not know.

7. They know the outward of this world's life, but of the hereafter they are absolutely heedless.

8. Do they not reflect within themselves: Allah did not create the heavens and the earth and what is between them two but with truth, and (for) an appointed term? And most surely most of the people are deniers of the meeting of their Lord.

9. Have they not travelled in the earth and seen how was the end of those before them? They were stronger than these in prowess, and dug up the earth, and built on it in greater abundance than these have built on it, and there came to them their apostles with clear arguments; so it was not beseeming for Allah that He should deal with them unjustly, but they dealt unjustly with their own souls.

10. Then evil was the end of those who did evil, because they rejected the AAYAAT of Allah and they used to mock them.

Surah ROUM begins by prediction about the Romans that though they have been defeated at present, they would soon overcome their victors; note that at 615 AD, when these AAYAT descended, the Romans had suffered series of devastating defeats by the Persians, who had reached near to borders of Egypt conquering many of lands that were in control of the Roman empire; these both were the two strong empires of that time who used to challenge each other to gain the upper hand at issues of the world; note that the Muslims were able to break the power of both of them by the blessing of Allah within some years of the departure of the Prophet PBUH from the world when they completely ended the strength of the Persian empire and utterly demoted the power of the Roman empire; note also that the year for this prediction was the sixth year from the time when Allah provided the Prophet PBUH the task of spreading His message to all peoples of the world counting from 610 AD that was the first year for it as the years at that time are counted by their current values and not when they elapse; the disbelievers at Makkah were pleased at this turn of events as they took the Persians, who worshipped fire, as nearer to them and the Romans, who claimed to be followers of the Christian faith, as nearer to the Muslims; at that time, Heraclius was the ruler of the Roman empire and his dreadful defeat was such that it seemed that the Romans would not stand against the Persians under him for many of years ahead; in fact, he even tried to strike a truce with the Persians but they rejected any such treaty and went on with their campaign to conquer the lands that were under the control of the Roman empire; however, it happened that the Romans started their series of victories against the Persians under Heraclius within a few years that started from 623 AD and ended at 627

AD when they defeated the Persians at Nineveh decisively; the news of one of their initial victories against the Persians reached Madinah when the Muslims were celebrating their win against the forces of Makkah at BADR and that was in complete accordance with the prediction at the beginning AAYAAT of Surah ROUM that read, "ALIF LAAM MIM; the Romans are vanquished, in a near land, and they, after being vanquished, shall overcome, within a few years; Allah's is the command before and after; and on that day the believers shall rejoice, with the help of Allah; He helps whom He pleases; and He is the Mighty (so He eliminates those who challenge Him by His direct command), the Merciful (so He gives ample time to all persons to see the Truth and accept it truly); it is Allah's promise! Allah will not fail His promise, but most people do not know"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the term used at "within a few years" for their count is BIDHE-SINEEN which denotes the period till nine years and it was the ninth year from the descent of these AAYAAT to the Prophet PBUH when the Romans started taking their territories back from the Persians; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note about Surah ROUM that it asks all for much deep observation of matters which relate to their own selves and which concern the universe around to understand that it is certain that AKHIRAT would take place; due to this, AAYAAT ahead at the Ruku state about the disbelievers that though they are good at observation of the universe around when it comes to detection of the manifest rules of different issues, yet they need to give some thoughts to the inside of themselves too (that everything which relates to their physique has necessary rhythm in its works) and they need to ponder upon the universe around in this context too that when everything is running-on by some regulation and not at chance, then there is He Who is guiding that for certain to certain destination; Al-Hamdu Lillah; everything is in progress to its destination so this insight into affairs around would give them the true awareness of AKHIRAT where they have to answer for all their doings here at the world; they need to see the history of men too that when they challenged the authority of Allah, it caused harm only to their own-selves; Allah eliminated such people or punished them most severely even at the world and He is never unjust to any person but they had asked for an extreme punishment by their own doings so they were most unjust to their own-selves for certain; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the true awareness of psychology of the man and of his history does lead the man to see that Allah only is the true authority Who certainly would judge all persons at the certain day of HASHR; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of this Ruku tells the outcome to their doings, "then evil was the end of those who did evil, because they rejected the AAYAAT of Allah and they used to mock them"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ROUM-The Second Ruku

11. Allah originates the creation, then reproduces it, then to Him you shall be brought back.
12. And at the time when the hour shall come the guilty shall be in despair.
13. And they shall not have any intercessors from among their gods they have joined with Allah, and they shall be deniers of their associate-gods.
14. And at the time when the hour shall come, at that time they shall become separated one from the other.
15. Then as to those who believed and did good, they shall be made happy in garden.
16. And as to those who disbelieved and rejected Our AAYAAT and the meeting of the hereafter, these shall be brought over to the chastisement.
17. Therefore, glory be to Allah when you come across the time of the evening and when you come across the time of the morning.
18. And to Him belongs praise in the heavens and the earth, and at the decline of the day and when you are at mid of day.
19. He brings forth the living from the dead and brings forth the dead from the living, and gives life to the earth after its death, and thus shall you be brought forth.

The second Ruku of Surah ROUM guides attention to the authority of Allah to bring forth the Day of Judgment and give all persons there what they truly deserve according to their doings here; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it tells that He has created all creation which is going on to its destination by His will and there is movement for change in all His creation by His will which denotes the cycle of death & life; the destination for all persons among the mankind is that they would stand at front of Allah to answer for all of their doings at life at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at the Day of Judgment, the disbelievers would see that they will receive their punishment for certain and their hopes in all those whom they took as equal in authority to Allah that they will save them from His wrath whatever they do, if they had to answer Him for their doings, would prove completely futile; those whom they took as associates to Allah in His authority, would not become their intercessors there and it would happen that they would deny there that they ever took them as associates to Allah in His authority; the Quran has told us that the disbelievers take even highly good persons as associates to Allah in His authority by their own, that they would save them from the hell-fire whatever they do, which include angels and highly righteous persons who had departed from the world which include even some of Messengers of Allah; they would then clearly see that undoubtedly, all their hopes in them were totally useless whereas these good ones would say most clearly that they certainly are not responsible for their disbelief; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-28, 29 & 30 of Surah YOUNUS read, "and on the day when We will gather them all together, then We will say to those who associated others (with Allah)- keep where you are, you and your associates; then We shall separate them widely one from another and their associates would say- it was not us that you served (that is the answer of angels as they would give their defense that the disbelievers served Jinn; and they have their attention only towards Allah, the true Lord; see also Surah SABA-40 & 41); therefore, Allah is sufficient as a witness between us and you that we were quite unaware of your serving (us; that is the answer of the righteous persons among men which include the Messengers of Allah; see also Surah MA'EDAH-116); there shall every soul become acquainted with what it sent before (as their doings would only count there), and they shall be brought back to Allah, their true Patron, and what they devised (by their own thoughts that they would save them from the hell-fire) shall escape from them"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the answer of the righteous persons tell explicitly that they had no idea how the persons behind them were taking them at the world; note that Ahadith have explicitly told about the peace or the chastisement at the life that relates to grave yet seemingly the peace or the chastisement there is much long in time for some by the will of Allah but very short in time for others by the will of Allah (and that certainly does not imply that they are conscious about what is going-on at the world that they had left behind); this life at grave is named as the life of BARZAKH that starts immediately after death though that most certainly does not mean that the person is physically alive at his/her grave though he/she does have some connection to that; however, we do not know the nature of that life and how much period of consciousness that any person has there after his/her death; the best to say at this matter is that certainly, Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-14, 15 & 16 state about AKHIRAT that there would be two main groups of all peoples there that would be of believers in the Truth and the disbelievers in it; then each group would have sub-groups according to standing and so there would be categorization of all persons by standard how persons related to the Truth at life at the world; so these AAYAAT relate explicitly that though at the world, people live together with difference in belief yet there at AKHIRAT, the basis to categorization would be the acceptance or the rejection of the Truth; Al-Hamdu Lillah; and these AAYAAT relate the respective results of these groups, "then as to those who believed and did good, they shall be made happy in garden; and as to those who disbelieved and rejected Our AAYAAT and the meeting of the hereafter, these shall be brought over to the chastisement"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-17 & 18 ask all Muslims to remain firm in remembrance of Allah at all times and at all places as that would keep them all steadfast upon the Truth; these AAYAAT read, "therefore, glory be to Allah when you come across the time of the evening (in which the Muslims shall say the Salah of MAGHRIB) and when you come across the time of the morning (which is the time for FAJR); and to Him belongs praise in the heavens and the earth and at the decline of the day; and when you are at mid of day (where lies the time for ZUHR & ASR)"; so by addressing the Muslims here at three places, these AAYAAT mention four of Salah whereas Surah NOOR-58 mentions the fifth of Salah that is ISHA (with FAJR & ZUHR) which the Muslims read later at night after MAGHRIB; note that Salah was not compulsory at the time when these AAYAAT descended as it actually became obligatory at HIJRAT (the migration of the Prophet PBUH from Makkah to Madinah) though it had achieved much significance at the last period of his residing at Makkah when he achieved MIRAJ (the ascension to heavens where Allah provided him the command of Salah clearly); though these AAYAAT mean that the Muslim person would remain engaged with remembrance of Allah at all times yet they also set clearly the timing for Salah beforehand; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that by the words "HEENA-TUZHIRUN", the AAYAT mentions ZUHR & ASR together and that is an indication that they do overlap at a certain time that is between ZUHR to MAGHRIB; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku states in the praise of Allah that He only has the complete control over all things; He brings forth the living from the dead and the dead from the living; note for this statement that AALE-IMRAN-26 & 27 read, "say (O Prophet PBUH)- O Allah, Master of the Kingdom - You give the kingdom to whomsoever You please and take away the kingdom from whomsoever You please, and You exalt whom You please and abase whom You please, in Your hand is the good; surely, You have power over all things; You make the night to pass into the day and You make the day to pass into the night, and You bring forth the living from the dead and You bring forth the dead from the living, and You give sustenance to whom You please without measure"; these words imply that there is comparison of sleep at night to death because here at this AAYAT, the latter part of it clarifies the former part of it; this tells that as the person rises from his sleep so he would rise similarly from the dead when Allah wills for that; Surah ZUMAR-42 states, "Allah takes the souls at the time of their death and those who die not, during their sleep; then He withholds those on whom He has passed the decree of death and sends the others back till an appointed term; most surely there are signs in this for the people who reflect"; so this clarifies that "He brings forth the living from the dead and the dead from the living"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the AAYAT tells ahead that He gives life to earth (by the good rainfall) after its death where it seems barren to cultivate and that is the manner by which He would raise all persons from dead at the Day of Judgment; note that Allah has stated at different places in the Quran that He would raise the dead at that certain day as He brings the earth to life after its death; Al-Hamdu Lillah; among them is NAHL-65 which tells, "and Allah has sent down water from the heaven and therewith given life to the earth after its death; most surely there is a sign in this for the people who would listen"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah FURQAN-47 to 50 mention, "and He it is Who made the night covering for you, and the sleep a rest, and He made the day to rise up again (so all persons would rise in this manner at the Day of Judgment); and He it is Who sends the winds as good news before His mercy (i.e. the beneficial rainfall to the earth); and We send down pure water (i.e. the rainwater) from the cloud (i.e. from the sky near to earth); that We may give life thereby to a dead land and give it for drink, out of what We have created, to cattle and many people (so both get the same water to drink yet the cattle develop better than those who ignore the teachings of Islam); and certainly We have repeated this (i.e. the statement about the rainfall upon the dead land at different places at the Quran) to them that they may be mindful (that they would be raised-up from the dead at the Day of Judgment where they would have to account for all their doings), but the greater number of men do not consent to aught except denying (that they would be raised-up from the dead at the Day of Judgment)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so the Quran has related the rain upon the land as an indication to raising-up of all men from the dead as the angel blows the trumpet for that by the command of Allah; Surah AARAAF-57 relates, "and He it is Who sends forth the winds bearing good news before His mercy, until, when they bring up a laden cloud, We drive it to a dead land, then We send down water on it, then bring forth with it of fruits of all kinds; thus shall We bring forth the dead that you may be mindful"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah HAJJ-5, 6 & 7 relate, "and you see the earth sterile land, but when We send down on it the water, it stirs and swells and brings forth of every kind a beautiful herbage; this is because Allah is the Truth and because He gives life to the dead and because He has power over all things; and because the hour is coming, there is no doubt about it; and because Allah shall raise up those who are in the graves"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that Surah ROUM that we are studying presently, states too at AAYAT-50 at its fifth Ruku ahead, "look then at the signs of Allah's mercy, how He gives life to the earth after its death; most surely He will raise the dead to life; and He has power over all things"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ROUM-The Third Ruku

20. And one of His signs is that He created you from pure sand (TURAB), then lo! you are mortals (who) scatter.

21. And one of His signs is that He created mates for you from yourselves that you may find rest in them, and He put between you love and compassion; most surely there are signs in this for the people who reflect.

22. And one of His signs is the creation of the heavens and the earth and the diversity of your tongues and colors; most surely there are signs in this for the learned.

23. And one of His signs is your sleeping and your seeking of His grace by night and (by) day; most surely there are signs in this for the people who would hear.

24. And one of His signs is that He shows you the lightning for fear and for hope, and sends down water from the clouds then gives life therewith to the earth after its death; most surely there are signs in this for the people who understand

25. And one of His signs is that the heaven and the earth subsist by His command, then when He calls you with a (single) call from out of the earth, lo! you come forth.

26. And His is whosoever is in the heavens and the earth; all are obedient to Him.

27. And He it is Who originates the creation, then reproduces it, and it is easy to Him; and His is the most exalted attribute in the heavens and the earth, and He is the Mighty, the Wise.

The third Ruku of Surah ROUM asks all those persons to observe their own-selves (ANFUS) and the universe around (AAFAAQ) who really do want to live upon righteousness by believing truly in Allah, the true Lord, and by believing truly in AKHIRAT; the Ruku after this too asks all persons by relating different aspects of the psyche of the man to observe that only the virtuous manner of living leads to safety at the world and leads to the total salvation at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this Ruku comprises of eight AAYAAT and Allah asks to observe His AAYAAT (in the meaning of signs) in six of them and as it is mentioned in plural, it tells that each of these observation may reveal more than two things to those who are specifically mentioned by their attributes at these AAYAAT, because the plural in Arabic for something takes place from three of it; the last two AAYAAT at this Ruku express His authority over all His creation; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first of His signs for the man to observe for his true belief is that He created the man from TURAB and then with time, he was able to inhabit all areas of the earth; this denotes the material by which Allah created the man that was the pure sand at first (TURAB that is mentioned here); then He mixed it with pure water to change it to muddy clay (TEEN); then it changed to extreme black mud (HAMA-EM-MASNUN) that had taken place by alteration of the muddy clay by His will with extreme period of time and finally the sounding refined clay (SALSAAL) by which Allah created Adam-AS by His will; these are not the stages of the man during his creation but the material of his creation had passed through such stages whereas each stage had most extreme period of time by the will of Allah; see also the note at the third Ruku of HIJR; many AAYAAT at places in the Quran present this explicitly but with this, the most significant thing to mention here is that most certainly, Allah knows better; so it was only a couple of the mankind at first but then Allah set matters in such manner that the mankind scattered all over the earth; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as from the second to the fifth sign at these AAYAAT, they relate to living at the world of the mankind for which Allah asks observation so the second of His signs for the man to observe is that He created mates in the mankind, the male to the female and vise-versa (with such proportion that life at the world goes on smoothly), so that they may find rest in each other by marriage, not only physically but also spiritually because He put between them such love that relates to physique and such compassion that relates to caring of each other; these both are such outlets to the psyche of the man that they affect him to live away from crimes at the society and to live with high responsibility to provide for the spiritual development at home, respectively; most surely there are signs in this for all those persons who reflect to understand that Allah intends ease for them so that they live with specific care to Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the third of His signs for the man to observe is that He has created the heavens and the earth with numerous of His creation in it by principle and as for the mankind, there is diversity of tongues (i.e. vocal-difference, difference in manner of speech and different languages) in them and also diversity in color of their skins which provides them ease to live at their specific places; most surely there are signs in this for the learned persons that Allah has created all men, though having similar physical features, different to each other in appearance for their distinct identity; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the fourth of His signs for the man to observe is the sleep by night in which he finds the guidance by dreams, if he is righteous, to make his inside better by the teachings of Islam and the search for His grace by day which are all such things that are utmost necessary for his physical sustenance at life at the world; most surely there are signs in this for the people who would hear; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the fifth of His signs for the man to observe for his true belief is that He shows him the lightning for fear and for hope and this denotes the issues at life at the world which goes on by different situations that may cause fear or/and may cause hope by which Allah examines all persons here; and He sends down water from the clouds then gives life therewith to the earth after its death so in this manner, He would raise all persons from the dead at the certain day of HASHR, the first day of AKHIRAT, so that they account for all their doings at life at the world and receive what they truly deserve at that true life of AKHIRAT; most surely there are signs in this for the people who do understand that they are in examination at this life at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last of His signs for the man to observe is that the heaven and the earth subsist by His command, then when He calls all persons by a single call (of KUN i.e. happen) then from out of the earth, all persons would come forth to the grounds of HASHR without any delay; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the first AAYAT and the sixth AAYAT of the Ruku do not assign specific persons by attributes for observation as they denote all persons who have inhabited the earth at any time & at any place and certainly, Allah would raise all of them from dead at the Day of HASHR; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last two

AAYAAT denote that the true authority is only of Allah which read, "and His is whosoever is in the heavens and the earth; all are obedient to Him; and He it is Who originates the creation, then reproduces it, and it is easy to Him; and His is the most exalted attribute (MATHAL-UL-AALA) in the heavens and the earth, and He is the Mighty (Who eliminates all those from the face of earth who challenge His true authority), the Wise (Who directs the issues at the world by the doings of the man as He wills, because He certainly has all the true authority)"; note that the terms MATHAL and MITHL have delicate difference in the Quran though these both do have the meaning of "similarity"; to get the usage of the term "MITHL" at the Quran, note that it means similarity only, and AAYAT-11 of Surah SHURA notes most explicitly that "(Allah is) the Originator of the heavens and the earth; He made mates for you from among yourselves, and mates of the cattle too, multiplying you thereby; there is nothing like any similarity of Him (the sentence is LAYSA KA-MITHLEHE SHAYE-UN); and He is the Hearing, the Seeing"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah FAATIR-14 tells by using the term MITHL, "none would tell you anything like Him Who is the Most Aware", so this too denies any similarity to Him as it means that when there is none as His MITHL "so none would tell you anything like Him"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; now, keeping in mind that MITHL means "similarity" only, the difference between MATHAL and MITHL needs noting few points here to understand that better insha-Allah; the first point here is that whereas the term MITHL totally relates to the meaning of "similarity", the term "MATHAL" also has the meaning of "the attribute" besides "similarity" in the Quran, and in this meaning of "the attribute", it occurs here at ROUM-27 and at Surah NAHL-60 too that "for those who do not believe in the hereafter, is an evil attribute, and Allah's is the most exalted attribute (MATHAL-UL-AALA); and He is the Mighty, the Wise"; the second point here is that where "MATHAL" has occurred in the meaning of similarity in the Quran, it has expressed the similarity of some of His creation to some other of His creation only, because its usage in the meaning of similarity for Allah is totally incorrect; the Quran has forbidden the use of this term in this meaning as it says, "invent not similitudes for Allah; Allah certainly knows but you know not" (NAHAL-74); here the word AMTHAAL is used that is plural for both MATHAL and MITHL; so the Muslims are most disallowed to use these both terms in the meaning of "similarity" for Allah; the third point here is that it is most feasible that they avoid using MATHAL for Allah even in the right meaning of "the attributes", as that would give them safety insha-Allah from any inclination to any wrongs in their virtuous speech; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ROUM-The Fourth Ruku

28. He sets forth to you a parable relating to yourselves: Have you among those whom your right hands possess partners in what We have given you for sustenance, so that with respect to it you are alike; you fear them as you fear each other? Thus do We make the AAYAAT distinct for a people who understand.

29. Nay! those who are unjust follow their low desires without any knowledge; so who can guide him whom Allah makes err? And they shall have no helpers.

30. Then set your face upright for religion in the right state- the nature made by Allah in which He has made men; there is no altering of Allah's creation; that is the right religion, but most people do not know-

31. Turning to Him, and be careful of (your duty to) Him and keep up prayer and be not of the polytheists

32. Of those who divided their religion and became sects; every sect rejoicing in what they had with them

33. And when harm afflicts men, they call upon their Lord, turning to Him, then when He makes them taste of mercy from Him, lo! some of them begin to associate (others) with their Lord,

34. So as to be ungrateful for what We have given them; but enjoy yourselves (for a while), for you shall soon come to know.

35. Or, have We sent down upon them an authority so that it speaks of that which they associate with Him?

36. And when We make people taste of mercy they rejoice in it, and if an evil befall them for what their hands have already wrought, lo! they are in despair.

37. Do they not see that Allah makes ample provision for whom He pleases, or straitens? Most surely there are signs in this for the people who believe.

38. Then give to the near of kin his due, and to the needy and the wayfarer; this is best for those who desire Allah's pleasure, and these it is who are successful.

39. And whatever you lay out as usury, so that it may increase in the property of men, it shall not increase with Allah; and whatever you give in charity, desiring Allah's pleasure- it is these (persons) that shall get manifold.

40. Allah is He Who created you, then gave you sustenance, then He causes you to die, then brings you to life. Is there any of your associate-gods who does aught of it? Glory be to Him, and exalted be He above what they associate (with Him).

Allah guides attention of all persons at the beginning of the Ruku that no person takes his slaves as partners to him in whatever Allah has provided him and does not fear any challenge from them that they would ask some part of it, though he may fear some of his near ones about it; so all persons need to see this very clearly that Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; He has no fear of any challenge to His true authority by any person as all persons among His creation are His slaves only who need to obey Him totally; certainly, there is no one in His creation who has any worth to challenge His complete control over His creation and He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; certainly, Allah has stated all facts explicitly for all such persons who really intend to be mindful of them yet there still are among the mankind, such unjust persons who follow their whims i.e. their low desires; they follow that without any care to facts so there is no person who is able to guide them to righteousness; Allah would make them err even more at life at the world and when they come at the grounds of HASHR, they would have no one to assist them; Allah asks the Prophet PBUH (and with him all of true Muslims) to remain totally steadfast at the teachings of Islam as that only is the virtuous manner at which Allah has created all of mankind; note that AARAAF-172 has told clearly that all persons had accepted Allah as their true Lord before coming to the world so there is no way that any of persons may change this aspect of creation that it naturally inclines to the virtuous manner of living yet there are many of peoples among them who are not mindful of this; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; all persons need to remain attentive to Allah only which asks them to read their Salah with fervor so that they do not ever incline to SHERK which leads to divide the virtuous manner of living into sects whereas every sect rejoices in whatever it has with it; this tells in clear terms that Islam is DEEN (the complete code of life) which asks to take it whole and not in this manner that someone takes some of its significant teachings and leave other of its significant teachings; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-33, 34 & 35 tell about the psyche of the man, "and when harm afflicts men (that threatens his life), they call upon their Lord, turning to Him (sincerely), then when He makes them taste of mercy from Him (that saves their lives), lo! some of them begin to associate (others) with their Lord so as to be ungrateful for what We have given them (i.e. His mercy at their utmost need); but enjoy yourselves (for a while), for you shall soon come to know (what happens by remaining ungrateful to Allah); or, have We sent down upon them an authority so that it speaks of that which they associate with Him? (that certainly is not the case so this explains the statement at AAYAT-29- 'those who are unjust, follow their low desires without any knowledge)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-36 & 37 read, "and when We make people taste of mercy (by providing them gains in finances) they rejoice in it, and if an evil befall them (that they face extreme losses in finances) for what their hands have already wrought, lo! they are in despair (unable to live with normalcy as if they have reached the end of their world); do they not see that Allah makes ample provision for whom He pleases, or straitens?- most surely there are signs in this for the people who believe"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that AAYAT-33 and AAYAT-36 both state that Allah provides His mercy to persons in situations that are life-threatening so He saves them by it and He provides His mercy to persons by giving them much of finances by His will, respectively; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at both places, these AAYAAT do not mention that He afflicts any of persons, rather AAYAT-36 explicitly mentions that affliction falls upon men because of their own doings; so note here that Allah provides those things only to the man by His mercy that are blessings to him but He afflicts him only as an outcome to what wrongs he commits so He does not put afflictions to any of persons unless his doings do ask for it though it is He only Who provides His mercy to the man and afflicts him for certain; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-41 of this Surah ROUM, that is the first AAYAT of the next Ruku, states that "FASAD (the situation due to corruption in deeds of persons having some status that makes the practice of Islam become extremely difficult there) did appear on land and sea because of what the hands of men have committed, that Allah may make them taste some part of that which they have done, in order that they may return (to the virtuous manner of living)"; this AAYAT tells clearly that He afflicts wrong-doers because of wrongs that they commit and then also, not fully at the world but just to rouse them to come to the virtuous manner; He cares that everything remains to the order that He has set for the world and He sees that nothing gets out of that order so the Muslims need to be attentive to Him only, with all efforts to keep to the virtuous manner of living collectively, without care to anything else; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next couple of AAYAAT state that whatever the Muslim person gets as surplus in his finances, he needs to provide it to the near of kin who needs it, to the needy and to the wayfarer who has spent all his amounts and is stranded at the foreign land in need of some amounts; this is the best thing for all those who truly desire Allah's pleasure, and these it is who are successful at AKHIRAT; the person who intends to increase his finances by extending his surplus amounts on rates of interest, it does not increase any of his good deeds in front of Allah though Zakat, when it is provided to the needy sincerely for the pleasure of Allah, does increase his good deeds manifold, in front of Him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that AAYAT-31 at this Ruku asks the Muslims for Salah and AAYAT-39 at this Ruku asks them for Zakat and both of these became obligatory to them after the elapse of some period to the descent of these AAYAAT; however, all Muslims did have them in practice even then in some manner whereas Salah saved them from facing any of life-threatening situations and Zakat, from incurring heavy losses in finances; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku tells explicitly that Allah has not only created all of mankind but He also provides sustenance to them so all persons need to see that it is not their task to get more of finances at the world as Allah would see to their financial security well in accordance to their need; and they need to see that even if they do not die by some fatality which occurs to them by the will of Allah, He would bring death over them by His will as the period of their examination ends at the world; death is inevitable after which, He would raise them up again to life so that they account for all doings at life at the world; the AAYAT implies that even the disbelievers know that none of those whom they take as associates to Allah in authority, are able to provide anything to them or to lead them to their natural deaths or to raise them from dead; Allah only has the true authority as He only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; glory be to Him and exalted be He above what they associate (with Him); Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ROUM-The Fifth Ruku

41. Corruption did appear on land and sea because of what the hands of men have committed, that Allah may make them taste some part of that which they have done, in order that they may return.

42. Say: Travel in the land, then see how was the end of those that were before; most of them were polytheists.

43. Then turn thy face straight to the right religion before there come from Allah the day which cannot be averted; on that day they shall become separated.

44. Whoever disbelieves, he shall be responsible for his disbelief, and whoever does good, they prepare (good) for their own souls,

45. That He may reward those who truly believe and do good out of His grace; surely He does not love the disbelievers.

46. And one of His signs is that He sends forth the winds bearing good news, and that He may make you taste His mercy, and that the ships may run by His command, and that you may seek of His grace, and that you may be grateful.

47. And certainly We sent before you apostles to their people, so they came to them with clear arguments, then We gave the punishment to those who were guilty; and helping the believers is ever incumbent on Us.

48. Allah is he Who sends forth the winds so they raise a cloud, then He spreads it forth in the sky as He pleases, and He breaks it up so that you see the rain coming forth from inside it; then when He causes it to fall upon whom He pleases of His servants, lo! they are joyful

49. Though they were before this, before it was sent down upon them, confounded in sure despair.

50. Look then at the signs of Allah's mercy, how He gives life to the earth after its death, most surely He will raise the dead to life; and He has power over all things.

51. And if We send a wind and they see it to be yellow, they would after that certainly continue to disbelieve

52. For surely you cannot, make the dead to hear and you cannot make the deaf to hear the call, when they show their backs and turn away.

53. Nor can you lead away the blind out of their error. You cannot make to hear any but those who believe in Our AAYAAT so they shall submit.

The first AAYAT of the Ruku implies that the situation becomes averse to Islamic living at a place in general where there is general disobedience to Allah and He punishes all persons there due to wrongs that the influential persons commit there, by putting extreme difficulties in living of their lives smoothly; He intends by it that they get the good lesson to revise their attitudes and live by His total obedience as He only is the true Lord; it reads, "FASAD (Corruption due to wrongs in deeds of persons having some status) did appear on land and sea because of what (wrongs) the hands of men have committed (as Allah is not unjust that He punishes them without any of their wrongs but it is so) that Allah may make them taste (only) some part of that which they have done in order that they may return (to the virtuous manner of living by it)"; note in this context that SHURA-30 states, "and whatever affliction befalls you, it is on account of what your hands have wrought, and He pardons most (of your wrongs)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second AAYAT of the Ruku asks the Prophet PBUH to tell the disbelievers to travel to places and see how the end came upon those who lived at extreme disbelief before them as that may cause them to revise their wrong attitudes; at the third AAYAT of the Ruku, Allah asks the Prophet PBUH (and with him all of true Muslims) to remain totally steadfast at the teachings of Islam as that only is the virtuous manner at which Allah has created all of mankind; Allah would bring the Day of Judgment which cannot be averted and on that day they shall become separated in groups as AAYAT-14 has stated and AAYAAT ahead at this place also clarify; thus, AAYAAT 44 & 45 state, "whoever disbelieves, he shall be responsible for his disbelief, and whoever does good, they prepare (good) for their own souls; that He may reward those who truly believe and do good deeds out of His grace (so the Day of Judgment would most certainly take place); surely He does not love the disbelievers"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead at the Ruku guide attention to observe how Allah sends the winds that provide the good news that the rainfall would take place soon and that also carry on ships ahead by their respective sails to destination which the travelers by sea intend to reach to get their physical necessities (which the AAYAT mentions as the grace of Allah); they also guide attention to observe how Allah sent His Messengers to provide His message to their peoples so that they all accept the Truth and take-up the virtuous manner of living; so He cared for the physical necessities of the man and He also cared for his spiritual need to get the true guidance towards the right path; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-48 tells about how the rainfall takes place as it tells, "Allah is he Who sends forth the winds so they raise a cloud, then He spreads it forth in the sky as He pleases, and He breaks it up so that you see the rain coming forth from inside it; then when He causes it to fall upon whom He pleases of His servants, lo! they are joyful"; so He guides attention of all persons to observe how He has planned His works at the world around and how the rainfall causes happiness where it falls as it brings forth fruits and crops from the earth whereas without it, they were confounded in despair; AAYAT-50 tells that Allah would raise the dead to life as He gives life to the earth after its death; the Quran has told this at different places and we all have studied about this at

AAYAT-19 of Surah-ROUM too; note that Surah AARAAF-57 relates, "and He it is Who sends forth the winds bearing good news before His mercy, until, when they bring up a laden cloud, We drive it to a dead land, then We send down water on it, then bring forth with it of fruits of all kinds; thus shall We bring forth the dead that you may be mindful"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-51 discloses an aspect of the character of disbelievers that they care only for life at the world and that has brought selfishness in their character for which they do not have any shame; it reads, "and if We send a (disastrous) wind and they see it (i.e. their fields) to be yellow (that tells them that they had lost all its fruits), they would after that certainly continue to disbelieve"; so they are never grateful to Allah on His blessings but upon their loss, they complain bitterly; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT console the Prophet PBUH that he has done his best to spread the message of Islam yet the disbelievers are like dead persons and even deaf persons, so he is unable to make them hear the message of Islam; in fact, they are similar to such deaf persons, who have shown their backs and have turned away, so at this situation, good gestures even would not make them aware of the message of Islam; this is to say that they are totally oblivious to getting it and in them, there are such disbelievers too who have decided not to take it from the Prophet PBUH so they are oblivious to getting it by their own choice; he can bring those only to the right path who soberly hear the message of Islam that he provides to them and then take it into practice with high fervor; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ROUM-The Last Ruku

54. Allah is He Who created you from a state of weakness then He gave strength after weakness, then ordained weakness and hoary hair after strength; He creates what He pleases, and He is the Knowing, the Powerful.

55. And at the time when the hour shall come, the guilty shall swear (that) they did not tarry but an hour; thus are they ever turned away.

56. And those who are given knowledge and the true belief will say: Certainly you tarried according to the ordinance of Allah till the day of resurrection, so this is the day of resurrection, but you did not know.

57. So on that day no excuse of theirs will avail the extremely unjust persons, nor will they be invited to seek grace;

58. And certainly We have set forth for men every kind of example in this Quran; and if you should bring them a sign, those who disbelieve would certainly say: You are naught but false claimants.

59. Thus does Allah set a seal on the hearts of those who do not know.

60. Therefore, be patient; surely the promise of Allah is true and let not those who have no certainty hold you in light estimation.

The first AAYAT at the last Ruku of Surah ROUM relates about the progress of life that Allah creates a person in such manner that he/she is extremely weak at birth; then that person achieves strength by the blessing of Allah and then again goes to weakness where his/her hair turns white; so in this manner, He created the mankind which He has decided by His will; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second AAYAT implies that death is not the end to life because Allah would raise all persons from dead; at that specific day, the Day of Judgment, the guilty persons would swear that from their death to this specific day, they did not tarry but for an hour; note that this AAYAT presents their statement about the count of time to denote that this was their manner at life at the world too that whenever they saw that they are in trouble, they tried to avert it by fibs; they would intend to present the situation in such manner there that it is unjust to them that they did not get the utmost time assigned to them for stay after their death and they have been raised up early from dead; AAYAT-52 of Surah YA-SEEN reads, "they (the disbelievers) shall say- O woe to us! who has raised us up from our sleeping-place?- (they would be told that) this is what the Beneficent Allah promised and the apostles told the truth"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Ruku tells ahead that the righteous persons would answer them that this is the Day of Judgment which certainly has come at its specific time and as for their stay, they have certainly received their due stay after their respective deaths; AAYAT-56 & 57 of this last Ruku read, "and those who are given knowledge and the true belief will say- certainly you tarried according to the ordinance of Allah till the day of resurrection, so this is the day of resurrection, but you did not know; so on that day, no excuse of theirs will avail the extremely unjust persons, nor will they be invited to seek grace (by repentance as the time for it has elapsed)"; the next couple of AAYAAT state that Allah has presented many examples in the Quran for all peoples to understand the virtuous manner of living by Islam and it tells about the disbelievers that they have reached to that stage in hostility of the Quran that even if the Prophet PBUH presents a miracle to them, they would reject it by some lame excuse; these AAYAAT read, "and certainly We have set forth for men every kind of example in this Quran (so that is sufficient if some person does intend to accept the virtuous manner of living by Islam); and if you should bring them a sign (i.e. a miracle), those who disbelieve would certainly say (even with that)- you are naught but false claimants; thus does Allah set a seal on the hearts of those who do not know"; the last AAYAT of the Ruku, which also is the last AAYAT of the Surah, reads, "therefore, be patient (i.e. keep away from giving preference to the life at the world over the life at AKHIRAT); surely the promise of Allah is true (that the Day of Judgment would take place where certainly all persons would account for their doings) and let not those who have no certainty, hold you in light estimation (that they have such thoughts that they would be able to shake any of true Muslims, by their continuous fibs to them)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

11. This is Allah's creation, but show Me what those besides Him have created. Nay, the unjust are in manifest error

The first five AAYAAT of this Surah, like the first five AAYAAT of Surah BAQARAH, tell about those persons who truly are successful as they take the true guidance that they receive from the Quran; note that

Surah BAQARAH came to the Prophet PBUH at Madinah whereas Surah LUQMAN came to him at Makkah, the seventh year; the next couple of AAYAAT tell about those persons who are total failures as they do not take the true guidance even when that is clearly presented to them; AAYAAT-8 & 9 elucidate the ultimate result for the truly successful persons, who never preferred the life at the world over the life at AKHIRAT, that they would have blissful gardens to reside forever; this is the promise of Allah to them Who is leading all matters by His true authority, and even by His true wisdom, towards that destination that every person gets his/her due result ultimately according to his/her doings that he committed at life at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT at the Ruku tell about the manner by which He has created the heavens and the earth that favors the man physically to live his life with ease; so He provided the true guidance to him and also all physical ease to him so that he may live by his total concentration to all commands of Allah, which certainly is the only aim of life; then Allah challenges the disbelievers to show Him what those have created, whom they take as equal in authority to Him and for whom they leave the practice of His commands; certainly, Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first five AAYAAT of the Ruku read, "ALIF LAAM MIM; these are AAYAAT of the Book (especially of this Surah) that has wisdom; (it certainly is) the guidance (to all persons) and a mercy (specifically) for the doers of goodness (who have accepted the guidance that it presents); those who keep up Salah and pay the poor-rate (Zakat) and they are certain of AKHIRAT (that it certainly would take place by the will of Allah); these are (such good persons who certainly are) on guidance from their Lord (so they are most liable to get His mercy for themselves), and these are they who are (truly) successful (and that true success would manifest at AKHIRAT for certain)"; note that Salah and Zakat were not compulsory at the time when these AAYAAT descended as Salah actually became obligatory at HIJRAT though it had achieved much significance at the last period of his residing at Makkah when he achieved MIRAJ and Zakat actually became obligatory at the second year of HIJRAT; so these AAYAAT mean that the Muslim person would remain engaged with remembrance of Allah by Salah even at this time and provide the needy with whatever SADAQAH that he is able to manage from the amounts that Allah has provided to him even at this time; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-6 & 7 tell about such evil persons who try to mislead the people around by engaging them in futile pastime so that they become oblivious to the true guidance; note that one of the disbelievers at Makkah

by the name of NADHR bin HARITH brought a slave-woman who was good at singing, from Persia and also brought stories from there of those whom the persons there took as their heroes; he used to provoke such persons at Makkah who had inclination to accept the Islamic teachings, to fall into enjoyment of such shows in which the slave-woman sang and the futile stories were recited; these AAYAAT read, "and of men is he who takes instead (of the true guidance) frivolous presentation (i.e. musical shows & futile tales) to lead astray from the path of Allah without knowledge (as such negative presentations are such things that have no worth to listen), and to take it for mockery (so that the persons attending the frivolous presentation come to such state by them where they lose the realization of the actual worth of the true guidance); these shall have an abasing chastisement (at life at the world); and when Our AAYAAT are recited to him, he turns back proudly, as if he had not heard them, as though both his ears have deafness, therefore announce to him a very painful chastisement (at the Day of Judgment)"; note that these AAYAAT clearly condemn all evil persons who intend to arouse delicate emotions of the man in such manner that he falls into futile pastime which makes him oblivious to the virtuous manner of living by Islam; certainly, Islam does not appreciate singing, dancing or any type of entertainment that relates to presentation of women in mixed gathering and it also does not appreciate craze for any of sports without any care to Islamic commands; today, the futile pastime includes the inclination to fashion shows that the media develops and the craze for any of sports (especially where women are among participants) that the media develops, without any care to Islamic commands; dancing of women is one of the worst things in view of Islam, especially when taken-up in open, though even their singing by video is not appreciable with whatever splendor they present the performance; that performance might be tolerable to some fine degree when provided singly at the Radio but not at the television as their video to such performance certainly does not go well with the Islamic values; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as for the singing of men when they take it up singly, even at the television without dancing except for some walk on the music or some light exercise therein or some twist therein, it might be tolerated with number of conditions for this entertainment that relate to performance of men only, not making it routine in any way as singing to men might even be positive at times and even when in gathering though that shall never be mixed gathering certainly; the first point to note in these conditions is that words of the song would not challenge the Islamic morality in any way and this matter would be decided by ordinary Muslims at times yet with total devotion to Islam; the second point to note in these conditions is that the singers and the players of instruments would not be professionals (in fact, it is better if the amateur singer can play an instrument or two and sings with that leisurely) as they shall have some other works as their occupations whereas music remains only pastime to them and to all those who enjoy the soft music so it would manifest without asking of any amounts to it; the third point to note in these conditions is that the music would not be a rhythmic din of some kind but it would be soft in nature as fast music is not appreciable in the Islamic set-up and the last point to note in these conditions is that total instruments used for the song would not be more than two so that the song does not seem to be some professional kind of thing and remains to softness though addition of some clapping or some soft musical beat occasionally does seem tolerable; it is even better if some computerized gadget that is able to provide different musical sounds, is used for the song with the set-up of sounds of two musical instruments that fulfill the minimum requirement of the music (yin and yang) in the song; even another condition or two might be valid here though the level of their importance may vary; the Holy Book Quran does not ban music in clear terms yet AAYAT-6 of this Surah LUQMAN, that we study presently, is generally taken by ULAMA to prohibit music; however, it relates to prohibition of indecency and vulgarity in songs as is evident but not to their prohibition outright; we do find in Sunnah (the practical guidance of the Prophet PBUH for Islam by his words, deeds or silence on some matter that came to his knowledge) some dislike to music but there is almost at all occasions for this dislike, an evident indication that relates it to such women who lack in good morals whereas at those times, singing with instruments was exclusively related to such women; as such, there is an apparent margin to relate his guidance in this matter to prohibition of indecency and vulgarity in songs as is evident and not to their prohibition outright; when the men present the music by care to its conditions, it does present rhythm with grace and so it does need appreciation to it even by those righteous persons who do have utmost care about the Islamic guidance in all their issues; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-8 & 9 relate the status of those true believers at AKHIRAT who lived firmly with good deeds at the world, even when there were many things around to provoke them to incline towards sinful activities, so they never preferred pleasures at the world when those challenged any of commands of Allah; these AAYAAT read, "(as for) those who believe and do good, they shall surely have gardens of bliss, abiding in them forever; (this is) the promise of Allah that certainly is true and He is the Mighty, the Wise"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT at the Ruku state how beautifully Allah has created the heavens and the earth and how wonderfully He has set them to remain beneficial to the human life;

they imply that He only is the Creator of all creation and He has created everything with utmost perfection; these AAYAAT read, "He created the heavens without any such pillars that you see, and put mountains upon the earth lest it might convulse with you, and He spread in it animals of every kind; and We sent down water from the heaven nearby, then caused to grow therein (vegetation) of every noble kind; this is Allah's creation, but show Me what those besides Him have created; nay, the unjust are in manifest error"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

LUQMAN-The Second Ruku

12. And certainly We gave wisdom to LUQMAN that you remain grateful to Allah. And whoever is grateful, he is only grateful for his own soul; and whoever is ungrateful, then surely Allah is Self-sufficient, Praised.

13. Behold, LUQMAN said to his son by way of instruction: "O my son! join not in worship (others) with Allah; most surely SHERK is tremendous injustice."

14. And We have enjoined man in respect of his parents- his mother bears him with travail upon travail and his weaning takes two years- saying: Be grateful to Me and to both your parents; to Me is the eventual coming.

15. And if they contend with you that you should associate with Me what you have no knowledge of, do not obey them, and keep company with them in this world kindly, and follow the way of him who turns to Me, then to Me is your return, then will I inform you of what you did-

16. O my son! surely if it is the very weight of the grain of a mustard-seed, even though it is in (the heart of) rock, or (high above) in the heaven or (deep down) in the earth, Allah will bring it (to light); surely Allah is Knower of subtleties, Aware;

17. O my son! keep up prayer and enjoin the good and forbid the evil, and bear patiently that which befalls you; surely these acts require courage;

18. And do not turn your face away from people in contempt, nor go about in the land exulting overmuch; surely Allah does not love any self-conceited boaster;

19. And pursue the right course in your going about and lower your voice; surely the most hateful of voices is braying of asses.

LUQMAN was one of the most intelligent persons of the ancient world and he was well-known at the land of Arabia due to his intelligent remarks; it is mentioned about him that he resided at the territory of ancient Nubia near to Sudan around 1000 BC and had Arabic as his native language; Allah had granted him such amazing observation that he was quoted at Arabic poetry for his intelligent statements; also, that amazing observation led him to believe in TAUHID that Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; and that led him to believe in the Judgment that Allah would judge all peoples of the world for all their doings certainly; the Quran mentions him here to make the Arabs learn that the highly intelligent man whom they hold in high esteem, had the awareness of the most fundamental teachings of Islam by the amazing observation that Allah had granted him, even though he never met any of Prophets of Allah whereas they have the Prophet Muhammad PBUH in them and still they are not getting to the Truth by their own unworthy attitude which denotes their prejudice only; AAYAT-12 by which the Ruku begins, tells that Allah certainly gave wisdom to LUQMAN that he remains grateful to Allah; the notable thing here is that wisdom (which does need high observation of the universe around and of the attitudes inside) is such beautiful quality that leads the good person to put the commands of Allah in his practice by it and this practice decides that he is most grateful to Allah while such person who lives his life by disobedience to His commands, he certainly is most ungrateful to Him; surely Allah is Self-sufficient and truly Praised Who does not need anything, even praise, from any of His creation; certainly, He only has the true authority; AAYAT-13 states that LUQMAN said to his son by way of instruction at some crucial point in time- "O my son! join not in worship (others) with Allah; most surely SHERK is tremendous injustice-"; this indicates that all disbelievers who commit SHERK are most unjust to their own selves as the outcome of it is the most severe punishment at AKHIRAT, that is the true life ahead; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that SHERK means to challenge the true authority of Allah by taking any of His creation as having part in creating any of His creation with Him; or by taking any of His creation as similar in some attribute to Him though all His attributes are QADEEM (they are from always to always), ASL (they are of His Own, not achieved from anyone) and LA-MEHDUD (they all are limitless); or by taking any of His creation as authorized to change any of His commands that He has explicitly issued by His authority for all persons to firmly obey; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as for us human beings, even if some are highly refined persons like the Messengers especially the last of them i.e. Muhammad PBUH, we all are created by Allah - whatever we possess, physically or spiritually, has been provided to us by Allah, the true Lord - and our traits are limited that change with time & place; Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu-Lillah; Allah addresses all human beings at the next couple of AAYAAT at the Ruku that He has enjoined man in respect of his parents that he must remain most courteous to them and have attitude of EHSAAN for them; he must keep in mind that his mother carried him with travail upon travail and his weaning also took two years if she fed to maximum period, so he needs to be grateful to Allah and to both his parents; but if they contend with him that he commits SHERK because of their lack of knowledge that it certainly would lead him to extreme trouble at AKHIRAT, then he must not obey them but he still needs to show the attitude of EHSAAN for them; note that the Quran does not guide to obey the parents anywhere in it but it guides to show the attitude of EHSAAN for them at all times; so he would provide them his assistance financially and he would care for their physical safety but he would never take their direction to commit SHERK; he shall follow only the righteous persons who lead towards the Truth; all persons have to account for their doings at AKHIRAT in front of Allah where He would present to all of them whatever they had done at life at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead narrate other of virtuous guidelines that LUQMAN provided to his son that he must believe truly that if he does something which has the very weight of the grain of a mustard-seed, even though it is in the heart of rock, or high above in the heaven or deep down in the earth, Allah will bring it to light; surely Allah is Knower of subtleties, Aware; so nothing escapes from His true knowledge and He certainly would see all doings of men; LUQMAN told him to keep up Salah (in whatever good manner it was read at that time to praise Allah); and to enjoin the good which means that he would always remain grateful to Allah, the true Lord, and guide all persons towards His obedience; and to forbid the evil which are all acts of injustice and all shameful attitudes; and he shall bear patiently that which befalls him in TABLIGH of the virtuous teachings; surely all these acts require courage to face troubles that come due to them; and he must not turn his face away from people in contempt which would make his task relating to TABLIGH most difficult and he must not go about in the land with pride overmuch; surely Allah does not love any self-conceited boaster; and he must not walk with impertinence in the land, and he must keep his voice low in speech; surely the most hateful of voices is braying of asses, which is loud yet does not bring any appreciation; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

LUQMAN-The Third Ruku

20. Do you not see that Allah has made what is in the heavens and what is in the earth subservient to you, and made complete to you His favors outwardly and inwardly? And among men is he who disputes in respect of Allah though having no knowledge, nor guidance, nor a book giving light.

21. And when it is said to them: Follow what Allah has revealed, they say: Nay, we follow that on which we found our fathers. What! though the Satan calls them to the chastisement of the burning fire!

22. And whoever submits himself wholly to Allah and he is the doer of good, he indeed has taken hold of the firmest thing upon which one can lay hold; and Allah's is the end of affairs.

23. And whoever disbelieves, let not his disbelief grieve you; to Us is their return, then will We inform them of what they did; surely Allah is the Knower of what is in the breasts.

24. We give them to enjoy a little, then will We drive them to a severe chastisement.

25. And if you ask them who created the heavens and the earth, they will certainly say: Allah. Say: (All) praise is due to Allah; nay! most of them do not know.

26. What is in the heavens and the earth is Allah's; surely Allah is the Self-sufficient, the Praised.

27. And were every tree that is in the earth (made into) pens and the sea (to supply it with ink), with seven more seas to increase it, the words of Allah would not come to an end; surely Allah is Mighty, Wise.

28. Neither your creation nor your raising is anything but as a single soul; surely Allah is Hearing, Seeing.

29. Do you not see that Allah makes the night to enter into the day, and He makes the day to enter into the night, and He has made the sun and the moon subservient (to you); each pursues its course till an appointed time; and that Allah is Aware of what you do? 30. This is because Allah is the Truth, and that which they call upon besides Him is the falsehood, and that Allah is the High, the Great.

The first Ruku of Surah LUQMAN stated that Allah has provided the true guidance to the man and also all physical ease to him so that he may live by his total concentration to all commands of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; now, the first AAYAT at this Ruku guides attention to that as it reads, "do you not see that Allah has made what is in the heavens and what is in the earth subservient to you, and made complete to you His favors outwardly (that manifest by physique) and inwardly (that is at insides)? And among men is he who disputes in respect of Allah though having no knowledge, nor guidance, nor a book giving light (as each of these gives insight to the inside of the man yet without any of them, they argue to prove their stance)"; the AAYAT tells explicitly that Allah created everything in such manner that they serve the physical existence of the man in one way or other, whereas the past tense is used at this statement; this tells that it is not for him to try to bring any of creation of Allah under his own control by scientific pursuits; the only aim of life is to get the pleasure of Allah by living

according to His commands as that only leads to the true success as we all have studied at the first five AAYAAT of this Surah whereas AAYAAT ahead at this Ruku elucidate this further; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second AAYAT of this Ruku states their lame excuse for not taking the true guidance from the Quran as it states, "and when it is said to them- follow what Allah has revealed, they say- nay, we follow that on which we found our fathers; what! though the Satan calls them to the chastisement of the burning fire (as by rejection of the true guidance, they would certainly lead themselves to the hell-fire at the true life at AKHIRAT)"; the three AAYAAT ahead present the respective results of both persons, one who lives by the commands of Allah and the other who denies living by the commands of Allah; these AAYAAT read, "and whoever submits himself wholly to Allah and he is the doer of good (in the best of manners), he indeed has taken hold of the firmest thing upon which one can lay hold (i.e. the practice of Islam with total application of self); to Allah belongs the sequel of all things; and whoever disbelieves, let not his disbelief grieve you; to Us is their return, then will We inform them of what they did; surely Allah is the Knower of what is in the breasts; We give them to enjoy a little (at the world), then will We drive them to a severe chastisement (at AKHIRAT); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the words "let not his disbelief grieve you" are to console the Prophet PBUH that he has done his task well to provide the teachings of Islam to all persons but he certainly is not liable to bring any of them to Islam necessarily; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-25 reads, "and if you ask them who created the heavens and the earth, they will certainly say- Allah; say that all praise is due to Allah; nay! most of them do not know"; this tells that the disbelievers there in Makkah did believe that Allah only is the Creator of all the creation but they did not believe that He only is the true Lord Who has the true authority, Whom they have to obey unconditionally; they even challenged the belief in AKHIRAT that Allah would judge all peoples of the world, at the Day of Judgment according to their doings; many of them did not believe that the world would ever end and AKHIRAT would ever take place (see Surah SABA-3 & 4) and many of them thought that whenever it takes place, those whom they took as associates to Allah in authority, they would save them from all chastisement (see Surah YOUNUS-18); the AAYAT asks the Prophet PBUH to tell them that all praise is to Allah so when they believe that He is the Creator of all the creation, they have to believe this too that He only is the true Lord Who has the true authority, Whom they have to obey unconditionally; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-26 notes, "what is in the heavens and the earth is Allah's; surely Allah is the Self-sufficient, the Praised"; the first AAYAT of this Ruku has stated clearly that Allah created everything at the heavens and the earth in such manner that they serve the physical existence of the man in one way or other; now, this AAYAT tells clearly that they serve the man physically because Allah has commanded them for it and He truly has all control over them; certainly, Allah is Self-sufficient and truly Praised Who does not need anything, even praise, from any of His creation; certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last four AAYAAT at the Ruku tell about the true authority of Allah which read, "and were every tree that is in the earth (made into) pens and the sea (to supply it with ink), with seven more seas to increase it, the words of Allah would not come to an end (because His speech is His attribute and all His attributes are limitless); surely Allah is Mighty (Who keeps everything according to His plan for them by His authority), Wise (Who keeps the impression of goodness in works of men and eliminates all evil by His true wisdom); neither your creation nor your raising is anything but as a single soul (so the disbelievers, who deny that Allah would raise all persons from dead, are totally unaware of His true authority); surely Allah is Hearing (everything that any of persons say), Seeing (all of doings that any of persons does and He would certainly provide every person whatever he truly deserves); do you not see that Allah makes the night to enter into the day, and He makes the day to enter into the night (so change is natural), and He has made the sun and the moon subservient (so that all persons do set their tasks by timing for them); each (of the lights) pursues its course till an appointed time (when they both would end); and that Allah is Aware of what you do (i.e. how all persons manage their tasks)?- this is because Allah is the Truth (i.e. all His attributes are QADEEM, ASL and LA-MEHDUD), and that which they call upon besides Him is the falsehood (as certainly, they do not have any authority), and that Allah is the High, the Great (so His true word stays and nothing of falsehood holds on)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

LUQMAN-The Last Ruku

31. Do you not see that the ships run on in the sea by Allah's favor that He may show you of His signs? Most surely there are signs in this for every patient & grateful person.

32. And when a wave like mountains covers them they call upon Allah, being sincere to Him in obedience, but when He brings them safe to the land, some of them follow the middle course; and none denies Our signs but every perfidious, ungrateful one.

33. O people! guard against (the punishment of) your Lord and dread the day when no father can avail aught for his son, nor a son avail aught for his father; surely the promise of Allah is true, therefore let not this world's life deceive you, nor let the topmost deceiver deceive you in respect of Allah.

34. Surely Allah is He with Whom is the knowledge of the hour, and He sends down the rain and He knows what is in the wombs; and no one knows what he shall earn on the morrow; and no one knows in what land he shall die; surely Allah is Knowing, Aware.

The first AAYAT of the Ruku guides the observation to the fact that Allah has set such principles by which the life at the world remains as examination to the man; change of situations that the man faces tells about his attitudes that decide his worth in front of Allah; he shall remain most patient (i.e. firm in practice of commands of Allah without preference to life at the world) with all attention towards Allah, the true Lord, at extreme troubles and he shall remain most grateful with all attention to Him at all situations that are most favorable to him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; whenever the voyagers at sea find adverse situation which threatens their lives as the huge wave covers their ship, they call Allah sincerely with commitment that they would surely obey Him; but when He brings all of them safe to the land, it is not all of them who are sincere for His obedience; the safety that persons receive at utmost troublesome situation which is most threatening to life, is the sign that Allah only has saved them; those who deny this clear sign are such who are most perfidious (and not firm in practice of Islam) and most ungrateful (at the favorable turn of events by the blessing of Allah); at the ship in trouble, there may still be such persons who may care for the safety of their parents and such persons who may care for the safety of their children but at AKHIRAT, which is sure to come, no person would care for any other than his own self; so all persons must care that the life at the world does not deceive them as the set-up here is for their examination and the set-up there is to provide them their respective results; Al-Hamdu Lillah; and Satan must not deceive them in respect of Allah by misguiding them that though He only is the Creator of everything yet the mankind does not need to obey His commands or that though He would bring AKHIRAT yet He is so Merciful that He would forgive all sins and provide JANNAH, so they do not need to worry and do whatever they will at life at the world; note that if someone repents truly on his sins and asks sincerely for His mercy, he would insha-Allah get it here at the world and also get TOFIQ to make his life better, yet when the period of his life ends here, his repentance on wrongs is totally fruitless; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of Surah LUQMAN tells about those five things that are issues among the hidden matters and there are few notable points to note here to get this AAYAT in better way; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first notable point is that these five are among those hidden matters to men (as everything certainly is manifest to Allah) in which they are most interested and it does not cover all of hidden matters; the second notable point is that it states categorically that awareness of the time when the world ends, is only with Allah and that is the answer to what the disbelievers asked the Prophet PBUH time & again; the third notable point is that the second and the third issue does not categorically deny that men are unable to get awareness to onset of the coming rainfall and awareness to what is in wombs; the fourth notable point is that both the last issues relate to matters which are most related to occurrence of those individual actions of the man for which Allah has provided some control to him and to occurrence of those upon which he has no power, respectively; Al-Hamdu Lillah; keeping these points in view and with the crucial remark that Allah knows better, we study this AAYAT which reads, "surely Allah is He with Whom is the knowledge of the hour (so nobody knows it except Him), and He sends down the rain and He knows what is in the wombs (but awareness to these two is possible for men through some gadgets which they develop, by the permission of Allah); and no one knows what (deeds) he shall earn on the morrow; and no one knows in what land (his homeland or some foreign land) he shall die (so in general, these both are hidden too yet due to careful planning for them, some exceptionally disciplined person may provide for these both though even then, they would only take place as Allah permits and as such, no person is able to say that he knows what he would be doing tomorrow and that he knows where he would die when the time of his death comes for him); surely Allah is Knowing (of the hour), Aware (of all doings of all persons)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah SAJDAH

(Consists of 3 Ruku; MK-10)

SAJDAH-The First Ruku

1. ALIF LAAM MIM.

2. The revelation of the Book, there is no doubt in it, is from the Lord of the worlds.

3. Or do they say: he has forged it? Nay! it is the truth from your Lord that you may warn the people to whom no warner has come before you, that they may follow the right path.

4. Allah is He Who created the heavens and the earth and what is between them in six periods, and He mounted the throne (of authority); you have not besides Him any guardian or any intercessor, will you not then mind?

5. He regulates the affair from the heaven to the earth; then shall it ascend to Him in a day the measure of which is a thousand years of what you count.

6. This is the Knower of the unseen and the seen, the Mighty the Merciful,

7. Who made good everything that He has created, and He began the creation of man from TEEN.

8. Then He made his progeny of an extract, of water held in light estimation.

9. Then He made him complete and breathed into him of His spirit, and made for you the ears and the eyes and the hearts; little is it that you give thanks.

10. And they say: What! when we have become lost in the earth, shall we then certainly be in a new creation? Nay! they are disbelievers in the meeting of their Lord.

11. Say: The angel of death who is given charge of you shall cause you to die, then to your Lord you shall be brought back.

Surah SAJDAH starts by MUQATTA'AAT and it is also mentioned as ALIF-LAAM-MIM AS-SAJDAH while the other Surah that has the name as SAJDAH (and it also starts by MUQATTA'AAT) is Surah-41 by the name of HA-MIM AS-SAJDAH; this Surah tells that Allah is examining all persons at the world and He has provided the mankind with the true guidance as He gave Torah to Moses-AS and He has provided the Quran to

Muhammad PBUH, the last of His Messengers; certainly, He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it elucidates that the man must take this true guidance and do his deeds accordingly because if he fails to comply to it, he would face extreme punishment at AKHIRAT; even at life at the world, Allah would punish all such persons so it remains a lesson to all those who take disobedience to Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the only period in which Allah asks all persons to show their worth for the true success at AKHIRAT is this life at the world; this is the only chance that a person has and he would not be given a second chance so he must repent on his wrongs here and now, and keep his attention totally towards Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first three AAYAAT of the Surah state, "ALIF LAAM MIM; the revelation of the Book (Quran), there is no doubt in it (which means that whatever it states, all that certainly is true), it is from (Allah Who is) the Lord of the worlds; or do they say- he (the Prophet PBUH) has forged it?- nay! it is the truth from your Lord that you (O Prophet PBUH) may warn the people (i.e. Arabs) to whom no warner has come before you (from the time Abraham-AS settled Ishmael-AS at that site), that they may follow the right path"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that Allah has appointed Muhammad PBUH, His last Messenger, as the warner to all peoples of the world but AAYAT mentions Arabs specifically as Allah chose him from among them so they were his first addressee; AAYAAT-4 to 7 tell that Allah has created all heavens and the earth whatever is between them in six periods; Allah knows better about the length of each period but here the point to note is that Allah mentions that all heavens and the earth is His creation and whatever is between them, He has created that; note about ARSH (the mighty throne of Allah) that it is among MUTASHABE (unclear matters) for which the best thing to say is that "Allah knows better"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; He has total authority and manages all affairs of all the universe all the time and He would judge the doings of all persons who lived at the world at any time and at any place; that day would have the length of one thousand years by our count; note that Surah RAHMAN-29 tells that Allah keeps everything to His will and He always sees whatever impression has occurred by doings of the peoples at the world to keep it all to His will; certainly He knows beforehand every action that anyone among the mankind and the jinn takes as He certainly is the Most Knowing of all things and the Most Well-Aware; it also tells that everyone begs of Him for needs and so every day He is engaged in the task of seeing to their needs according to His will; so He cares for His creation due to their collective need and due to their individual need according to His will; they need to show utmost gratitude to Allah for His blessings on them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-6 & 7 at this Ruku that we study, state, "this is (Allah) the Knower of the unseen (by men) and the seen, the Mighty (Who keeps the set-up that He has arranged for the universe, most intact), the Merciful (that He gives ample time to the man to show his worth for Jannah, the gardens of paradise); Who made good everything that He has created (with the best of set-up for it), and He began the creation of man from TEEN"; note that Surah Roum-20 states, "And one of His signs is that He created you from pure sand (TURAB), then lo! you are mortals (who) scatter"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so the notable thing here is that Allah created the man by the pure sand at first (TURAB); then He mixed it with pure water to change it to muddy clay (TEEN); then it changed to extreme black mud (HAMA-EM-MASNUN) that had taken place by alteration of the muddy clay by His will with extreme period of time and finally the sounding refined clay (SALSAAL) by which Allah created Adam-AS by His will; these are not the stages of the man during his creation but the material of his creation had passed through such stages whereas each stage had most extreme period of time by the will of Allah; so any of these is the material by which Allah began the creation of Adam but with this remark, the most significant thing to mention here is that most certainly, Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-8 & 9 state, "then He made his progeny of an extract, of water held in light estimation; then He made him complete and breathed into him of His spirit, and made for you the ears and the eyes and the hearts; little is it that you give thanks"; this AAYAT tells that afterwards, his progeny came to inhabit the earth by such watery substance that does not have any esteem; but Allah provided all of mankind with ears and eyes and such ability to understand issues of life that they take the Guidance to the right path and achieve the true success at the Day of Judgment; note that the Quran uses the term "FU'AD" (that means heart) as the ability to deduce results by hearing of ears and by seeing of eyes; and it has occurred with the mention of hearing and seeing at BANI-ISRAEL-36, MOMINOON-78, at the ninth AAYAT of this Surah SAJDAH that we study and MULK-23; except for the first, it tells at all places that such persons show only little of gratitude to Allah and at BANI-ISRAEL even, the AAYAT implies that all persons need to show gratitude to Allah, the true Lord, as it mentions that hearing, seeing and FU'AD would certainly be asked about the attitudes they led to; Al-Hamdu Lillah; now, AAYAAT that are ahead at this Ruku that we study, state that there are disbelievers to the fact that the life would go on even after death; they are unable to understand that when their particles are scattered at the earth, how would they rise from dead; they are unaware of the set-up with which Allah has created them and more than that, they are unaware of the total authority that Allah has; AAYAT implies by its text that it is not their concern how Allah would do it but they need to understand that Allah certainly would raise them from dead; their doubt about it only tells that they do not believe that they would ever meet Allah, the true Lord; Allah asks the Prophet PBUH at the last AAYAT of the Ruku, "(O Prophet PBUH)-say- 'the angel of death who is given charge of you shall cause you to die, then to your Lord you shall be brought back' (so whether they believe it or not, they would certainly meet Allah, who would see all their doings there at the Day of Judgment)-"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SAJDAH-The Second Ruku

12. And could you but see when the guilty shall hang down their heads before their Lord: Our Lord! we have seen and we have heard, therefore send us back, we will do good; surely (now) we are certain.

13. And if We had pleased We would certainly have given to every soul its guidance, but the word (which had gone forth) from Me was just: I will certainly fill hell with the jinn and men together.

14. So taste, because you neglected the meeting of this day of yours; surely We forsake you; and taste the abiding chastisement for what you did.

15. Only they believe in Our AAYAAT who, when they are reminded of them, fall down in prostration and celebrate the praise of their Lord, and they are not proud.

16. Their sides draw away from (their) beds, they call upon their Lord in fear and in hope, and they spend (benevolently) out of what We have given them.

17. So no soul knows what is hidden for them of that which will refresh the eyes; a reward for what they did.

18. Is he then who is a believer like him who is a transgressor? They are not equal.

19. As for those who believe and do good, the gardens are their abiding-place; an entertainment for what they did.

20. And as for those who transgress, their abode is the fire; whenever they desire to go forth from it they shall be brought back into it, and it will be said to them: Taste the chastisement of the hell-fire which you called a lie.

21. And most certainly We will make them taste of the nearer chastisement before the greater chastisement that haply they may turn.

22. And who is more unjust than he who is reminded of the AAYAAT of his Lord, then he turns away from them? Surely We will give punishment to the guilty.

The first three AAYAAT of the Ruku state the bad condition of those disbelievers who used to deny that Allah would raise all persons from dead; they shall stand in front of Allah, their heads hung down, and they would ask Him to return them to the world for one more time so that they get the pleasure of Allah by compliance to His commands and show their worth for Jannah, the paradise; Allah would respond to their plea that if He willed, He would have brought all persons to the true guidance; but He has made the life at the world an examination to see the worth of each person and He would provide Jannah to those only who comply to His commands and He would fill the hell-fire with jinn and men together who had spent their lives on wrongs; every person has only this one chance to prove his worth and no other; Allah would put all evil persons there at the hell-fire because they had denied the meeting with Allah on the Day of Judgment; so Allah would forsake them and they would remain there forever for whatever wrongs they did because of their disbelief that they would ever pay for their wrongs that they commit at life at the world; the next AAYAAT praise the true believers how they remembered Allah at life at the world and what good results they would ultimately receive for that; these AAYAAT tell that the true believers are only those who truly believe in AAYAAT of Allah as whenever they are reminded of them, they fall down in prostration and celebrate the praise of their Lord, and they are not proud on their submission to Allah but expect mercy from Him on their wrongs; they call Allah, the true

Lord, at silence of nights in fear that He has the authority to punish them on their wrongs & in hope that He is most Merciful and so He would grant them mercy and the space to make themselves better; and they spend on the needy out of what Allah has provided to them benevolently; no person among such virtuous men knows what is hidden for them of that which will not only provide most physical satisfaction to them but before that, even refresh eyes; it shall never happen that the true believer gets results like the sinful disbeliever as they are not equal in status whereas the true believer has achieved the true success; Al-Hamdu Lillah; for those who believe and do good, they would receive gardens as their abiding place for whatever good they did; and as for those who had disbelieved in the Truth, their abode is the hell-fire; AAYAT categorically tells that "whenever they desire to go forth from it they shall be brought back into it, and it will be said to them- taste the chastisement of the hell-fire which you called a lie"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT read, "and most certainly We will make them taste of the nearer chastisement (at life at the world) before the greater chastisement (of AKHIRAT) that haply they may turn (to righteousness before the greater chastisement gets them); and who is more unjust than he who is reminded of the AAYAAT (from the Quran and from the goings at the world) of his Lord (that ask to believe in Him truly and that the Day of Judgment is certain to come), then he turns away from them?- surely We will give punishment to the guilty"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SAJDAH-The Last Ruku

23. And certainly We gave the Book to Musa, so be not in doubt concerning the receiving of it, and We made it a guide for the children of Israel.

24. And We made of them Imams to guide by Our command when they were patient, and they were certain of Our AAYAAT.

25. Surely your Lord will judge between them on the day of resurrection concerning that wherein they differ.

26. Does it not point out to them the right path, how many of the generations, in whose abodes they go about, did We destroy before them? Most surely there are signs in this; will they not then hear?

27. Do they not see that We drive the water to land having no herbage, then We bring forth thereby seed-produce of which their cattle and they themselves eat; will they not then see?

28. And they say: When will this judgment take place, if you are truthful?

29. Say: On the day of judgment the faith of those who (now) disbelieve will not profit them, nor will they be respited.

30. Therefore, turn away from them and wait, surely they too are waiting.

The first couple of AAYAAT tell that Allah provided Torah to Moses-AS so it guided the Bani-Israel to the Truth yet there were such persons in them who took some of its teachings and left other of it; so Muhammad PBUH does not have to worry when he finds such persons who deny the teachings of the Quran which Allah has provided to him for the true guidance to all peoples of the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah raised guides to the teachings of Torah from among them who had no inclination to pleasures of the world so He would raise such good persons from among the Muslims too who would spread the virtuous teachings of the Quran far & wide; Al-Hamdu Lillah; then He would surely judge all matters between them at the Day of Judgment and the disbelievers would see clearly then that they were totally wrong; the observation of disbelievers is so weak that they are unable to see what the history tells them and even what info the matters around provide to them; they need to put their ability of hearing and seeing to all their observation as that would lead their FU'AD to come to the Truth; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the Quran uses the term "FU'AD" (that means heart) as the ability to deduce results by hearing of ears and by seeing of eyes; Allah destroyed so many generations, in whose abodes they go about, and most surely there are signs in this; they need to use their faculty of hearing about it in the company of those who have learnt history well; and Allah brings water to such land that has no herbage and then it brings forth its production that their cattle and they too consume; they need to use their faculty of seeing at this issue by thought on how it happens; but their disbelief leads them to ask when the Judgment would take place but they need to understand that when it takes place, it will not profit them nor will they be respited; so it is better to ignore them and wait for the ultimate result to all matters and whether they believe it or not, the most obvious fact is this that they too are in waiting for the Day of Judgment that is most certain to take place; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah AHZAAB

(Consists of 9 Ruku; H-5)

AHZAAB-The First Ruku

1. O Prophet! be careful of (your duty to) Allah and do not comply with (the wishes of) the disbelievers and the hypocrites; surely Allah is Knowing, Wise;

2. And follow what is revealed to you from your Lord; surely Allah is Aware of what you do;

3. And rely on Allah; and Allah is sufficient Protector.

4. Allah has not made for any man two hearts within him; nor has He made your wives whose backs you liken to the backs of your mothers as your mothers, nor has He made those whom you assert to be your sons your real sons; these are the words of your mouths; and Allah speaks the truth and He guides to the path.

5. Assert their relationship to their fathers; this is more equitable with Allah; but if you do not know their fathers, then they are your brethren in faith and your friends; and there is no blame on you concerning that in which you made a mistake, but (concerning) that which your hearts do purposely (blame may rest on you), and Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.

6. The Prophet has a greater claim on the faithful than they have on themselves, and his wives are (as) their mothers; and the possessors of relationship have the better claim in the ordinance of Allah to inheritance, one with respect to another, than (other) believers, and (than) those who have fled (their homes), except that you do some good to your friends; this is written in the Book.

7. And when We made a covenant with the prophets and with you, and with Noah and Ibrahim and Musa and Isa, son of Mariam, and We made with them a strong covenant

8. That He may question the truthfulness of their truth, and He has prepared for the disbelievers a painful punishment.

Surah AHZAAB has many of commands that relate to women and to social decency and so it is very near to Surah NOOR, the twenty-fourth Surah; the notable thing is that from the fourth year of HIJRAH (migration of the Prophet PBUH from Makkah to Madinah) to the seventh year of it, many of Surah descended to the Prophet PBUH that directly relate to commands about women in some manner or/and they provide commands for the righteous living socially; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this period saw the descent of Surah NISAA (women), this Surah AHZAAB (allied-forces), HASHR (banishment), HADID (iron), MUMTAHINA (the woman examined in belief), BAYYINAH (evidence), MUNAFIQUN (hypocrites), MUJADILAH (the pleading woman), HAJJURAT (apartments), NOOR (light), FATH (victory), TALAAQ (divorce), TAHREEM (prohibition); this also is notable that the Prophet PBUH married nine of his twelve wives from age 55 to age 59 (by the HIJRAH calendar), and that somewhat corresponds to the descent of these Surah; the other three include Bibi Khadijah-RA and Bibi SAUDAH-RA, whom he married at Makkah when he was at the age of 25 & of 50 respectively; and they include Bibi Ayesha-RA (whom he married at Makkah yet she came to him as his wife at Shawwal of the first year of HIJRAH); note that he spent all his youth and some of his ripe age too with respectable Khadijah-RA who was the only wife he had up-to his age of 50 and then he married SAUDAH-RA who was near to his age, and that only after the death of Bibi Khadijah; I, MSD, have provided the note on marriages of the Prophet PBUH, at end of the "book on good manners" at my writing "Notes on Tirmidhi-Ahadith"; note also that the Holy Prophet PBUH married widow or divorced women except for Bibi Ayesha-RA and he never divorced any of the woman he married; and note also that all of women that he married were most happy with him and in fact, when Allah gave them the option to leave him if they want, at Surah AHZAAB-28 & 29, they all chose to stay with him without exception; he never did any wrong to any woman at any time anywhere and in fact, he was never even charged with any such thing even by his worst enemies all his life; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah AHZAAB starts by addressing the Prophet PBUH to always remain attentive to Allah for strength of his belief and never comply to the wishes of disbelievers and hypocrites; it asks him to always follow the instructions of the Holy Book Quran that Allah has provided to him for the uprightness of his deeds and to always trust Allah at all situations Who knows that his deeds are most decent and Who would save him from all adverse planning of the disbelievers or/and the hypocrites; note that Surah NOON (AL-QALAM) states at the fourth AAYAT in praise of the Prophet PBUH, "and most surely you conform to sublime morality"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; though the direction that AHZAAB gives at its start, applies to all of true Muslims yet the address particularly to the Prophet PBUH is due to the reason that Allah willed that he marries ZAYNAB-RA, the divorced wife of his adopted son Zaid-RA, whereas at those times, marrying the wife of the adopted son was taken as equivalent to marrying the real daughter-in-law that was taken against morality; Allah willed to make things better in this matter that the Muslims do not take adopted relations as actual relations to them and for this, He asked the Prophet PBUH to marry her after Zaid divorces her and she completes her IDDAT (the period in waiting for the divorced or widowed woman before marrying any of men again) as insha-Allah we all would study at this Surah ahead; note that IDDAT completes when the divorced woman completes her third period after divorce or if she does not get periods, when she completes three lunar months whereas if she is pregnant at divorce, it ends at the time she gives birth to the child; as this direction to marry her was much trying for him so Allah told him not to worry about the adverse comments of disbelievers and hypocrites on this and go on with it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT gives the info that "Allah has not made for any man two hearts within him"; note that this does not actually relate to the physique, though true in that sense too, as AAYAT clarifies that it means that whatever the man says to denote someone as alike to some person in his near ones, does not mean that he has the same ruling for him as that near one, as his emotional leaning is most different to both; so it says ahead that "nor has He made your wives whose backs you liken to the backs of your mothers as your mothers (which is named as ZIHAR and Surah MUJADILAH provides the ruling for it), nor has He made those whom you assert to be your sons your real sons; these are the words of your mouths; and Allah speaks the truth and He guides to the (right) path"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT ahead guides that the Muslims shall relate whom they take as their sons, to their fathers but if they do not know their fathers, then they shall take them as their brethren in faith and as their friends and if they make a genuine mistake in relating someone of them to his true father then there is no blame on them as they had done it in good gesture but they shall not commit such thing purposely; as for their genuine mistake, Allah is Forgiving, Merciful; note that when the Prophet PBUH had freed Zaid from slavery and had adopted him as his son, the people used to call him as Zaid ibn Muhammad PBUH but after the descent of this AAYAT, they called him only as Zaid ibn HARITHA; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-6 tells that the Prophet PBUH is nearer to the Muslims than their own-selves and all their near ones; this is due to the fact that he is as spiritual father to all Muslims and AAYAT also mentions that his wives are as mothers to all Muslims; so they did not marry anyone after his departure from the world though even with that status of theirs, Allah commanded the Muslims to care for their HEJAB even from themselves; AAYAT-53 of AHZAAB addresses the Muslims, "O you who believe! do not enter the houses of the Prophet unless permission is given to you for meal, not waiting for its preparation being finished- but when you are invited, then enter, and when you have taken the food, then disperse- not seeking to listen to talk; surely this gives the Prophet (PBUH) trouble, but he forbears from you (caring for manner to respect you as his guests), and Allah does not forbear from the truth; and when you ask of them (i.e. the wives of the Prophet PBUH) any goods, ask of them from behind a curtain; this is purer for your hearts and for their hearts; and it does not befit you that you should give trouble to the Apostle of Allah, nor that you should marry his wives after him ever; surely this is grievous in the sight of Allah"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-6 also clarifies, "the possessors of (actual) relationship have the better claim in the ordinance of Allah to inheritance, one with respect to another, than (other) believers, and (than) those who have fled (their homes), except that you do some good to your friends; this is written in the Book (that comprises of the commands of Allah)"; for this, the notable point is that many of those Muslims who had migrated from Makkah to Madinah, have taken many of Muslims at Madinah as their brothers so the AAYAT mentions that the latter may care for the former to provide some amounts to them (and vice-versa) yet the ruling of inheritance is fixed so they would not be included in heirs; see Surah NISAA-11 & 12; now, AAYAT-7 mentions the oath that Allah took from His Prophets at the world of spirits; this also is notable that Allah took an oath from all spirits at the world of spirits which AARAAF-172 mentions, "and when your Lord brought forth from the children of Adam, from their backs, their descendants, and made them bear witness against their own souls- am I not your Lord?- they said- yes- we bear witness; lest you should say on the day of resurrection- surely we were heedless of this"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; and AALE-IMRAN-81 mentions the specific oath which Allah took from all of His Prophets as it mentions, "and when Allah made a covenant through the Prophets- certainly what I have given you of book and wisdom-- then a Messenger comes to you verifying that which is with you, you must believe in him, and you must aid him-- He said- do you affirm and accept My pact in this?- they said- we do affirm; He said- then bear witness, and I am of the bearers of witness with you"; so the oath that this AAYAT-7 mentions is this specific oath that AALE-IMRAN-81 mentions; Al-Hamdu Lillah; there certainly is no Messenger and no Prophet after Muhammad PBUH and this also is notable that every Messenger of Allah is also the Prophet of Allah; the difference between the Prophet and the Messenger is that Allah sends the Messenger towards some specific people to whom he provides the message of Allah while the Prophet conforms it at his own time; this is because when any other of His Messengers come after these Prophets, who conforms to what they had taught to their people according to the teachings of the previous Messenger of Allah in them, they (their people) do believe in him and do help him in all manner possible; all Messengers gave the same message from Allah in essence (and that actually is the fundamental teachings of Islam) and brought that message by some written scripture that Allah gave to them or by some speech of wisdom that Allah provided to them but the Prophets clarified the teachings of the previous Messenger with an attachment to him, to the nation towards which Allah had sent him; now, Muhammad PBUH is His last Messenger (and His last Prophet too) and Allah sent him towards all of the peoples ever to come at the world at any place and at any time, with His final message (i.e. the Quran) and took it into His care that its text and its meaning both remain safe from all contamination (see Surah HIJR-9 and also AAYAT-40 of this Surah AHZAAB); so Allah took the oath from the Prophets (NABIYYEN) at the world of Spirits (AALAME-AMR) that when Allah provides them with the knowledge of His commands and the wisdom that relates to it, that His previous Messenger (RASUL) had provided by His command among their people, they have to strengthen that message of Allah among their people; here the AAYAT mentions those five who are the most eminent of them all and they all are RASUL and so they are among the NABIYYEN too (especially Ibrahim-AS and Isa-AS, though among the most eminent of Messengers of Allah, have much high significance for being among the Prophets); the observation of history does provide the info that these five most eminent Messengers were born at regular intervals to each other and it seems that there is space of time of about two thousand years between the birth of Noah-AS and of Moses-AS and about the same space is between the birth of Moses and of Muhammad PBUH (these three Messengers had to put much high efforts to present the message of Allah to their peoples); the times of Abraham-AS were just about fifteen hundred years after the birth of Noah and the space between the death of Abraham and the birth of Moses is about 540 years; note that Jesus-AS was born just about two thousand years after Abraham-AS and as such there is the space of about fifteen hundred years between the death of Moses-AS and the miraculous birth of Jesus-

AS; Salam on all Messengers of Allah; there is the same space of about 540 years between the ascent of Jesus-AS to the heavens and the birth of Muhammad PBUH and these five Messengers of Allah are the most prominent of Messengers of Allah as the Quran has mentioned these five by their names distinctively here at Surah AHZAAB-7; this interesting phenomenon asks us to reflect that there is the same space of two thousand years now at this period of time since the ascent of Jesus Christ-AS, the great man and the Messenger of Allah, to heavens; so as Jesus Christ emphasized for the Bani-Israel to guide total attention towards Allah and to practice His commands genuinely as provided by Torah after about fifteen hundred years of Moses-AS, it is most probable that the prominent good Muslims (who are most sincere to Islam) rise to guide all Muslims in the present era to practice Islam genuinely as there is gap of about 1450 years (by the lunar calendar) as of now since Muhammad PBUH, made HIJRAH to Madinah; as Allah has set laws for Astronomy, Chemistry, Elementary Physics and other of subjects that govern their issues by the will of Allah, so He has also set the laws for the General History and they do govern its issues by the will of Allah; note this well that after Muhammad PBUH, who was the last of Messengers of Allah and the last of His Prophets, there is no Messenger and no Prophet of Allah (see Surah AHZAAB-40); so now all persons among the Muslims must ask Allah to raise such good righteous persons from among them who guide all of them in their virtuous concepts and in their upright practice and lead them all to the total adherence to Islam without claiming any material or spiritual status for their own selves; everything is going on in the most perfect order by the will of Allah and even in these troubled times for us Muslims, if He accepts our plea to forgive us and to provide His mercy to us, there is nothing to stop us Muslims to rise to heights; but that surely needs sacrifice of base desires from our side for which we Muslims must prepare ourselves totally without any undue reservation; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku tells the reason to this specific oath that Allah took from the Prophets, which is that these truthful persons witness against the wrong persons at the Day of Judgment, that they had provided the message of Allah categorically to all persons including these wrong persons, yet these did not accept the fundamental teachings of Islam (and so their practice did not reflect that); then it would become totally clear that if these wrong persons are put into the hell-fire, it is not any injustice to them but they actually led themselves to it by their own wrongdoings; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

AHZAAB-The Second Ruku

9. O you who believe! call to mind the favor of Allah to you when there came down upon you hosts, so We sent against them a strong wind and hosts, that you saw not, and Allah is Seeing what you do.

10. When they came upon you from above you and from below you, and when the eyes turned dull, and the hearts rose up to the throats, and you began to think diverse thoughts of Allah.

11. There the true believers were tried and they were shaken with severe shaking.

12. And when the hypocrites and those in whose hearts was disease began to say: Allah and His Apostle did not promise us (victory) but only to deceive.

13. And when a party of them said: O people of YATHRIB! there is no place to stand for you, therefore go back; and a party of them asked permission of the Prophet (PBUH), saying: Surely our houses are exposed; and they were not exposed; they only desired to fly away.

14. And if an entry were made upon them from the outlying parts of it, then they were asked to wage war, they would certainly have done it, and they would not have stayed in it but a little while.

15. And certainly they had made a covenant with Allah before, that they would not turn (their) backs; and Allah's covenant shall be inquired of.

16. Say: Flight shall not do you any good if you fly from death or slaughter, and in that case you will not be allowed to enjoy yourselves but a little.

17. Say: Who is it that can withhold you from Allah if He intends to do you evil, or if He intends to show you mercy? And they will not find for themselves besides Allah any guardian or a helper.

18. Allah knows indeed those among you who hinder others and those who say to their brethren: Come to us; and they come not to the fight but a little,

19. Being niggardly with respect to you; but when fear comes, you will see them looking to you, their eyes rolling like one swooning because of death; but when the fear is gone they smite you with sharp tongues, being niggardly of the good things. These have not believed, therefore Allah has made their doing naught; and this is easy to Allah.

20. They think the allies are not gone, and if the allies should come (again) they would fain be in the deserts with the desert Arabs asking for news about you, and if they were among you they would not fight save a little.

From this Ruku, the Surah narrates the events that relate to the battle of AHZAAB which is also named as the battle of Trench which took place from the beginning of SHAWWAL to its last, of the fifth year of HIJRAH (corresponding to the last of December

626 to last of January 627); it happened that some of chiefs of BANU-NADHIR, the Jewish tribe which the Muslims had expelled from Madinah in the fourth year of HIJRAH towards KHYBER and Syria due to their breach of the peace-treaty with them, contacted the Quraysh at Makkah and instigated them to attack the Muslims in alliance with number of tribes at different areas of Arabia and finish them off; they succeeded in their evil efforts and the Quraysh with their aid, managed to gather a force of more than ten thousand men from different tribes that marched on towards Madinah; Muslims were about three thousand in number there and in them, there were hypocrites too; this was the most severe challenge that the disbelievers gave to Muslims and it asked them that they remain even more attentive to Allah, the true Lord; there still was BANU-QURAIZAH, another Jewish tribe, residing at suburb of Madinah and at the height of war, there was high probability that they would also violate the peace-treaty with the Muslims; the Prophet PBUH got the info about the advent of Quraysh and its allies towards Madinah and at this most crucial situation, he asked his companions for the strategy to curtail the forces of the enemy; at this occasion, Salman the Persian said that back at home, when they need to respond to such enemy that seemingly is more powerful in force than theirs, they defend themselves by digging some ditch around their place to remain safe from it; so he gave the beautiful opinion to dig some long trench to defend Madinah from the attack of the advancing enemy towards them; the Prophet PBUH appreciated this good opinion and with his companions, set on to dig such trench in defense of Madinah at its north (including some area at its west) as at the south of it, there were forts of BANU-QURAIZAH with whom they had the peace-treaty, whereas other sides were covered by such huge rocks that had lava inside; the trench had to be about little more than 3 miles in length with such width that a horse remains unable to jump across it and with such depth that once a man falls in it, he remains unable to climb out except by much of assistance of other men; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that Ahadith have told explicitly that the Prophet (PBUH) told his companions while digging the trench with them, that you would soon conquer the lands of Rome and Persia, the two notable political powers of the time; they all were digging the trench to safeguard Madinah and their own selves as the Quraysh of Makkah and thousands of people of many tribes were advancing towards Madinah to finish the Muslims for once and for all; also, the Prophet PBUH has tied two of stones at his belly so that it stands its emptiness due to hunger; never has been a man born before this great man Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, who had even thought of giving such tidings and that also in such situation; Muslims did defend Madinah well at that time by the blessing of Allah as the forces of disbelievers had to return due to number of reasons which included their bad planning when they were taken by surprise at presence of the trench whereas the time-factor at that occasion became most significant; note that the weather was extremely chilly and then ultimately the stormy wind uprooted their camps; and angels were helping Muslims by the command of Allah that also caused them to withdraw their forces; and their stocks ran out due to the length of period (which was about 25 days) in which they had to camp there that they never expected; and in addition, Muslims also used the strategy of creating mistrust among all those allied forces and their allies among Jews of BANU-QURAIZAH that insha-Allah we would read ahead; note about the prophecy of the Prophet PBUH that it happened that the Muslims conquered vast areas of the Roman Empire and all of Persia within a few years of passing away of the Prophet PBUH; that is history now which totally proves Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this trying occasion brought forth the hypocrites and those persons too who had belief yet extremely weak, among the Muslims who tried to avoid facing the enemy by different fake excuses; their excuses included that all residents of Madinah, even if they join together, are unable to stand against the allied forces which had challenged them, and that their houses are unsafe as there is no person to take care of them so they have to see to them; Allah showed all persons then that with true belief on Allah, everything favors the Muslims and most certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; just as the Quraysh and its allied forces backed away, the Prophet PBUH commanded his companions to reach the forts of BANU-QURAIZAH immediately as this issue needed adequate tackling without any delay; note that when the Quraysh and its allies had seen that they were completely stranded, they tried to get the assistance of the Jewish tribe of BANU-QURAIZAH and met success in that; the Prophet PBUH got the info about this betrayal of the Jewish tribe and was worried about it; now, it happened that NU'AIM Ibn MASUD ASHJA'I, who had become Muslim recently and had kept his belief hidden, was permitted on his request by the Prophet PBUH to create friction between the allied forces and the Jewish tribe by telling such words that created doubt at each side against the other; probably, it was this occasion at AHZAAB that the Prophet PBUH gave the guidance that "war is deception"; NU'AIM-RA went to BANU-QURAIZAH and told the chiefs there that though they have given their word to Quraysh and its allies for their assistance yet they have to see that if the Muslims manage to stand this challenge, the Quraysh and its allies would return to their respective places but their tribe would be at mercy of the

Muslims; so to make sure that they continue their challenge till they achieve success against the Muslims, they have to ask them to give some of their significant persons in their custody as guarantee to their sincerity; the chiefs there agreed with his presentation of situation and approved his advice; then he visited the other side and told them that the Jewish tribe is not sincere to them and it rather wants some of their significant men to bound the Quraysh and its allies so that issues are settled on their terms; as the matter proceeded in the very manner which NU'AIM had presented, they fell for his deceit so his tactful handling of the situation worked and the Muslims did not have to take-up both enemy together; note that BANU-QURAIZAH was at the back of Muslims with Madinah open at front of it and this situation was most troublesome that it had given its consent to attackers at Madinah about its assistance against the Muslims without any care to the peace-treaty that they had with them; so the Muslims punished them most severely for their betrayal at such crucial occasion as most of their men were punished by death and others with women and children were enslaved according to the custom of the day and their power was totally uprooted; this was according to the verdict that SA'AD ibn MU'ADH, the reputable Muslim person of al-Aws tribe who was nominated by the Jews for settlement of the dispute, gave against them; he had witnessed the Jews there cursing the Prophet PBUH and all Muslims and he knew totally well about their bad intentions so he gave this verdict for the necessary safety of all Muslims; keeping this detail of events in view at AHZAAB, we all would now proceed on to study this Ruku of the Surah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first three AAYAAT at the Ruku guide attention of all Muslims to the utmost favor of Allah at AHZAAB upon them as they read, "O you who believe! call to mind the favor of Allah to you when there came down upon you hosts (of men from different tribes), so We sent against them a strong wind and hosts (of angels), that you saw not, and Allah is Seeing what you do (and He provided His assistance in that very manner of defense that the Muslims undertook); when they (i.e. the allied forces of disbelievers) came upon you from above you and from below you (i.e. tribes residing at different sides of Madinah came upon it in alliance with each other), and when the eyes turned dull, and the hearts rose up to the throats (of such Muslims who had weakness in their belief due to fear that it is the end of them), and you began to think diverse thoughts of Allah (this tells about the hypocrites who had this thought that Allah has left them at mercy of the allied forces and it seemed to them too that it is the end of them); there the true believers were tried and they were shaken with severe shaking"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead at the Ruku tell about such Muslims who had weakness in their belief and about the hypocrites in Muslims; six of AAYAAT ahead at this Ruku state, "and when the hypocrites and those in whose hearts was disease, began to say- Allah and His Apostle did not promise us (victory) but only to deceive (and they even complained that in this situation, it has become difficult for them to ease themselves at the call of nature); and when a party of them said- O people of YATHRIB (this is the other name for Madinah)! there is no place to stand for you (as the allied forces are much too strong and persons residing at Arabia have to make peace with such number of people that have challenged them, for their relations to them at future), therefore go back (and do not offer any defense against them); and a party of them asked permission of the Prophet (PBUH), saying- surely our houses are exposed; and they were not exposed; they only desired to fly away (from battleground); and if an entry (of disbelievers) were made upon them from the outlying parts of it, then they were asked to wage war (against the Muslims in whom they claim themselves to belong), they would certainly have done it, and they would not have stayed in it (i.e. in waiting) but a little while; and certainly they had made a covenant with Allah before, that they would not turn (their) backs (if they face the disbelievers); and Allah's covenant shall be inquired of; say (O Prophet PBUH to these persons)- flight shall not do you any good if you fly from death or slaughter, and in that case you will not be allowed to enjoy yourselves but a little (as all have to die at some time and at some place); say (to them)- who is it that can withhold you from Allah if He intends to do you evil, or if He intends to show you mercy (i.e. if He intends to save their lives so that they get space still to make themselves better)?- and they will not find for themselves besides Allah any guardian or a helper"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the statement that "certainly they had made a covenant with Allah before" means that many of these persons weak in belief, had taken an oath by the name of Allah after the battle of UHUD at the third year of HIJRAH that now whenever the time comes to respond to attack from disbelievers, they would face them with utmost fervor; they had avoided facing the force of Quraysh at UHUD and this occasion of AHZAAB showed clearly that they were most insincere to their word; so Allah brought their evil at fore clearly by the trial at AHZAAB; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAT-18 to the last AAYAT of the Ruku, Allah tells about the attitudes that these persons show at wars with the enemy and which they also showed at AHZAAB; they not only avoid facing the challenge from the enemy but they try to incite other residents of Madinah (among ANSAAR) too, to come to them and keep away from the battleground; they may come to the battleground only to find ways to avoid any challenge to them from the enemy, and that only because they may become liable to have some claim to the booty from the enemy that all Muslims collect being victorious at the battleground; they are unable to bear that all of goods collected from the enemy goes to those Muslims who are at the battleground and they get nothing; but when they see that the enemy is finding way to inflict some trouble, even death, to many of Muslims at war, their eyes show their fear as if death has got them then & there; however, as the matter gets in favor of Muslims, they talk with such sharpness of tongues that it was their assistance that had made the difference and so victory did come to them; they are most greedy towards those goods on which they may lay their hands on, so Allah would render their doings futile even if they did show some stand by chance without the true belief, against the enemy due to their timely presence at the battleground; this certainly Allah would do and it is most easy for Him to do so as it certainly is not any injustice to them who are greedy to get worldly assets only; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these people, that are hypocrites or/and most weak in their belief, fear the forces of Quraysh and their allies so much that even when they had deserted the war with Muslims due to their incapability to fight them, they think that this is just some technique of war on the part of Quraysh and their allies, and they would return to attack Muslims; so these people find it better to stay away from the battleground and if possible, rather live away at deserts where they may get the info time and again about AHZAAB whether they had truly left or the war continues; however, their presence among the true Muslims too was useless as even then they would not have fought the enemy save a little; so this is their attitude which is most averse to the cause of Muslims and for this, they even ask appreciation; the next Ruku tells about the worthy attitude of the true Muslims when they face the enemy that has challenged them with all might it has; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

AHZAAB-The Third Ruku

21. Certainly you have in the Apostle of Allah an excellent exemplar for him who hopes in Allah and the latter day and remembers Allah much.

22. And when the believers saw the allies, they said: This is what Allah and His apostle promised us, and Allah and His apostle spoke the truth; and it only increased them in faith and submission.

23. Of the believers are men who are true to the covenant which they made with Allah: so of them is he who accomplished his vow, and of them is he who yet waits, and they have not changed in the least

24. That Allah may reward the truthful for their truth, and punish the hypocrites if He please or turn to them (mercifully); surely Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.

25. And Allah turned back the disbelievers in their rage; they did not obtain any advantage, and Allah sufficed the believers in fighting; and Allah is Strong, Mighty.

26. And He drove down those of the followers of the Book who backed them from their fortresses and He cast awe into their hearts; some you killed and you took captive another part.

27. And He made you heirs to their land and their dwellings and their property, and (to) a land which you have not yet trodden, and Allah has power over all things.

The Ruku starts by praising the Prophet PBUH, with the message that Allah has provided him such caliber that all Muslims need to follow him in their doings as he is an excellent exemplar for him who has hopes in Allah that He would grant him JANNAAT (the beautiful gardens at paradise) at AKHIRAT which is certain to take place; and he always remembers Allah in all of his practice; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the context of this AAYAT tells that it asks all Muslims to see that Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, faced the enemy with all valor when he dug the trench with his companions and stayed at the ground when the nights were extremely cold; there was scarcity of foods and in addition, it happened that the tribe with which the Muslims had the peace-treaty, was prepared to violate it in compliance to their enemy; so it clearly asks to face adverse situations where the fatal enemy has challenged all such good Muslims who do intend to fulfill the Islamic commands with all good efforts; he had told his companions at this most trying situation that soon they would conquer the Roman territories and the Persian land; and it was most obvious there that whatever comes, he would not back-out; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah has set the world in such manner that He sees the true position of all persons so He examines all in whatever manner He wills; we all have read at beginning of Surah ANKABUT, "ALIF LAAM MIM; do men think that they will be left alone on saying, 'we believe', and not be tried? - and certainly We tried those before them, so Allah will certainly know those who are true and He will certainly know the liars"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-22, 23 & 24 ahead tell about those true Muslims who stood firm at AHZAAB and fulfilled their word; these AAYAAT read, "and when the believers saw the allies, they said- this is what Allah and His apostle promised us (that there would come trying times on them to bring the true Muslims, and also the hypocrites, at fore), and Allah and His apostle spoke the truth; and it only increased them in faith (i.e. gave much strength to their true belief) and submission (to Allah in all their practice); of the believers are men who are true to the covenant which they made with Allah (to face the enemy with all valor when the occasion asks for it)- so of them is he who accomplished his vow (by giving his life in the way of Allah), and of them is he who yet waits (because, though he stood firm in the way of Allah, he has returned alive but with all good intention that when he gets another chance to respond to the fatal enemy, he would be among the martyrs in the way of Allah) and they have not changed in the least; that Allah may reward the truthful for their truth, and punish the hypocrites if He please, or turn to them (mercifully and provide them further period of time to revise their attitude and make themselves better); surely Allah is Forgiving (if they do repent on their wrongs), Merciful (to provide them TOFIQ to show that they truly have come to Islam)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note the statement of the true believers at encounter with the enemy that 'this is what Allah and His apostle promised us (that we would certainly be examined)', in comparison to the statement that hypocrites and those who had utmost weakness in their belief, had stated that 'Allah and His apostle did not promise us (victory) but only to deceive' (AAYAT-12); so there is clear difference in perception for the same event as the true Muslims were totally attentive to Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-25 states that with all preparation to end Muslims, the disbelievers were complete losers in all manners; Allah turned them back in their rage whereas they did not obtain any financial advantage, and never did any fight

take place; so Allah sufficed the believers in fighting; He certainly is Strong to defeat the disbelievers totally by such means which eyes see clearly and He is Mighty to defeat them totally by His true authority whenever He wills for it, even by His hidden forces; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT at the Ruku tell about the incident of BANU-QURAIZAH where the Muslims advanced immediately after the disbelievers had backed-out from Madinah; it took another 25 days or so to overpower them as they had taken shelter at their fortresses, and to clear all threat that they had become to Muslims; these AAYAAT narrate that Allah drove down those of people of the book (Torah) who backed the allied force of disbelievers, from their strong fortresses and He cast awe into their hearts that they totally surrendered to Muslims and came out in open with acceptance of SA'AD Ibn MUADH as arbitrator; so Muslims killed their men capable to fight and took captive other of men and women & children according to his verdict; and Allah provided them all of their land and their living places and their assets; the result of AHZAAB was only the beginning of conquests of Muslims as the last AAYAT of the Ruku told most explicitly that they would surely get much of such land even, which they never have visited and Allah has power over all things Who would give them all this place so that they establish His law totally; it happened so, as they conquered KHYBER, the stronghold of the Jewish tribes, within couple of years of AHZAAB; the Prophet PBUH had told clearly at AHZAAB, when the disbelievers had backed out of Madinah, that from now-on, they would never be able to challenge the Muslims but the Muslims only would attack them and achieve the final victory against them insha-Allah; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

AHZAAB-The Fourth Ruku

28. O Prophet (PBUH)! say to your wives: If you desire this world's life and its adornment, then come, I will give you a provision and allow you to depart a goodly departing

29. And if you desire Allah and His apostle and the latter abode, then surely Allah has prepared for the doers of good among you a mighty reward.

30. O wives of the Prophet (PBUH)! whoever of you commits an open indecency, the punishment shall be increased to her doubly; and this is easy to Allah.

31. And whoever of you is obedient to Allah and His Apostle and does good, We will give her the reward she deserves twice, and We have prepared for her an honorable sustenance.

32. O wives of the Prophet (PBUH)! you are not like any other of the women; if you will be on your guard, then be not soft in speech, lest he in whose heart is a disease yearn; and speak a good word.

33. And stay in your houses and do not display your finery like the displaying of the ignorance of yore; and keep up prayer, and pay the poor-rate, and obey Allah and His Apostle. Allah only desires to keep away the uncleanness from you, O people of the House! and to purify you a (thorough) purifying.

34. And keep to mind what is recited in your houses of the AAYAAT of Allah and the wisdom; surely Allah is Knower of subtleties, Aware.

This Ruku relates to the beautiful guidance that Allah has provided to the respectable wives of the Prophet PBUH; He guided them that they have such esteemed status where they need to keep away from possessions that relate to world where they would live by necessities only, and care totally for AKHIRAT with utmost fervor; rather, they shall become standard for goodness to all Muslim women due to their particular status and for that they would get the reward for any of their virtuous doings twice, though whoever from among them commits an indecency, she would get its punishment in double; note that after the conquest of BANU-QURAIZAH, the Muslims did get some relief in their financial situation when the Prophet PBUH distributed the spoils received from there among them; seeing this, the wives of the Prophet PBUH, who were four in total at that time (SAUDA-RA, Ayesha-RA,

HAFSA-RA and UMME-SALAMAH-RA) jointly asked the Prophet PBUH to increase their allowances; the Prophet PBUH did not appreciate this requisition as he preferred to live his life at the world by necessities only by choice; he minded it so much that he took an oath that he would avoid any intimacy to his wives for a month ahead; note that by the Islamic Jurisprudence, when a man takes an oath to avoid any intimacy to his wife or wives for four months ahead, it is termed as EELA but if it is for lesser period, then it is an ordinary oath; the Prophet (PBUH) had made an ordinary oath at this occasion to keep away from all his wives for a month but it is loosely termed as EELA sometimes and he gave the expiation for his oath after one month not prolonging it for any period ahead; the rumor spread in Madinah at this time that the Prophet PBUH has divorced his wives so Umar-RA rushed to him when he heard this to get confirmation about it; he was among the most closest of companions of the Prophet PBUH and he also was his father-in-law as HAFSA, her daughter, was one of his wives; the Prophet PBUH clarified that he has not divorced any of his wives and by his permission, Umar announced this clarification immediately among all Muslims; AAYAT-28 provided IKHTIYAR (choice) to the wives of the Prophet PBUH to remain with him with the same allowances that they are receiving presently or leave him if they intend the worldly finances & status; all of his wives chose to stay with him unconditionally then and dropped their requisition immediately; keeping this detail for its meaning, the text at the Ruku becomes much easy to get; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the couple of AAYAAT at the beginning of the Ruku ask the Prophet PBUH to direct his wives, "O Prophet (PBUH)! say to your wives- if you desire this world's life and its adornment, then come, I will give you provision and allow you to depart goodly departing; and if you desire Allah and His Apostle and the latter abode (AKHIRAT), then surely Allah has prepared for the doers of good among you, mighty reward"; AAYAAT ahead clarify this more that they would live as standard for goodness to all Muslim women and they would get the reward two times for any of their virtuous doings though whoever from among them commits an indecency, she would get its punishment too doubly; AAYAT-30 & 31 direct them, "O wives of the Prophet (PBUH)! whoever of you commits an open indecency (i.e. any atrocious wrong of shameful nature), the punishment shall be increased to her doubly; and this is easy to Allah (as this will not be an injustice to them if they do commit any such wrong which is extremely shameful whereas they have such significant status among the Muslim women); and whoever of you is obedient to Allah and His Apostle and does good, We will give her, the reward she deserves twice, and We have prepared for her an honorable sustenance"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that though AAYAT tells them

clearly that they shall not commit any indecency yet it does not mean that any of them had any inclination to any shameful act but it is to clarify to all of them that even with their significant status, they are not free of the Islamic law; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that AAYAAT state the punishment to indecency for them as double whereas they tell that their virtuousness would get reward to them twice; it seems that their indecency would put double punishment to them at AKHIRAT and for the reward for their TAQWA (that comes to them due to their obedience to Allah and His Prophet PBUH and commitment of good deeds), they would get it two times as they get JANNAH at AKHIRAT and then in that, they accompany the Prophet PBUH as his wives there; so at AKHIRAT, the quality for the punishment is more severe to them whereas the quantity for the reward to their TAQWA is much more significant; AAYAT-31 also states that Allah has prepared for them an honorable sustenance so this implies that with firmness upon the virtuous manner of living, they would receive all necessities at their lives ahead at the world, with all convenience and with complete honor; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last three AAYAAT of the Ruku ask them to adhere much more to the commands of Allah that all Muslim women have to fulfill, due to their most significant status among them; these AAYAAT ask them, "O wives of the Prophet (PBUH)! you are not like any other of the women, (but only) if you take on

TAQWA; then be not soft in speech (to unrelated men), lest he in whose heart is a disease yearn; and speak good word; and stay in your houses and do not display your finery like the displaying of the ignorance of yore (which was the period of JAHILLIYAT when Allah appointed the Prophet PBUH to spread the teachings of Islam so that they end its impression); and keep up prayer, and pay the poor-rate, and obey Allah and His Prophet (PBUH); Allah only desires to keep away the uncleanness from you, O people of the house! and to purify you a (thorough) purifying; and keep to mind what is recited in your houses, of the AAYAAT of Allah and the wisdom; surely Allah is Knower of subtleties, Aware"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; there are few significant points to note in these AAYAAT and the foremost of them is that the wives of the Prophet PBUH, who are as mothers to all true Muslims, are not like any other of the women but their status is much higher, when they have TAQWA (i.e. they remain obedient to Allah and His Prophet PBUH and go-on doing good deeds) as their good status counts only if they adhere more fervently to Islam; the second of them is that even though they are as mothers to all true Muslims, they would still talk with some harshness in speech and in ordinary words to all unrelated persons when it is necessary, so that no such person whose belief is weak (where Islamic teachings affect his practice but little), has any undue desire towards any of them; and this also tells that every Muslim woman has to care to speak briefly to the point to all unrelated men for necessity in the no-nonsense manner as that is the asking of the Islamic morality; note that AAYAT-53 ahead asks the Muslim man too that when he has to ask of them any goods, he shall ask it from behind a curtain as this attitude is better for him as it stops any undue desire on his part towards them and it certainly is better for them too; the third of them is that they would stay at home as the actual place for the Muslim woman is her residence; note that this instruction is well for all Muslim women that their respective homes are the places to remain for them though that may be spacious for her liking if the finances of her father (or her husband) permit though she may leave her home to fulfill some genuine necessity (which certainly would not take place often) with total HEJAB returning home as soon as she fulfills it; as the home of the Prophet PBUH had following among the Muslim women as the AAYAT has indicated that "O wives of the Prophet! you are not like any other of the women", so the command for HEJAB affected the home of the Prophet PBUH first; the fourth of them is that she would take HEJAB and not leave her home in the manner of JAHILLIYAT (the era of extreme ignorance to the decent morality that Islam teaches) where women used to go out displaying their beauty in the most offensive manner, though she may have left her home only for genuine necessity and only for a brief period of time; at the present era, it seems that JAHILLIYAT has returned though the ignorance is not so much as was at the first JAHILLIYAT where the Prophet PBUH made things better by the command of Allah by the Holy Book Quran and even today, things would turn better by this Holy Book Quran only if only all Muslim persons decide sincerely that they would practice Islam and not hear its teachings only to ignore them; it is possible still to set the Islamic teachings in practice collectively with total attention towards Allah, the true Lord; the work is done just by the good intention for it with total TAWAKKUL (complete trust) upon Allah as He would provide ways to go ahead on the right path; Allah has told us at the last AAYAT of Surah ANKABUT, "and (as for) those who strive hard for Us, We will most certainly guide them in Our ways; and Allah is most surely with the doers of good"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note about HEJAB that Allah has asked the Prophet PBUH at Surah NOOR-31 and at this Surah AHZAAB ahead that is at its AAYAT-59, to command all Muslim women to observe it, besides other places where the command of HEJAB is indirectly implied by AAYAAT; this term HEJAB has three aspects to it; the first aspect is that a Muslim woman must not leave her home except for some necessity (the decision about necessity would be hers, when she does care in practice about the basic teachings of Islam); the second aspect is that when she goes out of her home at some necessity and the environment is such that in general, the men care not to trouble her in any way then she might go out with her face, hands up-to wrist and feet up-to ankles uncovered though even then she would cover the whole body plus hair necessarily but if the environment is otherwise, then she would take care to cover her face too except for eyes; the third aspect is connected to the first that as soon as the necessity ends, she would return to her home without any waste of time as the basic place for her activity is her home for sure as we have just studied; with these aspects, it is fair to keep in mind that HEJAB does not relate only to the physique of the woman but it also relates to her attitudes; note well that the Satan works to this ultimate outcome that the man takes himself as an animal only in all manners and he even swears deceptively again and again that he wants to make his attitudes better; he wants that the man and the woman come to such living of animals that they become most free in attitudes to each other, even if unrelated, as that is the biggest of his achievements against the man; that undoubtedly would lead them to many of extreme wrongs ahead so please note that only the tie of marriage justifies the most specific intimate relation of the man and the woman, and no other; Islam prohibits the woman to work in such environment that violates her basic HEJAB even, that is she becomes unable to hide her whole physique (except for her face, hands, and feet) and even with choice at work to care about her basic HEJAB, she needs to ask Allah for mercy towards her as her actual place for living her life is at her home for sure; the Muslim woman may have taken that work at extreme necessity for survival yet even then she has no option but to care for HEJAB; and certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the fifth of the significant points to note in these AAYAAT is that some of ULAMA have deduced by the 33rd AAYAT of this Surah AHZAAB that commands the wives of the Prophet PBUH in particular and all Muslim women in general to observe HEJAB, "and stay in your houses and do not display your finery (beauty) like the displaying of the First JAHILLIYAT" that it implies that there would yet come another JAHILLIYAT in manifestation of high magnitude as the first one; the relative mention denotes the coming of second one in the future as the statement would have been fine even without the mention of "first"; note that the words also are important by which we understand the meaning of the Holy Book Quran; this second JAHILLIYAT is wholly in presence now all over the world that is asking all of mankind to commit to injustice in matters of life and that particularly is asking women to commit to much shameful attitudes without care to good morality; if the will of Allah is to end this present JAHILLIYAT by EHSAAAN then the women among the Muslims (and even among other of peoples) would step ahead who would adhere fast to Islamic values by His approval; this adherence would manifest the good morality as Islam takes it, in all walks of life; note that the first JAHILLIYAT ended by QITAL (i.e. the war against the ill-wishers of Islam) where the men among the Muslims were able by the will of Allah to spread the Islamic teachings that established justice all over the known world at those times and so it was by ADL that it ended; Al-Hamdu Lillah; those times of ignorance needed much care to end injustice from the surroundings with total attention towards Allah, whereas these times of ignorance need much care to end the extreme shameful attitude from the surroundings with total attention towards Allah; the world needs TABLIGH (the guidance to Islamic teachings) at present times as it might bring the observant persons who incline towards virtues, to Islam and it might bring the ill-wishers of Islam to make an honorable pact with Muslims to keep away from each other; this pact might provide them the time and space to understand Islam better; the life of mankind does ask for adjustments time and again for which we Muslims do need to present Islam by ADL or/and by EHSAAN; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the sixth of them is that the wives of the Prophet PBUH shall fulfill the Islamic commands with utmost fervor for the highest of obedience to Allah and His Apostle PBUH as the instruction for them here is, "and keep up prayer, and pay the poor-rate, and obey Allah and His Apostle (PBUH)"; this care in speech, staying at residence, taking HEJAB, obedience to Allah and His Apostle PBUH would insha-Allah provide TAQWA to all of them, who are his household members, that would wash away the impression of any wrong that any of them may have committed and keep them to highest of purity inside; note that though here the AAYAT mentions the wives of the Prophet PBUH as his household members as the address here is to them, yet he has clarified that his son-in-law Ali-RA, Fatima-RA (his daughter and the wife of Ali-RA) and their sons Hasan-RA & Hussain-RA, are also included in the general meaning of this term; the seventh of them is that they need to remain attentive to the teachings that they receive at their good homes because AAYAAT of the Quran are recited there and the Prophet PBUH present them practically which denotes the wisdom to apply them; they must always remember that Allah is Knower of subtleties so He would care for their petty virtuous deeds too which they do habitually and He is most Aware of their such virtuous deeds too which they do by intention sincerely; certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

AHZAAB-The Fifth Ruku

35. Surely the men who submit and the women who submit, and the believing men and the believing women, and the obeying men and the obeying women, and the truthful men and the truthful women, and the patient men and the patient women and the humble men and the humble women, and the charitable men and the charitable women, and the fasting men and the fasting women, and the men who guard their private parts and the women who guard, and the men who remember Allah much and the women who remember-- Allah has prepared for them forgiveness and a mighty reward.

36. And it befits not a believing man and a believing woman that they should have any choice in their matter when Allah and His Apostle (PBUH) have decided the matter; and whoever disobeys Allah and His Apostle (PBUH), he surely strays off a manifest straying.

37. And when you said to him to whom Allah had shown favor and to whom you had shown favor: Keep your wife to yourself and be careful of (your duty to) Allah; and you concealed in your soul what Allah would bring to light, and you feared men, and Allah had greater right that you should fear Him. But when Zaid had accomplished his want of her, We gave her to you as wife, so that there should be no difficulty for the believers in respect of the wives of their adopted sons, when they have accomplished their want of them; and Allah's command shall be performed.

38. There is no harm in the Prophet doing that which Allah has ordained for him; such has been the course of Allah with respect to those who have gone before; and the command of Allah is a decree that is totally done:

39. Those who deliver the messages of Allah and fear Him, and do not fear anyone but Allah; and Allah is sufficient to take account.

40. Muhammad (PBUH) is not the father of any of your men, but he is the Apostle of Allah and the Last of the Prophets; and Allah is Cognizant of all things.

The first AAYAT of this Ruku explicitly states that the virtues of the Muslim woman have utmost significance at AKHIRAT for her in the same way as virtues of the Muslim man has importance there; note that the manner of expressions of the Holy Book Quran is that it addresses men but women are included in such commands which are relevant even to them; however, some women at that time raised this issue in front of the Prophet PBUH and in response to it, Allah sent this AAYAT at AHZAAB; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the placement of this AAYAT also elucidates this matter that though the wives of the Prophet PBUH have an exceptionally high status among the Muslim women, yet all have the total chance to gain the highest of status at AKHIRAT by their virtuous doings; at the present era, the women who are keen to present themselves as equals to men in worldly matters, need to understand that at the world, the woman has been given in care of the man (i.e. her father before marriage and her husband after it) for her own advantage but at AKHIRAT, where the virtuous deeds count, they certainly are equals; the manifest point is that even the physique of the woman does not agree that she is equal to the man at the world yet everyone has got the task according to his/her placement and she is certainly most respectable as the assistant to the man; Surah NISAA-34 declares that the men are overseers upon the women at the world as Allah has given authority to some over some and because the men spent their finances on the women (as the man pays the MEHR to the woman at their marriage that is his liability and he sees to all of her genuine financial needs too at the married life); so this AAYAT at NISAA implies that virtuous women would remain obedient to the husband and would remain loyal to him safeguarding in his absence (his honor by avoiding all disloyalty to him and his assets that are in her custody); however, if the husband fears that she is developing the attitude of extreme rebellion to him, he would admonish her as best as possible for him; if her attitude still shows that she does not accept his authority in issues of life, he would leave her alone at her sleeping place (and he would take his bed apart from her at the room or elsewhere at the residence); then also if she is reluctant to accept his authority and to live under his command then that is most shameful for the woman according to Islam and he is allowed even to beat her lightly (in such manner according to the Ahadith that he does not hit her at the face and the punishment does not leave any evident mark on her physique); note that Islam mostly asks for the corporal punishment where the offence is much shameful according to the Islamic teachings though here, he would take it as the last resort; if she ultimately gives-in and totally obeys her good Muslim husband, who leads her on the right path, then he must not search ways to impose his authority (as that would only denote his perversion in the matter); he must remember that though Allah has given him authority over her yet He certainly is Most Exalted and Greatest (so He would punish him on his unlawful doings against his wife who also is among His slaves); Al-Hamdu Lillah; note for each of these ten virtues that this AAYAT at AHZAAB in study, has mentioned categorically that "submission" means to care for the pleasure of Allah in whatever deeds a person undertakes with total submission to Him; "belief" means to believe in all significant Islamic teachings sincerely; "obedience" means to remain obedient to Allah and to follow the Sunnah of the Prophet PBUH; "truthfulness" means to remain firm on the commitment to Islam at all situations; "patience" means to bear the troubles that come in life with attention towards Allah keeping away from all wrongs and to live the life at the world by necessities; "humbleness" means to do all virtuous deeds, especially the reading of Salah, with attention towards Allah in the manner by which the Prophet PBUH has clearly guided; "to provide charity" means to give to the needy from whatever surplus the person has after the fulfillment of his/her needs; "to fast" means to keep all SIYAM at the month of Ramadhan; "guarding the private parts" means to avoid adultery (and fornication) with all care to chastity that Islam asks of all Muslim persons; "remembrance of Allah" means to see the pleasure of Allah in whatever the Muslim person does, so even his/her speech denotes his/her attention towards Allah as that would surely comprise of such terms that praise Allah all the time; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that there is an authentic Hadith which Tirmidhi has narrated that the Prophet PBUH said, "if anyone guarantees me about what is between his jaws and what is between his legs then I guarantee him Paradise" and note also that this AAYAT asks Muslims persons, all of men and women, to commit totally to the five pillars of Islam (except for Hajj) which are to develop true belief inside upon Allah, to read Salah, to help the needy by Zakat and to keep fast during the holy month of Ramadhan; all Muslims shall see to these with utmost care though providing Zakat or/and keeping fast are subject to having surplus amounts and sound health respectively; the absence of mention of Hajj here is because the Muslim person is liable to it only when he/she has sufficient resources to perform it and the way to it is safe from any challenge to his/her belief, life, property & honor whereas the Muslim woman needs MAHRUM (such male relative who is disallowed to marry her like her father, brother etc.) too to perform Hajj or she accompanies her husband; note also that once a person starts his/her virtuous doings from submission to Allah, he/she comes to the remembrance of Allah with commitment to all virtuous deeds that are mentioned at this AAYAT though some good persons may have much quantity of them due to high chances received in life; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead at this Ruku relate to the marriage of ZAYNAB-RA the daughter of JAHASH, to Zaid-RA the son of HARITHA, and then after he had divorced her and she had passed her IDDAT, to the Prophet PBUH; note that the Prophet PBUH had taken another ZAYNAB-RA who was the daughter of KHUZAIMA, in his marriage too in the fourth year of HIJRAH who had died within a few months of their marriage, so she was the only wife of the Prophet PBUH, besides Khadijah-RA, who died in his life-time; Surah AHZAAB had begun by addressing the Prophet PBUH to always remain attentive to Allah for strength of his belief and never comply to the wishes of disbelievers and hypocrites and though this direction that AHZAAB gives at its start, applies to all true Muslims yet the address particularly to the Prophet

PBUH is due to the reason that Allah willed that he marries ZAYNAB-RA, the divorced wife of Zaid-RA who was his slave whom he had released from slavery and had adopted as his son; so this Ruku takes-on that matter now whereas this is notable that at those times, marrying the wife of the adopted son was taken as equivalent to marrying the real daughter-in-law which was considered against morality; Allah willed to make things better in this matter that the Muslims do not take adopted relations as actual relations to them and for this, He asked the Prophet PBUH to marry her when Zaid had divorced her and her IDDAT is over (and when Allah issued this command to the Prophet PBUH, then he adjusted himself to it and bore it in his mind); Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the brother of ZAYNAB was reluctant to marry her to Zaid when he had extended his proposal for her and she also was not happy with this proposal yet the Prophet PBUH had told him to marry her to Zaid and had asked her to accept him as her husband; AAYAT-36 refers to this matter as it reads, "and it befits not a believing man and a believing woman that they should have any choice in their matter when Allah and His apostle have decided the matter; and whoever disobeys Allah and His apostle, he surely strays off a manifest straying"; so her brother married her to Zaid and she accepted this at that time; however, she could not bring herself to agree with the situation that she, one of the ladies of noble standing, is married to such man who has been released from slavery; the friction between them ultimately led to their divorce though the Prophet PBUH did try that the situation does not worsen to this stage; note that Allah had provided him awareness that their marriage would come to an end yet he did try according to the manifest commands of Islam, that some reconciliation between them does occur; note in comparison, the event that Surah KAHF has narrated about Moses-AS and KHIDHR where Moses had objected at some acts of KHIDHR as they were seemingly against the clear commands of Allah and though he had come to KHIDHR to gain some intellect from him by the command of Allah, yet surely he had to object at such of his doings, being the Messenger of Allah, to do justice to his liability for certain; see also the note at the tenth Ruku of KAHF; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so this tells that though he knew this outcome yet he did advise him to the better manner to deal with the matter; however, it did become most obvious that the marriage of Zaid & ZAYNAB is over and by the command of Allah, the Prophet PBUH would have to take her as his wife that would rectify her grief as she was not happy with her marriage with Zaid at the first place; but he knew well that the mean persons, who seek chance to humiliate him, would pounce on this issue and would ignore completely that his task is to provide such virtuous teachings that make attitudes better; so he kept his intention to marry her most concealed for the time being which he has developed due to the command of Allah though he knew well that he has to do it ultimately as Allah had commanded it; but Allah willed that this intention does come in open at that very time and that he discards the fear of all mean persons among the disbelievers and the hypocrites; so Allah told him that He has given her into his marriage and now, he only has to accept it manifestly; note that ZAYNAB-RA sometimes mentioned this honor with pleasure (and with gratitude to Allah) that Allah had mentioned in the Quran that He gave her into the marriage of the Prophet PBUH; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-37 presents the situation, "and when you said to him to whom Allah had shown favor and to whom you had shown favor (i.e. Zaid Ibn HARITHA)- keep your wife to yourself and be careful of (your duty to) Allah; and you concealed in your soul what Allah would bring to light (i.e. the Prophet PBUH shall marry her when this matter is over according to the command of Allah), and you feared men, and Allah had greater right that you should fear Him; but when Zaid had accomplished his want of her (and she completed her IDDAT), We gave her to you as wife, so that there should be no difficulty for the believers in respect of the wives of their adopted sons, when they have accomplished their want of them; and Allah's command shall be performed"; the notable thing here, besides the mention that Allah has given ZAYNAB to the Prophet PBUH as his wife, is that though the true Muslims have to obey the Prophet PBUH in his commands yet when he gives some advice as request but not as command, they may not apply it to practice though its absence in practice would need his assent; another notable thing here is that Allah gave splendid honor to Zaid-RA by mentioning him as "to whom Allah had shown favor and to whom you had shown favor", and with that He mentioned him by his name at this AAYAT; note that Zaid is the only one of SAHABA (companions of the Prophet PBUH) who is mentioned by name in the Quran; still another notable thing here is that it tells the Prophet PBUH that he shall not fear any person where he has to fulfill the task that Allah has demanded of him (and as for this specific task, he had developed his intention to do it in accordance to the command of Allah, yet at the same time, he did worry about the talks of mean persons around) and AAYAAT ahead are explicit on this; Al-Hamdu Lillah; they tell explicitly that when Allah asks him to do something, he would not decide on it whether it would seem fine or awkward at some given situation but he shall do it then & there; those who had been His Messengers had surely done what He had demanded of them and the word of Allah is the decreed affair; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-38 & 39 read about this, "there is no harm to the Prophet (PBUH) doing that which Allah has ordained for him (and he does not need to worry about the talks of mean persons as Allah would punish them severely); such has been the course of Allah with respect to those who have gone before- and the command of Allah is a decree that is totally done- (so this course of Allah was for all His Messengers in particular before Muhammad PBUH too and it generally is for all) those who deliver the messages of Allah and fear Him, and do not fear anyone but Allah (in submission to His command); and Allah is sufficient to take account (of all those mean persons who blame the good persons upon submission to commands of Allah, the true Lord)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-40, the last AAYAT of the Ruku, explicitly declares that Muhammad PBUH is the last of all Prophets of Allah so after him, Allah would not send any Prophet, any Messenger, any Apostle to the world as He has provided the Quran, the final message of Allah, to all mankind through him to practice; note that all Messengers of Allah are His Prophets too for certain, so when Allah has categorically stated that Muhammad PBUH is the last of His Prophets (NABIYYEN), it explicitly tells that he also is the last of His Messengers (RUSUL); Al-Hamdu Lillah; so now, the Message of Allah exists written with us in the form of the Holy Book Quran and Allah has taken the responsibility for its protection upon Himself so that His Word (that He gave to Adam) is not violated that he would keep the Truth always clear for all to accept or to reject so no injustice takes place when He judges all persons at the time of HASHR; it certainly is the only miracle that Allah provided to Muhammad PBUH and He gave protection to everything that was related to its text and its meaning as He mentioned at Surah HIJR-9; there were such people who wrote it beautifully with utmost care at all times and places even before the printing manner for it was available, by the will of Allah and there stood people namely HUFFAZ from the very time of its descent that still stand for it, by the will of Allah so these HUFFAZ remembered it amazingly, word by word by heart; Ahadith, that report the Sunnah of the Last Prophet Muhammad PBUH and explain the Holy Book Quran most clearly for practice, remain totally secured at the good books that the compilers of Ahadith compiled for them (that the students of Islam learn thoroughly at different Islamic schools), by the will of Allah so that the clarification of it remains available at all times and at all places; its language Arabic still is very much active language of the world by the will of Allah and in fact, the Holy Book Quran receives, and has always received, the highest value in the Arabic literature; note also that Allah protected the Muslims from the enemy when they had put the Holy Book Quran into practice individually and collectively with all fervor and this tells in clearest of terms that whoever and whatever relates to it, Allah would certainly provide security for all such, as He has taken the provision of security to the Quran as His responsibility; today, there are such good printing foundations that by the will of Allah, publish it with utmost care to its text and provide it in totally the same manner as Allah descended it to the mankind for the Guidance to the right path; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this also is undeniable fact (which also expresses its security that Allah has provided to it) that the disbelievers have always remained unable to imitate the Quran as it has amazing integrity not only in its meanings but also in its words; so the AAYAT explicitly presents the established fact in totally plain terms that Muhammad PBUH was and is the last of Messengers of Allah to all peoples of the world, that come after him at any of times and at any of places in the world to live-on their lives; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the placement of this AAYAT tells explicitly that as last of Messengers of Allah, Muhammad PBUH had to set an example that Muslims would not take the adopted relations as the real ones in practice; he is the last Messenger of Allah and the significance of the issue demands that he clarifies it by his own practice to settle it for once and for all; and he is not the actual father of any man including Zaid though spiritually, he certainly is the father to all true Muslims; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the AAYAT mentions explicitly that "he is not the father of any of your men" as he did have four daughters though three of them died in his lifetime except for Fatima-RA who lived for 6 months ahead after the end of his life at the world whereas all his male children had died at infancy; this AAYAT implies in clearest of terms that whoever believes in someone as among the Prophets of Allah after Muhammad PBUH, he/she is out of the fold of Islam undoubtedly, for certain, indeed; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

AHZAAB-The Sixth Ruku

41. O you who believe! remember Allah, remembering frequently,

42. And glorify Him morning and evening.

43. He it is Who sends His blessings on you, and (so do) His angels, that He may bring you forth out of utter darkness into the light; and He is Merciful to the believers.

44. Their salutation on the day that they meet Him shall be, Peace, and He has prepared for them an honorable reward.

45. O Prophet! surely We have sent you as witness, and as bearer of good news and as warner,

46. And as one inviting to Allah by His permission, and as light-giving torch.

47. And give to the believers the good news that they shall have a great grace from Allah.

48. And be not compliant to the disbelievers and the hypocrites, and leave ignored their annoying talk, and rely on Allah; and Allah is sufficient as Protector.

49. O you who believe! when you marry the believing women, then divorce them before you touch them, you have in their case no term which you should reckon; so make some provision for them and send them forth a goodly sending forth.

50. O Prophet (PBUH)! surely We have made lawful to you your wives whom you have given their dowries, and those whom your right hand possesses out of those whom Allah has given to you as prisoners of war, and the daughters of your paternal uncles and the daughters of your paternal aunts, and the daughters of your maternal uncles and the daughters of your maternal aunts who fled with you; and a believing woman if she gave herself to the Prophet (PBUH), if the Prophet (PBUH) desired to marry her-- specially for you, not for the (rest of) believers; We know what We have ordained for them concerning their wives and those whom their right hands possess in order that no blame may attach to you; and Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.

51. You may put off whom you please of them, and you may take to you whom you please, and whom you desire of those whom you had separated provisionally; no blame attaches to you; this is most proper, so that their eyes may be cool and they may not grieve, and that they should be pleased, all of them with what you give them, and Allah knows what is in your hearts; and Allah is Knowing, Forbearing.

52. It is not allowed to you to take women afterwards, nor that you should change them for other wives, though their beauty be pleasing to you, except what your right hand possesses and Allah is Watchful over all things.

The Ruku starts by the guidance to all Muslims to persist on remembrance of Allah at all times; note that "remembrance of Allah" means to see the pleasure of Allah in whatever the Muslim person does, so even his/her speech denotes his/her attention towards Allah as that would surely comprise of such terms that praise Allah all the time; Al-Hamdu Lillah; certainly, all attitudes of Muslims would show this remembrance and their deeds also would manifest it; note that SALAH (that is the most virtuous deed that the Muslim person commits) and SABR (the patience that relates to his inside which asks him to live by necessities at the world) are the highest features that relate to His remembrance; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at Surah AN'AAM, Allah asks the Prophet PBUH, "say- surely, (as for) me, my Lord has guided me to the right path, that is the religion which is totally right, the faith of Ibrahim the upright one, and he was not of the polytheists; say-surely my SALAH and my sacrifice (of desires that may ask for assets and status at the world) and (so) my life and my death are (all) for Allah, the Lord of the worlds; no associate has He; and this am I commanded, and I am the first of those who submit; say- what! - shall I seek a Lord other than Allah? And He is the Lord of all things; and no soul earns (evil) but against itself, and no bearer of burden shall bear the burden of another; then to your Lord is your return, so He will inform you of that in which you differed" (AN'AAM-161 to 164); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the notable thing about SALAH is that it brings the Muslim person near to Allah as he persists on His remembrance by it so whereas SABR stops him from any attachment to the world by remembrance of Allah, SALAH brings him to the attachment of AKHIRAT by remembrance of Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah asks the attitude of SABR from all Muslims (especially those who have the knowledge of the Quran) who would not only live by Islam but being the force of Allah, they would also ask all to live by Islam (by TABLIGH only in these current times unless they are challenged at the war-field); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the true remembrance of Allah is the only thing that provides the peace to hearts; Surah RA'AD states about such righteous persons who are truly attentive to Allah that He guides them to Himself as they are "those who believe and whose hearts are set at rest by the remembrance of Allah; surely by Allah's remembrance only, are the hearts set at rest" (RA'AD-28); at Surah BAQARAH, before asking the true Muslims for SABR and SALAH, AAYAT-152 reads "Remember Me, I would remember you" which actually tells, "Remember Me (in the world), I would remember you (at AKHIRAT)"; "Remember Me (in your near-ones), I would remember you (in angels)"; "Remember Me (today), I would remember you (tomorrow)"; "Remember Me (in your happiness), I would remember you (in your troubles)"; "Remember Me (wherever you are), I would remember you (wherever you are)"; "Remember Me (at all times), I would remember you (at all times)"; it is the honorable word that Allah gives to all persons that have goodness in them to believe in Him and to do their deeds according to that belief; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-43 & 44 tell that Allah sends His blessings on the true Muslims which has brought them out of darkness (i.e. wrong ways that is mentioned in plural as wrong ways are many) towards the right path (which is the light mentioned in singular as this only is the virtuous manner of living) and this has given them the strength to bear wrongs of the disbelievers and the hypocrites against them; and angels always pray Allah for the true Muslims that Allah forgives them on any of wrongs that they may commit and that they always receive-on blessings from Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the true Muslims would get the greetings at the Day when they meet Allah by SALAM (peace) and there, they would have the most honorable reward; so DUA to remain on the right path and to get mercy from Allah is necessary for safety at AKHIRAT with necessary acceptance of the message that the Prophet PBUH has brought to all peoples of the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that authentic Ahadith have told the Muslims that they shall never show pride on high quantity of their good deeds as each of them is fruitful only when Allah accepts it into their document of deeds by His mercy; so each of good deeds does need the mercy of Allah for certain; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-45 & 46 ahead read, "O Prophet (PBUH)! surely We have sent you as witness (so he would testify at the Day of Judgment that he did provide the message of Allah to peoples at his time and after him, his UMMAH took-up the task), and as bearer of good news (for the righteous persons) and as warner (for all those who are disbelievers); and as one inviting (all peoples of the world) to Allah by His permission (this means that though all Muslims have to invite all peoples to Islam yet he particularly has this beautiful task as the Messenger of Allah), and as light-giving torch (to the right path)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; he shall particularly provide the good news to the true Muslims that they shall receive highest of bonuses even at life at the world when they are totally attentive to Allah, the true Lord; so this happened as the Muslims rose to height when they spread Islam by the blessing of Allah and got much convenience in living at the world, due to gain of much resources that they got by enemy; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-48 emphasizes that the Prophet PBUH shall not obey the disbelievers and the hypocrites and here it means specifically that he shall not stop his task i.e. TABLIGH of Islam to all peoples due to adverse attitudes of such persons even, who are inclined to disbelief or who show hypocrisy; he shall ignore the adverse talks that they commit to, and he shall trust Allah totally (as he has always done) because He would provide safety from all adverse planning that the disbelievers and the hypocrites make against Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT ahead directs the Muslims that if any of them marries any of the Muslim woman and then divorces her when he has not yet availed valid privacy with her, she will not make any IDDAT (specific period in waiting before remarrying) due to this marriage with him though he would have to provide some necessary provision to her; this necessary provision would be the half of her MEHR (the amount that the man has to give to the woman to take her as his wife which is among her rights on him) that had been mentioned for her for this marriage; however if it is unmentioned for some reason, he would have to give her MUTATUN-NIKAH (as necessary provision that shall be a worthy complete eastern dress to her); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last three AAYAAT of the Ruku ahead provide the ruling specifically for the marriage of the Prophet PBUH which tells among other things, that he would not divorce any of his wives; AAYAT-50 tells that Allah has permitted number of wives for him but this is an exceptional permission for him as Muslims in general, are allowed to keep four wives only at one time for them; note that when he married ZAYNAB-RA on the command of Allah, he already had four wives with him; it tells that he may take wives from his first cousins but they must have migrated to Madinah and not stayed behind at Makkah; this AAYAT makes lawful to him by the term "whom your right hand possesses", those slave-women too whom he takes from the prisoners of war according to the custom of the day; it is not totally clear how many slave-women he did have though the maximum number has been mentioned as three (among them, only REHANA-RA of BANU-QURAIZAH is confirmed to be her slave-woman as MARIAH-QABTIYAH-RA had achieved the status of his wife); so he had twelve wives including MARIYAH-QABTIAH whereas he probably had two of slave-women which included one other besides REHANA; see the note at end of my writing "Notes on Tirmidhi-Ahadith" for detail to his respectable wives; note that even if taken that he did have two of slave-women, the total figure comes to fourteen and it is most certain that his sexual relations never went beyond these women while the reason for his legitimate relation to them was never any lust as he certainly had the beautiful angelic character; note that he spent all his youth and some of his ripe age too with respectable Khadijah-RA, who was fifteen years older than him and the only wife he had up-to his age of 50, and then he married SAUDAH-RA who was very near to his age, and that only after the death of Bibi Khadijah-RA; "Notes on Tirmidhi-Ahadith" also provides the general issues that relate to number of marriages of the Prophet PBUH at end of its "book on good manners"; and it is most notable that the Holy Prophet PBUH had married widowed or divorced women only except for Bibi Ayesha-RA and he never divorced any of his wives; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this AAYAT at end, tells that Allah has provided rulings for those women too whom the Muslims take in marriage and He is Forgiving on their faults about their wives and Merciful to provide space to them to make the situation better which relates to their wives; the significant thing to mention here is that there are some issues in which the Prophet PBUH has exceptional rulings which mostly relate to his family besides the permission to take more than four wives at one time as for instance, he was not allowed to divorce any of his wives and none of Muslims was allowed to marry any of them after him; he was not allowed to marry any of women from among people of the book; he and his family members were not allowed to take SADAQAH and his descendants too are not allowed to take it; his heritance of tangible assets, was not distributed according to his directive; and he was permitted to treat his wives differently as he pleases which is not for other of Muslims (as they have to care for all their wives by total justice in issues where they may exercise control) and AAYAT-51 ahead is explicit on this; however, it is notable that as this was permission from Allah to him and not His command so he did care for all of them by total justice though he did ask Allah for forgiveness on more inclination of heart towards any of them; note that more inclination of heart to any of wives is not questionable even for an ordinary Muslim who may have four wives together at one time; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-51 clarifies that even if the Prophet PBUH does treat his wives in different manners, they would still be happy with him (due to their prominence among the Muslim women) and would not grieve (on the difference he keeps among them) and would be pleased with whatever provisions the Prophet PBUH gives to them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah knows that the Prophet PBUH is most sincere to his task of spreading the teachings of Islam which asks that he has utmost relief at his good household; the last AAYAT of the Ruku gives this info explicitly that the Prophet PBUH would not take any other woman except from among the women that AAYAT-50 has categorically mentioned; it reads, "it is not allowed to you (O Prophet PBUH) to take women afterwards (that means besides those women who are categorically mentioned), nor that you should change them for other wives (that means the Prophet PBUH shall not divorce any of his wives, that are presently his wives or would come into his marriage), though their beauty be pleasing to you (but they do not conform to the women mentioned and note here that the Prophet PBUH also is among mankind who does have natural attraction towards woman, but not any lust towards them), except what your right hand possesses (that is if he wants to take some woman as his slave-woman from among the prisoners of war then there is no count for that) and Allah is Watchful over all things (so He knows well that the Prophet PBUH is most sincere to his task and has nothing negative in his person)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that with this open permission to marry many of women and to take many of slave-women, the Prophet PBUH took five women only, after the descent of this AAYAT, as his wives; these five of his most respectable wives were JAVERIA, UMME-HABIBAH, SAFIYAH, MAYMUNAH and MARIAH (may Allah be pleased with all his wives who are the mothers of the true Muslims) and he probably took only two of slave-women and so with all said, the notable point is that he must be given credit that he reserved himself to these fourteen women when he was allowed to take high number of them and that even was to establish good relations then with tribes at Arabia as the tribes gave respect to such person, who lived virtuously and who married any woman from their tribe providing her utmost respect; so the outcome of these marriages was that these tribes checked averse attitudes against Muslims and tended to peace; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

AHZAAB-The Seventh Ruku

53. O you who believe! do not enter the houses of the Prophet unless permission is given to you for meal, not waiting for its preparation being finished- but when you are invited, then enter, and when you have taken the food, then disperse- not seeking to listen to talk; surely this gives the Prophet trouble, but he forbears from you, and Allah does not forbear from the truth; and when you ask of them any goods, ask of them from behind a curtain; this is purer for your hearts and for their hearts; and it does not befit you that you should give trouble to the Apostle of Allah, nor that you should marry his wives after him ever; surely this is grievous in the sight of Allah.

54. If you do a thing openly or do it in secret, then surely Allah is Cognizant of all things.

55. There is no blame on them in respect of their fathers, nor their brothers, nor their brothers' sons, nor their sisters' sons nor their own women, nor of what their right hands possess; and be careful of Allah; surely Allah is Witness of all things.

56. Surely Allah and His angels bless the Prophet; O you who believe! call for blessings of Allah on him and salute him with a (becoming) salutation.

57. Surely (as for) those who speak evil things of Allah and His apostle, Allah has cursed them in this world and the hereafter, and He has prepared for them a chastisement bringing disgrace.

58. And those who speak evil things of the believing men and the believing women without their having earned (it), they are guilty indeed of a false accusation and a manifest sin.

Surah AHZAAB goes on to relate decent social manners to live at the Islamic environment and the first AAYAT of this Ruku directs explicitly to such manners that relate to visiting each other; though it mentions these manners for visiting the houses of the Prophet PBUH yet these are valid in general except for the direction that no person should marry the wives of the Prophet PBUH after him ever; AAYAT guides explicitly that the Muslims shall not enter the houses of the Prophet PBUH unless they are invited there for a meal where they shall care to reach on such time that it is about ready to serve and they shall leave as soon as they finish the meal without any delay; their futile sitting before or/and after the meal that makes it gathering for mutual talks, disturbs the Prophet PBUH but due to his decent manners, he forbears from mentioning it and does not disclose his disturbance; Allah tells here that He does not forbear from speaking that which guides attitudes of all persons to virtuousness; if the Muslims have to ask something needed from any of wives of the Prophet PBUH, they shall ask from behind the curtain (the Quran uses the term HEJAB here to express the required attitude) as that keeps check on tendencies at both sides so that they remain to decency; according to this direction, Muslims would see that they do not enter any of private houses without invitation (or due permission); and reach there when the food is about ready to serve and leave the place just as they finish eating of it and not seek talks to make it some place of meeting (except when the invitation mentions such sitting after the meal); at all places, the Muslims shall speak to unrelated women at extreme necessity only and only with care to HEJAB; Al-Hamdu Lillah; one of Ahadith relates about the descent of this AAYAT which Bukhari has recorded at the Book of Asking Permission; briefly, it relates from ANAS Ibn Malik, who used to serve the Prophet PBUH when he came to Madinah, that it descended during the marriage of the Prophet PBUH with ZAYNAB, the daughter of JAHASH, when at the morning he had invited some people who took their meal and went away but a group of them stayed and prolonged their stay; so the Prophet PBUH got up and went out, and ANAS-RA accompanied him, till he came to the lintel of Ayesha's dwelling place and when he thought that those people had left by then, he returned but found that they were still sitting there and had not yet gone; so he went out again and again reached the lintel of Ayesha's dwelling place where ANAS accompanied him again; then waiting for some period of time again, he returned when he thought that those people must have left by then, and did find that those people had left the place; ANAS narrates that at that time the verse for HEJAB was revealed, and the Prophet PBUH set a screen between me and him (& his family); note that ANAS had reached the age of 15 years then, which is taken by normalcy as the age of adolescence; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-54 ahead states, "if you keep something open or keep it in secret, then surely Allah is Cognizant of all things"; so all Muslims shall live in such manner that their intentions even, remain virtuous as Allah knows their intentions too and they must certainly keep check on all of their attitudes; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-55 tells the exception to HEJAB and mentions such persons who may visit the wives of the Prophet PBUH without it; it reads, "there is no blame on them in respect of their fathers, nor their brothers, nor their brothers' sons, nor their sisters' sons nor their own women (so they would observe HEJAB to women that are not Muslims so that those women do not affect their psyche by their own manner of living, in any adverse manner), nor of what their right hands possess (i.e. their female slaves); and be careful of Allah (i.e. they have to care for His pleasure in all deeds that they do); surely Allah is Witness of all things"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT tells that Allah sends His blessings to the Prophet PBUH and the angels ask Allah for such blessings to him (and they pray Allah for the true Muslims too that Allah forgives them on any of wrongs that they may commit and that they always receive-on blessings from Allah as we have seen at AAYAT-43); Allah commands the Muslims at this AAYAT that they also must ask Allah for such blessings to him even if he already is among those whom Allah has provided the highest of status at the world and at AKHIRAT, because that would satisfy their love for the Prophet PBUH when they do give him something highly worthy from their side sincerely; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that it is feasible to send DURUD to the Prophet PBUH (which is DUA to Allah to ask His blessings for him) and present SALAM to him from anywhere as mentioning his virtues in all good manner with love for him that occurs with acceptance of his Sunnah in practice, is in itself, one of the most virtuous acts though it must not raise his status to other than a man; ULAMA often guide to this that angels take that SALAM to him (by the will of Allah) but it is not feasible to speak to him even, in the direct manner; he had told at the very beginning of his mission of spreading Islam that he is not able to save anyone at AKHIRAT who does not take-up the belief & the practice in Islam and that message remains noteworthy ever; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT at the Ruku note that whoever would speak adversely of Allah and His Messenger, Allah would certainly curse all such persons at this world and at AKHIRAT so whatever they do, it would backfire on them and He has prepared extreme chastisement that would totally disgrace them at the world and at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as for those wrong persons who accuse the Muslim women for wrongs that they had not even thought of, which not only grieves them but also men related to them (especially their fathers and their husbands), they are not only guilty of false accusation but also of one of major sins; they have no shame as they blame the good Muslim women by false accusation in open to misguide other persons too, who have shame but little, to say such evil; they would certainly see the consequence of their wrong-doing not only at AKHIRAT but even at the world very soon, as this slander will never go unpunished; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

AHZAAB-The Eighth Ruku

59. O Prophet! say to your wives and your daughters and the women of the believers that they let down upon them their over-garments; this will be more proper, that they may be known, and thus they will not be given trouble; and Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.

60. If the hypocrites and those in whose hearts is a disease and the agitators in the city do not desist, We shall most certainly set you over them, then they shall not be your neighbors in it but for a little while;

61. Cursed: wherever they are found they shall be seized and murdered, a (horrible) murdering.

62. (Such has been) the course of Allah with respect to those who have gone before; and you shall not find any change in the course of Allah.

63. Men ask you about the hour; say: The knowledge of it is only with Allah, and what will make you comprehend that the hour may be nigh.

64. Surely Allah has cursed the disbelievers and has prepared for them a burning fire,

65. To abide therein for a long time; they shall not find a protector or a helper.

66. On the day when their faces shall be turned back into the fire, they shall say: O would that we had obeyed Allah and obeyed the apostle!

67. And they shall say: O our Lord! surely we obeyed our leaders and our great men, so they led us astray from the path;

68. O our Lord! give them a double punishment and curse them with a great curse.

The first AAYAT of the Ruku gives the command of HEJAB for the Muslim women most explicitly; it reads, "O Prophet! say to your wives and your daughters and the women of the believers that they let down upon them their over-garments (so HEJAB asks for additional clothing to women); this will be more proper, that they may be known and thus they will not be given trouble; and Allah is Forgiving (if a Muslim woman falls short of fulfilling the demand of HEJAB in total even with her good efforts), Merciful (so He would provide space to her to apply HEJAB in even better way)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that there were ill-wishers of Islam at Madinah that were most mischievous persons among the Jews and among the hypocrites who troubled some of the Muslim women by immoral comments when they came out of their homes for some necessary tasks; so this AAYAT asked the Muslim women to take HEJAB on them so that these mischievous persons do not have any excuse that they did not recognize them that they are Muslim women, or else they would have not thrown immoral comments to them; at those times, the surroundings were somewhat permissive to pass adverse comments upon the slave-women so the mischievous persons took advantage of this and made it an excuse for their immoral comments; note also that this term HEJAB has three aspects to it; the first aspect is that a Muslim woman must not leave her home except for some necessity (the decision about necessity would be hers, when she does care in practice about the basic teachings of Islam); the second aspect is that when she goes out of her home at some necessity and the environment is such that in general, the men care not to trouble her in any way then she might go out with her face, hands up-to wrist and feet up-to ankles uncovered though even then she would cover the whole body plus hair necessarily but if the environment is otherwise, then she would take care to cover her face too except for eyes; the third aspect is connected to the first that as soon as the necessity ends, she would return to her home without any waste of time as the basic place for her activity is her home for sure; with these aspects, it is fair to keep in mind that HEJAB does not relate only to the physique of the woman but it also relates most highly to her attitudes; see also the supplementary note that relates to AAYAT-59 of AHZAAB and AAYAT-31 of NOOR, after the note at the fourth Ruku of Surah NOOR; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next three AAYAAT warn the hypocrites and all such persons who are not true to their belief but intend to fulfill only those commands of Allah that they find convenient to them and fruitful in their view for worldly achievements; it also warns all such persons too who seek to spread rumors especially those that may disgrace the Muslim women; AAYAT-60 mentions explicitly that if they do not desist from spreading rumors, Allah would put them into disgrace and they would be at the mercy of the Prophet PBUH so they would live at Madinah for some period only; and to wherever they depart, even there they would live as cursed by Allah and their position would remain of such disgrace that wherever they are found, they shall be seized and murdered violently; AAYAT-62 mentions that this has always been the manner of Allah with respect to those that were alike to them who have gone before them; the AAYAT especially, emphatically and explicitly mentions to every person that "you shall not find any change in the course of Allah"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-63 tells that no person knows when the hour, the last day of the world, would take place as its knowledge is only with Allah and that might be very near to them; and the last five AAYAAT of the Ruku after that, tell about the Day of Judgment; note that the Quran mentions the hour and the Day of Judgment at places together in such manner as one comes right after another; this manner of presenting them together is most pronounced at Surah NAZI'AAT where AAYAAT-6 to 9 read, "the day on which the quaking one shall quake (i.e. the last day of the world); what must happen afterwards shall follow it (i.e. the Day of Judgment); hearts on that day (of Judgment) shall palpitate; their eyes cast down"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; in addition to other places, note that AAYAAT-8, 9 & 10 at Surah TOOR tell about the last day of the world and the AAYAAT ahead of them tell about the first day of AKHIRAT; this also is the manner of expression at Surah TAKWIR where its first six AAYAAT relate the six events at the last day of the world (i.e. QIYAMAT) and its next eight AAYAAT relate the six events at the Day of Judgment (the day of HASHR); the Quran has its own beautiful manner of expression that explicitly tells all issues related to the man to guide him to the virtuous way of living, though it does ask the man highest of alertness to study it good by its context; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-64 to 68 at this Ruku tell that surely Allah has cursed the disbelievers and has prepared for them a burning fire at AKHIRAT where they would abide for very long time and they shall not find a protector or a helper for them at that true life of AKHIRAT when their faces shall be turned over into the hell-fire; they shall have extreme repentance at their disobedience of Allah and His Messenger and they would ask Allah to put double punishment to their leaders and put highest of curse on them as they misled them at life at the world; this depiction of all these persons, implies that those who do not show obedience to Allah, the true Lord, and do not follow the Sunnah of the Prophet PBUH, they are asking for most severe punishment at the Day of Judgment where Allah would judge all persons for their belief and their deeds; they must repent here at the world and make things better for themselves now;

certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

AHZAAB-The Last Ruku

69. O you who believe! be not like those who spoke evil things of Musa, but Allah cleared him of what they said, and he was worthy of regard with Allah.

70. O you who believe! be careful of (your duty to) Allah and speak the right word,

71. He will put your deeds into a right state for you, and forgive you your faults; and whoever obeys Allah and His apostle, he indeed achieves mighty success.

72. Surely We offered the trust to the heavens and the earth and the mountains, but they shrank from bearing it and were afraid of it; and man assumed it; surely he is unjust, ignorant;

73. So Allah will chastise the hypocritical men and the hypocritical women and the polytheistic men and the polytheistic women, and Allah will turn (mercifully) to the believing men and believing women, and Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.

The first AAYAT of the Ruku asks the true Muslims never to speak anything that grieves the Prophet PBUH whereas AAYAT-56 & 57 have told explicitly, "surely Allah and His angels bless the Prophet (PBUH); O you who believe! call for blessings of Allah on him and salute him with a (becoming) salutation; surely (as for) those who speak evil things of Allah and His apostle, Allah has cursed them in this world and AKHIRAT, and He has prepared for them a chastisement bringing disgrace"; these AAYAAT state that the true Muslims shall never be like those who spoke evil things about Moses, though Allah cleared him of what they said; according to context, this probably means that Bani-Israel used to complain to Moses-AS time & again for things he was not liable to and did not show any credit to him that he led them to freedom by the command of Allah; AAYAT-70 asks the true Muslims to speak in most virtuous manner that they do not speak ill of any righteous person ever as this would lead to the displeasure of Allah; the speech of a Muslim person must not grieve any person as it is capable to hurt especially those who are most sensitive; when true Muslims do care for their speech that it does not grieve any good person then Allah would make their deeds better and He would forgive their wrongs; this would lead them to much obedience to Allah and His Prophet PBUH and due to that, they would indeed achieve mighty success; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-72 reads, "surely We offered the trust (AMANAT) to the heavens and the earth and the mountains, but they shrank from bearing it and were afraid of it; and man assumed it; surely he is unjust, ignorant (if he does not fulfill the demand of this AMANAT"); note for awareness of this AAYAT that Allah presented this AMANAT to all of His creation (especially mountains as it needed much strength to bear it) yet all of them shrank away from bearing it as they feared justly and wisely that they are not capable to fulfill its demand according to their creation (as they worship Allah without any free-will) but the man took it; note that Allah asks for total sincere obedience from all of His creation and the Man and the Jinn, the only two of His creation whom Allah has given the free-will, must certainly obey Him by their free-will; Al-Hamdu Lillah; all persons among the mankind took this AMANAT upon them at the world of spirits where Allah has presented it to them and this AMANAT comprises of commands of Allah which all persons have to fulfill as their obligations so that the life of the man in general, manifests most clearly that he is the KHALIFAH of Allah who has to bring all of mankind to live according to His guidance; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the man has to believe truly in TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord); in AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment); in RISALAT (Allah had sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path); these are the fundamental teachings of Islam from all times though in practice, Islam manifested completely at the golden times of the last Messenger Muhammad PBUH only and that is what Allah stated in one of the last AAYAAT of the Holy Book Quran which reads that "this day (O Muslims) have I perfected your DEEN for you and completed My favor unto you, and have chosen for you as DEEN al-Islam" (Surah MA'EDAH-3); here the term DEEN is used as the complete code of life that comprises of all commands of Allah that He has provided to the man while YAUMUD-DEEN (the day of DEEN) means the Day of Judgment as we have studied at Surah FATIHA; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the man fully understood even at that time at the world of spirits where he took this liability upon him, that all those who do not fulfill necessary demands of Islam (the complete code of life set by Allah that comprises of His commands), all such persons would be punished by the hell-fire and that would show clearly that those are totally unjust and ignorant as they also had taken this liability upon them when all of the mankind took it; certainly, Allah would care for all those believing men and believing women who do fulfill their word and remain sincerely committed to the commands of Allah; the last AAYAT tells about the two sections of the mankind there at AKHIRAT; one of them would be of hypocrites and the polytheists, both men and women, so it would include all disbelievers in Allah, the true Lord; the other would be of the true believers among the mankind, both men and women, to whom Allah would show utmost forgiveness and total mercy at AKHIRAT;

certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah SABA

(Consists of 6 Ruku; MK-7)

SABA-The First Ruku

1. (All) praise is due to Allah to Whom belongs what is in the heavens and what is in the earth, and to Him is due (all) praise in the hereafter; and He is the Wise, the Aware.
2. He knows that which goes down into the earth and that which comes out of it, and that which comes down from the heaven and that which goes up to it; and He is the Merciful, the Forgiving.
3. And those who disbelieve say: The hour shall not come upon us. Say: Yea! by my Lord, the Knower of the unseen, it shall certainly come upon you; not the weight of an atom becomes absent from Him, in the heavens or in the earth, and neither less than that nor greater, but (all) is in a clear book
4. That He may reward those who believe and do good; these it is for whom is forgiveness and an honorable sustenance.

5. And (as for) those who strive hard in opposing Our AAYAAT, these it is for whom is a painful chastisement of an evil kind.

6. And those to whom the knowledge has been given see that which has been revealed to you from your Lord, that is the truth, and it guides into the path of the Mighty, the Praised.

7. And those who disbelieve say: Shall we point out to you a man who informs you that when you are scattered the utmost scattering you shall then be most surely (raised) in (to) a new creation?

8. He has forged a lie against Allah or there is madness in him. Nay! those who do not believe in AKHIRAT are in torment and in great error.

9. Do they not then consider what is before them and what is behind them of the heaven and the earth? If We please, We will make them disappear inside the earth or bring down upon them a portion from the heaven; most surely there is a sign in this for every servant turning (to Allah).

Surah SABA guides most explicitly to the awareness that Allah only is truly Powerful and He would certainly give to each person what he/she truly deserves at AKHIRAT; it guides that whatever someone gets from the worldly assets, that must not make him/her forget that he/she has to answer for his/her belief at

AKHIRAT and so he/she shall only use it for the pleasure of Allah and he/she shall not let anyone misguide him/her as at AKHIRAT, every person has to face the consequence for all his/her doings totally alone where repentance on the wrong-doings would be useless; it guides that He only has provided the physical needs and the spiritual need of all persons so every person shall remain most attentive to Allah at the world so that he/she gets the true success at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Surah starts by the praise of Allah that everything among His creation in the heavens and in the earth praises Him; the Man and the Jinn too have to praise Him truly showing their gratitude to Him, by the free-will that He has provided to them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at AKHIRAT, it would become totally obvious that all praise truly is for Him only, as the Man and the Jinn would see the outcome of their doings there clearly; He has all true wisdom so He directs all doings of men to bring the outcome that He intends from them and He is totally aware of all doings of men; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second AAYAT states, "He knows that which goes down into the earth (i.e. seeds and corpses) and that which comes out of it (i.e. the fruits, vegetables, harvests, crops and at AKHIRAT, the dead would come out of it) and that which comes down from the heaven (i.e. rains and angels that descend with commands of Allah) and that which goes up to it (i.e. the water particles and the doings of men and also the spirits of good persons which go to ELIYYEN); and He is the Merciful, the Forgiving"; so He eliminates much of impression of wrong doings of men so that they get ample space at life to prove that they deserve Jannah, by getting the pleasure of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-3 & 4 tell about the last day of the world that even if the disbelievers speak against it, it is sure to come as then Allah would raise all persons from dead after it at the Day of HASHR that is the Day of Judgment, where He would provide the good results of the righteous doings of those persons who kept to the true belief and did all their deeds according to that true belief; nothing escapes away from the knowledge of Allah, the true Lord, whether small or large and He has kept record of all things in writing in clear book; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-5 tells, "and those (of extreme disbelievers) who strive hard in opposing Our AAYAAT (at life at the world), these it is for whom is a painful chastisement of an evil kind (at AKHIRAT, the true life)"; so every person would receive what he/she deserves there due to the life that he/she spent at the world; there, all those who did understand the Quran would see manifestly that it certainly presented the truth about the Day of Judgment; certainly, it guides to the true path of Allah, Who has all authority to keep the world to the manner He intends so here also, there always remains His praise; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the couple of AAYAAT ahead that are AAYAAT-7 & 8 mention the objection that the disbelievers raised against the Day of HASHR, which read, "and those who disbelieve say- shall we point out to you a man who informs you that when you are scattered the utmost scattering you shall then be most surely (raised) in (to) a new creation?- he has forged a lie against Allah or there is madness in him; (Allah replies to their doubt that) nay! those who do not believe in AKHIRAT are in torment (at AKHIRAT which is sure to come) and in great error (at life at the world)"; this tells that though they did believe in Allah yet with addition of much wrongs to their belief as they believed in Him with this notion that He would not bring any judgment upon them ever and there were such persons in them too who had this notion that if it does come, those whom they believed in as equal in authority to Allah (including even their idols), would save them from all wrath of Allah; the Satan misguides the disbelievers in such manner that they lose their sanity and take wrong notions by their own; certainly, Allah has guided all persons to the right path and certainly, He would bring the Day of HASHR where He would judge all persons according to their belief and according to all their doings at life at the world as He has told the Man clearly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku mentions the authority of Allah, "do they not then consider what is before them and what is behind them of the (nearby) heaven and the earth?- if We please, We will make them disappear

inside the earth or bring down upon them a portion from the (nearby) heaven; most surely there is a sign in this for every servant turning (to Allah)"; Allah has created the nearby heaven above all of mankind in such manner that it does not fall upon the earth and He has created the earth in such manner that keeps all of mankind to it; if Allah wills, He would make the earth swallow up the disbelievers (as He does show by earthquakes) and He would make some part of the nearby heaven fall upon them (as He does show when He makes a meteoroid survive a trip through the atmosphere and hit the ground as meteorite); seeing this sign, every person among the mankind needs to believe in Allah, and all such persons who really do believe in Allah, must remain steadfast upon their belief with clear acceptance that AKHIRAT would certainly take place so their good belief and their good deeds according to it, would lead them to the true success at that true life ahead; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SABA-The Second Ruku

10. And certainly We gave to DAWUD excellence from Us: O mountains! sing praises with him, and the birds; and We made the iron pliant to him,
11. Saying: Make ample armor (coats of mail), and assign time for the making of coats of mail and do good; surely I am Seeing what you do.

12. And (We made) the wind (subservient) to Solomon, which made a month's journey in the morning and a month's journey in the evening, and We made a fountain of molten copper to flow out for him, and of the jinn there were those who worked before him by the will of his Lord; and whoever turned aside from Our command from among them, We made him taste of the punishment of burning.

13. They made for him what he pleased of fortresses and images, and bowls (large) as watering-troughs and cooking-pots that will not move from their place; give thanks, O family of DAWUD! and very few of My servants are grateful.

14. But when We decreed death for him, naught showed them his death but a creature of the earth that ate away his staff; and when it fell down, the jinn came to know plainly that if they had known the unseen, they would not have tarried in abasing torment.

15. Certainly there was a sign for Saba in their abode; two gardens on the right and the left; eat of the sustenance of your Lord and give thanks to Him: a good land and a Forgiving Lord!

16. But they turned aside, so We sent upon them a torrent of which the rush could not be withstood, and in place of their two gardens We gave to them two gardens yielding bitter fruit and (growing) tamarisk and a few lote-trees.

17. This We requited them with because they disbelieved; and We do not punish any but the ungrateful.

18. And We made between them and the towns which We had blessed (other) towns to be easily seen, and We apportioned the journey therein: Travel through them nights and days, secure.

19. And they said: O our Lord! make spaces to be longer between our journeys; and they were unjust to themselves so We made them stories and scattered them with an utter scattering; most surely there are signs in this for every patient, grateful one

20. And certainly the Satan found true his conjecture concerning them, so they followed him, except a party of the believers.

21. And he has no authority over them, but that We may distinguish him who believes in AKHIRAT from him who is in doubt concerning it; and your Lord is the Preserver of all things

This Ruku tells about DAWUD-AS and about his son Solomon-AS; they both were kings of the Israelites after TALUT, with all necessary things to benefit from, at their disposal keeping to the commands of Allah; their period is from about 1100 BC that comes to about three hundred years after Moses-AS; Suleiman was the heir to David, and they both were among the wisest persons of the Bani-Israel for which they praised Allah all the time much; in addition to being king of Israelites, Allah had also provided Suleiman the rule over jinn and over birds, the language of whom he understood well; Allah had also made the wind subservient to him that it took him to places far-away just in a morning or just in an evening which normally took a month of travel to reach at those times; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah tells at this Ruku for DAWUD-AS, "and certainly We gave to DAWUD excellence from Us-O mountains! sing praises (of Allah) with him, and (commanded this also to) the birds; and We made the iron pliant to him, saying- make ample armor (coats of mail), and assign a time to the making of coats of mail and do good; surely I am Seeing what you do"; and He tells at this Ruku for Solomon-AS, "and (We made) the wind (subservient) to Suleiman, which made a month's journey in the morning and a month's journey in the evening, and We made a fountain of molten copper to flow out for him, and of the jinn there were those who worked before him by the command of his Lord; and whoever turned aside from Our command from among them, We made him taste of the punishment of burning; they made for him what he pleased of fortresses and images, and bowls (large) as watering-troughs and cooking-pots that will not move from their place; give thanks, O family of DAWUD! and very few of My servants are grateful"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT indicate a few things and the foremost of them is that they both never showed any pride on their wealth & status at the world but prayed for the highest of ranks at AKHIRAT; the second thing is that DAWUD praised Allah, the true Lord, in such manner that even the mountains and birds sang the praise of Allah with him so it is notable that they understood his praise to Allah and joined him in it; the third thing that even though DAWUD was the king of Israelites, he worked to make armor that were iron-mails for defense at wars because Allah provided him such ability that iron became pliant for him at his hands; the fourth thing is that when Solomon intended to travel, the wind took him to places that were at a month's journey from his place at those times, only within a morning or only within an evening by the will of Allah; the fifth thing is that Allah made a fountain of molten copper to flow out for him, and there were jinn who worked before him by His command with the awareness that He had given to them that whoever turned aside from His command from among them, He would make him taste the punishment of extreme burning; the sixth thing is that these jinn made strong fortresses and images for him that he intended for, as all those who were at his service needed worthy shelters and maintenance to them, to live in convenience and that needed immense work; as for their making of images, this needs some elaboration upon them so I, MSD, would provide some detail to this insha-Allah; note that Islam detests making or taking of still-pictures of living-beings at random, except with total decency for necessity for the genuine official needs; note also that Islam does allow the making or taking of pictures that are other than living-beings and even plants, flowers and trees are included in the allowed pictures and even those blurred pictures that do not present the living beings vividly; there are authentic Ahadith that sternly warn those who make (or take) still-pictures of living-beings, at all the notable books of Ahadith; SABA-13 here, that mentions that the jinn used to make images (which included the making of faces at stones that protruded at the ground), actually tells that at those times, there was no prohibition to present images, pictures and faces at stones yet Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, prohibited them categorically; there are authentic Ahadith to this effect in all notable books of Ahadith and among them is that a man came to Ibn-Abbas-RA and said, that his sustenance is from the manual profession that he makes pictures; Ibn-Abbas told him that the Prophet PBUH had said that whoever makes a picture will be punished by Allah till he puts life in it, and he will never be able to put life in it; hearing this, that man heaved a sigh and his face turned pale so Ibn Abbas said to him that if he does want to make pictures, he should make pictures of trees and other non-living objects; another Hadith tells that the Prophet PBUH said, "angels do not enter a house in which there is a dog or there are pictures (of living-beings)"; still another Hadith tells that "those who make these pictures (of living-beings) will be (severely) punished on the Day of Resurrection, and it will be said to them- make alive what you have created"; the rule to adhere to at these times of FITNAH is that the care to HEJAB is necessary in all usage of all such modern technical gadgets that present the visual presentation of persons too with their voices like the Television; here the available channels would only be few and these few channels would operate to their respective specified tasks; all such channels that presents drama & fiction would care about the Islamic morals in the plot and the presentation and the portrayal of the few women relevant to the story in the most decent manner possible and they would be at or above the age of thirty years; as for mobile cell-phones, it is most necessary for all those who do care to live by Islam, to avoid video in them as the problem at these gadgets is that these save the video at individual choice of the common Muslim person who may incline by satanic pursuance, to the erroneous trend that is in vogue at these current times to take anything without censor; the good Muslims have to see this too firmly that they do not put these phones to use for taking the still pictures of living-beings; in official needs, it is possible with the technical gadgets that we have today to identify persons by the print of their thumb & fingers and by their eyes rather than taking all image of the face, so by the good management of such gadgets for official needs at current times, it is totally possible to care about the necessary command of HEJAB; may Allah provide awareness and realization to all Muslims to keep all modern technical gadgets to the Islamic manner of living in these current times, as Islam is the complete code of life, that asks all Muslims to see to its rulings in all fields of life; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the seventh thing that these AAYAAT indicate, is that by using the copper at hand, they also made such extremely large bowls that may keep pools of water that all persons at his service used for drinking and such huge vessels for cooking that were fixed to the ground for cooking of foods that they used for their intake there; the last of these things that these AAYAAT indicate is that due to such blessings of Allah on them, all members of the family of DAWUD need to show the gratitude that DAWUD has shown at all times; Al-Hamdu Lillah; for AAYAT-14 ahead, note that there were such wrong persons at Arabia and even at other places at times of the Prophet PBUH, who took jinn as such powerful that they could save them from troubles ahead as according to them, they were able to see what is ahead at the future; though jinn are physically stronger than the man yet because of his spiritual power and because Allah has appointed angels to see to his protection, jinn avoid attacks on the man; they are among the three of creation that possess the awareness of the self and these three are Angels, Jinn and the Man, and Allah has given the last two among them the free-will to apply in practice to gain the pleasure of Allah by that; Al-Hamdu Lillah; though Allah allowed Solomon, Salam on him, as an exception to enslave jinn and make them work for him yet this must not be cited for attacking them as an authentic Hadith has clarified that other of men are disallowed to control them through their spiritual supremacy; this also is notable that AAYAT-6 of Surah JINN tells that the group of jinn who had listened to the Quran had remarked, "and that persons from among men used to seek refuge with persons from among jinn, so they (i.e. those men) increased them (i.e. jinn) in wrongdoing (i.e. pride)"; this remark came from them because when the disbelievers rested at jungles and deserts, they used to take refuge of jinn for their safety, so this increased the unplaced pride of jinn; see also the note at the fourth Ruku at BAQARAH; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so AAYAT-14 clarifies that when Allah brought death to Solomon, nothing told about his death but termites that ate away his staff on which he had leant so when it fell down then the jinn became aware of his death and regretful that if they had known the unseen, they would not have remained in such abasing torment which they were in; so AAYAT elucidates that they did not even know about something that remained at their front for much time (i.e. presumably a period of more than a month) so when that is the case then it is most obvious that they certainly are most unable to see any unseen that the future holds; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Ruku ahead narrates about Saba that were the people who lived at the territory of Yemen who in their prosperity, forgot the remembrance of Allah and thus led themselves to destruction; they were most prosperous of nations and had all convenience in living at their area; they had made dams at different places to utilize available water to height and among them, SADDE-MA'ARIB (the dam at MA'ARIB) was most significant that had the highest of efficiency to serve them for storage of water; they had made this dam after some 250 to 300 years after the era of the Queen of Saba about whom we have read at Surah NAML; there were two rows of beautiful gardens at left and right that went-on to many of miles at their area with fruits that were most notable in quality and quantity and it also was the hub of such goods that came from the eastern areas; they used to travel with much of these goods to the ancient Syria (that included Palestine) that Allah had blessed, where the goods from Europe used to land; so the import & export of different goods to & fro at these places had also affected their economics most positively; Allah had provided security at way towards Syria to them as there were many of towns that were located at its main route and at close distances to each other so the caravans at travel had all safety at hand during their travel even at nights; however, after more than 1000 years of prosperity, there stood such persons in them who complained that they have got too much ease at life and they wanted some adventure therein; without any shame, they asked Allah to test them by troubles at way to Syria and not by convenience at their journeys; compare this attitude to the attitude of Bani-Israel, whom Allah had provided their food for sustenance at the desert, who had told Moses to bring forth for them what the earth grows; see BAQARAH-61 and see also its AAYAT-195 that asks clearly, "and spend in the way of Allah and cast not yourselves to perdition with your own hands, and do good (to others); surely Allah loves the doers of good"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; when such time came upon them that they did not show any gratitude to Allah for the beautiful gardens that Allah had given them, Allah put extreme punishment upon them; with other of punishments, He made the dam at MA'ARIB collapse and that brought total destruction to both of the beautiful gardens they had which after that, only bore bitter fruit and growing tamarisk and a few lote-trees; this happened around 120 years back from the birth of the Prophet PBUH so there is not much time-period that had passed upon their downfall, at the times of the Prophet PBUH; undoubtedly, this downfall came to them by their own ingratitude; and as for their disrespect to Allah by their plea to Him to test them by troubles at way to Syria, He made them stories at history and scattered them with an utter scattering in such manner that whoever survived from them, went to different places all over the land; most surely there are signs in this for every patient and grateful person; these are the two good traits that DAWUD and Solomon showed when Allah had provided them much of the worldly assets and highest of status at their peoples; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last two AAYAAT of the Ruku state, "and certainly the Satan found true his conjecture concerning them, so they followed him, except a party of the believers; and he has no authority over them, but that We may distinguish him who believes in AKHIRAT from him who is in doubt concerning it; and your Lord is the Preserver of all things"; these AAYAAT point-out that the thought which the Satan had about the mankind, did have substance as many persons of Saba did follow him except for those who were truly attentive to Allah; note that Surah HIJR-39 & 40 tell that "the Satan said (when Allah put curse upon him for all times ahead)- my Lord! because Thou hast made life evil to me, I will certainly make (their evil deeds) fair-seeming to them on earth, and I will certainly cause them all to deviate (away from the Truth); except Thy servants from among them, the devoted ones"; another thing that these AAYAAT indicate is that the Satan has no authority over the mankind but he does have power of putting thoughts at inside of men and he uses that power to misguide persons among the mankind to wrongs; these AAYAAT also tell that with all his pursuance, he is unable to misguide those persons who seek shelter of Allah against him at all times and at all places; Al-Hamdu Lillah; and these AAYAAT are explicit on this too that Allah gave him the permission to try all his efforts against the mankind because Allah intended that those who truly believe in AKHIRAT, come in open clearly and those too come in open clearly, who disbelieve in it; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SABA-The Third Ruku

22. Say: Call upon those whom you assert besides Allah; they do not control the weight of an atom in the heavens or in the earth nor have they any partnership in either, nor has He among them any one to back (Him) up.

23. And intercession will not avail aught with Him save of him whom He permits. Yet, when fear is banished from their hearts, they say: What was it that your Lord said? They say: The Truth. And He is the Most High, the Great.

24. Say: Who gives you the sustenance from the heavens and the earth? Say: Allah. And most surely we or you are on the right path or in manifest error

25. Say: You will not be questioned as to what we are guilty of, nor shall we be questioned as to what you do.

26. Say: Our Lord will gather us together, then will He judge between us with the true justice; and He is the greatest Judge, the All-knowing.

27. Say: Show me those whom you have joined with Him as associates; you dare not (as certainly there is none, and you remember that) He is Allah, the Mighty, the Wise.

28. And We have not sent you but to all men as bearer of good news and as warner, but most men do not know.

29. And they say: When will this promise be (fulfilled) if you are truthful?

30. Say: You have the appointment of the day from which you cannot hold back any while, nor can you bring it on.

The Ruku answers to those persons who disbelieve in AKHIRAT, at its beginning and it tells ahead that Allah only provides for the sustenance of the mankind, and He only has given the Guidance to the right path by His Messengers; He has all authority to decide for all His creation with total awareness of everything; Al-Hamdu Lillah; He is taking all matters to the destination He intends with total might and with total wisdom; certainly, He only has the true authority and He only would decide when to bring the end of the world; note that these AAYAAT address such disbelievers who had this notion that He would not bring any judgment upon them ever and also such disbelievers who had this notion that if it does come, those whom they believed in as equal in authority to Allah (including even their idols), would save them from all wrath of Allah; so the first AAYAT of the Ruku answers the former among them that those whom they assert besides Allah, they do not control the weight of an atom in the heavens or in the earth, nor have they any partnership in either, nor has He among them any one to assist Him; He certainly would bring the Day of Judgment whenever He wills for it and nobody is able to stop Him from carrying out His decision; the second AAYAT answers the latter, "and intercession will not avail aught with Him save of him whom He permits"; note that Allah would permit many of virtuous men and angels too to ask Allah for His mercy towards those who would be believers yet have done wrong deeds in high quantity; here Allah has denoted the condition of angels when He gives some significant command for the mankind that they are filled with awe, and this remains- "yet, when fear is banished from their hearts, they say (among themselves)- what was it that your Lord said?- (so among themselves) they say- the Truth (as His each command is certainly that though the command may be about destruction of some wrong nation as that also is blessing of Allah to righteous persons)- And He is the Most High, the Great"; when the angels have so much fear of Allah then such disbelievers who erroneously call them as daughters to Allah, are extremely mistaken in their thoughts that they would dare to recommend their safety at the Day of Judgment; these disbelievers would see clearly then that Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Satan misguides the disbelievers in such manner that they lose their sanity and take wrong notions by their own; certainly, Allah has guided all persons to the right path and certainly, He would bring the Day of HASHR where He would judge all persons according to their belief and according to all their doings at life at the world as He has told them clearly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the four AAYAAT ahead ask the Prophet PBUH to tell the disbelievers that Allah only provides sustenance to all persons and He has set all creation in such manner that He examines all persons at life at the world and when there is total difference in belief of persons, so it is certain that only one part of them is at the right path; these AAYAAT ask him to tell this clearly that everyone would face his/her doings alone when Allah would ask all persons about that so they will not be questioned as to what the true believers are guilty of, nor shall the true believers will be questioned as to whatever the disbelievers do; they also ask him to tell them that the outcome of the doings of all persons would manifest clearly at the Day of HASHR when Allah would gather all persons who lived at any time and at any place, and then He would judge all of them with total justice so all persons need to wait for that final verdict; Al-Hamdu Lillah; they also ask the Prophet PBUH to challenge them to show those whom they have joined with Him as associates; they must dare not as certainly there is none who has any authority against Allah and their disbelief would only put them into extreme destruction as Allah is Mighty to punish them with natural calamities by His command and He is Most Wise to bring results even at the world to their doings as He wills; certainly Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last three AAYAAT of the Ruku tell that Allah has sent the Prophet Muhammad PBUH, the last of His Messengers to all of mankind and even to all of jinn, to give the good news to the sincere believers in the Truth (the fundamental teachings of Islam) who care to live according to that, that they would receive JANNAAT, the gardens of paradise, at AKHIRAT and warn the disbelievers who deny the fundamental teachings of Islam even when that manifests most clearly in front of them, that they would be put into the hell-fire, the place of extreme punishment, at AKHIRAT where they would reside forever; the AAYAT explicitly mentions that many of persons do not realize the significance of life at the world; rather there are such disbelieving persons in them who ask when this would happen so the last AAYAT of the Ruku tells him, "say (to them O Prophet PBUH)- you have the appointment of the day from which you cannot hold back any while, nor can you bring it on"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SABA-The Fourth Ruku

31. And those who disbelieve say: By no means will we believe in this Quran, nor in that which is before it; and could you see when the unjust shall be made to stand before their Lord, bandying words one with another! Those who were reckoned weak shall say to those who were proud: Had it not been for you we would certainly have been believers.

32. Those who were proud shall say to those who were deemed weak: Did we turn you away from the guidance after it had come to you? Nay, you were guilty

33. And those who were deemed weak shall say to those who were proud. Nay, (it was) planning by night and day when you told us to disbelieve in Allah and to set up likes with Him. And they shall conceal regret when they shall see the punishment; and We will put shackles on the necks of those who disbelieved; they shall not be requited but what they did.

34. And whenever We sent a warner to a town, those who led lives in ease in it said: We are surely disbelievers in what you are sent with.

35. And they said: We have more wealth and children, and we shall not be punished.

36. Say: Surely my Lord amplifies the means of subsistence for whom He pleases and straitens (for whom He pleases), but most men do not know.

This Ruku of Surah SABA tells about the grounds of HASHR that there every person would face the consequence for all his/her doings totally alone where repentance on the wrong-doings would be useless and blaming anyone for the ruin that those wrong-doings would bring, would be futile; the world is the place of examination where a person needs to seek the pleasure of Allah, so he/she must not be misled by anyone and the worldly assets that he/she gets here must not let him/her forget that at AKHIRAT, only his/her righteous belief and virtuous deeds would count for his/her safety from the hell-fire; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first three AAYAAT of the Ruku mention the dialogue that would take place among such disbelievers at the grounds of HASHR who had openly denied the fundamental teachings of Islam that the Quran had presented to them and which Torah also had told before; there, those who were reckoned weak shall say to those who were proud that they were responsible to their utmost ruin because if they had not misguided them, they would certainly have been believers; to this, those who were the proud ones among them would respond that they who blame them, had decided to deny the Truth by themselves that brought them their ruin at this Day of Judgment and they, the proud ones, are not responsible for it; those blaming persons would not accept this response and would emphatically put the blame on them for their extreme plight but in spite of all regrets that both groups of them, would have because of their wrong-doings at life at the world, they all would receive no safety from the hell-fire and they all would be led to that in shackles; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last three AAYAAT of the Ruku mention that whenever Allah sent a Prophet in some nation who asked them to fear Allah, the true Lord, Who would certainly bring the Judgment upon them on all their doings, the general trend of those people who were prosperous in worldly assets in them, was that they denied their virtuous teachings; they boasted that they have much wealth and many of children and this prosperity in itself proves that they would never be punished whatever they do; Allah asks the Prophet PBUH in the last AAYAT of the Ruku to tell all persons, especially the disbelievers at Makkah, in most clear terms that it is by will of Allah that even the disbelievers receive so much from assets of the world; this is not any guarantee for their safety from the hell-fire at AKHIRAT unless they put it to use for the pleasure of Allah as at AKHIRAT, the righteous belief and virtuous deeds count; their mistake is that they are confusing the will of Allah with the pleasure of Allah and that is not good for them; it reads, "say-surely my Lord amplifies the means of subsistence for whom He pleases and straitens (for whom He pleases), but most men do not know (that both of these are for examination of them only and not to prove them successful at AKHIRAT, the true life ahead)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SABA-The Fifth Ruku

37. And not your wealth nor your children, are the things which bring you near Us in station, but whoever believes and does good, these it is for whom is a double reward for what they do, and they shall be secure in the highest places.

38. And (as for) those who strive in opposing Our AAYAAT, they shall be caused to be brought to the chastisement.

39. Say: Surely my Lord amplifies the means of subsistence for whom He pleases of His servants and straitens (them) for whom (He pleases), and whatever thing you spend, He exceeds it in reward, and He is the best of Sustainers.

40. And on the day when He will gather them all together, then will He say to the angels: Did these worship you?

41. They shall say: Glory be to Thee! Thou art our Guardian, not they; nay! they worshipped the jinn; most of them were believers in them.

42. So on that day one of you shall not control profit or harm for another, and We will say to those who were unjust: Taste the chastisement of the fire which you called a lie.

43. And when Our clear AAYAAT are recited to them, they say: This is naught but a man who desires to turn you away from that which your fathers worshipped. And they say: This is naught but a lie that is forged. And those who disbelieve say of the truth when it comes to them: This is only clear enchantment.

44. And We have not given them any books which they read, nor did We send to them before you a warner.

45. And those before them rejected (the Truth), and these have not yet attained a tenth of what We gave them, but they gave the lie to My apostles, then how was the manifestation of My disapproval?

The fifth Ruku of SABA starts by the clarification of the erroneous notion of disbelievers emphatically that their sons and their wealth at the world is not any guarantee for their safety from the hell-fire at AKHIRAT unless they put it to use for the pleasure of Allah as there, at AKHIRAT, only the righteous belief and virtuous deeds count; their mistake is that they are confusing the will of Allah with the pleasure of Allah so they must realize that these things would not bring them near to Allah unless they use their worldly assets to get the pleasure of Allah and raise their children to the best of their ability to fulfill the Islamic commands that Allah has provided to the mankind; Al-Hamdu Lillah; due to their firmness on the right path and putting the righteous Islamic teachings in their practice, they would receive their good returns in double as they would reside in high beautiful rooms with total peace at Jannah at AKHIRAT, the true life ahead; Al-Hamdu Lillah; however those who choose to disbelieve the teachings of Islam and try to profess wrong notions among all their near ones against Islam, they certainly shall be brought to the extreme chastisement at AKHIRAT; certainly, it is the will of Allah which decides for the increase in the means of sustenance for any person and for the reduction of that for any person and He knows in which way He would examine any person; certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; whatever a person spends from the resources that He has provided to that person for the pleasure of Allah, He would give

BARAKAH in his wealth by that expenditure on the needy, even at the world; certainly, He has all true authority to provide even for all physical needs of the righteous person so that he may live with all convenience without any tensions whatsoever; note that when some good thing brings the most good results by its acceptance from Allah then it is mentioned as having "BARAKAH" in it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT 40 & 41 read, "and on the day when He will gather them all together, then will He say to the angels- did these (disbelievers) worship you? - (and in response), they shall say - glory be to Thee! Thou art our Guardian, not they; nay! they worshipped the jinn; most of them were believers in them"; note that Allah knows all things yet He would enquire the angels about this matter so that they clear themselves from this blame that they had any part in the wrong-doings of the disbelievers, as the disbelievers used to take them as daughters of Allah; may Allah provide safety from satanic notions to all good Muslims; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this query to them is like the question that Allah would ask Jesus Christ-AS at the Day of Judgment if he had said to men to take him and his mother for two gods besides Allah whereas he would say that he had no right to say it and if he had said it, Allah would indeed have known it because He knows all things for certain (see Surah MA'EDAH-116); the angels would clarify that they are totally attentive to Allah and it is jinn who used to put doubts at inside of them and they believed in those doubts by their choice and as such, they used to worship the jinn; so they would keep themselves most far away from the disbelievers at AKHIRAT and would certainly be of no help to them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah would then tell the disbelievers to remain forever in the punishment of the hell-fire because of their denial to the Truth; whenever the clear AAYAAT of Allah are recited to them, they respond about it that this only is something by which Muhammad (PBUH) desires to turn all of them away from that which their ancestors used to worship and they mention the Quran as forgery and enchantment; Allah had never given them any Scriptures before the Quran and He had never sent any of Messengers in them before the Prophet PBUH so they incline by their own towards wrong notions; and those before them, also rejected the Truth and these disbelievers at Makkah had not attained even a tenth of what Allah had given those previous disbelievers but when those disbelievers rejected the virtuous teachings that the Messengers had provided to them by the command of Allah, then He destroyed all of them completely; their abundance of wealth and high number of sons did not help them in any way; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SABA-The Last Ruku

46. Say: I exhort you only to one thing, that rise up for Allah's sake in twos and singly, then ponder: there is no madness in your fellow-citizen; he is only a warner to you before a severe chastisement.

47. Say: Whatever reward I have asked of you, that is only for yourselves; my reward is only with Allah, and He is Witness of all things.

48. Say: Surely my Lord utters the Truth, the great Knower of the unseen.

49. Say: The Truth has come, and the falsehood shall vanish and shall not come back.

50. Say: If I err, I err only against my own soul, and if I follow the right path, it is because of what my Lord reveals to me; surely He is Hearing, Nigh.

51. And could you see when they shall become terrified, but (then) there shall be no escape and they shall be seized upon from a near place

52. And they shall say: We believe in it. And how shall the attaining (of faith) be possible to them from a distant place?

53. And they disbelieved in it before, and they utter conjectures with regard to the unseen from a distant place.

54. And a barrier shall be placed between them and that which they desire, as was done with the likes of them before: surely they are in a disquieting doubt.

The last Ruku of SABA addresses the issues that the Surah has mentioned in it; at the beginning, the Ruku tells the Prophet PBUH to ask the disbelievers that if they doubt that he is the Messenger of Allah to them then they need to take some of time out for sorting out their speech about the Prophet PBUH; they shall stand for Allah's sake in twos and singly, then ponder about it and if that is without any insincerity, they would see for certain that there is no madness in the Prophet PBUH but he is warning all of them that if they do not believe in his teachings, they would certainly receive a severe chastisement; this tells that for the person who does intend to decide on his/her adverse attitude about the fundamental teachings of Islam, he/she shall give some sincere thought to that attitude taking some of time out for this thought and he/she shall ask Allah for His guidance towards him/her mercifully; Allah would surely provide him/her TOFIQ to revise his/her attitude about them and He would surely bring him/her to the Truth; certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the four AAYAAT ahead at the Ruku ask the Prophet PBUH that he would tell the disbelievers that he does not need any returns for the true guidance that he is providing to them but he only wants that they accept it sincerely; and he would tell them explicitly that this is the Guidance to the right path that has come to him from Allah, the true Lord, and the presentation even, of this true guidance in front of all, is enough to eliminate all the falsehood that comes against it; once the falsehood is gone, it would never return though the Satan may try other ideas to misguide persons among the mankind; and also, the Prophet PBUH would tell them that if he errs to express the teachings of Islam then it would fall against him only or if he fulfills his liability to express them good then Allah has kept him to the right path that he has explicitly revealed to him at the Quran and that is the basis of his teachings; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that he mentioned any error in his liability by directing that to himself and said that if he follows the right path, it is because of what Allah reveals to him; surely He is Hearing, Nigh; this is the manner to give respect to Allah in speech because He only provides convenience to all of mankind from Him and if He puts any trouble to any of them, it is because of their own doings; note about the speech of jinn who had heard the Quran from the Prophet PBUH that they had said, "and that we know not whether evil is meant for those who are on earth or whether their Lord means to bring them good" (Surah JINN-10); so they do not relate evil to Allah but they relate goodness most explicitly to Allah, Who certainly is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last four AAYAAT of the Surah tell that if the Prophet sees these disbelievers there at the grounds of HASHR, there he would find them most terrified and there would be no place for them to escape from the utmost chastisement which awaits them; though here they ask to bring it upon them yet there they shall say in clearest of terms that they believe in the unseen that the Prophet PBUH had told them but now, as the term for the examination is over, how shall they attain the true belief; they used to ridicule the Truth at the world, which was the place of examination for all persons, and they used to say adverse things about it without getting any awareness about it sincerely; so if they keep onto this attitude of utmost disbelief then even at the world, by the will of Allah, a barrier shall be placed between them and their desires to get much of worldly assets so they shall never get those to their satisfaction; this is how Allah did with the likes of those disbelievers too, who used to live before them; most certainly Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah FAATIR

(Consists of 5 Ruku; MK-5)

FAATIR-The First Ruku

1. All praise is due to Allah, the Originator of the heavens and the earth, the Maker of the angels, apostles flying on wings, two, and three, and four; He increases in creation what He pleases; surely Allah has power over all things.

2. Whatever Allah grants to men of (His) mercy, there is none to withhold it, and what He withholds there is none to send it forth after that, and He is the Mighty, the Wise.

3. O men! call to mind the favor of Allah on you; is there any creator besides Allah who gives you sustenance from the heaven and the earth? There is no god but He; whence are you then turned away?

4. And if they call you a liar, truly apostles before you were called liars, and to Allah are all affairs returned.

5. O men! surely the promise of Allah is true, so let not the life of this world deceive you, and let not the arch-deceiver deceive you respecting Allah.

6. Surely the Satan is your enemy, so take him for an enemy; he only invites his party that they may be inmates of the burning;

7. (As for) those who disbelieve, they shall have a severe punishment, and (as for) those who believe and do good, they shall have forgiveness and a great reward.

Surah FAATIR (also named as Surah MALA'EKA i.e. angels) presents the fundamental teachings of Islam most explicitly and it guides to observe that Allah has created all His creation with beautiful integrity so that they all remain firm to their given task; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so, it typically correlates to all Surah which relate to Makkah and which have notable volume, as they all put much emphasis on the fundamental teachings of Islam and answer all doubts against these significant teachings, for which they explicitly present the narrations of the previous notable nations too that Allah destroyed except for those in them who believed in the Messengers of Allah; therein, Allah guides to take utmost care to Salah to relate themselves to AKHIRAT and to spend amounts on the needy, to keep away from the attachment to the world; therein, Allah provides the assurance to the true Muslims, that though they are facing much troubles, the situation would become most better with time when they remain totally firm on Islam in belief, with utmost care to Salah and to needs of the needy, and with avoidance to all major sins that relate to injustice or to shameful deeds; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; therein, He asks Muhammad PBUH, His last Messenger, emphatically to provide the fundamental teachings of Islam to all of mankind and even to jinn by the Quran without any care to adverse attitude of the disbelievers towards them, whereas in those Surah which relate to Madinah, though Allah guides emphatically to the fundamental teachings of Islam therein too yet in addition, He also presents other of His commands therein, so that men and jinn put that into their practice individually and collectively, and live totally within the good framework of the Islamic environment; the fundamental teachings of Islam guide to believe sincerely in TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord) and AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment) and RISALAT (Allah had sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path); this is the Truth towards which Islam guides all persons; besides these three, Islam asks all persons to believe in the angels and the books that Allah has sent to the mankind and it also asks to believe in TAQDIR that everything happens by the will of Allah though His pleasure is not in everything; the believers have to care for His pleasure by the Islamic teachings that the Quran and the SUNNAH have given well; as for His will, that He only knows; see also Surah BAQARAH-285 that comes at the last Ruku of it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; now, this Surah begins by the praise of Allah as it states, "All praise is due to Allah, the Originator of the heavens and the earth, the Maker of the angels, apostles flying on wings, two, and three, and four; He increases in creation what He pleases (so angels may have more wings even); surely Allah has power over all things; whatever Allah grants to men of (His) mercy, there is none to withhold it, and what He withholds, there is none to send it forth after that, and

He is the Mighty (Who keeps everything according to His plan for them by His authority), the Wise (Who keeps the impression of goodness in works of men and eliminates all evil by His true wisdom)"; this tells that angels are such creation of Allah who provide the message of Allah to Messengers of Allah by His command and bring destruction to nations by His command and do all tasks that He commands them and they never disobey Allah in any of His commands; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah may provide some needy person much of resources by His will and make him go to heights in prosperity of the worldly assets, and He may take away much of resources of some rich person so he becomes needy even for his sustenance; no one is able to stop Him from anything He wills; Al-Hamdu Lillah; He may give benefits to a place by blessed rains upon it by His will so all people there get benefits from that and He may stop such rains at some place by His will and certainly, no one is able to stop Him from anything that He wills; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead at the Ruku command all persons to mind the favor of Allah upon them, so they must count their blessings because Allah only, provides them all their needs from the nearby heaven by good rains and from the earth by fruits & crops; and He has provided them the true guidance too that He only is Whom they all shall worship; certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-4 addresses the Prophet PBUH that if disbelievers among the people he presents the message of Islam, call him a liar then Prophets of Allah before him too were called liars; it also expresses the message to all persons that those who disbelieve, they are following those wrong persons who had denied the message of Islam before them and it is no worry to the Prophet PBUH, who only has to provide the message of Islam to all persons, but it certainly is trouble to them as Allah would evaluate all deeds of all persons at the Day of Judgment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last three AAYAAT of the Ruku state for all persons that they need to understand that the word of Allah is true that the Day of Judgment would take place so they must not make an obsession to get the worldly assets as this delusion would make them lose the true success at AKHIRAT; they need to understand that the Satan, who had taken an oath to misguide them, is the most dangerous deceiver to them as he is trying his best to prevent them to get success at AKHIRAT so that they fall into the hell-fire; they must take him as their enemy which he truly is, as he pursues rigorously to wrongs all those who have inclination to worldly assets much beyond their necessities; all persons need to understand that those who are disbelievers to the Truth, they shall have the most severe punishment at AKHIRAT, whereas those who do believe in it and do good deeds and ask Allah for forgiveness on their wrongs, they shall have forgiveness at the world and the highest of rewards at AKHIRAT, the true life ahead; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

FAATIR-The Second Ruku

8. What! is he whose evil deed is made fair-seeming to him so much so that he considers it good? Now surely Allah makes him err whom He pleases and guides him aright whom He pleases, so let not your soul waste away in grief for them; surely Allah is Cognizant of what they do

9. And Allah is He Who sends the winds so they raise a cloud, then We drive it on to a dead country, and therewith We give life to the earth after its death; even so is the Resurrection.

10. Whoever desires honor, then to Allah belongs the honor wholly. To Him do ascend the good words; and the good deed lifts that up, and (as for) those who plan evil deeds, they shall have a severe chastisement; and (as for) their plan, it shall perish.

11. And Allah created you of dust, then of the life-germ, then He made you pairs; and no female bears, nor does she bring forth, except with His knowledge; and no one whose life is lengthened has his life lengthened, nor is aught diminished of one's life, but it is all in a book; surely this is easy to Allah.

12. And the two seas are not alike: the one sweet, that subdues thirst by its excessive sweetness, pleasant to drink; and the other salt, that burns by its saltiness; yet from each of them you eat fresh flesh and bring forth ornaments which you wear; and you see the ships cleave through it that you may seek of His bounty and that you may be grateful.

13. He causes the night to enter in upon the day, and He causes the day to enter in upon the night, and He has made subservient (to you) the sun and the moon; each one follows its course to an appointed time; this is Allah, your Lord, His is the kingdom; and those whom you call upon besides Him do not control a straw.

14. If you call on them they shall not hear your call, and even if they could hear they shall not answer you; and on the resurrection day they will deny your associating them (with Allah); and none can inform you like the One Who is Aware.

The first AAYAT of the Ruku tells that the Prophet PBUH has to provide the Islamic teachings to all persons and it is by the will of Allah where it affects favorably; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it reads, "what! is he whose evil deed is made fair-seeming to him so much so that he considers it good, (does he think he is righteous)? - now surely Allah makes him err whom He pleases and guides him aright whom He pleases, so (O Prophet PBUH) let not your soul waste away in grief for them; surely Allah is Cognizant of what they do (so He certainly would evaluate all deeds of all persons at the Day of Judgment)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-9 provides the info that as Allah sends the winds that raise a cloud which Allah drives to the place where He intends that it pours rain and by that He gives life to the earth which is lying dead as it is not producing any of harvests; so in this manner would occur the Resurrection; Allah has told this in the Quran at other places too explicitly that all persons would rise from the dead as the rain brings the harvest from the dead earth; besides other places, ROUM-50 states, "look then at the signs of Allah's mercy, how He gives life to the earth after its death; most surely He will raise the dead to life; and He has power over all things"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-10 states, "whoever desires honor, then to Allah belongs the honor wholly; to Him do ascend the good words (that are in praise of Allah); and (every) good deed (which is in its confirmation) lifts that up (that is how they ascend to Allah where they are recorded as virtues at their respective documents of deeds), and (as for) those who plan evil deeds (even though they claim to believe in Allah), they shall have severe chastisement (as evil deeds do not have the quality to affect their respective documents of deeds positively); and (as for) their plan (to make life difficult to believers), it shall perish"; this means that the honor to persons, even at the world, comes by living at virtues only as the good person cares that all his deeds are complementary to his speech in which he praises Allah; certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead tell about the blessings of Allah upon the man that He created the first man by TURAB (the pure sand and from whom He created the first women), and then the mankind came to the world by the sperm (that fertilizes the female gamete to become zygote); and He made them pairs, complementary to each other so that the life of mankind goes on at the world to the time He wills; AAYAT-11 says, "and no female bears, nor does she bring forth, except with His knowledge; and no one whose life is lengthened has his life lengthened, nor is aught diminished of one's life, but it is all in a book; surely this is easy to Allah"; note that one of the authentic Ahadith tells that the Prophet PBUH said, "if Allah wishes to complete the child's creation, the angel says, 'O Lord! A male or a female? O Lord! wretched or blessed? - what will his livelihood be? - what will his age be?' - the angel writes all this while the child is in the womb of its mother" - (reported by Bukhari); Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-12 says, "and the two seas are not alike - the one sweet, that subdues thirst by its excessive sweetness, pleasant to drink; and the other salt, that burns by its saltiness; yet from each of them you eat fresh flesh (i.e. fish) and bring forth ornaments (especially pearls) which you wear; and you see the ships cleave through it (because Allah has made these waters by such regulations, buoyancy included, that even extremely huge ships sail through it) that you may seek of His bounty (from different places) and that you may be grateful"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the mention of two seas implies extreme collection of waters here and not only seas but all huge collection of waters, and rivers even, are included in comparison; AAYAAT-13 mentions the set-up that Allah has provided the mankind for the safety of life as it says , "He causes the night to enter in upon the day, and He causes the day to enter in upon the night, and He has made subservient (to you) the sun and the moon; each one follows its course to an appointed time; this is Allah, your Lord, His is the kingdom; and those whom you call upon besides Him do not control a straw"; note that the word is QITMIR that the translation refers to as straw and this is the membrane inside a date as endocarp over its seed; so the AAYAT uses this term to express that whom the disbelievers call upon besides Allah for their help in troubles, have not a bit of authority to assist them; the last AAYAT of the Ruku clarifies how helpless they are as it says, "if you (O disbelievers) call on them they shall not hear your call, and even if they could hear they shall not answer you; and on the resurrection day they will deny your associating them (with Allah); and none can inform you like the One Who is Aware (so the disbelievers need to take the advice to believe truly in Allah or else they all would certainly get most severe punishment)"; note that at the Day of Judgment, all those whom the disbelievers took as equal in authority to Allah, would distance themselves from them as they would worry to save their own selves from the severe punishment of Allah, the true Lord; that would include angels whom they most erroneously took as daughters of Allah, and that would also include those good persons who had departed from the world and whom the disbelievers used to call with such thought that they are not only able to hear them but they also are able to save them from any trouble if they call them for their assistance; the plain fact is this that there is no one who can assist any person except Allah, the true Lord; He only provides for him by various persons that are alive around him and in different manners that do become means to assist him; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

FAATIR-The Third Ruku

15. O men! you are they who stand in need of Allah, and Allah is He Who is the Self-sufficient, the Praised One.

16. If He please, He will take you off and bring a new generation.

17. And this is not hard to Allah.

18. And a burdened soul cannot bear the burden of another and if one weighed down by burden should cry for (another to carry) its burden, not aught of it shall be carried, even though he be near of kin. You warn only those who fear their Lord in secret and keep up prayer; and whoever purifies himself, he purifies himself only for (the good of) his own soul; and to Allah is the eventual coming.

19. And the blind and the seeing are not alike

20. Nor the darkness and the light,

21. Nor the shade and the heat,

22. Neither are the living and the dead alike. Surely Allah makes whom He pleases hear, and you cannot make those hear who are in the graves.

23. You are naught but a warner.

24. Surely We have sent you with the Truth as bearer of good news and warner; and there is not any people but a warner has gone among them.

25. And if they call you a liar, so did those before them indeed call (their apostles) liars; their apostles had come to them with clear arguments, and with scriptures, and with the illuminating book.

26. Then I punished those who disbelieved, so how was the manifestation of My disapproval?

This Ruku starts by the statement that only Allah is free of all necessities whereas all His creation including the mankind, does need different things as necessities; Allah does not need even, that men show their humility to Him but that only is for their own benefit; Allah tells at AAYAAT-56, 57 & 58 of Surah ZAARIYAAT, "and I have not created the jinn and the men except that they should serve Me; I do not desire from them any sustenance and I do not desire that they should feed Me; surely Allah is He Who bestows sustenance, the Lord of Power, the Strong"; Allah truly does hold all of wealth and He truly does have all praise and though He has provided items for all necessities of humankind yet He has the authority to end all of them and bring other of men at the world and He even has the authority to bring any other of His creation to inhabit earth if He wills (i.e. other than the mankind); and this certainly is not hard to Allah; certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAAT-18 to ahead, the Ruku tells about the position of the man with reference to AKHIRAT and that the Prophet PBUH is liable to provide the message of Islam only but he is not liable to see that the sinful persons leave their wrongs; they would pay heavily at AKHIRAT for their wrongs and there, the sinful person would not get assistance from any person to bear any of his sins, even though he calls him with sentiments, in his utmost worry and even though that call is to such person who had remained very close to him at the world; TABLIGH for Islam by the Prophet PBUH would benefit only such person who is most attentive towards Allah, Whom he secretly understands to be the true Lord and Whom he secretly understands to bring such time upon him where he has to account for all his deeds, and he does ask Him by Salah humbly to show him the right path; note that here Salah means his prayer to Allah for Guidance to the right path as at the descent of this Surah, Salah was not yet established as obligatory on every Muslim though even then, Muslims did say their Salah in this very manner as we know it, as the Prophet PBUH had guided them; note that this Surah came at Makkah when some five years had passed since the period when Allah had given the Prophet PBUH the liability to guide all peoples of the world by the Quran; Al-Hamdu Lillah; when a person lives by the commands of Allah, he purifies himself at inside which would benefit his own soul as to Allah, is the eventual return; certainly, the person who has lost the ability to understand the Truth and the person who has got its awareness are not alike as the former is in all darkness of wrongs at the world that does not let him see his true benefits and the latter is in such beautiful light of the true guidance due to his attention to live by commands of Allah, that his matters remain clear upon him to decide for them in the most virtuous manner; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the person who lives by commands of Allah would receive the shade of JANNAAT, the gardens of paradise, at AKHIRAT and the sinful person who lives with commitment of wrongs would get his due punishment by the heat of the hell-fire, at AKHIRAT; by comparison, they both are such that one of them is truly living as he fulfills his liability to live by commands of Allah with all care to AKHIRAT and the other, who has chosen to live by wrongs remaining obsessed with life at the world without any care to AKHIRAT, is actually dead; surely Allah guides to the right path whom He wills and the Prophet PBUH, with all his good efforts, is unable to bring any such person, who has chosen to live by wrongs, towards acceptance to live at the right path as such person is alike to those persons who have left the world on disbelief and have lost the space to show their worth for JANNAAT; the important point to note is that AAYAT-22 of Surah FAATIR tells very clearly that if the person who has departed from the world does hear anything from here, it is because Allah wants him to hear that and no living person makes anyone that has passed away hear anything from his side by his own efforts; the Prophet (PBUH) did address the dead persons once as if he is talking to them, yet it is possible that being the Messenger of Allah, he knew that they would hear him by the permission of Allah; as for us, we all must refrain from addressing the dead as if they are hearing us as we do not know the will of Allah though we must pray Allah to provide mercy to those who were righteous among them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Prophet PBUH would serve as warner to them as Allah has given him the liability to spread the teachings of Islam and He has always sent the warning persons in all peoples at all times and at all places so that the fundamental Islamic teachings remain clear to them; he shall not worry about their taunts to him, especially where they call him a liar, because this has been the trend of such persons too who had lived by wrongs previously, against the Prophets of Allah whom He had sent to them to warn them of utmost punishment if they live at wrongs without any care to AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Prophets of Allah had come to them with clearest of arguments to prove the teachings that they were presenting, by scriptures that Allah had sent previously and by an illuminating book (i.e. Torah that comprises of the five initial booklets of the old testament, though by elapse of time, it was altered by the wrong-doers at places in text and meanings) that provided His commands; Allah tells at the last AAYAT of the Ruku, "then I punished those (even at the world) who disbelieved, so how was the manifestation of My disapproval (that eliminated them all and ended all of their doings)"; it implies that certainly Allah would eliminate all evil from the world even at future too; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

FAATIR-The Fourth Ruku

27. Do you not see that Allah sends down water from the cloud, then We bring forth therewith fruits of various colors; and in the mountains are streaks, white and red, of various hues and (others) intensely black?

28. And of men and beasts and cattle are various species of it likewise; those of His servants only who are possessed of knowledge fear Allah; surely Allah is Mighty, Forgiving.

29. Surely they who recite the Book of Allah and keep up Salah and spend out of what We have given them secretly and openly, hope for such gain which will not perish.

30. That He may pay them back fully their rewards and give them more out of His grace: surely He is Forgiving, Multiplier of rewards.

31. And that which We have revealed to you of the Book, that is the truth verifying that which is before it; most surely with respect to His servants Allah is Aware, Seeing.

32. Then We gave the Book for inheritance to those whom We had chosen from among Our servants; but of them is he who makes his soul to suffer a loss, and of them is he who takes a middle course, and of them is he who is foremost in deeds of goodness by Allah's permission; this is the great excellence.

33. Gardens of perpetuity, they shall enter therein; they shall be made to wear therein bracelets of gold and pearls, and their dress therein shall be silk.

34. And they shall say: (All) praise is due to Allah, Who has made grief to depart from us; most surely our Lord is Forgiving, Multiplier of rewards,

35. Who has made us alight in a house abiding forever out of His grace; toil shall not touch us therein, nor shall fatigue therein afflict us.

36. And (as for) those who disbelieve, for them is the fire of hell; it shall not be finished with them entirely so that they should die, nor shall the chastisement thereof be lightened to them: thus do We punish every ungrateful one.

37. And they shall cry therein for succor: O our Lord! take us out, we will do good deeds other than those which we used to do. Did We not preserve you alive long enough, so that he who would be mindful in it should mind? And there came to you the warner; therefore, taste-- because for the unjust, there is no helper.

At the start of the Ruku, Allah asks for observation that He sends rains from the sky nearby and then He brings forth from the earth different kinds of fruits that are different in color, taste and good odor; even mountains are different as they have different streaks of colors that are white and even red, and some are intensely black; note that Allah expresses the diversity in His creation at this AAYAT by His name first and then takes-up the royal manner of speech for Him that

"We bring forth therewith fruits of various colors"; this manner of expression in the Quran is termed as ILTIFAAT and note also that even when the Quran applies ILTIFAAT, the meanings to the AAYAAT still remain most obvious at such places and the reciter of the Quran does get acquainted with this manner with pleasure without any problem; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second AAYAT tells about the diversity that relates to mankind and animals, especially the cattle, as they also have different colors, height, weight, physique and as for mankind, there are those who are most attentive to Allah at inside sincerely because Allah has provided them the extensive knowledge of the Truth which does guide them to fear Allah, Who is Mighty to bring any calamity by wrongs of men yet Who is Forgiving of many of those so that men do get space to make themselves better to get results in their favor at AKHIIRAT, that is the true life ahead; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-29 & 30 read, "surely they who recite the Book of Allah (i.e. the Quran) and keep-up Salah and spend out of what We have given them secretly and openly (as these both make them attentive to Allah and unconcerned to worldly assets respectively), hope for such gain (at AKHIRAT) which will not perish; that He may pay them back fully their rewards and give them more out of His grace (so each of virtues would get its reward 10 times of it at least)- surely He is Forgiving (of wrongs at the world), Multiplier of rewards (at AKHIRAT)"; Al-Hamdu

Lillah; the next AAYAT mentions about the Quran that whatever Allah has revealed to the Prophet PBUH, it certainly guides to the right path as it is the whole Truth and it certainly verifies those teachings of Torah that actually relate to the fundamental teachings of Islam; Allah knows that the mankind needs the Guidance to the right path as He is Most Aware of their doings and Most Caring to provide them the virtuous manner to live-on so that they accept it totally and save themselves from the most severe punishment at the life at AKHIRAT that would never end; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-32 & 33 mention that Allah has chosen the Muslims to get this Holy Book Quran through Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, and to care for it in the best manner that is possible for them; in Muslims, there are such persons who do not care for commands of Allah that the Quran presents to them so they are certain to suffer an extreme loss at AKHIRAT; and in them, are such persons too who take a middle course by putting into practice the prominent commands of Allah and by avoiding all major sins (so they live at position of ADL and for them, Allah is Merciful) and in them, are such persons too who are foremost in deeds of goodness by Allah's permission (so they live at position of EHSAAN and for their virtuous deeds, Allah is Multiplier of rewards); note that the Quran asks all Muslims for five things that are to believe in it firmly, to read it on, to understand it, to apply it to life and to ask all to apply it to life; the Holy Book Quran is essentially the message of Allah to guide all among the mankind (and all among the jinn) towards the right path, practically asking them all to follow the SUNNAH, and then by asking Allah for safety, to avoid putting satanic temptations into practice; so they all come near to Allah and they all save themselves from the hell-fire and they all gain the beautiful security at the beautiful gardens of paradise; Al-Hamdu Lillah; all these persons who are foremost in deeds of goodness by TOFIQ from Allah, would receive such placement at JANNAAT, the gardens of perpetuity, where they would have wonderful bracelets of gold and pearls, and their dress shall be of silk; they would praise Allah that He has provided them with such beautiful gardens where they would never face any such thing that grieves them and He certainly is Forgiving and He certainly is Multiplier of rewards; they shall also acknowledge that Allah has provided them such beautiful residence by His grace wherein toil shall not touch them and wherein fatigue shall not afflict them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as for disbelievers in the fundamental teachings of Islam, that also include the hypocrites, they would be put into the hell-fire and even with their wish to die, they shall not die nor shall its chastisement be lightened to them as Allah punishes most severely all such persons who are extremely ungrateful to Him when He has guided them most explicitly towards the right path; Al-Hamdu Lillah; their extreme plight at the outcome of their wrongs, would be that they shall ask Allah when they would be inside the hell-fire, for succor that they would do good deeds other than those wrongs which they used to do at life at the world; but Allah would reject their plea and His answer to that would be that He had given them ample time-period to accept the Truth while there arose in them the warner of this outcome by the will of Allah if they live by disbelieving in the fundamental teachings of Islam; they have no option at this time but to taste the chastisement that they have received by their own doings; they were most unjust to themselves and to all persons near to them at life at the world and they would not find any helper now; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

FAATIR-The Last Ruku

38. Surely Allah is the Knower of what is unseen in the heavens and the earth; surely He is Cognizant of what is in the hearts.

39. He it is Who made you rulers in the land; therefore, whoever disbelieves, his disbelief is against himself; and their disbelief does not increase the disbelievers with their Lord in anything except hatred; and their disbelief does not increase the disbelievers in anything except loss.

40. Say: Have you considered your associates which you call upon besides Allah? Show me what part of the earth they have created, or have they any share in the heavens; or, have We given them a book so that they follow a clear argument thereof? Nay, the unjust do not hold out promises one to another but only to deceive.

41. Surely Allah upholds the heavens and the earth lest they come to naught; and if they should come to naught, there is none who can uphold them after Him; surely He is the Forbearing, the Forgiving.

42. And they swore by Allah with the strongest of their oaths that if there came to them a warner they would be better guided than any of the nations; but when there came to them a warner it increased them in naught but aversion.

43. (In) behaving proudly in the land and in planning evil; and the evil plans shall not beset any save the authors of it. Then should they wait for aught except the way of the former people? For you shall not find any alteration in the course of Allah; and you shall not find any change in the course of Allah.

44. Have they not travelled in the land and seen how was the end of those before them while they were stronger than these in power? And Allah is not such that anything in the heavens or in the earth should escape Him; surely He is Knowing, Powerful.

45. And were Allah to punish men for what they earn, He would not leave on the back of it any creature, but He respites them till an appointed term; so when their doom shall come, then surely Allah is Seeing with respect to His servants.

The last Ruku of Surah FAATIR tells that Allah only is truly powerful Who has all authority to destroy the disbelievers totally by any of such happenings that are termed as natural calamities; He has made the set-up that everything cares for life of the mankind and its sustenance by His will but He destroyed all those disbelievers who had challenged Him and certainly, nothing of His creation has any power against Him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; all persons need to understand that this time-period that Allah has given them at the world, is most valuable and they must put it to use by complying to commands of Allah, the true Lord; it is the only aim of life and they would lose all if they do not comply to it; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; the Ruku starts by the statement, "surely Allah is the Knower of what is unseen in the heavens and the earth; (so) He surely is Cognizant of what is inside the hearts"; all persons shall live upon the right path as Allah asks for that only, from all of them and He would decide for all of them on the specific Day of Judgment; the Ruku tells that He has made the mankind to inhabit the earth which is the most secure place for their life, but with the task of remaining totally attentive to Allah; if they disbelieve in the fundamental teachings of Islam, that is most detrimental to their own selves as it takes them faraway from Allah, the true Lord; Allah asks the Prophet PBUH to ask them what part of the earth those have created whom they call as associates besides Allah or do the disbelievers take them as having a share in the making of heavens; or they consider that Allah has given them some book that they take an argument for their disbelief thereof; but certainly their disbelief is due to their deceit to each other and they certainly are most unjust persons; the simple fact is this that Allah has created the heavens and the earth and all that is between them; He only, upholds the heavens and the earth lest they leave their position; it is by His will that they do not lose their respective positions and certainly, there is none who can uphold them besides Him; surely He is the Forbearing that even with all disobedience of His commands, He still provides the space to disbelievers to make themselves better for success at AKHIRAT and surely He is Forgiving to many of wrongs of men at the world; note that AAYAT-45 at this Ruku that is its last AAYAT and also the last AAYAT of this Surah, reads, "and were Allah to punish men for what they earn (i.e. for their wrong-doings), He would not leave on the back of it any creature, but He respites them till an appointed term; so when their doom shall come, then surely Allah is Seeing with respect to His servants";

note that when the disbelievers reject the Truth totally and oppose it in such manner that there remains no chance that they would accept that, then Allah ends the time given to them all at the world and destroys them all in huge number; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it does not do good to the man to consider that he has developed to such extent where he has achieved such status that he may deal with any averse situation that challenges him, without any need to ask Allah for his safety; it happens then that he plans to end that situation by his efforts without being attentive to Allah and then finds that he has complicated the situation so then he plans to end that complication by his efforts and then finds that he has enhanced that complication; Allah only has the true authority to end all adversities to the man and he needs to remain totally attentive to Him, the true Lord; AYAAT-42 & 43 tell the attitudes of the disbelievers at Arabia then, while AAYAT-44 guides them to the virtuous manner to get the virtuous teachings that the Prophet PBUH had presented to them; they state that there were such persons in disbelievers then, who had sworn most emphatically that if some Messenger of Allah comes to them as warner to them, they would be better guided than any of nations to whom Allah sent His Messengers before; but when he did come, it increased their aversion to the Truth whereas their attitude was to behave arrogantly in the land and take-up evil planning; but the evil plans shall beset their planners only so they need to wait for extreme destruction that had come upon disbelievers among the former people; this is the manner of Allah to deal with all those who challenge His true authority and there certainly is no alteration in this manner of Allah; these disbelievers too would get extreme punishment even at the world and even at AKHIRAT though they might think that they have achieved such power that has made them invincible; and there certainly is no change in this manner of Allah; if they travel in the land, they would see how was the end of those disbelievers in Islam that were before them while they were even stronger than these disbelievers and there is no place where these disbelievers might escape Him in heavens or in the earth; certainly, He is Most Knowing and Most Powerful; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah YA-SEEN

(Consists of 5 Ruku; MK-4)

YA-SEEN-The First Ruku

1. YA-SEEN
2. I swear by the Quran full of wisdom
3. Most surely you are one of the apostles

4. On the right path.
5. A revelation of the Mighty, the Merciful.
6. That you may warn such people whose fathers were not warned, so they are heedless.
7. Certainly the word has proved true of most of them, so they do not believe.
8. Surely We have placed chains on their necks, and these reach up to their chins, so they have their heads raised aloft.
9. And We have made before them a barrier and a barrier behind them, then We have covered them over so that they do not see.
10. And it is alike to them whether you warn them or warn them not: they do not believe.
11. You can only warn him who follows the reminder and fears the Beneficent Allah in secret; so announce to him forgiveness and an honorable reward.
12. Surely We give life to the dead, and We write down what they have sent before and their footprints, and We have recorded everything in the clear writing.

The Surah starts with letters "YA-SEEN" that are among the MUQATTA'AAT that are the 14 disjointed letters that are among the Arabic alphabets which come at the commencement of 29 Surah in specific combinations; my writing "Expressions of the Quran" presents much detail for them and all Surah that begin with them, have reference to the Holy Book Quran after them except for Surah ANKABUT and Surah ROUM; Al-Hamdu Lillah; here, Allah swears by the Quran, which is full of wisdom to guide the man for his safety both at the world and at AKHIRAT; AAYAAT tell that certainly, Muhammad PBUH is one of the Messengers of Allah, who certainly is on the right path and he is receiving the Quran from Allah, who is AZIZ (Mighty) so He keeps all His creation to work for His will only by His true authority and destroys those peoples who challenge Him, and RAHIM (Merciful) so He provides ample space to all peoples by sending His Messengers to them (when they were coming to the world by His will and now He has provided the Quran to guide all peoples of the world to the right path) and gives them all the time they need, to consider the fundamental teachings of Islam; He cares for all of mankind that they live-on their lives where their physical security is at hand for them and also, that they live-on their lives where their spiritual security is at hand for them; so note that His name RAHIM denotes His attribute which tells His care for the spiritual guidance to the mankind and His patience upon their wrong-doings until they receive the ample time He has appointed for them, to accept it; Allah has sent Muhammad PBUH, His last Messenger, among the Arabs that he may warn such people whose forefathers were not warned directly for centuries by any of Messengers of Allah, and this is because they become aware of TAUHID, AKHIRAT, RISALAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-7, 8 & 9 mention that the will of Allah for many of them is that they would never come towards believing in Islam as they have done such wrongs and in such quantity which have caused their insistence upon disbelief; Allah has placed intangible chains on their necks which reach-up to their chins, so they are unable to surrender to Islam; they have developed an extreme pride which has turned them most arrogant and due to their wrongs, Allah has made before them a barrier and a barrier behind them, both intangible, so Allah has covered their sight in such manner that they are totally unable to see what extreme trouble that at AKHIRAT, they are leading themselves to, and what wrongs they have done in their respective lives that they have led at the world; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-10 & 11 tell the Prophet PBUH that such arrogant persons who have all their insistence upon disbelief, would never believe whether he warns them or not, though he has to continue his TABLIGH to all persons as that is his liability; he would only make such person better in belief and deeds by the permission of Allah, who accepts when he/she hears the Quran, that he/she has been doing wrongs previously and does have fear of Allah at his/her inside that He has all authority to punish him/her most severely on wrongs; such person would surely receive forgiveness on his/her previous wrongs and an honorable reward at AKHIRAT, the true life ahead; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku reads, "surely We give life to the dead, and We write down what they have sent before (i.e. whatever they do at life at the world) and their footprints (i.e. whatever effect, good or bad, remains at the world due to their doings), and We have recorded everything in the clear writing (i.e. LAUHE-MAHFUZ)"; Allah would certainly bring all the dead to life at the Day of Judgment and in addition to that meaning, the mention of 'giving life to the dead' might also be an indication here that it surely is Allah Who brings the person who is lost in darkness of wrongs, to the light of righteousness; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

YA-SEEN-The Second Ruku

13. And set out to them an example of the people of the town, when the apostles came to it.

14. When We sent to them two, they rejected both of them, then We strengthened (them) with a third, so they said: Surely we are apostles to you.

15. They said: You are naught but mortals like ourselves, nor has the Beneficent Allah revealed anything; you only lie.

16. They said: Our Lord knows that we are most surely apostles to you.

17. And our duty is only to proclaim the clear Message.

18. They said: Surely we augur evil from you; if you do not desist, we will certainly stone you, and there shall certainly afflict you a painful chastisement from us.

19. They said: Your evil fortune is with you; what! if you are reminded! Nay, you are an extravagant people.

20. And from the remote part of the city there came a man running, he said: O my people! follow the apostles;

21. Follow him who does not ask you for reward, and they are the followers of the right path;

22. And what reason have I that I should not serve Him Who brought me into existence? And to Him you shall be brought back;

23. What! shall I take besides Him gods whose intercession, if the Beneficent Allah should desire to afflict me with harm, shall not avail me aught, nor shall they be able to deliver me?

24. In that case I shall most surely be in clear error:

25. Surely I believe in your Lord, therefore hear me.

26. It was said: Enter the garden. He said: O would that my people had known

27. Of that on account of which my Lord has forgiven me and made me of the honored ones!

28. And We did not send down upon his people after him any hosts from heaven, nor was it needful for Us to send down.

29. It was naught but a single cry, and lo! they were still.

30. Alas for these servants! there comes not to them an apostle but they mock at him.

31. Do they not consider how many of generations have We destroyed before them, because they do not turn to them?

32. And all of them shall surely be brought before Us.

This Ruku narrates an example of such people in a town, where Allah sent three of His Prophets yet they did not accept the message of Islam; they saw the manifest things about the Prophets and argued that they are like all other of them while according to them, the Prophets have to be other than the mankind; note that the difference of Prophets to other persons is that they are highly developed spiritually when Allah chooses them to get WAHI (i.e. His message to the mankind) which they have to provide to all persons as their liability; physically, they are good but not dissimilar in looks to other of men though they never have any of such negative features at physique that may prevent them to give the message of Islam to the people; note that the Satan had made the same mistake of seeing the manifest only that Allah has created Adam by muddy clay (TEEN) while Allah has created him by fire, so he thought himself as better than the man whereas the man certainly is much better spiritually than him and that actually has significance;

the last Ruku of Surah SUAD tells, "Allah said- O Iblis! what prevented you from making obeisance to him whom I created with My two hands? - are you proud or are you of the exalted ones? - he said- I am better than he; Thou hast created me of fire, and him Thou didst create of TEEN; Allah said- then get out of it, for surely you are driven away; and surely My curse is on you to the Day of Judgment"; now, this second Ruku of Surah YA-SEEN tells about some people of a town, where the Prophets of Allah had come; Allah sent two of them to those people but they rejected both of them, then Allah sent the third one to them who presumably had more ability to stand against their arguments, so all three told them that they certainly are Prophets from Allah to them but they denied the message of Allah with argument that they all are alike to them in looks and with argument that the Beneficent Allah has not revealed anything; the Prophets told them explicitly that certainly, Allah has appointed them to convey His message to the people there and their duty is only to convey the message of Allah in clear terms; these AAYAAT imply that Allah assists all good persons by other of good persons as they are true friends to each other and that the Prophets of Allah, though they did have the liability to provide the true guidance to their peoples, surely were not liable to see that peoples necessarily accept it; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at that place, whatever troubles those disbelievers faced, they held these Prophets responsible for that but they told those disbelievers clearly that it is their huge mistake that they take the virtuous teachings as causing troubles to them; AYYAT-18 & 19 read, "they (the disbelievers) said- surely we augur ill from you; if you do not desist, we will certainly stone you, and there shall certainly afflict you a painful chastisement from us; they (the Prophets-AS) said- your evil fortune is with you (i.e. it is the ills of their own deeds); what! if you are reminded! nay, you are an extravagant people (who answer to virtuous teachings by taking them as cause of ills)"; note that disbelievers have this inclination that they take the Guidance to the right path as cause of ills even though they do not put that into practice whereas they claim to accept anything on the basis of trial, yet they go against their own notion where the issue concerns the true guidance; now, it happened that in them, there was a righteous person who lived away from them due to their disbelief and their arrogance; as he got the info about the Prophets-AS and the rejection of his people to their teachings, he came hurriedly as soon as he can to that place and told his people to accept the virtuous teachings that the Prophets-AS had presented to them; he told them to see that these righteous persons do not need any benefits from the people and that they certainly have the true guidance so the people need to follow them; he guided them in this manner that they need to understand that when Allah is the Creator of all creation with all of His good attributes that always are of Him totally, then they have to accept Him as their Lord too and put all His commands into their practice; he asked them searchingly so that they reflect positively on the issue that why shall he worship any other than Allah when certainly those are totally unable to give him relief if he gets into any trouble by the will of Allah; AAYAAT from 20 to 25 read, "and from the remote part of the city there came a man running, he said- O my people! follow the apostles; follow them who do not ask you for reward, and they are the followers of the right path; and what reason have I that I should not serve Him Who brought me into existence? (He is the Creator of all Who never loses any of His attributes) - and to Him you shall be brought back (He is the Lord of all so all persons have to answer in front of Him for all their deeds); what! shall I take besides Him gods whose intercession, if the Beneficent Allah should desire to afflict me with harm, shall not avail me aught, nor shall they be able to deliver me? - in that case I shall most surely be in clear error; surely I believe in your Lord (Whom all men need to obey), therefore hear me (if you are not ready to take the true guidance from these good apostles)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note here that the man came out of the place he had chosen to remain attentive to Allah as he intended to confirm the teachings of the Prophets of Allah for the pleasure of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this tells that when it becomes necessary as collective need to guide towards the right path then a good person has to leave his good seclusion to express the good stance explicitly, especially when there arises threat to lives of some most pious persons; however, keeping away from all people, has worth at such place where much wrongs have spread and people are not prepared to listen even, to the Truth; one of Ahadith at Tirmidhi (at book of JEHAD) reports that someone asked the Prophet PBUH which man is the most excellent? - the Prophet PBUH replied, "the (believing) man who wages JEHAD in the way of Allah; he was asked- then who is next? - he said- the believer in one of the mountain-passes, who fears his Lord and keeps people safe from his mischief"; this tells that at times of FITNAH (trials and troubles that hinder the practice of Islam) where the Muslims do not find ease in living upon Islam, they need to fight the wrong people who intend to keep the world to such status where the practice on Islam becomes most difficult; the second option is that they retire taking their simple assets of value to the country-side or mountains where they care about Islam as much as possible; this is the message of "Safety First" that if you are not able to change people to the better side, you must at-least keep yourself to righteousness; note that the Hadith indicates that when the good believer in Allah keeps away from the wrong-doers, he would keep them away from his mischief so the notable thing here is that Ahadith have their own manner to express issues; here the mention is about the good believer so this tells that if such person is not able to provide his good impression to the people around then he is liable to be affected by their wrongs, so he is better when he keeps away from them; I, MSD, take the guidance presented in this remarkable Hadith as valid reasoning for the attitude that we strictly keep away from the Western ways and we also keep away from initiation of wars at the present times as that would certainly cause loss of innocent lives at both sides that would not let it remain JEHAD; the Western people, especially at Europe, were able to gain understanding of many physical laws at the time we Muslims were involved in the response to the imperialism that they had caused against us; they used that understanding even to make deadly weapons to cause fear to all peoples around and at present times too, we Muslims have not laid our fears aside about the actions that they might take physically against us due to their negative attitude towards us in the past; in such situation, it is much better to keep away from the West totally as both sides have fears and both are good at their defense, they physically and we spiritually by the blessing of Allah; so it certainly is much better to keep away from them in all good ways that are possible; Al-Hamdu

Lillah; now, the narration at this Ruku goes ahead to state that at the death of this man who assisted the Prophets, he was told to enter the gardens of JANNAH and at this, he commented that how good it would have been if my nation had known about my good destination after death, that my Lord has forgiven my wrongs and has given me the highest of respect after death; so even after his death, he had good intention for his people; it is mentioned that he was killed by some of the most wrong persons at his nation and was counted among SHAHEED, the person who is killed while he is at JEHAD against the disbelievers; such good persons enter JANNAH instantly after death by the command of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah willed to end the wrong persons of his nation after his death, so the last five AAYAAT of the Ruku read, "and We did not send down upon his people after him any hosts (of angels to punish them) from heaven, nor was it needful for Us to send down; it was naught but a single cry (by which Allah punished them), and lo! they were still; alas for these servants (who disobey Allah without any care to its consequence)! there comes not to them an apostle but they mock at him; do they not consider how many of generations have We destroyed before them, because they do not turn (back) to them? - and all of them shall surely be brought before Us (when all would rise from dead at the Day of HASHR)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

YA-SEEN-The Third Ruku

33. And a sign to them is the dead earth: We give life to it and bring forth from it grain so they eat of it.

34. And We make therein gardens of palms and grapevines and We make springs to flow forth in it,

35. That they may eat of the fruit thereof, and from what their hands have done; will they not then be grateful?

36. Glory be to Him Who created pairs of all things, of what the earth grows, and of their kind and of what they do not know.

37. And a sign to them is the night: We strip the day off from it, then lo! they are in the dark;

38. And the sun runs on to destination appointed for it; that is the ordinance of the Mighty, the Knowing.

39. And (as for) the moon, We have ordained for it stages till it becomes again as an old dry palm branch.

40. Neither is it allowable to the sun that it should overtake the moon, nor can the night outstrip the day; and all float on in a sphere.

41. And a sign to them is that We bear their offspring in the laden ship.

42. And We have created for them the like of it, upon which they ride on.

43. And if We please, We can drown them, then there shall be no succorer for them, nor shall they be rescued

44. But (by) mercy from Us and for enjoyment till a time.

45. And when it is said to them: Guard against what is before you and what is behind you, that mercy may be had on you.

46. And there comes not to them AAYAT from the AAYAAT of their Lord but they turn aside from it.

47. And when it is said to them: Spend out of what Allah has given you, those who disbelieve say to those who believe: Shall we feed him whom, if Allah please, He could feed? You are in naught but clear error.

48. And they say: When will this threat come to pass, if you are truthful?

49. They wait not for aught but a single cry which will overtake them while they yet contend with one another.

50. So they shall not be able to make a bequest, nor shall they return to their families.

This Ruku tells the general convenience that Allah has provided to the mankind in living at earth so that they all may give all attention to passing of their examination that Allah is taking of them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the earth is best suited in all manners for the safety of the life of mankind and for its continuity to the time Allah wills; the Holy Book Quran has the manner to guide the man to observe that Allah has given him both, that is general convenience in his physical sustenance and complete guidance to the Truth for his spiritual security; so he has to care minimum for assets at the world and remain most attentive to Allah because that would lead him to the true success at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the beginning of Ruku relates that Allah brings forth grains i.e. crops from the earth which they eat and there are gardens of various fruits, including the gardens of dates and grapes, upon it for them to eat and also, much of flowing waters that includes springs for their benefits; this all is what Allah has given to them which they do receive, only by some efforts of their hands; AAYAAT-36 reads, "Glory be to Him Who created pairs of all things, of what the earth grows, and of their kind and of what they do not know"; this tells that everything in creation has its respective pair that especially is evident by observation in whatever earth grows and in the mankind and even in other things that Allah has created, though they may be unaware of it; this guides to TAUHID that Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT from 37 to 40 guide attention towards the coming of day and night in routine and how the sun and the moon are working-on by the command of Allah till the time when He decides for their end; they read, "and a sign to them is the night- We strip the day off from it, then lo! they are in the dark; and the sun runs on to destination appointed for it; that is the ordinance of the Mighty, the Knowing; and (as for) the moon, We have ordained for it stages till it becomes again as an old dry palm branch; neither is it allowable to the sun that it should overtake the moon, nor can the night outstrip the day; and all float on in sphere (of their own)"; note that though the yearly destination of the sun is vernal equinox in March yet with this, the statement here about its destination also relates to its final place at the space where it is floating to and that placement is where it would be at the last day of the world; but with all said, the necessary thing to state is that most certainly, Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; another of signs to which the Ruku indicates is that Allah has provided that water does not sink the ships but they run-on at waters by the command of Allah and the mankind benefits by trade through them, even when they are fully laden; AAYAT-42 reads, "and We have created for them the like of it, upon which they ride on"; this presumably indicates even the modern means of transportation as the text allows to interpret it by including them and certainly, Allah knows better; note that NAHL-8 has stated, "and (He made) horses and mules and asses that you might ride upon them and as an ornament; and He creates what you do not know"; this means that there would take place such things for the riding of men and as their ornaments, which would provide ease to them in going to places by moving at high pace and even though these things seemingly came about by efforts of men but they needed the will of Allah to come about so these words mention them in the manner that "He creates what you do not know"; see also the note at the first Ruku of Surah NAHL; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah tells in plain terms that if He wills, He can drown all those who ride-on at a ship and no person would have the ability to save them; it is His blessing only as He is RAHIM, that He provides space to the mankind so that they live-on to show their worth for AKHIRAT, the true life ahead; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-45 & 46 state about the response of disbelievers when they are asked to develop TAQWA (that is the peaceful condition at inside which comes by the righteous belief in Allah and commitment of good deeds according to it) by remaining aware to which is before them i.e. the extreme punishment of their wrongs at the world and at AKHIRAT, and to which is behind them i.e. the destruction which fell over disbelievers in the previous times, so that they take heed and receive mercy from Allah; their response to this is that they ignore this precious advice and turn-away from it, as if it is nothing which has to be given attention; this tells the wrong attitude that they have for all the good signs that Allah shows them for their guidance; and when they are asked to spend on the needy from whatever Allah has given them then their response is that why they shall feed such person whom Allah could feed well if He wills; this tells how unaware they are that Allah has given them life at the world only to examine them whether they live on the right path or not; due to this, He has given different positions to all persons here among the mankind as He wills and certainly, He knows how to examine them; He does not answer their foolish query as it is disrespect to Him to question His will; the last AAYAT of Surah AN'AAM reads, "and He it is Who has made you successors in the land and raised some of you above others by (various) grades, that He might try you by what He has given you; surely your Lord is quick to requite (evil), and He is most surely the Forgiving, the Merciful"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT tells about their doubts that they have developed the notion that whatever they do, they are not answerable to Allah; these disbelievers ask the true Muslims that as they live-on without any care to commands of Allah, why does He not send any disaster to them; note their narrow-mindedness that even though they learn history of the man yet they are unable to see that Allah destroyed those nations ultimately who challenged His commands; He did give them all space to come to righteousness but when they did not avail that to comply to His commands, He eliminated all of them completely; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last three AAYAAT of the Ruku read, "and they say- when will this threat (that extreme disaster would get them if they do not live by commands of Allah) come to pass, if you are truthful? - they wait not for aught but a single cry which will overtake them while they yet contend with one another (as to fill their emptiness by futile endeavors and so it would fall upon them in sudden manner when they expect it least) so they shall not be able to make a bequest, nor shall they return to their families"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

YA-SEEN-The Fourth Ruku

51. And the trumpet shall be blown, when lo! from their graves they shall hasten on to their Lord.

52. They shall say: O woe to us! who has raised us up from our sleeping-place? This is what the Beneficent Allah promised and the apostles told the truth.

53. There would be naught but a single cry, when lo! they shall all be brought before Us;

54. So this day no soul shall be dealt with unjustly in the least; and you shall not be rewarded aught but that which you did.

55. Surely the dwellers of the garden shall on that day be in an occupation quite happy.

56. They and their wives shall be in shades, reclining on raised couches.

57. They shall have fruits therein, and they shall have whatever they desire.

58. Peace: word from the Merciful Lord.

59. And get aside today, O guilty ones!

60. Did I not charge you, O children of Adam! that you should not serve the Satan? Surely he is your open enemy,

61. And that you should serve Me; this is the right way.

62. And certainly he led astray numerous people from among you. What! could you not then understand?

63. This is the hell with which you were threatened.

64. Enter into it this day because you disbelieved.

65. On that day We will set a seal upon their mouths, and their hands shall speak to Us, and their feet shall bear witness of what they earned.

66. And if We please, We would certainly put out their eyes, then they would run about groping for the way, but how should they see?

67. And if We please, We would surely transform them in their place, then they would not be able to go on, nor will they return.

As the trumpet for all to gather at the grounds of HASHR is blown, all of these disbelievers would rise from dead and with assessment of the situation, they would hurriedly advance to the place to see their account of deeds in front of Allah, the true Lord; Al-

Hamdu Lillah; then it would strike to them that they always denied the Day of Judgment and here it is with all its troubles to them; so they would long even, that it would have been better for them if they had remained dead at their graves; angels would clarify to them in plain words, "this is what the Beneficent Allah promised and the apostles told the truth"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; that sound of the trumpet would be the ongoing single cry that would remain on until it raises all dead to life again to become present at front of Allah, the true Lord; Allah would judge all persons most justly and all would get only what they deserve due to their respective doings at the world; that day, the righteous persons would receive JANNAH (the garden of paradise) and these dwellers of the garden would be most pleased, occupied in their happiness; AAYAAT-56, 57 & 58 tell about their beautiful placement, "they and their wives shall be in shades, reclining on raised couches; they shall have fruits therein, and they shall have whatever they desire; 'Peace' (would be said to them as the) word from the Merciful Lord"; note that Surah WAQI-AH-27 to 40 relates this blessed situation of the dwellers of the garden at paradise explicitly that they would have wonderful thorn-less trees there that also would beautify the place; and banana trees so very near to each other that they would be one above another and there would be most beautiful shade extending to miles as if it is early morning at such weather that is neither cold nor hot but totally pleasant and there would be the clearest of water that would flow constantly at fountains and plenty of all fruits and the couches where they would recline, that would be raised high to honor the dwellers of JANNAH (who would be there as if they are at early thirties); and Allah would provide them their good wives, who would become most beautiful in physique too (and as if they are at early thirties); so, they would be those who enter there due to the virtuous lives that they had spent at the world (transformed to fairest of young ladies living together with their good husbands); Surah WA'QIAH has also mentioned that Allah would even provide HOORS, that are the most beautiful women there, as wives to those men who are among the best of men of JANNAH and very near to Him; He has specifically created them to live-on with such righteous men at that most beautiful place; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT from 59 to the last of the Ruku that we all study currently, relates about the disbelievers; Allah would command them at the Day of Judgment to get aside, away from the righteous persons; Allah would remind all of these disbelievers that He had told them to remain cautious of misguidance of the Satan as he is their sworn enemy; He had told them to remain attentive to Him totally as for that only, Allah provides them their lives; they should have seen that many of persons among the mankind, he has led astray away from the right path;

the result of their disbelief at the world is that here at Judgment, they will enter the hell-fire; note that Allah will set a seal upon mouths of those among disbelievers, who are most deceitful and deny their wrongs with utmost resistance there, so their hands would speak of their wrongs and their feet would testify against them in confirmation to their hands, about what they had been doing at the world; Allah gave them ample space to accept the Truth but they denied it categorically; if Allah willed, He could have turned them blind so they would have become unable to see the way they trod and if He willed, He could have transformed their forms in such manner that they would have become unable to walk on or to turn back from their position; so they need to observe that Allah is most Merciful to them as He provides them ample space at the world with ability to live on their lives in worthy manner physically, so that they accept the fundamental teachings of Islam; if they get into extreme trouble at the Day of Judgment by their rejection to the Truth, it would be due to their own doings and not any injustice from Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

YA-SEEN-The Last Ruku

68. And whomsoever We cause to live long, We reduce (him) to an abject state in constitution; do they not then understand?

69. And We have not taught him poetry, nor is it meet for him; it is nothing but reminder and Quran that clarifies.

70. That it may warn him who would have life, and (that) the word may prove true against the disbelievers.

71. Do they not see that We have created cattle for them, out of what Our hands have wrought, so they are their masters?

72. And We have subjected them to them, so some of them they have to ride upon, and some of them they eat.

73. And therein they have advantages and drinks; will they not then be grateful?

74. And they have taken gods besides Allah that they may be helped.

75. (But) they shall not be able to assist them, and they shall be a host brought up before them.

76. Therefore let not their speech grieve you; surely We know what they do in secret and what they do openly.

77. Does not man see that We have created him from the small seed? Then lo! he is an open disputant.

78. And he strikes out a similitude for Us and forgets his own creation. Says he: Who will give life to the bones when they are rotten?

79. Say: He will give life to them Who brought them into existence at first, and He is Cognizant of all creation

80. He Who has made for you the fire (to burn) from the green tree, so that with it you kindle (fire).

81. Is not He Who created the heavens and the earth able to create the like of them? Yea! and He is the Creator (of all), the Knower.

82. His command, when He intends anything, is only to say to it: Be, so it is.

83. Therefore glory be to Him in Whose hand is the kingdom of all things, and to Him you shall be brought back.

The Ruku commences by mentioning the plain fact that the person for whom Allah makes life lengthy, He turns that person extremely weak in physique; it implies that the disbelievers need to understand that He is totally able to change their constitution at any period of their lives; AAYAAT ahead tell them that they need to revise their attitude about the Quran as it is not some poetry but such true guidance that clarifies what attitudes are needed to take at all issues of life to lead the life upon the virtuous manner; note that there were such disbelievers there who called the Prophet PBUH as poet because much of poetry consists of imaginary things and they tried to give impression that the Quran has imaginary discussions which he presents by his own thoughts; Allah answers to their disrespect to the Prophet PBUH that He has not taught him to say poetry and saying of poetry certainly is not compatible to his honorable status; Surah SAAFFAAT-35 & 36 states about such disbelievers when they would have entered the hell-fire, "surely they used to behave proudly when it was said to them- there is no god but Allah; and (they used) to say- what! shall we indeed give up our gods for the sake of a mad poet?"; Allah refutes their disrespectful notion by the statement at AAYAT-37 there, "nay- he has come with the Truth and has verified the apostles"; may Allah save all persons that they ever disrespect the Prophet PBUH as that leads to utmost ruin of life, not only at AKHIRAT but even at the world; the last Ruku of YA-SEEN tells ahead that Allah has given him the Holy Book Quran so that it warns such person who still has the humane sense inside and needs the awareness of his safety at AKHIRAT, and so that the judgment of extreme punishment becomes valid upon all disbelievers; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-71, 72 & 73 mention the blessing of Allah upon all persons that He has provided them command over the cattle that He has created to provide benefits to them in many different ways; surely, whatever convenience He has provided to the man, that does ask him to remain most grateful to Him; all persons need to see that He has provided only convenience to all mankind by His creation and not any trouble though they do have their examination as they live on at the world; AAYAAT-74, 75 & 76 mention that the wrongs of disbelievers would only cause extreme loss to them by falling against them at Judgment so their disrespectful speech needs not grieve the Prophet PBUH; they erroneously believe in some creation of Allah as worthy of their adoration because they think that they would assist them if any trouble falls upon them; rather they would stand against them at the Day of Judgment and thus, they would offer no assistance to them; all disbelievers would certainly have to pay for all of their wrongs because Allah knows totally well whatever they do in secret and whatever they do openly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the six AAYAAT ahead respond to the notion of disbelievers that when the bones of the man become rotten, how would they come to life again; Allah tells the disbelievers in these AAYAAT that they know that He has provided life to the mankind by small seed but they forget about that and take Him as unable to give life to mankind again; He certainly would bring all persons to life again and He is totally able to do so; all of men see that He brings fire at forth from the green tree which seemingly does not have the potential for it; note that this is an indication to such trees at Arabia then, which emitted fire at friction; He has such might that He has created whole of this most amazing universe, all heavens and the earth on which the mankind lives, and He certainly is the only Creator and He never loses his attributes and He certainly is the Knower of creating anything He wills; AAYAT-82 mentions in clear terms, "His command, when He intends anything, is only to say to it- 'Be' - so it is"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku, that also is the last AAYAT of the Surah, tells explicitly that Allah only has all true authority; surely, all persons would see the outcome of their deeds that they did at their respective lives at the world, when they return at AKHIRAT to Allah; it states, "therefore glory be to Him in Whose hand is the kingdom of all things, and to Him you shall be brought back"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah SAAFFAAT
(Consists of 5 Ruku; MK-7)

SAAFFAAT-The First Ruku

1. I swear by those who draw themselves out in ranks
2. Then those who drive away with reproof,
3. Then those who recite, being mindful,
4. Most surely your Allah is One:
5. The Lord of the heavens and the earth and what is between them; and the Lord of the easts.

6. Surely We have adorned the nearest heaven with an adornment, the stars,
7. And (there is) a safeguard against every rebellious Satan.
8. They cannot listen to the exalted assembly and they are thrown at from every side,
9. Being driven off, and for them is a perpetual chastisement,
10. Except him who snatches off but once, then there follows him a brightly shining flame.
11. Then ask them whether they are stronger in creation or those (others) whom We have created. Surely We created them of sticky clay.
12. Nay! you wonder while they mock,
13. And when they are reminded, they mind not,
14. And when they see a sign they incite one another to scoff,
15. And they say: This is nothing but clear magic:
16. What! when we are dead and have become dust and bones, shall we then certainly be raised,
17. Or our fathers of yore?
18. Say: Aye! and you shall be abject.
19. So it shall only be a single cry, when lo! they shall see.
20. And they shall say: O woe to us! this is the day of requital.
21. This is the day of the Judgment which you called a lie.

Allah has taken oath of some of His creation at the beginning of few of Surah with words that end with - AAT and that include Surah ZAARIYAAT, MURSALAAT, NAZI'AAT and AA'DIYAAT besides this Surah SAAFFAAT; all these Surah except for this Surah, are at the last part of the Quran; all these note that Allah may take the oath of any of His creation by His will though the authentic Ahadith has commanded the Muslims to take the oath of Allah only on good deeds; note also that He does not need to take oaths to present His statements yet He takes them according to the statement that He presents so in this manner, He provides strength to the statement; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah swears by angels here and the first three AAYAAT read about them respectively that these angels are most obedient to Allah remaining in ranks; and these angels drive off with harsh dealing all satanic persons who intend to come near to them to get some info about future events or to infiltrate the good teachings of Islam by some doubts if they get it to misguide as many as they can; and these angels brought the true guidance from Allah to His Messengers, by recitation of His words which also include His last Prophet, Muhammad PBUH; the statement for which the oath of these angels is taken is that "most surely your Allah is One- the Lord of the heavens and the earth and what is between them- and the Lord of the easts"; the mention of easts in plural here signifies that there are different points at the east from where the sun rises all around the year and these all are eastern points for a given place; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT from 6 to 10 point out that if any Satan (i.e. an evil Jinn) get access to some info from the exalted assembly of angels, there follows him a brightly shining flame; the note at the second Ruku of HIJR provides much detail to this and briefly, these AAYAAT tell that when some of SHAYATIN (plural of Satan) become bold enough to approach the angels at the sky near the earth (to which they have access) and steal some of their conversation to get some idea of something to happen somewhere at the near future then as they run back with it to the earth, a flame follows them on their way back to eliminate them at the space before they return to earth; note that when a meteoroid enters the atmosphere of the earth at a speed in excess of 20 km/s, the heating due to the speed of that object towards the earth (because of its kinetic energy), produces the flame of light as it glows and leaves the trail of glowing particles at its passage; it is then commonly referred to as the "shooting star" (and if it collides with the ground, it is meteorite); so Allah has set angels at guard at posts at the sky near to earth so that the evil Jinn do not approach the places therein and steal any of conversation of angels that discloses some event of the near future to happen somewhere at the earth; when the angels talk about some events to come, some evil Jinn (i.e. Satan) may have the power to approach them, see them and hear them; they may manage to steal some of their speech and as they return to earth, the flame of the meteoroid follows them and then it destroys them at space; Al-Hamdu Lillah; one of the significant things here is that the flaming meteors are at the space all the time falling towards earth so this means that flame captures whatever is at its passage and this implies that it happens as the fact of the matter that they follow the Jinn running away to earth and it is not that they specifically target the Jinn only; Surah JINN tells about the group of Jinn which had heard the beautiful AAYAAT of the Quran and there we find that they mentioned in their comments on what they heard, "and that we sought to reach heaven (SAMAA i.e. the sky above near to earth), but we found it filled with strong guards and flaming stars; and that we used to sit in some of the sitting-places thereof to steal a hearing, but he who would listen now would find a flame lying in wait for him (as he runs back to earth)" (JINN-8 & 9); so this tells the change in situation somewhere at ancient times before Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, when He commanded the angels for more alertness at guard and the flames then multiplied highly in quantity; however with all said, the last of statements to this all is that most certainly, Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last eleven AAYAAT of the Ruku answer all those who disbelieved in AKHIRAT, that it would surely take place and raising the dead to life is not any problem to Allah, the true Lord, Who had made this most amazing universe with principles that they follow by the will of Allah whereas He has made the man with sticky TEEN (muddy clay); AAYAT-12 compares their attitude to the righteous attitude that the Prophet PBUH appreciates how beautifully Allah has created all His creation with wonderful principles to follow but the disbelievers mock upon the true guidance that Allah provides to them; their attitude is to ignore any of the true guidance that Allah presents to them through the Prophet PBUH and they incite one another to ridicule that by calling it magic which tells them that when they are dead and have become dust and bones, they shall then certainly be raised, and even their forefathers; AAYAT-18 asks the Prophet PBUH to tell them that they all surely shall be raised from dead and they all surely shall be extremely abject; they would rise by the single cry of extreme admonition of the trumpet when it blows for the second time; then they would realize that all which they were told at the world about Judgment was totally true; that day they would see their respective accounts of deeds and have to pay for all their wrongs that they had committed at the world; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SAAFFAAT-The Second Ruku

22. Gather together those who were unjust and their associates, and what they used to worship

23. Besides Allah, then lead them to the way to hell.

24. And stop them, for they shall be questioned:

25. What is the matter with you that you do not help each other?

26. Nay! on that day they shall be submissive.

27. And some of them shall advance towards others, questioning each other.

28. They shall say: Surely you used to come to us from the right side.

29. They shall say: Nay, you (yourselves) were not believers;

30. And we had no authority over you, but you were an inordinate people;

31. So the sentence of our Lord has come to pass against us: (now) we shall surely taste;

32. So we led you astray, for we ourselves were erring.

33. So they shall on that day be sharers in the chastisement one with another.

34. Surely thus do We deal with the guilty.

35. Surely they used to behave proudly when it was said to them: There is no god but Allah;

36. And to say: What! shall we indeed give up our gods for the sake of a mad poet?

37. Nay: he has come with the truth and verified the apostles.

38. Most surely you will taste the painful punishment.

39. And you shall not be rewarded except (for) what you did.

40. Save the servants of Allah, the purified ones.

41. For them is a known sustenance,

42. Fruits, and they shall be highly honored,

43. In gardens of pleasure,

44. On thrones, facing each other.

45. A bowl shall be made to go round them from running spring,

46. White, delicious to those who drink.

47. There shall be no trouble in it, nor shall they be exhausted therewith.

48. And with them shall be those who restrain the eyes, having beautiful eyes;

49. As if they were eggs carefully protected.

50. Then shall some of them advance to others, questioning each other.

51. A speaker from among them shall say: Surely I had a comrade of mine,

52. Who said: What! are you indeed of those who accept (the Truth)?

53. What! when we are dead and have become dust and bones, shall we then be certainly brought to judgment?

54. He shall say: Will you look on?
55. Then he shall look down and see him in the midst of hell.
56. He shall say: By Allah! you had almost caused me to perish;
57. And had it not been for the favor of my Lord, I would certainly have been among those brought up.
58. Is it then that we are not going to die,
59. Except our previous death? And we shall not be chastised?
60. Most surely this is the mighty achievement.
61. For the like of this then let the workers work.
62. Is this better as an entertainment or the tree of Zaqqum?
63. Surely We have made it to be a trial to the unjust.
64. Surely it is tree that springs out from the bottom of the hell;
65. Its produce is as it were the heads of the devils.
66. Then most surely they shall eat of it and fill (their) bellies with it.
67. Then most surely they shall have after it to drink of a mixture prepared in boiling water.
68. Then most surely their return shall be to hell.
69. Surely they found their fathers going astray,
70. So in their footsteps they are being hastened on.
71. And certainly most of the ancients went astray before them,

72. And certainly We sent among them such persons who warned.

73. Then see how was the end of those warned,

74. Except the servants of Allah, the purified ones.

This Ruku of SAAFFAAT is the longest in the Quran by count of AAYAAT as it comprises of 53 of them whereas its fifth Ruku is the second among the longest Ruku in it as it comprises of 44 AAYAAT; the third among the longest Ruku in it is at Surah ABAS, the eightieth Surah that has 42 AAYAAT; this Ruku at SAAFFAAT narrates about the Day of Judgment and beyond, to present the pleasant life of dwellers at JANNAH and the wretched life of those who are at the hell-fire; it explicitly tells that each person has to decide for himself/herself by keeping the outcome of his/her deeds in view which they would bring at the Day of Judgment as each person has to face his/her doings alone; it also tells the true success would only come at fore at the Day of Judgment for all those only who did show their worth for JANNAAT, the most beautiful gardens; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it starts by mention of the command of Allah to angels to gather all unjust persons at specific place there at grounds of HASHR from where the angels would lead them to the hell-fire; before that, Allah would shame them why they do not help each other now at HASHR though at the world, they showed high disrespect to the Islamic teachings together; they shall develop a quarrel between them at their stay there as those who were followers to such persons who led them to disbelief at the world, would blame them for their extreme plight as they had constantly pursued them to wrongs; they would deny this charge by the claim that they had no authority over those followers but those had acted wrong by their own choice; they would acknowledge that the sentence of Allah has come to pass against them too and that they also are among the wrong-doers, so they all are in the same wretched condition; note that Allah told the Satan when he had said that he would misguide the mankind, that He would put him and all who follow him in the hell-fire; Surah SUAD-84 & 85 state, "Allah said- the truth then is and the truth only do I speak, that I will most certainly fill hell with you and with all those among them (i.e. among the mankind) who follow you" (see also Surah AARAAF-18 and Surah HIJR-42 & 43); so Allah would punish them all on that day as that is how He treats those persons who are extremely guilty; certainly He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAAT tell how disrespectful these disbelievers were at life at the world as when they were asked to believe in Allah, the true Lord, they used to defend those whom they took as equal to Allah in authority; they used to give names to Muhammad (PBUH ) and called him an imaginary poet afflicted with madness; the fact is this that he had come to them with the true guidance from Allah and he had presented the same teachings that other of His Messengers had given to their peoples; so now all disbelievers would get the most severe punishment which surely is the outcome of their own doings only, because Allah is never unjust to anyone; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the only successful persons at that Day would be those servants of Allah who lived remaining most sincere to Him; they would get more good returns than their good deeds ask for; they would receive such splendid sustenance that Allah has told for them at the Quran at different places which are most wonderful fruits that they would receive with utmost honor in the beautiful JANNAAT (gardens) and it certainly would have all kinds of pleasures; they would be seated there on thrones facing each other whereas a bowl of pure clean wine would be circulated among them which would be most delightful in taste; note that AAYAT-46 mentions it as white which is to express its total purity rather than its color as that wine there would never cause any dizziness to the dwellers of JANNAAT; certainly they would be in the highest of pleasure at those gardens (see also the note at Surah TOOR); Al-Hamdu Lillah; they would never face any trouble and they would never become tired of enjoying the blessings from Allah there; and also, they would have most beautiful women for them, who would care only for them as their liability, with most beautiful eyes and they are as hidden and as pure as the inside of eggs; they would receive them besides the company of their good wives; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT then, depict a scene that in JANNAAT, the good men there would be conversing to each other when a man among them, would say about one of his comrades at the world that he mocked his true belief and tried to pursue him to disbelief but Allah saved him by His blessing and he is now among the dwellers of the gardens; he would tell those with him at JANNAAT that his comrade used to say that when all persons are dead and have become dust and bones, how they would be brought to Judgment; at this point of discussion, Allah would ask him to see that misguiding man and as he peeks, he would see him in the midst of the hell; then he would exclaim to him, "by Allah! you had almost caused me to perish; and had it not been for the favor of my Lord, I would certainly have been among those brought up (to the hell-fire)"; so he would show the highest of gratitude to Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; he would now shame that man who was his comrade at the world by asking him what thoughts does he have now about the Judgment; and how does he take this matter that they, the dwellers of JANNAAT, are not going to die ever after the previous death that they had faced from life at the world and that they never would be chastised; this depiction tells that all those who live at the world, have space to show their worth to get the pleasure of Allah here and now and achieve JANNAAT due to it and if they fail by keeping wrong belief, they would face extreme chastisement; it also tells that the person who takes wrongs in his deeds, is responsible for his/her extreme fault himself/herself as he/she has to keep away from such misguidance totally; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at AAYAT-60 & 61, Allah tells, "most surely this is the mighty achievement and for the like of this then, let the workers work"; AAYAAT ahead tell about the wretched lives of the disbelievers at the hell-fire that their foods would come from Zaqqum that is the tree which springs out from the bottom of the hell-fire and its produce are as it were the heads of devils and this probably means that they seem like the head of serpents from which the dwellers of the hell-fire shall eat to fill their bellies; and when they need to drink, they shall drink boiling water that would have the residue of wounds mixed in it; their dwelling place would remain the hell-fire in which they would dwell forever; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-69 to 73 state about their status at life at the world that how ignorant they were of the importance to accept the Truth; they followed in the footsteps of their forefathers hurriedly who had lived their lives remaining oblivious to the true guidance; this has been the cause of disbelief of many of those too who had lived before them though Allah sent His Messengers to warn them of the consequence of their disbelief of the Truth; every person has to consider the invitation to the right path by himself/herself as every person has to face his/her doings alone at the Day of Judgment; if they do not get success there and rather receive extreme punishment, they would only have themselves to blame; the last AAYAAT of the Ruku conclude the message most clearly, "then see how was the end of those warned, except the servants of Allah, the purified ones"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SAAFFAAT-The Third Ruku

75. And Noah did certainly call upon Us, and most excellent answerer of prayer are We.

76. And We delivered him and his followers from the mighty distress.

77. And We made his offspring the survivors.

78. And We perpetuated to him (praise) among the later generations.

79. Salutation to Noah among the nations.

80. Thus do We surely reward the doers of good.

81. Surely he was of Our believing servants.

82. Then We drowned the others

83. And most surely Ibrahim followed his way.

84. When he came to his Lord with sincere heart,

85. When he said to his father and his people: What is it that you worship?

86. A lie-- gods besides Allah-- that you desire?
87. What is then your idea about the Lord of the worlds?
88. Then did he cast a glance at the stars,
89. Then he said, 'I am indeed sick';
90. So they went away from him, turning back.
91. Then he turned aside to their gods secretly and said: What! do you not eat?
92. What is the matter with you that you do not speak?
93. Then he turned against them secretly, smiting them with the right hand (i.e. with all might).
94. So they (people) advanced towards him, hastening.
95. Said he: What! do you worship what you hew out?
96. And Allah has created you and what you make.
97. They said: Build for him a furnace, then cast him into the burning fire.
98. And they desired a war against him, but We brought them low.
99. And he said: Surely I fly to my lord; He will guide me.
100. My Lord! grant me of the doers of good deeds.
101. So We gave him the good news of a boy, possessing forbearance.
102. And when he attained to working with him, he said: O my son! surely I have seen in a dream that I should sacrifice you; consider then what you see. He said: O my father! do what you are commanded; if Allah please, you will find me of the patient ones.

103. So when they both submitted and he threw him down upon his forehead,
104. And We called out to him saying: O Ibrahim!
105. You have indeed shown the truth of the vision; surely thus do We reward the doers of good:
106. Most surely this is a manifest trial.
107. And We ransomed him with momentous sacrifice.
108. And We perpetuated (praise) to him among the later generations.
109. Peace be on Ibrahim.
110. Thus do We reward the doers of good.
111. Surely he was one of Our believing servants.
112. And We gave him the good news of Isaac, a prophet among the good ones.
113. And We showered Our blessings on him and on Isaac; and of their offspring are the doers of good, and (also) those who are clearly unjust to their own souls.

The third Ruku of SAAFFAAT narrates the challenge that Noah-AS and Abraham-AS faced from their peoples but they kept firm upon the fundamental teachings of Islam; it tells that relations are beneficial to a person only when they guide to remain attentive to Allah so if that is not the case, then the good person needs strictly to avoid their manner of living; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that one of the sons of Noah disbelieved in the good teachings that he provided to all his people for many of centuries and his wife too remained among the disbelievers; and note also that the father of Abraham was an extreme adversary to his teachings but he never followed his wrong path; in-fact, he tried his best to bring him and all his people to the right path of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT at the beginning of the Ruku state, "And Noah did certainly call upon Us (to help him against wrongs of his nation), and most excellent answerer of prayer are We; and We delivered him and his followers from the mighty distress (that they were facing from the disbelievers); and We made his offspring the survivors; and We perpetuated to him (praise) among the later generations (that all peoples respect him); salutation to Noah among the nations; thus do We surely reward the doers of good; surely, he was of Our believing servants (and he kept firm upon the Truth even when he was facing troubles due to the enmity of disbelievers); then We drowned the others"; see also the note at NOOH, that is Surah-71 at the last part of the Holy Book Quran; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAT-83, the Ruku narrates about Abraham-AS to its last, who was among those who followed the path of Noah-AS; this narration also tells that he also remained most attentive to Allah with QALBE-SALEEM (i.e. with heart that has utmost sincerity to Allah) even though his people were extremely averse to his guidance; he told his father and his people at UR in most clear terms that whatever they worship is idiocy as they must worship Allah only Who only has all authority and Who only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-88 & 89 read, "-then did he (i.e. Abraham-AS) cast a glance at the stars; and he said, 'I am indeed sick'"; I, MSD, have written supplementary note about the Islamic ruling for astrology after the note at the fifth Ruku of Surah ANBIYA and it would do good to read it to understand these AAYAAT better; note that these AAYAAT imply that Abraham-AS did have the awareness of astrology and it is interesting to note that IDRIS-AS too, who also was one of the Prophets of Allah, two thousand years before him, knew astrology with expertise; often the comments on this AAYAT, mention that he saw at stars randomly to give the impression that there is some ruling in astrology which tells him that he would get sick so the disbelievers did not pursue him to come to their festival and left him alone; however, taking the matter as stated in the simple manner here at SAAFFAAT without such remarks that he leaned towards any vague gestures, these AAYAAT indicate that applying astrology that he knew, he told about his own self that he is sick by the will of Allah; note that he applied the astrological interpretation to himself and kept it to the present (and not the future) without asking for any financial benefits and without disclosing how he got to his conclusion by it; he disclosed the interpretation for the sake of his plan to destroy their idols leaving the larger one to give the impression that it has done it all; so after their departure, he struck their idols with all might by an axe to destruction except for the larger one among them and we have studied about this at the note on the ninth Ruku of Surah AN'AAM too; he intended to show them how incapable those idols are against their own defense so most certainly, they are more incapable to defend any other from any calamity that falls upon them; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note well that the sentence that Abraham spoke is "INNI-SAQEEM" (i.e. I am indeed sick) and this is the sentence that relates to noun by the Arabic grammar and denotes the present; so just these couple of AAYAAT provide an insight into the ruling for astrology by Islam and certainly, all happenings take place only by the will of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; when his people found out that Abraham has destroyed the idols that they worshipped, they advanced towards him hurriedly; Abraham asked them what has happened to them that they worship what they carve by their own hands; Allah has created them and whatever they make; this remark which Abraham made to his people tells that as they make their idols by substances that Allah has created so those idols too are creation of Allah; and in addition, it leads to this deduction that whatever a person does, that even is creation of Allah so it certainly denotes His will; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the disbelievers had no answer to his true guidance so in their desperation, they decided to throw him into furnace, that was especially made for him, to burn him alive in the blazing fire; AAYAAT-69 & 70 at Surah ANBIYA tell us that Allah commanded the fire to become cool and means of safety for Abraham; as he came out safe & sound from it, his people thought better not to challenge him again; however, he decided to migrate from UR by permission of Allah with plea to Him to keep him to the right path of Islam and grant him a righteous son, who remains among the doers of good deeds; Al-Hamdu Lillah; his wife Sarah-AS and his nephew Lot-AS went along with him; later, Allah gave him the good news that he would have a son who would have good forbearance; as his son grew up and became able to assist him in his works, he told him that he has seen in a dream that he sacrifices him (i.e. his son) whereas his son said most calmly to do what he is commanded and also mentioned that if Allah please, he will find him as one of the patient persons; note that Abraham (and even his son) interpreted this dream as command of Allah to him to sacrifice his son; note also that Allah obscured it by giving it in a dream so he may fulfill the command by some substitute for his son; dreams have symbols to present their messages and if some person gets some message in it that shows his loss, it is feasible for him to protect himself by providing SADAQAH (good amounts in charity) as substitute to that loss and he shall remain sincere to

Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; however, being the Prophet of Allah, Abraham took his dream at face and took his son for sacrifice; as the Quran has not mentioned the name of his son, there has been some debate whether it was Ishmael-AS or Isaac-AS, and certainly, both of them were among the Prophets of Allah; ULAMA generally mention Ishmael as the son whom he took for sacrifice and the statement of his son is much significant in this matter as he mentioned that his father will find him among the patient persons whereas Surah ANBIYA-85 surely mentions Ishmael among the patient persons; so most probably, it was Ishmael whom Abraham took for sacrifice and that is generally accepted among the Muslims and most certainly, Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as Abraham-AS threw his son down upon his forehead, Allah stopped him from that sacrifice and appreciated that he had taken his dream at face to fulfill its demand; He told him that it surely was manifest trial for him and then He provided momentous sacrifice (that was a ram) in substitute to him so that he fulfills His command by sacrifice of that; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah appreciates Abraham-AS at the next few AAYAAT, as He appreciated Noah-AS, and He perpetuated his good name too among the later generations; Allah tells that he also remained most attentive to Him even when he was facing troubles due to the enmity of disbelievers; Allah also provided him the good news of Isaac, who would be among the doers of much good deeds; the last AAYAT tells that Allah showered His blessings on both Abraham and Isaac whereas in their off-spring (i.e. the Bani-Israel), there are the doers of good deeds and also those who are most unjust to their own souls; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SAAFFAAT-The Fourth Ruku

114. And certainly We conferred a favor on Musa and Haroun.

115. And We delivered them both and their people from the mighty distress.

116. And We helped them, so they were the vanquishers.

117. And We gave them both the Book that made (things) clear.

118. And We guided them both on the right path.

119. And We perpetuated (praise) to them among the later generations.

120. Peace be on Musa and Haroun.

121. Even thus do We reward the doers of good.

122. Surely they were both of Our believing servants.

123. And ILYAS (Elijah; Elia) was most surely of the apostles.

124. When he said to his people: Do you not guard (against evil)?

125. What! do you call upon BA'L and forsake the best of the creators,
126. Allah, your Lord and the Lord of your fathers of yore?
127. But they called him a liar, therefore they shall most surely be brought up.
128. But not the servants of Allah, the purified ones.
129. And We perpetuated to him (praise) among the later generations.
130. Peace be on Elia.
131. Even thus do We reward the doers of good.
132. Surely he was one of Our believing servants.
133. And Lot was most surely of the apostles.
134. When We delivered him and his followers, all--
135. Except an old woman (who was) amongst those who tarried.
136. Then We destroyed the others.
137. And most surely you pass by them in the morning,
138. And at night; do you not then understand?

This fourth Ruku of SAAFFAAT tells about Moses-AS, Aaron-AS, Elia-AS and Lot-AS that all these Messengers of Allah provided His message to their respective peoples according to their liability; Al-Hamdu Lillah; all these Messengers of Allah cared to live righteously and never worried about how their good TABLIGH (i.e. providing of the message of Allah to peoples) would affect their relations with people around; He appreciates all His Messengers at this Ruku too, as He appreciated Noah-AS, and mentions that He perpetuated their good names too among the later generations; the goodness stays and the falsehood goes away as this is how He has destined all matters; AAYAT-81 of Bani-Israel reads, "and say- the Truth has come and the falsehood has vanished; surely falsehood is bound to vanish"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah tells that He delivered Moses and Aaron and the Bani-Israel from troubles that the Pharaoh and his people were causing to them; they ultimately escaped from those troubles by the blessing of Allah and then He provided Torah to Moses and Aaron which clarified how to live upon the right path; this Ruku narrates about Elia too that he also was the Messenger of Allah who told the people that they must guard against evil and must not worship the idol that they name as BA'L; they all need to worship Allah Who only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; AAYAAT read here, "but they called him a liar, therefore they shall most surely be brought up (to the hell-fire); but not the servants of Allah, the purified ones; and We perpetuated to him (praise) among the later generations; peace be on Elia; even thus do We reward the doers of good; surely, he was one of Our believing servants"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; then, the Ruku narrates about Lot-AS that he also was among the Messengers of Allah and though he asked his people to worship Allah only and put His commands into their lives and abandon all shameful wrongs, yet they did not listen to him; so Allah delivered him and all his followers except for his wife, who was among the disbelievers and stayed behind, and then He destroyed all of disbelievers totally; the last of it tells the residents of Makkah that they do see this destruction day and night, as they travel to Syria for trade so do they not take heed that all those who challenge the Truth are bound to vanish; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SAAFFAAT-The Last Ruku

139. And YOUNUS (Jonah) was most surely of the apostles.

140. When he ran away to a ship completely laden,

141. So he shared (with them as they casted lots), but was of those who are cast off.

142. So the fish swallowed him while he did that for which he blamed himself

143. But had it not been that he was of those who glorify (Us),

144. He would certainly have tarried in its belly to the day when they are raised.

145. Then We cast him on to the vacant surface of the earth while he was sick.

146. And We caused to grow up for him a gourd-plant.
147. And We sent him to a hundred thousand, rather they exceeded.
148. And they believed, so We gave them provision till a time.
149. Then ask them whether your Lord has daughters and they have sons.
150. Or did We create the angels, females- while they were witnesses?
151. Now surely it is of their own lie that they say:
152. Allah has begotten; and most surely they are liars.
153. Has He chosen daughters in preference to sons?
154. What is the matter with you, how is it that you judge?
155. Will you not then mind?
156. Or have you a clear authority?
157. Then bring your book, if you are truthful.
158. And they assert a relationship between Him and the jinn; and certainly the jinn do know that they shall surely be brought up;
159. Glory be to Allah (for freedom) from what they describe;
160. But that never is from the sincere servants of Allah, the purified ones.
161. So surely you and what you worship,
162. Not against Him can you cause (any) to fall into trial,
163. Save him who will go to the hell-fire.

164. And there is none of us but has an assigned place, 165. And most surely we are they who draw themselves out in ranks,
166. And we are most surely they who declare the glory
(of Allah).
167. And surely they used to say:
168. Had we a reminder from those of yore,
169. We would certainly have been the servants of Allah-- the purified ones.
170. But (now) they disbelieve in it, so they will come to know.
171. And certainly Our word has already gone forth in respect of Our servants, the apostles:
172. Most surely they shall be the assisted ones 173. And most surely Our host alone shall be the victorious ones.
174. Therefore turn away from them till a time,
175. And (then) see them, so they too shall see.
176. What! would they then hasten on Our chastisement?
177. But when it shall descend in their court, evil shall then be the morning of the warned ones.
178. And turn away from them till a time
179. And (then) see, for they too shall see.
180. Glory be to your Lord, the Lord of Honor, above what they describe.
181. And peace be on the apostles.

182. And all praise is due to Allah, the Lord of the worlds.

The last Ruku begins with the narration of YOUNUS (Jonah) that he also was among the Messengers of Allah to his people but he left them early without waiting for the permission of Allah to depart from there; note that when any of His Messengers provided His message totally to his people and they did not comply to it, then He asked him to leave the place and to tell them plainly that the most disastrous calamity would hit them soon; he did provide his people the message from Allah and did tell them of the coming disaster upon them but he left them early by his mistaken thought that he has to depart from there now; he did not wait for the permission of Allah to leave them so due to such an error of judgment on his part, Allah commanded one of the most huge fish to swallow him; it happened that the ship in which he had mounted, got into some trouble and the persons therein decided to throw someone out from it; they casted lots for this purpose and the name of Jonah came at fore; the most huge fish might have been one of the most huge whales that live at waters with the fish so it also is taken as among them though actually it is one of the mammals; it was only when he recited the prayer to Allah with all heart to release him from that utmost anxiety, that this situation ended for him; Allah has told about that prayer at Surah ANBIA-87 and its wording shows that YOUNUS-AS asked for mercy by total acceptance that he has been most unjust to his own self due to his untimely haste; Allah tells that if he did not recite that DUA which He accepted, he would have remained at its belly till the Day of Judgment; Allah released him from that utmost anxiety and that most huge fish threw him out in such manner that he found the shore though he was extremely weak; he found safety to his life as Allah grew such plant near to him that enabled him to become well by the will of Allah; afterwards, Allah provided him again the task as His Messenger to his people that were hundred thousand persons and even more, if the count includes children too and visitors there; this clearly denotes that Allah pardoned him totally; this incident emphasizes the issue that even the Messengers of Allah had to take care that they remain firm to the manner that He asks of them; as his people accepted the Truth so Allah gave them sustenance till some period of time to show their commitment to it and as such, their worth for success at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead present their response towards the false notions that the disbelievers at Makkah professed which were most disrespectful to Allah; the Ruku first addresses the issue that they took angels as daughters to Allah so He asks the Prophet PBUH to question them why they take them as His daughters

whereas for themselves, they prefer to have sons; by their disbelief, they boldly give such impression that they are giving respect to Allah; AAYAAT-149 to 152 state, "then ask them whether your Lord has daughters and they have sons or did We create the angels, females -while they were witnesses? -now, surely it is of their own lie that they say- Allah has begotten- and most surely they are liars"; Allah shames them that they make such claims that show their double-standard about the female so how it is that they claim that Allah has chosen females in preference to males which they deny for themselves; note that this does not mean any disrespect to women but this discloses their double-standard; certainly, Allah does not have any offspring, son or daughter, as He is totally free from whatever the disbelievers say to disrespect Him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; He tells the disbelievers to mind what they say and if they think that they have some evidence for their disbelief, they ought to bring that in an authentic written form if they are true in their statement; there are such persons too among them who claim some relation between Him and the jinn whereas the jinn do know that they shall surely be brought up to the hell-fire if they live by disbelief at the world; from AAYAAT-159 to 163, the Ruku explicitly presents the authority of Allah, "Glory be to Allah (for freedom) from what they describe; but that never is from the sincere servants of Allah, the purified ones (i.e. they never give any disrespectful statement about Allah, the true Lord); so surely you and what you worship, (by all that) not against Him can you cause (any) to fall into trial, save him who will go to the hell-fire (due to his own intentional acceptance of disrespectful statements about Allah)"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-164, 165 and 166 present the statement of angels as response to what the disbelievers spoke about them; they read, "and there is none of us but has an assigned place, and most surely we are they who draw themselves out in ranks, and we are most surely they who declare the glory (of Allah)"; see also the first three AAYAAT of this Surah that mention the angels too and that are explicit to these traits; note for expressions of the Quran here that this also is among the manners of the Quran that it presents the response of angels directly without any reference to them and the reader would understand it by words implied; we have seen this manner at Surah MARIAM-64 too where the Quran presents the statement of Gabriel-AS without mentioning him, "and we do not descend but by the command of your Lord; to Him belongs whatever is before us and whatever is behind us and whatever is between these, and your Lord is not forgetful"; the Prophet PBUH had asked Gabriel-AS why he takes time to descend with the Quran to which he had replied as the AAYAT has stated; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next four AAYAAT tell that there were such persons among the disbelievers at Makkah, who used to say before the Quran descended on the Prophet PBUH that if they had received guidance from Allah as previous people had received, they would have been the most sincere followers of that; but they have disbelieved and they shall see the consequence; AAYAAT-171, 172 & 173 declare explicitly that Allah has ruled this principle that those who live by the fundamental teachings of Islam, Allah would assist them at all situations and they only would remain victorious ultimately; the lives of His Messengers point this out clearly that Allah cares for all such persons who are most attentive to Him sincerely, though the disbelievers may put all their efforts against them; the next couple of AAYAAT direct the Prophet PBUH to turn away from them till some period of time as ultimately, the result would come by this principle and the true believers would certainly be victorious; everyone would plainly see the situation of disbelievers then, that they either are eliminated or they either live submissively under command of the true believers; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next four AAYAAT tell about their haste that they ask for disaster upon them on their disbelief; when it shall descend on them, that would be most severely punishing time for them; these AAYAAT direct the Prophet PBUH to turn away from them till some period of time as ultimately, the true believers would certainly be victorious; everyone would plainly see the situation of disbelievers that they either are eliminated or either live submissively under command of the true believers; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAAT of the Ruku, that are often recited at sermon on Friday and that also are the last AAYAAT at this Surah, declare the ultimate result to all happenings at the world; they read, "Glory be to your Lord, the Lord of Honor, above what they describe; and peace be on the apostles; and all praise is due to Allah, the Lord of the worlds"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah SUAD

(Consists of 5 Ruku; MK-4)

SUAD-The First Ruku

1. SUAD, I swear by the Quran, full of admonition.
2. Nay! those who disbelieve are in self-exaltation and opposition.
3. How many did We destroy before them of the generations, then they cried while the time of escaping had passed away.
4. And they wonder that there has come to them a warner from among themselves, and the disbelievers say: This is an enchanter, a liar.

5. What! - he leaves the gods and takes single Allah (as the only one to worship)? A strange thing is this, to be sure!

6. And the chief persons of them break forth, saying: Go and steadily adhere to your gods; this is most surely a thing sought after.

7. We never heard of this in the former faith; this is nothing but a forgery:

8. Has the reminder been revealed to him from among us? Nay! they are in doubt as to My reminder. Nay! they have not yet tasted My chastisement!

9. Or is it that they have the treasures of the mercy of your Lord, the Mighty, the great Giver?

10. Or is it that theirs is the kingdom of the heavens and the earth and what is between them? Then let them ascend by ropes.

11. A defeated host are all the factions that are here.

12. The people of Noah and AAD, and Pharaoh, who was related to spikes firmly planted, rejected (apostles) before them.

13. And THAMUD and the people of Lot and the dwellers of the thicket; these were the parties.

14. There was none of them but called the apostles liars, so just was My retribution.

Surah SUAD is one of those three Surah that start with one letter, each one among the MUQATTA'AAT;

the other two are QAAF, the fiftieth Surah, and NOON (also named as Al-QALAM), the sixty-eighth Surah; for beginning AAYAAT of this Surah, note that once Abu-TALIB, the paternal uncle of the Prophet PBUH who had brought him up and cared for him much, got ill; the chiefs of Quraysh came to him hurriedly to settle the issue between them and the Prophet PBUH; Abu-TALIB asked him about the dispute and how it may be settled; he plainly told him that it would only settle if all these chiefs accept that Allah only is the true authority to Whom they have to answer for all their deeds; also, they need to believe him as the last Messenger of Allah and obey Allah totally along-with their followers at Makkah; so he told them explicitly to believe in Allah only because He only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord, Whom they need to obey unconditionally; the chiefs, who used to call him magician and liar (though before he presented the teachings of Islam to them, they used to take him as the most truthful person among them), rejected this by the taunt that it is strange to them to take Allah as the only true authority when they believe in so many idols with their concept that they also are associates in His authority; they left the place with their negative comment that they would assist their idols by staying firm upon the belief in them and that Muhammad (PBUH) intends only to have command over them by his teachings; they also mentioned that they have not heard about such teaching before, and this statement clearly denotes their ignorant oblivious attitude about the teaching for TAUHID; so objections that they raised were firstly that Muhammad (PBUH) was magician and liar -they called him by such names as they did not have any valid reason to question his righteous character-; secondly, they said that he wanted command over them by his teachings that he has invented by himself and thirdly, they mentioned that they have never heard any teaching about TAUHID ever; another of their doubts related to the person of the Prophet PBUH as they questioned why Allah chose Muhammad (PBUH) to present His message whereas there were so many rich and influential persons among them; Allah responds to this doubt that they are not as opposed to the Prophet PBUH as they have enmity to the righteous mention of Allah in the Quran and that is due to the fact that they have not yet tasted the extreme severe punishment of Allah; it is only by His will that He chooses any man as His Messenger and certainly, no one has any right to question His will; if they feel bad about it, then let them climb-up by ropes and try to stop the Quran that Allah is providing to the Prophet PBUH by the angel Gabriel-AS; AAYAAT-9 & 10 read, "or is it that they have the treasures of the mercy of your Lord, the Mighty, the great Giver? - or is it that theirs is the kingdom of the heavens and the earth and what is between them? - then let them ascend by ropes (to stop His blessing upon the Prophet PBUH)"; but these all are such factions that have gathered at this place as such gathering that challenges the teachings of the Prophet PBUH; they would be punished most severely as the previous disbelievers had been punished; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah addresses their third objection by presenting this fact plainly that there were many of His Messengers who provided the teaching of TAUHID and though after Ishmael-AS they did not have any of His Messengers in them, yet they certainly did know about TAUHID as there were many persons around who presented it explicitly to them by Torah and it amounts to fibs only from their side to say that they have not heard of such thing before from anywhere; the last three AAYAAT of the Ruku read, "the people of Noah and AAD (i.e. the people of HOODH), and Pharaoh who was related to spikes (i.e. pyramids) firmly planted, rejected (apostles) before them, and THAMUD (i.e. the people of SALEH) and the people of Lot and the dwellers of the thicket (i.e. the people of SHOAIIB); these were the gatherings (like this gathering at this place); there was none of them but called the apostles liars, so just was My retribution"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SUAD-The Second Ruku

15. Nor do these await aught but a single cry, there being no delay in it.

16. And they say: O our Lord! hasten on to us our portion before the day of reckoning.

17. Bear patiently whatever they say, and remember Our servant DAWUD, the possessor of power; surely he was ever turning in repentance (to Allah).

18. Surely We made the mountains to sing the glory (of Allah) in unison with him at the evening and the sunrise,

19. And the birds gathered together; all joined in singing with him.

20. And We strengthened his kingdom and We gave him wisdom and a clear judgment.

21. And has there come to you the story of the complainants, when they made an entry into the private chamber by ascending over the walls?

22. When they entered in upon DAWUD and he was frightened at them, they said: Fear not; two complainants, of whom one has acted wrongfully towards the other, therefore decide between us with justice, and do not act unjustly, and guide us to the right way.

23. Surely this is my brother; he has ninety-nine ewes and I have a single ewe; but he said: Make it over to me, and he has prevailed against me in discourse.

24. He said: Surely he has been unjust to you in demanding your ewe (to add) to his own ewes; and most surely, most partners act wrongfully towards one another save those who believe and do good, and very few are they; and DAWUD was sure that We had tried him, so he sought the protection of his Lord and he fell down bowing and turned time after time (to Him).

25. Therefore We rectified for him this, and most surely he had nearness to Us and an excellent resort.

26. O DAWUD! surely We have made you ruler in the land; so judge between men with justice and do not follow desire, lest it should lead you astray from the path of Allah; (as for) those who go astray from the path of Allah, they shall surely have a severe punishment because they forgot the day of reckoning.

The disbelievers at Makkah had presented their doubts about the guidance of the Prophet PBUH and had rejected the fundamental teachings of Islam; the previous Ruku answered their doubts except for their statement that Muhammad (PBUH) wanted command over them by his teachings that he has invented by himself; this Surah defends the Prophet PBUH by mentioning at AAYAAT-27, 28 & 29 ahead that Allah has sent the Quran that all persons get awareness to the Truth and live their lives with efforts to get the pleasure of Allah as that only is the aim of life; but before that, it narrates about DAWUD-AS ahead to console the Prophet PBUH that his bearing of the negative speech of disbelievers with patience, would ultimately bring favorable results even at life at the world for all righteous persons; Allah made DAWUD His Prophet and He also provided him the kingdom of the Bani-Israel; AAYAAT-15, 16 & 17 read, "nor do these (disbelievers) await aught but a single cry (that would fall on them as punishment even at the world), there being no delay in it (when it comes); and they (foolishly) say- O our Lord! hasten on to us our portion before the day of reckoning (because they do not believe that they would ever be questioned on their wrong-doings); (O Prophet PBUH)- bear patiently whatever they say, and remember Our servant DAWUD, the possessor of power (that Allah has given to him); surely he was ever turning in repentance (to Allah)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the narration about him tells that Allah indicates any unintentional error that any of His Prophets make (because he too is among the mankind), and as he repents on that, He pardons him and shows His mercy to him; note that DAWUD-AS, though he could become a warrior when the occasion asked for it, was soft person by temperament who used to sing the praise of Allah day & night; He had provided him with a beautiful voice, and He had made mounts and birds too, to join him in this hymn that he used to sing in His praise all the time; and He had strengthened his kingdom and had provided him with wisdom and the quality to judge issues with utmost justice; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the narration begins at AAYAT-21 which reads, "and has there come to you the story of the complainants, when they made an entry into the private chamber by ascending over the walls?"; DAWUD-AS naturally was frightened at their visit as there was guard outside for security yet these persons were able to intrude in his privacy; it certainly is nothing to blame if some person finds fear in something that he understands to have the potential to harm him in some manner and he shall ask Allah for protection from that; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that they were angels who had come in disguise of men and they were more than two though the complainants were two among them; they all asked him not to fear them but to solve the problem of two complainants in them, by utmost justice without any inclination to injustice so that they get the right guidance to it; the applicant presented the case against the other that this brother of mine has ninety-nine ewes and I have a single ewe; but he wants even that and affects me by his power of speech against me; as the other of them kept quiet to this accusation, DAWUD-AS saw that he certainly is liable to this extreme injustice and clearly pronounced the sentence against him that he certainly has been unjust to the applicant in demanding his ewe so as to add it to his own ewes; this demand shows that many persons that are close to each other in relation act wrongfully towards one another, but those are exception who do believe in the Truth and do good; these words imply that the righteous persons need to care for each other humanely, besides caring for their SALAH and other necessary obligations; after he gave the verdict and they departed, DAWUD realized that they were angels who had come to guide him at his error about a woman he had become inclined to, though she was the wife of one of officers in his armed forces; due to this realization, he asked Allah for forgiveness and fell down to Him bowing; Allah tells that He forgave him because he surely did have nearness to Him and He surely would give him the good result of his deeds at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah guided him clearly that He has made him ruler in the land so he shall rule by justice to all persons and shall not apply pressure of his influential status to any person for any such act that he intends that person to take, due to any of his untimely desires; AAYAT-26 warns, "those who go astray from the path of Allah, they shall surely have a severe punishment because they forgot the day of reckoning"; I, MSD, provide supplementary note here to clarify events that relate to DAWUD-AS and Suleiman-AS at this Surah; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Supplementary note on AAYAAT-21 to 40 of SUAD

Surah AALE-IMRAN-14 states, "the love of desires, of women and sons and hoarded treasures of gold and silver and well bred horses and cattle and well-tilled land, is made to seem fair to men; this is the provision of the life of this world; and Allah is He with Whom is the best of abode"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; we all students, who study the Holy Book Quran, have to keep this AAYAT in view for better awareness to events that relate to DAWUD-AS and to Suleiman-AS, which the second and the third Ruku of Surah SUAD present for us; the fact of the matter is this that these two Prophets of Allah had been charged with love of pleasures of the world by some people and the Quran defends them emphatically; although this place probably is most difficult in the Quran for Tafsiri comments yet I, MSD, would insha-Allah try the best to clarify it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the event related to DAWUD had concern with his desire about some woman whereas the events related to Suleiman had concern with his inclination to horses and sons respectively; also, these AAYAAT relate their untimely attitudes to such beneficial things that have incidentally come at front of them that disturbed them when they were engrossed in worship of Allah at private quarters; and also, these AAYAAT relate that both the respectable Prophets realized their respective errors and they asked Allah to forgive them and have mercy upon them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the detail to this is that DAWUD-AS had specified some of his time to remain most attentive to Allah at some private place when the two complainants presented their case to him and this signifies that Allah, the true Lord, appoints angels for test of persons too by His will; the matter of the case related to him as he had many of wives (not necessarily ninety-nine as that mention relates to manner of expression to state "many") and yet he inclined to marry one of such women who was in marriage of one of officers at his armed forces; note that the complainants asked him to care for justice in their case which already is the essential factor to judge issues and they also asked him to remain firm upon it; this is to emphasize that the righteous person shall have the quality to judge issues with care to the command of Allah and he would apply that quality with total honesty without any care to any of his personal desires; so he would be capable to judge issues on merit and would remain most honest to its application; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as DAWUD had felt attraction to her, he had asked the officer to divorce his wife so that he could lawfully marry her; he had his influence as the ruler of the land and his influential status caused burden to that officer who was under his command; this was the time when the angels came to him by the command of Allah to guide his attention to this issue without causing any embarrassment to him; as they departed, he realized that they were angels and then he saw the concealed message for him in this whole episode as there is an old saying in Urdu that tells that the wise person only needs gesture to understand something; he asked Allah without any reservation to forgive him at his error and have mercy on him at all times ahead too; Allah forgave his error and He mentions at AAYAT-25 that He surely would give him the good result of all his good deeds at AKHIRAT; after this, DAWUD-AS revised his attitude instantly and left his intent to get her as his wife; however, after he backed out of his erroneous stance, the situation changed in some period of time, as that officer was killed in one of battles (not by any plans of DAWUD-AS) and that enabled him to marry her without any question to his morality as that certainly was one of blessings of Allah upon him; afterwards, she became the mother of Suleiman-AS; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the third Ruku narrates the events that relate to Suleiman-AS but before that, three AAYAAT at its beginning tell most explicitly that Allah has not created his creation in vain but it is for the examination of the mankind to see who really proves his/her worth to receive JANNAH at AKHIRAT; Surah SUAD also presents the event of creation of Adam at its last which emphasizes this message most explicitly; these three AAYAAT read, "and We did not create the heaven and the earth and what is between them in vain; that is the opinion of those who disbelieve then woe to those who disbelieve as they belong to the hell-fire; shall We treat those who believe and do good like the mischief-makers in the earth? - or shall We make those who guard (against evil) like the wicked? - (it is) the Book We have revealed to you abounding in good that those endowed with understanding may ponder over its AAYAAT (verses), and that those may be mindful"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note about these AAYAAT that they answer the doubt of the disbelievers who had said that that Muhammad (PBUH) wanted command over them by his teachings that he has invented by himself; so they defend the Prophet PBUH by mentioning that Allah has sent the Quran that all persons get awareness to the Truth and live their lives with efforts to get the pleasure of Allah; that is the only aim of life for which all persons have to care; those who prove their worth for JANNAH, they only would receive it and those who disbelieve in the fundamental teachings of Islam, they would be put into the hell-fire; the term MUBARAK (abounding in good) comes for the Quran here which means that it has BARAKAH in it to provide the true guidance to all peoples of the world; when some good thing brings the most virtuous results by it then it is mentioned as having "BARAKAH" so when the good rain falls upon the good land, it brings its crops well upon the surface therefore it has "BARAKAH" for that good land; the term OOLUL-ALBAB (those endowed with understanding) comes as trait to both such persons who ponder over its verses and who are mindful to it, though the former is the higher level of understanding the

Quran; the term SAMAA (the heaven near to earth) in singular comes because it is most beneficial to the mankind in the sense that rains come from it whereas the Quran mostly relates the creation of heavens in plural as we find at many AAYAAT including Surah NAML-60; Surah ANKABUT-44; Surah LUQMAN-10; Allah tells here that He has not created in vain the heaven and the earth and what is between them, whereas the term for "in vain" tells here that no creation of Allah is without direction but certainly, Allah has created everything with clearest of principles; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next four AAYAAT of the Ruku tell that Allah blessed DAWUD-AS with Suleiman-AS, then they present an event relating to Suleiman-AS; they read, "and We gave to DAWUD, Suleiman, most excellent the servant- surely he was frequent in returning (to Allah); when there were brought to him in the evening (horses), still when standing, swift when running; then he said- surely I preferred the good things to the remembrance of my Lord- until they hid by the veil (of some obstruction)- bring them back to me; so he began to rub severely (their) legs and necks"; for this event, there are three significant things to note in these AAYAAT and the first is that the verb used here is in passive form that horses were brought to him in the evening; often, the passive verb is used at the Quran to show that the intention of the person who is in focus, is not involved in the mentioned issue; we read at Surah YOUSUF-25 to 27, "And they both hastened to the door, and she tore his shirt from behind and they met her husband at the door; she said- what is the punishment of him who intends evil to your wife except that he is imprisoned (the passive manner) or he gets a painful chastisement? - he said- she sought to make me yield (to her); and a witness of her own family bore witness- if his shirt is torn (the passive manner) from front, she speaks the truth and he is one of the liars; and if his shirt is torn (the passive manner) from behind, she tells a lie and he is one of the truthful"; and when Yusuf-AS had interpreted the dreams of his companions at the prison, he told the freedom of one of them in active manner while he told the crucifixion of the other in passive form, as we find at Surah YOUSUF-41; the second in significant things is that the whole sentence of Suleiman has worth to understand the issue that reads, "then he said- surely I preferred the good things to the remembrance of my Lord- until they hid by the veil (of some obstruction)- bring them back to me"; the third in them is that the last of these AAYAAT mention the result to what he said- "so he began to rub severely (their) legs and necks"; we do have to take some calculated assumptions here, keeping strictly to these three significant things in the text; it seems that like his father, Suleiman-AS also had specified some of time (that included the evening) to remain most attentive to Allah at some private place; however, that place did not restrict him to see outside in open so it happened once that he saw his fabulous horses from that place during his direct attention to Allah, that were trained for wars against the challengers to his rule; they presented a magnificent sight and for some period of time, he lost his care to his task of remaining most attentive to Allah; he realized his error as the horses hid from his sight due to some obstruction in view and it was then he stated that these horses have disturbed him; note that he called them as "good things" as they were trained for an apt purpose yet he was enraged by the untimely view of them that he came across; so leaving his place, he commanded the attendants of those horses to bring them back and then he hit them with his hands severely (though not harmfully) at their legs and necks as that related most to their beauty; this was to develop patience at his inside too as their punishment caused some sorrow to him too; the interesting thing to note here is that the horses were not intentionally responsible to his disturbance yet his response denotes that it is well to curtail the anger caused by an animal by providing such beatings to it that does not cause any harm to it but does satisfy the fury inside; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at AAYAAT ahead, Allah tells, "and certainly We tried Suleiman, and We put on his throne mere body, so he turned (to Allah); he said- my Lord! do Thou forgive me and grant me kingdom such as shall not belong to any after me; then We made the wind subservient to him; it obeyed his command to run gently wherever he desired; and SHAYATIN, every builder and diver, and others fettered in chains; this is Our free gift, therefore give freely or withhold, without reckoning; and most surely he had nearness to Us and an excellent resort"; these AAYAAT tell that Allah tried Suleiman at the time when he intended that he gets many of sons so that the excellence of his worthy rule continues ahead; he got only one of them by one of his wives; the AAYAT mentions that son as JASAD (mere body) which Allah made that wife to put at his sitting place, according to His will, which denotes that though he did get a male child yet clearly, he was not capable to carry-on his good manner relating to spiritual values ahead; there is one Hadith on this matter which is authentic by its chain of narration yet we all strictly need to take its message in general sense only, as there is much obscurity in its text; there surely are few such Ahadith that though authentic by chain (which narrate events that do express good morality) yet they need extreme caution to take them due to obscurity in their text and their respective messages are fair for acceptance only in general sense; the related Hadith denotes that Suleiman-AS had decided to go to many of his wives at one of nights to get number of sons hopefully from them but only one of his wives got pregnant who gave birth to a male child that manifestly was not fit to inherit his morality; the Hadith does mention the reason that his error was that he forgot to mention that with all his physical effort, he would get his sons only by the will of Allah (that he certainly believed in); seeing the outcome to his intention at his sitting place, he totally realized that Allah does not will that the good manner of his rule continues ahead and certainly, the wise person only needs gesture to understand something; the history tells how the place he ruled, divided after him yet we are not concerned with that presently; he asked Allah, the true Lord, for forgiveness and seeing that the splendid manner of his rule ends on him, he called Allah to accept his plea that he does get such rule which no person ever gets after him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah accepted his plea and AAYAAT ahead tell explicitly about it that Allah made the wind subservient to him in such manner that it drove him gently to wherever he desired; Surah SABA-12 tells us that whenever Suleiman-AS intended to travel to somewhere, the wind took him to places that were at a month's journey from his place at those times, only within a morning or only within an evening by the will of Allah; Surah NAML-16 tells us that he had the ability to understand the language of birds and by the event of hoopoe there, we get the awareness that birds even traveled with him to places; and SHAYATIN (i.e. mischievous jinn), obeyed him by the will of Allah and in them were builders at lands and divers at waters that worked according to his command; there were other of them too, who were fettered in chains due to their haughtiness and they gave the lesson to others that they keep to his command; Allah told him that this all was His gift to him and He allowed him to give benefits by this all as he intends for them or withhold as he intends for them; after mentioning His blessing upon him at life at the world, Allah tells for him in the last AAYAT of the Ruku (as He told for DAWUD-AS at AAYAT-25) that he had nearness to Allah and He surely would give him the good result of all his good deeds at AKHIRAT too, the true life ahead; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SUAD-The Third Ruku

27. And We did not create the heaven and the earth and what is between them in vain; that is the opinion of those who disbelieve then woe to those who disbelieve as they belong to the hell-fire.

28. Shall We treat those who believe and do good like the mischief-makers in the earth? Or shall We make those who guard (against evil) like the wicked?

29. (it is) the Book We have revealed to you abounding in good that those endowed with understanding may ponder over its verses, and that those may be mindful.

30. And We gave to DAWUD, Suleiman, most excellent the servant! Surely he was frequent in returning (to Allah).

31. When there were brought to him in the evening (horses) still when standing, swift when running--

32. Then he said: Surely I preferred the good things to the remembrance of my Lord-- until they hid by the veil;

33. Bring them back to me; so he began to rub severely (their) legs and necks.

34. And certainly We tried Suleiman, and We put on his throne a (mere) body, so he turned (to Allah).

35. He said: My Lord! do Thou forgive me and grant me kingdom such as shall not belong to any after me;

36. Then We made the wind subservient to him; it obeyed his command to run gently wherever he desired,

37. And SHAYATIN, every builder and diver,

38. And others fettered in chains.

39. This is Our free gift, therefore give freely or withhold, without reckoning.

40. And most surely he had nearness to Us and an excellent resort.

This Ruku narrates events related to the Prophet Suleiman-AS, the son of DAWUD-AS; the supplementary note written after the note at the second Ruku, would insha-Allah suffice for Tafsiri comments at this Ruku; however, I, MSD, would quote one of authentic Ahadith here from Bukhari, the esteemed book of Ahadith, that the Prophet PBUH said once, "last night a jinn that was very strong, came to me and wanted to interrupt my prayers (or said something similar) but Allah enabled me to overpower him; I wanted to fasten him to one of the pillars of the mosque so that all of you could see him in the morning but I remembered the statement of my brother Suleiman- "My Lord! do Thou forgive me and grant me kingdom such as shall not belong to any after me"; note that to get control over some jinn was no challenge to the amazing rule of Suleiman-AS yet the Prophet PBUH did not appreciate to get control of that jinn as seemingly it was against the plea that Suleiman had made to Allah and which He had accepted; this Hadith provides the ruling explicitly that it is improper for some person to try to get control over any jinn by his spiritual power except when he troubles him intensely; also, the jinn are disallowed to trouble any person in the mankind by physical strength except for justice against someone who troubles them intensely; AN'AAM-128 tells this clearly that it is most improper for jinn that they try to extend their relation to persons among the mankind; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SUAD-The Fourth Ruku

41. And remember Our servant Ayyub, when he called upon his Lord that the Satan has afflicted me with distress and torment.

42. Urge with your foot; here is a cool washing-place and a drink.

43. And We gave him his family and the like of them with them, as a mercy from Us, and as a reminder to those possessed of understanding.

44. And take in your hand a green branch and beat her with it and do not break your oath; surely We found him patient; most excellent the servant- Surely he was frequent in returning (to Allah).

45. And remember Our servants Ibrahim and Isaac and Jacob, men of power and insight.

46. Surely We purified them by pure quality which is the keeping in mind of the (final) abode.

47. And most surely they were with Us, of the elect, the best.

48. And remember Ismael and Al-YASA' and ZUL-KIFL; and they all were of the best of men.

49. This is a reminder; and most surely there is an excellent resort for those who guard (against evil),

50. The gardens of perpetuity, the doors are opened for them.

51. Reclining therein, calling therein for many fruits and drink.

52. And with them shall be those restraining their eyes, equals in age.

53. This is what you are promised for the day of reckoning.

54. Most surely this is Our sustenance; it shall never come to an end;

55. This (shall be so); and most surely there is an evil resort for the inordinate ones;

56. The hell-fire; they shall enter it, so evil is the resting-place.

57. This (shall be so); so let them taste it, one boiling (liquid to drink) and one intensely cold (liquid to drink).

58. and other (torment) of the kind in pairs (the two extremes).

59. This is an army plunging in without consideration along with you; no welcome for them, surely they shall enter fire.

60. They shall say: Nay! you-- no welcome to you: you did proffer it to us, so evil is the resting-place.

61. They shall say: Our Lord! whoever prepared it first for us, add Thou to him a double chastisement in the fire.

62. And they shall say: What is the matter with us that we do not see men whom we used to count among the vicious?

63. Was it that we (only) took them in scorn, or have our eyes (now) turned aside from them?

64. That most surely is fitting- this contending, one with another, of the inmates of the fire.

The Ruku starts by asking the Prophet PBUH to remember AYUB-AS (i.e. Job) whom Allah had tested by some severe problem of skin; his mention here tells that all good persons, especially those whom Allah chooses as His Prophets, are most attentive to Him at all times whether rich or poor (though Allah cares that they are never deprived of their physical necessities); note that AAYAT-8 mentions the doubt of disbelievers, "has the reminder been revealed to him from among us?" as they thought that if Allah intended to provide some warning to them, He would have chosen some rich and influential person from among them; but Allah chooses the best of persons to give His message by His will and certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; there are such story-tellers who have exaggerated many things that relate to life of AYUB-AS and in them, are such things too that cause some disrespect to him; it is notable that though afflicted by some troublesome problem of skin that even caused reluctance of his family members to come near to him, he never lost his wealth totally; AAYAT-83 & 84 at Surah ANBIYA mention AYUB-AS briefly where commentators have provided detail about him; he was one of the Prophets of Allah and with that highest of spiritual status, he also was one of the well-off persons at his time and place who had a vast family, living with all convenience when some severe affliction of skin fell upon him; he bore it with patience for few years with all attention to Allah but it went on getting worse and it is mentioned that ultimately his wife only would care about him at those trying times as other persons at his household turned most reluctant to come near to him; so till the time it did not affect his good acts of worship to Allah, he did bear that severe affliction yet when it came to most grave situation, then he called Allah that this affliction has become unbearable to him and He certainly is the Most Merciful; so Allah accepted His plea and cured him of that severe affliction by providing him the blessed water at the floor of his place (that pooled out in reasonable quantity as he hit his foot at it) from which Allah asked him to bathe and to drink as AAYAT-42 tells here at Surah SUAD; He also ended the grudges that were taking place among his family and then He blessed him with the like of them in addition to them as AAYAT-43 implies; this indicates his grand-children whom also he saw at his life ahead; this was mercy for him from Allah and also reminder to the worshippers that as they care to worship Him, He certainly would see specifically to their physical and spiritual safety to end their troubles totally; note that besides this place at SUAD-42, the other three places where Allah has mentioned AYUB-AS (that are NISAA-163, AN'AAM-84 and ANBIYA-83 & 84), they also mention him near to mentioning DAWUD-AS and Suleiman-AS; Allah examined all three, who had all convenience in life at the world, for their firmness in belief by putting them to trials; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note also that Surah SUAD presents the statement of AYYUB that he prayed to Allah, the true Lord, blaming Satan for his affliction that he had caused distress and torment to him though all conditions come upon the man by the will of Allah; the significant thing to note here is that He never puts anything adverse to any person unless his own doings ask for it though He does test even those good persons who are most attentive to Him according to their patience to bring them nearer to Him; He cares for their spiritual safety totally and their trial actually relates to some physical issue up-to their tolerance; note that AYUB-AS put the blame upon the Satan for his affliction out of respect of Allah because He tries a person when He wills, by other of His creation and so he was not incorrect to blame the Satan; it is like the statement of Joshua-AS that we find at KAHF-63 when he forgot to mention to Moses-AS the escape of the fish that Moses had given in his custody at their travel; he had said that "nothing made me forget to speak of it but the Satan, and it took its way into the river"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at some moment of distress, AYUB-AS had taken an oath that when he gets better, he would punish his wife by some beating as she had voiced her complaint to Allah about the situation he was in; he worried as he got better what to do about his oath that he has taken to punish his good wife, so Allah guided him as AAYAT-44 tells, "and take in your hand a green branch and strike therewith (so that it does not cause any harm to her), and do not break your oath; surely We found him patient (at his affliction without care to any wrongs); most excellent the servant (who kept firm on his belief even at most trying times)-surely he was frequent in returning (to Allah)"; note that it is wholly improper to seek ways round to avoid some commitment yet it certainly was well for AYUB-AS when Allah Himself advised him to fulfill his oath in this manner; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead ask the Prophet PBUH to remember Ibrahim, Isaac and Jacob (Salam on all of them) by emphatically stating that they had hands i.e. the power to put their intentions to practice, and vision i.e. the insight to decide righteously in different issues of life; they tell that Allah purified them in such virtuous manner that they always remembered that they have to return to Allah, the true Lord, when He would decide the final abode for all persons according to their doings; most surely, Allah had chosen them as the most righteous men from the best of men; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-48 asks the Prophet PBUH to remember Ismael and Al-YASA' (Elisha) and ZUL-KIFL (Salam on all of them) as they all certainly are among the best of men; note about Elisha that he was one of Messengers of Allah in the Bani-Israel at the times of ILYAS-AS (i.e. Elijah) and with him (and after him), tried his best to provide the true guidance to all his people around; the period of Elisha was about couple of centuries after DAWUD-AS and most probably, AYUB-AS lived somewhere between them near to ancient Syria; note that ZUL-KIFL (i.e. the one who relates to KIFL) seems an indication to Buddha as that prince was born at KAPILAVASTU in Nepal; as there is no sound of "P" in Arabic so either "B" or either "F" is substituted for it and here ZUL-KIFL is used to identify him as the one who was born in KAPILA; in this case, his teachings have surely been tampered with, as then, he not only believed in the fundamental teachings of Islam but he also was a true spiritual guide at that place at that time and certainly, Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the mention of the most righteous persons at the Quran clearly denotes that the Prophet PBUH shall remain to the manner of life, which these most righteous persons lived upon, without any care to what the disbelievers say; he certainly is among the Messengers of Allah, the last of them, and he certainly is among the most righteous persons, who certainly deserves to receive the best abode that is the most beautiful JANNAH, with highest of honor, at AKHIRAT; all righteous persons must remember that all these best of men among the mankind lived with all attention to Allah, the true Lord, and they never cared to accumulate worldly assets but specified all their efforts that they live upon and guide

all persons to the right path; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead till the last of this Ruku tell about the life at AKHIRAT of the most righteous persons and also, of the most transgressing persons so that all persons do note the true worth of living righteously at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so AAYAAT-50 to 54 state about JANNAAT that is the reward for the most righteous persons, "the gardens of perpetuity, the doors are opened for them; reclining therein, calling therein for many fruits and drink; and with them shall be those (beautiful women as wives to them) restraining their eyes (only towards them without any care to any other man), equals in age (to their husbands); this is what you are promised (O righteous persons), for the day of reckoning; most surely this is Our sustenance; it shall never come to an end"; see also the note at Surah TOOR, the fifty-second Surah of the Holy Book Quran; Al-Hamdu Lillah; then AAYAAT-55 to 58 state, "this (which the Quran tells about the splendid reward for the righteous persons shall be so); and most surely there is an evil resort for the inordinate ones (that is) the hell-fire; they shall enter it, so evil is the resting-place; this (which the Quran tells about the extreme punishment to transgressing persons shall be so)- so let them taste it, one boiling (liquid to drink) and one intensely cold (liquid to drink); and other (torment) of the kind in pairs (the two extremes)"; AAYAAT-59 to 63 tells the scene as one of groups joins other of them at the hell-fire that the latter would curse the newcomers to hell-fire saying that they are most unwelcome; but they too would enter the hell-fire; these newcomers to hell-fire would curse them in return with remark that they had extended the invitation to wrongs to them at the world which they most foolishly accepted and so they are liable to more severe punishment than what these newcomers are liable to; they shall make this plea to Allah, the true Lord, to add even more punishment to those persons who had entered the hell-fire before them, as they had misguided them that led them to this punishing destination; they would find it perplexing when they would not see those persons whom they considered most troublesome to them; AAYAT-63 states their perplexity, "and they shall say- what is the matter with us that we do not see men whom we used to count among the vicious? - was it that we (only) took them in scorn, or have our eyes (now) turned aside from them?"; so those whom they trusted at the world, led them to the hell-fire and those whom they considered as unworthy to follow, they proved to be righteous; this tells the high importance for all persons to get good companions as misjudgment may become most extremely punishing for them; the last AAYAT of the Ruku says, "that most surely is fitting- this contending, one with another, of the inmates of the fire"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SUAD-The Last Ruku

65. Say: I am only a warner, and there is no god but Allah, the One, the Absolute:

66. The Lord of the heavens and the earth and what is between them, the Mighty, the most Forgiving.

67. Say: It is the message of importance,

68. (And) you are turning aside from it;

69. I had no knowledge of the exalted court when they contended:

70. Naught is revealed to me save that I am a plain warner.

71. When your Lord said to the angels; Surely I am going to create a mortal from dust:

72. So when I have made him complete and breathed into him of My spirit, then fall down making obeisance to him.

73. And the angels did obeisance, all of them,

74. But not Iblis: he was proud and he was one of the disbelievers.

75. He said: O Iblis! what prevented you that you should do obeisance to him whom I created with My two hands? Are you proud or are you of the exalted ones?

76. He said: I am better than he; Thou hast created me of fire, and him Thou didst create of dust.

77. He said: Then get out of it, for surely you are driven away:

78. And surely My curse is on you to the day of Judgment.

79. He said: My Lord! then respite me to the day that they are raised.

80. He said: Surely you are of the respited ones,

81. Till the period of the time made known.

82. He said: Then by Thy Might I will surely make them live an evil life, all,

83. Except Thy servants from among them, the purified ones.

84. He said: The truth then is and the truth only, I speak

85. That I will most certainly fill hell-fire with you and with those among them who follow you, all.

86. Say: I do not ask you for any reward for it; nor am I of those who take-up pretension;

87. It is nothing but reminder to nations;

88. And most certainly you will come to know about it after a period of time.

The last Ruku of Surah SUAD addresses the core doubt of the disbelievers explicitly as that had led them to reject the fundamental teachings of Islam which the Prophet PBUH had presented to them categorically; they had charged the Prophet PBUH that he only intends to have command over them by his teachings, and whatever he presents as the true guidance that Allah only is the true authority, it is strange to them as they believe in so many idols with their concept that they also are associates in His authority; also, this Ruku presents the event of creation of Adam-AS for the seventh and the last time here by compilation of the Quran, to guide them that Allah created the man only to hold fast to commands of Allah caring to keep away from the Satan who is applying all efforts to mislead the mankind; certainly, the only aim of life is to get the pleasure of Allah by keeping most attentive to Him only; and certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Ruku starts by asking the Prophet PBUH to tell the disbelievers that he only is warner from Allah Who has sent him as His last Messenger to all peoples of the world; there certainly is no god but Allah, the One, the Absolute, the Lord of the heavens and the earth and what is between them, the Mighty, the most Forgiving; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it asks him to tell them that they need to see the high significance of this message that they have rejected; they need to see that Allah has told him by WAHI about things he did not know and certainly, before the descent of the Quran to him, he was not aware of what had happened when Allah had told the angels at His exalted court that He is going to create Adam-AS; he was not aware about this too that angels have asked Allah why He willed to create Adam in their presence; this refers to AAYAT-30 of Surah

BAQARAH which reads, "and when your Lord said to the angels, I am going to place in the earth KHALIFAH, they said- what; will You place in it such as shall make mischief in it and shed blood, and we celebrate Your praise and extol Your holiness? He said- surely I know what you do not know"; note that this seemingly appeared as if they contend the will of Allah but afterwards they prostrated to Adam-AS on the command of Allah, so it showed that they have no grudge against the mankind and they certainly never disobey Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; but there was a Jinn among them (as Surah KAHF tells explicitly) who did not obey this order; he was named as IBLIS and he was allowed to be in angels due to his obedience and worship of Allah but at this time, when with angels he also was included in this command, he refused to obey; Allah asked him why he did not obey (so Allah gave him the chance so that he may ask for mercy & obey); in reply, he said that he was better as Allah had created him by fire and Adam, Allah had created by mud; on this answer, Allah canceled the permission He had given to him to stay in angels and He put His verdict on him for JAHANNUM (the hell-fire); hearing that verdict, he got very angry and finding himself totally incapable of challenging Allah, the true Lord, he turned his anger towards Adam (the cause for his extreme insult there) and for his degraded position for which he himself was to be blamed, he became the sworn enemy of the Man; this tells us an important thing that when the satanic person does wrong by his own doing, he puts the blame on someone else and tries to take his revenge due to his psyche of "I" and "me", from that person when that person seems to him lesser in power than him; he asked Allah for the extension in time of his life that it may become a very long one so that he can misguide the people and make them also get the same verdict which he had received for his own self; however, Allah did not allow him to live at the world up-to the day of Resurrection as he had asked but allowed him his life up-to the day of the appointed time and this provides the hope that he would die much before the last day of the world insha-Allah; at that time, he had said that he would try to take the mankind that Allah had created for His worship only, to the hell-fire; he knew that they have physical needs and if he guides them to physical pleasures at height, he might be able to pursue them towards their base desires (to remain obsessed in seeking the pleasures of life at the world, mostly with the wishful thinking that they already have achieved salvation at the Day of Judgment because they believe in such persons that would provide them their salvation at the Day of Judgment); Allah gave him that extension but also told him that those who take My shelter for safety, you will not be able to misguide them but whoever takes your way, they all will go with you in the hell-fire; AAYAAT-84 & 85 state,

"He said- the truth then is and the truth only, I speak- that I will most certainly fill the hellfire with you and with those among them who follow you, all"; so all persons among the mankind have to remain totally attentive to Allah and keep away from all satanic temptations because then only they would receive their true dwelling place JANNAH at AKHIRAT, the true life; see also the supplementary note after the note at the second Ruku of Surah AARAAF; the last three AAYAAT of the Ruku, and of the Surah, answer their charge on the Prophet PBUH which was that he intends to have command over them by his teachings; these AAYAAT read, "say- I do not ask you for any reward for it; nor am I of those who take-up pretension- it (the Quran) is nothing but reminder to nations; and most certainly you will come to know about it after a period of time; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah ZUMAR

(Consists of 8 Ruku; MK-8)

ZUMAR-The First Ruku

1. The revelation of the Book is from Allah, the Mighty, the Wise.

2. Surely We have revealed to you the Book with the truth, therefore serve Allah, being sincere to Him in obedience.

3. Now, surely, sincere obedience is due to Allah (alone) and (as for) those who take guardians besides Him, (saying), We do not serve them save that they may make us nearer to Allah, surely Allah will judge between them in that in which they differ; surely Allah does not guide him aright who is a liar, ungrateful.

4. If Allah desire to take a son to Himself, He will surely choose those He pleases from what He has created. Glory be to Him: He is Allah, the One, the Absolute.

5. He has created the heavens and the earth with the truth; He makes the night cover the day and makes the day overtake the night, and He has made the sun and the moon subservient; each one runs on to an assigned term; now surely He is the Mighty, the great Forgiver.

6. He has created you from a single being, then made its mate from that, and He has made for you eight of the cattle in pairs. He creates you in the wombs of your mothers-- a creation after a creation-- in triple darkness; that is Allah your Lord, His is the kingdom; there is no god but He; whence are you then turned away?

7. If you are ungrateful, then surely Allah is Self-sufficient above all need of you; and He does not like ungratefulness in His servants; and if you are grateful,

He likes it in you; and no bearer of burden shall bear the burden of another; then to your Lord is your return, then will He inform you of what you did; surely He is Cognizant of what is in the breasts.

8. And when distress afflicts man he calls upon his Lord turning to Him frequently; then when He makes him possess a favor from Him, he forgets that for which he called upon Him before, and sets up rivals to Allah that he may cause to stray off from His path. Say: Enjoy yourself in your ungratefulness a little, surely you are of the inmates of the hell-fire.

9. What! he who is obedient during hours of the night, prostrating himself and standing, takes care of AKHIRAT and hopes for the mercy of his Lord! Say: Are those who know and those who do not know alike? Only the men of understanding are mindful.

Surah ZUMAR guides explicitly to the fundamental teachings of Islam and provides the message that all persons must care to live by the virtuous teachings of the Quran to save themselves from the most severe punishment and to get the most pleasant life at AKHIRAT, as that only is the true success; Allah has provided physical convenience in many ways to all persons at the world and He has also given the Guidance to the right path to all persons; all persons must take heed here and now, and see by all of their doings that they do get the pleasure of Allah, as that only is the aim of life; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first Ruku starts by mentioning about the Quran that certainly, Allah has given it to Muhammad PBUH and he has not brought it by his own; Allah decides all matters for the mankind and for all His creation by authority and by wisdom as He deems fit; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah states that He has provided the Quran to the Prophet PBUH as He wills to provide the mankind (and even the jinn) complete awareness of the right path so the Prophet PBUH must live on by commands of Allah and remain sincere to Him in obedience the same way as he always has been previously; Al-Hamdu Lillah; all persons must see totally well that their acceptance to the Truth is wholly sincere because adding any wrong to it, makes it completely unacceptable at the court of Allah; AAYAAT point out that there are such persons who claim to believe in Allah but worship some of His creation with such belief that they have the ability to bring them near to Him and save them from His wrath on their wrong-doings at AKHIRAT; Allah would certainly decide about such disbelief that they show when they are guided to the right path whereas they need to understand this here and now that they do have to revise their attitude as soon as possible; if they really intend to come near to Allah, they need to take His commands in practice at all issues of life in all situations and leave all insincerity that their speech and their attitudes present while they have no remorse upon it; certainly, Allah never guides such person who speaks lies and has disbelief in his heart; note that there were such disbelievers at Makkah then, who took angels as daughters to Allah, and there were such persons among those who claimed to believe in the teachings of Jesus Christ-AS, who took him as son to Allah; may Allah protect all Muslims from falling into such disbelief ever and may guide all among the mankind (and even all among the jinn) to keep away from such disbelief, remaining totally sincere to Him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah tells explicitly that if He desired to take son, He would have taken that from any of His creation only (as He only is the Creator and all other are His creation); so these disbelievers need to reflect taking time-out for it, how this relation is possible; He is totally free of all such relations as Surah IKHLAS, the 112th Surah at the Quran, states most clearly, "say- He, Allah, is One; Allah is He on Whom all depend; He begets not, nor is He begotten; and none is like Him"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this tells about TAUHID which means that "Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the first AAYAT of Surah FATIHA that is the first AAYAT of the Quran, presents by its words that Allah is from all times to all times with all of His attributes that are of Him from all times to all times (QADEEM) and all of His attributes are His very own (ASL) and all of His attributes are limitless (LA-MEHDUD); note that the term "RABB" that occurs at this first AAYAT is highly significant in understanding of the Holy Book Quran; it means the true Lord that nurtures all His creation so Allah has not left His creation just after creating them but He nurtures them to height; so this beautiful AAYAT that is the first AAYAT of the Quran, denotes three things about Allah that He only is the Creator of all the creation; that He always has all of His good QADEEM, ASL, LA-MEHDUD attributes totally which denote His absolute authority; that He is RABBUL-AALAMIN, the only true Lord of all, so He asks for total obedience from all of His creation, which must remain most sincere; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-5 states that Allah has created all creation by principles that they follow completely by His command; it reads, "He has created the heavens and the earth with the truth; He makes the night cover the day and makes the day overtake the night, and He has made the sun and the moon subservient; each one runs on to an assigned term; now surely He is the Mighty, the great Forgiver"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-6 tell about the life of the mankind that Allah has created all persons from one person i.e. Adam-AS and from him, He gave him his mate (Eve-AS) too; and He also gave the mankind eight of the cattle in pairs which comprise of camels, cows, sheep and goats;

as there are four pairs by male & female in each of them, these four of cattle divide into eight; see also the note at the seventeenth Ruku of Surah AN'AAM; the Muslims might eat from them but they must not eat any of things that are disallowed or impure because they must not follow the steps of Satan who had misguided Adam and Eve when they ate the prohibited fruit; Satan is indeed the enemy of the Man evidently; Allah cared that the mankind continues living the life at the world till the time He has specified for the end of the world; then He would see the account of all doings of all persons, though born at any time at any place of the world so all persons must remain aware that their lives certainly are examination to them; the disbelievers have to remain most aware that they would not find anyone to save them from the wrath of Allah at AKHIRAT and it certainly is their deadly mistake if they consider so; every person has to answer for himself/herself individually at the Day of Judgment; note that Allah gives the info in this AAYAT that He creates child in the womb of its mother and then that child develops on to become fit to come to the world; its growth takes place in triple darkness which is the darkness of the body, the darkness of the womb and the darkness of the amniotic sac; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-7 tells all persons that if they are ungrateful, it would only affect them adversely; they must understand this totally well that Allah is GHANI (i.e.

He has all control over everything which tells that He is not affected whether any person is grateful to Him or not) so He does not care about such person who gets the hell-fire by his/her disbelief, though He certainly does not like disbelief in His servants; certainly, He likes that all persons remain most grateful to Him and that would truly benefit them as they would find clearly at AKHIRAT as they return to Him; every person has to face his/her doings alone at AKHIRAT and no bearer of burden shall bear the burden of another; also, no one is able to conceal anything from Him as He is Most Aware of whatever is at insides; note that everything takes place by the will of Allah but His pleasure is not in everything; all persons have to live by the teachings of the Quran, practicing it by the Sunnah of the Prophet PBUH, to get His pleasure; and as for His will, that certainly, He knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-8 tells about the psyche of the disbelieving person most clearly, "and when distress afflicts (the disbelieving) man, he calls upon his Lord turning to Him frequently (as if he really is remorseful on his wrongdoings that have brought affliction to him); then when He makes him possess a favor from Him (i.e. removes his affliction from him), he forgets that for which he called upon Him before, and (not only goes astray but also) sets up rivals to Allah that he may cause (other persons too) to stray off from His path; say (O Prophet PBUH, to them)- enjoy yourself in your ungratefulness a little, surely you are of the inmates of the hell-fire (at the true life at AKHIRAT)"; such is the psyche of the disbelieving person that he not only is among the most selfish persons, who craves for abundant worldly assets and status, but he is most ungrateful too to any favor that Allah provides him at his time of distress; the last AAYAT of the Ruku states that Allah would certainly care for the virtues of the righteous person and He will not make him equal to the ungrateful person who does not have any scruples to show thanks to Allah on His favor to him at his time of distress; the disbeliever shows total arrogance even when Allah provides favor to him whereas the righteous believer is totally attentive to Him even at silent hours of the night and he is worried about his status at AKHIRAT where he does hope he would receive the mercy of Allah, the true Lord; Allah asks the Prophet PBUH to guide attention of all that they see the difference between those who are unaware of their true benefit and those of understanding who are most aware of it; certainly, the persons of understanding are much better as they would get the true success at AKHIRAT; most certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ZUMAR-The Second Ruku

10. Tell (O Prophet PBUH- from Allah, the true Lord, that): O My servants who believe! be careful of (your duty to) your Lord; for those who do good the best way in this world is the best return, and Allah's earth is spacious; only the patient will be paid back their reward in full without measure.

11. Say: I am commanded that I should serve Allah, being sincere to Him in obedience.

12. And I am commanded that I shall be the first of those who submit.

13. Say: I fear, if I disobey my Lord, the chastisement of a grievous day.

14. Say: Allah (it is Whom) I serve, being sincere to Him in my obedience:

15. Serve then what you like besides Him. Say: The losers surely are those who shall have lost themselves and their families on the day of resurrection; now surely that is the clear loss.

16. They shall have coverings of fire above them and coverings beneath them; with that Allah makes His servants to fear, so be careful of (your duty to) Me, O My servants!

17. And (as for) those who keep off from the worship of the idols and turn to Allah, they shall have good news, therefore give good news to My servants,

18. Those who listen to the word, then follow the best for it; those are they whom Allah has guided, and those it is who are the men of understanding.

19. What! as for him then against whom the sentence of chastisement is due- What! can you save him who is in the hell-fire?

20. But (as for) those who are careful of (their duty to) their Lord, they shall have high places, above them higher places, built (for them), beneath which flow rivers; (this is) the promise of Allah: Allah will not fail in (His) promise.

21. Do you not see that Allah sends down water from the cloud, then makes it go along in the earth in springs, then brings forth therewith herbage of various colors, then it withers so that you see it becoming yellow, then He makes it a thing crushed and broken into pieces? Most surely there is a reminder in this for the men of understanding.

The Ruku starts by asking the Prophet PBUH to direct all Muslims to have TAQWA to Allah all the time and also to go to the level of EHSAAAN in their good deeds; note for TAQWA to Allah that, besides other manners to express it, it is the attitude of the heart which means that all the Muslims must fear Allah that they do not get His displeasure by their sins becoming so sinful that they lose the chance to regain JANNAH and additionally, they also must have such hope towards Him that He would keep them totally safe from the mischief of Satan, at all times and all places; Al-Hamdu Lillah;

note for EHSAN that it has three of significant meanings which are that it means the caring attitude to weak persons (especially to women, children & aged persons) at environment; and that it relates to care towards the Islamic moral values without any pressure of law but only with hope of improvement of self at the world and at AKHIRAT; and that it is the best of manners to do some good deed and this is the meaning that this AAYAT relates to; so all the Muslim persons need to care about it highly in all good deeds that they take on themselves; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT tells that Allah has made the earth spacious so if they do not find ease to live at some place by Islam, they must migrate to some better place; those who remain steadfast on righteousness at all situations, they only will be paid back their reward in full and even more than it without measure; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead at this Ruku ask the Prophet PBUH to tell the disbelievers about himself that he is commanded that he should serve Allah remaining totally sincere to Him in obedience; and he shall be the first of those who submit to Allah among all Muslims (of His UMMAH); he has to tell them that he even fears the Day of Judgment and he always remains most sincere in obedience to Allah, the true Lord; and if the disbelievers do not fear that day, they would certainly find at that significant day that they surely are most extreme losers as they have led themselves and even their families to the hell-fire;

AAYAT-15 clearly denotes at its last that "now surely that is the clear loss"; AAYAT-16 to AAYAT-20 ahead presents the respective outcomes which the disbelievers would receive at AKHIRAT and which the true believers would get there; the disbelievers would have flames of fire as coverings to them above and below them so they would be in extreme agony there; Allah intends that all men do understand this well and do fear to lead themselves and their near ones to such deadly destination, if they live in disbelief at the world; they shall always keep the only aim of life in view and keep away from all major sins; AAYAAT-17 & 18 read, "and (as for) those who keep off from the worship of TAGHUT (idols and such persons who ask to follow the wrong paths, by force) and turn to Allah (attentively), they shall have good news (at AKHIRAT that they would enter JANNAH), therefore (O Prophet PBUH)-give good news to My servants, those who listen to the word (every command of Allah at the Quran), then follow the best (manner in deeds) for it; those are they whom Allah has guided, and those it is who are the men of understanding"; note that TAGHUT is such representative of wrongs that advises the people against the commands of Allah knowingly, with whatever authority (to impress the people) it had managed to muster; the term includes idols too as they cause the disbelievers to take extreme wrongs and lead them astray; Surah IBRAHIM-35 & 36 tells, "and when

Ibrahim said- My Lord! Make this city secure, and save me and my sons from worshipping idols- My Lord! surely they have led many men astray; then whoever follows me, he is surely of me, and whoever disobeys me, Thou surely are Forgiving, Merciful"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah certainly is the true Protective Friend to Muslims so He brings them from all shades of darkness towards the NOOR that is the light of Guidance to the right path while the wrong deceitful guardians of the disbelievers are TAGHUT that push them out of the NOOR towards the many shades of darkness; AAYAT-19 tells about such disbelievers who have fallen to such depth into sins which clearly tells that they have proved themselves wholly eligible to the most extreme chastisement, so now they will never accept the good teachings that the Prophet PBUH is providing to them; the Ruku tells ahead that the righteous persons who remain most attentive to Allah, the true Lord, they would certainly receive such high places which would have more of higher places above; so these would be most beautiful apartments at multi-storied buildings, built to provide all convenience for these residents of JANNAAT, beneath which would be flowing rivers; this would surely take place as this is the promise of Allah Who never fails in His promise; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku provides simile for the changing nature of life at the world that ultimately ends, as it reads, "do you not see that Allah sends down water from the cloud, then makes it go along in the earth in springs, then brings forth therewith herbage of various colors, then it withers so that you see it becoming yellow, then He makes it a thing crushed and broken into pieces? Most surely there is a reminder in this for the men of understanding"; certainly, the life at AKHIRAT is the true life whereas the life at the world is an examination to each person that has to end at its due time; compare this AAYAT to AAYAT-24 of Surah YOUNUS which reads, "the likeness of this world's life is only as water which We send down from the cloud, then the herbage of the earth of which men and cattle eat, grows luxuriantly thereby, until when the earth puts on its golden raiment and it becomes garnished, and its people think that they have power over it, Our command comes to it, by night or by day, so We render it as reaped seed, as though it had not been in existence yesterday; thus do We make clear the AAYAAT for the people who reflect"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ZUMAR-The Third Ruku

22. What! is he whose heart Allah has opened for Islam so that he is in light from his Lord, (like the hard-hearted disbeliever)? Nay, woe to those whose hearts are hard against the remembrance of Allah; those are in clear error.

23. Allah has revealed the best announcement, a book conformable in its various parts, repeating, whereat do shudder the skins of those who fear their Lord, then their skins and their hearts become pliant to the remembrance of Allah; this is Allah's guidance, He guides with it whom He pleases; and (as for) him whom Allah makes err, there is no guide for him.

24. Is he then who has to guard himself with his own face against the evil chastisement on the resurrection day? And it will be said to the unjust: Taste what you earned.

25. Those before them rejected (Prophets), therefore there came to them the chastisement from whence they perceived not.

26. So Allah made them taste the disgrace in this world's life, and certainly the punishment of AKHIRAT is greater; did they but know!

27. And certainly We have set forth to men in this Quran similitudes of every sort that they may mind.

28. An Arabic Quran without any crookedness, that they may guard (against evil).

29. Allah sets forth an example: There is a slave in whom are (several) partners differing with one another, and there is another slave wholly owned by one man. Are the two alike in condition? (All) praise is due to Allah. Nay! most of them do not know.

30. Surely you shall die and they (too) shall surely die.

31. Then surely on the day of resurrection you will contend one with another before your Lord.

Surah ZUMAR compares the righteous believers and the extreme disbelievers at different AAYAAT and this third Ruku of it starts by such comparison; the first AAYAT of the Ruku says, "what! is he whose heart Allah has opened for Islam so that he is in light from his Lord, (like the hard-hearted disbeliever)? Nay, woe to those whose hearts are hard against the remembrance of Allah; those are in clear error"; the next AAYAT tells about the manner of expressions of the Quran and presents the good psyche of the most righteous true believer; it tells that the Quran is the best of scriptures that is such book which presents AAYAAT that conform to other of its AAYAAT, when they repeat the teachings of Islam; in this manner, it brings different aspects of the teachings of Islam at fore and puts emphasis on all of its significant teachings; note that the term used at the AAYAT is "Hadith" for scriptures and though in the Islamic terminology, it denotes the narrations of the Sunnah of the Prophet PBUH yet the Quran uses it in its literal meaning that is "narrative"; the AAYAT tells that learning the Quran by reading and hearing of its warnings on wrongs and their outcome at the Day of Judgement, make the skins shudder of those who truly fear Allah, whereas their skins and with that their hearts, incline to remembrance of Allah as they read and hear about the forgiveness and the mercy of Allah, the true Lord; so these good Muslim persons who have much developed TAQWA inside, they do have much developed humane feelings inside; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last part of the AAYAT states, "this is Allah's guidance, He guides with it whom He pleases; and (as for) him whom Allah makes err, there is no guide for him"; AAYAT-24 compares the righteous believer and the extreme disbeliever again by putting query ahead, "is he then who has to guard himself with his own face against the evil chastisement on the resurrection day (like the righteous believer in Islam); and it will be said to the unjust- taste what you earned"; note that as the hands of disbelievers would be tied behind at the Day of Judgment at such place where they would be affected by the heat of the deadly hell-fire, they would have to take it upon their faces; the last of this AAYAT tells that these unjust persons would be told to taste the consequence of whatever wrongs that they had done at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-25 & 26 tell that the disbelievers before them too had rejected the Prophets whom Allah had sent to them and the result to this rejection was that extreme chastisement fell upon them even at the world which brought disgrace to them and certainly the punishment at AKHIRAT is even greater; Allah states at AAYAAT ahead of this Ruku that He has provided the true guidance explicitly in the Quran in clear Arabic, though by symbolic expressions too where He willed, for the virtuous understanding of all peoples; this is so that all peoples, as they become aware of it, firmly remain righteous; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at AAYAT-29, Allah presents an example for all persons to see that the belief in TAUHID only is truly right; it reads, "Allah sets forth a MATHAL (i.e. an example)- there is a slave in whom are (several) partners differing with one another (so the slave remains confused in works), and there is another slave wholly owned by one man (so that slave has singleness as his focus in works); are the two (slaves) alike in condition? (all) praise is due to Allah; nay! most of them do not know"; note that the example at the AAYAT is for understanding of the respective conditions of both the slaves only and the matter relates to comparison between the creation of Allah; see also the note at the tenth Ruku of Surah NAHL and at the third Ruku of Surah ROUM; the Quran has forbidden the use of this term MATHAL (and also the term MITHL) in the meaning of similitudes for Allah as it says, "invent not similitudes for Allah; Allah certainly knows but you know not" (NAHAL-74); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT at the Ruku read, surely you shall die and they (too) shall surely die; then surely on the day of resurrection you will contend one with another before your Lord"; this is to console the Prophet PBUH that if the disbelievers say things in disrespect of the Prophet PBUH then he needs to patiently bear it as every person has to die so even if Allah does not punish them at the world (and certainly, He knows perfectly well how to deal with all His creation), they would surely face extreme torment when everyone is raised from dead; there, they would try to present their case by fibs with argument that they did not receive the invitation to the Truth, blaming the Prophet PBUH and the righteous Muslims; however, such lies would not do in front of Allah, the true Lord, Who knows totally well all that is manifest and all that is hidden; certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ZUMAR-The Fourth Ruku

32. Who is then more unjust than he who utters a lie against Allah and (he who) gives the lie to the Truth when it comes to him; is there not in hell an abode for the disbelievers?

33. And who brings the Truth and who accepts it as the Truth - these are they that guard (against evil).

34. They shall have with their Lord what they please; that is the reward of the doers of good;

35. So that Allah will do away with the poor manner of what they did and will give them their reward for the best of what they did.

36. Is not Allah sufficient for His servant? And they seek to frighten you with those besides Him; and whomsoever Allah makes err, there is no guide for him.

37. And whom Allah guides, there is none that can lead him astray; is not Allah Mighty, the Lord of retribution?

38. And should you ask them, Who created the heavens and the earth? They would most certainly say: Allah. Say: Have you then considered that what you call upon besides Allah, would they, if Allah desire to afflict me with harm, be the removers of His harm, or (would they), if Allah desire to show me mercy, be the withholders of His mercy? Say: Allah is sufficient for me; on Him do the reliant rely.

39. Say: O my people! work in your place, surely I am a worker, so you will come to know.

40. Who it is to whom there shall come the punishment which will disgrace him and to whom will be due the lasting punishment.

41. Surely We have revealed to you the Book with the truth for the sake of men; so whoever follows the right path, it is for his own soul and whoever errs, he errs only to its detriment; and you are not a custodian over them.

This fourth Ruku of ZUMAR too starts by the comparison of the righteous believers and the extreme disbelievers and it presents the good outcome that the righteous believers would receive at AKHIRAT, the true life ahead; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the four initial AAYAAT of the Ruku state, "who is then more unjust than he who utters a lie against Allah (even at the Day of Judgment) and (he who) gives the lie to the Truth when it comes to him (at life at the world, by its denial); is there not in hell an abode for the disbelievers? - and (as for him) who brings the Truth (i.e. Muhammad PBUH) and who accepts it (i.e. each of the righteous believers) as the Truth - these are they that guard (against evil); they shall have with their Lord what they please (at the true life ahead at AKHIRAT); that is the reward of the doers of good; so that Allah will do away with the poor manner of what they did (of good deeds) and will give them their reward for the best of what they did (of good deeds by all attention to their due requisites)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-36 asks the disbelievers in clear terms if they think that Allah is not fully able to protect His Messenger from their wrong attitude towards him that they try to frighten him with those whom they worship besides Him; note that some of disbelievers had mentioned that they would ask their idols to put some wrong upon the Prophet (PBUH) so Allah answered them by this and told them clearly; "and whomsoever Allah makes err, there is no guide for him; and whom Allah guides, there is none that can lead him astray; is not Allah Mighty, the Lord of retribution?"; so they would surely get the result that they deserve due to such disrespect to the Prophet PBUH; AAYAT-38, 39 & 40 read, "and should you ask them Who created the heavens and the earth? They would most certainly say- Allah (because they believed Him as the Creator of the heavens and the earth but they did not believe Him as the true Lord that they have to fulfill His commands); say (to them)- have you then considered that what you call upon besides Allah, would they, if Allah desire to afflict me with harm, be the removers of His harm, or (would they), if Allah desire to show me mercy, be the withholders of His mercy? - say- Allah is sufficient for me (on Whom I rely as) on Him do the reliant rely- say- O my people! work in your manner, surely I am worker (at virtuous manner), so you will come to know (who is on the right path); (and) who it is to whom there shall come the punishment which will disgrace him (at the world) and to whom will be due the lasting punishment (at AKHIRAT)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku tells about the Quran that Allah has provided it to the Prophet PBUH because He wills to provide the mankind (and even the jinn) complete awareness of the right path by it; so now whoever follows the right path, it is for his own benefit and whoever errs, his error is certainly to his own detriment; AAYAT tells the Prophet PBUH that his liability is only to provide the Guidance to the right path to all persons and he certainly is not liable to see that they do come to it as he certainly is not custodian over them; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ZUMAR-The Fifth Ruku

42. Allah takes the souls at the time of their death, and those who do not die during their sleep; then He withholds those on whom He has passed the decree of death and sends the others back till an appointed term; most surely there are signs in this for the people who reflect.

43. Or have they taken intercessors besides Allah? Say: what! even though they did not ever have control over anything, nor do they understand.

44. Say: Allah's is the intercession altogether; His is the kingdom of the heavens and the earth, then to Him you shall be brought back.

45. And when Allah alone is mentioned, the hearts of those who do not believe in the hereafter shrink, and when those besides Him are mentioned, lo! they are joyful.

46. Say: O Allah! Originator of the heavens and the earth, Knower of the unseen and the seen! Thou (only) judges between Thy servants as to that wherein they differ.

47. And had those who are unjust all that is in the earth and the like of it with it, they would certainly offer it as ransom (to be saved) from the evil of the punishment on the day of resurrection; and what they never thought of shall become plain to them from Allah.

48. And the evil (consequences) of what they wrought shall become plain to them, and the very thing they mocked at shall beset them.

49. So when harm afflicts a man he calls upon Us; then, when We give him a favor from Us, he says: I have been given it only by means of knowledge. Nay, it is a trial, but most of them do not know.

50. Those before them did say it indeed, but what they earned availed them not.

51. So there befell them the evil (consequences) of what they earned; and (as for) those who are unjust from among these, there shall befall them the evil (consequences) of what they earn, and they shall not escape.

52. Do they not know that Allah makes ample the means of subsistence to whom He pleases, and He straitens; most surely there are signs in this for the people who believe.

The first AAYAT of this Ruku compares the sleep to death as both states of a person relate to the loss of free-will of the person totally; it says, "Allah takes the souls at the time of their death, and those who do not die during their sleep" so the word (noun) used here for souls is ANFUS which tells here about the person who has control of self by his/her freewill and the word (verb) used here for taking souls is YATAWAFFA which denotes here that Allah takes complete control over the person when he/she is dead or asleep as he/she loses his/her own freewill; the AAYAT tells ahead that He returns the control (freewill) of those whose death has not yet come and withholds that of those who are dead; so this means that Allah takes the freewill of all persons who are dead or when they are asleep but He returns the freewill to the latter till the respective times of their deaths; it is significant that the Muslims acknowledge the authority of Allah as they read after they wake from sleep, "all praise is to Allah Who returned me life after I had died and certainly all have to return to Him"; note that AAYAT-19 of Surah ROUM has stated, "He brings forth the living from the dead and brings forth the dead from the living, and gives life to the earth after its death, and thus shall you be brought forth"; with reference to it, this AAYAT here at Surah ZUMAR implies that as the person rises from sleep so he/she would rise similarly from dead when Allah wills for that; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-43 asks the disbelievers to think over their attitude that they take intercessors besides Allah; it is clear as crystal that whom they call, have no control over anything around, nor do they understand about the true status of any person; AAYAT-44 tells the Prophet PBUH to say that only Allah has the authority to give any person the right to intercession and that even would be reserved to that person for whom He allows it; so the matter relates to the specific subject and the specific object in this issue; it is extreme idiocy to become uncaring to the good deeds by the concept of SHAFAT and this concept does test the Muslim person; also, no amounts would be taken in compensation from anyone in his/her favor and no assistance would be there for any of those who had not cared to attain the pleasure of Allah; the worldly life is examination for all and the life ahead is for getting the result to it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-45 tells that they have gone so far in love for whom they call besides Allah that when He is mentioned, they do not find any attraction in such speech but when those whom they call besides Allah are mentioned, they are most happy; AAYAT-46 tells the Prophet PBUH that when they have gone to such height in disbelief then O Prophet PBUH- call Allah for assistance against them in words, "O Allah! Originator of the heavens and the earth, Knower of the unseen and the seen! Thou (only) judges between Thy servants as to that wherein they differ", as this would be comforting to give patience to wait for the ultimate outcome of their doings; AAYAAT ahead present their condition at the grounds of HASHR that though they are most miserly at life at the world, obsessed to get its assets, they would be fully prepared to give all that is in the earth and even more if they had it with them, to save themselves from the extreme severity of the punishment that is declared upon them on that significant day; so what they never thought and mocked about, will come to take place (i.e. the final Judgment) because Allah would surely bring that at front of them and they would surely see the ultimate outcome of their wrong-doings totally; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-49 tells about this aspect in the attitude of the disbelievers that though they take intercessors besides Allah yet when some extreme trouble falls upon them, they call Allah only to remove that from them as even they know totally well that whom they call, have no control over anything; and when Allah removes that extreme trouble from them and gives convenience to them, they boast that their own wise tackling of the issue has brought it to them; the AAYAT reads, "so when harm afflicts a man he calls upon Us; then, when We give him a favor from Us, he says- I have been given it only by means of knowledge; nay, it is a trial, but most of them do not know"; AAYAAT ahead state that those persons who were before these people had also made such claims and QASAS-78 has told about QAROUN who had said that he has been given his immense wealth only on account of the knowledge he has; whatever deeds they did were due to their obsession to life at the world and not by care to AKHIRAT, so it would only bring them extreme troubles there and even with their claim that they can see issues by their wise tackling, they would see the bad consequence to their wrongs; the last AAYAT of the Ruku tells explicitly that if someone gets more of assets at the world, it is not the sign that he has achieved the true success and if someone has barely his sustenance, it does not mean that he has lost his worth but Allah examines all persons in different situations and He certainly knows whom to test with plenty and whom to test with scarce means for his sustenance; it is the success in the examination of the life that the man gives at the world by remaining to the commands of Allah, which certainly leads to his true success as every person has to face his/her doings at the certain day of HASHR; that is the time & place where his/her success counts; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ZUMAR-The Sixth Ruku

53. Tell (O Prophet PBUH- from Allah, the true Lord, that): O My servants! who have acted extravagantly against their own souls, do not despair of the mercy of Allah; surely Allah forgives the faults altogether; surely He is the Forgiving, the Merciful.

54. And return to your Lord time after time and submit to Him before there comes to you the punishment, then you shall not be helped.

55. And follow the best that has been revealed to you from your Lord before there comes to you the punishment all of a sudden while you do not even perceive;

56. Lest a soul should say: O woe to me! for what I fell short of my duty to Allah, and most surely I was of those who laughed to scorn;

57. Or it should say: Had Allah guided me, I would certainly have been of those who guard (against evil);

58. Or it should say when it sees the punishment: Were there only a returning for me, I should be of the doers of good.

59. Aye! My AAYAAT came to you, but you rejected them, and you were proud and you were one of the disbelievers.

60. And on the day of resurrection you shall see those who lied against Allah (with) their faces blackened. Is there not in hell an abode for the proud?

61. And Allah shall deliver those who guard (against evil) with their achievement; evil shall not touch them, nor shall they grieve.

62. Allah is the Creator of everything and He has charge over everything.

63. His are the treasures of the heavens and the earth; and (as for) those who disbelieve in the AAYAAT of Allah, these it is that are the losers.

The first AAYAT of the Ruku asks the Prophet PBUH to say to all such persons who come to Islam after they had lived much of life at disbelief, that they do not have to worry about their previous wrongs; however, they need to remain attentive to Allah after they accept Islam sincerely that they do not commit to anything that brings the displeasure of Allah to them; so when they truly accept Islam sincerely when they are yet living at the world and then remain most attentive sincerely to Allah, He would forgive all their previous wrongs that they did as disbelievers and He would provide them space to show their worth for JANNAH by living righteously by total attachment to Islam; certainly, He is Most Forgiving and Most Merciful; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this AAYAT is most comforting even for all of the sinful Muslims that with true repentance, Allah would forgive all of their sins when they do keep away from all of them by all their good efforts; one of Ahadith at Bukhari has such words that imply that Allah is pleased with two men though one had killed the other; this Hadith tells that one fought in the way of Allah and he was killed by the other who was then among the disbelievers; then his killer repented and became a sincere Muslim; afterwards, it happened that he also was killed fighting sincerely in the way of Allah against the disbelievers and so he also received JANNAH; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that this AAYAT tells that the Muslim person must not despair of the mercy of Allah so if some Muslim person sees that a person does not respond positively to Islamic teachings even with all his efforts, he does need to avoid him as much as possible as this AAYAT does not question that attitude; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-55 to 58 tell that all persons have to believe in and practice the teachings of the Quran before the space for its acceptance given to them ends; these AAYAAT read, "and follow the best that has been revealed to you from your Lord (i.e. the teachings of the Quran) before there comes to you the punishment all of a sudden while you do not even perceive (that such calamity may fall when all goings seem to be in favor); lest a soul should say- O woe to me! for what I fell short of my duty to Allah (without any care to take Islam into practice), and most surely I was of those who laughed to scorn (the virtuous teachings of the Quran); or it should say- had Allah guided me, I would certainly have been of those who guard (against evil); or it should say when it sees the punishment- were there only a returning for me, I should be of the doers of good"; note that to question TAQDIR (the will of Allah) is disallowed and all persons have to remain at righteousness by their own respective freewill; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT ahead tell explicitly that the invitation to teachings of the Quran did come to them and they received ample time to accept it but they rejected it by arrogance; once the space for this good acceptance ends, they would not receive another chance; AAYAT-60 reads, "and on the day of resurrection you shall see those who lied against Allah (with) their faces blackened; is there not in hell an abode for the proud?"; so these arrogant proud persons would see the punishment that they truly deserve; whereas Allah shall deliver the righteous believers and they would remain far away from any troubles; AAYAT-61 reads, "and Allah shall deliver those who guard (against evil) with their achievement; evil shall not touch them, nor shall they grieve"; so these righteous good persons would get their due rewards totally at the Day of Judgment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-62 & 63 tell about the authority of Allah that He has not only created everything but He also has control over everything so He directs them fully as He wills for them; whatever treasures that the heavens and the earth hold, Allah knows them in full and provides blessings from them to all such persons who are most attentive to Him; so such good persons do not need to worry about their physical needs but need to take only few necessary steps that are most convenient to them and Allah would provide them their sustenance; and as for those who disbelieve in signs of Allah, that they find inside them and that they find at outside of them too all around, they truly are extreme losers; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ZUMAR-The Seventh Ruku

64. Say: What! Do you then bid me serve others than Allah, O ignorant men?

65. And certainly, it has been revealed to you and to those before you: Surely if you associate (with Allah), your work would certainly come to naught and you would certainly be of the losers.

66. Nay! but serve Allah alone and be of the thankful.

67. And they have not honored Allah with the honor that is due to Him; and the whole earth shall be in His grip on the day of resurrection and the heavens rolled up in His right hand; glory be to Him, and may He be exalted above what they associate (with Him).

68. And the trumpet shall be blown, so all those that are in the heavens and all those that are in the earth shall swoon, except such as Allah please; then it shall be blown again, then lo! they shall stand up awaiting.

69. And the earth shall beam with the light of its Lord, and the Book shall be laid down, and the Prophets and the witnesses shall be brought up, and judgment shall be given between them with justice, and they shall not be dealt with unjustly.

70. And every soul shall be paid back fully what it has done, and He knows best what they do.

At the first AAYAT, this Ruku asks the Prophet PBUH to tell the disbelievers in the bluntest manner that they are extreme fools to ask him to serve others than

Allah; ahead in answer to their idiocy, this Ruku presents the manner of life that all persons must apply to their respective lives at the world (from AAYAT-65 to AAYAT-68), and then it tells about the Day of Judgment that all persons would receive the respective outcomes of their doings at life at the world on that day (from the last of AAYAT-68 to the last of Ruku); the Prophet PBUH would tell them in clearest terms that he has received the revelation as the previous of the Messengers of Allah had received (and to which they called their respective peoples most dutifully) that if any person associates with Allah, any of His creation then his/her seemingly good doings even, would certainly come to naught as they would not be recorded at his/her document of deeds, and he/she would certainly be of the losers at AKHIRAT; "nay! but serve Allah alone and be of the thankful"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; undoubtedly, the disbelievers have not honored Allah with the honor that is due to Him as they have taken associates with Him; AAYAT tells that His authority is such amazing that the whole earth shall be in His grip on the day of resurrection and the heavens in His right hand rolled up; this is among MUTASHABEH issues (such unclear matters about which only Allah knows and none of His creation is aware of) and as such, the only comment that is appropriate here is that we Muslims believe in Him totally; AAYAT states at its last that "glory be to Him and may He be exalted above what they associate (with Him)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-68 reads that "and the trumpet shall be blown (for the first time), so all those that are in the heavens and all those that are in the earth shall swoon (until they die), except such as Allah please"; this will be the first blow of the angel at the trumpet by the command of Allah when all of mankind would die ultimately after losing consciousness except for some who would die immediately by the will of Allah or who would not even lose their consciousness at that time by the will of Allah, though they also would die soon, after some short period of time, according to His will; most certainly, the best comment here is that Allah knows better; the last part of the AAYAT reads, "then it (the trumpet) shall be blown again (for the second time), then lo! they shall stand up awaiting"; this would be the Day of Judgment where all persons would get their respective documents of deeds and then their final destination would be ascertained by that; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT ahead tell about the Day of Judgment, "and the earth shall beam with the light of its Lord, and the Book (that would have all documents of deeds of all persons recorded in it) shall be laid down, and the Prophets and the witnesses (who would be from among the most truthful and the most righteous persons) shall be brought up (who would testify against the disbelievers on demand), and judgment shall be given between them with justice, and they shall not be dealt with unjustly; and every soul shall be paid back fully what it has done and He knows best what they do"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ZUMAR-The Last Ruku

71. And those who disbelieve shall be driven to hell-fire in companies; until, when they come to it, its doors shall be opened, and the keepers of it shall say to them: Did not there come to you apostles from among you reciting to you the AAYAAT of your Lord and warning you of the meeting of this day of yours? They shall say: Yea! But the sentence of punishment was due against the disbelievers.

72. It shall be said: Enter the gates of hell to abide therein; so evil is the abode of the proud.

73. And those who are careful of (their duty to) their Lord shall be conveyed to the garden in companies; until when they come to it, and its doors shall be opened, and the keepers of it shall say to them: Peace be on you, you shall be happy; therefore, enter it to abide.

74. And they shall say: (All) praise is due to Allah, Who has made good to us His promise, and He has made us inherit the land; we may abide in the garden where we please; so goodly is the reward of the workers.

75. And you shall see the angels going round about the throne glorifying the praise of their Lord; and judgment shall be given between them (all of persons) with justice, and it shall be said: All praise is due to Allah, the Lord of the worlds.

The Ruku states that all persons would be led in groups to their respective destinations according to their doings; the first two AAYAAT narrate that the disbelievers would be led to the hell-fire in groups and when they come to it, its doors shall be opened and the keepers of it would ask them if apostles did not come to them from among them and provide them the guidance that all persons have to face this Day of Judgment; their answer to this would only be that the sentence of punishment was due against all disbelievers and they were among such persons; they would be entered into the hell-fire with the remark that this is the abode for punishment of all proud persons; as for those righteous persons who were most attentive to Allah, the true Lord, they would be led to JANNAH (the most beautiful garden) in groups until when they come to it and its doors shall already have been opened to welcome them at their arrival, the keepers there shall greet them with good words, "peace be on you, you shall be happy; therefore, enter it to abide"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at this pleasant welcome, all person who enter JANNAH shall praise Allah that He fulfilled His promise to them that He would provide them most pleasant residence if they live at the world by His commands sincerely to achieve His pleasure; He has certainly given them beautiful spacious place to stay wherever they please and most certainly, this is the most goodly reward to them on all their virtuous doings that Allah accepted from them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku, and of the Surah, reads, "and you shall see the angels going round about the throne (of Allah) glorifying the praise of their Lord; and judgment shall be given between them (i.e. all of persons) with justice, and it shall be said- all praise is due to Allah, the Lord of the worlds"; so every person would receive his respective destination to remain there forever, with complete care to justice, and that specific day would end by the praise of Allah; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah MOMEN (Surah GHAFIR)
(Consists of 9 Ruku; MK-8)

MOMEN-The First Ruku

1. HA-MIM
2. The revelation of the Book is from Allah, the Mighty, the Knowing,

3. The Forgiver of the faults and the Acceptor of repentance, Severe to punish, Lord of bounty; there is no god but He; to Him is the eventual coming.

4. None dispute concerning the AAYAAT of Allah but those who disbelieve, therefore let not their going to and fro in the cities deceive you.

5. The people of Noah and the parties after them rejected (Prophets) before them, and every nation purposed against their apostle to destroy him, and they disputed by means of the falsehood that they might thereby render null the Truth, therefore I destroyed them; how was then My retribution!

6. And thus did the word of your Lord prove true against those who disbelieved, that they are the inmates of the hell-fire.

7. Those who bear the ARSH and those around Him celebrate the praise of their Lord and believe in Him and ask protection for those who believe: Our Lord! Thou embrace all things in mercy and knowledge, therefore grant protection to those who turn (to Thee) and follow Thy way, and save them from the punishment of the hell-fire.

8. Our Lord! and make them enter the gardens of perpetuity which Thou hast promised to them and those who do good of their fathers and their wives and their offspring, surely Thou are the Mighty, the Wise.

9. And keep them from evil deeds, and whom Thou keeps from evil deeds this day, indeed Thou hast mercy on him, and that is the mighty achievement.

From here to Surah AHQAAF, total of seven Surah, all start by HA-MIM and all of them, with Surah ZUMAR, guide explicitly to the fundamental teachings of Islam; they all explicitly provide the message that all persons must live by virtuous teachings of the Quran to save themselves from the most severe punishment and to get the most pleasant life at AKHIRAT, as that only is the true success; these all start by mentioning the Holy Book Quran and these all, including ZUMAR, came to the Prophet PBUH at MAKKAH within a short period of time (from MK-8 to the beginning of MK-9); Surah SHURA among them, even addresses the collective life of Muslims to guide how they shall live collectively by the commands of Allah at the most difficult times that they face; Al-Hamdu Lillah; HA-MIM is the term that is among MUQATTA'AAT and it is not necessary for a person to know them in the understanding of the Quran; the start of the Surah tells that "the revelation of the Book (i.e. the Quran) is from Allah, the Mighty, the Knowing, the Forgiver of the faults and the Acceptor of repentance, Severe to punish, Lord of bounty; there is no god but He; to Him is the eventual coming; none dispute concerning the AAYAAT of Allah but those who disbelieve, therefore let not their going to and fro in the cities deceive you"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT imply that all persons need to believe in the Quran and take it into practice, as all have to answer for all their doings at front of Allah, the true Lord, at AKHIRAT; AAYAAT relate six of attributes of Allah that mention that He certainly is caring for such persons who repent on their wrongs at life at the world yet He gives most severe punishment to wrong-doers who do not show any remorse on their deeds until their death takes them; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it may seem that the disbelievers are living pleasantly but the fact of the matter is that all their attention is to get many of assets and much high status at the world as they do not have any care to AKHIRAT and so they live as if all the life that they have, is here and now; AAYAAT-5 & 6 mention that Allah had even punished the disbelievers at the world when He willed for it and so He destroyed the people of Noah-AS and all such peoples who rejected the Prophets-AS whom Allah had sent to them, by severe punishments upon them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; they all had opposed their Prophets and had tried their best that the falsehood stays and the Truth vanishes away, so Allah destroyed them completely; such is His retribution, according to His word that all those who challenge Him, would ultimately be the inmates of the hell-fire; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAT-

7 to its last, the Ruku records the plea to Allah of those angels who bear the ARSH (the mighty Throne of Allah) and those angels who are around Him, that they praise Allah and ask Him to protect those who do believe sincerely; they acknowledge that Allah embraces all things in mercy and knowledge and then they ask Him for His protection at the world to those who are truly attentive to Him and follow His commands; they ask Him to save all such persons from the hell-fire at AKHIRAT; they ask Him to make them enter the gardens of perpetuity which He has promised to all righteous believers and to those who do good among their fathers and their wives and their offspring; and they ask Him to keep them from the negative effect of any of wrong deeds that they may have done; certainly, when He saves the righteous person from all of the negative effect that day, with acceptance of all his good deeds, He certainly shows mercy on him, and that is the mighty achievement for such person; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-68 of ZUMAR reads, "and the trumpet shall be blown, so all those that are in the heavens and all those that are in the earth shall swoon, except such as Allah please; then it shall be blown again, then lo! they shall stand up awaiting"; there are such comments on this AAYAT which mention that here those who would retain their consciousness, would be these angels mentioned at this AAYAT-7 of MOMEN; note about ARSH that this is among MUTASHABEH matters (such unclear matters about which only Allah knows and none of His creation is aware of); here, we see that the angels make DUA to Allah for the family members of the righteous believers too and for this, note that TOOR-21 reads, "and (as for) those who believe and their offspring follow them in belief, We will unite with them their offspring and We will not diminish to them aught of their work; every man is responsible for what he shall have wrought"; so Allah has mentioned at this AAYAT of TOOR that all such close relatives of the person who is at the higher level in JANNAH (the gardens of paradise), who also have achieved it though at lower level, He would elevate them to his level without any decrease in his status, so that they all live-on in the happy mode by which they had lived their good virtuous lives at the world before; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of this Ruku also indicate by words "and that is the mighty achievement", that the true success is of AKHIRAT which the righteous believer would only receive by his recognition that the only aim of life is to get the pleasure of Allah by the righteous belief and all virtuous deeds according to that belief; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

MOMEN-The Second Ruku

10. Surely those who disbelieve shall be cried out to: Certainly Allah's hatred (of you) when you were called upon to the true belief and you rejected, is much greater than your hatred of yourselves.

11. They shall say: Our Lord! twice didst Thou make us subject to death, and twice hast Thou given us life, so we do confess our faults; is there then a way to get out?

12. That is because when Allah alone was called upon, you disbelieved, and when associates were given to Him, you believed; so judgment belongs to Allah, the High, the Great.

13. He it is Who shows you His signs and sends down for you, sustenance from heaven, and none minds but he who turns (to Him) again and again.

14. Therefore call upon Allah, being sincere to Him in obedience, though the disbelievers are averse:

15. (He is the) Possessor of the highest rank, Lord of ARSH- He sends the spirit (WAHI) by His command (by His good selection) upon whom He will of His slaves (in mankind), that he (His Messenger whom He has selected) may warn of the Day of Meeting.

16. (Of) the day when they shall come forth, nothing concerning them remains hidden to Allah. To whom belongs the kingdom this day? To Allah, the One, the Absolute.

17. This day every soul shall be rewarded for what it has earned; no injustice (shall be done) this day; surely Allah is quick in reckoning.

18. And warn them of the day that draws near, when hearts shall rise up to the throats, choking (them); the unjust shall not have any compassionate friend nor any intercessor who should be obeyed.

19. He knows the stealthy looks and that which the breasts conceal.

20. And Allah would judge with complete justice; and those whom they call upon besides Him, cannot judge anything; surely Allah only is the Hearing, the Seeing.

At AKHIRAT, when disbelievers had been put into the hell-fire, they would be called by angels who would tell them that Allah hates much more of their doings than what hatred they have of themselves at present when they have seen the consequence of their doings because of the idiocy that they showed at life at the world; they did all that was undue for them yet they did not care for that which was most due upon them; AAYAT-11 tells how they would respond to this call by angels that they would ask Allah, "they shall say- our Lord! twice didst Thou make us subject to death, and twice hast Thou given us life, so we do confess our faults; is there then a way to get out?"; this is plea that Allah gives them another chance by giving them lives again for their examination so that they live by His commands or He decides an ultimate death for them; note that the dwellers of the hell-fire had indicated here the state of death and of life in terms of physique and all these states were totally subject to the will of Allah; these are when they were not born at the world; the second is when they had their respective lives at the world with their respective physiques and respective spirits, for their examination; the third is when they had their respective deaths which ended their physical lives at the world; and the fourth is when they regained their lives at the Day of Judgment; note that Allah has taken an oath from all spirits at the world of command (that is the world of spirits), which AARAAF-172 mentions, "and when your Lord brought forth from the children of Adam, from their backs, their descendants, and made them bear witness against their own souls- am I not your Lord?- they said- yes- we bear witness; lest you should say on the day of resurrection- surely we were heedless of this"; then Allah put them to such state where these spirits remained in wait to come at the world at their respective due times by birth to their respective parents, and then they had physique too and lived on till their respective deaths; note that the dwellers of the hell-fire did not speak about the state at world of spirits as it was not related to physique whereas another thing to note is that they also did not speak about the punishment that they had received at graves; this denotes that that also is some spiritual experience for some of period there, specified for each person by the will of Allah, to which we are unable to reflect during this life that we live at the world and certainly, Allah knows better; Ahadith have explicitly told about the chastisement at the grave for sinful persons or the peace at the grave for the righteous persons yet seemingly the chastisement there is much long in time for few of wrong persons by the will of Allah but very short in time for others by the will of Allah so after that, they would remain dead only, till the day when He would raise all persons from dead (i.e. the Day of Judgment) so the most sinful persons would then receive the most grievous chastisement at AKHIRAT; consider AAYAT-46 of this Surah that we all study currently which reads, "they (Pharaoh and his people) shall be brought before the fire (every) morning and evening; and on the day when the hour shall come to pass, Allah would make the people of Pharaoh enter the severest chastisement"; this also is notable that the persons at extreme peace would receive their reward of tranquility at their lives that relate to the grave, seemingly for some of time as Allah wills and then they would remain dead as Ahadith are most explicit on that too, till the Day of Judgment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that this speech of dwellers at the hell-fire tells in clear terms that they would have physique there and AAYAT-56 at Surah NISAA states,

"(as for) those who disbelieve in Our AAYAAT, We shall make them enter fire; so oft as their skins are thoroughly burned, We will change them for other skins, that they may taste the chastisement; surely Allah is Mighty, Wise"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-12 presents the reason why the disbelievers have ended up at the hell-fire that when Allah alone was called upon, they disbelieved and when associates were mentioned for Him, they took them as equal in authority to Allah and believed in them; so they have seen clearly that the true judgment belongs only to Allah, Who is the Highest and the Greatest; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAT-13 to the last, the Ruku guides that obsession to gain assets and status at the world is not something for which the man has come to the world; Allah has provided him his sustenance quite well that he could get by little of efforts but he needs to remain attentive to his actual task and call upon Allah remaining sincere to fulfill His commands; then only, he would get the true success of AKHIRAT; he must adhere to his actual task, even if the disbelievers take him as fanatic upon Islam, who does not have to do anything with the worldly assets and status; AAYAT-15 reads, "(He is the) Possessor of the highest rank, Lord of ARSH- He sends the spirit (WAHI) by His command (by His good selection) upon whom He will of His slaves (in mankind), that he (His Messenger whom He has selected) may warn of the Day of Meeting"; note that the word ROOH (spirit) comes in the Quran, in the meaning of angel, revelation (WAHI) and the spirit of the man; note also that it was only by His selection (i.e. His will) that He made the most righteous person as His Messenger towards his specific nation; now, there is no Messenger to come after Muhammad PBUH, as he was the last of His Messengers, whom He sent to all peoples of the world for all times ahead from that time; Al-Hamdu Lillah; three of AAYAAT ahead tell about the Day of Judgment that on that day, all persons would see manifestly that nothing of their doings are hidden to Allah and He certainly has all the true authority; He would judge every person according to his/her doings at that day without any injustice; Al-Hamdu Lillah; that day is drawing near when the hearts of the disbelievers shall rise up to throats due to extreme fear and that would be choking them; there, they would not have any compassionate friend nor any intercessor who should be obeyed to give relief to them; the last two AAYAAT at the Ruku read, "He knows the stealthy looks (of persons towards assets of the world who intend to get them as much as possible for them) and that which the breasts conceal (of persons who intend to get high status at the world by hook or by crook); and Allah would judge (the doings of all persons) with complete justice (at AKHIRAT); and those whom they call upon besides Him, cannot judge anything (even at the world, as they neither are capable to hear anything nor are capable to see anything and they are totally unable to decide for anything in any manner as surely they have no authority); surely Allah only is the Hearing (of pleas), the Seeing (of what is best to provide to any person for his/her examination at the world)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

MOMEN-The Third Ruku

21. Have they not travelled in the earth and seen how was the end of those who were before them? Mightier than these were they in strength-- and in fortifications in the land, but Allah destroyed them for their sins; and there was not for them any defender against Allah.

22. That was because there came to them their apostles with clear arguments, but they rejected (them), therefore Allah destroyed them; surely He is Most Powerful, Most Severe in retribution.

23. And certainly We sent Musa with Our AAYAAT and clear authority,

24. To Pharaoh and Haman and QARUN, but they said: A lying magician.

25. So when he brought to them the Truth from Us, they said: Slay the sons of those who believe with him and keep their women alive; and the struggle of the disbelievers will only come to state of futility.

26. And Pharaoh said: Let me alone that I may slay Musa and let him call upon his Lord; surely I fear that he will change your religion or that he will make mischief to appear in the land.

27. And Musa said: Surely I take refuge with my Lord and-- your Lord from every proud one who does not believe in the day of reckoning.

The Ruku starts by guiding the attention of the disbelievers to the historical fact that Allah destroyed many of peoples due to their extreme sins, though they were mightier and better in the making of fortifications in the land than these disbelievers that challenge the teachings of the Quran at these times; their greatest sin was that they rejected the Messengers of Allah, who had come to them with BAYYINAAT (i.e. the clear reasoning to get to the true Belief in Allah, the true Lord, and in the judgment at AKHIRAT by the observation of the previous guidance that Allah had provided to the people by His Messengers); so He destroyed them totally; surely He is Most Powerful, Most Severe in retribution; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next four AAYAAT of the Ruku narrate about how Moses-AS called Pharaoh to the right path and how he and his allies, notably Haman who was the most trustworthy minister of Pharaoh and QAROUN who was one of the most affluent persons at the environment, rejected Moses by calling him a magician and untruthful in his teachings; but the Truth was getting recognition among the Bani-Israel and it had even affected some of persons that were most influential in that society; the Ruku ahead reports the speech of the MOMEN (the righteous believer) who was among such persons who were given honor at the court of Pharaoh; seeing the attention that the virtuous teachings of Moses were getting at the environment, the chiefs at the court of Pharaoh advised him to slay the sons of those who believe with him and keep their women alive; even Pharaoh inclined to this manner of dealing with Moses but this time, this advice did not materialize and all such efforts from them came to futility; for one thing, the grandfather of this Pharaoh at throne who was challenging Moses-AS, had taken this move against the Bani-Israel many years back and it had proved futile as their increase in number was not affected by it; and another thing was that it had not stopped Moses to survive and in fact, he lived on at the royal palace of the Pharaoh; that move of the previous Pharaoh had only caused resentment in Bani-Israel for the administration so this Pharaoh, with his chiefs, had to drop this advice and in this way, Allah made the struggle of disbelievers completely futile; the Pharaoh presented the motion for his chiefs to assent to at his assembly, that they should allow him to kill Moses; he told them plainly that he fears that Moses would succeed in changing all of their system and at-least, he would succeed to cause a reasonable mutiny at the land;

the Pharaoh was so arrogant that he mentioned that once he gets the chiefs to agree to the execution of Moses then even if he calls Allah, it would be of no benefit to him; it seems that they had some law at that time that decrees of Pharaoh having crucial impact at the land, shall need the assent of his chiefs around; when Moses came to know of this motion, he did ask the protection of Allah as the last AAYAT of this Ruku presents his DUA to Allah, the true Lord, which reads, "and Musa said- surely I take refuge with my Lord and your Lord from every proud one who does not believe in the day of reckoning"; Allah accepted his call and as the time to affirm the motion of Pharaoh ensued, He raised one of His righteous believers from among the Pharaoh's own family members to support Moses-AS; and He decided that the Pharaoh dies within a short period of time so it was the Pharaoh, who died by drowning when he was frantically chasing Moses and the Bani-Israel, with massive number of his armed men; most certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

MOMEN-The Fourth Ruku

28. And a believing man of Pharaoh's people who hid his true belief said: What! will you slay a man because he says: My Lord is Allah, and indeed he has brought to you clear arguments from your Lord? And if he be a liar, on him will be his lie, and if he be truthful, there will befall you some of that which he threatens you (with); surely Allah does not guide him who is extravagant, a liar:

29. O my people! yours is the kingdom this day, being masters in the land, but who will help us against the punishment of Allah if it come to us? Pharaoh said: I do not show you aught but that which I see (myself), and I do not make you follow any but the proper course of action.

30. And he who believed said: O my people! surely I fear for you the like of what befell the parties:

31. The like of what befell the people of Noah and AAD and THAMUD and those after them, and Allah does not desire injustice for (His) servants;

32. And, O my people! I fear for you the day of calling out,

33. The day on which you will turn back retreating; there shall be no savior for you from Allah, and whomsoever Allah causes to err, there is no guide for him:

34. And certainly Yusuf came to you before with clear arguments, but you ever remained in doubt as to what he brought; until when he died, you said: Allah will never raise an apostle after him. Thus does Allah cause him to err who is extravagant, a doubter

35. Those who dispute concerning the AAYAAT of Allah without any authority that He has given them; it is greatly hated by Allah and by those who believe. Thus does Allah set a seal over the heart of every proud, haughty one.

36. And Pharaoh said: O Haman! build for me a tower that I may attain the means of access,

37. The means of access to the heavens, then reach the god of Musa, and I surely think him to be a liar. And thus the evil of his deed was made fair-seeming to Pharaoh, and he was turned away from the way; and the struggle of Pharaoh was not (to end) in aught but destruction.

This Ruku and much of the next Ruku presents the speech of that MOMEN (the righteous believer), at close quarters of Pharaoh, who had hidden his true belief till that time and was among his family members; though Pharaoh tried to interrupt his speech to disturb the impression of it yet to no avail; the MOMEN, seeing that the situation has turned extremely grave as the chiefs at the close quarters of Pharaoh might decide for the execution of Moses, spoke out without any care to consequence with total attention towards Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it is most interesting to note that Allah saved Moses-AS from gravest of situations when his life was highly threatened; three of these occasions are most noteworthy that are when he was born, and when he had reached MADYAN, and this-

when the Pharaoh had asked his chiefs around to decide for the death of Moses; note that QASAS-24 narrates DUA of Moses-AS when he arrived at MADYAN which reads, "my Lord! surely I stand in need of whatever good Thou may send down to me"; so Allah provided him shelter at that place and one of the most upright ladies as his wife at that place; and after the years that he spent at that place, He made him His Messenger towards all of Bani-Israel so that they live virtuously free from slavery; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Ruku narrates that the MOMEN from among the Pharaoh's people said that it is most unscrupulous to kill a person only because he believes in Allah, the true Lord, and invites others too to this Truth; so if any person thinks that Moses is speaking lies, then he should be mindful that he would get the negative result to it as Allah does not guide any such person who is extravagant and liar; but if he is truthful, all such persons who disbelieve in him shall taste the extreme punishment of which he has threatened them; the MOMEN told all persons present at that assembly that though they do have the kingdom at their hand today yet when the punishment comes from Allah, no person would be able to stop it from falling upon the land; at this stage of his speech, Pharaoh interrupted that he is leading the assembly to the direction which he deems fit to take and he added that this only is the proper course of action to take; without any attention to what Pharaoh said, the MOMEN continued his speech and it seems that he was at ripe age whose direction was sought in affairs; it is most probable that he had heard some of the good teachings of Islam from Hatshepsut (i.e. AASIYAH) who had saved Moses-AS when he was flowing at waters in his crib; AAYAAT ahead read, "and he who believed said- O my people! surely I fear for you the like of what befell the parties (that had disbelieved in the fundamental teachings of Islam); the like of what befell the people of Noah and AAD and THAMUD and those after them (so these peoples are such parties upon whom the disasters fell), and Allah does not desire injustice for (His) servants (but when they challenge Him, they ask for troubles); and, O my people! I fear for you the day of calling out (i.e. the Day of Judgment); the day on which you will turn back retreating (to the extreme punishment of the hell-fire); there shall be no savior for you from Allah, and whomsoever Allah causes to err, there is no guide for him; and certainly Yusuf came to you before (about four centuries ago) with clear arguments, but you ever remained in doubt as to what he brought; until when he died, you said- Allah will never raise an apostle after him (and so the disbelievers would continue their lives without care to the Truth); thus does Allah cause him to err who is extravagant, doubter; (such persons are) those who dispute concerning the AAYAAT of Allah without any authority that He has given them; it is greatly hated by Allah and by those who believe, thus does Allah set a seal over the heart of every proud, haughty one"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at this stage of his speech, the Pharaoh interrupted again and addressed his advisor Haman to build a huge lofty tower so that he gets access to the heaven and obtains knowledge of Whom Musa worships; it was idiocy of Pharaoh to ask such thing to Haman, and such building never materialized so it was only an idiotic stunt of the Pharaoh to misguide his men and ignore the teachings of Moses; the outcome of this rejection of the message of Allah by Pharaoh and his men was that Allah drowned them all into the sea and declared them all cursed at AKHIRAT, i.e. the true life after this life at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

MOMEN-The Fifth Ruku

38. And he who believed said: O my people! follow me, I will guide you to the right course;

39. O my people! this life of the world is only a (passing) enjoyment, and surely the hereafter is the abode to settle;

40. Whoever does an evil, he shall not be recompensed (with aught) but the like of it, and whoever does good, whether male or female, and he is a believer, these shall enter the garden, in which they shall be given sustenance without measure.

41. And, O my people! how is it that I call you to salvation and you call me to the hell-fire?

42. You call on me that I should disbelieve in Allah and associate with Him that of which I have no knowledge, and I call you to the Mighty, the most Forgiving;

43. No doubt that what you call me to has no title to be called to in this world, nor in the hereafter, and that our turning back is to Allah, and that the extravagant are the inmates of the hell-fire;

44. So you shall remember what I say to you, and I entrust my affair to Allah, Surely Allah sees all servants.

45. So Allah protected him from the evil (consequences) of what they planned, and the extreme severity of punishment overtook Pharaoh's people:

46. The hell-fire; they shall be brought before it (every) morning and evening and on the day when the hour shall ensue: Make Pharaoh's people enter the severest chastisement.

47. And when they shall contend one with another in that fire, then the weak shall say to those who were proud: Surely we were your followers; will you then avert from us portion of the hell-fire?

48. Those who were proud shall say: Surely we are all in it: surely Allah has judged between the servants.

49. And those who are in the hell-fire shall say to the keepers of hell: Call upon your Lord that He may lighten to us one day of the punishment.

50. They shall say: Did not your apostles come to you with clear arguments? They shall say: Yea. They shall say: Then call. And the call of the disbelievers is only in error.

The MOMEN went on with his speech, ignoring the interruption of Pharaoh, addressing the chiefs there; however, this time he answered to Pharaoh's words that he had said at the previous interruption; he told the assembly that in fact, he truly is guiding his people to the proper course of action to take, and not Pharaoh; the fact of the matter is that the life of the world is only a passing enjoyment, and surely AKHIRAT is the abode to which all persons have to give attention to; it is there where the failure or success would come at fore truly as whoever does an evil, he shall be given his punishment according to it, and whoever does good, whether male or female, and he/she is a true believer, these shall get more of their good returns for the proper course of action that they took at life at the world; they would enter JANNAH where they shall be given whatever they want, and as much as they want, without measure; so this statement of the MOMEN notes that the condition to success at AKHIRAT is that the person, whether male or female, has TAQWA (that is the peaceful condition at inside which comes by the righteous belief in Allah and commitment of good deeds according to it); the Holy Book Quran has told this explicitly and Surah ASR, though brief in text, gives this message beautifully; it has mentioned most explicitly that the true success is only one; Allah swears by the time that is fast running out for every person as all persons are going towards their death; all persons are certainly in extreme trouble as every person has to make utmost effort to attain the pleasure of Allah in this limited time that has been allotted to him/her; this only is the true aim of life and this only would prove the validity for every person to get JANNAH (i.e. the most beautiful garden, where he/she would remain at peace forever); Al-Hamdu Lillah; this success would come only to those who believe in Allah truly and do all good deeds that Allah has commanded them; they would have firm belief in TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord); AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment); RISALAT (Allah sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path); and as for doing all good deeds, note that the Muslim person has to remain totally attentive to Allah and has to remain totally disinterested in gathering wealth or to make status at the world, as his righteous preference in attitude insha-Allah would lead him ultimately to set his deeds to attainment of the true success at AKHIRAT; Al-

Hamdu Lillah; also, for completion of his virtuous living, the Muslim person needs to make TABLIGH (call all persons to the right path in all issues) as that also is necessary; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the MOMEN guided the chiefs gathered at the assembly that they need to see that he is calling them to the true success whereas they are calling him to failure that is to the hell-fire; what they are calling to, is that he should disbelieve in Allah and associate with Him those who are nothing but His creation whereas he calls them to Him, the true Lord, Who is Mighty to give them extreme punishment even at the world for their disbelief and Most Forgiving so He would forgive their sins if they accept the Truth sincerely and remain most committed to it; he told them most explicitly that they are calling him to such thing which has no worth to give invitation to at the world, and certainly, it has no value at AKHIRAT; all persons have to return to Allah and all extravagant persons who spend their wealth, their capability and their times in other manner than the proper course of action to take without any care to commands of Allah, the true Lord, they all would be the inmates of the hell-fire; the MOMEN gave beautiful last touch to his virtuous speech by mentioning, "so you shall remember what I say to you, and I entrust my affair to Allah; surely Allah sees all servants"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this speech was most challenging to Pharaoh and his chiefs but Allah protected the MOMEN from the evil of all of them and it happened that the extreme severity of punishment fell upon Pharaoh's people; that extreme severity is that they are brought before the hell-fire at every morning and at every evening and then, when the Day of Judgment takes place, Allah would command angels to enter Pharaoh & his people into the most severest chastisement; note that this AAYAT tells about the punishment to Pharaoh and all his people who followed him, at life that relates to grave; Ahadith have explicitly told about the peace or the chastisement at the life that relates to grave yet seemingly the peace or the chastisement there is much long in time for some by the will of Allah but very short in time for others by the will of Allah (and that certainly does not imply that they are conscious about what is going-on at the world that they had left behind); this life at grave is named as the life of BARZAKH that starts immediately after death though that most certainly does not mean that the person is physically alive at his/her grave though he/she does have some connection to that; however, we do not know the nature of that life and how much period of consciousness that any person has there after his/her death; the best thing to say at this matter is that certainly, Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; after they all enter the hell-fire, the persons that had been weak at life at the world and used to follow their proud leaders, they would ask them if they are able to avert some of the chastisement that they are going through at the place which they occupy at the hell-fire, whereas those who used to live in pride at the world would reply to them that all of them are getting it according to the judgment of Allah which they are completely unable to challenge; then they all would ask the angels whom Allah has appointed as keepers of hell, to call upon Him that He may lighten to them one day only of that extreme punishment; those angels would tell them in clearest manner that when they had got ample time at the world where the Messengers of Allah had provided them the Guidance to the right path, then those angels would not put their plea ahead so if they do want to present it to Allah, they do it themselves; the last part of the last AAYAT of the Ruku tells, "and the call of the disbelievers is only in error"; this means that Allah would not hear their plea for any relief from their extreme chastisement, as AKHIRAT is where every person gets the returns to what he/she has done at the world; so there would be no relief for the dwellers of the hell-fire, neither in severity of their chastisement nor in its period; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

MOMEN-The Sixth Ruku

51. Most surely We help Our apostles, and those who believe, in this world's life and on the day when the witnesses shall stand

52. The day on which their excuse shall not benefit the unjust, and for them is curse and for them is the evil abode.

53. And certainly We gave Musa the guidance, and We made the children of Israel inherit the Book,

54. A guidance and a reminder to the men of understanding.

55. Therefore, be patient; surely the promise of Allah is true; and ask protection for your fault and recite the praise of your Lord in the evening and the morning.

56. Surely (as for) those who dispute about the AAYAAT of Allah without any authority that has come to them, there is naught in their breasts but (a desire) to become great which they shall never attain to; Therefore, seek refuge in Allah, surely He is the Hearing, the Seeing.

57. Certainly the creation of the heavens and the earth is greater than the creation of the men, but most people do not know

58. And the blind and the seeing are not alike, nor those who believe and do good and the evil-doer; little is it that you are mindful.

59. Most surely the hour is coming, there is no doubt therein, but most people do not believe.

60. And your Lord says: Call upon Me, I will answer you; surely those who are too proud for My service shall soon enter hell abased.

At the sixth Ruku of Surah MOMEN, Allah comforts Muhammad PBUH, His last Messenger to all peoples of the world, and all of sincere believers in Him, by most soothing words; its first AAYAT reads, "most surely We help Our apostles, and those who believe, in this world's life and on the day when the witnesses shall stand"; that is the Day of Judgment and it is most notable that Surah MOMEN mentions that specific day by its different aspects; it has mentioned it as the day "of Meeting" (AAYAT-15); "which draws near" (AAYAT-18); "of reckoning" (AAYAT-27); "of calling out" (AAYAT-32); "when the hour shall ensue" (AAYAT-46); "when witnesses shall stand (AAYAT-51)"; note that the text of the Quran also has utmost significance and these all aspects of it tell about its highest importance which needs utmost care of every person in his/her life at the world for it; at that day, Allah would help all His Prophets and all sincere believers in Him but the excuses of the disbelievers would not benefit them in any manner; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Ruku narrates about Moses-AS that Allah gave him the true guidance and through him, Bani-Israel received Torah that had the true guidance in it for them and was reminder to all understanding men; this happened as he stood firm upon the Truth so Allah saved him from all adversities according to His word; Allah asks the Prophet PBUH to remain patient on whatever adverse things that the disbelievers say about him and if there occurs some lack in his patience, he shall ask protection from any adverse effect of such lack in patience and remain caring to praise of Allah at all times, especially by daily SALAH at their respective due times; AAYAT-56 points-out one of the notable features of the psyche of such disbelievers who challenge the fundamental teachings of Islam by their living manner, that they have a desire to achieve status, where the people around them take them as having prominence among them and seek their advice to issues but in fact, they do not have any credentials for coming to that status because they have denied the true virtuous manner to live by Islam; their unplaced desire affects them by such complex where their following leads their followers too, only to extreme destruction; it clearly tells the Prophet PBUH that he does not need to worry for the adverse speech of such mentally instable persons but seek refuge in Allah from their evil (if they do get some foolish men in their following to make trouble in some way); surely He has all authority to keep him safe from all adversities; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at AAYAT-57, Allah states explicitly, "certainly the creation of the heavens and the earth is greater than the creation of the men, but most people do not know"; note that all that is at heavens and even at the earth, they all are following principles that Allah has set for them and it is the most wonderful work of Allah to create them in such manner with such beauty; all those who disbelieve in His true authority, must observe that when He has done this extremely enormous work with such wonderful beauty, then surely, it is much easier for Him to give life to all of mankind for the second time; certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-58 & 59 give the message that those who live whereas they see to their true aim of life and those who live without any care to that, are not alike; and this is to say that those who believe and do good deeds, and those who commit extreme wrongs, they are not alike; this would clearly manifest at the Day of Judgment which surely is coming as Allah would give all persons their respective results there; that is His justice which He would provide on that day; He would care most for the sincere believers and punish all disbelievers by most severe punishment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku says, "and your Lord says- call upon Me, I will answer you; surely those who are too proud to worship Me, shall soon enter hell-fire abased"; note that to call Allah for anything is included in His worship and so it is most noble act to show humbleness in front of Allah, the true Lord; this AAYAT tells that those who are too haughty to ask Him for their needs, they have proved themselves the dwellers of the hell-fire; note also that we have read at AAYAT-56 at this Ruku, "surely (as for) those who dispute about the AAYAAT of Allah without any authority that has come to them, there is naught in their breasts but (a desire) to become great which they shall never attain to; therefore, seek refuge in Allah, surely He is the Hearing, the Seeing"; and at Surah BAQARAH-186, we have read about DUA, "and when My servants question thee (O Muhammad PBUH) concerning Me, then surely I am nigh; I answer DUA (the prayer) of the suppliant when he cries unto Me; so let them hear My call and let them trust in Me, in order that they may be led aright"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

MOMEN-The Seventh Ruku

61. Allah is He Who made for you the night that you may rest therein and the day to see; most surely Allah is Gracious to men, but most men do not give thanks.

62. That is Allah, your Lord, the Creator of everything; there is no god but He; whence are you then turned away?

63. Thus were turned away those who denied the AAYAAT of Allah.

64. Allah is He Who made the earth a resting-place for you and the heaven a canopy, and He formed you, then made goodly your forms, and He provided you with goodly things; that is Allah, your Lord; blessed then is Allah, the Lord of the worlds.

65. He is the Living, there is no god but He, therefore call on Him, being sincere to Him in obedience; (all) praise is due to Allah, the Lord of the worlds.

66. Say: I am forbidden to serve those whom you call upon besides Allah when clear arguments have come to me from my Lord, and I am commanded that I should submit to the Lord of the worlds.

67. He it is Who created you from dust, then from a small life-germ, then from a clot, then He brings you forth as a child, then that you may attain your maturity, then that you may be old-- and of you there are some who are caused to die before-- and that you may reach an appointed term, and that you may understand.

68. He it is Who gives life and brings death, so when He decrees an affair, He only says to it: Be, and it is.

The Ruku states about TAUHID that Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; it mentions the physical convenience that Allah has provided to the mankind by giving him earth as his dwelling place because the physique He has given to him is most complementary to it so he spends life with ease at this place; it tells that Allah has given all persons their respective periods of life at the world which end by His command and certainly He only has the true life; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so whatever blessings, Allah, the true Lord, has provided to the mankind, that asks him to remain most grateful to Him and spend all his life totally by His commands; the first couple of AAYAAT read, "Allah is He Who made for you the night that you may rest therein and the day to see; most surely Allah is Gracious to men, but most men do not give thanks; that is Allah, your Lord, the Creator of everything; there is no god but He; whence are you then turned away?"; these AAYAAT tell about the ease that Allah has provided to the mankind in his living that he gets his necessary rest at times and that he sets his necessary economic activities accordingly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last words tell that there are still such persons who do not show gratitude to such blessings of Allah; the next AAYAT mentions that this attitude is not new among the mankind as there were persons even before these who used to be ungrateful to Allah as that had got into their character when they denied the true guidance that Allah had provided to them; AAYAAT- 64 & 65 tell that Allah has made the earth a resting place to the mankind and the nearby heaven as canopy and He formed the mankind in such manner that the earth and the nearby heaven remain complementary to him; He made the earth to provide good sustenance to him by the rains it gets from the nearby heaven; "that is Allah, your Lord; blessed then is Allah, the Lord of the worlds"; He only has the true life as all of His creation has to taste the taste of death and all persons need to call Him only at all times and at all places, as He only is the true Lord; the last AAYAT of the previous Ruku states, "and your Lord says- call upon Me, I will answer you; surely those who are too proud to worship Me, shall soon enter hell-fire abased"; note also that Surah AALE-IMRAN-185 reads, "every soul shall taste of death, and you shall only be paid fully your reward on the resurrection day; then whoever is removed far away from the fire and is made to enter the garden he indeed has attained the object; and the life of this world is nothing but a provision of vanities"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; all persons must live sincerely by His commands as certainly, Allah only is the true Lord of all His creation; AAYAT 66 tells the Prophet PBUH to tell the disbelievers in clearest of terms that he would never serve those whom they call besides Allah but he would submit only to Allah, the true Lord; it reads, "say- I am forbidden to serve those whom you call upon besides Allah when clear arguments have come to me from my Lord, and I am commanded that I should submit to the Lord of the worlds"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-67 mentions about the creation of the man and the changes in his physique; it reads, "He it is Who created you from dust, then from a small life-germ, then from a clot, then He brings you forth as a child, then that you may attain your maturity, then that you may be old- and of you there are some who are caused to die before- and that you may reach an appointed term, and that you may understand"; the person needs to understand by these changes that the life goes on in different conditions of physique and it will most certainly continue even after death leading to the true life that starts when Allah raises the dead at the Day of Judgment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; see also AAYAAT-12 to 16 at MOMINOON; the last AAYAT of the Ruku reads, "He it is Who gives life and brings death (to examine all persons among the mankind), so (He would raise all from dead to provide their results to them because) when He decrees an affair, He only says to it- Be, and it is"; most certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

MOMEN-The Eighth Ruku

69. Have you not seen those who dispute with respect to the AAYAAT of Allah: how are they turned away?

70. Those who reject the Book and that with which We have sent Our Apostle; but they shall soon come to know,

71. When the fetters and the chains shall be on their necks; they shall be dragged

72. Into boiling water, then in the fire shall they be burned;

73. Then shall it be said to them: Where is that which you used to set up

74. Besides Allah? They shall say: They are gone away from us, nay, we used not to call upon anything before. Thus does Allah confound the disbelievers.

75. That is because you exulted in the land unjustly and because you behaved insolently.

76. Enter the gates of hell to abide therein, evil then is the abode of the proud.

77. So be patient, surely the promise of Allah is true. So should We make you see part of what We threaten them with, or should We cause you to die, to Us shall they be returned.

78. And certainly We sent apostles before you: there are some of them that We have mentioned to you and there are others whom We have not mentioned to you, and it was not meet for an apostle that he should bring a sign except with Allah's permission, but when the command of Allah came, judgment was given with truth, and those who treated (it) as a lie were lost.

The Ruku starts by mentioning the attitudes of the disbelievers towards the Truth; their rejection of it leads them to such position where they argue about all blessings that Allah has provided them by giving them life and all convenience to its continuation; not only they put down these blessings that they find around for the maintenance of their physique but they also deny the teachings of the Quran which the Prophet PBUH is providing explicitly to them; but they would see the result of this denial very soon at AKHIRAT; it would be the day when the fetters and the chains shall be on their necks and they shall be dragged towards the boiling water which would be at the hell-fire and in that fire, they shall be burned; they would be asked by angels at the doors of the hell-fire about those whom they took as equal in authority to Allah, to which they would answer that they all have gone away from them and here at their punishment, they have come to know that they actually were calling none for their assistance to save them from extreme chastisement as their call to them has proved totally futile; so Allah had confounded them at their lives at the world due to their doings and the result was that they ended up in the hell-fire; certainly Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-75 tells that this punishment came to them because they exulted in the land unjustly without care to live by commands of Allah, the true Lord, and because they behaved insolently to all righteous persons who lived by His good commands; then angels would tell them to enter the doors of the hell-fire to remain in it forever and it certainly is the evil abode to the haughty persons to dwell in; AAYAT-

77 consoles the Prophet PBUH that whatever the disbelievers say against him, he has to remain patient because they would surely return to Allah as all persons have to face the Day of Judgment; so even if they see part of the punishment that is due upon them, within the life of the Prophet PBUH or even if they do not, they would ultimately get the whole of it; the last AAYAT of the Ruku mentions that if they ask the Prophet PBUH time and again to show them miracles, they should know that though there had come high number of Prophets of Allah at different places and at different times yet it never has been the authority of any Prophet to show miracles by his own; it was only by the permission of Allah that any of them showed some miracle as it is the doing of Allah and not of any of them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the AAYAT also mentions that Allah has mentioned some of the Prophets at the Quran but there are many of them which Allah has not mentioned; the Muslims must have belief in all Prophets of Allah and that they all gave the same message, the righteous message of Allah, in essence to the peoples they were sent to, and they must not care to be aware of their quantity; Surah BAQARAH-285 reads, "the apostle believes in what has been revealed to him from his Lord, and (so do) the believers; they all believe in Allah and His angels and His books and His apostles; (they say that) we make no difference between any of His apostles; and they say- We hear and obey, our Lord- Your forgiveness (do we crave), and to You is the eventual course"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

MOMEN-The Last Ruku

79. Allah is He Who made the cattle for you that you may ride on some of them, and some of them you eat.

80. And there are advantages for you in them, and that you may attain thereon a want which is in your breasts, and upon them and upon the ships you are borne.

81. And He shows you His signs: which then of Allah's signs will you deny?

82. Have they not then journeyed in the land and seen how was the end of those before them? They were more (in numbers) than these and greater in strength and in fortifications in the land, but what they earned did not avail them.

83. Then when their apostles came to them with clear arguments, they exulted in what they had with them of knowledge, and there beset them that which they used to mock.

84. But when they saw Our punishment, they said: We believe in Allah alone and we deny what we used to associate with Him.

85. But their belief was not going to profit them when they had seen Our punishment; (this is) Allah's law, which has indeed passed in the matter of His servants, and there the disbelievers are lost.

The last Ruku emphasizes the matter that is noted previously that Allah has provided all convenience to the mankind to live his life at the earth with all things that are complementary to it and He has provided the true guidance too to all persons and He has complete authority to punish the disbelievers on their wrongs severely; however, whereas the previous Ruku mentioned specifically that Allah would punish them most severely at AKHIRAT, this Ruku guides to the fact that Allah has complete authority to punish the disbelievers even at life at the world most severely; He has punished such persons before and He never loses His authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Ruku mentions that Allah has provided the cattle which men use for riding, for travel to nearby places, whereas it takes loads for them too, and even for their foods; and they use it for other advantages to them as for making warm dresses by them (and as for putting some of their parts to medical use); and they use it for travel to faraway places where they intend to reach within good time so upon them at land and upon ships at sea, they move to distant places; so Allah shows by His signs in His creation, that He has set by certain principles, how He sustains the life of the mankind; so how is that the disbelievers deny any of His signs as each one is evidence to His total authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah;

AAYAT-82 asks the disbelievers, "have they not then journeyed in the land and seen how was the end of those before them (who lived by challenging the true guidance of Allah)? They were more (in numbers) than these and greater in strength and in fortifications in the land (which even stand at this time), but what they earned did not avail them (as all was futile when some calamity fell upon them by the command of Allah to finish them off totally)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last three AAYAAT mention their insolence as they read, "then when their apostles came to them with clear arguments, they exulted in what they had with them of knowledge (boasting foolishly that it is enough for their salvation), and there beset them that which they used to mock; but when they saw Our punishment (that fell upon them suddenly), they said- We believe in Allah alone and we deny what we used to associate with Him; but their belief was not going to profit them when they had seen Our punishment (as the belief of that last moment is not acceptable); (this is) Allah's law (that Allah gives ample time to nations even, besides individuals, so that they come to the fundamental teachings of Islam, yet when the time ends for that acceptance, He finishes them off instantly), which has indeed passed in the matter of His servants, and there the disbelievers are lost (i.e. they are unaware of the result that they would get due to their disbelief even at life at the world whereas at AKHIRAT, they would enter the hell-fire)"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah HA-MEEM AS-SAJDAH

(Consists of 6 Ruku; MK-8)

HA-MEEM AS-SAJDAH-The First Ruku

1. HA-MEEM!
2. A revelation from the Beneficent, the Merciful Allah:
3. The Book of which the verses are made plain, an Arabic Quran for the people who know:
4. The herald of good news and a warner, but most of them turn aside so they hear not.
5. And they say: Our hearts are under coverings from that to which you call us, and there is a heaviness in our ears, and a veil hangs between us and you, so work, we too are working.
6. Say: I am only a mortal like you; it is revealed to me that your Allah is the only One to worship, therefore follow the right way to Him and ask His forgiveness; and woe to the polytheists;
7. (To) those who do not give ZAKAH and they are disbelievers in the hereafter.
8. (As for) those who believe and do good, they shall surely have reward never to be cut off.

This Surah is the other of Surah that is named as AS-SAJDAH besides ALIF-LAAM-MIM AS-SAJDAH, which is Surah 32, and that also is known simply as AS-SAJDAH; the other name of this Surah HA-MEEM AS-SAJDAH is FUSSILAT; note that MEEM is one of the alphabets in Arabic, which may also be spelt as MIM and I, MSD, have spelt it in both these manners; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first Ruku of this Surah mentions that certainly, Allah has provided the Holy Book Quran to the mankind by His will as He had told Adam-AS that He would guide the mankind to the right path; see Surah BAQARAH-38, 39; it is such gift from Allah to the mankind which He has descended in clear Arabic so that all persons know the right path most explicitly; it provides the good news of the true success for all righteous persons who live by the command of Allah, the true Lord, and it warns those in clear terms who live their lives with disbelief in Him and disregard His commands; Allah has made it as blessing for TABLIGH (spreading of the Islamic teachings) too; AAYAT-4 tells that most of persons in the mankind turn aside from this beautiful message of Allah and do not show obedience to His commands; they are such persons who remark haughtily that they have brought themselves to such position where they would not be affected by the guidance that the Prophet PBUH is providing them, and that they have trained themselves to ignore hearing of his teachings; so they have set a veil between themselves and the Prophet PBUH where they have clearly refused to take any of his good advice at their affairs; AAYAT-6 asks the Prophet PBUH to tell them in clearest of terms that he too is among the mankind but Allah has selected him for His work and has revealed the Truth to him; it does not affect him if they do not take his guidance as he only has to provide it to them and it is to their own detriment if they do not accept it; they must follow the right path to Allah and ask Him for His forgiveness; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last of AAYAT-6, and AAYAT-7 mentions that polytheists are such persons who do not give ZAKAH and they are disbelievers in the hereafter; note that ZAKAH means to provide charity and provisions to the needy yet literally it has the meaning of "purifying"; as this Surah is MAKKI when the command of ZAKAH, in the meaning of charity, had not yet come into common use, so here its literal meaning is more appropriate; so these AAYAAT tell that polytheists are such persons who do not care to purify themselves from the negativity at their insides and their wrongs in deeds as they do not have belief in AKHIRAT; the last AAYAT of the Ruku appreciates the true Muslims as it reads, "(as for) those who believe (in the Truth) and do good, they shall surely have reward never to be cut off"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

HA-MEEM AS-SAJDAH-The Second Ruku

9. Say: What! do you indeed disbelieve in Him Who created the earth in two periods, and do you set up equals with Him? That is the Lord of the Worlds.

10. And He made in it mountains above its surface, and He blessed therein and made therein its foods, in four periods: alike for the seekers.

11. Then He directed Himself to the heaven and it is a vapor, so He said to it and to the earth: Come both, willingly or unwillingly. They both said: We come willingly.

12. So He ordained them seven heavens in two periods, and revealed in every heaven its affair; and We adorned the lower heaven with brilliant stars and (made it) to guard; that is the decree of the Mighty, the Knowing.

13. But if they turn aside, then say: I have warned you of a scourge like the scourge of AAD and THAMUD.

14. When their apostles came to them from before them and from behind them, saying- serve nothing but Allah- they said: If our Lord had pleased He would certainly have sent down angels, so we are surely disbelievers in that with which you are sent.

15. Then as to AAD, they were unjustly proud in the land, and they said: Who is mightier in strength than we? Did they not see that Allah Who created them is mightier than they in strength, and they denied Our AAYAAT?

16. So We sent on them furious wind in unlucky days, that We may make them taste the chastisement of abasement in this world's life; and certainly the chastisement of the hereafter is much more abasing, and they shall not be helped.

17. And as to THAMUD, We showed them the right path, but they chose error above guidance, so there overtook them the scourge of an abasing chastisement for what they earned.

18. And We delivered those who believed and guarded (against evil).

-----
This Ruku tells about the creation of the heavens and the earth that Allah created them in six periods; He started the process of creating them in such manner that He created the earth and then made mountains upon it and blessed it in such manner that the mankind lives-on at it with convenience and gets foods for his physique with total ease, making it fine to provide different persons their different diet from it, for their respective nutrition; He gave this process of creating and refining of earth four periods whereas the heaven was vaporous & smoky; at that point, He told that heaven and the earth that He would shape them still, so do they willingly submit to His will or do they intend to resist that; Allah knows better about His query to them at that period and how they responded in affirmative; Al-Hamdu Lillah; they submitted willingly so then Allah shaped that heaven into seven heavens in two more periods, providing principles for each of them to follow so as to do their respective works, and adorned the lower heaven with brilliant bodies in it and made it to guard against any such jinn who tries to steal some information from angels there; note that this lower heaven has been mentioned in singular at different places at the Quran from whence the rain descends and note also that BAQARAH-29 reads, "He it is Who created for you all that is in the earth, and He directed Himself to the heaven, so He made them complete seven heavens, and He knows all things"; AAYAT-12 mentions that this is the decree of Allah, Who is the Mighty to do as He wills, the Knowing of how to shape all things by setting them on the principles that they follow-on for their respective works according to His command; certainly He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the mention of the seven heavens does not necessarily mean that they have concrete boundaries between them or that they are of equal sizes, but it denotes that Allah shaped the heaven, when it was vaporous & smoky, into seven heavens; note also that earth also has seven layers inside as Surah TALAQ-12 reads, "Allah is He Who created seven heavens, and of the earth the like of them; the decree continues to descend among them, that you may know that Allah has power over all things and that Allah indeed encompasses all things in (His) knowledge"; so changes at the inside of earth, mark its layers beautifully; between these heavens and earth, Allah sends His command to keep all matters in His control completely and certainly He is fully aware of all His creation; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAT-13 to the last, the Ruku tells how Allah punished AAD and THAMUD when they rejected the message of Allah; Allah sent HOODH-AS to AAD and SALEH-AS to THAMUD and both of these nations disrespected them so Allah finished them off completely; but He saved all those who were sincere believers and they were living their lives by His commands; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-13 to AAYAT-16 read, "but if they (i.e. these disbelievers) turn aside, then say (to them, O Prophet PBUH)- I have warned you of a scourge like the scourge of AAD and THAMUD; when their apostles came to them from before them and from behind them (that they told them about how Allah destroyed the disbelievers before them and about how Allah would punish them even at the world, if they keep to disbelief), saying- serve nothing but Allah; they said- if our Lord had pleased He would certainly have sent down angels, so we are surely disbelievers in that with which you are sent; then as to AAD, they were unjustly proud in the land, and they said- who is mightier in strength than we? - did they not see that Allah Who created them is mightier than they in strength, and they denied Our AAYAAT?; so We sent on them furious wind in unlucky days (that had curse in them for those), that We may make them taste the chastisement of abasement in this world's life; and certainly the chastisement of AKHIRAT is much more abasing, and they shall not be helped"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the result of the rejection of AAD of HOODH-AS was that except for the believers with him, they all were destroyed; note that they had given their idols different names and had become such idolaters that they did not tolerate anything that was mentioned against them; Allah punished them by furious violent wind that stayed upon them for seven nights and eight days as the wrath of Allah upon them; HAAQQAHAH-7 says that this punishment was such "which Allah imposed on them for seven nights and eight days so that (O listener) you might have seen men lying overthrown, as they were hollow trunks of palm-trees"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that AAYAT-16 mentions that those days had curse in them which tells that days do have adverse effects inside them; as we speak about days having BARAKAH which means the most virtuous results which some good thing brings from it to some good persons, there are such days even, that do have adverse effects inside them for the doers of extreme wrongs; they may occur each year at some fixed time for such persons or they may occur at different times, and certainly, Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-17 mentions about THAMUD which reads, "and as to THAMUD, We showed them the right path, but they chose error above guidance, so there overtook them the scourge of an abasing chastisement for what they earned"; this was the nation of SALEH-AS and he gave them the same message as Noah-AS and HOODH-AS had given to their nations; the people of his nation were idolaters too and gave total preference to life at the world; they used to build mansions at plains and carved houses at the mounts; Allah gave them a she-camel as miracle so that they believe in Allah as the only One to worship and prefer AKHIRAT over life at the world; Allah commanded them not to trouble it so that she might easily eat from wherever she intends; if they do otherwise, they would receive extreme punishment even at the world; AARAAF-74 reads, "(SALEH said) and remember when He made you successors after AAD (the nation of HOODH) and settled you in the land - you make mansions on its plains and hew out houses in the mountains - remember therefore benefits from Allah and do not act corruptly in the land, making mischief"; their ruling elite rejected his message and asked others too to reject it; some of their youth killed the she-camel and that was the clearest disobedience to Allah; they even asked for the punishment from which SALEH had warned them if they disrespect the she-camel; AAYAAT at Surah AARAAF for this narration read, "then the earthquake overtook them, so they became motionless bodies in their abode; then SALEH turned away from them and said - O my people - I did certainly deliver to you the message of my Lord, and I gave you good advice - but you do not love those who give good advice" (AARAAF-78 & 79); AAYAT-18, the last AAYAT of the Ruku, tells clearly that Allah saved all the sincere believers in both of these nations as it reads, "and We delivered those who believed and guarded (themselves against all evil)"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

HA-MEEM AS-SAJDAH-The Third Ruku

19. And on the day that the enemies of Allah shall be brought together to the fire, then they shall be formed into groups.

20. Until when they come to it, their ears and their eyes and their skins shall bear witness against them as to what they did.

21. And they shall say to their skins: Why have you borne witness against us? They shall say: Allah Who makes everything speak has made us speak, and He created you at first, and to Him you shall be brought back.

22. And you did not veil yourselves lest your ears and your eyes and your skins should bear witness against you, but you thought that Allah did not know most of what you did.

23. And that was your (evil) thought which you entertained about your Lord that has tumbled you down into perdition, so are you become of the lost ones.

24. Then if they will endure, still the fire is their abode, and if they ask for goodwill, then are they not of those who shall be granted goodwill.

25. And We have appointed for them comrades so they have made fair-seeming to them what is before them and what is behind them, and the word proved true against them-- among the nations of the jinn and the men that have passed away before them-- they shall surely be losers.

The Ruku narrates the extreme helplessness of disbelievers at AKHIRAT; there, as they gather near to the hell-fire and groups are formed among them, their ears and their eyes and their skins shall bear witness against them as to what they did and they would be wholly dumbfounded; they would address their skins as that would be easiest to address for them being the longest part of the physique about such testimony against them and they would reply to their query that Allah has granted them the power of speech; certainly

He created them all at the first place and to Him, they shall be brought back; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this tells them in clear terms that nothing is hidden to Allah, even that which they do in privacy, and it would be no use if they blurt out lies at that time; they had never thought of keeping safe from this silent monitoring of them by their own parts, according to the command of Allah; note that YA-SEEN-65 has also told explicitly that Allah will set a seal upon mouths of those among disbelievers, who are most deceitful and deny their wrongs with utmost resistance there, and then their hands would speak of their wrongs and their feet would testify against them in confirmation to their hands, about what they had been doing at the world; Allah gave them ample space to accept the Truth but they denied categorically that they would have to face their doings so then, Allah would punish them most severely; they had thought that Allah would never bring such time when each person would have to account for his/her doings and those among them who did have some idea that such day may take place, they thought that it is not impossible for them to hide things from Him; so when it comes, they would certainly be among the extreme losers; AAYAT-24 tells that the disbelievers would continue facing their punishment without any chance to relief, though they decide to endure it as best as they can or they do ask for some relief verbally; it reads, "then if they will endure, still the fire is their abode, and if they ask for goodwill, then are they not of those who shall be granted goodwill"; note that the life at AKHIRAT is the result to the doings at life at the world so they would receive no sympathy even on the best of attitudes there, though at life at the world, such patience does arise sympathy; at that time, Allah would not care to their plea and AAYAT-50 of Surah MOMEN has put it clearly by words, "and the call of the disbelievers is only in error (at AKHIRAT)"; may Allah guide all such persons who have some worthy goodness in them to the right path of Islam, here and now; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku states, "and We have appointed for them comrades so they have made fair-seeming to them what is before them and what is behind them (of deeds that they commit), and the word (that Allah would destroy the nations disobedient to Him, even at the world and He would put them all in the hell-fire, at AKHIRAT), proved true against them (too who were) among the nations of the jinn and the men that have passed away before them- they shall surely be losers (both at the world and at AKHIRAT)"; note that ZUKHRUF-36 states, "and whoever turns himself away from the remembrance of the Beneficent Allah, We appoint for him a Satan (who misguides him by whisperings), so he becomes his associate (and adorns his wrongs in such ways that he takes them as fairest of deeds)"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority;

Al-Hamdu Lillah.

HA-MEEM AS-SAJDAH-The Fourth Ruku

26. And those who disbelieve say: Do not listen to this Quran and make noise therein, perhaps you may overcome.

27. Therefore, We will most certainly make those who disbelieve taste a severe punishment, and We will most certainly reward them for the evil deeds they used to do.

28. That is the reward of the enemies of Allah-- the hell-fire; for them therein shall be the house of long abiding; a reward for their denying Our AAYAAT.

29. And those who disbelieve will say: Our Lord! show us those who led us astray from among the jinn and the men that we may trample them under our feet so that they may be of the lowest.

30. (As for) those who say: Our Lord is Allah, then continue in the right path, the angels descend upon them, saying: Fear not, nor be grieved, and receive good news of JANNAH (the beautiful garden) which you are promised.

31. We are your guardians in this world's life and in AKHIRAT, and you shall have therein what your souls desire and you shall have therein what you ask for;

32. A provision from the Forgiving, the Merciful.

The Ruku continues narrating about the attitude of disbelievers and the result which they would get by that; at those times, they tried to create some commotion when the Muslims read the Quran so that no person hears its teachings; so in the most childish manner, they tried to stop the spread of the teachings of the Quran as it guided to the Truth to which all listeners inclined, seeing that this is most complementary to the voice inside; AAYAT tells explicitly that Allah would punish them most severely even at life at the world; and at AKHIRAT, He would punish them with utmost severity for their evil deeds; they would get the hell-fire in return to their challenge to Allah, where they would remain forever; such extreme punishing return, they would get for their denial of AAYAAT of Allah; when they would see that there is no way that they get some relief to their extreme punishment, they would ask Allah to show them all such who had led them astray at life at the world, that Allah provided to all persons for examination, so that they may increase the punishment of those misleading persons as much as possible; AAYAT-29 reads, "and those who disbelieve will say- Our Lord! show us those who led us astray from among the jinn and the men that we may trample them under our feet so that they may be of the lowest (and may get even more of the extreme torment by the hell-fire)"; this clearly shows the extreme helplessness of the disbelievers and the utmost anger upon such leaders who led them to this extreme torment, and upon their own selves; in contrast, the last three AAYAAT tell about the sincere believers who have totally given themselves to Allah, the true Lord, by their words and by their deeds with total commitment to remain firm upon their surrender to Him, that He would put angels to see to their security at the world and to provide assurance to them that they surely would receive JANNAH at AKHIRAT; these AAYAAT read, "(as for) those who say- our Lord is Allah, then continue in the right path (by following the commands of Allah at all times and all places), the angels descend upon them, saying- fear not (of any trouble at future at life at the world), nor be grieved (of what has gone-by), and receive good news of JANNAH (the most beautiful garden) which you are promised (that you would surely get it at the true life ahead); we (angels) are your guardians in this world's life and in AKHIRAT (by the will of Allah), and you shall have therein (i.e. at AKHIRAT) what your souls desire and you shall have therein what you ask for (i.e. at the world); a provision from the Forgiving (Who gives all sincere Muslims, pardon on their sins as they truly repent), the Merciful (Who provides space to better things to all righteous persons, so that they do most virtuous deeds in their lives at the world to compensate for any wrongs that they may have done, here and now)"; this implies that when the Muslims live by Islam collectively, Allah provides them all convenience even at life at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that Allah tells the sincere Muslims, "and your Lord says- call upon Me, I will answer you" (MOMEN-60); so these last AAYAAT at the Ruku tell that even at life at the world, the sincere Muslims, who seek the pleasure of Allah, do get the touch of that relaxation which they would get at AKHIRAT, by the will of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

HA-MEEM AS-SAJDAH-The Fifth Ruku

33. And who speaks better than he who calls to Allah while he himself does good, and says: I am surely of those who submit?

34. And not alike are the good and the evil. Repel (evil) with what is best, when lo! he between whom and you, was enmity would be as if he were a warm friend.

35. And none are made to receive it but those who are patient, and none are made to receive it but those who have a mighty good fortune.

36. And if an interference of the Satan should cause you mischief, seek refuge in Allah; surely He is the Hearing, the Knowing.

37. And among His signs are the night and the day and the sun and the moon; do not prostrate to the sun nor to the moon; and prostrate to Allah Who created all these signs, if Him it is that you serve.

38. But if they are proud, yet those with your Lord glorify Him during the night and the day, and they are not tired.

39. And among His signs is this, that you see the earth still, but when We send down on it the water, it stirs and swells: most surely He Who gives it life is the Giver of life to the dead; surely He has power over all things.

40. Surely they who deviate from the right path concerning Our AAYAAT are not hidden from Us. What! is he then who is cast into the hell-fire better, or he who comes safe on the day of resurrection? Do what you like, surely He sees what you do.

41. Surely those who disbelieve in the reminder when it comes to them, and most surely it is Mighty Book:

42. Falsehood shall not come to it from before it nor from behind it; a revelation from the Wise, the Praised One.

43. Naught is said to you but what was said indeed to the apostles before you; surely your Lord is the Lord of forgiveness and the Lord of painful retribution.

44. And if We had made it Quran in a foreign tongue, they would certainly have said: Why have not its AAYAAT been made clear? What! foreign tongue and an Arabian! Say: It is to those who believe, the guidance and the healing; and (as for) those who do not believe, there is a heaviness in their ears and it is obscure to them; these are called to from some far-off place.

The first four AAYAAT at the Ruku tell about the virtuous quality of utmost patience of the righteous Muslim person who speaks to call towards Allah, the true Lord; he bears the negative words of disbelievers against him which he has to hear in process to provide them the Truth in clear terms; he is most committed to live at the right path with whatever enmity he faces and these AAYAAT guide that he must not lose his patience even at times of trial as this would lead many of persons among the disbelievers, to consider the true guidance and even become close friends to that righteous one who cares to their safety at AKHIRAT persistently; with his good task of providing the Guidance to the right path, he always has to seek refuge in Allah as He truly saves all good persons from all evil of the Satan; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT read, "and who speaks better than he who calls to Allah while he himself does good, and says- I am surely of those who submit?; and not alike are the good and the evil; repel (evil of their speech) with what is best (i.e. the call towards the right path for their security at AKHIRAT), when lo! he between whom and you, was enmity would be as if he were a warm friend; and none are made to receive it but those who are patient (in their good task as they remain totally attentive to Allah), and none are made to receive it but those who have a mighty good fortune (among the addressee who still do have some sense of justice in them); and if an interference of the Satan should cause you mischief (to lose patience), seek refuge in Allah; surely He is the Hearing (so He would care to provide for total safety of righteous Muslims as they call Him to get it), the Knowing (so He would care to provide the good effect of virtuous teachings to those whom He sees most worthy to live upon it)"; certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-37 to 40 tell about the signs around that Allah has provided to all persons to see, so that they come to the right path by observation; He has created the sun and the moon for the benefits of the man and He has created the earth in such manner that it gets water from the heaven nearby and provides its stocks for the man to eat and drink; such is the manner by which Allah would raise the dead at the Day of Judgment; certainly, He has created different things to provide convenience in living of the man and they all must care that they do not worship them but worship Allah only; they all must believe in TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord) and AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment) and RISALAT (Allah had sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path); this is the Truth, the fundamental teachings of Islam; so believing in these firmly and doing good deeds according to that belief, does lead the righteous person to the true success, that is he does get the pleasure of Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-40 tells explicitly that those who see clear principles by which all things are set around them and still avoid to mention Allah as the Only Creator of all this creation, whereas He has created all this creation most wisely, they would certainly be put into the hell-fire; now after getting much info about principles by which the earth and the heaven nearby are set that clearly point-out that they do care to the safety of life, they need to decide whether he is better who is cast into the hell-fire by rejection of Allah Who has set all principles, or he is better who comes safe on the Day of Judgment; note that the AAYAT mentions those infidels here who do not apply the AAYAAT of the Quran to the meanings to which they do relate and also those who apply it to such meanings to which they do not relate; Allah has provided space to all persons at life at the world to show their worth for JANNAH, so in whatever manner a person wants to live, he/she may do so and Allah would decide his/her fate accordingly on that specific day; surely He sees whatever any of persons does for himself/herself, so He would decide with total justice; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last four AAYAAT of the Ruku tell how graceful the Holy Book Quran is and what immoral attitude the disbelievers have shown to it; it is the reminder to all persons of the oath that they had taken at the world of spirits which Surah AALE-IMRAN-172 mentions, "and when your Lord brought forth from the children of Adam, from their backs, their descendants, and made them bear witness against their own souls- am I not your Lord?- they said- yes- we bear witness; lest you should say on the day of resurrection- surely we were heedless of this"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so this book is most complementary to the voice inside and most powerful in its impression; nothing adverse to its teachings is able to affect it in any manner as Allah has provided total security to its text and its meaning; He is Most Wise so He has provided the true guidance by it with utmost care to impress the inside of the man and it certainly is most beneficial for the mankind; so Allah has cared for the mankind by providing the man the true guidance; if Allah befriends anyone, it is not because of any weakness on His side whatsoever; nothing (and no-one) among His creation is able to compel Him to do anything, but His friendship is His blessing upon that person; no one can match even any one of His attributes and whatever care any person takes in remembering Him always, it certainly is His blessing upon him and it does not make him capable to challenge Him in any way; all of the creation is needy for whatever He provides to it and He is not in any need of anything (or anyone); He only is the Creator of all of the creation Who has assigned specific works too, to each of His creation according to His will; AAYAT-43 consoles the Prophet PBUH that the immoral response of the disbelievers to the teachings that he provides by the Quran to them, is nothing new as these disrespectful things that they say to him, have also been said to the previous Messengers of Allah; it is better that he ignores them as Allah would give them what they deserve; He forgives those who do ask His mercy sincerely and He punishes those most severely who show disrespect to the true guidance that He has provided to the mankind by His good Messengers; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku states the trait of the disbelievers as it reads, "and if We had made it Quran in a foreign tongue, they would certainly have said- why have not its AAYAAT been made clear?; what! (in) foreign tongue and (to) an Arabian! say- it is to those who believe (sincerely in Islam), the guidance (to all teachings of Islam to practice totally) and the healing (for any of spiritual ills that they may get infected with); and (as for) those who do not believe, there is a heaviness in their ears (i.e. they have come to such stage of disbelief that they ignore its teachings) and it is obscure to them (due to their disrespect to its teachings); these are called to (the true guidance) from some far-off place (so they do not understand it)";

certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

HA-MEEM AS-SAJDAH-The Last Ruku

45. And certainly We gave the Book to Musa, but it has been differed about, and had not the word already gone forth from your Lord, judgment would certainly have been given between them; and most surely they are in disquieting doubt about it.

46. Whoever does good, it is for his own soul, and whoever does evil, it is against it; and your Lord is not in the least unjust to the servants.

47. To Him is referred the knowledge of the hour, and there come not forth any of the fruits from their coverings, nor does a female bear, nor does she give birth, but with His knowledge; and on the day when He shall call out to them 'Where are (those whom you called) My associates?' They shall say: We declare to Thee, none of us is a witness.

48. And away from them shall go what they called upon before, and they shall know for certain that there is no escape for them.

49. Man is never tired of praying for good, and if evil touch him, then he is despairing, hopeless.

50. And if We make him taste mercy from Us after distress that has touched him, he would most certainly say: This is of me, and I do not think the hour will come to pass, and if I am sent back to my Lord, I shall have with Him sure good; but We will most certainly inform those who disbelieved of what they did, and We will most certainly make them taste of hard chastisement.

51. And when We show favor to man, he turns aside and withdraws himself; and when evil touches him, he makes lengthy supplications.

52. Say: Tell me if it is from Allah; then you disbelieve in it, who is in greater error than he who is in an intense opposition?

53. We will soon show them Our signs around at regions and in their own souls, until it will become quite clear to them that it is the Truth. Is it not sufficient as regards your Lord that He is witness over all things?

54. Now surely they are in doubt as to the meeting of their Lord; now surely He encompasses all things.

From the initial AAYAT to AAYAT-48, the last Ruku stresses that all persons must remain mindful that there certainly would come such specific day at which, Allah would see the doings of all persons; the first AAYAT states, "and certainly We gave the Book to Musa (i.e. Torah), but it has been differed about (as those who had to care for the commands Allah gave to them in it, took only those which they felt easy for them and left those which they considered as hard for them to practice) and had not the word already gone forth from your Lord (that He would give ample space to all persons to show their worth for JANNAH), judgment would certainly have been given between them (at the world); and most surely they are in disquieting doubt about it (i.e. the Quran)"; so after Torah, there are persons who intend to cause difference about the teachings of the Quran too, yet that is not possible as it is in total protection of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead tell that whoever lives by the virtuous manner of living, that would benefit his own self and if someone lives his life averse to it, that would be most detriment to his own self; it is utmost foolishness to doubt about the Day of Judgment because Allah, Who has the true authority, would bring it most certainly; AAYAT-46, 47 & 48 read, "whoever does good, it is for his own soul, and whoever does evil, it is against it; and your Lord is not in the least unjust to the servants; to Him is referred the knowledge of the hour (so no one but Allah knows about it and it certainly would come), and there come not forth any of the fruits from their coverings, nor does a female bear, nor does she give birth, but with His knowledge (so everything is in His knowledge and His control); and on the day (i.e. the Day of Judgment) when He shall call out to them 'where are (those whom you called) My associates?'- they (the disbelievers) shall say- we declare to Thee, none of us is witness (as they would not find them anywhere around); and away from them shall go what they called upon before (at the world), and they shall know for certain that there is no escape (from the punishment of the hell-fire) for them"; note that KAHF-52 & 53 have also stated about this, "and on the day when He shall say- call on those whom you considered to be My associates; so they shall call on them, but they shall not answer them and We will cause separation between them (so they would not find them anywhere around); and the guilty shall see the hell-fire, then they shall know that they are going to fall into it, and they shall not find any place to which to turn away therefrom"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead tell about the psyche of the disbelievers that there are such persons among them who remain obsessed with life at the world with the notion that all convenience, physical in nature, and even their respect among persons around, would come through the attainment of tangible assets at the world; so when Allah does not give them whatever they desire at the world, they think that it is the end of life for them and live in high distress; but if Allah does give them much of physical convenience at the world especially after such distress, they develop the notion that they have the right to it so even the occurrence of the Day of Judgment, which they find doubtful, will not take it away from them; because of taking themselves as rightful to all physical convenience, they do not show any gratitude to Allah, the true Lord; Allah will most certainly make the disbelievers see their wrong doings at AKHIRAT and He will most certainly make them taste the extreme chastisement that they deserve; AAYAT-51 implies that there are even such persons who deviate to ignore the commands of Allah, whereas they somewhat did try to live by them previously, when He provides them physical convenience to live their lives; they remember Him only when some sudden adversity falls upon them when they make lengthy pleas to Him; AAYAT-52 asks the Prophet PBUH to say to them to understand the teaching of the Quran that the life at the world is an examination and all persons must remain mindful that there certainly would come such specific day at which, Allah would see the doings of all persons; it reads, "Say (O Prophet PBUH to the disbelievers)- tell me if it (i.e. the Quran) is from Allah; then you disbelieve in it (by obsession to life at the world or/and by ignorance to the commands of Allah), who is in greater error than he who is in an intense opposition (to Allah)?"; most certainly, Allah would judge all doings of all persons at the Day of Judgment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-53 states, "We will soon show them Our signs around at regions and in their own souls, until it will become quite clear to them that it (i.e. the Quran) is the Truth; is it not sufficient as regards your Lord that He is witness over all things?"; this AAYAT tells about the future and there are commentators who have taken it to foretell the spread of Islam to all corners of Arabia in short period ahead; that surely happened yet this AAYAAT has more significance than foretell the near future; I, MSD, interpret it to tell even about the period that was much ahead then, and so it does relate even the distant future; Al-Hamdu Lillah; I would insha-Allah comment on this AAYAT at the supplementary note on it after this note at this last Ruku; note that this Surah has mentioned clearly that Allah gave the Holy Book Quran for the spiritual guidance of the man and set all things for the safety of his life in the physical sense too that he may conveniently show his worth to get the true success at AKHIRAT by his sincere belief and good deeds according to it; it has stated the virtues of TABLIGH (the task of spreading the good teachings of Islam) and it has explicitly told about the torment that the disbelievers would get due to their doings at AKHIRAT; it has guided them emphatically to leave doubts about the Day of Judgment, though they have decided to prefer the life at the world over the true life at AKHIRAT; and it presents the most pleasing returns that the righteous persons would receive for the most virtuous manner of living their lives at the world with total attention towards Allah, the true Lord; it tells that they would live here at the world even, with touch of the splendid peace that they would receive at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Surah awakens the disbelievers to rightness again

though without addressing them directly, "now, surely they are in doubt as to the meeting of their Lord; now surely He encompasses all things (so that meeting is certain to take place and the disbelievers do need to take heed before it is too late)"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Supplementary note on AAYAT-53 of HA-MEEM AS-SAJDAH

AAYAT-53 of HA-MEEM AS-SAJDAH states, "We will soon show them Our signs around at regions and in their own souls, until it will become quite clear to them that it (i.e. the Quran) is the Truth; is it not sufficient as regards your Lord that He is witness over all things?"; though the commentators have interpreted this AAYAT to foretell the spread of Islam to all corners of Arabia in short period ahead which did happen, and the Surah does appreciate those good Muslims who do take up the good task of spreading Islam even at hard times that they face, yet this AAYAAT certainly does have more significance than foretell the near future; it foretells that Allah would bring such period soon, even at the world, when the disbelievers would become aware of many of principles that relate to physique of the man and even of many of principles that relate to the world around that includes the nearby heaven; since a few centuries, it has happened that many of principles that relate to physical studies have come at fore and those were presented mostly by those who were non-Muslims; they did not intend to prove the teachings of the Quran yet whatever they presented, denotes clearly that the same principles apply at the physical level too which apply at the spiritual level; certainly, all the laws in the universe are complementary to each other and to understand this better, please read one of my writings by the name of "Laws of the Universe" at the net; this observation clearly guides to TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord); Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that there are quite a few things taken as discoveries leading to some opening in the knowledge of the study of man, mostly in the field of Psychology due to its affinity with the spiritual side of man, which have been put forward by Muslims many centuries before in true nature and the "Meaning of Dreams" by Ibn-e-SERIN (available even now) is one of the greatest works of Muslims in this regard that has been done centuries ago and it is interesting to note that reading its content, it does seem that it has been written recently; Muslims have much contributed to knowledge of Medicine and Astronomy too and there are some notable names in these fields; these 3 subjects have been studied by Muslims very deeply few centuries ago and even today they are at better position to clarify the commands in these three regarding their moral side; note that the Holy Book Quran has pointed out at this AAYAT that by the study of AAFAQ (the regions around including even the heaven nearby) and ANFUS (self), non-Muslims would be convinced of the Holy Book Quran being the Truth particularly about QAYAMAT (the last day of the world) and there is no doubt that concentration on these 3 subjects would indeed pave way for the non-Muslims to respect Islam as they learn about it, if not accept it totally; this prophecy is fulfilled now, proving that the Quran is Truth indeed and this also clarifies that it was destined that the non-Muslims do achieve an advancement in matters of physical studies at some period of time but with all said, I would point out the fact that every people do have intelligent persons who are capable to achieve advancement in different fields though it needs much support from influential people to present their findings and achievements to general public as the history points out; we Muslims did have most hard times as our countries were affected by imperialism from few western countries when there came invention of many of technical appliances; even when Muslims have regained independence from the British and others in the last century, the administrators at their countries are still much impressed by the western thought; however, the difficulty for Muslims is not that invention of many of modern technical gadgets has come from the west but the actual problem is that there has been no-care attitude of all persons about what to take and what to discard from these modern technical appliances, on the criteria of morality that Islam asks for; so the question is how to put these gadgets to use without letting them affect the morality that Islam asks of all Muslims in clear terms; note here that strictly by the Islamic viewpoint, laboratory experiments are much better to avoid in these 3 fields of knowledge as the recent history points out that much of adversity has occurred from laboratory for certain and observation is rather the key-word for the expansion of knowledge; note that the astronomical ventures that have been undertaken until this time have caused a huge amount of human resources that could have made the situation better for many of hungry people of the world facing famine, totally deprived of basic necessities of life; there are many attitudes and acceptance of attitudes in the medical field that Islam does not appreciate at all; moreover, we find amazingly deadly weapons because of the desire to be at head of things and what foolishness this attitude is, which has put all understanding peoples of the world into high fear of mass destruction if unscrupulous persons (who are affected by inferiority complex) come to authority; apart from atrocities in the field of Astronomy, Medicine and Psychology that clearly denote moral deterioration, there are other fields too where the modern technology has provided appliances in the good name of making life easier that have caused stress to huge number of men as no care has been taken to see moral deterioration those gadgets might cause (especially the gadgets that work on the basis of satellites); for the psyche of an ordinary man too, these technical gadgets have provided some burden, coming so many so fast in a short time, that to keep them in necessary moral limit has become a challenge, strictly by the Islamic viewpoint; note that inventions may affect adversely though discoveries (if they are truly discoveries and not just vague satanic theories) don't worry an ordinary man as those find their place well by morals; so most certainly, the Muslims have a very high liability at present times, as they are much better in providing how to deal with all the chaos that the technical modern gadgets have created in the world; wood, iron, bronze and other metals have indeed developed a lot but the man has yet to develop his psyche to keep to moral values that he needs to live upon; it needs the preference of AKHIRAT over the life at the world and certainly, the sincere commitment to Islam is the only thing that would make things easier for the man; the west has done an outside job and quite rapidly, whereas we Muslims have a great capability to see to the inside work by the blessing of Allah as that may lead to the true development of the mankind;

however, it needs to come only when all do accept that Muslims are certainly at the better status for it; only time would tell how things turn out yet this is totally obvious that without the support of Islamic teachings, there is no way for the man that he develops truly; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah SHURA

(Consists of 5 Ruku; MK-8)

SHURA-The First Ruku

1. HA-MIM

2. AIN SIN QAAF

3. Thus does Allah, the Mighty, the Wise, reveal to you, and (thus He revealed) to those before you.

4. His is what is in the heavens and what is in the earth, and He is the High, the Great.

5. The heavens may almost rend asunder from above them and the angels sing the praise of their Lord and ask forgiveness for those on earth; now surely Allah is the Forgiving, the Merciful.

6. And (as for) those who take guardians besides Him, Allah watches over them, and you are not disposer of their affairs.

7. And thus have We revealed to you an Arabic Quran, that you may warn the mother city and those around it, and that you may give warning of the day of gathering together wherein is no doubt; a party shall be in JANNAH (the garden) and another party in SA'EER (the blazing hell-fire).

8. And if Allah had pleased He would surely have made them a single community, but He makes whom He pleases enter into His mercy, and the unjust it is that shall have no guardian or helper.

9. Or have they taken guardians besides Him? But Allah is the Guardian, and He gives life to the dead, and He has power over all things.

Surah SHURA is the second Surah that starts by five letters of MUQATA'AAT whereas the first one was Surah MARIAM, the nineteenth Surah; this means the 14 disjointed letters that are among the Arabic alphabets which come at the commencement of 29 Surah in specific combinations and generally, AAYAAT after them relate to mentioning of the Quran; note that Surah MARIAM had its five letters KAAF-HA-YA-AIN-SUAD together at one AAYAT while this Surah has them in two sets of HA-MIM and AIN-SIN-QAAF at two AAYAAT; these both have AIN in them as common and other of letters are different as "HA" in both respectively, are actually two different letters in

Arabic; I, MSD, have discussed MUQATTA'AAT at one of my writings "Expressions of the Quran" for those who are interested to get this issue in better way; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-3 tells, "thus does Allah, the Mighty, the Wise, reveal to you, and (thus He revealed) to those before you"; read in sequence, this AAYAT means that Allah has provided WAHI to Muhammad PBUH and other of His Messengers in the manner the disjointed letters have mentioned here at the first two AAYAAT; so this clearly tells to believe in the fundamental teachings of Islam and do all good deeds according to it, as this Surah (in addition to all other Surah) has explicitly presented ahead; these are TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord) and AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment) and RISALAT (Allah had sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path); Al-Hamdu Lillah; He is AZIZ (Mighty; so He keeps all His creation to work for His will only by His true authority and destroys those peoples who challenge Him) and HAKEEM (Wise; so He indeed cares well that all works of all His creation affect in such way only that they fulfill only His will); Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-4 tells, "His is what is in the heavens and what is in the earth, and He is the High, the Great"; so He has total authority over all His creation and decides most fairly how to lead all matters of all His creation; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-5 reads, "the heavens may almost rend asunder from above them and the angels sing the praise of their Lord and ask forgiveness for those on earth; now surely Allah is the Forgiving, the Merciful"; note that Surah MARIAM- from 90 to 93 state, "the heavens may almost rend thereat, and the earth cleave asunder, and the mountains fall down in pieces, that they ascribe a son to the Beneficent Allah; and it is not worthy of the Beneficent Allah that He should take (to Himself) a son; there is no one in the heavens and the earth but will come to the Beneficent Allah as a servant"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note also that the seventh AAYAT of Surah MOMEN reads, "those (angels) who bear the ARSH and those around Him celebrate the praise of their Lord and believe in Him and ask protection for those who believe- Our Lord! Thou embraces all things in mercy and knowledge, therefore grant protection to those who turn (to Thee) and follow Thy way, and save them from the punishment of the hell-fire"; note about ARSH (the mighty throne of Allah) that it is among MUTASHABE (unclear matters) for which the best thing to say is that "Allah knows better"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT consoles the Prophet PBUH that he only has to provide the message of Allah to all persons and he shall be patient with such persons who do not accept it as Allah would surely see that they get what they deserve; it states, "and (as for) those who take guardians besides Him, Allah watches over them, and you are not disposer of their affairs"; the term "WALI" (that literally means guardian) has variety of meanings at speech in Arabic and the Quran guides explicitly that all Muslims shall believe in Allah only as the true Guardian Who has all authority to provide them all that they need at the world and at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it tells explicitly that those persons are total disbelievers in Him, who take someone other than Him, as true guardian to them; this means that they have notion that besides Him or with Him, someone has such authority that whatever they do, he would save them from any punishment that they certainly deserve at the Day of Judgment; or they have notion that besides Him or with Him, someone has such authority that whatever they need, he would provide them with that at the world; note that even Muhammad PBUH, the best of men and the last Messenger of Allah, has no authority to recommend any person, though that person may be among Muslims, to Allah for JANNAH at HASHR, unless Allah permits him to recommend some specific person; so, even though Ahadith tell clearly that he would get the permission from Allah for "SHAFAT (recommendation to Him to forgive sinful Muslims and give entrance to them into JANNAH) yet his recommendation remains limited to those persons only for whom Allah permits him to ask for it; note that this permission to him actually shows his utmost respect at the grounds of HASHR too, and certainly, Allah does not need anything from anyone; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Quran uses the term AULIYA (plural of WALI) for Muslims too that they are guardians, good friends, caretakers to each other; ANFAAL-72 reads, "surely those who believed and fled (their homes i.e. MUHAJIRIN) and struggled hard in Allah's way with their property and their souls, and those who gave shelter and helped (i.e. ANSAAR)- these are guardians (good friends) of each other; and (as for) those who believed and did not fly, not yours is their guardianship (friendship) until they fly; and if they seek aid from you in the matter of religion, aid is incumbent on you except against the people between whom and you there is a treaty, and Allah sees what you do"; note that when the Quran uses some specific term for Allah and it uses that term for the man too, it would apply with difference; the most notable thing here is that all attributes of Allah are QADEEM (they are from always to always), ASL (they are of His Own, not achieved from anyone) and LA-MEHDUD (they all are limitless) whereas the qualities of any of persons are formed for him, given for him and set in limits for him by Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; there are few names of Allah that denote His attributes, but they are not disallowed to use for some person too, when this remains totally clear that His attributes are QADEEM, ASL and LA-MEHDUD; Surah TAUBAH-128 reads, "now has come unto you Messenger from amongst yourselves- it grieves him that you should perish- ardently anxious is he over you- to the believers, he is most kind (RA'UF) and merciful (RAHIM)"; note that both RA'UF and RAHIM are actually the names of Allah and both denote His good attributes, that are in most accordance to His QADEEM, ASL and LA-MEHDUD glory; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead state clearly that Allah has provided the Quran so that all persons may note in most clear terms that life at the world is an examination to which every person would get his/her result at the Day of Judgment; Allah has put all of mankind to this examination as He intends to provide JANNAH (the beautiful garden) only to those good persons who do prove their worth for it, whereas He would put all other of them in the blazing hell-fire; He would give life again to the dead and He would see to the doings of all persons at the Day of Judgment; certainly, He only has the true authority; these last AAYAAT of the Ruku read, "and thus have We revealed to you an Arabic Quran, that you may warn the mother city (Makkah) and those around it, and that you may give warning of the day of gathering together (i.e. the Day of Judgment) wherein is no doubt; a party shall be in JANNAH (the garden) and another party in SA'EER (the blazing hell-fire); and if Allah had pleased He would surely have made them a single community (of true believers), but He makes whom He pleases enter into His mercy, and the unjust it is that shall have no guardian or helper; or have they taken guardians besides Him? But Allah (only) is the Guardian, and He gives life to the dead, and He has power over all things"; so every person would see his/her doings at that day and certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SHURA-The Second Ruku

10. And in whatever thing you disagree, the judgment thereof is (in) Allah's (hand); that is Allah, my Lord, on Him do I rely and to Him do I turn time after time.

11. The Originator of the heavens and the earth; He made mates for you from among yourselves, and mates of the cattle too, multiplying you thereby; there is nothing like any likeness of Him; and He is the Hearing, the Seeing.

12. His are the treasures of the heavens and the earth; He makes ample and straitens the means of subsistence for whom He pleases; surely He is Cognizant of all things.

13. He has made plain to you of the religion what He enjoined upon Noah and that which We have revealed to you and that which We enjoined upon Ibrahim and Musa and Isa that keep to obedience and be not divided therein; hard to the disbelievers is that which you call them to; Allah chooses for Himself whom He pleases, and guides to Himself him who turns frequently (to Him).

14. And they did not become divided until after knowledge had come to them out of selfish envy among themselves; and had not a word gone forth from your Lord till an appointed term, certainly judgment would have been given between them; and those who were made to inherit the Book after them are most surely in disquieting doubt concerning it.

15. To this then go on inviting, and go on steadfastly on the right way as you are commanded, and do not follow their low desires, and say: I believe in what Allah has revealed of the Book, and I am commanded to do justice between you: Allah is our Lord and your Lord; we shall have our deeds and you shall have your deeds; no plea need there be (now) between us and you: Allah will gather us together, and to Him is the return.

16. And (as for) those who dispute about Allah after that obedience has been rendered to Him, their plea is null with their Lord, and upon them is wrath, and for them is severe punishment.

17. Allah it is Who revealed the Book with Truth, and the balance, and what shall make you know that haply the hour be nigh?

18. Those who do not believe in it would hasten it on, and those who believe are in fear from it, and they know that it is the truth. Now most surely those who dispute obstinately concerning the hour are in a great error.

19. Allah is Benignant to His servants; He gives sustenance to whom He pleases, and He is the Strong, the Mighty.

The first AAYAT of the Ruku states that Allah only would judge all matters finally in which the disbelievers disagree to the true believers; note that the disagreement mentioned here relates to differences that the disbelievers took about the fundamental teachings of Islam; the Prophet PBUH is guided to say clearly to them that he relies totally on Allah so he has no worry of whatever conspiracies they may put against him and he asks His guidance in all matters at all times so He would certainly keep him to the right path; this speech that the Prophet PBUH says to them, has to remain the manner for all Muslims to live their lives upon, certainly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead tell that He has provided all convenience for all persons to get their physical necessities and He has given them the Guidance to the right path through His Messengers time and again; AAYAT-11 states, "(He is) the Originator of the heavens and the earth; He made mates for you from among yourselves, and mates of the cattle too, multiplying you thereby; there is nothing like any likeness of Him; and He is the Hearing, the Seeing"; note that the AAYAT tells "there is nothing like any likeness of Him" and this manner of speech in Arabic emphasizes the speech to height which in plain terms is that "there is nothing like Him"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the term "MITHL" (similarity) that occurs here totally relates to the meaning of "similarity" and so it is disallowed to use it for Allah to speak about His similarity to anything, whereas there is another term "MATHAL" which also has the meaning of similarity yet it also means "the attribute" besides "similarity" in the Quran; in this meaning of "the attribute", it has occurred at Surah ROUM-27 that "and He it is Who originates the creation, then reproduces it, and it is easy to Him; and His is the most exalted attribute (MATHAL-UL-AALA) in the heavens and the earth, and He is the Mighty, the Wise", and at Surah NAHL-60 that "for those who do not believe in the hereafter, is an evil attribute, and Allah's is the most exalted attribute (MATHAL-UL-AALA); and He is the Mighty, the Wise"; however, where "MATHAL" has occurred in the meaning of similarity in the Quran, it has expressed the similarity of some of His creation to some other of His creation only, because its usage too in the meaning of similarity for Allah is totally incorrect; the Quran says, "invent not similitudes for Allah; Allah certainly knows but you know not" (NAHAL-74); so these both terms are disallowed to use for Allah in the meaning of "similarity"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-12 tells most clearly that all His creation is in His control completely and He decides how much to provide from the means of subsistence to any person for his examination because He is totally Aware of how to examine all persons; He tells ahead that He has appointed the same DEEN (i.e. the complete code of life which comprises of His commands) to live upon for all men from the times of Adam-AS to all times ahead; this is Islam and all of His Messengers provided its fundamental teachings to the respective peoples towards whom Allah sent them; Muhammad PBUH is the last of His Messengers whom He has sent to all peoples of the world, that were at those times at any of places and that come after him at any of times at any of places at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AHZAAB-7 has mentioned the five most eminent of the Messengers of Allah together as it reads, "And when We made a covenant with the Prophets and with you, and with Noah and Ibrahim and Musa and Isa, son of Mariam, and We made with them a strong covenant"; they provided the message of Allah to all peoples whom they addressed remaining firm to the fundamental teachings of Islam though they were facing the most challenging situation when they presented it; AHZAAB-8 reads, "that He may question the truthful of their truth, and He has prepared for the disbelievers a painful punishment"; this tells the reason to this specific oath that Allah took from these Prophets, which is that these truthful persons witness against the wrong persons at the Day of Judgment, that they had provided the message of Allah categorically to all persons including these wrong persons, yet these wrong persons did not accept the fundamental teachings of Islam (and so their practice did not reflect that); then it would become totally clear that if these wrong persons are put into the hell-fire, it is not any injustice to them but they actually led themselves to it by their own wrong-doings; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-13 here also mentions these five most eminent of His Messengers together that states, "He has made plain to you of the religion (DEEN that means the complete code of life) what He enjoined upon Noah and that which We have revealed to you and that which We enjoined upon Ibrahim and Musa and Isa that keep to obedience and be not divided therein (about any of fundamental teachings of Islam); hard to the disbelievers (at Makkah) is that which you call them to (because it would end their say among the people and there are such persons in them who are unhappy that Allah has chosen Muhammad PBUH as His Messenger among them); Allah chooses for Himself whom He pleases (and it is not due to efforts of that person), and guides to Himself him who turns frequently (to Him for insight into all matters he faces)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-14 tells that Allah would have decided all matters in which they differ but He has appointed the time to decide for all matters; those wrong persons of previous times differed when they had already received the knowledge of the Truth (the fundamental teachings of Islam) and how to live upon it; AAYAT gives the reason for their difference, which caused the total lack of that practice which the Truth asked of them, as "selfish envy"; this one thing enfolds many of meanings and among them, is that they rejected the fundamental teachings of Islam outright; and that they accepted some of it and rejected some of it and took for practice which they thought is easy for them to do; and that they raised futile things for their discussion about it to show-off their ability in argument; and that they stressed upon trivial things to put it into practice with ignorance to focus on the principles; so this selfish envy led them to disaster upon themselves whereas the disbelievers at Makkah, who have got the message of Allah, are also in most disquieting doubt concerning it; AAYAT ahead tells the Prophet PBUH that he still has to go on providing them the message of Allah without care to their response to it, with his most sincere commitment to this message, the fundamental teachings of Islam; he has to tell them in clear terms that he is most firm believer in the KITAB (i.e. the commands of Allah that are in the previous revelations from Allah and that also are in the Quran) that Allah has revealed to him and he undoubtedly decides whatever issue he faces at the world by MIZAAN (scale of justice) as the Quran tells him which presents the commands of Allah explicitly; every person has to face his own deeds alone at the specific Day of Judgment so all persons would see the outcome to those when they stand in front of Him; so they do not need to hurry but they need to wait for that outcome to take place; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-16 indicates the outcome beforehand that all those who dispute about the fundamental teachings of Islam, that Allah has clearly presented to them and that is in total accordance to their inside, their futile reasoning for their safety is most unworthy in front of Allah and so upon them is His wrath at life at the world and to them is the severest of punishment at the true life at AKHIRAT; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-17 reads, "Allah it is Who revealed the Book with Truth, and the balance (the manner to apply it to practice), and what shall make you know that haply the hour (the last Day of the world after which comes the Day of Judgment) be nigh?"; note that KITAB means the commands that Allah gave to the people by His Messengers and at these current times, it is most necessary to take His commands by the Holy Book Quran; Al-Hamdu Lillah; and MIZAN means that aspect of HIKMAT (i.e. the necessary wisdom) that the practicing Muslims need to see to put the commands of Allah into practice at the specific time & place so it is the caring attitude towards the people to keep them truly to Islamic commands in practice with total attention towards Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so whereas KITAB denotes the commands of Allah, MIZAN denotes all necessary consideration about the practice of the commands of Allah as the practicing Muslims would not ignore any of His significant commands and they would not twist any of them due to hard times at hand to apply it in some irrelevant manner (see also HADID-25); so the MIZAN that Allah has mentioned here is the fixed standard for righteousness that needs the best of Islamic practice to fulfill its asking at the given time & place; therefore, it implies that to ignore any of His significant commands or to twist any of them to suit the whims of such persons who ask for worldly benefits (as such persons had previously done with Torah), would lead the people to stray away from the right path; Allah sent down not only His good commands through His righteous Messengers but He also sent down the awareness of manner to apply them with HIKMAT at any of times and at any of places, at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-18 tells that the disbelievers ask for the Day of Judgment to happen fast yet the true believers, even with all their good deeds, fear it most and they know with total certainty that it would take place; so the fact is that the disbelievers in the hour, are in the gravest of errors; they are totally unaware of the authority of Allah; He certainly cares most highly for all of mankind as He provides sustenance to all at the world and He provides much of it to some of them as He wills, but at AKHIRAT, only the righteous persons would receive His blessings; like HADID-25, the last AAYAT of the Ruku here also states that Allah is QAVI (Most Strong to defeat all measures that the disbelievers take for their physical defense) and AZIZ (the Mighty- so He ultimately destroys all those peoples at the world too, who challenge Him by the manner they live-on); certainly Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SHURA-The Third Ruku

20. Whoever desires the gain of AKHIRAT, We will give him more of that gain; and whoever desires the gain of this world, We will give him of it, and in the hereafter he has no portion.

21. Or have they associates who have prescribed for them any religion that Allah does not sanction? And were it not for the word of judgment, decision would have certainly been given between them; and surely the unjust shall have a painful punishment.

22. You will see the unjust fearing on account of what they have earned, and it must befall them; and those who believe and do good shall be in the meadows of the gardens; they shall have what they please with their Lord: that is the great grace.

23. That is of which Allah gives the good news to His servants, (to) those who believe and do good deeds. Say: I do not ask of you any reward for it but love for my near relatives; and whoever earns good, We give him more of good therein; surely Allah is Forgiving, Grateful.

24. Or do they say: He has forged a lie against Allah? But if Allah pleased, He would seal your heart; and Allah will blot out the falsehood and confirm the truth with His words; surely He is Cognizant of what is in the breasts.

25. And He it is Who accepts repentance from His servants and pardons the evil deeds and He knows what you do;

26. And He answers those who believe and do good deeds, and gives them more out of His grace; and (as for) the disbelievers, they shall have a severe punishment.

27. And if Allah should amplify the provision for His servants they would certainly revolt in the earth; but He sends it down according to a measure as He pleases; surely He is Aware of, Seeing, His servants.

28. And He it is Who sends down the rain after they have despaired, and He unfolds His mercy; and He is the Guardian, the Praised One.

29. And one of His signs is the creation of the heavens and the earth and what He has spread forth in both of them of living beings; and when He wills, He is all-powerful to gather them together.

The first AAYAT of the Ruku asks all persons to see the preference as to get success at AKHIRAT is most certainly, much better than to try to get status or/and assets at life at the world; it states, "whoever desires the gain of AKHIRAT, We will give him more of that gain (as each of virtues brings its good returns to ten times at-least); and whoever desires the gain of this world, We will give him of it (i.e. Allah would provide him that as much as He wills), and in the hereafter he has no portion (of good deeds)"; at AAYAT-21, Allah asks them if those whom they take as authority besides Him, have given them any code to live their lives; there surely is no such code of life that may stand against the manner that He has told all people to live upon; this is Islam, well-defined and the complete righteous code of life; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT tells that Allah would have settled the matter by His decision between all peoples immediately, if He had not set the time for it; surely, when the time comes, all of unjust persons shall have the most severest of punishment; AAYAT-22 tells that the unjust persons, who did not fear that day at the world, they would be in extreme fear on account then of what they have earned, and they would certainly pay for it; and those who had believed and had lived their lives by good deeds, they shall be in meadows of the gardens; they shall have there what they please with their Lord; so Allah would provide them with all good provisions as their preference was most appropriate when they lived by His commands at life at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so Allah has told the good reward of the sincere believers and He has also stated the most severe punishment of the disbelievers, when He would raise all persons from the dead; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Prophet PBUH only has to provide the message of Allah in most clear terms to them and ask persons there at Makkah, especially the chiefs there, that as they are relatives to him so due to the love for near relatives that tribal societies have in them, they should hear the fundamental teachings of Islam that he presents to them and if they are not ready to accept those teachings, they should at-least not challenge it; he has to clarify to them that this provision of Islam to all persons is among the most virtuous tasks and whoever earns good deeds, Allah increases the goodness in it much for him/her by giving him/her TOFIQ to earn even more of good deeds at the world and raising him/her from dead among the most successful persons at the Day of Judgment; surely Allah is Forgiving of sins that the good persons foolishly commit but then ask Him sincerely to forgive them and surely He is Grateful of virtues that they wisely take-up, for which He would certainly provide them the most beautiful reward; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the disbelievers at Makkah accused the Prophet PBUH that he has forged a lie against Allah as he has not received any message from Him; so the AAYAT remarks that if that had been the case, Allah would have closed his heart to receive the Quran by His will; but the Prophet PBUH is giving His message so that it blots out the falsehood and confirms the truth; surely He is Most Aware of what is in the breasts and He knows the sincere commitment of the Prophet PBUH to Him; certainly, He accepts repentance of all such persons who have accepted the good teachings that the Prophet PBUH has presented to them and pardons the evil on which they had lived before and He certainly knows how much sincerity their deeds have; AAYAT-26 reads, "and He answers those who believe and do good deeds, and gives them more out of His grace; and (as for) the disbelievers, they shall have a severe punishment"; AAYAT-27 tells the reason why Allah has not provided plenty of resources to each person as then many of them would have made such mischief at the world that the good persons who intend to live by His commands, would have found the life most troublesome; so He has provided such things that are general for all to benefit yet He has not provided plenty of specific resources to all; this is because the business of the world goes on smoothly by demand of skills of different persons at places and so Allah examines every person in his/her own placement as He finds best; certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; BAQARAH-251 states, "and were it not for Allah's repelling some men with others, the earth would certainly be in a state of disorder; but Allah is Gracious to the creatures"; so the elimination of wrong persons even, from the face of earth is the blessing of Allah to all peoples who do sincerely intend to live by His commands; He has made the life at the world an examination to see who has the worth to get JANNAH and who does not have it; so He has provided ample assets to some and not all, and He has given status at the world to some and not all; but this is according to His will and all need to understand that His pleasure lies in the fulfillment of His commands, at whatever placement a person finds himself/herself at life at the world; surely Allah is Aware of all His servants and He is Seeing them all, so He would make the situation better for all such persons who do try to live by His commands sincerely; certainly He only has the true authority; the last AAYAT of Surah AN'AAM states about this issue, "and He it is Who has made you successors in the land and raised some of you above others by (various) grades, that He might try you by what He has given you; most surely, your Lord is quick in giving of punishment, and He is most surely, the Forgiving, the Merciful"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; not only does He care to guide all persons to the right path but He also provides rain to them that causes the earth to give its fruits; there are times when they had lost hope that they would get some necessary rains but He cares for all with mercy and provides them with that; certainly He truly is the Guardian of all whereas He does not need any praise from anyone as He truly has all the total praise, whether someone accepts it or does not; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-29 states, "and one of His signs is the creation of the heavens and the earth and what He has spread forth in both of them of living beings (so He only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord Whom all have to obey); and when He wills, He is all-powerful to gather them together (so AKHIRAT would certainly take place)"; note that mankind or/and jinn, who are the only such creation of Allah that are answerable to Allah for their doings at the Day of Judgment, are not present at other places of the universe besides the earth, though jinn do have power to travel much in space but their base does remain the earth; it is better to remain mindful of this so that this AAYAT remains totally explicit for its meaning; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SHURA-The Fourth Ruku

30. And whatever affliction befalls you, it is on account of what your hands have wrought, and (yet) He pardons most (of your faults).

31. And you cannot escape in the earth, and you shall not have a guardian or a helper besides Allah.

32. And among His signs are the ships in the sea like mountains.

33. If He pleases, He causes the wind to become still so that they lie motionless on its back; most surely there are signs in this for every patient, grateful one,

34. Or He may make them founder for what they have earned, and (even then) pardon most;

35. And (that) those who dispute about Our AAYAAT may know; there is no place of refuge for them.

36. So whatever thing you are given, that is only a provision of this world's life, and what is with Allah is better and more lasting for those who believe and rely on their Lord.

37. And those who shun the great sins and indecencies, and whenever they are angry they forgive.

38. And those who respond to their Lord and keep up SALAH, and their rule is to take counsel among themselves, and who spend out of what We have given them.

39. And those who, when great wrong afflicts them, defend themselves.

40. And the recompense of evil is punishment like it, but whoever forgives and amends, he shall have his reward from Allah; surely He does not love the unjust.

41. And whoever defends himself after his being oppressed, these it is against whom there is no way (to blame).

42. The way (to blame) is only against those who oppress men and revolt in the earth unjustly; these shall have painful punishment.

43. And whoever is patient and forgiving, these surely are actions by courage.

The Ruku starts by the statement that whatever affliction befalls persons, it is on account of what their hands have wrought, as Allah has utmost care for the mankind even for their spiritual and even for their physical convenience; Al-Hamdu Lillah; whatever adversity that falls upon them is after this that He pardons most of their wrongs; note that AAYAT-41 of Surah ROUM states that "FASAD (the situation due to corruption in deeds of persons having some status, so the practice of Islam becomes extremely difficult there) did appear on land and sea because of what the hands of men have committed, that Allah may make them taste some part of that which they have done, in order that they may return (to the virtuous manner of living)"; this AAYAT-30 also tells the same clearly that

He afflicts wrong-doers because of wrongs that they commit and then also, not fully at the world but just to rouse them to come to the virtuous manner; He cares that everything remains to the order that He has set for the world and nothing gets out of it so the Muslims need to be attentive to Him only, with all their efforts to keep to the virtuous manner collectively, without any care to anything else; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT tells explicitly that the command of Allah prevails and the wrong-doers have no authority to impress the world in any such manner that it gets out from the set-up that Allah has assigned for it; when Allah wills to punish them, they would surely be unable to escape from it and there surely is no one who may be their guardian or their helper besides Allah; certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-32 to 35 read, "and among His signs are the (huge) ships in the sea like mountains; if He pleases, He causes the wind to become still so that they lie motionless on its back (i.e. those ships that have sails which propel them ahead with the assistance of the wind); most surely there are signs in this for every patient, grateful one (that Allah surely cares for the mankind so he/she must remain attentive to Him with patience even at hard times in life and must remain attentive to Him with gratitude even at easy goings); or He may make them perish for what (wrong deeds) they have earned, and (even then) pardon most; and (that) those who dispute about Our AAYAAT may know; there is no place of refuge for them (as He has all authority to punish them in any situation they are in)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-36 mentions that whatever assets or/and status that persons get for convenience in their examination at the world, that is only favorable to them to get more of good deeds as the reward for the good deeds that is with Allah, is much better and more lasting for those who do sincerely believe; now, from here to the last, the Ruku tells about the virtuous manner of living of the righteous believers at lives at the world, particularly about the collective manner of their living, so it denotes the good basic environment by Islam where the righteous believers have these mentioned traits; I, MSD, write supplementary note here for the virtuous manner of living of righteous believers at the Islamic environment; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Supplementary note on AAYAAT-36 to 43 of SHURA

These AAYAAT present the most virtuous traits of the righteous believers who live by the preference for AKHIRAT only, and the first one of them is that they rely on Allah, the true Lord; this means that when they take all measures for something that they intend, they have their total trust on Allah; they know well that He only would bring that about and this denotes clearly that they live by preference for AKHIRAT only; Al-

Hamdu Lillah; among these traits, the second one is that "they shun the great sins (that relate to injustice) and indecencies"; note that AAYAAT- 168 & 169 of Surah BAQARAH guide, "O people! eat the lawful and the good things out of what is in the earth, and do not follow the footsteps of the Satan; surely he is your open enemy; he only enjoins you SOOU (injustice) and FAHSHAA (shameful behavior), and that you may speak against Allah what you do not know (that lead to assigning partners to Him)"; so they tell all peoples of the world to eat only that Allah has allowed them (HALAAL) and that which they understand to have purity (TAYYIBAH); note that the food taken-in does affect the conduct of the person (his awareness of good moral values) and we have studied that Allah had commanded Adam & Eve to keep away from going near even to the tree that had the prohibited fruit for them on it; these AAYAAT also tell most clearly that the Satan pursues the mankind towards injustice and towards the matters having shameful nature, and all people must care that they do not follow any satanic advice; may Allah save all persons from all such evil; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the man has to see that nothing objectionable by Islamic values takes place by the strength he has (and that might be his official strength) that leads to the occurrence of injustice and the woman has to see keeping to HEJAB that nothing adverse to Islamic values takes place by her natural beauty that attracts men that leads to the occurrence of shameful behavior; the Islamic administration must give attention at the environment for both of these matters by ADL (by instructions at the law of the land) and by EHSAAN (by attention towards the natural good tendency without any strictness) respectively; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that SHERK is the biggest sin that means to challenge the true authority of Allah by taking any of His creation as having part in creating any of His creation with Him or by taking any of His creation as equal in authority to Him or by taking any of His creation as authorized to change any of His commands that He has explicitly issued by His authority to firmly obey; Allah asks all to believe in TAUHID that means that Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord so all must fulfill His commands that He has explicitly issued by His authority, without taking any of His creation as equal in authority to Him in any way; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so SHERK is the biggest of all major sins while other of major sins fall into one of these categories i.e. injustice and shameful behavior; when the sincere Muslims avoid these both, their avoidance to these both would certainly lead to establish the most virtuous environment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-45 of ANKABUT reads, "recite that which has been revealed to you of the Book and keep up SALAH; surely SALAH keeps away from all shameful behavior and injustice, and certainly the remembrance of Allah is the greatest, and Allah knows what you do" (Surah ANKABUT-45); Surah NAHL indicates, "surely Allah commands ADL (justice) and EHSAAN (natural goodness) and the giving to the kindred, and He forbids shameful behavior and injustice and rebellion (to Allah); He admonishes you that you may be mindful" (Surah NAHL-90); Allah commands for three things here and forbids three other things; the message here is that taking-up three good things in practice that are most virtuous would eliminate the three bad things that represent all the satanic misguidance; here, an indication is given that EHSAAN eliminates all the shameful behavior and ADL eliminates all of injustice; the spending towards the needy among the near ones for the pleasure of Allah counters any thought that might lead towards hypocrisy; Al-Hamdu Lillah; there are other places too that ask to avoid injustice and shameful behavior mentioning them together, which include Surah AALE-IMRAN-135, NAJM-32, AN'AAM-151, NISAA-110 & 111 & 112, BANI-ISRAEL (whole of its third Ruku) and MUHAMMAD (PBUH)-14, whereas numerous AAYAAT of the Holy Book Quran have targeted each of these both individually; Al-Hamdu Lillah; among these mentioned traits of righteous Muslims, the third one is "whenever they are angry they forgive"; so they develop control of anger by virtuous activities and take-up reservation in attitude to those who become adversaries to them without any valid cause; note that at AALE-IMRAN, where Allah asks the righteous Muslims to hasten towards His forgiveness and towards JANNAH, He tells about their traits there too that "those (righteous Muslims) who spend in ease as well as in strait, and those who restrain anger and pardon men; and Allah loves the doers of good (to others); and those who when they commit an indecency or do injustice to their souls, they remember Allah and ask forgiveness for their faults- and who forgives the faults but Allah, and they do not knowingly persist in what they have done" (AAYAAT-133, 134, 135); Al-Hamdu Lillah; among these mentioned traits of the righteous Muslims, the fourth one is that they respond to their Lord and live their lives firmly by His commands according to the explicit guidance of the Quran and the Sunnah of the Prophet PBUH; note that AAYAT-13 has mentioned, "He has made plain to you of the religion (DEEN that means the complete code of life) what He enjoined upon Noah and that which We have revealed to you and that which We enjoined upon Ibrahim and Musa and Isa that keep to obedience and be not divided therein (about any of fundamental teachings of Islam); hard to the disbelievers (at Makkah) is that which you call them to (because it would end their say among the people and there are such persons in them who are unhappy that Allah has chosen Muhammad PBUH as His Messenger among them); Allah chooses for Himself whom He pleases (and it is not due to efforts of that person), and guides to Himself him who turns frequently (to Him for insight into all matters he faces)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the fifth one is that they keep-up SALAH which has very high significance in deeds, as best as they can, so SABR (patience to keep to Islam without care to gathering assets and status of life at the world) and SALAH (that leads to provide the good attention towards Allah, the true Lord) are among these most virtuous traits of the righteous believers; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the sixth one is that their manner to rule among themselves is by advice at council (i.e. SHURA) among themselves; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this needs elaboration so note that Islam asks for SHURA in the political aspect that prevails in the Islamic environment; this means that the AMEER has to take advices necessarily from high number of good representatives of Muslims whom he commands, mutually discussing issues of concern and has to decide there-from; note that Islam does allow the AMEER, the ruler at the Islamic administration, a special influence in making of the decision for Muslims keeping to the Holy Book Quran and the SUNNAH, without any touch of dictatorship; note also that the manner to rule at the land under the command of the Muslims by democracy is not blamable if that manner has its basis on the three matters of Islamic belief that the Quran and the Sunnah of the Prophet PBUH demand from all

Muslims - these are that its rulings are based on the commands of Allah, the true Lord; it works for the betterment of matters caring about AKHIRAT guiding the people to care for the same; it believes in Muhammad PBUH as the last Messenger of Allah, and puts the message he has provided in practice and professes it far and wide with affection; also, that manner must strictly avoid the two erroneous concepts that are incorporated in democracy currently which are the concept of Secularism and the concept that the man is but an animal, respectively; see also one of my writings "The Islamic Guidelines" that is available at the net; there would be no competition among the Muslims to get some status so that they serve their people by politics but they would care for them to bring them all to the preference of AKHIRAT in all issues of life at the world; the Muslims certainly have to bring Islam to administration too with all other activities as that only is in-line with the righteous belief they have; as such, all Muslims at this environment live in-line with each other whether at the administration or otherwise, so that living by the Islamic principles, is matter of natural living truly and it is not any forced compulsion; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that all at the good level of understanding in this Islamic environment would certainly be well-aware of Islamic basic matters and their necessary detail for action; this ultimately would set limits even to persons at authority that they have to remain inside the commands of Allah without fail; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Islam is that we Muslims know in total practically since many centuries now and taking it as it is, we Muslims would not have any problem insha-Allah in its application at the environment; note that there are three basic questions to answer at the political aspect that who is the actual authority in the administration; on which direction, the administration has to guide the people at its command; how must the administration manage its affairs in the long-run period; so Islam answers them by its fundamental teachings and they are as follows; the first question is "who is the actual authority in the administration?" - the answer to this according to the first matter of belief is that it is Allah, the true Lord; the second question is "on which direction, the administration has to guide the people at its command?" - the answer to this according to the second matter of belief is that it has to guide the people towards preference for AKHIRAT in all their attitude, that is the true coming life remaining totally attentive to get the pleasure of Allah as that only is the true aim of life; the third question is "how would it manage the administration in the long-run period?" - the answer to this according to the third matter of belief is that it has to spread the message of Islam that Allah provided to the last of Messengers i.e. Muhammad PBUH, as best as possible to provide convenience to all peoples at its rule for the practice of

Islam; thus the administration has to care for convenience not only in physical sense that all persons do get their necessities without trouble, but also in spiritual sense that is much more important; it is the spiritual goodness that would lead to physical convenience insha-Allah; when due to the good manifestation of Islamic values, all peoples of the world do believe in Allah, the true Lord, without any external force just by their own good leaning towards the Truth with acceptance that they have to answer for all they do at life at the world, the administration in the following of the last Messenger PBUH, has done its task well; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the most important thing that establishes everything in the Islamic environment including the administration in it, is the recognition that Allah only is the true Lord and all have to answer for their belief and deeds at AKHIRAT to Him so it is most necessary to put His commands into practice in principle so this settles the main Administrative-Issue; and whatever He has given to any person from the worldly assets and status, it actually is due to His trust on him that he shows his true worth to get JANNAH by high care about AKHIRAT and take only necessary bother for his sustenance providing the surplus of the worldly possessions to those who are in much high need of it so this settles the main Economics-Issue; and whatever He has given to any person from the true knowledge of Islam, it is due to

His asking from him to provide justice at all times & places according to Islam so this settles the main Judicial-Issue; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Islam gives the message that Allah has given us our lives as examination to show our worth for JANNAH with the man dominant over the woman here in the world who must guide her to Islam well and must care for her worldly needs totally well so that she might adhere necessarily to the fulfillment of HEJAB (though in matters of AKHIRAT and at AKHIRAT, both genders are equals and each would get his/her result in the individual capacity), so we all must live a simple life by the Islamic guidance and put all our efforts for AKHIRAT, with its preference to life at the world; this settles the major part of demand by Islamic values at the Social-Issue; also, we have to keep much reservation in our sentiments towards beauty, charm & entertainment with respect for HEJAB as that good reservation would hopefully prevent any unpleasant effect to Islamic morality insha-Allah; this settles all other of demand by Islamic values at the Social-Issue; Al-Hamdu Lillah; now, among these mentioned traits of the righteous Muslims, the seventh one is that they spend from whatever Allah has provided them of wealth and of the good knowledge of Islam; Tirmidhi reports one of Ahadith that the Prophet PBUH said, "envy is disallowed except in two cases, a man whom Allah has given wealth and he spends of it by night and by day, and a man whom Allah has given the Qur'an and he stands with it giving its right by night and by day"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; among these mentioned traits of the righteous Muslims, the eighth one is that "when great wrong afflicts them, they defend themselves"; the next four AAYAAT from 40 to 43 elucidate this that when someone is unjust to them, they answer by the same magnitude when that is possible for them but whoever forgives and makes things better to the person who was unjust to him, he shall have his reward from Allah; but he must not be unjust in any manner towards his opponent and so Allah would provide him his reward by justice; all such persons are most blamable who are unjust to any person and therefore the better thing is to remain patient and forgive the wrong of the unjust person if that seems better to bring him to the right path and if that seems to indicate that it would not make him firm on his wrong attitude; these AAYAAT read, "And the recompense of evil is punishment like it (i.e. in the same magnitude), but whoever forgives and amends (the matter to reconciliation), he shall have his reward from Allah; surely He does not love the unjust (whether it is the person who initially is unjust or the person who retaliates to that unjustly); and whoever defends himself after his being oppressed, these it is against whom there is no way (to blame); the way (to blame) is only against those who oppress men and revolt in the earth unjustly; these shall have painful punishment; and whoever is patient and forgiving (when there is good space for him for this), these surely are actions by courage"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

SHURA-The Last Ruku

44. And whomsoever Allah makes err, he has no guardian after Him; and you shall see the unjust, when they see the punishment, saying: Is there any way to return?

45. And you shall see them brought before it humbling themselves because of the abasements, looking with a faint glance. And those who believe shall say: Surely the losers are they who have lost themselves and their followers on the resurrection day. Now surely the iniquitous shall remain in lasting chastisement.

46. And they shall have no friends to help them besides Allah; and-- whomsoever Allah makes err, he shall have no way.

47. Accept the call of your Lord before there comes the day from Allah for which there shall be no averting; you shall have no refuge on that day, nor shall it be yours to make a denial.

48. But if they turn aside, We have not sent you as a watcher over them; on you is only to deliver (the message); and surely when We make man taste mercy from Us, he rejoices thereat; and if an evil afflicts them on account of what their hands have already done, then surely, man is ungrateful.

49. The kingdom of the heavens and the earth is of Allah; He creates what He pleases; He grants to whom He pleases daughters and grants to whom He pleases sons.

50. Or He makes them of both sorts, male and female; and He makes whom He pleases barren; surely He is the Knowing, the Powerful.

51. And it is not for any mortal that Allah should speak to him except by revelation or from behind a veil, or by sending a messenger and revealing by His permission what He pleases; surely He is High, Wise.

52. And thus did We reveal to you an inspired book by Our command. You did not know what the Book was, nor (what) the true belief (was), but We made it (the Quran) a light, guiding thereby whom We please of Our servants; and most surely you guide to the right path:

53. The path of Allah Whose is whatsoever is in the heavens and whatsoever is in the earth; now surely to Allah do all affairs eventually come.

AAYAAT-44, 45 & 46 present the condition of the disbelievers at the Day of Judgment; they tell that when their wrongs increased to height, Allah did not let them get the awareness of the right manner to live their lives; so at the grounds of HASHR, they would be most fearful due to the disgrace they would be in, at that place; they would seek some way to avert their punishment but there would be none; they did not follow the commands of Allah at their lives at the world so they shall remain in lasting chastisement; AAYAT-47 asks them to change themselves here and now, before that day comes when they shall have no refuge from their extreme chastisement, nor shall it be possible for them to deny their disbelief at the world; AAYAT ahead tell the Prophet PBUH not to grieve if they do not accept the Truth; he only has to provide them the message of Allah and he is not liable to see that they do accept it; it tells the psyche of such persons who are insincere to Allah and only intend to get all convenience from Him for them, without any care to fulfill His commands; it reads, "and surely when We make man taste mercy from Us, he rejoices thereat; and if an evil afflicts them on account of what their hands have already done, then surely, man is ungrateful"; AAYAT-49 & 50 tell that Allah has all authority and he has provided such convenience to the mankind that the life goes on; He has created the mankind and He has also provided WAHI (Revelation from Him to His Messengers) to guide all of the mankind; these AAYAAT read, "the kingdom of the heavens and the earth is of Allah; He creates what He pleases; He grants to whom He pleases daughters and grants to whom He pleases sons; or He makes them of both sorts, male and female; and He makes whom He pleases barren; surely He is the Knowing, the Powerful"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last three AAYAAT of the Surah tell about the manner in which Allah sent His revelation to the mankind; note that WAHI (the revelation from Allah especially the Quran), Angels and the Human Spirit are related to AALAM-e-AMR (i.e. the world of command); the human-physique is related to the earth and its food in essence comes from the earth but the human-spirit has come from AALAM-e-AMR and so it needs commitment to WAHI to satisfy it truly; when a pure human-spirit got acceptance at the court of Allah when His Messengers were still coming to the world, Allah sent WAHI to such pure human-spirit directly at heart (as with Noah-AS, and as with Jesus Christ-AS and this includes dreams too as with Abraham-AS) or talked to him from behind some veil not coming at fore (as with Moses-AS) or by sending an angel to him that addressed his spirit (as with Muhammad PBUH); after the Last Prophet Muhammad PBUH, there is no Messenger to come and so the WAHI has ceased to come after him; the pure spirit recognized it i.e. WAHI well when it got that and even an angel when it saw that, as all of them belong to the same sphere of life which is AALAM-e-AMR; Al-Hamdu Lillah; He tells here that He has revealed the Holy Book Quran to Muhammad PBUH when he did not know about the commands of Allah to practice and about the true belief; but He made it such light for the true guidance by which He brings whomsoever He wills, to the right path when the Prophet PBUH guides all persons to it; this right path is that which Allah has provided to all men and certainly, all that is in the heavens and in the earth, belongs to Him only and He has everything in His control totally; He would decide for all matters that relate to the mankind (and the jinn), on the Day of Judgment; all their affairs will eventually come to Him for judgment and most certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah ZUKHRUF
(Consists of 7 Ruku; MK-8)

ZUKHRUF-The First Ruku

1. HA-MIM
2. I swear by the Book that makes things clear:
3. Surely We have made it an Arabic Quran that you may understand.
4. And surely it is in the original of the Book with Us, truly elevated, full of wisdom.
5. What! shall We then turn away the reminder from you altogether because you are an extravagant people?

6. And how many a prophet have We sent among the ancients.

7. And there came not to them a Prophet but they mocked at him.

8. Then We destroyed those who were stronger than these in prowess, and the case of the ancients has gone before,

9. And if you should ask them Who created the heavens and the earth? they would most certainly say: The Mighty, the Knowing One, has created them;

10. He Who made the earth a resting-place for you, and made in it ways for you that you may go aright;

11. And He Who sends down water from the heaven nearby according to a measure, then We raise to life thereby a dead country, even thus shall you be brought forth;

12. And He Who created pairs of all things, and made for you of the ships and the cattle what you ride on,

13. That you may firmly sit on their backs, then remember the favor of your Lord when you are firmly seated thereon, and say: Glory be to Him Who made this subservient to us and we were not able to do it

14. And surely to our Lord we must return.

15. And they assign to Him a part of His servants; man, to be sure, is clearly ungrateful.

Surah ZUKHRUF starts by mentioning about the Holy Book Quran that it clarifies all matters for the virtuous guidance of the man; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah has descended the Quran in Arabic as its immediate addressee were the persons at Arabia and this also has significance that as the Quran is the final message of Allah (basically the same that had come to the world before it) to all of the mankind, so it was sent in the best of languages (i.e. Arabic) to the best among the mankind (i.e. Muhammad PBUH) through the best of angels (i.e. JIBRAEL) at the best of lands (i.e. Arabia); and it surely changed all those that were at Arabia into the best of nations when they kept to its good teachings; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the word KITAB means the book and at places in the Quran, it means the Quran itself (and that includes this place too); at places, it means Torah even, and even the LAUHE-MAHFUZ i.e. the book of Allah that has all things written in it (and it also is related to predestination); LAUHE-MAHFUZ also records the Holy Book Quran inside it (and it presents at UMMUL-KITAB too, which is the book that only Allah knows); note that whatever Allah surely destines to take place from what is written at LAUHE-MAHFUZ, it manifests at the UMMUL-KITAB; so there are changeable things too at LAUHE-MAHFUZ that go towards better in accordance to the good deeds of the good Muslim person at his life at the world but most certainly, the Holy Book Quran, the word of Allah, remains the same totally; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the word KITAB also means the commands of Allah and also means at places, the Surah in which the word is placed and this tells that the context for it and for other such significant words, is most important in getting the respective meanings of these words whereas the text of the Holy Book Quran also has utmost importance; note that Allah chose the best of times that is the significant night of Ramadhan when He began to provide the Holy Book Quran to the best of records that is LAUHE-MAHFUZ; Allah provided the Quran to Muhammad PBUH for nearly 23 lunar years and LAUHE-MAHFUZ saved that text of the Quran that descended to him and so as its text completed, it was saved there in total and most certainly, Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it is named as AD-DHIKR (the Reminder) here that is one of its significant names, and this tells us that everyone has the sense of recognition for the Truth (named FITHRAT) due to the covenant taken from each and every person before the life at the world, in the world of Spirits and that sense is addressed by the Holy Book Quran when it presents the fundamental teachings of Islam so in this meaning, it actually is the Reminder to that covenant; Surah AARAAF-172 reads, "and when your Lord brought forth from the children of Adam, from their backs, their descendants, and made them bear witness against their own souls -am I not your Lord?; -they said -yes -we bear witness; lest you should say on the day of resurrection that surely we were heedless of this"; so this is the covenant that Allah has taken from each and every person before his/her life at the world and he/she needs the highest of attention to it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as Muhammad PBUH was the last of Messengers of Allah so His message exists written with us all in the form of the Holy Book Quran now and He has taken the responsibility for its protection upon Himself so that His Word (that He gave to Adam-AS) is not violated that He would keep the Truth always clear for all to accept or to reject, so no injustice takes place when He judges all persons at the time of HASHR; see AAYAT-9 of Surah HIJR which tells that Allah would totally safeguard the message that He has provided to Muhammad PBUH (i.e. the Holy Book Quran), so everything that was related to the protection of its text and its meaning, Allah gave ample protection to it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; see also Surah BAQARAH-38, 39; the Quran is such gift from Allah to the mankind which He has descended in clear Arabic so that all persons know the right path most explicitly and it provides the good news of the true success for all righteous persons who live by the command of Allah, the true Lord, and it warns those in clear terms who live their lives with disbelief in Him and disregard His commands; and Allah has made it blessing for TABLIGH (spreading of the Islamic teachings) too; so Allah tells in most clear terms at the fifth AAYAT here, "what! shall We then turn away the reminder from you altogether because you are an extravagant people?"; He has fulfilled His word and certainly, He would; Al-Hamdu Lillah; He sent many of His Prophets to all peoples of the world before Muhammad PBUH but when those peoples mocked the Prophet whom Allah had sent to them, Allah destroyed them ultimately, and whatever power they had, was useless against the destruction Allah sent upon them; now, the Quran only is the standard by which Allah provides safety to the mankind; it is mentioned in one of authentic Ahadith, "verily, Allah raises the status of people by this book (as they believe in it), and by it he humbles others (as they disbelieve)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; after the mention of RISALAT (i.e. Allah had sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path), AAYAAT mention that even the disbelievers accept that Allah, Who is the Mighty and the Knowing, only has created the heavens and the earth and so this does ask them to believe that Allah only has the true authority and they need to show their total obedience to Him for certain; the erroneous living manner of the disbelievers, when they adhere to it for some period of time collectively, causes alienation to this fact that they shall obey too, the One Who has created them, besides accepting Him as the Creator of all; the disbelievers at all periods & places, had rejected Allah as their RABB and had refused to take

His guidance for the true belief and had denied to take the principles He has provided for the virtuous deeds of life; the true Muslims believe that He not only is the Creator of all the creation Who never loses His attributes, but He also is the only true Lord of all the creation Whom the jinn and the mankind have to obey totally by their freewill in all aspects of life; note that other of disbelief is where someone does believe that Allah is RABB, the true Lord, yet has the notion that his disobedience to Allah would not cause any harm to him, as that is of no consequence or as the recommendation at the court of Allah of some good person for him (or his sacrifice for him) would save him from his wrong-doings at the Day of Judgment; this also leads to the result that the disbeliever ignores that he has to fulfill the commands of Allah at all issues of life and so practically he does not believe that Allah, the only Creator of all creation, is RABB, the true Lord, of all creation too; the true Muslims believe that every person has to face his/her deeds alone at AKHIRAT and for that every person must care to obey Allah in all his deeds to get His pleasure there as that only is the true success; the true Muslims are totally attentive to Allah, Who only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-10 tells that He has made earth in such manner that it totally accommodates life of the mankind where he may travel to different places too, with landmarks that guide to the destination; the next AAYAT reads, "and He, Who sends down water from the heaven nearby according to a measure, then We raise to life thereby a dead country, even thus shall you be brought forth (at the Day of Judgment)"; note that the difference of pronouns at places, as is seen here too, is the manner of expression in the Quran that is named as ILTIFAAT and even when the Quran applies it, the meanings to the AAYAAT still remain most obvious at such places and the reciter of the Quran does get acquainted with this manner with pleasure without any problem; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last four AAYAAT of the Ruku mention how Allah cares about the convenience of the mankind by ships and cattle that He has created, so that they reach their destination with minimum of necessary efforts only, and what ingratitude that the disbelievers show to Him; these AAYAAT read, "and He Who created pairs of all things, and made for you of the ships and the cattle what you ride on, that you may firmly sit on their backs, then remember the favor of your Lord when you are firmly seated thereon, and say-glory be to Him Who made this subservient to us and we were not able to do it; and surely to our Lord we must return; and they (the disbelievers) assign to Him a part of His servants (as His offspring); (so such) man, to be sure, is clearly ungrateful"; note about the words that are at AAYAAT here which are "glory be to Him

Who made this subservient to us and we were not able to do it and surely to our Lord we must return", that this is termed as DUA for Muslims to read in Arabic at the beginning of any travel, for their safety in all manners; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next Ruku elaborates that the disbelievers refused to leave their disbelief even when the Prophet of Allah who was sent to them, guided them explicitly to the Truth; so He destroyed them totally and certainly He only has the true authority, Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ZUKHRUF-The Second Ruku

16. What! has He taken daughters to Himself of what He Himself creates and chosen you to have sons?

17. And when one of them is given news of that of which he sets up as likeness for the Beneficent Allah, his face becomes black and he is full of rage inside.

18. What! that which is brought-up in trinkets and which in contention is unable to make plain speech!

19. And they make the angels-- those who are the servants of the Beneficent Allah-- females. What! did they witness their creation? Their evidence shall be written down and they shall be questioned.

20. And they say: If the Beneficent Allah had pleased, we should never have worshipped them. They have no knowledge of this; they only lie.

21. Or have We given them a book before it so that they hold fast to it?

22. Nay! they say: We found our fathers on a course, and surely we are guided by their footsteps.

23. And thus, We did not send before you any warner in a town, but (it happened that when they came to them) those who led easy lives in it said: Surely we found our fathers on a course, and surely we are followers of their footsteps.

24. (The warner) said: What! even if I bring to you a better guide than that on which you found your fathers? They said: Surely we are disbelievers in that with which you are sent.

25. So We inflicted retribution on them, then see how was the end of the rejecters.

The disbelievers at Makkah had this absurd notion that angels are daughters of Allah; the initial AAYAAT of the Ruku address this absurdity which state, "what! has He taken daughters to Himself of what He Himself creates (i.e. angels) and chosen you to have sons?; and when one of them is given news of that (i.e. daughters) of which he sets up as likeness for the Beneficent Allah (as he takes angels as like Him when he calls them His daughters), his face becomes black (with grief) and he is full of rage inside (this happened because they highly preferred sons whereas daughters were not welcome in their set-up and whoever got the info that his wife has given birth to daughter, he was completely distressed); what! that which is brought-up in trinkets and which in contention is unable to make plain speech; and they make the angels—those who are the servants of the Beneficent Allah-- females; what! did they witness their creation? their evidence (i.e. the absurd words that they say about angels) shall be written down and they shall be questioned"; AAYAT-18 has significance which notes the female person as "brought-up in trinkets" and "unable to make plain speech at disputes"; this was the manner by which the girls were brought-up then, where they did not develop much power of speech, yet this also tells that girls are completely allowed to wear ornaments especially of gold & silver, and completely disallowed to take up boldness in their attitudes; they certainly need to care most highly about HEJAB and this also includes highest of reservation in attitude at times; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-20 states, "and they say- if the Beneficent Allah had pleased, we should never have worshipped them; they have no knowledge of this; they only lie"; NAHL-35 reads, "and they who give associates (to Allah) say- if Allah had pleased, we would not have served anything besides Allah, (neither) we nor our fathers, nor would we have prohibited anything without (order from) Him; thus did those before them; is then aught incumbent upon the apostles except a plain delivery (of the message)?"; so when they had no answer to their wrong doings, they blamed the destiny upon it; Surah YA-SEEN-47 also denotes their foolish response when they are directed to spend in the way of Allah, "and when it is said to them- spend out of what Allah has given you, those who disbelieve say to those who believe- shall we feed him whom, if Allah please, He could feed?- you are in naught but clear error"; this tells how unaware the disbelievers are of the fact that Allah has given them life at the world only to examine them with freewill whether they live on the right path or not; due to this, He has given different positions to all persons here among the mankind as He wills and certainly, He knows how to examine them; so Allah says to their foolish excuse that they have no knowledge of what they are saying and it undoubtedly is futile; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah asks at AAYAT-21 if there exists some book that He has given them which has told them to take their disbelief; but that is not the case for certain, so what basis they have for their disbelief; AAYAT-22 tells that their argument is that they have found their forefathers at the disbelief they have; this is the argument that disbelievers had presented often even before these disbelievers, that they have found their forefathers at disbelief and they are following their footsteps; so they took their forefathers as the standard to follow while those used to live most far away from the Truth; due to this erroneous notion, the Prophet whom Allah had sent to them, asked them how is their response when he is providing them the true guidance that is to the right path from Allah, the true Lord; but they said to him plainly that they would remain disbelievers in the message which he is providing to them; the last AAYAT of the Ruku clearly states the outcome of their disbelief, "so We inflicted retribution on them, then see how was the end of the rejecters"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ZUKHRUF-The Third Ruku

26. And when Ibrahim said to his father and his people:
Surely I am clear of what you worship,

27. Save Him Who created me, for surely He will guide me.

28. And He made it word to continue in his posterity that they may return (to the Truth).

29. Nay! I gave them and their fathers to enjoy until there came to them the Truth and an Apostle making manifest (the Truth).

30. And when there came to them the Truth they said:
This is magic, and surely we are disbelievers in it.

31. And they say: Why was not this Quran revealed to a man of importance in the two of towns?

32. Will they distribute the mercy of your Lord? We distribute among them their livelihood in the life of this world, and We have exalted some of them above others in degrees, that some of them may take others in subjection; and the mercy of your Lord is better than what they amass.

33. And were it not that all people had been a single nation, We would certainly have assigned to those who disbelieve in the Beneficent Allah, (to make) of silver the roofs of their houses and the stairs by which they ascend.

34. And the doors of their houses and the couches on which they recline,

35. And ornaments of gold; and all this is naught but provision of this world's life, and AKHIRAT is with your Lord only for those who guard (against evil).

This Ruku answers the extreme mistake of the disbelievers that they took their forefathers who were totally far away from the Truth as the standard to follow; and that they thought that whoever calls to spiritual purity, he surely would have prominence in wealth among the people in whom he calls to it; the first AAYAT of the Ruku presents Ibrahim-AS that if some person needs to follow his forefathers, then he must follow Ibrahim-AS who had challenged his father and his people with the remark that he would certainly not follow them; he told them that he would only take the word of Allah, the true Lord, Who has created him, for his guidance; he guided their attention to the fact that they make idols by themselves and then they worship them in the name of following of their ancestors whereas Allah is He Who has created the mankind and He is the true Lord for all times at all places; so if their ancestors were doing extreme wrongs, they should refrain from such wrongs and they should rather challenge their doings; they should only take the right path of acceptance of the fundamental teachings of Islam; Allah secured the good mention of the good belief of Ibrahim-AS at the times ahead after him and so those who intend to follow their forefathers, they should follow him; see also the note at the fifth Ruku of Surah SHUA'RAA; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at AAYAAT-29 and 30, Allah says that He had given these disbelievers at Makkah and even their forefathers high convenience to live their lives but when the Truth came to them through the Prophet PBUH, with total clarity, they rejected it; they called it some type of magic and further said that they would never believe it; they ask why this Quran was not revealed to some man of importance i.e. some chief who had prominence in wealth and had influence over number of men, in the two of towns, Makkah & TA'EF, as they were most notable for their economic stability; but this is a foolish remark as the status of some over some at the world is because the peoples of the world take benefits from works of each other and it is because Allah examines all men whether they do get His pleasure or prove totally unworthy to it; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; for spiritual guidance, the manifest prominence by wealth and status at the world has no significance so Allah has selected His last Messenger because he has the most beautiful character and he certainly is the most appropriate person for this liability; this is the mercy of Allah that He has shown to the mankind that He has provided them the Guidance to the right path and He has selected Muhammad PBUH, His last Messenger, exclusively to present it to all peoples of the world; to accept the teachings that Allah has provided to the mankind through him, is surely much better than what they amass from the assets of the world; the person with abundance of these things, does not gain appreciation by these things at the court of Allah, but it is the care to morals with righteous belief and adherence to virtues in deeds that does count there; the glamor of high possessions of the world is so very insignificant in view of Allah that if it had not caused all people to display ingratitude to Allah, which would have led them all to become failures at AKHIRAT, He would have made all persons extremely wealthy; the Beneficent Allah would have made the roofs of their houses and the stairs therein which are in their usage, of silver; and also the doors therein and the couches therein on which they recline, of silver; and also have provided them ornaments of gold; AAYAT tells that "all this is naught but provision of this world's life, and AKHIRAT is with your Lord only for those who guard (against evil)"; so AKHIRAT only has significance and not life at the world; certainly Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ZUKHRUF-The Fourth Ruku

36. And whoever turns himself away from the remembrance of the Beneficent Allah, We appoint for him a Satan, so he becomes his associate.

37. And most surely they turn them away from the path, and they think that they are guided aright:

38. Until when he comes to Us, he says: O would that between me and you there were the distance of the East and the West; so evil is the associate!

39. And since you were unjust, it will not profit you this day that you are sharers in the chastisement.

40. What! can you then make the deaf to hear or guide the blind and him who is in clear error?

41. But if We should take you away, still We shall inflict retribution on them;

42. Rather We will certainly show you that which We have promised them; for surely We are the possessors of full power over them.

43. Therefore, hold fast to that which has been revealed to you; surely you are on the right path.

44. And most surely it is reminder for you and your people, and you shall soon be questioned.

45. And ask those of Our apostles whom We sent before you: Did We ever appoint gods to be worshipped besides the Beneficent Allah?

The Ruku has the name of Allah "AR-RAHMAN" (Beneficent) at its first AAYAT and at its last; AR-RAHMAN means that He cares for all His creation most mercifully at the worldly life that include the believers among the Man and the Jinn and even the disbelievers among them all, whereas AR-RAHIM, that also is the name of Allah, means that He cares for the true believers in life at the world most mercifully and would care exclusively for them at AKHIRAT most mercifully as they do believe Him as the only Creator of all the creation, Who always has all His authority, and also that He is the only RABB (the true Lord) of all the creation; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Ruku tells how the disbelievers live-on at the world with illusion that they are rightly guided though SHAYATIN (which is plural of Satan) misguide them away from the right path until when such a disbelieving person would come to Allah, he would curse the Satan, that had been with him, expressing the desire that only if there had been a distance between him and that Satan at the world as of the East and the West; they would be told in clear

terms at the day of HASHR that their blaming of their wrongs upon SHAYATIN would not do them any good as they took the misguidance that their respective Satan gave to them and they surely had lived most unjustly at the world due to their disbelief in the Truth; so it will not profit them this day and they all, they and their SHAYATIN, would surely be given their chastisement; they all surely would be put into the hell-fire; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead till the last of the Ruku, console the Prophet PBUH that he has to provide all persons the message of Allah and he is not liable to see that they do accept it; if some person has become deaf & blind to calling towards the true guidance and thus has put his own self into extreme error, it is not because of any fault of the Prophet PBUH; AAYAT tells that Allah would take His revenge from them either after He gives death to the Prophet PBUH or even at his life, as He wills; the text here may be taken to express that Allah would take His revenge from them either after He takes him away from Makkah or even at Makkah; certainly, He has all authority to punish them in any manner at any time due to their denial to the message of the Quran that the Prophet PBUH had provided them explicitly; AAYAAT ahead tell the Prophet PBUH to hold fast to the Quran and provide its message to all, as that certainly, he has to do; he would be asked about this liability which certainly he has fulfilled because he surely is on the right path, and all persons would be asked about how they took it; the Quran is the reminder to the word every person has provided to Allah at the world of spirits, to remain on the right path and the Prophet PBUH certainly has no doubts that Allah only has the true authority; He asks all persons to worship Him only and obey Him only; the last AAYAT of the Ruku reads, "and ask those of Our apostles whom We sent before you- did We ever appoint gods to be worshipped besides the Beneficent Allah (that has never happened as Allah had commanded all of them to provide the fundamental teachings of Islam which the Prophet PBUH is also teaching by the Quran to all peoples of the world)?"; this means to see their teachings that are present authentically in which, there is nothing averse for sure, against the fundamental teachings of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ZUKHRUF-The Fifth Ruku

46. And certainly We sent Musa with Our AAYAAT to Pharaoh and his chiefs, so he said: Surely I am the apostle of the Lord of the worlds.

47. But when he came to them with Our signs, lo! they laughed at them.

48. And We did not show them a sign but it was greater than its fellow, and We overtook them with chastisement that they may turn.

49. And they said: O magician! call on your Lord for our sake, as He has made the covenant with you; we shall surely be the followers of the right path.

50. But when We removed from them the chastisement, lo! they broke the pledge.

51. And Pharaoh proclaimed amongst his people: O my people! is not the kingdom of Egypt mine? And these rivers flow beneath me; do you not then see?

52. Nay! I am better than this fellow, who is contemptible, and who can hardly speak distinctly:

53. But why have not bracelets of gold been put upon him, or why have there not come with him angels as companions?

54. So he incited his people to levity and they obeyed him: surely they were a transgressing people.

55. Then when they displeased Us, We inflicted a retribution on them, so We drowned them all together, 56. And We made them a precedent and example to the later generations.

This Ruku narrates about Moses-AS when he came to Pharaoh and his chiefs and told them to release Bani-Israel from captivity; he told them that he was one of the Messengers of Allah and presented to them such signs that Allah had provided to him; note that these signs were nine in total that Allah showed Pharaoh and his people yet they did not accept the fundamental teachings of Islam; besides the staff of Moses that changed to the huge serpent and the shining hand, there were (iii) draughts (shortage of crops), (iv) diminution of fruits (this also means lesser returns to efforts) (v) TOOFAAN (hail-storm), (vi) locusts, (vii) lice, (viii) frogs and (ix) blood; the sixteenth Ruku of AARAAF provides this very clearly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; they only mocked the signs that Allah showed them through Moses-AS though each one was most amazing; at each of troubles, they asked Moses-AS to remove it with commitment that they would follow the right path though they still called him a magician which clearly expressed that they were not sincere; so as soon as Allah removed their troubles, they broke their pledge, without any remorse; the next six AAYAAT of the Ruku tell how Pharaoh misguided his people and what was the outcome of that; he lured them by his manifest wealth and power at that time and place, by saying that he rules Egypt and has the control of its lands and rivers and said about Moses that he is contemptible because he does not have wealth and status; Pharaoh even mentioned that Moses is unable to express his teachings clearly in speech, but that certainly was the fault of Pharaoh himself and not of Moses-AS; we all have studied at the second Ruku of Surah SHUA'RAA that Pharaoh asked about Allah, the true Lord, when Moses-AS provided him the fundamental teachings of Islam at his court, and could not understand His true authority; Pharaoh stressed his point by saying that Moses does not have bracelets of gold that may cause him to become wealthy and angels are not accompanying him that may show that he has prominent status among the people; these words show the thinking pattern of disbelievers that they take prominence in wealth and status at the world as an indicator for someone to influence the environment; Satan had made this mistake when he took his manifest strength as the indicator of his supremacy over the man and mistake of this kind is certainly a huge mistake; note that the third Ruku of this Surah ZUKHRUF has told about the doubts of the disbelievers at Makkah where AAYAT-31 has quoted, "and they say- why was not this Quran revealed to a man of importance in the two of towns?"; they meant that the spiritual guide has to be such person who has prominence in wealth and has influence over number of men in Makkah & TA'EF, as they were most notable for their economic stability then; the third Ruku answers them that this is a foolish remark as the status of some over some at the world is because the peoples of the world take benefits from works of each other and it is because Allah examines all men whether they do get His pleasure or prove totally unworthy to it; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; for spiritual guidance, the manifest prominence by wealth and status at the world has no significance at the court of Allah except when the persons having them, put them to use to get His pleasure but the abundance of these things in themselves, does not gain appreciation there; it is the care to morals with righteous belief and adherence to virtues in deeds that does count there; the glamor of high possessions of the world is so very insignificant in view of Allah, and also the status such wealthy persons get among people, that if it had not caused all people to display ingratitude to Allah, which would have led them all to become failures at AKHIRAT, He would have made all persons extremely wealthy; Pharaoh did succeed in getting his people to his side by his inciting them and they did follow his erroneous advice; this was because their living manner, where the wealth and the status at the world counted for respect, had made their psyche to accept such misguidance; the outcome to the denial of the true guidance was that Allah drowned Pharaoh and all those who were chasing Moses-AS and Bani-Israel; He made this narration as an example that whosoever persists on wrongs even when he does get the true guidance, then He would destroy such persons, and their wealth and status at the world would prove useless for their defense; certainly Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ZUKHRUF-The Sixth Ruku

57. And when a description of the son of Mariam is given, lo! your people raise a clamor thereat.

58. And they say: Are our gods better, or is he? They do not set it forth to you save by way of disputation; nay, they are a contentious people.

59. He was naught but a servant on whom We bestowed favor, and We made him an example for the children of Israel.

60. And if We please, We could make among you angels to be successors in the land.

61. And most surely he is knowledge of the hour, therefore have no doubt about it and follow me: this is the right path.

62. And let not the Satan prevent you; surely he is your open enemy.

63. And when Isa came with clear arguments he said: I have come to you indeed with wisdom, and that I may make clear to you part of what you differ in; so be careful of (your duty to) Allah and obey me:

64. Surely Allah is my Lord and your Lord, therefore serve Him; this is the right path:

65. But parties from among them differed, so woe to those who were unjust because of the chastisement of a painful day.

66. Do they wait for aught but the hour, that it should come! upon them all of a sudden while they do not perceive?

67. The friends shall on that day be enemies one to another, except those who guard (against evil).

Surah ZUKHRUF answers the disbelievers that wealth and status at the world is insignificant as the man has come for examination here and he only has that in all things; note that the disbelievers made this an issue that why they should be blamed on taking angels as daughters of Allah whereas there are persons who believe Jesus to be His son; AAYAT-45 of this very Surah ZUKHRUF has told explicitly, "and (O Prophet PBUH) ask those of Our apostles whom We sent before you- did We ever appoint gods to be worshipped besides the Beneficent Allah (that has never happened as Allah had commanded all of them to provide the fundamental teachings of Islam which the Prophet PBUH is also teaching by the Quran to all peoples of the world)?"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so this Ruku starts by mentioning Jesus-AS, to answer the foolish objection of the disbelievers with the comment that they should not raise clamor about him by false accusation; the fact of the matter is that he is not responsible for what those who claim to be his followers, have done after him; AAYAT-59 mentions, "he was naught but a servant on whom We bestowed favor, and We made him an example for the children of Israel"; they should understand that if Allah did not intend examination for the man, He would have made all of mankind as angels to live upon earth; but there is examination of the man even in Jesus Christ, the great man and the respectable Messenger of Allah, who most surely, is knowledge of the hour; they should have no doubts about him and follow the Prophet PBUH with total sincerity as this certainly is the right path and they should take care that the Satan, who is open enemy to mankind, does not prevent them to come to this right path; note that the phrase "knowledge of the hour" refers to the fact that his birth, his life that he spent at the world and his departure from the world, all are miraculous and like all other of the Messengers of Allah, he also provided by his TABLIGH knowledge of the hour that the Day of Judgment would surely take place; note also that it is an indication to happenings near to the end of the world too that might trigger his good memories at that time so it is better to see how events shape out with tolerance to each other because this time at which we are living, is most certainly very near to the end of the world and highly crucial for the Muslims; Al-Hamdu Lillah; further, note about this AAYAT i.e. AAYAT-61 that it has been taken at commentaries as an indication to the coming of Jesus Christ for the second time at the world near to its end; however, this interpretation is clearly inappropriate as he has departed from the world to the life beyond and would not come back to the world again; certainly, every person would be raised from dead at the Day of Judgment; however, there sure is an indication in Ahadith that he would come back near to the last day of the world and I, MSD, have commented upon this issue at the supplementary note after the note at the last Ruku of Surah MA'EDAH; that Ruku tells at AAYAT-116 & 117 about the question that Allah would ask Jesus Christ at the Day of Judgment and his answer to that question there; they state, "and when Allah will say- O Isa, son of Mariam, did you say to men- take me and my mother for two gods besides Allah, he will say- glory be to You, it did not befit me that I should say what I had no right to (say); if I had said it, You would indeed have known it; You know what is in my heart but certainly I do not know what is in Your Knowledge, surely You are the great Knower of the unseen things; I did not say to them aught save what You did enjoin me with- that serve Allah, my Lord and your Lord, and I was witness over them till the time I dwelt among them but when You took me up, You were the Watcher over them as You certainly do witness everything"; this tells most clearly that he is not going to return to the world for the second time, Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-63 & 64 here at this Ruku, also present the statement of Jesus Christ to the Bani-Israel; these AAYAAT read, "and when Isa came with clear arguments he said- I have come to you indeed with wisdom (i.e. INJIL), and that I may make clear to you part of what you differ in; so be careful of (your duty to) Allah and obey me; surely, Allah is my Lord and your Lord, therefore serve Him; this is the right path"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that INJIL does not mean the four initial books of the New Testament though when ULAMA refer to it as the book that descended upon Jesus-AS, they loosely do mean those four gospels; it is notable that the Quran does not mention INJIL as some written work but it actually comprises of the sermons of Jesus Christ that he gave according to the guidance that Allah provided to him and as such, it is HIKMAT (wisdom); so whereas Torah is much related to ADL (the law), INJIL is much related to EHSAAN (the guidance that inclines towards the natural good tendencies of the man); we still find the matter of these sermons at different places at inside of the four initial books of the New Testament though they have been tampered with at times in the ancient period and so we Muslims take from them only what the Holy Book Quran confirms; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-65 points out that the persons whom Jesus Christ had addressed, divided into parties and it tells further that all those who were unjust among them would face the severe chastisement of the Day of Judgment; they are not accepting the Truth and it seems that they are waiting for the hour (here it means the Day of HASHR) which would get them unawares; the last AAYAT tells about that day that "the friends shall on that day be enemies one to another, except those who guard (against evil)"; so all the righteous persons would retain their good friendship even there but the disbelievers shall turn enemies to each other; see also Surah ABAS-33 to last; certainly, the true success is only at AKHIRAT, which is the true life ahead; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

ZUKHRUF-The Last Ruku

68. O My servants! there is no fear for you this day, nor shall you grieve.

69. Those who believed in Our AAYAAT and were submissive:

70. Enter the garden, you and your wives; you shall be made happy.

71. There shall be sent round to them golden bowls and drinking-cups and therein shall be what their souls yearn after and (wherein) the eyes shall delight, and you shall abide therein.

72. And this is the garden which you are given as an inheritance on account of what you did.

73. For you therein are many fruits of which you shall eat.

74. Surely the guilty shall abide in the chastisement of the hell-fire.

75. It shall not be abated from them and they shall therein be despairing.

76. And We are not unjust to them, but they themselves were unjust.

77. And they shall call out: O Malik! let your Lord make an end of us. He shall say: Surely you shall tarry.

78. Certainly We have brought you the Truth, but most of you are averse to the Truth.

79. Or have they settled an affair? Then surely We are the settlers.

80. Or do they think that We do not hear what they conceal and their secret discourses? Aye! and Our apostles with them write down.

81. Say: If the Beneficent Allah has a son, I am the foremost of those who serve.

82. Glory to the Lord of the heavens and the earth, the Lord of power, from what they ascribe (unto Him).

83. So leave them plunging into false discourses and sporting until they meet their day which they are threatened with.

84. And He it is Who is Allah in the heavens and in the earth; and He is the Wise, the Knowing.

85. And blessed is He Whose is the kingdom of the heavens and the earth and what is between them, and with Him is the knowledge of the hour, and to Him shall you be brought back.

86. And those whom they call upon besides Him have no authority for intercession, except him who bears witness of the Truth knowingly.

87. And if you should ask them who created them, they would certainly say: Allah. Whence are they then turned back?

88. Consider his cry: O my Lord! surely they are a people who do not believe.

89. So turn away from them and say, Peace, for they shall soon come to know.

Surah ZUKHRUF has stated this most explicitly that having gold & silver and all sorts of wealth at the world, does not have any worth at AKHIRAT nor the status at the world, matters there; the last Ruku starts by mentioning how pleased all righteous persons would be at AKHIRAT, where they would receive golden bowls & beautiful drinking cups and where they would get utmost respect; Al-Hamdu Lillah; they shall have no fear of the times ahead and they shall have no grief at whatever times that has passed away; AAYAT-72 & 73 tell that they would receive JANNAH as their residence forever ahead because they had lived virtuously at the right path by fulfillment of the commands of Allah and they would receive many of different fruits for them to get pleasure from; note that all those who get JANNAH would praise Allah that He gave them JANNAH by His mercy to them and Allah would tell them that their virtuous living at the world, led them to it; Surah AARAAF-43 states, "and We will remove whatever of ill-feeling is in their breasts; the rivers shall flow beneath them and they shall say- all praise is due to Allah Who guided us to this, and we would not have found the way had it not been that Allah had guided us; certainly the apostles of our Lord brought the Truth; and it shall be cried out to them that this is the garden of which you are made heirs for what you did"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead from AAYAT-74 to 78 tell about the condition of the disbelievers at AKHIRAT that their unjust living manner shall lead them to chastisement of the hell-fire which shall not be abated from them and they shall live therein forever in disgrace; Allah is not unjust to any person but the disbelievers themselves would be responsible for this condition of theirs at AKHIRAT as they lived most unjustly at the world; they shall ask Malik, the chief-keeper of the hell, to ask Allah, the true Lord, to make an end of them to which he shall reply that there is no way that they get relief from the hell-fire; Allah did provide them the Truth, the fundamental teachings of Islam, and the virtuous manner to live by care to that, yet they lived-on remaining averse to it; note that at the time when this Surah descended, the disbelievers had decided by consultation with each other to stop the spread of the good teachings of Islam that Muhammad PBUH was providing to all, by all means that they had with them and they were practically doing it; AAYAAT 79 & 80 exposes their plan and tells them clearly that their plan would remain futile as Islam would certainly spread on; as for their wrong-doings, the angels at guard are writing them down and they would certainly have to answer for those; AAYAAT-81, 82, & 83 address the utmost wrong of disbelievers which these AAYAAT refute in clear terms as they read, "say (O Prophet PBUH)- if the Beneficent Allah has a son, I am the foremost of those who serve (but He certainly does not have any son or daughter); glory to the Lord of the heavens and the earth, the Lord of power, from what they ascribe (unto Him); so leave them plunging into false discourses and sporting until they meet their day which they are threatened with (where they would certainly see the outcome of all their wrongs)"; AAYAAT ahead tell that Allah only has created all that is in the heavens and the earth and He only has complete control over them; He is leading all of His creation according to His will as He truly is Wise and Most Knowing of all matters for certain; certainly, He only is the Creator of all creation and certainly, He only has the kingdom of the heavens and the earth and whatever is between them, so it is most necessary for all among the mankind (and even the jinn) to live by His commands as His disobedience would certainly lead to most severe chastisement at the Day of Judgment; the knowledge of that day is surely with Allah only and every person must remain prepared to witness that day when he/she shall be brought back to Allah, the true Lord; all must believe totally in the fundamental teachings of Islam that are TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord) and AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment) and RISALAT (Allah had sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path); certainly, Allah only has the true authority; all must remain aware that they would face their doings alone at the grounds of HASHR and those have no authority to save them, whom they call besides Allah with such belief that they would save them from all chastisement; even "SHAFAT" (recommendation to Allah to forgive sinful Muslim persons there and give entrance to them into JANNAH), is limited to those specific persons only for whom Allah permits to ask for it and those whom Allah permits SHAFAT, would include the apostles of Allah, the most truthful persons like them among others, and SHAHEED in the way of Allah and all righteous persons, and this includes even the angels; AAYAT-86 reads for it, "and those whom they call upon besides Him have no authority for intercession, except him who bears witness of the Truth knowingly (this means angels)"; so Allah would give the permission to angels to recommend those of good persons for JANNAH to Him, who may have few of notable sins at their documents of deeds without any loss of their true belief, even though there were such wrong persons too among the disbelievers who called upon angels besides Allah; the angels did not have any part in their disbelief rather they despised it and most obviously, they would not intercede in favor of the disbelievers so what concern they have to the concept of SHAFAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-87 tells that they have this notion about Allah that He is their Creator yet they do not believe that the belief that He has created them and all of universe, asks them to obey His commands totally; AAYAT-9 at this Surah also pointed-out that even with acceptance that only Allah, Who is the Mighty and the Knowing, has created the heavens and the earth, the disbelievers do not believe in Him in this manner too that He only has the true authority and they need to show their total obedience to Him for certain; it states, "and if you should ask them Who created the heavens and the earth? they would most certainly say- the Mighty, the Knowing One, has created them"; the erroneous living manner of the disbelievers, when they adhere to it for some period of time collectively, causes alienation to this fact that they shall obey too, the One Who has created them, besides accepting Him as the Creator of all; the disbelievers at all periods & places, had rejected Allah as their RABB (the true Lord Whom they do have to obey) and had refused to take His guidance for the true belief and had denied to take the principles He has provided for the virtuous deeds of life; the true Muslims believe that He not only is the Creator of all the creation Who never loses His attributes, but He also is the only true Lord of all the creation Whom the jinn and the mankind have to obey totally by their freewill in all aspects of life; note that other of disbelief is where someone does believe that Allah is RABB, the true Lord, yet has the notion that his disobedience to Allah would not cause any harm to him, as that is of no consequence or as the recommendation at the court of Allah of some good person for him (or his sacrifice for him) or intercession of angels for him would save him from his wrong-doings at the Day of Judgment; this also leads to the result that the disbeliever ignores that he has to fulfill the commands of Allah at all issues of life and so practically he does not believe that Allah, the only Creator of all creation, is RABB, the true Lord, of all creation too; all must sincerely believe that Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-88 states that the Prophet PBUH does present his case in front of Allah that with all his efforts, the disbelievers do not believe in the fundamental teachings of Islam; in answer to this, Allah asks him to keep distance from them for the sake of peace, as he has fulfilled his task completely; they shall see very soon as they face the most severe chastisement on their wrongs, how erroneous they had been in their lives at the world; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah DUKHAN

(Consists of 3 Ruku; MK-8)

DUKHAN-The First Ruku

1. HA-MIM

2. I swear by the Book that makes manifest (the whole Truth).

3. Surely We revealed it on a blessed night surely We are ever warning--

4. Therein every wise affair is made distinct,

5. A command from Us; surely We are the senders (of Muhammad PBUH to all of mankind & jinn),

6. A mercy from your Lord, surely He is the Hearing, the Knowing,

7. The Lord of the heavens and the earth and what is between them, if you would be sure.

8. There is no god but He; He gives life and causes death, your Lord and the Lord of your fathers of yore.

9. Nay, they are in doubt, they sport.

10. Therefore, keep waiting for the day when the heaven shall bring an evident smoke,

11. That shall overtake men; this is a painful punishment.

12. Our Lord! remove from us the punishment; surely we are believers.

13. How shall they be reminded, and there came to them an Apostle making clear (the truth),

14. Yet they turned their backs on him and said: One taught (by others), a madman.

15. Surely We will remove the punishment a little, (but) you will surely return (to evil).

16. On the day when We will seize (them) with the most violent seizing; surely We will inflict retribution.

17. And certainly We tried before them the people of Pharaoh, and there came to them a noble apostle,

18. Saying: Deliver to me the servants of Allah, surely I am a faithful apostle to you,

19. And that do not exalt yourselves against Allah, surely I will bring to you a clear authority:

20. And surely I take refuge with my Lord and your Lord that you should stone me to death:

21. And if you do not believe in me, then leave me alone.

22. Then he called upon his Lord: These are guilty people.

23. So go forth with My servants by night; surely you will be pursued:

24. And leave the sea intervening; surely they are a host that shall be drowned.

25. How many of the gardens and fountains have they left!

26. And cornfields and noble places!

27. And goodly things wherein they rejoiced;

28. Thus (it was), and We gave them as heritage to another people.

29. So the heaven and the earth did not weep for them, nor were they respited.

Surah DUKHAN also starts by mentioning the Holy Book Quran that clarifies all matters for the virtuous guidance of the man; note that Allah chose the best of times that is the significant night of Ramadhan that is named as LAYLATUL-QADR when He began to provide the Quran to the best of records that is LAUHE-MAHFUZ; that significant night is in the month of Ramadhan and it relates to predestination because Allah tells angels at that night those of His commands that they have to implement in the year ahead; He sent the Quran in stages to Muhammad PBUH (the last of His Messengers) by the most respectable angel JIBRAEL (i.e. Gabriel) as the true guidance to mankind (and to jinn) as He willed, so it is the relevant guidance according to events that took place then, and the relevant guidance in general to what the people needed to live their lives upon the Islamic teachings; Al-Hamdu Lillah; all good works need good times for them to manifest their utmost BARAKAH and so Allah chose the best of times that was that significant night of Ramadhan when He began to provide the Holy Book Quran to LAUHE-MAHFUZ; note that when some good thing brings the most good results by it then it is mentioned as having "BARAKAH" for that so when the good rain falls upon the good land, it brings its crops well upon its surface so it has "BARAKAH" for that good land; Allah provided the Quran to Muhammad PBUH for nearly 23 lunar years and LAUHE-MAHFUZ saved that text of the Quran as he got it; so with the completion of its text at the world, it was saved there too in total by text and certainly, Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-5 to 8 state that Allah sent Muhammad PBUH to all of mankind & jinn and He had told Adam-AS that He would keep the Truth always clear for all to accept or to reject, so no injustice takes place when He judges all persons at the time of HASHR; this is mercy from Allah, the true Lord, Who has provided the Guidance to the right path to all; and He hears all that persons say and knows whatever they do; He is certainly the Hearing and the Knowing; He is truly the Lord of all His creation, and this all is the heavens and the earth and whatever is between them; the study of them would lead to see that He has provided principles to all things and this beautiful pattern does lead those who really are in the pursuit of the Truth, to believe in the true authority of Allah; He has cared for the survival of the man and that the true guidance always remains most clear to him so AAYAT-8 at the Ruku tells conclusively, "there is no god but He; He gives life and causes death, your Lord and the Lord of your fathers of yore"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-9 tells about the disbelievers that with such indications that lead to acceptance of the true authority of Allah Who asks all persons to obey Him totally, they remain in doubt and live their lives in such playful manner that shows that they are totally ignorant of the fact that they have to answer Allah, the true Lord; AAYAAT ahead ask the Prophet PBUH to wait and bear their hostility, as the day would come when the heaven shall manifest DUKHAN (smoke) all over; note that this day would be near to QAYAMAT (the last day of the world) whereas this mentioned smoke would overtake all of men and it would be most painful for certain; all persons, even the disbelievers, would ask Allah to provide relief to them with commitment that they would live strictly by His commands; AAYAT tells clearly that how shall they accept the true belief when they rejected the Prophet Muhammad PBUH when he came to them and showed them the right path totally, by the command of Allah; the disbelievers at his times had denied the message of Islam and had turned their backs on him with such remarks that he is taught these teachings by some person and he is a madman; Allah tells the disbelievers who would be at the world at the time when smoke takes over, "surely We will remove the punishment a little, (but) you will surely return (to evil)"; so Allah would remove it for little space of time but they would not keep their commitment and would return to their evil ways of living; may Allah save all good persons from that severe punishment of smoke whenever it occurs at the world; AAYAT-16 tells that though He would give space to the disbelievers at the world, yet at the Day of Judgment, Allah would punish them most severely; it reads, "on the day when We will seize (them) with the most violent seizing; surely We will inflict retribution"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; after this, the Ruku narrates events related to Moses-AS which tell that Allah has complete authority to end all those who challenge Him; He tried Pharaoh and his people through Moses when he had come to them and had told Pharaoh that he is the Messenger of Allah and he has one of his tasks to take the Bani-Israel away from Egypt and put an end to their slavery; he also gave him the message of Islam and told him not to exalt himself against Allah; but Pharaoh did not accept this message, rather he wanted his chiefs to agree to the execution of Moses and even mentioned that if he gets that agreement then even if Moses calls Allah, it would be of no benefit to him; it seems that they had some law at that time that decrees of Pharaoh having crucial impact at the land, shall need the assent of his chiefs around; when

Moses came to know of this motion, he did ask the protection of Allah as MOMEN-27 presents his DUA to Allah, the true Lord, which reads, "and Musa said- surely I take refuge with my Lord and your Lord from every proud one who does not believe in the day of reckoning"; Allah accepted his call and as the time to affirm the motion of Pharaoh ensued, He raised one of His righteous believers from among the Pharaoh's own family members to support Moses-AS; at this Ruku, AAYAT-20, 21 & 22 tell that he said, "and surely I take refuge with my Lord and your Lord that you should stone me to death (which also was among the manners in which they gave the capital punishment); and if you do not believe in me, then leave me alone (so that I spread the virtuous teachings of Islam to all persons around); then he called upon his Lord- these are guilty people (as the people of Pharaoh did not incline to those good teachings except for some)"; Allah commanded him to take the Bani-Israel away from Egypt at night and though Pharaoh and his men would follow them yet they would not be able to get them; the sea would part to give way to Moses-AS and his people but when Pharaoh and his men come inside it, they all would drown inside it as it converges upon them; so it was the Pharaoh, who died by drowning when he was frantically chasing Moses and the Bani-Israel, with massive number of his armed men; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last five AAYAAT of the Ruku tell that with high number of possessions and status at the world, those people could not save themselves from the severe punishment of Allah when He willed to end their power and none came to their assistance against Allah, the true Lord; these AAYAAT read, "how many of the gardens and fountains have they left; and cornfields and noble places; and goodly things wherein they rejoiced; thus (it was), and We gave them as heritage to another people (i.e. the Bani-Israel got all such things after some period of time when they got control of such land where they could live on their own); so the heaven and the earth did not weep for them, nor were they respited"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

DUKHAN-The Second Ruku

30. And certainly We delivered the children of Israel from the abasing chastisement,

31. From Pharaoh; surely he was haughty, (and) one of the extravagant.

32. And certainly We chose them, having knowledge, above the nations.

33. And We gave them of the AAYAAT wherein was clear blessing.

34. Most surely these do say:

35. There is naught but our first death and we shall not be raised again.

36. So bring our fathers (back), if you are truthful.
37. Are they better or the people of TUBBA and those before them? We destroyed them, for surely they were guilty.
38. And We did not create the heavens and the earth and what is between them in sport.
39. We did not create them both but with the truth, but most of them do not know.
40. Surely the day of decision is their appointed term, of all of them
41. The day on which a friend shall not avail (his) friend aught, nor shall they be helped,
42. Save those on whom Allah shall have mercy; surely He is the Mighty, the Merciful.

Allah tells at the first four AAYAAT of the Ruku that He not only delivered the Bani-Israel from the abasing chastisement of Pharaoh but He also chose them above nations with liability to them that they remain to His message, though He knew their flaws, and that they provide it to peoples around; He cared for them in many ways through Moses-AS when He provided them their sustenance even at the desert where they stayed for quite a period of time; before them, Allah had sent His Messengers to nations yet they had not accepted His message so at the times of Moses, He chose them as nation for His task; however, when the Bani-Israel failed to remain to it as they took some of commands from Torah in practice and ignored others that they found hard for them to practice and showed extreme disrespect to the Prophets of Allah who came in them, Allah punished them severely through other of nations and then, at the times of Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, He removed them totally from their revered status; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAT-34 to the last, the Ruku tells the statement of the disbelievers at Makkah and the answer that Allah gives to them; they had said that this life that they have, is final so their first death closes it completely with no life ahead; they had argued that if there is life ahead, then the Muslims should bring their dead forefathers to them so that they see that the life stays on; Allah asks them if they take themselves better in strength than the people of TUBBA and those who were before them; note that TUBBA was the title of kings of Yemen at ancient times and here, the AAYAT refers to one of them; Allah destroyed all such people totally when they challenged Him and He would certainly punish them too most severely if they disrespect Muhammad PBUH whom He has appointed as His Messenger in them, to give them His message clearly; He has created the heavens and the earth and whatever is between them with principles that they follow; He examines the mankind (and even the jinn) by this set-up and they would account for all their doings at the particular day of Judgment, when Allah would decide the destination of all persons ever born at the world; Surah MULK says at its beginning, "Blessed is He in Whose hand is the kingdom, and He has power over all things; Who created death and life that He may try you- which of you is best in deeds; and He is the Mighty, the Forgiving"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at that day, the disbelievers would see their forefathers but there, their relations would end and even close friends at life at the world, would not care for each other and they shall not be helped in any manner by anyone; however, the good persons to whom Allah shows His mercy would remain friends even there; certainly, Allah is AZIZ (Mighty; so He does not let any extreme wrong remain at the world when some nation takes it up because He only has the true authority) and He also is RAHIM (Merciful; so He cares for the spiritual guidance to the mankind and has patience upon the wrong-doings of individuals till they get the ample time He has appointed for them, to accept it for their safety at AKHIRAT); certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

DUKHAN-The Last Ruku

43. Surely the tree of the Zaqqum,
44. Is the food of the sinful
45. Like dregs of oil; it shall boil in (their) bellies,

46. Like the boiling of hot water.
47. Seize him, then drag him down into the middle of the hell;
48. Then pour above his head of the torment of the boiling water:
49. Taste; you forsooth are the mighty, the honorable:
50. Surely this is what you disputed about.
51. Surely those who guard (against evil) are in secure place,
52. In gardens and springs;
53. They shall wear of fine and thick silk, (sitting) face to face;
54. Thus (shall it be), and We will wed them with HOORS, pure, beautiful ones.
55. They shall call therein for every fruit in security;
56. They shall not taste therein death except the first death, and He will save them from the punishment of the hell,
57. A grace from your Lord; this is the great achievement.
58. So have We made it easy in your tongue that they may be mindful.
59. Therefore, wait; surely they (also) are waiting.

The last Ruku presents the treatment of the disbelievers at the hell-fire and in contrast, the living manner of the successful persons at JANNAH; the

Ruku tells at its beginning about the most sinful disbelievers that they would get their foods from the tree of Zaqqum which is most thorny that is at the hell-fire; AAYAT-6 at Surah GHASHIYA tells about it that "they shall have no food but of thorns" so all those who erred about the Day of Judgment and all those who denied its upcoming, they would eat from that tree as that only would be available to satiate their extreme hunger; it would be like dregs of oil and it would boil at their bellies like the hot water and in addition, they would receive the torment of boiling water over them, so these disbelievers would be most unwelcome; they would be commanded to taste this all as they used to live at the world with extreme arrogance that they are rightful to get whatever they want and that they are most respectful among all people around while they did not believe that there would come such specific day when they would certainly have to answer for all their doings; so they would see there all that in which they used to have extreme doubt; AAYAAT ahead at the Ruku tell about the true believers that they will remain away from the hell-fire with utmost security in beautiful gardens where clear springs would flow; they shall have dresses that would be made of fine and thick silk; and Allah would wed them to HOORS (the most beautiful women at JANNAAT) who would have the most lovely wide eyes; note about HOORS that these fairest of women would be the dwellers of JANNAAT who would be included in the blessing for the virtuous men who achieve success at AKHIRAT and those righteous women too who had spent their lives in the most virtuous manner at the world, would enter JANNAAT where they would be transformed as the most beautiful HOORS; see also the note at Surah TOOR; they would have all kinds of pleasant fruits there which they would ask in utmost security; then, this would be the life that they would live forever and never would taste death, after the death which they had before, that ended their respective lives at the world; Allah, the true Lord, would provide them safety from the hell-fire by His grace and that certainly is the great achievement; Allah tells at the last AAYAAT, "so have We made it (the Quran) easy in your tongue that they may be mindful; therefore, wait (O Muhammad PBUH- without losing patience when you have provided the message of Islam); surely they (also) are waiting (for some calamity to hit you but they would see clearly who gets it)"; certainly, Allah only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah JATHIYA

(Consists of 4 Ruku; MK-9)

JATHIYA- The First Ruku

1. HA-MIM

2. The revelation of the Book is from Allah, the Mighty, the Wise.

3. Most surely in the heavens and the earth there are signs for the believers.

4. And in your (own) creation and in what He spreads abroad of animals there are signs for the people that are certain;

5. And the variation of the night and the day, and what Allah sends down of sustenance from the heaven above, then gives life thereby to the earth after its death, and the changing of the winds, there are signs for the people who understand.

6. These are the AAYAAT of Allah which We recite to you with Truth; then in what announcement would they believe after Allah and His AAYAAT?

7. Woe to every sinful liar,

8. Who hears the AAYAAT of Allah recited to him, then persists proudly as though he had not heard them; so announce to him a painful punishment.

9. And when he comes to know of any of Our AAYAAT, he takes it for a jest; these it is that shall have abasing chastisement.

10. Before them is the hell-fire, and there shall not avail them aught of what they earned, nor those whom they took for guardians besides Allah, and they shall have grievous punishment.

11. This is guidance; and (as for) those who disbelieve in the AAYAAT of their Lord, they shall have a painful penalty of abomination.

The first Ruku of Surah JATHIYA guides particularly to see that all creation of Allah indicates that He only has the true authority as He has set everything by principles that all His creation follows and all this set-up is totally favorable to life at the world, especially for the mankind; this proves that the man is here to live the life that Allah has given him by principles and undoubtedly, he is answerable for his doings; so the beginning of the Surah tells that all surroundings establish the teachings of the Quran, the word of Allah, in the clearest manner; it reads, "HA-MIM; the revelation of the Book (the Quran) is from Allah, the Mighty (Who eliminates all those from the face of earth who challenge His true authority), the Wise (Who directs the issues at the world by the doings of the man as He wills, because He certainly has all the true authority); most surely in the heavens and the earth there are signs for the believers (as they all are complementary to the teachings of the Quran); and in your (own) creation and in what He spreads abroad of animals there are signs for the people that are certain (that Allah only has the true authority); and the variation of the night and the day, and what Allah sends down of sustenance (i.e. rain which brings forth the crops & fruits from the earth) from the heaven above, then gives life thereby to the earth after its death, and the changing of the winds, there are signs for the people who understand; these are the AAYAAT of Allah which We recite to you with (indication of) the Truth; then in what announcement would they believe after (the recitation of AAYAAT from the Quran of) Allah and (after getting those of) His AAYAAT (that are around)"?; compare these AAYAAT to BAQARAH-164 which also gives the same message, it reads, "most surely in the creation of the heavens and the earth and the alternation of the night and the day, and the ships that run in the sea with that which profits men, and the water that Allah sends down from the cloud (the heaven nearby), then gives life with it to the earth after its death and spreads in it all (kinds of) animals, and the changing of the winds and the clouds made subservient between the heaven and the earth, there are signs for the people who understand"; note that all the physical laws apply only by the will of Allah and He only has provided their working at the universe; He has caused the rotation of the earth at its axis without any troubles to us so as to bring days and nights; this gives us the opportunity to set-up our routine for our economic activities and for the period of our rest avoiding burden to self with our attention towards Allah at all times; and He descended the water from the heaven above so as to bring the earth alive (so that it bears fruits & crops); He mentions the heaven above as singular here as the rain falls from the clouds that are just above the earth; note that He has used the term "heavens" in plural at the beginning of mentioning benefits to the mankind at AAYAT-3; He spread many of animals upon the earth and this in some way or other is beneficial to the man as they are means of transport for him and as they provide the milk and the meat and even their waste is beneficial as fertilizer to fields; the wild animals too provide benefits to the mankind as their skins and teeth have value and some of them provide medicinal benefits too; the change of winds too that cause change in weathers at different places by their occurrence, is beneficial to life of the mankind; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead at the Ruku tell explicitly that with all signs that show that the man is here for his examination then if someone has extreme arrogance and does not take heed after getting the knowledge of the Truth, he is most sinful and extreme liar who would get the most severe punishment at the world and at AKHIRAT; these AAYAAT read, "woe to every sinful liar, who hears the AAYAAT of Allah recited to him, then persists proudly as though he had not heard them (so he is most sinful); so announce to him a painful punishment (at the world); and when he comes to know of any of Our AAYAAT, he takes it for a jest (so he is extreme liar who misguides persons around him); these it is that shall have abasing chastisement (at AKHIRAT); before them is the hell-fire (where their wrong-doings are leading them), and there shall not avail them aught of what they earned (of wrong-doings), nor those whom they took for guardians besides Allah (because they have no authority to save them from the hell-fire), and they shall have grievous punishment"; the last AAYAT of the Ruku reads, "this (the Quran) is guidance; and (as for) those who disbelieve in the AAYAAT of their Lord, they shall have a painful penalty of abomination (due to their disbelief)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

JATHIYA-The Second Ruku

12. Allah is He Who made subservient to you the sea that the ships may run therein by His command, and that you may seek of His grace, and that you may give thanks.

13. And He has made subservient to you whatsoever is in the heavens and whatsoever is in the earth, all, from Himself; most surely there are signs in this for a people who reflect.

14. Say to those who believe (that) they forgive those who do not fear the days of Allah that He may reward people for what they earn.

15. Whoever does good, it is for his own soul, and whoever does evil, it is against himself; then you shall be brought back to your Lord.

16. And certainly We gave the Book and the wisdom and the prophecy to the children of Israel, and We gave them of the goodly things, and We made them excel the nations.

17. And We gave them clear arguments related to guidance, but they did not differ until after knowledge had come to them out of envy among themselves; surely your Lord will judge between them on the day of resurrection concerning that wherein they differed.

18. Then We have made you follow course related to guidance, therefore follow it, and do not follow the low desires of those who do not know.

19. Surely they shall not avail you in the least against Allah; and surely the unjust are friends of each other, and Allah is the guardian of those who guard (against evil).

20. This provides clear proofs for men, and it is the guidance and the mercy for the people who are certain.

21. Nay! do those who have wrought evil deeds think that We will make them like those who believe and do good- that their life and their death shall be equal? Evil it is that they judge.

The Ruku continues telling the blessings of Allah on the mankind; AAYAT-12 states that He has set the waters of the sea with such principles that even huge ships run therein by His command; this enables the man to get economic stability by transport of goods to & fro and for this, the man does need to show gratitude to Him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-13 states that He has made all that is at the heavens and all that is at the earth, work for the benefits of the mankind by His command; so the man has got the option to reflect on the principles that they follow to come to the Truth and to get high physical benefits too, by that good reflection; AAYAAT ahead ask the Prophet PBUH to tell all sincere believers to ignore the comments of the disbelievers as they do not fear the punishment that Allah gave to nations that rejected His message when the Messengers in them, provided it to them; those were the days when Allah showed that it certainly is His will by which the life at the world goes on, so "whoever does good, it is for his own soul, and whoever does evil, it is against himself (even at life at the world); then you shall be brought back to your Lord (at the Day of Judgment)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Ruku presents Bani-Israel as an example that Allah provided them Torah through Moses-AS and wisdom to apply it properly through Jesus-AS and sent many of Prophets between them to keep them on the right path; and provided them with good sustenance at the world and such status that they excel nations by keeping to the commands of Allah; and He gave them specific commandments to remain to His guidance but when they differed to each other even when they had received the knowledge of His guidance, with an urge to show their excellence among each other and to ask for worldly benefits, Allah disgraced them among all nations and certainly, He will judge between them on the day of resurrection concerning all those things in which they differed; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-18, 19 & 20 state that after Allah deposed them of their status, He provided all Muslims through Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, the specific manner to remain to His guidance and to spread the knowledge of it to all peoples; the authentic Sunnah of the Prophet PBUH, which gives the course to all Muslims to practice the Islamic teachings which is the guidance of Allah to the mankind, is that specific manner by which all Muslims fulfill the asking of that guidance practically; they must never lean to low desires of those who have no knowledge of remaining to the guidance of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the disbelievers are unable to save any person from the consequence of his doings from Allah, at life at the world and at AKHIRAT and they are unable to save themselves too, though they do show friendship to each other at the world; certainly, Allah only is the guardian of those at all times who live by morals and guard against evil; AAYAT-20 reads, "this (the Quran) provides clear proofs for men, and it is the guidance and the mercy for the people who are certain (of the coming of the Day of Judgment)"; Allah provides the simple reason for the occurrence of the Day of Judgment at the last AAYAT of the Ruku that reads, "nay! do those who have wrought evil deeds think that We will make them like those who believe and do good- that their life and their death shall be equal?- evil it is that they judge"; so those persons who do realize the true aim of life that it only is to get the pleasure of Allah, the true Lord, would ultimately be successful as they live-on according to all His good commands; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

JATHIYA-The Third Ruku

22. And Allah created the heavens and the earth with truth and that every soul may be rewarded for what it has earned and they shall not be wronged.

23. Have you then considered him who takes his low desire for his god, and Allah has made him err having knowledge and has set a seal upon his ear and his heart and put covering upon his eye. Who can then guide him after Allah? Will you not then be mindful?

24. And they say: There is nothing but our life in this world; we live and die and nothing destroys us but time, and they have no knowledge of that; they only conjecture.

25. And when Our clear AAYAAT are recited to them, their argument is no other than that they say: Bring our fathers (back) if you are truthful.

26. Say: Allah gives life to you, then He makes you die, then will He gather you to the day of resurrection wherein is no doubt, but most people do not know.

The first AAYAT of the Ruku emphasizes the info given previously that Allah has created everything by principles that they follow and He has set these principles in such manner that living by virtues lead to pleasure at heart and living by wrongs only brings troubles; it reads, "and Allah created the heavens and the earth with truth (with good principles) and that every soul may be rewarded for what it has earned (whether good or bad) and they shall not be wronged (because Allah is certainly most just in all His decisions)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; due to His set principles, it happens that whoever goes on following his low desires where the commands of Allah had asked him to refrain strictly from that then He takes away his ability to distinguish between right and wrong as He sets a seal on his ear and his heart while there takes place a covering upon his sight which becomes an obstruction to him to see what is good; so he remains in the darkness of wrongs as there is none who would guide him when Allah has decided that he lives in that darkness; every person needs to be mindful that he/she does not lead himself/herself to such condition; there are such persons in the disbelievers who state that their life at the world is final with no other life so as they die due to time that falls upon them for it, it ends completely; Allah answers to this that "they have no knowledge of that; they only conjecture"; note that where the disbelievers put something upon destiny, Allah tells them that they have no knowledge about this and they have no right to argue by that stance; it happened that when they had no answer to their wrong doings, they blamed the destiny upon it; Surah YA-SEEN-47 also denotes their foolish response when they are directed to spend in the way of Allah, "and when it is said to them- spend out of what Allah has given you, those who disbelieve say to those who believe- shall we feed him whom, if Allah please, He could feed?- you are in naught but clear error"; this tells how unaware the disbelievers are of the fact that Allah has given them life at the world only to examine them with freewill whether they live on the right path or not; due to this, He has given different positions to all persons here among the mankind as He wills and certainly, He knows how to examine them; every person observes clearly that he/she deals matters at hand by his/her freewill and the asking of Allah to mankind is that he/she uses his/her freewill to fulfill the commands of Allah; certainly, everything happens by the will of Allah but

His pleasure is not in everything so the mankind has to fulfill His commands by his/her freewill to get His pleasure and not argue in favor of his/her wrong doings, by mentioning His will that certainly, He only knows; most certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; additionally, note is this issue that Surah HADID-22 & 23 read, "no evil befalls on the earth nor in your own souls, but it is in the book before We bring it into existence; surely that is easy to Allah; so that you may not grieve for what has escaped you, nor be exultant at what He has given you; and Allah does not love any arrogant boaster"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so where he has to do good deeds which affects his life at AKHIRAT, he would not make the destiny as an excuse to his avoidance for them as the issue clearly relates to freewill; but when he loses some benefit at the world not by his doing, he would accept that loss remaining positive in attitude that this certainly, is the will of Allah and He tests all persons at the world by different situations; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the disbelievers argue against the resurrection of the dead at the day of HASHR that if the dead would be raised to life again, then the Muslims shall bring their forefathers to life for their observation; Surah DUKHAN has also told their statement in this issue at AAYAAT-34, 35 & 36 which read, "most surely these do say- there is naught but our first death and we shall not be raised again; so bring our fathers (back), if you are truthful"; the last

AAYAT of the Ruku presents the answer to this plainly, "say (O Prophet PBUH to them)- Allah gives life to you, then He makes you die (so He chooses the times for birth and death of all persons), then will He gather you to the day of resurrection wherein is no doubt (and not before that), but most people do not know (and they argue foolishly against the Day of Judgment)"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

JATHIYA-The Last Ruku

27. And Allah's is the kingdom of the heavens and the earth; and on the day when the hour shall come to pass, on that day shall they perish who say false things.

28. And you shall see every large group kneeling down; every large group shall be called to its book: today you shall be rewarded for what you did.

29. This is Our book that speaks against you with justice; surely We wrote what you did,

30. Then as to those who believed and did good, their Lord will make them enter into His mercy; that is the manifest true success.

31. As to those who disbelieved: What- were not My AAYAAT recited to you? But you were proud and you were a guilty people.

32. And when it was said, Surely the promise of Allah is true and as for the hour, there is no doubt about it, you said: We do not know what the hour is; we do not think (that it will come to pass) save a passing thought, and we are not at all sure.

33. And the evil (consequences) of what they did shall become manifest to them and that which they mocked shall encompass them.

34. And it shall be said: Today We forsake you as you neglected the meeting of this day of yours and your abode is the fire, and there are not for you any helpers:

35. That is because you took the AAYAAT of Allah for a jest and the life of this world deceived you. So on that day they shall not be brought forth from it, nor shall they be granted goodwill.

36. So, to Allah is due (all) praise, the Lord of the heavens and the Lord of the earth, the Lord of the worlds.

37. And to Him belongs greatness in the heavens and the earth, and He is the Mighty, the Wise.

The Ruku starts by mentioning that all kingdom of all heavens and the earth is of Allah; He would bring the Day of Judgment for certain and then the sinful liars would be in extreme trouble; only He has the authority to give any person the right to intercession and that even would be reserved to that person for whom He allows it; so the matter relates to the specific subject and the specific object in this issue; also, no amounts would be taken in compensation from anyone in his/her favor and no assistance would be there for any of those who had not cared to attain the pleasure of Allah; the worldly life is the examination for all and the life ahead is the result to it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the peoples there at Judgment would be set in different large groups according to their doings and then everyone of those would receive his/her result by his/her doings; there, at the grounds of HASHR, would be such extreme fear that every large group would be in the condition of kneeling down when each person of each of those groups would be called to his document of deeds that he/she would get from the book that has total records of all persons who had ever come to the world; Surah Zumar-69 & 70 read, "and the earth shall beam with the light of its Lord, and the Book shall be laid down, and the Prophets and the witnesses shall be brought up, and judgment shall be given between them with justice, and they shall not be dealt with unjustly; and every soul shall be paid back fully what it has done, and He knows best what they do"; AAYAT-49 of Surah KAHF reads, "and the book shall be placed, then you will see the guilty fearing from what is in it, and they will say- woe to us; what book is this- it does not omit a small one nor a great one, but numbers them (all); and what they had done they shall find present (there); and your Lord does not deal unjustly with anyone"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-29 here tells explicitly, "this is Our book that speaks against you with justice; surely We wrote what you did"; writing here means recording of doings of each person, at that book and this would occur in the manner Allah has specified to record it there without any probability of any error and certainly He knows better; so "as to those who believed and did good, their Lord will make them enter into His mercy; that is the manifest true success"; AAYAAT ahead at the Ruku up-to AAYAT-35 narrate about the condition of the disbelievers at the grounds of HASHR; when AAYAAT of the Quran were recited to them, they showed arrogance and did not accept its message; they were told most explicitly that the Day of Judgment is certain to come but they responded to this message that though they do have some passing thought that those who live by injustice do need to account for their doings yet they do have their doubts about the coming of the Day of Judgment; so they would see where their doubts lead them to as on that day, their wrong-doings would come at fore and that which they mocked, shall encompass them; Allah would not hear any plea of mercy from them there at the Day of Judgment and their final abode would be the hell-fire from which no one would be able to save them against Allah, the true Lord; AAYAT-35 tells the reason for their extreme anguish that this is because they took His AAYAAT for jest and the life of this world deceived them completely so on that day when they get their extreme punishment, they shall never be taken out of it, nor shall they receive His mercy ever; the last AAYAAT of the Surah read, "so, to Allah is due (all) praise, the Lord of the heavens and the Lord of the earth, the Lord of the worlds; and to Him belongs greatness in the heavens and the earth, and He is the Mighty, the Wise"; certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah AHQAAF

(Consists of 4 Ruku; MK-9)

AHQAAF-The First Ruku

1. HA-MIM
2. The revelation of the Book is from Allah, the Mighty, the Wise.
3. We did not create the heavens and the earth and what is between them two save with truth and (for) an appointed term; and those who disbelieve turn aside from what they are warned of.
4. Say: Have you considered what you call upon besides Allah? Show me what they have created of the earth, or have they a share in the heavens? Bring me a book before this or traces of knowledge, if you are truthful.

5. And who is in greater error than he who calls besides Allah upon those that will not answer him till the day of resurrection and they are heedless of their call?

6. And when men are gathered together they shall be their enemies, and shall be deniers of their worshipping (them).

7. And when Our clear AAYAAT are recited to them, those who disbelieve say with regard to the truth when it comes to them: This is clear magic.

8. Nay! they say: He has forged it. Say: If I have forged it, you do not control anything for me from Allah; He knows best what you utter concerning it; He is enough as a witness between me and you, and He is the Forgiving, the Merciful.

9. Say: I am not the first of the apostles, and I do not know what will be done with me or with you: I do not follow anything but that which is revealed to me, and I am nothing but a plain warner.

10. Say: Have you considered if it is from Allah, and you disbelieve in it, and a witness from among the children of Israel has borne witness of one like it, so he believed, while you are big with pride; surely Allah does not guide the unjust people.

Surah AHQAAF also begins by guiding particularly to see that all creation of Allah indicates that He only has the true authority as He has set everything by principles that all His creation follows and all this set-up is totally favorable to life at the world, especially for the mankind, but He has provided this set-up to an appointed time; this proves that the man is here to live the life that Allah has given him by principles and undoubtedly, he is answerable for his doings which means that he is going through an examination at life at the world; note that the Quran repeats its basic teachings and the seven HA-MIM Surah, of which this Surah AHQAAF is the last, have emphasized the fundamental teachings of Islam most highly for certain; however, when it repeats something, it presents that issue by its different aspects and as such, repetition in the Quran remains to its credit only; though this Surah descended at Makkah, at the 9th year, but its last Ruku most probably came at the 10th year of it; AAYAAT at the beginning of the Surah read, "HA-MIM; the revelation of the Book is from Allah, the Mighty, the Wise; We did not create the heavens and the earth and what is between them two, save with truth (set principles that lead to the true guidance) and (for) an appointed term; and those who disbelieve turn aside from what they are warned of (i.e. the Day of Judgment)"; the disbelievers would see extreme troubles on that Day when Allah asks them where are those whom they deemed to have such authority that may challenge Him; those who would be the leading persons among the disbelievers, did not ever bring any teachings from Allah and in fact, the leading persons among the disbelievers, would answer there that they did cause their followers to err as they too were on the wrong course so they would confess to all of their wrongs when they see clearly that they have no other option, and as such, they would become enemies to whom they led at life at the world; the other of leaders who would not be among the disbelievers but whom the disbelievers had risen to such status where they took them as having all authority besides Allah, would clarify, "to Thee we declare ourselves to be clear (of them); they never served Us"; they actually were unaware that the disbelievers took them as having authority besides Allah as the disbelievers took them as such after these good persons had departed from the world; the erroneous concepts of disbelievers, who had anticipated that they would not face any troubles at that Day, because of support of their leaders who would save them from torments there, would prove useless as it is the true belief (and the virtuous deeds according to it) that counts for safety which they did not care for, by their freewill; QASAS-63 also notes the info about both of categories of these leaders at that Day, the Day of Judgment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead till the last of the Ruku, answer the disbelievers who used to say about the Quran that it is some magic which this person i.e. the Prophet PBUH has forged; note that the Surah had told at its beginning in clear terms that "the revelation of the Book (i.e. the Quran) is from Allah, the Mighty, the Wise" but the disbelievers were not ready to believe this; note also that Allah asks the Prophet PBUH at Surah YOUNUS to tell the disbelievers that Allah has provided the Quran to him so that they get the message of Allah that the life is an examination and if they do not fulfill the commands of Allah, they would end-up at the hell-fire; AAYAAT-16 & 17 at Surah YOUNUS read, "say- if Allah had desired (otherwise) I would not have recited it to you, nor would He have taught it to you; indeed I have lived a lifetime among you before it; do you not then understand?; who is then more unjust than who forges a lie against Allah or (who) gives the lie to His AAYAAT? surely the guilty shall not be successful"; this asks Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, to tell the ignorant persons that if Allah did not intend for him to provide the true guidance from Him then he would not have read this Quran to them and then they who were living in disbelief, would not have had any opportunity to realize the Truth to save themselves that it provides clearly; he has remained among them for many of years now so they know quite well about all his life and due to those years, they are well-aware that he does not speak lies even in the ordinary issues of life so how it is that he speaks lies against the beautiful teachings of Allah now when He has provided him the true guidance for all peoples of the world; so who would be more unjust than that person who forges lies against Allah (so he insha-Allah would never be among such wrong persons) or who rejects His AAYAAT by taking them as lies (so they must be mindful about their unjust attitude against Allah); due to their unjust attitude, Allah would end the period of His tolerance for them and take away any of their leaning to acceptance of the Truth that would result in their straying away from the true guidance that ultimately would result in their severe punishment at AKHIRAT; with all opportunity to realize and accept the Truth, these disbelievers worship such things leaving the worship of Allah that are unable to provide any harm to them or any safety from harms to them and they say about them that these are their intercessors in front of Allah if they ever meet Him; they wrongly believe that the objects that they worship would be intercessors for them in His court and He would never reject the pleas of their intercessors for them so now they feel that they have nothing to worry, but they certainly would see their huge grievous error at the Day of Judgment; glory be to Allah, and supremely exalted is He above what they take as objects to worship besides Him, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Ruku tells the Prophet PBUH to tell the disbelievers that they need to see that he is not the first of the apostles, and he does not know how matters would turn out at future at the world; he has to follow strictly what has been revealed to him (i.e. the Quran) and he certainly is warner to them that they would get into most extreme trouble at the Day of HASHR if they keep to their disbelief; the last AAYAT of the Ruku states explicitly, "say- have you considered if it (i.e. the Quran) is from Allah, and you disbelieve in it, and a witness from among the children of Israel (i.e. Moses-AS) has borne witness of one like it (i.e. Torah which also guided to these good teachings and so these good teachings are nothing new but they only are the true guidance from all times to all times), so he believed (in the Truth which Muhammad PBUH provides to all peoples), while you are big with pride; surely Allah does not guide the unjust people"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

AHQAAF-The Second Ruku

11. And those who disbelieve say concerning those who believe: If it had been good, they would not have gone ahead of us therein. And as they do not seek to be rightly directed thereby, they say: It is an old lie.

12. And before it the Book of Musa was a guide and a mercy: and this is the Book verifying (it) in the Arabic language that it may warn those who are unjust and as good news for the doers of good.

13. Surely those who say, Our Lord is Allah, then they continue on the right way, they shall have no fear nor shall they grieve.

14. These are the dwellers of JANNAH (the garden), abiding therein: reward for what they did.

15. And We have enjoined on man doing of good to his parents; with trouble did his mother bear him and with trouble did she bring him forth; and the bearing of him and the weaning of him was thirty months; until when he attains his maturity and reaches forty years, he says: My Lord! grant me that I may give thanks for Thy favor which Thou hast bestowed on me and on my parents, and that I may do good which pleases Thee and do good to me in respect of my offspring; surely I turn to Thee, and surely I am of those who submit.

16. These are they from whom We accept the best of what they have done and pass over their evil deeds, among the dwellers of the garden; the truest promise which they were promised.

17. And he who says to his parents: Fie on you! do you threaten me that I shall be brought forth when generations have already passed away before me? And they both call for Allah's aid: Woe to you! believe, surely the promise of Allah is true. But he says: This is nothing but stories of the ancients.

18. These are they against whom the word has proved true among nations of the jinn and the men that have already passed away before them; surely they are losers.

19. And for all are degrees according to what they did, and that He may pay them back fully their deeds and they shall not be wronged.

20. And on the day when those who disbelieve shall be brought before the fire: You did away with your good things in your life of the world and you enjoyed them for a while, so today you shall be rewarded with the punishment of abasement because you were unjustly proud in the land and because you transgressed.

The Ruku tells at the beginning that the disbelievers say for those who had believed in the Quran that if it had been something good then the chiefs at Makkah who were disbelievers, would have accepted it for certain; note that at this time at Makkah, though many of youth who belonged to well-off families had accepted the Quran, there were quite a number of poor persons who had submitted to its teachings; so the disbelievers indicated towards those persons by their insulting ignorant words and this tells about the psyche of disbelievers in the teachings of the Quran that they take that thing as authentic which their leaders consider as acceptable, though those leaders may be most ignorant persons among the people; AAYAT also tells that when they do not accept the true guidance which the Quran gives them, they proceed on to call it a lie; note that the Truth is always the same from all times to all times but the disbelievers took it as lies so it depends on how a person sees it; the believers know believing sincerely in it, that it is always the same (and the next AAYAT gives the indication to it) but the disbelievers take it as lies; the next AAYAT reads, "and before it the Book of Musa (i.e. Torah) was a guide and a mercy- and this (the Quran) is the Book verifying (it) in the Arabic language that it may warn those who are unjust and as good news for the doers of good"; note that INJIL, related to Jesus-AS, is not mentioned as book in the Quran but it is mentioned as words of HIKMAH (wisdom); see also the note at the fifth Ruku of AALE-IMRAN; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the fact is this that whoever accepts that Allah is not only the only Creator of all creation but He also is the only true Lord of all creation, such persons would be the dwellers of JANNAH, where they would live forever; AAYAT-15 tells that all persons must care for their parents, especially for the mother who bears the child and brings it forth at the world with pain to herself so in Islam, she gets much more respect than the father; the period of bearing of the child and its suckling is for thirty months; BAQARAH-233 reads, "and the mothers should suckle their children for two whole years for him who desires to make complete the time of suckling; and their maintenance and their clothing must be borne by the father according to usage; no soul shall have imposed upon it a duty but to the extent of its capacity; neither shall a mother be made to suffer harm on account of her child, nor a father on account of his child, and a similar duty (devolves) on the (father's) heir (if the father dies), but if both desire weaning by mutual consent and counsel, there is no blame on them, and if you wish to engage a wet-nurse for your children, there is no blame on you so long as you pay what you promised for according to usage; and be careful of (your duty to) Allah and know that Allah sees what you do"; so after the birth, the mother may feed the child (i.e. the breast-feeding) for about twenty-one months though for premature birth at six months, she may feed the child to twenty-four months and the mutual assent of both the parents counts a lot here; note that AAYAT-15 tells that the age of maturity for a person is forty years, though he achieves adulthood at fifteen years; note also that Allah gave the responsibility to the Prophet PBUH to provide the teachings of Islam by the Quran about the age of forty and so it tells that after the period of forty years had elapsed on the man with 25 years of adulthood where he had kept his attention to Allah, He would keep him to the right path with insight to issues of concern; Al-Hamdu Lillah; also, the period of forty days is such period that is often mentioned by the ULAMA of Islam as significant for the spread of Islamic teachings because it has some latent capability to purify the self when the person is attentive to Allah; note that Moses-AS had stayed at the mount of TOOR for forty days when he received Torah; the good person shows his gratitude to Allah as he comes at this age of maturity that he got such good parents who guided him to the right path which he did accept sincerely; AAYAT tells that "he says- My Lord! grant me that I may give thanks for Thy favor which Thou hast bestowed on me and on my parents, and that I may do good which pleases Thee and do good to me in respect of my offspring; surely I turn to Thee, and surely I am of those who submit"; this also provides the info that showing gratitude to Allah for having good parents and good children, is the good sign of maturity; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-16 reads about them, "these are they from whom We accept the best of what they have done and pass over their evil deeds, among the dwellers of the garden; the truest promise which they were promised"; so when the parents show the guidance to the right path, it is most worthy to take whereas their following in the wrong direction is extreme idiocy; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-17 tells about such person who never achieves such maturity to accept the right path even when his good parents do guide him to it; it reads, "and he who says to his parents- fie on you! do you threaten me that I shall be brought forth when generations have already passed away before me? - and they both call for Allah's aid- woe to you! believe, surely the promise of Allah is true; but he says- this is nothing but stories of the ancients"; AAYAT ahead tells that such persons are among those persons upon whom the word of Allah has fallen previously among the jinn and the men that they became apt of the hell-fire due to their disbelief; Allah would punish them according to their wrong-doings and they shall only get what they truly deserve; note that when the Satan had challenged Allah that he would deceive the mankind in every manner possible, He had told him, "get out of this (state), despised, driven away; whoever of them will follow you then I will certainly fill hell with you all" (AARAAF-18); the last AAYAT of the Ruku is most explicit that the preference of life at the world over the true life at AKHIRAT, would lead only to extreme disaster; it reads, "and on the day when those who disbelieve shall be brought before the fire- you did away with your good things in your life of the world and you enjoyed them for a while, so today you shall be rewarded with the punishment of abasement because you were unjustly proud in the land (due to disbelief) and because you transgressed (due to wrong-doings)"; certainly Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

AHQAAF-The Third Ruku

21. And mention the brother of AAD; when he warned his people in the sandy plains, and indeed warning persons came before him and after him- saying 'serve none but Allah; surely I fear for you the punishment of a grievous day'.

22. They said- Have you come to us to turn us away from our gods; then bring us what you threaten us with, if you are of the truthful ones.

23. He said: The knowledge is only with Allah, and I deliver to you the message with which I am sent, but I see you are people who are ignorant.

24. So when they saw it as a cloud appearing in the sky advancing towards their valleys, they said: This is a cloud which will give us rain. Nay! it is what you sought to hasten on, a blast of wind in which is a painful punishment,

25. Destroying everything by the command of its Lord, so they became such that naught could be seen except their dwellings. Thus do We reward the guilty people.

26. And certainly We had established them in what We have not established you in, and We had given them ears and eyes and hearts, but neither their ears, nor their eyes, nor their hearts availed them aught, since they denied the AAYAAT of Allah, and that which they mocked encompassed them.

The third Ruku of AHQAAF narrates the events related to AAD who were the people of HOODH-AS; it narrates about them to give the info to the disbelievers at Makkah that they had the strongest men by physique in them with handsome looks and with sound faculties to hear and see and due to that, understand much of issues of life at wilderness yet when they did not accept the fundamental teachings of Islam, they were punished most severely even at the world; HOODH-AS gave them the same message as Noah has given to his nation before him and as SALEH-AS gave to his nation (THAMUD) after him; note that the travelers from Makkah used to see the ruins of THAMUD at route to TABUK and the ruins of AAD at the southern part of the Arabian peninsula when they traveled there; these people AAD used to live at AHQAAF (the sandy plains) to whom HOODH declared clearly that they need to serve none but Allah, believing in Him only as the true Lord of all creation, and if they do not, then surely the most grievous day of His punishment would get them even at the world; note here that like the disbelievers at the ancient times, generally the disbelievers at Makkah took Allah as the Creator of the heavens and the earth but they did not truly accept that He also is their true Lord and so they must obey Him most sincerely as they are bound to His commands, the disobedience of which would certainly lead them to utmost disaster at the world and at AKHIRAT; their erroneous concepts had led them to take angels as involved with the authority of Allah (whom they most erroneously took as the daughters of Allah and as partners to Him to see to affairs at the universe) and to take their idols (mostly in the shape of the female that their ancestors worshipped and whom they worshipped in their following) as able to save them at the Day of Judgment (while some of them did not truly believe in that Day); note that angels are among the creation of Allah too and they only do what Allah commands them to do (see NAHAL-49 & 50) and idols do not have any authority for anything whatsoever; Allah gives the necessary space to all peoples to accept the Truth, because of His care towards them and He certainly would gather all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment that is most sure to come but those who have ruined their selves in terms of that Day, they do not believe; in Surah SHUA'RAA, the AAYAAT read that HOODH told his nation that "I am to you a messenger worthy of all trust; so keep your duty to Allah and obey me; and I do not ask you any reward for it; surely my reward is only with the Lord of the worlds; do you build a landmark on every high place to amuse yourselves? -and seek you out strongholds, that haply you may last forever? - and when you lay hands (on men) you lay hands as tyrants- rather keep your duty to Allah, and obey me (i.e. they must follow the commands of Allah that he is telling them)" (SHUA'RAA-125 to 131); AAYAT-69 at the ninth Ruku of AARAAF tells the statement of HOODH where he answers their doubts, "what - do you wonder that a reminder has come to you from your Lord through a man from among you that he might warn you? and remember when He made you successors after Noah's people and increased you in excellence in respect of make (in physique); therefore remember the benefits from Allah, that you may be (truly) successful"; that Ruku of AARAAF tells that the nation of HOODH took him as in grave folly and the result of their rejection to him was that except for the believers with him, they all were destroyed; Surah HAQQAAH says that this punishment was such "which Allah imposed on them for seven nights and eight days so that (O listener) you might have seen men lying overthrown, as they were hollow trunks of palm-trees (because of their enormous heights)" (HAQQAAH-7); they asked HOODH to bring the punishment upon them by which he warns them, to which he replied that the will of Allah only would decide to put it upon them; AAYAT-23 tells about this, "he said- the knowledge (about that) is only with Allah, and I deliver to you the message with which I am sent, but I see you are people who are (most) ignorant"; this third Ruku of AHQAAF narrates the manner of their punishment that when they saw something like a cloud advancing towards them, they were most pleased that some good rain would fall upon them; but Allah punished them most severely by that and eliminated them totally from the face of the earth; the last three AAYAAT of the Ruku read, "so when they saw it as a cloud appearing in the sky advancing towards their valleys, they said- this is a cloud which will give us rain; nay! it is what you sought to hasten on (i.e. the punishment from Allah), a blast of wind in which is a painful punishment, destroying everything by the command of its Lord, so they became such that naught could be seen (from some distance) except their dwellings; thus do We reward the guilty people (and none of peoples have such power, whatever technology they may develop, that they may stand against Allah); and certainly We had established them in what We have not established you in (so the disbelievers at Makkah need to leave their arrogance and accept the teachings that the Prophet PBUH is providing them), and We had given them ears and eyes and hearts, but neither their ears, nor their eyes, nor their hearts availed them aught, since they denied the AAYAAT of Allah (i.e. they did not use them to get to the Truth), and (so) that which they mocked encompassed them"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

AHQAAF-The Last Ruku

27. And certainly We destroyed the towns which are around you, and We had repeated the AAYAAT (for them in various ways) that they might turn.

28. Why did not then those help them whom they took for gods besides Allah to draw (them) nigh (to Him)? Nay! they were lost to them; and this was their lie and what they forged.

29. And when We turned towards you a party of the jinn who listened to the Quran; so when they came to it, they said: Be silent; then when it was finished, they turned back to their people warning (them).

30. They said: O our people! we have listened to a Book revealed after Musa verifying that which is before it, guiding to the Truth and to the right path:

31. O our people! respond to the inviter to Allah and believe in Him. He will forgive you some of your sins and guard you from a painful doom;

32. And whoso responds not to inviter to Allah, he shall not escape in the earth and he shall not have guardians besides Him; these are in manifest error.

33. Have they not considered that Allah Who created the heavens and the earth and was not tired by their creation, is able to give life to the dead? Aye! He has surely power over all things.

34. And on the day when those who disbelieve shall be brought before the hell-fire: Is it not true? They shall say: Aye! by our Lord! He will say: Then taste the punishment, because you disbelieved.

35. Therefore, bear up patiently as did the apostles endowed with constancy bear up with patience and do not seek to hasten for them (their doom). On the day that they shall see what they are promised they shall be as if they had not tarried save an hour of the day; only to provide the message (is on the Prophet PBUH); shall then any be destroyed save the transgressing people?

The Ruku starts by mentioning that Allah gave the disbelievers, who lived at towns not much far-away from them, ample space to accept the Truth; however, when they did not avail it, He destroyed them completely and those whom they took as gods besides Allah, were totally unable to help them; this reference is to THAMUD and the people of Lot-AS, who also were destroyed besides AAD, the people of HOODH-AS; they had disrespected the authority of Allah by their disbelief though He had provided them ample space to accept the fundamental teachings of Islam so as consequence to it, Allah punished them most severely even at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-29 states that a party of jinn came to such place where the Prophet PBUH was reciting the Quran which they heard and getting its teachings, they accepted them then & there; the placement of this AAYAT here denotes that though jinn are such creation of Allah that are mostly harsh by nature, this party consisted of such among them whom the Quran affected so beautifully that only hearing it once, they not only accepted Islam but went on ahead to advocate its teachings; it implies that in comparison, the disbelievers at Arabia are so harsh that even when they got its teachings time & again, they have not submitted to them; their physical strength could have been beneficial only when they had believed in the fundamental teachings of Islam; note that this event happened at the place called NAKHLA while the Prophet PBUH was returning from TA'EF with ZAYD ibn HARITHA, where he had paid a visit to present Islam to chiefs there but instead of accepting it sincerely, they had ill-treated him and had even hurt him; it took place probably about a couple of years before HIJRAH (i.e. his migration from Makkah to Madinah); searching for grounds to present Islam to all peoples with convenience, he had put its teachings to chiefs at TA'EF, which also was among the big cities in Arabia; note that at that time, jinn found difficult to reach the heaven above to get some info about issues at the world due to flames running to them in high number; they guessed correctly that something of high significance has happened that intervenes between them and the info that they used to get from that heaven from the conversation of angels; so they travelled to the easts of the earth and its wests seeking to investigate what hindered them from it and this specific group of them set out towards the area of TIHAMA; at last with years of search for the event that was of the most high significance, they came upon Allah's Messenger PBUH reciting the Quran while he was there at NAKHLAH; when they heard the Qur'an, they paid attention to it and said to each other that this is which has come up between us and the news from the heaven; there, they accepted the fundamental teachings of Islam and then returned to their people; though the Prophet PBUH came to know of this event only when Allah told him at the Quran about it yet after this, jinn used to come to the Prophet PBUH to attain the knowledge of the fundamental teachings of Islam better; here, AAYAAT read, "and when We turned towards you a party of the jinn who listened to the Quran; so when they came to it, they said- be silent; then when it was finished, they turned back to their people warning (them); they said- O our people! we have listened to a Book revealed after Musa verifying that which is before it (i.e. Torah), guiding to the Truth (i.e. the fundamental teachings of Islam) and to the right path (i.e. with guidance how to keep to that in practice); O our people! respond to the inviter to Allah and believe in Him; He will forgive you some of your sins and guard you from a painful doom (at AKHIRAT)"; this implies that they were aware of the teachings of Torah and they did take it as guidance to the fundamental teachings of Islam; AAYAT-32 verifies their statement, "and whoso responds not to inviter to Allah (positively), he shall not escape in the earth (if Allah decides for his elimination) and he shall not have guardians besides Him (at the Day of Judgment); these are in manifest error"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-33 states plainly that Allah has created all heavens and the earth with principles that they all must follow and He was never tired by creating all creation; He has total authority to give life to the dead and He certainly would, at the Day of Judgment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-34 states that when that Day takes place, the disbelievers shall be brought before the hell-fire and they shall be asked if this all is not true; seeing this happening, they would have no option but to accept the reality that whatever they had been promised, it was completely true; the case against them would stand proven and they would be punished most severely due to their extreme disbelief that they had shown when they were living at the world; the last AAYAT of the Surah i.e. AAYAT-35 reads, "therefore, (O Prophet PBUH) bear up patiently (their disrespect) as did the apostles endowed with constancy (i.e. all Messengers of Allah) bear up with patience and do not seek to hasten for them (their doom); on the day that they shall see what they are promised they shall be as if they had not tarried (at the world) save an hour of the day; only to provide the message (is on the Prophet PBUH); shall then any be destroyed save the transgressing people (who rejected the message and became truly liable to be punished most severely)?"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah MUHAMMAD (PBUH); also named as Surah QITAL
(Consists of 4 Ruku; H-2)

QITAL-The First Ruku

1. (As for) those who disbelieve and turn away from Allah's way, He shall render their deeds ineffective.
2. And (as for) those who believe and do good, and they believe in that which has been revealed to Muhammad (PBUH), and it is the very truth from their Lord, He will remove their evil from them and improve their condition.
3. That is because those who disbelieve follow falsehood, and those who believe follow the truth from their Lord. Thus does Allah present to the people their comparisons.
4. So when you meet in battle those who disbelieve, then smite the necks until when you have overcome them, then make (them) prisoners, and afterwards either set them free as a favor or let them ransom (themselves) until the war terminates. That (shall be so); and if Allah had pleased He would certainly have exacted what is due from them, but that He may try some of you by means of others; and (as for) those who are slain in the way of Allah, He will by no means allow their deeds to perish.

5. He will guide them and improve their condition.

6. And cause them to enter the garden which He has made known to them.

7. O you who believe! if you help (the cause of) Allah, He will help you and make firm your feet.

8. And (as for) those who disbelieve, for them is destruction and He has made their deeds ineffective.

9. That is because they hated what Allah revealed, so He rendered their deeds null.

10. Have they not then journeyed in the land and seen how was the end of those before them: Allah brought down destruction upon them, and the disbelievers shall have the like of it.

11. That is because Allah is the Protector of those who believe, and because the disbelievers shall have no protector for them.

This Ruku compares the believers and the disbelievers with the message that the believers only would get the true success at AKHIRAT and it also gives the info about the consequence that those hypocrites would face who are not ready to take-up QITAL (the fight against the disbelievers who challenge the Islamic teachings whereas it is one of aspects of JEHAD which also includes MUJAHIDA and TABLIGH), even when the Quran explicitly asks for it when it does become necessary; the Surah starts in an abrupt manner where its first AAYAT plainly delivers the info that Allah would make the deeds of all disbelievers (if they do not accept the Truth till the end of life) ineffective, even if they are seemingly good towards men like social works for their better living at the world; this may lead them to get some pleasure as they live their lives at the world and may provide them fame yet they would not affect their document of deeds positively; this is because good deeds need the righteous belief for their acceptance at the court of Allah when they have received clear invitation towards it; then only they would count at AKHIRAT so the AAYAT reads, "those who disbelieve and turn away from Allah's way, He shall render their deeds ineffective (at AKHIRAT)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second AAYAT indicates about the righteousness that it is the message that the Quran has provided to all of mankind, as it reads, "and (as for) those who believe (in the fundamental teachings of Islam) and do good, and (when they have got the message of the Quran), they believe in that (i.e. the Quran) which has been revealed to Muhammad (PBUH), and it is the very Truth from their Lord, He will remove their evil from them and improve their condition"; Al-

Hamdu Lillah; the third AAYAT plainly gives the reason, "that is because those who disbelieve follow falsehood, and those who believe follow the Truth (the Quran) from their Lord; thus does Allah present to the people their comparisons"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that Surah Bani-Israel reads at AAYAAT-18 to 21, "whoever desires this present life (of the world), We hasten to him therein what We please for whomsoever We desire (so even for them, Allah decides what to give at the world and how much and to whom), then We assign to him the hell-fire; he shall enter it despised, driven away; and whoever desires AKHIRAT and strives for it as he ought to strive and he is believer; (as for) these, their striving shall surely be accepted (as Allah accepts all the good deeds done with sincere belief in Him); all do We aid- these as well as those- out of the bounty of your Lord (at the world), and the bounty of your Lord (here) is not confined; see how We have made some of them to excel others, and certainly AKHIRAT is much superior in respect of excellence (so the excellence here over many of persons is not the sign of their higher placement at AKHIRAT which only depends on TAQWA)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that TAQWA is the attitude of the heart which means that all the Muslims must fear Allah that they do not get His displeasure by their sins becoming so sinful that they lose the chance to regain JANNAH and with that, they also must have such hope towards Him that He would keep them safe from the Satan at all times and at all places; so every person would care to live as righteous believer in the fundamental teachings of Islam with virtuous deeds so that he/she does not lose the opportunity to show his/her worth for JANNAH at AKHIRAT and so that he/she is not put into the hell-fire as Allah would certainly fulfill His word; Al-Hamdu Lillah; after getting the message of the Quran, the person does need to accept it in total most sincerely, though before the descent of the Quran to Muhammad PBUH, the sincere belief in the three fundamental teachings of Islam, was enough to affect the document of deeds by doing good deeds positively; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-4 commands the Muslims to fight fearlessly all those who disbelieve and in addition, challenge the Islamic manner of living; it reads, "so when you meet in battle those who disbelieve, then smite the necks until when you have overcome them, then make (them) prisoners, and afterwards either set them free as a favor or let them ransom (themselves) until the war terminates; that (shall be so); and if Allah had pleased He would certainly have exacted what is due from them, but that He may try some of you by means of others; and (as for) those who are slain in the way of Allah, He will by no means allow their deeds to perish"; this is clear indication to respond with utmost power to the disbelievers who challenge the Muslims at the battleground at such times when FITNAH prevails; the

Quran uses the term FITNAH in the meaning of extreme wrongs that denote extreme deviation from the true belief that Islam asks for the man whereas the term FASAD denotes all such extreme wrongs that relate to such deeds that cause deviation from Islam, so FITNAH attacks the true Belief (whereas it enfolds FASAD inside it too); this AAYAT has the subtle message that it is not feasible for Muslims to leave deadly opponents of Islam if they do get their hands on such disbelievers, either by taking some ransom amount or either without it, at times of FITNAH; there is difference of opinion at authentic commentaries if they need to be killed or kept in custody till the issue clearly settles in favor of Muslims in short time; though the good AMIR of Muslims has much authority to decide for the matter at such occasions yet the feasible stance here does seem to be the latter one and certainly, Allah knows better; however, when the situation has turned into the favor of Muslims and FITNAH ceases then it is most feasible to let them live-on freely as then, there would remain no threat whatsoever from disbelievers that they would be able to finish off the impression of Islam; ANFAAL-39 reads, "and fight with them until there is no more FITNAH and religion should be only for Allah; but if they desist, then surely Allah sees what they do"; the fact is this that only Allah knows for certain, and the Muslims do not yet know the high wisdom for this command of QITAL, when it does become necessary for them; see also the supplementary note on AAYAT-39 of Surah HAJJ at the end of the note at its sixth Ruku; Allah had asked the Muslims to take-up highest of patience and not to respond by any physical measure against their oppressors at Makkah; then at the beginning period after HIJRAH at Madinah (which is the period when this Surah QITAL descended too), Allah asked them to defend even by physical measures if and when necessary (keeping the attacks to the minimum and only taking them at some high necessity); then after some period of the battle of AHZAAB, the pact of HUDABIYAH took place that rendered much peace to Muslims and much space to increase their good numbers by TABLIGH (that means to provide the teachings of the Quran with the clarification of its practice as SUNNAH has provided) and as the pact came to its end, Allah allowed the Muslims to take-up QITAL at high scale even in attack wherever necessary; however, there are conditions for the issue of QITAL (one of aspects of JEHAD) by attack and I, MSD, would presently state its five most notable conditions by using here the term JEHAD only; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first is that it is necessary for Muslims to convey the basic Islamic teachings explicitly to the enemy before the JEHAD that the Muslims initiate; the second is that the enemy they fight against, has not only rejected Islam but even the offer to formulate a respectable pact with Muslims in clear terms either with the agreement to pay JIZYA (monetary tax for their protection) or without it; if they break-up their agreement especially without any clear info, that would bring them at the position where, with other conditions of the aggressive JEHAD intact, the Muslims would challenge them immediately as this breach asks for instant defense of Muslims at such occasion; the third is to fight that strictly under the command of the wise & courageous Islamic commander with full sincerity to him in that JEHAD; the fourth is that each of the warrior himself shall be such Muslim who avoids major sins with high commitment to Islam and the fifth is that Muslims have gathered the necessary physical force to fight the enemy with high caliber; there is much detail to these conditions at the books of FIQH for those who intend elaboration on these; note that missing of any of these five conditions renders the initiative to JEHAD unnecessary though Muslims would fight JEHAD in defense with highest of enthusiasm against the enemy where they are challenged and they certainly have no such conditions to see at such defensive JEHAD; note also that the Quran does ask for JEHAD (in the meaning of QITAL) at different places but sometimes it takes-up the matter with the understanding that the disbelievers have rejected the message of Islam and sometimes advices the Muslims where the disbelievers have broken their pacts with the Muslims and have shown explicitly by their attitude that they have rejected the message of Islam; this asks for the highest of caution in comments upon the AAYAAT related to JEHAD to which sadly those who do not understand the expressions of the Quran, do not pay any attention and as such, come to such meanings that challenge the teachings of the Quran rather than interpret it correctly (please read my writing "Expressions of the Quran" that is available at the net); in this discussion, note also that the true Muslims actually are the force of Allah upon the earth and they certainly have committed their-selves to see that His authority is never challenged in any manner; this is the reason that at necessity, they certainly had called for JEHAD (in the meaning of QITAL) where the conditions allowed them to initiate it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT 5 & 6 tell about those who receive SHAHADAT at the battleground against the disbelievers, with sincere belief in Allah, that He would not make their good deeds go to waste; they read, "He will guide them (due to their good deeds to peace after their demise) and improve their condition (at the grounds of HASHR); and cause them to enter JANNAH (the garden) which He has made known to them (after their demise i.e. their SHAHADAT at the battleground)"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-7 tells the sincere Muslims that if they strengthen the message of Allah by facing the disbelievers at the battlefield, Allah would help them and would provide them the courage to defeat the disbelievers due to their determination; and He would put destruction upon the disbelievers and make all their conspiracies futile against the Muslims; this is the consequence of their hatred to the Quran so their deeds have become useless to them in all manners; AAYAT-10 states that Allah brought down extreme destruction upon those peoples who had challenged Him before them and He would not spare these disbelievers at Arabia too, if they do not accept the fundamental teachings of Islam; the last AAYAT provides the reason for ultimate success of the sincere believers at the world even, by the statement, "that is because Allah is the Protector of those who believe (at the world and at AKHIRAT), and because the disbelievers shall have no protector for them (neither at the world nor AKHIRAT)"; the Prophet PBUH had called Allah by the words of this AAYAT at the battle of UHUD in answer to disbelievers there and after that, though disbelievers there were seemingly near to win against Muslims, they hurriedly left the battleground; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

QITAL-The Second Ruku

12. Surely Allah will make those who believe and do good enter gardens beneath which rivers flow; and those who disbelieve enjoy themselves and eat as the beasts eat, and the hell-fire is their abode.

13. And how many a town which was far more powerful than the town of yours which has driven you out: We destroyed them so there was no helper for them.

14. What! is he who has a clear argument from his Lord like him to whom the evil of his work is made fair-seeming: and they follow their low desires.

15. A parable of the garden which those guarding (against evil) are promised: Therein are rivers of water that does not alter, and rivers of milk the taste whereof does not change, and rivers of wine delicious to those who drink, and rivers of honey clarified and for them therein are all fruits and pardon from their Lord. (Are these) like those who abide in the fire and who are made to drink boiling water so it rends their bowels asunder.

16. And there are those of them who seek to listen to you, until when they go forth from you, they say to those who have been given the knowledge: What was it that he said just now? These are they upon whose hearts Allah has set a seal and they follow their low desires.

17. And (as for) those who follow the right path, He increases them in guidance and gives them their guarding (against evil).

18. Do they then wait for aught but the hour that it should come to them all of a sudden? Now indeed the tokens of it have (already) come, but how shall they have their reminder when it comes on them?

19. So know that there is no god but Allah, and, ask protection for your fault and for the believing men and the believing women; and Allah knows the place where you move about and the place where you dwell in.

The first AAYAT of this Ruku states the outcome of lives of the believers and the outcome of lives of the disbelievers respectively, at AKHIRAT; it reads, "surely Allah will make those who believe and do good enter gardens beneath which rivers flow; and those who disbelieve enjoy themselves (at the world) and eat as the beasts eat (without any care to gain virtuous deeds by the righteous belief), and the hell-fire is their abode"; certainly, life at the world is not to eat seeking all such foods that seem to have taste but eating of foods here is actually to sustain life and taste is an additional factor; though not disallowed to get good taste at foods (that are HALAAL i.e. allowed to eat and TAYYIBAH i.e. having purity) yet that is not something to seek for, enthusiastically; the only aim of life is to attain the pleasure of Allah and that only would lead to getting JANNAAT, the beautiful gardens of paradise, where the life is endless; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-13 tells that Allah had destroyed many towns which were more powerful than Makkah and they had no helper who could have stopped their destruction and so the disbelievers must remain mindful that He would destroy them too if they keep to their disbelief; MOMEN-21 states at this issue, "have they not travelled in the earth and seen how was the end of those who were before them? - mightier than these were they in strength- and in fortifications in the land, but Allah destroyed them for their sins; and there was not for them any defender against Allah"; AAYAT-14 emphasizes that whoever lives by the commands of Allah, he certainly deserves life of peace even at the world whereas such person whom the Satan has made his evil works as fair-seeming to him, would live with unrest even at the world; such wrong persons only follow their low desires; AAYAT-15 tells that there are four types of rivers at JANNAH; it has rivers of pure water that does not alter which means that it does not change its color, smell or taste, and remains totally pure; and it has rivers of milk that also remains firm to its taste; and it has rivers of wine that is most soothing to drink without causing loss of senses; and it has rivers of wonderful honey which is clarified and not viscous that hinders its flow; and in addition, it has all types of fruits and such pardon from Allah that they would always remain in this beautiful surroundings with all peace as this is the place of returns to their good deeds at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that these four are the best of drinks though wine at JANNAH is not to be confused with the wine at the world; it is not only most wonderful in taste but it also does not affect the senses adversely; note that though the usage of gold & silver is disallowed for the men among Muslims at the world and drinking of wine is disallowed for all Muslims at the world, yet they are allowed for all at JANNAH where they would be adornments to men even and most soothing refreshing drinks respectively for all residents of JANNAH; AAYAT-25 at Surah BAQARAH tells, "and convey good news to those who believe and do good deeds, that they shall have gardens in which rivers flow; whenever they shall be given a portion of the fruit thereof, they shall say- this is what was given to us before; and they shall be given the like of it, and they shall have pure mates in them, and in them, they shall abide"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last part of the fifteenth AAYAT tells about the disbelievers that they would abide at the hell-fire where they would be made to drink extremely filthy boiling water that would rend their bowels asunder and even then, they would not achieve death; may Allah give all good persons TOFIQ to save themselves from this extreme punishment of the hell-fire; certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-16 tells about those who claimed to be Muslims yet they were not ready to fulfill those commands of Islam that they found much trying to them; in these the most significant was the command of QITAL against the disbelievers when the situation asked for it; there were such persons in them who listened to the Prophet PBUH attentively but when they discussed matters with persons among those who had the knowledge of Torah, they confided in them that they take these teachings as very harsh that the Prophet PBUH has provided to them and they find that they are not feasible for them to follow; the AAYAT tells that they are such hypocrites on hearts of whom, Allah has set a seal that they are unable to understand the wisdom of His commands and they follow their low desires instead of following the commands of Allah, which seem harsh to them; in comparison, AAYAT-17 tells the virtues of the sincere Muslims, "and (as for) those who follow the right path (even accepting the command of QITAL where it becomes necessary), He increases them in guidance and gives them their guarding (against evil)"; AAYAT-18 criticizes the psyche of the disbelievers that they are totally oblivious of the fact that they are here at the world to live virtuously, and if the end of the world comes in sudden manner, they would be doomed to the hell-fire; the signs of the hour (the last day of the world) have taken place but if they face it in sudden manner, what space would they have to accept the Truth; note that the Prophet PBUH was the first sign of nearing of the end of the world as he was the last of Messengers of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku tells the Prophet PBUH that he has to remain firm on the belief in TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord) and he shall always ask Allah for protection for any of his fault that he may show at spread of His message unintentionally, and he shall ask mercy for all the believing men and for all the believing women on their faults in deeds; and Allah knows the place where he moves about outside home and the place where he dwells in inside home; so He keeps watch over the Prophet PBUH at all times and places so that nothing hinders him from the fulfillment of his liability to spread the teachings of Islam; MA'EDAH-67 tells, "O Apostle - deliver what has been revealed to you from your Lord; and if you do it not, then you have not delivered His message, and Allah will protect you from the people; surely Allah will not guide the disbelieving people (who intend to trouble the Prophet PBUH)"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

QITAL-The Third Ruku

20. And those who believe say: Why has not a chapter been revealed? But when a decisive chapter is revealed, and fighting is mentioned therein you see those in whose hearts is a disease look to you with the look of one fainting because of death. Woe to them then!

21. Obedience and gentle word (both are contrary); but when the affair becomes settled, then if they remain true to Allah it would certainly be better for them.

22. But is it expected of you that if you hold back yourselves, you make mischief in the land and cut off the ties of kinship!

23. Those it is whom Allah has cursed so He has made them deaf and blinded their eyes.

24. Do they not then reflect on the Quran? Nay, on the hearts there are locks.

25. Surely (as for) those who return on their backs after that guidance has become manifest to them, the Satan has made it a light matter to them; and He gives them respite.

26. That is because they say to those who hate what Allah has revealed: We will obey you in some of the affairs; and Allah knows their secrets.

27. But how will it be when the angels cause them to die smiting their backs.

28. That is because they follow what is displeasing to Allah and are averse to His pleasure, therefore He has made null their deeds.

This Ruku points out the attitude of the hypocrites towards the command of QITAL in the Quran and indicates the consequence to that attitude for them; note that at Madinah, there were some persons who were ready to accept those Islamic commands that seemed easy to them in practice but they were not prepared to take any of such Islamic commands that seemed hard to them in practice; this had been the manner towards Torah of the Bani-Israel too at ancient times and the hypocrites did confide to them about their rejection of the command of QITAL in practice; Surah BAQARAH had also pointed out the attitude of hypocrites at its second Ruku and it does explain much of this place here at Surah QITAL; the first AAYAT of the Ruku states that all who claim to be the believers in the Quran do ask for guidance to practice the Islamic commands but when the command of QITAL comes to them by any of Surah in clear terms, then the Prophet PBUH does find such persons in them who are given to hypocrisy, and who are horrified by this as if they are fainting by fear of death that is just round the corner; that attitude would lead them only to total dismay; AAYAT-21 tells that though they claim to be Muslims yet their practice is not according to the decent claim that they pronounce; however, when the time of trial comes and they do show their commitment to fulfill the command of QITAL, that still would cause things to become better for them as during the lifetime here, there is chance to make things better by taking-up the right attitudes in issues of concern, according to Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-22 reads, "but is it expected of you that if you hold back yourselves, you make mischief in the land and cut off the ties of kinship"; this AAYAT essentially states that mischief (FASAD) would spread and even the close relatives would not care to welfare of each other, if Muslims hold themselves back from QITAL against those disbelievers who intend to hinder the teachings of the Quran to spread and to come into practice; this certainly is not expected of them as being the force of Allah, they have to see that the teachings of the Quran spread far & wide; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-23 to 26 tell about the hypocrites who intend to keep away from QITAL even at necessity, that Allah has cursed them in such manner that they have become unable to hear the message of the Quran and to see the right path; they do not ponder on the teachings of the Quran so this adverse attitude to it has caused their hearts to become unable to accept its message and follow the right path; they turn their backs to the guidance that tells them to fight the disbelievers, whereas they have got its clear awareness, as the Satan has made it seem to them that it is nothing to worry if they refrain from this guidance; AAYAT-25 ends providing the info that Allah has given them respite for some period but they would see the consequence to their adverse attitude, which they are taking lightly in the following of the Satan; AAYAT-26 gives the reason to their ruin plainly by the statement, "that is because they say to those (among the Jews living near to Madinah) who hate what Allah has revealed (i.e. the Quran)- we will obey you in some of the affairs (i.e. they would not take QITAL against adversaries to Islam); and Allah knows their secrets (even if they try to hide them as much as possible for them)"; the last two AAYAAT of the Ruku tell that the hypocrites would get utmost punishment even at the world as they die, as they followed such ways which brought displeasure of Allah to them; they refrained from asking His pleasure so their deeds, that were seemingly good, became futile to them; these AAYAAT read, "but how will it be when the angels cause them to die smiting their backs; that is because they follow what is displeasing to Allah and are averse to His pleasure, therefore He has made null their deeds"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

QITAL-The Last Ruku

29. Or do those in whose hearts is a disease think that Allah will not bring forth their spite?

30. And if We please, We would have made you know them so that you would certainly have recognized them by their marks and most certainly you can recognize them by the intent of (their) speech; and Allah knows your deeds.

31. And most certainly We will try you until We have known those among you who exert themselves hard, and the patient, and made your case manifest.

32. Surely those who disbelieve and turn away from Allah's way and oppose the Apostle after that guidance has become clear to them cannot harm Allah in any way, and He will make null their deeds.

33. O you who believe! obey Allah and obey the Apostle, and do not make your deeds of no effect.

34. Surely those who disbelieve and turn away from Allah's way, then they die while they are disbelievers, Allah will by no means forgive them.

35. And be not slack so as to cry for peace and you have the upper hand, and Allah is with you, and He will not bring your deeds to naught.

36. The life of this world is only idle sport and play, and if you believe and guard (against evil) He will give you your rewards, and will not ask of you your possessions.

37. If He should ask you for it and urge you, you will be niggardly, and He will bring forth your malice.

38. Behold! you are those who are called upon to spend in Allah's way, but among you are those who are niggardly, and whoever is niggardly is niggardly against his own soul; and Allah is Self-sufficient and you have need (of Him), and if you turn back He will bring in your place another people, then they will not be like you.

The last Ruku of the Surah continues mentioning the hypocrites that though they do think that their negative thoughts about QITAL would remain concealed yet the fact of the matter is this that Allah would certainly bring that at fore; Allah has the authority to mention such persons by names yet it is unnecessary because the Prophet PBUH can recognize them by their speech where they present excuses to avoid QITAL; Allah would certainly try all persons who claim to be Muslims so that those manifest clearly for all to see, who are truly among those who do take-up JEHAD (in the meaning of QITAL here) and show patience (determination to fight on till they finish all FITNAH from the world) when they face the enemy; the clear info of all who claim to be Muslims would then manifest to all of Muslims for certain; whoever turns away at that trying time from the command of Allah (i.e. QITAL) and opposes the Prophet PBUH after that command is wholly manifest to him, he would remain unable to harm the word of Allah but He certainly would make all his deeds, even if seemingly good, totally null and void; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-33 asks the Muslims to obey the commands of Allah and of His Messenger who provides them the manner to fulfill His commands; then only they would save their doings from going to waste; they must remain fully mindful that Allah would never forgive disbelievers because they live upon disbelief, and in addition they stop others too to accept Islam, and they die in condition of disbelief; AAYAT-35 asks the Muslims not to show any slackness as to ask for peace when the forces against Islam had come in front of them; they need to fight in the best manner they can and Allah would help them at such occasion; this QITAL would benefit them most highly as Allah would not make any of their good deeds ineffective at AKHIRAT; note that asking the enemy for some peaceful treaty that does not degrade Muslims, before their challenge to Islamic teachings at the battleground, is feasible but when the combat is on, then to ask for peace means to show such slackness that is disallowed at such occasion; they need to lead the combat to such position where the enemy finds it better to ask Muslims for peaceful solution to the matter at hand; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-36 tells about life at the world that it is nothing but idle sport and play if a person does not care that he/she has to answer Allah, the true Lord; Allah would give good returns at AKHIRAT to only those who truly believe and live firmly by His commands; this life at the world is an examination of all persons and they need to remain mindful of this even in the expenditure of their amounts; if He had asked for whole of their possessions at extreme trying times and have pressed them for it, they would have turned niggardly trying to find ways to avoid this command though Allah would have brought their malice to this command at fore; but He asks them to spend a fraction of their amounts in His way at life at the world upon all those that are needy, especially upon those who do fight in His way; still, there are such persons among the Muslims who turn niggardly though this attitude to hold back possessions, when that only is a fraction of that, at such trying times for the Muslims actually falls against their own selves as it would cause extreme troubles ahead; by this attitude, the enemy to Islam may find ways to affect the Muslims adversely and cause hindrance for them to practice the teachings of Islam whereas this attitude would put such niggardly person surely at troubles at AKHIRAT; Allah does not need any particular peoples to fight for His cause but all persons do need His pleasure to achieve safety from troubles at AKHIRAT; so if those who claim themselves to be Muslims, turn back and do not challenge the enemy of Islam in all manners they are able to, He will bring in their place another such people, who would not turn their backs to His command on QITAL; note that the history does show explicitly that when the Muslims did show some slackness in the defense of Islamic teachings somewhere, Allah chose another people to come to Islam from some other place and by the will of Allah, they did stand to guard those teachings with caliber; one of the best examples for this is that when the eastern wild forces from Mongolia destroyed the vast area under the control of Muslims due to their slackness in practice of the Islamic teachings, and killed many thousands of Muslims reaching Baghdad at 1258 AD, it happened that their descendants came to Islam afterwards; this happened because though they were extremely fierce warriors yet lacked the manner to run the vast administration that they had received by wars against the Muslims and moreover, they did not have any answer to the beautiful moral teachings of Islam; also, even after their defeat, the Muslims did not endorse their wild manner of living in practice and remained firm upon Islam; so their determination to keep to the Islamic teachings did bring those fierce warriors to Islam and they did become guards to its teachings most sincerely; this last AAYAT has the message that those persons who come to Islam as newcomers would understand its true worth and they would challenge the enemy of Islam persistently till there remains no FITNAH anywhere upon the face of the earth; note that AAYAT-9 at SAFF has declared clearly, "He it is Who sent His Apostle with the guidance and the true religion, that He may make it overcome the religions, all of them, though the polytheists may be averse"; certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah FATH

(Consists of 4 Ruku; H-6)

FATH-The First Ruku

1. Surely We have given to you a clear victory
2. That Allah may forgive you your faults those which are past and those which are to follow and complete His favor to you and keep you on the right path,
3. And that Allah might help you with mighty help.
4. He it is Who sent down tranquility into the hearts of the believers that they might have more of belief added to their belief-- and Allah's are the hosts of the heavens and the earth, and Allah is Knowing, Wise--
5. That He may cause the believing men and the believing women to enter gardens beneath which rivers flow to abide therein and remove from them their evil; and that is grand achievement with Allah
6. And that He may punish the hypocritical men and the hypocritical women, and the polytheistic men and the polytheistic women, the entertainers of evil thoughts about Allah. On them is the evil turn, and Allah is wroth with them and has cursed them and prepared hell-fire for them, and evil is the resort.
7. And Allah's are the hosts of the heavens and the earth; and Allah is Mighty, Wise.
8. Surely We have sent you as witness and as bearer of good news and as warner,

9. That you may believe in Allah and His Apostle and may aid him and revere him; and that you may declare His glory, morning and evening.

10. Surely those who swear allegiance to you do but swear allegiance to Allah; the hand of Allah is above their hands. Therefore, whoever breaks his oath, he breaks it only to the injury of his own soul, and whoever fulfills what he has covenanted with Allah, He will grant him a mighty reward.

At its onset, Surah FATH tells most explicitly that Allah has provided the Prophet PBUH with a clear victory in the shape of the treaty of HUDAYBIYAH (that was the place adjacent to Makkah); Quraysh, the residents of Makkah, had stopped the Prophet PBUH and his companions to enter Makkah for UMRAH though that was against the traditions of Arabia at those times; at that time, it happened that the Prophet PBUH sent UTHMAN-RA as his envoy to negotiate matters with the Quraysh and as his return to HUDAYBIYAH took more of time than was expected, rumor spread that he has been killed by the Quraysh; so the Prophet PBUH took an allegiance from all his companions there, who were about 1500 in number, to fight on till death due to the gravest nature of this matter; note that the Muslims did not have any intention to fight a war against the Quraysh yet the turn of events led them to such intention; afterwards, when it proved to be a rumor, the Prophet PBUH made this treaty with the Quraysh; though this treaty had few clauses that were seemingly averse to Muslims and due to that, his companions were not happy with this treaty, yet this was certainly huge victory for Muslims as its very occurrence denoted that the Quraysh had accepted Muslims as such force that had come to stay and it paved way for the conquest of Khyber just after it and the conquest of Makkah later on; note that Quraysh of Makkah claimed much high status at the lands of Arabia at those times; now, because of its significance in leading to these outstanding victories, it is termed in itself as the clearest of victories; also, the period of peace that it provided to all Muslims, where the Quraysh had assured them therein that they would refrain from wars against them for ten years ahead, enabled the Prophet PBUH to spread the teachings of Islam far and wide; as this was the particular liability of the Prophet PBUH that he had to spread the significant teachings of Islam to all peoples around, so the AAYAT ahead guarantees that whatever unintentional negligence which he may have shown at this necessary task in past, Allah forgives it and not only that, but if he shows any unintentional negligence even in the future too, He does forgive that even; by the spread of the teachings of Islam in the most peaceful environment from the sixth year of HIJRAH to the last of the Prophet's life at the world, many thousands of people came to Islam whereas Surah NASR had provided subtle indication at Makkah that there would come such period at the lifetime of the Prophet PBUH when peoples would come to Islam in huge numbers; he would then have to prepare to depart from the world as he would have done his job well which is to provide the Islamic teachings to all peoples of the world (whereas his UMMAH would take on his task ahead), and so that would be the last period of his lifetime at the world; Surah NASR reads, "when there comes the help of Allah (for the spread of Islam in practice) and the victory (of it over the satanic arguments); and you see men entering the right path of Allah in companies (at most peaceful times); then celebrate the praise of your Lord, and ask His forgiveness; surely He is oft-returning (to mercy)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note here that contrary to what many of the western writers, who were most hostile to Islam, have written against Islam that it had mostly spread by aggressive QITAL (one of aspects of JEHAD), the factual position is that Islam had spread far and wide rapidly at the times of peace by its TABLIGH (another aspect of JEHAD) and the period of peace that the treaty of HUDAYBIYAH brought about, amply proves it; this Surah came to the Prophet PBUH on the way back to Madinah and soothed Muslims by telling them that this was actually huge victory for them and the time ahead clearly showed this fact for all to see; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; now, besides the ceasefire for ten years ahead between the Muslims and the Quraysh, the treaty stated that any person who defects the Quraysh and comes to the Muslims, shall be returned to Makkah whereas if any person defects the Muslims and comes to the Quraysh, shall not be returned to them; any of tribes which intends so, may enter into pact with the Muslims and any of them which intends so, may enter into pact with the Quraysh; the Muslims would return to Madinah this year but they might come to Makkah the next year to perform UMRAH when they would not display any of weapons and stay for three days at the city whereas the Quraysh would give them the space to perform UMRAH by retiring to mounts nearby, and they would not take any person to Madinah on their return after they perform UMRAH; it also stated that none of the sides would betray the other; the second AAYAT states explicitly that this period of peace would lead to the NEMAT of Allah, that is the living manner according to Islam, to come to completion and that would consolidate the position of the Prophet PBUH to remain upon and call towards the right path; so Allah would provide him such assistance that would lead him to gain control of vast area for Islam to establish itself in practice; note that this happened clearly in the next few years ahead; note also that at MA'EDAH,

Allah tells at AAYAT-3 that is among the very last AAYAAT to come to the Prophet PBUH, "this day have I perfected for you your DEEN and completed My NEMAT on you (i.e. such favor from Allah that the true Muslims live upon the Islamic teachings by awareness of the manner to practice those teachings with integrity, for AKHIRAT) and chosen for you Islam as DEEN (the Guidance to the right path to Allah that gives the principles to practice for every issue of life and the Muslims accept them so that they get the true success at AKHIRAT)"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-4 tells that Allah sent SAKINAH (tranquility) into the hearts of the believers so their belief increased that their confrontation with the disbelievers has certainly provided them the most significant victory at HUDAYBIYAH; note that SAKINAH is the acceptance inside which comes by all attention towards Allah that the condition at hand, which seemingly is averse to benefits, would transform to bring utmost advantage; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah has got huge number of angels at the heavens and the earth and He is totally able to punish the hypocrites and the extreme disbelievers but He intends that the Muslims show their worth against them as life at the world is an examination to all persons for certain; AAYAAT-4 to 6 read, "He it is Who sent down tranquility into the hearts of the believers that they might have more of belief added to their belief- and Allah's are the hosts of the heavens and the earth, and Allah is Knowing (so He records all good deeds of all good Muslims that they would certainly see at AKHIRAT), Wise (so He is taking the world on towards the destination He intends); that He may cause the believing men and the believing women to enter gardens beneath which rivers flow to abide therein and remove from them their evil; and that is grand achievement (i.e. the true success) with Allah; and that He may punish the hypocritical men and the hypocritical women, and the polytheistic men and the polytheistic women, the entertainers of evil thoughts about Allah; on them is the evil turn, and Allah is wroth with them and has cursed them and prepared hell-fire for them, and evil is the resort"; note that there are two sections of the mankind which would clearly manifest at AKHIRAT as is clear from these AAYAAT at this first Ruku of FATH; Surah TAGHABUN-2 gives the info about them clearly, "it is He Who has created you (all of the mankind); and of you are some that are disbelievers, and some that are true believers: and Allah sees well all that you do"; Surah AHZAAB also tells about these two sections of the mankind there at AKHIRAT, at its last AAYAT that one of them would be of all the disbelievers, which would comprise of hypocrites and the polytheists, both men and women, whereas the other would be of the true believers among the mankind, both men and women, to whom Allah would show utmost forgiveness and total mercy even at AKHIRAT; this is similar to the info that AAYAAT here at FATH provide, though first it mentions the true believers and then the disbelievers; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-7 points out again, "and Allah's are the hosts of the heavens and the earth; and Allah is Mighty, Wise", this tells that where necessary, He would certainly provide extreme punishment to the disbelievers by His own authority; note that this AAYAT ends by the statement that Allah is AZIZ (Mighty), HAKEEM (Wise); AZIZ means that He provides for such happenings that keep the world to His will by His authoritative measures so no one becomes able to cause such deviation at the world that leads it away from His set manner for it that causes FASAD (high difficulties to work upon the Islamic teachings) for high length of period; He destroyed by events that are named as natural calamities, many such nations that had challenged His authority and were causing FASAD at the world; Surah ANKABUT has the AAYAT (that is AAYAT-40) where Allah tells us that "each one of them We seized for his crime; so in them, against some We sent a violent tornado (with showers of stones); some were caught by blast; some We caused the earth to swallow up; and some We drowned; it was not Allah Who injured them but they injured (and oppressed) their own souls"; and HAKEEM means that He indeed cares well that all works of all His creation affect in such way that they fulfill only His will; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-8 & 9 give the info that Allah has sent His last Messenger Muhammad PBUH so that he provides testimony against those at AKHIRAT who had received the message of Allah from him and yet did not take the heed to believe in that; and so that he gives good news to all those who do accept that message at life at the world that they would receive JANNAAT, the gardens of paradise, at AKHIRAT because of their good belief; and so that he gives warning to those who are not prepared to believe that message at life at the world that they would get extreme punishment of the hell-fire at AKHIRAT because of their extreme arrogance; so the virtuous attitude is that all good persons who do get the message of Allah believe in Him and His last Messenger, and aid him at difficult times and revere him when there are such people who try to debase his name without any care to see what good morality he has provided to all persons of the world; all good persons need to declare the glory of Allah, morning and evening, with all sincerity towards Him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku reads, "surely those who swear allegiance to you, do but swear allegiance to Allah; the hand of Allah is above their hands; therefore, whoever breaks his oath, he breaks it only to the injury of his own soul, and whoever fulfills what he has covenanted with Allah, He will grant him a mighty reward"; this refers to the allegiance, which is named as BAYTE-RIDHWAN, which the companions of the Prophet PBUH gave to him to fight till death when the rumor of the murder of UTHMAN-RA reached them; note that for some person to show allegiance to someone needs taking his right hand into his own right hand, whereas his own hand remains beneath the hand of that person to whom he gives allegiance by words of BAYT (the allegiance); as BAYTE-RIDHWAN occurred in this manner so Allah states here that though the hand of the Prophet PBUH remained above hands of his companions who gave their allegiance to him yet the hand of Allah remained even above the hand of the Prophet PBUH; he is the Messenger of Allah so the companions of the Prophet PBUH actually gave this allegiance to Allah, the true Lord; however, this does need some noting at this juncture that for the occurrence of any BAYT, taking hands of each other is not something necessary; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

FATH-The Second Ruku

11. Those of the dwellers of the desert who were left behind will say to you: Our property and our families kept us busy, so ask forgiveness for us. They say with their tongues what is not in their hearts. Say: Then who can control anything for you from Allah if He intends to do you harm or if He intends to do you good; nay, Allah is Aware of what you do:

12. Nay! you rather thought that the Apostle and the believers would not return to their families ever, and that was made fair-seeming to your hearts and you thought an evil thought and you were a people doomed to perish.

13. And whoever does not believe in Allah and His Apostle, then surely We have prepared burning fire for the disbelievers.

14. And Allah's is the kingdom of the heavens and the earth; He forgives whom He pleases and punishes whom He pleases, and Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.

15. Those who are left behind will say when you set forth for the gaining of acquisitions: Allow us that we may follow you. They desire to change the word of Allah. Say: By no means shall you follow us; thus did Allah say before. But they will say: Nay! you are jealous of us. Nay! they do not understand but little.

16. Say to those of the dwellers of the desert who were left behind: You shall soon be invited (to fight) against a people possessing mighty prowess; you will fight against them until they submit; then if you obey, Allah will grant you a good reward; and if you turn back as you turned back before, He will punish you with a painful punishment.

17. There is no harm in the blind, nor is there any harm in the lame, nor is there any harm in the sick (if they do not go forth to combat the enemy); and whoever obeys Allah and His Apostle, He will cause him to enter gardens beneath which rivers flow, and whoever turns back, He will punish him with a painful punishment.

This Ruku commences by providing the info beforehand about those villagers who claimed to be Muslims and who lived around Madinah; they displayed their hypocrisy and did not come to UMRAH with the Prophet PBUH though he had told them to accompany them; AAYAAT tell about them that they would make excuses as the Prophet PBUH returns to Madinah, that their properties and their families needed their attention which occupied them so they are rightful that the Prophet PBUH asks Allah to forgive them; the fact of the matter is this that they thought that the Prophet PBUH and the true Muslims that have accompanied him, would not come back to Madinah as they would lose their lives going to Makkah; they thought that the Quraysh would challenge the Muslims and they had the power to end their strength as they arrive at Makkah, even if they have no intention to fight the Quraysh; but this did not happen, rather their hypocrisy did come in open and they saw their need to make excuses; their excuses are useless for them as they would perish getting their punishment even at the world; whoever claims to be among the Muslims yet does not have sincerity in his belief and denies to put the command of Allah in practice, then He has prepared the hell-fire for such disbelieving persons so that they get their punishment even at AKHIRAT; they had asked the Prophet PBUH to ask Allah to show mercy to them so AAYAT-14 answers them, "and Allah's is the kingdom of the heavens and the earth; He forgives whom He pleases and punishes whom He pleases, and Allah is Forgiving, Merciful"; this tells that Allah would show mercy only to those among them for whom He intends to provide even more space to show their worth for the practice of Islam but even the asking of the Prophet PBUH would not get His mercy to any such person for whom He does not intend for it; certainly, He is Forgiving so He would forgive the wrong of those among them for whom He intends and He is Merciful so He would provide the necessary space to all such persons so that they do compensate for the wrong that they had committed; AAYAT-15 tells about the response of the villagers who had shown hypocrisy, when they had been stopped from accompanying the Prophet PBUH and the true Muslims, to Khyber; though they had refused to accompany the Prophet PBUH to Makkah yet they intended to accompany him to Khyber as seeing the physical strength of Muslims, they thought that their lives are not threatened there and they would get some good share from the spoils of Khyber; it reads, "those who are left behind (when the Muslims have traveled to Makkah) will say when you set forth for the gaining of acquisitions (at Khyber)- allow us that we may follow you; they desire to change the word of Allah (that they would not accompany the true Muslims to Khyber as Allah had told the Prophet PBUH and he told them all); say- by no means shall you follow us (to Khyber); thus did Allah say before (that they have shown such cowardice that now they would not come at this significant occasion with the true Muslims and any such occasion ahead unless there comes some evidence for them that they are sincere to Islam); but they will say (seeing it from their own erroneous perspective)- nay! you are jealous of us (i.e. the true Muslims do not want them to get any of possessions from Khyber)- nay! they do not understand but little (that even if their presence benefits their selves by some worldly assets, it may cause adverse impression on the true Muslims who had stood firm at the trying occasion when they were asked for allegiance to fight till death)"; note that only the true Muslims, who had accompanied the Prophet PBUH for UMRAH towards Makkah, accompanied him to Khyber; AAYAT-16 asks the Prophet PBUH to give them the info that very soon they would receive such occasion which would enable them to show repentance and to show that they do have sincerity for Islam; so Allah would provide the space to them to make things better for them as it would happen that they would soon be invited to fight against such people who would have mighty prowess and the Muslims would be required to fight against them until they submit either by paying JIZYAH or by accepting Islam; this indicates the Roman empire that was highly equipped by arms of warfare with much trained personnel to fight any challenge against their empire most professionally; the Muslims arose to such status, even in the life of Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, that they did challenge the Roman empire by the expedition of TABUK and after him, they did end their control of the lands of Arabia and established their rule all over it effectively; the AAYAT tells that if they do show their obedience then, and do show that they do not fear the strength of the enemy where they take-up QITAL for Allah upon them against the enemy, then He would provide them good reward even at life at the world; but if they turn back when they face that enemy or/and do not accompany the true Muslims against them as they had refused at the occasion of UMRAH to Makkah, then He will punish them by the most painful punishment even at the world; certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku exempts those persons from the combat against the enemy who have genuine reason to hold themselves back from it; it reads, "there is no harm in the blind, nor is there any harm in the lame, nor is there any harm in the sick (if they do not go forth to combat the enemy); and (those who are fit to fight the enemy, so from among them) whoever obeys Allah and His Apostle (to fight on the enemy till FITNAH ends), He will cause him to enter gardens beneath which rivers flow, and whoever turns back, He will punish him with a painful punishment (not only at AKHIRAT but even at his life at the world)"; certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

FATH-The Third Ruku

18. Certainly Allah was well pleased with the believers when they swore allegiance to you under the tree, and He knew what was in their hearts, so He sent down tranquility on them and rewarded them with a near victory,

19. And many acquisitions which they will take; and Allah is Mighty, Wise.

20. Allah promised you many acquisitions which you will take, then He hastened on this one for you and held back the hands of men from you, and that it may be a sign for the believers and that He may guide you on the right path.

21. And other which you have not yet been able to achieve Allah has surely encompassed it, and Allah has power over all things.

22. And if those who disbelieve fight with you, they would certainly turn (their) backs, then they would not find any protector or a helper.

23. Such has been the course of Allah that has indeed run before, and you shall not find a change in Allah's course.

24. And He it is Who held back their hands from you and your hands from them in the valley of Mecca after He had given you victory over them; and Allah is Seeing what you do.

25. It is they who disbelieved and turned you away from the Sacred Mosque and (turned off) the offering withheld from arriving at its destined place; and were it not for the believing men and the believing women, whom, not having known, you might have trodden down, and thus something hateful might have afflicted you on their account without knowledge-- so that Allah may cause to enter into His mercy whomsoever He pleases; had they been widely separated one from another, We would surely have punished those who disbelieved from among them with a painful punishment.

26. When those who disbelieved harbored in their hearts (feelings of) disdain, the disdain of (the days of) ignorance, but Allah sent down His tranquility on His Apostle and on the believers, and made them keep the word of TAQWA, and they were entitled to it and worthy of it; and Allah is Cognizant of all things.

This Ruku states the term SAKINAH (tranquility) at both its first and its last AAYAT so, with AAYAT-4 of this Surah, it occurs three times at it; note that Surah TAUBAH states this term two times that are at its AAYAT-26 (where it relates to telling of the tranquility upon the Prophet PBUH and the true Muslims at the day of battle of HUNAYN) and its AAYAT-40 (where it relates to telling of the tranquility upon the Prophet PBUH when he and his companion Abu-Bakr had taken shelter at the cave of THAUR at the time of HIJRAT to Madinah while the disbelievers were searching for them frantically); at all places, it relates to such situation where the sincere Muslims had got into severe difficulty as the disbelievers seemingly had such an edge over them that clearly threatened their lives; at all such times, Allah helped the true Muslims by His significant assistance by His angels that ultimately got them evident victory over all the disbelievers who intended to end the impression of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the term SAKINAH also comes at BAQARAH-248 when Samuel-AS, the Prophet in the Bani-Israel, had told them that the sign for the authority of TALUT (Saul) over them is that very soon, they would receive the huge trunk that they had lost in which, there is SAKINAH (here it means blessing from Allah) for them and in which, there were few relics of Moses-AS and Aaron-AS; now, those who had that huge trunk at that time, thought that it was putting some bad spell on them and it was the reason to their ills so they put it into a cart that was dragged by bulls and the angels took it and led it to the place of the Bani-Israel by the command of Allah; the sincere warriors in the way of Allah among them, that were only about 315 against the huge number of the enemy, had made DUA (supplication) to Allah to pour SABR upon them (so that they do not care for the physical life) and to make them firm at the battleground (so that whatever comes they fight on without turning their backs) and to provide them victory over the disbelievers; after that, they did achieve victory against the enemy (JALUT i.e. Goliath and his forces) which enabled them to establish their own kingdom under the good command of TALUT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-18 to 23 at the Ruku read, "certainly, Allah was well pleased with the believers when they swore allegiance (i.e. BAYTE-RIDHWAN) to you (O Prophet PBUH) under the tree (at HUDAYBIYAH), and He knew what was in their hearts (i.e. He knew that they were most sincere in their commitment to fight the disbelievers till their deaths), so He sent down SAKINAH (tranquility) on them and rewarded them with a near victory (i.e. victory at Khyber); and many acquisitions which they will take (ahead); and Allah is Mighty (so He provides for such happenings that keep the world to His will by His authoritative measures so no one becomes able to cause such deviation at the world that leads it away from His set manner for it that may cause FASAD for high length of period), Wise (so He indeed cares well that all works of all His creation affect in such way that they fulfill only His will); Allah promised you many acquisitions which you will take, then He hastened on this one (i.e. Khyber) for you and held back the hands of men from you (that they remained unable to fight the Muslims at HUDAYBIYAH, at Khyber, at the conquest of Makkah, because of the awe that Allah has put inside them for the true Muslims), and that it may be a sign for the believers (that practicing of the Islamic commands does give amazingly good power to Muslims) and that He may guide you (i.e. He may keep the Muslims firm) on the right path (i.e. the path of Islam); and other (i.e. the victory other than the victory at Khyber which means the conquest of Makkah) which you have not yet been able to achieve (though) Allah has surely encompassed it (so the Muslims would get that at its due time), and Allah has power over all things; and if those who disbelieve fight with you, they would certainly turn (their) backs, then they would not find any protector or a helper; such has been the course of Allah that has indeed run before (so whoever combats against the true Muslims at the battleground when the Prophet PBUH is in them at command at such crucial occasion, Allah would certainly destroy them as

He has destroyed the nations before who had challenged His apostles), and you shall not find a change in Allah's course"; note that the victory at Khyber and the conquest of Makkah, both did occur without bloodshed; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT gives the info that Allah made such provision that no fight takes place at HUDAYBIYAH so that the treaty of peace between the Muslims and the disbelievers does come to take place there; so He stopped them to harm the Muslims in any manner and stopped the Muslims to harm them by combat in any manner; note that there did not occur any armed fight at HUDAYBIYAH but this AAYAT specifically refers to the incident that took place there before the occurrence of the treaty of peace, that some armed group from among the disbelievers conspired to kill the Prophet PBUH but his companions saw them and captured them; when they were presented to the Prophet PBUH, he pardoned them and set them free as he did not intend for any fight there; AAYAT-25 gives the reason explicitly why Allah provided for such situation that there occurs no fight between the Muslims and the disbelievers; it tells that there are still many of Muslims at Makkah that include both men and women, whom the Muslims coming from Madinah do not yet know; there was highest of probability that they may have inflicted death upon them without knowledge which may have led them to some most negative consequence as to finish-off the space for any person who has shown his inclination to live upon Islam, is highly sinful whereas Allah causes to enter into His mercy whomsoever He pleases; if these both had been clearly separated one from another and the Muslims would have targeted the disbelievers only, then Allah would surely have punished those who disbelieved from among them with the most painful punishment; this would certainly have taken place because they had not only disbelieved in the authority of Allah but they had also turned the true Muslims away from the Sacred Mosque and they had caused such situation that the sacrificial animals that the Muslims had brought with them, did not come to their destined place; the last AAYAT of the Ruku reads, "when those who disbelieved harbored in their hearts (feelings of) disdain, the disdain of (the days of) ignorance, but Allah sent down His SAKINAH (i.e. tranquility from Him) on His Apostle and on the believers, and made them keep the word of TAQWA, and they were entitled to it and worthy of it; and Allah is Cognizant of all things"; note that "the disdain of ignorance" means their prejudice to erase the word AR-RAHMAN (the Most Compassionate) at the documentation of the treaty which was mentioned there, attached to the name of Allah, because they did not recognize Him by that name; they also asked to erase the phrase "the Messenger of Allah" from it that was affixed to the name of Muhammad PBUH; as for TAQWA, note that it is the peaceful condition at inside which comes by the righteous belief in Allah and commitment of good deeds according to it; note also that "the word of TAQWA" means here to declare the glory of Allah morning & evening with belief in Him sincerely that He only is the true Lord; so it asks the Muslims to be most grateful to Allah; certainly, He only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

FATH-The Last Ruku

27. Certainly Allah had shown to His Apostle the vision with truth: you shall most certainly enter the Sacred Mosque, if Allah pleases, in security, (some) having their heads shaved and (others) having their hair cut, you shall not fear, but He knows what you do not know, so He brought about a near victory before that.

28. He it is Who sent His Apostle with the guidance and the true path of life, that He may make it overcome the paths of life, all of them; and Allah is enough for witness.

29. Muhammad (PBUH) is the Apostle of Allah, and those with him are most harsh against the disbelievers, compassionate among themselves; you will see them bowing down, prostrating themselves, seeking grace from Allah and pleasure; their marks are in their faces because of the effect of prostration; that is their description in the Torah and their description in the INJIL; like as seed-produce that puts forth its sprout, then strengthens it, so it becomes stout and stands firmly on its stem, delighting the sowers that He may enrage the disbelievers on account of them; Allah has promised those among them who believe and do good, forgiveness and great reward.

The statement given at the first AAYAT of this Ruku, needs to see that the Prophet PBUH had seen a dream that showed that he and his companions are performing UMRAH at the Sacred Mosque at Makkah in EHRAAM (the specific clothing that is worn at this noble occasion); as Allah shows only true dreams to His Prophets, so he and his companions set out for UMRAH to Makkah but we all have studied at this Surah FATH that they were stopped at the site of HUDAYBIYAH as we have read at this Surah; this led few of his companions to ask what happened that his dream did not come to take place in practice; the AAYAT answers this query that Allah has certainly shown him the dream that is true which certainly would take place though not this year but the next; note that to give the actual timing of dreams, even if they are most true ones, is quite some task and this AAYAT does declare it clearly;

however, dreams when they relate to future, they often relate to the near future; the AAYAT states, "certainly Allah had shown to His Apostle the vision (at his dream) with truth- you shall most certainly enter the Sacred Mosque, if Allah pleases (this means that He does), in security, (some) having their heads shaved and (others) having their hair cut (as both are allowed at the rituals of UMRAH), you shall not fear (i.e. the Muslims would perform it in most peaceful situation), but He knows what you do not know (that the treaty that they have managed to get from the Quraysh at this occasion, is certainly most significant), so He brought about a near victory (of Khyber instead, that consolidated their position at Madinah and places near to it) before that (which Muslims would certainly perform)"; note that the next year, the Muslims did perform UMRAH which is named as QADHA (in compensation) and it was performed in the most peaceful environment for them at the holy city of Makkah; certainly Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT reads for the spread of Islam, "He it is Who sent His Apostle with the guidance and the true path of life, that He may make it overcome the paths of life, all of them; and Allah is enough for witness"; note that the part in the AAYAT - "He it is Who sent His Apostle with the guidance and the true path of life, that He may make it overcome the paths of life, all of them" - has come also at two other places of the Holy Book Quran that are Surah TAUBAH-33 and Surah SAFF-9; note that by use of the term DEEN (the path of life) in this AAYAT for the true path of life (Islam) and for the paths of life, all of them (wrong paths), in singular at both places has the delicate indication that inside of the man does not incline to any wrongs by the nature he comes at the world (i.e. FITHRAT); it seems that though the first JAHILLIYAT (the period of extreme ignorance that was prevalent in the known world of yore) ended mostly by QITAL (the armed combat that is one of aspects of JEHAD), yet this second JAHILLIYAT that prevails at these current times all over the world, would end by the continuous effort in TABLIGH (the spread of the teachings of Islam verbally and in writing that also is one of aspects of JEHAD) insha-Allah, especially when the woman realizes the reservation that she has to adhere to, by the teachings of Islam; however, the first aspect among the three aspects of JEHAD is MUJAHIDA (living by the commands of Allah individually at any given situation as best as possible sincerely); read also the supplementary note after the note at the sixth Ruku of Surah HAJJ; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku, which also is the last AAYAT of the Surah, commences by the statement that Muhammad PBUH is the Apostle of Allah and this, Allah has stated here because the disbelievers had asked to erase the phrase "the Messenger of Allah" from the documentation of the treaty, which was affixed to his name; so Allah declared here that even if they deny, Muhammad PBUH is certainly His last Messenger; this AAYAT also tells ahead the merits of SAHABA (the companions of the Prophet PBUH) that though they are most harsh against the disbelievers yet they are most compassionate among themselves; and they declare the glory of Allah morning & evening so they do praise Allah all the time by bowing down and prostrating to Him; the good mark of their obedience to Allah is evident at their good faces and Torah (the holy Scripture that Allah gave to Moses-AS) and INJIL (the speech of Jesus-AS that has wisdom by the blessing of Allah) both have acknowledged their merits; the SAHABA of the Prophet PBUH are like the seed-produce that is very weak at the beginning but with time, it becomes strong and stands on its stem firmly which pleases the sowers of that; this tells that from their weakness, the SAHABA-RA have risen by the practice of Islamic teachings by the blessing of Allah, to such status where they are wonderfully able to challenge the disbelievers most powerfully; the last part of the last AAYAT gives the info that Allah has promised those among them who believe and do good (and evidently, they all do have this merit), forgiveness at life at the world on their unintentional wrongs, and great reward at the Day of Judgment; most certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah HUIJURAAAT

(Consists of 2 Ruku; H-7 & 8)

HUIJURAAAT-The First Ruku

1. O you who believe! be not forward in the presence of Allah and His Apostle, and be careful of (your duty to) Allah; surely Allah is Hearing, Knowing.
2. O you who believe! do not raise your voices above the voice of the Prophet (PBUH), and do not speak loud to him as you speak loud to one another, lest your deeds became null while you do not perceive.
3. Surely those who lower their voices before Allah's Apostle are they whose hearts Allah has proved for guarding (against evil); they shall have forgiveness and great reward.
4. (As for) those who call out to you from behind the private chambers, surely most of them do not understand.
5. And if they wait patiently until you come out to them, it would certainly be better for them; and Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.
6. O you who believe! if an evil-doer comes to you with a report, look carefully into it, lest you harm a people in ignorance, then be sorry for what you have done.

7. And know that among you is Allah's apostle; should he obey you in many a matter, you would surely fall into distress, but Allah has endeared the true belief to you and has made it seemly in your hearts, and He has made hateful to you, disbelief and transgression and disobedience; these it is that are the followers of the right path.

8. Due to grace from Allah and due to favor; and Allah is Knowing, Wise.

9. And if two parties among the true believers, quarrel, make peace between them; but if one of them acts wrongfully towards the other, fight that which acts wrongfully until it returns to Allah's command; then if it returns, make peace between them with justice and act equitably; surely Allah loves those who act equitably.

10. The believers are but brethren, therefore make peace between your brethren and be careful of (your duty to) Allah that mercy may be had on you.

Surah HUKURAT beautifully guides the true Muslims to the best of social values that they have to adhere to, for the sake of keeping to the Islamic manner of living collectively at the Islamic environment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so it is all about the virtuous attitudes that the Muslims have to present at the Islamic environment so as to keep their solidarity intact; note that HUKURAT means the private quarters where the wives of the Prophet PBUH resided and those were adjacent to the Masjid; the first AAYAT of the Surah is the basis to the true belief as the true Muslim is that person who has surrendered to Allah, the true Lord, that he/she would live his/her life according to His commands as the Quran guides him/her for which he/she would care to obey the Prophet PBUH to the best of his/her ability; in other words, the true Muslim has to see to the commands of Allah that are in the Holy Book Quran whereas the authentic Ahadith clearly show how to put them into practice; the next four AAYAAT guide the true Muslims to check how they address the Prophet PBUH as he is at such spiritual status among them, where their speech even shall unmistakably denote their utmost respect for him; and if they disrespect him by their speech, it would lead to such outcome that their virtuous deeds even, would become null & void; note that some villagers from the tribe of BANI-TAMIM visited the Prophet PBUH and generally, like other of villagers then, they also had extreme coarse manners in their speech and in their doings; when they arrived at the Masjid in afternoon, the Prophet PBUH had retired to one of the quarters there for some rest therein; they did not wait for him to come out to them but called him out by his name in their ordinary rough way with raised voices; these AAYAAT, from AAYAT-2 to AAYAT-5, warned all of the Muslims upon such crude attitude towards the Prophet PBUH; so AAYAT-3 appreciates those who speak to the Prophet PBUH softly with necessary voice only to express their object and this also implies that they follow his direction when they get it in some concerned issue clearly, without any insistence upon their own viewpoint on that; whoever keeps check on his speech towards the Prophet PBUH, keeping his good address towards him to necessity and with necessary soft tone of voice, Allah keeps him firm on TAQWA and all such persons shall have forgiveness from Him on their wrongs and most significant of rewards; the Surah has stated in clear terms ahead at its second Ruku that the standard for the true success is to achieve TAQWA that is the attitude of the heart which asks all the Muslims to fear Allah that they do not get His displeasure by their sins becoming so sinful that they lose the chance to regain JANNAH and with that, they also must have such hope towards Him that He would keep them safe from the Satan at all times and at all places; so every person needs to care to live as righteous believer in the fundamental teachings of Islam with virtuous deeds so that he/she does not lose the opportunity to show his/her worth for JANNAH at AKHIRAT and so that he/she is not put into the hell-fire as Allah would certainly fulfill His word; this good care to all attitude would lead the good person to get the pleasure of Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these four AAYAAT read, "O you who believe! do not raise your voices above the voice of the Prophet (PBUH), and do not speak loud to him as you speak loud to one another, lest your deeds became null while you do not perceive; surely those who lower their voices before Allah's Apostle are they whose hearts Allah has proved for TAQWA (so when they get clear direction of the Prophet PBUH on some issue of concern, they do accept it for practice); they shall have forgiveness (on some negligence of good deeds) and great reward (on their virtuous practice of all good deeds); (as for) those who call out to you from behind the private chambers (i.e. the quarters there), surely most of them do not understand (the refined manner to address the Prophet PBUH); and if they wait patiently until you come out to them, it would certainly be better for them; and Allah is Forgiving, Merciful (for them as they naturally have this coarse manner in speech without any intention to disrespect the Prophet PBUH, though they need to control this manner with care to refine it to necessary level when they address him)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-6 provides a significant ruling on such info which asks for some immediate defensive action but it does need confirmation for its authenticity, that it shall not be taken on face and the concerned people at authority shall necessarily verify it before taking any due action on that; note that the Prophet PBUH sent a man as envoy to one of such tribes that had come to Islam, for the collection of ZAKAH; as they came to know that the Prophet PBUH has sent someone towards them for the collection of ZAKAH, they waited for him outside their town to welcome him; now, the man whom the Prophet PBUH had sent to them, was from a tribe that had enmity to this tribe at the period of ignorance and when he saw them gathered outside from some distance as he reached there, he misjudged the situation and thought that they have gathered with the planning to kill him then & there; he immediately returned to the Prophet PBUH with the info that the tribe has left Islam with the intention to challenge it; this was serious matter and the Prophet PBUH commanded Khalid ibn Waleed to take some necessary force and challenge them at the battleground; however, he wisely told Khalid-RA to assess the situation before any action that he takes by force against them; so when he reached there with his force, he saw that they had no intention to challenge Islam rather they were most prepared to pay their ZAKAH so he reported their actual position to the Prophet PBUH and the issue was settled peacefully; AAYAT-6 reads, "O you who believe! if an evil-doer comes to you with a report, look carefully into it, lest you harm a people in ignorance, then be sorry for what you have done"; note that though it was a mistake on the side of the envoy yet he is mentioned here as FASIQ (evil-doer; most sinful) due to the magnitude of his mistake and it implies that he should have cared to address it somehow, at that very place where he saw them gathered outside their town; at these current times, the flow of communication is swift by aid of technical gadgets yet even today, it is likely that misjudgment does occur at some crucial issue that needs immediate defensive action so this ruling to verify the issue before any due action, is most valid even at these current times where the absence of it may bring amazingly huge loss of lives and property; Islam also rules clearly that there has to be extreme care that such info that relates to shameful things, is not circulated among the masses; AAYAT-19 of Surah NOOR reads, "surely (as for) those who love that shameful things should circulate respecting those who believe (by any manner that spreads info among people), they shall have a grievous chastisement in this world and the hereafter; and Allah knows, while you do not know (that how the unchecked mention of these things even, cause these things to affect the surroundings adversely)"; so AAYAT-6 of HUUJURAAAT and AAYAT-19 of NOOR respectively ask Muslims to check attitudes, that fake info does not cause any injustice due to misjudgment, and nothing of any info circulates among the masses which is shameful by nature, as such presentation time & again may cause weakening in avoidance of the immoral substance in it by the masses; so this check would assist avoidance respectively at the Islamic environment, of the spread of injustice among the persons at some authority and of the spread of shameful attitude among the masses, insha-Allah; at these current times, due to ignorance of the Islamic directions, the electronic media (which includes the TV and the social media) enhances these differences among the Muslims, knowingly & unknowingly, by their presentations that comprise of much faulty discussions; TV especially needs to care much about the Islamic rulings as many of anchors at the management of talk-shows present such questions that lead to differences and only seldom they try to get the clarification on dispute from any such participant who is capable to provide that with authenticity; this shows their low professional caliber (and their little tolerance to issues) as if they want to press their own viewpoint that carries discord towards the issue at hand rather than provide the real status of the issue at hand; they mostly do this to get a good rating in views to their talks with total disregard to the teachings of Islam; note well that all differences that arise causing much of disunity among Muslims at the religious practice or at the political scenario, are due to the ignorance of the true aim of life that only is to worship Allah, the true Lord; certainly, we all have to answer for our belief and our deeds at HASHR, the first day of AKHIRAT (the true life after this life) as the Messengers of Allah have told us clearly in accordance to the virtuous guidance that Allah provided to them; see also the supplementary note which I, MSD, have provided just after this note; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next two AAYAAT appreciate the Prophet PBUH upon his manner of dealing with issues at hand (and they also appreciate SAHABA, the companions of the Prophet PBUH) and though this appreciation of the Prophet PBUH is in general terms yet it is fair to take it specifically too in context of his good dealing with the issue of the misjudgment that might have caused extreme loss to lives & property of men; these couple of AAYAAT read, "and know that among you is Allah's apostle; should he obey you in many a matter, you would surely fall into distress, but Allah has endeared the true belief to you (all companions of the Prophet PBUH) and has made it seemly in your hearts (i.e. the hearts of those of his companions who are most attentive to Allah), and He has made hateful to you (all of his companions), disbelief and transgression and disobedience; these it is that are the followers of the right path, due to grace from Allah (specifically to the Prophet PBUH as He has granted him the liability to spread His message to all peoples) and due to favor (in general from Him to all sincere Muslims); and Allah is Knowing (of all doings), Wise (to see how they impress the goings around)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-9 has such direction which asks the Muslims for solidarity at all times and at all places; it tells all Muslims to make peace among such factions among them who have challenged each other ignorantly; there are few significant points to note here and that I, MSD, would take-up presently insha-Allah; the direction that the AAYAT provides to the Muslims is that - "and if two parties among the true believers, quarrel, make peace between them; but if one of them acts wrongfully towards the other, fight that which acts wrongfully until it returns to Allah's command; then if it returns, make peace between them with justice and act equitably; surely Allah loves those who act equitably" - the first of significant points to note here is that this direction asks the relevant Muslims to become arbitrators to make peace among two sides of the true Muslims who have disputed with each other, whereas both have their respective reasoning to their stance, that they present as not having anything which is against Islam; being true Muslims, though they have quarreled with each other, they would not go to war against each other unless both of them are not much significant by quantity so then even a forceful physical combat is possible among them but the direction of the AAYAT in focus, relates to such parties in the true Muslims who do have significance and then who do oppose each other though they would preferably avoid taking weapons against each other to their utmost patience; this makes clear that if these parties are not sincere to the teachings of Islam in their respective practice, even if they claim to be Muslims, the relevant Muslims in general are not liable to make peace among them as the direction at this AAYAT does not relate to such parties at quarrel; the second point is that this direction asks the arbitrators among the Muslims to fight forcefully (even by weapons if they deem fit) against the side that rebels against the other though the rebellious side may not necessarily take weapons against the other side, yet it may cause such situation for the other side that it finds living at ease utmost difficult, with little option to answer the rebellious side fittingly to keep convenience in their own living; the third point is that this direction asks the arbitrators among the Muslims that they come to their verdict by keeping to the commands of Allah according to justice and according to care to compensation of losses of both, when peace is restored between both sides to an acceptable extent; the fourth point is that this direction asks the arbitrators among the Muslims who intervene into the dispute of these two substantial sides of Muslims that they must have the necessary martial power to answer the unjust among these two, according to the magnitude by which that unjust side may put-up any challenge to them, without any fear to cause damage to the common people who have taken no part in the ongoing dispute; the fifth of significant points to note here is that this direction asks the arbitrators among the Muslims to indicate clearly the side that is totally unjust among these two sides of Muslims in dispute, by clear reasoning in this issue

according to the teachings of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; for the first point, note that Imam MAALIK has stated such words which suggest that if both sides, who claim to be Muslims, are unjust then let one of them punish the other and then the third would rise from among them, who also would be unjust, who would punish both of them; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku expresses beautifully that solidarity among the true Muslims is one of the most significant traits of them (as they are bothers to each other) so whereas they would see at all times and places that this is not damaged from the enemy in any manner, they would take care to their utmost capacity that it is not impaired even by doings of the Muslims themselves; it reads, "the believers are but brethren, therefore make peace between your brethren and be careful of (your duty to) Allah that mercy may be had on you"; certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Supplementary note on Surah HUKURAAT

Note about Islam that it is the most integrated system of life (but not totalitarian) as the fulfillment of its significant commands that Allah has given to the man, leads to the highest satisfaction to the self as it is complementary to the voice inside; if the Muslims practice those Islamic commands that are its basic practical commands especially the five pillars of Islam which the SUNNAH has explicitly asked for, they would provide good spiritual strength to all of them for certain; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these five are reciting much the name of Allah with remembrance that Allah is the only true Lord and Muhammad PBUH is His last Messenger, SALAH, ZAKAH and also other of provisions to the needy, SIYAM and HAJJ; in addition, they shall take-up in their practice all three aspects of JEHAD that are MUJAHIDA (keeping the base desires that are at inside in control by attention towards Allah with practice of the five pillars of Islam sincerely), TABLIGH (spreading the teachings of Islam far and wide by the Quran with its elaboration by SUNNAH) and QITAL (defending of the territory by martial strength where Islam has its hold so it also defends the teachings of Islam when it is challenged by the enemy); note here that it is unfeasible to take-up QITAL by attacking the disbelievers at this current era as it has such conditions for the Muslims to see that certainly are not easy for them to fulfill in this current era; see also the note at the twenty-sixth RUKU of Surah BAQARAH for AAYAT-216; the true Muslim person, both male & female, has to remain steadfast upon Islam so he/she shall have his/her total attention towards Allah with commitment to all the mentioned practice keeping to Sunnah of the Prophet PBUH whom he/she has to respect most highly; in addition, he has to care about the edibles he takes-in, about the cleanliness of the body, about the agreements he commits to, about the limitations that he has when Allah has provided him with some authority over his people, about the field of economics (where he has to see that he avoids interest in all transactions), about the matters that relate to living by justice and by social good norms that Islam appreciates (so he has to avoid degradation of any person by his speech too as Allah would certainly hold him liable for that too); so the Islamic teachings for justice would always keep the Muslim person far-away from unjust attitudes in all matters and the Islamic teachings for morality would always keep the Muslim person far-away from shameful attitudes in all matters; living by this virtuous manner, insha-Allah he would get the true living manner of the true Muslim in the true Islamic environment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that Islam asks most emphatically to appreciate the social values that ask for respect of all fellow beings especially for respect of those who claim categorically that they surely are Muslims and Surah HUIJURAAT is most explicit on this issue; nobody is perfect and it is for the good law of the Islamic land to see and punish those who have taken-up crimes so those who know adversity of such persons, may provide their testimony at the court of law if they are asked for it; the problem today is that the people generally go in many fields of economic activity by intense competition

whereas Islam does not appreciate this competing attitude among the Muslims; these fields, where they compete with each other for economic activity, especially include the field of administration by the name of free democracy, the field of generating finances by the name of free manner of making transactions and the field of providing info with the aid of electronic media to the people by the name of free speech; so note about these three fields that, though democracy is much near to Islam for administration, it shall necessarily reject the two erroneous concepts at the Islamic set-up that the west has attached to democracy; these are the concept of secularism (as the Islamic administration is certainly not rightful to make any law that is repugnant to the basic teachings of Islam) and the concept that the man is but an animal (as the Islamic administration is certainly not rightful to ignore the spiritual side of the man); it shall see that no actual competition takes place among the Muslims in the making and running of the administration and so it shall conduct elections even in such way that only those Muslim persons do come at the administrative posts that are QAVI (capable for the execution of their work in the Islamic manner) and AMIN (most trustworthy by character) clearly; whatever competition that does take place at this set-up, would be in matters that are MUBAH (where taking of any side of the discussion is not against Islam); read also my writing "The Islamic Guidelines" at the net; Al-Hamdu Lillah; in the field of economics which deals with finances, "Interest" and "Free Competition" respectively are taken to cause the stable set-up for the market due to its ability to control inflation and to cause the good quality of the product in the production of wealth; in contrast, Islam takes these both i.e. interest and the free competition in worldly finances, as the cause of the concentration of the wealth into hands of already wealthy persons and as the cause of wastage of the precious time respectively; the most notable thing here is that the man is born to care for the commands of Allah only and for no other reason; as for providing info at the electronic media, often it does not present the relevant care to facts or to good morality just because they intend to get better rating in views for their respective presentations than others in the same field; one of the authentic Ahadith mentions that the Prophet PBUH said, "it is enough for a person to become a liar that he speaks of everything that he hears"; so it is not feasible to present info that relates to some sensitive issue, without due confirmation about it, at the surroundings; this attitude of intense competition for worldly benefits is leading the Muslims to degrade other of them and so this attitude is certainly most averse to Islam which tells clearly that the Muslims are as brothers to each other (see Surah HAJJ-10); note that the reform to discussions at the talk-shows on the TV about the religious practice or/and about the political scenario, may come by the notable points ahead; the first of these notable points is that "all participants must care not to emphasize criticism among each other just because of the difference of their parties"; the second is that "all participants must care not to present unfeasible solutions to the issue at discussion just to press importance for the self, but present feasible solutions without challenging each other"; the third is that "all participants must care not to complain bitterly about the mistakes other parties have made but present their viewpoint in the most positive manner as brotherly advice to make better the stance of all participants upon the issue at discussion with total care that it does not seem insulting to anyone"; the fourth is that "all participants must care not to give any direct personal insulting remarks to each other"; the fifth is that "all participants must care not to pass insulting remarks for any person not at discussion and if that occurs by name, it is even more erroneous"; the sixth is that "all participants must care not to present themselves as infallible, rather they shall accept their mistakes"; the seventh is that "all participants must care not to raise their voices as if in anger to each other, even if they find their stance on the issue at discussion most valid"; the eighth is that "all participants must care not to present such info that might cause high differences among the viewers unless the administration has announced its official stance for that clearly"; the ninth is that "all participants must care not to take each other as most different to each other but they must remain totally committed to the fact that all Muslims are brothers so their difference is certainly not in the principle"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that in the name of freedom in living, the man has led himself to such position where the Satan finds it easy to make him the slave of his base desires if he does not keep his attention to Allah, the true Lord; it is most necessary for all true Muslims to ask Allah for His mercy towards them and towards all other of Muslims and for such space that they fulfill all His significant commands in practice with total belief in all the fundamental teachings of Islam sincerely; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as I write this part of the supplementary note at the eighth day of March 2022, I would care to express that the living manner at the ancient world was permissive to slavery and those few women too, who became captives with men at battlegrounds, had to bear its hardship; it presumably was harsher on the woman than on the menfolk at those times as understandably, such woman, who was led to become slave to her master, was exploited most indecently at those times but the surroundings was permissive for that and there remained no option for her but to bear it; it is the blessing of Allah that slavery has ended yet such hardship that she had faced at the ancient world, has not yet ended; now, at these current times, there is such indecent notion too among the living manners at the world that asks women to live by their base desires in the name of freedom in living, whereas the fact of the matter is that the women truly has no proper worth without attachment to such man who takes all her liability as his wife sincerely and cares totally for all her physical & spiritual needs; whereas at the ancient times, there were a number of women who were taken in slavery by force for their exploitation, today there are a number of women who have been lured into slavery of desires by the challenge of surroundings with the application of the simple term of freedom of choice in her living at the world; this notion does not give any care to her factual status of living, where her psyche does ask to live committed to the man she has attached herself to; note that living together of man and woman without any bondage to commit to each other, even if both sides do try their best to care for each other, does have separation between them as its ultimate result generally as there is much difference among the male and the female in the mankind; he can still live on alone making his way in life by the freedom he receives at the surroundings, to get his physical & spiritual needs yet it is just an illusion that she would make her way in life by the freedom she receives at any of surroundings she lives in; with this illusion, when the surroundings becomes permissive not to take illicit relations to women as crime socially, though it certainly is notable crime according to Islam as it takes it as one of major sins, then this is an extreme setback to her psyche; understandably, such woman, who is led to become slave to her base desires, is exploited most indecently at these times but the surroundings is permissive for that and there remains no option for her but to bear it; in this sense, the slavery of women has not yet ended and this situation is much harsher on her than on the menfolk at these times; may Allah give insight to all good persons by character, to live by His commands sincerely so that they live on with such peace in life that makes them achieve His pleasure at AKHIRAT much easier for them; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the second Ruku of HUKUMAT presents this in most clear terms that the true Muslims have such refinement in their character that does not let them disrespect any of fellow-beings, especially other of Muslims; they would never make fun of others, never charge them with false accusations and never call them by offensive names, when they address them or talk about them at gatherings in their presence, so as to disrespect them; not only this but the refinement in their character does not let them be suspicious of intentions of others as they see the positive side of things and so they would never spy on others to find some flaw in their intentions and so they would never backbite others with their good mindset that asks them to take all persons positively, so they would care to their respect even in their absence; if they are suspicious of others by nature, spy on others and backbite others, their manner is as if they eat of the dead body of their brother because he is unable to offer any defense to this kind of mindset against him; this Ruku tells ahead that TAQWA is the true standard to get respect at the court of Allah and it actually leads to getting His pleasure; all of the mankind have Adam-AS and Eve-AS as their parents and tribes and families are to identify persons among them; it is not the true standard to high standing as that only is TAQWA; by the context here, it expresses clearly that TAQWA asks the Muslim persons to respect fellow-beings with good intention for them that they all remain at the right path as they live on their lives at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; still ahead, the Ruku emphasizes the significance of TAQWA as it clarifies that the true belief that resides inside the heart, does not come only by the statement that expresses it by tongue but it needs total sincerity inside with much assistance of good deeds; with the statement to accept Islam, the person becomes Muslim and he is then liable to all rights that the Muslim person has in the Islamic environment; however, at AKHIRAT, the person needs to have the true belief with much of good deeds for safety from the hell-fire that actually is TAQWA (the good attitude of heart which gets refinement by good deeds when they are committed with fear of Allah, with utmost care that there comes no evil in deeds that may lead to His displeasure, and with hope towards Him that He would keep safe from the Satan at all times and at all places); so whoever believes in Islam by his/her statement, then he/she does become one of Muslims and with that, as he/she develops Islam sincerely at heart with assistance of all good deeds, then he/she rises in his/her status to become the true Muslim (i.e. MOMEN); Al-Hamdu Lillah.

HUJURAAAT-The Second (and its Last) Ruku

11. O you who believe! let not (one) folk laugh at (another) folk perchance they may be better than they, nor let women (laugh) at (other) women, perchance they may be better than they; and do not find fault with your own people nor call one another by nicknames; evil is (to address by) name of lewdness after (having true) belief, and whoever does not turn, these it is that are the unjust.

12. O you who believe! avoid most of suspicion, for surely suspicion in some cases is a sin, and do not spy nor let some of you backbite others. Does one of you like to eat the flesh of his dead brother? But you abhor it; and be careful of (your duty to) Allah, surely Allah is Oft-returning (to mercy), Merciful.

13. O you men! surely We have created you of a male and a female, and made you tribes and families that you may know each other; surely the most honorable of you with Allah is the one among you who is the best in TAQWA; surely Allah is Knowing, Aware.

14. The dwellers of the desert say: we believe. Tell (them): you do not believe but say that we submit; and the true belief has not yet entered into your hearts; and if you obey Allah and His apostle, He will not diminish aught of your deeds; surely Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.

15. The true believers are only those who believe in Allah and His apostle then they doubt not, and struggle hard with their wealth and their lives in the way of Allah; they are the truthful ones.

16. Say: Do you apprise Allah of your religion, and Allah knows what is in the heavens and what is in the earth; and Allah is Cognizant of all things.

17. They think that they lay you under an obligation by becoming Muslims. Say: Lay me not under obligation by your Islam: rather Allah lays you under an obligation by guiding you to the true belief if you are truthful.

18. Surely Allah knows the unseen things of the heavens and the earth; and Allah sees what you do.

The second Ruku of HUKURAAT guides explicitly about the good social values that the true Muslims need to adhere to; they would never make fun of others, never charge them with false accusations and never call them by offensive names, when they address them or talk about them at gatherings in their presence, so as to disrespect them; see also the supplementary note that I, MSD, have written before this note to provide general overview of Surah HAJJURAAZ; note that AAYAT-11 asks men in general manner not to laugh at other folk (men and women included) as they might be better, and asks women not to laugh at women for the same reason; it does not mean that women may at times, make fun of men but it denotes that due to the command of HEJAB that they have to observe from men which asks avoidance of mixed gathering, there is no need to put any emphases on the issue in this direction; note also the term ANFUSAKUM at this AAYAT (which means at speech "your own people" but which literally means "your own selves") as it tells proximity of the true Muslims to each other; the Holy Book Quran has used this term in this manner elsewhere too (for instance, in Surah NISAA-29 where the verse says "Do not kill ANFUSAKUM" unjustifiably and in Surah NOOR-61 where the verse says "But if you enter houses, salute ANFUSAKUM"); as for nicknames which are negative in character, the true Muslim needs strictly to avoid calling any person by such names; however, the true Muslim is not blamable if he addresses someone who is recognized by some feature that is generally negative in nature yet he does not mind such name in his close circle as he knows well that it is just an identity to him and not anything to degrade him; the examples for this might be such when his friends identify him as the stuttering man, the lame one, the fat guy; but he must not have any objection to such identity; AAYAT-12 provides this aspect of the character of the true Muslims that they would never become suspicious of intentions of others as they see the positive side of things and so they would never spy on others to find some flaw in their intentions and so they would never backbite others with their good mindset that asks them to take all persons positively; they would certainly care to respect all persons even in their absence; if they are suspicious of others due to some flaw in their own character, spy on others and backbite others, their manner is as if they eat of the dead body of their brother because he is unable to offer any defense to this kind of mindset against him; note that backbiting is totally prohibited and if the info that the person gives by backbiting about someone, is not present in him, it would also become BUHTAN (fake accusation) so that makes the wrong twofold; however, it is well if someone discloses the negative trait of some person in front of the judge due to necessity or in front of the man who intends to tie relationship to that person by taking him as his son-in-law or his brother-in-law; it is well even in front of the business man who intends to make some profitable deal with that person and that negative trait might become very harmful to him in the near future; AAYAT-13 of Surah HUIJURAAT provides the significant principle that "surely the most honorable of you with Allah is the one among you who is the best in TAQWA"; by context, this tells that TAQWA would come to the true Muslim person when he respects his fellow-beings whereas AAYAT-11 and AAYAT-12 have laid down the social values which he has to adhere to for it; he must have the good intention for them that they all remain at the right path as they live on their lives at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-14 & 15 clarify that the true belief resides inside the heart so it does not come only by the statement that expresses it by tongue but it needs total sincerity inside with much assistance of good deeds; with the statement to accept Islam, the person does become Muslim and he is then liable to all rights that the Muslim person has in the Islamic environment; however, at AKHIRAT, the good Muslim person needs to have the true belief with much of good deeds for safety from the hell-fire that actually is TAQWA so he needs persistence upon the belief in Islam without any inclination to anything other than it, so then with time (as he goes on practicing Islam day & night continuously), he becomes MOMEN by the blessing of Allah; he was never one of hypocrites yet he does need good development of his belief in the Truth

after he has accepted it by his statement, to the honorable position where he truly achieves TAQWA to become true Muslim; these AAYAAT read, "the dwellers of the desert say- we believe; tell (them)- you do not believe but say that we submit; and the true belief has not yet entered into your hearts; and if you obey Allah and His apostle (persistently then it would take place firmly there and so) He will not diminish aught of your deeds; surely Allah is Forgiving, Merciful; the true believers are only those who believe in Allah and His apostle then they doubt not, and struggle hard with their wealth and their lives in the way of Allah (which is the certain way to get the true belief inside); they are the truthful ones (as they remain committed to their claim to Islam at all situations)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that there were such dwellers of the desert then, who had boasted with some arrogance that they had accepted Islam without any fights so they have some high status at the court of Allah, and so the Muslims need to appreciate them; the last AAYAAT of HUKURAAT address this issue and tell them to remain mindful that Allah has blessed them that He has brought them to Islam; now, they need to develop that to become the true belief at their insides so it is their commitment to Islam and the good deeds that they do according to that commitment that would tell if they are appreciable or not; they read, "say- do you apprise Allah of your religion, and Allah knows what is in the heavens and what is in the earth; and Allah is Cognizant of all things; they think that they lay you under an obligation by becoming Muslims; say- lay me not under obligation by your Islam- rather Allah lays you under an obligation by guiding you to the true belief if you are truthful; surely Allah knows the unseen things of the heavens and the earth; and Allah sees what you do"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah QAAF

(Consists of 3 Ruku; MK-4)

QAAF- The First Ruku

1. QAAF; I swear by the glorious Quran (that Muhammad PBUH is the apostle of Allah)
2. Nay! they wonder that there has come to them a warner from among themselves, so the disbelievers say: This is a strange thing:
3. What! when we are dead and have become dust? That is afar (from probable) return.
4. We know indeed what the earth diminishes of them, and with Us is a writing that preserves.
5. Nay, they rejected the truth when it came to them, so they are (now) in a state of confusion.

6. Do they not then look up to heaven above them how We have made it and adorned it and it has no gaps?
7. And the earth, We have made it plain and cast in it mountains and We have made to grow therein of all beautiful kinds,
8. To give sight and as a reminder to every servant who turns frequently (to Allah).
9. And We send down from the cloud water abounding in good, then We cause to grow thereby gardens and the grain that is reaped,
10. And the tall palm-trees having spadices closely set one above another,
11. A sustenance for the servants, and We give life thereby to a dead land; thus is the rising.
12. (Others) before them rejected (Prophets): the people of Noah and the dwellers of AR-RASS and THAMUD,
13. And AAD and Pharaoh and Lot's brethren,
14. And the dwellers of the thicket and the people of TUBBA; all rejected the apostles, so My threat came to pass.
15. Were We then fatigued with the first creation? Yet are they in doubt with regard to a new creation.

This Surah starts by QAAF, the letter which is among the MUQATTA'AAT (that means the 14 disjointed letters that are among the Arabic alphabets which come at the commencement of 29 Surah in specific combinations); there are two other Surah besides this that start by only one letter that are among the MUQATTA'AAT that are SUAD (Surah 38) and NOON (Surah 68); Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that like other of Surah that descended at Makkah, this also emphasizes to believe in the fundamental teachings of Islam; Allah swears by the glorious Quran at its beginning that Muhammad PBUH is the Messenger of Allah who is rightly guiding all towards the fact that Allah would certainly raise the dead at the certain day of HASHR (the Day of Judgment), that is the first day of AKHIRAT, so that all persons account for all their doings at life at the world and receive what they truly deserve at that true life of AKHIRAT as all persons are in examination at this life at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; those persons who disbelieve in that day raise objection that this is strange that when they are dead and have become dust, they would come to life again; their attitude is to ignore anything of the true guidance that Allah presents to them through the Prophet PBUH and they incite one another to ridicule him by disrespectful words and they ignore this warning too, which tells them that they shall certainly be raised from dead, and even their forefathers; Allah answers their doubts that He knows indeed what the earth diminishes of their physique, and He has such writing that preserves all that relates to them; the fact of the matter is this that they have decided firmly to reject the Holy Book Quran as what concern they have about how it would happen; they certainly do not have any awareness to the true authority of Allah so due to such ignorance, they raise objections; the Ruku tells ahead, from the sixth AAYAT to the eleventh, that they need to observe the nearby heaven and the earth as that would provide them some insight to the total authority of Allah, the true Lord; these AAYAAT tell explicitly that Allah has adorned the nearby heaven so beautifully that it has no gaps - and Allah has made the earth plain in such manner that all find convenience in their travel to places upon it; and He has casted in it mountains so that it gets stability and He has brought forth from it all beautiful kinds of plants, flowers, trees, crops, fruits etc. which provide insight to all such persons who do observe them to come near to Allah; and this all occurs by the rain-water that falls from the nearby heaven to the earth which causes to grow thereby gardens and the grain that is reaped and the tall palm-trees, having dates set much close to each other; and this all provides sustenance to the mankind so Allah gives life by the rain-water to a dead land and thus would be the rising of the dead; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so the Quran has related the rain upon the land as an indication to raising-up of all men from the dead as the angel blows the trumpet for that by the command of Allah; AARAAF-57 relates, "and He it is Who sends forth the winds bearing good news before His mercy, until, when they bring up a laden cloud, We drive it to a dead land, then We send down water on it, then bring forth with it of fruits of all kinds; thus shall We bring forth the dead that you may be mindful"; HAJJ-5, 6 & 7 relate, "and you see the earth sterile land, but when We send down on it the water, it stirs and swells and brings forth of every kind a beautiful herbage; this is because Allah is the Truth and because He gives life to the dead and because He has power over all things; and because the hour is coming, there is no doubt about it; and because Allah shall raise up those who are in the graves"; ROUM-50 relates, "look then at the signs of Allah's mercy, how He gives life to the earth after its death; most surely He will raise the dead to life; and He has power over all things"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next three AAYAAT tell about those peoples whom Allah destroyed due to their disbelief so that all persons that live currently take the heed and believe in the fundamental teachings of Islam; these were the people of Noah and the dwellers by the RASS (that means the well and these people lived by some notably huge well at those ancient times); and THAMUD and AAD and Pharaoh and the people of Lot-AS and the dwellers of the thicket (i.e. the people of SHOAIB-AS at Median) and the people of TUBBA; note that TUBBA was the title of kings of Yemen at ancient times and here, the AAYAT refers to one of them; as they all rejected the Messengers that Allah had sent to them so He destroyed them all; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah tells emphatically at the last AAYAT of the Ruku, that He has not become unable to bring the mankind again to life from dead; it reads, "were We then fatigued with the first creation? Yet are they in doubt with regard to a new creation"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

QAAF-The Second Ruku

16. And certainly We created man, and We know what his mind suggests to him, and We are nearer to him than his life-vein.

17. When the two receivers receive, sitting on the right and on the left.

18. He utters not a word but there is by him a watcher at hand.

19. And the agonizing condition of death will come in truth; that is what you were trying to escape.

20. And the trumpet shall be blown; that is the day of the threatening.

21. And every soul shall come, with it a driver and a witness.

22. Certainly you were heedless of it, but now We have removed from you your veil, so your sight today is sharp.

23. And his companion (the witness) shall say: This is what is ready with me.

24. O you both! do cast into the hell-fire every ungrateful, rebellious one,
25. Forbidder of good, exceder of limits, doubter,
26. Who sets up another god with Allah, so do cast him into severe chastisement.
27. His companion will say: Our Lord! I did not lead him into rebellion but he himself was in great error.
28. He will say: Do not quarrel in My presence, and indeed I gave you the threatening beforehand:
29. My word shall not be changed, nor am I in the least unjust to the servants.

The second Ruku of Surah QAAF starts by the statement that Allah has created the man and certainly He knows totally well whatever goes inside him; He is nearer to him than his life-vein; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-17 & 18 state that there are two angels who remain with each person, right and left, so that whatever he does and whatever he utters even, they record it down; note that these AAYAAT imply that though Allah is well aware of doings of all yet He has appointed two angels to each person to record all his actions and all his words at his life at the world so that they provide that record at the Day of Judgment according to His command to them; they both complement each other for the making of this record and certainly, Allah knows how to take-on matters in the best of manners; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-19 tells that it would happen sooner or later that the condition of death would come to all persons, though any of them may try his best to avoid it and AAYAAT ahead tell that after the end of the world then, the trumpet shall be blown for the second time to bring all persons from dead to life again; on that specific day, every person would come at the grounds of HASHR with those two angels who used to be with him at the world, one would drive him to the grounds whereas the other would assume to become witness of his wrong doings, with the record of all his life at the world; Allah would address the disbeliever that he was heedless of it, but now He has brought it in front of him so he does see most clearly that it certainly is happening; the witness to his wrong-doings would present his record that he would have in his possession and Allah would command both of these angels, the driver and the witness, to cast him into the hell-fire as he was most ungrateful to Allah and most arrogant as he denied the Day of Judgment; he used to forbid others too from doing good deeds misguiding them to remain oblivious to the coming of that day and he used to take another god with Allah that is extreme disrespect to Him; so he certainly deserves to get the most extreme chastisement at the Day of Judgment; note that Allah commands evidently both angels, the driver and the witness, to cast the arrogant disbeliever into the hell-fire as according to the Arabic grammar, the command here is to both of them; AAYAAT from 23 to 26 read, "and his companion (the witness) shall say- this is what is ready with me; O you both! do cast into the hell-fire every ungrateful, rebellious one, forbidder of good, exceder of limits, doubter, who sets up another god with Allah, so do cast him into severe chastisement"; AAYAT-27 tells that one of those angels who had accompanied him at the world (most probably the angel who had driven him to the grounds of HASHR) would say, "Our Lord! I did not lead him into rebellion but he himself was in great error"; this statement he would present to show that he and his companion were only committed to their task of recording the doings of the person they were assigned to, strictly in accordance with the command of Allah; so then, He would address the disbelievers that now, they have nothing to offer in their defense and whatever severe punishment that they have received at the Judgment, they certainly are most liable to get that punishment; AAYAAT-28 & 29 tell, "He will say- do not quarrel in My presence, and indeed I gave you the threatening beforehand; My word shall not be changed, nor am I in the least unjust to the servants"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

QAAF-The Last Ruku

30. On the day that We will say to the hell-fire: Are you filled up? And it will say: Are there any more?

31. And the garden shall be brought near to those who guard (against evil), not far off:

32. This is what you were promised, (it is) for everyone who turns frequently (to Allah), keeps (His limits);

33. Who fears the Beneficent Allah in secret and comes with a penitent heart:

34. Enter it in peace, that is the day of abiding forever.

35. They have therein what they wish and with Us is more yet.

36. And how many a generation did We destroy before them who were mightier in prowess than they, so they went about and about in the lands. Is there a place of refuge?

37. Most surely there is a reminder in this for him who has a heart or he gives ear and is a witness.

38. And certainly We created the heavens and the earth and what is between them in six periods and there touched Us not any fatigue.

39. Therefore, be patient of what they say, and sing the praise of your Lord before the rising of the sun and before the setting.

40. And glorify Him in the night and after these prayers.

41. And listen about the day when the crier shall cry from a near place

42. The day when they shall hear the cry for certain; that is the day of coming forth.

43. Surely We give life and cause to die, and to Us is the eventual coming;

44. The day on which the earth shall cleave asunder under them, they will make haste; that is a gathering together easy to Us.

45. We know best what they say, and you are not one to compel them; therefore, remind him by means of the Quran who fears My threat.

The last Ruku of QAAF starts by the info that the hell-fire would be highly keen to receive all extreme wrong-doers inside it as Allah has set it in such manner that it wholly is the place to provide the most extreme punishment for all such wrong-doers, and it feels most satiated by it, so they would be thrown inside it at AKHIRAT most disrespectfully; as for the righteous persons, who remained most attentive to Allah at the world and cared to fulfill His commands in their practice without persisting on anything wrong as they always asked Him for His mercy upon it, He would direct them to JANNAH, the most beautiful garden, at AKHIRAT most respectfully; then, He would ask them to enter it most respectfully to live inside it forever; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-35 tells, "they have therein what they wish (for themselves) and with Us is more yet (for them of our splendid bounties, that they have not asked even, and so the true appreciation of that they only would get when they dwell inside that beautiful place)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-36 & 37 tell that Allah destroyed many of disbelievers who were even mightier than these at Makkah who challenge the Prophet PBUH and though they used to move about much at lands yet when their punishment fell upon them, they were unable to find any refuge from it; this guides all persons who do have inclination to the virtuous manner of living at the world to see how they do need to live here by that due manner; this includes such good person who has the heart that recognizes the Truth just as it comes at front of it; and this also includes such good person who has totally good hearing (and even totally good sight) by which he gets the fundamental teachings of Islam so even then, his heart ultimately receives the true guidance that he needs to live upon; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT 38 to 43 tell that Allah has created all the creation in six periods and He never became tired because of it; He has set it in such manner that there is change in timings and the true Muslims have to see that they live-on by His remembrance at all times and at all places; this change is leading to that day when Allah would raise all the dead to life again and the living manner of the true Muslims needs to tell explicitly of their preparation for it; these AAYAAT read, "and certainly We created the heavens and the earth and what is between them (i.e. all the creation) in six periods and there touched Us not any fatigue; therefore, be patient of what they say (about you disrespectfully O Prophet PBUH, as they certainly have to account for it), and sing the praise of your Lord before the rising of the sun (i.e. the Salah at FAJR) and before the setting (i.e. the Salah at ZUHR & ASR, when they are read very near to each other at late afternoon); and glorify Him in the night (i.e. Salah at MAGHRIB and then at ISHA) and after these (obligatory) prayers (i.e. by Salah named as TAHAJJUD which is read much after ISHA at late night); and listen about the day when the crier shall cry from a near place (i.e. every person who rises from dead would feel that he is being called from some place that is extremely near to him); the day when they shall hear the cry for certain; that is the day of coming forth"; note that this Ruku has named this day as the "the day of abiding forever" too at AAYAT-34; note also that TAHAJJUD was obligatory for the Prophet PBUH but it is not necessary to other of Muslims though if they read it, then it most certainly is most virtuous to them too; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last two AAYAAT of the Surah state, "the day on which the earth shall split asunder under them (so it would bring forth all of them), they will make haste; that is a gathering together easy to Us; We know best what they say, and you are not one to compel them; therefore, remind him by means of the Quran who fears My threat"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Here our study from Surah SHUA'RAA to Surah QAAF and "Tafsiri-Guide to the Quran" (Third Part) ends which I, MSD, had kept to the last; so by its end, "Tafsiri-Guide to the Quran" comes to end by the blessing of Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; may Allah provide His mercy and His blessing to me on this effort to get His pleasure and to all those who study it attentively to get true benefits from it; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

"Tafsiri-Guide to the Quran"
(the Fourth Part)
(From Surah ZAARIYAAT to the last Surah)

www.m-saleemdada.com
www.saleemdada.weebly.com

Al-Hamdu Lillah

Note:

Before writing of the third part of "Tafsiri-Guide", I, MSD, would insha-Allah complete the fourth part of it that commences from Surah ZAARIYAAT to the last; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah ZAARIYAAT
(Consists of 3 Ruku; MK-9)

1. I swear by the wind that scatters far and wide,
2. Then those that bear the load,
3. Then those that glide easily,
4. Then those who distribute blessings by Our command;
5. What you are threatened with is most surely true,
6. And the judgment must most surely come about.
7. I swear by the heaven full of ways.
8. Most surely you are at variance with each other in what you say,
9. He is turned away from it who would be turned away.
10. Cursed be the liars,

11. That are in gulf (of ignorance) neglectful;
12. They ask: When is the Day of Judgment?
13. (It is) the day on which they shall be tried at the fire.
14. Taste your persecution; this is what you would hasten on.
15. Surely those who guard (against evil) shall be in gardens and fountains.
16. Taking what their Lord gives them; surely they were before that, the doers of good.
17. They used to sleep but little in the night.
18. And in the morning they asked forgiveness.
19. And in their property was a portion due to him who begs and to him who is denied.
20. And in the earth there are signs for those who are sure,
21. And in your own souls (too); will you not then see?
22. And in the heaven is your sustenance and what you are threatened with.
23. And by the Lord of the heaven and the earth; it is most surely the truth, just as you do speak.
24. Has there come to you, the information about the honored guests of Ibrahim?
25. When they entered upon him, they said: Peace. Peace, said he, a strange people.
26. Then he turned aside to his family secretly and brought a fat (roasted) calf,
27. So he brought it near them. He said: What - will you not eat?
28. So he conceived in his mind a fear on account of them. They said: Fear not. And they gave him the good news of a boy possessing knowledge.

29. Then his wife came up in great grief, and she struck her face and said: An old barren woman!

30. They said: Thus says your Lord: Surely He is the Wise, the Knowing.

31. He said; what is your affair then, O apostles!

32. They said: Surely we are sent to a guilty people,

33. That we may send down upon them stones of clay,

34. Sent forth with markings from your Lord for the extravagant.

35. Then We brought forth such as were therein of the believers.

36. But We did not find therein save a (single) house of those who submitted (i.e. the Muslims).

37. And We left therein a sign for those who fear the painful punishment.

38. And in Musa; when We sent him to Pharaoh with clear authority.

39. But he turned away with his forces and said: A magician or a mad man.

40. So We seized him and his hosts and hurled them into the sea and he was blamable.

41. And in AAD; when We sent upon them the destructive wind.

42. It did not leave aught on which it blew, but it made it like ashes.

43. And in THAMUD; when it was said to them: Enjoy yourselves for a while.

44. But they revolted against the commandment of their Lord, so the rumbling overtook them while they saw.

45. So they were not able to rise up, nor could they defend themselves-

46. And the people of Noah before, surely they were the most transgressing people.

47. We have built the heaven with might, and We it is Who make the vast extent (thereof).

48. And the earth, We have made it a wide extent; how well have We then spread (it) out.

49. And of everything We have created pairs that you may be mindful.

50. Therefore flee unto Allah; surely I am a plain warner to you from Him.

51. And do not set up with Allah another god; surely I am a plain warner to you from Him.

52. Thus there did not come to those before them an apostle but they said: A magician or a mad man.

53. Have they charged each other with this? Nay - they are an inordinate people.

54. Then turn your back upon them for you are not to blame;

55. And continue to remind, for surely the reminder profits the believers.

56. And I have created the jinn and the mankind, only that they should serve Me.

57. I do not desire from them any sustenance and I do not desire that they should feed Me.

58. Surely Allah is He Who bestows sustenance, the Lord of Power, the Strong.

59. So surely those who are unjust shall have portion like the portion of their companions, therefore let them not ask Me to hasten on.

60. Therefore woe to those who disbelieve because of their day which they are threatened with.

Surah ZAARIYAAT (that might be spelt as DHAARIAAT) tells most explicitly that Allah provided all ease to the mankind so that the man makes little effort for his physical sustenance and lives with all his physical safety here at life at the world; and He sent His Messengers in the mankind so that he accepts the message of Allah and lives with all his spiritual safety here at life at the world and at AKHIRAT; this is because Allah asks complete surrender from him to Allah that he believes in Him righteously and obey His commands totally so he needs to comply in the best manner to His commands as AKHIRAT only is the true life of the man; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it comprises of three Ruku in which the first Ruku has AAYAAT-1 to 23, the second Ruku has AAYAAT-24 to 46 and the last Ruku, AAYAAT-47 to 60; note that this Surah tells the only true aim of life of the mankind explicitly at AAYAT-56, "and I have created the jinn and the mankind, only that they should serve Me"; note also that all other of His creation accepts His true authority and fulfills His commands as that is the only option He has provided to them but He has given the free-will to the jinn and the mankind so He asks them specifically that they surrender to His true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; in the first four AAYAAT of this Surah, Allah tells about the water that He provides to the earth; He takes the oath of winds and tells about them that they scatter the water droplets within clouds; then these clouds carry all the water; and then the winds make these clouds glide-on with ease; then finally these clouds provide this water as rainfall at different places and this all does happen by the command of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that Allah may take the oath of any of His creation by His will though the authentic Ahadith has commanded the Muslims to take the oath of Allah only on good deeds; note also that He does not need to take oaths to present His statements yet He takes them according to the statement that He presents so as to provide strength to them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next two AAYAAT provide the information on which the oath is taken at the four AAYAAT at the beginning and they tell that the promise that Allah has made to all of mankind about raising them up from the dead is most true just as the rain brings out from the earth the crops from inside of it; the true Judgment for all persons would certainly take place; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at the next three AAYAAT (that are 7, 8 and 9), Allah takes the oath of the heaven that has numerous paths (by which the angels ascend and descend to keep check on the mankind by the command of Allah); the object of the oath is that as persons have shown different views about occurrence of the Judgment so only that person is turned away from believing in it who chooses himself to disbelieve in it without any care to observe the different aspects of life; AAYAT-10 to AAYAT-14 tell that cursed would be the extreme liars who are heedless most erroneously to what would affect them by such disbelief that they ask mockingly when the Day of Judgment would come; it would be such day for them when they would be tormented by the hell-fire and they would be ordered to taste this torment that they sought to hasten;

the next five AAYAAT tell about those good believers who always feared that none of their deeds bring the displeasure of Allah to them; they would be at the beautiful gardens (JANNAAT) where they would enjoy most beautiful water-fountains; these AAYAAT tell about these good believers that they would be most pleased with whatever Allah, the true Lord, provides them and they certainly were before that (at the world), the doers of all the good; there are three most significant good traits of these doers of all the good deeds that they used to sleep but little in the night, and in the early morning they used to ask forgiveness for themselves (and all good believers), and in their wealth the beggar & the deprived person both had due share; note that the deprived persons are those who are most needy persons but they do not speak out their needs, so the doers of all good deeds seek them by themselves to give necessary amounts for their extreme needs; note also that these traits lead the person to distinction in doing of good deeds though other of good Muslims, who had lived ordinary yet with good deeds, would insha-Allah get JANNAH too; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last four AAYAAT of the first Ruku read, "and in the earth there are signs for those who are certain in their belief, and in your own souls (O persons that are certain in belief); will you not then see?; and in the heaven is your sustenance and what you are threatened with; and by the Lord of the heavens and the earth, it is most surely the truth, just as you do speak"; so all persons need to travel at the earth to observe how Allah has set it to the needs of the man (and what happened to those who challenged Allah by their living manner) and need to study their own selves to understand about their tendencies better; note that there are two subjects that have most high significance to understand life when the Muslim person studies them with all his care to Allah; these are History and Psychology to which the Muslims gave high attention (with Astronomy) even in the times gone-by and they certainly bring near to Allah when the Muslims do study them in light of the teachings of the Holy Book Quran sincerely; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-22 explains AAYAAT-7, 8 & 9 and it has two parts whereas the first part tells that the sustenance of the Man depends on the heaven (i.e. the sky just above the earth) and the second part tells that it also has what he is threatened with; so the first part of it means that the rain comes down from it to bring out crops and fruits out of the land (and it also has other of physical benefits to him) which suits him as his foods; and the second part of it means that angels bring the rulings of Allah from above by the numerous paths the heaven has in it which they apply at the world by the command of Allah; so in that, there is what he is promised with (mostly what he is threatened with); the narration of the incident at the Ruku ahead explains this further where the angels descended and visited Ibrahim-AS; the last AAYAT of this Ruku (AAYAT-23) tells that this is how Allah keeps the setting of the life here as it reads, "and by the Lord of the heaven and the earth; it is most surely the truth, just as you do speak"; so the angels record all the different speeches of different men and all would account for that at the Day of Judgment as the speech of every person tells about the inside of him quite well; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next Ruku starts with the narration of the visit of angels in the disguise of men to Ibrahim-AS that goes from AAYAT-24 to AAYAT-37; when they came to him, he thought that they were travelers passing-by but they were angels who had the task to tell Ibrahim (Abraham) about the birth of his son Isaac-AS and about the birth of his grandson Jacob-AS from Isaac; there was the custom at the ancient world that if travelers that seemed righteous persons visited some place, the good people there provided foods to them from their side; so Abraham went inside to his wife where he prepared a roasted calf for them and presented it to them; he asked them to eat from it but as angels, they had no inclination to do so and this led Abraham to guess beautifully that they were angels whom Allah has sent for some punishment to some people; note that when Allah sends angels specifically to the earth, that is to inflict punishment to some nation by His will and Ibrahim certainly was aware of this; he feared if that punishment had to do with some people at his place but the angels put him at peace by telling him that Allah gives him the good news of the birth of his son (and grandson) as Allah has not sent the angels to punish the dwellers at this site; his wife Sarah was nearby and she heard the good news about the birth of Isaac so she came out to them as she knew then that they were angels and exclaimed with wonder how that would happen when she is an old barren woman (and her respectable husband is so very old); the angels told her that it would happen as Allah has declared it; He certainly is Most Wise, Most Knowing; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as Ibrahim understood that they had descended specifically to punish some people so he asked them directly what was the actual purpose of their descent;

they told him that Allah actually has sent them to punish the filthy people of Sodom and Gomorrah that are involved in the most heinous immoral crimes; they even told him the manner of the punishment to them as "they said - surely we are sent to guilty people that we may send down upon them stones of clay that are sent forth with markings from your Lord for the wanton people" (AAYAT-32, 33 & 34); Allah tells that He saved the believers therein though there only was one house of the Muslims (that was of Lot-AS and even from there, his wife stayed behind with her nation that was punished severely) and so He made them lesson ahead that He would punish all such persons who commit any of major sins together (especially of this most shameful nature) even at the world most severely so this makes the most wrong persons to have fear to commit this heinous shameful act; see also the supplementary note at AAYAT-69 at the seventh Ruku of Surah HOODH; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next nine AAYAAT of the Ruku (from 38 to 46) mention about the punishments that Allah gave respectively to Pharaoh and his force, AAD (the people of HOODH-AS), THAMUD (the people of SALEH-AS) and the people of Noah-AS; these AAYAAT read, "and there is lesson in (the event related about) Musa when We sent him to Pharaoh with clear authority; but he turned away with his forces and said - a magician or a mad man; so We seized him and his hosts and hurled them into the sea and he certainly was blamable; and in (the event related about) AAD when We sent upon them the destructive wind; it did not leave aught on which it blew, but it made it like ashes; and in (the event related about) THAMUD when it was said to them - enjoy yourselves for a while; but they revolted against the commandment of their Lord, so the rumbling overtook them while they saw (that most clearly); so they were not able to rise up, nor could they defend themselves; and the people of Noah before (were punished severely), surely they were the most transgressing people"; this is to emphasize the fact that Allah does not leave the evil unchecked at the world and clears it time and again so the severe punishment that He gives to the most extreme disbelievers remains His blessing to all true believers who live-on their lives at the world with all attention towards Him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the third Ruku starts from AAYAT-47 which emphasizes that Allah prepared everything in beautiful order for the mankind to secure his life in the physical manner; and He sent His Messengers so that all persons accept His message and get their spiritual safety too; the only aim for the mankind is to serve Allah, the true Lord, and they would not worry about getting the worldly assets in plenty by their efforts but they would try their best to get only the pleasure of Allah by committing the good virtuous deeds; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first three AAYAAT of the last Ruku tell about the set-up of the heaven and the earth that Allah has created them most beautifully to care about the mankind; these three AAYAAT read, "We have built the heaven with might, and We it is Who make the vast extent (thereof); and the earth, We have made it a wide extent; how well have We then spread (it) out; and of everything We have created pairs that you may be mindful"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next couple of AAYAAT ask Muhammad PBUH to ask all of mankind to be attentive to Allah (in their deeds as AKHIRAT would certainly come) by reminding them that surely he is plain warner to all of them from Allah (Who has made him His last Messenger) and to ask all of mankind not to take anyone equal in authority to Allah (but only believe in TAUHID firmly); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next couple of AAYAAT that are 52 & 53 tell about the attitude of the disbelievers and AAYAAT-54 & 55 guide Muhammad PBUH to the attitude that he would take in such situation; they read, "thus there did not come to those before them an apostle but they said - a magician or a mad man; have they charged each other with this?; (that all their disbelieving descendants would say similar adverse things against any Messenger of Allah who comes in them); nay - they are an inordinate people (that are most disobedient to Allah); then (O Muhammad PBUH) turn your back upon them (and do not give any care to them) for you are not to blame (once you have provided the fundamental teachings of Islam clearly to them); and continue to remind (those who come to Islam by the Quran), for surely the reminder profits the true believers"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the fundamental teachings of Islam are TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord); AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment); RISALAT (Allah sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT explicitly provides the only aim of life that Allah created the jinn and the mankind so that they truly worship Him with total obedience to Him with love; note that every creation of Allah worships Him as it knows well that He only is the Creator of all, with total obedience as it has no option but to do it; only the jinn and the mankind have the free-will and Allah tells them clearly that their aim of life too like all other of His creation, is that they would remain totally attentive to the command of Allah with the free-will that He has provided to them by His will; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the three AAYAAT that are 56, 57 & 58 read, "and I have not created the jinn and the mankind except that they should serve Me (with total belief in the Islamic fundamental teachings); I do not desire from them any sustenance and I do not desire that they should feed Me (and Allah does not need that certainly); surely Allah is He Who bestows sustenance (to all His creation), the Lord Who has all Power, the Strong"; so all among the mankind (and the jinn) would believe in the fundamental teachings of Islam by their free-will; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT tell clearly that the disbelievers have done their wrong deeds to extreme now and very soon, there would come such day to them even at their worldly lives that would put the most severe torment to them; they read, "so surely those who are unjust shall have portion like the portion of their companions, therefore let them not ask Me to hasten on; therefore woe to those who disbelieve because of their day which they are threatened with"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah TOOR

(Consists of 2 Ruku; MK-10)

1. I swear by the Mountain TOOR,
2. And the Book written
3. In an outstretched fine parchment,

4. And the House (KA'BAH) that is visited,
5. And the elevated canopy
6. And the swollen sea
7. Most surely the punishment of your Lord will come to pass;
8. There shall be none to avert it;
9. On the day when the heaven shall move from side to side
10. And the mountains shall pass away in the manner they have to (altogether).
11. Then woe on that day to those who reject (the Truth),
12. Those who make jests in talk of grave matters.
13. The day on which they shall be driven away to the fire of hell with violence.
14. This is the fire which you used to reject totally.
15. Is it magic then or do you not see?
16. Enter into it, then bear (it) patiently, or do not bear (it) patiently, it is the same to you; you shall be requited only (for) what you did.
17. Surely those who guard (against evil) shall be in gardens and bliss
18. Rejoicing because of what their Lord gave them, and their Lord saved them from the punishment of the burning fire.
19. Eat and drink pleasantly for what you did,
20. Reclining on thrones set in lines, and We will unite them to large-eyed beautiful ones.
21. And (as for) those who believe and their offspring follow them in belief, We will unite with them their offspring and We will not diminish to them aught of their work; every man is responsible for what he shall have wrought.
22. And We will aid them with fruit and flesh such as they desire.

23. They shall pass therein from one to another a cup wherein there shall be nothing vain nor any sin.
24. And round them shall go boys for them (at their service) as if they were hidden pearls.
25. And some of them shall advance towards others questioning each other.
26. Saying: Surely we feared before in our families:
27. But Allah has been gracious to us and He has saved us from the punishment of the hot wind:
28. Surely we called upon Him before: Surely He is the Benign, the Merciful.
29. Therefore continue to remind, for by the grace of your Lord, you are not a soothsayer, or a madman.
30. Or do they say: A poet, we wait for him the evil accidents of time.
31. Say: Wait, for surely I too with you am of those who wait.
32. Or do their understandings bid them this? Or are they an inordinate people?
33. Or do they say: He has forged it. Nay - they do not believe.
34. Then let them bring an announcement like it if they are truthful.
35. Or were they created without there being anything, or are they the creators?
36. Or did they create the heavens and the earth? Nay - they have no certainty.
37. Or have they the treasures of your Lord with them? Or have they been set in absolute authority?

38. Or have they any stairway (unto heaven) by means of which they overhear (decrees)? Then let their listener bring a clear authority.

39. Or has He daughters while you have sons?

40. Or do you ask them for a reward, so that they are overburdened by a debt?

41. Or have they the unseen so that they write (it) down?

42. Or do they desire a plot? But those who disbelieve shall be the vanquished ones in such plot.

43. Or have they a god other than Allah? Glory be to Allah from what they set up (with Him).

44. And if they should see a portion of the heaven coming down, they would say: Piled up clouds.

45. Leave them then till they meet that day of theirs wherein they shall be made to swoon (with terror):

46. The day on which their struggle shall not avail them aught, nor shall they be helped.

47. And surely those who are unjust shall have a punishment besides that (in the world), but most of them do not know.

48. And wait patiently for the judgment of your Lord, for surely you are before Our eyes, and sing the praise of your Lord when you rise;

49. And in the night, give Him glory too, and at the setting of the stars.

Surah TOOR comprises of two Ruku in which the first Ruku has 28 AAYAAT (that mostly tells about the manner of lives of the disbelievers at AKHIRAT and also of the manner of lives of the true Muslims there) and the second Ruku has 21

AAYAAT (that mostly tells about the manner of lives of the disbelievers at the world and asks Muhammad PBUH - and also all of the Muslims in his following - to go on spreading the message of Islam without any care to things that the disbelievers say here); Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah takes the oath in the first six AAYAAT of the Surah and then the seventh AAYAT relates the object of the oath; the six AAYAAT at the beginning read, "I swear by the Mountain TOOR (that was the place where Allah spoke with Moses-AS); and the Book written (i.e. Torah), in an outstretched fine parchment (that were beautiful slabs); and the House (KA'BAH and the adjacent area i.e. HARAM where Allah provided much of the Quran, His most beautiful gift to the mankind, to Muhammad PBUH) that is (most) visited; and the elevated canopy (above this area where the beautiful birds fly splendidly, which shields it specifically from all satanic things); and the swollen sea (nearby where the beautiful fish swim splendidly)"; it is difficult to comment about the swollen sea but note that all of this oath expresses that Allah has provided the fundamental teachings of Islam to all of mankind for their spiritual safety and He has kept them physically safe to live their lives, so they need to live their lives according to the fundamental teachings of Islam and if they do not do it, they would face the most severe punishment; note also that the next three AAYAAT (i.e. 8, 9 & 10) tell about the last day of the world and the AAYAAT ahead of them tell about the first day of AKHIRAT; this also is the manner of expression at Surah TAKWIR where its first six AAYAAT relate the six events at the last day of the world (i.e. QIYAMAT) and its next eight AAYAAT relate the six events at the Day of Judgment (the day of HASHR); this is how the Quran presents the issues related to the man and so this needs his high alertness to study it good by its context; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so the next three AAYAAT tell about that day when it would become most obvious that the punishment to the disbelievers is certain to take place so that would be the last day of the world (which is named as QIYAMAT); then the couple of AAYAAT that are 11 & 12 (and also AAYAAT ahead) tell about the Day of Judgment (the Day of HASHR) when the true placement of every person would become most obvious (which is also named as YAUMUL-QIYAMAT); the next four AAYAAT tell about the punishment of the disbelievers there, and then till last of the Ruku, all AAYAAT tell about the true believers there that how beautifully they would enjoy at JANNAAT (the gardens full of all wonderful pleasures); Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-8, 9 & 10 read, "there shall be none to avert it (i.e. the last day of the world); on the day when the heaven shall move from side to side; and the mountains shall pass away in the manner they have to"; the Quran has depicted this day that is QIYAMAT at different places and at this place, it tells about the heaven just above the earth that it would shake and about the mountains that they would fly about; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next couple of AAYAAT read, "then woe on that day to those who reject (the Truth i.e. the fundamental teachings of Islam); those who make jests in talk of grave matters (that bring no benefits at AKHIRAT but lead to getting sins there)"; note the word "then" at the beginning here which denotes that there is certain space between QIYAMAT (when there would be the first blow at trumpet to end all persons that are alive at that time by the will of Allah) and the Day of Judgment (when the second blow at it would raise all from dead by the will of Allah); Surah NAZI'AAT tells about both of these blows at AAYAAT-7 & 8 that read, "the day on which the quaking one shall quake (that would be the first blow at the trumpet); what must happen afterwards shall follow it (that would be the second blow at the trumpet)"; the Judgment would take place (for all of mankind and for all of jinn) after that second blow; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-13 to 16 tell about the disbelievers there at AKHIRAT; these AAYAAT read, "the day on which they shall be driven away to the fire of hell with violence; this is the fire which you used to reject totally; is it magic then or do you not see?; enter into it, then bear (it) patiently, or do not bear (it) patiently, it is the same to you; you shall be requited only (for) what you did"; from AAYAT-17 to the last of the Ruku, all AAYAAT relate about the true Muslims who lived by TAQWA at the world; note that TAQWA means the attitude of the heart that comes by the true belief upon Allah with both fear and hope towards Him when he has totally thrown away all the worldly base desires and that leads to the most virtuous deeds; all persons need to remember the event that relates to Adam-AS that when Allah sent him to the world, He told him that those among his descendants would get the JANNAH, their actual dwelling place, who keep to righteousness in their belief and deeds; but those who disbelieve and reject the true guidance, they would be put into the hell-fire so all Muslims must fear Allah that they do not get His displeasure by their sins becoming so sinful that they lose the chance to regain JANNAH and with that, they also must have such hope to Him that He would keep them safe from the Satan at all times and at all places; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Quran tells all of the mankind that Allah made the earth as an easy ground for them all to live in and made the heaven as the roof to all of them; He sent waters from the heaven upon the earth and took out fruits of earth by that for them as edibles; this all is which they certainly see clearly so they must not take anyone equal to Him in power as He only has the ASL (true) authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the AAYAAT depict the living manner of the true Muslims at AKHIRAT that they would be at JANNAAT (the beautiful gardens of paradise; it is the plural of JANNAH) and would be enjoying the happiness there; they would be totally happy there because of the blessing of Allah for them and because Allah saved them from the punishment of the hell-fire; they would be allowed to eat and drink with all enjoyment there as they sit in couches that are set in rows because they had done the virtuous deeds with the true belief; and Allah would wed them to HOORS (the most beautiful women at JANNAAT) who would have the most lovely wide eyes; note about HOORS that these fairest of women would be the dwellers of JANNAAT who would be included in the blessing for the righteous men who achieve success at AKHIRAT and those righteous women too who had spent their lives in the most virtuous manner at their worldly life, would enter JANNAAT where they would be transformed to most beautiful HOORS; these all good women would have purity in every manner and the women who receive it after their success at AKHIRAT, they also would become companions to their respective husbands there with purity so if the husband of a woman there is at the upper level, she would be raised to that level and if a woman is at the upper level there, her husband would be raised to that level so that they live-on together; note that the upright men would have more than one wife there but the upright women would remain attached to their respective husbands there; if the husband of any upright woman does not get his entry there, she would be married to one of the upright men who has received his placement there; this is due to the respective inclinations of both at their insides and Islam takes care to it not only for the life at the world here but also for the true life at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-21 reads, "and (as for) those who believe and their offspring follow them in belief, We will unite with them their offspring and We will not diminish to them aught of their work; every man is responsible for what he shall have wrought"; so all such close relatives of the person who is at the higher level in JANNAH (the paradise), who also have achieved it though at lower level, Allah would elevate them to his level without any decrease in his status so that they live-on in the happy mode by which they had lived their virtuous lives at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah would provide them the wonderful fruits and the most fine meat there extensively as they desire; note that consumption of the meat of birds (that have wings to fly with ease) at the world is not appreciable in Islam and note also that it most highly blames the act to put them into cages that deprives them to live at their actual habitat; Al-Hamdu Lillah; they would playfully challenge each other there by grabbing the cup of wine, but there would not be any foul talks in that nor any cause of sin; so it would be pleasant

there and there would be such boys who would be assigned to them so as to serve them and who would glow handsomely; this needs some elaboration and for that, please note that Islam gives utmost care to HEJAB (the attitude of reservation among the Muslim women) which has three aspects to it; the first aspect is that the Muslim woman must not leave her home except for some necessity (the decision about necessity would be hers, when she does care in practice about the basic teachings of Islam); the second aspect is that when she goes out of her home at some necessity and the environment is such that in general, the men care not to trouble her in any way then she might go out with her face, hands up-to wrist and feet up-to ankles uncovered though even then she would cover the whole body plus hair necessarily but if the environment is otherwise, then she would take care to cover her face too except for eyes; the third aspect is connected to the first that as soon as the necessity ends, she would return to her home without any waste of time as the basic place for her activity is her home for sure; note that JANNAH also gives the care to HEJAB where the most beautiful women would be most attentive to their respective husbands only (and would have no inclination to any other man) so for works there in general, they would command these boys who would be extremely committed to their tasks; Surah RAHMAN says, "in them will be maidens that are chaste, restraining their glances, whom no man or jinn before them has touched; then which of the favors of your Lord will you deny?"; as if they are rubies and coral-stone; then which of the favors of your Lord will you deny?" (AAYAAT-56 to 59); other of the fairest of women

there at other of JANNAH (that is higher in level than the previous) that are termed as HOORS, would enjoy their lives in seclusion at some wonderful place with their respective husbands who would certainly be most courteous to them; the relevant AAYAAT read, "in them are goodly maidens, beautiful ones; then which of the favors of your Lord will you deny?"; they are HOORS that are confined to the pavilions; then which of the favors of your Lord will you deny?" (AAYAAT-70 to 73); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last four AAYAAT here at the first RUKU of Surah TOOR read, "and some of them shall advance towards others questioning each other (about their arrival to JANNAH); saying (about their own)-surely we feared before in our families (whether our good deeds are acceptable at the court of Allah or not); but Allah has been gracious to us and He has saved us from the punishment of the hot wind (i.e. the touch of the hell-fire); surely we called upon Him before (i.e. we always remembered, praised and asked Him only for all our safety, in all situations of our lives); surely He is the Benign, the Merciful"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second Ruku tells about the wrong things that the disbelievers say and it asks the Prophet PBUH not to care about their speech but go on with his work of providing the true guidance to all; the first three AAYAAT of the Ruku ask him to go on reminding all persons by the Quran that they need to comply to the commands of Allah only, as by the blessing of Allah, his true Lord, he certainly is not a soothsayer who tells future by guesswork or a madman as these disbelievers call him; also, he is not a poet who presents vague ideas and even if they have decided to wait for the accident that the time brings upon him (which means that they had decided to wait for his death but certainly the fundamental teachings of Islam stay-on) then he would tell them explicitly that not only they would wait for accidents but he also would wait for them and very soon, they would see who gets the adverse effect of those accidents; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next 12 AAYAAT present their speech against the true guidance that Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, had presented to them; 11 of these AAYAAT start by the word "UM" (that means "is it so" and here it implies as "OR") where the "U" reads as in "Up"; these AAYAAT sum up the view of the disbelievers for their rejection of the guidance that the Prophet PBUH had presented to them and these AAYAAT not only present it but also answers it where appropriate or ask them to reflect on what idiocy it is that they are saying; the first thing that these AAYAAT tell is that they are incompetent to understand the righteous matters because they are most disobedient to Allah; the second thing that these AAYAAT tell is that their disbelief has led them to such error that they speak out bluntly without any care to reasoning, that the Prophet PBUH had written the Quran himself; so why do not they prove their foolish stance by bringing something like the Quran by themselves but they would not do it as they know most clearly their incompetence to it; the third thing is that they know that they are created and they also know that they have not created their own selves so most certainly, it is Allah Who has created them; note here that the Quran presents its guidance in the most simple manner and does not even care to glance at the idiocy that the dark philosophy has argued in the discussion of such delicate matters as the creation of the mankind; the fact of the matter is that when the mankind exists, it has been created and its Creator is Allah, the One Who has created all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the fourth thing is that they know that they have not created the heavens and the earth but even after the knowledge of that, they do not understand that this all is not useless as Allah has placed the mankind beautifully to fulfill His commands to get his true residing place i.e. JANNAH at the Day of Judgment; the true knowledge that Allah has created the heavens and the earth would lead them to live in compliance to His commands yet they do not have that true knowledge that might affect them positively; the fifth thing is that they object that Muhammad PBUH is not a rich person among them so what argument is this because to be rich is not the requirement of being the Messenger of Allah; it is the will of Allah by which He provides more of worldly assets to some and lesser of them to others and they certainly do not control His treasures; and what idiocy it is that they want that they should decide about who would be the Messenger of Allah when the true authority belongs only to Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the sixth thing is that the Prophet PBUH gets the WAHI by which he understands the true guidance and teaches that to all persons but what are their means to listen to anything they take as guidance; if they have such rich person (i.e. any of their chiefs) who claims that he has listened to it, he should present his position with some reasoning; but there is no such person among their chiefs and there is nothing but WAHI from Allah to His Messenger that only provides the Guidance to the right path; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the seventh thing that these AAYAAT tell is that the disbelievers claim that the angels are the daughters of Allah for which they do not have any reasoning (and they consider daughters as most inferior to sons) yet they speak such heinous speech against Allah; the eighth thing is that the Prophet PBUH has not asked for any benefits from them at the world for the true guidance that he is providing to them; it is totally free of cost as Allah has asked him for that so he has the obligation to provide it to all peoples of the world and when he does not ask them for any material benefits, why do they feel irritated; the ninth thing is that there are persons in these disbelievers who think that they already have the knowledge of the unseen to keep themselves to guidance and they would write it down so they do not need any of the guidance that the Prophet PBUH is giving to them but this only is their wish without any basis and not actually the fact; the tenth thing is that they intend that some of their aggressive plot (especially some war) works against the Prophet PBUH but these disbelievers would taste the bitterness of their plots themselves (this happened in BADR where they challenged the Muslims to end their impression totally and lost that battle with heavy casualties); the eleventh thing is that they leave the worship of Allah and take different things as authority among the creation to which they attach themselves; this is their extreme error as it certainly is Allah only Who has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; they are so unconcerned to face any trial that if they find something disastrous coming upon them from the heaven, they would take it as some heavy clouds coming upon them; so leave them on their own O Muhammad PBUH; they certainly would face the Day of Judgment when they would feel extreme dizziness due to its occurrence upon them where their plots would not benefit them and they would not be helped; even in the world, they would face extreme trials besides the extreme punishment of that Day of Judgment but many of them are most unconcerned; so you O Muhammad PBUH - do wait patiently for the judgment of your Lord and certainly, you are in the utmost care of your Lord at all times and places; note that this assurance is so wonderful that it certainly ended the worry of the Prophet PBUH if any, that the disbelievers might harm him badly (and the Muslims) in some way or other; the seventh Ruku of Surah YOUNUS also tells him not to worry about whatever the disbelievers conspire against him as they would not be able to make any such trouble that stops him from spreading the teachings of the Quran, the message of Allah that He has provided finally, and they would not be able to cause any lethal attack on him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; and praise your Lord when you stand in SALAH whenever you rise from sleep (i.e. at TAHAJJUD); and also at other times of night (i.e. MAGHRIB and ISHA), and at the setting of stars (i.e. FAJR); Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah NAJM

(Consists of 3 Ruku; MK-3)

1. I swear by the star when it goes down.
2. Your companion does not err, nor does he go astray;
3. Nor does he speak out of desire.
4. It is naught but revelation that is revealed,
5. Which that who has extreme might, hath taught him
6. Who is vigorous; and he grew clear to view,
7. And he is in the highest part of the horizon.
8. Then he approached and came closer
9. So he was the measure of two bows or closer still.
10. And He revealed to His servant what He revealed.
11. The heart was not untrue in (making him see) what he saw.
12. What- do you then dispute with him as to what he saw?
13. And verily he saw him yet another time,
14. At the farthest lote-tree;
15. Near which is the garden, the place that is the resort.
16. When that which covers covered the lote-tree;
17. The eye did not turn aside, nor did it exceed the limit.
18. Certainly he saw of the greatest signs of his Lord.
19. Have you then considered the Laat and the Uzza,
20. And Manat, the third, the last?
21. What- for you the males and for Him the females!
22. This indeed is an unjust division!
23. They are naught but only names which you have named, you and your fathers; Allah has not sent for them any authority. They follow naught but conjecture and the low desires which (their) souls incline to; and certainly the guidance has come to them from their Lord.

24. Or shall man have what he wishes?
25. Nay- for Allah is the hereafter and the former (life).
26. And how many an angel is there in the heavens whose intercession does not avail at all except after Allah has given permission to whom He pleases and chooses.
27. Most surely they who do not believe in the hereafter name the angels with female names.
28. And they have no knowledge of it; they do not follow anything but conjecture, and surely conjecture does not avail against the truth at all.
29. Therefore turn aside from him who turns his back upon Our reminder and does not desire anything but this world's life.
30. That is their goal of knowledge; surely your Lord knows best him who goes astray from His path and He knows best him who follows the right direction.
31. And Allah's is what is in the heavens and what is in the earth, that He may reward those who do evil according to what they do, and (that) He may reward those who do good with goodness.
32. Those who keep aloof from the great sins and the indecencies but the passing idea; surely your Lord is liberal in forgiving. He knows you best when He created you from the earth, and when you were hidden in the bellies of your mothers; therefore, do not attribute purity to your souls; He knows him best who guards (against evil).
33. Have you then seen him who turns his back?
34. And gives a little and (then) withholds.
35. Has he the knowledge of the unseen so that he can see?

36. Or, has he not been informed of what is in the scriptures of Musa?

37. And (of) Ibrahim who fulfilled (the commandments):

38. That no bearer of burden shall bear the burden of another-

39. And that man shall have nothing but what he strives for-

40. And that his striving shall soon be seen-

41. Then shall he be paid for it with the fullest payment-

42. And that to your Lord is the goal-

43. And that He it is Who makes (men) laugh and makes (them) weep;

44. And that He it is Who causes death and gives life-

45. And that He created pairs, the male and the female

46. From the small seed when it is poured

47. And that on Him is the bringing forth the second time;

48. And that He it is Who enriches and gives to hold;

49. And that He is the Lord of the Sirius;

50. And that He did destroy the AAD of old

51. And THAMUD, so He spared not

52. And the people of Noah before; surely they were most unjust and inordinate;

53. And the overthrown cities did He overthrow,

54. So there covered them that which covered.

55. Which of your Lord's benefits will you then dispute about?

56. This is the warner among the warning persons of old.

57. The near event draws nigh.

58. There shall be none besides Allah to disclose it.

59. Do you then wonder at this announcement?

60. And will you laugh and not weep?

61. While you are indulging in varieties.
62. So make obeisance to Allah and serve (Him).

Surah NAJM has three Ruku that respectively comprise of 25 and 7 and 30 AAYAAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first Ruku explicitly tells that Muhammad PBUH saw the angel Gabriel-AS couple of times in his true form; Ahadith tell that the Prophet PBUH had seen him in his angelic form at the beginning when Allah chose him as His Messenger; WAHI (revelation from Allah) had ceased at that time for about 8 months or so (after the first revelation of the first five AAYAAT of Surah ALAQ and some AAYAAT of Surah QALAM) when seven initial AAYAAT of Surah MUDHDHATHIR descended; then came the first Ruku of Surah MUZZAMMIL so with these, Allah asked him to take up the task of spreading the fundamental teachings of Islam and so Allah appointed him as His last Messenger to all peoples of the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it was that time when he was returning from the cave AL-HIRA that the seven opening AAYAAT of MUDHDHATHIR descended and he saw Gabriel clearly in his beautiful angelic form who had filled the horizon at front extensively; the second time when he saw him was at the occasion of his ascension to heavens (MIRAJ) just a couple of years before Hijrah (his migration from Makkah to Madinah); Surah BANI-ISRAEL (also named as Surah ISRA) records this incident at its beginning, which descended at 6th to 10th year of the period of his stay at Makkah (though it relates his travel from Makkah to Jerusalem only i.e. ISRA) and Surah NAJM also mentions

MIRAJ in most clear terms (that relates his travel ahead that is his ascension to heavens); note that it is mentioned about Surah NAJM that it descended at the third year of the stay of the Prophet PBUH at Makkah (after Allah made him His Messenger with the assignment to spread the teachings of Islam) but MIRAJ relates to the 10th year or so of that stay; therefore note that it happens that some AAYAAT in a Surah relate to the later period than the period at which most of its AAYAAT had come and this seems the case here at Surah NAJM where some of the AAYAAT at its first Ruku seem to have descended at the year of MIRAJ (that are from AAYAT-13 to AAYAT-18); we know that the last AAYAT of the Quran by descent descended just few days before the passing away of the Prophet PBUH and that is AAYAT-281, the last AAYAT at the thirty-eighth Ruku of Surah BAQARAH which has forty Ruku in total; it tells all persons that they must fear that day where all would be returned to Allah to get their respective accounts of deeds; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the sequence of the recitation of the Quran as of now is according to the recitation of the Prophet PBUH so some of Surah (though only few) have AAYAAT inside them that were revealed later than other AAYAAT of it and inserted therein; keeping this detail in mind, we would go on with our study of Surah NAJM; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first twelve AAYAAT of the first Ruku state that the Prophet PBUH guides all peoples of the world by the Quran only and they also relate the incident where the Prophet PBUH first sighted Gabriel-AS in his angelic form; these AAYAAT read, "I swear by the star (the last one of them as the light dawns) when it goes down (i.e. fades away); your companion does not err (as Allah has provided safety to him from it in providing the message of the Quran), nor does he go astray (i.e. he does not have any inclination to change the Islamic teachings); nor does he speak out of desire (taking few teachings by choice and leaving others); it is naught but revelation (in the Quran) that is revealed which that (angel Gabriel) who has extreme might, has taught him (by the command of Allah); that angel is vigorous; and he grew clear to view (when Muhammad PBUH saw him) and he is in the highest part of the horizon (in front of him); then he approached and came closer; so he was the measure of two bows or closer still (i.e. he was very near to him physically); and he (i.e. the angel) revealed to His servant (i.e. the servant of Allah) what he revealed (i.e. the AAYAAT of Surah MUDHDHATHIR); the heart (of Muhammad PBUH) was not untrue in what he saw (i.e. the angel in his true form); what- do you then dispute with him as to what he saw?"; these AAYAAT imply that when the final message of Allah (the Holy Book Quran) has come to all peoples of the world, all other guidance faded away; the simile to make the issue clear (without touching the most high status of the Quran) is of the light of the sun by which the stars fade away; note that when Allah takes oath of something, it is most related to the issue that He presents by that oath and though the Quran is direct in its address to mankind, yet such oaths may provide symbols that are related to the addressed issues; so this true guidance that the Quran provides is not based on whims of the Prophet PBUH but it is the message of Allah that Allah has provided to all peoples of the world by Muhammad PBUH whom He has chosen as His last Messenger to all of them; his belief is based on his sight as he has seen Gabriel-AS in his angelic form; when even the disbelievers take him as the most truthful person among them, how do they reject his teachings (i.e. the fundamental teachings of Islam) which he provides to them by sight of the angel (and in which he has total belief without any doubts); so they undoubtedly need to revise their attitude towards the Prophet PBUH and believe in him most committedly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-13 to 18 relate the incident of MIRAJ when the Prophet PBUH saw Gabriel-AS in his angelic form the second time near the lote-tree (that is the boundary at the seventh heaven from where no one is allowed entrance ahead) to where the Prophet PBUH had accompanied him; this incident happened couple of years before his migration to Madinah when in the company of Gabriel, he had gone from Makkah to the place of the mosque at Jerusalem at night that is named as ISRA and then from there, he went to heavens with him (i.e. MIRAJ) in the same night; Surah NAJM relates about MIRAJ at these AAYAAT while Surah BANI ISRAEL relates about ISRA; note that Ahadith have given much detail to MIRAJ and that was the time when Allah asked Muhammad PBUH to command the Muslims to read five SALAH daily so SALAH certainly has highest of magnificence in the worship of Allah as He gave its command to the Prophet PBUH at MIRAJ when He had called him at heavens; Al-Hamdu Lillah; though ISRA was physical in nature (i.e. travel to Jerusalem with surprising velocity in terms of those times) yet the ascension to heavens (MIRAJ) from there seems to be most amazing spiritual issue (but very real event) that is not easy to comment upon and I, MSD, would not touch any discussion to its nature; these AAYAAT read, "and verily he (i.e. Muhammad PBUH) saw him yet another time; (that was) at the farthest lote-tree (which was much more beautiful than how it is found at the world); near which is the garden (JANNAH), the place that is the resort (perhaps that was the place where Adam-AS and Eve-AS had resided before their descent to earth); when that which covers covered the lote-tree (i.e. there were angels upon it); the eye did not turn aside (so he saw Gabriel-AS clearly in his angelic form who remained the focus to his eyes), nor did it exceed the limit (so there certainly was no disrespect in his view of Gabriel); certainly he saw of the greatest signs of his Lord (so even though he did not see Allah, he did see many of His greatest signs there at his most holy visit i.e. at MIRAJ)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; now, from AAYAT-19 to AAYAT-25 (which is the last AAYAT of the Ruku), the Ruku discusses the attitude of the disbelievers and how the Prophet PBUH would deal with that; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT tell that what idiocy these disbelievers display by their worship of the idols Laat and Uzza and also Manat, the last one of them as that was the furthest idol from Makkah; note that they had given female names to these idols which they and their fore-fathers had named by their own whims; the AAYAAT tell that they appreciate male offspring for themselves and for Allah, they say even about angels that they are His daughters; it is most erroneous to believe that any of His creation is His son or His daughter but these disbelievers have taken the angels as His daughters and their evil increases even more when they take the birth of daughters to them as an insult to themselves; these are names only which they and their forefathers have named by their own whims that Allah does not appreciate; He has not sent for them any authority about the wrongs they commit but He has given them the guidance of the Quran that guides them to their true benefits and yet they only follow their whims without any care to AKHIRAT; O Muhammad PBUH - you do have good wishes for them that they accept the true guidance by accepting the fundamental teachings of Islam and save themselves from the torments at AKHIRAT yet the man does not have all what he wishes; it is Allah Who would decide whether they are worthy of belief in the fundamental teachings of Islam or not; certainly, it is Allah only Who applies His will at AKHIRAT and even at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next Ruku starts by the statement that no one among the respectable angels even, that are in the heavens, would become so bold as to favor any person's case in front of Allah though they are so very pious with their attention towards Him, except when He allows anyone of them to speak for someone and wants to acquit that person by His own will; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that Allah would give the right to SHAFAT (the recommendation for pardon at the Day of Judgment to Allah by any of highly good Muslim persons especially the last Prophet Muhammad PBUH and these Muslims also include the respectable angels at heavens) yet it would only be valid for those sinful persons who rise from the graves as the good believers in the fundamental teachings of Islam, whom He intends to get safety from the hell-fire; it would strictly apply there to the specific subject and the specific object in this issue and it is extreme idiocy to become uncaring to the good deeds by the concept of SHAF'AAT so this concept does test the Muslim person most highly at his life at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next five AAYAAT (from AAYAT-27 to AAYAT-31) tell about the inclination of disbelievers in AKHIRAT and the result that they would receive there; these AAYAAT read, "most surely they who do not believe in the hereafter name the angels with female names (this is the outcome of their disbelief in AKHIRAT and certainly the angels are such creation of Allah that are not related to any gender; they obey Allah most committedly without question); and they (disbelievers) have no knowledge of it (what they are saying about angels); they do not follow anything but conjecture (that relates to their whims), and surely conjecture does not avail against the Truth (the fundamental teachings of Islam) at all; therefore (O Muhammad PBUH) turn aside from him (and leave him on his own) who turns his back upon Our reminder (the Quran) and does not desire anything but this world's life; that (achievements at their lives here) is their goal of knowledge (and they are unable to see beyond this limited view); surely your Lord knows best him who goes astray from His path (remaining oblivious to the teachings of the Quran) and He knows best him who follows the right direction (by his total preference of AKHIRAT over the worldly life with his commitment to the Quran); and Allah's is what is in the heavens and what is in the earth, that He may (ultimately) reward those who do evil according to what they do (at AKHIRAT), and that He may (ultimately) reward those who do good with goodness (at AKHIRAT)"; A-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of this Ruku tells about those who do good with total goodness that these persons are such who avoid all major sins that relate to injustice or/and that relate to shameful activities; however Allah would forgive their minor wrongful acts (which even by their efforts, they find unavoidable due to the set-up of the environment they live-in but under protest); most certainly Allah, the true Lord, has the most extensive Mercy so He would forgive that if the Muslim person is at the height of goodness; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so if they avoid the commitment of the most heinous major sins from which Allah has most clearly demanded to keep away (by the Quran) then Allah would forgive all sinful activities that lead towards them (as they are acts that ask to tend towards major sins but practical avoidance of major sins would eliminate their impression totally; Al-Hamdu Lillah); note that based on the teachings of the Holy Book Quran and the Sunnah of the last Prophet Muhammad PBUH, Islam is the only challenger today to injustice (initiated mostly by the wrong men) and shameful activities (initiated mostly by the wrong women); with that, Islam asks to keep attention towards Allah only with the belief that He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the man has to see that nothing objectionable by the Islamic values takes place by the strength he has (and that might be his official strength) that leads to the occurrence of injustice and the woman has to see keeping to HEJAB that nothing adverse to the Islamic values takes place by her natural beauty that might attract men to the occurrence of shameful behavior; the Islamic administration must give attention at the environment for both of these matters by ADL (by instructions at the law of the land) and by EHSAAN (by directions towards the natural good tendency of the man to remain within utmost decency with leniency) respectively; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so all sins (besides the biggest sin of taking any-one as equal to Allah in authority that is called SHERK) might be divided into two categories that are injustice and shameful activities; the Quran asks to keep guard against these two category of sins at many places as for instance Surah ANKABUT-45, Surah BAQARAH- 168 & 169 (we studied them at the Ruku-21 of Surah BAQARAH), Surah NAHL-90, Surah BANI-ISRA'IL-32 & 33; there are other AAYAAT too that ask the Muslims to keep away from SHERK and from all of injustice and all of shameful activities (AAYAT-32 of Surah NAJM is also included in them); may Allah save all the true Muslims from all major sins; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this AAYAT also tells that "Allah knows you best when He created you from the earth (that is when He created Adam, the father to the mankind), and when you were hidden in the bellies of your mothers (before your birth); therefore do not attribute purity to your souls (as physically you have come to existence from the earth and then from the sperm inside the wombs of your mothers); He knows him best who guards (against evil; and that actually gives the true height to the man who actually is spiritual in nature)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first couple of AAYAAT of the last Ruku tell about such persons who are disbelievers yet they sometimes do fear that they would have to face the torments of the hell-fire due to their wrongs, at AKHIRAT; due to this fear that holds them for some period, they give amounts to those who assure them that they would take care that they do not receive any punishments when they rise from dead (though they are extreme liars and such expenditure with such intention is extreme idiocy) but as their fear fades away, they stop the payment of such amounts too; the next eight AAYAAT answer such idiocy that read, "has he the knowledge of the unseen so that he can see (such result that payment of amounts to some person would save him at the Day of Judgment)? -; or has he not been informed of what is in the scriptures of Musa? -; and of Ibrahim who fulfilled (the commandments of Allah; so even he cared to do the good deeds); that no bearer of burden shall bear the burden of another (at the Day of Judgment)-; and that man shall have nothing but what he strives for (there)-; and that his striving shall soon be seen (and he would receive what he deserves according to that)-; then shall he be paid for it with the fullest payment; and that to your Lord is the goal (that He would decide the result for every person according to his doings)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next twelve AAYAAT tell about the total authority of Allah and the last eight AAYAAT of this last Ruku ask to understand that the Day of Judgment would come certainly so every person needs to worry about that before his death without raising surprises to the message of the Quran (that tells explicitly that the true Judgment would certainly take place); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the twelve AAYAAT from 43 to 54 read, "and that He it is Who makes (men) laugh and makes (them) weep (so every pleasure to them comes by His will and every trouble to them comes by His will); and that He it is Who causes death and gives life (He is the only Creator of all the creation with all authority over them); and that He created pairs, the male and the female from the sperm when it is poured; and that on Him is the bringing forth the second time (at Resurrection

when He would raise all from dead); and that He it is Who enriches (any person He wills to give plenty of assets of the world to examine his attitudes) and gives to hold (so that assets remain with him to the period He wills); and that He (also) is the Lord of the Sirius (the brightest star named as the dog-star too that is in the star-system that is the nearest to the solar system; note that some of disbelievers used to worship it at the ancient times); and that He did destroy the AAD of old (that was the nation of HOODH-AS); and THAMUD (that was the nation of SALEH-AS and that nation is sometimes named as the second AAD), so He spared not; and the people of Noah before as they surely were most unjust and inordinate (in their disobedience); and the overthrown cities (that were of Sodom and Gomorrah) did He overthrow; so there covered them that which covered (that were stones falling upon them continuously)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last eight AAYAAT direct all of the mankind to worry about the Day of Judgment rather than remain most oblivious to it; they read, "which of your Lord's benefits will you then dispute about (as He has provided all peoples the space to accept the fundamental teachings of Islam that they have received by Muhammad PBUH, the last of all Messengers)? -this (Prophet PBUH) is the warner as were the warning persons (that were Prophets-AS) of old; the near event (the Day of Judgment) draws nigh; there shall be none besides Allah to disclose it; do you then wonder at this announcement? -and will you laugh (at this warning) and not weep (in the fear of it)? -while you are indulging in varieties (of amusement at life at the world); so (leave all these things and) make obeisance to Allah and serve (Him only)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah QAMAR

(Consists of 3 Ruku; MK-4)

1. The hour drew nigh and the moon did rend asunder.
2. And if they see a sign they turn aside and say: transient magic.
3. And they call (it) a lie, and follow their low desires; and every affair has its appointed term.
4. And certainly some narratives have come to them wherein is prevention
5. (Wherein is) consummate wisdom-- but warnings do not avail;
6. So turn (your) back on them (for) the day when the inviter shall invite them to painful task,
7. Their eyes cast down, going forth from their graves as if they were scattered locusts,
8. Hastening to the inviter. The disbelievers shall say: This is hard day.
9. Before them the people of Noah rejected; so they rejected Our servant and called (him) mad, and he was driven away.
10. Therefore he called upon his Lord: I am overcome, come Thou then to help.
11. So We opened the gates of the cloud with water pouring
12. And We made water to flow forth in the land in springs, so the water gathered together according to a measure already ordained.

13. And We bore him on that which was made of planks and nails
14. Sailing, before Our eyes, a reward for him who was denied.
15. And certainly We left it as a sign, but is there anyone who will mind?
16. How (severe) was then My punishment and My warning!
17. And certainly We have made the Quran easy for remembrance, but is there anyone who will mind?
18. AAD treated (the truth) as a lie, so how (severe) was My punishment and My warning!
19. Surely We sent on them raging wind-storm in a day of bitter ill-luck
20. Tearing men away as if they were the trunks of palm-trees torn up.
21. How (severe) was then My punishment and My warning!
22. And certainly We have made the Quran easy for remembrance, but is there anyone who will mind?
23. THAMUD rejected the warning.
24. So they said: What! a single mortal from among us! Shall we follow him? Most surely we shall in that case be in sure error and distress:
25. Has the reminder been made to light upon him from among us? Nay- he is an insolent liar!
26. Tomorrow shall they know who the liar is, the insolent one.
27. Surely We are going to send the she-camel as a trial for them; therefore, watch them and have patience.
28. And inform them that the water is shared between them; every share of the water shall be regulated.

29. But they called their companion, so he took (the sword) and slew (her).

30. How (severe) was then My punishment and My warning!

31. Surely We sent upon them a single cry, so they were like the dry fragments of trees which the maker of an enclosure collects.

32. And certainly We have made the Quran easy for remembrance, but is there anyone who will mind?

33. The people of Lot treated the warning as a lie.

34. Surely We sent upon them a stone-storm, except Lot's followers; We saved them a little before daybreak,

35. A favor from Us; thus do We reward him who gives thanks.

36. And certainly he warned them of Our violent seizure, but they obstinately disputed the warning.

37. And certainly they endeavored to turn him from his guests, but We blinded their eyes; so taste My chastisement and My warning.

38. And certainly a lasting chastisement overtook them in the morning.

39. So taste My chastisement and My warning.

40. And certainly We have made the Quran easy for remembrance, but is there anyone who will mind?

41. And certainly the warnings came to Pharaoh's people.

42. They rejected all Our AAYAAT, so We overtook them in the manner of the Mighty, Powerful One.

43. Are the disbelievers of yours better than these, or is there an exemption for you in the scriptures?

44. Or do they say: We are a host allied together to help each other?

45. Soon shall the hosts be routed, and they shall turn (their) backs.
46. Nay, the hour is their promised time, and the hour shall be most grievous and bitter.
47. Surely the guilty are in error and distress.
48. On the day when they shall be dragged upon their faces into the fire; taste the touch of hell.
49. Surely We have created everything according to measure.
50. And Our command is but one, as the twinkling of eye.
51. And certainly We have already destroyed the likes of you, but is there anyone who will mind?
52. And everything they have done is in the writings.
53. And everything small and great is written down.
54. Surely those who guard (against evil) shall be in gardens and rivers,
55. In the seat of honor near to the most Powerful King.

Surah QAMAR comprises of three Ruku that have 22 & 18 & 15 AAYAAT respectively in them; the Surah focuses on providing the message for the Day of Judgment and like Surah NAJM, directs all of the mankind to worry about that most significant day rather than remain oblivious to it; Surah NAJM narrated the destruction of those peoples in brief (from AAYAT-50 to AAYAT-54) in whom the respectable Messengers of Allah came (but they showed disrespect to them) and this Surah gives some detail to that brief account to show that even in the world, the space to accept the fundamental teachings of Islam ends totally when some nation rejects those teachings when they come to them in most explicit manner; so the rejection of the Islamic fundamental teachings not only brings the most severe punishment at AKHIRAT but it also puts the most severe punishment at the world too; it tells that the Quran presents all the necessary commands that Allah has given to the mankind and all persons need to take them with all fervor; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Surah starts by the statement that the Hour has come very near and the Moon is torn apart; the Hour means QIYAMAT i.e. the last day of the world here but there are places at the Quran where it means the Day of Judgment and AAYAT-46 of this Surah has the term in this latter meaning; this event about the Moon took place near to MAKKAH when the Prophet PBUH was at MINA and he indicated this when the Moon was full and it seemed quite shaken at that time for few seconds as seen from the earth; note that the full moon rises just after the sunset and the people used to retire from activity early in those days so most of the people (even in Arabia) did not witness this incident that must have continued only for very few moments and though the assumption is that it split into two parts clearly but in-fact it was some very great wobble in the Moon that apparently showed it bit apart as seen from the earth and that only for a very little while; Surah QAMAR (which means the Moon) that we study, tells in the very beginning, "Near came the Hour and the Moon split" and this verse indicates this very incident so this also is one of the major signs of QAYAMAT; it is the second one as the first one is the arrival of Muhammad PBUH as the last Messenger of Allah to all peoples of the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second

AAYAT calls this event as an "AAYAT" that also has the meaning of miracle yet it is better to take the meaning of it as the sign (which also is its valid meaning) that asks to believe all the persons who witnessed it to believe that the world would certainly end and then the Day of Judgment would certainly take place when Allah would raise all persons from the dead; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it is important to note that the Holy Book Quran is the only miracle of Muhammad PBUH as he is the last of Messengers of Allah to all peoples of the world and that needs such miracle for him that remains available to all peoples at all times everywhere and proves him as the Messenger of Allah; therefore please note that though there are other most amazing things like trunk of the Dates-Tree (HANNANA) that cried-out when a special seat other than it was made for the Prophet PBUH at MASJID-NABAWI and like water gushing out of his fingers and like this amazing issue (i.e. the appearance of the Moon as torn apart when he was at MINA) and other such amazing things yet they are not his miracles in the strict sense of the word; this is because Muhammad PBUH was the last of Messengers of Allah so He took the responsibility of the protection of the Quran on Him (see Surah HIJR-9) that is to remain as his only miracle to all peoples of the world from the time of its descent to this time (and to all times ahead); it is in its pure form which remains the same Guidance to the right path that was presented by all Messengers of Allah by His command; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first eight AAYAAT of the Surah read, "the hour (the end of the world) drew nigh and the moon did rend asunder (i.e. it extremely wobbled as seen from the earth); and if they see a sign they turn aside and say: transient magic (i.e. they mean that it has no permanent value); and they call it a lie, and follow their low desires (to care only for benefits of their lives at the world); and every affair has its appointed term (so the hour would come at the time that Allah has appointed for it); and certainly some narratives (of the previous peoples) have come to them wherein is prevention (from wrongs; wherein is) consummate wisdom (to care for the true life of AKHIRAT)-- but warnings do not avail (because the disbelievers reject them); so turn back on them (without any care to their mocking manner on your warnings about the Day of Judgment as the true message that you give them would take place); that is the day when the inviter shall invite them to painful task (i.e. to face their respective accounts of doings so then they would see that the warnings to their punishment were most true); their eyes cast down, going forth from their graves as if they were scattered locusts (as every person that ever lived at the world would rise from dead), hastening to the inviter (the angel calling to the grounds of HASHR); the disbelievers shall say that this is hard day (as they would understand then that this is the day of which they were warned time and again)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next nine AAYAAT present the event about the people of Noah-AS that they were punished even in the world when they rejected the true message that the Messenger of Allah provided to them; they tell that "before them the people of Noah rejected; so they rejected Our servant and called (him) mad, and he was driven away; therefore he called upon his Lord that I am overcome, come Thou then to help; so We opened the gates of the cloud with water pouring; and We made water to flow forth in the land in springs, so the water gathered together according to the measure already ordained; and We bore him on that which was made of planks and nails; sailing, before Our eyes, a reward for him (i.e. Noah) who was denied; and certainly We left it as a sign, but is there anyone who will mind? -how (severe) was then My punishment and My warning; and certainly We have made the Quran easy for remembrance, but is there anyone who will mind?" these AAYAAT tell how the disbelievers were punished most severely even at the world when they challenged Noah and called him names; at that time he called Allah to save him from the wrong doings of the disbelievers after most extreme patience on whatever troubles that they had caused for him; they tell how Allah accepted his plea and saved him and all those who were with him on the beautiful spacious ark that he had made with ordinary planks and nails within the necessary period of time according to the command of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so Allah took His revenge by putting extreme punishment to them by waters that filled the area (that comprised of all the ancient Mesopotamia) so the disbelievers were drowned by the most huge amount of waters that comprised of the waters from the heaven above and from the land which poured out its waters from many of places that continued to fill the land until Allah eliminated the disbelievers totally so the Quran gives the message most explicitly that those who challenge Allah are doomed to destruction; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; all these narrations here about the most severe punishment of the four nations who rejected the Messengers of Allah end with the statement "and certainly

We have made the Quran easy for remembrance, but is there anyone who will mind?" -so this AAYAT occurs four times at Surah QAMAR to tell that all persons have the Quran with them now and they need to reflect on it most committedly to save them from all troubles at the world in the collective manner and to save them from all troubles at AKHIRAT individually; Allah certainly would take His revenge if they do not comply to His obedience as for that reason He has created them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the good Muslim commentator on the Quran would interpret the Holy Book Quran by TADABBUR if he really takes up the task to interpret it (that is named as TAFSIR) with his total attention towards Allah, the true Lord; note also that there are two manners to understand the Holy Book Quran in which TADABBUR is the higher level of observation where the good Muslim person applies himself most committedly to understand the Holy Book Quran so it needs most high observation at its AAYAAT; he would know Arabic and he would know all the teachings of the Quran, Ahadith and the FIQH most highly to understand the Quran by TADABBUR; he would also know the principles related to TAFSIR (the comments on the Quran) and related to Ahadith (the authentic narrations that tell about the sayings of the Last Prophet Muhammad PBUH, his deeds, his silence over some action and in fact all that is related to that greatest of men, the last Messenger of Allah; note that the practice of these directions of Ahadith is named as SUNNAH) and related to FIQH (the study that guides to put the Islamic commands into the manifest practice in best of manners by the observation of the Quran and the SUNNAH); and most certainly, he would be the good practicing Muslim person who has his total attention towards Allah, the true Lord; note that the other term to its study is TAZAKKUR that is to understand its message in the most simple manner as its words imply explicitly (and that is the level upon which Surah QAMAR asks in the least all of the mankind to take the Holy Book Quran and to live upon it in practice); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last five AAYAAT of the Ruku that are from AAYAT-18 to AAYAT-22 tell that "AAD treated (the Truth) as a lie, so how (severe) was My punishment and My warning -surely We sent on them raging wind-storm in a day of bitter ill-luck; tearing men away as if they were the trunks of palm-trees torn up; how (severe) was then My punishment and My warning -and certainly We have made the Quran easy for remembrance, but is there anyone who will mind?" -Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the nation of HOODH-AS was named as AAD and he gave them the same message as Noah-AS has given to his nation; he told them that he is the Messenger of Allah, the Lord of all the worlds, and he does care for their safety at AKHIRAT; that nation AAD lived in the area of curved sand-hills in the southern part of the Arabian peninsula and they were very strong in physique and had handsome height and looks; they also were idolaters and their total preference was for the life at the world so HOODH told them that they must show gratitude to Allah and take Him only as their true Lord; note that the Messenger of Allah has the liability to provide the message of Allah and it is not his liability to see that his people do accept it and HOODH fulfilled his liability; when it became evident that the disbelievers on HOODH would not come towards the fundamental teachings of Islam, Allah saved HOODH and the true believers with him by His great blessing and certainly it was the most severe punishment from which Allah saved them; Surah-HAAQQAH says that this punishment was such "which Allah imposed on them for seven nights and eight days so that (O listener) you might have seen men lying overthrown, as they were hollow trunks of palm-trees" (HAAQQAH-7); their amazing strength was certainly nothing in match to which they faced as it was the punishment that Allah had given them at the world and the punishment at AKHIRAT is even more dreadful; here at Surah QAMAR too, the AAYAAT mention that the destruction that hit AAD tore them away as if they were the trunks of palm-trees torn up; Allah certainly sent upon them such punishment that was most extremely severe after they rejected the warnings of Allah to them and He certainly has all the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the day on which their punishment started is mentioned as the day of bitter ill-luck and then that punishment stayed upon them for seven nights and eight days that tore them as the hollow trunks of the torn palm trees; though there is some argument at TAFSIR about this day but it is difficult to pinpoint some specific date of the year as this specific day of bitter ill-luck though it probably is some specific date of one of the lunar months that occurs regularly each year even now; AAYAAT 15 & 16 of Surah HA-MEEM AS-SAJDAH state that "as for AAD, they were arrogant in the land without right, and they asked who is mightier than us in power? - could they not see that Allah Who created them, He is mightier than them in power? -and they denied Our revelations; therefore We let loose on them a raging wind-storm in days of bitter ill-luck, that We might make them taste the torment of disgrace in the life of the world; and verily the doom of AKHIRAT will be more shameful, and they will not be helped"; here the Quran mentions all days of their destruction as related to bitter ill-luck and this is because that severe punishment that eliminated them totally started on that specific day that is most probably related to the bitter ill-luck in general; this seems in accordance to how the AAYAAT present it but as they are not totally explicit for it so I, MSD, would remark here the best of remarks that most certainly, Allah know better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next Ruku starts by the statement that THAMUD (the nation of SALEH-AS) also rejected the warnings; this also means that to reject one of the Messengers of Allah is to reject all of them because they all fundamentally gave the same message as Allah commanded them to give and that was the message of Islam; the disbelievers in THAMUD raised the same objection to SALEH that the disbelievers in other peoples had raised before that he is just an ordinary man among them who has not much of wealth and who is alone with not huge number of people to stand for him; they rejected him as the Messenger of Allah with the blame that he is not only a liar but he also is a person who has pride on himself that he is something out of ordinary among them; note that he was one of the most truthful persons and he had no arrogance in him; the disbelievers saw what was obvious to their eyes by projection that like them, this person also would be needy of the worldly goods, status and pleasures but these disbelieving men have always been (and even are) totally unable to see the inside of those who live with their attention towards Allah only, the true Lord; Allah answered their objection that very soon, they would see who actually is the liar with arrogance inside him; He gave them the huge she-camel that came out from behind of some rock miraculously and Allah commanded them not to trouble it so that she might easily drink the water on the day assigned for it (that was every other day as one day was for it and the other was for other cattle there) as she intends; if they do otherwise, they would receive extreme punishment even at the world; but even then, their ruling elite rejected the message of Allah that SALEH provided to them and asked others too to reject it; some of their youth killed the she-camel (as they provoked them to do it) and that was the clearest disobedience to Allah from all of the disbelievers there; so Allah punished them most severely by the most painful scream to hear (that was the sound of the deadly cry of the earthquake that took hold of them); so they became like the dry fragments of trees which the maker of an enclosure of his cattle collects to save his cattle from the attacking beasts; this tells how that deadly disaster trampled them when it fell upon them; the event ends with the same message that asks all of the mankind for TAZAKKUR upon the Holy Book Quran, "and certainly We have made the Quran easy for remembrance, but is there anyone who will mind?" Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next ten AAYAT of this Ruku tell about the event that relates to the nation of Lot-AS; the people of Lot-AS lived at Sodom and Gomorrah at south of the dead sea and they were extremely filthy persons who used to commit the heinous sin of sodomy among men; Lot who actually did not belong to that nation but had been sent to them as the Messenger of Allah, tried his best to reform them of this heinous sin but to no avail; in fact, they intended to expel him from their city just because he challenged their filth; so due to their rejection of the Truth (the fundamental teachings of Islam), and also due to their most heinous filthy acts, Allah sent the rain of stones upon them from which Allah saved only Lot and his family who believed in him, in the morning hours; note that his wife was one of the disbelievers there so she also remained there among the punished people; certainly, Allah provides safety from all the calamity to the good believing persons only, even when they have to live in the wrong-doers (under protest); however, they would call towards the right path even at such situation as that is necessary to show their gratitude to Allah and certainly, Lot-AS had told the consequence to the disbelievers of their rejection of the right path yet they made vague arguments against the warnings that Lot provided to them; they even tried to take the guests of Lot-AS (that were angels) with them to fulfill their wrong intention with them so Allah blinded their eyes (as He commanded the angels to put such extreme adversity to those who were at front there); it was an introduction to the most severe punishment of which Allah had clearly warned them by Lot-AS and it fell upon them in the morning so Allah gave those disbelievers the complete taste of their wrong-doings at the world; and they would get their lasting deadly punishment at AKHIRAT by the hell-fire; after this narration of the destruction of the people of Lot, the last AAYAT of the Ruku is familiar that asks for TAZAKKUR,

"and certainly We have made the Quran easy for remembrance, but is there anyone who will mind?" Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first couple of AAYAAT at the last Ruku mention the punishment that Allah gave to Pharaoh who rejected the fundamental teachings of Islam when Moses-AS and Aaron-AS presented them clearly to him; Moses provided such miracles to him even, that proved that he was the Messenger of Allah yet he disbelieved and the result was that Allah punished him most severely by drowning him with huge number of his men when they all were following Moses and the Bani-Israel; these AAYAAT read, "and certainly the warnings came to Pharaoh's people; they rejected all Our AAYAAT, so We overtook them in the manner of the Mighty, Powerful One"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next four AAYAAT ask the disbelievers that were at Makkah at the time of the descent of Surah QAMAR that they reflect upon their position and accept Islam because if they do not accept it, the outcome of their disbelief would be the same as the previous disbelievers near to their lands had received; they read, "are the disbelievers of yours (that are at Makkah) better than these (previous disbelievers that Allah eliminated by severe punishments), or is there an exemption for you in the scriptures? -or do they say that we are a host allied together to help each other? -soon shall the hosts be routed, and they shall turn (their) backs; nay, the hour is their promised time, and the hour shall be most grievous and bitter"; AAYAAT imply that these disbelievers at Makkah have got the message that Allah punished the previous disbelievers most severely by the most deadly punishments at the world; the previous scriptures too that Allah sent to the world do not guarantee their safety in any manner as every person would get the result at AKHIRAT according to his belief and his deeds at his life here so what do they have to rely upon for their safety at the world and at AKHIRAT; if they think that they are so much powerful together that they are invincible then that is their idiocy as they would see that their power would reduce most drastically when they would run for their lives (which happened at the battle of BADR); their actual punishment would come at the hour (here it means that it would come at the day of HASHR) and that would prove the most hard day for them; AAYAT-7 & AAYAT-8 of this Surah has depicted the manner of disbelievers on that day i.e. the Day of Judgment that "their eyes cast down, going forth from their graves as if they were scattered locusts; hastening to the inviter, the disbelievers shall say that this is hard day"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last nine AAYAAT of the last Ruku relate about the Day of Judgment and about the will of Allah; they read, "Surely the guilty (who are the disbelievers in the fundamental teachings of Islam) are in error (at the world) and in distress (at AKHIRAT); on the day when they shall be dragged upon their faces (i.e. the angels would drag them by force) into the fire (and those angels would tell them) to taste the touch of hell-fire; surely We have created everything according to measure (and so Allah would see that the world gets its quantity of the mankind then the last day of the world would come as that is its appointed time); and Our command is but one (i.e. the command of KUN which means BE and that happens) as the twinkling of eye; and certainly We have already destroyed the likes of you (which means that if these disbelievers think that they are safe from the punishment of Allah, they are in the highest of error), but is there anyone who will mind (to see plain facts)? -and everything they have done (together as nation) is in the writings (so they would face the consequence of that even at the world when Allah wills for it); and everything small and great is written down (according to which the whole universe including the earth progresses on and that certainly is the will of Allah and He certainly has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah); surely those who guard (against evil) shall be in (the most beautiful) gardens and (wherein shall be the most pleasant) rivers; in the seat of honor (the place where the truthful person would live-on) near to the most Powerful King (i.e. near to Allah, the true Lord of all the creation)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note the words "FIZ-ZUBUR" (in the writings) and "MUSTATAR" (written down) that these AAYAAT have here at the last part of Surah QAMAR; so "writings" are the documents of deeds of all persons and where nations have erred together when they generally rejected the fundamental teachings of Islam though Allah guided them to those teachings most clearly, then Allah punished them most severely even at the world; the other AAYAT that states about what is "written down" indicates the LAUHE-MAHFUZ that tells about the will of Allah where everything that is to happen is written down; Allah guides all affairs that take place anywhere at any time beautifully to the manner that He wills for all those affairs because it is His will only that rules all of His creation even now; certainly, all praise is for Allah, the only Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah RAHMAN consists of 3 Ruku which have 25 & 20 & 33 AAYAAT respectively; RAHMAN (the Beneficent) is the name of Allah and this Surah starts by it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this Surah is unique in this matter that it addresses both the Man and the Jinn together and tells about the blessings that Allah has provided to both of them; the Surah tells of different blessings of Allah and asks both of them repeatedly about each of them that "which then of the bounties of your Lord will you deny?"; note that by grammar, Allah addresses two of His creation at this recurring AAYAT and the context shows explicitly that they are the Man and the Jinn and note also that Allah has provided the freewill to only these both whereas other of His creation worship Him without any other option; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Surah starts by the statement that Allah has not only given life to the Man but He also has provided him the greatest of His blessings that is the Quran; He has taught that to him so that he believes it and does his deeds according to that belief; and He has provided him the ability to present it to all other persons so these AAYAAT tell that Allah has not only created the Man but He has taught words to him due to which he is able to express himself clearly and the best manner for him to be grateful to Allah for this ability of expression is to learn the Quran with total belief and besides practicing it in total, provide its teachings to all peoples of the world as much as possible for him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; one of the most authentic Ahadith mentions that "the best among you are those who learn the Quran and teach it to others"; note that Allah has mentioned the teaching of the Quran before He has mentioned the creation of the Man so this denotes that the good spiritual value of the Man is more a blessing than the physical life he has; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note also that jinn also would follow the Quran to remain upon the true path as they also are bound to follow it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first AAYAT mentions Allah by His name AR-RAHMAN (the Beneficent) whereas the disbelievers at Makkah were much annoyed by this name; so it challenged them that Allah is Most Beneficent Who has cared for all peoples of the world by providing the Quran to them to save themselves from the torments of the coming true life by its acceptance; AAYAAT-5 to 12 ahead tell about some of His blessings that He has provided to the mankind which are most significant for his physical well-being as the Quran often mentions both of these blessings (spiritual and physical) together at places; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT tell that the sun and the moon are doing their respective tasks remaining to calculation that Allah has set for them; AAYAT-6 tells "and the herb and the tree do prostrate (to Allah)" wherein "the herb" means all of herbs and "the tree" means all of trees; note that the word An-NAJM (the herb) also means "the star" so with connection to previous AAYAT, it also implies that like the sun and the moon, all stars too are going along their pathways which Allah has set for them and so this term applies in both ways; AAYAAT-7 & 8 & 9 tell that He not only has raised the heaven, that is near to earth, but He also has assigned its laws to it so everything in it is working in the order He has assigned to it (this includes the gravitational force among heavenly bodies); so the man (and even the jinn) would care for this balance and would not do any such thing that might cause disharmony to it; the man needs to bring harmony to life by intentional efforts according to the fundamental teachings of Islam as keeping the balance refers to care about rights of all persons around him and also to care to keep himself at the right path as the wrongs affect all environment adversely; Surah ROUM-41 states that "corruption has appeared in the land and the sea on account of what the hands of men have wrought, that He may make them taste a part of that which they have done, so that they may return"; in this broader manner, these AAYAAT guide the mankind about their actions to the heaven above too that the mankind would not disturb harmony there by any of actions and it is proper to comment that at these current times, these AAYAAT do seem to hit that activity even, that relates to sending different space-vehicles for the probe of heavenly bodies as that also somewhat applies to disturbing of the balance therein; may Allah give all peoples the insight to care in all their actions about the harmony by which Allah has set the creation; these three AAYAAT read, "and the heaven, He raised it high, and He made the balance; that you may not be inordinate in respect of the balance; and keep up the measure with equity and do not make the balance deficient"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next three AAYAAT tell that Allah has set the earth in such manner that by getting rains from the heaven above, it brings forth fruits and especially dates that are protected by their sheath; and it brings forth grains that are protected by their husks and fragrances; so the earth brings forth fruits, pulses, vegetables and many more things in crops which provide foods for the mankind, birds, animals, insects and even jinn; so Allah has cared not only to provide the true guidance to the man and the jinn magnificently but He also has cared with all other living creatures, for their physical sustenance beautifully; this asks the man and the jinn, the only two creation of Allah who do have the freewill to actions, to live by the commands of Allah; the recurring AAYAT - "which then of the bounties of your Lord will you deny?" - at Surah RAHMAN states in the manner of question on all the physical benefits which Allah has provided to them at the world, that they need to show extreme gratitude to Allah, the true Lord, for this beautiful care to safety of their physique by living in accordance to the Quran; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-14 & 15 state, "He created the man by dry clay like earthen vessels; and He created the jinn by flame of fire"; the term SALSAALEN-KAL-FAKKHAAR at AAYAT-14 that means the "dry clay like earthen vessels", was the final stage of the material by which Allah created Adam-AS; this material had passed through few stages whereas each stage had most extreme period of time by the will of Allah; see also the note at the third Ruku of Surah HIJR; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah created jinn much before Adam by flame of fire and they have the ability to see the human beings though the human beings are not able to see them; they are physically stronger than the man yet because of his spiritual power and because Allah has appointed angels to see to his protection, jinn avoid attacks on the man; see also the note at BAQARAH-the fourth Ruku; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the couple of AAYAAT ahead state, "(Allah is the) Lord of the two easts and of the two wests; which then of the bounties of your Lord will you deny?"; the mention of two easts and two wests at the AAYAT seems to refer to the two different points of sunrise and two different points of sunset, at two different occasions; in other words, "two easts" mean the different points of sunrise where the day is longest in summer and where the day is shortest in winter at Arabia; and "two wests" mean the different points of sunset for these two occasions there and certainly, Allah knows better; the last seven AAYAAT of the Ruku tell about the rivers and the benefits from them to the mankind; there are places where the waters of the river meets the waters of the sea yet they keep the difference between the features of their respective waters there to quite a distance; Allah mentions this difference in their waters as His blessing as both of these waters serve the mankind in their own respective manner; from these waters, the man gets beautiful pearls, both large and small; and they take big ships to different places which serves the man in getting his financial security; each of these benefits that Allah has provided by waters of rivers and of seas, asks both the man and the jinn to show gratitude to Allah, the true Lord; the next Ruku starts by the statement that whatever is on earth would pass away and only Allah, the true Lord, would remain Who has all majesty and honor; He is HAYYE that means that He only has the true life; the AAYAT implies that even death of all righteous persons among men and among jinn, is blessing as after their death, Allah would provide life to the dead for their eternal life ahead and provide the Judgment to all of them, so He would provide the due punishment to all wrong-doers by His majesty and He would honor all righteous persons at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-29 tells that Allah keeps everything to His will and He always sees whatever impression has occurred by doings of the peoples at the world to keep it all to His will; certainly He knows beforehand every action that anyone among the mankind and the jinn takes as He certainly is the Most Knowing of all things and the Most Well-Aware; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it also tells that everyone begs of Him for needs and so every day He is engaged in the task of seeing to their needs according to His will; so He cares for His creation due to their collective need and due to their individual need according to His will; Al-Hamdu Lillah; they need to show utmost gratitude to Allah for His blessings on them; from AYAT-31 till the last of Ruku, AAYAAT ask attention towards the Day of Judgment; Allah tells both the mankind and the jinn that very soon, He would judge all of them according to their doings; Allah addresses them as the "two burdened groups" as these two only have the freewill to actions for which they have to account at AKHIRAT; AAYAT-33 tells that all those who have any thoughts of running away from that ultimate Judgment, they must remain mindful that they are totally unable to do it; it reads, "O assembly of the jinn and the men- if you are able to pass through the regions of the heavens and the earth (that means the whole universe), then pass through (to avoid Judgment); you cannot pass through but with authority (that only Allah has, so all among the jinn and the men have to answer for all their deeds without any option)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this certainly is His blessing to all righteous persons and they need to show gratitude for it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-35 gives the reason that no person is able to run away far in space because the flame of fire would get him there and, even if he breaks the barrier of the earth's gravity and gets further, the smoke would engulf him so he would remain unable to protect himself; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this refers especially to the jinn who are able to run to space yet they are unable to get much far in that due to the burning meteoroids racing towards the earth; see also the note at the second Ruku of HIJR; AAYAT-37 states that at the last day of the world, the heaven near to earth would become as red as the red hide (or as rosy-colored leather); and even the advent of QIYAMAT (the last day of the world) is the blessing of Allah that sets the stage for His Judgment to all peoples of the world; then on that day, the Day of Judgment, no one among the guilty men or the jinn would be asked about his most notable sin (which would be their denial of the Day of Judgment as AAYAT-43 states) because it would be there for all persons to see and these guilty persons would be recognized by some marking on them at the grounds of HASHR; these guilty persons would see the hell-fire that they used to deny and round about shall they go between it and the boiling water; their alternate visits to these two places would occur because these two would provide the two different manners of their punishment that they would get in sequence; the last AAYAT of the Ruku that is the recurring AAYAT at Surah RAHMAN tells here that even the warning that these AAYAAT give to such guilty persons is the blessing of Allah to them at the world, so that they make themselves better here and now, before they die because when the event of their death takes place, their regret upon their wrong manner of living would be totally useless; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last Ruku mentions two groups of the righteous believers who would be at JANNAAT (plural of JANNAH) that Surah WA'QIAH, the Surah ahead, terms as the companions of the right hand and as the foremost among them respectively; this Ruku mentions the blessed affairs of the first group from its first AAYAT to 61, and it mentions the blessed affairs of the second group from AAYAT-62 to 77; Surah WA'QIAH narrates the detail about the foremost persons in JANNAAT before the detail of the companions of the right hand; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this Ruku tells about the companions of the right hand that they always had this in mind that Allah only has the true authority and it is His will that shows in the tasks of all His creation; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that Dr. ISRAR AHMED, who was one of the foremost commentators on the Quran at these current times, had commented about the two of JANNAAT that are mentioned here that they refer to the two different

JANNAAT for the first group among the mankind and among the jinn respectively; these would be the most beautiful gardens that would have in them various kinds of trees having wonderful branches; these would also have flowing fountains and pairs of all fruits where they would be seated upon couches that would be lined with silk brocade and the fruits of both these gardens would be near to their respective good residents; therein shall be those beautiful women of modest gaze, whom neither any man nor any jinn will have touched before them; this means that at the JANNAH of the mankind, there would be the beautiful specific women of that place (besides those who were their good wives at the world) for the mankind whom no man had ever touched before and each of them would only be caring for her husband; and at the JANNAH of the jinn, there would be the beautiful specific women of that place (besides those who were their good wives at the world) for the jinn whom no jinn had ever touched before and each of them would only be caring for her husband; these all would be such precious beauties to their respective husbands as are rubies and coral-stones; Allah would provide these all excellent eternal blessings because they had lived virtuously at the world by living by commands of Allah and surely, one good turn deserves another; Al-Hamdu Lillah; then there is the mention of affairs of the second group among the righteous persons in mankind and in the jinn that they would receive two JANNAAT so these refer to the two different JANNAAT for the second group among the mankind and among the jinn respectively; though the first group would have all excellent blessings at their JANNAAT yet this second group would get some additional blessings as they are at the higher level than the former, the first group, as Surah WA'QIAH has termed this second group as the foremost among these two groups; they would be much nearer to Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so they also would have all blessings at their respective JANNAH which the former would have at theirs yet the women at these JANNAAT for the second group would be HOORS who would be extremely beautiful (Surah WA'QIAH mentions them as the beautiful hidden pearls and this i.e. Surah RAHMAN mentions these fairest of women as much more confined to their beautiful spacious residences); these most spacious residences would have the most beautiful pearls at their built according to Hadith and each of the righteous persons of the second group, would have HOORS as his wives in huge number (even up-to seventy) besides those who were his good wives at the world; note that the best of women according to Islam are those who relate themselves much to their specific residences and leave their homes only for necessities with most decent of dresses and return as soon as they see to their necessities so these beautiful HOORS would have this beautiful reservation to height in their beautiful nature without asking to leave their specific spacious residences for anything; they all would remain most happy together with their own manner of living there; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note also that Islam does not suppress the natural emotion towards women that occurs in men due to their aesthetic inclination yet it asks them to channelize that firmly in the righteous manner; this mention of the second group contains AAYAT-64 which comprises of one word only that is MUDHHAMMATAAN which means that these two gardens would be such dark green that both of them would be inclining to blackness and this would increase their beauty there; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-78, the last AAYAT of this Ruku (and of this Surah), reads, "blessed be the name of your Lord, Who has the majesty and the honor"; this tells that at AKHIRAT, He certainly would provide the due punishment to all wrong-doers and He certainly would provide the due honor to all righteous persons; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah WAQI'AH

(Consists of 3 Ruku; MK-5)

1. When the great event comes to pass,
2. There is no belying its coming to pass--
3. Abasing (one party), exalting (the other),
4. When the earth shall be shaken with a (severe) shaking,
5. And the mountains shall be made to crumble with (an awful) crumbling,
6. So that they shall be as scattered dust.
7. And you shall be three sorts.
8. Then (as to) the companions of the right hand; how happy are the companions of the right hand!
9. And (as to) the companions of the left hand; how wretched are the companions of the left hand!
10. And the foremost are the foremost,
11. These are they who are drawn nigh (to Allah),
12. In the gardens of bliss.
13. A numerous company from among the first,
14. And a few from among the latter.

15. On thrones decorated,
16. Reclining on them, facing one another.
17. Round about them shall go youths never altering in age,
18. With goblets and ewers and a cup of pure drink;
19. They shall not be affected with headache thereby, nor shall they get exhausted,
20. And fruits such as they choose,
21. And the flesh of fowl such as they desire.
22. And pure (HOORS), beautiful ones,
23. As if they are like the hidden pearls:
24. The reward for what they used to do.
25. They shall not hear therein vain or sinful discourse,
26. Except the word peace, peace.
27. And the companions of the right hand; how happy are the companions of the right hand!
28. Amid thorn-less lote-trees,
29. And banana-trees (with fruits), one above another.
30. And extended shade,
31. And water flowing constantly,
32. And abundant fruit,
33. Neither intercepted nor forbidden,
34. And exalted thrones.
35. Surely We have made them to grow into a (new) growth,
36. Then We have made them virgins,
37. Loving, equals in age,
38. For the sake of the companions of the right hand.
39. A numerous company from among the first,
40. And a numerous company from among the last.
41. And those of the left hand, how wretched are those of the left hand!

42. In scorching wind and boiling water,
43. And the shade of black smoke,
44. Neither cool nor honorable.
45. Surely they were before that made to live in ease and plenty.
46. And they persisted in the great violation.
47. And they used to say: What! when we die and have become dust and bones, shall we then indeed be raised?
48. Or our fathers of yore?
49. Say: The first and the last,
50. Shall most surely be gathered together for the appointed hour of a known day.
51. Then shall you, O you who err and call it a lie!
52. Most surely eat of a tree of ZAQQUM,
53. And fill (your) bellies with it;
54. Then drink over it of boiling water;
55. And drink as drinks the thirsty camel.
56. This is their entertainment on the day of requital.
57. We have created you, why do you not then assent?
58. Have you considered the seed?
59. Is it you that create it or are We the creators?
60. We have ordained death among you and We are not to be overcome,
61. In order that We may bring in your place the likes of you and make you grow into what you know not.
62. And certainly you know the first growth, why do you not then mind?
63. Have you considered what you sow?
64. Is it you that cause it to grow, or are We the causers of growth?

65. If We pleased, We should have certainly made it broken down into pieces, then would you begin to lament:
66. Surely we are burdened with debt:
67. Nay! we are deprived.
68. Have you considered the water which you drink?
69. Is it you that send it down from the clouds, or are We the senders?
70. If We pleased, We would have made it bitter; why do you not then give thanks?
71. Have you considered the fire which you strike?
72. Is it you that produce the trees for it, or are We the producers?
73. We have made it a reminder and an advantage for the wayfarers of the desert.
74. Therefore glorify the name of your Lord, the Great.
75. But nay! I swear by the setting of stars;
76. And most surely it is very great oath if you only knew;
77. Most surely it is the honored Quran,
78. In the book that is protected
79. None shall touch it save the purified ones.
80. Revelation by the Lord of the worlds.
81. Do you then hold this announcement in contempt?
82. And to commit to lies you make your means of subsistence.
83. Why is it not then that when it (soul) comes up to the throat,
84. And you at that time look on--
85. And We are nearer to it than you, but you do not see--
86. Then why is it not-- if you are not held under authority--
87. That you send it (not) back-- if you are truthful?

88. Then if he is one of those drawn nigh (to Allah),
89. Then happiness and bounty and the garden of bliss.
90. And if he is one of those that are of the right hand,
91. Then peace to you all that are among those of the right hand.
92. And if he is one of the rejecters, the erring ones,
93. He shall have an entertainment of boiling water,
94. And burning in hell.
95. Most surely this is the certain truth.
96. Therefore glorify the name of your Lord, the Great.

Like Surah RAHMAN, this Surah also describes the blessed situation of the two groups at JANNAAT and describes the wretched situation of the wrong-doers at the hell-fire; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it has three Ruku that respectively comprise of 38 AAYAAT, 36 AAYAAT and 22 AAYAAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first six AAYAAT of the Surah read, "when the great event comes to pass; there is no belying its coming to pass; abasing (one party), exalting (the other); when the earth shall be shaken with a (severe) shaking; and the mountains shall be made to crumble with (an awful) crumbling; so that they shall be as scattered dust (as if they are loosened wool)"; this tells about the last day of the world and the third AAYAT here states that this day would lead to the Day of Judgment that would abase the disbelievers and that would lead the two groups of the righteous persons to highest of honor; the Quran takes the matter of the last day of the world (QIYAMAT) and the first day of AKHIRAT (that is the Day of Judgment) at places by such relation that the latter occurs just after QIYAMAT; this is because all of mankind is dead at QIYAMAT whereas all of mankind regain life (and awareness) at the Day of Judgment though there is an extensive period of time between the two; AAYAAT ahead tell about the three groups of the mankind in which two relate to JANNAAT that are companions of the right hand and the foremost of all righteous persons who would be much nearer to Allah, the true Lord; the remaining group would be the wretched group of companions of the left hand who had spent their lives at the world as disbelievers; note that those righteous believers who get their respective documents of deeds at their right hands would be the companions of the right hand and those who get their respective documents of deeds at their left hands would be the companions of the left hand; note also that though the foremost among the righteous persons would also get their respective documents at their right hands yet they would have some additional good features that would denote their most honored status there; Al-Hamdu Lillah; all the persons who receive honor at AKHIRAT, would include the Prophets, the truthful persons, the martyrs for the Islamic cause and the righteous persons that are mentioned at NISAA-69; it reads, "And whoever obeys Allah and the apostle, these are with those upon whom Allah has bestowed favors from among the Prophets and the truthful and the martyrs and the most good persons; and good company they are"; so all those who had believed in Allah firmly and had obeyed Him and His last Messenger steadfastly, these all persons in this UMMAH would be the companions of the right hand and the foremost among the most righteous persons; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-7 to 11

tell about these three, "and you shall be three sorts; then (as to) the companions of the right hand - how happy are the companions of the right hand; and (as to) the companions of the left hand - how wretched are the companions of the left hand; and the foremost are the foremost; these are they who are drawn nigh (to Allah)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead mention that these foremost among the most righteous persons would be the dwellers of the blissful gardens; their major number would come from the early times of this UMMAH (the Muslims as whole from the times of the last Prophet Muhammad PBUH) and the rest from persons after them; note that even before Muhammad PBUH, there certainly were the foremost among the virtuous persons yet seemingly, this place refers to his UMMAH explicitly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-15 to 26 tell about their blessed situation at the blissful gardens; "(they would be) on thrones decorated; reclining on them, facing one another; round about them shall go youths never altering in age; with goblets and ewers and a cup of pure drink (of wine); they shall not be affected with headache thereby (though they would enjoy it immensely), nor shall they get exhausted (by losing sense); and fruits such as they choose; and the flesh of fowl such as they desire; and pure (HOORS), beautiful ones; as if they are like the hidden pearls: the reward for what they used to do; they shall not hear therein vain or sinful discourse; except the word peace, peace"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-27 to 40 relate the blessed situation of the companions of the right hand that their garden at paradise would have wonderful thorn-less lote-trees that also would beautify the place; and banana trees so very near to each other that they would be one above another and there would be most beautiful shade extending to miles as if it is early morning at such weather that is neither cold nor hot but totally pleasant; Al-Hamdu Lillah; and there would be most clear water that would flow constantly at fountains and plenty of all fruits, neither intercepted (i.e. they would not be limited to seasons) nor forbidden (i.e. they would never end but grow on instantly according to consumption); and the couches where they would recline, that would be raised high to honor these companions of the right hand; and Allah would provide them beautiful women that would specifically be for them (besides their good wives there) who would be virgins and so much attractive to them that they would find most extreme love towards them and they all would be compatible with their youthful age; note that every man who gets his place at JANNAAT would be as if he is in early thirties (i.e. with good looks that generally are at 33 years or so) with wonderful manly fitness; and all women there, though they are those who enter there due to the virtuous lives that they had spent at the world (transformed to fairest of ladies there living together with their good husbands) or they are those specific women who are especially created at JANNAAT (HOORS and others) who would be provided as wives to the most righteous men who enter there, these all most beautiful women would also be as if they are at early thirties with highest of attraction for their husbands towards them; there also would be young boys who would be serving the foremost among the most virtuous residents of JANNAAT who would remain young at age at that beautiful place ever as AAYAT-17 of this Surah has stated (and as Surah TOOR also has mentioned at AAYAT-24) and certainly Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these companions of the right hand would come in huge number from the early times of this UMMAH and also in huge number from those who come after them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAAT-41 to AAYAT-56, all AAYAAT tell about those who would receive their document of deeds at their left hands; they would feel the scorching wind and drink the hot boiling water; the shade to them would be of black smoke that would not provide any coolness to them or any refreshment rather it would make their condition even worse; many of these disbelievers used to live in pleasures at the world remaining oblivious to the fact that they have to answer for their lives at the Day of Judgment; this was their extreme wrong and they would see its consequence; whenever they were guided to it, they mocked about it and persisted with obstinacy at their wrong belief that they would not be resurrected as they would have become dust and bones at graves and their forefathers too would not be raised from dead; Allah asks the Prophet PBUH to tell them that they all and all those of old and of later times, would certainly be raised to life from dead and gathered together for the appointed hour of the known day (i.e. the Day of Judgment); then all those who erred about it and all those who denied its upcoming, they would eat of the tree at hell-fire i.e. ZAQQUM as that only would be available to satiate their extreme hunger; and there would be boiling water over it to drink for their extreme thirst which they would drink as thirsty camels afflicted with extreme thirst, drink water; these disbelievers would face such unwelcome at that specific day; may Allah give TOFIQ to all good persons at the world to believe in the fundamental teachings of Islam so that they save themselves from this most extreme punishment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAT-57 to AAYAT-74, the last AAYAT of the second Ruku, Allah guides attention to those blessings that He has provided to the mankind for his physical safety; He mentions about how life occurs at the world as the man only emits the seed inside his wife but Allah shapes it at the womb at the specific period it has to remain there and then He brings it forth as one of the mankind; and Allah has ordained death so the life here is an examination for which all of the mankind would answer at the Day of Judgment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-60 & 61 state that nothing in His creation is able to stop Him to transfigure the man and make him in what he certainly is not aware of; Respectable Dr. ISRAR interprets this in his Tafsiri comments that the physical changes do occur even at the world in all persons yet at AKHIRAT, Allah, the true Lord, would provide another proper physique to each person there whereas every person would be fully aware of himself/herself and with that, he/she would receive his/her specific Judgment due to his/her doings at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-62 ahead states that the man does know how the life of the man takes place at the world (and though much was known about this at the ancient times yet in these current times, Physiology provides that clearly in more detail); AAYAAT ahead relate about the seed that the man sows inside the earth which Allah grows to become fruitful to the mankind and to other of His creation; so Allah not only develops the seed of the man inside the womb of his wife but He also develops the seed that he sows inside the grounds to become edible fruits and crops for his sustenance; Al-Hamdu Lillah; if Allah willed, He verily could make it ash-particles, then the workers upon it would have persistently exclaimed that they are burdened with debts besides being deprived of all the benefits that they were to get by it; so on getting it safely, they need to show their gratitude to Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; and Allah sends from the raincloud the pleasant water that is fit to drinking; if He willed, He verily could make it bitter so at this even, they need to show their gratitude to Allah; and Allah has provided such trees to the mankind by which they kindle fire (as they struck elements from them together) which has number of physical benefits for all yet especially for those who are wayfarers at deserts; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this fire does ask them to reflect how it affects the physique when it is near to the physique so they need to avoid the hell-fire by living at the world by commands of Allah; certainly, for all these blessings, these persons, like all righteous persons, need to glorify the name of Allah, the true Lord, Who is the Most Supreme; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last Ruku starts by answering the disbelievers that the Quran is not something ordinary as they are taking it, but it is the highest of blessings from Allah to the mankind, and it is totally safe at the most protected book (i.e. LAUHE-MAHFUZ); Allah has taken an oath on this statement that the Quran is safe at the most protected book at heavens to which only the angels among His creation, have access and Allah certainly has descended it to the world; AAYAT-75 to AAYAT-82 read, "but nay (the disbelievers have totally wrong assumptions)! I swear by placements of stars; and most surely it is very great oath if you only knew; most surely it is the honored Quran; in the (heavenly) book that is protected; none shall touch it save the purified ones (angels at heavens; and at the world, only those Muslims are liable to touch it, who have made WUDHU i.e. ablution); revelation by the Lord of the worlds; do you then hold this announcement in contempt? (by foolishly assuming that it does not provide the true guidance because it has not descended from Allah, the true Lord or that it has not descended as Allah sent it to the Prophet PBUH) - and to commit to lies you make your means of subsistence (i.e. you try to justify your disbelief by providing such lies to your psyche)"; note that Allah has taken the oath of placements of NUJUM (stars) and has mentioned it as the most notable oath; so this whole term "MAWAQEN-NUJUM" (i.e. placements of stars) refers to the posts of angels at the sky near to earth and the AAYAT implies that the angels protect the whole pathway of the descent of the Quran at this area as the mischievous Jinn have access to this area to some extent; they would only find flames (from burning meteoroids) following them on their way back to earth to eliminate them at the space before they return to earth if they intrude to cause trouble at this descent; see also the note on the second Ruku of Surah HIJR; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so these AAYAAT tell that all such parts of the Quran that have descended to the world from the heaven, they have descended within the protection of angels to Muhammad PBUH by the command of Allah and its text was never disturbed anywhere as many angels at posts at the sky near to earth too protect its pathway to earth by the command of Allah so it is the true guidance from Allah which every person needs to follow most firmly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; whole of the Quran is totally protected in the manner that it has reached Muhammad PBUH by the will of Allah; see also Surah SHURA-51 and Surah HIJR-9; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead tell explicitly that when someone is at the verge of his death, the people around are unable to do anything at that time as death when it does come, it is inevitable and Allah only is near to him at such time as his relation to life at the world ends whereas he finds angels around him; the Judgment is sure to come and because of it, no one is able to stop his departure from the world so even the end of life indicates that all persons that are here at the world, have their respective time to show their respective colors whereby they would get their respective judgment at the first day of AKHIRAT that is the Day of Judgment; Surah MULK-2 states, "Allah has created death and life, that He may try which of you is the best in deed: and He is the Mighty, Oft-Forgiving"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah WAQI'AH concludes by mentioning the three groups that it has discussed in it, two of them at JANNAAT and one of them that is the companions of the left hand, at the hell-fire; AAYAAT from 88 to 95 read, "then if he is one of those drawn nigh (that are foremost of the righteous persons near to Allah); then (for them is) happiness and bounty and the garden of bliss; and if he is one of those that are of the right hand (the companions of the right hand), then peace to you all that are among those of the right hand; and if he is one of the rejecters, the erring ones (the companions of the left hand), he shall have an entertainment (that is his unwelcome there) by boiling water and burning in hell; most surely this is the certain truth"; the last AAYAT of the Surah asks to glorify the name of Allah, the true Lord, like its AAYAT-74 and due to this, the Muslims recite words at RUKU & SAJDAH at their Salah that fulfill this guidance; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah HADID

(Consists of 4 Ruku; H-6)

1. Whatever is in the heavens and the earth declares the glory of Allah, and He is the Mighty, the Wise.
2. His is the kingdom of the heavens and the earth; He gives life and causes death; and He has power over all things.
3. He is the First and the Last and the Evident and the Immanent; and He is Cognizant of all things.
4. He is Who created the heavens and the earth in six periods, then He mounted firm at ARSH (the Throne of authority); He knows that which goes deep down into the earth and that which comes forth out of it, and that which comes down from the heaven and that which goes up into it, and He is with you wherever you are; and Allah sees what you do.
5. His is the kingdom of the heavens and the earth; and to Allah are (all) affairs returned.
6. He causes the night to enter in upon the day, and causes the day to enter in upon the night, and He is Cognizant of what is at insides.
7. Believe in Allah and His Apostle, and spend out of what He has made you successors of; for those of you who believe and spend shall have a great reward.

8. And what reason have you that you should not believe in Allah? And the Apostle calls on you that you may believe in your Lord, and indeed He has made a covenant with you if you are believers.

9. He it is who sends down clear AAYAAT upon His servant, that He may bring you forth from utter darkness into light; and most surely Allah is Kind, Merciful to you.

10. And what reason have you that you should not spend in Allah's way? And Allah's is the inheritance of the heavens and the earth; not alike among you are those who spent before the victory and fought; they are more exalted in rank than those who spent and fought afterwards; and Allah has promised good to all; and Allah is Aware of what you do.

11. Who is there that will offer to Allah a good gift so He will double it for him, and he shall have an excellent reward.

12. On that day you will see the believing men and the believing women-- their light running before them and on their right hand-- good news for you today: gardens beneath which rivers flow, to abide therein, that is the grand achievement.

13. On the day when the hypocritical men and the hypocritical women will say to those who believe: Wait for us, that we may have light from your light; it shall be said: Turn back and seek light. Then separation would be brought about between them, with a wall having a door in it; (as for) the inside of it, there shall be mercy in it, and (as for) the outside of it, at this side there shall be punishment.

14. They will cry out to them: Were we not with you? They shall say: Yea! but you caused yourselves to fall into temptation, and you waited and doubted, and vain desires deceived you till the decision of Allah came, while the deceiver deceived you about Allah.

15. So today ransom shall not be accepted from you nor from those who disbelieved; your abode is the fire; it is your friend and evil is the resort.

16. Has not the time yet come for those who believe that their hearts should be humble for the remembrance of Allah and what has come down of the truth? And that they should not be like those who were given the Book before, but the time became prolonged to them, so their hearts hardened, and most of them are transgressors.

17. Know that Allah gives life to the earth after its death; indeed, We have made the AAYAAT clear to you that you may understand.

18. Surely (as for) the charitable men and the charitable women and (those who) set apart for Allah a goodly portion, it shall be doubled for them and they shall have a noble reward.

19. And (as for) those who believe in Allah and His apostles, these it is that are the truthful and the martyrs (the true witnesses to the word of Allah) in the sight of their Lord: they shall have their reward and their light, and (as for) those who disbelieve and reject Our AAYAAT, these are the inmates of the hell-fire.

20. Know that this world's life is only sport and play and gaiety and boasting among yourselves, and a vying in the multiplication of wealth and children, like the rain, which causing the vegetation to grow, pleases the husbandmen, then it withers away so that you will see it become yellow, then it becomes dried up and broken down; and in the hereafter is a severe chastisement and forgiveness from Allah and (His) pleasure; and this world's life is naught but means of deception.

21. Hasten to forgiveness from your Lord and to a garden the extensiveness of which is as the extensiveness of the heaven and the earth; it is prepared for those who believe in Allah and His apostles; that is the grace of Allah: He gives it to whom He pleases, and Allah is the Lord of mighty grace.

22. No evil befalls on the earth nor in your own souls, but it is in the book before We bring it into existence; surely that is easy to Allah:

23. So that you may not grieve for what has escaped you, nor be exultant at what He has given you; and Allah does not love any arrogant boaster:

24. Those who are niggardly and enjoin niggardliness on men; and whoever turns back, then surely Allah is He Who is the Self-sufficient, the Praised.

25. Certainly We sent Our apostles with clear arguments, and sent down with them the Book and the balance that men may conduct themselves with equity; and We have made the iron, wherein is great violence and advantages to men, and that Allah may know who helps Him and His apostles in the secret; surely Allah is Strong, Mighty.

26. And certainly We sent Noah and Ibrahim and We made in their offspring Prophets and gave them the Book; so there are among them those who go aright, and most of them are transgressors.

27. Then We made Our apostles to follow in their footsteps, and We sent Isa son of Maryam afterwards, and We gave him the INJIL, and We put in the hearts of those who followed him kindness and mercy; and (as for) monkhood, they innovated it-- We did not prescribe it to them-- only to seek Allah's pleasure, but they did not observe it with its due observance; so We gave to those of them who believed, their reward, and most of them are transgressors.

28. O you who believe! be careful of (your duty to) Allah and believe in His Apostle: He will give you two portions of His mercy, and make for you a light with which you will walk, and forgive you, and Allah is Forgiving, Merciful;

29. So that the followers of the Book may know that they do not control aught of the grace of Allah, and that grace is in Allah's hand, He gives it to whom He pleases; and Allah is the Lord of mighty grace.

Surah HADID comprises of four Ruku that have 10, 9, 6 & 4 AAYAAT respectively; the first six AAYAAT of the Surah mention absolute authority of Allah at all the universe whereas the first AAYAT tells that all things that are at the heavens and the earth declare His glory; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah HAJJ-18 states, "do you not see that Allah is He Whom obeys whoever is in the heavens and whoever is in the earth, and the sun and the moon and the stars, and the mountains and the trees, and the animals and many of the people; and many there are against whom chastisement has become necessary; and whomsoever Allah abases, there is none who can make him honorable; surely Allah does what He pleases"; so each of His creation at the universe has its own way of declaring the glory of Allah and there are only two of His creation that are the Jinn and the Man, who have freewill to their actions, and they shall declare His glory by that freewill; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this first AAYAT tells that He is AZIZ (the Mighty) and HAKEEM (the Most Wise); note that AZIZ means that He provides for such happenings which keep the world to His will by His authoritative measures so no one becomes able to cause such deviation at the world that leads it to complete FASAD (the position where to live according to Islam becomes extremely difficult); and HAKEEM means that He shapes all things towards the way He intends even by works of the man, and when some nation challenges His authority by working against His commands which displeases Him, then some destruction strikes that nation by His command; its adverse impression ends from the world and that elimination of its adverse impression causes the peoples of the world to get the good space then and there to repent on their wrongs and to become better by accepting the true fundamental teachings of Islam, the right path to Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT tells explicitly that all His creation is under His authority so even though the Jinn and the Man have the freewill yet Allah, the true Lord, controls them too; and to keep His control, He has given life and death to all of His creation as He only has the true life; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the third AAYAT is explicit that Allah is not bound to time and space, which reads, "He is the First and the Last and the Evident and the Immanent; and He is Cognizant of all things"; note here that Allah has told about Him here in terms for us that we understand His absolute authority; He is not bound to time so He says for us to understand that "He is the First and the Last" which means explicitly that He is not bound to time; and He is not bound to space so He says for us to understand that "He is the Evident (as He has created His creation in such manner that the man would see that Allah only is the Creator as he ponders on its works that go on by principles) and the Immanent (that He is watching all His creation everywhere all the time and He is leading all His creation as He wills) so He is not bound to space; Al-Hamdu Lillah; certainly, He has created everything and He has assigned everything its specific work and for us, it is necessary to believe that Allah is not bound to time and space and due to our limits in understanding, we shall take it by the statement that we certainly do believe this and Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT tells that all His creation is certainly bound to time and space as it reads, "He is Who created the heavens and the earth in six periods, then He mounted firm at ARSH (the Throne of authority); He knows that which goes deep down into the earth (the seed and the rainwater) and that which comes forth out of it (plants, trees and their fruits), and that which comes down from the heaven (the rainwater, the angels, WAHI and the commands that Allah sends down according to His will) and that which goes up into it (the water particles and the angels departing from the world and the doings of all among the jinn and the mankind), and He is with you wherever you are; and Allah sees what you do"; note for the comment on this AAYAT that Surah AARAAF-54 says, "surely your Lord is Allah Who created the heavens and the earth in six periods of time, and He mounted firm at ARSH; He throws the veil of night over the day, which it pursues incessantly; and (He created) the sun and the moon and the stars, made subservient by His command;

surely His is the creation and the command; blessed is Allah, the Lord of the worlds"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the fifth AAYAT states that "His is the kingdom of the heavens and the earth, and to Allah are (all) affairs returned", which indicates with emphasis that He did mount the Throne of authority but He is not bound to time and space and certainly, He knows better about this glorious Throne of authority; this AAYAT also tells that all which goes up to the heaven, it includes all the doings of all the jinn and all the mankind and He has all record of that which would manifest at AKHIRAT whereas it also tells that whatever issues that need address, Allah decides about them as He wills; certainly, Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the sixth AAYAT indicates that the progress in time affects His creation and here it especially denotes its effect on the jinn and the mankind as each of these two gets nearer to death by the progress in time so the term for each of them at the world becomes lesser to make the coming life better; and He certainly knows who believes truly in the fundamental teachings of Islam as He knows even the issues that are at insides; the AAYAT reads, "He causes the night to enter in upon the day, and causes the day to enter in upon the night, and He is Cognizant of what is at insides"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so these six AAYAAT tell about the absolute authority of Allah and that He certainly is not bound to time and space; they also tell about His creation that they all declare His glory and they are bound to time and space; and the jinn and the man have to answer for all their doings at the world, at the Day of Judgment as Allah has the complete record of all their doings; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAT-7 to 10, Allah addresses those Muslims who had accepted Islam yet they were weak at some commands that Allah had given to Muslims; this especially included the command to spend upon the needy in the way of Allah from whatever amounts they had; AAYAT-7 tells that these amounts were not theirs but they received these as successors to some other persons who had them and these would not remain with them as they would pass on to others, if not by their transactions then by their deaths; so they need to spend these amounts in the way of Allah when they have the space for that; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that this command does not only relate to tangible assets but it also relates to intangible assets so it is most appreciable if some person is able to spread the knowledge of Islam he has, among his fellow beings; Al-Hamdu Lillah; care of the needy in all manner keeps away hypocrisy and all weakness in the righteous belief with time as it mends the inside of the person beautifully by keeping him away from all inclination to assets, financial in nature, of the world; so it tells to keep firm upon Islam with all sincerity and do all deeds accordingly with emphasis upon spending upon the needy and upon such cause that would consolidate the practice of the fundamental teachings of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead ask attention of the Muslims that are weak in their belief, by asking them that what stops them to believe sincerely in Allah and His last Messenger PBUH, and spend out of what He has made them successors of, when He has provided the Quran to His servant (i.e. His last Messenger Muhammad PBUH) for their Guidance to the right path to which he calls them and Allah had taken the oath from all persons that they would believe in Him as their true Lord (see AARAAF-172); Al-Hamdu Lillah; and Allah asks them what stops them from spending in the way of Allah when the actual ownership of everything in the heavens and the earth is of Allah; AAYAT-10 that is the last AAYAT of the Ruku states, "and what reason have you that you should not spend in Allah's way? And Allah's is the inheritance of the heavens and the earth; not alike among you are those who spent before the victory (i.e. the treaty that Muslims made with the disbelievers of Makkah at HUDAYBIYA) and fought (in the way of Allah then as that was the time when the Muslims needed to fortify their position): they are more exalted in rank than those who spent and fought (the challengers to Islam) afterwards; and Allah has promised good to all (so they also would get good returns for all their good doings); and Allah is Aware of what you do"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first AAYAT of the next Ruku tells that Allah would provide better returns to such person at the world who cares about the needy and at AKHIRAT, he shall have an excellent reward; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the four AAYAAT ahead narrate about the Day of HASHR where the sincere Muslims would move on at the bridge (SIRAT) in darkness that is over the hell-fire and leads to JANNAH, by the light that they would receive there and it would run in front of them (due to their true belief) and also cover the right of them (due to their good deeds according to that true belief) so that certainly is the true success; the disbelievers would not have any access to SIRAT as they would become the residents of the hell-fire, except for the hypocrites who had claimed at the world that they also were Muslims so they would follow the sincere Muslims there and they would try to move on by lights of those sincere Muslims at SIRAT (as they would not have any); they would fall behind, by the will of Allah so they would call the sincere Muslims to wait for them so that they also may cross the SIRAT with them by the lights they have but they would be told (by angels) to return (to the world if possible for them) and search for their own lights there; as that would not be possible, they would be stranded to grope for the way and ultimately fall into the hell-fire; they would plead that they were with the sincere Muslims at the world to which those Muslims would answer that their selfish care to their own selves for worldly benefits at the world has led them to this status here and Satan, the deceiver, deceived them completely at the world; today, nothing would save them from the hell-fire and that would be their ultimate destination; these AAYAAT read, "on that day you will see the believing men and the believing women-- their light running before them and on their right hand-- good news for you today (that are) gardens beneath which rivers flow, to abide therein, that is the grand achievement; on the day when the hypocritical men and the hypocritical women will say to those who believe-- wait for us, that we may have light from your light; it shall be said-- turn back and seek light; then separation would be brought about between them, with a wall having a door in it; (as for) the inside of it (i.e. at the side of Muslims), there shall be mercy in it, and (as for) the outside of it at this side (i.e. at the side of hypocrites), there shall be punishment; they will cry out to them-- were we not with you (at the world)?-- they shall say-- yea! but you caused yourselves to fall into temptation (to get all worldly benefits), and you waited (for troubles to get the sincere Muslims) and doubted (the message of Islam), and vain desires deceived you till the decision of Allah (about your deaths) came, while the deceiver (the Satan) deceived you about Allah; so today ransom shall not be accepted from you nor from those who disbelieved; your abode is the fire (with those disbelievers); it is your friend and evil is the resort"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-16 asks such Muslims who claim that they believe in Islam yet they live at the world without care to fulfill the demands of Islam, if the time has not yet come after the Quran has stated their situation at SIRAT that their hearts truly become humble for the remembrance of Allah (so that they ask Allah for mercy) and they truly accept the message of Islam as the Quran has given them; note that the Quran addresses all those who claim to believe in Islam as those persons who have believed and this includes even the hypocrites and their true status would manifest at AKHIRAT; they still have the space before their deaths to repent on their wrongs and make their doings better; if they do not care to believe in Islam truly, they would become like the people of the book (especially the Bani-Israel) who took some of the significant commands of Allah and neglected the other of those; and they kept on this without any repentance to Allah until a long period passed on them and their hearts hardened; so now many of them are most sinful persons; the last three AAYAAT of the Ruku give hopes to them that if they do repent sincerely, Allah would not only forgive them but also give them the space to make themselves better as Allah provides life to earth when it seems dead, by the rainfall upon it; so due to their sincerity to Islam, Allah would send the heavenly rain to their hearts (that is the acceptance of the teachings of the Quran which would wash the wrongs at their insides) so they certainly would become the most righteous persons; Al-Hamdu Lillah; they would fulfill the demands of Islam with extreme fervor and they would spend amounts on the needy persons and also in such tasks by which Islam would spread to all peoples of the world; as they become true Muslims (among SALEHIN) and keep firm on the righteous belief, they would rise to become SHUHADA and even to become SIDDIQIN so they would have all these three ranks for them; note that Surah NISAA-69 tells that Allah has bestowed favors upon the Prophets and the most truthful persons (SIDDIQIN who work their lives sincerely according to the teachings provided by the Messengers even at such times where it seems difficult for them to practice Islam and among these, were those too who helped the Messengers at their respective times with all fervor) and the martyrs (SHUHADA who stand practically as witnesses to the word of Allah and these are good persons who fight the enemy at necessity, physically and verbally, in favor of the practice and the defense of the good teachings of Islam in the way of Allah) and the righteous persons (SALEHIN who remain committed to Islam and these include all Muslims who are sincere in their claim to Islam); Al-Hamdu Lillah; so the last AAYAT of this Ruku at HADID tells for all true Muslims that as they remain firm upon Islam where they would remain as SALEHIN, they would rise to SHUHADA and even to SIDDIQIN and so they would have all these three ranks as they remain most committed to Islam sincerely in belief and all their deeds; Al-Hamdu Lillah;

note that Muhammad PBUH was the last of Messengers of Allah and He chose all of them from among the most righteous persons by His will when they were coming to the world and this status is such that no one is able to achieve it by efforts; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note also that SHUHADA is such term that refers to those who testify for Islam physically by QITAL (and die for Allah in that) and verbally by TABLIGH; it also denotes that they would testify against the disbelievers at the grounds of HASHR if they are called for it, that the disbelievers had received the message of Islam at the world and they did their best there to provide it to them; this last AAYAT of the Ruku read, "and (as for) those who believe in Allah and His apostles (where they are SALEHIN i.e. the sincere Muslims), these it is that are the truthful (this means that with sincerity to Islam even at most difficult times, they would rise to the rank of SIDDIQIN) and (before that to the rank of) the martyrs (the true witnesses to the word of Allah physically by QITAL and verbally by TABLIGH) in the sight of their Lord- they shall have their reward and their light, and (as for) those who disbelieve and reject Our AAYAAT, these are the inmates of the hell-fire"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next Ruku starts by the AAYAT that tells the five ages of life for such persons who relate themselves totally to the life at the world; it reads, "Know that this world's life is only sport (at childhood) and play (at the teenage) and gaiety (at youth) and boasting among yourselves (as the age advances from youth to old age), and a vying in the multiplication of wealth and children (at the old age and this attitude stays till death), like the rain, which causing the vegetation to grow, pleases the husbandmen, then it withers away so that you will see it become yellow, then it becomes dried up and broken down; and in the hereafter is a severe chastisement (for evil persons) and forgiveness from Allah and (His) pleasure (for righteous persons); and this world's life is naught but means of deception"; the duration of these ages might vary at individuals yet generally the first three stages pass as the person reaches forty; the example of vegetation divides the ages in two phases that are the first three of growth and the last two of decline; the AAYAT uses the term KUFFAR for the husbandmen whereas the Quran has used the term in the meaning of disbelievers too (as in MUMTAHINA-10 & 11 and other places) so this tells again that the context where the word is placed in the Quran has high significance to understand it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the AAYAT starts by mentioning of "the world's life" and ends by its mention to direct towards the fact that those who have an obsession with the world without care to AKHIRAT, their lives represent these attitudes at different ages while the Man needs to care for AKHIRAT only at the world at all times as Allah has provided the space of life to him at the world only to show his true worth for that; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so AAYAT-21 tells that competition for the status at the world or the dominance in wealth and children at the world is not something to rejoice but the righteous Muslim person needs to hasten towards the forgiveness of Allah and the JANNAH that is extensive as the heaven and the earth which is prepared for the persons who believe in Allah and His Messengers; note that the Quran mentions JANNAH as extensive as the heaven and the earth which is prepared for those who believe in Allah and His Messengers and this indicates that it already occurs at the space in the universe though it would duly come forth at the Day of Judgment; note also that Islam does not appreciate competition in matters that relate to the life at the world but it asks to compete in matters of AKHIRAT as that only would lead to stability of their lives at the world too; the AAYAT tells that no person shall have pride on his TAQWA as Allah only provides the space for all to work righteously in His way; certainly, Allah only is the true Lord Who bestows His grace to the righteous persons; Al-Hamdu Lillah; if the Muslim righteous person does not get wealth or status at the world and even loses much of that by living righteously then what?- everything is written at the book (LAUHE-MAHFUZ) and no trouble would fall on him except for what is written so he shall not feel dejection at whatever he loses and he shall not rejoice at whatever he gains; he shall provide amounts from the resources Allah has given to him so that he has no inclination towards the wealth and the status at the world; AAYAT-22, 23 and 24 read, "No evil befalls on the earth nor in your own souls, but it is in the book before We bring it into existence; surely that is easy to Allah; so that you may not grieve for what has escaped you, nor be exultant at what He has given you; and Allah does not love any arrogant boaster; those who are niggardly and enjoin niggardliness on men; and whoever turns back, then surely Allah is He Who is the Self-sufficient, the Praised"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the third Ruku reads, "certainly We sent Our apostles with clear arguments, and sent down with them the Book and the balance that men may conduct themselves with equity; and

We have made the iron, wherein is great violence and advantages to men, and that Allah may know who helps Him and His apostles in the secret; surely Allah is Strong, Mighty"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at this AAYAT, Allah says that He sent His apostles with BAYYINAAT (the clear arguments) and sent down with them KITAB (the Book) and MIZAN (the Balance); note that BAYYINAAT means the clear reasoning to get to the true belief in Allah, the true Lord, and in the judgment at AKHIRAT especially by the observation of the previous guidance that Allah had provided to the people by all His Messengers that came previously; Al-Hamdu Lillah; and KITAB means the commands that Allah gave to the people by His Messengers and at these current times, it is most necessary to take His commands by the Holy Book Quran; Al-Hamdu Lillah; and MIZAN means that aspect of HIKMAT (i.e. the necessary wisdom) that the practicing Muslims need to see to put the commands of Allah into practice at the specific time & place so it is the caring attitude towards the people to keep them truly to Islamic commands in practice with total attention towards Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so whereas KITAB denotes the commands of Allah, MIZAN denotes all necessary consideration about the practice of the commands of Allah as the practicing Muslims would not ignore any of His significant commands and they would not twist any of them due to hard times at hand to apply it in some irrelevant manner; so the MIZAN that Allah has mentioned here is the fixed standard for rightness that needs the best of Islamic practice to fulfill its asking at the given time & place; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so it implies that to ignore any of His significant commands or to twist any of them to suit the whims of such persons who ask for worldly benefits (as was previously done with Torah), would lead the people to stray away from the right path; Allah sent down not only His commands through His Messengers but also the awareness of manner to apply them with HIKMAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah tells here that those who do not care to apply MIZAN in their attitudes to remain firm upon the Islamic teachings then Allah has provided HADID (i.e. the iron) as answer to them; though the weapons made from it might cause extreme pain and even injustice to the people yet in right hands, it also has the potential to punish such wrong doers who intend that imbalance occurs in attitudes where "the might" would manifest as the order of the day rather than the righteousness in attitudes; Allah has provided such weapons that have iron at their make so that the practicing Muslims show their worth by their proper usage against the challengers to Islam, so that the world conforms to the morality that Islam appreciates; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah states at the last part of the AAYAT that Allah only is truly Strong and truly Mighty so He would ultimately set the world to righteousness and He has the total authority to lead on the world as He wills without any need of anything; He examines the mankind so to live by His commands would provide for his own safety but the challenge to Him would only cause destruction to such challengers; He is AZIZ and He would ultimately bring the world to His rule by His absolute authority; most certainly, He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first AAYAT of the last Ruku mentions those two Messengers of Allah in whose descendants, Allah sent His Messengers after them and they are Noah-AS and

Abraham-AS; note that before Abraham-AS, Allah had eliminated many of peoples that had rejected the Guidance to the right path (which the Messengers of Allah had presented to them); but there was not any such specific group present that comprised of high number of people which Allah had designated as chosen for the task to fulfill the status of KHALIFAH upon the earth; Allah chose the descendants of Israel (who was the grandson of Abraham) for this most respectable task at the time of Moses whom Allah provided Torah; the period between Abraham-AS and Moses-AS is near to 600 years yet as the time passed on, they showed their total incompatibility to the asking of it and so finally, at the times of Muhammad PBUH, the last of Messengers, Allah terminated their status that had stayed for about two thousand years for them; at that time, Allah gave the Muslims this honorable status to call towards the true guidance by the good assistance of the Holy Book Quran so as to gather all peoples at the world onto the fulfillment of the liabilities of the KHALIFAH upon the earth; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this AAYAT mentions that most of the persons who had received the Book (Torah) ignored its commands in practice by different ways and AAYAT-16 of this Surah had also told this; the words at both places are "and most of them are transgressors" and this relates especially to the Bani-Israel; note that this implies that the Muslims need to care for Islamic teachings in practice as the Quran has presented to them, without any negligence; AAYAT-27 also states the same "and most of them are transgressors" about those who also had received the commands of Allah in Torah but they chose to back away from the practice of those commands leaving the normal life and this relates especially to NASAARA (the Christians); Surah HADID mentions explicitly the respective results that the disbelievers and the true believers would ultimately receive at AKHIRAT; note that the Quran has mentioned at TAGHABUN-2, "it is He Who has created you (all of the mankind); and of you are some that are disbelievers, and some that are believers: and Allah sees well all that you do"; so these are the two nations only that have remained among the mankind; all the believers would get the true success at AKHIRAT by the will of Allah as they had worked at the world for the pleasure of Allah though there would be lower and upper levels in them; these all believers are mentioned at Surah NISAA-69; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as for the disbelievers, the AAYAAT of the Holy Book Quran present them as of four major types besides SABI'EEN (that were such persons of the Babylon i.e. of the ancient Iraq who believed in TAUHID as Abraham-AS has presented there but with the passage of time, some of things that related to total disbelief had made way into their descendants); these four major types include the Jews and the NASAARA (i.e. the Christians); these both were initially on the right path by the guidance of Torah that also was the book of Allah that He had provided to Moses-AS but with the passage of time, some of things that related to extreme disbelief had made way into their descendants; the other two mentioned among the disbelievers are the pagans (those persons who worship idols and those who make partners to Allah in His authority though all authority truly belongs to Him only) and the hypocrites (those persons who claim to be the believers in Islam but they have their attitudes against the teachings of Islam and they do show adversity to Islam often but they would clearly manifest at AKHIRAT); note that after the times of the last Prophet Muhammad PBUH, it is not allowed for the true Muslims to designate someone as hypocrite due to his evil deeds until he justifies himself on his wrongs and criticizes Islam openly; certainly, Allah would show the hypocrisy of all such persons to all, at the Day of HASHR that is the Day of Judgment; see also the supplementary note on AAYAT-62 of BAQARAH after the note on its eighth Ruku; Al-Hamdu Lillah; here, AAYAT-27 reads, "then We made Our apostles (that came in Bani-Israel) to follow in their footsteps, and We sent Isa son of Maryam afterwards, and We gave him the INJIL (that provided clarity to Torah), and We put in the hearts of those who followed him kindness and mercy; and (as for) monkhood, they innovated it-- We did not prescribe it to them--(but they took it) only to seek Allah's pleasure, but they did not observe it with its due observance; so We gave to those of them who believed their reward, and most of them are transgressors"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that it happened after couple of centuries of the ascension of Jesus-AS to heavens that the Christians took up RAHBANIYAT (monkhood) only to seek the pleasure of Allah but they could not fulfill its demands; they took it as protection from the troublesome persecution that they were facing at those times because of their belief in Jesus Christ; as Jesus-AS had much kindness for his fellow beings and he was most merciful towards them, his followers developed these good qualities in them; however, they felt that they are unable to fulfill the asking of Torah though the teachings of Jesus Christ guided towards that, so they separated their selves from all issues of life and went into isolation to remain attentive to Allah, without care to living normal as they thought that they can avoid responsibility by living away from all issues of life; if it had remained temporary attitude to safety, it might have been bearable yet with time, it became the standard for being pious among the followers of Jesus Christ; the man does have such physical needs that ask for satisfaction and Allah has provided the rightful means to that satisfaction for him so Islam does not suppress such physical needs but channelizes them to remain inside the Islamic morality so that he lives on with utmost decency even though he lives at normal business of life; the problem that came with RAHBANIYAT was that with time, it not only became synonymous to refrain from the satisfaction of normal physical needs of the man but it was taken to have the higher worth when the person who took it up, tormented himself physically too; so this clearly expressed that to become righteous, the person has to avoid all physical pleasures and on the contrary, he must inflict physical pains to himself too so this led the followers of Jesus in general to think that the attention towards Allah comes by living away from normal; as it is not possible to suppress the inclination to satisfy the physical needs all the time by taking that as religious liability, it caused extreme troubles practically and the AAYAT expresses this as it says "but they did not observe it with its due observance" and the last part of it says clearly, "and most of them are transgressors"; note that TAQWA comes to the Muslim person by the fulfillment of the commands of Allah with all sincerity as he lives on normally in the ordinary business of life; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT tell the people of the book (Jews and Christians) not to lose hopes as their lives at the world are yet in progress, but they need to believe truly in the last Messenger of Allah; this would provide them the mercy of Allah twofold and they would become entitled to get the light of the true guidance that would help them even at SIRAT; He would forgive their wrongs totally as they accept wholly that Muhammad PBUH, who has come from the descendants of Ishmael-AS, is truly the last Messenger of Allah and then they follow his guidance; it is the will of Allah about where He provides His grace (i.e. it is His will whom He makes His Messenger) and certainly, He only decides for this most honorable grace; certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah MUJADILAH

(Consists of 3 Ruku; H-6)

1. Allah indeed knows the plea of her who pleads with you about her husband and complains to Allah, and Allah knows the contentions of both of you; surely Allah is Hearing, Seeing.
2. (As for) those of you who put away their wives by likening their backs to the backs of their mothers, they are not their mothers; their mothers are no others than those who gave them birth; and most surely they utter hateful word and falsehood and most surely Allah is Pardoning, Forgiving.
3. And (as for) those who put away their wives by likening their backs to the backs of their mothers then would recall what they said, they should free a captive before they touch each other; to that you are admonished (to conform); and Allah is Aware of what you do.

4. But whoever has not the means, let him fast for two months successively before they touch each other; then as for him who is not able, let him feed sixty needy ones; that is in order that you may have true belief in Allah and His Apostle, and these are Allah's limits, and the disbelievers shall have a painful punishment.

5. Surely those who act in opposition to Allah and His Apostle will be abased even as those before them were abased; and indeed We have revealed clear AAYAAT, and the disbelievers shall have an abasing chastisement.

6. On the day when Allah will raise them up all together, then inform them of what they did: Allah has recorded it while they have forgotten it; and Allah is the witness of all things.

7. Do you not see that Allah knows whatever is in the heavens and whatever is in the earth? Nowhere is there a secret counsel between three persons but He is the fourth of them, nor (between) five but He is the sixth of them, nor less than that nor more but He is with them wherever they are; then He will inform them of what they did on the day of resurrection: surely Allah is Cognizant of all things.

8. Have you not seen those who are forbidden secret counsels, then they return to what they are forbidden, and they hold secret counsels for sin and revolt and disobedience to the Apostle, and when they come to you they greet you with a greeting with which Allah does not greet you, and they say in themselves: Why does not Allah punish us for what we say? The hell-fire is enough for them; they shall enter it, and evil is the resort.

9. O you who believe! when you confer together in private, do not give to each other counsel of sin and revolt and disobedience to the Apostle, and give to each other counsel of decent issue and guarding (against evil); and be careful of (your duty to) Allah, to Whom you shall be gathered together.

10. Secret counsels are only (the work) of the Satan that he may cause to grieve those who truly believe, and he cannot hurt them in the least except with Allah's permission, and on Allah let the true believers rely.

11. O you who believe! when it is said to you to make room in (your) assemblies, then make ample room, Allah will give you ample, and when it is said: Rise up, then rise up. Allah will exalt those of you who believe, and those who are given knowledge, in high degrees; and Allah is Aware of what you do.

12. O you who believe! when you consult the Apostle, then offer something in charity before your consultation; that is better for you and purer; but if you do not find, then surely Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.

13. Do you fear that you will not (be able to) give in charity before your consultation? So when you do not do it and Allah has turned to you (mercifully), then keep up prayer and pay the poor-rate and obey Allah and His Apostle; and Allah is Aware of what you do.

14. Have you not seen those who befriend a people with whom Allah is wrathful? They are neither of you nor of them, and they swear falsely while they know.

15. Allah has prepared for them a severe punishment; surely what they do is evil.

16. They make their oaths to serve as a cover so they turn away from Allah's way therefore they shall have an abasing chastisement.

17. Neither their wealth nor their children shall avail them aught against Allah; they are the inmates of the hell-fire, therein they shall abide.

18. On the day that Allah will raise them up all, then they will swear to Him as they swear to you, and they think that they have something; now surely they are the liars.

19. The Satan has gained mastery over them, so he has made them forget the remembrance of Allah; they are the Satan's party; now surely the Satan's party are the losers.

20. Surely (as for) those who are in opposition to Allah and His Apostle; they shall be among the most abased.

21. Allah has written down that I will most certainly prevail, I and My apostles; surely Allah is Strong, Mighty.

22. You shall not find the people who believe in Allah and the latter day befriending those who act in opposition to Allah and His Apostle, even though they were their fathers, or their sons, or their brothers, or their kinsfolk; these are they into whose hearts He has impressed the true belief, and whom He has strengthened with an inspiration from Him; and He will cause them to enter gardens beneath which rivers flow, abiding therein; Allah is well-pleased with them and they are well-pleased with Him; these are Allah's party; surely the party of Allah are only the successful ones.

Surah MUJADILAH descended the same year as Surah HADID and it also discusses some of such issues that HADID has presented; it consists of three Ruku that comprise of 6, 7 and 9 AAYAAT respectively; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first Ruku gives the ruling about ZIHAR which was the situation which occurred when a man mentioned to his wife that some of her physical part (especially her back) is like the part of his mother or sister or daughter (and that he is disallowed to view); in such situation, she became most unrelated to him and there remained no option for reconciliation; note that the words that the man utters about women has extreme significance and the marriage, divorce and revoke of divorce highly depends on this utterance; the ruling came at forth by these AAYAAT as one of SAHABA (the companions of the Prophet PBUH) AUS ibn SAMIT-RA said such words to his wife KHAWLA bint THALIBA-RA; they had children to care about and most worried, she came to the Prophet PBUH to ask about this situation; as the Prophet PBUH had no ruling then at the Quran about this, he told her that and stated that probably she has become unrelated to him according to the order of the day; on hearing this, she protested crying out loud which the Quran has termed as her quarrel to the Prophet PBUH about her husband and complained there to Allah at her plight; so at this occasion, Allah cared for her and gave the ruling about ZIHAR explicitly in the Quran to observe in practice ahead; the three AAYAAT ahead that are the second, third and fourth, state, "(as for) those of you who put away their wives by likening their backs to the backs of their mothers (and commit ZIHAR), they are not their mothers; their mothers are no others than those who gave them birth; and most surely they utter hateful word and falsehood and most surely Allah is Pardoning, Forgiving (though from now on, all would care not to utter such words); and (as for) those who put away their wives by likening their backs to the backs of their mothers then would recall what they said (and need to compensate), they should free a captive (i.e. a slave) before they touch each other (as man and wife); to that you are admonished (to conform); and Allah is Aware of what you do; but whoever has not the means (due to his poverty or due to unavailability of slaves), let him fast for two months successively before they touch each other; then as for him who is not able (due to physical weakness or genuine burden by keeping these consecutive fasts), let him feed sixty needy ones (two times by good foods in quality and quantity at a day); that is in order that you may have true belief in Allah and His Apostle (that He cares to provide you due space for compensation at your extreme folly in words), and these are Allah's limits (for which the Muslims would care), and the disbelievers shall have a painful punishment (even at the world who do not care to practice Islamic rulings at matters so it leads them more upon disbelief)"; the last couple of AAYAAT at the Ruku tell all such men who think that because they have authority over women (or in general), they are liable to treat their subordinates in any manner that they deem fit; these AAYAAT read, "surely those who act in opposition to Allah and His Apostle will be abased even as those before them were abased; and indeed We have revealed clear AAYAAT (rulings about issues), and the disbelievers (who do not take those rulings into practice)

shall have an abasing chastisement (at AKHIRAT); on the day when Allah will raise them up all together, then inform them of what they did; Allah has recorded it while they have forgotten it; and Allah is the witness of all things"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that Surah NISAA-34 has indicated that though men are the maintainers of women because Allah has made some of them to excel others and because they spend out of their property yet they are disallowed to seek ways to impose their authority over them when they do fulfill their obligations; the AAYAT has mentioned that surely Allah is Most High, Great; so he must remember that though Allah has given him authority over her yet He certainly is Most Exalted and Greatest (so He would punish him on his unlawful doings against his wife who also is among His slaves); authority asks to serve the weak persons in their troubles and it does not ask to impose it on them as that would show his negativity only; most certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first AAYAT of the second Ruku tells about those persons who attend the gatherings of Muslims as if they also are among them though they are not truly Muslims; this whole Ruku relates the ruling about NAJWA (secret talks in low tone; whispering) and asks all true Muslims to keep it free of any of sins that would denote revolt against Allah and disobedience of the Prophet PBUH; the first AAYAT tells explicitly that Allah is Most Aware of all their activities and nothing is out of His knowledge; He certainly knows well about their secret talks against Islam when they speak with each other; the AAYAT reads, "do you not see that Allah knows whatever is in the heavens and whatever is in the earth?- nowhere is there a secret counsel

(NAJWA) between three persons but He is the fourth of them, nor (between) five but He is the sixth of them, nor less than that nor more but He is with them wherever they are; then He will inform them of what they did on the day of resurrection: surely Allah is Cognizant of all things"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-8 tells about their disobedience and disrespectful attitude towards the Prophet PBUH which reads, "have you not seen those who are forbidden secret counsels (as Surah NISAA-114 had directed explicitly to avoid it), then they return to what they are forbidden (and make secret counsels), and they hold secret counsels for sin and revolt and disobedience to the Apostle (so even in those secret counsels, they oppose Islam), and when they come to you they greet you with a greeting with which Allah does not greet you (as they used to greet by such wording that sounded near to Salam yet it had negative meaning by which they intended to disrespect the Prophet PBUH), and they say in themselves- why does not Allah punish us for what we say? (as they foolishly thought that their immediate punishment only, due their disrespect of the Prophet PBUH, would prove that he truly is the Messenger of Allah); the hell-fire is enough for them; they shall enter it (at AKHIRAT), and evil is the resort"; note that Surah NISAA had descended to the Prophet PBUH at the fourth and fifth year of HIJRAH just previous to Surah MUJADILAH, where it states about the insincere persons to Islam that "there is no good in most of their secret counsels except (in his) who enjoins charity (that keeps him away too from hypocrisy) or virtuous issue (that keeps him away too from sins) or reconciliation between people (by remaining committed to obedience to the Prophet

PBUH); and whoever does this seeking Allah's pleasure, We will give him a mighty reward" (NISAA-114); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next couple of AAYAAT guide the sincere Muslims that if they have to confer in private about some issue, they would take utmost care that their counsel never relates to any sin and revolt to Allah and disobedience to the Prophet PBUH as such counsels that have such things are the works of Satan; these AAYAAT read, "O you who believe! when you confer together in private, do not give to each other counsel of sin and revolt and disobedience to the Apostle, and give to each other counsel of decent issue (that is virtuous) and guarding (against evil); and be careful of (your duty to) Allah, to Whom you shall be gathered together (at AKHIRAT); secret counsels (of the insincere persons among the Muslims) are only (the work) of the Satan that he may cause to grieve those who truly believe, and he cannot hurt them in the least except with Allah's permission, and on Allah let the true believers rely"; AAYAT-11 gives the rule to all Muslims that at their gatherings, they shall sit with reasonable space and not too close; this measure would prevent any occasion for a sizable number of persons to make some mini gathering within the large gathering of the Muslims and so it would prevent any chance to the insincere persons that sit among the Muslims to conspire against the sincere Muslims there by NAJWA; and they all would make space for the incoming persons if they are asked for it without any grudge in the best interest of all true Muslims; so Allah would provide them much respect among all true Muslims due to their sincerity to Islam and due to their awareness of the rulings of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last couple of AAYAAT at this

Ruku provide the necessary check on private talks with the Prophet PBUH so that the sincere Muslims fully understand the significance of their unity in the best interest of all true Muslims; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note about these two last AAYAT of the Ruku that AAYAT-13 is taken to abrogate the command of AAYAT-12 but actually "there is no abrogation in the Quran"; see the note at the thirteenth Ruku of Surah BAQARAH for some explanation to this statement; wherever the change of some AAYAT has occurred in the Holy Book Quran by some other AAYAT, there Allah ceased some specific aspect of the command that He gave by the former AAYAT in the Holy Book Quran in coming to practice though the other aspect of it does still come to practice and the recitation of both goes on; so the change only relates to the command to practice at these very few places and that change actually tells of some modification at its practice; so these two AAYAT rule together that the Muslims would provide some charity if they need to take some of time of the Prophet PBUH in private for consultation of something as that would be the most praiseworthy gesture; but if the consultation with the Prophet PBUH by some charity is not possible for Muslims, they can consult him without that and ask forgiveness and mercy from Allah; note that the last part of the first AAYAT provides an indication to it whereas the second one presents it explicitly; so it asks to take-up the ease noted in the first where needed and there certainly is no abrogation; note that Allah gave this command to provide SADAQAH (i.e. to give some amounts in charity) if someone needed to take some of time of the Prophet PBUH in private because there were such persons, some of them hypocrites, who were causing trouble to the Prophet PBUH by asking for his time in private; mostly, the matters at discussion were not liable to take-up in private so the AAYAT asked the sincere Muslims to consult him only after providing some of amounts to the needy in charity if they genuinely needed such consultation; that direction related to EHSAAN; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the ruling, though at EHSAAN, did cause the end of many discussions with the Prophet PBUH in private and so it did provide him convenience in this matter just after these AAYAAT of MUJADILAH came to him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last Ruku commences by stating about those persons who accompanied Muslims in their gatherings yet they were most insincere to Islam where it came to practice such commands that they found difficult on them; they had their inclination to those persons who were uncaring to commands of Allah and who were most disrespectful to the Prophet PBUH and they asked the sincere Muslims too to follow their lead; so the Ruku tells about the two groups among the Muslims that in them, there is the party of the Satan and the other of them are the sincere Muslims who are the party of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at the Ruku, AAYAT-14 to AAYAT-20 read, "have you not seen those who befriend a people with whom Allah is wrathful (i.e. the Jews whom Allah had punished because of their disrespect to the apostles of Allah and because of their taking some of commands from Torah and leaving others in practice)?- they are neither of you nor of them (but they are most selfish with their attention to worldly gains), and they swear falsely while they know (that they are liars); Allah has prepared for them a severe punishment (at AKHIRAT); surely what they do is evil;

they make their oaths to serve as a cover so they turn away from Allah's way therefore they shall have an abasing chastisement (even at the world); neither their wealth nor their children shall avail them aught against Allah; they are the inmates of the hell-fire, therein they shall abide; on the day that Allah will raise them up all, then they will swear to Him as they swear to you (that they did believe in Islam), and they think that they have something (substantial as they used to live within sincere Muslims though without care to practice all asking of Islam truly); now surely they are the liars; the Satan has gained mastery over them, so he has made them forget the remembrance of Allah (by directing them to charm of the worldly status and beauty of its possessions and unworthy inclination to glamorous women); they are (in) the Satan's party; now surely the Satan's party are the losers; surely (as for) those who are in opposition to Allah and His Apostle (in which these persons are also included), they shall be among the most abased (even at the world and they would be at the extreme depth of the hell-fire at AKHIRAT as NISAA-145 has stated clearly)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-21 declares that only the Truth would prevail that are the fundamental teachings of Islam; Allah has written that whatever the disbelievers do against Islam, ultimately its teachings would prevail as it has come at fore for all persons to see; so now with its clarity, it would ultimately defeat all its challengers so with the presence of these beautiful teachings at fore, the wrong persons at the world have no chance to gain the upper hand or to retain it for much time ahead; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the AAYAT reads, "Allah has written down that I will most certainly prevail, I and My apostles; surely Allah is Strong, Mighty"; note that at HADID-25, Allah says that He sent His apostles with BAYYINAAT (the clear arguments) and sent down with them KITAB (the Book) and MIZAN (the Balance); so BAYYINAAT means the clear reasoning to get to the true belief in Allah, the true Lord, and in the judgment at AKHIRAT especially by the observation of the previous guidance that Allah had provided to the people by all His Messengers; Al-Hamdu Lillah; and KITAB means the commands that Allah gave to the people by His Messengers and MIZAN means that aspect of HIKMAT (i.e. the necessary wisdom) that the practicing Muslims need to see to put the commands of Allah into practice at the specific time & place so it is the caring attitude towards the people to keep them truly to Islamic commands in practice with total attention towards Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; there also the AAYAT ends by the statement that "surely Allah is QAVI (Strong), AZIZ (Mighty)" which implies that whatever the disbelievers do against Islam, Allah would ultimately set the world to righteousness and He has the total authority to lead on the world as He wills without any need of anything; He examines the mankind at the world with necessary check that nothing truly stops any person by doings of wrong persons, from providing the examination at the space of his life here and He has eliminated many such wrong persons from the world to eliminate their impression upon it; so to live by His commands would provide for the safety of the mankind but the challenge to Him would only cause destruction to such challengers; He is AZIZ and He would ultimately bring the world to His rule by His absolute authority; most certainly,

He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku and also of the Surah, tells about the party of Allah that they are most committed to all commands of Allah; it reads, "you shall not find the people who believe in Allah and the latter day (i.e. AKHIRAT) befriending those who act in opposition to Allah and His Apostle (by challenging the fundamental teachings of Islam), even though they (i.e. these challengers to Islam) were their fathers, or their sons, or their brothers, or their kinsfolk; these are they into whose hearts He has impressed the true belief (as they are most committed to Islam in practice), and whom He has strengthened with an inspiration from Him (that keeps them content at the world as they live with necessities to remain total attentive to Allah); and He will cause them to enter gardens (JANNAAT) beneath which rivers flow, abiding therein; Allah is well-pleased with them and they are well-pleased with Him - these are Allah's party; now surely the party of Allah are only the successful ones; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah HASHR
(Consists of 3 Ruku; H-5)

1. Whatever is in the heavens and whatever is in the earth declares the glory of Allah, and He is the Mighty, the Wise.
2. He it is Who caused those who disbelieved of the followers of the Book to go forth from their homes at the very first gathering; you did not think that they would go forth, while they were certain that their fortresses would defend them against Allah; but Allah came to them whence they did not expect, and cast terror into their hearts; they demolished their houses with their own hands and the hands of the believers; so take a lesson, O you who have eyes!
3. And had it not been that Allah had decreed for them the exile, He would certainly have punished them in this world, and in the hereafter they shall have chastisement of the hell-fire.
4. That is because they acted in opposition to Allah and His Apostle, and whoever acts in opposition to Allah, then surely Allah is severe in retribution (of evil).
5. Whatever palm-tree you cut down or leave standing upon its roots, it is by Allah's command, and that He may abase the transgressors.
6. And whatever Allah restored to His Apostle from them you did not press forward against it any horse or a riding camel but Allah gives authority to His apostles against whom He pleases, and Allah has power over all things.
7. Whatever Allah has restored to His Apostle from the people of the towns, it is for Allah and for the Apostle, and for the near of kin and the orphans and the needy and the wayfarer, so that it may not be a thing taken by turns among the rich of you, and whatever the Apostle gives you, accept it, and from whatever he forbids you, keep back, and be careful of (your duty to) Allah; surely Allah is severe in retribution (of evil):

8. (It is) for the poor who fled their homes and their possessions, seeking grace of Allah and (His) pleasure, and assisting Allah and His Apostle: these it is that are the truthful.

9. And those who made their abode in the city and in the true belief before them love those who have fled to them, and do not find in their hearts a need of what they are given, and prefer (them) before themselves though poverty may afflict them, and whoever is preserved from the niggardliness of his soul, these it is that are the successful ones.

10. And those who come after them say: Our Lord! forgive us and those of our brethren who had precedence of us in true belief, and do not allow any spite to remain in our hearts towards those who truly believe, our Lord! - surely, Thou art Kind, Merciful.

11. Have you not seen those who have become hypocrites? They say to those of their brethren who disbelieve from among the followers of the Book: If you are driven forth, we shall certainly go forth with you, and we will never obey any one concerning you, and if you are fought against, we will certainly help you, and Allah bears witness that they are most surely liars.

12. Certainly if these are driven forth, they will not go forth with them, and if they are fought against, they will not help them, and even if they help-them, they will certainly turn (their) backs, then they shall not be helped.

13. You are certainly greater in being feared in their hearts than Allah; that is because they are such people who do not understand

14. They will not fight against you together save in fortified towns or from behind walls; their fighting between them is severe, you may think them as one body, and their hearts are disunited; that is because they are a people who have no sense.

15. Like those before them shortly; they tasted the evil result of their affair, and they shall have a painful punishment.

16. Like the Satan when he says to man: Disbelieve, but when he disbelieves, he says: I am surely clear of you; surely I fear Allah, the Lord of the worlds.

17. Therefore the end of both of them is that they are both in the fire to abide therein, and that is the reward of the unjust.

18. O you who believe! be careful of (your duty to) Allah, and let every soul consider what it has sent on for the morrow, and be careful of Allah; surely Allah is Aware of what you do.

19. And be not like those who forsook Allah, so He made them forsake their own souls: these it is that are the transgressors.

20. Not alike are the inmates of the hell-fire and the dwellers of the garden: the dwellers of the garden are they that are the achievers.

21. Had We sent down this Quran on a mountain, you would certainly have seen it falling down, splitting asunder because of the fear of Allah, and We set forth these parables to men that they may reflect.

22. He is Allah besides Whom there is no god; the Knower of the unseen and the seen; He is the Beneficent, the Merciful

23. He is Allah, besides Whom there is no god; the King, the Holy, the Giver of peace, the Granter of security, Guardian over all, the Mighty, the Supreme, the Possessor of every greatness; Glory be to Allah from what they set up (with Him).

24. He is Allah the Creator, the Maker, the Fashioner; His are the most excellent names; whatever is in the heavens and the earth declares His glory; and He is the Mighty, the Wise.

Surah HASHR consists of three Ruku which comprise of 10, 7 and 7 AAYAAT respectively; the first Ruku relates about the expulsion of Bani NADHIR from Madinah that occurred in the 4th year of HIJRAH; note that when the Prophet PBUH came to Madinah, the Muslims made a pact with the tribes of Jews that resided near to Madinah, which had the clause that if Madinah is attacked, they all would defend it together; these notable tribes of Jews were Bani QAINUQAH (they were expelled from Madinah in the 3rd year of HIJRAH due to their unresponsive attitude to the pact of Madinah as they were not happy by the authority of Muhammad PBUH at Madinah and then it happened that they molested a woman from Madinah who came for some transaction at the jewelry shop in their market and that led Muslims to fight them; their expulsion is mentioned at AAYAT-15 of this Surah HASHR); Bani NADHIR (who made conspiracy against Muslims so that the disbelievers at Makkah attack them and they also tried to kill Muhammad

PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, so they also were expelled from Madinah in the 4th year of HIJRAH and Surah HASHR gives the account for that) and Bani QURAYZAH (whose power was totally crushed due to its assistance to the attackers, coming from Makkah and from many other places at AHZAAB who intended to end up the impression of Islam, at the 5th year of HIJRAH when SA'AD Ibn MUA'DH-RA as arbitrator to both sides decided to eliminate their adult men capable of fighting which amounted to near 400 of men, and to spare their women and children; Surah AHZAAB states, "and those of the people of the Book who backed the disbelievers, Allah brought them down from their forts and cast terror into their hearts, a group you killed, and a group you made captives; and He caused you to inherit their lands, and their houses, and their riches, and the land which you had not trodden; and Allah is Able to do all things" (AHZAAB-26 & 27); Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah HASHR starts in the same manner as Surah HADID that "whatever is in the heavens and whatever is in the earth declares the glory of Allah, and He is the Mighty, the Wise"; at HADID, the first AAYAT did not repeat "whatever is in" for the earth; it reads, "whatever is in the heavens and the earth, declares the glory of Allah, and He is the Mighty, the Wise"; so both these Surah start in the same manner; the next three AAYAAT tell how Allah punished the Bani NADHIR as they state; "Allah it is Who caused those who disbelieved of the followers of the Book (among the tribe of Bani NADHIR) to go forth from their homes at the very first gathering (so He put such fear of Muslims in their hearts as the Muslims surrounded their fortresses that they decided to leave them immediately to avoid death by the hands of the Muslims, when they gathered there at the beginning of siege); you did not think that they would go forth (leaving their places), while they were certain that their fortresses would defend them against Allah; but Allah came to them whence they did not expect, and cast terror (that they would ultimately meet their deaths by the siege of Muslims), into their hearts; they demolished their houses with their own hands and the hands of the believers (so they were filled with such fear that they took whatever possible for them from their places and some of Muslims assisted them in that and then they ran away from them); so take a lesson, O you who have eyes- and had it not been that Allah had decreed for them the exile, He would certainly have punished them in this world (by the punishment of death), and in the hereafter they shall have chastisement of the hell-fire; that is because they acted in opposition to Allah and His Apostle, and whoever acts in opposition to Allah, then surely Allah is severe in retribution (of evil)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that AAYAT-2 tells about their gathering as AWWALEL-HASHR (the very first gathering) so this term is used in literal meaning here as the Day of HASHR where Allah would gather all persons ever born at any time or any place in the world, is the specific name for the Day of Judgment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah guided the Muslims to surround their fortresses totally fast, which they had never expected though they had shown extreme challenging attitude towards the Muslims while the Muslims did not expect them to surrender at the very beginning of their attack; note that they surrendered within a week whereas these Jews at Bani NADHIR had much of wealth, control of vast land and many of men to fight; the Muslims had shown their fighting skill at the battle of BADR and their determination for Islam at UHUD (and in both, Allah has assisted all Muslims with His mercy and blessing) so the Jews of Bani NADHIR were most fearful of them; also, on the command of the Prophet PBUH, the Muslims had killed one of their chiefs KA'AB bin ASHRAF (who had urged the disbelievers at Makkah to attack the Muslims at Madinah again and he used to say such poetic verses by which he intended to molest the Muslim women) so his killing also had intensified their fear; Allah tells that had it not been that Allah had decreed for them the exile, He would certainly have punished them in this world by death as they had challenged Allah and His last of Messengers; note that ABDULLAH ibn UBAYYE (the chief of hypocrites who used to remain among the Muslims) insisted on to show mercy towards Bani NADHIR (as they had assisted his tribe KHAZRAJ at few occasions of warfare before the advent of the Prophet PBUH) and ultimately, by the will of Allah, the Prophet PBUH allowed them to leave Madinah with whatever of their possessions they could load upon camels; these AAYAAT tell clearly that those who challenge Allah, then Allah would severely punish such persons at AKHIRAT and He would even punish them severely at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; to understand the fifth AAYAT, note that the Muslims had to cut many of the palm-trees that surrounded the fortresses of Bani NADHIR so as to make way to surround them efficiently and so that they come out in open to fight; also, at the fight at that situation, these trees would certainly had caused much hurdle to attack them; as these trees had much fruits on them, the Jews objected that these Muslims had shown brutality as this is against the set standard of current warfare; the AAYAT sanctifies the act of Muslims and rules clearly that such necessity at the warfare fully justifies this act; the AAYAT reads, "whatever palm-tree you cut down or leave standing upon its roots, it is by Allah's command (as it was to fulfill the asking of JEHAD which is the command of Allah), and that He may abase the transgressors (who seek ways to challenge Him)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Ruku gives the ruling for the gains (especially of lands) from the enemy when the Muslims challenge them and they surrender without any fight, from AAYAT-6 to AAYAT-10 (that is its last AAYAT); note that such gains are termed as FA'I that would go into the treasury of the Islamic state and it is not personal possession of any person as it is not distributed as GHANIMAT which are the gains that the Muslim warriors get from the enemy at grounds of the war whom they have defeated in that war and ANFAAL-41 gives its ruling; it reads, "And know that whatever thing you gain, the fifth of it is for Allah and for the Apostle and for the near of kin and the orphans and the needy and the wayfarer, if you believe in Allah and in that which We revealed to Our servant (this means the command that Allah gave at the first AAYAT of ANFAAL which states that "the windfalls are for Allah and the Apostle") on the day of distinction (i.e. the day of BADR), the day on which the two parties met; and Allah has power over all things"; the other four parts of such gains that are in GHANIMAT is distributed among the Muslim warriors; see also the note at the fifth Ruku of Surah ANFAAL; as for FA'I, note about it that when the Prophet

PBUH was present at the world, it was wholly at his custody and he distributed it according to the ruling about it after taking the amount for his sustenance from it; so whereas the fifth of GHANIMAT was at his control, FA'I was wholly at his custody and after him, it belongs to the treasury of the Islamic state so that it provides it to its rightful persons; AAYAT-6 and 7 at this RUKU of HASHR state, "and whatever Allah restored to His Apostle from them you did not press forward against it any horse or a riding camel but Allah gives authority to His apostles against whom He pleases, and Allah has power over all things; whatever Allah has restored to His Apostle from the people of the towns, it is for Allah and for the Apostle, and for the near of kin (of the Apostle) and the orphans and the needy and the wayfarer, so that it may not be a thing taken by turns among the rich of you, and whatever the Apostle gives you, accept it, and from whatever he forbids you, keep back, and be careful of (your duty to) Allah; surely Allah is severe in retribution (of evil)"; note that AAYAT-7 states three most significant things besides others; one is that FA'I is for Allah and this actually ends the statement but the mention of others that would have their shares from it, is in explanation to this statement; so it tells that Allah has decided that the Prophet PBUH would get his share from it and all others that the AAYAT has mentioned here, under his charge; however, after the departure of the Prophet PBUH from the world, his share is no more in FA'I (and it is no more for near of kin of the Apostle) yet others mentioned would get amounts from it from the treasury under the care of the Islamic state as Allah has made these mentioned persons rightful to it; Al-

Hamdu Lillah; the second of these most significant things that this AAYAT denotes, is that the flow of finances would be from the rich to the poor in such manner that as the poor becomes well-off to some degree, his such finances that he has achieved more than his necessities, would in turn flow to the poor; so the basic economic ruling that Islam presents is that the finances would not flow among the rich but its flow would care for the poor Muslims among those who are near of kin (of the person who provides them) and the orphans and the needy and the wayfarer whereas the rich would get their finances by transactions of business that they make at the Islamic environment (and by gifts and by inheritance); note that SADAQAH to the poor is extremely important issue in the Islamic commands; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the third of these is that when the AAYAT says "and whatever the Apostle gives you, accept it, and from whatever he forbids you, keep back, and be careful of (your duty to) Allah" - this direction is not only for tangible things that the Prophet PBUH provides to the needy among the poor but it also relates to his commands that he gives at issues; so this AAYAT is also among those AAYAAT that ask to obey the commands of the Prophet PBUH with total care; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last three AAYAAT of the Ruku present the merits of MUHAJIRIN (the Muslims who had come to Madinah from Makkah) and of ANSAAR (the Muslims who were the residents of Madinah); these AAYAAT tell about FA'I that besides those mentioned, "(it is preferably) for the poor who fled their homes and their possessions (i.e. MUHAJIRIN), seeking grace of Allah and (His) pleasure, and assisting Allah and His Apostle: these it is that are the truthful; and (for the poor of) those who made their abode in the city and in the true belief before them (i.e. ANSAAR who were already living at Madinah and had believed in Islam before the MUHAJIRIN came to Madinah), love those (MUHAJIRIN) who have fled to them, and do not find in their hearts a need of what they (MUHAJIRIN) are given, and prefer (them) before themselves though poverty may afflict them, and whoever is preserved from the niggardliness of his soul, these it is that are the successful ones; and (for the poor of) those (true Muslims) who come after them (as they) say- Our Lord! forgive us and those of our brethren who had precedence of us in true belief, and do not allow any spite to remain in our hearts towards those who truly believe; our Lord! Surely, Thou art Kind, Merciful"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT tell to give preference to the poor of MUHAJIRIN and it is notable that ANSAAR at Madinah not only provided all convenience that they could to MUHAJIRIN but they also accepted their preference over them; there are such narrations that tell that they gave their foods to MUHAJIRIN taking them as their guests at such times even, when they needed that for their own selves; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku tells explicitly that FA'I and its ruling would remain the same ahead even after the departure of Muhammad PBUH from the world as those of poor among the true Muslims are rightful to it who come after MUHAJIRIN and ANSAAR and plead to Allah for His kindness and His mercy for their own selves and for all true Muslims who had departed from the world especially MUHAJIRIN and ANSAAR and not to let any grudge remain in their own hearts for them who had been the true companions of the Prophet PBUH; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the differences between GHANIMAT and FA'I include this notable thing that GHANIMAT is the possessions that the Muslim warriors get from the enemy at the premises of the battleground after they defeat them decisively whereas the ruling of FA'I applies to all such lands that the Muslims receive by conquest of the army of their enemy as its invasion leads to the subjugation of huge lands around; Umar-RA, the second Caliph, wisely decided by IJTEHAD for lands that came into the control of Muslims as FA'I when the Muslim warriors invaded much of vast areas near to Arabia during his term of administration; so the lands remained into the custody of those who already had its possession and they were to pay taxes on that (without its ownership, though with rights to change hands and they would be in the ownership of all Muslims so the treasury would get amounts from its revenues); this IJTEHAD not only prevented the finances to concentrate among few peoples but also paved way for improving the status of the poor among all Muslims so that he gets his material necessities with total convenience to live firmly upon Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that IJTEHAD is the high intellectual contention of some MUJTAHID (the most learned Muslim person in Islam who is most sincere to Islam) on some issue open to debate by the Islamic teachings, to the utmost level of his capability pondering on the Holy Book Quran & the established SUNNAH of the Prophet PBUH to get its ruling by that wonderful effort for which he has the good notion that 'most probably', the practice of this ruling in this issue relates to getting the pleasure of Allah; he would have extreme love for Allah and for His last Prophet Muhammad PBUH inside his heart; so it is the "Individual Islamic Ruling" on a debatable issue at consideration; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next Ruku tells about the hypocrites among the Muslims especially their attitude at the invasion of Bani NADHIR; they had assured Bani NADHIR that they would stand with them and if they are expelled from Madinah, they also would accompany them; they had also assured the tribe that they would even assist them if Muslims fight against them; the Quran explicitly told that they would do nothing of what they say when trouble falls upon Bani NADHIR and that happened so; AAYAAT-11 and 12 read, "have you not seen those who have become hypocrites? - they say to those of their brethren who disbelieve from among the followers of the Book - if you are driven forth, we shall certainly go forth with you, and we will never obey any one concerning you, and if you are fought against, we will certainly help you, and Allah bears witness that they are most surely liars; certainly if these are driven forth, they will not go forth with them, and if they are fought against, they will not help them, and even if they help-them, they will certainly turn (their) backs, then they shall not be helped"; AAYAAT ahead tells about their psychological leaning that they all (hypocrites and the Jews of Bani NADHIR) both fear Muslims more than Allah and these all unjust persons would reside forever at the hell-fire; these AAYAAT read till the last of the Ruku, "you (Muslims) are certainly greater in being feared in their hearts than Allah; that is because they are such people who do not understand (how severely Allah would punish them); they will not fight against you together save in fortified towns or from behind walls (so their intention would only be to somehow save themselves by defense); their fighting between them is severe (so they would only show their skill when they fight among themselves); you may think them as one body, and their hearts are disunited (as by character, they have to oppose each other); that is because they are such people who have no sense (as they totally relate themselves to gain of worldly possessions and do not care for AKHIRAT); like those before them shortly (that were Bani QAINUQAH who were expelled from Madinah in the 3rd year of HIJRAH and they also had sought defense at their fortresses); they tasted the evil result of their affair (at the world), and they shall have a painful punishment (at AKHIRAT); (the matter is) like the Satan when he says to man (to) disbelieve, but when he disbelieves, he says- I am surely clear of you; surely I fear Allah, the Lord of the worlds (as he knows well that Allah only is truly powerful); therefore the end of both of them (which are the hypocrites & Bani NADHIR) is that they both are in the hell-fire to abide therein, and that is the reward of the unjust (at AKHIRAT)"; note that even today, the ill-wishers of Islam trust their weaponry to fight against the true Muslims while they truly trust Allah after whatever resources they are able to gain against the ill-wishers of Islam, without putting their belief into those resources for the ultimate victory against the ill-wishers of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last Ruku asks all Muslims to care for AKHIRAT and see what they are sending ahead for their safety; they shall never become like hypocrites or like those tribes of Jews who have totally forgotten to fulfill the commands of Allah; the punishment for this is that Allah has made them forget their true gains that is of AKHIRAT and they are obsessed to getting profits of the life at the world; they would be in the hell-fire at AKHIRAT and the Muslims who care about the commands of Allah would be at JANNAH; certainly, these persons who achieve JANNAH, they would become truly successful; all Muslims shall follow the guidance of the Quran as it is the true guidance that would keep them on the right path; AAYAAT-18 to 21 read, "O you who believe! be careful of (your duty to) Allah, and let every soul consider what it has sent on for the morrow (i.e. for AKHIRAT), and be careful of Allah (because if anyone challenges Him, He would give all such persons most severe punishment); surely Allah is Aware of what you do; and be not like those who forsook Allah, so He made them forsake their own souls (that they are unable to understand their true benefits); these it is that are the transgressors; not alike are the inmates of the hell-fire and the dwellers of JANNAH (the garden); the dwellers of the garden are they that are the achievers (of the true success at AKHIRAT); had We sent down this Quran on a mountain, you would certainly have seen it falling down, splitting asunder because of the fear of Allah, and We set forth these parables to men that they may reflect"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the last AAYAT says that even a mountain is unable to bear the glory of the Quran and it would split asunder; this is to state that even mountains recognize Allah, the true Lord, and the Quran is His attribute as it is His word so the frightening glory of Allah that even a mountain recognizes inside it, would cause it to split asunder; note that the Quran has stated at BAQARAH-74, "surely there are some rocks from which streams burst forth, and surely there are some of them which split asunder so water issues out of them, and surely there are some of them which fall down for fear of Allah, and Allah is not at all heedless of what you do"; so even rocks have the recognition of Allah, the true Lord, yet the disbelievers have become most oblivious to His commands which would lead them to the most severe punishment; note also that when Moses has asked Allah that he wants to see Him, Allah had told him that he is unable to see Him and then He showed only His glimpse to the mountain which crumbled just by His glimpse; this is AARAAF-143 where Allah tells Moses, "you cannot (bear to) see Me but look at the mountain, if it remains firm in its place, then will you see Me; but when his Lord manifested His glory to the mountain He made it crumble and Moses fell down in a swoon; then when he recovered, he said- Glory be to Thee, I turn to Thee, and I am the first of the believers"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last three AAYAAT of the Surah state 16 names of Allah (in which His name AL-AZIZ i.e. He is the Mighty, is mentioned twice); these all names of Allah relate to His attributes and these names guide towards the most fundamental teachings of Islam that all Messengers of Allah have taught explicitly that are TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord); AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment); RISALAT (Allah had sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path and after Muhammad PBUH became the Messenger of Allah, the Muslims would necessary believe too that Muhammad PBUH is the last of His Messengers); these are the fundamental teachings of Islam from all times though in practice, Islam manifested completely at the golden times of the last Messenger Muhammad PBUH and that is what Allah stated in one of the last AAYAAT of the Holy Book Quran which reads that "this day (O Muslims) have I perfected your DEEN for you and completed My favor unto you, and have chosen for you as DEEN al-Islam" (Surah MA'EDAH-3); Al-Hamdu Lillah; these last AAYAAT of HASHR state, "He is Allah besides Whom there is no god; the Knower of the unseen and the seen; He is the Beneficent, the Merciful; He is Allah, besides Whom there is no god; the King, the Holy, the Giver of peace, the Granter of security, Guardian over all, the Mighty, the Supreme, the Possessor of every greatness; Glory be to Allah from what they set up (with Him); He is Allah the Creator, the Maker, the Fashioner; His are the most excellent names; whatever is in the heavens and the earth declares His glory; and He is the Mighty, the Wise"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah MUMTAHINA

(Consists of 2 Ruku; H-6 & ahead)

1. O you who believe! do not take My enemy and your enemy for friends: would you offer them love while they deny what has come to you of the Truth, driving out the Apostle and yourselves because you believe in Allah, your Lord? If you go forth struggling hard in My path and seeking My pleasure, would you manifest love to them? And I know what you conceal and what you manifest; and whoever of you does this, he indeed has gone astray from the straight path.

2. If they find you, they will be your enemies, and will stretch forth towards you their hands and their tongues with evil, and they ardently desire that you may disbelieve.

3. Your relationship would not profit you, nor your children on the day of resurrection; He will decide between you; and Allah sees what you do.

4. Indeed, there is for you a good example in Ibrahim and those with him when they said to their people: Surely we are clear of you and of what you serve besides Allah; we declare ourselves to be clear of you, and enmity and hatred have appeared between us and you forever until you believe in Allah alone-- but not in what Ibrahim said to his father: I would certainly ask forgiveness for you, and I do not control for you aught from Allah-- Our Lord! on Thee do we rely, and to Thee do we turn, and to Thee is the eventual coming:

5. Our Lord! do not make us a trial for those who disbelieve, and forgive us, our Lord! surely Thou art the Mighty, the Wise.

6. Certainly there is for you in them a good example, for him who fears Allah and the last day; and whoever turns back, then surely Allah is the Self-sufficient, the Praised.

7. It may be that Allah will bring about friendship between you and those whom you hold to be your enemies among them; and Allah is Powerful; and Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.

8. Allah does not forbid you respecting those who have not made war against you on account of (your) religion, and have not driven you forth from your homes, that you show them kindness and deal with them justly; surely Allah loves the doers of justice.

9. Allah only forbids you respecting those who made war upon you on account of (your) religion, and drove you forth from your homes and backed up (others) in your expulsion, that you make friends with them, and whoever makes friends with them, these are the unjust.

10. O you who believe! when believing women come to you flying, then examine them; Allah knows best their belief; then if you find them to be believing women, do not send them back to the disbelievers, neither are these (women) lawful for them, nor are those (men) lawful for them, and give them what they have spent; and no blame attaches to you in marrying them when you give them their dowries; and hold not to the ties of marriage of disbelieving women, and ask for what you have spent, and let them ask for what they have spent. That is Allah's judgment; He judges between you, and Allah is Knowing, Wise.

11. And if anything (out of the MEHR) of your wives has passed away from you to the disbelievers then your turn comes, give those whose wives have gone away the like of what they have spent, and be careful of (your duty to) Allah in Whom you believe.

12. O Prophet! when believing women come to you giving you the pledge that they will not associate aught with Allah, and will not steal, and will not commit fornication, and will not kill their children, and will not bring a calumny which they have forged of themselves, and will not disobey you in what is good, so accept their pledge, and ask forgiveness for them from Allah; surely Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.

13. O you who believe! do not make friends with the people with whom Allah is wroth; indeed, they despair of the hereafter as the disbelievers do despair that are in tombs.

Surah MUMTAHINA consists of 2 Ruku that have respectively 6 and 7 Ruku whereas the first Ruku guides the Muslims not to befriend the disbelievers and the second Ruku tells that Allah would make things better for the Muslims as many of the disbelievers would come to Islam; it also asks the true Muslims to examine the belief of those women who come to them from the disbelievers claiming that they have accepted Islam and it especially asks the Prophet PBUH to take oath from them that they would remain firm upon Islam and would not commit any of major sins; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that MUMTAHINA means that which examines and here it denotes about this Surah that it is MUMTAHINA as it asks to examine the belief of the women who emigrate from Makkah to Madinah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; to understand the first Ruku, note that when the Prophet PBUH decided that the Muslims would attack the disbelievers at Makkah after they had violated the treaty of HUDAYBIYA, one of his sincere companions HATIB ibn ABI-BALTA'A who had fought at the crucial battle of BADR with him against the disbelievers, wrote a letter to some of persons at Makkah to give them the information about this intention of the Prophet PBUH; he had settled at Makkah migrating from Yemen before HIJRAT to Madinah and his family members were still at Makkah; he thought that his secret message to them would cause them to safeguard the interest of his family at

Makkah; at those times, tribal relations mattered a lot and he had no such tribe to see to the interest of his family members there; in those days, a woman who used to give performances as singer for her living, had come from Makkah to Madinah as she could not get any earnings there and she hoped that knowing the charitable nature of the Prophet PBUH, he would provide some amounts for her sustenance; the Prophet PBUH did give her some necessary amounts for her sustenance and as she was returning to Makkah, HATIB-RA gave her the letter getting the pledge of secrecy from her as she agreed to deliver it there; Allah told the Prophet PBUH about this and he sent few of his companions, including Ali-RA, behind her; they caught her at way to Makkah and demanded the letter that she had; at first, she denied having any such letter but they told her in plain terms that the Prophet PBUH had clearly told them that she had it and they would anyhow take that letter from her; hearing that, she took out the letter from her hair and they proceeded back to Madinah with it; HATIB was summoned to face the charge of betrayal to the cause of Muslims and he plainly admitted that he had written it yet with no intention to betray the Muslims at Madinah (as Allah certainly would care about them) but only to safeguard the interest of his family; as he was among those esteemed companions of the Prophet PBUH who had attended BADR, the Prophet PBUH accepted his excuse and forgave him; the first Ruku relates the ruling about befriending the disbelievers which tells explicitly that the Muslims are at war with them due to the negativity they had shown to them and with that negativity, they would not befriend them; however, note that there are levels of relations to disbelievers for Muslims which they would care for as we have studied at the note on the third Ruku of AALE-IMRAN; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Muslim would see to the few manners so as to deal with those rightly who are not among the Muslims; the first manner is MUWALAAT (the hearty friendship that he would not keep but with the Muslims only), MUWASAAT (the care with sympathy to those non-Muslims who do not challenge the Muslims and who also need help which the Muslim is able to provide), MUDARAAT (the customary relationship where he might act towards them as friendly in limits with the intention that they get the true looks about Islam) and MUAMLAAT (his business transactions with them that do not challenge other Muslims in any way without any hearty friendship to them); he has to furnish all persons that are not Muslims with the teachings of Islam as best as possible for him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so except for the first that is MUWALAAT, the Muslim person would remain positive towards the non-Muslims though if they challenge Islam becoming enemy to Muslims after they have provided them the Islamic teachings (and they do not accept making any peace-treaty too with the Muslims) so as they become threat to Muslims then he would leave all positive attitude towards them and would even take-up QITAL (that is JEHAD by weaponry) against them if he is called for it; when a Muslim is fearful of them in some genuine manner if he does not show such friendship towards them that seems as MUWALAAT then he is allowed temporarily to act as if he has such high friendship to them on condition that it remains superficial only and not from his heart, so it actually would remain to MUDARAAT; it does seem strange that the Muslim persons find much attraction to earn their livings at the countries inhabited mostly by the non-Muslims and once they get there, they live-on sometimes at those places to make them their own countries without care to return home; there even are such Muslim persons at authority in the Muslim countries who feel dignified to have status among the unworthy disbelievers that have no care to the name of Allah, the true Lord; all Muslims need to remain at notable distance from the disbelievers with utmost care without showing MUWALAAT towards them as this attitude of MUWALAAT to them is one of the most important reasons that has caused extreme disrespect to the Muslims all over the world; stranger even is that the ULAMA are not indicating the wrongs of this attitude, and slack in this issue on their part has caused much adverse attitude even among some of the Muslims against the making of the Islamic environment; may Allah give such good sense to all Muslims that relates highly to HIKMAT (wisdom to put Islam into practice) so that they do strictly keep away from MUWALAAT towards the disbelievers; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first three AAYAAT of the first Ruku address the believers to take care of their attitudes about the disbelievers; they state, "O you who believe! do not take My enemy and your enemy for friends; would you offer them love while they deny what has come to you of the Truth (i.e. the Quran), driving out the Apostle and yourselves (from Makkah) because you believe in Allah, your Lord?- if you go forth struggling hard in My path and seeking My pleasure, would you manifest love to them?- (so when you are at war with them, you shall not show any such soft feelings for them)- and I know what you conceal and what you manifest (as no person is able to hide from Allah whatever is inside him); and whoever of you does this (i.e. whoever befriends the disbelievers), he indeed has gone astray from the straight path; if they find you, they will be your enemies, and will stretch forth towards you their hands (to fight you all) and their tongues with evil (to slander you all), and they ardently desire that you may disbelieve; your relationship would not profit you, nor your children on the day of resurrection; He will decide between you; and Allah sees what you do"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last three AAYAAT of the first Ruku guide that the Muslims would take-up the same attitude as Abraham-AS and those who were with him, had taken-up against their people who were the disbelievers to the fundamental teachings of Islam; though Abraham had asked for mercy from Allah for his father yet it was only as he had given his word to his father that he would ask Allah for it when he did not know whether he would come to Islam or not; when he saw that Allah has written disbelief for him, he did not ever ask Allah for mercy to him; see Surah TAUBAH-114; these AAYAAT of the first Ruku state, "indeed, there is for you a good example in Ibrahim and those with him when they said to their people (and in them, were their near relatives too)- surely we are clear of you and of what you serve besides Allah-; we declare ourselves to be clear of you, and enmity and hatred have appeared between us and you forever until you believe in Allah alone (i.e. they declared explicitly that we certainly would never befriend any of those who are the enemies of Allah) -- but not in what Ibrahim said to his father- (as that the Muslims would not follow as he had said that)- I would certainly ask forgiveness for you, and I do not control for you aught from Allah (as He only would decide to accept or reject that plea to Him) -- Our Lord! on Thee do we rely, and to Thee do we turn, and to Thee is the eventual coming- Our Lord! do not make us a trial for those who disbelieve (that they get such access over us that they torment us extremely), and forgive us, our Lord! surely Thou art the Mighty, the Wise; certainly there is for you in them a good example, for him who fears Allah and the last day; and whoever turns back, then surely Allah is the Self-sufficient, the Praised"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the three initial AAYAAT of the second Ruku start by telling the Muslims that Allah would bring many of disbelievers to Islam very soon (and that happened in Ramadan of eighth year of HIJRAH at the day of the conquest of Makkah when the Prophet PBUH forgave all his enemy at Makkah and then the people there embraced Islam en-masse); Allah certainly is Most Powerful Who has the complete authority to make it happen; Al-Hamdu Lillah; they tell clearly that Allah has not stopped the Muslims to treat such disbelievers fairly who had neither fought them nor took any part in making them leave Makkah so the Muslims would deal them in just manner and even take-up EHSAAN for them where necessary; the Muslims would only remain severe to those disbelievers who have made war against them because of the true belief of those Muslims, and have been responsible to drive them forth from their homes and have assisted their enemies against them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next three AAYAAT of the second Ruku tell about how to treat women who had come to Madinah from Makkah after the treaty of HUDAYBIYA; note that this treaty had the clause that any such person who defects from the QURAYSH of Makkah to Muhammad PBUH without the consent of his chief, he will have to be returned; but the Quran told clearly that the women who come to Madinah from Makkah would remain exception as when they fulfill the examination of their belief that proves them true Muslims, they would remain at Madinah; they would solemnly affirm that their arrival to Madinah is only for the cause of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the disbelievers at Makkah consented to this exception as the Quran asked the Muslim person who takes any of them into his marriage to pay back the amount of MEHR (the necessary amount given to a woman to take her into marriage) to her former husband among the disbelievers, as she had now accepted Islam; she would not return to him as their marriage had dissolved by her acceptance of Islam (and her Muslim husband would pay her another amount as MEHR too to take her into his marriage); however, the disbelievers did not comply to return the amounts of MEHR of those women who had stayed at Makkah without acceptance of Islam, to their respective former husbands who had become Muslims when they, the disbelievers, married them though that also the Quran ruled for them; the marriage of such women to their former husbands dissolved too as their former husbands had become Muslims and the Muslims are disallowed to take wives from those who disbelieve in the absolute authority of Allah; by the ruling of the Quran, each of such Muslim men was entitled to get his amounts of MEHR from the respective disbeliever who took his former wife into his marriage; but as the disbelievers did not comply to this part of the ruling of the Quran, Allah commanded that they would be paid their lost amounts of MEHR from the amounts of GHANIMAT that comes by war against them to Muslims; besides the fulfillment of the examination of their belief, the women who had come to Madinah from Makkah, had to make the pledge that they would remain firm upon the fundamental Islamic teachings and they would refrain from committing any of the major sins; the Prophet PBUH took this pledge by reciting the AAYAT-12 and the women showed their acceptance to it whereas the Prophet PBUH never touched the hands of any woman to take this pledge that was the normal practice in those days; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT-10, 11 & 12 read, "O you who believe! when believing women come to you flying (i.e. migrating to Madinah from Makkah) then examine them; Allah knows best their belief; then if you find them to be (truly) believing women, do not send them back to the disbelievers (at Makkah), neither are these (Muslim women) lawful for them, nor are those (disbelieving men) lawful for them, and give them (i.e. to the disbelievers the MEHR) what they have spent; and no blame attaches to you in marrying them when you give them their dowries (i.e. their current MEHR in addition); and hold not to the ties of marriage of disbelieving women (who have stayed back at Makkah), and ask for what you have spent (i.e. the Muslims would ask the amounts from the disbelievers what those Muslims had given to their former wives as MEHR), and let them ask for what they have spent (i.e. the MEHR that those disbelievers had given to their former wives as that the Muslims have the liability to pay to them); that is Allah's judgment; He judges between you, and Allah is Knowing, Wise; and if anything (out of the MEHR) of your wives has passed away from you to the disbelievers (as they refuse to pay that) then your turn comes (i.e. the Muslims receive GHANIMAT from the disbelievers in wars against them), give those whose wives have gone away (to disbelievers) the like of (the amounts of MEHR of their former wives) what they have spent, and be careful of (your duty to) Allah in Whom you believe; O Prophet (PBUH)! when believing women come to you giving you the pledge that they will not associate aught with Allah, and will not steal, and will not commit fornication, and will not kill their children (as at those times, there were such parents who killed their daughters by burying them), and will not bring a calumny which they have forged of themselves (as at those times, a woman there, used to adopt a child and then she introduced him in the society as her own child whom she said that she had conceived from her husband), and will not disobey you in what is good (i.e. fully acceptable in Islam), so accept their pledge, and ask forgiveness for them from Allah; surely Allah is Forgiving, Merciful"; note that to accept the SUNNAH of the Prophet PBUH is most necessary in Islam as that presents the practical application of the commands of Allah yet the AAYAT especially mentioned this in the wording of the pledge here to clarify for all at authority among the Muslims that they need to see ardently that they rule by Islam; most certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Surah reminds the Muslims that they shall never take hearty friendship to the disbelievers who challenge the word of Allah as that is one of the most unjust things; note that this AAYAT explicitly asks the Muslims to keep away from any close relationship towards the Jews on whom is the wrath of Allah; this is because they took such manner of life for themselves where they completely ignored the commands of Allah in practice and as such, they are like those of disbelievers who have died; as their term to show their worth to get the pleasure of Allah has passed away due to which they are unable now to practice any of good deeds, these Jews have also taken up such manner where they have become unable to make their belief in Allah better and do any of such good deeds that might benefit them at the Day of Judgment; their manner of living is similar to disbelievers so their result would also be similar to those; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this last AAYAT reads, "O you who believe! do not make friends with the people with whom Allah is wroth; indeed, they despair of the hereafter as the disbelievers do despair that are in tombs"; most certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah SAFF

(Consists of 2 Ruku; H-7)

1. Whatever is in the heavens and whatever is in the earth declares the glory of Allah; and He is the Mighty, the Wise.
2. O you who believe! why do you say that which you do not do?
3. It is most hateful to Allah that you should say that which you do not do.
4. Surely Allah loves those who fight in His way in ranks as if they were a firm and compact wall.

5. And when Musa said to his people: O my people! why do you give me trouble? And you know indeed that I am Allah's apostle to you; but when they turned aside, Allah made their hearts turn aside, and Allah does not guide the transgressing people.

6. And when Isa son of Mariam said: O children of Israell! surely I am the apostle of Allah to you, verifying that which is before me of Torah and giving the good news of an Apostle who will come after me, his name being Ahmad, but when he came to them with clear arguments they said: This is clear magic.

7. And who is more unjust than he who forges a lie against Allah and he is invited to Islam, and Allah does not guide the unjust people.

8. They desire to put out the light of Allah with their mouths but Allah will perfect His light, though the disbelievers may be averse.

9. He it is Who sent His Apostle with the guidance and the true path of life, that He may make it overcome the paths of life, all of them, though the polytheists may be averse.

10. O you who believe! shall I lead you to a merchandise which may deliver you from a painful chastisement?

11. You shall believe in Allah and His Apostle, and struggle hard in Allah's way with your property and your lives; that is better for you, did you but know!

12. He will forgive you your faults and cause you to enter into gardens, beneath which rivers flow, and goodly dwellings in gardens of perpetuity; that is the mighty achievement;

13. And yet another (blessing) that you love; help from Allah and the victory near at hand; and give good news to the true believers.

14. O you who believe! be helpers (in the cause) of Allah, as Isa son of Mariam said to (his) disciples: Who are my helpers in the cause of Allah? The disciples said: We are helpers (in the cause) of Allah. So a party of the children of Israel believed and another party disbelieved; then We aided those who believed against their enemy, and they became uppermost.

Surah SAFF has two Ruku which comprise of 9 and 5 AAYAAT respectively and it starts in the same way as Surah HASHR; note that AZIZ means that He provides for such happenings which keep the world to His will by His authoritative measures so no one becomes able to cause such deviation at the world that leads it to complete FASAD (the position where to live according to Islam becomes extremely difficult); and HAKEEM means that He shapes all things towards the way He intends even by works of the man; when some nation challenges His authority by working against His commands which displeases Him, then some destruction strikes that nation by His command; by that destruction, its adverse impression ends from the world and that elimination of its adverse impression causes all peoples of the world to get the good space to repent on their wrongs and to become better by accepting the Truth that is the fundamental teachings of Islam, the right path to Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; to the times of Moses-AS, it happened mostly that Allah put

His wrath on such nations directly who rejected the fundamental teachings of Islam (whereas He saved His Messengers and those who believed in them) yet after He chose a nation to spread His message, He gave them the opportunity to show their worth; when the Bani-Israel failed miserably to carry on this task as they took what they found easy to practice and left other of significant commands of Allah in practice (and they also disrespected many of the Prophets of Allah who came to them) then Allah disposed them of their status; He gave this very task of providing the fundamental teachings of Islam as better as they can with their own firm adherence to its practice, to the Muslims so that all peoples of the world get the awareness of Islam; they would see that the Truth is evident to all peoples of the world and as the force of Allah, they would see that none of peoples challenges the commands of Allah in such manner where the sincere believers in Islam find extreme hardship in their fulfillment; though the Muslims are liable to eliminate the adverse impression of disbelievers in Islam, by forceful measures when they bitterly challenge it, yet the Muslims are not liable to see that the disbelievers do accept the fundamental teachings of Islam; if they are unable to do this task due to their genuine weakness in weaponry against the disbelievers, to which they do show true repentance to Allah, then they would ask Allah, the true Lord, most humbly to take His revenge from such disbelievers directly; most certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; for Surah SAFF, note here that some Muslims had discussed between them about the deed that is most virtuous to Allah and if they get it, they would certainly take that in practice;

so AAYAAT ahead state that there are such persons in them who do talk high yet they are unable to do them practically; these AAYAAT imply that the most necessary thing for the sincere Muslims is to avoid such things that bring the displeasure of Allah towards them before they vow to practice the most good deeds; Allah tells all Muslims that He particularly takes those persons most righteous among them who fight in His way as if they all are alike most compact wall, against all such people who intend for them that they come to their manner of living that challenges Islam; this tells that to establish the word of Allah in practice at the world by all feasible efforts (especially among the sincere Muslims) is most virtuous; these all efforts relate to JEHAD which has three aspects that are MUJAHIDA, TABLIGH and QITAL; in all of its three aspects, it relates to striving hard of Muslims by the Quran in the best manner possible against all wrongs, to gain the pleasure of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; JEHAD actually starts at the individual level where JEHAD has the aspect of MUJAHIDA which means to fight such desires inside at the individual level that ask the Muslim person to challenge Islam in his practice; there is provocation to wrongs inside due to satanic temptations but he resists all such temptations by his total attention towards Allah; this resistance with care to Islam relates to SABR (i.e. keeping to Islam with total patience at adverse situations) and as such, it relates most highly to MUJAHIDA that is obligatory for every Muslim to practice; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second aspect of JEHAD is TABLIGH which means to provide the teachings of Islam to all peoples of the world by taking start of this task from the persons around; TABLIGH asks to spread the message of Allah as much as possible to all persons with care to their inclinations, with good understanding of Islam without any intention to gain any of benefits at the world and so it relates to SHUKR (i.e. keeping to Islam by gratitude to Allah on TOFIQ of getting the true guidance); see also AAYAT-125 at Surah NAHL; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the third aspect of JEHAD is QITAL and that is the armed combat that the good Muslims fight against the enemy of Islam who intends foolishly to finish off the impression of Islam from the world by brutal force; it might be as defense from the enemy that attacks them to bring them to their ways but as the last resort, it might be to fight it forcefully by attack over it (where the conditions for attack are present) if the sincere Muslims do find it the best manner to stop them to create mischief (FITNAH) at the Islamic manner of living for all Muslims; though all these three aspects of JEHAD are the most virtuous of deeds to Allah, the last aspect i.e. QITAL, is the highest among these in the times of FITNAH where the enemy of Islam does not make the pact for peace with Muslims after it has received the awareness to the Truth, and tries hard to finish off the impression of Islam; this preference to QITAL is because AAYAT-4 uses the word that relates to QITAL; Al-Hamdu Lillah; see also the supplementary note after the note at the sixth Ruku of Surah HAJJ; AAYAAT-5 & 6 relate about Moses-AS and about Jesus Christ-AS respectively that they were sent to the Bani-Israel but even though the Bani-Israel believed in Moses as the Messenger of Allah, they did not go for JEHAD when he demanded that from them according to the command of Allah; they had also passed most negative remarks about

Moses-AS but Allah certainly kept him into His protection from all evil; see also the note at the fourth Ruku of Surah MA'EDAH; and they did not believe in Jesus Christ as the Messenger of Allah even though he presented them BAYYINAAT which they completely rejected as spells of magic; note that "BAYYINAAT" means the clear reasoning to get to the true Belief in Allah, the true Lord, and in the judgment at AKHIRAT by the observation of the previous guidance that Allah had provided to the people; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as one of the most esteemed Messengers of Allah, Jesus Christ also told them about the arrival of the last Messenger of Allah whose name would be Ahmed (that is one of the most prominent names of Muhammad PBUH) and his prophecy came into manifestation when Allah sent Muhammad PBUH, the last of His Messengers, at Arabia for the true guidance of all peoples of the world; there is no other Messenger of Allah between Jesus Christ-AS and Muhammad PBUH though the period between them is about six hundred years which is named as the period of FUTRUT (both of "U" pronounced as in but); see also AARAAF-157; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that one of Ahadith at Tirmidhi (that is one of the most esteemed books of Ahadith of the Prophet PBUH) narrates that Allah's Messenger PBUH said, "Indeed, I have many (prominent) names; (among them is that) I am Muhammad (i.e. the person who has the most admirable qualities); I am Ahmed (i.e. the foremost among the good persons who are truly worthy of admiration); I am MAHI through whom Allah erases disbelief; and I am HASHIR behind whom people will gather at HASHR (when Allah resurrects all); and I am AAQIB after whom there is no

Prophet"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Jesus Christ was one of the most lenient men and one of the most esteemed Messengers of Allah who lived by the manner of EHSAAN all his life at the world and never asked for QITAL against the disbelievers; but that led the Bani-Israel to become so unjust that they wanted to kill him; Allah certainly kept him into His protection from all evil and took him alive to heavens; see also the note at the twenty-second Ruku of Surah NISAA; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-7 states that those who have forged a lie against Allah as they rejected the Messengers of Allah by their total disobedience to them or by their extreme disbelief to them, they are the most unjust persons; when such persons reach the height of unjust attitudes, Allah deprives them of accepting the true guidance; the last couple of AAYAAT of the Ruku mention that whatever the disbelievers say against the fundamental teachings of Islam or do practically, they would remain totally unable to stop its development to its most beautiful manifestation; these AAYAAT read, "they desire to put out the light of Allah (the true guidance of the Quran) with their mouths (by their negative speech and writings against that true guidance) but Allah will perfect His light, though the disbelievers (i.e. the people of the Book) may be averse; He it is Who sent His Apostle with the guidance (of the Quran) and the true path of life (i.e. Islam which is the complete code of life to practice), that He may make it overcome the paths of life, all of them (as it would manifest in practice beautifully), though the polytheists may be averse"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; I, MSD, take the pronoun "He" at AAYAT-9 where it states, "that He may make it overcome the paths of life, all of them," to indicate Allah but it also has been taken to denote the Prophet PBUH by some commentators on the Holy Book Quran and this affects the meaning; if "He" indicates Allah then Allah might make the world better by TABLIGH that the Muslims provide to all peoples of the world that is impressive to all, which relates to EHSAAN by His will; but if the pronoun indicates the Prophet PBUH then the good change by the will of Allah, might come in this second JAHILLIYAT the same way as before; this means that the good change at the world might occur by QITAL (the war of Muslims against all disbelievers) which relates to ADL by His will as the following of the Prophet PBUH is necessary for all of us Muslims, where QITAL led the known world to betterment as at those times, the disbelievers challenged Islam all over the known world; it is the will of Allah that reigns over all His creation and He knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that JAHILLIYAT denotes the period of total ignorance of the fundamental teachings of Islam so we Muslims have to go on spreading the clear teachings of Islam according to the Holy Book Quran and the SUNNAH to get only the pleasure of Allah, and the result would come as Allah wills; Al-Hamdu Lillah; all Muslims are the UMMAH of the last Prophet Muhammad PBUH, who have this obligation of providing TABLIGH of Islam to all peoples of the world collectively after him as that is necessary, no matter how the AAYAT is interpreted for the specific pronoun; those among Muslims who take initiation of QITAL as the better option to do the job, they are not blamable if they take utmost care not to cause trouble to the innocent people, as that also is possibility due to the difference in TAFSIR of the AAYAT of AS-SAFF quoted; the part in the AAYAT - "He it is Who sent His Apostle with the guidance and the true path of life, that He may make it overcome the paths of life, all of them" - has come also at two other places of the Holy Book Quran that are Surah Al-FATH-28 and Surah TAUBAH-33; note that by use of the term DEEN (the path of life) in this AAYAT for the true path of life (Islam) and for the paths of life, all of them (wrong paths), in singular at both places has the delicate indication that inside of the man does not incline to any wrongs by the nature he comes at the world (i.e. FITHRAT); the Quran does not use plural of DEEN anywhere in it and this is significant; the Satan had blended many wrongs he had professed with some touch of rightness in them as he is unable to impress the man by something totally wrong and he has taken the oath to misguide the people; note for instance about the concept that men and women are being punished because of the disobedience of Adam & Eve to Allah (as they ate the prohibited fruit) and only because of the sacrifice of Jesus Christ (Salam on that great man who also was one of the most respectable Messengers of Allah), have been saved; though it is true that Adam, Salam on him, and Eve, Salam on her, did eat the prohibited fruit yet they asked for mercy which Allah granted to them and the world then became a place of examination for men and women and not a place of punishment; note also that we Muslims believe that Jesus Christ was never crucified; mark the difference between the angles of view for this specific event; and note also for instance that there is another view about the man's placement that did take some grounds among the ignorant persons of the world; it is totally satanic as it argues that man has achieved his present form through evolution coming into one form from another and takes this as necessary process for survival; this view is extreme distortion of rightness as the survival of the fittest is not valid in the physical sense but it relates to the moral sense as Islam takes it; it happened that Allah destroyed many of nations when they challenged the Truth, the fundamental teachings of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the human-beings by their creation have an affinity with each other at inside as all persons have the recognition of the Truth indeed; also, the plants resemble each other in manner and animals do have resemblance with each other but trying to prove the changing of physical form by evolution is idiocy that is not in accordance with the fundamental law of life by the Islamic viewpoint; it needs wisdom to detect the thin line of difference so that two things that differ in nature, are not taken as similar; mark that the moral fitness is changed to physical sense and affinity in one kind of creation is replaced by resemblance in all kinds just to put an argument for a foolish idea; the humankind actually is another kingdom in its own right and certainly not included in animals as is wrongly assumed in the study of taxonomy today; Al-Hamdu Lillah; may Allah guide all peoples of the world towards Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the task of the Holy Prophet PBUH was totally related to the Holy Book Quran that was to recite it (TILAWAT), to teach it well (TA'LEEM AL-KITAB), to provide all the necessary detail related to it well for practice (TA'LEEM AL-HIKMAH), to clean the hearts from any attachment towards the world by asking to remain committed to it in all attitudes (TAZKIYAH) whereas he had to present it to all peoples of the world; see BAQARAH-129 & 151 and AAL-IMRAN-164 and the first four AAYAAT of the next Surah JUMU'AH; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the world needs TABLIGH (the guidance to Islamic fundamental teachings) at present times as it might bring the observant persons who incline towards virtues, to Islam and it might bring the ill-wishers of Islam to make an honorable pact with Muslims to keep away from each other; this pact might provide them the time and space to understand Islam better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the life of mankind does ask for adjustments time and again for which we Muslims need to present Islam by ADL or/and by EHSAAN, but at this moment of time, we surely have piled them up; note that ADL relates mostly to the man while EHSAAN as an attitude, relates mostly to the woman; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this current JAHILLIYAT is more dangerous than the previous as it has Satanic concepts in different walks of life that has caused extreme FITNAH for all Muslims; it presents these concepts in organized manner with statements that the man is but an animal only and that he needs to live by secularism without any care to practice the commands of Allah, the true Lord, at collective level; note that FITNAH means the prevalence of such Satanic impression in the environment that there remains little if any, chance to live according to the Islamic teachings in the collective manner; however, the continuous effort in TABLIGH (that actually is an aspect of JEHAD) would end this JAHILLIYAT insha-Allah (especially when the woman realizes the reservation that she has to adhere to, by Islam), as QITAL (that also actually is an aspect of JEHAD) ended that JAHILLIYAT that was prevalent in the known world of yore; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second Ruku starts by the guidance to Muslims (especially those who show weakness in practice of Islam) towards another of the most high virtues that Allah appreciates and that is to make the goodly transaction with Allah that is the best of trade which saves the person from the most painful chastisement in AKHIRAT; this beautiful trade finalizes when the Muslim person believes truly in Allah and His Apostle, and struggles hard in the way of Allah so he uses his assets and does his good efforts to make things better for his good Muslim companions and with this, he keeps away from giving-in to Satanic temptations (i.e. he lives-on by MUJAHIDA); note that even the good Muslim person needs to keep his attention towards Allah that He only would save him from all satanic temptations as he pursues even the pious person to give thoughts to the basic matters of belief even, so the Muslim person needs to ask Allah all the time to protect him all the time, with care to repeat-on that he has taken up Islam with all commitment by the blessing of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note also that though MUJAHIDA is obligatory for the Muslim person to which he would see individually for his safety from satanic temptations by the blessing of Allah, yet the other two aspects of JEHAD that are QITAL and TABLIGH are fulfilled when one group among Muslims takes any one of them and the other group of them takes the other task as Allah has asked them explicitly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah TAUBAH-111 & 112 read, "surely Allah has bought of the believers their persons and their property for this, that they shall have the garden (JANNAH); they fight in Allah's way, so they slay and are slain; a promise which is binding on Him in Torah and INJIL and the Quran; and who is more faithful to his covenant than Allah? - rejoice therefore in the pledge which you have made; and that is the mighty achievement; they who turn (to Allah), who serve (Him), who praise (Him), who fast, who bow down, who prostrate themselves, who enjoin what is good and forbid what is evil, and who care for the limits of Allah (that He has told them not to cross in their practice); and give good news to the believers"; so this is the trade that truly benefits the believer when he keeps check on his unworthy leanings inside, by MUJAHIDA; Surah TAUBAH also states at AAYAT-122, "and it does not beseem the believers that they should go forth all together; why should not then a company from every party from among them go forth that they may apply themselves to obtain understanding in religion, and that they may warn their people (the other of them) when they come back to them (after QITAL at battlefields) that they may be cautious?"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT here at SAFF tell all those who become true Muslims and put commands of Allah sincerely in practice (especially the command of JEHAD in all its aspects), without considering how hard those commands would be for them, they would surely receive JANNAAT; Allah would forgive their sins and He would give them goodly dwellings in gardens of perpetuity at AKHIRAT, which certainly is the true success; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-13 of the Surah states, "and yet another (blessing) that you love (would come to you even at the world); help from Allah and the victory (of MAKKAH) near at hand (which the Muslims invaded in Ramadan in the eighth year of HIJRAH); and give good news to the true believers"; though this statement was foretold for all Muslims yet this especially was provided to soothe those Muslims who were weak in practice and feared to take part in QITAL against the disbelievers; this was clear note to them specially, that they need to become staunch upon Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT asks all Muslims to remain staunch upon Islam and leads the attention to the disciples of Jesus Christ-AS who were very weak among the Bani-Israel especially after the ascension of Jesus to heavens, yet they managed to survive in those conditions by TABLIGH of the Truth winning many of persons from among the Bani-Israel to their side, and so they ultimately saved their belief; with the arrival of Muhammad PBUH to the world as the last Messenger of Allah, the fundamental teachings of Islam manifested most beautifully everywhere; so in spite of all opposition of disbelievers, the Truth held its grounds and rose to height as AAYAT-8 had foretold explicitly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; insha-Allah this would happen again that the Truth would eliminate this current JAHILLIYAT when Muslims remain most committed to Islam in practice and spread the fundamental teachings of Islam in all peoples of the world; all good persons who live upon the right path, certainly they only would remain uppermost even at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the AAYAT reads, "O you who believe! be helpers (in the cause) of Allah, as Isa son of Mariam said to (his) disciples - who are my helpers in the cause of Allah? - the disciples said- we are helpers (in the cause) of Allah; so a party of the children of Israel believed and another party disbelieved; then We aided those who believed against their enemy, and they became uppermost";

most certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah JUMU'AH

(Consists of 2 Ruku; H-7)

1. Whatever is in the heavens and whatever is in the earth declares the glory of Allah, the King, the Holy, the Mighty, the Wise.

2. He it is Who raised among the unlearned people an Apostle from among themselves, who recites to them His AAYAAT and purifies them, and teaches them the Book and the Wisdom, although they were before certainly in clear error,

3. And others from among them who have not yet joined them; and He is the Mighty, the Wise.

4. That is Allah's grace; He grants it to whom He pleases, and Allah is the Lord of mighty grace.

5. The likeness of those who were charged with Torah, then they did not observe it, is as the likeness of the ass bearing books, evil is the likeness of the people who reject the AAYAAT of Allah; and Allah does not guide the unjust people.

6. Say: O you who are Jews, if you think that you are the favorites of Allah to the exclusion of other people, then invoke death if you are truthful.

7. And they will never invoke it because of what their hands have sent before; and Allah is Cognizant of the unjust.

8. Say: (As for) the death from which you flee, that will surely overtake you, then you shall be sent back to the Knower of the unseen and the seen, and He will inform you of that which you did.

9. O you who believe! when the call is made for prayer on Friday, then hasten to the remembrance of Allah and leave off trading; that is better for you, if you know.

10. But when the prayer is ended, then disperse abroad in the land and seek of Allah's grace, and remember Allah much, that you may be successful.

11. And when they see merchandise or sport they break up for it, and leave you standing. Say: What is with Allah is better than sport and (better) than merchandise, and Allah is the best of Sustainers.

Surah JUMU'AH has two Ruku which comprise of 8 and 3 AAYAAT respectively and it starts by the mention of Allah's names that denote His attributes; note that the most important oath is the promise that the Man has made to Allah at the world of spirits that he would believe in Him only, as the Creator of all Who always has all His attributes as QADEEM, ASL and LA-MEHDUD (see the note on Surah FATIHA) and he would take Him as the only true Lord to obey because the obedience of any other among His creation is subject to the condition that he does not command anything against His commands; this is the message of the first AAYAT of the Holy Book Quran that reads "Al-Hamdu Lillah RABBEL-AALAMIN" (this is the belief in TAUHID); His obedience leads to the belief that everyone is answerable to Him at the particular day ahead (this is the belief in AKHIRAT); His obedience also leads to the belief that Muhammad PBUH is the last Messenger of Allah who provided His message to all the known world at his time (this is the belief in RISALAT); now, this the Muslims have to tell most clearly to all, that the Muslims do obey Allah only, the only Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord Whom all must obey; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first AAYAT of this Surah states that all the creation of Allah declares the glory of Allah; but as the Jinn and the Man need guidance so the next AAYAAT tell that Allah has provided the Guidance to the right path to Muhammad PBUH so that he gives it to the jinn and the man, all of those that are at his time and after him, so that they take it and save themselves from the hell-fire; they also tell that the Quran is the true guidance for all peoples of the world, at all times and places; Al-Hamdu Lillah; in this manner, these AAYAAT also elucidate the mentioned attributes of Allah; as Allah is MALIK (the King) and QUDDUS (the Holy) so He cares for the jinn and the man because they also are among His creation, and so He has provided them with the true guidance to accept and save themselves from the torments at AKHIRAT and He chose the most worthy person in the people having the most high worth for the task of providing that guidance to all; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as He is AZIZ (Mighty) so He provides for such happenings that keep the world to His will by His authoritative measures so no one becomes able to cause such deviation at the world that leads it away from His set manner for it that causes FASAD (high difficulties to work upon the Islamic teachings) for high length of period; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah ANKABUT says, "each one of them We seized for his crime; so in them, against some We sent a violent tornado (with showers of stones); some were caught by blast; some

We caused the earth to swallow up; and some We drowned; it was not Allah Who injured them but they injured (and oppressed) their own souls" (Surah ANKABUT-40); Al-Hamdu Lillah; and Allah is HAKEEM (Truly Wise) too so He is shaping all things towards the way He intends (even by works of the man) and it takes many years sometimes for us to see how things have turned favorably for Islam practically; Allah particularly keeps the jinn and the man under His view as they have the freewill; He let them intend only for what He intends them to intend and keeps the impression of whatever they do upon the world at such limits that everything goes on according to His will; Surah TAKWIR reports that "And you do not will even, unless (it be) that Allah wills, the Lord of all the worlds" (Surah TAKWIR-29); Al-Hamdu Lillah; so the next three AAYAAT of this first Ruku, that are 2-3-4, read, "He it is Who raised among the unlearned people an Apostle from among themselves, who recites to them His AAYAAT and purifies them, and teaches them the Book and the Wisdom, although they were before certainly in clear error; and others from among them who have not yet joined them (the coming generations of all peoples as Muhammad PBUH is the last Messenger of Allah); and He is the Mighty, the Wise; that is Allah's grace; He grants it to whom He pleases, and Allah is the Lord of mighty grace"; see also the note at the fifteenth Ruku of Surah BAQARAH; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this is the honorable task of Muhammad PBUH (to recite the AAYAAT of the Quran that is the Book of Allah, and to teach it to all peoples of the world and to teach the manner of its application by wisdom and to purify them of all base worldly desires by its beautiful teachings); after his departure from the world, we all Muslims are liable to do this in the best possible manner for us all; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-5 ahead tell about the Bani-Israel that they did not give Torah the respect that they needed to have given it because it had provided the message of Allah explicitly in its five books to them; they put it into different sheets so as to decide what they present at fore and what they hide (that is much of it); the part in the AAYAT "then they (i.e. the Bani-Israel) did not observe it (i.e. Torah)" means that they decided by their own what they would take from it and what they would ignore due to the hardship which it caused to their status and due to the manifest losses which it caused to their wealth; taking some of its significant teachings and ignoring others of it, amounts to the rejection of Torah; without the practice of all its basic commands, it is as if an ass has taken the load of many of good books so without the practice of their good teachings, it would not receive any benefit of them; so the rejection of Torah led, and would lead, these ignorant people to highly troublesome situation; those who have wholly chosen the wrong path for themselves, Allah certainly would not guide such unjust people to the right path; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the unlearned people cared for the basic teachings of the Quran as they had the worth to practice it due to the development of care to AKHIRAT, yet the ignorant people did not comply to the teachings of Torah in practice because of their base desires relating to the life at the world; the next couple of AAYAAT ask Muhammad PBUH to ask the Bani-Israel to long for death if they really are near to Allah, having the concept that He would not give them any punishment on their wrong-doings;

with that, these AAYAAT also tell the result of such query; they read, "say- O you who are Jews, if you think that you are the favorites of Allah to the exclusion of other people, then invoke death if you are truthful- and they will never invoke it because of what their hands have sent before; and Allah is Cognizant of the unjust"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Ruku states that their death would certainly get them wherever they are when the time comes, even if they live for quite a period, and they would be returned unto the Knower of all unseen and the seen, and He will certainly tell them about all wrongs which they used to do at the world; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next Ruku comprises of AAYAAT that descended due to specific event (though its ruling is surely general); it happened once on Friday that the Prophet PBUH was delivering the sermon (which is the part of SALAH on Friday) that he used to give after SALAH (but after this event, he used to give it before it); note that the Muslims read SALAH on Friday at the time for ZUHR and it has special significance so the Muslims attend it in huge number at different vast mosques; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as the Prophet PBUH was delivering the KHUTBAH (the sermon), a caravan reached Madinah that had brought much of foodstuffs and other items to trade and as was the custom, persons at Madinah welcomed it by DAFF (the small beautiful drum handled by one hand and beaten by other); this raised commotion at the gathering around the Prophet PBUH and many among the gathering there abandoned the KHUTBAH and went away to attend to the trade-caravan; AAYAAT at this Ruku express the ruling most clearly that when there is task for AKHIRAT at hand, the Muslims would not take-up any work for the benefit of the world though even in that benefit, it is necessary to care for the commands of Allah; He has provided Muhammad PBUH the Holy Book Quran because Arabs, as they accept Islam, had the beautiful potential to respect it and to put it into practice well; they shall commit themselves to it and shall not ignore it in any manner; at this ruling, the Muslims who had left the KHUTBAH of the Prophet PBUH at that time, checked their attitude and at the occasion of the conquest of Makkah (and even at the expedition for TABUK where the danger to their life was extreme), all stood with him in the most praiseworthy manner; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the three AAYAAT at the Ruku read, "O you who believe! when the call is made for prayer on Friday, then hasten to the remembrance of Allah and leave off trading; that is better for you, if you know; but when the prayer is ended (with its KHUTBAH), then disperse abroad in the land and seek of Allah's grace (by business, trade and services), and remember Allah much (even in that), that you may be successful; and when they see merchandise (for trading) or sport (screaming with unworthy din by playing DAFF), they break up for it, and leave you standing; say- what is with Allah is better than sport and (better) than merchandise, and Allah is the best of Sustainers"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note about music that there is no issue in tolerating the soft music at the Islamic environment when it is presented by a male or a female person singly at the Radio or by a male person at the Television when all persons that relate to the music, care for its necessary conditions that especially include that the wording of songs shall not challenge the Islamic morality, the singers and the performers therein and the players of instruments shall not be professionals, the songs shall be soft in nature (and not a din of some manner) and only two instruments at maximum shall be used therein to give its beautiful rhythm to it though addition in its music by clapping or whistling even is fine; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah MUNAFIQUN

(Consists of 2 Ruku; H-6)

1. When the hypocrites come to you, they say: We bear witness that you are most surely Allah's Apostle; and Allah knows that you are most surely His Apostle, and Allah bears witness that the hypocrites are surely liars.
2. They make their oaths a shelter, and thus turn away from Allah's way; surely evil is that which they do.
3. That is because they believe, then disbelieve, so a seal is set upon their hearts so that they do not understand.
4. And when you see them, their persons will please you, and if they speak, you will listen to their speech; (they are) as if they were big pieces of wood clad with garments; they think every cry to be against them. They are the enemy, therefore beware of them; may Allah destroy them, whence are they turned back?
5. And when it is said to them: Come, the Apostle of Allah will ask forgiveness for you, they turn back their heads and you may see them turning away while they are big with pride.

6. It is alike to them whether you beg forgiveness for them or do not beg forgiveness for them; Allah will never forgive them; surely Allah does not guide the transgressing people.

7. They it is who say: Do not spend upon those who are with the Apostle of Allah until they break up. And Allah's are the treasures of the heavens and the earth, but the hypocrites do not understand.

8. They say: If we return to Madinah, the mighty will surely drive out the meaner therefrom; and to Allah belongs the might and to His Apostle and to the believers, but the hypocrites do not know.

9. O you who believe! let not your wealth, or your children, divert you from the remembrance of Allah; and whoever does that, these are the losers.

10. And spend out of what We have given you before death comes to one of you, so that he should say: My Lord! why didst Thou not respite me to a near term, so that I should have given alms and been of the doers of good deeds?

11. And Allah does not respite a soul when its appointed term has come, and Allah is Aware of what you do.

Surah MUNAFIQUN has two Ruku which like Surah JUMU'AH, comprise of 8 and 3 AAYAAT respectively; it tells about the hypocrites who resided among the true Muslims and always were looking for a chance to cause some break in the integrity of the true Muslims; note that MUNAFIQIN (hypocrites) have two kinds; one of them gets the teachings of Islam and disbelieves it from the beginning knowingly but remains within the true Muslims and acts as if he is one of them by fibs to get worldly benefits therefrom, but this kind of MUNAFIQIN were only at the era of the Prophet PBUH; the other kind of them are those who are antagonists to the virtuous deeds that Islam teaches because they are much trying to them and they not only avoid them but also justify their adverse attitude even by taking oaths so they too are fibbers; note that those Muslims who do not fulfill the demands of some significant Islamic teachings due to their weakness yet accept their fault with remorse, they actually are not hypocrites but are among the weak Muslims; however, these second kind of hypocrites manifest at this current era too; at this Surah, the first kind of hypocrites are mentioned whose chief was ABDULLAH ibn UBAYYE whereas the first AAYAT tells that when they come to the Prophet PBUH, they take oath that he certainly is the Messenger of Allah but as they are not true in their statement due to disbelief at their inside, Allah refutes their statement beautifully; He tells that though their statement is right in essence yet Allah bears witness that they are liars due to their disbelief inside; the AAYAT reads, "when the hypocrites come to you, they say- we bear witness that you are most surely Allah's Apostle; and Allah knows that you are most surely His Apostle, and Allah bears witness that the hypocrites are surely liars"; note that Allah says for their statement that "He knows" to express that their statement is true in essence and says for their selves that "He bears witness (against them)" to express that they do not truly believe what they state; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this AAYAT points out explicitly that the manifest trait of hypocrites is that they are liars and this also implies that when they are trusted upon something, they prove unworthy for that trust and when they take oath on something, they prove unworthy to that even; this is reported about them in one of authentic Ahadith; AAYAAT ahead further provide those of their attitudes which also manifest due to their inclination to fibs that they stop people to come to Islam by trying to give it a bad name so this is one of their most evil acts; this happened because they accepted Islam manifestly yet disbelieved it at inside so their hearts were sealed to get any acceptance for Islam now; these AAYAAT tell that though their built at physique is surprising and it affects even the Prophet PBUH as he will listen to their speech yet they remain totally dependent on someone for their standing at the world without any efforts of their own to provide for their sustenance; and they take whatever trying command that Allah provides to all Muslims, as addressed especially to them; so whatever they may say manifestly, they actually are enemies to all true Muslims as they intend by their mannerism to put weakness inside the Muslims to affect negatively their commitment upon Islam; may Allah put His curse upon them; when they are asked to come to the Prophet PBUH so that he asks Allah for His mercy to them, they show arrogance and persuade even the Muslims to leave some of its commands; they undoubtedly consider themselves most high among all persons though they actually have no worth; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so even if the Prophet PBUH asks Allah to have mercy on them, Allah would not accept that plea for them; He never gives TOFIQ to accept the true guidance to such extremely sinful persons; see also the note at the tenth Ruku of Surah TAUBAH; now, for the last couple of

AAYAAT of the Ruku, note that at return from the battle of Bani-MUSTALLAQ, there occurred an unpleasant incident whereas at one side, a faction of ANSAAR and at other side, a faction of MUHAJIR came in front of each other due to quarrel among two persons from the respective sides; this challenge may have intensified but the Prophet PBUH came timely at the spot and settled the matter with the assistance of prominent persons of both sides, both sides forgiving each other; however, as ABDULLAH ibn UBAYYE, the chief of hypocrites, heard of it, he took the opportunity to make mischief by telling ANSAAR that they had done goodness to MUHAJIREEN and now they are getting the upper hand at Madinah; he spoke out to the old citizens of Madinah (ANSAAR) not to spend anything on any of Muslims who has arrived from Makkah (MUHAJIR) so that they all lose their sustenance and disperse away from Madinah; as this he said due to his arrogance by which the hypocrites considered that it is the wealth of ANSAAR that gives the MUHAJIREEN their standing so AAYAT-7 expresses clearly that it is Allah Who provides for sustenance to all persons and He has all treasures of the heavens and the earth; He would give all of them (ANSAAR and MUHAJIREEN) their sustenance too and huge wealth too by any source, if He wills; certainly, Allah only has the true authority but the hypocrites do not understand this as their minds do not get beyond what they see and they are totally unable to understand any of the spiritual issues; Al-Hamdu Lillah; he also arrogantly said that when we reach Madinah, the reputable side would expel the disreputable side; Allah answers to this that "and to Allah belongs the might (the true respect) and to His Apostle and to the believers, but the hypocrites do not know"; when the hypocrite had said it, ZAID ibn ARQAM-RA, who was a young man at that time, had heard this statement and he had informed the Prophet PBUH; when the Prophet PBUH summoned him to clarify, he took an oath that ZAID has lied and he has not said any such thing; however, when the Quran confirmed that he did say it, that soothed the grief of ZAID and extremely humiliated the hypocrite in all persons; he was told to ask pardon at the court of Muhammad PBUH but his arrogance prevented him from that; moreover, his son, who also was named Abdullah and was a staunch Muslim, stopped him at the entrance to Madinah when the procession reached there, and asked him exclusively to say that he actually is disreputable otherwise he shall not enter Madinah as he would kill him then & there; it was only when he said so, that his son Abdullah-RA left him alone; certainly, Allah only has the true authority and His will not only reigns at all heavens but it also reigns at all the earth; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last Ruku of the Surah starts by guidance to the Muslims that expenditure on worldly issues without care for the true life at AKHIRAT is most erroneous attitude; it is the unplaced love for gathering more of amounts at the world and unplaced love to provide unnecessary security to children that ask for this expenditure; note that we studied at Surah NAHL-90 that INFAAQ (expenditure) upon the needy is the best remedy to NIFAAQ (hypocrisy) and the Quran gives the same message here; the true Muslims need to spend their amounts in the way of Allah from what He has provided them and also provide the message of Allah to all peoples of the world as better as they can; that would show their indifference for accumulation of wealth at the world and also their indifference to taking themselves more than ordinary; that certainly would keep them away from hypocrisy; if they care to accumulate wealth and keep guidance about righteousness to their own selves, they would get the touch of hypocrisy and would certainly face extreme trouble at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; when death approaches, it happens that a person feels the guilt of not providing benefits to the needy at life by the resources that he had at hand, but then it is too late; note that the words at AAYAT-10 imply that without providing benefits to the needy by wealth or by knowledge, the person would not truly be among the doers of good deeds; note also that the Quran includes hypocrites too at its address to the Muslims, where the context permits, when it says "O you who believe"; the remorse at that time is useless as when the appointed time for the end of life does come finally, Allah does not delay it; these three AAYAAT read, "O you who believe! let not your wealth, or your children, divert you from the remembrance of Allah (that you forget to fulfill His commands in the unplaced love of these both); and whoever does that, these are the losers (at AKHIRAT); and spend out of what We have given you (tangible or intangible) before death comes to one of you, so that he should say- my Lord! why didst Thou not respite me to a near term, so that I should have given alms (and should have provided the message of the Quran to all peoples) and been of the doers of good deeds?; and Allah does not respite a soul when its appointed term has come (so avail the opportunity and do good deeds now), and Allah is Aware of what you do"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah TAGHABUN

(Consists of 2 Ruku; H-7)

1. Whatever is in the heavens and whatever is in the earth declares the glory of Allah; to Him belongs the kingdom, and to Him is due (all) praise, and He has power over all things.
2. He it is Who created you, but one of you is a disbeliever and another of you is a believer; and Allah sees what you do.
3. He created the heavens and the earth with truth, and He formed you, then made goodly your forms, and to Him is the ultimate resort.
4. He knows what is in the heavens and the earth, and He knows what you hide and what you manifest; and Allah is Cognizant of what is in the hearts.
5. Has there not come to you the story of those who disbelieved before, then tasted the evil result of their conduct, and they had a painful punishment?
6. That is because there came to them their apostles with clear arguments, but they said: Shall mortals guide us? So they disbelieved and turned back, and Allah does not stand in need (of anything), and Allah is Self-sufficient, Praised.
7. Those who disbelieve think that they shall never be raised. Say: Aye! by my Lord! you shall most certainly be raised, then you shall most certainly be informed of what you did; and that is easy to Allah.
8. Therefore, believe in Allah and His Apostle and the Light which We have revealed; and Allah is Aware of what you do.
9. On the day that He will gather you for the day of gathering, that is the day of loss and gain; and whoever believes in Allah and does good, He will remove from him his evil and cause him to enter gardens beneath which rivers flow, to abide therein forever; that is the great achievement.

10. And (as for) those who disbelieve and reject Our AAYAAT, they are the inmates of the hell-fire, to abide therein and evil is the resort.

11. No affliction comes about but by Allah's permission; and whoever believes in Allah, He guides aright his heart; and Allah is Cognizant of all things.

12. And obey Allah and obey the Apostle, but if you turn back, then upon Our Apostle devolves only the clear delivery (of the message).

13. Allah, there is no god but He; and upon Allah, then, let the believers rely.

14. O you who believe! surely from among your wives and your children there is an enemy to you; therefore, beware of them; and if you pardon and forbear and forgive, then surely Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.

15. Your possessions and your children are only a trial, and Allah it is with Whom is a great reward.

16. Therefore, be careful of (your duty to) Allah as much as you can, and hear and obey and spend, it is better for your souls; and whoever is saved from the greediness of his soul, these it is that are the successful.

17. If you set apart for Allah a goodly portion, He will double it for you and forgive you; and Allah is the Multiplier (of rewards), Forbearing,

18. The Knower of the unseen and the seen, the Mighty, the Wise.

Surah TAGHABUN has two Ruku that comprise of 10 AAYAAT and 8 AAYAAT respectively; the first Ruku guides attention to the fundamental teachings of Islam that are TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord), RISALAT (Allah sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path and Muhammad PBUH is the last of His Messengers) and AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment); Al-Hamdu Lillah; like Surah JUMU'AH, the first AAYAT of this Surah starts with "YUSABBEHU" that states that all creation of Allah at the heavens and at the earth, declares the glory of Allah; He has created them all and they recognize Him as the true Lord; but He has given the freewill only to the jinn and the man, and has asked all of them, especially the mankind, to believe in Him and obey Him totally by their freewill as He only is their Creator and He only has all true authority; He has beautified the heavens above and provided all things necessary to the mankind at the earth and made it such that it provides edibles for the mankind by the command of Allah; He has formed the man into beautiful shape as animals are unable to compete with his physique because he is most proportionally built; Al-Hamdu Lillah; He has made his physique complementary to get benefits from the surroundings by his placement and He has provided all sustenance to him because He intends to examine all of the mankind how better they live their lives with total attention towards Allah, the true Lord; He is well aware of their doings and He certainly would present them their respective documents of deeds at AKHIRAT; it is the Day when the true failure and the true success would manifest so it is YAUMUT-TAGHABUN (the day of loss & gain); losses and gains at the world have no worth but those who do achieve gains at that day, they truly are successful; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Surah presents the fact that Allah has all awareness of everything He has created and He has total authority over everything He has created; certainly, He only is the Creator of everything and He only has all the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first four AAYAAT of the Surah read, "whatever is in the heavens and whatever is in the earth declares the glory of Allah; to Him belongs the kingdom, and to Him is due (all) praise, and He has power over all things (He certainly is the true Lord); He it is Who created you, but one of you is a disbeliever and another of you is a believer; and Allah sees what you do (so He does not let the world go out of the framework inside which He always keeps matters); He created the heavens and the earth with truth (i.e. by principles so that they remain beneficial to the mankind), and He formed you, then made goodly your forms (with such beauty that animals are unable to match), and to Him is the ultimate resort (and He would see then all doings of all persons); He knows what is in the heavens and the earth, and He knows what you hide and what you manifest; and Allah is Cognizant of what is in the hearts"; note that the fourth AAYAT expresses the knowledge of Allah in three manners; one is that He knows all what is in the heavens and the earth which means all creation at the universe; then it focuses on the man that he is unable to hide any of his deeds from Him; then it focuses on intentions of the man that he is unable to hide those even from Allah as He is fully Aware of them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-5, 6 & 7 tell how the disbelievers had rejected the Messengers of Allah at ancient times with argument that how would a man guide them righteously as some angel should have guided them; with that foolish argument, they also thought that they are not answerable to anything that they do; they had thought that they never would be raised from the dead so AAYAT asks the Prophet PBUH to tell the disbelievers who live at his times that they sure would be raised from the dead and they sure would be told about their doings, as they also have this same thought; and this raising up of all the dead and this disclosing of all deeds of all, is most easy for Allah; certainly He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-8 clearly states that the disbelievers must avail the opportunity to accept the Truth (the fundamental teachings of Islam) while they are alive; when Allah ends the times of their lives at the world, they would have no way to escape the day that would decide for loss to many persons and for gain to many; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; this AAYAT and AAYAAT-9 & 10 of the Surah read, "therefore, believe in Allah and His Apostle and the Light (the Holy Book Quran) which We have revealed; and Allah is Aware of what you do (and He would tell all your doings at the Day of Judgment); on the day that He will gather you for the day of gathering, that is the day of loss and gain (TAGHABUN); and whoever believes in Allah and does good (at the world), He will remove from him his evil (of disbelief that he had previously) and cause him to enter gardens beneath which rivers flow, to abide therein forever; that is the great achievement; and (as for) those who disbelieve and reject Our AAYAAT (and do not come towards the Truth at their lives at the world), they are the inmates of the hell-fire, to abide therein and evil is the resort"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second Ruku starts by guiding the attention towards the fact that everything is bound to the will of Allah; whoever truly believes in Allah, his heart remains content that all matters would ultimately result in betterment as Allah truly guides them; certainly, Allah is fully aware of all matters; the only thing the believers have to do is that they have to obey the commands of Allah and the guidance that the Prophet PBUH provides according to those commands; the Prophet PBUH has to provide all the true guidance to all peoples but he is not bound to bring them to Islam necessarily; Allah certainly is the only Creator of all and He only has the true authority so the true believers in Him must trust Him totally that all matters, individual or collective, would ultimately result in all betterment as they keep to Islam totally; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last five AAYAAT of the Surah that are from 14 to 18, tell the Muslims from where Allah examines them mostly; it is from their wives, from their children and from the wealth they have; they also tell about the best manner to deal with these and also about the attributes of Allah to which the Surah specially asks attention; these AAYAAT read, "O you who believe! surely from among your wives and your children there is an enemy to you; therefore, beware of them (that their love do not lead you to ignore the Islamic teachings in issues of life); and if you pardon (their wrongs) and forbear (by attitude of ignorance on their wrongs at times) and forgive (after guidance that clarifies their wrongs), then surely Allah is Forgiving, Merciful (to you all and He would provide space to make things better); your possessions and your children are only a trial (as the life at the world is an examination to all), and Allah it is with Whom is great reward (so you have to keep alert that whatever you invest for your wealth and for your children with intentions for gains at the world, has no true worth but care to AKHIRAT only leads to the true gains); therefore, be careful of (your duty to) Allah as much as you can, and hear and obey (His commands so your children also follow this way of Allah) and spend (from your wealth so that this saves you from any inclination to love for it), it is better for your souls (which includes the betterment of your near ones too; the term used is ANFUSEKUM which denotes the self and those also who are near to self) and whoever is saved from the greediness of his soul (and keeps away from accumulation of wealth at the world and keeps to his necessities here and spends from his wealth whatever is possible for him), these it is that are the successful (at AKHIRAT, the success of which is the true success); if you set apart for Allah a goodly portion, He will double it for you (so you would get your sustenance conveniently at the world and your reward at AKHIRAT would be most wonderful) and forgive you (so that you do achieve the true success); and Allah is the Multiplier (of rewards), Forbearing; the Knower of the unseen and the seen, the Mighty, the Wise"; note about the attributes of Allah that the last AAYAAT of the Surah present that Allah is "SHAKOOR" (Multiplier of all good deeds -and better translation is that He is Appreciative of all good deeds) so He provides rewards for that, both at the world and at AKHIRAT; He is "Forbearing" so He gives ample space to all at the world to make themselves better; the "Knower of the unseen and the seen" so no one is able to hide anything from Him; the "Mighty" so He keeps the world to the path He has settled for it by His direct command as He wills, the "Wise" so He keeps the world to the path He has settled for it even by the doings of mankind as He wills; the most notable thing is that the Surah presents the fact that Allah has all awareness of everything He has created and He has total authority over everything He has created; so it ends by the mention of His attributes that guide attention to this; certainly, Allah only is the Creator of everything and certainly, He only has the true authority over all His creation; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah TALAQ

(Consists of 2 Ruku; H-6)

1. O Prophet! when you divorce women, divorce them for their prescribed time, and calculate the number of the days prescribed, and be careful of (your duty to) Allah, your Lord. Do not drive them out of their houses, nor should they themselves go forth, unless they commit an open indecency; and these are the limits of Allah, and whoever goes beyond the limits of Allah, he indeed does injustice to his own soul. You do not know that Allah may after that bring about reunion.

2. So when they have reached their prescribed time, then retain them with kindness or separate them with kindness, and call to witness two men of justice from among you, and give upright testimony for Allah. With that is admonished he who believes in Allah and the latter day; and whoever is careful of (his duty to) Allah, He will make for him an outlet,

3. And give him sustenance from whence he thinks not; and whoever trusts in Allah, He is sufficient for him; surely Allah attains His purpose; Allah indeed has appointed a measure for everything.

4. And (as for) those of your women who have despaired of menstruation, if you have doubt, their prescribed time shall be three months, and of those too who have not had their courses; and (as for) the pregnant women, their prescribed time is that they lay down their burden; and whoever is careful of (his duty to) Allah He will make easy for him his affair.

5. That is the command of Allah which He has revealed to you, and whoever is careful of (his duty to) Allah, He will remove from him his evil and give him a big reward.

6. Lodge them where you lodge according to your means, and do not injure them in order that you may straiten them; and if they are pregnant, spend on them until they lay down their burden; then if they suckle for you, give them their recompense and enjoin one another among you to do good; and if you disagree, another (woman) shall suckle for him.

7. Let him who has abundance spend out of his abundance and whoever has his means of subsistence straitened to him, let him spend out of that which Allah has given him; Allah does not lay on any soul a burden except to the extent to which He has granted it; Allah brings about ease after difficulty.

8. And how many a town which rebelled against the commandment of its Lord and His apostles, so We called it to account severely and We chastised it (with) a stern chastisement.

9. So it tasted the evil result of its conduct, and the end of its affair was perdition.

10. Allah has prepared for them severe chastisement, therefore be careful of (your duty to) Allah, O men of understanding who believe! Allah has indeed revealed to you a reminder,

11. The Apostle who recites to you the clear AAYAAT of Allah so that He may bring forth those who believe and do good deeds, from darkness into light; and whoever believes in Allah and does good deeds, He will cause him to enter gardens beneath which rivers flow, to abide therein forever; Allah has indeed given him goodly sustenance.

12. Allah is He Who created seven heavens, and of the earth the like of them; the decree continues to descend among them, that you may know that Allah has power over all things and that Allah indeed encompasses all things in (His) knowledge.

Surah TALAQ consists of 2 Ruku whereas the first has 7 AAYAAT and the second has 5 AAYAAT; the first AAYAT implies that if matters come to TALAQ (divorce) between the man and wife, he has to care to give it in the better way; note that to give TALAQ to wife is the exclusive verbal right of the husband and though he may pronounce it for three times yet in such case, the divorce would release her from the bond of marriage totally without any chance for reversal; though it is detestable yet when it becomes necessary due to incompatibility to each other, AHSAN (the better way for it) is to pronounce it only once when she is in state of cleanliness in which he has not made sex-relation with her; that state of cleanliness is between her two menses and it is mentioned as TUHR for her; after getting the verdict of TALAQ, the woman has to spend three periods which is termed as her IDDAT before she accepts any proposal; she will not marry again before end of IDDAT though her husband may reverse it inside that term; he may reverse his verdict of divorce by his verbal note or by sex-relation with her if he has given her up-to two pronouncements of TALAQ, inside her IDDAT; even after its end, he may remarry her if both agree so he may reverse his verdict if he has pronounced the divorce lesser than three; however, at the third pronouncement, he loses the right to its reversal; He has to pay sustenance (food, clothing; shelter) to his divorced wife in IDDAT in which he may reverse the verdict; the most notable thing for marriage is that it actually is relation of love more than contract so if that is lacking, it turns unsuccessful; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first AAYAT addresses the Prophet PBUH but it actually is direction to all Muslims through him how they would deal with the issue of TALAQ when it becomes unavoidable, so the AAYAT directs by using plural terms; it reads, "O Prophet (PBUH; tell the Muslims)! when you divorce women, divorce them for their prescribed time (i.e. see that they complete their IDDAT where the husband has the option to reverse his verdict) and calculate the number of the days prescribed (which means that the women need to count carefully the term of their IDDAT) and be careful of (your duty to) Allah, your Lord; do not drive them out of their houses (in IDDAT), nor should they themselves go forth, unless they commit an open indecency (by doing anything most shameful or by using most abusive language towards the husband); and these are the limits of Allah, and whoever goes beyond the limits of Allah, he indeed does injustice to his own soul; you do not know that Allah may after that bring about reunion (so things get better among you both)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next couple of AAYAAT state that as the divorced wife completes her IDDAT, the husband either has to retain her as his wife by remarrying her according to the good norms of the day which conform to the Islamic values or leave her according to them so that she marries another man; he shall make two Muslim, adult, sane, just men upon whatever decision he takes for her; all such persons shall provide their witness to his decision clearly when and where necessary; this direction is for all true Muslims who believe in Allah and the Day of Judgment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAT also tell that when the couple (and the witnesses) tackle the issue with care to the commands of Allah, He would not only end troubles to both of them but also provide respective compatible spouses to both and He would provide for good sustenance to both; note that Surah NOOR-32 states that to avoid marriage because of lack of finances is not feasible; we saw there that it asks all such persons to seek an early marriage for those who are financially dependent on them; this would save their good chastity and if the responsible persons fear that they would get some additional financial burden as their liability, they need not worry about it as Allah would make their financial situation better to provide for those persons that are dependent upon them or/and make those dependent persons capable in such manner that they would be able to provide for themselves in much better way; certainly, Allah is Ample-giving, Knowing; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT here at Surah TALAQ, generally express this too that when the true Muslims do remain committed to Islam then Allah provides all convenience to them for their good living; Al-Hamdu Lillah; they read, "so when they have reached their prescribed time (i.e. the end of IDDAT), then retain them with kindness or separate them with kindness (without putting them into any trouble), and call to witness two men of justice from among you (upon TALAQ or upon its reversal), and give upright testimony for Allah; with that is admonished he who believes in Allah and the latter day (the Day of Judgment); and whoever is careful of (his duty to) Allah, He will make for him an outlet (so that he gets all of his necessities, tangible or intangible, with convenience); and give him sustenance from whence he thinks not; and whoever trusts in Allah (that He certainly would provide for all necessities), He is sufficient for him (as He gives him satisfaction inside that everything would ultimately turn out right); surely Allah attains His purpose; Allah indeed has appointed a measure for everything (so the person who does trust Him, would get his necessities in due time though he may face some trying times without any anxiety whatsoever)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT states the term of IDDAT for those women who have come to menopause and for those who have not yet come to having menses; it also tells about IDDAT of those women who are pregnant at divorce whereas the AAYAT tells that all those who care to obey the commands of Allah, they would find convenience in all their matters; caring for His commands, ends the wrongs done in affairs, especially the matrimonial affairs, and brings much high rewards; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-4 & 5 state -"and (as for) those of your women who have despaired of menstruation, if you have doubt, their prescribed time shall be three (lunar) months, and of those too who have not had their courses (due to young age); and (as for) the pregnant women, their prescribed time is that they lay down their burden (so the child-birth would mark the end of their IDDAT even if that occurs in a day or two of divorce or much later); and whoever is careful of (his duty to) Allah He will make easy for him his affair; that is the command of Allah which He has revealed to you, and whoever is careful of (his duty to) Allah, He will remove from him his evil (of treating the spouse badly) and give him a big reward"; note that there is favorable mention of those persons in this Ruku three times (at AAYAT-2 & 4 & 5), who care to fulfill the liability that Allah has put upon them in dealing with issues; there is high emphasis on caring for the commands of Allah at all times, especially in the household issues; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT 6 and 7 ask the husband to provide shelter at their home to the divorced wife until her IDDAT ends; he must not trouble her by not providing enough for her necessities; he has to take distinct care for her by spending on her needs when she is pregnant; she is liable to get remuneration if both of them agree that she would feed the child as she is most worthy for it being its mother; however, if there is some dispute among them on this which they are unable to resolve then some other woman may take up this task; the father of the child has to see to its expenses according to his status; Allah does not put such burden upon him that he is unable to take but asks as much as he is easily able to spare for the child; if he fulfills his liability caringly, Allah would give him space to make his affairs much better with time; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next Ruku states about such towns that were destroyed by deadly punishments as the persons there did not comply to the commands of Allah and did not care to obey the Messengers of Allah so they got the extreme punishment at the world; it also tells that Allah has prepared most agonizing punishment for them at AKHIRAT too; this is interesting to note that the first Ruku of Surah TALAQ discusses about the issues between the man and wife and here at the second Ruku, the discussion shifts to the destruction of such towns that were most disobedient to Allah; note that this shift has subtle indication that tells that the UMMAH of the last Prophet Muhammad PBUH have come to such height of excellence where the Quran guides them even to their household issues whereas many of the previous nations did not achieve this height of excellence due to their disbelief in fundamental teachings of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that AAYAT-10 and 11 state, "be careful of (your duty to) Allah, O men of understanding who believe! Allah has indeed revealed to you a reminder (i.e. the Holy Book Quran); (and sent to you) the Apostle who recites to you the clear AAYAAT of Allah so that He may bring forth those who believe and do good deeds, from darkness (of disbelief) into light (of the true belief); and whoever believes in Allah and does good deeds (so he achieves TAQWA), He will cause him to enter gardens beneath which rivers flow, to abide therein forever; Allah has indeed given him goodly sustenance (not only at life at the world but also at AKHIRAT)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Surah tells explicitly that Allah has made seven of heavens and He has made the earth likewise by seven of layers; note that the crust of earth changes at depth getting hotter inside and these changes mark its layers beautifully; between these heavens and earth, Allah sends His command to keep all matters in His control totally, and certainly, He is most aware of all His creation; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah TAHREEM

(Consists of 2 Ruku; H-7)

1. O Prophet (PBUH)! why do you forbid (yourself) that which Allah has made lawful for you; you seek to please your wives; and Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.
2. Allah indeed has sanctioned for you the expiation of your oaths and Allah is your Protector, and He is the Knowing, the Wise.
3. And when the Prophet (PBUH) secretly communicated a piece of information to one of his wives-- but when she informed (others) of it, and Allah made him to know it, he made known part of it and avoided part; so when he informed her of it, she said: Who informed you of this? He said: The Knowing, the Aware, informed me.
4. If you both turn to Allah, then indeed your hearts are already inclined (to ask for mercy); and if you back up each other against him, then surely Allah it is Who is his Guardian, and JIBREEL and the believers that do good, and the angels after that are the aiders;

5. Maybe, his Lord, if he divorces you, will give him in your place wives better than you; to Allah (they would be) submissive, faithful, obedient, penitent, worshippers, fasters; (from) widows and virgins.

6. O you who believe! save yourselves and your families from a fire whose fuel is men and stones; over it are angels stern and strong, they do not disobey Allah in what He commands them, and do as they are commanded.

7. O you who disbelieve! do not urge excuses today; you shall be rewarded only according to what you did.

8. O you who believe! turn to Allah a sincere turning; maybe your Lord will remove from you your deficiency and cause you to enter gardens beneath which rivers flow, on the day on which Allah will not abase the Prophet (PBUH) and those who believe with him; their light shall run on before them and on their right hands; they shall say: Our Lord! make perfect for us our light, and grant us protection, surely Thou hast power over all things.

9. O Prophet (PBUH)! strive hard against the disbelievers and the hypocrites, and be hard against them; and their abode is hell-fire; and evil is the resort.

10. Allah sets forth an example to those who disbelieve, of the wife of Noah and the wife of Lot: they were both under two of Our righteous servants, but they acted treacherously towards them so they availed them naught against Allah, and it was said: Enter both, the hell-fire with those who enter.

11. And Allah sets forth an example to those who believe, of the wife of Pharaoh when she said: My Lord! build for me a house with Thee in the garden and deliver me from Pharaoh and his doing, and deliver me from the unjust people:

12. And Mariam, the daughter of Imran, who guarded her chastity, so We breathed into her of Our inspiration and she accepted truly the words of her Lord and His books, and she was of the obedient ones.

Like Surah TALAQ, Surah TAHREEM also relates to issues between man & wife; whereas Surah TALAQ had told about the situation where incompatibility of man and wife may lead to divorce, Surah TAHREEM (to prohibit something) tells about such situation where the husband might care about his wife so much that he prohibits something upon himself that in general is allowed so his care for wives may affect him negatively; the message is clear that the matrimonial relation asks for balanced attitude; note that it also has 12 Ruku and like TALAQ, the first Ruku has 7 AAYAAT and the second has 5 AAYAAT; the first five AAYAAT relate to an incident that once the Prophet PBUH took some honey at the place of one of his wives (ZAINAB-BINT-JAHSH-RA) when he visited her after ASR; it happened that two other of his wives Ayesha-RA and HAFASA-RA, being aware of it, decided that now if he comes to any of them, she would tell him that he has drunk MAGHAFIR (gum from a tree that stinks); the Prophet PBUH avoided such things that had some smell and as he came to one of them, she told him that it seems he has taken MAGHAFIR; he said that he had only taken some honey but with that statement, he took an oath that he would not take honey ever (he gave the expiation for it afterwards); he asked the wife who told him that he seems to have taken MAGHAFIR, not to speak about his oath to any other of his wives (especially to ZAINAB) but she could not keep this to herself and told the other one that was within the plan, about it; the beginning of TAHREEM tells him not to take such oath that prohibits the consumption of something which is totally valid to use, just to please his wives and with that, AAYAT explicitly tells that Allah is Forgiving & Merciful to give him relief that Allah has forgiven him without any blame upon him due to this oath; these AAYAAT admonish both of his wives sternly upon their conspiracy yet give them the margin to repent on their doing; these five AAYAAT read, "O Prophet (PBUH)! why do you forbid (yourself) that which Allah has made lawful for you; you seek to please your wives; and Allah is Forgiving, Merciful; Allah indeed has sanctioned for you the expiation of your oaths (so leave your oath and pay its expiation) and Allah is your Protector, and He is the Knowing, the Wise; and when the Prophet (PBUH) secretly communicated a piece of information to one of his wives (not to tell anyone about his oath)-- but when she informed of it, and Allah made him to know it (that she has not kept the secret), he made known part of it (to her) and avoided part; so when he informed her of it, she said: Who informed you of this? He said: the Knowing, the one Aware, informed me; if you both (women) turn to Allah, then indeed your hearts are already inclined (to ask for mercy); and if you back up each other against him, then surely Allah it is Who is his Guardian, and JIBREEL and the believers that do good, and the angels after that are the aiders; maybe, his Lord, if he divorces you, will give him in your place wives better than you; to Allah (they would be) submissive, faithful, obedient, penitent, worshippers, fasters; (from) widows (as sometimes widows are better to marry) and virgins"; note that both Ayesha-RA and Hafsa-RA did repent on their doing and the issue was settled in the best of manners; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAT asks all Muslims to care not only for their own safety at AKHIRAT but also care to provide the true guidance to their near ones, all of them, so that they also take it and remain safe from the hell-fire which gets more heat by the persons and stones put in it; note that the man has the liability to provide the true guidance to his family too besides caring for their physical necessities; note also that the angels appointed on the hell-fire are most committed to their task and are most stern; they do not disobey Allah and they do whatever He asks of them, without any sympathy to wrong-doers; the next AAYAT that is AAYAT-7 of the Surah, is the only AAYAT in the Quran which addresses the disbelievers directly; however, it is most notable that this address is at AKHIRAT and not at life at the world; it reads, "O you who disbelieve! do not urge excuses today; you shall be rewarded only according to what you did (at the world)"; the next Ruku provides emphasis on the guidance in the first as it asks all true Muslims to repent on whatever wrongs they may have committed in providing the true guidance to their respective families and whatever unplaced inclination they may have shown for their requests to get from the wealth of the world and the status at the world among people; their utmost attention would remain only towards Allah, the true Lord, so that they achieve the true success at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu

Lillah; this Ruku also asks the Prophet PBUH to show most stern attitude towards disbelievers and hypocrites similar to what they would face at AKHIRAT; AAYAAT-8 & 9 of the Ruku state, "O you who believe! turn to Allah a sincere turning (so repent truly on your lack in good deeds); maybe your Lord will remove from you your deficiency (in providing the true guidance to your near ones and in showing less sternness than needed to the challengers to Islam), and cause you to enter gardens beneath which rivers flow, on the day (of Judgment) on which Allah will not abase the Prophet (PBUH) and those who believe (in the fundamentals of Islam) with him; their light (of their true belief) shall run on before them (at the bridge of SIRAT) and on their right hands (of their good deeds); they shall say: Our Lord! make perfect for us our light (that it remains with us till the last), and grant us protection (of Thy Mercy & Blessing), surely Thou hast power over all things; O Prophet (PBUH)! strive hard against the disbelievers and the hypocrites, and be hard against them (without any sympathy); and their abode is hell-fire; and evil is the resort"; the Ruku gives example of such women at the last AAYAAT who were the wives of two of Messengers of Allah, yet they chose to live with their disbelief of the Truth and became rightful to enter the hell-fire; it also provides the example of two such women who even at much trying times, kept firm upon the Truth and remain most attentive to Allah, the true Lord; these AAYAAT tell that each person, man or woman, has to face the Judgment alone and so every person needs to take care of his/her belief and deeds; relations to righteous person would not provide safety to them unless they themselves are righteous; these AAYAAT read, "Allah sets forth an example to those who disbelieve, the wife of Noah and the wife of Lot: they were both under two of Our righteous servants (who were Messengers of Allah), but they acted treacherously towards them (by disbelieving them and confirming to all wrongs of the people these women belonged to), so they (though they were the esteemed Messengers of Allah), availed them naught against Allah, and it was said- 'enter both- the fire with those who enter'; and Allah sets forth an example to those who believe, the wife of Pharaoh (her name is mentioned as AASIYAH) when she said- 'my Lord! build for me a house with Thee in the garden (JANNAH) and deliver me from Pharaoh (so that he does not put me to any trial) and his doing (that he disbelieves the Truth without any consideration to believe in it), and deliver me from the unjust people (who show extreme injustice to all whom they take as against their manner of living)'; and Mariam, the daughter of Imran, who guarded her chastity (and never committed anything shameful), so We breathed into her of Our inspiration (i.e. Jesus Christ-AS) and she accepted truly the words of her Lord (especially the word of her Lord by which she got Jesus Christ-AS in her womb) and His books (the guidance of which she took at her deeds), and she was of the obedient ones"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah MULK

(Consists of 2 Ruku; MK-10)

1. Blessed is He in Whose hand is the kingdom, and He has power over all things,

2. Who created death and life that He may try you--- which of you is best in deeds; and He is the Mighty, the Forgiving,
3. Who created the seven heavens one above another; you see no incongruity in the creation of the Beneficent Allah; then look again, can you see any disorder?
4. Then turn back the eye again and again; your look shall come back to you docile while it is fatigued.
5. And certainly We have adorned this lower heaven with lamps and We have made these missiles for the SHAYATIN, and We have prepared for them the chastisement of burning.
6. And for those who disbelieve in their Lord is the punishment of the hell-fire, and evil is the resort.
7. When they shall be cast therein, they shall hear a loud moaning of it as it heaves,
8. Almost bursting for fury. Whenever a group is cast into it, its keeper shall ask them: Did there not come to you a warner?
9. They shall say: Yea! indeed there came to us a warner, but we rejected (him) and said: Allah has not revealed anything, you are only in a great error.
10. And they shall say: Had we but listened or pondered, we should not have been among the inmates of the burning fire.
11. So they shall acknowledge their sins, but far will be (forgiveness) from the inmates of the burning fire.
12. (As for) those who fear their Lord in secret, they shall surely have forgiveness and a great reward.
13. And conceal your word or manifest it; surely He is Cognizant of what is in the hearts.

14. Does He not know (about everything) Who has created (everything)? And He is the Knower of the subtleties, the Aware.

15. He it is Who made the earth subservient for you, therefore go about in the spacious sides thereof, and eat of His sustenance, and to Him is the return after death.

16. Are you secure of Him Who is in the heaven that He should not make the earth to swallow you up? Then lo! it shall be in a state of commotion.

17. Or are you secure of Him Who is in the heaven that He should not send down upon you a punishment? Then shall you know how was My warning.

18. And certainly those before them rejected (the Truth), then how was My disapproval.

19. Have they not seen the birds above them expanding (their wings) and contracting (them)? What is it that withholds them save the Beneficent Allah? Surely He sees everything.

20. Or who is it that will be host for you to assist you besides the Beneficent Allah? The disbelievers are only in deception.

21. Or who is it that will give you sustenance if He should withhold His sustenance? Nay! they persist in disdain and aversion.

22. What! is he who goes prone upon his face better guided or he who walks upright upon a straight path?

23. Say: He it is Who brought you into being and made for you the ears and the eyes and the hearts: little is it that you give thanks.

24. Say: He it is Who multiplied you in the earth and to Him you shall be gathered.

25. And they say: When shall this threat be (executed) if you are truthful?

26. Say: The knowledge thereof is only with Allah and I am only a plain warner.

27. But when they shall see it nigh, the faces of those who disbelieve shall be sorry, and it shall be said; This is that which you used to call for.

28. Say: Have you considered if Allah should destroy me and those with me-- rather He will have mercy on us; yet who will protect the disbelievers from a painful punishment?

29. Say: He is the Beneficent Allah, we believe in Him and on Him do we rely, so you shall come to know who it is that is in clear error.

30. Say: Have you considered if your water should go down, who is it then that will bring you flowing water?

Surah MULK consists of 2 Ruku whereas the first has 14 AAYAAT and the second has 16 of them; it descended at Makkah and asks to observe for what purpose Allah has provided life to the man and how He has provided the guidance to him and how does He care for the continuation of life till the time of end of the world; He has provided them the parts of their bodies to benefit from them in their examination, and many of things around; certainly, nobody is able to challenge Him because He has got the complete control over all things to punish them from any of them according to His will; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so it guides that every person should believe in the fundamental teachings of Islam as that only would save him from all troubles at the world and from the most severe punishment at the coming true life of AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that from here till the last of the Holy Book Quran, all Surah except for Surah BAYYINAH and Surah ZILZAAL descended at Makkah and all MAKKI Surah ask attention emphatically towards the fundamental teachings of Islam; these are TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord), RISALAT (Allah sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path and Muhammad PBUH is the last of His Messengers) and AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment); the Quran relates the last of these i.e. the Day of Judgment, most emphatically at these Surah that are at the last of the Holy Book Quran and this also has significance that Surah BAYYINAH and Surah ZILZAAL too have emphasis on these teachings that have their placement between all these Surah; Surah MULK starts by the statement that Allah only has the authority and He has the control of all of His creation; He has provided life to every person among the mankind and given him space to examine him till death at the world so that he shows his true self; by the life he leads at the world, he would receive his returns at AKHIRAT; if wrongs of the mankind lead to situation that threatens the set-up where the examination becomes most hard, He sets the world to such manner by His authority that such threat ends because He certainly is AZIZ (Mighty); and He forgives much of wrongs of the mankind as He is GHAFUOR (Most Forgiving) so He does not punish them instantly but gives them space to make things better; AAYAAT here state that He has made everything in perfect order for which the man needs to see the skies above how beautifully they are set; Allah has created them with principles that they obey (including the gravitational force) and do not exceed their limit; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the initial AAYAAT of the Surah state, "Blessed is He in Whose hand is the kingdom (of all creation), and He has power over all things (so He not only has created all creation but also has cared that everything works in perfect order according to the task He has assigned to it); Who created death and life that He may try you--- (to ascertain) which of you is best in deeds (so every person is going through an examination to prove that he certainly is near to Allah); and He is the Mighty, the Forgiving; Who created the seven heavens one above another; you see no incongruity in the creation of the Beneficent Allah; then look again, can you see any disorder? - (there is none in this amazingly vast universe) - then turn back the eye again and again (but even by all efforts, you would not find any disorder); your look shall come back to you docile while it is fatigued"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-5 tells that Allah has adorned the sky near to earth with luminous bodies and they are missiles for SHAYATIN (plural of Satan); for this, the note at the second Ruku of Surah HIJR would suffice so please refer to that; AAYAAT there at the beginning of second Ruku state--- "and certainly We have made BURUJ (mansions of heavenly bodies) in the heaven (the sky above as seen from earth) and We have made it beautiful to the onlookers; and We guard it against every accursed Satan (by the angels at posts at the sky near to earth so that the evil Jinn i.e. the Satan are unable to hear any significant event relating to future); but he who steals a hearing (from the conversation of angels at posts), so there follows him a visible flame (of meteoroids as he runs back to earth because the meteoroids are always falling towards the earth and they have increased much from the ancient times that mostly eliminate him at space)"; AAYAT tells that Allah has prepared for all of SHAYATIN, the chastisement of burning at the hell-fire; AAYAT-6 clarifies that for all such persons who disbelieve in the authority of Allah, there is chastisement of the hell-fire at AKHIRAT and it is the worst place to reside; from AAYAT-7 to AAYAT-11, the Surah depicts the situation of those who would enter the hell-fire; these AAYAAT state that the hell-fire would moan and would show its extreme anger as they enter it and the guard (one of angels) there would ask them if they had not been warned at the world by any Messenger of Allah; to this, they would answer that they certainly were warned and put all blame onto their own attitude of not taking their guidance; they would acknowledge their sins, but at that time, this acknowledgment will not help them and they would remain the inmates of the hell-fire; the next three AAYAAT of the Ruku tell about those persons who used to care for Allah's commands at the world at all situations; they would receive forgiveness at the world on their deficiency in good deeds and great reward at AKHIRAT; Allah is aware of all statements of men even if they are stated silently at heart or spoken loudly; He is aware of intentions (and words) that are at inside of men; the Ruku ends with the praise of Allah, "does He not know (about everything) Who has created (everything)? And He is the Knower of the subtleties, the Aware"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second Ruku states that Allah has set the world in such manner that the mankind gets his foods and his water to drink easily by that set-up; He has the authority to punish them even at the world if He wills for their disbelief by the calamities through earth that provides foods to them by His will and extreme disasters from the sky that provide beneficial rains to them by His will; AAYAAT from 15 to 18, state that "He it is Who made the earth subservient for you, therefore go about in the spacious sides thereof, and eat of His sustenance, and to Him is the return after death (as He would see what each person has brought from his life at the world); are you secure of Him Who is in the heaven that He should not make the earth to swallow you up (on your disbelief)? Then lo! it shall be in a state of commotion; or are you secure of Him Who is in the heaven that He should not send down upon you a punishment? Then shall you know how was My warning (as Allah certainly has the authority to punish all disbelievers even at the world); and certainly those before them rejected (the Truth), then how was My disapproval (as Allah punished them by different manners according to His will)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-19 to 22 tell about the shortcomings of the mankind that though the man has developed himself yet he is unable to fly like birds (without any gadgets in his natural form); these birds that they see, do fly with ease with their wings by the will of Allah; He certainly has all authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; those whom the disbelievers believe in, are unable to defend them from any calamity or any disaster so the disbelievers are in extreme delusion; if Allah stops their sustenance, they have no power to get it against the will of Allah but still they care for worldly measures to make ease for them so the disbelievers are in extreme delusion due to their dislike for the Truth; their example is like that person who falls time & again by his unworthy decisions in issues contrary to the righteous person who follows steadily the right path; the Ruku till the last of it, asks the Prophet PBUH to address the disbelievers and tell them of their wrongs and warn them that they would see the account of their doings at the Day of Judgment that is sure to come; Allah has complete authority to punish them even at the world if they challenge Him though He has provided them ample space to accept the Truth and live according to it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last eight AAYAAT of the Surah read, "say- He it is Who brought you into being and made for you the ears and the eyes and the hearts (so that you accept the Truth): little is it that you give thanks (as you use your qualities for many things but not to get the Truth; were you born for that which you are doing); say- He it is Who multiplied you in the earth and to Him you shall be gathered (at the grounds of HASHR); and they say: when shall this threat be (executed) if you are truthful?; say- the knowledge thereof is only with Allah and I am only a plain warner; but when they shall see it nigh, the faces of those who disbelieve shall be sorry, and it shall be said, this is that which you used to call for; say- have you considered if Allah should destroy me and those with me-- rather He will have mercy on us; yet who will protect the disbelievers from a painful punishment?- (so worry about your own selves as every person has to face his doings alone); say- He is the Beneficent Allah, we believe in Him and on Him do we rely, so you shall come to know who it is that is in clear error; say- have you considered if your water should go down

(out of your reach), who is it then that will bring you flowing water? (you are totally unable to bring it back in plenty to drink and that only is enough to end life at the world yet Allah gives you space to make things better so you need to avail this opportunity and accept the Truth)"; certainly Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah NOON (AL-QALAM)

(Consists of 2 Ruku; MK-2)

1. NOON. I swear by the pen and what the angels write,
2. By the grace of your Lord you are not mad.
3. And most surely you shall have a reward never to be cut off.
4. And most surely you conform (yourself) to sublime morality.
5. So you shall see, and they (too) shall see,
6. Which of you is afflicted with madness.
7. Surely your Lord best knows him who errs from His way, and He best knows the followers of the right course.
8. So do not yield to the rejecters.
9. They wish that you should be pliant so they (too) would be pliant.
10. And yield not to any mean swearer
11. Defamer, going about with slander
12. Forbidder of good, outstepping the limits, sinful,
13. Ignoble; besides all that, base-born;
14. Because he possesses wealth and sons.
15. When Our AAYAAT are recited to him, he says: Stories of those of yore.

16. We will brand him on the nose.
17. Surely We will try them as We tried the owners of the garden, when they swore that they would certainly cut off the produce in the morning,
18. And were not willing to set aside a portion (for the poor).
19. Then there encompassed it a visitation from your Lord while they were sleeping.
20. So it became as black, barren land.
21. And they called out to each other in the morning,
22. Saying: Go early to your crops-field if you would cut (the produce).
23. So they went, while they consulted together secretly,
24. Saying: No poor man shall enter it today upon you.
25. And in the morning they went, having the power to prevent.
26. But when they saw it, they said: Most surely we have gone astray
27. Nay! we are made to suffer privation.
28. The best of them said: Did I not say to you why you do not glorify (Allah)?
29. They said: Glory be to our Lord, surely we were unjust.
30. Then some of them advanced against others, blaming each other.
31. Said they: O woe to us! surely we were inordinate:
32. Maybe, our Lord will give us instead one better than it; surely to our Lord do we make our humble petition.
33. Such is the chastisement, and certainly the chastisement of the hereafter is greater, did they but know!
34. Surely those who guard (against evil) shall have with their Lord gardens of bliss.

35. What! shall We then make (i.e. treat) those who submit as the guilty?
36. What has happened to you? How do you judge?
37. Or have you a book wherein you read,
38. That you have surely therein what you choose?
39. Or have you received from Us an agreement confirmed by an oath extending to the day of resurrection that you shall surely have what you demand?
40. Ask them which of them will vouch for that,
41. Or have they associates if they are truthful.
42. The Day that the shin shall be laid bare, and they shall be called upon to make obeisance, but they shall not be able,
43. Their looks cast down, abasement shall overtake them; and they were called upon to make obeisance indeed while yet they were safe.
44. So leave Me and him who rejects this announcement; We will overtake them by degrees, from whence they perceive not:
45. And I do bear with them, surely My plan is firm.
46. Or do you ask from them a reward, so that they are burdened with debt?
47. Or have they (the knowledge of) the unseen, so that they write down?
48. So wait patiently for the judgment of your Lord, and be not like the companion of the fish, when he cried while he was in distress.
49. Had not Grace from his Lord reached him, he would indeed have been cast off on the naked shore, in disgrace.
50. Then his Lord chose him, and He made him of the good.

51. And those who disbelieve would almost smite you with their eyes when they hear the reminder, and they say: Most surely he is mad.

52. And it is naught but a reminder to the nations.

Surah NOON (also named as Surah AL-QALAM) starts by the letter of NOON that is among MUQATTA'AAT and has 2 Ruku that comprise of 33 & 19 AAYAAT respectively; Allah takes the oath of the honorable Pen (i.e. QALAM, which He created to write all the destiny) and of the writing by that Pen that the Prophet PBUH is not affected by madness; in fact, he would receive the best of rewards at AKHIRAT that would never end as he certainly is at the best of morality; note that the disbelievers at Makkah taunted when they first heard the teachings of the Quran that Muhammad (PBUH) has been affected by madness; note also that these beginning AAYAAT imply that the Prophet PBUH was destined to receive the honor of becoming the last Messenger of Allah to all of mankind at his time and all those too who would come after him; this in itself denotes that he is the best among all of mankind and proves that he has wonderful intellect certainly; Surah NOON is one of the earliest Surah that descended on the Prophet PBUH and the AAYAT tells that soon his life would prove that he certainly is at the right path; as for them, they would see at AKHIRAT that they actually were affected by lunacy as they had rejected the Truth when the Prophet PBUH had clearly presented it to them; certainly Allah, the true Lord, knows best who errs to follow the right path and who follows that path truly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-8 & 9 ask the Prophet PBUH, and with him all Muslims, not to show any leniency to their disbelief as this leniency shall never take place; note that the disbelievers intended that the Prophet PBUH strike such agreement with them that makes his teachings unchallenging to their erroneous belief but that certainly was not possible; AAYAAT 10 to 14 provide the situation of one of their chiefs WALEED ibn MUGHAIRA yet much of this applies to all such persons who challenge Islam; these AAYAAT state, "and yield not to any mean swearer; defamer, going about with slander; forbidder of good, outstepping the limits, sinful, ignoble; besides all that, base-born; because he possesses wealth and sons; when Our AAYAAT are recited to him, he says- stories of those of yore; We will brand him on the nose (which means that Allah will put some defaming mark on his nose at AKHIRAT)"; note that the term used for "base-born" is ZANIM which also has the meaning of such person who is born out of wedlock and WALEED became known as such among the people of Makkah after these AAYAT told this clearly about him; this place is unique in the Quran as it abuses one of disbelievers in such defaming words and that was because he used to talk about the Prophet PBUH most disrespectfully; this tells that if someone talks disrespectfully about the Prophet PBUH, it is most proper to tell him about his own adversities in most clear terms; note that one of his sons who accepted Islam by the blessing of Allah, was named the sword of Allah by the Prophet PBUH and history knows him by the name of Khalid-RA, who was one of the most amazing commanders at all of battlefields; he broke the power of Persians who were one of the formidable military powers of the time by his bold attacks and eliminated another one from the eastern lands that were the Romans by his amazing warring skills; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead narrate the event of brothers who were owners of a beautiful garden that had abundance of fruits; when it was time to pluck them, they decided that they would do it silently so that no needy person comes at the place; with this decision, they rose early the next morning and went on to their garden; now it had happened at the night that some calamity fell upon it that destroyed the fruits totally; as they reached there, they were confused to see it and thought that they have come to some other place; as they realized that they have reached their very garden whereas its produce is wholly lost, they were most sorry on their selfish attitude; one of them had told them that they need to praise Allah and not stop anything from the needy; however, he also had accompanied them to the garden; they all repented on the wrong that they had committed and with remorse, they hoped that Allah would care for them and give them better produce next time which they would share with the needy; so here their statement for repentance shows that Allah did forgive them and certainly, He knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah tells this event so that all persons who have received wealth at the world, understand that it is not in itself a blessing unless the person who has it gives it in the way of Allah to the needy with total belief in Him and that He would raise all persons from dead to account for their deeds; this was the answer to those disbelievers who claimed that if they are raised from dead, they would still have much of wealth and status as Allah is pleased with them because

He has given them so much at the world; after narrating the event of these persons that owned the garden, the last AAYAT of the Ruku tells that "such is the chastisement (at the world that the wealthy persons lose all such possessions instantly on which they show pride) and certainly the chastisement of the hereafter is greater, did they but know"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next Ruku tells about the Judgment at AKHIRAT and asks why the disbelievers have become so oblivious to that; it starts by the statement that the true Muslims would get JANNAAT with all bliss for them and certainly Allah would not treat them like the treatment He would give to the disbelievers; if the disbelievers think that they would get all convenience at AKHIRAT, they are extremely mistaken; from AAAT-37 to AAYAT-41, the Ruku states, "or have you a book wherein you read that you have surely therein what you choose (i.e. their security at AKHIRAT)? Or have you received from Us an agreement confirmed by an oath extending to the day of resurrection that you shall surely have what you demand? ask them which of them will vouch for that, or have they associates (who would save them) if they are truthful"; so these AAYAAT ask them what makes them live in such ignorance to AKHIRAT whereas they have nothing to make them secure there; the couple of AAYAAT ahead tell them how it would be there as they state, "the Day that the shin shall be laid bare, and they shall be called upon to make obeisance (there), but they shall not be able; their looks cast down, abasement shall overtake them; and they were called upon to make obeisance indeed (at the world but they did not comply) while yet they were safe"; note that "the shin shall be laid bare" refers to an attribute of Allah about which no comment is possible; this is just as the Quran has told about the hand of Allah (see MA'EDAH-64) and this is called MUTASHABIH (the meaning of which are not evident to anyone and it is not necessary for him to know that in the understanding of the Quran); no one shall give any final interpretation to such AAYAAT whereas the only right thing for him to say on this is that Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that those who did not care to remember Allah in their issues at the world, they would be unable to make obeisance there at AKHIRAT; Allah tells the Prophet PBUH that he does not need to worry about those who have no care for AKHIRAT; Allah is leading them to hell-fire gradually and if they are safe at the world for the time-being, it is because Allah has given them the space to arrive to the place that they do deserve; AAYAAT-46 & 47 ask, "or do you ask from them a reward, so that they are burdened with debt?- (this is not the case so why they are not listening to the Prophet PBUH); or have they (the knowledge of) the unseen, so that they write down?- (which tells that they would remain safe at the world and achieve security at AKHIRAT so they have no need to listen to the Prophet PBUH, but that also is not the case so why they are so ignorant of the true coming life)"; the last AAYAAT of the Surah tell the Prophet PBUH to have patience till Allah decides his dignity and debasement of his enemy; he shall not become like Jonah-AS, the companion of the big fish, who lost his patience and left his people before they faced their chastisement for which he had not taken the permission from Allah; but Jonah-AS called Allah with total repentance and He put His blessing upon him and made him free of all physical defects too; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that Allah has told about his prayer at Surah ANBIYA-87 and its wording shows that YOUNUS-AS (i.e. Jonah) asked for mercy by acceptance of his own self as unjust due to his untimely haste; Allah released him from that utmost anxiety and that extremely huge fish threw him out at the shore; afterwards, Allah provided him again the task as His Messenger and this denotes that Allah pardoned him totally; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-51 states, "And those who disbelieve would almost smite you with their eyes when they hear the reminder (the Quran)"; sometimes it happens that the eyes of a person having extreme jealousy to someone put spell on him and here the mention is to that phenomenon but Allah had assured the safety of the Prophet PBUH so all of their conspiracies against him were useless; the disbelievers used to call the Prophet PBUH as affected by madness because of the Quran; so the AAYAT states that it actually is the reminder of the oath inside the man to remain firm upon Islam (see AARAAF-172); this most important oath is the promise that all persons have made to Allah at the world of spirits; each one of them has given the word that he/she would believe in Him only as the Creator of all Who always has all His attributes as QADEEM, ASL and LA-MEHDUD (see the note on Surah FATIHA) and he/she would take Him as the only true Lord to obey because the obedience of any of His creation is subject to the condition that he does not command against His commands in any manner; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so the Surah refutes the statement of the disbelievers about the Prophet PBUH not only at its beginning but also at the end of it; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah HAAQQAH

(Consists of 2 Ruku; MK-10)

1. The sure calamity!
2. What is the sure calamity!
3. And what would make you realize what the sure calamity is!
4. THAMUD and AAD called the striking calamity a lie.
5. Then as to THAMUD, they were destroyed by an excessively severe punishment.
6. And as to AAD, they were destroyed by a roaring, violent blast.
7. Which He made to prevail against them for seven nights and eight days unremittingly, so that you might have seen the people therein prostrate as if they were the trunks of hollow palms.
8. Do you then see of them one remaining?
9. And Pharaoh and those before him and the overthrown cities that continuously committed sins.
10. And they disobeyed the Apostle of their Lord, so He punished them with a vehement punishment.
11. Surely We bore you up in the ship when the water rose high,

12. So that We may make it a reminder to you, and that the retaining ear might retain it.

13. And when the trumpet is blown with a single blast,

14. And the earth and the mountains are borne away and crushed with a single crushing.

15. On that day shall the great event come to pass,

16. And the heaven shall cleave asunder, so that on that day it shall be frail,

17. And the angels shall be on the sides thereof; and above them eight shall bear on that day your Lord's power.

18. On that day you shall be exposed to view-- no secret of yours shall remain hidden.

19. Then as for him who is given his book in his right hand, he will say: Lo! read my book:

20. Surely I knew that I shall meet my account.

21. So he shall be in life of pleasure,

22. In lofty garden,

23. The fruits of which are near at hand:

24. Eat and drink pleasantly for what you did beforehand in the days gone by.

25. And as for him who is given his book in his left hand he shall say: O would that my book had never been given me:

26. And I had not known what my account was:

27. O would that it had made an end (of me):

28. My wealth has availed me nothing:

29. My authority is gone away from me.

30. Lay hold on him, then put a chain on him,

31. Then cast him into the burning fire,

32. Then thrust him into a chain the length of which is seventy cubits.

33. Surely he did not believe in Allah, the Great,
34. Nor did he urge the feeding of the poor.
35. Therefore he has not here today a true friend,
36. Nor any food except filth,
37. Which none but the wrongdoers eat.
38. But nay! I swear by that which you see,
39. And that which you do not see.
40. Most surely, it is the Word brought by an honored Apostle,
41. And it is not the word of a poet; little is it that you believe;
42. Nor the word of a soothsayer; little is it that you mind.
43. It is revelation from the Lord of the worlds.
44. And if he had fabricated against Us some of the sayings,
45. We would certainly have seized him by the right hand,
46. Then We would certainly have cut off his aorta.
47. And not one of you could have withheld Us from him.
48. And most surely it is reminder for those who guard (against evil).
49. And most surely We know that some of you are rejecters.
50. And most surely it is great grief to the disbelievers.
51. And most surely it is the true certainty
52. Therefore, glorify the name of your Lord, the Greatest.

-----
Surah HAAQQAH came to the Prophet PBUH at Makkah and it has two Ruku that comprise of 37 and 15 AAYAAT respectively; note that AAYAAT at the beginning tell about the last day of the world but ahead in this Ruku, there is mention of the first day of AKHIRAT; this also is the manner of expression at Surah TAKWIR where its first six AAYAAT relate the six events at the last day of the world (i.e. QIYAMAT) and its next eight AAYAAT relate the six events at the Day of Judgment (YAUMUL-QIYAMAT i.e. the day of HASHR); Surah NAZI'AAT tells about both of these at its AAYAAT-7 & 8 that read, "the day on which the quaking one shall quake (that would be the first blow at the trumpet); what must happen afterwards shall follow it (that would be the second blow at the trumpet)"; the Judgment would take place (for all of mankind and for all of jinn) after that second blow; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as QIYAMAT leads to YAUMUL-QAYAMAT, the Holy Book Quran mentions them together and leaves the matter at the good intellect of the receiver of the message to get the difference by the events mentioned; the Day of Judgment (YAUMUL-QIYAMAT) occurs just after the last day of the world (QIYAMAT) to mankind because all of mankind is dead at the last day by the will of Allah whereas all of mankind regain life (and awareness) at the Day of Judgment by the will of Allah, though there is most extensive period of time between the two; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so HAAQQAH tells about the last day of the world at its beginning but ahead, its AAYAAT tell about the Day of Judgment when the true placement of every person would become most obvious; Al-Hamdu Lillah; however, note that the fourth AAYAT here states, "THAMUD and AAD called the striking calamity a lie" and here striking calamity is in the meaning of the Day of Judgment that these nations disbelieved; note that Allah had sent HOOD-AS to AAD as His Messenger and SALEH-AS to THAMUD as His Messenger; due to the disbelief of these nations, both of these were destroyed completely; THAMUD by extremely severe scream and AAD by extremely violent wind that stayed upon them for seven nights and eight days which made them fall as trunks of hollow palms; AAYAT-9 states, "And Pharaoh and those before him and the overthrown cities (of Sodom & Gomorrah) that continuously committed sins"; AAYAAT-11 & 12 tell about the extensive flood at the times of Noah-AS from which Allah saved him and his followers; it was his descendants that inhabited the earth afterwards; AAYAAT-11 & 12 read, "surely We bore you up in the ship when the water rose high so that We may make it a reminder to you, and that the retaining ear might retain it"; as Allah saved the mankind from that flood, the address is directly to all and AAYAT implies that this is something to remember for all of mankind and be grateful to Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAAT tell about the events that would pass as the trumpet for QAYAMAT is blown; all persons living then would be dead and the earth would change its position and the mountains would leave their places; even the sky near to earth would be most frail and this all would happen to that day when angels would come on its sides as the inner of it would be most frail; on that day, eight angels would uphold the ARSH of Allah, the true Lord; note about this ARSH (i.e. the Throne of Allah) that no-one knows what that is so we all would say to it that "we Muslims believe in it and Allah knows better"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; on that day i.e. the Day of Judgment, every person would be most exposed and none of his/her secrets would remain hidden; so the good person who gets his document of deeds at his right hand, he would be most happy as that means he has achieved the true success i.e. of AKHIRAT; he would be pleased to show it to all with the remark that he did care at the world for AKHIRAT as he knew he has to face it for sure; he would be in the blissful state as he would receive place in the lofty garden; there he would have easy access to cluster of fruits and he would be told that he is rightful to eat of them as he pleases due to the true belief and the righteous deeds that he did at life at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as for the person who would get his/her document of deeds at his/her left hand, he/she would wish that it never would have been given to him/her and he/she never knew about it but death would have totally ended him/her; he would see then that his wealth at the world has not brought any benefits to him (as he did not believe in Allah truly and did not spend his wealth according to the commands of Allah) and his status at the world has totally vanished (as he faces his judgment alone); Allah would rule against such person to grab him and put him into the hell-fire; he would be chained by a chain that is seventy cubits in length and that would have many other disbelievers too, fastened to it; it is because he did not believe in Allah truly and neither fed any poor nor urged anyone to feed them; so he would not have any friend at the Day of Judgment and he would only have filth to take-in that would be soaked with GHISLIN (the water that washes wounds); such would be his foods at the place in the hell-fire where he would be severely punished; the next Ruku states that the Quran is the Word of Allah which has been brought by the honored Messenger of Allah (i.e. angel Gabriel) to the Prophet Muhammad PBUH who is neither a poet nor a soothsayer; AAYAAT-38 to 43 state, "but nay! I swear by that which you see (i.e. Muhammad PBUH); and that which you do not see (i.e. Gabriel); most surely, it is the Word brought by an honored Messenger (i.e. the angel Gabriel); and it is not the word of a poet; little is it that you believe; nor the word of a soothsayer; little is it that you mind; it is revelation from the Lord of the worlds"; the next four AAYAAT strictly tell that if the Prophet PBUH had made any fabrication in this Word of Allah, He would have punished him even most severely; so this vouches that the Prophet PBUH has never said anything as of Quran by his own self; this also tells that all persons must remain extremely careful not to state anything by name of the Quran that is not in it; these AAYAAT read, "and if he had fabricated against Us some of the sayings, We would certainly have seized him by the right hand; then We would certainly have cut off his aorta; and not one of you could have withheld Us from him"; the last AAYAAT of the Surah guide attention to the fact that the Day of Judgment which the Quran has mentioned explicitly, is totally certain to happen; it would prove most grievous to the disbelievers so it is most necessary for all who truly believe in it, to live their lives according to the commands of Allah so that they save themselves from agony of that Day; this only would truly glorify the name of Allah, the true Lord, Who is the Greatest; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah MA'ARIJ

(Consists of 2 Ruku; MK-10)

1. One demanding, demanded the chastisement which must befall
2. The disbelievers --- there is none to avert it ---
3. From Allah, the Lord of the ways of ascent.
4. To Him ascend the angels and the Spirit in a day the measure of which is fifty thousand years.
5. Therefore, endure with a goodly patience.
6. Surely they think it to be far off,
7. And We see it nigh.
8. On the day when the heaven shall be as molten copper
9. And the mountains shall be as tufts of wool
10. And friend shall not ask of friend
11. (Though) they shall be made to see each other. The guilty one would fain redeem himself from the chastisement of that day by (sacrificing) his children,
12. And his wife and his brother
13. And the nearest of his kinsfolk who gave him shelter,
14. And all those that are in the earth, (wishing) then (that) this might deliver him.
15. By no means! Surely it is a flaming fire
16. Dragging by the head,
17. It shall claim him who turned and fled (from truth),
18. And amasses (wealth) then shuts it up.
19. Surely man is created of a hasty temperament
20. Becomes greatly grieved when evil afflicts him
21. And niggardly when good befalls him
22. Except those who pray,
23. Those who are constant at their prayer
24. And those in whose wealth there is fixed portion.
25. For him who begs and for him who is destitute

26. And those who accept the truth of the Judgment day
27. And those who are fearful of the chastisement of their Lord--
28. Surely the chastisement of their Lord is (a thing) not to be felt secure of ---
29. And those who guard their private parts,
30. Except in the case of their wives or those whom their right hands possess --- for these surely are not to be blamed,
31. But he who seeks to go beyond this, these it is that go beyond the limits ---
32. And those who are faithful to their trusts and their covenant
33. And those who are upright in their testimonies,
34. And those who keep guard on their prayer,
35. Those shall be in gardens, honored.
36. But what is the matter with those who disbelieve that they hasten on around you,
37. On the right hand and on the left, in sundry parties?
38. Does every man of them desire that he should be made to enter the garden of bliss?
39. By no means! Surely We have created them of what they know.
40. But nay! I swear by the Lord of the Easts and the Wests that We are certainly able
41. To bring instead (others) better than them, and We shall not be overcome.
42. Therefore leave them alone to go on with the false discourses and to sport until they come face to face with that day of theirs with which they are threatened;

43. The day on which they shall come forth from their graves in haste, as if they were hastening on to (specific) target,

44. Their eyes cast down; disgrace shall overtake them; that is the day which they were threatened with.

Surah MA'ARIJ came to the Prophet PBUH at the tenth year of the MAKKI period and has two Ruku that comprise of 35 and 9 AAYAAT respectively; it tells about the good traits of true Muslims like Surah MOMINOON (which also descended the same year); at start, it mentions that the Prophet PBUH asks Allah for the calamity to fall upon the disbelievers as had fallen upon those peoples who were destroyed by calamities before, because they have troubled extremely, the Prophet PBUH and all true Muslims with him; Allah tells him to remain patient as Allah would punish all disbelievers most severely; these AAYAAT read, "one demanding, demanded the chastisement which must befall the disbelievers --- there is none to avert it --- from Allah, the Lord of the ways of ascent (the ways that are in the heaven near to earth); to Him ascend the angels and the Spirit (i.e. the most respectable angel Gabriel) in a day the measure of which is fifty thousand years; therefore, endure with a goodly patience"; note about the ways of ascent mentioned here that we have read about these ways at Surah ZAARIYAAT-7 too where Allah has taken oath of them by words, "I swear by the heaven full of ways"; the object of the oath is that as persons have shown different views about occurrence of the Judgment so Allah turns away only that person from believing in it who chooses himself to disbelieve in it without any care to observe the different aspects of life; Al-Hamdu Lillah; here we find the mention of a day the measure of which is fifty thousand years; this certainly is difficult to comment upon as we know by the Quran that the Day of Judgment would measure 1000 years by our count (see Surah HAJJ-47; Surah SAJDAH-5); however, the mention of 1000 years comes with the phrase that it is by our count at the world but here the mention of fifty thousand years does not have this phrase and the mention of "day" certainly is in the meaning of "period"; note also that it is termed as such day in which ascend the angels and the Spirit, so the most appropriate remark for this certainly is that Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next couple of AAYAAT tell that the disbelievers think that the day for destruction of earth is much far-away if ever to occur, yet Allah sees it very near as by His count one day at the world equals 1000 years of it and it would be His willful decision when He makes it happen; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead tell about the Day of Judgment to AAYAAT-18 when the heaven near to earth would become like molten copper in color and mountains would be as flakes of wool; Surah QARI'AH-4 & 5 also state, "the day on which men shall be as scattered moths and the mountains shall be as loosened wool"; and who used to be a bosom friend to some person would not care about him though he would be shown that friend; in fact, he would wish that he could ransom himself from punishment at the price of his children, and his wife, and his brother and his kin & tribe that gave him shelter; in fact, at the price of all those that are in the earth so that this might deliver him; but this would not happen and the hell-fire is so hot that it would even heat up his skull; it would claim such persons who had turned away from the Truth and were so much inclined towards the world that they amassed wealth and hoarded it without care for any needy person; the three AAYAAT ahead tell about such person who does not fulfill the commands of Allah and lives on without any patience; these AAYAAT read, "surely man is created of a hasty temperament (so he) becomes greatly grieved when evil (any adversity) afflicts him and niggardly when (anything) good befalls him"; AAYAAT ahead till the last of Ruku tell that this temperament is not of those who are true Muslims; they tell, "except those who read Salah; those who are constant at their Salah (reading them without fail); and those in whose wealth there is fixed portion, for him who begs and for him who is destitute (as they understand that whatever excess amounts they have with them, the needy does have his right in that); and those who accept the truth of the Judgment day (so they care to spend their time remaining totally attentive to Allah); and those who are fearful of the chastisement of their Lord (even with all good deeds for which they ask Allah to accept) --- surely the chastisement of their Lord is (a thing) not to be felt secure of ---; and those who guard their private parts (keeping away from adultery and from any illicit relation); except in the case of their wives or those whom their right hands possess (i.e. their slave-women which were present at those times yet in these current times, Islam strictly disallows to put any woman to slavery and it validates taking from the women wives only - up-to four at one time - if the man is able to provide them all physical security, economic stability and

utmost care as their husband so that is the only manner for him to care for the sexual need) --- for these surely are not to be blamed; but he who seeks to go beyond this, these it is that go beyond the limits (of virtuous living) --- and those who are faithful to their trusts (especially in national affairs, in business transactions and in matrimonial relations with care to the commands of Allah) and their covenant (with Allah that they would accept Him only as their true Lord; see AARAAF-172), and those who are upright in their testimonies (that they testify rightly where needed); and those who keep guard on their Salah (reading all of Salah on time with clean physique & apparels, at a clean place); those shall be in gardens, honored"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the mention of the true believers starts with their care to Salah and ends with the same; this denotes the high esteem that Salah holds in the Islamic teachings as it prevents the true Muslim from all wrongs; Surah ANKABUT-45 states, "surely Salah keeps away from indecency and evil, and certainly the remembrance of Allah is the greatest, and Allah knows what you do"; we have seen at places that the Quran guides the true believer to SABR (patience; and its highest manifestation is to hold oneself away from the attraction of the world according to the commands of Allah) and it guides to SALAH which brings him very near to Allah; the beautiful traits of the true believers in Allah that the Quran has presented here and at the beginning of Surah MOMINOON, denote the beauty of SABR and SALAH explicitly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second Ruku states about the disbelievers at the world and at the Day of Judgment; it tells that the disbelievers flock around the Prophet PBUH from all sides (when he recites the Quran

so that if it impresses someone to accept Islam, they misguide that person); with their attitude of contradiction to the Quran, they want to enter the pleasant JANNAH; the mankind is born from sperm and they know it, so if they live with care of physique only with their hasty temperament without any attention to the spiritual improvement by accepting the Truth, they would remain rightful to enter the hell-fire only; the last five AAYAAT of the Surah read, "but nay! I swear by the Lord of the Easts and the Wests --- (Allah swears by His Name and the notable thing here is that the sun rises from different places at East at times and sets at different places at West at times, so as He brings days & nights, He would bring other peoples in their place, instead of them, if He wills) --- that We are certainly able to bring instead (of them, others) better than them (so if Allah intended, He would have made all to worship Him but He has given the freewill to the mankind to see how they live at the world), and We shall not be overcome (by any of their tactics); therefore, leave them alone to go on with the false discourses and to sport until they come face to face with that day of theirs with which they are threatened (i.e. the Day of Judgment); the day on which they shall come forth from their graves in haste, as if they were hastening on to (specific) target (i.e. the grounds of HASHR); their eyes cast down; disgrace shall overtake them (as they see clearly that whatever the Prophet PBUH has told them, is taking place); that is the day which they were threatened with"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah NOOH (Noah)

(Consists of 2 Ruku; MK-9)

1. Surely We sent Noah to his people, saying: Warn your people before there comes upon them a painful chastisement.
2. He said: O my people! Surely I am a plain warner to you:
3. That you should serve Allah and be careful of (your duty to) Him and obey me:
4. He will forgive you some of your faults and grant you a delay to an appointed term; surely the term of Allah when it comes is not postponed; did you but know!
5. He said: O my Lord! surely I have called my people by night and by day!
6. But my call has only made them flee the more:
7. And whenever I have called them that Thou may forgive them, they put their fingers in their ears, cover themselves with their garments, and persist and are puffed up with pride:
8. Then surely I called to them aloud:
9. Then surely I spoke to them in public and I spoke to them in secret:
10. Then I said - Ask forgiveness of your Lord, surely He is the most Forgiving:
11. He will send down upon you the cloud, pouring down abundance of rain:
12. And help you with wealth and sons, and make for you gardens, and make for you, rivers.
13. What is the matter with you that you fear not the greatness of Allah?
14. And indeed He has created you through various grades:

15. Do you not see how Allah has created the seven heavens, one above another,
16. And made the moon therein a light, and made the sun a lamp?
17. And Allah has made you grow out of the earth as a growth:
18. Then He returns you to it, then will He bring you forth a (new) bringing forth:
19. And Allah has made for you the earth a wide expanse,
20. That you may go along therein in wide paths.
21. Noah said: My Lord! surely they have disobeyed me and followed him whose wealth and children have added to him nothing but loss.
22. And they have planned a very great plan.
23. And they say: By no means leave your gods, nor leave WADD, nor SUWA; nor YAGHUTH, and YAUQ and NASR.
24. And indeed they have led astray many, and do not increase the unjust in aught but error.
25. Because of their wrongs they were drowned, then made to enter fire, so they did not find any helpers besides Allah.
26. And Noah said: My Lord! leave not upon the land any dweller from among the disbelievers:
27. For surely if Thou leave them they will lead astray Thy servants, and will not beget any but immoral, ungrateful (children)
28. My Lord! forgive me and my parents and him who enters my house believing, and the believing men and the believing women; and do not increase the unjust in aught but destruction!

Surah NOOH narrates the event how the Prophet NOOH-AS tried to make his people live upon the fundamental teachings of Islam and how they rejected that message; it has two Ruku that comprise of twenty and eight AAYAAT respectively; we have seen at the previous Surah that the Prophet Muhammad PBUH asked Allah to punish the disbelievers who were persistent upon their disbelief without listening to any righteous teaching; note that Moses-AS had also asked Allah to punish Pharaoh and his people as Surah YOUNUS-88 tells us, "and Musa said: Our Lord! surely Thou hast given to Pharaoh and his chiefs finery and riches in this world's life, to this end, our Lord, that they lead (people) astray from Thy way - our Lord! destroy their riches and harden their hearts so that they believe not until they see the painful punishment (when to accept the true belief does not benefit)"; here, the Quran presents the call of Noah-AS to Allah against the disbelievers; we all have studied at Surah AARAAF in its second Ruku about Adam & Eve and that is explicit that the worldly life is an examination to the mankind so all persons must keep to the three fundamental teachings of Islam that all the Messengers of Allah have guided to; the five of narratives that the Holy Book Quran presents in sequence at places are of NOAH, HOODH, SALEH, LOT and SHOAIB (SALAM on all the Messengers of Allah) and they all gave the same message that are TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord) and AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment) and RISALAT (Allah had sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path); note that Al-FATIHA, the opening Surah of the Quran, guides to all these three fundamental teachings of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; in Surah AARAAF and Surah SHUA'RAA, the Quran presents the narratives of these Messengers in this very sequence; these narratives tell clearly that the message that all of these Messengers of Allah gave, has this repeatedly that "I am a faithful messenger unto you so keep your duty to Allah, and obey me"; so all the Messengers did try their best to guide their nations as Allah has asked them; however, their nations did not comply and so Allah destroyed them completely at the world and they certainly would be among the severely punished peoples at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah AARAAF-64 reads, "But they called him (i.e. Noah) a liar, so We delivered him and those with him in the ark, and We drowned those who rejected Our AAYAAT; surely they were blind people (because they did not see that Noah was plainly speaking the truth)"; Surah HOODH-44 tells that the ark of Noah stopped at the mount JUDI (that faces Ibn-UMAR island at the junction of Syrian and Turkish borders, on the eastern bank of Tigris River); from thence, human beings spread all over the world; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first four AAYAAT of this Surah tell about him that "surely We sent Noah to his people, saying - warn your people before there comes upon them a painful chastisement (in the world); He said: O my people - surely I am a plain warner to you; that you should serve Allah and be careful of (your duty to) Him and obey me; He will forgive you some of your faults and grant you a delay to an appointed term; surely the term of Allah when it comes is not postponed; did you but know"; there were not even hundred persons in his people who accepted his guidance after his TABLIGH of nine hundred & fifty years to them; Surah HOODH-40 says, "and there believed not with him (i.e. Noah) but a few"; at last, when he saw that they would not believe in TAUHID, AKHIRAT and RISALAT, he called Allah that he has done his best but these people are not ready to accept the Truth; AAYAAT from 5 to 12 read, "he said: O my Lord! surely I have called my people by night and by day (towards the Truth); but my call has only made them flee the more (from it); and whenever I have called them that Thou may forgive them, they put their fingers in their ears (such is their avoidance of the true guidance), cover themselves with their garments (that if fingers turn loose, their garments prevent the word of guidance to come to their ears), and persist (upon disbelief) and are puffed up with pride (that they are at the best manner to live); then surely I called to them aloud; then surely I spoke to them in public and I spoke to them in secret (so I did whatever was possible to guide them righteously); then I said - ask forgiveness of your Lord, surely He is the most Forgiving; He will send down upon you the cloud, pouring down abundance of rain (as for the good rainfall to pour, it is most necessary that all persons even if they are Muslims, ask for forgiveness of their sins); and (He will) help you with wealth and sons, and make for you gardens, and make for you, rivers (so He will provide all ease to you to live at the world even, just by your virtuous attitude)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; but they did not pay attention and persisted on disbelief; Allah tells them about His blessings till the last of

Ruku, that are to the mankind, "what is the matter with you that you fear not the greatness of Allah? and indeed He has created you through various grades (in different phases from the new-born infant to the old age so the world has persons of all ages at any given time); do you not see how Allah has created the seven heavens, one above another; and made the moon therein a light (NOOR as it shines by reflection to the light of the sun), and made the sun a lamp (SIRAJ as it burns itself to shine brightly)? and Allah has made you grow out of the earth as a growth (as He created Adam from the earth); then He returns you to it (when you die), then will He bring you forth a (new) bringing forth (at the Day of Judgment); and Allah has made for you the earth a wide expanse (with such pathways to tread on) that you may go along therein in wide paths"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second Ruku tells that Noah-AS was so disheartened by their persistence on disbelief that he called Allah to punish them in such manner that not a single disbeliever remains alive; his words tell that the disbelievers not only rejected his teachings but followed such persons among them who had riches and number of such children who only led them more upon disbelief; these rich persons had support of their chiefs who devised ways to keep his impression away from the common people; these chiefs asked the people not to leave the worship of their idols particularly those which they had named WADD, SUWA, YAGHUTH, YAUQ, NASR; it is mentioned by some commentators that these were good persons in their ancestors for whom they made statues and then with passage of time, they turned them into idols to worship; these chiefs who were wrong themselves, misguided all people so Noah asked Allah to increase them in their wrongs so that they become most rightful of the chastisement at the world and at AKHIRAT; so due to their disbelief and disrespect to Noah-AS, all disbelievers were drowned and at AKHIRAT, they are sure to enter the hell-fire; AAYAAT-26 & 27 imply that environment and heredity has its effect on the children born to persons; these AAYAAT state, "And Noah said: My Lord! leave not upon the land any dweller from among the disbelievers - for surely if Thou leave them they will lead astray Thy servants, and will not beget any but immoral, ungrateful (children)"; note about environment & heredity that even if adversity at any of them affects a person, he still may come to accept the Truth as every person has consciousness inside for it, though adversity at both of these needs high reflection at inside in silence to get to the Truth; certainly Allah has provided all men with defense inside to defeat all advances of the Satan; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Noah-AS did have the awareness that there still would remain disbelievers to the Truth at coming times as some survivors of the flood may not be most righteous believers and as the world is the place of examination; his DUA at the last AAYAT expresses this awareness as the last AAYAT tells that Noah made DUA (prayer) to Allah for forgiveness of all of true Muslim persons, though they live at any time and place at the world, and asked Him to increase the wrongs of most unjust among the disbelievers, though they live at any time and place at the world, so that they become most rightful of the chastisement at the world and at AKHIRAT; he prayed to Allah, "My Lord! forgive me and my parents (who believed in the Truth) and him who enters my house believing

(in the Truth), and the believing men and the believing women (who do believe in the Truth anytime anywhere); and do not increase the unjust in aught but destruction (at the world and at AKHIRAT)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah JINN

(Consists of 2 Ruku; MK-4)

1. Say: It has been revealed to me that a party of the jinn listened, and they said: Surely we have heard a wonderful Quran,
2. Guiding to the right path, so we believe in it, and we will not set up any one with our Lord:
3. And that He- exalted be the majesty of our Lord- has not taken a consort, nor a son:
4. And that the foolish amongst us used to forge extravagant things against Allah:
5. And that we thought that men and jinn will not utter a lie against Allah:
6. And that persons from among men used to seek refuge with persons from among jinn, so they increased them in wrongdoing:
7. And that they thought as you think, that Allah would not raise anyone:
8. And that we sought to reach heaven, but we found it filled with strong guards and flaming bodies.
9. And that we used to sit in some of the sitting-places thereof to steal a hearing, but he who would (try to) listen now would find a flame lying in wait for him:

10. And that we know not whether evil is meant for those who are on earth or whether their Lord means to bring them good:

11. And that some of us are good and others of us are below that: we are sects following different ways:

12. And that we know that we cannot escape Allah in the earth, nor can we escape Him by flight:

13. And that when we heard the guidance, we believed in it; so whoever believes in his Lord, he should neither fear loss nor being overtaken (by disgrace):

14. And that some of us are those who submit, and some of us are the deviators; so whoever submits, these aim at the right way:

15. And as to the deviators, they are fuel of hell:

16. And that if they should keep to the (right) way, We would certainly give them to drink of abundant water,

17. So that We might try them with respect to it; and whoever turns aside from the reminder of his Lord, He will make him enter into an afflicting chastisement:

18. And that the mosques are Allah's, therefore call not upon any one with Allah:

19. And that when the servant of Allah stood up calling upon Him, they well-nigh crowded him (to death).

20. Say: I only call upon my Lord, and I do not associate any one with Him.

21. Say: I do not control for you evil or good.

22. Say: Surely no one can protect me against Allah, nor can I find besides Him any place of refuge:

23. (It is) only a delivering (of the Message) from Allah and His messages; and whoever disobeys Allah and His Apostle surely he shall have the fire of hell to abide therein forever.

24. Until when they see what they are threatened with, then shall they know who is weaker in helpers and fewer in number.

25. Say: I do not know whether that with which you are threatened be nigh or whether my Lord will appoint for it a term:

26. The Knower of the unseen! so He does not reveal His secrets to any;

27. Except to him whom He chooses as an apostle; for surely He makes a guard to march before him and after him,

28. So that He may record that they have truly delivered the messages of their Lord, and He encompasses what is with them and He records the number of all things.

Surah Jinn is one of the earliest Surah to descend on the Prophet PBUH and it narrates the event when some of Jinn, the creation whom Allah has created by the flame of fire, heard the Holy Book Quran from the Prophet PBUH; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it has two Ruku that has 19 and 9 AAYAAT respectively; note that with men, they also are MUKALLAF i.e. they also have to account for their belief and deeds at AKHIRAT due to the freewill that Allah has provided to them; I, MSD, would take their description from the note that I wrote at the fourth Ruku of BAQARAH; ----- note that Allah created the JINN from the fire mainly as He created the Man from the mud mainly; they are among the three of creation that possess the awareness of the self; these three are Angels, Jinn and the Man and Allah has given the last two among them the free-will to apply in practice to gain the pleasure of Allah by that; Al-Hamdu Lillah; there are good and bad in them just like human beings and they possess the physical strength much more than human beings; they have the power to keep hidden from people even when they are among them and they can see the people being hidden and the Holy Prophet Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, used to ask Allah to guard him from all evil whenever he went to the toilet; Jinn do not attack men even when they are much stronger as angels are guarding the people by the command of Allah who are more powerful even in the physical strength than Jinn and moreover, men are given much more spiritual power than Jinn indeed; sometimes, the guard is put away for someone and at such occasions if the spiritual power of the person concerned fails to meet the challenge, some Satan i.e. troublesome Jinn does get some chance to make mischief for him and sometimes even to get hold of him; any person from the mankind, when he tries to attack Jinn, puts to use the spiritual power and apply special words and specific terms known to cause effect on them repetitively so that they may come under their control though the attack from the mankind to them and even the attack from their side on the mankind, both are totally against Islam; Solomon, Salam on him, was allowed as an exception to enslave Jinn and make them work for him; this must not be cited for attacking them as the Hadith clarifies that to control them is not allowed; like the event of creation of the Man, Surah NAML states clearly too that the spiritual power is much more a blessing than the physical power indeed (see its AAYAAT 39 & 40); Al-Hamdu Lillah; ----- the term JINN comes from combination of letters in Arabic that are used basically for something hidden; note that the Jinn used to visit places at heaven where angels conversed with each other (and those angels even gained awareness of the Quran from each other while they did present some information there about future events too); Jinn used to make additions to it by their own and told that to some of men to whom they were in contact with; but when the Prophet PBUH came at Arabia as the last Messenger of Allah and the Quran started descending on him, their access to their sitting places were denied to them even more, for which they already had difficulty to reach, as Allah tightened the security at the heaven and the flaming bodies (named generally as shooting stars) increased much more in quantity at the heaven (see also the note at the second Ruku of Surah HIJR); at that time, they guessed correctly that something of high significance has happened that intervenes between them and the info that they used to get from heaven from the conversation of angels; so they travelled to the easts of the earth and its wests seeking to investigate what hindered them from it and one group of them set out towards the area of TIHAMA; at last with years of search for the event that was of the most high significance, they came upon Allah's Messenger PBUH while he was at NAKHLAH praying the Salah of FAJR; when they heard the Qur'an, they paid attention to it and said to each other that this is what came up between us and the news from heaven; they accepted the fundamental teachings of Islam and then returned to their people; Surah AHQAAF-29,

30 & 31 also tell about this event and afterwards Jinn used to come to the Prophet PBUH to attain the knowledge of the fundamental teachings of Islam better; Allah asks the Prophet PBUH to narrate this event and the Quran reports the whole of it here at Surah Jinn from AAYAT-1 to 14 (except the last part of that AAYAT) and then from the last of AAYAT-14 to 19, it reports the words of Allah; this shift in speech is the manner of the Quran and though it asks to keep alert at its recitation to understand it, it provides beauty to it; keeping to this detail, it is not difficult to get meanings to these AAYAAT that comprise the first Ruku of the Surah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first 14 AAYAAT of the Ruku narrate, "say (O Prophet PBUH)- it has been revealed to me that a party of the jinn listened, and they said- surely we have heard a wonderful Quran- guiding to the right path, so we believe in it, and we will not set up any one with our Lord- and that He- exalted be the majesty of our Lord- has not taken a consort, nor a son- and that the foolish amongst us (due to misguidance of Iblis, the major Satan) used to forge extravagant things against Allah- and that we thought that men and jinn will not utter a lie against Allah (and now with the advent of the last Prophet PBUH, they would believe that He has all authority and the Day of Judgment is sure to come)- and that persons from among men used to seek refuge with persons from among jinn (as when the disbelievers rested at jungles and deserts, they used to take refuge of Jinn for safety), so they increased them (i.e. the Jinn) in wrongdoing (due to the unplaced pride of Jinn)- and that they (the disbelievers among the mankind) thought as you think, that Allah would not raise anyone (after death)- and that we sought to reach heaven, but we found it filled with strong guards and flaming bodies- and that we used to sit in some of the sitting-places thereof to steal a hearing, but he who would (try to) listen now would find a flame lying in wait for him; and that we know not whether evil is meant for those who are on earth or whether their Lord means to bring them good (because when He has sent His Messenger now to all peoples of the world after nearly six hundred years of Jesus Christ-AS, His Messenger before him, He would end all the world now if they disbelieve him or He would guide the most high number of peoples at the world to the right path through him; note that nearly the same period lies between the death of Adam-AS to the birth of Noah-AS; note also that nearly the same period lies between Abraham-AS to Moses-AS)- and that some of us are good and others of us are below that- we are sects following different ways- and that we know that we cannot escape Allah in the earth, nor can we escape Him by flight- and that when we heard the guidance, we believed in it; so whoever believes in his Lord, he should neither fear loss (at the world) nor being overtaken (by disgrace at AKHIRAT)- and that some of us are those who submit, and some of us are the deviators; (note that from here ahead, is the speech of Allah)- 'so whoever submits, these aim at the right way'-"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that AAYAT-18 & 19 tells that whoever worships Allah, the true Lord, he needs to see that his attention remains totally towards Him at all times and at all places; and that the Prophet PBUH cared to remain attentive to Allah only even when the disbelievers tried to divert his attention by flocking towards him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at the last Ruku, Allah asks the Prophet PBUH to express his true belief and it guides to all three fundamental teachings of Islam so Allah has told about His absolute authority at this Ruku; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAT-20 to the first part of AAYAT-23, the Ruku states the expression of the Prophet PBUH which Allah has asked him; they read, "say- I only call upon my Lord, and I do not associate any one with Him; say- I do not control for you evil or good (that Allah would decide by the position of your belief and deeds); say- surely no one can protect me against Allah, nor can I find besides Him any place of refuge (if I do not fulfill His command to deliver His Message that is my obligation); (it is) only a delivering (of the significant Message in the Quran that asks to call towards the Truth) from Allah and (all of) His messages (in the Quran)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from the last part of AAYAT-23 to the last of Ruku, Allah tells about His authority whereas at AAYAT-25, He has commanded the Prophet PBUH to answer all persons who ask about AKHIRAT i.e. the Day of Judgment, that he does not have any awareness about the time of its occurrence; these AAYAAT read, "and whoever disobeys Allah and His Apostle surely he shall have the fire of hell to abide therein forever; until when they see what they are threatened with, then shall they know who is weaker in helpers and fewer in number (as they think that the disbelievers among their chiefs have more persons as followers than Muslims); say- I do not know whether that with which you are threatened be nigh or whether my Lord will appoint for it a (distant) term (Who is) the Knower of the unseen! so He does not reveal His secrets to any except to him whom He chooses as an apostle (as to him, He provides the awareness of the right path by His will through His angels); for surely He makes (an angel) a guard to march before him and (an angel) a guard after him (to see that His Message remains safe from any intervention of any satanic person from among the Jinn and from among the mankind) so that He may record that they (i.e. apostles) have truly delivered the messages of their Lord, and He encompasses what is with them (i.e. with His angels so actually He safeguards all His messages to the mankind) and He records the number of all things (so whatever teachings in the Quran that Allah has sent to the mankind, they have received it in total in actual manner so the Day of Judgment is certain to take place)"; note that the term used at the last AAYAT to express "so that He may record that they (i.e. apostles) have truly delivered the messages of their Lord" is LEYA'LAMA which means "so that He may know" but when Allah uses such term for Him that denotes acquired knowledge, it is to record some evidence on issues of the mankind as He is ALEEM (Who only has all the true knowledge of all things for certain); certainly, He only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah MUZZAMMIL

(Consists of 2 Ruku; MK-2)

1. O you who have wrapped up in your garments!
2. Arise to pray in the night except a little,
3. Half of it, or lessen it a little,
4. Or add to it, and recite the Quran as it ought to be recited.

5. Surely We will descend upon you a weighty Word.
6. Surely the rising by night is the firmest manner to take and (it is) most suitable for speech.
7. Surely you have in the day time a long occupation.
8. And remember the name of your Lord and devote yourself to Him with (exclusive) devotion.
9. The Lord of the East and the West-- there is no god but He-- therefore take Him Protector.
10. And bear patiently what they say and avoid them with a becoming avoidance.
11. And leave Me and the rejecters, those that have plenty, and respite them a little.
12. Surely with Us are heavy fetters and a flaming fire,
13. And food that chokes and a painful punishment,
14. On the day when the earth and the mountains shall quake and the mountains shall become (as) heaps of sand let loose.
15. Surely We have sent to you an Apostle, a witness against you, as We sent an apostle to Pharaoh.
16. But Pharaoh disobeyed the apostle, so We laid on him a violent hold.
17. How, then, will you guard yourselves if you disbelieve, on the day which shall make children grey-headed?
18. The heaven shall rend asunder thereby; His promise certainly comes to fulfillment.
19. Surely this is a reminder then let him who wills, take the way to his Lord.
20. Surely your Lord knows that you pass in prayer nearly two-thirds of the night, and (sometimes) half of it, and (sometimes) a third of it, and (also) a party of those with you; and Allah measures the night and the day. He knows that you are not able to do it, so He has turned to you (mercifully), therefore read what is easy of the Quran. He knows that there must be among you sick, and others who travel in the land seeking of the bounty of Allah, and others who fight in Allah's way, therefore read as much of it as is easy (to you), and keep up prayer and pay the poor-rate and offer to Allah a goodly gift, and whatever of good you send on beforehand for yourselves, you will find it with Allah; that is best and greatest in reward; and ask forgiveness of Allah; surely Allah is Forgiving, Merciful.

Surah MUZZAMMIL is one of the earliest Surah to descend on the Prophet PBUH and it has two Ruku that comprise of 19 AAYAAT and 1 AAYAT respectively; the first Ruku provides the same beautiful message that the Quran has presented at other places too; it tells the Prophet PBUH to read Salah at nights (as Salah in general, was not obligatory at that time when these initial AAYAAT of Surah MUZZAMMIL descended) and show the attitude of SABR i.e. have patience, to such disbelievers who troubled him in different ways; note that this Surah descended at the beginning of the second year whence Allah had asked him to spread His Message to all peoples of the world; when the person reading Salah is fully attentive to Allah reciting the Quran by TAJWID (the most beautiful manner in which the Quran is read with care to say its words correctly, to adhere to it) in the silence of the night with total calmness, it certainly impresses him more by its goodness; so AAYAT-6 directs that "surely the rising by night is the firmest manner to take and it is most suitable for speech"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; in the first five AAYAT, Allah tells the Prophet PBUH by addressing him by the name of MUZZAMMIL (i.e. "who has wrapped up in his garments") that he shall read Salah at the night as much as possible for him; it maybe for half of the night or less than that (i.e. one-fourth of it) or more than that (i.e. three-fourth of it); note that Allah called him MUZZAMMIL to denote His care to him and MUDDATHHIR which has nearly the same meaning (i.e. "who has wrapped up in his cloak") at the next Surah; this address was because he habitually used to envelop himself in his cloak in his early forties, where he felt somewhat troubled, and this address by Allah to him was to soothe him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ask him to recite the Quran by the most beautiful manner to adhere to it as Allah will put the heavy liability upon him soon to spread all the message of the Quran to all peoples of the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead ask to read Salah by arising by night as when the person reading Salah is fully attentive to Allah reciting the Quran by TAJWID in the silence of night with total calmness, it makes the person more intent to obey Allah at the day-time too in the ordinary business of life; Al-Hamdu Lillah; they state that the Prophet PBUH does have much works at the day-time (that relate mostly to TABLIGH) so it is much better that he reads Salah at nights; he shall recite-on the name of Allah to remain most attentive to Him as his total attention needs to remain towards Allah without caring for wealth or status at the life of the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah is the Lord of the East from where the sun rises and the West to where the sun sets so days and nights all come by His will and both need submission in them of the mankind (and of the Jinn) to Him; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Prophet PBUH shall bear their disrespect with patience and keep away from them except where necessary to provide TABLIGH to them of the fundamental teachings of Islam and its necessary explanation; the Prophet PBUH is fully aware that Allah would punish such disbelievers who live by plenty of wealth at the world and with that, by disrespect of the Prophet PBUH, in the most severe manner at the hell-fire; they would be heavily chained there and they would be near to such flaming fire that would burn their skins; they would have such food at hunger that would make them choke and there would be other of His severe punishments too to all of them certainly; it would take place when that day has taken place where the earth and especially mountains on it shall quake as the earth becomes plain and mountains become loose heaps of sand; the last four AAYAAT of the Ruku read, "surely We have sent to you an Apostle (i.e. Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah), a witness against you (at the Day of Judgment i.e. against whoever disrespects him after getting the message of Allah), as We sent an apostle (who was very like Muhammad PBUH) to Pharaoh (that apostle was Moses-AS, who mainly had asked Pharaoh to accept the fundamental teachings of Islam - note that his brother Aaron-AS too was the Messenger of Allah); but Pharaoh disobeyed the apostle, so We laid on him a violent hold (by drowning him in waters); how, then, will you guard yourselves if you disbelieve (when even Pharaoh was unable to escape from Allah's punishment) on the day (the last day of the world) which shall make children grey-headed (because of its severity)? the heaven shall rend asunder thereby; His promise (to end the world to lead to the Judgment) certainly comes to fulfillment; surely this is a reminder (to the oath everyone has taken to believe in Allah as the true Lord) then let him who wills, take the way to his Lord"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next Ruku consists of one AAYAT only which has two parts whereas the first part goes to- "so He has turned to you (mercifully), therefore read what is easy of the Quran" (which descended at MK-3 after more than a year of the first Ruku); this part asked the Prophet PBUH and Sahaba, who used to read Salah at night sometimes even for nearly two-third of it that caused hardship to them, to read it setting the quantity of the Quran (whatever of it has descended substantially at that time) which they might recite conveniently at nights; so they do not have to consider the quantity of the night but rather the quantity of the Quran that they could read at the Salah of nights; note that there was no reliable manner to get the most practicable awareness of time at those times; Allah only understands the perfect time for all parts, the night, and even the day, may divide into; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this part of the AAYAT states, "surely your Lord knows that you pass in prayer nearly two-thirds of the night, and (sometimes) half of it, and (sometimes) a third of it, and (also) a party of those with you; and Allah measures the night and the day; He knows that you are not able to do it, so He has turned to you (mercifully), therefore read what is easy of the Quran"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next part of the AAYAT reads, "He knows that there must be among you sick, and others who travel in the land seeking of the bounty of Allah, and others who fight in Allah's way, therefore read as much of it as is easy (to you), and keep up prayer and pay the poor-rate and offer to Allah a goodly gift (i.e. make other of SADAQAH too from whatever Allah has given to you), and whatever of good you send on beforehand for yourselves, you will find it with Allah; that is best and greatest in reward; and ask forgiveness of Allah; surely Allah is Forgiving, Merciful"; note that in those days, sickness was more troublesome than now as even those physical adversities that are taken as ordinary today, were most trying then as none of modern medicines were available to invoke the immune system of the body for early healing; however men were generally stronger than today whereas the true belief in Allah always cares for the fast healing to physique besides the spiritual healing; Al-Hamdu Lillah; also travelling to far-away (and even nearby) lands caused much distress then, whereas JEHAD also asked for hardship; note that it is detectable by the mention of JEHAD at this part (by words "and others who fight in Allah's way") that it descended much later than the first part because Allah ruled to take-up JEHAD as obligatory at Madinah; note also that at this part of AAYAT, Allah asks ahead to "keep up prayer (Salah) and pay the poor-rate (ZAKAH)" and both of these became obligatory at Madinah; so the most notable thing is that though this part also came at Makkah yet it was the last period of it when Allah had commanded for Salah; it had happened couple of years before his migration to Madinah when in the company of Gabriel-AS, he had gone from Makkah to the place of the mosque at Jerusalem at night (i.e. ISRA) and then from there, he went to heavens with him (i.e. MIRAJ) in the same night; Ahadith have given much detail to MIRAJ and that was the time when Allah asked Muhammad

PBUH to command the Muslims to read five SALAH daily (and it came to routine for Muslims at Madinah as obligatory; also ZAKAH became obligatory at Madinah); Al-Hamdu Lillah; though ISRA was physical in nature (i.e. travel to Jerusalem) and it happened with most surprising velocity in terms of those times (as then it was at the distance of about a month from Makkah to it) yet the ascension to heavens (MIRAJ) from there, seems as the most amazing spiritual issue (but it certainly is real event) that is not easy to comment upon (see also the note at the first Ruku of Surah BANI-ISRAEL); Al-Hamdu Lillah; at the last of the Surah after mentioning of many virtuous deeds, Allah tells all true Muslims that He would not make any of their good deeds go to waste but they would find best of rewards for them at AKHIRAT; but they must go on asking Allah for forgiveness to their follies as the man does them even without any awareness of such follies; it reads, "and offer to Allah a goodly gift, and whatever of good you send on beforehand for yourselves, you will find it with Allah; that is best and greatest in reward; and ask forgiveness of Allah; surely Allah is Forgiving, Merciful"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah MUDDATHHIR

(Consists of 2 Ruku; MK-2)

1. O you who are clothed!
2. Arise and warn,
3. And your Lord, do magnify,
4. And your garments, do purify,
5. And uncleanness, do shun,

6. And bestow not favors that you may receive again with increase,
7. And for the sake of your Lord, be patient.
8. For when the trumpet is sounded,
9. That, at that time, shall be difficult day,
10. For the disbelievers, anything but easy.
11. Leave Me and him whom I created alone,
12. And give him vast riches,
13. And sons dwelling in his presence,
14. And I adjusted affairs for him adjustably;
15. And yet he desires that I should add more!
16. By no means! surely he offers opposition to Our AAYAAT.
17. I will make a distressing punishment overtake him.
18. Surely he reflected and guessed,
19. But may he be cursed how he planned;
20. Again, may he be cursed how he planned;
21. Then he looked,
22. Then he frowned and scowled,
23. Then he turned back and was big with pride,
24. Then he said: This is naught but enchantment, narrated (from others);
25. This is naught but the word of a mortal.
26. I will cast him into SAQAR (hell-fire).
27. And what will make you realize what SAQAR is?
28. It leaves naught nor does it spare aught.
29. It scorches the mortal.
30. Over it are nineteen.
31. And We have not made the wardens of the fire others than angels, and We have not made their number but as a trial for those who disbelieve, that those who have been given the book may be certain and those who believe may increase in faith, and those who have been given the book and the believers may not doubt, and that those in whose hearts is a disease and the disbelievers may say: What does Allah mean by this example? Thus does Allah make err whom He wills, and He guides whom He wills, and none knows the hosts of your Lord but He Himself; and this is naught but a reminder to the mortals.

32. Nay; I swear by the moon,

33. And the night when it departs,

34. And the daybreak when it shines;

35. Surely it (the punishment of hell) is one of the gravest (misfortunes),

36. A warning to mortals,

37. To him among you who wishes to go forward or remain behind.

38. Every soul is held in pledge for what it earns,

39. Except the people of the right hand,

40. In gardens, they shall ask each other

41. About the guilty:

42. What has brought you into hell?

43. They shall say: We were not of those who prayed;

44. And we used not to feed the poor;

45. And we used to enter into vain discourse with those who entered into vain discourses.

46. And we used to call the day of Judgment a lie;

47. Till death overtook us.

48. So the intercession of intercessors shall not avail them.

49. What is then the matter with them, that they turn away from the admonition

50. As if they were asses taking fright
51. That had fled from a lion?
52. Nay; every one of them desires that he may be given pages spread out;
53. Nay! but they do not fear the hereafter.
54. Nay! it is surely an admonition.
55. So whoever pleases may mind it.
56. And they will not mind unless Allah please. He is to be feared and He it is Who forgives.

Like Surah MUZZAMMIL, this also is one of the earliest Surah to descend on the Prophet PBUH and its initial AAYAAT descended even before MUZZAMMIL; it descended on the Prophet PBUH the same year i.e. MK-2 and it has two Ruku that comprise of 31 AAYAAT and 25 AAYAT respectively; except for AAYAT-31, it comprises of brief AAYAAT that give it volume; its first seven AAYAAT descended when he was returning from the cave AL-HIRA and he saw Gabriel clearly in his beautiful angelic form who had filled the horizon at front extensively; the second time when he saw him was at the occasion of his ascension to heavens (MIRAJ) just a couple of years before HIJRAH (his migration from Makkah to Madinah); Surah BANI-ISRAEL (also named as Surah ISRA) records this incident at its beginning, which descended at 6th to 10th year of the period of his stay at Makkah (though it relates his travel from Makkah to Jerusalem only i.e. ISRA); Surah NAJM also mentions MIRAJ in most clear terms (that relates his travel ahead that is his ascension to heavens); Allah gives the same message at the seven AAYAAT that are its beginning which He has also given at MUZZAMMIL to him; they read, "O you who are clothed; arise and warn (the disbelievers); and do magnify your Lord (by Salah at nights and SABR at TABLIGH); and your garments, do purify (so remain clean physically, as always, by care to garments and to the physique); and uncleanness, do shun (so remain clean spiritually, as always, by avoidance of all wrongs); and bestow not favors that you may receive again with increase (so provide TABLIGH of Islam for Allah without asking any person for any returns, except asking for returns on it from Allah); and be patient for the sake of your Lord (on the disrespectful attitude of the disbelievers, without any care to assets or/and status at the world)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that Allah asks him to arise and warn the disbelievers at this Surah so they become attentive to Allah (and he shall have patience at their disrespectful attitude) whereas at MUZZAMMIL, Allah asks him to arise for Salah at nights so that he remains most attentive to Allah as he always is; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note also that the Muslims who had believed in the fundamental teachings of Islam, were few at that time so Allah asked him to warn all disbelieving persons by the Quran and did not tell him to provide good tidings emphatically; so like MUZZAMMIL, this Surah also mentions emphatically the torments at the hell-fire, and even at the world, on disbelief of the fundamental teachings of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-8, 9 & 10 tell about the Day of Judgment, "for when the trumpet is sounded (for the second time); that, at that time, shall be difficult day (of Judgment), for the disbelievers, anything but easy"; however, AAYAAT-39 & 40 of this Surah mention the good persons too who would be at total peace at JANNAH; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead from 11 to 26 relate to such persons whom Allah provides plenty of assets, status and much convenience at the world yet instead of being grateful to Allah, they reject His message and oppose it feverishly so that others too do not accept it; note that these AAYAAT particularly relate to one of chiefs at Makkah i.e. WALEED Ibn MUGHAIRA whom the Quran has mentioned as one of the most negative characters at Surah NOON (i.e. AL-QALAM) too; he had asked the Prophet PBUH to strike an agreement which curbs his TABLIGH of Islam, between him and the chiefs of Makkah, according to their liking; there, AAYAAT 10 to 14 state, "and yield not to any mean swearer; defamer, going about with slander; forbiddener of good, outstepping the limits, sinful, ignoble; besides all that, base-born (i.e. born out of wedlock); because he possesses wealth and sons; when Our AAYAAT are recited to him, he says- stories of those of yore; We will brand him on the nose (which means that Allah will put some defaming mark on his nose at AKHIRAT)"; three of his many sons accepted Islam and one of them by the blessing of Allah, was named the sword of Allah by the Prophet PBUH and history knows that noble warrior by the name of Khalid-RA, who proved one of the most amazing commanders of Muslims at all of battlefields; it is most interesting to note that with adverse heredity and living much at environment that was challenging to Islamic teachings, he yet was able by the blessing of Allah, to accept Islam and achieve high status of spiritual purity; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT here relate about WALEED's assets, status and high number of sons

(that also were considered among valuables at those times) at the world and about his disbelief by depiction of his manner to reject the Truth at one of gatherings of chiefs at Makkah; Allah tells here that He has given life to him as to all His creation and if he intends to challenge Allah, he has to come alone to do it; Allah provided him such huge wealth and so many sons from whom, some are always near to him to defend him; and provided such convenience to him (that led to chiefdom at Makkah) that he may put his resources to use easily but he still intends for more, and he would certainly not receive anymore because he has opposed AAYAAT of the Quran; Allah would make his affairs such trying to him that he would live at the world in distress now; note that it happened that he incurred extreme losses after these AAYAAT descended, that decreased his wealth notably; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead in these AAYAAT depict how he reacted to the Islamic teachings and what will be the outcome of this reaction; they state "surely he reflected and guessed; but may he be cursed how he planned; again, may he be cursed how he planned; then he looked; then he frowned and scowled; then he turned back and was big with pride; then he said- this is naught but enchantment (i.e. magic derived from of old) narrated (from others); this is naught but the word of a mortal-; I will cast him into SAQAR (hell-fire)"; so the end-result is that Allah will put him into SAQAR (one of places at JAHANNUM i.e. the hell-fire) at AKHIRAT where he would remain at highest of physical agony; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that he was asked how he takes the Quran at a gathering of chiefs at Makkah and the text here depicts how he reacted to this question when everybody knew that the Prophet PBUH was AMIN (most trustworthy) among them; they knew that the Prophet PBUH did not ever write poetry as he could not read or write anything and moreover, they also knew that nobody would take it right if they call him a soothsayer or a mad person (see Surah TOOR-29, 30, 31); so after making faces and taking attitude which may show that he is considering the question with all his thought, he said about the Quran that it is naught else than magic derived from of old and it is speech of his own i.e. Muhammad (PBUH) speaks it by his own; may Allah put all His curse on all such fibbers; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the Holy Book Quran has directed clearly the Prophet PBUH at few places to the right attitude where he was mistaken as it actually is the Word of Allah that descended on the Prophet PBUH for somewhat 22 years (from 610 AD ending at 632 AD); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the five AAYAAT ahead that are the last AAYAAT in the Ruku, tell about SAQAR and the nineteen guards upon it; they also tell that the Quran is for the guidance of the mankind yet who disrespects the Quran, it does make such persons go more into their wrongs till they fall into the hell-fire; may Allah save all good persons from disrespecting the Quran in any manner but guide them to the right path through its beautiful teachings; Al-Hamdu Lillah; These AAYAAT read, "and what will make you realize what SAQAR is? it leaves naught nor does it spare aught; it scorches the mortal; over it (i.e. over SAQAR, the place at the hell-fire) are nineteen (angels as guard); and We have not made the wardens of the fire others than angels, and We have not made their number (i.e. nineteen) but as a trial for those who disbelieve, that those who have been given the book may be certain (as those who are inclined towards scholarly pursuits among them, are certainly aware that Allah takes such works from a number of angels having extreme strength and keeps check on them) and those who believe (i.e. the true Muslims) may increase in faith, and those who have been given the book and the believers may not doubt, and that those in whose hearts is a disease (i.e. hypocrites) and the disbelievers may say - what does Allah mean by this example? thus does Allah make (those persons) err whom He wills, and He guides (those persons) whom He wills, and none knows the hosts (i.e. the total number of angels) of your Lord but He Himself; and this (mention of nineteen of them at SAQAR) is naught but a reminder to the mortals"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that some of disbelievers mocked this mention of nineteen wardens at SAQAR that they would handle them by force if they are only nineteen, to which Allah tells them that these wardens are angels who are extremely strong against whom their force, even if collective, is nothing; note also that some of commentators on the Quran, have mentioned that the appointment of nineteen angels at SAQAR is due to the fact that there would be nineteen types of punishments there to the wrong-doers, each under the supervision of one of these angels; however, some persons have taken this as code in the Quran that tells some facts about MUQATTA'AAT (that means the 14 of disjointed letters that are among the Arabic alphabet, that come at the commencement of 29 SURAH in specific combinations and the meanings of these are not evident but they are not necessary to know in understanding of the Quran); the detail for this is not feasible here but I, MSD, have written about it in some detail at one of my writings "Expressions of the Quran" that is available at the net; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at the next Ruku, Allah takes oath of the Moon (as it changes from crescent to full when its light manifests things even at night) and of the departing night (as stars vanish from view at that moment and light dawns to manifest things) and the daybreak as light manifests well; this tells that though the disbelievers do not see that the Day of Judgment is sure to take place yet with time, this would go on becoming clear (especially at their deaths) until it would get them; they need to see that the extreme punishment of the hell-fire, of which they are warned, is the extreme physical torment that they would certainly get; everyone needs to see in his/her own best interest if he/she would take the right path or if he/she would keep away from it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead tell about the question from residents of JANNAAT to residents of hell-fire asking the reason due to which they had entered it; these AAYAAT state, "every soul is held (at the hell-fire) in pledge for what it earns; except the people of the right hand in gardens (i.e. the dwellers of JANNAAT); they shall ask each other about the guilty (who had lived upon wrongs at the world) what has brought you into hell?; they shall say- We were not of those who prayed (i.e. they did not remember Allah in any manner at the life at the world) and we used not to feed the poor (i.e. they did not care for the needy among their fellow-beings though they had the resources for it); and we used to enter into vain discourse with those who entered into vain discourses (i.e. they challenged the Truth by vague arguments and kept away from it and wasted their precious time in useless pursuits at the world); and we used to call the day of Judgment a lie till death overtook us (i.e. they did come to know that the Judgment would certainly take place but it came to them too late when they were at their death-beds); so the intercession of intercessors (at the Day of Judgment) shall not avail them"; note that Allah has allowed even the satanic persons to work against the Truth in whatever manner they intend and has granted them the ability to mislead others by putting evil thoughts inside; He intends to take the examination of all persons (His Messengers included) and so He has given the satanic persons necessary liberty to do their evil work yet it does have its limit that He certainly decides perfectly well; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these satanic persons are unable to force anything to anyone but they do try to make the wrongs look beautiful and take-up arguments that seem to have some validity yet they are based on play of words; they try to promote the wrong concept that takes something from the right concept, and conceal some other from it to make their point; as the spirit of the Man does not conform to any wrongs so they try to deceive all they address by their manner of speech; may Allah save all the true Muslims from all satanic concepts; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last eight AAYAAT, though brief, sum up the message of the Surah wonderfully as they read, "what is then the matter with them, that they turn away from the admonition (of the Quran after hearing of the severe punishment on disbelief); as if they were (wild) asses taking fright that had fled from a (chasing) lion? nay; every one of them desires that he may be given pages spread out (as Muhammad PBUH is receiving AAYAAT); nay; but they do not fear the hereafter (so how do they ask for such esteemed status without having any worth to it); nay; it is surely an admonition (to all though he only is receiving it who is the worthiest to it among them); so whoever pleases may mind it (to save himself from the physical agony of the hell-fire); and they will not mind unless Allah pleases; He is to be feared (the word at the AAYAT is TAQWA so all righteous persons must have TAQWA inside) and He it is Who forgives (so all righteous persons would only save themselves from all major sins by remaining most attentive to Him, the true Lord)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note about TAQWA that all persons need to remember the event that relates to Adam-AS that when Allah sent him to the world, He told him that those among his descendants would get the JANNAH, their actual dwelling place, who keep to righteousness in their belief and deeds; but those who disbelieve the true guidance, they would be put into the hell-fire; so the Quran asks all persons to have TAQWA to Allah that is the attitude of the heart which means that all must fear Allah that they do not get His displeasure by their sins becoming so sinful that they lose the chance to regain JANNAH and with that, they also must have such hope to Him that He would keep them safe from the Satan at all times and at all places; if he/she does not live as the righteous believer in the Truth (the fundamental teachings of Islam) with virtuous deeds, he/she would lose the opportunity to show his/her worth for JANNAH and would be put into the hell-fire as Allah would certainly fulfill His word; note that the last of Surah MUZZAMMIL also asks all Muslims to habitually ask forgiveness of Allah; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah QIYAMAT

(Consists of 2 Ruku; MK-4)

1. Nay! I swear by the day of resurrection.
2. Nay! I swear by the self-accusing soul.
3. Does man think that We shall not gather his bones?
4. Yea! We are able to make complete his very fingertips
5. Nay! man desires to give the lie to what is before him.
6. He asks: When is the day of resurrection?
7. So when the sight becomes dazed,
8. And the moon becomes dark,
9. And the sun and the moon are brought together,
10. Man shall say on that day: Whither to fly to?
11. By no means! there shall be no place of refuge!
12. With your Lord alone shall on that day be the place of rest.
13. Man shall on that day be informed of what he sent before and (what he) put off.
14. Rather! man is evidence against himself,
15. Though he puts forth his excuses.
16. Do not move your tongue with it to make haste with it,
17. Surely on Us is the collecting of it and the reciting of it.
18. Therefore when We have recited it, follow its recitation.
19. Again on Us is the explaining of it.
20. Nay! But you love the present life,
21. And neglect the hereafter.
22. (Some) faces on that day shall be bright,
23. Looking to their Lord.
24. And (other) faces on that day shall be gloomy,

25. Knowing that there will be made to befall them some great calamity.
26. Nay! When it comes up to the throat,
27. And it is said: Who will be a magician?
28. And he is sure that it is the (hour of) parting
29. And affliction is combined with affliction;
30. To your Lord on that day shall be the driving.
31. So he did not accept the truth, nor did he pray,
32. But called the truth a lie and turned back,
33. Then he went to his followers, walking away in haughtiness.
34. Nearer to you (is destruction) and nearer,
35. Again (consider how) nearer to you and nearer.
36. Does man think that he is to be left to wander fruitless?
37. Was he not a small seed in the seminal elements,
38. Then he was a clot of blood, so He created (him) then made (him) perfect.
39. Then He made of him two kinds, the male and the female.
40. Is not He able to give life to the dead?

Surah QIYAMAT is also one of the earliest Surah that descended on the Prophet PBUH though it came much later than Surah MUDDATHHIR; it has two Ruku that comprise of thirty and ten AAYAAT respectively whereas the first Ruku tells about the last day of the world (and it might be more extensive than the ordinary day by mention of happenings in it though that mention also implies that all of mankind would die in it in very short time that probably would equal the time that is of an ordinary day, yet its severity would cause the children to become like old persons; see Surah MUZZAMMIL-17) and it also tells about the Day of Judgment; it also tells from AAYAT-16 to AAYAT-19, that the Prophet PBUH does not have to worry that the Quran remains safe in text by reciting it fast with the angel Gabriel when it descends to him, as not only its text but its meanings too would remain safe as Allah would see not only to its compilation but that its reading too does not cease; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-9 of Surah HIJR is most notable for this that gives the message that Allah would totally safeguard the message that He has provided to Muhammad PBUH (i.e. the Holy Book Quran); as no more of Messengers of Allah would come at the world because the Prophet Muhammad PBUH was the last of Messengers, the Message of Allah exists written with us all in the form of the Holy Book Quran and Allah has taken the responsibility for its protection upon Himself so that His Word (that He gave to Adam) is not violated that he would keep the Truth always clear for all to accept or to reject so no injustice takes place when He judges all persons at the day of HASHR (the first day at AKHIRAT); everything that was related to the protection of its text and its meaning was given protection; there were such people who wrote it beautifully with utmost care at all times and places even before the printing manner for it was available, by the will of Allah and there stood people namely HUFFAZ from the very time of its descent that still stand for it by the will of Allah so these HUFFAZ remembered it amazingly word by word by heart; Ahadith, that reported the SUNNAH (i.e. practice in many issues of life of the Last Prophet Muhammad PBUH and explained the Holy Book Quran most clearly), remained most secure at the good books of Ahadith compiled by many of good persons at ancient times (which the students of Islam learn beautifully at different Islamic schools even at this time) by the will of Allah so that the clarification of it remains available at all times and places; its language Arabic still is very much active language of the world by the will of Allah and in fact, the Holy Book Quran receives, and has always received, the most-high value in the Arabic literature; note also that Allah protected the Muslims from the enemy when they had put the Holy Book Quran into practice individually and collectively with fervor and this tells in most clear terms that whoever and whatever relates to it, Allah would certainly provide security for all such as He has taken the provision of the security of the Quran as His responsibility; this also is undeniable fact (which also expresses its security that Allah has provided to it) that the disbelievers have always remained unable to imitate the Quran as it has amazing integrity not only in its meanings but also in its words; so this all implies that there is no need to take anything else but the Quran for the Guidance to the right path by the assistance of the SUNNAH and that tells most clearly that Muhammad PBUH was and is the last of Messengers of Allah to all peoples of the world, even to those who have come after him at any of times and at any of places in the world to live-on their lives; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second Ruku of Surah QIYAMAT tells about the disbeliever who does not believe in the Day of Judgment as he is unable to grasp how Allah would resurrect all peoples for it; Allah tells all peoples that even the manner by which He gave life to the mankind at the world is strange but they do see all persons living at the world so it is not difficult for Allah to give life to all persons again even if they take it stranger; so the Surah ends by the same message that the initial AAYAAT of the Surah provided especially AAYAT-4 that tells that Allah has so much control on mankind that He even is able to make the respective fingertips of all persons in exact manner; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-1 to 6 begin by rejecting the disbelievers who thought that the Day of Judgment is never to come, by word "LA" (Nay; No) and then Allah swears by that day of resurrection because it is so very certain to come; at the second AAYAT too, He rejects their notion and swears by the soul (NAFS) that is self-accusing (has consciousness of guilt so this also tells that the Day of Judgment is certain to take place); Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that all of the mankind took oath at the world of spirits that Allah only is their true Lord for whom they certainly would show all obedience (see Surah AARAAF-172); living against this oath does bring guilt inside that leads to deterioration inside and lowers the image that he has of his own which in turn leads to dissatisfaction to life; so Allah takes oath by the self-accusing soul; note that there are three types of NAFS which actually is related to physique of the Man as it denotes his desires inside, whereas basically (i.e. at birth) it is LAWWAMA (self-accusing) at all wrongs that a person does (and this AAYAT at Surah QIYAMAT mentions it); if it rises to control ROOH (Spirit) of the man with time due to remaining unchecked, it becomes AMMARA (inciting to sins; the one where the physique impresses the Spirit and commands towards wrongs and this was the one that ZELICHA indicated as of hers when she tempted Yusuf-AS; see Surah YOUSUF-53); this type leads to wrongs, with matters getting worse for living of the person except when Allah intends to make things better; this actually is the end-result of taking the mankind among animals and then expecting the righteous guidance from the same to apply to environment that actually must keep to decency in all aspects, if a person has to achieve the true inner satisfaction; if the Spirit of the man rises to make NAFS liable to work under its guidance that is it keeps NAFS attentive to Allah then it becomes MUTMA'INNAH (having total peace without any inclination to wrongs) so it gets control of the physique and of all animal instincts inside (see Surah FAJR-27); Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-3, 4 & 5 state that the disbeliever does not understand how Allah would gather dead bones of so many years to resurrect so he needs to understand that not only bones, Allah is so amazingly powerful that He would even complete the texture of the very fingertips of every dead person (though they are totally lost by view of the mankind whereas they are different from all others too); in fact, such disbelievers intend that there remains no mention even, of the Day of Judgment as that worries them and they want to live their lives with such NAFS that gives desires to them and to which they comply without any check; the disbeliever mockingly asks when this event would come to take place; note that the Quran never gives the timing for it but tells clearly that it would come when Allah wills for it; rather, the Quran tells about the happenings at the last day of the world (QIYAMAT) and the happenings at the Day of Judgment (YAUMUL-QIYAMAT);

Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAT-7 to AAYAT-9, the Ruku depicts the happenings at QIYAMAT and then from AAYAT-10 to AAYAT-15, it depicts the happenings at the day of HASHR (i.e. the Day of Judgment); Al-Hamdu Lillah; these all AAYAAT state, "so when the sight becomes dazed; and the moon becomes dark (and also the sun because of solar eclipse; the word used is KHASAFA which is often used to denote the lunar eclipse yet here it is in literal meaning and means that the moon will become dark) and the sun and the moon are brought together (which happens at solar eclipse as seen from earth); --- man (who lived as wrong-doer at the world) shall say on that day- whither to fly to? by no means! there shall be no place of refuge; with your Lord alone shall on that day be the place of rest; man shall on that day be informed of what he sent before and (what he) put off; rather- man is evidence against himself (as he knows well what he had been doing at his life at the world), though he puts forth his excuses"; AAYAAT ahead ask the Prophet PBUH not to recite the Quran as it descends on him but he shall hear it till the last when the angel Gabriel-AS recites it according to the command of Allah; he does not have to worry about the safety of its text or/and its meanings as Allah would secure it so he has to concentrate on its recitation to remember it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that at those times, memorizing text of some writing was the best manner to its safety and people at Arabia were not much literate then generally, but they had many such persons in them who had astounding memory and they used to memorize the Quran as it descended on the Prophet PBUH; the most notable person among them was Zaid-RA who worked by the blessing of Allah, for the compilation of the Quran at the reign of Abu-Bakr-RA and then also for pronunciation of its words & for its certified presentation at the reign of Usman-RA (see also one of my writings "Expressions of the Quran"); Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-20 to AAYAT-25 tell again about the Day of Judgment while AAYAT-26 to AAYAT-30, the last AAYAT of the first Ruku, tell about the plight of a dying person; the former set of AAYAAT state, "nay- (all have to face the Judgment) but you (who do not have any concern for it), love the present life and neglect the hereafter; (some) faces on that day shall be bright, looking to their Lord (i.e. the true Muslims, though they would see Him at JANNAAT yet here looking to Him means waiting at the grounds of HASHR for His command to give them entrance to beautiful gardens at JANNAAT); and (other) faces on that day shall be gloomy, knowing that there will be made to befall them some great calamity (i.e. all disbelievers who will be dragged to the hell-fire)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the other set of AAYAAT state, "nay- (the departing life) when it comes up to the throat (i.e. when the dying person feels that now he is leaving the world); and it is said- who will be a magician (that may set his life again by his method of cure who blows on him after chanting some words for impression at his inside, as medicines have failed to cure him)? and he is sure that it is the (hour of) parting; and affliction is combined with affliction (the literal translation shall be "when one of calves joins to another" that means all of the lower part of leg, not only the back of it but whole of it, and it denotes reaction to extreme pain in some of dying persons); to your Lord on that day shall be the driving (as angels manifest themselves to the dying person at the time of death)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second Ruku of Surah QIYAMAT tells about the disbeliever who does not believe in the Day of Judgment as he is unable to grasp how Allah would resurrect all persons for it so Allah tells that it is not difficult for Allah to give life to all persons again and the Surah ends by the same message that the initial AAYAAT of it provided especially AAYAT-4 which tells that Allah has so much control on mankind that He even is able to make the respective fingertips of all persons in exact manner; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT of the second Ruku state, "so he (the disbeliever) did not accept the Truth, nor did he pray; but called the Truth a lie and turned back; then he went to his followers, walking away in haughtiness; nearer to you (is destruction) and nearer; again (consider how) nearer to you and nearer; does man (the disbeliever) think that he is to be left to wander fruitless? was he not a small seed in the seminal elements; then he was a clot of blood, so He created (him) then made (him) perfect; then He made of him two kinds, the male and the female; is not He able to give life to the dead?"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT ask to see how the laws applying at the universe are set by Allah rather than call them natural laws; and they ask to care for the Spiritual refinement rather than worry for the physical improvement; and they ask to work for AKHIRAT rather than live-on at the world with efforts to gather wealth or/and to make status at life at the world; may Allah give all good persons TOFIQ to live upon the Truth i.e. the fundamental teachings of Islam, and enable them to make the world better by keeping their total attention to work most efficiently for AKHIRAT so that all such persons achieve the true success at the life there as that certainly is the true life; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah DAHR (INSAAN)

(Consists of 2 Ruku; MK-6)

1. There surely came over man a period of time when he was a thing not worth mentioning.
2. Surely We have created man from a small mingled life-germ- We mean to try him, so We have made him hearing, seeing.
3. Surely We have shown him the way: he may be thankful or unthankful.
4. Surely We have prepared, for the disbelievers, chains and shackles and burning fire.
5. Surely the righteous shall drink of a cup the admixture of which is camphor
6. A fountain from which the servants of Allah shall drink; they make it to flow a (goodly) flowing forth.
7. They fulfill vows and fear the day, the evil of which shall be spreading far and wide.
8. And they give food out of love for Him to the poor and the orphan and the captive:
9. We only feed you for Allah's sake; we desire from you neither reward nor thanks:
10. Surely we fear from our Lord the stern, distressful day.
11. Therefore Allah will guard them from the evil of that day and cause them to meet with ease and happiness;
12. And He will reward them, because they were patient, with Garden and silk attire,

13. Reclining therein on raised couches, they shall find therein neither (the severe heat of) the sun nor intense cold.
14. And close down upon them (shall be) its shadows, and its fruits shall be made near (to them), being easy to reach.
15. And there shall be made to go round about them vessels of silver and goblets which are of glass,
16. (Transparent as) glass, made of silver; they have measured them according to measure.
17. And they shall be made to drink therein a cup the admixture of which shall be ginger,
18. (Of) a fountain therein which is named SALSABIL.
19. And round about them shall go youths never altering in age; when you see them you will think them to be scattered pearls.
20. And when you see there, you shall see blessings and a great kingdom.
21. Upon them shall be garments of fine green silk and thick silk interwoven with gold, and they shall be adorned with bracelets of silver, and their Lord shall make them drink a pure drink.
22. Surely this is reward for you, and your striving shall be recompensed.
23. Surely We Ourselves have revealed the Quran to you revealing (it) in portions.
24. Therefore wait patiently for the command of your Lord, and obey not from among them a sinner or an ungrateful one.
25. And glorify the name of your Lord morning and evening.
26. And during part of the night adore Him, and give glory to Him (a) long (part of the) night.

27. Surely these love the transitory and neglect a grievous day before them.

28. We created them and made firm their make, and when We please, We will bring in their place the likes of them by change.

29. Surely this is reminder so whoever pleases, he may take way to his Lord.

30. And you do not please except that Allah please, surely Allah is Knowing, Wise;

31. He makes whom He pleases to enter into His mercy; and (as for) the unjust, He has prepared for them a painful chastisement.

Surah DAHR (that is also named as Surah INSAAN) also came at Makkah and it has two Ruku that comprise of 22 AAYAAT and 9 AAYAAT respectively; it tells mostly about living of the true Muslims at JANNAH where they would be dressed beautifully in the most pleasant surroundings and would have different of wonderful drinks in different of amazing glasses, goblets & cups; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first AAYAT denotes the time when the person was not worth of any mention and that is the time when he was alive at the mother's womb; note that pregnancy takes place by the combination of an ovum from the female and one of spermatozoa from the male and AAYAT-2 refers to this combination as "mingled life-germ" (i.e. zygote); ova are present in the female from her birth (and thus she is cool inside naturally, waiting for betterment of conditions around) while in contrast, millions of spermatozoa are present at just one average ejaculation that are motile, produced timely at scrotum of the male (and thus he has forceful nature that needs to make its way even in adverse situations he has to face); there remain only four hundred thousand ova inside her at puberty and as about one thousand ripen each month inside her (whereas only one is released towards the womb), a time comes around late forties where the female does not remain capable of reproductive activity any more naturally; note that though only one of spermatozoa fertilizes an ovum (others of ova end off) yet the enormous quantity of them is necessary to affect the ovum with an awe which assists the one that penetrates inside it; the female cell closes entrance to all other male cells once it is fertilized changing into zygote and goes on to attach itself to the wall of the womb; from the third month onwards, the developing pregnancy is called fetus and by this time it is totally recognizable as a human being whereas by Ahadith, we know that by the end of the fourth month, Allah provides its spirit to it and it becomes INSAAN (human being); this is where he/she is not worth mentioning so the first AAYAT denotes the later stage than what the second AAYAT presents; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second AAYAT also tells that Allah made him able to hear (by providing him ears) and able to see (by providing him eyes) as He intends to examine him at the world whether he accepts Islamic teachings or rejects them when he comes to know of them; the third AAYAT tells that He also gave him the awareness of the right path so even if he does not get invitation to the Islamic teachings, he is yet able to submit to them by his reflection at inside (that also is termed as QALB i.e. heart, at the Holy Book Quran);

AARAAF-179 states, "and certainly We have created for hell many of the jinn and the men; they have hearts (the term used is QULUB which is plural for QALB) with which they do not understand (as they have ignored the Truth), and they have eyes with which they do not see (as they do not see the Truth), and they have ears with which they do not hear (as they do not hear the Truth); they are as cattle, nay, they are in worse errors (as cattle even, care to see the surroundings occasionally while grazing); these are the heedless ones"; this AAYAT tells that if these blessings of Allah are not used rightfully then they remain as if never used; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-4, 5 & 6 state the results of being unthankful and of being thankful, at AKHIRAT, "surely We have prepared, for the disbelievers (who are unthankful to Allah by not taking His commands into their lives), chains and shackles and burning fire (at hell-fire); surely the righteous (who are thankful to Allah by taking His commands into their lives) shall drink of a cup (of delightful liquid) the admixture of which is camphor (i.e. white and scented very like it so the similarity is in color and aroma yet it is not the organic compound of the world); (it is) a fountain (at JANNAH) from which the servants of Allah shall drink; they make it to flow a (goodly) flowing forth (so the believers would be able to direct a canal from it towards any place by their intention as Allah allows this to them as one of His many blessings to them)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT- 7 to 11 state the reason why they receive this blessing, "they fulfill vows (their liabilities especially their commitment to Allah that they would always remember that He only is their true Lord) and fear the day (of Judgment), the evil of which shall be spreading (upon the disbelievers) far and wide; and they give food when they have love for it to (all needy persons that are) the poor and the orphan and the captive (saying that) we only feed you for Allah's sake (and that statement is to emphasize that though they do find it difficult to part with edibles yet they give it to the needy for Allah's sake sincerely); we desire from you neither reward nor thanks (their words mean that Allah only will provide us our sustenance at the world with ease and He only will provide us clean pure foods at AKHIRAT with which we would be happy); surely we fear from our Lord the stern, distressful day; therefore Allah will guard them from the evil of that day and cause them to meet with ease (at the world) and happiness (at AKHIRAT)"; note that the translation of AAYAT-8 by Respectable M.H. SHAKIR is, "and they give food out of love for Him to the poor and the orphan and the captive"; so he has taken the pronoun to denote Allah that they give food out of love for Him, but I find better to translate the pronoun to denote the love persons have for their edibles so it says, "and they give food when they have love for it to the poor and the orphan and the captive"; at AAYAT-177 of Surah BAQARAH too, his translation reads, "and (the righteousness is) to give away wealth out of love for Him to the near of kin and the orphans and the needy and the wayfarer and the beggars and for (the emancipation of) the captives, and keep up prayer and pay the poor-rate"; there also, I, MSD, have preferred the translation at my note that "and (the righteousness is) to give away wealth when there is love for it" but my difference to his translation is with the acceptance that his translation might be better; note that AAYAT-177 of Surah BAQARAH implies that the good person must spend amounts to all needy in sequence that are his needy near-relatives, the needy orphans, such needy that are unable to earn to their genuine necessities, the needy way-farers when they become penniless during the travel, the needy persons who ask for some relief for their sustenance and the needy persons who have been taken into captivity while they desperately ask freedom to live-on virtuously, so it clarifies AAYAT of DAHR; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead till the last of Ruku narrate about the residents of JANNAH and they tell about the happiness that they would have at the gardens there; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah TOOR also has depicted the life of residents at JANNAH and here, AAYAAT are explicit on the depiction there; the first Ruku of TOOR tells us that Allah would provide them the wonderful fruits there and the meat, that is most refined; Al-Hamdu Lillah; they would get their beautiful cups of wine (and here, there is some elaboration to these beautiful cups too that though they are of silver yet as transparent as glass so their silver is unique) and they would playfully challenge each other by grabbing those cups of wine of each other, but there would never be any foul talks in that nor any cause of sin; we also studied there (as we find here) that there would be such boys at that most pleasant scenario who would be assigned to serve the residents of JANNAH and who would glow handsomely; Al-Hamdu Lillah; keeping these comments in view, we will see AAYAAT ahead that read, "and He will reward them, because they were patient, with Garden and silk attire, reclining therein on raised couches, they shall find therein neither (the severe heat of) the sun nor intense cold; and close down upon them (shall be) its shadows, and its fruits shall be made near (to them), being easy to reach (at will); and there shall be made to go round about them vessels of silver and goblets which are of glass, (because they are transparent though that is) glass made of silver; they (the serving persons) have measured them according to measure (neither more nor less); and they shall be made to drink therein a cup (of delightful liquid) the admixture of which shall be ginger; (of) a fountain therein (i.e. at JANNAH) which is named SALSABIL; and round about them shall go youths never altering in age; when you see them you will think them to be scattered pearls; and when you see there (O listening person), you shall see blessings and a great kingdom; upon them shall be garments of fine green silk and thick silk interwoven with gold, and they shall be adorned with bracelets of silver, and their Lord shall make them drink pure drink (i.e. most delightful and clean of any intoxicant); surely this is reward for you, and your striving shall be recompensed"; so there are two beautiful fountains that have delightful liquids from which Allah would provide drinks to all residents of JANNAH by such boys who would remain at the same age ever; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah asks the Prophet PBUH at the next Ruku to go on spreading the fundamental teachings of Islam without any alteration, by the Quran as those who get the true guidance, would get it only by this; Allah has descended the Quran upon him in parts so that he remains steadfast on it without any care to offers of disbelievers for compromise and he has to recite-on the name of Allah in the mornings and in the evenings; he has to stand at Salah at nights and recite the Quran at much of nights which means that he would remain attentive to Allah at all times; the disbelievers are totally unable to harm the Prophet PBUH as they are most attentive to gains of the world and most oblivious of the day which would prove most trying for them; may Allah save all good Muslim persons from becoming oblivious of that significant day i.e. the Day of Judgment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah has created all persons and He certainly is able to change these disbelievers by other of persons if He wills, who are most obedient to Allah; but He has created all persons so that He examines them who deserves JANNAH and who does not; note that the opening AAYAAT of this Surah have also given this message; so this Quran is the gift of Allah to the mankind to guide to the right path, whoever does intend to find proximity to Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-30 tells that no person is able to will even, for something unless Allah wills that he does will for it (see also TAKWIR-29); He is ALLEEM so He certainly knows all works of men and how to take issues ahead, and He is HAKEEM so He certainly molds all things towards the way He intends even by works of men; when some nation challenges His authority by working against His commands which displeases Him, then some destruction strikes that nation by His command and its adverse impression ends from the world then & there; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT notes emphatically that whoever is thankful to Allah at life at the world with care to the Day of Judgment, he would receive the best of rewards there and whoever is unthankful to Allah, he would be punished most severely; it states, "He makes whom He pleases to enter into

His mercy; and (as for) the unjust, He has prepared for them a painful chastisement"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah MURSALAAT

(Consists of 2 Ruku; MK-4)

1. I swear by the emissary winds, sent one after another (for men's benefit),
2. By the raging hurricanes,
3. Which scatter clouds to their destined places,
4. Then separate them one from another,
5. Then I swear by angels who bring down the revelation,
6. To excuse or to warn.
7. Most surely what you are threatened with must come to pass.
8. So when the stars are made to lose their light,
9. And when the heaven is rent asunder,
10. And when the mountains are carried away as dust,
11. And when the apostles are gathered at their appointed time
12. To what day is the doom fixed?
13. To the day of decision.
14. And what will make you realize what the day of decision is?
15. Woe on that day to the rejecters.
16. Did We not destroy the former generations?
17. So shall We make later generations follow them.
18. Even thus shall We deal with the guilty.
19. Woe on that day to the rejecters.
20. Did We not create you from contemptible water?

21. Then We placed it in a secure resting-place,
22. Till an appointed term,
23. So We proportion it- how well are We at deciding the proportion (of things).
24. Woe on that day to the rejecters.
25. Have We not made the earth to draw together to itself,
26. The living and the dead,
27. And made therein lofty mountains, and given you to drink of sweet water?
28. Woe on that day to the rejecters.
29. Walk on to that which you called a lie.
30. Walk on to the covering having three branches,
31. Neither having the coolness of the shade nor availing against the flame.
32. Surely it sends up sparks like palaces,
33. As if they were tawny camels.
34. Woe on that day to the rejecters.
35. This is the day on which they shall not speak,
36. And permission shall not be given to them so that they should offer excuses.
37. Woe on that day to the rejecters.
38. This is the day of decision: We have gathered you and those of yore.
39. So if you have some plan, plan against Me (now).
40. Woe on that day to the rejecters.
41. Surely those who guard (against evil) shall be amid shades and fountains,
42. And fruits such as they desire.
43. Eat and drink pleasantly because of what you did.
44. Surely thus do We reward the doers of good.

45. Woe on that day to the rejecters.
46. Eat and enjoy yourselves for a little; surely you are guilty.
47. Woe on that day to the rejecters.
48. And where it is said to them: Bow down, they do not bow down.
49. Woe on that day to the rejecters.
50. In what announcement, then, after it, will they believe?

Surah MURSALAAT consists of two Ruku that comprise of forty and ten AAYAAT respectively; at the first four AAYAAT, Allah has taken oath of different winds (though their mention is not specifically by their names) which denote the advent of rain and in this matter, it is much similar to the opening AAYAAT of Surah ZAARIYAAT; at those AAYAAT too, Allah tells about the water that He provides to the earth as He has mentioned here; He has taken the oath of winds there and tells about them that they scatter the water droplets within clouds; then these clouds carry all the water; and then the winds make these clouds glide-on with ease; then finally these clouds provide this water as rainfall at different places and this all happens by the command of Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that Allah may take oath of any of His creation by His will to express His statement explicitly though the authentic Ahadith has commanded all Muslims to take the oath of Allah only upon good deeds; AAYAAT ahead there tell that the promise that Allah has made to all of mankind about raising them up from the dead is most true just as the rain brings out crops from the earth from inside of it so the true Judgment for all persons would certainly take place; and here, at Surah MURSALAAT too, AAYAT-7 provides the same reason to oaths that is "most surely what you are threatened with (i.e. the Day of Judgment) must come to pass"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the Holy Book Quran has mentioned the rainfall in relation to raising-up of the dead at the Day of Judgment, at different places; for instance, note that AARAAF-57 states, "and He it is Who sends forth the winds bearing good news before His mercy, until, when they bring up a laden cloud, We drive it to a dead land, then We send down water on it, then bring forth with it of fruits of all kinds; thus shall We bring forth the dead that you may be mindful" (see also Surah ROUM-50 and Surah HA-MEEM AS-SAJDAH-39); Al-Hamdu Lillah; for AAYAAT-5 & 6 here that read, "then I swear by angels who bring down the revelation to excuse (such persons who repent on their wrongs) or to warn (such persons who do not repent on their wrongs)"; note that Surah ZAARIYAAT mentions the numerous paths at the sky above the earth (by which the angels ascend and descend to keep check on the mankind by the command of Allah) and so it elucidates these AAYAAT at MURSALAAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT from 8 to 15 tell about QIYAMAT and about the Day of HASHR, "so when (at the last day of the world) the stars are made to lose their light; and when the heaven is rent asunder; and when the mountains are carried away as dust; and when (at the first day of AKHIRAT i.e. the Day of HASHR), the apostles are gathered at their appointed time; to what day is the doom fixed? to the day of decision (i.e. the Day of HASHR); and what will make you realize what the day of decision is? --- woe on that day to the rejecters"; note that the last statement here i.e. "woe on that day to the rejecters" comes repeatedly at this Surah as this Surah tells how unthankful they are to Allah and what troubles they would see at the day of Judgment (i.e. the Day of HASHR); note also that the answer to 'what will make the disbelievers realize what the day of decision is', has been answered by troubles they would face at that day which would be extremely severe to them; this Surah has also told about the righteous persons how happy they would be at JANNAAT and how pleasant their foods and their drinks would be there; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-16 to 24 tell that Allah destroyed such peoples who had challenged Him and He would destroy even those who follow their manner in life as that is His set principle to deal with such peoples; Al-Hamdu Lillah; He tells all peoples that every person is born by contemptible water (semen) and Allah kept him/her at a secured place to develop (i.e. the womb of the mother) till an appointed time and He arranged everything for him/her (which is related to physique and even that, which is related to spirit); one of Ahadith tells that when a person is alive inside the womb of his/her mother, "Allah sends an angel who is ordered to write four things; he is ordered to write down his deeds, his livelihood, his (date of) death, and whether he will be blessed or wretched" (SAHIH Bukhari- at the book of Beginning of Creation); Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT also end by the statement that "woe on that day to the rejecters"; AAYAAT-25 to 34 tell some of His blessings to all peoples of the world so that all persons may live at ease here and they also tell how unpleasant the hell-fire would be which the disbelievers would enter into so the disbelievers would lose that ease which all persons take for granted at life at the world; these blessings of Allah at the world to all persons are that the earth manages all the living and the dead persons within its space and there are high mountains on it which keeps it stable (during its revolution at its orbit); He also gave sweet water to drink to all persons for their sustenance and did not show any discrimination among them; but in contrast, when Allah commands the disbelievers at the grounds of HASHR to stand under the covering of smoke (having three branches) rising from the hell-fire, it would not provide any protection to them against the extreme heat; there would be sparks from the hell-fire which would rise as if they are huge palaces and when they fall and disperse, they still would have volume as of camels that are tawny; these AAYAAT also end by the statement that "woe on that day to the rejecters"; AAYAT-35 to AAYAT-40 (i.e. the last AAYAT of the Ruku) state, "this is the day on which they shall not speak (as no person would speak there except to whom Allah permits), and permission shall not be given to them at the beginning of the day so that they should offer excuses (that Allah gives them another chance as the term of examination is gone away); woe on that day to the rejecters; this is the day of decision (where) We have gathered you and those of yore; so if you have some plan, plan against Me (now); woe on that day to the rejecters"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second Ruku tells about the wonderful foods and drinks at the pleasant environment for all those righteous persons who cared highly at the world that they do not commit any such deeds that bring the displeasure of Allah; in contrast, the environment of the disbelievers would be the hell-fire and their foods there would be extreme filth as the Holy Book Quran has told explicitly at places as for instance AAYAAT-24, 25, 26 of the next Surah i.e. NABA and AAYAAT-36 & 37 of Surah HAAQQAH; the disbelievers did not show any care to Allah even when the Holy Book Quran asked them most clearly to surrender to Him in all issues of life at the world; the Quran is so very explicit to present all issues in principle as Allah has commanded, that if they do not believe in it when they receive its teachings (because they take the guidance of their whims to understand anything) then they would never ever believe in the Truth; this Ruku that comprises of ten AAYAAT reads, "surely those who guard (against evil) shall be amid shades and fountains, and fruits such as they desire; eat and drink pleasantly because of what (virtuous deeds) you did; surely thus do We reward the doers of good; woe on that day to the rejecters; eat and enjoy yourselves (at the world) for a little; surely you are guilty (and all guilty persons would have filth to eat & drink at the most unpleasant environment); woe on that day to the rejecters; and where it is said to them, 'bow down', they do not bow down; woe on that day to the rejecters; in what announcement, then, after it (i.e. the invitation to take the teachings at the Holy Book Quran), will they believe?"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah NABA

(Consists of 2 Ruku; MK-10)

1. Of what do they ask one another?

2. About the great event,
3. About which they differ?
4. Nay! they shall soon come to know
5. Nay! Nay! they shall soon know.
6. Have We not made the earth an even expanse?
7. And the mountains as projections (thereon)?
8. And We created you in pairs,
9. And We made your sleep to be rest (to you),
10. And We made the night to be a covering,
11. And We made the day for seeking livelihood.
12. And We made above you seven strong ones,
13. And We made a shining lamp,
14. And We send down from the clouds water pouring forth abundantly,
15. That We may bring forth thereby corn and herbs,
16. And gardens dense and luxuriant.
17. Surely the day of decision is appointed (day):
18. The day on which the trumpet shall be blown so you shall come forth in hosts,
19. And the heaven shall be opened so that it shall be all openings,
20. And the mountains shall be moved off so that they shall remain a mere semblance.
21. Surely the hell-fire lies in wait,
22. A place of resort for the inordinate,
23. Living therein for ages.
24. They shall not taste therein cool nor drink
25. But boiling water and most filthy liquid,
26. Requital corresponding.
27. Surely they feared not the account,

28. And called Our AAYAAT a lie, taking (such clear fact) as lie.
29. And We have recorded everything in a book,
30. So taste! for We will not add to you aught but chastisement.
31. Surely for those who guard (against evil) is achievement,
32. Gardens and vineyards,
33. And voluptuous women of equal age;
34. And a pure cup.
35. They shall not hear therein any vain words nor lying.
36. A reward from your Lord, a gift according to reckoning:
37. The Lord of the heavens and the earth and what is between them, the Beneficent Allah, they shall not be able to address Him.
38. The day on which the spirit and the angels shall stand in ranks; they shall not speak except he whom the Beneficent Allah permits and who speaks the right thing.
39. That is the sure day, so whoever desires may take refuge with his Lord.
40. Surely We have warned you of a chastisement near at hand: the day when man shall see what his two hands have sent before, and the disbeliever shall say: O! if only I were dust!

Surah NABA has two Ruku that have 30 and 10 AAYAAT respectively that also guides attention to the Day of Judgment; it tells that though Allah has provided all set-up for all persons to live-on their lives at the world with convenience yet at AKHIRAT, those only would receive all convenience who prove themselves rightful to it; the disbelievers in the authority of Allah would only receive intense heat, total filth as foods and extreme boiling water; the last AAYAT of the Surah tells explicitly that every disbeliever would be in such agony at AKHIRAT that he would wish to become dust; it states, "surely We have warned you of a chastisement near at hand (at the Day of Judgment)- the day when man shall see what his two hands have sent before (i.e. whatever good or bad he has done)- and the disbeliever shall say- O! if only I were dust (who had never faced this extreme agony)"; the Surah starts by telling remarks of disbelievers that they ask each other about the Day of Judgment; it tells that they would soon be aware (at their deaths when they see the angels that the Judgment is sure to come); one of Ahadith has noted that "the grave is a garden of the gardens of Paradise (JANNAH) or a pit of the pits of hell-fire" (Tirmidhi); Allah knows better this period of pleasure or agony for every dead person and it might vary for each in quality & quantity; certainly Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-3 states that they differ about the Day of Judgment; note that the disbelievers had different views about it as there were persons among them who did not believe in it and there were others who believed it with such concept that when it comes, they are sure to get all pleasures as Allah cares to provide that to them even if they do not care to live by commands of Allah; still others among them believed it with such concept that they have such intercessors who would get their freedom from the hell-fire from Allah, no matter how they live-on at the world and there were others who lived oblivious to it with hypocrisy that it is nothing to be attentive of, and they did not listen to any guidance towards it; in these current times too, there are such persons who have deluded their own selves by taking much wrong concepts about the Day of Judgment; note that Allah has created the jinn and the mankind so that they all worship Him only at all their issues by the free-will He has provided to them; He tells at Surah ZAARIYAAT-56, "And I have created the jinn and the mankind, only that they should serve Me"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next eleven AAYAAT tell about the blessing of Allah upon all of mankind at the world as they read, "have We not made the earth an even expanse (so that it is easy to live upon)? -and the mountains as projections (thereon; so that it assists the gravitational force and the earth does not convulse to shake all persons)? -and We created you in pairs (male & female to live in companionship that leads to peace); and We made your sleep to be rest (so that you may work at ease at the daytime); and We made the night to be a covering (of willful activity to provide total rest to the physique); and We made the day (in general) for seeking (virtuous) livelihood; and We made above you seven (skies that are) strong ones; and We made a shining lamp (i.e. the sun at the nearby sky to provide necessary heat, energy and light to work-on); and We send down from the (nearby) clouds, water pouring forth abundantly; that We may bring forth thereby corn and herbs, and gardens dense and luxuriant (for convenience of all persons in living-on at the world)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next fourteen AAYAAT till the last of Ruku tell about the Day of HASHR (i.e. the Day of Judgment) and how it would be for the disbelievers; they imply that all person must take the heed while the going is good as when the time of life at the world ends, it would cause utmost terrible agony to the disbelievers; these AAYAAT state, "surely the day of decision (the Day of Judgment) is appointed (day which would certainly take place, but only on the time that Allah has set for it); the day on which the (second) trumpet shall be blown so you shall come forth in hosts (according to strength or weakness in belief); and the (nearby) heaven shall be opened so that it shall be all openings (FURQAN-25 says- and on the day when the heaven shall burst asunder with the clouds, and the angels shall be sent down descending-); and the mountains shall be moved off so that they shall remain a mere semblance (HAAQQAH-14 says- and the earth and the mountains are borne away and crushed with a single crushing); surely the hell-fire lies in wait, a place of resort for the inordinate, living therein for ages (and ages); they shall not taste therein cool nor drink (anything soothing) but boiling water and most filthy liquid (that is) requital corresponding; surely they feared not the account (which tells about their deeds that they would see); and called Our AAYAAT a lie, taking (such clear fact that Judgment would take place) as lie; and We have recorded everything in a book (KAHF-49 says- and the book is placed, and you see the guilty fearful of that which is therein as they say 'what kind of book is this that leaves not a small thing nor a great thing but has counted it'); so taste! for We will not add to you aught but chastisement"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the second Ruku tells about the successful persons at AKHIRAT and the whole Ruku except for the last AAYAT, reads, "surely for those who guard (against evil) is achievement, gardens and vineyards; and voluptuous women of equal age (whom they would marry by permission of Allah); and a pure cup (of wine that does not affect the mind adversely); they shall not hear therein any vain words nor lying (as no person would quarrel there and all persons would refrain totally from abusing any of them at that place); a reward from your Lord, a gift according to reckoning; (He is) the Lord of the heavens and the earth and what is between them, the Beneficent Allah, they shall not be able to address Him (as no person would speak there except by the permission of Allah); the day on which the spirit (Gabriel-AS) and (also other of) the angels shall stand in ranks; they shall not speak except he whom the Beneficent Allah permits and who speaks the right thing (so Allah would permit only those who vow for the righteousness of good persons); that is the sure day, so whoever desires may take refuge with his Lord (now at the life here to save himself on that day)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah NAZI'AAT

(Consists of 2 Ruku; MK-10)

1. I swear by the angels who violently pull out the souls of the wicked,
2. And by those who gently draw out the souls of the blessed,
3. And by those who float in space,
4. Then those who are foremost going ahead,
5. Then those who regulate the affair.
6. The day on which the quaking one shall quake,
7. What must happen afterwards shall follow it.

8. Hearts on that day shall palpitate,
9. Their eyes cast down.
10. They say: Shall we indeed be restored to first state?
11. What! when we are rotten bones?
12. They said: That then would be a return occasioning loss.
13. But it shall be only a single cry,
14. When lo! they shall be wakeful.
15. Has not there come to you the story of Musa?
16. When his Lord called upon him in the holy valley, TUWA
17. Go to Pharaoh, surely he has become inordinate.
18. Then say: Have you (a desire) to purify yourself:
19. And I will guide you to your Lord so that you should fear.
20. So he showed him the mighty sign.
21. But he rejected (the Truth) and disobeyed.
22. Then he went back hastily.
23. Then he gathered (men) and called out.
24. Then he said: I am your lord, the most high.
25. So Allah seized him with the punishment of the hereafter and the former life.
26. Most surely there is in this a lesson to him who fears.
27. Are you harder to create or the heaven? He made it.
28. He raised high its height, then put it into a right good state.
29. And He made dark its night and brought out its light.
30. And the earth, He expanded it after that.
31. He brought forth from it its water and its pasturage.
32. And the mountains, He made them firm,
33. A provision for you and for your cattle.
34. But when the great predominating calamity comes;

35. The day on which man shall recollect what he strove after,
36. And the hell-fire shall be made manifest to him who sees
37. Then as for him who is inordinate,
38. And prefers the life of this world,
39. Then surely the hell-fire, that is the abode.
40. And as for him who fears to stand in the presence of his Lord and forbids the soul from low desires,
41. Then surely the garden-- that is the abode.
42. They ask you about the hour, when it will come.
43. Why (ask they)? what hast thou to tell thereof?
44. unto thy Lord belongs (the knowledge of) the term thereof;
45. You are only a warner to him who would fear it.
46. On the day that they see it, it will be as though they had not tarried but the latter part of a day or the early part of it.

Like Surah ZAARIYAAT and Surah MURSALAAT at the last part of the Holy Book Quran, Allah takes oath of angels at the start of Surah NAZI'AAT too that the last day of the world is certain to come and then the Day of the Judgment is also most certain to come; note that at ZAARIYAAT and MURSALAAT, Allah has taken oaths of winds too yet at these initial AAYAAT of NAZI'AAT, His oath relates to angels specifically; these first seven AAYAAT of the Surah state, "I swear by the angels who violently pull out the souls of the wicked (at death which is most painful to them); and by those (angels) who gently draw out the souls of the blessed (which does not give them any pain at death and these both group of angels do their respective tasks according to the command of Allah); and by those (i.e. both groups of these respective angels) who float in space (by the command of Allah, after taking out the soul of the person); then those (i.e. both groups of these respective angels) who are foremost going ahead (by the command of Allah, to the respective places where the souls would go); then those who regulate the affair (by the command of Allah, to settle all of souls to their respective places that are SIJJIN for the wicked and ELIYYEN for the blessed); the day (i.e. of QIYAMAT, the last day of the world, when the angel blows the first trumpet by the command of Allah) on which the quaking one shall quake (that means that the earth would shake most violently and all living creatures on it would die); what must happen afterwards (that means the Day of Judgment as the angel blows the second trumpet by the command of Allah) shall follow it"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT tell that after taking out the soul of some person, the angels who have the soul of the wicked person, transfer it to SIJJIN and the angels who have the soul of the blessed, transfer it to ELIYYEN; these are respective places for the soul of the wicked and for the soul of the blessed and these also are the names of respective books that keep the documents of deeds (at SIJJIN) for the wicked and that keep the documents of deeds (at ELIYYEN) for the blessed; both groups of angels do all tasks swiftly and they do all tasks according to the command of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that there is extreme period of time between QIYAMAT and YAMUL-QIYAMAT (i.e. the Day of Judgment), which only Allah knows though for the mankind, it would be as the first and then the second day as they all would be dead during this extreme period; AAYAAT-8 to 12 relate the position of disbelievers at the Day of Judgment; they state, "hearts on that day shall palpitate; their eyes cast down; they say- shall we indeed be restored to first state? what! when we are rotten bones? they said- that then would be a return occasioning loss"; these AAYAAT tell about them that as they used to deny the coming of the Day of Judgment as they saw only the manifest issues and did not care about the facts inside issues, they would face extreme humiliation at that day; note that these disbelievers who denied the occurrence of Judgment, did understand that if it comes, they would be at extreme loss but even with such understanding, they did not believe in it and these AAYAAT clearly tell the outcome of such disbelief; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next AAYAAT tell that when the Judgment comes, it would be a single cry of such high pitch that would wake and bring all persons to the grounds of HASHR; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAT-15 to AAYAT-26, the last AAYAT of the Ruku, it tells how Allah asked Moses-AS to go to Pharaoh and how Pharaoh reacted to his TABLIGH; these AAYAAT read, "Has not there come to you the story of Musa? when his Lord called upon him in the holy valley TUWA; go to Pharaoh, surely he has become inordinate; then say- have you (a desire) to purify yourself (becoming believer in Allah, the true Lord); and I will guide you to your Lord so that you should fear; so he showed him the mighty sign (that his staff changed into serpent); but he (the Pharaoh) rejected (the Truth) and disobeyed; then he went back hastily; then he gathered (men) and called out; then he said- I am your lord, the most high (he used the word RABB for himself); so Allah seized him with the punishment of the hereafter (AKHIRAT) and the former life (i.e. of the world); most surely there is in this a lesson to him who fears (that if Pharaoh could not remove the punishment from himself at the world and he is unable to do so even at AKHIRAT, how would others remove it from themselves if they disbelieve in the Truth)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that Pharaoh said to the people that he is their RABB but he did not claim that he has anything to do with the creation of the universe as that would have been blatant untruth; this is why Abraham-AS left Nimrod (who also took himself as RABB of his people) dumbfounded by asking him to bring the sun out from the west (see also the note at the thirty-fifth Ruku of Surah BAQARAH); note that RABB of a person means whom he obeys unconditionally taking him the standard for the right manner to lead the life at the world for its improvement ahead; note also that Allah (the only Creator of all creation Who always has all His authority) is the only true RABB (the only true Lord) of all His creation and all do obey Him totally but the jinn and the man have to obey Him by their own freewill for all aspects of life as they also are His slaves, unconditionally; if someone obeys any of men, it would only be so when he commands in accordance with the commands of Allah so such obedience makes him more adherent to the commands of Allah without any challenge to Him in any of principles that He has given to the mankind; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that its use literally is for the owner of something (as the person who is the owner of some specific amounts is named as RABBUL-MAAL) and it also is literally used to denote the owner of some person as his slave and Surah YOUSUF-50 records the statement of Joseph-AS that he said to the person who came to tell him that the king intends to see him; it reads, "he (Joseph) said - return unto your RABB (i.e. the king in the literal sense) and ask him what was the case of the women who cut their hands - my RABB (i.e. Allah, the true Lord) knows their guile"; so this single AAYAT has the term in both the literal sense and in the specific meaning; see also Surah AARAAF-172 which tells that all persons took the oath at the world of spirits to serve Allah as RABB and the first AAYAT of the Holy Book Quran that notes that He only is the true RABB of all worlds that He has created; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this recognition that Allah only is the true RABB, would lead all persons to have TAQWA (that means the attitude of the heart that comes by the true belief upon Allah with both fear and hope towards Him when the person has totally thrown away all the worldly base desires completely); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next seven AAYAAT tell about the mighty authority of Allah and how He has cared for the sustenance of the mankind at the world; these AAYAAT state, "are you harder to create or the heaven? He made it; He raised high its height, then put it into a right good state (by such laws that it remains beneficial to all men at the earth and even to jinn and angels); and He made dark its night and brought out its light (as the light at the earth depends on the sun that is at the sky); and the earth, He expanded it after that; He brought forth from it (at its creation) its water and its pasturage; and the mountains, He made them firm (to strengthen the earth); a provision for you and for your cattle"; Al-Hamdu

Lillah; this detail relates to the time when Allah created the heaven and the earth so from then, the heaven (the nearby sky) contains numerous stars, planets, planetoids, comets, heavenly stones and many other objects, that include extremely huge & extremely small bodies, which are bound to the law of gravitation according to the command of Allah; the extremely huge bodies keep to their orbits without any feasible chance of collision as that would be deadly to the earth even if that occurs far-away to it; and even this heaven nearby to earth is so very vast that the distances are counted by the speed that light travels which is 186000 miles per second (approx. 300000 km/s); and there are stars, the light of which takes several years to come to earth (so we see them at heaven at their position years ago); this detail is for the heaven nearby the earth whereas there are total seven of heavens that are above us; we do have learnt much about the universe but we have learnt nothing; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead till the last of Surah tell about the Day of Judgment and extreme agony inside that the disbelievers would have as they see the hell-fire; they also tell about the peace inside that the true believers in the Truth would have as they find that JANNAH would be their abode; and they also tell about the task that the Prophet PBUH had towards the disbelievers that he had to warn them so that such persons who do fear the torments of that day, come to accepting the Truth; note that the disbelievers used to ask the Prophet PBUH about the Day of Judgment when it would occur to which Allah answered at these AAYAAT that why do they ask the Prophet PBUH about the time it would occur; he has no concern to it and he only has to warn them that it would come; Allah only would judge all peoples of the world at that time while it would seem to disbelievers that the life they had led at the world, is only fraction of this day; note that the Day of Judgment is of 1000 years by count at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last Ruku of ZAARIYAAT also mentions the blessings of Allah how He has provided shelter to all of mankind as He intends total obedience of His commands from all of mankind; there at AAYAT-56, He has told the only true aim of life explicitly, "and I have created the jinn and the mankind, only that they should serve Me"; the mention of only the jinn and the mankind is because Allah has provided freewill to these both only and He asks them to surrender themselves to Him only, by that freewill; they must fulfill the commands of Allah, the true Lord, with total vigor; Al-Hamdu Lillah; now, from AAYAT-34 to AAYAT-45 at NAZI'AAT, the Ruku states, "but when the great predominating calamity (i.e. the Day of Judgment) comes; the day on which man shall recollect what he strove after (at life at the world); and the hell shall be made manifest to him who sees; then as for him who is inordinate (and has lived by challenge to the commands of Allah) and prefers the life of this world (upon the life at AKHIRAT) then surely the hell-fire, that is the abode; and as for him who fears to stand in the presence of his Lord and forbids the soul from low desires (that is lustful desires as it is easier to avoid wealth of the world and status therein for righteous persons yet women may affect them even, adversely), then surely the garden-- that is the abode; they ask you about the hour, when it will come; why (ask they)? what have you to tell thereof? unto your Lord belongs (the knowledge of) the term thereof; you are only a warner to him who would fear it"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah ABAS;

MK-3

(each Surah has one Ruku from here)

1. He frowned and turned (his) back,
2. Because there came to him the blind man.
3. And what would make you know that he would purify himself,
4. Or become reminded so that the reminder should profit him?
5. As for him who considers himself free from need (of you),
6. To him do you address yourself.
7. And no blame is on you if he would not purify himself
8. And as to him who comes to you striving hard,
9. And he fears,
10. From him will you divert yourself.
11. Nay! surely it is an admonishment.
12. So let him who pleases mind it.
13. In honored books,
14. Exalted, purified,
15. In the hands of scribes
16. Noble, virtuous.
17. Cursed be man! how ungrateful is he!
18. Of what thing did He create him?

19. Of a small seed; He created him, then He made him according to a measure,
20. Then (as for) the way-- He has made it easy (for him)
21. Then He causes him to die, then assigns to him a grave,
22. Then when He pleases, He will raise him to life again.
23. Nay; but he has not done what He bade him.
24. Then let man look to his food,
25. That We pour down the water, pouring (it) down in abundance,
26. Then We cleave the earth, cleaving (it) asunder,
27. Then We cause to grow therein the grain,
28. And grapes and clover,
29. And the olive and the palm,
30. And thick gardens,
31. And fruits and herbage
32. A provision for you and for your cattle.
33. But when the deafening cry comes,
34. The day on which a man shall fly from his brother,
35. And his mother and his father,
36. And his spouse and his son--
37. Every man of them shall on that day have an affair which will occupy him.
38. (Many) faces on that day shall be bright,
39. Laughing, joyous.
40. And (many) faces on that day, on them shall be dust,
41. Darkness shall cover them.
42. These are they who are disbelievers, the wicked.

Surah ABAS tells most clearly that the task of the Prophet PBUH is to present the Islamic teachings to all persons but he has no liability to see that anyone of them does come to Islam but in his TABLIGH, he needs to see whom to prefer among his addressee; it consists of one Ruku and each Surah ahead has one Ruku from here till the last of the Holy Book Quran; Al-Hamdu Lillah; there is an event related to the first few AAYAAT of the Surah that insha-Allah we would learn to understand these AAYAAT in better way; it happened that once Muhammad PBUH, the last of Messengers of Allah, was engaged in conveying the message of Islam to some chief of Makkah who was one of the disbelievers; at that very time, the blind Sahabi Ibn-Umm-e-MAKTUM-RA, arrived and asked the Prophet PBUH to give him some guidance by Islam at issues; note that Sahabi means one of companions of the Prophet PBUH and note also that Ibn-Umm-e-MAKTUM was among the staunch believers in Islam; now, as he insisted upon his query whereas the Prophet PBUH was much keen to get the chief towards Islam, he was much disturbed by the blind Sahabi and his face did show his displeasure; he ignored him and went on to provide the message of Islam to the chief there; Ibn-Umm-e-MAKTUM sensed that his interruption has disturbed the Prophet PBUH and left the place; at this, these initial AAYAAT of Surah ABAS descended to the Prophet PBUH which asked him not to ignore any such person who intends to improve himself by Islam in preference to some person who is clearly not interested in accepting Islam, especially if the former is among the poor ones and the latter has immense wealth and also some status among some peoples around; when the Prophet PBUH provides the message of Islam explicitly, his task is done and he would not insist on it to bring any person to Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; keeping to this, the understanding to these AAYAAT is most feasible insha-Allah; AAYAT-1 to AAYAT-12 state, "he (i.e. the Prophet PBUH) frowned and turned (his) back, because there came to him the blind man; and what would make you know that he would purify himself (by learning more about Islam by the Quran); or become reminded so that the reminder should profit him (in his good deeds)? as for him (the disbeliever) who considers himself free from need (of you), to him do you address yourself; and no blame is on you if he would not purify himself (as when the Prophet PBUH has provided the message of Islam, his job is done); and as to him who comes to you striving hard, and he fears, from him will you divert yourself; nay! surely it (i.e. the Quran) is an admonishment; so let him who pleases, mind it"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the four AAYAAT ahead tell about the Holy Book Quran that even if a person among disbelievers, does not accept it, that brings harm to him only and not to the Holy Book Quran; it is so very respectful that it remains as the most authentic of books of Allah in the significant LAUHE-MAHFUZ, the Book where all of significant matters are written; it has been provided to the mankind through Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, and most noble and totally virtuous angels are assigned to care for it; note that all angels are noble, virtuous and most obedient to Allah and the mention here of angels at care for the Quran, is only to mark specifically their good traits too; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-17 to 23 tell about the disbelieving person where he is termed as cursed; note that wherever curse is mentioned upon a person in the Quran, it denotes the disbeliever; these AAYAAT state, "cursed be man (the disbeliever)! how ungrateful is he - (as he disobeys Allah at his life at the world- does he not know) - of what thing did He create him? of a small seed, He created him, then He made him according to a measure (making all his parts in harmony to each other for him to work efficiently), then (as for) the way (for his arrival to the world), He has made it easy (for him); then He causes him to die, then assigns to him a grave (that is again his stay to go ahead though much longer than his stay at the uterus), then when He pleases, He will raise him to life again (to face the Judgment); nay; but he has not done what He bade him"; to understand this last sentence, note that all men have only one aim of life which is to worship Allah only, to keep their attention to Him only and to obey Him truly in all issues of life, unconditionally; Al-Hamdu Lillah; but the disbeliever keeps to his own whims and does not care for commands of Allah so he would be extreme loser at the Day of Judgment as all persons among the mankind have taken the oath only to obey Allah, the true Lord, at the world of spirits; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the nine AAYAAT ahead tell how Allah has cared for the mankind (all of them) for foods so that no person worries about his basic sustenance in any way; there is huge variety of vegetables and of fruits for all persons in plenty because they never cease to grow and only by blunders of men or/and by their insensitive attitude towards fellow-beings, they face scarcity of anything; we read at ZAARIYAAT-58, "surely Allah is He Who Bestows sustenance, the Lord of Power, the Strong", certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah;

from AAYAT-33 to last of the Surah, the Ruku narrates about the Day of Judgment that there would be an ignoring attitude among such persons who had not yet received freedom from the hell-fire; they would be oblivious to their close relatives, rather they would avoid them willfully; these last AAYAAT state, "but when the deafening cry comes; the day on which a man shall fly from his brother, and his mother and his father, and his spouse and his son; every man of them shall on that day have an affair which will occupy him; (many) faces on that day shall be bright, laughing, joyous; and (many) faces on that day, on them shall be dust; darkness shall cover them; these are they who are disbelievers, the wicked"; note that it is most feasible to live remaining most charitable to the needy at the world to get closer to Allah whereas the related persons to the man, may even say that he is certainly foolish in the expenditure of his resources; however, for AKHIRAT, he needs to remain caring to his own self with all his attention to Allah because this is how he would save himself from all commotion that the wrongdoers are most certain to face at that day; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah TAKWIR;

MK-2

1. When the sun is covered,
2. And when the stars darken,
3. And when the mountains are made to pass away,
4. And when the camels are left untended,
5. And when the wild animals are made to go forth,

6. And when the seas are set on fire,
7. And when souls are sorted out (like with like),
8. And when the female infant buried alive is asked
9. For what sin she was killed,
10. And when the books are spread,
11. And when the heaven has its covering removed,
12. And when the hell is kindled up,
13. And when the garden is brought nigh,
14. Every soul shall (then) know what it has prepared.
15. But nay! I swear by the planets,
16. That run their course (and) hide themselves,
17. And the night when it departs,
18. And the morning when it brightens,
19. Most surely it is the Word of an honored messenger,
20. Endued with strength, having an honorable place with the Lord of the Throne,
21. Who is obeyed, and faithful in trust.
22. And your companion is not gone mad.
23. And he had seen the angel on the clear horizon.
24. Nor of the unseen is he a tenacious concealer.
25. Nor is it the word of the cursed Satan,
26. Whither then will you go?
27. It is naught but a reminder for nations,
28. For him among you who pleases to go straight.
29. And you do not please except that Allah please, the Lord of the worlds.

Surah TAKWIR is also one of the earliest Surah to descend on the Prophet PBUH and it also guides attention that Allah is the only true Lord Who has provided the Quran to the Prophet PBUH through the revered angel Gabriel-AS with total security to it as He has set the world in such order that the true guidance remains evident to all peoples; it also presents six of events of the last day of the world as the angel blows the first trumpet by the command of Allah and also six of events of the Day of Judgment as the angel blows the second trumpet; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first six AAYAAT present the six events of the last day as they read, "when the sun is covered (i.e. the sunlight ends); and when the stars darken (i.e. they all lose their lights); and when the mountains are made to pass away (as the Quran has narrated at AAYAT-5 of WAQI'AH; AAYAT-14 of HAAQQAH, AAYAT-9 of MA'ARIJ and at many other places including NAML-88 & TA-HA-105, 106, 107; Al-Hamdu Lillah); and when the camels (that are at their best value) are left untended; and when the wild animals are made to go forth (at cities among men without any trouble to them or to their own-selves); and when the seas are set on fire (which means that Allah would set all of them ablaze)"; just as they end, the next seven AAYAAT present the six events at the Day of Judgment and the additional AAYAT is because they relate the second event in two AAYAAT; then AAYAT-14 tell explicitly that every person would see his due result most clearly; all these eight AAYAAT read, "and when souls are sorted out (at Judgment, like with like; so the good persons getting JANNAH would be at one side and the disbelievers getting hell-fire would be at other); and when the female infant buried alive is asked (her witness to punish those severely who had buried her alive), for what sin she was killed (or was it just their pride which took her life); and when the books (i.e. the documents of deeds of all persons) are spread; and when the heaven has its covering removed (this has been told at different places and among them are NABA-19 which says -'and the heaven shall be opened so that it shall be all openings'-, HAAQQAH-16 & 17 which says -'and the heaven shall cleave asunder, so that on that day it shall be frail; and the angels shall be on the sides thereof'-, FURQAN-25 which says -'and on the day when the heaven shall burst asunder with the clouds, and the angels shall be sent down descending'- see also the first few AAYAAT of the next Surah); and when the hell-fire is kindled up (even more and brought nigh to the disbelievers); and when the garden is brought nigh (to the good persons); (on that day) every soul shall (then) know what it has prepared (for itself to get, whether it is the hell-fire or whether it is JANNAH)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the female child at those times of JAHILIYYAT (extreme ignorance) in Arabia before the advent of Islamic teachings therein, was taken such liability that there were such hard-hearted persons who buried her at infancy; however, there were such good-hearted persons at that period too who used to save them from such extreme injustice; one of such persons who had saved many such female children, had asked the Prophet PBUH if he would get good returns for this which he had done at JAHILIYYAT, to which he had replied that due to this, Allah had given him TOFIQ to accept Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note also that when there is the mention of opening of heaven at the Day of Judgment, the term "heaven" remains in singular which denotes that the sky nearby above the earth, would only be affected whereas the mention of rain also has the term in singular only; this is the heaven that we see and with all its amazing vastness, it is but only the first heaven among the seven of them and certainly, Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead explicitly tell that Allah has given ample protection to the Quran as He has appointed the most revered angel Gabriel to take this most beautiful message to the most appreciated person among the mankind, i.e. His last Messenger Muhammad PBUH; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that when Allah takes oath of something, it is most related to the issue that He presents by that oath and though the Quran is direct in its address to mankind, yet such oaths may provide symbols that are related to the addressed issues; Allah swears by the planets and these are five that are visible to the naked eye which are Mercury and Venus (nearer to the sun than earth) and outer planets that are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn that run their respective courses in their own orbits (at the given area of zodiac at the sky); they also seem to go backwards sometimes as seen from earth but this retrograde motion is relative to earth as they go ahead only, keeping to their respective courses in their orbits; this mention of planets expresses the course that angels take going to & fro from the earth putting commands of Allah upon it according to His direction and when His Messengers were coming to the world, they used to provide the message of Allah to them explicitly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah also swears by the night as it departs and the morning at its arrival which expresses constant change in situation at issues in the world as sometimes it seems that darkness of ignorance to the Truth has taken hold of issues yet then change does come and it manifests for all to see clearly; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that at Surah NAJM too, Allah took the oath of NAJM (the star) at the very first AAYAT there which reads, "I swear by the star (the last one of them as the light dawns) when it goes down (i.e. fades away)"; it tells that the Quran has come to the world through Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, and all other of guidance that He sent before, have faded away as stars vanish from the sight as the sun rises; like Surah TAKWIR here, it also tells that Muhammad PBUH got the Quran from angel Gabriel by the command of Allah whom he had seen couple of times in his angelic form too; also, it tells that the Prophet PBUH did not err in seeing him or in his recognition so when even the disbelievers take him the most truthful person among them, how do they reject his teachings (i.e. the fundamental teachings of Islam) which he provides to them; they undoubtedly need to revise their attitude towards the Prophet PBUH and believe in him most committedly; AAYAAT here too, from 19 ahead to the last of the Surah (except for its very last AAYAT), tell most clearly that Allah, Who has all the true authority, has sent the Holy Book Quran through the most revered angel Gabriel-AS to Muhammad PBUH, the most truthful of all persons and totally committed to provide the message of Allah sincerely without asking any returns from them, to save all persons from torments at AKHIRAT; he tells the matters that are hidden but well-established to take place relating to the future as Allah has told all about them to him, and he is not like soothsayers who ask for material benefits for whatever they tell in which they add many fibs; in addition, the beautiful gift to mankind that he has received from Allah i.e. the Quran, is most explicit in all its teachings without any contradiction therein whereas Allah has protected it so beautifully that the Satan is totally unable to add anything in it or to erase anything from it; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so what idiocy it is of disbelievers to disbelieve in it and take other courses than what it guides to, as it only is the Guidance to the right path; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT state, "most surely it is the Word of an honored messenger (i.e. Gabriel-AS who recites it to Muhammad PBUH so he gets it totally as Allah has told Gabriel- he is) endued with strength, having an honorable place with the Lord of the Throne- who (i.e. Gabriel) is obeyed, and faithful in trust; and your companion (i.e. the Prophet PBUH) is not gone mad; and he had seen the angel (i.e. Gabriel) on the clear horizon; nor of the unseen is he a tenacious concealer (but he provides the message of Allah most explicitly without asking for anything from any person, so that every person takes care to save himself at AKHIRAT); nor is it the word of the cursed Satan (as the cursed Satan is unable to penetrate into its contents in any manner); whither then will you go?- it (the Quran) is naught but a reminder for (all of) nations- for him among you who pleases to go straight (at the right path)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT in this sequence tells that only because of TOFIQ that Allah gives to some person, he/she accepts the Truth as no person is able to take-up the Guidance to the right path for his/her whole life unless Allah wills for it; note that TOFIQ means that Allah provides something good as the reward to some good deeds that the recipient has done before; however, if taken in general, this last AAYAT tells that no person is able to intend even, for anything unless

Allah wills that he intends for it; so it denotes the complete control of Allah over all ongoing matters of the world too which He is taking to righteousness even by whatever the persons at the world are doing as they are unable to intend even, against the will of Allah Who certainly is AZIZ (Mighty) and HAKEEM (Truly Wise); this last AAYAT states, "and you do not please except that Allah please, the Lord of the worlds"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah INFITAAR

MK-11

1. When the heaven becomes cleft asunder,
2. And when the stars become dispersed,
3. And when the seas are made to flow forth,
4. And when the graves are laid open,
5. Every soul shall know what it has sent before and held back.
6. O man! what has beguiled you from your Lord, the Gracious one,
7. Who created you, then made you complete, then made you symmetrical?
8. Into whatever form He pleased He constituted you.
9. Nay! but you give the lie to the judgment day,
10. And most surely there are keepers over you
11. Honorable recorders,
12. They know what you do.
13. Most surely the righteous are in bliss,
14. And most surely the wicked are in burning hell-fire,
15. They shall enter it on the day of judgment.

16. And they shall by no means be absent from it.
17. And what will make you realize what the day of judgment is?
18. Again, what will make you realize what the day of judgment is?
19. The day on which no soul shall control anything for (another) soul; and the command on that day shall be entirely Allah's.

Surah INFITAAR came at Makkah and it is very near to its previous Surah and Surah MURSALAAT, as it also depicts QIYAMAT and the Day of Judgment (i.e. YAUMUL-QIYAMAT) explicitly; the first three AAYAAT present the events after the angel blows the first trumpet, and the fourth that says- "and when the graves are laid open"- tells about the event that would happen as the angel blows the second trumpet; note that Surah TAKWIR has narrated at AAYAT-6 -"and when the seas are set on fire"- after the first trumpet and here, they are mentioned to flow forth after the first trumpet so the sequence seems that they all would flow forth and all waters, salty or sweet, would merge; then Allah would set many of them ablaze by His will at the last day of the world that seems much lengthier than any of ordinary days and certainly Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-5 tells, "every soul shall know what it has sent before and (what it) held back"; this means that every person lives his life by preferences of attitudes so the righteous believers preferred AKHIRAT and sent much of good deeds for it and never leaned towards the worldly benefit when its effect was to diminish the virtues at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; and the disbelievers cared for the world, its wealth and status, even if that affected their respective documents of deeds much adversely; certainly, every soul shall know how he has done at AKHIRAT by preferences he took at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-6 to 8 tell about the blessing of Allah upon each person that He has not only created every person but He also has made every organ in him/her to function according to need and made all of them complementary to each other in his/her physique whereas He made his/her facial features in such manner that he/she remains unique from others for due recognition; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these AAYAAT give the message that all persons need to show gratitude to Allah on this huge blessing, for which they have to practice His commands in their lives at the world and in addition, they have to believe totally that Allah, who has shaped their respective bodies so beautifully with organs to complement each other for different significant works, has total authority to bring them back to life too for the judgment of their doings, after their deaths at the specific Day of Judgment; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-9 tells that even with such observation that clearly leads to believing in Allah, the true Lord, and to believing in the true unending life at AKHIRAT (the first day of which is the Day of Judgment), there are many such persons who deny the coming of that specific day; the next three AAYAAT convey that Allah has appointed most respectable angels to monitor all persons and those angels are well-aware of doings of persons whom they monitor by the command of Allah; this tells that every person ought to know well that he shall never get away with any of wrongs he commits though if he surrenders sincerely to Allah living by His commands, Allah hopefully would pardon him and give him space ahead to show his sincerity; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead till the last of the Surah tell the respective results of the good persons and of the wrong-doers that they would receive at the Day of Judgment; the word used for the Day of Judgment is "YAMUD-DIN" which means the day of results and these AAYAAT read, "most surely the righteous are in bliss (in JANNAH); and most surely the wicked are in burning hell-fire; they shall enter it on the day of Judgment and they shall by no means be absent from it (i.e. even if they intend for it and they would remain in the hell-fire forever); and what will make you realize what the day of Judgment is? again, what will make you realize what the day of Judgment is (when all observation shows that everything in His creation manifests balance in their respective works and there are still such persons who yet disbelieve)? the day on which no soul shall control anything for (another) soul; and the command on that day shall be entirely Allah's"; note that Allah has command over all His creation at all times yet at that time, His command would manifest for all to see so the AAYAT refers to that whereas it denotes the most meek position of the man at the grounds of HASHR; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah MUTAFFIFIN (TATFIF)

MK-12

1. Woe to the defrauders,
2. Who, when they take the measure (of their dues) from men take it fully,
3. But when they measure out to others or weigh out for them, they are deficient.
4. Do not these think that they shall be raised again
5. For a mighty day,
6. The day on which men shall stand before the Lord of the worlds?
7. Nay! most surely the record of the wicked is in the SIJJIN.
8. And what will make you know what the SIJJIN is?
9. It is a written book.
10. Woe on that day to the rejecters,
11. Who give the lie to the day of judgment.
12. And none gives the lie to it but every exceeeder of limits, sinful one
13. When Our AAYAAT are recited to him, he says: Stories of those of yore.
14. Nay! rather, what they used to do has become like rust upon their hearts.
15. Nay! most surely they shall on that day be debarred from their Lord.
16. Then most surely they shall enter the burning hell-fire.

17. Then shall it be said: This is what you gave the lie to.
18. Nay! Most surely the record of the righteous shall be in the ELIYYEN.
19. And what will make you know what the highest ELIYYEN is?
20. It is a written book,
21. Those who are drawn near (to Allah) shall witness it.
22. Most surely the righteous shall be in bliss,
23. On thrones, they shall gaze;
24. You will recognize in their faces the brightness of bliss.
25. They are made to quaff of a pure drink that is sealed (to others).
26. The sealing of it is (with) musk; and for that let the aspirers aspire.
27. And the admixture of it is a water of TASNIM,
28. A fountain from which drink they who are drawn near (to Allah).
29. Surely they who are guilty used to laugh at those who believe.
30. And when they passed by them, they winked at one another.
31. And when they returned to their own followers they returned exulting.
32. And when they saw them, they said: Most surely these are in error;
33. And they were not sent to be keepers over them.
34. So today those who believe shall laugh at the disbelievers;
35. On thrones, they will look.
36. Surely the disbelievers are rewarded as they did.

Surah TATFIF descended of the Prophet PBUH at his last times in Makkah before HIJRAT and it guides to care about the fellow beings in the ordinary business of life; the Surah begins with the direction that all persons must care not to inflict any losses to any of persons at the business transactions; note that Islam is DEEN which provides principles for all in all issues of life to put into their practice with total attention towards Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; its initial AAYAAT state, "woe to the defrauders (who cheat in business transactions); who, when they take the measure (of their dues) from men take it fully but when they measure out to others or weigh out for them, they are deficient (to profit by cheating); do not these think that they shall be raised again for a mighty day (i.e. the Day of Judgment), the day on which men shall stand before the Lord of the worlds?"; we have studied that Allah destroyed the nation of SHOAIB-AS by a deadly earthquake who had one of ills that they used to cheat in measure and weight at their business transactions; AARAAF-85 states, "and to MADIAN (We sent) their brother SHOAIB; he said- O my people - serve Allah, you have no god other than Him; clear proof indeed has come to you from your Lord, therefore give full measure and weight and do not diminish to men their things, and do not make mischief in the land after its reform; this is better for you if you are believers"; note that the mention of business transactions include even the service that a person is employed at, so he shall provide his efficiency to his work with honest attitude; likewise, the employer shall not put additional works on his employee or ask his additional time for work than he has required initially except by mutual consent; also, besides business transactions, the full measure denote to care about the rights of others that they have on the person including especially his relatives, neighbors and all people in touch in the best possible way (but they also need to care for their liabilities towards him and this actually would lead all surroundings to virtuous living); so, note here that these AAYAAT ask virtuous attitudes in all issues of life and they are not limited to business transactions only; these AAYAAT tell the psyche of the wrongdoers who do not care for others, that they have lost the sense of balance in their attitudes so it denotes that they do not truly believe in the Day of Judgment where Allah would weigh all deeds of all persons at the amazing scales there, which would be most efficient and most highly worthy in its work; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead reject the base that they have taken for living their lives at the world as they prefer the assets & the status at the world upon the true success at AKHIRAT; from AAYAT-7 to AAYAT-17, the Ruku reads, "nay! most surely the record of the wicked is in the SIJJIN; and what will make you know what the SIJJIN is?; it is written book (and the place where the spirits of the disbelievers reside after their deaths, with awareness until the period Allah wills); woe on that day to the rejecters, who give the lie to the day of judgment (i.e. they deny it) and none gives the lie to it but every exceeder of limits, sinful one; when Our AAYAAT are recited to him, he says- stories of those of yore; nay! rather, what they used to do has become like rust upon their hearts; nay! most surely they shall on that day be debarred from

(showing their gratitude to) their Lord; then most surely they shall enter the burning hell-fire; then shall it be said- this is what you gave the lie to"; some of things that are mentioned here, ask for some explanatory comments and these are "SIJJIN" and the mention of "rust upon their hearts" and "they shall on that day be debarred from their Lord"; note that after taking out the soul of some person, the angels who have the soul of the wicked person, transfer it to SIJJIN and the angels who have the soul of the blessed, transfer it to ELIYYEN; these are respective places for the soul of the wicked and for the soul of the blessed and these also are the names of respective books that keep the documents of deeds (at SIJJIN) for the wicked and that keep the documents of deeds (at ELIYYEN) for the blessed; both groups of angels do all tasks swiftly and they do all tasks according to the command of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note also that at the death of a person, his/her document of deeds is sealed as then nothing enters into it so when he/she rises from the grave, he/she would get his/her own respective document of deeds at the grounds of HASHR; Al-Hamdu Lillah; however, there is an authentic Hadith that needs attention here as it is related to this subject; the Prophet PBUH said, "when a person dies, his deeds are cut off from him except three, perpetual SADAQAH, knowledge from which benefit is derived and righteous children who pray for him" (Tirmidhi); this Hadith relates to the issue of "EETHALE-THAWAB" (to transfer goodness to the deceased or/and even to the living persons) and it is much misunderstood even at scholarly discussions; it does not mean that the space for the deceased person to gain virtuous deeds continues, rather it means that three things continue to benefit him even after his death and those are the wealth he spent as SADAQAH which had benefitted the needy so he asks Allah for his safety, and the knowledge that he spread by his good words which had benefitted the seekers of the Truth (i.e. fundamental teachings of Islam) so they ask Allah for his safety, and the well-mannered righteous children which he left behind so they ask Allah for his safety and to give him JANNAH (Paradise); note that this does not mean that even now he has any more space to collect any of virtuous deeds but it means that those who have benefitted from him, may ask Allah for his safety and Allah, if He wills, may provide His mercy to him if he, though sinful by some of his deeds, is one of the good believers in the fundamental teachings of Islam; note also that even at AKHIRAT, Allah may give permission to some most virtuous persons to ask Allah for safety of some sinful persons though obviously, the space for those sinful persons to collect any of good deeds has totally ended but they must necessarily be among the true believers in the fundamental teachings of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; about the rust upon the hearts of extreme sinners mentioned at AAYAAT here, note that there is an authentic Hadith which tells that the Prophet PBUH said, "when someone commits a sin, a black dot is marked on his heart; when he abandons it and seeks forgiveness and repents, his heart is cleaned (and spotless), but if he persists and returns (to the sin), then the dots are added till blackness covers his heart" (Tirmidhi); note that the Hadith has also clarified that the best manner to cleanse the heart is to remember death at all times and to read on the Holy Book Quran with high awareness to its most basic contents; Al-Hamdu Lillah; here, AAYAT-15 mentions about the disbelievers that "they shall on that day be debarred from their Lord"; this actually tells that Allah would show some sign about Him at the grounds of HASHR to which the believers would show their gratitude to Him with total obeisance to Him but the disbelievers would be unable to show any gratitude to Him at that crucial time; Surah NOON (AL-QALAM)-42 states about the day of HASHR, "the Day that the shin shall be laid bare, and they (the disbelievers) shall be called upon to make obeisance, but they shall not be able"; note that "the shin shall be laid bare" refers to an attribute of Allah about which no comment is possible; this is just as the Quran has told about the hand of Allah (see MA'EDAH-64) and this is called MUTASHABIH (the meaning of which are not evident to anyone and it is not necessary for him to know that in the understanding of the Quran); no one shall give any final interpretation to such AAYAAT whereas the only right thing for him to say on this is that Allah knows better; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this AAYAT of NOON conveys that those who did not care to remember Allah in their issues at the world, they would be unable to make obeisance there at AKHIRAT whereas the believers would show their total gratitude to Allah; note that the believers would see Allah when they have entered JANNAH as the highest of His blessings to them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAT-18 to AAYAT-28, the Ruku reads, "nay (Allah would not put the believers to any troubles)! most surely the record of the righteous shall be in the ELIYYEN; and what will make you know what the highest ELIYYEN is? it is written book (and the place for the virtuous spirits to reside); those who are drawn near (to Allah) shall witness it; most surely the righteous shall be in bliss (when they enter JANNAH), on thrones, they shall gaze; you will recognize in their faces the brightness of bliss (as faces do represent the situation inside); they are made to quaff of a pure drink (of wine) that is sealed (to others); the sealing of it is musk (and it would be provided to them at JANNAH in beautiful vessels); and for that let the aspirers aspire (as competition shall remain for issues of AKHIRAT rather than for issues of the world); and the admixture of it is water of TASNIM, a fountain (the most clean water of which is specific for most virtuous believers to drink and from it, water would be added to all vessels of the pure drink) from which drink they, who are drawn near (to Allah)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-29 to the last AAYAT of the Surah, the Ruku tells about the disbelievers how they used to mock the virtuous believers at the world and how they ended-up in the most disgraceful situation that made their own selves into stuff to mock; they would have no one to blame at their most extreme disrespect (with the most extreme torment to them) but their own selves when they get the result that they truly deserved; these AAYAAT read, "surely they who are guilty used to laugh at those who believe; and when they passed by them, they winked at one another (because they considered the believers to follow the way of losers); and when they returned to their own followers they returned exulting; and when they saw them, they said- most surely these (the believers) are in error (because they considered that the believers prefer unseen profits of AKHIRAT upon seen profits of the world)-; and they were not sent to be keepers over them (so why do they mock the believers while they need to care about their own selves and mind their own business); so today those who believe shall laugh at the disbelievers (by the permission of Allah, until they balance the mocking attitude which the disbelievers had shown against them at the world); on thrones, they will look (at the situation of disbelievers); surely the disbelievers are rewarded as they did"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah INSHIQAQ

MK-11

1. When the heaven bursts asunder,
2. And obeys its Lord and it must.
3. And when the earth is stretched,
4. And casts forth what is in it and becomes empty,
5. And obeys its Lord and it must.
6. O man! surely you must strive-on to your Lord, a hard striving until you meet Him.
7. Then as to him who is given his book in his right hand,
8. He shall be reckoned with by an easy reckoning,
9. And he shall go back to his people joyful.
10. And as to him who is given his book behind his back,
11. He shall invoke destruction,
12. And enter into the burning hell-fire.
13. Surely he was (erstwhile) joyful among his followers.
14. Surely he thought that he would never return.
15. Yea! surely his Lord does ever watch him.
16. But nay! I swear by the sunset redness,

17. And the night and that which it enshrouds,
18. And the moon when it grows full,
19. That you shall most certainly enter one state after another.
20. But what is the matter with them that they do not believe,
21. And when the Quran is recited to them they do not make obeisance?
22. Nay! those who disbelieve give the lie to the truth.
23. And Allah knows best what they hide,
24. So announce to them a painful punishment;
25. Except those who believe and do good; for them is the reward that shall never be cut off.

Like many other MAKKI Surah at the last of the Holy Book Quran, Surah INSHIQAQ also guides towards AKHIRAT; note that AYAT-48 at the last Ruku of Surah Ibrahim, tells explicitly that the looks of the earth and even the looks of heavens would be changed; the first five AAYAAT of Surah INSHIQAQ tell about this by words that "when the heaven is split asunder; and obeys its Lord and it must; and when the earth is stretched (so it may become stationary at that time); and casts forth what is in it (i.e. the dead and its mineral deposits etc.) and becomes empty; and obeys its Lord and it must"; so there would be some major change at the earth and at heavens for the set-up of that specific day; but the difference in these both AAYAAT is that here, the AAYAT relates heaven in singular whereas IBRAHIM-48 mentions it in plural; note about the AAYAT at Surah

IBRAHIM that it reads, "on the day, when the earth shall be changed into a different earth, and the heavens; and they shall come forth before Allah, the One, the Supreme"; but this AAYAT at Surah IBRAHIM has not mentioned categorically for heavens that 'it shall be changed into different heavens' so this tells that the change at heavens would remain as viewed from the earth at that specific day whereas the earth and the heaven near to it would undergo some specific physical changes according to the will of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah IBRAHIM had come to the Prophet PBUH about 18 months before Surah INSHIQAQ and its last Ruku too, is much related to mentioning of the Day of Judgment; the ten AAYAT ahead from 6 to 15 here, tell that all persons are going on towards meeting Allah, the true Lord, no matter in what pursuit they involve themselves at the world; those who care to live by commands of Allah, they would certainly achieve the true success at AKHIRAT while those who ignore the commands of Allah, they would certainly enter the hell-fire so they would certainly remain at extreme agony; this all is certain to happen; Al-Hamdu Lillah, these AAYAAT read, "O man! (it is your destiny that you remain in some works at the world but whatever the pursuit) surely you must strive-on (i.e. go-on steadily) to your Lord, a hard striving until you meet Him; then as to him who is given his book (his document of deeds) in his right hand, he shall be reckoned with by an easy reckoning (as there would be no scrutiny to his document of deeds) and he shall go back to his people joyful (on his success); and as to him who is given his book behind his back (as many of disbelievers would have their hands tied behind and others of them would put their hands at back in attempt to avoid taking their respective documents), he shall invoke destruction (that he is put to death but his plea would be rejected) and (he would rather) enter into the burning hell-fire; surely he was (erstwhile) joyful among his followers (at the world); surely he thought that he would never return (and went on with his life at the world with ignorance of commands of Allah, the true Lord); yea- surely his Lord does ever watch him (so he has no chance to get safety by speaking lies at AKHIRAT)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at the four AAYAAT ahead from 16 to 19, Allah takes oath on the fact that all persons are going from one state after another and they express that even at the collective level, change is the set phenomenon to life of the man yet the Islamic teachings live-on; these AAYAAT read, "but nay! I swear by the sunset redness (which denotes the verge of ignorance of the teachings of Islam in collective practice after its good involvement at it) and the night (which denotes the period of ignorance to Islam) and that which it enshrouds (i.e. there takes place such ignorance with time which enshrouds the teachings of Islam and there remains no thought to practice Islam collectively), and the moon when it grows full (so even at ignorance to practice Islam in issues, there still remains the true guidance available for men to save themselves; and these oaths are on the statement) that you shall most certainly enter one state after another (as the moon does when it goes on to its peak steadily to show its full moonlight so even at the darkness of ignorance, there would remain the beautiful light to guide to the Truth)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; these four AAYAAT tell that the darkness of ignorance to Islam maybe extreme at the collective level yet the option to take the Guidance to the right path is always available for the persistent seekers of the Truth (i.e. the fundamental teachings of Islam) and with time, each of them himself may become the soothing full moonlight of the true guidance to all peoples of the world, by the will of Allah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAAT of the Surah tell about the extreme lack of foresight of the disbelievers that in the virtuous presence of the Quran even, they are unable to get to the Truth; these last AAYAAT read, "but what is the matter with them that they do not believe (that Islam only is the true guidance to mankind); and when the Quran is recited to them they do not make obeisance? nay! those who disbelieve give the lie to the truth (i.e. they not only show disbelief in their living manner but also deny the teachings of the Quran when its AAYAAT come into their knowledge); and Allah knows best what (hatred for the Truth) they hide (at their insides) so announce to them a painful punishment (at the world and at AKHIRAT), except those who believe and do good; for them is the (most beautiful) reward that shall never be cut off"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah BURUJ

MK-3

1. I swear by the heaven that has mansions of stars,
2. And the promised day,
3. And by witness and by that which is witnessed.
4. Cursed be the makers of the pit,
5. Of the fire (kept burning) with fuel,

6. When they sat by it,
7. And they were witnesses of what they did with the believers.
8. And they did not take vengeance on them for aught except that they believed in Allah, the Mighty, the Praised,
9. Whose is the kingdom of the heavens and the earth; and Allah is Witness of all things.
10. Surely (as for) those who persecute the believing men and the believing women, then do not repent, they shall have the chastisement of hell-fire, and they shall have the chastisement of burning.
11. Surely (as for) those who believe and do good, they shall have gardens beneath which rivers flow, that is the great achievement.
12. Surely the might of your Lord is great.
13. Surely He it is Who originates and restores,
14. And He is the Forgiving, the Loving,
15. Lord of the ARSH, the Glorious,
16. The great Doer of what He will.
17. Has not there come to you the story of the hosts,
18. Of Pharaoh and THAMUD?
19. Nay! those who disbelieve are in (the act of) giving the lie to the truth.
20. And Allah encompasses them on every side.
21. Nay! it is the glorious Quran,
22. In the guarded tablet.

Surah BURUJ implies by the oath that Allah has taken in its first AAYAT, that as the people observe the planets changing their positions with progress of time, going to & fro from constellations formed by stars at the heaven, changes also do occur at the earth around them; change is the set phenomenon to life of the man but Islam does live-on and the ultimate result to wrongs would be extreme punishment to all unjust persons; at the second AAYAT, Allah has taken the oath of the Day of Judgment and this again tells that the ultimate result to wrongs would be extreme punishment to all unjust persons; the third AAYAT tells about the witness (i.e. Friday which witnesses the huge gatherings of Muslims at mosques who gather to show that they are totally humble in front of the authority of Allah, the true Lord) and about that which is witnessed (i.e. the day of ARAFAH, the 9th day of the last lunar month ZIL-HAJJAH which is the most blessed day of the year, at which the Muslims gather at the ground of ARAFAH while performing HAJJ and witness that area which Allah, the true Lord, has blessed much); this denotes that even with all efforts of all wrong persons of the world, the fundamental teachings of Islam would never end rather those wrong persons would ultimately get the most extreme punishment at the world and when the Day of Judgment takes place, they would enter the hell-fire; Allah takes these oaths on the statement that Allah would certainly put His extreme curse on all those who had made or had witnessed willfully the making of the pit (that was an extremely wide ditch) where the true Christians, who were the true believers in Allah, the true Lord, had been burnt by the most unjust disbelievers; this refers to an incident that took place near to the times of the Prophet PBUH and from AAYAT-4 to AAYAT-7, this Surah refers to it; it took place at Yemen about 50 years back from the birth of the Prophet PBUH and its complete awareness was present at Arabia; there had been a Jewish king who had persecuted the true Christians there just because they believed truly in Allah, the true Lord; he had put them into a most wide ditch in which he had ignited a blazing fire and thereby burnt many thousands of them to death; he had called all people at the territory that he governed to witness this heinous event to give the impression that the fundamental teachings of Islam have ended with the death of these true believers; AAYAAT from 8 to 11 read, "and they did not take vengeance on them for aught except that they believed in Allah, the Mighty, the Praised, Whose is the kingdom of the heavens and the earth; and Allah is Witness of all things; surely (as for) those who persecute the believing men and the believing women, then do not repent, they shall have the chastisement of the hell-fire, and they shall have (there) the chastisement of (extreme) burning; surely (as for) those who believe and do good, they shall have gardens beneath which rivers flow, that is the great achievement"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so all such unjust disbelievers would face extreme disgrace at the world and they would see the most tormenting punishment at AKHIRAT; AAYAAT-12 to 16 of the Surah tell about the authority of Allah, "surely the might of your Lord is great; surely He it is Who originates and restores (so He would raise all dead to life at the Day of Judgment); and He is the Forgiving, the Loving; Lord of the ARSH (Throne), the Glorious; the great Doer of what He will"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAAT of the Surah guide attention to historical facts and to the message of Allah that all must see what they indicate and all must believe in the true authority of Allah, the true Lord; these AAYAAT state, "has not there come to you the story of the hosts, of Pharaoh and THAMUD (the mention of these two specifically is because they both seemed to have much strength at their respective abodes and because Allah provided miracles for these both that were respectively the amazing staff which changed to serpent and the amazing she-camel that manifested due to the asking of THAMUD)? nay! those who disbelieve are in (the act of) giving the lie to the truth (even when it becomes most evident to them); and Allah encompasses them on every side (so they are unable to save themselves if He intends to punish them even at the world as He drowned Pharaoh with many of his men and as He destroyed THAMUD by a deadly earthquake); nay! it is the glorious Quran (that provides them the true guidance explicitly), in the guarded tablet (so it is most authentic without any change to it certainly)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah TARIQ

MK-4

1. I swear by the heaven and the comer by night;
2. And what will make you know what the comer by night is?
3. The star of piercing brightness;
4. There is not a soul but over it is a keeper.
5. So let man consider of what he is created:
6. He is created of fluid that gushes forth,
7. Coming from between the back and the ribs.
8. Most surely He is able to return him (to life).

9. On the day when hidden things shall be made manifest,
10. He shall have neither strength nor helper.
11. I swear by the rain-giving heaven,
12. And the earth splitting (with plants);
13. Most surely it is decisive word,
14. And it is no joke.
15. Surely they will make a scheme,
16. And I (too) will make a scheme.
17. So grant the disbelievers respite: let them alone for a while.

Like Surah BURUJ, at the first AAYAT of Surah TARIQ too, Allah takes oath of the heaven; its AAYAAT relate about the physique of the man while AAYAAT ahead of that again relate about the Day of Judgment; the first three AAYAAT read, "I swear by the heaven and the comer by night; and what will make you know what the comer by night is? the star of piercing brightness"; the star mentioned here might be any of the brightest stars in magnitude though it would manifest at specific period then, during the year after the sunset; however, if NAJM does not particularly refer to some star (but to some planet), then it most probably is Venus, the brightest planet in the solar system; being nearer to the sun than earth, it manifests beautifully after the sunset at times or before the sunrise at times and it is termed commonly as the evening star or the morning star respectively; the statement on which Allah has taken oath is mentioned at the fourth AAYAT that "there is not a soul but over it is a keeper"; so as Allah has protected the nearby heaven to earth (by flaming meteoroids), He also has provided protection to men by angels, who also have the task to keep records of the doings of men; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT from 5 to 10 mention how Allah has created the physique of the man and they also tell about the Day of Judgment; they read, "so let man consider of what he is created (so that he does understand that he is worthless if he does not remain attentive to Allah): he is created of fluid (i.e. seminal fluid) that gushes forth, coming from between the back and the ribs; most surely He is able to return him (to life), on the day (when Judgment would take place) when hidden things shall be made manifest (as everyone will have view of results of others); he (the disbeliever) shall have neither strength (to change his result adverse to him) nor helper (who may do it for him as Allah truly has all authority and no one is able to challenge Him)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note about the statement at AAYAT-6 & 7 that "he is created of fluid that gushes forth, coming from between the back and the ribs" that this tells that the formation of seminal fluid relates to all the middle area of the physique (besides scrotum) so the whole physique contributes to the mentioned fluid; these AAYAAT point out that physically the man has no worth and his worth only would come by the development of his spiritual faculty when he is truly attentive to Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last seven AAYAAT of the Surah tell the sobriety of the Holy Book Quran whereas at its first AAYAT, Allah takes the oath of the nearby heaven again from which the rainfall takes place time and again; this expresses explicitly that Allah has not only cared for the physical necessities of mankind but also the spiritual necessity of mankind totally (which is the guidance to the Truth) and it also tells that as the rainfall brings vegetation from inside of earth so it would bring forth the dead from inside of it at the day of HASHR as they come to life again and face the Judgment; these AAYAAT read, "I swear by the rain-giving heaven; and the earth splitting (with plants and vegetables because of rain); most surely it (the Holy Book Quran) is decisive word and it is no joke; surely they will make a scheme (for denial of the Quran), and I (too) will make a scheme (to destroy all their evil plans); so grant the disbelievers respite; let them alone for a while (then they certainly would face the most extreme disgrace at the world and the most extreme torment at the true life at AKHIRAT); Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah AA'LA

MK-2

1. Glorify the name of your Lord, the Most High,
2. Who creates, then makes complete,
3. And Who makes according to a measure, then guides,
4. And Who brings forth herbage,
5. Then makes it dried up, dust-colored.
6. We will make you recite so you shall not forget,
7. Except what Allah pleases, surely He knows the manifest, and what is hidden.
8. And We will make your way smooth to a state of ease.
9. Therefore, do remind, surely reminding does profit.
10. He who fears will mind,
11. And the most unfortunate one will avoid it,

12. Who shall enter the great fire;
13. Then therein he shall neither live nor die.
14. He indeed shall be successful who purifies himself,
15. And magnifies the name of his Lord and prays.
16. Nay! you prefer the life of this world,
17. While the hereafter is better and more lasting.
18. Most surely this is in the earlier scriptures,
19. The scriptures of Ibrahim and Musa.

Surah AA'LA is among those Surah which came to the Prophet PBUH at his earlier period at Makkah; IMAM at Salah read it and Surah GHASIYA (the next Surah) mostly on Friday and on EID in the following of the Prophet PBUH who used to read them much at these Salah; the first AAYAT asks to glorify the name of Allah which actually implies that the true Muslims shall live their lives by the commands of Allah yet it also means that they shall fervently recite His name time and again to glorify Him; due to this, the Muslims recite words at RUKU & SAJDAH in Salah which fulfill this guidance while they glorify Him by the specific words mentioned here particularly at SAJDAH in Salah; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the four AAYAAT ahead tell how Allah has provided refinement to His creation and has provided each of them the guidance to do its respective task; they read, "Who creates, then makes complete (so physically His creation becomes highly competent for its task); and Who makes according to a measure, then guides (so that they fulfill their respective liabilities to do their tasks which Allah has set for them); and Who brings forth herbage then makes it dried up, dust-colored (so that the cattle may benefit from it utmost)"; so Allah created everything, refined it in tangible terms, gave it space to work as He willed and then also provided each of them the awareness of the task that it shall fulfill by His command; AARAAF-54 reads, "surely your Lord is Allah, Who created the heavens and the earth in six periods of time, and He rose firm at ARSH; He throws the veil of night over the day, which it pursues incessantly; and (He created) the sun and the moon and the stars, made subservient by His command; surely His is the creation and the command; blessed is Allah, the Lord of the worlds"; note also that He has provided two of His creatures that are the jinn and the mankind, the freewill to do their task which is that they fulfill His commands by it to the best of ability; Allah tells at ZAARIYAAT-56, "and I have created the jinn and the mankind, only that they should serve Me"; note that all other of His creation is serving His commands without any option to any other approach yet these two have to do the task by their freewill so the AAYAT mentions them only, and Allah would judge their doings at the Day of Judgment; this is the only aim of life of all His creation, which the jinn and the mankind have to fulfill too yet they shall do it by the freewill that He has given to both of them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-6 & 7 tell explicitly that Allah has provided the Quran to the Prophet PBUH and He would surely see that it remains totally secured so he does not have to worry that any change may occur at its text or its meaning may become obscure anywhere; whatever he forgets from the Quran (that means if any command of Allah in it changes in some manner), that only would be due to the direction of Allah; Al-

Hamdu Lillah; Allah states at BAQARAH-106, "whatever AAYAT We abrogate or cause to be forgotten, We bring one better than it or like it; do you not know that Allah has power over all things?"; note that "cause to be forgotten" means that Allah ceases some specific aspect of the command previously given in the Holy Book Quran in coming to practice though the other aspect of it does still come to practice (and its recitation still goes on); also, whatever change in practice Allah causes at some AAYAT at the Holy Book Quran, it relates to some command to practice and not in any matter of the true belief or at narrations or at other matters; see also the note at the thirteenth Ruku of Surah BAQARAH; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah tells the Prophet PBUH at AAYAT-8 that He will make his task of providing the teachings of Islam easy upon him and he must go on providing those teachings to all such persons whom he sees to have the potential to accept them as they do seem to care for the sense of the Truth inside them; these teachings are such which would decide who actually is fortunate (for he is the one who accepts it) and who is not (for he is the one who ignores it without any remorse); the disbeliever to the fundamental Islamic teachings would be at such situation that at the hell-fire, he shall neither live (as there would be nothing worthy to denote the zeal for life) nor die (as death would never ever come there); from AAYAT-14 to the last, the Surah reads, "he indeed shall be successful who purifies himself and (for that he lives by the commands of Allah, the true Lord, and thus) magnifies the name of his Lord and reads Salah (in which too he glorifies the name of the Lord by his recitation and which brings him near to Allah and detaches him from the world); nay (O disbelievers)! you prefer the life of this world while the hereafter is better and more lasting; most surely this (statement which asks to prefer the life at AKHIRAT over the life at the world) is in the earlier scriptures (too), the scriptures of Ibrahim and (of) Musa (Salam on both)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah GHASHIYA

MK-9

1. Has not there come to you the news of the overwhelming calamity?
2. (Some) faces on that day shall be downcast,
3. Laboring, toiling,
4. Entering into burning fire,
5. Made to drink from a boiling spring.
6. They shall have no food but of thorns,
7. Which will neither fatten nor avail against hunger.
8. (Other) faces on that day shall be happy,
9. Well-pleased because of their striving,
10. In a lofty garden,
11. Wherein you shall not hear vain talk.
12. Therein is a fountain flowing,
13. Therein are thrones raised high,
14. And drinking-cups ready placed,
15. And cushions set in a row,
16. And carpets spread out.
17. Will they not then consider the camels, how they are created?
18. And the heaven, how it is reared aloft,

19. And the mountains, how they are firmly fixed,
20. And the earth, how it is made a vast expanse?
21. Therefore, do remind, for you are only reminder.
22. You are not a watcher over them;
23. But whoever turns back and disbelieves,
24. Allah will chastise him with the greatest chastisement.
25. Surely to Us is their turning back,
26. Then surely upon Us is the taking of their account.

Like many of MAKKI Surah, Surah GHASHIYA also relates about the situation of both disbelievers and of true believers at AKHIRAT; it tells that the disbelievers to the Truth would be put into the hell-fire whereas the true believers would receive JANNAH (the beautiful garden); it tells clearly that the disbelievers would drink the boiled water and eat only from a thorny tree (ZAQQUM) while the believers would enter JANNAH where they would be totally happy and would drink purest of water from a beautiful flowing fountain; so they would receive the purest of edibles and of liquids in the most beautiful environment of the most beautiful garden, adorned with the most beautiful carpets; Al-Hamdu Lillah; it also asks for observation to ordinary things around to realize the authority of Allah, the true Lord, as everything that Allah has created, He has created it with set principles; at the last, it tells the Prophet PBUH that he only has to provide the teachings of Islam to all persons and it is not his liability to see that they do accept Islam; if they reject the teachings of Islam, Allah would see that they get what they deserve; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the first seven AAYAAT of the Surah state, "has not there come to you the news of the overwhelming calamity (i.e. the Day of Judgment)? (some) faces on that day shall be downcast (as they would be aware that they are to be put to the hell-fire due to their disbelief); laboring, toiling, entering into burning fire, made to drink from a boiling spring; they shall have no food but of (tree with) thorns, which will (not benefit them as it will) neither fatten nor avail against hunger"; the nine AAYAAT ahead tell the pleasant status of the true believers as they read, "(other) faces on that day shall be happy (as they would be the true believers), well-pleased because of their striving, in a lofty garden, wherein you shall not hear vain talk; therein is a (beautiful) fountain flowing (that has the purest of liquid); therein are thrones raised high and drinking-cups ready placed, and cushions set in a row, and carpets spread out"; compare these AAYAAT with Surah TOOR-24 which reads, "they shall pass therein from one to another a cup, wherein there shall be nothing vain nor any sin", and with Surah DAHR (INSAAN)-17 & 18 which read, "and they shall be made to drink therein a cup the admixture of which shall be ginger (of) a fountain therein which is named SALSABIL"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the four AAYAAT ahead ask for some observation to surroundings to appreciate how beautifully Allah has created everything; note that these AAYAAT especially have a significant appeal to the common Arab person who traveled on the camel, that could travel for many days going without water, in Arabian deserts where there were mountains around and the vast clear sky above; these AAYAAT read, "will they not then consider the camels, how they are created? and the heaven, how it is reared aloft; and the mountains, how they are firmly fixed; and the earth, how it is made a vast expanse?"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last six AAYAAT tell the Prophet PBUH not to worry to improve such disbelievers who do not intend to come to Islam; he would do his work to call them towards its teachings and Allah would punish all such persons who disbelieve in them; these AAYAAT read, "therefore, do remind (by the teachings of the Quran), for you are only reminder (to the recognition inside of every person that Allah only is the true Lord); you are not a watcher over them (especially over those who disbelieve in the teachings of Islam; so leave them after the provision of Islamic teachings to them); but whoever turns back and disbelieves (after he has received the message of the Quran), Allah will chastise him with the greatest chastisement (even at the world); surely to Us is their turning back; then surely upon Us is the taking of their account (at the Day of Judgment); Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah FAJR

MK-2

1. I swear by the daybreak,
2. And the ten nights,
3. And the even and the odd,
4. And the night when it departs.
5. Truly in that there is an oath for those who possess understanding.
6. Have you not considered how your Lord dealt with AAD,
7. (People of) Aram, possessors of lofty buildings,

8. The like of which were not created in (other) cities;
9. And with THAMUD, who hewed out the rocks in the valley,
10. And with Pharaoh, who was related to spikes firmly planted,
11. Who committed inordinacy in the cities,
12. So they made great mischief therein?
13. Therefore your Lord let down upon them a portion of chastisement.
14. Most surely your Lord is watching.
15. And as for man, when his Lord tries him, then treats him with honor and makes him lead an easy life, he says: My Lord honors me.
16. But when He tries him (differently), then straitens to him his means of subsistence, he says: My Lord has disgraced me.
17. Nay! but you do not honor the orphan,
18. Nor do you urge one another to feed the poor,
19. And you eat away the heritage, devouring (everything) indiscriminately,
20. And you love wealth with exceeding love.
21. Nay! when the earth is pounded by heavily pounding,
22. And your Lord comes and (also) the angels in ranks,
23. And hell-fire is made to appear on that day. On that day shall man be mindful, and what shall, being mindful, avail him?
24. He shall say: O! would that I had sent before for my life!
25. But on that day shall no one chastise with (as much severity as) His chastisement,
26. And no one shall bind with (as much severity as) His binding.
27. O soul that art at peace!

28. Return to your Lord, well-pleased (with him), well-pleasing (Him),

29. So enter among My servants,

30. And enter into My garden.

Like Surah BURUJ and Surah TARIQ and few other Surah, Allah takes oath at the beginning of Surah FAJR; He also tells at AAYAT-5 that "truly in that there is an oath for those who possess understanding"; these oaths have been interpreted in different ways but many of commentators at the Quran have related it to specific timing (within ZIL-HAJJAH, the last lunar month), and have taken it to denote the elimination of evil from the world; they all focus on the fact that the word of Allah has always prevailed ultimately even if the evil seemingly had strength at the world; these four initial AAYAAT of the Surah read, "I swear by the daybreak (of the 10th of the last lunar month, when the rituals of Hajj are at peak); and the ten nights (that are the initial 10 nights of the last lunar month); and the even and the odd (i.e. its 10th night and its 9th day which is named as ARAFAH); and the night (after these 10 days) when it departs (eliminating all evil from the surroundings)"; by this interpretation, the last lunar month does have some substantial affinity to remove the evil from the world and note here, that the Quran has provided high significance to two months that are Ramadan (the ninth lunar month when SAUM takes place and which relates to the manifestation of the Holy Book Quran; see also the note at the twenty-third Ruku of BAQARAH) and ZIL-HAJJAH (the last lunar month when HAJJ takes place at Makkah and its adjacent area whereas its most important days are the ninth and the tenth; see also the notes at the twenty-fourth and the twenty-fifth Ruku of BAQARAH); Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead guides attention to those who gathered much strength at their places and built huge buildings as if they have to live-on at the world and they thought that they have become invincible; Allah sent His Messengers to them but they did not take heed and denied the fundamental teachings of Islam; so when they challenged Allah, He destroyed them totally; these AAYAAT read, "have you not considered how your Lord dealt with AAD, (people of) Aram, possessors of lofty buildings (Aram was the name of one of their ancestors and they are also named as the first AAD while THAMUD are also termed as the second AAD), the like of which were not created in (other) cities (because they were most highly skilled in making huge buildings though it not appreciable to make such huge buildings; see Surah SHUA'RAA-123 to 135); and with THAMUD, who hewed out the rocks in the valley (which still stand and provide witness to their skill) and with Pharaoh, who was related to spikes (i.e. pyramids) firmly planted, who committed inordinacy in the cities; so they made great mischief therein (without any fear as they thought at their respective times and places, that no one is able to answer to their injustice)? therefore your Lord let down upon them a portion of chastisement; most surely your Lord is watching (and He truly is Mighty)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead tell about the psyche of such man who has given all attention to the life at the world so when Allah gives him convenience in it by providing him amounts of wealth for his trial, he thinks that Allah has honored him; and when Allah puts him to trial by putting difficulty to him to get even his subsistence, he considers it to be his disgrace; this attitude is because he takes the life at the world as the standard for taking nearness or distance from Allah, the true Lord; but actually caring about the weak persons at the surroundings by spending wealth when available, on them for the pleasure of Allah, tells whether he deserves honor or not; also, he shall not get wealth by usurping it from the rights of others; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that having plenty of assets of the world does not show that Allah is pleased with him but actually his care to AKHIRAT in his deeds with his attention only towards Allah, the true Lord, raises his status; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the Ruku tells ahead from AAYAT-21 about the Day of HASHR (gathering for the Judgment) so that all persons understand that the life at the world is nothing to care for, but the true life ahead for which this life has been given, is totally important; these AAYAAT state, "nay! when the earth is pounded by heavily pounding (so that it eliminates all protruding structures and the earth becomes totally plain); and your Lord comes and (also) the angels in ranks (BAQARAH-210 states that -they do not wait aught but that Allah should come to them in the shadows of the clouds along with the angels, and the matter has been decided; and matters are returned to Allah-); and hell-fire is made to appear on that day (NAZI'AAT-36 states that -and the hell-fire shall be made manifest to him who sees-); on that day shall man (who had spent his life at the world by ignorance of the fundamental teachings of Islam) be mindful and what shall, being mindful, avail him (when the time for examination has passed away)? He shall say: O! would that I had sent before for my life (this true life)! but on that day shall no one chastise with (as much severity as) His chastisement (and repentance then would be to no avail), and no one shall bind with (as much severity as) His binding"; the last AAYAAT tell about the NAFS (soul) at AKHIRAT that is totally at peace; note that there are three types of NAFS which actually is related to physique of the Man as it denotes his desires inside, whereas basically (i.e. at birth) it is LAWWAMA (self-accusing) at all wrongs that a person does (and Surah QIYAMAT mentions it); if it rises to control ROOH (Spirit) of the man with time due to remaining unchecked, it becomes AMMARA (inciting to sins; the one where the physique impresses the Spirit and commands towards wrongs and this was the one that ZELICHA indicated as of hers when she tempted Yusuf-AS; see Surah YOUSUF-53); this type leads to wrongs, with matters getting worse for living of the person except when Allah intends to make things better; if the Spirit of the man rises to make NAFS liable to work under its guidance, that is it keeps NAFS attentive to Allah, then it becomes MUTMA'INNAH (having total peace without any inclination to wrongs) so it gets control of the physique and of all animal instincts inside (and this is the type which Allah would address at the Day of Judgment as is mentioned here at AAYAT-27); Al-Hamdu Lillah; such righteous persons who achieve MUTMA'INNAH, feel peace even at the world and even if they face troubles at the world, their attitude tells that they have no anxiety as they have TAWAKKUL (complete trust on Allah) that makes things better for them; often, these troubles are short-lived and if any person having conceit, is responsible for such troubles, he gets into extreme troubles himself that evidently shows that these conceited persons have troubled some most righteous persons; these last AAYAAT read, "O soul that art at peace! return to your Lord, well-pleased (with Him), well-pleasing (Him); so enter among My (true) servants, and enter into My (beautiful) garden"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah BALAD

MK-4

1. Nay! I swear by this city.
2. And you shall be made free from obligation in this city-
3. And by the begetter and whom he begot.
4. Certainly We have created man to be into struggle.
5. Does he think that no one has power over him?
6. He shall say: I have wasted much wealth.
7. Does he think that no one sees him?
8. Have We not given him two eyes,
9. And a tongue and two lips,
10. And pointed out to him the two conspicuous ways?
11. But he would not attempt the uphill road,
12. And what will make you comprehend what the uphill road is?
13. (It is) the setting free of a slave,
14. Or the giving of food in a day of hunger
15. To an orphan, having relationship,
16. Or to the poor man lying in the dust.

17. Then he is of those who believe and ask one another to show patience, and ask one another to show compassion.

18. These are the people of the right hand.

19. And (as for) those who disbelieve in our AAYAAT, they are the people of the left hand.

20. On them is fire closed over.

Surah BALAD came to the Prophet PBUH when he, with his companions, was facing most difficult times due to extreme hostility against him by the chiefs of Makkah; even at these times, Allah provided him the command to live by the good Islamic morality as at the period at Makkah, the Prophet PBUH had the liability to provide to all persons the fundamental teachings of Islam explicitly and ask all persons to live in the best social manner by the good Islamic morality; note that JEHAD (in the meaning of QITAL i.e. war against the disbelievers) came at Madinah and note also that Islam is DEEN which means that it guides to all issues of life and it is not only a religion; this whole Surah relates to spending amounts of wealth for the pleasure of Allah and it explicitly tells that caring for the needy, whatever possible in whatever situation, is utmost necessary for the good believer who truly intends to save himself from the torments of the hell-fire; the Surah starts by the word "Nay" which denies the thoughts of disbelievers and here it seems to deny their thought that Muhammad (PBUH) is wasting efforts in spreading the teachings of Islam as it only is futile; the four AAYAAT at the beginning state, "nay! I swear by this city (of Makkah); and you shall be made free from obligation in this city (as your efforts in TABLIGH and QITAL would mainly remain based at Madinah and this city too would comply to the teachings of Islam)- and by the begetter (i.e. Adam-AS) and whom he begot (i.e. all his progeny); certainly We have created man to be into struggle (so all his life he has to toil in this task or that, whereas Muhammad PBUH has taken the best of tasks to provide the true guidance to all of mankind, by the command of Allah, the true Lord)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the fourth AAYAT implies that as Allah has created the man into struggle in which he shall remain all his life so he needs to fulfill his true aim of life that is to comply to the commands of Allah in all issues of life as His true servant; the fifth AAYAT tells that every person must remain aware that Allah has all authority and He would put necessary trial to every person at the world whereas He would certainly see the account of deeds of every person at AKHIRAT; the next two AAYAAT tell about the statement of such person who does not follow the commands of Allah in issues of his life and the answer to it respectively; they state, "He shall say- I have wasted much wealth- does he think that no one sees him?"; the answer to his statement means that whatever he has spent, he spent it by his intention for his own pleasure and he did not spend that to get the pleasure of Allah; why is he talking big when all persons spend whatever they have but the thing which leads someone near to Allah is that he spends his wealth for His pleasure; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next three AAYAAT tell about the blessings of Allah upon all persons that when they were weak, Allah cared for their survival in all manner which asks them that they care for all weak persons when they do have some resources for that; these AAYAAT state, "have We not given him two eyes and a tongue and two lips and pointed out to him the two conspicuous ways (i.e. the breasts of the mother so that he sucks milk with total ease for his survival)?"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; now, AAYAAT from 11 to 18 elaborate that to spend amounts on the weak for the pleasure of Allah, is praiseworthy and not every expenditure; they read, "but he would not attempt the uphill road (i.e. the difficult thing to do for the pleasure of Allah); and what will make you comprehend what the uphill road is? (it is) the setting free of a slave (or to provide freedom to such confined person who has been put into trial unjustly), or the giving of food in a day of hunger (with scarcity of edibles) to an orphan having relationship (i.e. he is relative to him), or to the poor man lying in the dust (having nothing for his sustenance); then he is of those who believe and ask one another (especially the needy when he is not much able to provide him edibles) to show patience, and ask one another (especially to well-off persons around to help out the needy when he himself provides them whatever possible for him) to show compassion; these are the people of the right hand (as they would receive their respective documents of deeds in their right hands)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last two AAYAAT of the Surah provide the fact about the other type of persons who do not have any inclination to care for the weak in the surroundings; these AAYAAT read, "and (as for) those who disbelieve in our AAYAAT, they are the people of the left hand (as they would receive their respective documents of deeds at their left hands); on them is fire closed over (so that the heat remains inside the surrounding and the temperature rises to its utmost)"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah SHAMS

MK-3

1. I swear by the sun and its brilliance,
2. And the moon when it follows the sun,
3. And the day when it shows it,
4. And the night when it draws a veil over it,
5. And the heaven and its structure,
6. And the earth and its expanse,
7. And the soul and the proportion given to it,
8. Then He inspired it to be aware of right and wrong for it;
9. He will indeed be successful who purifies it,
10. And he will indeed fail who corrupts it.
11. THAMUD gave the lie (to the truth) in their inordinacy,
12. When the most unfortunate of them broke forth with
13. So Allah's apostle said to them (Leave alone) Allah's she-camel, and (give) her (to) drink.
14. But they called him a liar and slaughtered her, therefore their Lord crushed them for their sin and leveled them (with ground).
15. And He fears not its consequence.

Surah SHAMS is also one of those Surah where Allah takes oaths in the beginning as He has taken in the previous couple of Surah and the couple of Surah ahead; the first ten AAYAAT of the Surah state, "I swear by the sun and its brilliance (when it shines fully at the day-time) and the moon when it follows the sun (that happens at its fourteenth night when it rises just after sunset and is at its full brilliance) and the day when it shows it (i.e. shows the sun at its full brilliance) and the night when it draws a veil over it (i.e. draws a veil over the sun so there is darkness all around, of high nature, so that all persons may rest in it); and the heaven and its (wonderful) structure, and the earth and its (wide) expanse, and the soul (NAFS) and the (balanced) proportion given to it; then He inspired it to be aware of right and wrong for it; he will indeed be successful who purifies it (as living right by the commands of Allah, would lead him to JANNAH); and he will indeed fail who corrupts it (as living wrong with ignorance of the commands of Allah, would lead him to hell-fire)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the NAFS (soul) mentioned here relates to its position at birth which is LAWWAMA (self-accusing) at all wrongs that a person does (see the note at Surah QIYAMAT) and it actually is part of the physique; it must not be confused with ROOH (spirit) which belongs to AALAME-AMR (the world of Command) and recognizes Allah as the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note also that the oaths that are taken on some statement have specific connection to that statement and here the statement for these oaths is "he will indeed be successful who purifies it and he will indeed fail who corrupts it"; so when Allah has taken oaths of His creation which He has provided wonderful excellence, then He intends that the soul which he has made for the man, he keeps it to that excellence by accepting Allah as the true Lord, even if he needs to ask Allah for His mercy time & again on mistakes that he commits time and again; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead provide the example from history, of THAMUD that was the nation of SALEH-AS; they disregarded the fundamental teachings of Islam that SALEH provided to them and one of their evil persons stood to kill the respectable she-camel that Allah has provided to them miraculously on their request; SALEH had categorically told them not to stop it from drinking any amounts of water on its day for it, but they ignored his direction and killed it brutally; upon this, Allah punished them all severely except for SALEH and the believers with him; AARAAF-77, 78 & 79 state, "so they slew the she-camel and revolted against their Lord's commandment, and they said- O SALEH - bring us what you threatened us with, if you are one of the apostles; then the earthquake overtook them, so they became motionless bodies in their abode; then he turned away from them and said- O my people! I did certainly deliver to you the message of my Lord, and I gave you good advice, but you do not love those who give good advice"; the last AAYAT of Surah SHAMS tells explicitly that Allah did not fear any adverse consequence of putting them to such extreme punishment because He decides in total just way and no person, whatever strength he has (and that even is given to him by Allah), is able to challenge Him; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah LAYL

MK-2

1. I swear by the night when it draws a veil,
2. And the day when it shines in brightness,
3. And the creating of the male and the female,
4. Your striving is most surely (directed to) various (ends).
5. Then as for him who gives away and guards (against evil),
6. And accepts the virtuous thing,
7. We will facilitate for him the easy end.
8. And as for him who is niggardly and considers himself free from need (to remain attentive to Allah),
9. And rejects the virtuous thing,
10. We will facilitate for him the difficult end.
11. And his wealth will not avail him when he perishes.
12. Surely Ours is it to show the way,
13. And most surely Ours is the hereafter and the former.
14. Therefore I warn you of the hell-fire that flames:
15. None shall enter it but extremely unhappy,
16. Who gives the lie (to the truth) and turns (his) back.
17. And away from it shall be kept the one who guards most (against evil),
18. Who gives away his wealth, purifying himself
19. And no one has with him any boon for which he should be rewarded,
20. Except the seeking of the pleasure of his Lord, the Most High.
21. And he shall soon be well-pleased.

Surah LAYL provides the message that as there is difference in the darkness of night and the brightness of day, and as there is difference in the mankind, male and female, so there is difference in the living manner of all persons too; however, the main difference among them is that some do such tasks with righteous belief which lead them to JANNAH and the other of them do such tasks which lead them to the hell-fire; AAYAAT-5, 6 & 7 tell about the three worthy tasks of righteous persons, "then as for him who gives away (to the needy from his wealth and guides all persons in issues by the Islamic teachings if he is capable) and guards (against evil in his belief, with all attention to fulfill the commands of Allah); and accepts the virtuous thing (in some issue which is related to Islam to practice as someone puts it in front of him), We will facilitate for him the easy end (i.e. Allah would lead him to convenience at the world and to JANNAH at AKHIRAT)"; so the true believer shall develop these three qualities as best as he can by all his efforts; in contrast, AAYAAT-8, 9 & 10 tell about the three unworthy tasks of wrong persons, that are opposite to the three worthy tasks of righteous persons, "and as for him who is niggardly (and does not help the needy even with resources available to him) and considers himself free from the need (to remain attentive to Allah with complete ignorance to fulfill His commands), and rejects the virtuous thing (in some issue which is related to Islam to practice as someone puts it in front of him), We will facilitate for him the difficult end (i.e. Allah would lead him to troubles at the world and to the hell-fire at AKHIRAT)"; so both categories would get their respective results according to their doings at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-11 tells that when troubles get the wrong person at the world, and when he is put at the hell-fire at AKHIRAT, his wealth would be completely useless; AAYAAT ahead tell about the ultimate status of both categories at the true life of AKHIRAT; "surely (the liability of) Ours is it to show the way (so Allah has provided the true guidance to the mankind at different times, after Adam-AS came to earth, by sending His sacred scriptures and His holy Messengers to the world); and most surely Ours is the hereafter (i.e. AKHIRAT) and the former (i.e. the world, so Allah would judge all persons according to their doings most justly as their liability is to fulfill the commands of Allah, the true Lord); therefore, I warn you of the hell-fire that flames: none shall enter it but extremely unhappy, who gives the lie (to the truth) and turns (his) back (to the virtuous teachings); and away from it shall be kept the one who guards most (against evil, living in compliance to the commands of Allah), who gives away his wealth, purifying himself, and no one has with him any boon for which he should be rewarded (so this provision to needy is not by any motive) except the seeking of the pleasure of his Lord, the Most High; and he shall soon be well-pleased"; so at these AAYAAT, Allah states the worthy qualities of the righteous person again whereas here there is elaboration to AAYAT-6 which reads, "and (he) accepts the virtuous thing" at AAYAT-19 as it tells that whenever opportunity asks to provide assistance to the needy, he provides that only for the sake of getting the pleasure of Allah; the last AAYAT of the Surah implies that Allah would provide the righteous person, total convenience at the world and highest of good returns at AKHIRAT so he shall certainly be well-pleased; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah DHUHA

MK-2

1. I swear by the early hours of the day,
2. And the night when it covers with darkness.
3. Your Lord has not forsaken you, nor has He become displeased,
4. And surely what comes after is better for you than that which has gone before.
5. And soon will your Lord give you so that you shall be well pleased.
6. Did He not find you an orphan and did give you shelter?
7. And find you lost and did guide?
8. And find you in want and did make you to be free from want?
9. Therefore, as for the orphan, do not oppress.
10. And as for him who asks, do not chide,
11. And as for the favor of your Lord, do announce.

Surah DHUHA descended to the Prophet PBUH at his early period at Makkah to provide much comfort to him; there was such time at the beginning of WAHI (revelation of the Quran) that it ceased to come for a while and that caused the Prophet PBUH some worry; it had ceased at that time for about 8 months or so (after the first revelation of the first five AAYAAT of Surah ALAQ and some AAYAAT of Surah QALAM), when seven initial AAYAAT of Surah MUDHDHATHIR descended; then came the first Ruku of Surah MUZZAMMIL and with these, Allah asked him to take up the task of spreading the fundamental teachings of Islam and so He appointed him as His last Messenger to all peoples of the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; however, as he worried if Allah is displeased with him on something that he is not aware of, Allah revealed Surah DHUHA where He explicitly told him by taking oaths of the daylight and the dark night that "your Lord has not forsaken you, nor has He become displeased" (AAYAT-3); the oaths denote that as Allah has decided for the coming of the day and the night alternately, the cessation of WAHI for some while does not mean that He has abandoned the Prophet PBUH or is displeased with him; on the contrary, O Prophet PBUH! He would provide you with the highest of honor at the world whereas AKHIRAT certainly is even better for you; do not worry ever that Allah will abandon you or will be displeased with you as He always took care for you at adverse times; at AAYAAT 6, 7 & 8, Allah tells how He took care for him, "did He not find you an orphan (at birth) and give you shelter (by providing care from near relatives)? and find you lost (that is, unaware of the Islamic teachings) and guide? and find you in want and make you to be free from want (as to live by sustenance is enough for the good person, and that even he takes as having wealth, who intends to fulfill his obligations that Allah has put upon him)?"; note that the father of the Prophet PBUH had died before he was born and as his mother also died when he was six, his near relatives took care to his well-being including his grandfather and his paternal uncle; the phrase "find you lost" refers to the time when the Prophet PBUH was totally weary of the disbelief of his people and was intensely searching for the Truth; Surah SHURA-52 & 53 (that are its last couple of AAYAAT) state, "and thus did We reveal to you an inspired book by Our command; you did not know what the Book was, nor (what) the belief (was), but We made it a light, guiding thereby whom We please of Our servants; and most surely you show the way to the right path, the path of Allah, Whose is whatsoever is in the heavens and whatsoever is in the earth; now surely to Allah do all affairs eventually come"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; and "find you in want" refers to that time at the very beginning of his preaching at Makkah, where he left all works for the task to spread the teachings of Islam as Allah had commanded him, and with time, he did get much convenience in getting his necessary sustenance; generally, commentators on TAFSIR for this AAYAT state that it refers to the wealth that Khadija-RA, the first wife of the Prophet PBUH, put at his charge; however, the better comment is that he did get his sustenance at the time when he put himself totally to the task of spreading the teachings of Islam as Allah had commanded him; so Allah granted him both spiritual and physical benefits and He only is the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the next three AAYAAT ask him to remember the situation he has gone through and to provide improvement to the situation of those who are passing through the same; these AAYAAT read, "therefore, as for the orphan, do not oppress (but provide him the support and even the love that he has not found yet); and as for him who asks (for the true guidance), do not chide (but do guide him to that); and as for the favor of your Lord (that he has given enough amounts to you O Prophet PBUH for your sustenance), do announce (i.e. spend on the needy whatever is possible, openly)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah ALAM-NASHRAH (INSHIRAH)

MK-2

1. Have We not expanded for you your breast,
2. And taken off from you your burden,
3. Which pressed heavily upon your back,
4. And exalted for you your esteem?
5. Surely with difficulty is ease.
6. With difficulty is surely ease.
7. So when you are free, still toil.
8. And to your Lord, turn all your attention.

Surah INSHIRAH provides soothing effect to the Prophet PBUH like the previous Surah to it and they both came at Makkah, the same year; Allah provided him the awareness of the right path when he used to worry so much about the moral deterioration of his people at Arabia, which used to become unbearable to him at times; not only this but Allah chose him as His last Messenger too and gave all peoples of the world the Holy Book Quran through him so he did get the utmost recognition in all peoples, as the foremost teacher of it to all of them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this Surah tells him that even if he feels sad on the adverse remarks of the people to whom he provides the true guidance by the teachings of Islam without any selfish motive, there would ultimately occur much convenience by the will of Allah, after he bears the hardship to improve all peoples in the way of Allah; so it tells that to achieve spiritual prominence, there would occur

some physical inconvenience that he shall bear with patience; this did happen as about whole of Arabia had come to Islam when he departed from the world and the message of Islam was spreading even beyond it; the last couple of AAYAAT of this Surah ask him to strive even more to remember Allah whenever he gets the spare time (especially by Salah at nights) and remain like all times, totally attentive to Him; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah TEEN

MK-3

1. I swear by the fig and the olive,
2. And mount Sinai,
3. And this city made secure,
4. Certainly We created man in the best make.
5. Then We render him the lowest of the low.
6. Except those who believe and do good, so they shall have a reward never to be cut off.
7. Then who can give you the lie after (this) about the judgment?
8. Is not Allah the best of judges?

Surah TEEN tells that the best among the mankind were the Messengers of Allah and they are mentioned by reference to their locations which is denoted by the fruits, by the mountain and by the security of the location respectively; at the first AAYAT, Allah takes the oath of fig and olive which denotes the location of Noah-AS as that had the trees of fig

there and where his ark landed, it had trees of olive nearby; at the second AAYAT, mount Sinai refers to Moses-AS who received Torah there; and the secured city mentioned is Makkah, the native city of the Prophet PBUH, where KA'BAH is located; note that Surah TEEN descended on him at the early period of Makkah and note also that there is gap of 2000 years between the arrival of Adam-AS to the earth and the time when Noah-AS became the Messenger of Allah; similarly, there is gap of 2000 years between the time when Noah became the Messenger of Allah up-to Moses-AS, whereas there is gap of 2000 years between Moses and Muhammad PBUH; all Messengers of Allah had worked hard to bring the people to accepting the fundamental teachings of Islam and these three are most prominent among them who put the highest of efforts to their task for many years; these fundamental teachings of Islam are TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord); AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment); RISALAT (Allah sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path); Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah tells from AAYAT-4 to AAYAT-6 that Allah has created man in the best make which means that He has provided him ROOH (spirit) which has the recognition of Allah, the true Lord, whereas AAYAT-5 tells that Allah has also provided him the physique which needs foods, water and other things; if he does not keep check on it by the teachings of Islam, he becomes unworthy person by falling into wrongs; but those who care about the beauty of spirit by compliance to the commands of Allah, they shall have the most beautiful reward that would never be cut off; so there are such person who care for the physique and relate themselves to its pleasures at the world, whereas there are such persons too who care for the spirit and relate themselves to its purity at AKHIRAT; this needs the judgment to provide the best of rewards to those who put their efforts to get the pleasure of Allah by keeping purity to the spirit by the true belief and the righteous deeds according to it; the last couple of AAYAAT of this Surah read, "then who can give you the lie after (this) about the judgment?; is not Allah the best of judges?"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah ALAQ

MK-1

1. Read in the name of your Lord Who created.
2. He created man from a clot.
3. Read and your Lord is Most Honorable,
4. Who taught (to write) with the pen
5. Taught man what he knew not.
6. Nay! man is most surely inordinate,
7. That he sees himself free from want.
8. Surely to your Lord is the return.
9. Have you seen him who forbids?
10. The servant (of Allah) when he prays?
11. Have you considered, if he were on the right path
12. Or enjoined guarding (against evil)?
13. Have you considered if he gives the lie to the truth and turns (his) back?
14. Does he not know that Allah does see?

15. Nay! if he desists not, We would certainly smite his forehead,
16. A lying, sinful forehead.
17. Then let him summon his council,
18. We too would summon the braves of the army.
19. Nay! obey him not, and make obeisance and draw nigh (to Allah).

Surah ALAQ has the first of WAHI (revelation from Allah) to the Prophet PBUH as the angel Gabriel-AS brought to him its first five AAYAAT at the cave of Hira where he used to retire for solitude from all wrongs of his people; the angel embraced him for three times and asked him after each of them to read; he replied that he is unable to read (as he was unlettered) but then the angel recited these five AAYAAT and he learnt them; the term "IQRA" (Read) does tell that to teach needs to learn beforehand and as Muhammad PBUH was to become the greatest of teachers of the Holy Book Quran, he learnt it from Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; he was near to 40 years then and this incident affected him so much that he returned immediately to home; he told his wife Khadija-RA about this incident and showed some fear; she assured him that Allah will never disgrace him as he keeps good relations with near ones, helps the poor and the destitute, serves his guests generously and assists the deserving persons that are afflicted by troubles; Khadija then accompanied him to her cousin WARAQA Ibn NAUFAL; during the period of JAHILLIYAT (period of ignorance of the fundamental teachings of Islam before the Prophet

PBUH commenced his TABLIGH for Islam), he had become a Christian and used to write from the Gospel in Hebrew as much as Allah wished him to write; he was an old man and had lost his eyesight; Khadija said to him, "Listen to the story of your nephew, O my cousin!" WARQA asked, "O my nephew! What have you seen?" Allah's Apostle described whatever he had seen so he said that this is the same one who keeps the secrets (angel Gabriel) whom Allah had sent to Moses; he wished then that he could live up to the time when his people would turn him out, to support him; Allah's Apostle asked, "Will they drive me out?" WARQA replied in the affirmative but he died after a few days and WAHI also paused for a while; this first WAHI has the beautiful message that relates to knowledge of the Truth, "read in the name of your Lord Who created (all of creation); He created man from a clot (i.e. ALAQ that attaches to the uterus where it gets all its sustenance; and He provided him with faculties to learn functions to live-on); read and your Lord is Most Honorable, Who taught (to write) with the pen (and this is applicable even to the indicator of the keyboard at the monitor while using the computer); He taught man (i.e. the mankind) what he knew not"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the phrase 'what he knew not' denotes "the virtuous living manner by the good Islamic morality" and with that, it also denotes the laws at the universe that are most complementary to that virtuous living manner, only if the man cares to live with that virtuous living manner with total attention towards Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the three AAYAAT ahead in the Surah state about such person who inclines to the world, that even with all he needs, he still is ready to take more to himself; these AAYAAT read; "nay! man is most surely inordinate that he sees himself free from want; surely to your Lord is the return"; so he needs to care for the fellow-beings and remember that if he has some authority at the world, he still has to give the account of all he has done at the world and no one is totally independent; certainly Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah; from AAYAT-9, the Surah tells about such character who himself is against the teachings of Islam and asks others too to avoid even listening to them; those who accept it, he tries his best to stop such persons to practice it but Allah explicitly states here that such evil character would see extreme troubles at the world and face utmost torments at AKHIRAT; note that these AAYAAT tell about ABU-JAHL who had extreme enmity to Islam and he tried by highest of efforts to stop the Prophet PBUH from practicing and spreading the teachings of Islam at Makkah; once he even tried to put his foot on the neck of the Prophet PBUH when he was in prostration to Allah at Salah at KA'BAH but Allah stopped him as he advanced towards him, from the fulfillment of his evil intention; all such bad characters, who do not accept Islamic teachings and stop others too to accept it and put it into practice, they all ask for such wrath of Allah that is mentioned here at these AAYAAT; they read, "have you seen him who forbids the servant (of Allah) when he prays? have you considered, if he (the righteous servant of Allah) were on the right path or enjoined guarding (against evil)? have you considered if he (the wrong person who has the evil character) gives the lie to the truth and turns (his) back? does he not know that Allah does see (all which he does in enmity to Islam)? nay! if he desists not, We would certainly smite his forehead (i.e. his whole physique), a lying, sinful forehead; then let him summon his council; We too would summon the braves of the army (of angels)"; note that ABU-JAHL was killed at the battle of BADR that took place in the second year of HIJRAH and his head was chopped off then from his body; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Surah tells the Prophet PBUH not to worry about the negative efforts of evil persons against him but go on showing complete submission to Allah and by that, get all His pleasure at the world and at AKHIRAT that is the true life of all of mankind; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah QADR

MK-3

1. Surely We revealed it on the grand night.
2. And what will make you comprehend what is the grand night
3. The grand night is better than a thousand months.
4. The angels and ROOH (i.e. the most esteemed angel Gabriel-AS) descend in it by the permission of their Lord for every affair,
5. Peace! it is till the break of the morning.

Surah QADR relates about the night that is named as AL-QADR (which M.H. SHAKIR has translated as the grand night) because Allah provides His rulings for times ahead to angels; note that the term QADR denotes issues of destiny and this splendid night occurs in the holy month of RAMADHAN; though it is taken as any of odd nights at the last ten nights of RAMADHAN yet it maybe any of them as the twenty-fourth night of it is also mentioned as probable; AAYAAT at the beginning of Surah DUKHAN read, "HAMIM! I swear by the Book that makes manifest (the Truth); surely We revealed it on a blessed night; surely We are ever warning; therein every wise affair is made distinct which is command from Us; surely We are the senders (of apostles and this is) mercy from your Lord, surely He is the Hearing, the Knowing"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah QADR reads, "surely We revealed it on the grand night; and what will make you comprehend what is the grand night; the grand night is better than a thousand months (as Allah provides His mercy in this single night that is even more than in a thousand months to all persons who repent on their wrongs); the angels and ROOH (i.e. the most esteemed angel Gabriel-AS with all of them) descend in it by the permission of their Lord for every affair; peace! it is till the break of the morning"; note that the Surah has mentioned that Allah has sent it down at LAYLATUL-QADR (the grand night that relates to predestination); so the matter seems that Allah began to record the revelation of the Quran on that significant night at LAUHE-MAHFUZ i.e. the Secured Written Tablet, the book of Allah which is especially related to predestination; He sent it in stages to Muhammad PBUH (the last of His Messengers) by the most respectable angel JIBRAEL (i.e. Gabriel) as the true guidance to mankind (and to jinn) as He willed so it is the relevant guidance according to events and the relevant guidance in general to what the people needed to live their lives upon the Islamic teachings; Al-Hamdu Lillah; all good works need good times for them to manifest their utmost BARAKAH and so Allah chose the best of times that was that significant night of RAMADHAN when He began to provide the Holy Book Quran to LAUHE-MAHFUZ; note that when some good thing brings the most good results by it then it is mentioned as having "BARAKAH" for that so when the good rain falls upon the good land, it brings its crops well upon the surface so it has "BARAKAH" for that good land; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah provided the Quran to Muhammad PBUH for nearly 23 lunar years and LAUHE-MAHFUZ saved that text of the Quran as he got it; so with the completion of its text at the world, it was saved there too in total by text; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah BAYYINAH

H-6

1. Those who disbelieved from among the followers of the Book and the polytheists could not have left (their disbelief) until there had come to them the clear evidence:
2. An apostle from Allah, reciting pure scriptures,
3. Wherein are all the right ordinances.
4. And those who were given the Book did not become divided except after clear evidence had come to them.
5. And they were not enjoined anything except that they should serve Allah, being sincere to Him in obedience, upright, and keep up prayer and pay the poor-rate, and that is the right religion.

6. Surely those who disbelieve from among the followers of the Book and the polytheists shall be in the fire of hell, abiding therein; they are the worst of men.

7. (As for) those who believe and do good, surely they are the -best of men.

8. Their reward with their Lord is gardens of perpetuity beneath which rivers flow, abiding therein forever; Allah is well pleased with them and they are well pleased with Him; that is for him who fears his Lord.

Surah BAYYINAH states at the beginning that the darkness of disbelief in Allah had spread to such extreme that all disbelievers were living most oblivious to the right path so Allah sent the clear evidence i.e. He sent Muhammad PBUH, His last Messenger, who recited to all persons the right teachings of the pure scriptures that Allah had previously given (i.e. the fundamental teachings of Islam that were present at the previous holy scriptures too, which the Holy Book Quran tells most explicitly), in which are all of His right ordinances (and which the Holy Book Quran tells most explicitly); Al-Hamdu Lillah; BAYYINAH denotes the distinct reasoning (the clear evidence as translated here) to get to the true belief in Allah, the true Lord, and in the judgment at AKHIRAT, by the observation of the previous guidance that Allah had provided to all peoples by His Messengers especially those who had received the scriptures from Allah; so this single term asks all peoples to believe in all the fundamental teachings of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that this Surah and the next one came at Madinah and their placement is between many of the Surah that came at Makkah as they also mostly relate to asking of attention towards AKHIRAT; the fourth & fifth AAYAAT here tell, "and those who were given the Book (i.e. the Jews and the Christians who were guided by Torah) did not become divided except after clear evidence (that Allah gave them in Torah) had come to them; and they were not enjoined anything except that they should serve Allah, being sincere to Him in obedience, upright, and keep up prayer and pay the poor-rate, and that is the right religion"; this tells that they involved themselves in useless discussions inclining towards the detail of everything that Allah commanded them; they were only ordered to worship Allah, the true Lord, with total belief in AKHIRAT accepting all of BAYYINAH & with total compliance to Him; this compliance included to remain committed to performing of SALAH (that would keep them attentive to Allah with care to work for AKHIRAT) and to remain committed to paying of ZAKAH (that would keep them away from any attention to achievement of wealth & of status at the world); Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that we have read at BAQARAH-153, "O you who believe- seek assistance through patience (SABR that includes all attitudes which denote disinterest to the world) and prayer (SALAH); surely Allah is with the patient"; read also the note at the fifth Ruku of Surah BAQARAH which also tells as is mentioned here that Allah had asked the Bani-Israel too, "and seek assistance through patience and prayer, and most surely it is a hard thing except for the humble ones" (AAYAT-45); Al-Hamdu Lillah; so Allah sent BAYYINAH so that they get the true guidance for their belief and for their practice by it but they took the attitude of ignorance to it by falling into most useless discussions about it; this also warns the Muslims not to fall into such discussions about the true belief, and about all the virtuous practice, in Islam that causes them to drift away from the right path; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-6 and 7 of this Surah tell about the ultimate outcome, of the doings of the disbelievers and of the doings of the true believers, respectively; they read, "surely those who disbelieve from among the followers of the Book and the polytheists shall be in the fire of hell, abiding therein; they are the worst of men; (as for) those who believe and do good, surely they are the best of men"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT of the Surah, further gives the good tidings about the pleasure of the true believers, "their reward with their Lord is gardens of perpetuity beneath which rivers flow, abiding therein forever; (and the highest of rewards for them is that) Allah is well pleased with them and they are well pleased with Him; that is for him who fears his Lord"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah ZILZAAL

H-4

1. When the earth is shaken with her (violent) shaking,
2. And the earth brings forth her burdens,
3. And man says: What has befallen her?
4. On that day she shall tell her news,
5. Because your Lord had inspired her.

6. On that day men shall come forth in scattered groups that they may be shown their works.

7. So, he who has done an atom's weight of good shall see it

8. And he who has done an atom's weight of evil shall see it.

Surah ZILZAL narrates that the earth would bring out all dead persons inside it (and they all would come to life) and whatever that it has inside of it due to the tremendous earthquake, at the Day of Judgment; all persons that lived at the world at any time & place, would come to life, even if their bodies were drowned or burnt, as the earth would produce all of them at the Day of Judgment; note that this narration relates to the Day of Judgment when Allah would give it such ability even, that if asked, it would tell the news of every such thing which has happened on it at any time and at any place so that would surprise such persons who remained disbelievers in Allah at the world or had utmost weakness in the belief in Allah, that they had; this ability might not necessarily manifest by speech but it might come at fore by some other manner as Allah wills; note that Surah HAJJ begins by relating about the earthquake at the last day of the world i.e. QAYAMAT (and which often is mentioned as the Hour in the Quran) so Surah HAJJ tell about the earthquake that occurs at the last day of the world whereas here the earthquake mentioned is at the Day of Judgment when all persons would be raised from the dead as is clear by the text; Al-Hamdu Lillah; every person would come at the ground of HASHR in groups according to doings so each group would especially relate to some specific doing;

on that day, at the ground of HASHR, every person would see all of his/her doings, major or minor, at the world most obvious in front of him/her; KAHF-49 states, "and the Book shall be placed, then you will see the guilty fearing from what is in it, and they will say- Ah- woe to us- what a book is this- it does not omit a small one nor a great one, but numbers them (all); and what they had done they shall find present (there); and your Lord does not deal unjustly with anyone"; so that would be the day of results and all of righteous persons would receive this honor too that they would see Allah when they enter JANNAAT, the most beautiful gardens that would be eternal as wonderful reward to the true believers; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah AA'DIYAAT

MK-2

1. I swear by the runners breathing, panting,
2. Then those that produce fire striking,
3. Then those that make raids at morn,
4. Then thereby raise dust,
5. Then thereby penetrate upon assembly:
6. Most surely, the man is most ungrateful to his Lord.
7. And most surely he is a witness of that.
8. And most surely he is tenacious in the love of wealth.
9. Does he not then know when what is in the graves is raised,
10. And what is in the breasts is made apparent?
11. Most surely their Lord that day shall be fully aware of them.

Like few of previous Surah, AA'DIYAAT also starts by continuous oaths that Allah takes and these Surah include SAAFFAAT, ZAARIYAAT, MURSALAAT and NAZI'AAT; we all have studied the last three of these Surah at this last part and have noted that Allah may take the oath of any of His creation by His will though the authentic Ahadith has commanded the Muslims to take the oath of Allah only on good deeds; note also that He does not need to take oaths to present His statements yet He takes them according to the statement that He presents so in this manner, He provides strength to them; Al-Hamdu Lillah; at the five beginning AAYAAT of this Surah, Allah has taken oaths of different attributes of horses, "I swear by the runners (i.e. horses that run extremely fast) breathing, panting, then (they become) those that produce fire (sparks by) striking (upon the earth as they run extremely fast), then (they become) those that make raids at morn (as was the custom in Arabia at that time), then thereby raise dust (charging ahead towards the enemy), then thereby penetrate upon (their) assembly"; AAYAAT do not mention horses yet the mentioned attributes suggest them clearly as they had these where the war took place among the people at those times; AAYAT-6 presents the statement on which Allah takes these oaths that reads, "most surely, the man (who does not thank Allah on His blessings) is most ungrateful to his Lord"; note that there is comparison of the ungrateful person to horses that, when are given their foods & water with affection, expose themselves to utmost danger at the gesture of their master against his foe; but many of men are not even prepared to thank Allah for whatever He has done for them; He certainly is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT-7 & 8 state the psyche of such person, "and most surely he is a witness of that; and most surely he is tenacious in the love of wealth"; this tells his attitude to remain so obsessed with the pleasures of the world that even when he sees how much Allah has cared for all persons at the world by providing them ease at getting their necessities, he does not show any gratitude towards Him; the last three AAYAAT state about the Day of Judgment, where he would be an extreme loser, "does he not then know when what is in the graves is raised (i.e. all the dead would be raised to life) and what is in the breasts is made apparent (so all persons there would see openly how much belief each of other persons had, at their insides at the world)? most surely, their Lord that day shall be fully aware of them (i.e. He would inspect their documents of deeds most critically on that day)"; note that one of Ahadith at Bukhari reports that the Prophet PBUH said, "whoever will be called to account (critically about his deeds on the Day of Resurrection) will surely be punished." Ayesha-RA, his beloved wife, guided his attention to the AAYAT of INSHIQAQ-8 where Allah says -he shall be reckoned with an easy reckoning (so the words here may denote some scrutiny of document of deeds even of the righteous person)-; the Prophet PBUH replied, "this means only the presentation of the account but whoever will be argued about his account, he will certainly be ruined"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah QARI'AH

MK-3

1. The terrible calamity!
2. What is the terrible calamity!
3. And what will make you realize what the terrible calamity is?
4. The day on which men shall be as scattered moths,
5. And the mountains shall be as loosened wool.
6. Then as for him whose measure of good deeds is heavy,
7. He shall live pleasant life.
8. And as for him whose measure of good deeds is light,
9. His abode shall be the abyss.
10. And what will make you know what it is?
11. A burning fire.

Surah QARI'AH starts by mentioning the terrible calamity and elucidating that it would take place at the Day of Resurrection when the quantity of all men shall be such that they would seem as scattered moths; and the mountains would fly about as loosened wool; note that the first six AAYAAT of Surah WAQI'AH read, "when the great event comes to pass; there is no belying its coming to pass; abasing

(one party), exalting (the other); when the earth shall be shaken with a (severe) shaking; and the mountains shall be made to crumble with (an awful) crumbling; so that they shall be as scattered dust (as if they are loosened wool)"; this tells about the last day of the world and the words "abasing (one party), exalting (the other)" tell that this day would lead to the Day of Judgment that would abase the disbelievers and that would lead the righteous persons to highest of honor; the Quran takes the matter of the last day of the world (QIYAMAT) and the first day of AKHIRAT (that is the Day of Judgment) at places by such relation that the latter occurs just after QIYAMAT; this is because all of mankind is dead at QIYAMAT whereas all of mankind regain life (and awareness) at the Day of Judgment though there is an extensive period of time between these two; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT ahead tell, "then as for him whose measure of good deeds is heavy, he shall live pleasant life; and as for him whose measure of good deeds is light, his abode shall be the abyss"; note that at the Day of Judgment, besides giving of the documents of deeds to all persons, the scales would be brought that would weigh the belief and deeds of all persons; so they would be such scales that would be able to weigh even the belief of any person; if the scales show favorable result by being heavy, such person would attain the salvation; and if the scales show unfavorable result by being light, they would be such persons who have put the most heavy loss upon themselves as their attitude to the AAYAAT of Allah was most unjust in their worldly lives; and there would be such extreme wrong persons too for whom no scales would be provided; Surah KAHF mentions that "those whose effort go astray in the life of the world, and yet they reckon that they do good work; these are they who disbelieve in the AAYAAT of their Lord and His meeting, so their deeds become null, and therefore We will not set up a balance for them on the day of resurrection" (KAHF-104 & 105); the last couple of AYAAT of the Surah elucidate what "abyss" is as they read, "and what will make you know what it is?- (it is) a burning fire"; certainly, all that the Quran tells, would totally happen in the same manner; and certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah TAKATHUR

MK-3

1. Rivalry for abundance diverts you,
2. Until you come to the graves.
3. Nay! you shall soon know,
4. Nay! Nay! you shall soon know.
5. Nay! if you had known with certain knowledge,
6. That you shall most certainly see the hell-fire;
7. Then you shall most certainly see it with the eye of certainty;
8. Then on that day you shall most certainly be questioned about the boons.

Surah TAKATHUR tells about the psyche of those persons who have attached themselves to get the wealth, status and fame at the world with the consideration that this attachment would prove that they are among the successful persons; this becomes such obsession to them with time that they go on living with this attachment competing with all persons, until they reach near to death; note that the Quran does not ask for any competition for issues of the life at the world anywhere but it does ask to hasten towards all good deeds that keep the righteous person firm on the right path for the salvation at AKHIRAT; one of examples for this statement is AAYAT-133 at AALE-IMRAN that tells, "and hasten to forgiveness from your Lord and the Garden, the extensiveness of which is (as) the heavens and the earth, it is prepared for those who have TAQWA to Allah"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; one of Ahadith of the Prophet PBUH has pointed out the negative psyche of such persons who attach themselves totally to gains of the world, by words that "if the son of Adam had one valley full of gold, even then he would crave for a second; nothing can fill his stomach but dust (of the grave) and Allah cares for one who repents" (Tirmidhi); note that this Surah is explicit on the point that actual success only relates to getting the pleasure of Allah as that gives wonderful peace both at the world and at AKHIRAT; AAYAAT 5, 6 & 7 imply that though such persons who are attached to the world, would see the hell-fire most certainly (at AKHIRAT) yet it would have been better for them if they could have got the awareness about it here at the world; these AAYAAT read, "nay! if you had known (at the world) with certain knowledge that you shall most certainly see the hell-fire (it would have affected attitudes positively); then you shall most certainly see it with the eye of certainty (at AKHIRAT)"; the last AAYAT clearly states that they would have to present account for all they had achieved at the world with all their efforts, how did they achieve those and how did they spend those; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah ASR

MK-2

1. I swear by the time,
2. Most surely man is in loss,
3. Except those who believe and do good, and enjoin on each other righteousness, and enjoin on each other patience.

Surah ASR is brief in volume, as it consists of three AAYAAT only, but it tells the mankind the only manner for success; Allah swears by the time that is fast running out for every person as all persons are going towards death; all persons are certainly in extreme trouble as every person has to make utmost effort to attain the pleasure of Allah in this limited time that has been allotted to him/her; this only is the true aim of life and this only would prove the validity for every person to get JANNAH (the most beautiful garden where he/she would remain totally at peace forever); Al-Hamdu Lillah; the last AAYAT tells the only manner for success that those only would remain safe from the extreme loss at AKHIRAT who believe in Allah truly and do all good deeds that Allah has commanded them; note about the belief mentioned here, that it means to believe in the fundamental teachings of Islam that are TAUHID (Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord); AKHIRAT (Allah would judge all peoples of the world at the Day of Judgment); RISALAT (Allah sent His Messengers to the world to provide the Guidance to the right path); Al-Hamdu Lillah; and as for doing all good deeds, note that basically the Muslim person has to remain totally attentive to Allah and has to remain totally disinterested in gathering wealth at the world as this righteous preference in attitude insha-Allah would lead him ultimately to set his deeds to attainment of the true success at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah; this last AAYAT of Surah ASR also mentions for those who remain safe from the extreme loss that they "enjoin on each other the righteousness (i.e. to care for each other by assets of the world that they have, which may show their total gratitude to Allah), and enjoin on each other patience (i.e. SABR to bear the trying situation of not getting even the required sustenance)"; so whatever the position, the Muslim person needs to show the virtuous attitude of remaining attentive to Allah and of remaining disinterested in wealth of the world; this attitude among the Muslims, is necessary to consolidate the doing of good deeds so their mention here is for the completion of good deeds as absence of TABLIGH may lead the surroundings to wrongs by doings of the Satan; Surah TEEN-4 to its last read, "certainly We created man in the best make; then We render him the lowest of the low; except those who believe and do good, so they shall have a reward never to be cut off; then who can give you the lie after (this) about the judgment? is not Allah the best of judges?"; if the Muslims discontinue TABLIGH, it may gradually result into change in preferences at the surroundings which may cause much hardship for the true Muslims to fulfill their obligations; they shall always care for AKHIRAT with their total attention towards Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah HUMAZA

MK-4

1. Woe to every slanderer, defamer,
2. Who amasses wealth and considers it a provision (against all troubles he may face);
3. He thinks that his wealth will make him immortal.
4. Nay! he shall most certainly be hurled into the crushing disaster,
5. And what will make you realize what the crushing disaster is?
6. It is the fire kindled by Allah,
7. Which rises above the hearts.
8. Surely it shall be closed over upon them,
9. In extended columns.

Like Surah TAKATHUR, Surah HUMAZA also denotes displeasure at giving undue attention to the world; it also tells the psyche of those persons who have attached themselves to get the wealth, status and fame at the world with the consideration that this attachment would prove that they are among the successful persons; this becomes such obsession to them with time that they go on living with this attachment competing with all persons, until they reach near to death; note that the Quran does not ask for any competition for issues of the worldly life anywhere but it does ask to hasten towards all good deeds that keep the righteous person firm on the right path for the salvation at AKHIRAT; note also that in Islam, it is not feasible to degrade any other Muslim by calling him bad names and to belittle him; this negative psyche to degrade other Muslims often occurs when someone is attentive to gathering of much assets or/and status at the world and does get them to some notable extent where he thinks that he has proven himself worthy of significance; Surah HUIJURAAAT-10, 11 & 12 state explicitly, "O you who believe! let not (one) folk laugh at (another) folk perchance they may be better than they, nor let women (laugh) at (other) women, perchance they may be better than they; and do not find fault with your own people nor call one another by nicknames; evil is (to address by) name of lewdness after (having true) belief, and whoever does not turn, these it is that are the unjust; O you who believe! avoid most of suspicion, for surely suspicion in some cases is sin, and do not spy nor let some of you backbite others; does one of you like to eat the flesh of his dead brother? but you abhor it; and be careful of (your duty to) Allah, surely Allah is Oft-returning (to mercy), Merciful"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAAT from 4 to the last at this Surah, refute this thinking that the gathering of assets of the world ensures safety from troubles as they read, "nay (this thinking that wealth of the world provides safety from all troubles, is erroneous)! he shall most certainly be hurled into the crushing disaster, and what will make you realize what the crushing disaster is? it is the fire kindled by Allah, which rises above the hearts (as fire also has kinds and this one would penetrate inside sharply); surely it shall be closed over upon them, in extended columns (so being close system, it would heat the surroundings to extreme temperature)"; may Allah save all true Muslims from inclining towards the world in any undue manner and give all of them TOFIQ to care most sincerely for the true life which is at AKHIRAT; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah FEEL

MK-3

1. Have you not considered how your Lord dealt with the possessors of the elephant?
2. Did He not cause their war to end in confusion,
3. And send down (to prey) upon them birds in flocks,
4. Casting against them stones of baked clay,
5. So He rendered them like straw eaten up?

Note that FEEL in Arabic means "elephant" and Surah FEEL guides attention towards an incident that occurred very near to the birth of the Prophet PBUH; there are such comments even on it that put it in the same year when the Prophet PBUH was born though it is probable that it occurred a year or two before; note that the ruler of Yemen at that time by the name of ABRAHA, constructed some building at some area of his rule for which he asked all persons around to visit as a holy place leaving KA'BAH at Makkah; note also that even then, KA'BAH was taken holy by tribes and all tribes had the respective idol they worshipped, inside it; however, he got no response to his call and that infuriated him while it also happened that someone put some filth there at the building that he had constructed, against which he vowed to take revenge by demolishing KA'BAH; he took an army with thousands of men that even had few of elephants (in which one was highly prominent) and marched towards Makkah; note that the use of elephants in the army was new to Arabia; his army marched on destroying any challenging tribe that came on its way and when it reached near KA'BAH at MEHSAR, it camped there; the chiefs of Makkah sent them the message that they do not intend to fight them, with the warning that Allah would protect His house; note that though they worshipped idols yet they had the notion that Allah is the Creator of all the universe and He runs that; ABRAHA ignored the warning and marched towards it the next day; it happened that there came hundreds of birds (that are named commonly as ABABIL which also means flocks) from nowhere and these birds though small, were most unique in looks; they had pebbles in their beaks and in their claws, that they just left over that army; they acted like bullets to the men and the elephants and had such amazing potential energy that they even though small, were enough to render the whole army useless; this incident became so well-known at Arabia that the timing of any incident was related by taking the "year of the elephant" as basis then; Surah FEEL reads, "have you not considered how your Lord dealt with the possessors of the elephant? did He not cause their war to end in confusion (by sudden loss of direction in planning) and send down (to prey) upon them birds in flocks, casting against them stones of baked clay (the term SIJJIL for baked clay came to Arabic from Persian); so He rendered them like straw eaten up (by the cattle)?"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah QURAYSH

MK-3

1. For the protection of the QURAYSH-
2. Their protection during their trading caravans in the winter and the summer-
3. So let them serve the Lord of this House,
4. Who feeds them against hunger and gives them security against fear.

Surah QURAYSH, that was associated most closely to Surah FEEL at ancient times, tells the residents at Makkah that it is because of KA'BAH that they all are given respect as all tribes take KA'BAH as most respectable (where each one had placed its respective idol to worship); so as they dwell at Makkah, this placement has given them high protection even at times when caravans are looted frequently; note that QURAYSH meant the peoples that gathered at one place to become a tribe and note also that Makkah did not accommodate the growth of crops so its residents had to rely on trade for them; the Surah tells that they do see that their trading caravans go freely towards Yemen in the winter and towards Syria in the summer without any fear of plunder; they need to serve Allah only Who is the true Lord of KA'BAH as this righteous belief only would truly defend them from all calamities; Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; as they reside at Makkah, Allah has given them convenience to live without the pangs of hunger and have secured them against fear of any looter that may take away their assets or even their lives when they are at the trading caravans; Surah QURAYSH reads, "for the protection of the QURAYSH; their protection during their trading caravans in the winter and the summer; so let them serve the Lord of this House (KA'BAH), Who feeds them against hunger and gives them security against fear"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah MAA'UN

MK-3

1. Have you considered him who calls the judgment a lie?
  2. That is the one who treats the orphan with harshness,
  3. And does not urge (others) to feed the poor.
  4. So woe unto such readers of SALAH,
  5. Who are unmindful of their SALAH (remembrance to Allah),
  6. Who do (good) to be seen,
  7. And withhold the necessities of life.

Surah MAA'UN explicitly tells that those who do not truly believe in the Day of Judgment, they often treat all weak persons hard-heartedly; not only this but such person who is among these, his psyche turns to such immorality that he does not even urge others to care for the weak (because if he does that, others would ask him to take the initiative as he has so much to spare); the Surah tells that these persons who seemingly are good persons, who seem to care about Allah by His remembrance much, they forget that the true remembrance of Allah asks that they worship Him only without taking any other as the true Lord; then it also asks for charitable nature that cares for the weak to the utmost so they actually do not fulfill any of demands of their remembrance (termed as their SALAH here); note that this Surah came to the Prophet PBUH at the third year of his period at Makkah where SALAH had not taken its usual shape to remember Allah and here it means the manner in which those persons whom the people of that time took as good persons, used to remember Allah; this remembrance was in presence of their disbelief in the Day of Judgment and even with the worship of idols that was wide-spread at those times, so it certainly had no concern to virtuousness; however, note here that this Surah tells even the good Muslims that remembrance of Allah even with care for TAUHID, does ask for charitable character too and they must see to all of weak persons (orphan; needy; deprived) at surroundings; note that TAUHID means that "Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so this Surah tells about the seemingly good persons that they have to see to virtues truly; Surah MAA'UN reads, "have you considered him who calls the judgment a lie (so he actually is one of disbelievers)? that is the one who treats the orphan with harshness and does not urge (even others) to feed the poor (as he is one of the most hard-hearted persons); so woe unto such readers of SALAH, who are unmindful of their SALAH (remembrance to Allah); who do (good) to be seen (so that the persons around may praise them); and withhold the necessities of life (even such petty things that persons often borrow from each other casually)"; Allah knows about all which they have inside them and that would undoubtedly come at fore at the Day of Judgment; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah KAUTHAR

MK-3

1. Surely We have given you KAUTHAR,
2. Therefore pray to your Lord and make a sacrifice.
3. Surely your enemy is the one who shall be without posterity

Surah KAUTHAR is the smallest Surah in volume at the Holy Book Quran and it relates that Allah has given the Prophet PBUH all of virtuousness at the world and at AKHIRAT; note that KAUTHAR means abundance of all good things and it also is the name of the beautiful fountain at JANNAH that Allah would especially provide to Muhammad PBUH, the last of His Messengers; so Allah has given him KAUTHAR at the world (i.e. the Holy Book Quran, the teaching of which would always give him the highest of fame) and KAUTHAR at

AKHIRAT (i.e. the beautiful fountain, from where he would provide waters to all virtuous persons of his UMMAH at JANNAH); Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah asks the Prophet PBUH to read SALAH for his Lord and make sacrifice; though the term NAHR that occurs here to denote sacrifice means to slaughter camels in the name of Allah, it implies that the Prophet PBUH shall always remain attentive to Allah and shall sacrifice any inclination to grandeur that the world presents; I, MSD, would quote from the note at the last Ruku of Surah AN'AAM where AAYAT-162 asks the Prophet PBUH, "say- my worship and my sacrifice and my living and my dying are (all) for Allah, Lord of the worlds"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; in the Surah that descended at Makkah, Allah does advise the Prophet PBUH to say such statements individually that relate to all Muslims too in general and that the Muslim person would easily deduct by some observation; at the Surah that descended at Madinah, Allah provides the commands even directly to Muslims; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-162 tells that the belief and the deeds of the Prophet PBUH were totally based on the attention towards Allah, the true Lord; this in brief, is the introduction to Islam as SALAH and NUSUK (sacrifice) keep the Muslim person steadfast at the right path of Islam; Al-Hamdu Lillah; we have learnt this important teaching of the Quran at BAQARAH-153 (Ruku-19) where the AAYAT says, "O you who believe; seek assistance through SABR (patience) and SALAH (prayer); surely Allah is with the patient"; the term NUSUK at AAYAT-162 (Surah AN'AAM) is related to SABR (as NAHR also does relate to SABR at Surah KAUTHAR); by these, the Muslim person would surely prove that Allah has no partner; He only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the person must recognize Him only as the true Lord (RABB) and do according to His commands; he has to answer for his belief and his deeds at the Day of Judgment at the grounds of HASHR which would be established at this very earth; all persons would return to their true Lord and then Allah, their true Lord, would judge everything amongst all of the peoples there; it is for that Day that Allah has provided this life at the world and settled peoples one after another; He has given status to some over some as that is how He asks their test at the world by whatever status and possession He has provided to the peoples; they must see well what they strive for because He, the true Lord, certainly is swift in providing the punishment and He certainly is Most Forgiving and Most Merciful; Al-Hamdu Lillah; for the last AAYAT of Surah KAUTHAR, note that there were such chiefs among disbelievers at Makkah, who mentioned that as Muhammad (PBUH) has no son so his name would not live-on after his death; Allah answers them that it would be they who would not be remembered by any good name but the coming peoples would always remember Muhammad PBUH, the last Messenger of Allah, by the most respectable terms; this Allah has decreed and so this would take place for certain; Surah KAUTHAR reads, "(O Muhammad PBUH)- surely We have given you KAUTHAR; therefore, pray to your Lord and make sacrifice; surely your enemy is the one who shall be without posterity"; certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah KAAFIRUN

MK-3

1. Say: O disbelievers!
2. I do not serve that which you serve,
3. Nor do you serve Him Whom I serve:
4. Nor am I going to serve that which you serve,
5. Nor are you going to serve Him Whom I serve:
6. You shall have your way to live and I shall have my way to live.

Surah KAAFIRUN is the answer to those disbelievers who had suggested that the Prophet PBUH and the disbelievers strike an agreement between them that sometimes they would worship Allah and sometimes the Prophet PBUH come to their side to worship their way; Surah KAAFIRUN explicitly rejects this extremely preposterous suggestion where Allah commands the Prophet PBUH to tell the disbelievers in clearest of terms that he does not serve whom they take worthy of worship and they do not serve Allah, the true Lord; this situation would stay even in the future as to worship Allah means to worship Him only as the true Lord; there is no one equal to Him in any manner for certain as AAYAT-11 of Surah SHURA states clearly, "(Allah is) the Originator of the heavens and the earth; He made mates for you from among yourselves, and mates of the cattle too, multiplying you thereby; nothing is like likeness of Him; and He is the Hearing, the Seeing"; the Muslims believe in Allah keeping to TAUHID which means that "Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; so the Prophet PBUH gave the best answer to the suggestion of the disbelievers, by the command of Allah that "you shall have your way to live and I shall have my way to live"; the whole Surah KAAFIRUN reads, "(O Muhammad PBUH)- say- O disbelievers! I do not serve that which you serve, nor do you serve Him Whom I serve; nor am I going to serve that which you serve, nor are you going to serve Him Whom I serve; you shall have your way to live and I shall have my way to live"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah NASR

MK-2

1. When there comes the help of Allah and the victory,
2. And you see men entering the right path of Allah in companies,
3. Then celebrate the praise of your Lord, and ask for His forgiveness; surely He is oft-returning (to mercy).

Like Surah ASR and Surah KAUTHAR, Surah NASR also consists of 3 AAYAT and it gives the good tidings that such time would come in the life of the Prophet PBUH that he would see the help from Allah coming for the spread of Islam so he would see that huge number of persons are entering Islam from all places around; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah commands the Prophet PBUH that when this comes to pass, he shall praise Allah, the true Lord, and ask His forgiveness on any unintentional mistakes he may have committed at TABLIGH of Islam anytime at any place; note that it is mentioned that Surah NASR came to the Prophet PBUH at Madinah and even there, it is mentioned as to come at the last of that period; so, there is some disagreement about the period when it came to the Prophet PBUH and I, MSD, have preferred the early period at Makkah for it; note that this Surah gives a subtle indication that when this all happens, he must prepare to depart from the world because he has done his task and that would be the last period of his life at the world; Surah NASR reads, "when there comes the help of Allah (for spread of Islam) and the victory (of it over satanic arguments); and you see men entering the right path of Allah in companies (i.e. in huge numbers); then celebrate the praise of your Lord, and ask for His forgiveness; surely He is oft-returning (to mercy)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah LAHAB (MASAD)

MK-2

1. Perdition overtake both hands of ABU-LAHAB, and he will perish.
2. His wealth and what he earns will not avail him.
3. He shall soon burn in fire that flames,
4. And his wife, the wood-bearer (for fuel),
5. Upon her neck, a halter of strongly twisted rope.

Surah LAHAB tells that whoever challenges the fundamental teachings of Islam (especially when he disrespects the Prophet PBUH too), he is certain to face most disgraceful death and to get extreme torments at the hell-fire; note that ABU-LAHAB was the paternal uncle of the Prophet PBUH and he also was the neighbor of the Prophet PBUH; note that LAHAB means "flame" and in Arabic, when someone is attached to something, he is known by its relation as IBN-us-SABIL literally means "the son of the way" and it denotes the traveller; so ABU-LAHAB was named as "the father of the flame" as he was much robust in looks whereas the Surah notes the term LAHAB in literal sense too at AAYAT-3; he used to pass rude remarks on the Prophet PBUH when he called him towards Islam with all decency; he taunted about the hands of the Prophet PBUH once as to curse him, to which Allah answered in defense of the Prophet PBUH that it is ABU-LAHAB who would be destroyed with extreme curse falling upon him at the world and most severe torment getting him at AKHIRAT where he would meet the flaming fire; note that ABU-LAHAB died in extreme pain by a tumor on him and persons at his household put him in quarantine where he died a cruel death; there is another manner too by which his death is mentioned and that also tells that he died a cruel death; he was thrown into the grave by few slaves after a couple of days of his death as the persons at his household were not ready to touch him; this fact is most interesting that ABU-LAHAB had heard this Surah but it never occurred to him that he may act to become Muslim to disprove this Surah though he lived for more than twelve years after its descent; this is how Allah protects the Holy Book Quran; Al-Hamdu Lillah; AAYAT-4 tells about his wife (who also troubled the Prophet PBUH in different ways) that she would also be at the hell-fire where she would be the carrier of wood to keep on the fire burning so that its highest of temperature may torment her husband and herself continuously; AAYAT-5, the last AAYAT of the Surah, marked her end at the world before it occurred that "upon her neck, (is) a halter of strongly twisted rope"; she died of strangulation of the rope by which she had picked-up a wood-pile; it twisted around her neck and could not be untwisted before her death; Surah LAHAB reads, "perdition overtake both hands of ABU-LAHAB, and he will perish; his wealth and what he earns will not avail him; he shall soon burn in fire that flames and his wife, the wood-bearer (for fuel), upon her neck (is) a halter of strongly twisted rope"; most certainly, Allah only has the true authority; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah IKHLAAS

MK-3

1. Say: He, Allah, is One.
2. Allah is He on Whom all depend.
3. He begets not, nor is He begotten.
4. And none is like Him.

Surah IKHLAAS tells about Allah Who is One (i.e. Unique) and Who does not depend on anyone for anything but upon Whom all true believers depend for the solution when it seems that there is no way out; He begets not, nor is He begotten; He is Unique and none is like Him; Surah SHURA-11 states clearly, "(Allah is) the Originator of the heavens and the earth; He made mates for you from among yourselves, and mates of the cattle too, multiplying you thereby; nothing is like likeness of Him; and He is the Hearing, the Seeing"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; the true Muslims believe in Allah by keeping to TAUHID which means that "Allah only is the Creator of all the creation and He always has all His attributes and He only is the true Lord"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; note that the first AAYAT of Surah FATIHA that is the first AAYAT of the Quran, presents by its words that Allah is from all times to all times with all of His attributes that are of Him from all times to all times (QADEEM) and all of His attributes are His very own (ASL) and all of His attributes are limitless (LA-MEHDUD); note that the term "RABB" that occurs at this first AAYAT is highly significant in understanding of the Holy Book Quran; RABBUL-AALAMIN means the true Lord that nurtures all His creation so Allah has not left His creation just after creating them but He nurtures them to height; so this beautiful AAYAT denotes three things about Allah that He only is the Creator of all the creation; that He always has all of His good QADEEM, ASL, LA-MEHDUD attributes totally which denote His absolute authority; that He is RABBUL-AALAMIN, the only true Lord of all, so He asks for total obedience from all of His creation, that is most sincere; Al-Hamdu Lillah RABBEL-AALAMIN; the Quran has indicated at places that many of totally wrong persons did believe Allah in the sense that He has created all the creation and there even were those among them who believed that He certainly has absolute authority with His true attributes but then they believed that He necessarily listens to those who are very near to Him and does accordingly, so their belief had most extreme flaw in it; and that flaw led them to the thing that totally degraded them which was that they ignored Him as the true Lord (RABB) Whom they must truly obey in all principles that He has provided to them in all walks of life (while their obedience to any of persons is only if his direction does not fall against any of commands of Allah); this ignorance to recognize Him as the only true Lord, ultimately led them to take some of His creation too as the object to worship and as to obey unconditionally (accepting some of His authority in them and raising them to such status where they took them as their intercessors at the court of Allah to whom Allah would necessarily listen); may Allah save all Muslims from this gravest of sins that is named SHERK which certainly leads to the hell-fire if the person involved in it does not ask for (and receive) forgiveness from Allah and His mercy, at life at the world; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah IKHLAAS reads, "(O Muhammad PBUH)- say- He, Allah, is One; Allah is He on Whom all depend; He begets not, nor is He begotten; and none is like Him"; so sincere belief of the true Muslims in this expresses TAUHID completely; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah FALAQ

MK-3

1. Say: I seek refuge in the Lord of the dawn,
2. From the evil of what He has created,
3. And from the evil of the utterly dark night when it comes,
4. And from the evil of those who blow on knots,
5. And from the evil of the envious when he envies

Surah FALAQ came with the next Surah that is Surah NAAS and these both, if read together in highest of quantity, are wonderful remedy to any negative spiritual effect that someone has managed to put on a Muslim person; this negative spiritual effect may occur by some negative spell of magic against him, by some negative sight of eyes (intentional or unintentional) against him, by some negative sentiment (especially extreme jealousy) against him and even by some negative words of someone that may take effect against him, intentionally said to affect him or unintentionally; these things do affect and all most virtuous Muslim persons must seek refuge from these in Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; there are ULAMA, the reliable scholars of Islam, who have mentioned that when Surah FATIHA (the first Surah), AAYATUL-KURSI (AAYAT-255 of Surah BAQARAH, the second Surah), the last AAYAT of Surah BAQARAH and these last two Surah (which are named together as MAU'DHATAIN), are read in sequence in the highest of quantity, Allah makes them barrier to all negative effect of all persons around, for the most virtuous Muslim person; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah FALAQ presents the words that relate to protect the Muslim person from all such things around that might affect his physique negatively whereas Surah NAAS presents the words that relate to protect the Muslim person from all such things which direct their negative effect against his inside; the words in AAYAT-1, 2 & 3 of FALAQ imply that all of most virtuous Muslim persons must ask Allah, the only Creator of all the creation, for His protection against the negative effect of times (especially early hours of the morning and the darkest hours of the night); its last couple of AAYAAT imply that he shall also ask Allah for His protection against the evil effect of those who blow on knots (for making of magic) and against the evil effect of such person who envies (resents due to jealousy) at all good achievements of persons around him, especially at the times that have been noted; note that AAYAT-4 relates to an incident that is specific to the Prophet PBUH as Ahadith narrate; it happened that one of Jews who did not belong to any of Jewish tribes but was related to the tribe of BANU-ZURAYQ, had put a spell of magic on the Prophet PBUH by assistance of his daughters; they got some of the hair of the Prophet PBUH somehow and his comb that they put into palm leaves; they had tied knots to bind all hair of the Prophet PBUH and had blown some magic spell on them; he put these palm leaves into the bed of a well by the name of DHI-ARWAN under a stone, that was at the premises of his tribe; due to this spell, the Prophet PBUH felt physical weakness and it also happened that sometimes he forgot whether he has done something he intended or not; note that the negative effect of magic spell on him, did not cause any adverse influence upon his task of providing the teachings of Islam by the Quran in any way; Al-Hamdu Lillah; though he was the last of Messengers of Allah yet he also was a man who became afflicted by illness too and who was wounded too at the expedition of TA'IF and at the battle of UHUD; the last AAYAT of Surah KAHF reads, "(O Muhammad PBUH) say- I am only a mortal (i.e. a human being) like you; (but as the Messenger of Allah), it is revealed to me that your god is one that is Allah, so whoever hopes to meet his Lord, he should do good deeds and should not join anyone in the service of his Lord"; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Allah informed him by two of respectable angels about the magic spell that was put on him and he went to the well with some of his Sahaba and they found the stone and the palm leaves beneath it; then as Gabriel-AS read the AAYAAT of MAU'DHATAIN, the Prophet PBUH opened the tied knots of his hair until he opened all of those knots within the recitation of the angel; he was instantly cured and then he buried the leaves with the comb and the hair and did not pursue the issue; Surah FALAQ reads, "(O Muhammad PBUH)- say- I seek refuge in the Lord of the dawn from the evil of what He has created; and from the evil of the utterly dark night when it comes; and from the evil of those who blow on knots; and from the evil of the envious when he envies"; certainly, no one is able to affect negatively for any notable period in any manner, any of the most virtuous Muslim persons when he does seek refuge in Allah from all adversities; Al-Hamdu Lillah.

Surah NAAS

MK-3

1. Say: I seek refuge in the Lord of men,
2. The King upon men,
3. The true Authority for men,
4. From the evil of whisperings of the slinking (Satan),
5. Who whispers into inside of men,
6. from among the jinn and the men.

Like Surah FALAQ, Surah NAAS also relates the words that provide protection to the most virtuous Muslim persons; however, they protect against the negative effect that is directed towards the inside of them whereas the words at Surah FALAQ protect against the negative effect that is directed towards the physique of them so it is most feasible to study both of these Surah together; this Surah guides all Muslims to praise Allah in the worthiest manner by appreciating Him as the true Lord of men, the true King upon men, the true Authority for men; this tells that they have to fulfill the commands of Allah sincerely at all times and at all places; when such virtuous Muslim persons seek refuge in Allah from all evil of whisperings of wrongs that those persons who incline to satanic ways of life, put at their inside, Allah gives them all protection that they do need; those who incline to satanic ways, include such jinn who whisper evil directly by blowing whisperings of evil, into the inside of men so that they leave the right path due to the motivation from those whisperings; and they also include such men who speak evil by such manner of speech that may affect inside of all men most negatively, so that they attach themselves to evil; the recitation of this Surah repeatedly, with all attention towards Allah, saves the Muslim person from all wrong motivations by the satanic persons among the jinn and from all evil speech by the satanic persons among the mankind, as then the Muslim person comes into the protection of Allah, the true Lord; Al-Hamdu Lillah; Surah NAAS, the last Surah of the Holy Book Quran, reads, "(O Muhammad PBUH)! - say - I seek refuge in the Lord of men, the King upon men, the true Authority for men, from the evil of whisperings of the slinking (Satan), who whispers into inside of men, (who are) from among the jinn and the men (too)"; Al-Hamdu Lillah.
